A local counseling center plant to establish a community residence for mentally disabled adults on Jerusalem Avenue, the town's planning and development commissioner

Area residents and local civic leaders received a letter dated August 5 from Richard S. Blankfein, commissioner, which said that Central Nassau Guidance and Counseling Services in Hicksville intends to establish this home at 499 Jerusalem Avenue, which is in a residential area.

This facility would be licensed by the State of New York Office of Mental Health and would accommodate up to 10 mentally disabled adults.

Mr. Blanfein said that his office will forward to the guidance center and the State of New York any written comments, suggestions or objections residents may have concerning the desirability of this location, as well as any adverse impact the proposed facility may have on the surrounding area.

In the letter, Mr. Blankfein also said that the town has no zoning control over the site selec-tion of facilities for the mentally disabled. "The State of New York has exclusive jurisdic-tion in this regard." The town can object to the proposed site under the Mental Hygiene Law, only on the grounds that the immediate area is saturated with similar facilities or the town may also propose alternate sites in the community, based upon recommendations from the citizens. "The Office of Mental Health has the ultimate jurisdiction to approve or deny the location as a community residence facility." Mr. Blankfein said in the letter

"There is no saturation in the area," Town Spokesperson Phyllis Souther said. "Town of Oyster Bay has no grounds to object," she added.

A meeting with civic leaders and residents was scheduled to be held last Tuesday to discuss the proposed group home and any alternative sites in the community that residents may have for the facility. (The meeting was scheduled to take place after the Illustrated press time.)

Mr. Blandfein said the records show the present site is a two-story frame dwellig con-structed in 1985, with 2,200 square feet of floor area. The lot covers approximately 11,400 square feet. The home will be altered to meet all requirements of state regulations for operating the facility, he said.

Hicksville residents are letting criminals know that they are on the lookout for crime. Between 8 and 10 p.m. August 9, residents turned on all their outside lights and spent two hours on their porch, lawn and in their driveway. They were all participating in National Night Out, sponsored by the Hicksville Youth Council. This nationwide event is held each year to heighten crime prevention. ABOVE picture shows Milburn Street neighbors gathering outside. LEFT picture is of Rita Conte during the national event. Rita signifies the event by tying a red ribbon around a lamp post. The proposed 1988-89 school budget, which was defeated last May, went before voters for a second time and was passed by a margin of 567 votes. The 143,950,000 Hicksville school budget was approved August 10. This second vote followed the narrow defeat (17 votes) of the original 144,000,000 budget on May 25. The results included 1,681 "Yes", votes and 1,141 "No" votes. Taxpayers can expect to pay an additional 1,80 (cents) over the 1987-88 tax rate of 125.86, or 126.75 per 1100 of assessed value. The school board expressed its thanks to the community for helping publicize the August 10 voting date and for supporting the budget. Various groups, including the Hicksville Congress of Teachers, the PTA, and the Gregory Museum, had sent letters and made over 3,000 telephone calls urging approval of the budget. Board president 10 Ann Miltenberg said. "When we work for a budget, it passes. Next year, let's do it the first time".

With regard to publicizing the budget date, Resident Iris Wolfson stated that the District's newsletter, The Bulletin Board, had never reached her community in Westbury. Therefore, residents in that area would not have been aware of the budget date except for telephone calls made by community volunteers. In addition to this concern, Mrs. Wolfson asked why the evening's public meeting which was scheduled for 10 p.m. after the polls had closed, did not start until 10:40 p.m. As a "courtesty to the communi-ty", Mrs. Wolfson asked the meetings begin as scheduled.

Board of Education Goals

In 1985, the board established five main objectives as its goals to be accomplished over a five-year span: (1) improve student performance in mathematics, (2) improve student performance in language arts, (3) improve guidance services in the secondary schools. (4) develop a district-wide program to track student mastery of basic skills and (5) to develop a plan to improve the secondary program. program.

Dr. Catherine Fenton in her Superintendent's Report reviewed additions to the Five-Year Plan, which had been suggested and discussed by board members earlier in the (continued on page 6)

Carlton Place resident John Zaleski said that he was worried about the safety of peo-ple walking in the area. He said that although the street is one-way, drivers ignore the signs that say 'do not enter.' 'All the signs are duly posted,' he said, adding that when people leave the movie theatre at the mall they still go down the street the wrong way.

Another resident said, "They all come out the wrong way. The cars come out like there are no signs at all." She added that residents asked for the street to be one-way about three years ago instead of closing it completely.

"We were trying to be fair but they all come out the wrong way," she said.

Ms. Souther said that the town will block the entrance nearest to the mall, "We haven't decided what kind of barrier will be put there," she said, adding that residents can still park on the street, although one section will be closed. No time has been set for work to begin but "we will be moving fast on it," she

The residents expressed interest in see ing that closed," Ms. Souther said. "We will check out the feasibility-the town board will be looking into it."

Motorcyclist Hits Car, Suffers Arm Injury

By A. Anthony Miller

A 10-year-old Hicksville man is in satisfactory condition in Nassau County Medical Center, East Meadow, after his motorcycle slammed into a car backing from a driveway at 11:25 a.m. August 10.
Injured in the collision on Cherry Lane, 300 feet south of Winter Lane, Hicksville, was a 19-year-old resident. His 1988 Kawasaki motor-cycle was northbound on Cherry Lane, when and a 1086 Oldsmobile, driven by a 33-yearold resident who was backing from her driveway, collided.

Nassau police took the victim to the hospital via helicopter. He was admitted in serious condition with a partially severed right arm, according to Eighth Squad Det. Robert Raymond.

No charges were filed in the incident and no other injuries were reported.

A BUICK OWNED by a Cherry Lane resident went on fire last Saturday at about 2:15 p.m. at a local gas station, Patrick Scanlon, of the Hicksville Fire Department, said. Tim Ryan, an employee of Friends Auto, a Getty station on Newbridge Road and Cherry Lane, had just finished pumping gas into the car. As the owner was driving away, Tim noticed flames in a line shooting out from under the car. He quickly pushed the car away from the pumps and called the Hicksville Fire Department. When they arrived with three trucks, under the direction of Chief Jerry O'Brien, the car was fully involved and could not be saved. The fire was quickly extinguished by firefighters and no one was injured.

Police Arrest Three And Announce Break-Up Of Major Burglary Ring

By A. Anthony Miller

The arrest last week of three men, one from Hicksville, is said by second squad detectives to have made a major dent in a ring of burglaries believed responsible for at least 85 and possibly more than 100 residential burglaries committed this year. Two more men, whose identities police say they know, are being sought. More than $20,000 in stolen property has thus far been recovered.

Solution of the crimes, which had plagued detectives from at least five different squads, was brought about by a team of detectives supervised by Sgt. Anthony Passaretti, and included James Carroll, Louis Algieri and Stanley Festa. The sleuths worked for hundreds of hours, tracking the burglars who made noontime entries into unoccupied homes in Hicksville, Plainview, Jericho, East Meadow and Wantagh.

Two Are Arrested

The first two men were arrested August 11. Police identified them as an East Meadow man and a Levittown man. Both are 21 and said to be unemployed. Both men were charged with forgery; this in relation to alleged purchases made on a credit card stolen from one of their victims. The East Meadow man was also charged with five counts of burglary and the Levittown man with possession of stolen property. They were arraigned August 12 before Judge Ira Warshawsky in First District Court, Hempstead, where ball was set for the East Meadow man at $50,000 and the other burglar was released to the custody of probation officials pending further court appearances. On the following day, detectives arrested a 19-year-old Hicksville man taken into custody at his home at 1:40 p.m. He was ar-raigned August 13 on burglary charges before Judge Richard Lapera, who set bail at $15,000.

How They Worked Police said that the burglars would usually strike during the noon hour, at a time when no one was at home. They stole cash, jewelry and electronic equipment. A source close to the investigation sald that proceeds of the crimes was, in part, to support a drug habit, Because the cases have not yet gone to court and because others believed involved remain at large, detectives declined to furnish exten-

TO YOUR HEALTH

By RICHARD H. BLAU, M.D.

Carpal Tunnel Syndrome - A Common Cause Of Hand Discomfort

Carpal Tunnel Syndrome (CTS) results from entrapment of the nerves which go from the wrists into the hands. The wrist contains many structures in close proximity, all of which pass through a very narrow area, not unlike a tunnel. When crowding of this tunnel occurs, the structures become compressed, and damage to the nerves occurs.

The median nerve is most common-ly involved. This nerve begins in the neck, runs through the arm, and into the hand. It supplies movement and feeling for the thumb, the index finger, and part of the middle finger.

Burning, tingling, and numbness of the fingers, often at night or early morning, are the usual symptoms of CTS. This discomfort may initially be relieved by shaking or exercising the hand. Some patients also find that the numbness radiates up the arm. If left untreated for long periods of time, weakness and loss of muscle mass in the hand can occur.

Inflammation or swelling of the structures within the wrist often produce this syndrome. The more common causes include: arthritis, tendonitis, thyroid disease, injury to the wrist, and even fluid retention associated with pregnancy. Due to the frequent association of carpal tunnel syndrome with arthritis and inflammation, people with this disorder are often treated by rheumatologists.

Once the diagnosis has been established, the initial treatment is often conservative. Included in the treatment is the use of anti-inflammatory medications and splinting of the wrist at night. If these measures should fail, an injection of medication into the area is often helpful. In the non-responsive forms of the disorder, surgery may be a consideration.

Arthritis strikes one out of seven people. Learn the facts. Call for your complimentary copy of "The Joint Approach Under goals 1 and 2, the District would undertake a feasibility study regarding a sum-mer school program open to all students in the areas of math and reading. This would be a reinforcement program dealing with what students have already learned during the regular school year. The board envisions the program as self-sustaining. Parents would pay a fee. Resident Iris Wolfson questioned its legality and pointed out that the children who might be most in need of such a program may be those whose parents could least afford to pay.

Mrs. Miltenberg responded that only the inital steps had been taken that evening on the matter would such a program and that the matter would be discussed with counsel in studying its feasibility. Resident Shirley Johnson expressed her concern that such a program also be available to special education students.

The Board said that guidance services should be expanded to keep parents more informed, especially with regards to scholarships available to seniors. Although students and with the part of these cholarships. Dr. Especially are advised of these scholarships, Dr. Fenton explained that they don't always follow through on filling applications, etc. Regarding district testing, the board would like the community to be better informed regarding what tests are given, why they are given, and how the results are used.

Much of the fifth goal has already been accomplished. The plan for improving the secondary program has seen the creation of the Middle School and a 4-year high school. There are still concerns regarding the number of students receiving regents diplomas. The board also said that the district must stress the importance of further education, either college or technical school.

Other sugguestions have also been made by board members to keep the community more aware of changes in academics and curriculum.

Public Session

During the public session, when residents have the opportunity to address the board, several residents questioned the propriety of the board holding a "private" meeting to discuss its goals, stating that the law was clear on subjects which could be discussed at executive sessions and what must be discussed at executive sessions and what must be discussed at executive sessions.

Mrs. Miltenberg then said that the doors were open during the work session of the meeting in question and that no one from the public was in the Administration Building at that time. Resident Arlene Rudin, a former school board trustee, asked how the community was to know that such a meeting was to occur when no notification was given. In fact, she stated that signs on the administration building indicated that the only public board meeting to take place was at 10 p.m.

Board trustee William Bennett interjected his views on the board's earlier discussions. Calling the meeting a "rap session", Mr. Ben-nett explained that the board may not have been as open in its discussions if the public were present. He also said that members of were present, he also said that members of the community would have been asked, as a courtesy, to forego attending this meeting if they had come to the administration

Mrs. Miltenberg then apologized for the lack of publicity regarding this earlier board

Mrs. Rudin agreed that it isn't always easy to conduct such a discussion in public. However, she stated that when she was on the board, the public did attend the meetings regarding board goals as it was their right. She stated that the law is very clear on this.

Asbestos Management Plan

The board must give guidance to the administration by August 31 as to the Asbestos Management Plan to be followed in Hicksville. This plan must then be submitted to New York State by October 12.

The board must decide what to do with any asbestos in the schools, generally found in the boiler rooms. Although encapsulation is the cheaper method, removal of asbestos has the advantage of taking care of the pro-blem forever. These costs will have an effect on next year's budget.

Mr. Bennett declared his intent to dedicate his time to this program which, according to Mr. Bennett, has been forced on all school districts in New York State by both state and federal laws. He said that it was going "to be very expensive", and that monies spent by school districts to remove asbestos would take money away from educational programs. He stated his desire to proceed intelligently and slowly since he felt that this program was, in part, a "rip-off". Residents Iris Wolfson, a former Hicksville School Board member, expressed the view that ultimately schools might be mandated to remove asbestos, especially since some en capuslation material used in the past is no longer acceptable. She stated that monitoring the quality of the asbestos management plan was more important than the cost factor.

The board authorized a letter of intent for the hiring of an outside consultant to assist in the inspection and management planning required under EPA/AHERA regulations. The board also authorized the hiring of an Interim

Hicksville's Goban to Challenge Cong. Lent

By Ellen R. Delisio

Francis T. Goban, 61, of Hicksville has been named the Democratic candidate to challenge incumbent Norman Lent (R-Baldwin) in November for the fourth Congressional District seat.
Currently a consultant for the plastics and waste disposal industry, Mr. Goban also has worked as a salesman, manufacturer's representative, corporate officer and business vner. He is a Democratic committeeman, a former member of the Long Island Association and a member of the Society of Plastic Engineers

Originally from Bayonne, N.J., Mr. Goban attended Seton Hall Prep School and For-dham University, where he earned a B.S. degree. He served in the Air Force, attaining the rank of captain. Mr. Goban and his wife Mildred have five children and two grandchildren, all of whom live on Long Island. The Gobans have lived in Hicksville for 33 years. Numerous issues which affect Long Islanders need to be addressed at the national level, according to Mr. Goban. One area in which he would like to see the federal government become more involved is housing, he said, citing the difficulty that young people and seniors have affording homes on Long Island, Mr. Goban said that if elected he would recommend creating an agency would recommend creating an agency similar to the Federal Housing Authority (FHA), which provided low interest loans to home buyers. The FHA was phased out ap-proximately 10 years ago. "That (loan assistance) has to be provided for people," Mr. Cohan said Goban said.

Developers also have to be encouraged to build housing that is affordable to the lower and middle classes, he said. People who are homeless because they cannot afford hous-ing do not receive any type of assistance because they do not have a mailing address, he added.

Another item on Mr. Goban's agenda is aid to college students. Grant and loan programs should be expanded, to afford more young people the opportunity to attend college, he

Long Islanders and all New York State residents have been hurt by the reforms in the income tax regulations, said Mr. Goban, adding that he would urge that sales tax and interest from credit card purchases be reinstated as deductions on income tax

The Board also acted on a recommendation to increase the district's mileage rate from 16 cents to 21 cents per mile for reimbursement to staff members when they use personal automobiles for approved district business. Mr. William Hall, Assistant Superintendent for Business Services, said that 21 cents has been used by the federal government as its reimbursement rate for at least five years:

In addition, a resident questioned the reason new fences were erected near the senior high ballfields on Newbridge Road.

Mrs. Miltenberg will look into this matter. Another resident, Pat Love, asked if statistics were available regarding the June math and science Regents. Dr. Fenton in-dicated that she will be giving a report on this matter in the future and that she did not have the figures on hand.

The next scheduled regular meeting of the board of education is on August 31 at 8:15 p.m. in the Administration Building.

• July 26- A house was burglarized on Petal Lane in Hicksville. Entry was made through the front door. The loss included a television and $100 in cash.

To The Editor:

I am writing about the article in which concern about vagrants loitering near Hicksville's businesses was expressed. (August 4 issue of the Illustrated) I only want to add support to remarks made by Rev. Ciannella ("The INN is not the source of it [the problem], nor is the INN the reason why it [the vagrants] exists in the community."), Effie Krogmann ("The fact remains that the INN is only taking care of part of the social problem that has been in Hicksville for a long time.") and Mr. Ramirez ("Establishment of the INN was accomplished because the problem existed-it didn't cause the problem.")
I would also like to comment on the last statement, which I feel is the most mean-ingful. No, the INN didn't cause the problem, it already existed. It will continue to exist and, considering that all of us could be among the homeless-loss of a job, a lengthy illness, a bit of bad luck in this one of the most exensive areas of the country in which to live, pensive areas of the country in which to live, i think we'd better deal with our problems constructively. Classically, humanity tends to panic and looks to destroy the first thing associated with a problem but that usually isn't the cause and doesn't solve anything. When will society learn that problems do not develop over night and they cannot be cor-rected over night? We must take the time to attack situations at their roots. How? Contact your elected officials go as high as you have to go. We need more, well-run programs for the poor and elderly, less waste in government spending, etc, etc. You're groaning now and saying, "That old approach again! Everyone knows it takes too long and you don't get results anyway." Of course we don't, because we don't demand them. Until greater numbers of us use the power we have, we deserve what we get. Until then, thank God for soup kitchens and shelters. Diane Otten

Long Island, New York 11747

Dear Sir:

As the relative of a Hicksville Volunteer Fireman, I am appalled at Newsday's priorities for what they consider front-page news, "Boys' Night Out", August 7.
Where are Newsday's priorities when these same volunteers risk their lives going into burning buildings, trying to save the life of someone who has wrapped their car around a pole or had a heart attack? Where is Newsday when this group of volunteers answer calls in all kinds of weather at all times of the day and night? How about some comment from Newsday on malicious falsealarms that bring these volunteers out for no

This group of volunteers don't get paid for what they do. They consist of family men with full-time jobs, single young men work ing full-time and college students who also hold down a job. They are reputable, upstanding members of the Hicksville community Every member of this community should be proud of them and thankful for the service they provide.

From now on, if I want to read sleaze journalism, I'll buy the National Enquirer. They seem to have the same priorities and values

Maybe if Newsday had some competition, they wouldn't be so quick to demoralize and condemn these same men who are dedicated to risking their lives everyday to protect the Hicksville community.

THE VACATION DOLLAR

THE VACATION DOLLAR

How people shop on vacation is a very good indication of the strength or weakness of their currency. I just got back from a vacation that took me to London, Vienna and Barcelona. It was expensive. In fact, so expensive that it was hard to get enough bargains to get close to the 1800 US customs' allowance.

London was outrageous, Vienna was small, wonderful and expensive. Barcelona, which was anticipated to be our shopper's paradise, only had bargains in pocketbooks. Can you imagine such a state of affairs that Spain was not cheap? It boggles the mind.

We did go to Budapest by train for one day, It was an easy trip of three hours, leaving at 7:45 and returning at 6:45. A classical roundtrip bargain at 1:45 and returning at 6:45. A classical roundtrip bargain at 1:45 and returning at 6:45. A classical roundtrip bargain at 1:45 and Hilton's. Shopping was ok as to price and merchandise selection, but the styles were awful. We purchased some gloves in a private enterprise shop. (You cannot use your credit cards in private shops is what I "heard" through the language barrier). In any event I know what is important there. The line outside of the Now to the United States. I had the occasion to go to TIFFANY's the other day in New York. As I entered I notice that the vast majority of customers were oriental, about 75 percent would be my estimate. I figured that about six tour husses must have come It

Now to the United States. I had the occasion to go to TIFFANY's the other day in New York. As I entered I notice that the vast majority of customers were oriental, about 75 percent would be my estimate, I figured that about six tour buses must have come. It was teeming with people. As I entered the elevator, which was crowded, every face was oriental except for the operator. This was a great shock.

At the gift counter two of the three salespeople behind the counter were oriental. I have since been told that the store has training classes on Yen conversion to the dollar. When I left the store there were no tour buses. I looked. The hotels must be doing nicely. Those people have to sleep somewhere. Why not the Pierre or the Plaza when it is so cheap?

What this means to me, is that to the Japanese, our merchandise is cheap because of the dollar weakness. America sells at huge discounts. I was in Japan two years ago and an ordinary toenall clipper cost $25. Their merchandise sells at huge premiums.

So what's the implication for vacations? As you look around the world, the only real bargains are in places that have worse currencies than ours. The communist countries, some of the Caribbean islands, or Mexico and South America to name a few. If you do not want to go to these places, stay in the United States or try Canada where their current barders are allocated.

There are bargains in Greece and Turkey and around the Mediterranean, but they can be dangerous to your health. In fact, I do my utmost to not show my American passport. Maybe I am foolish.

A Letter from Lulubelle ...

...When I ride along the parkway—particularly Grand Central in toward the old World's Fair site and see all the roads one over the other, crossing in many old World's Fair site and see all the roads the over the third back directions and each reached by a sweeping ramp, it always makes me think back to the days of the 1939 World's Fair and the wonders that were there, including the models for these very roads—models which we thought so fantastic that they would never become reality....The miniature cars rode along the roads with no cross streets and we stared in astonishment...And that was the first time I ever saw television—closed circuit, of course—but there we were, seeing ourselves on a monitor and never believing that it would come to be a major entertainment in our own houses...And do you remember the wonderful buildings—the horticulture building, which curved around almost like a modified S—and the tall pillar, with the restaurant on top—and the Trylon and Perisphere, which were philat, with the restaurant on top—and the tryion and rensphere, which were the symbol of that fair—and the Russian building, very grand, with a huge statue of a worker studing along at the very top of a high tower—and the aquacade,—was it Eleanor Holm?—and all the water ballets, and even Sally Rand and her fans...It was all so magical—probably because as oldish teenagers, we were the right age to appreciate the wonders to come...and it was soon followed by the bortible upgrand come of these particles which had account a box a lower building. horrible war and some of those nations which had erected those lovely buildings became our enemies....But it still remained—and does to this day—a shining prophesy of what was to come—and did. What the Politicians are Saying....

PLEASE NOTE: In last week's politicians column, ASSEMBLYMAN DAN FRISA announced the changing of the primary date to avoid a conflict with Rosh Hashanah and the date he announced was the date that had been chosen.

After Assemblyman Frisa's press release reached us, the date was again changed, and is now, definitely, September 15.

According to ASSEMBLYMAN GREGORY R. BECKER (R-C Lynbrook) the Department of Transportation will soon begin work on the so-called "Blood Alley" section of the Southern State Parkway, the section between exits 17 and 30. From January 1, 1984 to March 1, 1988, there were 62 accidents, 13 of them fatal. Median barriers will be erected and the bill also provides for road improvement, drainage repairs and the widening of the ramp at Hempstead Avenue, as well as banking curves.

SENATOR DANIEL PATRICK MOYNIHAN (D-NY) and CONGRESSMAN THOMAS J. DOWNEY (D.Amityville) have announced that the Army Corps of Engineers is scheduled to begin dredging Fire Island Inlet and placing the sand on beaches in the Gilgo area.

From ASSEMBLYMAN GEORGE H. MADISON: A bill to extend restrictions on hazardous toys will be expanded to include other items intended for use by children such as cribs, strollers, toy chests, etc. Also, toy manufacturers will have to consider several factors when determining the appropriate age recommendation for toys and have to display clearly the recommended age.

ASSEMBLYMAN CHARLES J. O'SHEA (R.C., Baldwin) said that funding for the Tuition Assistance Program has been increased. The maximum award will increase from $2,850 to $3,650 for dependent students entering college in the 1980-90 school year. In 1990, the maximum award will increase to 14,125 for first-time recipients.

The maximum net income for eligibility will increase from 134,250 to 142,500 in 1989, and to $50,500 in 1990.

The plan also provides that income eligibility levels for the maximum award will rise from the present $7,000 to $7,500 in 1989 and to $8,000 in 1990.

In addition, emancipated undergraduate students will also receive an 4800 increase for 1989 freshmen, with another 1600 increase for 1990 freshmen, to bring their total award to $3,400 from the current $2,000.

The table below illustrates the major award changes for undergraduate dependent students:	Current	1989 Freshmen	1990 Freshmen

Maximum Award	$2,850	$3,650	$4,12
Maximum Income	£34,250	142,500	150,500

"Wipe Your Feet...Close the Door ..." Leave the Outdoors Outdoors

By Keni Woodruff

If your house is typical, summer is the time when "wipe your feet and close the door" becomes a familiar phrase. It's also the time when the constant trek from house, to yard to pool and back, causes extra staining on floors and carpets (especialwhen food and drinks are part of the traffic pattern).

Allied Signal (Anso Carpets) booklet "Smart Care for Carpet" and the company's Smart Line (1-800-441-8185) offer tips for carpet care and stain removal to help the harried homernaker keep her (his) cool...all Smart Care cautions: "some everyday household products—from cleaners to plant foods, over-the-counter medications and skin care products, etc., can cause spotting and discoloration when they come in contact with carpets and other dyed fabrics.

Acne medications and other products containing benzoyl peroxide can cause spotting when an unwary user unknowingly rubs residue on dyed fabric surfaces.

Household cleaners contain acids and alkalis which can weaken fibers and cause color bleeding. Chlorine bleaches, tile and pool chemicals will cause yellow spots (or loss of color).

Some pain-relievers containing DMSO, a strong solvent, may cause color loss. And plant food spills or flower pot leakage can cause discoloration and damage carpet back-ing (be especially careful of soluble granules which contain colorants...most of these are deep, permanent dyes).

The Anso Carpet experts suggest careful reading of labels; regular cleaning and vacuuming; and prompt cleanup of spills. Call their hotline for assistance, and write for their booklets: Allied Signal Inc., 1411 Broadway, New York, NY 10018 (Smart Care for Carpets, Decorating with Carpets).

Don't let carpet care put a blot on your summer, call Anso and remember to "wipe

Closet Organization Ends Change of Season Blues

Closet space is always at a premium, especially when the seasons change, and, with the "quick-change" lives we all live, a varied wardrobe (business, leisure, sports, dress-up) makes that precious space seem

Some tips from the experts: Hang seldom used clothes in the most inaccessible part of the closet. Hang clothes by type (skirts, blouses, pants, jackets). Group clothing by color for easier coordination. Have every thing visible. Use clear storage boxes. Throw out everything you'll probably never wear again (everything old may be "new again"...but we know it's still old-not antique).

There are all sorts of closet organizers available in the marketplace—tension poles, wire shelf systems, swing-arm systems—each has advantages and is great for expanding

Are your closets really tall? Try a tension pole close to the ceiling for storing out of

If your budget is as limited as your space It your budget is as limited as your space, get out your graph paper, yard stick and pencil, and divide your closet, on paper, into sections according to clothing lengths—one section for skirts, one for blouses, a long section for dresses; shelves (wire, wood) for shoes, bags, sweaters—you can double your space with good organizers.

If you want a more permanent, profes-sional closet design, and your budget per-mits, there are many companies that specalize in closet design.

These experts will come to your home. take an inventory of what will go into the space, how you store your garments (blouses hung or folded, pants hung long or over the hanger, shoes stored boxed or open, etc.). They'll measure your closet and oller you a selection of systems that will best meet your needs and budget.

August is a good time to get organized and your closet is a good starting place.
