

Counseling Agency Ready To Establish Group Home

Central Nassau Guidance and Counseling Services, Inc., is one step closer to establishing a group home on West John Street as it has received no alternate sites from the town.

Under the Mental Hygiene Law, the Town of Oyster Bay had 40 days since the time it was notified of the agency's plan to determine if the area around 302B West John Street was already saturated. (Saturation, in this sense, is an over abundance of this type of facility in the area.) The town was notified of Central Nassau's plan Nov. 3.

If the town says nothing within the 40 days, the center can establish the home for 10 mentally disabled adults, or the town can suggest an alternate Hicksville site within the 40 days. This does not mean that the state's office of mental health will accept the suggested sites.

In this case, the town did not present any alternative sites, according to Ken Moskowitz, project director of the residence program for Central Nassau. Mr. Moskowitz said that he did not have a date available as to when the adults will occupy the home. He added that the purchase of the home and the renovations are still taking place.

Central Nassau also runs a home at 499 Jerusalem Ave. in Hicksville. That home is also in the process of awaiting completion of renovations.

Late Night Fire at Lighthouse Restaurant

Nassau County fire officials are investigating the cause of a late night fire Friday which caused moderate damage to the Old Lighthouse Restaurant at 46 West Old Country Rd.

Seventy-five Hicksville firefighters, under the direction of Chief Terry Farrell, extinguished the flames quickly, but it took two hours for firefighters to get at the seat of the blaze in a narrow crawl space under the kitchen.

Fire and water damage was confined to the kitchen area with some damage on the second floor where fire had spread to the space between the walls. The entire restaurant received smoke damage. The kitchen floor collapsed into the crawl space.

The fire was discovered when the owner opened the door to see why the burglar alarm had sounded. He had been called to the scene by police.

Ten pieces of apparatus responded to the alarm. The Bethpage Fire Department provided one engine company to stand by at fire headquarters. No injuries were reported.

It was not known at the time of this report when the restaurant would reopen. For many years, the establishment was known as "Frank's Alibi."

Auto Accident Rescue

A serious automobile accident in Hicksville Jan. 7 at 7:42 p.m. resulted in severe injuries to one female. The accident, which was in front of 201 West John Street, near the post office, involved a car and a truck. It took Hicksville firefighters, using hydraulic cutting tools, 30 minutes to free the victim. After life-saving treatment at the scene, the woman was transported to Nassau County Medical Center in East Meadow.

Friday's Snow Storm Causes Early Dismissal

Some Hicksville students had the opportunity to begin their weekends a little bit early. With Friday's snow storm came an extra hour of free time for the High School and Middle School students. The High School dismissed the students at 1:17 and the Middle School dismissed the children at 1:41. The elementary school students remained in school for the regular time.

Town, Civic Group and Chamber of Commerce Join Forces to Clean Up Litter in Hicksville

By Rita Langdon

The Northwest Civic Association is joining the Town of Oyster Bay and the chamber of commerce in an effort to give Hicksville a face-lift.

Recurring litter problems in the area and poor upkeep of exteriors of businesses, especially on Broadway, prompted the civic association to ask for the chamber's help.

"The civic association wrote to a couple of merchants and asked them to clean up. We didn't get too far," said MaryAnn Ferrado, president of Northwest, adding that she received a few replies that something would be done, but no action ever was taken. "We figured that the chamber would have more clout."

The chamber's first step in the campaign was distributing flyers with town ordinances describing the proper way to dispose of wastes. This was done to inform local businesses about the laws in the event that merchants were not aware, according to Marcos Ramirez, chamber president. "Every merchant who belongs to the chamber received a flyer. We are trying to resolve this by getting the ordinances all printed out and make the merchants aware," said Mr. Ramirez.

Town's Involvement

According to Mr. Ramirez, in order to expedite the efforts to clean up Hicksville, pictures of violators will be taken and dates and times recorded to show that garbage was incorrectly put out by merchants. The photographs will then be submitted to the town's Department of Public Works, Division of Sanitation. These merchants then may be subject to summonses and fines for their actions. Town of Oyster Bay spokesperson Phyllis Souther said that the town will generally issue two warnings called "Notice of Violation," before summonses are issued. "From past experience, [after receiving a warning] the businesses tend to clean up their acts," said Ms. Souther.

According to Ms. Souther, town council

cilman Thomas Clark commended the chamber for its clean up program. "It's a businessman to businessman concept and Mr. Clark feels it pulls more weight than anything the town could ever do," said Ms. Souther.

Another concern of the civic association is weeds growing in front of some businesses. "In the summer time the weeds are a mile high," said Mrs. Ferrado. "The businesses take no pride in how the area looks." She added, "If you pass through Broadway there are weeds and litter strewn all about." Similarly, Mr. Ramirez said, "The weeds growing in the summer time are unbelievable."

Ms. Souther said that the merchants are responsible for maintaining all of the sidewalk areas in front of their property.

Some of the ordinances included in the flyer describe the procedures of garbage disposal. No solid waste container shall be placed for collection before 5 p.m. on the day prior to the scheduled collection date and such containers must be removed from the curb line by 8 p.m. on the scheduled collection day. Also, in regard to keeping sidewalks free of litter, no person owning or occupying a place of business shall sweep into or deposit in any gutter, street or other public places the accumulation of litter from any building or lot or from any public or private sidewalk or driveway.

"Our business district is a large part of the 'Pride of Hicksville,'" Mr. Ramirez stated in the flyer. "We, the merchants, shopkeepers and occupants, must not deter from that pride by being ignorant of our rules and regulations. If we expect the next generation to continue the pride, then we must show them we have it."

Keep Fire Hydrants Clear of Snow

The Hicksville Water District Board of Commissioners ask that homeowners who have a fire hydrant in front of their house remove the snow from around the hydrant. Keeping hydrants easily accessible after snow storms will assist the Hicksville Fire Department in providing immediate fire protection. Your cooperation will be appreciated by both the water district and the fire department.

Bandits with Shotguns Rob Convenience Store

Two men, one armed with a shotgun, are said by Nassau Police to have staged a $300 robbery at the 7-Eleven store, 10 Stewart Avenue, Hicksville, at 10:15 a.m. January 6. A 23-year-old counterwoman told police that he emptied the cash registers when the pair, wearing ski masks, demanded the money. He was not injured.

Clarification

In the Dec. 29 issue of the Illustrated we failed to point out some history that should have accompanied a caption with the picture of Merle Hawkins Campbell and Josephine (Nicholetti) Hawkins celebrating Hicksville's 300th birthday. The tercentennial took place in 1948 and was a weeklong celebration of the 300th anniversary of the Robert Williams Indians Land Purchase. Regarding the reference to Cantigue Rock in the caption, that rock was placed at the purchase site (at the junction of West John Street and Cantigue Rock Road) in 1745 as a border marker between Hempstead and Oyster Bay towns.

"We're getting ready for a three week trip back to Hicksville to attend our former church, The Church of St. Margaret in Plainview's 25th anniversary. Our son Kevin is also coming back for the occasion. It's a good thing my brother Frank Sutter still has the old homestead for us to stay at.

"Bill is recovering very well from a heart attack and has been told to 'slow down'. (Does any man know what that means?) We had a very white Christmas and I hear that you have been having warmer than usual weather. Just wait . . . when we arrive it will all change. Unusual or bad weather seems to follow wherever we travel . . . N.Y., Florida or Phoenix."

If any of Marianne or Bill's friends would like to contact them they will be staying at Frank's house for the next few weeks. Enjoy your visit Marianne and Bill.

Looking Back at Rene Lauritsen's Hicksville

Part I

By Catherine Tokar

Rene Lauritsen's Hicksville roots go back further than most people can remember because she is related to one of Hicksville's original families, the Heberers. They have lived in the town for generations and have helped establish Hicksville as a thriving municipality.

Rene visited Hicksville in 1931, with its population of about 7,000, and thought it was "the end of the world" because nothing was here. "On Sundays, you could shoot a cannon off and no one would even budge," she said. "There were farms here and there. And if you stood on Old Country Road, you could see clear to Hempstead Turnpike because there was no Levittown in between."

Rene's father-in-law was Andrew Heberer, Jr., an ex-fire commissioner involved in many community organizations throughout his lifetime. She married Ralph Heberer in 1933, and then left for California for a few years. They returned to Hicksville in 1942 and stayed permanently. Ralph, of course, is the grandson of the famous Judge Andrew Heberer, who held court right in the local court house (today's Gregory Museum). Even Rene's daughter-in-law comes from "Hicksville royalty" as her daughter-in-law's father, Rudy Bouse, established the well-known Ebbet's Field Cafe.

Naturally, Rene's son, Ralph, Jr., attended and graduated from Hicksville High School, class of 1960. During that time, the family lived at 63 Cherry Street, right on the corner of Jerusalem Avenue. Today, however, the telephone company owns the property and maintains a building there.

Looking back at the time of World War II, Rene recalled a tremendous sense of pride and patriotism among the Hicksville community. "There was a lot of patriotism, and, of course, a lot of worry. Veterans organizations were always doing something to help the cause and keep our boys in the spotlight. Then the day came when they announced peace. And believe me, everyone was out in the streets. It was just a wild celebration."

Rene remembers all the regular Hicksville landmarks of that day, particularly the Stolz Butcher Shop, which included a slaughter house and smoke house. Then there was the Braun Butcher Shop on Broadway. Henry and his sons were hunters, Rene recalled, and many people who lived in Hicksville at that time hunted around the Island. "That's why we needed more than one butcher shop, so they could take care of all the animals they hunted," she said.

"The Little Red School House" was the first school building in Hicksville. It was erected in the year 1853.

Today, Rene looks at the Hicksville she knew in the 1930s and wonders, what happened? What happened to that little quiet country town of yesterday? She said she mostly feels sorry for the young newly married couples who try to buy a house. "They keep putting up houses that young people can't afford," she said. "They just don't have that many working years for that kind of money."

Many years after Ralph died, Rene married Ed Lauritsen. Her children and grand-children still live in Hicksville, though, and many residents know at least one generation of Heberers, either the Bill Heberer family who live on Oak Street, or Ralph Jr.'s family, wife Jackie and children Michele and Edward.

Next Week: Part II

Rene treasures an old book, titled Catalog of the Hicksville Public Schools, which belonged to Ralph. It was printed in 1926 and its yellowed pages tell all about the Hicksville schools of that time, the programs and faculty. Rene shared this treasure with the Hicksville Illustrated News, and inside we found some interesting people and facts dating back to the 1920s. Next week, with the help of that catalog, we will take a look back at Hicksville in the 1920s.

Leathercraft Workshops At Gregory Museum

Saturday, Jan. 28, from 1:30 to 3 p.m., will mark the first in a series of six workshops at the Hicksville Gregory Museum in Beginning Leathercraft. These will be open to both children eight years and over, and adults.

The sessions will be conducted by master leather craftsman George Gardino—well-known for his expertise in this field. Tools and supplies for the initial lessons will be provided by the Museum. Participants will learn tooling, carving, pattern transfer and tracing, leather staining and painting.

Fee is $10 per session for Museum Members, $12 for non-members. Students from 8 to 18 years may attend for half price when accompanying an adult.

Registration must be for the entire series of six lessons, with at least half payment in advance, since space is limited.

Register in person at the Museum, or call 822-7505 to hold a place, and follow promptly with payment.

The Hicksville Gregory Museum is located in the Old Heitz Place Courthouse, near the junction of Bay Avenue (the street back of Sears) and E. Barclay Street/Woodbury Road. It is open Tuesday through Friday 9:30-4:30, weekends 1-5. The Museum is a non-profit educational institution. Family membership is available for $20 per year.

Senior Adult Club Trip to Atlantic City

The Senior Adult Club of St. Ignatius is planning a trip to Atlantic City at Trump Castle Casino on Tuesday, Jan. 24. The bus leaves at 9 a.m. from St. Ignatius School. The cost is $19, $22.50 coin return and 45 deferred coupon. Doughnuts and candy will be served on the bus. Bring your own coffee. If interested call Marge at 931-1296 or Catherine at 931-0499.

The club meets every other Wednesday in the old school cafeteria at St. Ignatius. New members are welcome.

If you resolve to give up smoking, drinking and loving, you don't actually live longer; it just seems longer.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them; they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity. We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only. We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

Elk's Drug Awareness Program at Local School

The Hicksville Elks Drug Awareness Committee opened their Levittown area program at Jonas Salk Junior High with three back-to-back presentations in the auditorium.

The young people attending were very attentive and respectful and their attitude indicated intense interest in the film and remarks following. At the conclusion of the presentation they received their drug-theme bookcovers and assorted substance abuse literature provided by the committee.

The Hicksville Elks Drug Awareness in-school program consists of the showing of a film entitled "Our Amazing Brain" explaining the difference between "good drugs" which are sometimes necessary and how their over-use and so-called recreational drugs affect their brains and subsequent ill-health and addiction. The film showing is followed by appropriate remarks and as the students leave they are given drug theme bookcovers designed and supplied by the Lodge as well as a selection of drug and alcohol abuse literature.

The program is geared to grades four through nine. It is one of prevention, not rehabilitation. With the conviction that every little bit helps in this crusade for drug-free children, the Hicksville Elks is committed to do as much as possible, limited only by financial and capability considerations. The program has now been brought to schools in Island Trees, Bellmore and Levittown. For information on how to bring this program in to other areas in and surrounding Hicksville call 694-7238.

Hicksville High Happenings...

By Jim McCrann

"Red Ribbon"

With the holiday season upon us, our already perilous highways and roads become even more dangerous. It seems as if holidays and increased alcohol consumption always go together and can result in an increase in the number of people driving while under the influence. This problem, along with the presence of icy roads in the cold and inclement weather, makes driving extremely hazardous at times. Though little can be done about the weather, Hicksville High's "Students Against Drunk Driving" is attempting to prevent people from driving while intoxicated through its "Red Ribbon Campaign."

The "Red Ribbon Campaign" was the brainchild of the organization known as M.A.D.D., or "Mothers Against Drunk Driving." The goals of M.A.D.D. are basically the same as those of S.A.D.D., that is to stop drunk driving. In knowing that the holiday season usually brings about the greatest number of D.W.I. incidents, the two organizations wanted to find a way to remind people not to drive while drunk. From this came the idea of "Tying one on for a safe holiday." Red ribbons were distributed by S.A.D.D. members throughout the school. These ribbons are supposed to be tied on to the side view mirror of the car. They act as a reminder to not drink and drive.

Holiday Decorations

"It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas" at Hicksville High School, thanks to members of the student government who took the time to "Deck The Halls" in celebration of the holiday season. The main lobby in the school is decorated with many lights, wreaths and garland which add to the festive mood and bring about an aura of holiday cheer.

Basketball Fund-Raiser

There is currently a fund-raiser being held for the varsity basketball team. Members of the team are going around selling large cups complete with the Comets emblem and 1988-1989 schedule. The cost of the cup is $1.

Trip To Disney

In the upcoming weeks, the high school

music department will also be involved in a fund-raiser for their trip to Walt Disney World in May. A raffle will be held. The prizes in this raffle include a Camcorder, a video cassette recorder and a keyboard. Both the basketball team and the musicians need support in their attempts to raise much needed funds.

Soccer Honors

Two Hicksville varsity soccer players were awarded all-New York State honors for their outstanding play this season. Jack Fabrizio, who led the Comets with 10 goals this year, was named first team All-New York State. Mike Luongo, who led the team with 23 points, was named fifth team All-New York State.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity. We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only. We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

More About Reuben

To The Editor:

The recent funeral of the homeless man, Reuben Rodriguez, has received a great deal of publicity in both newspapers and television and rightfully so. It is interesting to realize how local acts of charity are viewed by many quite far removed from our area.

The Hicksville Chamber of Commerce received the letter below this past week. Since the letter aims to compliment the people of Hicksville, and not necessarily only the Chamber, we feel it should be shared with readers in general and we thank you for its publication. The writer, Harvey Freilich of Aberdeen, New Jersey has apparently gleaned from newspaper and television accounts the spiritual significance of these events in Hicksville — timely during this holy season.

To Whom It May Concern:

I'm 52 now, and I've been out of New York these past twenty years.

I've missed New York so very much, but from what I've seen these past eight months from here, in New Jersey (my version of the river Jordan, i.e. like Moses who can't cross over) New York doesn't look anything like the jewel I remember. More like a nightmare of tarnished glass...and now this story today of what Hicksville did for that what appears now to be a very, very rich man dressed and living like a vagrant.

That this seeming derelict could elicit such an outpouring of love and affection; I tell you, my heart has been singing all evening, and if I never again set foot upon my beloved city's shore, the riches of compassion you showered upon this most fortunate of human beings will forever endear my beloved city in any future conversation where her name is mentioned.

Hicksville...It might as well have been Bethlehem — How very wonderful you are! How extremely marvelous of you! Such a magnificent gesture. Surely, with all He has had to contend with, God must have hept tears of joy at your act of mercy.

Please, please advise the City Fathers of what, in one humble stranger's opinion, was an act of charitable intent to rival any Good Samaritan's deed. Bravo & Well Done!

Stop Stereotyping

To The Editor:

My name is Nancy Talente and I'm a senior at Hicksville High School. On Wednesday, Dec. 14, I attended the school's facilities committee meeting at my school for my participation in Government class. The purpose of this meeting was for any member of the town to voice his or her opinion about the possible use of Dutch Lane fields as a community park during non-school hours.

For over two hours, I listened to the various opinions of the community members. I would like to voice my opinion now, something I was unable to do at the meeting. Several women living in the area near Levittown Parkway were against the idea of this park for many different reasons. One reason was because of "the teenagers vandalizing nearby stories and the nearby pool, and doing drugs as well as selling them." They repeatedly seemed to refer to every teenager as a drug-dealing vandal. They felt that no amount of security would deter teenagers from doing illegal things and the park would only provide more opportunities in the area.

I would like to respond to these women as well as anyone else who feels this way. I think it is extremely unfair to stereotype all teenagers into this category. Not all of us use narcotics and vandalize public places. I don't understand the need to punish everyone who can benefit from having a town park because of a few bad people...and it is a few. What about the other kids? Why must all of us suffer? Is that fair?

Thank you for letting me voice my opinion.
 Nancy Talente

Traffic Light Needed

To The Editor:

In the last few months two women crossing south Oyster Bay Road in the area in front of Our Lady of Mercy Church in Hicksville have been hit and killed by passing motorists. One woman was hit after leaving five o'clock Mass, the other in the afternoon when crossing to go and pick up her grandson from school.

We at the Parish Council, are concerned over this situation and feel that Nassau County and the Town of Oyster Bay should take some precautionary measures to safeguard the residents of the area who must cross. We feel there is a need for a yellow blinking light in a north-south direction; a lengthening of

Editorial

There are two important issues residents should be aware of that concern Dutch Lane and Burns Avenue elementary schools.

First, The Hicksville Park District Task Force has recommended that the Dutch Lane School athletic field be used as a community park for all Hicksville residents during non-school hours. It is important to note that nothing has been implemented. Residents have time to voice their concerns. According to school board member Carole Wolf, this proposal will be discussed again at upcoming school facilities meetings. The proposal was first introduced at last week's meeting. Each resident will be surveyed on the proposal. The Task Force is not a decision-making body, it only makes recommendations to the Town of Oyster Bay. "Nothing's being forced down anyone's throat," said Marc Herbst, coordinator of the Task Force and assistant to the town supervisor. Hicksville residents should keep that in mind while reviewing the proposal.

Secondly, The Hicksville School Board has applied to the Town of Oyster Bay to rezone two acres of district-owned property at Burns Avenue School. The school board wants to do this to discourage developers from buying the land because it is presently zoned "G" for business. Northwest residents and the school board want the two acres zoned residential. If the application is rejected, area residents may be in serious trouble in the future. Local developers, particularly the Broadway Mall, have expressed interest in buying the property. The attorney for the mall said they may want to use the plot to expand parking.

The mall is practically on top of the school already. The safety of the children should be considered because their playground is right next to the fence dividing the school property from the mall. If they expanded their parking lot, what guarantee do we have that if a buffer was put up between the school and the mall that it would be adequate enough for safety purposes. The mall also generates a lot of traffic, and adding another lot might add fuel to the already burning fire. We urge the town board to let the parcel of land be re-zoned residential.

Now that the snow season is upon us, in addition to removing the snow from driveways and sidewalks, please shovel out fire hydrants located adjacent to your home. This will help our volunteer firemen in the event of an emergency.

The staff of the Hicksville Illustrated News wishes everyone a happy and safe holiday.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

...It's Christmas time and there are lights everywhere—on houses, trees, stores, restaurants—and I really love to drive around and see what everyone has done—but, there's one thing I don't like and that's lights that blink.... I like lights that stay on... My kids love lights that blink and take great delight in teasing me by trying to put the blinkers into my lights, too!... But, as always, to each his own and, if you like your lights to blink—so be it... And this is the busy last-minute week—going over the list—checking to see that everything has arrived—is it wrapped?... and do you make a major undertaking of the wrapping as I do?... I love to fuss with bows and ties and make each package a work of art... but, for the children, it's not worthwhile, so I am big on using tissue paper, which is inexpensive, rips easily and burns quickly in the fireplace. We all know kids love to get right to the present to see if it's something good, like a toy or something dull like new pajamas.... And if the gift is a pocketbook, do you put a coin inside to guarantee good luck and a full purse?... And what do you have on your tree?... Many lights, of course... small ones or the old fashioned large ones, complete with metal reflectors that I am still using... and do you see all your old decorations... or have new sophisticated ones?... and do you use garlands—beads or glittery ones... and do you put on myriad strands of tinsel—all, of course, carefully arranged, one by one, on each branch... and do you have a birthday cake for Christmas day, with writing on the top saying, "Happy Birthday, Baby Jesus"... we do and the youngest one present blows out the candles as we sing... I think about those family customs, which are so special to you and yours... Isn't it wonderful!... Have a happy Christmas, dear friends.

Yours, Lulabelle

What the Politicians are Saying

Senator Norman J. Levy (R,C-Merrick), in an effort to foster greater awareness and understanding of the handicapped among our State's school children, announced that he will press for enactment of his legislation requiring New York State's Regents to furnish suitable curriculum to assist teachers in instructing elementary school children on handicapping conditions.

Senator Levy, a member of the Senate Education Committee, explained, "Under both Federal and State law aimed at eliminating discrimination against the disabled, more and more handicapped children are being placed in regular elementary school classes with non-handicapped students. Unfortunately, many young children who have never been exposed to someone slightly different from themselves, may be unintentionally cruel to these handicapped children, not because they are mean, but, simply because they do not know how to respond to them."

He pointed out that it may be difficult for teachers and other school personnel to find the appropriate teaching materials to help them in their efforts to promote student awareness and understanding of the handicapped.

Under this bill, the Board of Regents will be required to supply a suitable curriculum on handicapping conditions.

U.S. REPRESENTATIVE ROBERT J. MRAZEK (D-Centerport) recently was presented with a Tech Map of Long Island by GEORGE C. SOOS, president of the Long Island Forum for Technology. The map identifies the location of high technology companies by logos and demonstrates the world-class technology expertise on Long Island. The map is available by contacting 755-4230.

While Nassau County taxes skyrocket in the proposed 1989 budget of County Executive Thomas Gulotta there will be less money for police, RICHARD KORN, Democratic party activist told the members of the Nassau County Board of Supervisors.

The Board will have the final say on the County Executive's record $1.55 billion proposed budget for next year.

"It should be noted here that the Police Fund shows a $6.4 million increase in 'salary savings'. That means, simply, that there will be no new hires or no replacements for cops lost through attrition. So the tax increase may be lower in the Police Districts, but so is the level of County-supplied police protection," Mr. Korn told the Board during a public hearing on the proposed budget in Mineola.

The White House vs. Capitol Hill - A Reporter's Notebook

By Martin Burns

A friend asked me the other day which I like to cover more—the White House or Capitol Hill. I really couldn't answer the question because comparing these two institutions is really like comparing apples and oranges.

On Capitol Hill, you have over 500 representatives and senators trying to make news. Every region of the country and ideological perspective is represented. This makes for some interesting confrontations.

Many days a reporter must choose between two or more interesting stories to cover. As a Capitol Hill correspondent, you spend time walking between events in that maze of underground passages, which connect the House side of the Capitol with the Senate side.

The White House is, by definition, made up of one person. The entire organization is an extension of the President's personality. Covering the White House means that you will spend a lot of time waiting. For example, you wait to be allowed into the rose garden to watch the President sign a piece of legislation; you wait for the presidential spokesman's daily briefing; and you wait for a press conference by congressional leaders who have just met with the President in the "driveway" (this is the name given to the space in front of the west wing of the White House). Different correspondents cope with this waiting in different ways. Some, like myself, try to make the best of this time by either working on stories or by checking messages back at the office. Other reporters who are, perhaps, more resigned to the waiting game, pass the time by doing the day's crossword puzzle or by balancing their checkbooks.

Representatives and senators are very accessible to members of the press—far more than the President or a member of the White House staff. You can almost always get to speak to them after a hearing or you can "buttonhole" them in the halls or in the elevator. The House of Representatives has an elevator that is reserved for members of the press and representatives. The present Speaker of the House, Rep. Jim Wright, holds daily press conferences in his office, when the House is in session. Almost without exception, representatives and senators are eager to hold press conferences on the issues which interest them.

Press conferences are not important only for the answers that a politician gives. They allow us to see a politician think on his feet.

Working on Capitol Hill is a distinguished assignment for a journalist. The White House is the most prestigious assignment in town. The press room is located just a few doors down from the Oval Office. Any news made here will be flashed around the world in a matter of moments. As you walk out of the northwest gate of the White House, the tourists stare at you, trying to determine whether or not you are "anyone". (The other day, I was mistaken for an administration official by a very eager West German tourist.)

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

The Galileo's Lodge's Christmas parties for the handicapped children of Long Island and the children of the membership of the lodge was a success. Various agencies of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children attended with their supervisors. They came from Levittown, Plainview, Wantagh and Hicksville. Many members of the lodge and the Ladies Auxiliary gave their time and efforts all day long. More than 100 children were in attendance with parents also enjoying the food and refreshments. Santa Claus also came for a visit.

Many individuals and businesses donated to the handicapped children's party, and they will be acknowledged in a later column. The Pegge O'Connor Dance School dancers performed various dances and musical tidbits. The lodge will hold its Valentine's Day dance Feb. 18 at 9 p.m. at the lodge. This event, which is chaired by Armand Del Cioppo and co-chaired by Rocco Lombardo, cost $16 per person. Included in the price is dinner, music, set-ups, coffee, beer and soda. To obtain tickets call Armand Del Cioppo at 931-9351 or Rocco Lombardo at 931-9351.

Lodge Tidbits

Our get well wishes to Lou Morco who had surgery; our condolences to Jim Ingino whose sister passed away. Al Trigente who was recently hospitalized is recovering nicely.

Help is still needed for bingo; the lodge might be renovated to some extent; our recent Halloween and Christmas dances were very successful with more than 200 people attending; Thanks to Fred Austello for chairing the Christmas dance.

Church of St. Stephen Holiday Dinner

The Church of St. Stephen in Hicksville held its annual Thanksgiving Eve dinner. This dinner was started a few years ago when the late Rev. Roland J. Perez was pastor and has continued under the sponsorship of the Social Ministry Committee. A complete turkey dinner with all the fixings was served to members of the congregation as well as to friends and members of the community. This event not only serves as an opportunity for fellowship but provides, at little or no cost, a holiday dinner for those who are alone and/or who might not otherwise enjoy this traditional meal. St. Stephen's serves an average to 70-80 meals.

Hicksville High Variety Show is a Smash Hit

By Jim McCrann

From the astounding performances of song and dance to the hilarious skits of Bubblegum and The Kickline Tryout, Hicksville High School students put on a memorable performance at the Variety Show last Thursday night. This showcase of the students' talents was coordinated through the efforts of the school's choral director, Charles Arnold and drama teacher Judy Passeltiner. It was a popular event which seemed to electrify the audience. The show put the audience in awe one moment and on the verge of tears from laughter the next. It was hosted by seniors Will Snedden and Jane McQuade, who as Mr. Arnold said, "Did a super job [keeping the] crowd loose and keeping the whole thing very fluent."

The show featured many dance routines by students. Some dancers performed in groups while other performed by themselves. Though there were some slower, and more expressive-type dances, the majority of them were energetic as they danced to songs such as The Rhythm Is Gunna Get You and Do It To The Beat. The M.C., Will Snedden, evoked much laughter from the audience with his rendition of the dance performed by Reun on the television show, What's Happening.

There were also many who sang during the show. Slow ballads such as On My Own and One Moment In Time were enjoyed by the audience. Classic rock was included in the show at the end as Sean Tower and Doreen Barile sang Nobody Home and Comfortably Numb by Pink Floyd. This performance brought down the house as well as ended the show at a climax.

A Jazz Jam, a piece for electric bass and drums, was another crowd pleaser. Rana Avanceta vigorously strummed her bass producing music with a lively sensation for which drummer Jason Paulsen kept the beat. In the beginning of the piece, Rana took center stage with her distinctive bass part, but at the end she gave way to Jay who swiftly and smoothly oscillated between his drums in an impressive and powerful drum solo.

The skits were the most humorous of all the performances. One of the favorites was Bubblegum. This skit was situated in a classroom complete with a boring, unperceptive teacher and disinterested students. The plot of this story involves one girl who is chewing a piece of gum which inadvertently gets stuck to the girl sitting next to her. The two get stuck together until one pulls free. She then ends up becoming attached to the girl next to her with that same piece of gum and it continues down the line and then back again. All of this occurs without the teacher noticing. The superior acting by the people involved in this made it a very entertaining act. Another skit was a story about different girls coming together to try out for the Kickline. The girls involved came from all walks of life. There was a bookworm which the other girls in the act called a "fag," a very obese girl, a klutz, a conceited and pompous girl, a few "cool" girls and the all-knowing instructors. The strong acting and the difference in characters made this a hilarious skit.

Almost everyone's favorite character was the "fat girl." An audience member, Jim Dyckman, said, "The fat girl should be in movies."

How did the performers feel about being on stage in front of their peers? Most were somewhat anxious, but as their performance went on, their confidence grew and nervousness diminished. One performer admitted to having stage fright. How did she cure it? "I was squeezing this girl's hand. I almost killed the girl," she joked. Another performer, Laura Manser, responded to the question about being nervous by saying, "No, not really." Sean Tower said, "I was nervous in the beginning until people started to get into [the music]. Then I calmed down."

When asked about how the show went, the performers unanimously agreed that it was an excellent performance. The success of this show stemmed from the many hours of hard work and preparation. Mrs. Passeltiner said, "Everybody who worked on this developed acts and rehearsed them. People put in a lot of time." The crew was also very instrumental in the success of the show despite the fact that their contribution was behind the scenes. Sal Noto, one member of the eight-person crew, explained the job of the stage crew. "Before the show we put up the lights and focus them. During the show we have to get the microphones out, make sure the actors get out on cue and get the chairs out." They are also responsible for setting up cable and are ultimately responsible for making the show work. To put on a show of this caliber it takes a team effort which is what did happen for Thursday night. According to Mr. Arnold, "It really gets put together by the kids. They do all the work. It was a good show by great kids."

WONDERFUL · HOLIDAY · GIFTING ·

Holiday Dress-ups...For Auld Land Syne

By Keni Woodruff

The fashion jewels of Holiday '88 are especially sparkling, the accessories are dramatic, full of fetching surprises to add sparkle to your already Festive Mood! You'll find shimmering taffetas, sophisticated satins, liquid lames, elegant, exotic brocades, slinky charmeuses and snakey coup de velour...shimmered and draped, easy to wear, easy to care for, easy to pack, always ready for the next festive event.

The designers talk about holiday dressing from their own unique points of view. Bob Mackie sees opulence, Mary McFadden dresses down her elegance, Andre Van Pier likes sporty silhouettes, unexpected surprises, satins for men. Men are ready to wear bright, bulk colors, patterns and new silhouettes, according to Tony Lambert, whose After Six formal wear goes bold and brash.

Unanimously, they applaud today's synthetics: Geoffrey Beene says he dreams of designing a whole collection of man-made fabrics...they work, don't wrinkle, take less care, they travel, hold incredibly rich colors."

And, unanimous, again, the look is feminine, fabulous, flirty, festive.

Holiday Safety Suggestions

- Don't bring a live tree into the house until the day you're going to use it. Get a stand large enough for the base and a good supply of water. Check and fill the water supply daily.
- Don't use candles on or near the tree. Use noncombustible decorations. Whether your tree is live or artificial - check all wiring for UL (Underwriter's Laboratory) certification, and check all wires, plugs and sockets before installing them. Frayed wires must be replaced. Remove the tree from the house before the needles get too dry.
- If you use electrical decorations outdoors, make sure they're rated for such usage. When the children open their presents, dispose of the wrapping paper in a closed trash container as soon as possible. Children using electrical toys should be supervised by an adult.

- Get every member of your family together, and work out a fire escape plan. If a fire breaks out, leave the house at once. Memorize the emergency number for your fire department, and call from outside the house. If you can't remember the number, use the 911 emergency number.

- Now that the weather is getting colder, Insp. Steimuller also has some suggestions for those who use home fireplaces. If you haven't used it lately, before you start the fire, make sure birds and squirrels haven't built nests in the chimney.

- Be sure your chimney is functional, not just decorative. Your chimney should be lined its entire length and a few inches beyond with a flue pipe, covered by outside brick. If your chimney is not flue-lined, check for broken bricks or mortar leaks. Have someone check the roof where the chimney emerges, to be sure it is clear of ivy, tree limbs, nests or dried twigs and branches. It should have a fire screen to prevent accumulation of debris and to break up large sparks.

Salmonella Update

The recent media coverage concerning salmonella in eggs has caused lots of confusion. Eggs were thought to be contaminated by bacteria on the shell and most cases of salmonella were attributed to cracked, spoiled, and improperly prepared or stored eggs. This increased outbreak of salmonella has puzzled scientists, and they are examining other possible causes such as disinfectants, feeds, or hens.

Salmonella in raw foods of animal origin, such as meat, poultry, fish, milk and eggs, has been a source of possible illness for many years. However, these bacteria, and the potential for illness is easily destroyed if good food safety practices and adequate cooking procedures are observed.

The risk of contracting salmonellosis from raw or undercooked eggs is small for the general population, but there are several high risk categories: the elderly, the very young, pregnant women and those weakened by serious illness or an impaired immune system. The USDA and FDA specialists suggest that you avoid eating raw eggs or raw egg products until the mystery is solved. Eggs should be fully coagulated (140°F for two and a half minutes). Do not eat soft cooked or eggs fried sunny side up. Eggs should be fried three minutes on each side; soft cooked, seven minutes.

In addition, keep cold egg dishes below 40°F and hot egg dishes above 140°F, and do not leave egg dishes at room temperatures for more than 1 hour (including preparation).

For more information on egg safety, send a self-addressed, stamped, legal-size envelope to: "Handling Eggs Safely at Home," Cornell Cooperative Extension, 1425 Old Country Road, Plainville, NY 11803. If you would also like to receive another fact sheet available from Cornell Cooperative Extension on salmonella, attach an additional stamp to the envelope.

HEALTH AND FITNESS

...Relax, Enjoy Family and Friends, Think Positively...Beat the Holiday Blues.

It's okay to be a bit grumpy or sad during the holidays. In fact, believing that you have to be full of good cheer can actually plunge you into the "Holiday Blues."

Psychotherapist Phyllis LaBella, CSW, of the N.Y.S. Society of Clinical Social Work Psychotherapists, says that we can become depressed if we expect to feel joyous during the holidays, or think that others expect us to feel that way. "Some of us feel that the holidays will magically lift our spirits and make problems seem far away," LaBella says. When that doesn't happen, we can feel very let down.

"A healthier attitude," according to LaBella, "is to think of the season as just another time of the year to relax, to get together with friends and family members we love. Try to reflect on all the positives in life, and be thankful for them. But don't expect your problems to disappear."

Dealing With Holiday Blues

LaBella, says certain problems make it hard not to feel blue during the holidays. Following are the most common causes of the holiday blues, and some ways of dealing with them:

Loss through death or separation. During the holidays, there is a tendency to mourn loved ones who have died, no matter how much time has lapsed. A recent divorce or broken love affair also often stirs feelings of anger or sadness. Try to remember the good times spent together and be thankful for them. Don't feel guilty—you aren't negating their loss by enjoying the holidays.

Being single. The holidays are about family values, and single people can feel left out. Those who live far from siblings sometimes can't, or don't, wish to return home. Remember that "family" doesn't have to be limited to marriage or blood relationships. Create your own holiday traditions by inviting friends and other single people over to form an extended family.

Parent-child conflict. Teenagers, or young adults who have left home, can view the holidays as a threat to their independence. Parents often "infantilize" older children at holiday time, treating them as though they were very young. Parents should realize that it is natural for older children to want to demonstrate how much they can do on their own. Don't see this as a threat; be proud of it.

Childlessness: Because it is so much a "child's" holiday, Christmas is difficult for couples who can't have children. However, all of us still have children in our lives. It's wonderful to be able to spend the holidays with nieces, nephews and children of friends. Take advantage of the chance to be a kid again yourself by sharing their wonder and excitement. (Ed. note: you could even, be a Big Brother or Sister for the holidays...call 864-1313.)

Although holiday blues are common, according to LaBella, anxiety and depression that begin before the holidays and last for some weeks afterward indicate that psychotherapy can help.

Learning About Learning Disabilities

by Anita Gurian, Ph.D.
Schneider Children's Hospital

Many children with learning disabilities are not diagnosed until they reach school and have experienced a series of failures. While school districts provide for the special needs of the learning disabled, early recognition and remediation can be critical. Parents should be familiar with the following information:

What is a Learning Disability?

Learning disability is a term commonly used to describe a variety of disorders that can interfere with a child's ability to learn effectively. The child who has difficulty learning because of a learning disability is not less intelligent than the child who learns quickly.

What Causes a Learning Disability?

While the actual cause is unknown, most learning disabilities are not due to a physical abnormality. The root of the problem is in the child's inability to process information. It may be helpful to think of learning as taking place in a series of steps. First, information has to be recorded in the brain before it is organized and understood. Then the information is stored in the memory and, finally, it is communicated to others. When a child has a learning disability something along the way interferes with this process.

What Are the Symptoms of a Learning Disability?

All children are different and a learning disability may be exhibited in various ways. While some children have just a few symptoms, others may have several. Some children have difficulty interpreting things they see, for example, the child might reverse letters seeing "b" for "d" or "p" for "q" or the word "was" for "saw."

Or, the disability may affect tasks such as judging distance, doing puzzles, catching a ball or any skills that require the eyes and hands working together.

Some other ways a learning disability may manifest itself are:

- * Sequencing—telling a story out of order
- * Memory—not remembering words to nursery rhymes or songs, a spelling list or math facts
- * Language—trouble finding the right word and making grammatical mistakes
- * Social situations—not picking up subtle social clues, inappropriate behavior
- * Coordination—clumsiness in fine or gross motor activities
- * Concentration—distractibility, inability to focus and maintain attention

What Can Parents Do?

Early diagnosis can help. Find out where your child's strengths and weaknesses lie; each child learns in his own way. If you suspect a problem have your child tested by a qualified specialist such as a psychologist, education or language specialist or a developmental pediatrician. This professional should help design a learning approach that will utilize the child's strengths rather than magnifying weaknesses.

With early detection and treatment, it is possible to avoid and minimize later difficulties. Treatment may include educational remediation, modifying the school setting, counseling and/or medication. With proper help, children with learning disabilities develop confidence and become competent and successfully functioning adults.

Another problem may cause the child to have difficulty interpreting what is heard, such as subtle differences in sounds—words like "work" and "walk" or "fin" and "fan." When children cannot process what they hear as quickly as expected, they often miss part of what people say to them. Then they misunderstand and respond incorrectly.

You Might Be Allergic to Your Weekend Home

If you're prone to allergies, your weekend home may be the very cause of heightened suffering: itchy, watery eyes, a swollen, raspy throat and sneezing—you may already know too well.

Specialists at The New York Eye and Ear Infirmary have reported a sharp rise in allergy cases and have uncovered a new source of allergies—their patients' weekend homes.

"Weekend-house allergy afflicts people who have always had allergies, as well as adults that never had allergies before and are perplexed as to why they have developed them now," said Dr. Charles Kimmelman, chief of The Nasal Center at The New York Eye & Ear Infirmary. "Many of these patients spend weekends at vacation homes that are closed up during the week. Because there is no ventilation, house dust and mold, the most common cause of allergic rhinitis, accumulate to levels where they cause problems. In a well-ventilated home, these same people have no problems."

Individuals who have hay-fever, or other related allergies, are born with a predisposition to turn on specific antibodies which lead to allergies. While the immune system identifies and destroys disease-causing organisms, an excess of these antibodies, harbored in the soft tissue surrounding blood vessels in the lungs, sinuses, skin and other areas, causes oversensitivity to even the most benign particles, such as dust.

"Keep the air in the house circulating. A central air-control system that heats, humidifies, cools and filters air is ideal," says Dr. Kimmelman. "If you don't want to leave the air conditioning running during the week, turn it on when you arrive and go out, anywhere, for an hour. When you return, the house will be well-ventilated and free from trouble-makers."

For more information on allergies, write "Allergies," External Affairs Office, The New York Eye & Ear Infirmary, 310 East 14th Street, New York, NY 10003.

Opening lead — ten of hearts.

The finesse is a marvelous instrument of play, but this does not mean it should be used at every possible opportunity. There are frequently other means of achieving a desired result, and fine judgment must sometimes be employed to determine whether a finesse or some other method of play is more appropriate to the problem at hand.

Tomorrow: Another Famous Hand.

© 1988 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Consider this deal where West's opening lead is a heart. Declarer observes that his only losers are a spade and a club, and that he may rescue either or both of them by means of a finesse.

But South has other chances also, and he can profitably investigate them by winning the heart lead with the ace, drawing trumps, and playing a heart to the queen. West showing out, declarer continues with the king followed by the eight, on which East plays the nine.

It is at this moment that South can show his mettle by discarding either a spade or a club on the trick — instead of ruffing East's nine of hearts. If South discards one of his losers at this juncture he is certain to make the slam, whatever East returns. But if he ruffs the nine of hearts and attempts either a spade or a club finesse, he goes down one.

It is true that if South relies on finesses in both of the black suits he will make the slam about 75 percent of the time. But if he follows the recommended line of play, deliberately eschewing both finesses in order to completely eliminate the element of luck, he will be successful 100 percent of the time — and who can ask for anything more?

V.F.W. Hosts Pearl Harbor Day on Intrepid

By Vincent Edwards

The V.F.W. G&E Linder Post 8031 was designated to host The Pearl Harbor Memorial Day Services aboard the USS Intrepid anchored at Pier 86 at 46th Street and West Side Highway in New York City.

The services began at noon and were very impressive. On hand to participate in the laying of the wreaths on the water were 17 survivors of Pearl Harbor. Among those present was Michael Montleone, who is a member of V.F.W. Post 3211 Hicksville. Mike remembers many of those who did not survive that day, but as he put it "words cannot describe what happened." His prayers are that this will never happen again. There were many dignitaries and honored guests in attendance to praise these Pearl Harbor Veterans.

Honored Guests

Thomas Gulotta, Nassau County Executive, represented by Dennis Dunne, Veterans Services Director; Daniel Cavanagh, Nassau County VFW Commander and spouse; Harriet Williams, Department of N.Y. Patriotic Instructor; Harry Wurth, Department of N.Y. Convention Coordinator; Edith Lyndecker, Madam President, VFW Auxiliary, State of New York; Josephine Weber, Madam President, Nassau County Council, VFW Auxiliary; Ruth Blake, Madam President, VFW Post 8031, Auxiliary; Ralph W. Slane, Project Coordinator, Member, Board of Trustees, Former Crewmember, Harold Heimerle, Commander VFW Post 8031, Special Coordinator December 7th Memorial; Richard Hamilton, Sr. Chief AECs - Guest Speaker, USS Coral Sea, CVA-43.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies there was a Fly Bye and a water cannon salute from the N.Y.C. Fire Department Fireboat.

PEARL HARBOR SURVIVOR Mike Montleone reflecting back 47 years. "May this never happen again."

Hadassah Chapter Meets

The next general meeting of the Kadimah Chapter of Hadassah will take place at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 12 at Levittown Hall in Hicksville.

A program on "Breast Cancer Awareness" will be presented. The guest speaker will be the noted authority, Leon Nesis, M.D.

This informative program is free to the general public. All husbands who wish to accompany their wives will be welcome.

DRIVING DRUNK

KILLS

It kills friendships. It breaks up families. It destroys happiness. It ruins lives. We can't say it any plainer than that. Get in a car with someone who's had too much to drink and you take your life in your hands. Get behind the wheel after you've had too much to drink and you not only endanger your own life, you jeopardize the lives of innocent people besides.

If you drink, don't drive

Hicksville Residents Are Winners in 5-K Run

Dozens of Hicksville residents were among the 665 runners who successfully completed the Dec. 24 H-O Oats Ho Ho Ho Jingle Bells 5 Kilometer Run, and three of them brought home age group trophies for their efforts.

Hicksville's Donald Rapuzzi took home third place honors in the 14 and under age group with a fine time of 19 minutes, 16 seconds, and another Hicksville youngster, Ronnie Park, won the second place plaque in the women's 14 and under age group with a strong 23:10 finish. Resident Helen Burden won the first place trophy in the women's 35 to 39 age group, crossing the finish line in 21:21.

Santa Claus and Rudolph were on hand to greet the runners at Syosset Community Church, which served as the race headquarters. The morning started with a special 1/4 mile fun run for youngsters age 12 and under, with ribbons awarded to every participant. The 5 Kilometer Run featured an appearance by the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club "Santa-pede" and a prize for the best costumed runner. There were Santa Claus t-shirts, jingle bells, egg nog, cider, candy canes, and other holiday treats for everyone.

A total of 665 runners altogether crossed the finish line in the 5K Run, with about 100 youngsters competing in the 1/4 mile fun run.

The Ho Ho Ho was sponsored by H-O Oats, and conducted under the auspices of the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club, with technical assistance from David Katz of HICKSVILLE'S RONNIE PARK is all smiles as she receives her Ho Ho Ho Run award plaque from (whoelse?) Santa Claus.

Finish Line Promotions. POBRRC Vice President Julie Shapiro served as the Race Director. The entire proceeds of the Run went to the Long Island Chapter of the American Diabetes Association.

"We are pleased to present this unique holiday event for the Long Island running community," observed Race Director Julie Shapiro. "The enthusiastic response from the runners was a real thrill, and we certainly look forward to another Ho Ho Ho Run in 1989!"

County Offers Fitness Program

Here's the fitness program you've been looking for! It's free, suitable for beginners as well as advanced exercisers, and is under the supervision of a professional in the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks.

"A Step Toward Fitness" will take place in the Nassau Community College Gymnasium on Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p.m. beginning Jan. 18. The program will begin with warm-up stretches, which are essential before any exercise or sport is done.

Participants will have the opportunity to walk, jog or ride a stationary bicycle during the weekly sessions. Because cardiovascular fitness is the goal of this program, learning how to take your pulse rate before and after exercise will be stressed so that each person will get the most benefit from each exercise.

The program is open to Nassau County residents age 18 and over. Registration will be taken at the start of each session.

Nassau Community College Gymnasium is located in Garden City. It can be reached from Hempstead Turnpike by taking Earl Ovington Blvd. (just west of the Coliseum) straight into the College parking lot.

For further information, call 542-4436 between 9 a.m. and 4:45 p.m.

TOWN OF OYSTER BAY TOPICS

FROM THE DESK OF:
SUPERVISOR DELLIGATTI

When George Bush takes the oath of office on January 20 as the 41st President of the United States, he will pledge his service to our nation with the same words spoken in 1789 by our first President, George Washington: "I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the Office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

With few exceptions, Americans, regardless of partisan leanings, are genuinely inspired to a renewed patriotism by the Presidential Inauguration. This ceremonial culmination of our electoral process at the highest level serves as a periodic demonstration of the underlying and unchanged principles that mark our system of government as the most successful ever established by free men.

This 200 year anniversary of our Country's first Presidential Inauguration gives every one more cause to consider how well our democracy, as structured by our founding fathers, has endured.

During most of our lifetimes, we have seen the presidential succession provisions of the Constitution tested on two occasions. Despite the national trauma that followed the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and the resignation of President Richard M. Nixon, the business of running our Country continued uninterrupted. In both instances the orderly and effective transition of leadership was directed by language written over 200 years ago.

No matter who any of us may have voted last November, we can all take pride and comfort in the Inauguration ceremonies that will occur on January 20. When our 41st President takes his oath of office, he will, in words first spoken by George Washington two centuries ago, reaffirm to the world the enduring strength, prosperity and rightness of our American democracy.

Town to Accept Bids on Surplus Vehicles

Four passenger cars, four station wagons, two pickup trucks, a trailer, a van and a dump truck will be offered for sale in "as is" condition by the Town of Oyster Bay, according to Town Councilman Howard T. Hogan Jr.

"All vehicles will be available for inspection on Wednesday, Jan. 11, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. at the Department of Public Works, 150 Miller Place, Syosset," Hogan said. "Persons interested in on-site inspection should contact the department at 921-7347, ext. 5530, to arrange for an appointment."

The 13 vehicles offered for sale include two Chevrolet four-door sedans, one Plymouth four-door sedan, one AMC four-door sedan, four Plymouth station wagons, two Chevrolet pickup trucks, one Ford van, one GMC dump truck and one homemade trailer.

The application for Bid No. SE 005-89 will be available beginning Jan. 9. It can be obtained in person, by phone (922-5800 ext. 2210) or by mail from the Department of General Services, Purchasing Division, Town Hall West, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay, N.Y. 11771. Postage in the amount of $1.25 for return mail is required.

Hogan noted that completed forms must be returned in a sealed envelope to the Purchasing Division no later than 11 a.m. Jan. 25. Bids will be opened at that time in the Town Hall East hearing room, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

All vehicles will be sold to the highest bidder and must be removed within 10 days of notification of award.

Department of Environmental Conservation: New Stringent Incinerator Regulations

As Oyster Bay works to design an incinerator for its garbage, the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation has come up with new more stringent regulations. They are offering workshops throughout the state for public officials, private vendors consultants and other interested parties with the new regulations. This area will be served with a meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 14 at SUNY/College at Old Westbury in Room D-190 at Academic Village.

"Future generations of New Yorkers should be assured that these new, strict standards will provide for a cleaner and safer environment," Commissioner Thomas C. Jorling of Environmental Conservation said. "The improvements will not come without costs. But these are costs we must pay to preserve and protect the environment and the public health. These regulations that set a national standard for environmental protection will assist New York in avoiding the mistakes of the past that may have contributed to the pollution of our surroundings."

The Department of Environmental Conservation has scheduled a series of nine public workshops across the state to explain the new regulations. The solid waste regulations became effective December 31, 1988; the incinerator regulations took effect January 2, 1989.

The regulations for the disposal of garbage require that new landfills be constructed with double composite liners to provide a minimum of six layers of protection between the trash and the underlying groundwater.

The regulations for incinerators require that new facilities have more pollution controls, operate at more efficient rates at higher temperatures and be monitored more closely by better trained operators. For the first time, limits are set for dioxin emissions. Ash residue from incinerators will be placed in lined landfills.

Recycling and waste reduction will be key components of any solid waste management plan under the new regulations. Before any application for a new facility is reviewed by the DEC, there must be a demonstration that waste reduction and recycling will be maximized.
