SORT Program Expected Town-Wide By January

By Catherine Tokar

The town's entire recycling program, SORT (Separate Oyster Bay's Recyclables Today), will operate town-wide by January if the Town of Oyster Bay's green and white recycling trucks are ready this month, a town official said.

Eric Swenson of the Town of Oyster Bay's Department of Environmental Control addressed the Hicksville Community Council last week to update residents about the town's recycling program. Mr. Swenson said the town is undergoing a massive expansion effort this year. The new trucks, which display the words "SORT Program", are designed for recycling pickups. Each truck has separate departments for different recyclable materials. With these trucks, workers can pick up at 12,000 homes on a route rather than the current 9,000, said Mr. Swenson.

Mr. Swenson also indicated that while in April 5,000 homes took part in the program, now more than 5,400 homes throughout the town are participating. "We are doing very well," said Mr. Swenson. "The first year, we were recycling at nine percent of the waste stream, a very good percentage; but this year we are up to 13 to 14 percent, and 17 percent in the original pilot area."

The towns of Plainview and Old Bethpage recently began recycling junk mail*, and this effort has "brought up the quality of paper stock" which is more desirable for Taiwan, which buys the recyclable paper. Mr. Swenson said that one problem with the SORT Program is that some residents still do not know what to put in the yellow buckets the town gave out this year. He said that ceramics and some types of metals, like mufflers, should not be included in the bucket. "When in doubt, leave it out," Mr. Swenson said. "Call us and we'll tell you if it is okay."

One of the newest developments in the recycling industry is biodegradable plastic bags, made with corn starch, which is biodegradable within four or five years.

As the program stands now, only bottles, cans and newspapers are recycled, but the town hopes to expand the program to other kinds of metals and plastics in the future, said Mr. Swenson.

Leaf Composting

One "big town effort," according to Mr. Swenson, is the town's establishment of a leaf composting site in Syosset, where state-of-the-art technology grinds leaves for composting. The process aerates and accelerates leaves so they compost quickly.

Discarding Christmas Trees

In another major project the town will take discarded Christmas trees for use as dune stabilizers at TOBAY Beach this winter. The trees will be placed on the seaward side of the dunes so that sand builds up instead of eroding. "The trees will add a layer of protection during winter storms," said Mr. Swenson. "More than 20,000 trees will be thrown out, and we need about 5,000 on the dunes."

Mr. Swenson said the town will call for volunteers for the project, which will take place on or about January 14. Special pickup days for the trees will be Friday, January 6 for residents living south of Old Country Road, and Friday, January 13 for those living north of Old Country Road. "The Christmas trees don't have to be put out on those days, but the ones that are will be taken for dune stabilization," said Mr. Swenson.

Another town project is the STOP (Stop Throwing Out Pollutants) Program, which collected more than 10 tons of automobile batteries since March and about 3,000 gallons of waste oil. "This program has gotten good participation with 2,400 home bringing us household chemicals to us," said Mr. Swenson.

Residents' Questions

Resident Bill Kelly asked Mr. Swenson why it is necessary to remove labels from cans and not glass. Mr. Swenson answered that cans must go through a process called de-tinning, and in that process, the paper forms a sludge which is undesirable in recycling; however, when glass is melted down, the paper labels just burn off.

Another resident asked if aerosol cans can be used in the SORT Program, but Mr. Swenson said that only the STOP Program accepts aerosol cans.

Hicksville Residents Remember Reuben Rodriguez

Hicksville residents remembered with kind words and much sadness the man seen all over town pushing a shopping cart piled high with his treasures. Reuben Rodriguez, who was killed last week after being struck by a pick-up truck, was best-known as "the man with the aluminum cans."

The Hicksville Illustrated News interviewed local residents and found that most had, in some way, come in contact with him. Some knew him as the friendly man who stacked newspapers at the railroad station and others as the man who waved to passers-by.

But sadly, most remember him as the man who always appeared to be ignoring the traffic laws as he traveled in his own lane. Many residents said they often had to swerve their vehicles to avoid hitting him or they had to honk to coax him off the road.

"I think everyone almost hit him, but even if we beeped at him, he would still smile and wave," said one resident.

Another said, "I remember watching him cross the intersection of Old Country and Newbridge Road—diagonally—with stuff in his wagon piled sky high. I can't believe he made it across."

Denise Kratochvil said, "I always thought it was so nice that he tipped his hat to all the ladies." Denise's sister, Karen said, "I helped him pick up bottles once. He dropped them and after I picked them up he said 'thank you' and winked at me."

Everyone had a different story to tell. George Thomas said, "I remember when I was in church [St. Ignatius] and he was behind me. I sneezed right before we were about the give the sign of peace. He immediately slid down to the other end of his pew so he wouldn't catch my germs."

Reuben was often seen in Ebbets Field Cafe on Duffy Avenue. Vinny, an employee at Ebbets, said, "I worked in a pizza place in Levittown and every Saturday he came in for a slice. He always had a beer in his pocket but he was never drunk. He was good and really nice."

"I once saw him park his shopping cart in one of the spaces at Ebbets Field—like it was a regular car," said one resident. She added, "He always had new sneakers on... they were always very white... and he also wore a walkman."

Many residents said that they had seen him in various Hicksville banks, delicatessens, ty Council, asked how newspapers should be put out at curbside. Mr. Swenson indicated that papers should be bundled, preferably bound with string, and no more than 12 inches in height. Plastic bags should not be used, but paper bags are acceptable, he said.

What's New in Town

Mrs. Draycott then said that the SORT Program is primarily a residential program but that businesses should recycle, too. Mr. Swenson said that businesses are being included in the plan, and new businesses must incorporate recycling into their plans as they apply for town permits. "The ball is really rolling and we will be seeing more and more recycling by companies," said Mr. Swenson. "There is a growing awareness of solid waste problems by homeowners and businesses, and it is a good sign."

Resident Norma Goerke asked if schools are included in the program, and Mr. Swenson said that the town is working at putting together a curriculum on recycling "which can easily be incorporated in the schools."

Resident Bill McDonald said that the town should set aside one day a month for residents to throw out valuable metals, such as aluminum and copper pots, but Mr. Swenson said there is a problem with the pot handles, but the question will be given further consideration the SORT Program continues.

Another resident asked if she must put the SORT can out at the curb if she only has two cans in it. Mr. Swenson responded, "For now, we want it out empty or full...so the town can see if all residents understand the program."

Councilman Clark Speaks

Town Councilman Tom Clark spoke about recent town project including an effort to make businesses which sell motor oil take back used motor oil; using the left over ash from recycling as blocks for building a "reef" in the middle of the Long Island Sound for factory use; using sweepers instead of vacuums for leaf pick-up because sweepers are cheaper and can be used year-round; instituting alternate side of the street parking for Harding Avenue, off Woodbury Road, because the road is very narrow; mandating the planting of trees in gas stations as well as newly constructed businesses; Jeanson Place has been closed as an access to the Broadway Mall.

At the Broadway Mall, a two-level parking garage will be built by U.S. General, which will be moved somewhere else. The ground floor of the garage will be situated four feet underground.

A proposal for the present movie theater to expand to 10 theaters has been met with disapproval by Mr. Clark. He said he is trying to work with Delco, the company which owns the Mall, whereby street signs from Northern State Parkway to Old Country Road would say "Broadway" (which is the name of the road) in the purple and white logo used for the Broadway Mall in exchange for reducing the size of the theater to five. Mr. Clark said the owner has been very receptive to this idea.

In addition to the parking garage, a Benjamin's restaurant will move into the old tire store on the south side of Stern's. Mr. Clark said.

The next public meeting of the Hicksville Community Council will feature the owner of the Broadway Mall speaking to residents about the progress of the Mall. The meeting is scheduled for February.

The general manager/postmaster of the Long Island Division of the United States Post Office said, in a letter to the Illustrated, "The Postal Service as the delivery agent for the nation's mail takes exception to the term "junk mail." Third Class Mail, or Bulk Business Mail as we call it, is an important and growing segment of the nation's mail. I do not think you as a mailer, or any of our local political leaders who send many pieces of mail to local households, feel the information they send is "junk". Some postal customers - the handicapped, elderly shut-ins, and rural area residents - depend on Bulk Business Mail for service they may not otherwise receive."

along. He would sweep through the rubble, near stores and gutters. I don't think that area was ever as clean as when he was around."

Reuben was also known by many different names. Some of the most popular ones were Chico, Hector, Uncle Julio, Jose, Paco and Pedro. "He definitely had all different names, but we liked to call him Uncle Julio," said one 11th grade Hicksville student.

Many residents and businesses expressed sympathy by sending flowers to Dalton Funeral Home which took care of the funeral arrangements. The cemetery plot was donated by Henry Brenzel Jr. and his wife Dorothy.

Mildred McLaughlin, program coordinator at the Hicksville Library, said, "When I came to work today I saw an aluminum can in the parking lot and thought 'He's not here to pick it up.' We're going to have a dirty Hicksville without him."

"I saw him deposit money in the bank once," said a Hicksville High School student who added, "I also saw him at the pay phone so he must have known people. I used to beep and wave at him—of course, while he was in the middle of the road—and he would smile and wave."

One local policeman said, "I used to work in a deli and when he came in we would offer him free food but he wouldn't hear of taking any handouts. He would always put the money right on the counter."

"He wasn't like the other homeless people in the area. He tried to make a living for himself," said one longtime resident. "Levitown Parkway was disgusting before he came

School's Facilities Meeting

Town Supervisor Angelo Dellagatti, or a representative from his office, will speak about the parcel of land next to Dutch Lane School at the school's facilities committee meeting, at 9 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 14 in the Administration Building. The town has approached the school board as to whether it can use the school grounds during non-school hours for an athletic field.

The Man Who Had No Home

The man who had no home, and always walked alone
Died
And no one cried
A few were sad and said that's too bad.
He will be remembered for awhile
Because he always had a smile.
He didn't have a home
So let this be his poem.

MR. and MRS. STEVEN THOMAS

Susan Santos Marries Steven Thomas

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Santos of Hicksville have announced the marriage of their daughter Susan to Steven Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas of Maspeth.

The marriage ceremony was performed at St. Ignatius Loyola Roman Catholic Church on August 26th.

Maid of honor for Susan was Diane Miller of Hicksville. Bridesmaids were Gail Roggen-dorf, Janet Dawber, both cousins of the bride and Cindy Smallwood, sister of the groom.

Steven's best man was Steve Rubino. Billy Smallwood, John Santos and John Thomas served as ushers.

The wedding was a black and white formal affair. Susan was driven to the church and reception in her father's black and white 1959 Cadillac Coupe DeVille.

Susan is a 1972 graduate of Hicksville High School and is presently employed at Pathmark in Jericho. Steven is a graduate of Aviation High School in Queens and earned his B.A. degree at Queensborough College in Queens. He is employed by the Sanitation Department in Queens.

A reception followed at the Imperial Manor in Bethpage. After a two week honeymoon in Hawaii and one week in San Francisco the couple are now residing in Hicksville.

Our Sympathy To The Costellos

Thomas J. Costello formerly of Hicksville, passed away November 11th. He was 90 years old.

Thomas was the husband of the late Anna; and father of the late Thomas and Neal. He is survived by his children Gerald, Daniel and Anna Marie Adams, and daughters-in-law Kay and Mildred Costello. He was the grandfather of 19 and great grandfather of 24. Writes his daughter AnnaMarie: "He was a good father, a good friend and a loving person who will be missed by everybody who knew him."

Our condolences to all of you.

Behan—Shayer Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Behan happily announced the engagement of their daughter, Gerri, to Andrew A. Shayer. Mr. Shayer is a chemical engineer with Bostik, Lynfield, Massachusetts, and is presently attending New England School of Law. Gerri, a graduate of St. Bonaventure University, is currently employed by BayBank Boston in their Private Banking Division.

A July 1989 wedding in Hicksville is planned.

Our Thanks To...

Those nice young men from the Hicksville Water District who fixed the broken fire hydrant on California Street. They did a great job... and thanks are also going to the men who are putting in new curbs and roads in the northwest area of Hicksville. Boy, do they work! They're doing a grand job.

Joseph Was Christened

Grandma Pat DelRosso called us with the happy news that her new grandson Joseph Vito Louis, son of Marguerite and Vinny Louis, was baptized November 26th at Our Lady of Mercy Roman Catholic Church.

Coming to Hicksville from Phoenix, Arizona, to be godfather for his new little nephew was Michael DelRosso, along with his family. Godmother was Mary Robinson of Lindenhurst. After the baptism a lovely christening party was held for about 80 people at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Lindenhurst.

Looking on as her young brother was baptized was his 17-month-old sister Alyssa along with his other grandmother Cell Louis.

Stephanie and Bobby Nathanson

From the Nathansons

"We would like to thank Santa and the rest of the Hicksville Fire Department for taking the time to stop by and see our daughter Stephanie Nathanson, on Dean Street. Thanks again."

"And we would like to publicly wish a happy birthday to Stephanie who will be two on Dec. 12th... and to her brother Bobby who will be one year old on Dec. 18th. We love you... Mom and Dad."... P.S. Happy Anniversary Robert.

Condolences

Our deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mangan of Berkshire Road on the recent death of her sister, Violet Pike of New Hyde Park.

The Forever 55 Club

The Forever 55 Club of Trinity Lutheran Church will be holding their annual Christmas party at the Milleridge Inn on Dec. 13 at noon in The Cottage.

Welcome Home

Welcome home to Mrs. John Coe after spending the Thanksgiving holidays with her son and family in Maine.

Get Well Wishes

We're sending get well wishes to Kay Sarti and hope she'll be feeling great real soon so she can enjoy the beautiful holiday season. ... and to Walter Rehauser we also send our wishes for a speedy and full recovery.

Debbie Cialdella and Glenn Privitera

Debra Ann Cialdella Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Cialdella of Hicksville hosted an engagement party for their daughter Debra Ann and her fiancé Glenn Privitera. Glenn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Privitera currently reside in Afton, New York.

More than 100 family and friends attended the gala affair at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Deer Park. Everyone enjoyed the music of a Decjay along with plenty of food and fun.

Debbie is a graduate of Hicksville High School class of '83. Glenn and Debbie have planned a May 1989 wedding.

MARIE PINA

Happy 17th Birthday

A message: "Happy 17th birthday to Marie Pina from mom Maria, dad Luis and sisters Theresa and Kimberly. Marie, a senior at Hicksville High School, is celebrating her birthday this week. Also coming along to help celebrate is her aunt and uncle, Juan and Rose Pina, and her little cousin John Paul."

Carol Zenneck Honored

Carol Zenneck of Hicksville was recently honored as a volunteer advocate at a ceremony hosted by EAC, Inc., "The Human Service Agency" at the Swan Club in Glenwood Landing.

The Advocate Program works closely with the Family Court judiciary to help children in foster care. In her work as an Advocate, Ms. Zenneck makes home visits and interviews all parties involved with a child in foster care. She then prepares a report with recommendations concerning the child and his or her future for the judge. Congratulations Carol.

Get Well Wishes

The Illustrated is sending get well wishes to William Hall, assistant superintendent for Educational Services of the Hicksville School District.

TO YOUR HEALTH

By RICHARD H. BLAU, M.D.

Psoriasis and Arthritis

My patients are surprised to learn that psoriasis may be associated with arthritis. Psoriasis is a skin condition well known to most people. Red, scaling patches are visible around the elbows and knees. Often, the fingernails and scalp are also involved.

It is estimated that as many as 10% of patients with psoriasis also suffer from a very special type of arthritis. This form, called Psoriatic arthritis, is very different from other types of arthritis discussed in previous articles.

Psoriatic arthritis often attacks the end joints of the fingers. In addition to joint involvement, swelling of an entire finger or toe may occur. A recent study at the University of Southern California found that psoriatic arthritic patients can suffer from significant arthritis of the neck.

The overall prognosis of untreated psoriatic arthritis is variable. Some patients have very little discomfort while others have significant disability. Obviously a correct diagnosis is very important. These patients often come to the attention of the rheumatologists (arthritis experts) for diagnosis and treatment.

Treatment for psoriatic arthritis may be complex. The rheumatologist will often work with the dermatologist to control the disorder. Anti-inflammatory medications, exercise, and joint protection are very effective treatments.

Arthritis strikes one out of seven people. Learn the facts. Call for your complimentary copy of "The Joint Approach - An Arthritis Overview."

Mary Smith Married to Mark Doyle

Mark and Elizabeth Doyle of Hicksville have announced the marriage of their son, Mark Edward, to Mary Elizabeth Smith, daughter of Lou and Flo Smith, formerly of Hicksville and now residents of Florida.

Father Donley officiated at the ceremony performed November 4 at Our Lady of Mercy Roman Catholic Church in Hicksville.

Mark and Mary are both graduates of Hicksville High School, Class of '81. They were high school sweethearts, attended their junior and senior proms together and have been together ever since.

Mark attended St. John's University while Mary attended Nassau Community College. Mark is employed at Ruco Polymer in Hicksville. Mary is employed with the law firm of Wilkie, Far & Gallagher in Manhattan.

Mary was attended by matron of honor Val Wheaton. Her bridesmaids were Lou Ann Acevedo (her sisters), Brigitte Doyle, the groom's sister, and high school friends Ann Cimela, Laura Paparcuri and Lisa Ragozzino. Flower girl was Larin Doyle, escorted by ring-bearer John Wheaton.

Mark and his best man, John Knesel have been friends since the first grade. Serving as ushers were Douglas Wheaton, Julio Acevedo, Brian Doyle, Andrew Doyle and David Livingston.

A reception at Marina DelRay in Throgs Neck followed the ceremony. After a two week honeymoon in Hawaii the couple returned to their new co-op residence in Queens.

The Investor's Corner

By Dr. Joseph P. Frey

Investing Today

The last few articles have outlined the problems facing the new president. We wish him well. We must, in the final analysis, protect ourselves in the environment that has been created for us.

It is quite clear now that we cannot grow ourselves out of the deficits. It is quite clear that the Congress will not cut programs. (We should hope that they do not increase them). It is quite clear that we have to raise revenue. Notice I did not use the "T" word. But a rose by any name....It is quite clear that interest rates have to go higher in order to feed the deficits.

If you are a long term investor with quality, or a periodic investor (dollar cost averaging), stay with your stock. I believe that the stock market will come back in a year or so and go to new heights. If you are a holder of bonds and you are satisfied with your yields, stay with them. Interest rates will fall later on.

The general theme is that the stock market should wander sideways for awhile and then slowly drift lower with some downward sharp slides as the program trading takes hold periodically. There will be some sharp up days, but not many.

If you want to protect your principal in this type of a market, get out, go to the sidelines and wait. The same advice for bond holders. Go To Shorter Maturities.

This should be your more specific strategy depending on your investing temperament:

- 1) Put the money in Short Term Treasury Bills and Notes of about an average 1 to 1½ years and wait. As a matter of fact you should buy a no-load short term government mutual fund, a true no-load. You will get an increasing yield as the interest rate increases and you will be extremely liquid. As we have advised many times over the last year or so, Cash is King.

- 2) Avoid like a plague all Corporation Bonds. We used to think that the sheer size of a corporation was takeover protection. Forget that. The banks have so much money waiting to be loaned that General Motors could go down. When that happens the value of the old bonds quickly fall into the junk class. There is no protection. Look in the paper at TEXACO's junk. Soon RJR's bonds will be all junk. If you want long term bonds stay with government or government zeros. A new 30 year G-bond of $1000 will cost about 7½% at present interest rates, and the 0% is guaranteed. They are volatile and you have to pay taxes on the phantom income but the guaranteed return is good. (You may want to wait for about 6 months; they will be priced better).

- 3) In the stock market, stick with institutions and undervalued companies. They weather hard times well and rise quickly when it gets better. Your aim should be for total return, i.e., dividends plus appreciation.

This strategy will protect you. If I am wrong you will not be hurt and will be around to play the game when it turns around as President Bush starts to think about being reelected...

Kiwanis President Tony Citrola pins the special emblem, which accompanies the award, to Past President Siegfried Widder's lapel, after presenting him with the certificate and congratulating him on being honored for his accomplishments during his 11 years as a member of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club.

Sieg Widder Honored By Kiwanis International

The New York District of Kiwanis International recently initiated the New York District Morgenroth Legion of Merit Award to recognize and honor dedicated Kiwanians who have served their communities for 10, 15 and 20 years.

This year only, clubs will have the opportunity to honor their members retroactively. At the November 23 luncheon meeting of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club, Kiwanis President Tony Citrola announced that a certificate has been received from New York District to be presented at the meeting to past president Siegfried Widder.

'Tis the Spirit of the Holiday

That special feeling's in the air again, In the bells jingling on a winter sleigh. If the faces of children are starry-eyed and glowing.

'Tis the spirit of the Holiday!

Our nostrils breathe the scent of a freshly-cut pine, Our neighbors light a single candle each day.

If we share joy and peace with our fellow man, 'Tis the spirit of the Holiday!

Turkeys, chestnuts, apples and wine, Glasses raised with good things to say. If memories are made for all our tomorrows.

'Tis the spirit of the Holiday!

The Changing Faces of Hicksville

MARGHERITAVILLE is one of the newest additions on Broadway.

ALL DRIED UP: The West Village Green Pool has seen better days, but come summer, residents will have a new pool to swim in.

SPEAKING FOR ITSELF: Tropical Showcase will open shortly after a fire gutted the store, killing most of the animals.

POPPING IN: Fortunoff Auto Sales made a quick debut and an even quicker exit on Broadway this fall.

Travel around town these days and you'll see many changes. Aside from bare trees and it feeling more like winter every day, numerous businesses have moved into town in the past few months. In addition, fall seems to be the time to do some renovations work before Old Man Winter freezes everything up. One example of this is the new fire house, sub-station four, currently underway on Levittown Parkway. If you pass by, you can see they've already put up some walls and installed most of the pipe work. And speaking of the fire department, Santa has already made his seasonal debut atop a fire engine, throwing the ever-popular popcorn balls to kids around town. There's even more action going on just down the road apiece by the West Village Green, as the pool is being redone. Who can think about swimming now, unless it's in the Bahamas?

Another recent ground-breaking ceremony took place on the other side of town, on South Broadway. Last month, the Illustrated was on hand to see the Department of Motor Vehicles take the first step toward a brand new (and much larger) motor vehicle office. If you recall, the old office, in the Broadway Mall, will move in the spring to its new quarters.

About the Broadway Mall, have you been brave enough to step inside to witness the biggest change around town this year? Those sky lights are amazing, and even Stern's is getting a new face lift. The outside of the building is surrounded by scaffolding and the stores all around the mall have new tan and green tile fronts. Take a look inside and you can see the original cement flooring from when the Mall was the Mid Island Plaza and was not enclosed.

Maybe this weekend you happened to pass Sears, right across the street from the mall. They put up their holiday decorations — and they look great. Remember when Winnie the Pooh and Santa Claus used to visit there every year?

Another ground breaking is taking place right now on the corner of West Cherry Street and Newbridge Road. A few months ago the house on that spot was torn down, and now, something new is coming in.

Hop on back to Broadway, just south of Old Country Road, and you'll see the new Broadway Plaza Delicatessen on the corner near Chaplins. Looks pretty nice from the outside, but how's the food? Check it out. Down south a little more see the Hicksville Terrace shopping center has two new merchants, Austin Travel and Silvio's Bakery. On your next trip stop by both.

Up north a little more, in the center of town, see the new office building taking form across from St. Ignace Church. New occupants should be in there within a few months. Even more buildings are going on down West John Street. Check out the Carnegie Park entrance for the building of a new warehouse, we hear. And further east see some new houses tucked in at 302 West John St. A few blocks away on the north side of the road are three boarded up houses that may be replaced by office space if the Town of Oyster Bay approves a local developer's application.

Did you notice that Jabby's Tavern on Broadway is now Margheritaville? Try out the great Mexican food.

Over on Old Country Road is a semi-new place called McCord, Fring and Associates, Ltd., who call themselves the "Realty Professionals." They just moved in next to Little Country Pub. And over at Delco Plaza, Oliver's Kids moved out a while back, but no one seems to be taking advantage of its great location. A few more stores have popped into the plaza, including Small World children's clothing, and Sines Unlimited right next to it.

The Tropical Showcase, in the shopping center on the corner of Old Country and Newbridge Roads, is expected to be back in full swing in early December, so the sign says on the boarded up windows. Remember a few months ago when a fire gutted the entire store? Across the street, a car drove through the front of Toms II Chinese Kitchen, in May, and now the store is cleaned up and ready for new occupants.

Good news around town is the erecting of a billboard in between the administration building and the high school. It lets everyone know the goings on at the school as well as board meetings and times.

On a last note, still no action at the old Mobile gas station by the Ground Round or the deserted gas station across from Baskin Robbins. What a shame something worthwhile is not situated there.

As you can see, plenty of changes have been happening in Hicksville over the course of only a few months. As the town welcomes in the holiday season, see what else moves in or changes around Hicksville.

A NEW LOOK: Stern's gets a new face lift as part of the Broadway Mall overhaul.

TIME TO INDULGE: Residents on the south side of town have a new place to indulge themselves at Silvio's Bakery.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

Psychologists say that there are reasons for everything we do, so I guess from that analysis you can assume that people would join a fraternal organization for a special reason or for many special reasons, be they social, ethnic or business.

I never took a survey or made an in-depth probe into the reasons why many people are attracted to the Galileo Lodge. As I see it, the people who belong to our Lodge are quite extraordinary, unselfish, ready to do good and ask very little in return. They have faith and interest in their organization and are very desirous to keep it progressive and mobile as they give up their time and efforts for our cause. They strive to better themselves and the Lodge and they take an active interest in community affairs.

Getting back to the two Christmas parties that the Galileo Lodge will present on Sunday, Dec. 11 gives credence to all that I have written here.

Don't forget our Gala New Year's Party and Dance on Saturday, Dec. 31. Call the Galileo Lodge at 931-9351 for more details.

New Year's Party & Dance at Our Lady of Mercy

The Holy Name Society of Our Lady of Mercy Church is once again sponsoring their annual New Year's Eve Celebration. This gala event, attracting hundreds, is a perennial favorite. From 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. New Year's Eve party goers will enjoy the exciting music of Frankie Simms and The Showmen playing favorites from 40s Swing to 80s Rock.

The evening includes a buffet of international foods, catered by Jacque's of Bethpage. Included with the evening's fare are the traditional Midnight Champagne Toast, spirits, unlimited beer, soda and set-ups.

Please make your reservations early. Tickets, priced at $35 per person, go on sale Sundays only, December 4 through December 18 and are available outside the Church from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Our Lady of Mercy Church is located at 500 South Oyster Bay Road, in Hicksville-Plainview.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity. We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only. We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

Deck the Halls

To The Editor:

I've heard it said that Hicksville people have a great deal of community pride and I for one, believe it. Each year we join together as one and celebrate our holidays. The merchants and Chamber of Commerce members continually offer their support to decorate the area for the enjoyment of all our community - residents and businesses alike.

We're ready to begin decorating our community for the Holiday Season. Our local merchants and the Chamber of Commerce members have already begun sending in their donations to help "light up" Hicksville and we're hoping that this year, we can count on Hicksville's residents joining us in making this the most festive season.

If each resident donated $1.00, or even just $.50, it would assure added decorations that would be enjoyed by all for years to come. Won't you please join your business community make Hicksville a truly bright and cheerful place to be during this holiday season?

Decorations will be placed along 107 from the railroad trestle to Delco Plaza, south of Old Country Road. Other decorations are to be placed on side streets. Do you have any suggestions or ideas where decorations might be enjoyed? We appreciate any contribution our Hicksville residents make, verbal or financial. It's your community, let us know how we can help you make it the best place to live and work.

I would like to take this opportunity to personally wish you and yours a healthy, safe and happy holiday season.

Marcos Ramirez
President, Chamber of Commerce

Thank You Fire Dept.

To The Editor:

We would like to thank the Hicksville Fire Department for the enjoyment they gave us and many others on Sunday, Nov. 27 when they rode around with Santa and their fire trucks tossing popcorn balls to all the children. As in past years, we enjoyed it greatly.

The DeFeo Family

Christmas Is Coming

Christmas is coming, as signs are everywhere. Down into town we walk, to see the stores there. For some it seems early, the things of Christmas, waiting to be purchased. We were just getting used to Fall.

For some people, being organized early is best, while others procrastinate until Christmas Eve. The decision is hard... a live Christmas tree or an artificial one that can be used from year to year.

Now in the store are Christmas balls, colorful wrapping paper, bows and tags. All at reduced price—but for some, it isn't easy. What if I have no idea what to buy?

Christmas 1988: the thinking and the rushing around begins. What do I buy for family, friends, a special friend or the love of my life?

We also wonder what to eat... whether at home or in a restaurant... or visiting. Let us not forget the poor, disabled, poor in health and in spirit.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year

-DFP

Please Vote

To The Editor:

My family and I would like to urge all Hicksville residents to support and vote for William Schuckmann who is running unopposed for Hicksville Fire Commissioner.

The election will be Tuesday, Dec. 13 from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. at fire headquarters, 20 East Marie St.

Martha Donlon, wife of the late Hicksville Fire
Commissioner William Donlon Jr.

A Story About "Chico"

To The Editor:

As per the Newsday article yesterday on page 7 about "Chico" the homeless Hicksville man, I thought you might like to know of our family's brief personal moment with him.

Although we would see him on a regular basis, we live just one block north of Old Country Road, we never had a face-to-face encounter until last September. All my children attended Our Lady of Mercy School in Hicksville and when September rolled in, then chocolate was not far behind. My children are great sellers in this school-run fundraiser and will often canvass the area and stand for hours at the train station selling their bars for $1 each. It was on one of these afternoons that Tracy and Keith were selling to a group of commuters when "Chico" came up to my daughter and asked her what she was selling. She explained where she was from and why they needed the money and "Chico" responded by saying "I have very bad teeth and I can't eat chocolate." As he continued, he pulled a dollar bill from his jacket pocket and said, "If I give you this dollar, will you promise to take a bar of chocolate and eat it for me?"

Tracy came home and she relayed the entire story about "our shopping cart man." As I told her and the other children, love and kindness come in many different forms. You must keep your eyes open in order to SEE. Thank you for this opportunity.

More 'Wishes' to Come

Due to the overwhelming response to our Holiday Wish list, we are printing them in two parts. Watch for more wishing in upcoming issues.

Broadway Dance Students Entertain for Seniors

The teachers and students of Broadway Dance, 545 South Broadway in Hicksville, are in the holiday spirit.

The staff put together a small dance recital, that the students, ranging from age 7-17, rehearsed every Saturday for two months. They then brought their performance to the Westbury Terrace, Home for Adults. Fully costumed they danced for the elderly adults, unable to get out in the community.

"We want to show the elderly in our community that the youth here does care," said

K of C Holiday Party

Robin Ribarich, director and 35-year Hicksville resident. "I'm proud of my students for wanting to share their talent, love and most of all their free time." The staff, Robin Ribarich, Laura Bowen, Toni Hattie, and students Andrea Guarasci, Allison Guarasci, Melissa Cali, Kelly Heyer, Danny Sydor, Michael Witzer, Krissy Ormond, Jennifer Kremer, Susie Schaub, will be performing all over the community bringing holiday joy to many disabled adults. Anyone interested can call Broadway Dance at 822-2233.

Rewards of Education Presented to 8th Graders

Dreaming of a career? Want information about the rewards of education? Michael Golden, vice president, senior director of compliance for Merrill Lynch knows the answers. On November 18 Mr. Golden presented an exciting career information program to the eighth grade Home and Career Skills classes at Hicksville Middle School.

Participating students were from the classes of Mrs. Sharon Golden and Mrs. Mary Smith. At the end of the day, the students were still talking about the slides, the interesting antique memorabilia and the opportunities for success afforded by a Wall Street career.

Saint Ignatius Students Celebrate Saints' Day

Saints' Day, a first grade tradition at Saint Ignatius Loyola School, was celebrated recently. Each child dressed as a saint and gave a short speech on the saint. The children visited the other classes in a parade. They gave a presentation for their parents and other guests in the cafeteria. Pictured are students in Grade 1 preparing to give their presentation.

S.A.D.D.

Students Against Drunk Driving (S.A.D.D.) held its first meeting of the year at Hicksville High School on Thursday, Dec. 1. The reason for the long delay in establishing the Hicksville High chapter of S.A.D.D. this year was because there was no teacher willing to serve as advisor. For this reason, Augustine Hansen wrote a story about this situation in the school newspaper, The Comet, which caught the attention of Susan Galland. She subsequently volunteered to serve as advisor.

Before setting up the program at the high school, Augustine, Mrs. Galland and Cathy Hatten—another student instrumental in re-establishing S.A.D.D., went to a S.A.D.D. workshop that was held at Nassau Community College. There they learned valuable information on how they could build their local S.A.D.D. chapter.

At the meeting held on December 1, preliminary plans were discussed and some officers were elected.

S.A.D.D. will be holding meetings about every two weeks and new members are always welcome.

Ring Dance

The annual Ring Dance was held on Thursday night, December 1 at the high school. There, juniors received their class rings which they had ordered last year. Two very fortunate juniors were awarded their rings for free. They were John Tracy and Jennifer Wemon.

Graduation

Though it is still only December, it is not too early for seniors to be contemplating their graduation. On Tuesday, December 13, between 8:30 in the morning and 1:30 in the afternoon, the Collegiate Cap and Gown Company will be in the Little Theatre to take orders for graduation. All seniors must be measured on this date. There is an $11 rental fee required to be paid in checks or money orders. If a senior is not present on this date, see Mrs. Desorbo immediately.

Financial Aid

College bound seniors should come to a Financial Aid Night to be held in the high school auditorium on Monday, Dec. 12 at 7:30 in the evening. At this time, speaker Joseph Sciarra from St. John's University will assist students in finding out how they can receive financial assistance in the form of scholarships, grants and other programs. All seniors are welcome to attend with their parents.

Girls' Swim Team

The Girls' swim team finished out their season with a record of six wins and four losses. In the recently held State Championships, Hicksville's swimmers did well. Kristin Mund finished in second place in the 200 Freestyle and in third place in the 100 Butterfly and Jeannine Sirey placed fourth in the 200 Individual Medley and tenth in the 100 Freestyle. Kristin achieved All-County honors in the 200 Freestyle and the 100 Butterfly. Jeannine was named All-County in the 200 Individual Medley, the 100 Freestyle and the 100 Backstroke. Under the guidance of their coach Walter Olsewski, the team enjoyed one of its most successful seasons in recent years.

Identification Cards

All students must now present their School Identification Cards at all school functions. If you have not received your new I.D. card as of yet, see Ms. Gelberg for information.

Seniors who need their college applications processed by January should have submitted their completed applications to the Counseling Center by December 2. If they were not submitted by then, they can not be processed before the Holiday vacation due to the amount of applications submitted.

Peer Counseling Group

There are many people in school who are experiencing problems that most others do not know about. In an attempt to reach out and help these troubled individuals, a Peer Counseling organization has been created in the high school under the direction of school social worker Mr. Dalvano. This organization consists of freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors who are interested in counseling. After its creation last year, Peer Counseling began working with and tutoring elementary school children. The group has also worked with Middle School students.

One of the problems that Peer Counseling has faced is that very few people know about it. Those involved in Peer Counseling invite anyone with a problem to come to the counseling center for help at any time. They believe that the community will benefit greatly from this program if more kids are willing to come down and seek help from them.

THE JOSEPH BARRY COUNCIL had its biannual Blood Drive. Fifty-two pints of blood were donated. Food was served to all donors. Our blood needs were taken care of by Maureen Davis from the L.I. Blood Service and her able assistants. Arthur Budich assistant to Anthony Previte (Recovering from By Pass Surgery) did an excellent job of putting this program together. From left: Arthur Budich, Maureen Davis and Edward Kelly, grand knight.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO BE BORN AGAIN?

Today we hear so much about being born again, that it has become a popular term without much meaning. In order to know its true meaning we must turn to the Word of God, our source of all truth. "Now there was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a member of the Jewish ruling council. He came to Jesus at night and said, 'Rabbi, we know you are a teacher who has come from God. For no one could perform the miraculous signs you are doing if God were not with him.' In reply Jesus declared, 'I tell you the truth, unless a man is born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.' 'How can a man be born when he is old?' Nicodemus asked. 'Surely, he cannot enter a second time into his mother's womb to be born!' Jesus answered, 'I tell you the truth, unless a man is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the Kingdom of God. Flesh gives birth to flesh, but the Spirit gives birth to Spirit. You should not be surprised at my saying, 'You must be born again.' The wind blows wherever it pleases. You hear its sound, but you cannot tell where it comes from or where it is going. So it is with every one born of the Spirit.' 'How can this be?' Nicodemus asked. 'You are Israel's teacher,' said Jesus, 'and do not understand these things?' I tell you the truth, we speak of what we know, and we testify to what we have seen, but still you people do not accept our testimony. I have spoken to you earthly things and you do not believe; how then will you believe if I speak of heavenly things?" "For God so loved the world that He gave His one and only Son, that whoever believed in Him shall not perish but have eternal life."

JOHN 3:1-12, 16

"Yet is all who received Him, to those who believed in His name, He gave the right to become children of God—children born not of natural descent, nor of human decision or a husband's will, but born of God."

JOHN 1:12-13

Have you ever experienced the new birth? Why not turn now from your sin and receive Jesus into your life? Have questions? Need help? We stand ready to answer all of the Lord Jesus to help. Call 522-6330 or Come to The Church At Hicksville, 7 Herzog Place, Hicksville

Legionnaires' Log

By GREG BENNETT
Charles Wagner Post #421, Hicksville

We pause to remember December 7, 1941. As American servicemen raised colors, ate breakfast and attended chapel, Japanese warplanes attacked at 7:55 a.m. striking at Battleship Row and Ford Island. The Day of Infamy will never be forgotten. Nearly every American alive at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack can recall how they heard the news of attack.

The Nassau County Forty and Eight held its 23rd Nurses Training Ball on December 3 at Elmont post. Hicksville Forty and Eighters Harry Christo, Ray Gamble and Frank Molinari attended along with Legionnaire Greg Bennett.

PC Wes Tietjen and Greg Bennett went on the Nassau County Committee trip to Atlantic City on November 27 in the pouring rain. Everyone was a winner as money was raised to support the Legion.

Dec. 14 at 7:30 p.m. Nassau Legionnaires will visit the Nassau County Juvenile Detention Center to bring holiday cheer to the youngsters. December 17 at 1 p.m. is a visit to the Long Island Development Center and Kings Park.

Our post extends a Happy 100th Birthday to Hamilton Fish Sr., a founding member of the American Legion and former Congressman. "Ham" is a World War One veteran and resides in New York City.

Our next post meeting is December 19. Don't forget to remember our POW-MIA's.

Opening lead — king of clubs.

Wherever you go in bridge circles, whether the caliber of the game is good, bad or indifferent, the one thing that stands out is that more points are lost on the easy hands than on the difficult ones.

For example, take this case where South wound up at four hearts and West led the king of clubs. East playing the deuce. At trick two, West shifted to a low spade, praying he'd find his partner with the queen.

Declarer played the king! For dummy, hoping East would win the trick with the ace and return a spade. But the king held the trick, and South then returned a spade to his queen and West's ace. West now cashed his ace of clubs — the third trick for the defense — and shifted to a diamond at trick five.

Declarer won with the ace, played the queen of trumps, West following low, and South was faced with a crucial guess. It did not take him long to go up with the ace, catch the king, and thus make four hearts.

There is no doubt that when a declarer is faced with the trump combination shown here, he will do much better in the long run to finesse the queen than play the ace from dummy.

But the undeniable fact is that South made the correct play, since he had ample justification for abandoning the normal percentage play. He had observed from the first four plays that West had shown up with the A-K of clubs and ace of diamonds, and he also remembered that West had passed originally. It followed that West could not also hold the king of hearts — he would not have passed in that case — and that East therefore had to have that card. Accordingly, South went up with the ace, hoping to find the sovereign completely unguarded, and was rewarded by Lady Luck for his effort.

A Holiday Toy Safety Checklist

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission offers important tips for holiday toy shopping. A good toy should be appealing and interesting, suited to the child's physical capabilities, mental and social development, and be well constructed, durable and SAFE for that child's age.

Toys, especially for the younger child, should be constructed to withstand use and abuse by the child. There should be no toxic materials, no shock or thermal hazards (in electrical toys), and levels of lead in paints should be severely limited.

For children under age three, toys should be unbreakable, with no small parts or pieces (eye buttons, etc.) that might come off and be swallowed.

There should be no sharp points or sharp edges, and toys should carry warning labels bearing age and safety precautions to assure full understanding by parents before installation and/or use. Crib gyms for example should be removed once the infant can get up on hands and knees—to prevent strangling; teething rings, rattles, squeeze toys, etc., should be of one piece construction; pull toys, crib and playpen toys should have strings or cords no longer than 12 inches, to avoid entanglement.

All toys should be checked regularly for breakage and loose parts. Children should be taught to put toys away to avoid accidents and toy boxes and shelves should not present additional safety hazards (lids should lock open in position in any raised position; shelving should be firmly attached to walls, or inaccessible, for curious climbers).

What to buy? Here are some CPSC guidelines for very young children:

0-2 MONTHS: Manipulative toys, for looking, listening, fingering, sucking; teethingers, rattles, light, sturdy cloth toys, squeeze toys, toys suspended above or from crib sides. Infants like bright primary colors, high contrast, simple designs with clear lines, human face their eyes, moved further away as their reach extends).

4-6 MONTHS: "nipple" balls, disks, keys on a ring, interlocking rings, small hand held manipulables, suction cup toys, crib gyms, etc. (check for sharp edges, small parts, loose features (especially eyes); bulls eye patterns. Very young babies like objects that move by wind, wind-up action or their own activity (these should be suspended 8-14 inches from pieces, etc.). Soft clutch toys are good for this age group, as are jingly toys (make sure bells are contained and inaccessible). Soft animals, dolls, squeeze toys are delightful, but should be checked for removable parts (buttons, eyes, hair, etc.). Mirrors (large and unbreakable) fastened to crib or playpen are great for this age group.

7-12 MONTHS: Appearing and disappearing games excite this age group, as do simple mechanisms and simple stacking and container manipulation. Rubber or plastic pop beads (large ones), nesting cups, stacking ring cones, unbreakable mirror toys, rubber soft plastic or wood blocks, soft books.

1 YEAR OLDS: Simple but realistic action toys, push/pulls; noise and action effects; solid wood blocks, large plastic snap together bricks, simple 2-3 piece puzzles, activity boxes, hidden object toys, shape sorters, pop-up toys (curiosity is strong in this group). . . make sure toy pieces are too large to swallow, edges are smooth, colors safe; small parts permanently attached.) Simple lacing or stringing toys are good; matching, sorting, locking toys and simple screwing/unscrewing toys are exciting. The young toddler likes low, simple climbing and sliding structures, balls, musical toys, and for the bathtub, funnels and colanders, floating objects and nesting toys.

As the toddler begins to explore his or her world, role play objects can be introduced: toy telephones, dolls and housekeeping toys, small hand puppets, small peg people and large crayons and paper. Rhythm instruments: bells, cymbals, drums, rattles are good for early creative play, and touch-me books are good for tactile play. Push/pull cars and trains (that make noise) and doll carriages, plastic vacuums, mowers, etc. are fine. Young toddlers like familiar scenes with figures. . . farms, airports, garages, with a small number of pieces.

2-3 YEARS OLD: Social play begins and interest in pretend increases. This age group is curious, active (t), explorative. They like ride-on toys, especially with storage bin trays; ride-ons propelled by bouncing up and down. They like push toys that carry things (wagons,

Toast To Life

You're planning a gala party and, of course, you want everything to be perfect—from beginning to end. That means great food, a good beverage selection, compatible guests and your own special touch of hospitality.

Just as important to the happy memories associated with a good time, is the responsible serving and consumption of alcohol at your party.

The Distilled Spirits Council of the U.S. has these tips to ensure a good time and a safe departure for your guests:

Set a good example for your guests: know the legal drinking age, the legal drinking limit (in most states it's a blood alcohol concentration level of .10%).

• Avoid drinking on an empty stomach. serve lots of food and snacks, it can slow down the absorption of alcohol into the blood stream (high protein foods are best).

• Measure the amount of alcohol in the drinks you serve. Have non-alcoholic beverages available. Fruit juice mixers are better than carbonated, which tend to speed up alcohol absorption. Only refill a glass if a guest requests it.

• If a guest has had too much to drink, offer non-alcoholic beverages instead. Don't allow alcohol to become the focus of the party.

• As the party winds down, stop serving alcohol. Substitute dessert, coffee, late snacks. NEVER serve "one for the road."

Here are two no-alcohol holiday beverages that will keep spirits high and insure your guests' safe departure.

SPICED CREAMSICLE-NOG

1 Qt. Orange Juice
3 Eggs
1/4 Tsp. Ground Cinnamon
1/4 Cup Lemon Juice
1/8 Cup Sugar
1/8 Tsp. Each Gr. Cloves, Ginger
1 Pint Vanilla Ice Cream
1 Pint Ginger Ale
Ground Nutmeg
Orange & Lemon Slices
Fresh Mint Sprigs

Mix orange juice, lemon juice, eggs, sugar, cinnamon, cloves, ginger in large bowl. Cover and chill thoroughly. Just before serving, pour mixture into punch bowl, spoon in ice cream, pour in ginger ale and mix well. Garnish with orange and lemon slices, sprigs of mint, a dusting of nutmeg.

HOT SPICED CIDER

4 Quarts Apple Cider
2 Sticks Cinnamon
12 Whole Cloves
(orange peel, if desired)
Pour cider and spices into a 30 cup electric percolator (with basket and stem removed.) Cover, plug in and enjoy. (If alcohol is desired, add 1 cup Apple-jack... just enough).

Neighbors in Need

IN KEEPING WITH THE HOLIDAY SPIRIT, Anton Community Newspapers has joined with local chapters of two charitable organizations to bring Holiday cheer to our Neighbors in Need. We are proud to announce our partnership in this effort with The Salvation Army, whose well known street corner kettles are an integral part of the Christmas scene, and with Make-A-Wish, which is relatively new to the community for sharing.

WHY DO WE GIVE? We give because we remember the true meaning of the holiday season, and want to be part of it. We give because we know that there are people less fortunate than ourselves, and we recognize a duty to help. We give because others have shared what they had with us, and now it is our chance to give back.

We give because it is inescapably in our hearts to do so.

WHO ARE OUR PARTNERS?

The Salvation Army aids needy families and elderly and homeless people at Christmas time as part of its broader mission to "care for the poor, feed the hungry, clothe the naked, love the unlovable, and befriend those who have no friends." It was started in the 1800s in England, and spread rapidly around the world to become a world renowned institution dedicated to helping others. Typically, families receive checks from the Army for food for their own home-cooked Christmas dinners, and for toys and clothing for the children.

The Make-A-Wish Foundation is an international non-profit, volunteer organization dedicated to granting wishes of children with life-threatening illness. The first chapter was established in 1980 after police officers in Arizona granted a little dying boy's wish to be a policeman by presenting him with a custom made uniform, helmet and badge. In Nassau County, Make-A-Wish has fulfilled nearly 300 wishes since it was founded in 1983. The wishes that are fulfilled are as unique as the children themselves, and are limited only by the child's imagination.

Here at Anton Community Newspapers, we're proud to be partners with The Salvation Army and Make-A-Wish in this year's effort to bring holiday cheer to our Neighbors in Need. But we still need one more member to make our team complete—You.

Make A Wish

Joey recently received a liver transplant at Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh. This life-threatening procedure meant a long hospital stay away from home for this little five-year-old. During his months in the hospital, Joey fell in love with the computer in the playroom. It helped him fill the many long hours. Please check box #1 if you'd like to help Joey.

Salvation Army

Katie and Mark have three boys ranging in age from 4 to 11. Mark has been unable to work since he lost the use of his hand last May. Although they don't feel this is a permanent situation as Mark is a young man, (33 years old), while they are waiting for their social security and disability benefits to be determined, they have no money coming in. A contribution from you would help pay some bills, buy food and a few gifts for the children.

Please check box #2 if you'd like to make the holidays happen for 3 little boys.

WON'T YOU JOIN OUR PARTNERSHIP TODAY?

Holiday Gifting '88

A Real Gift Of Love

Give your loved one a real gift of love, one that will last a lifetime... fitness and good health.

Pictured, the Lifecycle aerobic trainer, is a gift of love for the whole family. Available from Manhasset Fitness At Home, the Lifecycle provides significant improvement in cardiorespiratory capacity in just three weekly 12-minute sessions.

The Manhasset fitness equipment shop, at 1380 Northern Blvd., carries a full line of fine exercise equipment for the home, office or professional setting.

A staff of experts, highly trained and experienced, will inform you about proper monitoring of heart rate, and how each piece of equipment can help you achieve maximum health and fitness.

Manhasset Fitness At Home (305-5057) carries treadmills, cross country skiers, climbers, rowers, stationary bikes and heart rate monitors by Nautilus, Lifecycle, Liferower, Total Power, Hydralifters and other highly regarded manufacturers.

Your gift of health will be delivered and set up, and Manhasset Fitness At Home will be available to help you achieve your personal home fitness goals.

wheelbarrows, doll carriages, shopping carts... things that look like adult equipment. They like larger blocks, magnetic boards and shapes, fit-together toys and puzzles. Learning toys (counting objects, pounding/hammering boards; aroma games, touching/texture games. Dressing toys are fun and fingers are becoming more nimble.

CPSC offers a selection of consumer booklets, free for the asking. Write U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington, DC 20207. For the holiday season: "Which Toy for Which Child" (birth-5; 6-12); "For Kids' Sake... Thanksgiving Feast at Woodland Ave. School

At Woodland Avenue School, Mrs. Specht's Early Learning Center joined Mrs. Stern's class for a Thanksgiving feast. The children made sweet potato pie and corn muffins. Along with these treats, they ate applesauce, raisins and nuts and popcorn. Dress ed as Indians and Pilgrims, they told the story of the first Thanksgiving.

The Grapevine

By Gary Ryder

Want to do your holiday shopping the easy way? We have appropriate gifts in a wide range of prices for the adults on your list.

A bottle or two of wine is appreciated by almost everyone, especially those friends or business associates who enjoy having dinner parties.

For people who don't drink often, select something that will keep a while after it's opened: sherry, perhaps, or a cordial.

Sometimes wine is grouped with other gifts in an attractive package. You can pair it with cheese and crackers and cocktail sticks, or with carefully chosen glassware, or a modern, easy-to-use corkscrew.

The most wonderful gifts contain an element of luxury, something nicer than the recipient would buy for himself. It doesn't have to cost more; buy half a case, instead of a whole one, and choose a better wine, or treat someone special to one bottle of a vintage.

SENIORS - Jan an Over to the in front! We sincerely appreciate you shopping with us! Come & browse.

The most wonderful gifts are at Wine Warehouse.

Yes, we beautifully gift wrap and special order any wine or liquor—even one bottle! Gifts of spirits are as appreciated as the spirit of giving. They are often appropriate as business gifts too. Where you can choose premium brands to show your high regard for the recipient.

Dear J.M.

Hi, How are ya? Well, Here I sit And what am I doing? Well, I'm just sitting here watching the wheels go round and round. I really love to watch 'em roll. Hey, I'm going to the City later, do you want to come? Nah, forget it, you're not invited, I changed my mind. But I'll call you back after and let you know for sure, around 1:30ish. (HATE THAT) Just thought, I'd let you know that Mr. Goodbar (remember?) is doing just great. I'm sure that I will have many happy and satisfying years with him, if I can ever get matters into my own hands. If I haven't already, that is. Maybe you can help me out with that, if I haven't because (know you are more than able). And I am sure that you are great at it, and always willing to help out, or in (depending on the situation), a good friend. Let me know. Love, The Harvard Graduate

You Auto Know

By Dagmar Fors Karppi

I just love seeing the new concept cars. They seem to be coming off the design boards with grand masses of bulk around the body of the car, like giant marshmallows.

I wonder what a fender-bender would be like in one of these cars?

The fenders look as if they stretch around most of the vehicle. This one, the Peugeot OXIA is made of "lightweight, but rigid carbon fiber, kevlar (1) and epoxy resin composite bonded to aluminum honeycomb and sheet panels." (So say the experts.)

Well maybe they will give you a can of epoxy resin and a bag of carbon fiber for fast patch-ups in parking lots. I hope the whole shell doesn't have to be replaced.

But, after all, this is a one-of-a-kind prototype.

maintain directional control under all road conditions.

For added safety, the Peugeot OXIA has an electronic tire monitoring system that constantly measures the temperature and pressure of the 17-inch tires. If a problem is detected, the system indicates the maximum speed not to be exceeded.

Sculpted Carbon

The Peugeot OXIA has a striking aerodynamic design and a drag coefficient (Cx) of 0.32. The short plunging hoodline flows into the lower edge of the steeply inclined windshield. The roofline curves into the tail end, which is equipped with an electrically adjustable spoiler whose angle changes according to road speed for maximum stability.

The OXIA's lightweight, but rigid, pearl-

Peugeot to Unveil Ultra-High-Performance Touring Coupe at Paris Auto Show

The Peugeot OXIA, an ultra-high-performance touring coupe, made its earthly debut at the Paris Auto Show, September 29 to October 9.

Named after an area on the planet Mars which lies at latitude and longitude zero, it was created by stylists and engineers at Peugeot's La Garenne research center in France.

Said Jean Derampe, a senior engineer at La Garenne, "The Peugeot OXIA is more than a showpiece. By synthesizing functional reality with advanced Peugeot technologies, we've built a car that can be driven in the real world."

The Peugeot OXIA has a 680-horsepower V6 engine transversely mounted behind the passenger compartment. This state-of-the-art powerplant has two turbochargers, four valves per cylinder, and four overhead camshafts. A Bosch Motronic engine management system controls fuel injection and ignition with two computers, one for each bank of cylinders.

The Peugeot OXIA has a top speed of 187 miles per hour. Power is transmitted to all four wheels through a hydraulically operated twin-disc clutch and six-speed gearbox.

Limited-slip front and rear differentials optimize road handling and response. The electronic variable-assist four-wheel steering system enhances maneuverability at all road speeds.

For optimum handling and comfort, the OXIA's fully independent suspension consists of two superimposed wishbones and a combination spring/shock absorber assembly on each of four wheels.

Ventilated front and rear disc brakes are equipped with an anti-lock braking system to prevent wheel lock-up and help the driver gray outer body is made of a carbon fiber, kevlar, and epoxy-resin composite bonded to aluminum honeycomb and sheet panels. Exterior features include two electrically adjustable sideview mirrors mounted at the same height as the rearview mirror for optimum visibility.

An electro-magnetic door-operating system unlocks and opens the doors separately or simultaneously.

Interior Design

The interior of the two-passenger Peugeot OXIA is both functional and elegant. The generous windshield provides all-round visibility for the driver and passenger.

A communications center, equipped with a personal computer, display screen, and a combined radio-telephone, manages the air conditioning system and provides travel data and navigational information.

The computerized air conditioning system ensures that the selected temperature and airflow are maintained regardless of external conditions. When the car is stopped, the system draws power from 18 solar cells to maintain airflow through the passenger compartment.

Weather and traffic conditions and information on the route or destination are accessible via the radio-telephone.

Navigational assistance in the form of a road map appears on the screen once the driver has entered a departure point, points along the route, and the destination.

The electrically adjustable seats in the Peugeot OXIA are fitted with a five-point safety harness.

The stereo cassette features a compact disc player. Both the driver and passenger have a selection keyboard on their door panel. Now you know what the future holds in store for us. It depends on whether you buy new or "used used" to see how many years before you can enjoy it all. After all it is just a Prototype. 10-4 Good Buddies.

House Calls

By Edith Lank

Expenses Under Law

Dear Edith: I own a two-family house, living in the top half, rent out the lower half. Will the new tax laws still allow me to deduct expenses incurred in maintaining the rental part of the house? Is this situation considered "actively managed" rental property?—Mr. D.L.

The tax reform act allows you to charge costs connected with your rental property as you have in the past.

Your lower apartment is considered actively managed property but—read carefully now, this is tricky—all rental income now falls under the heading of "passive income."

If you show a yearly loss on the property, your individual situation will determine whether or not you can take that loss against other income from other sources. Unless you're in a high-income bracket (more than $100,000) and have a large passive-income net loss (more than $25,000), it's likely you'll go on using a loss just as you did under the old tax laws.

Losing on the Condos

Dear Edith: I bought two condominiums in different towns in Florida, for investment purposes. They have been losers even when fully rented. Brokers there say sale prices have dropped and I could not sell them for enough to cover the loans.

I have recently retired and cannot afford the financial drain of these condos. If I sell them it will cost me thousands of dollars out of pocket to pay off the loans and the costs of selling. What if I default? Is there a hidden liability in defaulting—just stopping making the mortgage payments and letting them foreclose?—Mr. L.L.

If the properties lose money even when fully rented, you should have been able to calculate that before you bought them—and then not bought.

It would be best, from your point of view, if the lending institutions would accept deeds in lieu of foreclosure in other words, agree to take the properties off your hands and cancel the debts. To find out if they would—ask. Have a lawyer explore the matter for you.

Otherwise, there is indeed a hidden liability in defaulting. You not only pledged the condos for mortgage loans; you also signed a personal promise to repay. Foreclosure does not wipe out that responsibility. If a foreclosure sale doesn't bring enough to pay off the debt (and it sounds as if it wouldn't) you could be held personally responsible for the rest, with what is known as a default judgement against you.

In addition, it is almost impossible ever to place a mortgage loan in the future, if you've had a foreclosure.

Foreclosure can be an expensive process (and guess who is responsible for the costs!) if it comes to that, you'd be better off biting the bullet and selling at a loss. You should have a lawyer's guidance through this whole ordeal.

FmHA and FHA

Dear Edith: I have a friend who brought a house through the loan called "Farmers Loan". Where can I get information about this kind of loan? Is this a kind of FHA? How to be qualified?—D.K.

The loan you mention has nothing to do with FHA. It is a Farmers Home Administration loan, often abbreviated as FmHA, and it's a great way to buy if you qualify. It's intended for those with moderate incomes who want to buy modest homes in rural areas. Loans are made by the Department of Agriculture, directly to the borrower. Interest rates can be as low as one percent, depending on family income.

To find out if you're qualified, attend one of the regular information sessions run by Farmers Home offices in rural counties.

All those mysteries with ARMs—words like index, margin, cap—are explained in Edith Lank's new leaflet "Understanding Adjustable Rate Mortgages." For a copy, send $1 and a stamped return envelope to ARM, 240 Hemingway Drive, Rochester NY 14620.

Comets Varsity Football Team Final Statistics

By Jim McCrann

Though the Hicksville High varsity football team finished the season with a disappointing record of two wins and six losses, it should in no way overshadow many of the accomplishments of the team. Two players who excelled for the Comets this year were Bill Mills and George Filippone. Bill Mills received All-County honors and participated in the County All-Star that was held on Saturday, December 3. George Filippone received All-Conference honors. These two seniors were not the only ones who played well this year.

Filippone lead the team in rushing this season as he gained 586 yards on 124 rushes. He also led the team with an average gain of 4.7 yards per carry to go along with three touchdowns. Gus Kefalas was Hicksville's second leading rusher as he accounted for 168 yards on 43 carries for a 3.6 yards per carry average. He also had three touchdowns. Quarterback Joe Passo picked up 83 yards on 22 carries with one touchdown as he placed third on the team in rushing.

Passo, after overcoming his early season injury, threw for 614 yards this season completing 48 out of 108 passes. He also threw five touchdowns and 10 interceptions. Joe Luparello, who replaced Passo during the injury, completed four out of 18 passes for 123 yards, two touchdowns and two interceptions.

On the receiving end of the passes thrown by Passo and Luparello were: Chris Hogan who led the team in receptions with 16, receiving yards with 314, and 4 touchdowns to go with a 19.6 yard receiving average; Rich Hutchinson who was second in receptions with 14, and second in yardage with 156 yards; Dave Dobrindt with seven receptions for 77 yards; and Tom Cassata with five catches for 116 yards, a team leading 23 yard receiving average and two touchdowns.

In total, the Comets scored 96 points in 8 games, an average of 12 points per game.

The defense, though it had some lapses this year, was also dominating at times; the Comets recorded two shutout victories this season. A major reason for its success at times was their ability to sack the quarterback. All-County player Bill Mills led the team with three sacks. Tied for second on the team in sacks with two a piece were Joe Lecausti and Doug McGee.

Leading the Comets in tackles was Scott D'Amico with 80. He was followed by Mike Irons with 80, Bill Mills with 75, Doug McGee with 74 and Nauman Shah who had 64 tackles.

In total, Hicksville's defense allowed 119 points in eight games as their opponents scored an average of 14.8 points per game against them.

A Message from Pete Cantalupo

"The CYO food drive was a big success. Matthew 25: For I was hungry and you gave me something to eat.

When Lord did we see you hungry? I tell you the truth whatever you do for the least of these brothers you did for me.

On behalf of Sister Catherine of St. Ignatius Human Services, I would like to thank the CYO President Gary Lewis for donating a turkey and the CYO basketball teams for donating almost 100 other food items for the hungry of the parish. Also, Sister Catherine is not shy, she will accept food items and even "cash" all year for the support of those in need."

Thank You

Peter Cantalupo, Vice-President CYO
Personal Note: I would like to take this time to thank all who have supported me in this past election.
