Local Merchants Want Metered Parking on East Marie Street

Businesses Say: Customers Edged Out By LIRR Commuters

By Catherine Tokar

Merchants on East Marie Street say railroad commuters are "edging out" customers because they park in front of the businesses all day long. The Town of Oyster Bay has proposed the installation of parking meters to remedy the situation.

According to Councilman Howard Hogan, the town board is considering the installation of meters, with a four-hour limit at a cost of 25 cents, between the hours of 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, except holidays. "This parking may be used by the customers of local merchants in the vicinity," he said. A November 1 hearing will determine if the town will establish metered parking in town parking fields H-3, H-6, and H-12 located on East Marie St. and the municipal parking lot bordered by East Marie and East Nicotia Streets.

Tony Bilbau, manager of Chateau Drug and Surgical on the corner of East Marie Street and Broadway, told the Illustrated that lack of parking for his customers is a very big problem because they are edged out of parking spaces by Long Island Railroad commuters. "There is definitely a decline in business due to the proliferation of commuters parking where they shouldn't," he said. "When customers have no place to park, they bring their business elsewhere."

Although Mr. Bilbau has only managed the store since April of this year, he has already seen the lack of parking affecting his business. "The overcrowded parking is multi-faceted. Space must be allocated for business, and installing parking meters would definitely be a help," he said.

On the other hand, Dan from George's Market, said that the market has been located at its present spot, next to Chateau for 38 years, and parking has always been a problem for his customers. "It's been this way for years," he said, adding pessimistically, "I don't know if it [installing the meters] would do any good."

Chamber of Commerce Steps In

Effie Krogmann, past president of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce, said the Chamber sent a letter to the town earlier this year indicating merchants' requests for metered parking in municipal lots. One such merchant was Ed Restivo, owner of Pepper-corn's Restaurant on East Marie Street. According to Mr. Restivo, his customers have trouble finding parking spaces for two reasons: one, because no parking is allowed in front of his restaurant due to the proximity of the Hicksville Fire House, and two, because commuters fill the municipal lot by 7:30 in the morning.

"This field is limited to two-hour parking, but the town does not enforce this," he said. "It would be easier for the town to enforce the law if there were timed parking meters. All a policeman would have to do is check the expired times instead of patrolling the lot and marking tires all day."

Mrs. Krogmann agreed with Mr. Restivo's reaction that "having timed meters is definitely a move in the right direction," adding that it would be an improvement for all local merchants.

"Merchants are supposed to be helped by municipal parking," she said. "But in this case, they are not. Municipal lots are not supposed to be used by commuters."

Councilman Clark Offers a Hand

Councilman Tom Clark agreed that the MERCHANTS along East Marie Street complain that Long Island Rail Road commuters park in front of their businesses all day long, and their customers have no place to park.

Consultation Center to Move, Donations Needed

By Rita Langdon

At any time, the Ecumenical Consultation Center may receive notice to vacate its premises at 30 Grand Avenue. The house, which is owned by St. Stephen's Lutheran Church in Hicksville, must be sold because the church needs money to finance a renovation program.

St. Ignatius Church has offered the non-profit counseling center a similar home rent free. However, the entire house must be renovated, as it has been vacant for 10 years. The cost to renovate could be as much as $30,000.

"This would interrupt treatment of kids and families in crisis situations and be most harmful," said Rev. Dr. Theodore S. Grant, executive director of the center. "Time is truly of the essence." He added, "Since the operation of the center is predicated upon providing low cost counseling services, renting office space would destroy its purpose."

For more than 15 years, the center has served thousands of Hicksville residents who need psychological services. Licensed and/or certified social workers, psychologists, psychiatrists and pastoral counselors are available. The center gives immediate service to anyone who needs it while charging clients on a sliding scale—according to their ability to pay. No one is placed on a waiting list.

St. Ignatius Roman Catholic Church has offered to house the center on Broadway, at a home next to the church. However, the entire inside of the house must be renovated with such things as a heating system, plumbing, electrical, doors and windows. The inside has already been gutted. "The renovation project has proceeded as far as a few thousand of initial donations could take it," said Rev. Grant. "If the center gets additional money for materials, it can move to completion." Volunteers have said that they are willing to do the necessary labor "but we need $30,000 to purchase additional materials in order to complete the entire project," said Rev. Grant. He said that the center gets its funding from donations and fees from clients. "We purposely stayed away from government funds because we wanted to avoid the tie ups with government restrictions," said Rev. Grant. "We believe that if you have an agency that is run by the community, it will belong to the community."

Donations may be sent to Ecumenical Consultation Center, 30 Grand Ave., Hicksville, New York 11801. All donations are tax deductible.

Metered Parking

merchants on East Marie Street as well as throughout the town want more parking, noting that the need for short-term parking is extremely important. "Many of the merchants on Marie Street are complaining that commuters are parked in front of their stores all day," he said. "When we studied the area, we found that the street is saturated before 8 a.m."

Mr. Clark added that he will probably speak at the November 1 hearing because he would like to "help the Hicksville area with short-term parking to help the residents and merchants."

Some Suggestions

Mr. Bilbau offered his solution as to the steps the town could take to help solve the parking problem. He suggested, "We need nice, clean, comfortable parking. The town should build another parking garage like the one on Duffy Avenue; it's clean and neat and causes no problems."

Mr. Bilbau also proposed that Hicksville its merchants and taxpayers. "Too much is done for the commuters," he said. "New parking lots and a garage would consume 60 percent of the parkers and business would do much better."

Alternately, Mrs. Krogmann suggested commuters should park in the "mostly unused" municipal parking field at West Cherry Street and Broadway, behind Chroma Paint. "That lot is barely used. The commuters can use that," she said. "Half of the other lot should have two-hour parking meters. That way, commuters—half of whom aren't even from Hicksville—won't be displaced too much and businesses can benefit."

The West Cherry Street lot is about three blocks south of the railroad station.

IF GETTING A LOT OF CHECKING SERVICES INSTEAD OF A LOT OF CHECKING CHARGES SOUNDS GOOD TO YOU...

CHECK WITH CHASE.

Most banks that offer a lot of services with their checking accounts also offer something else—a lot of individual fees.

But at Chase, you don't have to pay for individual services. And that makes things very easy.

✓ Chase's Unlimited Checking Services. Instead of charging you 25¢ for this and 50¢ for that, Chase checking gives you unlimited check writing, standard personalized checks, stop payments and certified checks. All for a single $10 monthly fee. If you maintain at least a $2,000 average monthly checking balance, there will be no monthly fee.

✓ Unlimited ATM Usage. Included with every Chase checking account, you get unlimited usage of Chase 24-Hour Bank, NYCE[®], and Plus System[®] locations.

And unlimited checking services is only the beginning of the advantages you get with your Chase checking account.

✓ Chase Cash Reserve. This line of credit,* attached to your Chase checking account, helps prevent you from bouncing checks. But, unlike other banks' overdraft protection, Chase Cash Reserve automatically gets paid back each time you make a checking deposit, which can save you money by reducing your interest payments.

✓ Chase Cash Back. Now you can withdraw funds instantly—up to $100—when you deposit a check at an ATM! And, unlike other banks, Chase doesn't require you to have money in other accounts to cover the amount you wish to withdraw.

CHECK WITH CHASE FREE FOR SIX MONTHS.

Check us out—free of charge for six months. Just come into any Chase branch before December 16, 1988. And begin to experience the advantages you'll get only at Chase.

(While you're there, check out our great CD rates, too.)

*If you qualify, you can get a line of credit of $500 to $25,000.

The Winthrop Experience

What our commitment to clinical research means to our patients.

Mention clinical research to most people and it conjures up images of white-coated doctors in gleaming laboratories working on arcane experiments for the benefit of future generations.

Right idea, wrong conclusion.

The fact is, today's research results are put to work more readily than ever before. And the hospital that is immersed in such activity is most often the first to bring its patients the benefits of the newest diagnostic and treatment methods.

Winthrop-University is, of course, just such a place. As a major teaching affiliate of SUNY Stony Brook School of Medicine, we provide a primary setting for the kind of ongoing clinical research that continually widens the frontiers of contemporary medicine.

Example: Osteoporosis

Examples of this are recent grants in excess of $1 million from the National Institute of Health and a leading pharmaceutical company to study osteoporosis prevention and treatment. Since osteoporosis afflicts as many as 25% of post-menopausal women, preventing it or arresting its progress is clearly of great importance to a major segment of society.

Various treatments are presently being practiced but none have proven completely satisfactory. This new study will concentrate on calcitonin, a hormone that is produced in the thyroid gland.

The good news is that calcitonin has already proven a safe and effective form of therapy, without the side effects associated with estrogen. The bad news is that its acceptance has been limited because it can be given by injection only.

New Form Tested

One objective of this project will be to help determine if calcitonin in an intranasal spray - inherently more acceptable than injection - proves equally effective. If so, a major new weapon will be available — here and now — in the fight against osteoporosis.

While research, of itself, may not be the most visible hospital function, it is a clear indication of an institution's vitality. It is also a major focus at a teaching hospital such as Winthrop. Clinical studies are currently underway in each of our departments, touching virtually every aspect of patient care. As a result, Winthrop is positioned at the leading edge of many medical advances and technological breakthroughs.

It should come as no surprise that today these events take place at an astonishing rate. Hospitals that engage in research programs are the ones most receptive to introducing such benefits to their patients.

If the need ever arises for you or a member of your family to enter a hospital, there is no substitute for the confidence that comes from knowing you will receive the most up-to-the-minute medical treatment available.

That's a promise that we at Winthrop make with pride.

If you'd like to know more about Winthrop-University Hospital and its program for the prevention and treatment of osteoporosis, please call (516) 663-2888.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity. We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only.

We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

To The Editor:

The Northwest Civic Association of Hicksville has begun its 1988-89 season. We are looking for new members. Even though we haven't had a meeting during the summer, the association has been working to clean up and better Hicksville and our Northwest area.

But, we can only be as good as the people who stand behind us. Isn't it worth the small price you have to pay; your dues? Just think of how we all are guilty of throwing that small amount of money away on something and getting nothing out of it. If that small amount of money isn't worth trying to keep Hicksville ours, then something is wrong.

However, it is not just the money. We need all of you there, voicing your opinions. We can only be strong in numbers. Many people come up to me and ask, "What is going on?" If you want to know, then join and come to the meetings. Don't leave it up to the next person. If everyone had that attitude, there wouldn't be an association. I also hear people, the young and our seniors say, "Let the young do it" or "Let the seniors do it."

How can we afford not to care? Our seniors who do come to the meetings have every right to be angry with the younger people. I have yet to see more than a handful show up at our meetings. You, the young, have so much to lose. For instance, you have high mortgages. If you let Hicksville turn into an undesirable place to live by losing our residential land to industry, it will create an unhealthy environment and an unsafe place to live. It will also lower our property values.

What about the safety of your children? The seniors should not say, "We did our part, now it's up to the young people." Remember, the association had been inactive for over 20 years. It was in that time that Hicksville got out of the hands of the people. I hear many of our seniors say, "Where are we going to go?" It would seem to me that united we stand, divided we fall. Come to the meetings and help fight to get Hicksville back.

If you care at all about your family, hometown or our environment, you will join us in keeping Hicksville a proud place to live and tell our officials we're tired of hearing, "Put it in Hicksville." Show them we're not going to take it anymore. We hope to see you at our meetings.

We strongly encourage participation from our single people. Remember, decisions made today affect your future too.

To The Editor:

In Appreciation

Mrs. William F. Donlon, Sr., Gerard F. Donlon, Sr. and Blanche M. Baldwin would like to publicly express their thanks and gratitude to all the people who sent condolences for the loss of our dear son and brother, William F. Donlon, Jr.

We are especially grateful to all the men of the Hicksville Fire Department, who answered Bill's final call with honors, dignity and the highest tribute ever afforded a brother and comrade. To our neighboring firemen from surrounding communities, who stood at attention along the funeral procession and provided the impressive "Arch-ches", thank you.

To his Naval Reserve buddies who came out of retirement and provided his Honor Guard and Military Escort. They were accompanied by two Naval career nephews, whose chosen profession was greatly influenced by Uncle Bill, thank you. We know he was proud of all of you.

The staff at Wagner Funeral Home, who were most thoughtful and sensitive. They truly strived to ease our pain.

His Brother Elks, who paid him a final tribute and assured us that he will never be forgotten and our friends and neighbors who provided comfort, thank you.

We also extend our heartfelt appreciation to the Nassau County Police Department, Emerald Society Pipers, who provided Bill with his favorite music on his last farewell. The cooperation and a job well done by the Highway Patrol of Nassau and Suffolk County Police Departments made Bill's last parade possible.

Bill loved his family, his community, his Drill Team, his fire department AND a parade led by Pipers. You gave it all to him.

Thanks folks, from the bottom of our hearts.

EDITORIAL AND OPINION

The Investor's Corner

By Joseph P. Frey, Ph.D.

CATCHING UP

OPEC—On May 12, 1988, I wrote an article about OPEC as the most successful cartel in history. What you are now seeing in the market place is Saudia Arabia, which does not need the money, punishing the rest of the oil producing world. They have opened the spigot to drive the price down for a short period. The producers must pump even more oil to get the same dollars. Very foolish on their part. You have seen the price stabilize in a hurry. Saudia Arabia has closed the spigot to see if the producers, OPEC and non-OPEC, fall into line. Do not look for oil prices to fall sharply.

On November 5, 1987 we wrote an article entitled "WHAT TO DO NOW." It suggested that the market had much more upside potential than downside potential. It has risen and recently hit a post-crash high. Now I believe that there is more downside potential than upside. Be very selective in your purchases. Invest for the long term. Dollar cost average good quality stocks as was suggested in the September 8th, 1988 article. Only professionals or people with a proven (to them) system should try to guess the market.

OPTIONS—My article of December 17, 1987 describes how to use call options. In the classroom we handle the subject much more fully. One of my students, after learning about it, using a computer program game, borrowed $2,000 from his father to "play" the options market. Since April this student has made over $30,000. He has also found his after college job.

BOND SWAPS—On October 22, 1987 we laid out the strategy of taking bond losses without any increase in risk or substantial changes in your bond portfolio. If you did not do it last year, or even if you did, you can do this simple technique to realize paper losses for tax purposes.

GOLD—Do not think of buying gold bullion, gold mutual funds or gold in any form, except gold numismatic grade 63 or above coins. Coins have been, and will continue to be, excellent investments. The price of all other gold investments should be down for the near future. Wait about a year or so.

THE ANNIVERSARY—October 10th, that is—last year's crash! My only comment is that nothing has changed in our institutions. It can happen again and at any time. I keep reading about how PROGRAM TRADING was not responsible, etc., etc. Program trading can drive the market up or down in huge leaps and bounds. Until the regulators make some adjustments, the potential for large movement is there, and the public will stay away. We will get real reform only after the next time program trading does not move the market.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

...It grows chilly these evenings and we love to have a cozy fire in the fireplace to gather 'round....There's nothing more conducive to fine conversation than sitting in a dimly lit room with the flames crackling....And we set up a card table and eat dinner every night in its warm glow....A real fire, that's for sure—none of these gas things that try to resemble the real thing!...And it can be a coal fire, but we prefer the crackling and colors of wood—and the lovely woodsmoke smell—ahhh....And, I know this will upset the firemen, but I like to look at the fire without a screen....(of course, I close the screen when I leave the room, naturally!)...We have old iron andirons shaped like horses....We bought them the when we were first married and lived in an apartment, which did not have a fireplace—but we knew that, one day, our dreams would be fulfilled and we would have the fireplace....These andirons are well burned and have been repaired several times, but we will never, never get rid of them—they are part of our family tradition....Nowadays, there are so many stylish fireplace tools—pokers and brooms and bellows—and all of so many materials—brass and iron in designs both traditional and corny—and there are raised hearths and lovely fenders around those hearths....and stone and brick and panelled surroundings....but the only thing that I cannot abide is a fireplace that's not used—that never knows a fire....How could anyone waste such a lovely centerpiece to a home's delights?!!

Yours, Lulabelle

What the Politicians are Saying...

SENATOR DANIEL PATRICK MOYNIHAN (D-NY) has announced that the Environmental Protection Agency has awarded Clean Water Act grants to ten sites in New York State. Among them in our area are two in Nassau County: $10,309,844 for Hyde Park sewage treatment plant upgrade and $15,873,818 for Cedar Creek sewage treatment plant upgrade.

From COUNTY EXECUTIVE THOMAS S. GILOTTA: One of the greatest frustrations we can experience is having a problem of need for information and not knowing whom or where to call for help. We have prepared a publication...FYL...For Your Information...Residents may request the free booklet by contacting the Office of the County Executive, 1 West Street, Mineola, NY, 11501. Bulk orders for groups are also available. For any information not listed, call the 24 hour Nassau County Hotline at 535-6000.

Recognizing the need to meet the ever-growing water crisis in Nassau County, DR. VINCENT GARBITELLI, Democratic and Right-to-Life candidate for the State Assembly District, has called for a multi-partisan water authority to regulate, and plan for conservation of the water supply. Dr. Garbitelli stated that we now have 46 separate water districts in the county without centralized direction.

The Nassau Republican Senate Delegation—NORMAN J. LEVY, DEAN SKELOS, JOHN DUNNE, MICHAEL TULLY, AND RALPH MARINO (chairman)—has secured a $100,000 special Senate grant for the Nassau County Police Department to help enhance and expand the School Bus Safety Inspection and Enforcement Program. The grant will assist the Highway Patrol Bureau in conducting surprise inspections of school buses during peak hours of operation and create a public awareness of the progress in safety enforcement.

McMillan vs. Moynihan Debates Set

Five distinguished journalists have been selected by the League of Women Voters to ask questions during the two 60 minute, face-to-face debates scheduled between Republican/Conservative Bob McMillan and his opponent for the U.S. Senate seat from New York, Liberal/Democrat Pat Moynihan. The candidates will face each other from twin lecterns and alternately answer questions and be given an opportunity for rebuttal.

The debates, which will be carried statewide by television and radio, are scheduled for 7 p.m., Monday, October 24, in New York City and 8 p.m., Saturday, October 29, in Syracuse.

Panelists for the first debate, live from WABC-TV 7, New York, will be WABC anchorman Bill Beutel, Dean Joan Konner of the Columbia Graduate School of Journalism and

New York Times Urban Affairs correspondent Joyce Purnick.

The second debate, live from the WCNY-TV 24, Syracuse, will be co-moderated by Dave Hepp, host of Inside Albany and author/broadcaster Liz Trotta, former correspondent with NBC and CBS.

Mr. McMillan said he is anxious to get in to the same room with Senator Moynihan who has thus far tried to stay aloof from the campaign. "These broadcasts will give the voters their first side by side comparison of the candidates for U.S. Senate. They will be able to compare our stands on issues and our ability to communicate," said McMillan.

In addition to WCNY-TV 24, the October 29th debate will be carried live by public television stations WNET-TV 13, New York; WLIW-TV 21, Long Island; WNYE-TV 25, Brooklyn.

ROBERT R. McMILLAN'S

Direct Line

New Yorkers overwhelmingly want standards of right and wrong strengthened in the community. They are totally frustrated because that has not happened. A few weeks ago, I was invited to a Western New York theme park to tour the facility. Patrons were mostly young families and teenage groups from all over New York. In the midst of this was a twenty-five year old wearing a T-shirt — not unusual. But, this T-shirt was repugnant. A "St Happens" T-shirt has no place being publicly displayed in a family setting. Why should children or adults be forced to view that language on a shirt or on a car bumper sticker?

Explaining this incident to a teacher friend, I was told of teenagers attending junior high and high school classes wearing explicitly sexual T-shirts. He said some parents become outraged when criticism is sent home — all in the interest of free speech.

Next, consider a recent incident in New York City. A physical education teacher in Queens tried to help teenagers by refereeing a basketball game. One team of teenagers did not like his decisions, so they promptly beat him to death — yes, beat him to death over a call in a street corner basketball game.

Remembering the Holocaust

President Reagan and a crowd of 1,200 people recently gathered on the mall near the Washington Monument to dedicate the cornerstone of the U.S. Holocaust Memorial which will include a museum and facilities for study, education and research which will open in early 1990.

In remarks both somber and solemn, President Reagan expressed his concern that we as a nation understand the Holocaust saying, "I believe the Holocaust is comprehensible. Indeed, we must comprehend it. We have no choice; the future of mankind depends upon it. And that's why we are here to lay the cornerstone for the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum which will help us to understand and make it impossible for us to forget."

President Reagan's eloquent remarks at the dedication make even more disturbing, some noises coming from the Department of Education. For the third consecutive year, the Department of Education has decided not to fund an educational program, "Facing History and Ourselves," which focuses on the mass murder of Jews and others under Hitler's Third Reich.

What makes this failure to fund the program so terrible is not the fact that it did not receive federal funding, but some of the reasons why. According to published reports, "Facing History and Ourselves" was denied federal funding in 1986 because it did not represent the views of the Nazi Party and the Ku Klux Klan. In 1987, the program was critiqued as being "leftist and anti-war."

When I was a young person, values started at home and were reinforced, not only at church, but in our schools as well. There was a prayer before class, teachers constantly emphasized right and wrong and did not continually tell us to question authority at every turn. I am not advocating prayer in schools as the answer to this dilemma. I am, however, arguing that values have to be reinforced in schools. Right and wrong must be given greater emphasis. Respect for elders and those in authority should be a part of the curriculum — not unquestioning respect — but at least respect until that respect is no longer warranted.

Saturday at the movies generally meant right and wrong reinforced by the likes of Flash Gordon and Superman. After school, heroes such as Captain Midnight, the Lone Ranger, and Jack Armstrong further reinforced basic standards of decency on the radio. While we cannot go back, we must pause and look at society today and raise serious questions about where we are going.

The solutions will not be easy. There will be protests about free speech. But, the Supreme Court has stated that free speech does not extend to yelling "fire" in a crowded theatre when there is no fire. The values crisis is about responsibility, not about free speech. Yes, I am talking about the responsibility of parents, business leaders, educators, the entertainment industry, and about the responsibility of the media.

Reinforcing community value standards is very difficult. But, just because the enforcement process is difficult does not mean we should give up. We must continue the effort because the framework of our society depends on the passage of values from one generation to another.

Questions and opinions may be addressed to Mr. McMillan, Anton Community Newspapers, 132 East Second Street, Mineola, NY 11501.

Perhaps most unsettling are the remarks of Dr. Christina Price who is currently a lecturer at Kennesaw College in Georgia and who served as one of the advisors to the Department of Education.

In her concluding remarks on the value of "Facing History and Ourselves," Dr. Price said: "The program gives no evidence of balance or objectivity. The Nazi point of view, however unpopular, is still a point of view and is not presented." She went on to sum up: "My impression is that the program, as it is based on the resource book The Holocaust and Human Behavior, may be appropriate for a limited religious audience but not for a wider distribution."

Dr. Price is missing the central message of the Holocaust which was best summed up by a German who lived through that hell: "When they came for the Jews, I did not speak out because for the Jews, I did not speak out because I was not a Jew. When they came for the Communists, I did not speak out because I was not a Communist. When they came for the trade unionists, I did not speak out because I was not a trade unionist. When they came for the Catholics, I did not speak out because I was not Catholic. And then, when they came for me there was no one left to speak out."

The best way to assure that a Holocaust never happens again is through memorials, and more importantly, through teaching our children the importance of speaking out. Unless we do this, we are surely damned to relive history.

Keeping Halloween Safe

Dr. Howard C. Mofenson, director of the medical center's Poison Control Center, the only center on Long Island, warned Nassau and Suffolk residents that the night of normally harmless fun can turn into a night of sadness and tragedy if anything should happen to those terrifying creatures of the night.

- Make sure that masks, beards and wigs are flame resistant.
- Costumes should be light and bright enough to be clearly visible to motorists. Bags and sacks should be decorated or trimmed with reflective tape which will "glow" in a car's headlights.
- Masks should have large holes and costumes should not be too long. Many children are injured by tripping on their costumes or because they couldn't see properly through narrow slits in masks.
- Little children should be chaperoned and older children should travel in pairs.
- Discard candy that is out of the original wrapping and beware of homemade treats unless you can positively identify the person who provided them. Follow the old adage: when in doubt, throw it out.
- Have your children do their trick or treating in familiar neighborhoods.

Dr. Mofenson particularly urged parents to call the Nassau County Medical Center's Poison Control Center should a poisoning be suspected. The number of the Poison Control Center is (516) 542-2323.

LWV Active In Voter Registration

Voter turnout in the U.S. has declined by more than 30 percent in Congressional elections since 1962, and by nearly 20 percent in Presidential elections since 1960. Of the 14 million people eligible to vote in New York State, only 7.5 million are registered to do so. The Nassau County League of Women Voters has been working diligently during September and October to change these shocking statistics. It declared Sept. 9 Voter Registration Day and received a proclamation from County Executive Thomas Gulotta supporting its efforts. League members were on hand that day at various supermarkets with registration forms and information, as well as at the Community Booth at Roosevelt Field. The League, at Lord & Taylor's request, conducted voter registration at the Manhasset store from Sept. 26-28 and at the Garden City location from Sept. 29 - Oct. 1.

Eager to capitalize on large crowds, the League was present at the Motor Vehicle Bureau in Westbury, Oct. 3, 4 and 5, and at the Department of Social Services on Oct. 5 to register voters. In conjunction with Stern's department stores, the LWV conducted voter registration at its Sunrise Mall, Mid-Island Mall and Green Acres Mall locations.

In addition, League of Women Voters members were available at several libraries and spoke to senior citizen and school groups. Hundreds of names were added to the rolls thanks to the League members.

Hope that the 100th Congress might adopt legislation to deal with the problem of acid rain died an abrupt and hard death this week. Sen. George Mitchell, the Chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on the Environment and Public Works, took to the floor of the Senate to announce that "there will be no action on clean air legislation this year." He had assiduously been trying to craft a bill which would accommodate the conflicting needs of environmentalists, industry groups, utilities and the producers of high sulphur coal.

The Congress has spent the last six years wrestling with ways of amending the Clean Air Act to cover the problem of acid rain. Acid rain is an environmental phenomena which occurs when air pollution, such as emissions from power plants, car exhaust, etc., mix with rain to form an acid. The pollution has caused severe damage to our nation's lakes and rivers as it makes many of them uninhabitable for fish and other aquatic wildlife.

In November of last year, Sen. Mitchell's subcommittee approved an acid rain measure. However, the Senate Majority Leader, Sen. Robert Byrd (D-WV), had consistently refused to bring Mitchell's legislation to the floor. Senator Byrd, who represents a state that produces a great deal of high sulfur coal, is very concerned that acid rain legislation could have a negative economic impact. On the House side, Rep. John Dingell (D-MI), the Chairman of the House Energy and Commerce, has successfully kept acid rain legislation bottled up in a subcommittee. His district comprises the heart of America's automobile industry.

College Scholarships Available

High school seniors who have demonstrated outstanding school leadership and community service will soon be able to compete for 150 college scholarships of $1,000 each.

Entry materials for the 1989 Principal's Leadership Awards have been mailed to all public and private high schools in the United States and school winners will be announced by Dec. 16. The $150,000 scholarship program is administered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP) and funded by Herff Jones, Inc.

"Schools must place greater emphasis on teaching leadership skills," urges Dale Hawley, director of NASSP's Division of Student Activities. "If we hope to have well-rounded adults who communicate well, work with other people and know how to lead and follow in a democratic society, we can't overlook leadership development. These awards give principals a chance to recognize those students who have been exceptional school leaders."

Any high school senior can apply for these scholarships and should obtain entry materials from the principal's office. Judging will be based foremost on school leadership and community service with academic achievement and other awards also considered.

Entrants will also have to consider a problem facing teenagers today and recommend ways to solve that problem.

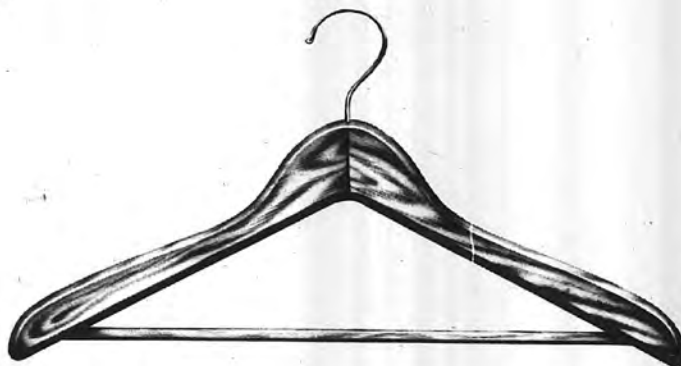

Interested students should contact their principal as soon as possible, according to Mr. Hawley. Principals set their own school deadlines, but they must have named school winners by Dec. 16, he said. The 150 scholarship winners will be selected by a national panel of seven principals.

What's Cool for School?

ANGELA BECKER - 4th Grade
 "I don't like wearing dresses to school. It depends on the weather, but I like to wear pants more. Last year I only wore a dress to school three times. My Mom buys my clothes and I love most of the things she buys. Today my Mom bought me some new clothes because my other pants had holes in the knee. My favorite sneakers are my high-tops with the dinosaurs on them. Tomorrow I'm going to wear my favorite new sweat-shirt, with kittens on it, to school. . . . if it fits!"

ALLISON SELIGER - 1st Grade
 "I like to wear long shirts and pants to school. . . and shoes definitely, and socks. I have a new dress. It's grey and white, which I might wear Thursday. My Mom sets out my clothes in the morning 'cause I'm still sleeping."

Duffy Park Civic Meeting

Duffy Park Civic Association will meet Tuesday, October 25 at 8 p.m. at Old Country Road Elementary School.

Topics to be discussed include the EPA's testing of Twin County Recycling emissions and their efforts on the residents' behalf, the addition of the traffic light or stop sign on Duffy Avenue to reduce vehicle speeding and accidents, the proposed placement of a community residence facility for mental patients in a Duffy Park location, and the beginning of efforts to rezone Duffy Avenue. These issues are very important and civic board members urge residents to attend.

A representative from the Second Precinct Community Liaison Program will also address the meeting and answer questions on matters relating to the area.

Citrus Fruit Orders

Ephram Rubock, executive director of Nassau-Suffolk Young Judaea, announced today the annual Citrus fruit sale to benefit the camp and Israel programs scholarship fund. This region, Geshet Shalom, has sponsored this sale for the past 10 years.

The pink grapefruit, and navel oranges come directly from Florida by trailer in cases containing between 12-24 pieces of fruit, which arrives 36 hours from the tree upon delivery. The prices this year are $12 per case of oranges and $10 for grapefruit. Deadline for orders is November 1. "This is our biggest fundraiser and has enabled us to help send many deserving youngsters to Camp Tel Yehudah, Camp Sprout Lake, one year in Israel or another summer program," said Mr. Rubock.

For information about this sale, or about Young Judaea clubs or programs, call 433-4960.

High School Fall Convention

Fall Convention Friday, November 11 to Sunday November 13, at Camp Silver Lake in Stockholm, NJ. Transportation will be provided by Young Judaea, the Youth Movement sponsored by Hadassah.

If you are interested in three fun filled days with Jewish youth from all over Long Island with sports, games, discussion groups, Israeli singing and dancing, even if you are not currently a member, call 433-4960 for registration information.

Interiors

Affordable Finesse...Decorating Within a Budget

by Keni Woodruff

Decorating your home, whether it's a first apartment, an entire house, or a single room in your dream home, can be a "sky's the limit" fantasy, or a more realistic undertaking within a carefully planned budget. Either way, it's an exciting challenge and the results will reflect your unique personality and family lifestyle.

We asked interior designer Mark Epstein to create a living space that combines taste, practicality, affordability and comfort; and the studio apartment he created is an exciting combination of contemporary furnishings combined with uniquely personal accessories.

His sources: Bon Marche, Conran's, Bloomingdale's, ABC Carpets, the owner's favorite things, and his own, uniquely imaginative sense of style. "Interior design is a high budget effort," says Epstein, "but you can create a warm, inviting, fresh look using much of your existing furniture and accessories and shopping stores like Pier 1, Conran's, antique shops and department stores. New fabrics and window treatments, fresh paint and a good color scheme, lots of imagination and a bit of daring can turn your home or apartment into a warm, inviting, tasteful place even on a limited budget.

"A good designer can help you plan the room, using his or her training to keep furnishings and accessories in proportion and to develop a basic color scheme. You don't have to purchase everything at once. In fact, most designers will help you create a plan that grows with you and your family, with a few really good pieces that can move from one area to another, from a first apartment into a first home.

"It takes careful planning and even more careful shopping. But the results are fun, no matter what your personal budget. The key is real imagination and a well thought out room plan. You can combine styles, antiques and contemporary, modern and traditional...for an eclectic look that is yours alone."

This studio apartment, with feminine undertones, has a bright and cheery effect. The simple features such as the bedroom units from Bon Marche line up to give maximum storage as well as an architectural feeling. Original artwork lends a note of glamour. The Piratelli adjustable television bracket from Bon Marche provides maximum efficiency and convenience, yet leaves room for touches of color. The carpet is from ABC Carpet, the table from Conrans, the chairs are from Walters Wicker and the pillows and throw are from Bloomingdales.

The Ancient Art of Bonsai

The people who dwell in this "Little Glass House" don't throw stones, they create living, miniature works of art... Bonsai.

David Leigh's greenhouse, at 1695 Newbridge Rd., No. Bellmore, is situated in a woodland setting where the ancient art of Bonsai... the training and growing of exquisitely dwarfed plants and trees is practiced with loving care.

Bonsai, originated in China and perfected in Japan, means "tray planted" or "planted on a shallow dish." These artful creations are ordinary trees dwarfed and carefully shaped in an appropriate container. The prized appearance is a combination of trunk and branch shaping and the degree of root exposure.

Traditionally, a Bonsai is a treasured possession, a living art form that may live to be more than 100 years old, one that is often handed from one generation to another, an ancient Japanese custom that is still revered.

At the Little Glass House, David and his skilled artisans will create an individual bonsai for you or an exquisite indoor or outdoor Japanese garden for your home. "Whether small and intimate or large and formal, your garden will look as though it was created by nature," says Leigh.

"Bonsai do not require extraordinary care,"

says Leigh, "and we give a detailed care booklet with each plant. We really care for our Bonsai," he says, "and the results are pure beauty. Our plants carry a full guarantee—from three months to a full year from date of purchase, and we'll ship the plant of your choice anywhere in the U.S. A gift of a living thing is an ancient, delightful custom."

The Little Glass House carries everything for the Bonsai gardener—kits, literature, dishes and a variety of products. The greenhouse offers periodic beginner classes and students "graduate" with a Bonsai they create for themselves. Call 480-0495 for complete details.

Let the Sun Shine In...But Keep Out the Heat And Cold

by Keni Woodruff

Windows and skylights are the 'hottest' item on the booming home improvement scene. "Homeowners want light, light and more light in their homes," says Albert Green, president of Approved Dormers in Bellmore. "We're putting in a lot of half round windows, French doors capped with sweeping half-rounds, skylights everywhere...people love the open, airy look and lots of light indoors."

High performance insulated glass allows the homeowner to have all that extra light while providing both summer and winter energy efficiency. Available in clear or lightly tinted glass, the new windows and skylights reflect the heat during hot summer days when the sun is high in the sky, keeping the home cooler and reducing air conditioning bills. In winter, when the sun sits lower in the sky, sunlight streams directly into the windows, increasing interior warmth and lowering heating costs.

New tinting and coating methods cut approximately 70% of the sun's ultraviolet rays, allowing the outdoor brightness to light up the house without damaging fabrics or fading delicate colors.

"The new windows have other bonuses," Green said. They're either vinyl or aluminum clad for minimum maintenance, and they're available in a variety of colors to complement or contrast the exterior color of the home. The colors are also designed to increase energy efficiency.

Why all the emphasis on energy efficiency? "New York has a new energy code," Green commented. "If energy efficient windows aren't used, contractors must supplement the insulation in the home to meet a set rating package."

Manufacturers are meeting these new efficiency requirements by developing a variety of high performance, energy saving finishes for both glass and trim. A warm bronze tint, added to the outer pane of Anderson's 'Sun' glass can cut radiated heat by 62% and UV penetration by 88%.

Pozzi, another manufacturer of high quality windows, skylights and doors, utilizes 3/4" 'dead space' between the panes of its high-performance insulated glass windows to maximize thermal qualities and minimize noise transference.

"Skylights are really popular now," according to Tim Green, vice president of the Bellmore contracting firm. "People want them in the kitchen, living room, in bathrooms and hallways. They not only brighten up the room, they provide passive solar energy and extra ventilation. They're leakproof and insulated, and they're being made in laminated safety glass similar to auto glass. Manufacturers are using stainless steel hardware to prevent rust, and one piece cold-rolled, factory assembled copper flashing to ensure, tight, leakproof fit."

"Homeowners are really knowledgeable these days," Bert and Tim commented. "They go to the home improvement shows, do lots of 'window-shopping,' and ask a lot of questions. They don't want just light, they want quality, energy efficiency, and they want their homes to look beautiful. There are many new styles to choose from these days, and the manufacturers are developing products that meet state and local energy requirements as well as the consumers demands for quality materials."

"We're putting in French door these days, instead of sliding glass for patio doors," says Tim Green, "and more often than not, we're topping them with sweeping half-round windows to add height and a sense of spaciousness to the doorway. It's an elegant look and adds a sense of classical style to most homes. They add charm to a traditional home, and soften the hard lines of modern ones."

(NOTE: look for an in-depth feature on home additions, by Approved, later this year. They'll show you how to change the look and feel of your home with dormers, skylights and windows, with a minimum of inconvenience and with maximum energy efficiency. If you'd like an estimate on your own home renovation, call Approved Dormers, 2648 Grand Ave., Bellmore, 781-3030)

High performance insulating glass reflects radiated heat in summer, reducing interior heat buildup and lowering cooling costs. In winter, sun rays penetrate the windows, interior warmth is retained, and heating costs are lowered. The diagram, here, shows summer and winter sun positions and how the specially coated H.P. glass reflects and retains heat and glare throughout the year.

Insula-Dome® Skylights are available in models that accommodate virtually any application; pitched roof, flat roof, fixed or vented. Vented models can be operated manually or with a motorized unit. Most units can be accessorized with storm panels and sunscreens.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

The month of December seems to be party time at the Galileo Lodge, and maybe even a little part of October. Permit me to explain. On Saturday, December 3, the Galileo Lodge will present its Christmas Dance. Admission is $10. A delicious, hot dinner with all the trimmings, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set ups and live music from a leading disc jockey will be featured. This dance usually sets the mood and atmosphere, and from then on the fun and merriment just seem to materialize and take on a special vibrancy. Rocco Lombardo will chair this dance, assisted by co-chairman Armand del Cioppo, an unbeatable combination if there ever was one.

Then, on December 11, the Galileo Lodge presents its two Christmas parties: one for the handicapped children of Queens and Long Island, and the other for the children of the membership in the afternoon. It is quite a difficult job to describe these parties because they epitomize everything that is beautiful, warm and lovely about the holiday season. The emotional impact reaches such a high pitch that everyone associated with these parties—the children as well as the adults of the Galileo Lodge—are practically mesmerized by the degree of warmth and affection that is bestowed upon these children.

The Galileo Lodge presents its New Year's Party and Dance on Saturday, December 31.

This is also one of the Galileo Lodge's gala affairs. Everything will be a part of this dance: dinner, food, liquor, continental breakfast, music, laughter and the kind of high spirits that permeates the whole atmosphere of the Galileo Lodge. In my next article, I will present more particulars concerning this party.

When I mentioned part of October as holiday fever, I meant, Saturday, October 20. This is the night when the Galileo Lodge offers its Halloween Dance for its members, friends and patrons. Price of admission is $10, and in the offering will be a delicious hot dinner with all the trimmings, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups and some great live music from a performer who is associated with the 'one-man band' type of entertainment. Costumes are optional, but prizes will be awarded to those whose costumes are the best in several categories. Rocco Lombardo will chair this dance, assisted by co-chairman Armand Del Cioppo. Here is another great affair to be presented by the Galileo Lodge.

And there is a little something left for November as the Ladies Auxiliary announce that it will present a Fashion Show on Friday, November 18. Tickets sell at $10 per person. An informal lunch, refreshments, music and some great fashions will be featured. Marie Prudenti will supervise this activity. More on this activity in later articles.

When You Lose a Pet

Losing a dog or cat to illness or accident can be a devastating experience. Anyone who wishes to talk about the sorrow and pain that comes with an animal's death is welcome to contact Alice Denninger, coordinator of supportive care services at the Bide-A-Wee Home Association's Wantagh facility.

Mrs. Denninger, who has many years of experience working in hospice settings and nursing facilities, helps people work through the grief following the loss of a beloved companion animal. Come in and share your thoughts, pain or even just your fond memories with someone who really cares. Mrs. Denninger can be reached by calling 516-785-1104. Nassau and Suffolk County residents can come in for both individual and group sessions or can discuss their situations over the phone with Mrs. Denninger.

Bide-A-Wee is located at 3300 Beltagh Avenue in Wantagh, and reminds those interested that grief counseling is a free service, although donations are gratefully accepted. For further information, call 212-532-0358.

Merchant of the Week

— Cameo Gallery —

"Where framing is an art."

When they started their business 22 years ago, the Levitons worked out of their garage and sold their service in a booth at the Farmer's Market. Today, Bill and Gilda Leviton occupy a large warehouse on Burns Avenue, offer 30,000 prints and 160 moldings and have a reputation, known all over the Island, for quality and top-notch craftsmanship in picture framing.

At the Cameo Gallery, anything can be framed. "We're more than just a picture framing place," she said. "We can frame clothing, memorabilia, mirrors, objects, with thousands of styles to choose from."

Bill complimented his wife's skills, says she is a "good framer," and the customers depend on her taste and judgment for their needs. "She instinctively picks out nice things," he said. Gilda added that people who visit the shop "are awe-struck because other shops don't offer the creativity and selection we do."

Trust is important to the Levitons because without it, they would not have clients. "People from all over Long Island come here," said Gilda. "They trust us because we don't oversell or try to push anything on them. We work with them for the best results."

Being in the business for so many years has not weathered the Levitons either. "We've been in business for years and we know it well," said Gilda. But to me, every job is a new and exciting challenge, whether it's a traditional look, antique look or contemporary look. I can do it."

Many services are offered at Cameo Gallery, among them are custom framing, restoration of frames, custom finishing, matting, leafing with gold, French mats, and posters and prints ordering. More than 160 moldings and 3,000 corner samples are in stock to help customers choose the exact frame they want. This full service shop also performs all work on the premises with the help of the talents of Jerry and Dave.

For more information, call 938-9690 or visit 5-09 Burns Ave. Tuesday through Saturday 9 to 5. Travel West John Street to Burns Avenue and turn south on Burns. The shop is on the right side.

Chamber Music in Plainview & Jazz at N.Y. Tech

Music lovers will have their pick of two concerts on Sunday, November 6, according to Oyster Bay Town Councilman Howard T. Hogan, Jr.

The Minnewaska Chamber Music Society will present the third program in the "Distinguished Artists Concerts" at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library, 999 Old Country Road, Plainview. Show time will be 3 p.m.

Formed in 1979, the Minnewaska Chamber Music Society has performed at concert halls, museums and colleges throughout the tri-state area including Carnegie Hall, Guild Hall in East Hampton, the Roslyn Fine Arts Museum and Dowling College to rave reviews from audiences and critics alike," Hogan said. "Its members...flutist Laura Gustavsen, guitarist Bill Zito, pianist/director Judith Alstadter, drummer Jim Pirone and Lynn Milano on bass...have a long list of credits both as members of the group and as soloists.

"The group boasts an extensive repertoire that runs the gamut from baroque to 20th century compositions, including jazz," Hogan continued. "For this performance, selections will include "Spanish Dance No. 5" by Granados, "Sonata" by Poulenc, "Picnic Suite" by Bolling and "Sonata in G, Major" by C.P.E. Bach."

If your taste runs to jazz, the Gully Low Jazz Band will be opening the "Great Sounds of Jazz" series at Salten Hall on the campus of New York Institute of Technology, Rte. 25-A, Old Westbury. The concert will get underway at 3 p.m.

David Ostwald (tuba and bass saxophone) formed the Gully Low Jazz Band in November, 1980," Hogan said. "Appearing at jazz clubs up and down the east coast, the band has developed a loyal following who appreciate the group's repertoire of jazz primarily from the '20's and '30's played to perfection by Ostwald, Randy Reinhart on coronet, Clarence Hutchenrider on clarinet and Frank Vignola on guitar and banjo."

Both musical series, "Distinguished Artists Concerts" and "Great Sounds of Jazz," are being sponsored by the Cultural and Performing Arts (CAPA) Division of the Town's Department of Community and Youth Services. The "Distinguished Artists Concerts" series is also being supported by grants from Apple Bank for Savings, Cablevision and Long Island Bank for Savings, FSB.

Pumpkins—More Than Just A Pretty Face

Halloween is fast approaching, and with it the prospect of selecting that most delightful holiday vegetable, the pumpkin. Long Island farm bureau reminds you that Long Island farm stands are well stocked with pumpkins in all shapes and sizes, winter squash, indian corn, apples, and fresh cider, along with many other fresh fruits and vegetables, making Halloween preparation as easy as a pleasant drive in the country.

When selecting your pumpkins, don't forget that they are a lot more than a just a pretty face! A 1/2 cup serving of cooked pumpkin supplies a whole days requirement of Vitamin A, as well as smaller amounts of iron, Thiamin, and Riboflavin, all for only 38 calories. The methods of preparation are as varied as your imagination, ranging from traditional pies, cakes, and cookies, to a simple side dish of baked pumpkin with seasoning and butter, to sophisticated pumpkin soufflé. Even the roasted seeds provide a delicious high protein snack.

The pumpkins versatility doesn't stop there; hollowed out it makes a colorful serving dish, and the smallest pumpkins make unique place cards and party favors. So plan to pick the best looking pumpkin to glow in your window on Halloween, but don't forget to pick up some extras to discover their real inner beauty.

Chamber of Commerce Its Business is Hicksville

Town Hall Should Be in Hicksville

"The Town Hall at Oyster Bay is inadequate to take care of all the Town Business. A Modern building MUST and WILL be built. We can have this building in Hicksville if we make a concerted effort to get it. Hicksville, the HUB of the Township is the logical place for the Town Hall. Let our slogan be - The Town Hall in the most progressive community - Hicksville."

Frank Chlumsky, secretary, Hicksville Chamber of Commerce, January 1929

Railroad Improvements

"The conditions at the Hicksville station are not in keeping with modern requirements, the accommodation afforded at the east side is totally inadequate for the demands now being made upon it."

Frank Chlumsky, March 1928

Shop in Hicksville Campaign

"We feel that a campaign can be put over successfully if we receive the support of the merchants.

In whatever way we can, we should endeavor to teach merchants the value of modernizing their stores in every way, by putting new store fronts, new lighting fixtures, etc., and a willingness to pull together for mutual advantage.

To obtain for the business interests of our community the maximum purchasing power of its residents is, of course, one of the principle objects of our organization."

Frank Chlumsky, March 1928

By Rita Langdon

Between 1928 and 1929, these were the concerns of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce. Today, however, 60 years later, the typical agenda reflects the pressure of the times. Although decades have passed since these decisions of the 1920's, the local business organization shows virtually no signs of age—it is still active and vibrant.

Like the 1920's, the beautification of the town is still of great concern to the chamber, according to president Marcos Ramirez. A priority with the commerce is to have litter baskets placed along Broadway and Old Country Road. Mr. Ramirez has 30 litter baskets in his yard and he is waiting the "go-ahead" from the Town of Oyster Bay, to line them along Broadway. For this project, the town will be responsible for picking up the garbage.

The chamber, in cooperation with local merchants, has been trying to stop other businesses from putting their trash out at the curb days before garbage collection. Mr. Ramirez said that in addition to cluttering the sidewalks, sometimes the trash blows around the area.

Flag Program

The chamber also provides flags to be lined along Broadway and a few sides streets (Herzog Place and West and East Marie Street) during different holidays such as Memorial Day, Flag Day, Independence Day, Election Day and Veteran's Day. The chamber has been doing this service since 1963. Different service organizations such as the Lions Club, Kiwanis Club, the Elks and American Legion, install the flags. "We have been administering the whole system to see that it gets done at a certain time," said Effie Krogmann, past chamber president. "It's affective because you do notice the flags."

However, the chamber has had some problems with the flags. Between the time the flags are installed and are brought down by sundown, some of them have been stolen.

"It's unfortunate. I've never seen anybody take them, but they're gone," said Larry McCaffrey, flag chairman.

"We were 40 flags short, but we recently

replenished the flags," Mrs. Krogmann said.

"We're pretty much full, thanks to V.F.W. Post 3211 who gave us 25 flags," said Mr. McCaffrey.

Last year, the chamber had a larger than usual amount of holiday lighting on Broadway. In 1986, the chamber wasn't satisfied with the job the contractor did installing the lights. The chamber expressed its disappointment and the following year (1987) the contractor added additional lights at cost, Mr. Ramirez explained.

Mrs. Krogmann said, "The decorations are for holiday spirit and for dressing up our town, which makes people want to come into the town to buy."

Business Show

The chamber will host its second business show December 20. It will feature displays by businesses and professionals from Hicksville and other areas. The show will be from 12 to 3 p.m. at Antun's. Superintendent of Hicksville Schools Dr. Catherine Fenton has notified the chamber that high school students will be singing holiday songs at the show. To have a display at the show call 931-7170.

"Last year the business show was very successful," said Mr. Ramirez. More than 40 displays were featured. "The purpose of the show is to get the business community sector together—business to business," said Mr. Ramirez. Mrs. Krogmann added, "You meet people at Kiwanis, Lions and Chamber of Commerce meetings, and half the time you don't really know what services they provide. This gives them the chance."

Membership Increased

The chamber has increased in size by 45 members within the past two years and has expanded its programs. "The chamber helps you keep abreast of what is happening in the community," Mr. Ramirez said.

Both Mr. Ramirez and Mrs. Krogmann agree that it is to all local merchant's advantage to be involved with the chamber. "When you isolate yourself, you don't know anything, but when you belong as part of a group with a common interest, you can get a lot more done," Mrs. Krogmann said.

FROM THE DESK OF:

SUPERVISOR
DELLIGATTI

There is an old saying that wisely suggests the following: "Never make a defense or an apology unless you be accused."

I'm going to half ignore that advice and take exception to a charge that, while not aimed specifically at the Town of Oyster Bay, has been brought of late against Long Island's local governments in general.

We stand accused of "business-bashing"—a phrase no doubt crafted for the alliteration headline writers love. The charge is being brought by members of the development community on Long Island, and they've given notice that they intend to fight what they consider the increasingly "restrictive attitudes" of local government.

Speaking for Oyster Bay's Town government, I would counter that our attitude towards development, and the policies that guide our decisions in that area, should more accurately be described as cautious and well-thought. Do these policies sometimes lead to development restrictions? Absolutely, but always in pursuit of maintaining the delicate balance needed for all segments of our community—residential, business and industrial—to co-exist in harmony.

Growth, both residential and commercial, is a sign of vitality and my fellow Town Board members and I welcome it in our Town. But not without stringent guidelines, and not at the cost of sacrificing the very quality of life that makes the Town of Oyster Bay a sought after address for individuals and businesses alike.

During 1987 our Town issued industrial and commercial development permits valued at almost $1 million dollars. All other categories of permits totaled approximately 71 million dollars. I would hardly call this a pattern of "business-bashing." At the same time land value and new home and resale prices have never been higher.

We, in Oyster Bay, believe that we have accomplished what many other nearby communities of similar size have been unable to do. We have created a near ideal community, responsive to the needs of both residents and businesses. Proof of this can be found in the fact that homes worth several hundreds of thousands of dollars are often located within a stones throw of business structures and industrial parks.

Our planning and development policies have succeeded in preserving the value of our land and the desirability of our community, while permitting well-ordered growth to occur. As Oyster Bay Town Supervisor I am extremely proud of this fact.

With all due respect to our friends in the development sector, I'd ask that they consider this before labeling all local governments with the same obstructionist tag.

FALL FOLLIES

Take the Family Pumpkin-Picking

Pumpkin-picking is an annual tradition for many families, and for those who've never taken part in this fall folly, there's no better time to start.

If traipsing around in a pumpkin patch, amid the swirling vines and sometimes muddy soil, isn't what you had in mind, visit your local farm or farmstand and you can take the shortcut of picking one out at a store display only if you promise to spend the saved time by decorating it.

If you're feeling more "natural" and are looking for something to do during a gorgeous autumn afternoon, head east to Stonybrook, Patchogue, Riverhead or Cutchogue and seek out that perfect pumpkin.

I don't know about you, but I'm a sucker for any "all-you-can-eat" or "pay-one-price" promotion. However, not being the type that visits the gym or works out with Jane Fonda with any frequency, "all-you-can-carry" seemed more advantageous to the promoter than to me, the consumer.

The dilemma was quickly resolved when I enlisted the assistance of a strong young man and decided to split the $5 fee if he would carry my selections. There are a number of farms on the eastern end of Long Island that offer these spectacular specials and, in my visit to one on Sound Avenue in Cutchogue, I witnessed a man carrying no less than 20 pumpkins. He had one of every variety—small to sit on his desk at work, mid-sized for the kitchen table and extra-large for the front stoop.

Perhaps you'll grant me that 20 pumpkins for $5 is quite a bargain, but if I'm not planning to sell them a mile or so down the road, why do I want so many? Besides being wonderful to look at with their glorious orange glow, pumpkins serve a variety of purposes.

First and foremost, you can create marvelous foods with pumpkins. I've been known to consume an entire pumpkin pie during Thanksgiving weekend and have loved every nibble of it. There's also, although I've never tried them, recipes which call for pumpkin soup, pumpkin muffins, pumpkin waffles, pumpkin milk shake, pumpkin with ham, onions and corn and a pumpkin and corn stew. The easiest, and probably most popular of all, is plain, old pumpkin seeds, dried in the oven and smothered in salt.

The little orange treasures are also wonderful decorations. They add a seasonal flair to the exterior of your home. Add some corn stalks or a bale or two of hay, coupled with some maize, and you'll look like your expecting the pilgrims for a visit.

Best of all, there's jack-o-lanterns. Since we are near fire prevention week, let me begin by explaining that no candles should be left burning in the pumpkin unattended. It is best to rest the candle firmly and securely on an aluminum base and to cover the jack-o-lantern's lid with aluminum foil to prevent burning.

Be creative with your carving. Have a contest in the family. Let the young boys make the scary ones, the girls have happy faces, mom and dad reflect aggravation and exhaustion. Just make sure you don't throw away the seeds; they are the perfect reward for your creative efforts.

An interesting variation on carving is using gourds and squash as the pumpkin's eyes and nose. They not only add color, but save you the trouble of finding a candle that fits the pumpkin's height.

Don't like all the mess? Don't carve, paint. Outrageous pinks, yellows and reds make for quite an attractive face. Markers will also do the trick as will crayons if nothing else is handy. Put your marvelous new friend in the front window so the tricksters looking for treats can greet it on Halloween. Decorating pumpkins without the benefit of the knife also helps their lifespan and can keep the creations with you through Thanksgiving.

Plantation Games Recalled

A very proud, competitive Hicksville community staged a giant sports carnival in 1948. It was part of the 300th anniversary celebration and utilized the then-wide expanse of fields on Jerusalem Avenue, the present site of the Middle School.

Here are some excerpts from the press release of the Tercentenary Committee after the events 40 years ago. It was written by Howard Finnegan and approved for release by chairwoman, Miss Gertrude Wetterauer. Hundreds of people participated in what were called Plantation Way Games. Sadly, some of the participants are no longer with us.

Only one person won two first places at the games. Milton Levitt outlegged Scooter Scott to win the senior 220 and leaped 21 feet 9 1/2 inches to win the broad jump in that division over a talented field.

The junior 50-yard dash saw Eugene Hattenback edge Chester Walters but in the 75-yard race he finished second to Richard Everschuck. Frank Triolo won the 100-yard dash and was second in the high jump which went to Ronnie Christiansen. In the other Junior event, Ted Homerick leaped 13 feet 5 inches to win the broad jump over Walters who recorded three second finishes during the afternoon.

William Lenzner won the 100-yard dash in 10.7 time on a heavy track as he defeated Peter Haughey. Haughey, the game's all-around outstanding performer, won the 60-yard dash with Lenzner coming up in the second place spot.

Bob Cotter went unchallenged in the 880 and won easily and Bob Thomas, after laying back most of the way, put on a terrific burst of steam at the final turn to sail home in front in the 440. Levitt as already reported won the broad jump but was pressed. Bob Quinlan back in the fifth place, leaped 19 feet 5 inches and that indicates how close the competition was.

The Senior high jump proved the high spot of the meet. Most of the crowd were rooting for either Jimmy Hall or Billy Byrnes, the former big names in the event for H.H.S. However, the time absent from the crossbar and improper dress for the event caused them to be eliminated. The Plantation title went to Bill Garbarino who gracefully cleared the bar at a height of 5 feet 6 inches.

The winning relay team of Bill Garbarino, Peter Haughey, George Thomas and Bob Thomas went the distance of the Hicksville oval in the very good time of 47.3 seconds.

The Hicksville Loyolas and the Hicksville Rustlers provided a fine softball game. The Loyolas were victorious 4-1. Jim Barone, first of the three Loyola pitchers who worked for manager Bernie McCunnigle, received the credit for the win while George Cheslock took the defeat. The Loyolas nicked Cheslock for five hits only one being a real blast—that by George Karman. Facing such powerful chucks as Barone, Joe Smith and Bill Bordinuk, the losers could tally only two hits.

The Hicksville Girls, under the direction of Frank Ruggiero, defeated the Long Island Clovers 10-2 in an appreciated contest. In reality four Hicksville girls are regulars on the Clovers team but they chose to perform with the local squad for the celebration. With Elsie Bartels, Rose Millevolte, Ethel Kunz and Cathy Pakaluk opposing them the Clovers were pounded.

Bobby Bean waded through a field of 26 entries to win the Horseshoe pitching tournament. He defeated Matty Tringali 23-8 in the final match.

Typical of the high degree of excitement was the winning of the Girls open 50-yard dash in which the winner breezed across the finish line and never stopped to catch her breath—grabbed her trophy and was off before her name could be recorded!

Transported to the field on a hay wagon and having their bats carted by a goat-drawn wagon the members of the Hicksville Civic Association arrived to face the Fire Department team in a softball contest (7).

There was no adding machine at the field but it is just as well. Such a machine can't register laughter and that was what the contest produced the most of.

Opening lead — king of clubs.

How to play a particular suit combination is governed not only by the composition of the suit itself but also by the problem of finding the best way to make the contract.

Here is a typical case where declarer is faced with a crucial guess in trumps. West leads a club, which South ruffs. There is no good reason not to lead trumps, so South plays a low spade to the queen, which loses to East's ace.

Back comes a club, which declarer ruffs again. Now South plays a low heart to dummy's queen and returns a trump. When East produces the eight, declarer has to choose between playing the ten or the king.

Ordinarily, South would play the king because there is a small mathematical advantage, in the long run, by playing for the drop. But in this deal South should play the ten. Declarer takes the finesse for a very good reason. Playing the ten assures the contract, while playing the king jeopardizes the contract.

If the ten wins (because East has the jack), declarer cashes the king and loses at most two diamond tricks to make the contract.

If the ten loses (because West has the jack), South still has the contract firmly under control. Whatever West returns, declarer cashes the A-K-J of hearts, discarding three diamonds from dummy, loses a diamond to the ace and eventually ruffs his third diamond in dummy, thus scoring ten tricks.

Note that if South plays the spade king instead of the ten, he goes down. When East takes the lead with the ace of diamonds he cashes the jack of spades, removing dummy's last trump, and declarer eventually loses two diamonds and two spades to go down one.

A celebration worth giving.

WHY DO WE NEED THE WORD OF GOD?

We do not have to look around very much to see that man needs direction. Our environment is polluted to the point of almost being destroyed. Our youth, the future generation, are by and large, confused, abused, due to broken homes, drugs and permissiveness. O' where do we turn?

"Turn you at my reproof: behold I will pour out my Spirit unto you, I will make known my Words unto you."

PROVERBS 1:23

"Just Say No" Clubs

Positive Peer Pressure for a Drug-Free America

Fact: Most American youth have used illegal drugs by the time they are seniors in high school. Kids in rural areas are only slightly less likely than their urban counterparts to use drugs. In some areas, the rate of drug use among country kids actually exceeds that of city kids.

Fact: Children today are using drugs at a younger age than ever before. A substantial and growing number of grade-school students report being pressured by friends to use drugs. The earlier the age at which kids begin experimenting with drugs — including alcohol and tobacco — the greater the chance they will develop serious drug problems later on.

Fact: One of the main reasons young people use drugs is peer pressure. Peer pressure intensifies most at the point in kids' lives when they are most susceptible to the influence of friends — around the time they enter junior high.

Fact: "Just Say No" Clubs are groups of children, 7-14 years old, who are united in their commitment to resist peer pressure and say No to drugs. The Clubs strengthen members' resolve through a variety of research-based educational, recreational, and service activities. Kids join "Just Say No" Clubs for the support they offer, for the fun and excitement, for the chance to make a positive difference in the world. They know that together they can create a new kind of peer pressure — peer pressure to remain drug-free. But they need your help. qua player blasted a shot just wide of the net as the Corners' goalie came out to cut down the angle. After another close scoring chance for Hicksville, Massapequa retained possession bringing the ball back into Cornet territory. With approximately five minutes remaining, Massapequa took a corner kick that barely missed going in as it sailed just over the crossbar; the angle the kick was at, was just a bit too straight. That would be their last legitimate scoring opportunity. With four minutes remaining, Mike Luongo put the icing on the cake by tapping in the ball in the crease for a 2-0 lead; Steve Gourlay assisted on the goal. The final score was Hicksville-2, Massapequa-0 as goaltender Kevin Morrisroe picked up the shutout.

Though this was the final home game of the year for Hicksville, Mr. Moeller said that it doesn't matter whether the team is home or away. The only thing that concerns him now is the final two games of the year which will be tough contests. According to Mr. Moeller, "The two games we have left are very difficult, Baldwin and Southside." Within the division, Mr. Moeller anticipates the most trouble from Syosset, especially if the two teams collide in the playoffs. Perhaps, Jack Fabrizio best summed up what the team expects from the rest of the year, "The same as today, a good solid performance out there."

Halloween Safety Tips

Halloween is a time of fun, but carelessness can turn the evening into a tragedy. Here are a few common sense safety tips to ensure the night is all treats and no tricks:

* Make sure that masks, beards and wigs are flame retardant.

* Costumes should be light and bright enough to be clearly visible to motorists. Bags and sacks should be decorated or trimmed with reflective tape which will "glow" in a car's headlights.

* Masks should have large holes and costumes should not be too long. Many children are injured by tripping on their costumes or because they couldn't see properly through narrow slits in their masks.

* Little children should be chaperoned and older children should travel in pairs.

* Discard candy that is out of the original wrapping and beware of homemade treats unless you can positively identify the person who provided them. Follow the old adage: when in doubt, throw out.

* Have children do their trick and treating in familiar neighborhoods.

The Nassau Medical Center reminds parents to practice these tips and call the Poison Control Center at 542-2323 should a poisoning be suspected.

Athletic Scholarships Available

More than 100,000 Collegiate Athletic Scholarships are available each year to male and female high school and junior college student athletes. Contrary to popular belief, students don't have to be All State to qualify. Much of this money goes unused. A new publication with forms, sample letters and tables of factual information is available for student athletes. It takes them step by step through the process of getting an athletic scholarship.

For details on how to get a collegiate athletic scholarship, send a large self addressed, stamped envelope to The National Sports Foundation, Box 408, Matawan, N.J. 07747.

Ford maintains that the quality car you buy is now backed by the best Quality Care in America.

Quality Care is a commitment from Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers to strive to make their customers the most satisfied in the world.

Quality Care is a lot of things. One of the most important is the Lifetime Service Guarantee.

If a dealer repairs your Ford, Lincoln or Mercury, they guarantee that once you pay for a covered repair, if it ever has to be fixed again, they will fix it free, parts and labor, for as long as you own your vehicle. Nobody guarantees car repairs longer. Nobody guarantees car repairs better. And LSG covers thousands of repairs.

Ask for a copy of this limited warranty. Only participating Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers have it. Only Ford, Lincoln and Mercury owners can get it.

Ford Quality Care and the Lifetime Service Guarantee. It's the difference between just buying a car and owning peace of mind.

House Calls

By Edith Lank

Buying First Home

Dear Edith: My husband and I are first-time homebuyers, 23 years of age, no children. The price they are asking for the house we like is only half what I saw a similar house for elsewhere. But we asked the broker if the seller would move on the price. He said the seller would not move on the price. Here are my questions:

1. Do many people end up paying full price? After we signed the contracts a friend said you are not supposed to pay list price. Were we taken advantage of?
2. They told us one interest rate on our mortgage and then mentioned an

APR rate that was 3/4 of a percent more. Does this mean we are getting the original rate?

3. I am looking forward to receiving a settlement in an accident case. Would it be a good idea to put half of that money into the house next year and refinance?

Your advice and suggestions would be appreciated. Comments from my friends are negative and make me feel worse. — Mrs. S.A.

It sounds as if you woke up at 3 a.m. with a classic attack of the malady known as Buyer's Remorse. Don't let your friends bother you. Buying whatever you can afford at this point

Here's a grand way to afford a trip to Paris. Just sign in at your local Peugeot car dealer and say "I'd like a sweepstakes form please."

There's nothing to buy, but you may have to be polite and look at the new front wheel drive Peugeot 405 S. No big hardship!

Peugeot Motors of America Inc. is sponsoring a "Car of the Year" sweepstakes at Peugeot dealerships nationwide. The grand prize is a new Peugeot 405 S, voted Europe's Car of the Year by the widest margin in history. Four first-place winners will receive an all-expenses paid trip for two to Paris.

The first prize trips to Paris include round-trip airfare from the winners' nearest gateway city, ground transfers upon arrival in Paris, six nights in a luxury hotel, including taxes and service charges, and a sightseeing tour.

Official "Car of the Year" sweepstakes entry forms are available at participating Peugeot dealerships. To qualify, contestants must deposit a dealer-validated entry form at participating Peugeot dealerships by November 1, 1988. No purchase is necessary.

Rules and restrictions apply.

Peugeot Motors of America, with headquarters in Lyndhurst, New Jersey, is the U.S. sales and marketing arm of Peugeot S.A., Europe's third largest automaker.

More than 250 Peugeot dealers comprise the U.S. network. For the nearest Peugeot dealer, telephone this toll-free number: 1-800-447-2882.

State Parks Hunting Season Announced

Sixty-two of New York's 150 State Parks will permit hunting in specified areas during the fall, winter and early spring for the taking of deer, small game, upland birds and waterfowl. Special restrictions are in effect to protect park visitors and to assure sound wildlife management. Hunting regulations are formulated in cooperation with the State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC); hunting dates are set by DEC.

Hunters are advised to check with the State Park regional office and the local DEC game management office for specific information. All hunters must have a valid hunting license and where applicable, a federal waterfowl permit. Hunters should note that current DEC regulations prohibit the use of lead shot when hunting waterfowl.

Rules and regulations for the hunting of small and large game is available from DEC, 50 Wolf Road, Albany, N.Y. 12233. The "Guide to New York State Operated Parks, Historic Sites and Their Programs" is available, free of charge, from State Parks, Albany N.Y. 12238.

Comets See 'Red' as Devils Romp 35-10

By Jim McCrann

Following their 3-0 victory over Syosset two weeks ago, the tables turned for the Hicksville Comets football team as they lost last week 35-10 to Freeport.

"Overpowered" was how many members of the Hicksville High varsity football team described their defeat to the Freeport Red Devils on Saturday, October 14. Coach Ron Quattrini described them as "Big. They had us by 30 pounds a man."

Place-kicker Steve Gourlay's 28 yard field goal into the wind gave Hicksville the margin of victory as the defense played very strong in the shutout. Freeport dominated the first half but the Comets came out fighting in the second half. The final score in this game was Freeport-35, Hicksville-10.

The first quarter began with a Freeport drive all the way to the Comets 31 yard line. It ended on an incomplete pass on fourth down with 9 yards to go. The Comet's offense, unable to get a first down, punted all the way down to the Freeport 15 yard line. On Freeport's first play from scrimmage, they ran the ball 85 yards into the endzone but the touchdown was nullified due to a holding penalty. As the defense held the Red Devils in check, the Comet's offense regained possession on their 38 yard line. On second down and 7, Joe Passo threw a pass off a Hicksville receiver right into the hands of a Freeport defensive back for an interception, giving Freeport possession on Hicksville's 49 yard line. Freeport drove the ball down to the 12 yard line where they fumbled, giving the Comets possession at the end of the first quarter.

Hicksville's drive was short-lived as Freeport's Andrew Wicks picked off a Passo pass at the Comets 40 yard line. Freeport continued their early second quarter drive by taking the ball down to the 13 yard line on a pass play. From there, Scot Richardson ran the ball into the endzone, and the subsequent two point conversion put the Red Devils on top 8-0.

On Hicksville's next possession, turn-overs hurt them again. On second and 9 from the Comets' 27 yard line, Joe Passo, under pressure, threw a pass that was tipped and intercepted by Freeport at the 28 yard line. After another big gain brought Freeport within 20 yards of the endzone, an odd play occurred: Corey Brewer carried the ball up the middle and fumbled it in the air, it rebounded off three players on both teams and landed in the arms of quarterback Andy Wicks, who ran the ball down to the 6 yard line. On second and goal just shy of the goal line, Wicks ran the ball in for a 14-0 lead, the 2 point conversion made it 16-0. With about 3 minutes remaining in the half Hicksville took over at their 34. On second down, George Filippone picked up 5 yards for a first down at the 47. Joe Passo then connected with Chris Hogan for a first down at Freeport's 41. Disaster struck once again for the Comets; Andy Wicks intercepted another pass at the 21 and ran it down to Hicksville's 10 yard line with under 2 minutes left in the half. Scot Richardson ran the ball in from there for a 22-0 lead. The extra point conversion gave Freeport a 23-0 lead at halftime.

The second half began with little progress for the Comets. Their first drive was stopped at the 50 yard line and the punt gave Freeport the ball back at their 18 yard line. After they gained a first down, the Comets defense went back to playing much like the way they did the previous game in Syosset. They caught a break when on a third down and 9 situation, the quarterback fumbled the ball after picking up first down yardage, and Carl Andersen recovered the fumble at Freeport's 48 yard line. This drive, highlighted by a Dave Dobrindt 10 yard pass reception, ended on yet another turnover; a fumble gave Freeport possession. The third quarter ended with Freeport still leading 23-0.

The fourth quarter began with the Comets giving Freeport a taste of their own medicine: Tom Grey intercepted a pass at Hicksville's 25 yard line. This interception seemed to motivate the Comets. Quarterback Joe Passo caught fire as his receivers caught passes. Passo completed a pass to Dave Dobrindt at the 40 yard line. He then completed one to Chris Hogan at Freeport's 44. A pass to Dobrindt and an enmeshment penalty on Freeport gave the Comets first down on the 33. After another penalty by Freeport, Hicksville had first down on the 17 yard line. Passo then found Hogan over the middle who cut left and ran the ball into the endzone for 6 points. The two point conversion was successful making the score 23-8. Freeport was stopped by the Comets' defense on their next drive at their 26 yard line. On fourth down the Comets capitalized on another opportunity as the snap on the punt sailed over the punter's head into the endzone; there Mike Ions tackled the punter, who was trying to recover to ball, for a safety and 2 more points for Hicksville. The score was now 23-10, but the rest of the game was all Freeport. They scored another 6 points on a Corey Brewer 10 yard run. Mark Brown added 6 more as the game ended on a 21 yard touchdown run to make the score a final 35-10. The Comets, whose record fell to 1 win and

3 losses, just could not overcome the obvious physical advantages of Freeport. Mr. Quattrini explained, "We couldn't move their defensive line." Furthermore, he said, "We didn't have a sharp passing day. That's the only way you're going to loosen up a team with big linemen."

Turnovers were also a main reason for the defeat. Joe Passo was victimized by five interceptions. But he, too, was intimidated by their size. "They were big and strong and they bullied us around." Despite losing by 25 points, Mr. Quattrini found some bright spots: "The offensive ends did a nice job on catching the passes under tough protection and the defense did a good job in the second half."

Looking ahead for the Comets, they play Baldwin next week; a team not so immense. Offensive guard, Jim Buonagura, said, "Most teams are not going to be much bigger than this, so we just have to bear down and play hard." Though bigger does not always mean better, it certainly proved to be the difference in this contest.

Shutout for Hicksville's Soccer Team

By Jim McCrann

Almost as quickly as it began, the soccer season is winding down to the final few games of the year. Throughout the year, Hicksville High's soccer team has been successful for the most part and is continuing to do so. By winning two out of their last three games, the Comets have improved their record to nine wins, two losses and two ties and remain in first place. Their record within their league is seven wins, two losses and one tie. A 3-2 victory over Garden City inspired only short lived success as their next game against rival Syosset was a 5-1 defeat. However, it was not a devastating loss; "The worst that could happen would be that if they won all the rest of their games and we win ours, we'll be tied and then there will have to be some kind of tiebreaker," said Hicksville coach Ed Moeller.

During their final home game of the year, they had a 2-0 victory over Massapequa. This game was imperative for the Comets. Mr. Moeller said, "We had to prove to ourselves that we could come back after the bad loss."

The way things began in the game, it looked as though they would have some difficulty with this team. The first half was pretty evenly played by both teams. The opportunities that came about were not converted. About midway through the first half, Jason Kilmetis headed a centering pass high toward the middle portion of the net, but the Massapequa goaltender stretched out his arms and tipped the ball just above the crossbar. A little later on, the Kilmetis centering pass rebounded off the chest of Jack Fabrizio right to Steve Gourlay who promptly launched a ferocious shot just wide of the net. Massapequa was not without its own opportunities; a Massapequa player broke in above on Hicksville goalie Kevin Morrisroe and rolled one just off the goalpost to the right of the sprawling goaltender. The scored remained 0-0 until halftime.

From the very beginning of the second half, the Comets looked like a rejuvenated team. For most of the second half, they applied constant pressure on Massapequa. There was, however, one lapse in the Comets' defense early in the second half. A centering pass through the Hicksville goal crease was kicked into the net, but the goal was nullified because of an offside by Massapequa. From there, the Comets went back on the offensive. Bill Smith broke up the middle deep into Massapequa territory and made a pass to Jason Kilmetis who was at his right side. Kilmetis fired a shot right into the mid-section of the goal. Massapequa failed to clear and Hicksville continued with unrelenting pressure. Steve Gourlay passed to Jack Fabrizio who passed to Kilmetis who was frustrated on another shot. Mike Luongo centered a pass through the goal crease just out of the reach of Kilmetis who was standing in front of part of the goal left unprotected.

Later on, Luongo came racing in on the right side of the goal almost untouched, but he made contact with a Massapequa defender prompting the referee to call a push on him. Having been incensed at the call and letting the referee know about it, he was given the yellow card.

With about 12 minutes remaining in the second half, Jack Fabrizio broke in on the goalie from the right side. The goaltender went down and Fabrizio passed to Jason Kilmetis who kicked it in for a 1-0 Comet lead. With a large portion of time remaining in the game, Mr. Moeller was far from satisfied with only a goal lead. "Never Enough," he said quite audibly.

Breaking in down the right side, a Massape-

Hicksville Pioneers Capture 5th Victory

By Jay M. Schwartz

The Hicksville American Soccer Club's 1977 Pioneers defeated the Port Washington Blazers, 4-1, last Saturday. They led 3-0 after the first half and had three goals more to put the game away. Goalkeeper Jonathan Schwartz had six saves the first half, while Greg Latini had four in the second.

The game was pretty even through the half, with both teams struggling to make some plays in scoring range. Joseph Florio took a direct kick early in the game and it had the depth, but the wind took it to the left side. Ricky Ladimir sailed one over the net from the left side. Danny Wolchok and Ricky Ladimir had a combo play on the left side. Wolchok popped it up to the right, but there was no player to assist. Tommy Coffey took a shot from the left side and it rolled to the right, but no player was there for the pass. The score came when Ricky Ladimir and Danny Wolchok worked the ball down the field. The goalie came out, Wolchok ran to the right and volleyed it in. The fullbacks Tim Dalton, Joseph Matz, Richard Werchenski and David Nelsen had an easy time of clearing the ball and sending it up.

The second half started with action on both sides of the field. The Blazers were more active, as players were subbed in often. Russell Brousseau passed to Danny Wolchok at mid-field and Wolchok ran one in and shot it wide. Philip Caputo took off on a run and took a shot that went wide to the right. The second goal came later, when Jonathan Schwartz, now a midfielder, cleared the ball up to the mid-field line, where Ricky Ladimir trapped it and ran. It was passed to Danny Wolchok, who took it in for the insurance goal.

The Blazers' goal came when the Pioneers were sloppy in clearing the ball. The Pioneers rallied and Ricky Ladimir sent a ball in the net for the third score. Tommy Coffey scored the last goal, as he took a pass from Sean Flanagan at mid-field, ran down, moved around the goalie and tapped the ball, which rolled 51-0-w-l-y in the net. A Blazer tried to stop it, but got there one step too late.

Congratulations to the coaches and to Westbury Federal Savings and Loan, the team sponsor. "And a big get well to Peter Titone."

IF GETTING A LOT OF CHECKING SERVICES INSTEAD OF A LOT OF CHECKING CHARGES SOUNDS GOOD TO YOU...

CHECK WITH CHASE.

Most banks that offer a lot of services with their checking accounts also offer something else—a lot of individual fees.

But at Chase, you don't have to pay for individual services. And that makes things very easy.

✓ Chase's Unlimited Checking Services. Instead of charging you 25¢ for this and 50¢ for that, Chase checking gives you unlimited check writing, standard personalized checks, stop payments and certified checks. All for a single $10 monthly fee. If you maintain at least a $2,000 average monthly checking balance, there will be no monthly fee.

✓ Unlimited ATM Usage. Included with every Chase checking account, you get unlimited usage of Chase 24-Hour Bank, NYCE[®], and Plus System[®] locations.

And unlimited checking services is only the beginning of the advantages you get with your Chase checking account.

✓ Chase Cash Reserve. This line of credit,* attached to your Chase checking account, helps prevent you from bouncing checks. But, unlike other banks' overdraft protection, Chase Cash Reserve automatically gets paid back each time you make a checking deposit, which can save you money by reducing your interest payments.

✓ Chase Cash Back. Now you can withdraw funds instantly—up to $100—when you deposit a check at an ATM! And, unlike other banks, Chase doesn't require you to have money in other accounts to cover the amount you wish to withdraw.

CHECK WITH CHASE FREE FOR SIX MONTHS.

Check us out—free of charge for six months. Just come into any Chase branch before December 16, 1988. And begin to experience the advantages you'll get only at Chase.

(While you're there, check out our great CD rates, too.)

*If you qualify, you can get a line of credit of $500 to $25,000.

The Winthrop Experience

What our commitment to clinical research means to our patients.

Mention clinical research to most people and it conjures up images of white-coated doctors in gleaming laboratories working on arcane experiments for the benefit of future generations.

Right idea, wrong conclusion.

The fact is, today's research results are put to work more readily than ever before. And the hospital that is immersed in such activity is most often the first to bring its patients the benefits of the newest diagnostic and treatment methods.

Winthrop-University is, of course, just such a place. As a major teaching affiliate of SUNY Stony Brook School of Medicine, we provide a primary setting for the kind of ongoing clinical research that continually widens the frontiers of contemporary medicine.

Example: Osteoporosis

Examples of this are recent grants in excess of $1 million from the National Institute of Health and a leading pharmaceutical company to study osteoporosis prevention and treatment. Since osteoporosis afflicts as many as 25% of postmenopausal women, preventing it or arresting its progress is clearly of great importance to a major segment of society.

Various treatments are presently being practiced but none have proven completely satisfactory. This new study will concentrate on calcitonin, a hormone that is produced in the thyroid gland.

The good news is that calcitonin has already proven a safe and effective form of therapy, without the side effects associated with estrogen. The bad news is that its acceptance has been limited because it can be given by injection only.

New Form Tested

One objective of this project will be to help determine if calcitonin in an intra-nasal spray - inherently more acceptable than injection - proves equally effective. If so, a major new weapon will be available — here and now — in the fight against osteoporosis.

While research, of itself, may not be the most visible hospital function, it is a clear indication of an institution's vitality. It is also a major focus at a teaching hospital such as Winthrop. Clinical studies are currently underway in each of our departments, touching virtually every aspect of patient care. As a result, Winthrop is positioned at the leading edge of many medical advances and technological breakthroughs.

It should come as no surprise that today these events take place at an astonishing rate. Hospitals that engage in research programs are the ones most receptive to introducing such benefits to their patients.

If the need ever arises for you or a member of your family to enter a hospital, there is no substitute for the confidence that comes from knowing you will receive the most up-to-the-minute medical treatment available.

That's a promise that we at Winthrop make with pride.

If you'd like to know more about Winthrop-University Hospital and its program for the prevention and treatment of osteoporosis, please call (516) 663-2888.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity. We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only. We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

To The Editor:

The Northwest Civic Association of Hicksville has begun its 1988-89 season. We are looking for new members. Even though we haven't had a meeting during the summer, the association has been working to clean up and better Hicksville and our Northwest area.

But, we can only be as good as the people who stand behind us. Isn't it worth the small price you have to pay; your dues? Just think of how we all are guilty of throwing that small amount of money away on something and getting nothing out of it. If that small amount of money isn't worth trying to keep Hicksville ours, then something is wrong.

However, it is not just the money. We need all of you there, voicing your opinions. We can only be strong in numbers. Many people come up to me and ask, "What is going on?" If you want to know, then join and come to the meetings. Don't leave it up to the next person. If everyone had that attitude, there wouldn't be an association. I also hear people, the young and our seniors say, "Let the young do it" or "Let the seniors do it."

How can we afford not to care? Our seniors who do come to the meetings have every right to be angry with the younger people. I have yet to see more than a handful show up at our meetings. You, the young, have so much to lose. For instance, you have high mortgages. If you let Hicksville turn into an undesirable place to live by losing our residential land to industry, it will create an unhealthy environment and an unsafe place to live. It will also lower our property values.

What about the safety of your children? The seniors should not say, "We did our part, now it's up to the young people." Remember, the association had been inactive for over 20 years. It was in that time that Hicksville got out of the hands of the people. I hear many of our seniors say, "Where are we going to go?" It would seem to me that united we stand, divided we fall. Come to the meetings and help fight to get Hicksville back.

If you care at all about your family, hometown or our environment, you will join us in keeping Hicksville a proud place to live and tell our officials we're tired of hearing, "Put it in Hicksville." Show them we're not going to take it anymore. We hope to see you at our meetings.

We strongly encourage participation from our single people. Remember, decisions made today affect your future too.

To The Editor:

In Appreciation

Mrs. William F. Donlon, Sr., Gerard F. Donlon, Sr. and Blanche M. Baldwin would like to publicly express their thanks and gratitude to all the people who sent condolences for the loss of our dear son and brother, William F. Donlon, Jr.

We are especially grateful to all the men of the Hicksville Fire Department, who answered Bill's final call with honors, dignity and the highest tribute ever afforded a brother and comrade. To our neighboring firemen from surrounding communities, who stood at attention along the funeral procession and provided the impressive "Archies", thank you.

To his Naval Reserve buddies who came out of retirement and provided his Honor Guard and Military Escort. They were accompanied by two Naval career nephews, whose chosen profession was greatly influenced by Uncle Bill, thank you. We know he was proud of all of you.

The staff at Wagner Funeral Home, who were most thoughtful and sensitive. They truly strived to ease our pain.

His Brother Elks, who paid him a final tribute and assured us that he will never be forgotten and our friends and neighbors who provided comfort, thank you.

We also extend our heartfelt appreciation to the Nassau County Police Department, Emerald Society Pipers, who provided Bill with his favorite music on his last farewell. The cooperation and a job well done by the Highway Patrol of Nassau and Suffolk County Police Departments made Bill's last parade possible.

Bill loved his family, his community, his Drill Team, his fire department AND a parade led by Pipers. You gave it all to him.

Thanks folks, from the bottom of our hearts.

Hey Kids: What's Cool for School?

By
Cathy Greenfield

JOSH STRUGATZ - 2nd Grade

"I like to wear sweatshirts, washed-out jeans, high-top sneakers and anything with METS on it. I never have to dress up for school and my favorite color is blue. Mom sets out my clothes for school everyday."

JOHN DOYLE - 2nd Grade

"I love to wear sweatshirts to school. The most important thing to me is comfort... long and loose fitting. I wear baggies for dress, with a matching shirt and I like shirts with decals on the front. I pick out my own clothes."

BETH KARMANN - 4th Grade

"I LOVE to wear dresses to school as much as I can. Sometimes I wear pants or I'll freeze. I pick out my clothes in the morning before school. A friend gives me some of her clothes. My favorite color is violet."

LEAH STRUGATZ - 1st Grade

"I like to wear sweatshirts and leggings. I don't like to wear overalls and blouses. My favorite color is hot pink. Sometimes I wear a skirt and blouse to school for dress up. I pick out my own clothes, and sometimes Mom does."

EDITORIAL AND OPINION

The Investor's Corner

By Joseph P. Frey, Ph.D.

CATCHING UP

OPEC—On May 12, 1988, I wrote an article about OPEC as the most successful cartel in history. What you are now seeing in the market place is Saudi Arabia, which does not need the money, punishing the rest of the oil producing world. They have opened the spigot to drive the price down for a short period. The producers must pump even more oil to get the same dollars. Very foolish on their part. You have seen the price stabilize in a hurry. Saudi Arabia has closed the spigot to see if the producers, OPEC and non-OPEC, fall into line. Do not look for oil prices to fall sharply.

On November 5, 1987 we wrote an article entitled "WHAT TO DO NOW." It suggested that the market had much more upside potential than downside potential. It has risen and recently hit a post-crash high. Now I believe that there is more upside potential than upside. Be very selective in your purchases. Invest for the long term. Dollar cost average good quality stocks as was suggested in the September 8th, 1988 article. Only professionals or people with a proven (to them) system should try to guess the market.

OPTIONS—My article of December 17, 1987 describes how to use call options. In the classroom we handle the subject much more fully. One of my students, after learning about it, using a computer program game, borrowed $2,000 from his father to "play" the options market. Since April this student has made over $30,000. He has also found his after college job.

BOND SWAPS—On October 22, 1987 we laid out the strategy of taking bond losses without any increase in risk or substantial changes in your bond portfolio. If you did not do it last year, or even if you did, you can do this simple technique to realize paper losses for tax purposes.

GOLD—Do not think of buying gold bullion, gold mutual funds or gold in any form, except gold numismatic grade 63 or above coins. Coins have been, and will continue to be, excellent investments. The price of all other gold investments should be down for the near future. Wait about a year or so.

THE ANNIVERSARY—October 10th, that is—last year's crash! My only comment is that nothing has changed in our institutions. It can happen again and at any time. I keep reading about how PROGRAM TRADING was not responsible, etc., etc. Program trading can drive the market up or down in huge leaps and bounds. Until the regulators make some adjustments, the potential for large movement is there, and the public will stay away. We will get real reform only after the next time program trading does not move the market.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

...It grows chilly these evenings and we love to have a cozy fire in the fireplace to gather 'round....There's nothing more conducive to fine conversation than sitting in a dimly lit room with the flames crackling....And we set up a card table and eat dinner every night in its warm glow....A real fire, that's for sure—none of these gas things that try to resemble the real thing!....And it can be a coal fire, but we prefer the crackling and colors of wood—and the lovely woodsmoke smell—ahhh....And, I know this will upset the firemen, but I like to look at the fire without a screen....(of course, I close the screen when I leave the room, naturally!)....We have old iron andirons shaped like horses....We bought them the when we were first married and lived in an apartment, which did not have a fireplace—but we knew that, one day, our dreams would be fulfilled and we would have the fireplace....These andirons are well burned and have been repaired several times, but we will never, never get rid of them—they are part of our family tradition....Nowadays, there are so many stylish fireplace tools—pokers and brooms and bellows—and all of so many materials—brass and iron in designs both traditional and corny—and there are raised hearths and lovely fenders around those hearths....and stone and brick and paneled surroundings....but the only thing that I cannot abide is a fireplace that's not used—that never knows a fire....How could anyone waste such a lovely centerpiece to a home's delights?!!

Yours, Lulabelle

What the Politicians are Saying...

SENATOR DANIEL PATRICK MOYNIHAN (D-NY) has announced that the Environmental Protection Agency has awarded Clean Water Act grants to ten sites in New York State. Among them in our area are two in Nassau County: $10,399,844 for Hyde Park sewage treatment plant upgrade and $15,873,818 for Cedar Creek sewage treatment plant upgrade.

From COUNTY EXECUTIVE THOMAS S. GILOTTA: One of the greatest frustrations we can experience is having a problem of need for information and not knowing whom or where to call for help. We have prepared a publication...FYI...For Your Information...Residents may request the free booklet by contacting the Office of the County Executive, 1 West Street, Mineola, NY 11501. Bulk orders for groups are also available; for any information not listed, call the 24 hour Nassau County Hotline at 535-6000.

Recognizing the need to meet the ever-growing water crisis in Nassau County, DR. VINCENT GARBITELLI, Democratic and Right-to-Life candidate for the State Assembly District, has called for a multi-partisan water authority to regulate, and plan for conservation of the water supply. Dr. Garbitelli stated that we now have 46 separate water districts in the county without centralized direction.

The Nassau Republican Senate Delegation—NORMAN J. LEVY, DEAN KELOS, JOHN DUNNE, MICHAEL TULLY, AND RALPH MARINO (chairman)—has secured a $100,000 special Senate grant for the Nassau County Police Department to help enhance and expand the School Bus Safety Inspection and Enforcement Program. The grant will assist the Highway Patrol Bureau in conducting surprise inspections of school buses during peak hours of operation and create a public awareness of the progress in safety enforcement.

McMillan vs. Moynihan Debates Set

Five distinguished journalists have been selected by the League of Women Voters to ask questions during the two 60 minute, face-to-face debates scheduled between Republican/Conservative Bob McMillan and his opponent for the U.S. Senate seat from New York, Liberal/Democrat Pat Moynihan. The candidates will face each other from twin lecterns and alternatively answer questions and be given an opportunity for rebuttal.

The debates, which will be carried statewide by television and radio, are scheduled for 7 p.m., Monday, October 24, in New York City and 8 p.m., Saturday, October 29, in Syracuse.

Panelists for the first debate, live from WABC-TV 7, New York, will be WABC anchorman Bill Beutel, Dean Joan Konner of the Columbia Graduate School of Journalism and

New York Times Urban Affairs correspondent Joyce Purnick.

The second debate, live from the WCNY-TV 24, Syracuse, will be co-moderated by Dave Hepp, host of Inside Albany and author/broadcaster Liz Trotta, former co-represent with NBC and CBS.

Mr. McMillan said he is anxious to get in to the same room with Senator Moynihan, who has thus far tried to stay aloof from the campaign. "These broadcasts will give the voters their first side-by-side comparison of the candidates for U.S. Senate. They will be able to compare our stand on issues and our ability to communicate," said McMillan.

In addition to WCNY-TV 24, the October 29th debate will be carried live by public television stations WNET-TV 13, New York, WLWT-TV 21, Long Island; WNYE-TV 25, Brooklyn.

ROBERT R. McMILLAN'S

Direct Line

New Yorkers overwhelmingly want standards of right and wrong strengthened in the community. They are totally frustrated because that has not happened. A few weeks ago, I was invited to a Western New York theme park to tour the facility. Patrons were mostly young families and teenage groups from all over New York. In the midst of this was a twenty-five year old wearing a T-shirt — not unusual. But, this T-shirt was repugnant. A "St Happens" T-shirt has no place being publicly displayed in a family setting. Why should children or adults be forced to view that language on a shirt or on a car bumper sticker?

Explaining this incident to a teacher friend, I was told of teenagers attending junior high and high school classes wearing explicitly sexual T-shirts. He said some parents become outraged when criticism is sent home — all in the interest of free speech.

Next, consider a recent incident in New York City. A physical education teacher in Queens tried to help teenagers by refereeing a basketball game. One team of teenagers did not like his decisions, so they promptly beat him to death — yes, beat him to death over a call in a street corner basketball game.

Remembering the Holocaust

President Reagan and a crowd of 1,200 people recently gathered on the mall near the Washington Monument to dedicate the cornerstone of the U.S. Holocaust Memorial which will include a museum and facilities for study, education and research which will open in early 1990.

In remarks both somber and solemn, President Reagan expressed his concern that we as a nation understand the Holocaust saying, "I believe the Holocaust is comprehensible. Indeed, we must comprehend it. We have no choice; the future of mankind depends upon it. And that's why we are here to lay the cornerstone for the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum which will help us to understand and make it impossible for us to forget."

President Reagan's eloquent remarks at the dedication make even more disturbing, some noises coming from the Department of Education. For the third consecutive year, the Department of Education has decided not to fund an educational program, "Facing History and Ourselves," which focuses on the mass murder of Jews and others under Hitler's Third Reich.

What makes this failure to fund the program so terrible is not the fact that it did not receive federal funding, but some of the reasons why. According to published reports, "Facing History and Ourselves" was denied federal funding in 1986 because it did not represent the views of the Nazi Party and the Ku Klux Klan. In 1987, the program was critiqued as being "leftist and anti-war."

When I was a young person, values started at home and were reinforced, not only at church, but in our schools as well. There was a prayer before class, teachers constantly emphasized right and wrong and did not continually tell us to question authority at every turn. I am not advocating prayer in schools as the answer to this dilemma. I am, however, arguing that values have to be reinforced in schools. Right and wrong must be given greater emphasis. Respect for elders and those in authority should be a part of the curriculum — not unquestioning respect — but at least respect until that respect is no longer warranted.

Saturday at the movies generally meant right and wrong reinforced by the likes of Flash Gordon and Superman. After school, heroes such as Captain Midnight, the Lone Ranger, and Jack Armstrong further reinforced basic standards of decency on the radio. While we cannot go back, we must pause and look at society today and raise serious questions about where we are going.

The solutions will not be easy. There will be protests about free speech. But, the Supreme Court has stated that free speech does not extend to yelling "fire" in a crowded theatre when there is no fire. The values crisis is about responsibility, not about free speech. Yes, I am talking about the responsibility of parents, business leaders, educators, the entertainment industry, and about the responsibility of the media.

Reinforcing community value standards is very difficult. But, just because the enforcement process is difficult does not mean we should give up. We must continue the effort because the framework of our society depends on the passage of values from one generation to another.

Questions and opinions may be addressed to Mr. McMILLAN, Anton Community Newspapers, 132 East Second Street, Mineola, NY 11501.

Perhaps most unsettling are the remarks of Dr. Christina Price who is currently a lecturer at Kennesaw College in Georgia and who served as one of the advisors to the Department of Education.

In her concluding remarks on the value of "Facing History and Ourselves," Dr. Price said: "The program gives no evidence of balance or objectivity. The Nazi point of view, however unpopular, is still a point of view and is not presented." She went on to sum up: "My impression is that the program, as it is based on the resource book The Holocaust and Human Behavior, may be appropriate for a limited religious audience but not for a wider distribution."

Dr. Price is missing the central message of the Holocaust which was best summed up by a German who lived through that hell: "When they came for the Jews, I did not speak out because for the Jews, I did not speak out because I was not a Communist. When they came for the trade unionists, I did not speak out because I was not a trade unionist. When they came for the Catholics, I did not speak out because I was not Catholic. And then, when they came for me there was no one left to speak out."

The best way to assure that a Holocaust never happens again is through memorials, and more importantly, through teaching our children the importance of speaking out. Unless we do this, we are surely damned to relive history.

Washington Reports

By Martin Burns

Hope that the 100th Congress might adopt legislation to deal with the problem of acid rain died an abrupt and hard death this week. Sen. George Mitchell, the Chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on the Environment and Public Works, took to the floor of the Senate to announce that "there will be no action on clean air legislation this year." He had assiduously been trying to craft a bill which would accommodate the conflicting needs of environmentalists, industry groups, utilities and the producers of high sulphur coal.

The Congress has spent the last six years wrestling with ways of amending the Clean Air Act to cover the problem of acid rain. Acid rain is an environmental phenomena which occurs when air pollution, such as emissions from power plants, car exhaust, etc., mix with rain to form an acid. The pollution has caused severe damage to our nation's lakes and rivers as it makes many of them uninhabitable for fish and other aquatic wildlife.

In November of last year, Sen. Mitchell's subcommittee approved an acid rain measure. However, the Senate Majority Leader, Sen. Robert Byrd (D-WV), had consistently refused to bring Mitchell's legislation to the floor. Senator Byrd, who represents a state that produces a great deal of high sulphur coal, is very concerned that acid rain legislation could have a negative economic impact. On the House side, Rep. John Dingell (D-MI), the Chairman of the House Energy and Commerce, has successfully kept acid rain legislation bottled up in a subcommittee. His district comprises the heart of America's automobile industry.

College Scholarships Available

High school seniors who have demonstrated outstanding school leadership and community service will soon be able to compete for 150 college scholarships of $1,000 each.

Entry materials for the 1989 Principal's Leadership Awards have been mailed to all public and private high schools in the United States and school winners will be announced by Dec. 16. The $150,000 scholarship program is administered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP) and funded by Herff Jones, Inc.

"Schools must place greater emphasis on teaching leadership skills," urges Dale Hawley, director of NASSP's Division of Student Activities. "If we hope to have well-rounded adults who communicate well, work with other people and know how to lead and follow in a democratic society, we can not overlook leadership development. These awards give principals a chance to recognize those students who have been exceptional school leaders."

Any high school senior can apply for these scholarships and should obtain entry materials from the principal's office. Judging will be based foremost on school leadership and community service with academic achievement and other awards also considered.

Entrants will also have to consider a problem facing teenagers today and recommend ways to solve that problem.

Interested students should contact their principal as soon as possible, according to Mr. Hawley. Principals set their own school deadlines, but they must have named school winners by Dec. 16, he said. The 150 scholarship winners will be selected by a national panel of seven principals.

Keeping Halloween Safe

Dr. Howard C. Mofenson, director of the medical center's Poison Control Center, the only center on Long Island, warned Nassau and Suffolk residents that the night of normally harmless fun can turn into a night of sadness and tragedy if anything should happen to those terrifying creatures of the night.

• Make sure that masks, beards and wigs are flame resistant.

• Costumes should be light and bright enough to be clearly visible to motorists. Bags and sacks should be decorated or trimmed with reflective tape which will "glow" in a car's headlights.

• Masks should have large holes and costumes should not be too long. Many children are injured by tripping on their costumes or because they couldn't see properly through narrow slits in masks.

• Little children should be chaperoned and older children should travel in pairs.

• Discard candy that is out of the original wrapping and beware of homemade treats unless you can positively identify the person who provided them. Follow the old adage: when in doubt, throw it out.

• Have your children do their trick or treating in familiar neighborhoods.

Dr. Mofenson particularly urged parents to call the Nassau County Medical Center's Poison Control Center should a poisoning be suspected. The number of the Poison Control Center is (516) 542-2323.

LWV Active In Voter Registration

Voter turnout in the U.S. has declined by more than 20 percent in Congressional elections since 1962, and by nearly 20 percent in Presidential elections since 1960. Of the 14 million people eligible to vote in New York State, only 7.5 million are registered to do so. The Nassau County League of Women Voters has been working diligently during September and October to change these shocking statistics. It declared Sept. 9 Voter Registration Day and received a proclamation from County Executive Thomas Golotta supporting its efforts. League members were on hand that day at various supermarkets with registration forms and information, as well as at the Community Booth at Roosevelt Field. The League, at Lord & Taylor's request, conducted voter registration at the Manhasset store from Sept. 26-28 and at the Garden City location from Sept. 29-Oct. 1.

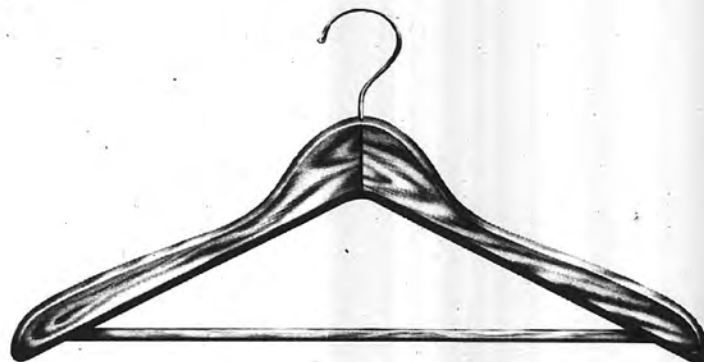

Eager to capitalize on large crowds, the League was present at the Motor Vehicle Bureau in Westbury, Oct. 3, 4 and 5, and at the Department of Social Services on Oct. 5 to register voters. In conjunction with Stern's department stores, the LWV conducted voter registration at its Sunrise Mall, Mid-Island Mall and Green Acres Mall locations.

In addition, League of Women Voters members were available at several libraries and spoke to senior citizen and school groups. Hundreds of names were added to the rolls thanks to the League members.

What's Cool for School?

ANGELA BECKER - 4th Grade
 "I don't like wearing dresses to school. It depends on the weather, but I like to wear pants more. Last year I only wore a dress to school three times. My Mom buys my clothes and I love most of the things she buys. Today my Mom bought me some new clothes because my other pants had holes in the knee. My favorite sneakers are my high-tops with the dinosaurs on them. Tomorrow I'm going to wear my favorite new sweat-shirt, with kittens on it, to school.....if it fits!"

ALLISON SELIGER - 1st Grade
 "I like to wear long shirts and pants to school...and shoes definitely, and socks. I have a new dress. It's grey and white, which I might wear Thursday. My Mom sets out my clothes in the morning 'cause I'm still sleeping."

Duffy Park Civic Meeting

Duffy Park Civic Association will meet Tuesday, October 25 at 8 p.m. at Old Country Road Elementary School.

Topics to be discussed include the EPA's testing of Twin County Recycling emissions and their efforts on the residents' behalf, the addition of the traffic light or stop sign on Duffy Avenue to reduce vehicle speeding and accidents, the proposed placement of a community residence facility for mental patients in a Duffy Park location, and the beginning of efforts to rezone Duffy Avenue. These issues are very important and civic board members urge residents to attend.

A representative from the Second Precinct Community Liason Program will also address the meeting and answer questions on matters relating to the area.

Ephram Rubock, executive director of Nassau-Suffolk Young Judaea, announced today the annual Citrus fruit sale to benefit the camp and Israel programs scholarship fund. This region, Geshet Shalom, has sponsored this sale for the past 10 years.

The pink grapefruit and navel oranges come directly from Florida by trailer in cases containing between 12-24 pieces of fruit, which arrives 36 hours from the tree upon delivery. The prices this year are $12 per case of oranges and $10 for grapefruit. Deadline for orders is November 1. "This is our biggest fundraiser and has enabled us to help send many deserving youngsters to Camp Tel Yehudah, Camp Sprout Lake, one year in Israel or another summer program," said Mr. Rubock.

For information about this sale, or about Young Judaea clubs or programs, call 433-4960.

High School Fall Convention

The Bogrim (grades 9-12) group of Geshet Shalom Young Judaea will hold its Annual Fall Convention Friday, November 11 to Sunday November 13, at Camp Silver Lake in Stockholm, NJ. Transportation will be provided by Young Judaea, the Youth Movement sponsored by Hadassah.

If you are interested in three fun filled days with Jewish youth from all over Long Island with sports, games, discussion groups, Israeli singing and dancing, even if you are not currently a member, call 433-4960 for registration information.

Winter Camp

Ephram Rubock has also announced Sunday, December 25, through Wednesday, December 28 as the dates for the Fifth Annual metro area winter camp. Young Judaea Ofarim (grades 3-6) and Tsolim (7-8) and their friends will join together at Camp Silver Lake in Stockholm, NJ. Transportation will be provided by the local region.

You do not have to be a current member of Young Judaea to participate in winter camp, but if you are interested in four days of fun combined with a Jewish/Zionist experience with children from all over the New York Metropolitan area, contact the Young Judaea office at (516) 433-4960 or (212) 303-8260, or visit 183 S. Affordable Finesse...Decorating Within a Budget

by Keni Woodruff

Decorating your home, whether it's a first apartment, an entire house, or a single room in your dream home, can be a "sky's the limit" fantasy, or a more realistic undertaking within a carefully planned budget. Either way, it's an exciting challenge and the results will reflect your unique personality and family lifestyle.

We asked interior designer Mark Epstein to create a living space that combines taste, practicality, affordability and comfort; and the studio apartment he created is an exciting combination of contemporary furnishings combined with uniquely personal accessories.

His sources: Bon Marche, Conran's, Bloomingdale's, ABC Carpets, the owner's favorite things, and his own, uniquely imaginative sense of style. "Interior design is a high budget effort," says Epstein, "but you can create a warm, inviting, fresh look using much of your existing furniture and accessories and shopping stores like Pier 1, Conran's, antique shops and department stores. New fabrics and window treatments, fresh paint and a good color scheme, lots of imagination and a bit of daring can turn your home or apartment into a warm, inviting, tasteful place even on a limited budget.

"A good designer can help you plan the room, using his or her training to keep furnishings and accessories in proportion and to develop a basic color scheme. You don't have to purchase everything at once. In fact, most designers will help you create a plan that grows with you and your family, with a few really good pieces that can move from one area to another, from a first apartment into a first home.

"It takes careful planning and even more careful shopping. But the results are fun, no matter what your personal budget. The key is real imagination and a well thought out room plan. You can combine styles, antiques and contemporary, modern and traditional...for an eclectic look that is yours alone."

This studio apartment, with feminine undertones, has a bright and cheery effect. The simple features such as the bedroom units from Bon Marche line up to give maximum storage as well as an architectural feeling. Original artwork lends a note of glamour. The Pirelli adjustable television bracket from Bon Marche provides maximum efficiency and convenience, yet leaves room for touches of color. The carpet is from ABC Carpet, the table from Conrans, the chairs are from Walters Wicker and the pillows and throw are from Bloomingdales.

The Ancient Art of Bonsai

The people who dwell in this "Little Glass House" don't throw stones, they create living, miniature works of art... Bonsai.

David Leigh's greenhouse, at 1695 Newbridge Rd., No. Bellmore, is situated in a woodland setting where the ancient art of Bonsai... the training and growing of exquisitely dwarfed plants and trees is practiced with loving care.

Bonsai, originated in China and perfected in Japan, means "tray planted" or "planted on a shallow dish." These artful creations are ordinary trees dwarfed and carefully shaped in an appropriate container. The prized appearance is a combination of trunk and branch shaping and the degree of root exposure.

Traditionally, a Bonsai is a treasured possession, a living art form that may live to be more than 100 years old, one that is often handed from one generation to another, an ancient Japanese custom that is still revered.

At the Little Glass House, David and his skilled artisans will create an individual Bonsai for you or an exquisite indoor or outdoor Japanese garden for your home. "Whether small and intimate or large and formal, your garden will look as though it was created by nature," says Leigh.

"Bonsai do not require extraordinary care,"

says Leigh, "and we give a detailed care booklet with each plant. We really care for our Bonsai," he says, "and the results are pure beauty. Our plants carry a full guarantee—from three months to a full year from date of purchase, and we'll ship the plant of your choice anywhere in the U.S. A gift of a living thing is an ancient, delightful custom."

The Little Glass House carries everything for the Bonsai gardener—kits, literature, dishes and a variety of products. The greenhouse offers periodic beginner classes and students "graduate" with a Bonsai they create for themselves. Call 480-0495 for complete details.

Let the Sun Shine In...But Keep Out the Heat And Cold

by Keni Woodruff

Windows and skylights are the 'hottest' item on the booming home improvement scene. "Homeowners want light, light and more light in their homes," says Albert Green, president of Approved Dormers in Bellmore. "We're putting in a lot of half round windows, French doors capped with sweeping half-rounds, skylights everywhere...people love the open, airy look and lots of light indoors."

High performance insulated glass allows the homeowner to have all that extra light while providing both summer and winter energy efficiency. Available in clear or lightly tinted glass, the new windows and skylights reflect the heat during hot summer days when the sun is high in the sky, keeping the home cooler and reducing air conditioning bills. In winter, when the sun sits lower in the sky, sunlight streams directly into the windows, increasing interior warmth and lowering heating costs.

New tinting and coating methods cut approximately 70% of the sun's ultraviolet rays, allowing the outdoor brightness to light up the house without damaging fabrics or fading delicate colors.

"The new windows have other bonuses," Green said. They're either vinyl or aluminum clad for minimum maintenance, and they're available in a variety of colors to complement or contrast the exterior color of the home. The colors are also designed to increase energy efficiency.

Why all the emphasis on energy efficiency? "New York has a new energy code," Green commented. "If energy efficient windows aren't used, contractors must supplement the insulation in the home to meet a set rating package."

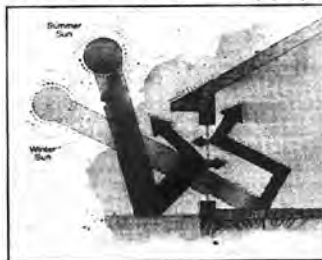

Manufacturers are meeting these new efficiency requirements by developing a variety of high performance, energy saving finishes for both glass and trim. A warm bronze tint, added to the outer pane of Anderson's 'Sun' glass can cut radiated heat by 62% and UV penetration by 88%.

Pozzi, another manufacturer of high quality windows, skylights and doors, utilizes 3/4" 'dead space' between the panes of its high-performance insulated glass windows to maximize thermal qualities and minimize noise transference.

"Skylights are really popular now," according to Tim Green, vice president of the Bellmore contracting firm. "People want them in the kitchen, living room, in bathrooms and hallways. They not only brighten up the room, they provide passive solar energy and extra ventilation. They're leakproof and insulated, and they're being made in laminated safety glass similar to auto glass. Manufacturers are using stainless steel hardware to prevent rust, and one piece cold-rolled, factory assembled copper flashing to ensure, tight, leakproof fit."

"Homeowners are really knowledgeable these days," Bert and Tim commented. "They go to the home improvement shows, do lots of 'window-shopping,' and ask a lot of questions. They don't want just light, they want quality, energy efficiency, and they want their homes to look beautiful. There are many new styles to choose from these days, and the manufacturers are developing products that meet state and local energy requirements as well as the consumers demands for quality materials."

High performance insulating glass reflects radiated heat in summer, reducing interior heat buildup and lowering cooling costs. In winter, sun rays penetrate the windows, interior warmth is retained, and heating costs are lowered. The diagram, here, shows summer and winter sun positions and how the specially coated H.P. glass reflects and retains heat and glare throughout the year.

"We're putting in French door these days, instead of sliding glass for patio doors," says Tim Green, "and more often than not, we're topping them with sweeping half-round windows to add height and a sense of spaciousness to the doorway. It's an elegant look and adds a sense of classical style to most homes. They add charm to a traditional home, and soften the hard lines of modern ones."

(NOTE: look for an in-depth feature on home additions, by Approved, later this year. They'll show you how to change the look and feel of your home with dormers, skylights and windows, with a minimum of inconvenience and with maximum energy efficiency. If you'd like an estimate on your own home renovation, call Approved Dormers, 2648 Grand Ave., Bellmore, 781-3030)

Insula-Dome" Skylights are available in models that accommodate virtually any application: pitched roof, flat roof, fixed or vented. Vented models can be operated manually or with a motorized unit. Most units can be accessorized with storm panels and sunscreens.

Blithe Spirit '88 at Hicksville Library

The play, Blithe Spirit, will be presented at the Hicksville Public Library on Friday, October 28 at 8 p.m. by the Other Vic Theatre Company.

An updated, upbeat modern version of the great Noel Coward hit, Blithe Spirit '88 is the story of novelist Charles Condomine, who invites into his placid country home, an eccentric lady psychic. Little does Charles or his lovely second wife, Ruth, dream that the seance staged by the psychic medium will summon back Charles' first wife, Elvira, now

"passed over" for seven years. Unfortunately, only Charles can see the "ghost" and therein lies his troubles.

A side-splitting evening of entertainment. This play is free and all are welcome. Seating is on a first come, first served basis. Doors will close at 8 p.m.

The play is co-sponsored by the Hicksville Public Library and the Nassau County Arts Decentralization Consortium with public funds from New York State Council on the Arts Decentralization Program.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

The month of December seems to be party time at the Galileo Lodge, and maybe even a little part of October. Permit me to explain. On Saturday, December 3, the Galileo Lodge will present its Christmas Dance. Admission is $10. A delicious, hot dinner with all the trimmings, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set ups and live music from a leading disc jockey will be featured. This dance usually sets the mood and atmosphere, and from then on the fun and merriment just seem to materialize and take on a special vibrancy. Rocco Lombardo will 'chair' this dance, assisted by co-chairman Armand del Cioppo, an unbeatable combination if there ever was one.

Then, on December 11, the Galileo Lodge presents its two Christmas parties: one for the handicapped children of Queens and Long Island, and the other for the children of the membership in the afternoon. It is quite a difficult job to describe these parties because they epitomize everything that is beautiful, warm and lovely about the holiday season. The emotional impact reaches such a high pitch that everyone associated with these parties—the children as well as the adults of the Galileo Lodge—are practically mesmerized by the degree of warmth and affection that is bestowed upon these children.

The Galileo Lodge presents its New Year's Party and Dance on Saturday, December 31.

This is also one of the Galileo Lodge's gala affairs. Everything will be a part of this dance: dinner, food, liquor, continental breakfast, music, laughter and the kind of high spirits that permeates the whole atmosphere of the Galileo Lodge. In my next article, I will present more particulars concerning this party.

When I mentioned part of October as holiday fever, I meant, Saturday, October 29. This is the night when the Galileo Lodge offers its Halloween Dance for its members, friends and patrons. Price of admission is $10, and in the offering will be a delicious hot dinner with all the trimmings, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups and some great live music from a performer who is associated with the 'one-man band' type of entertainment. Costumes are optional, but prizes will be awarded to those whose costumes are the best in several categories. Rocco Lombardo will 'chair' this dance, assisted by co-chairman Armand Del Cioppo. Here is another great affair to be presented by the Galileo Lodge.

And there is a little something left for November as the Ladies Auxiliary announce that it will present a Fashion Show on Friday, November 18. Tickets sell at $10 per person. An informal lunch, refreshments, music and some great fashions will be featured. Marie Prudenti will supervise this activity. More on this activity in later articles.

When You Lose a Pet

Losing a dog or cat to illness or accident can be a devastating experience. Anyone who wishes to talk about the sorrow and pain that comes with an animal's death is welcome to contact Alice Denninger, coordinator of supportive care services at the Bide-A-Wee Home Association's Wantagh facility.

Mrs. Denninger, who has many years of experience working in hospice settings and nursing facilities, helps people work through the grief following the loss of a beloved companion animal. Come in and share your thoughts, pain or even just your fond memories with someone who really cares. Mrs. Denninger can be reached by calling 516-785-1104. Nassau and Suffolk County residents can come in for both individual and group sessions or can discuss their situations over the phone with Mrs. Denninger.

Bide-A-Wee is located at 3300 Beltagh Avenue in Wantagh, and reminds those interested that grief counseling is a free service, although donations are gratefully accepted. For further information, call 212-532-6358.

Merchant of the Week — Cameo Gallery — "Where framing is an art."

When they started their business 22 years ago, the Levitons worked out of their garage and sold their service in a booth at the Farmer's Market. Today, Bill and Gilda Leviton occupy a large warehouse on Burns Avenue, offer 30,000 prints and 160 moldings and have a reputation, known all over the Island, for quality and top-notch craftsmanship in picture framing.

At the Cameo Gallery, anything can be framed. "We're more than just a picture framing place," she said. "We can frame clothing, memorabilia, mirrors, objects, with thousands of styles to choose from."

Bill complimented his wife's skills, says she is a "good framer," and the customers depend on her taste and judgment for their needs. "She instinctively picks out nice things," he said. Gilda added that people who visit the shop "are awe-struck because other shops don't offer the creativity and selection we do."

Trust is important to the Levitons because without it, they would not have clients. "People from all over Long Island come here," said Gilda. "They trust us because we don't oversell or try to push anything on them. We work with them for the best results."

Being in the business for so many years has not weathered the Levitons either. "We've been in business for years and we know it well," said Gilda. But to me, every job is a new and exciting challenge, whether it's a traditional look, antique look or contemporary look. I can do it."

Many services are offered at Cameo Gallery; among them are custom framing, restoration of frames, custom finishing, matting, leafing with gold, French mats, and posters and prints ordering. Chamber Music in Plainview & Jazz at N.Y. Tech

Music lovers will have their pick of two concerts on Sunday, November 6, according to Oyster Bay Town Councilman Howard T. Hogan, Jr.

The Minnewaska Chamber Music Society will present the third program in the "Distinguished Artists Concerts" at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library, 999 Old Country Road, Plainview. Show time will be 3 p.m.

"Formed in 1979, the Minnewaska Chamber Music Society has performed at concert halls, museums and colleges throughout the tri-state area including Carnegie Hall, Guild Hall in East Hampton, the Roslyn Fine Arts Museum and Dowling College to rave reviews from audiences and critics alike," Hogan said. "Its members...flutist Laura Gustavsen, guitarist Bill Zito, pianist/director Judith Alstadter, drummer Jim Pirone and Lynn Milano on bass...have a long list of credits both as members of the group and as soloists.

"The group boasts an extensive repertoire that runs the gamut from baroque to 20th century compositions, including jazz," Hogan continued. "For this performance, selections will include 'Spanish Dance No. 5' by Granados, 'Sonata' by Poulenc, 'Picnic Suite' by Bolling and 'Sonata in G Major' by C.P.E. Bach."

If your taste runs to jazz, the Gully Low Jazz Band will be opening the "Great Sounds of Jazz" series at Salten Hall on the campus of New York Institute of Technology, Rte. 25-A, Old Westbury. The concert will get underway at 3 p.m.

"David Ostwald (tuba and bass saxophone) formed the Gully Low Jazz Band in November, 1980," Hogan said. "Appearing at jazz clubs up and down the east coast, the band has developed a loyal following who appreciate the group's repertoire of jazz primarily from the '20's and '30's played to perfection by Ostwald, Randy Reinhart on cornet, Clarence Hutchenrider on clarinet and Frank Vignola on guitar and banjo."

Both musical series, "Distinguished Artists Concerts" and "Great Sounds of Jazz," are being sponsored by the Cultural and Performing Arts (CAPA) Division of the Town's Department of Community and Youth Services. The "Distinguished Artists Concerts" series is also being supported by grants from Apple Bank for Savings, Cablevision and Long Island Bank for Savings, FSB.

Pumpkins—More Than Just A Pretty Face

Halloween is fast approaching, and with it the prospect of selecting that most delightful holiday vegetable, the pumpkin. Long Island farm bureau reminds you that Long Island farm stands are well stocked with pumpkins in all shapes and sizes, winter squash, indian corn, apples, and fresh cider, along with many other fresh fruits and vegetables, making Halloween preparation as easy as a pleasant drive in the country.

When selecting your pumpkins, don't forget that they are a lot more than a just a pretty face! A 1/2 cup serving of cooked pumpkin supplies a whole day's requirement of Vitamin A, as well as smaller amounts of iron, Thiamin, and Riboflavin, all for only 38 calories. The methods of preparation are as varied as your imagination, ranging from traditional pies, cakes, and cookies, to a simple side dish of baked pumpkin with seasoning and butter, to sophisticated pumpkin soufflé. Even the roasted seeds provide a delicious high protein snack.

The pumpkins versatility doesn't stop there; hollowed out it makes a colorful serving dish, and the smallest pumpkins make unique place cards and party favors. So plan to pick the best looking pumpkin to glow in your window on Halloween, but don't forget to pick up some extras to discover their real inner beauty.

Town Hall Should Be in Hicksville

"The Town Hall at Oyster Bay is inadequate to take care of all the Town Business. A Modern building MUST and WILL be built. We can have this building in Hicksville if we make a concerted effort to get it. Hicksville, the HUB of the Township is the logical place for the Town Hall. Let our slogan be - The Town Hall in the most progressive community - Hicksville."

Frank Chlumsky, secretary, Hicksville Chamber of Commerce, January 1929

Railroad Improvements

"The conditions at the Hicksville station are not in keeping with modern requirements, the accommodation afforded at the east side is totally inadequate for the demands now being made upon it."

Frank Chlumsky, March 1928

Shop in Hicksville Campaign

"We feel that a campaign can be put over successfully if we receive the support of the merchants.

In whatever way we can, we should endeavor to teach merchants the value of modernizing their stores in every way, by putting new store fronts, new lighting fixtures, etc., and a willingness to pull together for mutual advantage.

To obtain for the business interests of our community the maximum purchasing power of its residents is, of course, one of the principle objects of our organization."

Frank Chlumsky, March 1928

By Rita Langdon

Between 1928 and 1929, these were the concerns of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce. Today, however, 60 years later, the typical agenda reflects the pressure of the times. Although decades have passed since these decisions of the 1920's, the local business organization shows virtually no signs of age—it is still active and vibrant.

Like the 1920's, the beautification of the town is still of great concern to the chamber, according to president Marcos Ramirez. A priority with the commerce is to have litter baskets placed along Broadway and Old Country Road. Mr. Ramirez has 30 litter baskets in his yard and he is waiting the "go-ahead" from the Town of Oyster Bay, to line them along Broadway. For this project, the town will be responsible for picking up the garbage.

The chamber, in cooperation with local merchants, has been trying to stop other businesses from putting their trash out at the curb days before garbage collection. Mr. Ramirez said that in addition to cluttering the sidewalks, sometimes the trash blows around the area.

Flag Program

The chamber also provides flags to be lined along Broadway and a few sides streets (Herzog Place and West and East Marie Street) during different holidays such as Memorial Day, Flag Day, Independence Day, Election Day and Veteran's Day. The chamber has been doing this service since 1963. Different service organizations such as the Lions Club, Kiwanis Club, the Elks and American Legion, install the flags. "We have been administering the whole system to see that it gets done at a certain time," said Effie Krogmann, past chamber president. "It's effective because you do notice the flags."

However, the chamber has had some problems with the flags. Between the time the flags are installed and are brought down by sundown, some of them have been stolen.

"It's unfortunate. I've never seen anybody take them, but they're gone," said Larry McCaffrey, flag chairman.

"We were 40 flags short, but we recently

replenished the flags," Mrs. Krogmann said.

"We're pretty much full, thanks to V.F.W. Post 3211 who gave us 25 flags," said Mr. McCaffrey.

Last year, the chamber had a larger than usual amount of holiday lighting on Broadway. In 1986, the chamber wasn't satisfied with the job the contractor did installing the lights. The chamber expressed its disappointment and the following year (1987) the contractor added additional lights at cost, Mr. Ramirez explained.

Mrs. Krogmann said, "The decorations are for holiday spirit and for dressing up our town, which makes people want to come into the town to buy."

Business Show

The chamber will host its second business show December 20. It will feature displays by businesses and professionals from Hicksville and other areas. The show will be from 12 to 3 p.m. at Antun's. Superintendent of Hicksville Schools Dr. Catherine Fenton has notified the chamber that high school students will be singing holiday songs at the show. To have a display at the show call 931-7170.

"Last year the business show was very successful," said Mr. Ramirez. More than 40 displays were featured. "The purpose of the show is to get the business community sector together—business to business," said Mr. Ramirez. Mrs. Krogmann added, "You meet people at Kiwanis, Lions and Chamber of Commerce meetings, and half the time you don't really know what services they provide. This gives them the chance."

Membership Increased

The chamber has increased in size by 45 members within the past two years and has expanded its programs. "The chamber helps you keep abreast of what is happening in the community," Mr. Ramirez said.

Both Mr. Ramirez and Mrs. Krogmann agree that it is to all local merchant's advantage to be involved with the chamber. "When you isolate yourself, you don't know anything, but when you belong as part of a group with a common interest, you can get a lot more done," Mrs. Krogmann said.

FROM THE DESK OF:

DELLIGATTI

There is an old saying that wisely suggests the following: "Never make a defense or an apology unless you be accused."

I'm going to half ignore that advice and take exception to a charge that, while not aimed specifically at the Town of Oyster Bay, has been brought of late against Long Island's local governments in general.

We stand accused of "business-bashing"—a phrase no doubt crafted for the alliteration headline writers love. The charge is being brought by members of the development community on Long Island, and they've given notice that they intend to fight what they consider the increasingly "restrictive attitudes" of local government.

Speaking for Oyster Bay's Town government, I would counter that our attitude towards development, and the policies that guide our decisions in that area, should more accurately be described as cautious and well-thought. Do these policies sometimes lead to development restrictions? Absolutely, but always in pursuit of maintaining the delicate balance needed for all segments of our community—residential, business and industrial—to co-exist in harmony.

Growth, both residential and commercial, is a sign of vitality and my fellow Town Board members and I welcome it in our Town. But not without stringent guidelines, and not at the cost of sacrificing the very quality of life that makes the Town of Oyster Bay a sought after address for individuals and businesses alike.

During 1987 our Town issued industrial and commercial development permits valued at almost $1 million dollars. All other categories of permits totaled approximately 71 million dollars. I would hardly call this a pattern of "business-bashing." At the same time land value and new home and resale prices have never been higher.

We, in Oyster Bay, believe that we have accomplished what many other nearby communities of similar size have been unable to do. We have created a near ideal community, responsive to the needs of both residents and businesses. Proof of this can be found in the fact that homes worth several hundreds of thousands of dollars are often located within a stones throw of business structures and industrial parks.

Our planning and development policies have succeeded in preserving the value of our land and the desirability of our community, while permitting well-ordered growth to occur. As Oyster Bay Town Supervisor I am extremely proud of this fact.

With all due respect to our friends in the development sector, I'd ask that they consider this before labeling all local governments with the same obstructionist tag.

FALL FOLLIES

Take the Family Pumpkin-Picking

Pumpkin-picking is an annual tradition for many families, and for those who've never taken part in this fall folly, there's no better time to start.

If traipsing around in a pumpkin patch, amid the swirling vines and sometimes muddy soil, isn't what you had in mind, visit your local farm or farmstand and you can take the shortcut of picking one out at a store display only if you promise to spend the saved time by decorating it.

If you're feeling more "natural" and are looking for something to do during a gorgeous autumn afternoon, head east to Stony Brook, Patchogue, Riverhead or Cutchogue and seek out that perfect pumpkin.

I don't know about you, but I'm a sucker for any "all-you-can-eat," or "pay-one-price" promotion. However, not being the type that visits the gym or works out with Jane Fonda with any frequency, "all-you-can-carry" seemed more advantageous to the promoter than to me, the consumer.

The dilemma was quickly resolved when I enlisted the assistance of a strong young man and decided to split the $5 fee if he would carry my selections. There are a number of farms on the eastern end of Long Island that offer these spectacular specials and, in my visit to one on Sound Avenue in Cutchogue, I witnessed a man carrying no less than 20 pumpkins. He had one of every variety—small to sit on his desk at work, mid-sized for the kitchen table and extra-large for the front stoop.

Perhaps you'll grant me that 20 pumpkins for $5 is quite a bargain, but if I'm not planning to sell them a mile or so down the road, why do I want so many? Besides being wonderful to look at with their glorious orange glow, pumpkins serve a variety of purposes.

First and foremost, you can create marvelous foods with pumpkins. I've been known to consume an entire pumpkin pie during Thanksgiving weekend and have loved every nibble of it. There's also, although I've never tried them, recipes which call for pumpkin soup, pumpkin muffins, pumpkin waffles, pumpkin milk shake, pumpkin with ham, onions and corn and a pumpkin and corn stew. The easiest, and probably most popular of all, is plain, old pumpkin seeds, dried in the oven and smothered in salt.

The little orange treasures are also wonderful decorations. They add a seasonal flair to the exterior of your home. Add some corn stalks or a bale or two of hay, coupled with some maize, and you'll look like your expecting the pilgrims for a visit.

Best of all, there's jack-o-lanterns. Since we are near fire prevention week, let me begin by explaining that no candles should be left burning in the pumpkin unattended. It is best to rest the candle firmly and securely on an aluminum base and to cover the jack-o-lantern's lid with aluminum foil to prevent burning.

Be creative with your carving. Have a contest in the family. Let the young boys make the scary ones, the girls have happy faces, mom and dad reflect aggravation and exhaustion. Just make sure you don't throw away the seeds; they are the perfect reward for your creative efforts.

An interesting variation on carving is using gourds and squash as the pumpkin's eyes and nose. They not only add color, but save you the trouble of finding a candle that fits the pumpkin's height.

Don't like all the mess? Don't carve, paint. Outrageous pinks, yellows and reds make for quite an attractive face. Markers will also do the trick as will crayons if nothing else is handy. Put your marvelous new friend in the front window so the tricksters looking for treats can greet it on Halloween. Decorating pumpkins without the benefit of the knife also helps their lifespan and can keep the creations with you through Thanksgiving.

Plantation Games Recalled

A very proud, competitive Hicksville community staged a giant sports carnival in 1948. It was part of the 300th anniversary celebration and utilized the then-wide expanse of fields on Jerusalem Avenue, the present site of the Middle School.

Here are some excerpts from the press release of the Tercentenary Committee after the events 40 years ago. It was written by Howard Finnegan and approved for release by chairwoman, Miss Gertrude Wetterauer.

Hundreds of people participated in what were called Plantation Way Games. Sadly, some of the participants are no longer with us.

Only one person won two first places at the games. Milton Levitt outlegged Scooter Scott to win the senior 220 and leaped 21 feet 9 1/2 inches to win the broad jump in that division over a talented field.

The junior 50-yard dash saw Eugene Hattenback edge Chester Walters but in the 75-yard race he finished second to Richard Everschuck. Frank Triolo won the 100-yard dash and was second in the high jump which went to Ronnie Christiansen. In the other Junior event, Ted Hómerick leaped 13 feet 5 inches to win the broad jump over Walters who recorded three second finishes during the afternoon.

William Lenzner won the 100-yard dash in 10.7 time on a heavy track as he defeated Peter Haughey. Haughey, the game's all-around outstanding performer, won the 60-yard dash with Lenzner coming up in the second place spot.

Bob Cotier went unchallenged in the 880 and won easily and Bob Thomas, after laying back most of the way, put on a terrific burst of steam at the final turn to sail home in front in the 440. Levitt as already reported won the broad jump but was pressed. Bob Quinlan back in the fifth place, leaped 19 feet 5 inches and that indicates how close the competition was.

The Senior high jump proved the high spot of the meet. Most of the crowd were rooting for either Jimmy Hall or Billy Byrnes, the former big names in the event for H.H.S. However, the time absent from the crossbar and improper dress for the event caused them to be eliminated. The Plantation title went to Bill Garbarino who gracefully cleared the bar at a height of 5 feet 6 inches.

The winning relay team of Bill Garbarino, Peter Haughey, George Thomas and Bob Thomas went the distance of the Hicksville oval in the very good time of 47.3 seconds.

The Hicksville Loyolas and the Hicksville Rustlers provided a fine softball game. The Loyolas were victorious 4-1. Jim Barone, first of the three Loyola pitchers who worked for manager Bernie McGunnigle, received the credit for the win while George Cheslock took the defeat. The Loyolas nicked Cheslock for five hits only one being a real blast—that by George Karman. Facing such powerful chucks as Barone, Joe Smith and Bill Bordiuk, the losers could tally only two hits.

The Hicksville Girls, under the direction of Frank Ruggiero, defeated the Long Island Clovers 10-2 in an appreciated contest. In reality four Hicksville girls are regulars on the Clovers team but they chose to perform with the local squad for the celebration. With Elsie Bartels, Rose Millevolte, Ethel Kunz and Cathy Pakaluk opposing them the Clovers were pounded.

Bobby Bean waded through a field of 26 entries to win the Horseshoe pitching tournament. He defeated Matty Tringali 23-8 in the final match.

Typical of the high degree of excitement was the winning of the Girls open 50-yard dash in which the winner breezed across the finish line and never stopped to catch her breath—grabbed her trophy and was off before her name could be recorded!

Transported to the field on a hay wagon and having their bats carried by a goat-drawn wagon the members of the Hicksville Civic Association arrived to face the Fire Department team in a softball contest (?)

There was no adding machine at the field but it is just as well. Such a machine can't register laughter and that was what the contest produced the most of. —H.J.F.

Opening lead — king of clubs.

How to play a particular suit combination is governed not only by the composition of the suit itself but also by the problem of finding the best way to make the contract.

Here is a typical case where declarer is faced with a crucial guess in trumps. West leads a club, which South ruffs. There is no good reason not to lead trumps, so South plays a low spade to the queen, which loses to East's ace.

Back comes a club, which declarer ruffs again. Now South plays a low heart to dummy's queen and returns a trump. When East produces the eight, declarer has to choose between playing the ten or the king.

Ordinarily, South would play the king because there is a small mathematical advantage, in the long run, by playing for the drop. But in this deal South should play the ten. Declarer takes the finesse for a very good reason. Playing the ten assures the contract, while playing the king jeopardizes the contract.

If the ten wins (because East has the jack), declarer cashes the king and loses at most two diamond tricks to make the contract.

If the ten loses (because West has the jack), South still has the contract firmly under control. Whatever West returns, declarer cashes the A-K-J of hearts, discarding three diamonds from dummy, loses a diamond to the ace and eventually ruffs his third diamond in dummy, thus scoring ten tricks.

Note that if South plays the spade king instead of the ten, he goes down. When East takes the lead with the ace of diamonds, he cashes the jack of spades, removing dummy's last trump, and declarer eventually loses two diamonds and two spades to go down one.

WHY DO WE NEED THE WORD OF GOD?

We do not have to look around very much to see that man needs direction. Our environment is polluted to the point of almost being destroyed. Our youth, the future generation, are by and large, confused, abused, due to broken homes, drugs and permissiveness. O' where do we turn?

"Turn you at my reproach; behold I will pour out my Spirit unto you, I will make known my Words unto you."

PROVERBS 1:23

"So then faith comes by hearing and hearing by the Word of God."

ROMANS 10:17

"The grass withereth, the flower fadeth; but the Word of God shall stand forever."

ISAIAH 40:8

"... that He might make thee know that man does not live by bread only, but by every Word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord doth man live."

DEUTERONOMY 8:3

THE CHURCH AT HICKSVILLE, 17 HERZOG PLACE, HICKSVILLE, N.Y. 11801
 We are a Christian, Bible teaching church. Dig into the Bible-God's Word, and allow Him, our God and creator and Savior to minister life and direction to you. If you do not have a Bible call us. We would be most happy to give you one. If we can help you better understand God's Word, please call us at 822-6350, or visit us. See the Church Directory in this newspaper for service times. Look for next week's article, from THE CHURCH AT HICKSVILLE.

"For everything that was written in the past was written to teach us, so that through endurance and the encouragement of the Scriptures we might have hope."

ROMANS 15:4

"All Scripture is God-breathed and is useful for teaching, rebuking, correcting and training in righteousness, so that the man of God may be thoroughly equipped for every good work."

II TIMOTHY 3:16-17

"Like newborn babies, crave pure spiritual milk, so that by it you may grow up in your salvation."

"Just Say No" Clubs

Positive Peer Pressure for a Drug-Free America

- Fact: Most American youth have used illegal drugs by the time they are seniors in high school. Kids in rural areas are only slightly less likely than their urban counterparts to use drugs. In some areas, the rate of drug use among country kids actually exceeds that of city kids.
- Fact: Children today are using drugs at a younger age than ever before. A substantial and growing number of grade-school students report being pressured by friends to use drugs. The earlier the age at which kids begin experimenting with drugs — including alcohol and tobacco — the greater the chance they will develop serious drug problems later on.
- Fact: One of the main reasons young people use drugs is peer pressure. Peer pressure intensifies most at the point in kids' lives when they are most susceptible to the influence of friends — around the time they enter junior high.
- Fact: "Just Say No" Clubs are groups of children, 7-14 years old, who are united in their commitment to resist peer pressure and say No to drugs. The Clubs strengthen members' resolve through a variety of research-based educational, recreational, and service activities. Kids join "Just Say No" Clubs for the support they offer, for the fun and excitement, for the chance to make a positive difference in the world. They know that together they can create a new kind of peer pressure — peer pressure to remain drug-free. But they need your help. To learn more about "Just Say No" Clubs and what you can do to help, fill out the form below and mail it to:

qua player blasted a shot just wide of the net as the Comets' goalie came out to cut down the angle. After another close scoring chance for Hicksville, Massapequa retained possession bringing the ball back into Comet territory. With approximately five minutes remaining, Massapequa took a corner kick that barely missed going in as it sailed just over the crossbar; the angle the kick was at, was just a bit too straight. That would be their last legitimate scoring opportunity. With four minutes remaining, Mike Luongo put the icing on the cake by tapping in the ball in the crease for a 2-0 lead. Steve Gourlay assisted on the goal. The final score was Hicksville-2, Massapequa-0 as goaltender Kevin Morrisroe picked up the shutout.

Though this was the final home game of the year for Hicksville, Mr. Moeller said that it doesn't matter whether the team is home or away. The only thing that concerns him now is the final two games of the year which will be tough contests. According to Mr. Moeller, "The two games we have left are very difficult, Baldwin and Southside." Within the division, Mr. Moeller anticipates the most trouble from Syosset, especially if the two teams collide in the playoffs. Perhaps, Jack Fabrizio best summed up what the team expects from the rest of the year, "The same as today, a good solid performance out there."

Halloween Safety Tips

Halloween is a time of fun, but carelessness can turn the evening into a tragedy. Here are a few common sense safety tips to ensure the night is all treats and no tricks:

* Make sure that masks, beards and wigs are flame retardant.

* Costumes should be light and bright enough to be clearly visible to motorists. Bags and sacks should be decorated or trimmed with reflective tape which will "glow" in a car's headlights.

* Masks should have large holes and costumes should not be too long. Many children are injured by tripping on their costumes or because they couldn't see properly through narrow slits in their masks.

* Little children should be chaperoned and older children should travel in pairs.

* Discard candy that is out of the original wrapping and beware of homemade treats unless you can positively identify the person who provided them. Follow the old adage: when in doubt, throw out.

* Have children do their trick and treating in familiar neighborhoods.

The Nassau Medical Center reminds parents to practice these tips and call the Poison Control Center at 542-2323 should a poisoning be suspected.

Vin Longo Scores For Rams

Hicksville High School alumnus Vin Longo helped the Farmingdale University Rams remain unbeaten in Region 15 mens' soccer in tough games played against Ulster Community College and Queensborough Community College.

This past week, the Rams tied top ranked Ulster C.C. in a hard fought 0-0 tie. The Rams did not let up in their next game against Queensborough C.C. as they scored the first three goals of the game and went on the 3-1 victory. Vin Longo scored in this game as the Rams remain unbeaten with a 4-0-1 record. Congratulations, Vin!

Athletic Scholarships Available

More than 100,000 Collegiate Athletic Scholarships are available each year to male and female high school and junior college student athletes. Contrary to popular belief, students don't have to be All State to qualify. Much of this money goes unused. A new publication with forms, sample letters and tables of factual information is available for student athletes. It takes them step by step through the process of getting an athletic scholarship.

For details on how to get a collegiate athletic scholarship, send a large self addressed, stamped envelope to The National Sports Foundation, Box 408, Matawan, N.J. 07747.

FORD ANNOUNCES
PEACE OF MIND

Ford maintains that the quality car you buy is now backed by the best Quality Care in America.

Quality Care is a commitment from Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers to strive to make their customers the most satisfied in the world. Quality Care is a lot of things. One of the most important is the Lifetime Service Guarantee.

If a dealer repairs your Ford, Lincoln or Mercury, they guarantee that once you pay for a covered repair, if it ever has to be fixed again, they will fix it free, parts and labor, for as long as you own your vehicle. Nobody guarantees car repairs longer. Nobody guarantees car repairs better. And LSG covers thousands of repairs.

Ask for a copy of this limited warranty. Only participating Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers have it. Only Ford, Lincoln and Mercury owners can get it.

Ford Quality Care and the Lifetime Service Guarantee. It's the difference between just buying a car and owning peace of mind.

House Calls

By Edith Lank

Buying First Home

Dear Edith: My husband and I are first-time homebuyers, 23 years of age, no children. The price they are asking for the house we like is only half what I saw a similar house for elsewhere. But we asked the broker if the seller would move on the price. He said the seller would not move on the price. Here are my questions:

1. Do many people end up paying full price? After we signed the contracts a friend said you are not supposed to pay list price. Were we taken advantage of?
2. They told us one interest rate on our mortgage and then mentioned an

APR rate that was 3/4 of a percent more. Does this mean we are not getting the original rate?

3. I am looking forward to receiving a settlement in an accident case. Would it be a good idea to put half of that money into the house next year and refinance?

Your advice and suggestions would be appreciated. Comments from my friends are negative and make me feel worse. — Mrs. S.A.

It sounds as if you woke up at 3 a.m. with a classic attack of the malady known as Buyer's Remorse. Don't let your friends bother you. Buying whatever you can afford at this point

Here's a grand way to afford a trip to Paris. Just sign in at your local Peugeot car dealer and say "I'd like a sweepstakes form please."

There's nothing to buy, but you may have to be polite and look at the new front wheel drive Peugeot 405 S. No big hardship!

Peugeot Motors of America Inc. is sponsoring a "Car of the Year" sweepstakes at Peugeot dealerships nationwide. The grand prize is a new Peugeot 405 S, voted Europe's Car of the Year by the widest margin in history. Four first-place winners will receive an all-expenses paid trip for two to Paris.

The first prize trips to Paris include round-trip airfare from the winners' nearest gateway city, ground transfers upon arrival in Paris, six nights in a luxury hotel, including taxes and service charges, and a sightseeing tour.

Official "Car of the Year" sweepstakes entry forms are available at participating Peugeot dealerships. To qualify, contestants must deposit a dealer-validated entry form at participating Peugeot dealerships by November 1, 1988. No purchase is necessary.

Rules and restrictions apply.

Peugeot Motors of America, with headquarters in Lyndhurst, New Jersey, is the U.S. sales and marketing arm of Peugeot S.A., Europe's third largest automaker.

More than 250 Peugeot dealers comprise the U.S. network. For the nearest Peugeot dealer, telephone this toll-free number: 1-800-447-2882.

State Parks Hunting Season Announced

Sixty-two of New York's 150 State Parks will permit hunting in specified areas during the fall, winter and early spring for the taking of deer, small game, upland birds and waterfowl. Special restrictions are in effect to protect park visitors and to assure sound wildlife management. Hunting regulations are formulated in cooperation with the State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC); hunting dates are set by DEC.
