

Valedictorian Cheryl Zukowsky

Hicksville Salutes Its Two Smartest Students

By Jim McCrann

An average of 103.2 earned Cheryl Zukowsky the honor of being Hicksville High School Class of '89 Valedictorian. Cheryl is the daughter of Barbara and Edward Zukowsky of Dean Street, and sister of Gail who recently graduated from SUNY at Geneseo.

Cheryl's outstanding grade point average, along with the 1,430 she scored on her SAT, has virtually assured Cheryl of much future success, which she hopes will begin at Worcester Polytechnic in Massachusetts. She will major in engineering, though she has not yet decided on what specific type of engineer she wants to be besides a "rich one." Cheryl selected this college over two other colleges including the prestigious Mount Holyoke, which is also located in Massachusetts.

Her career at Hicksville High has been almost as active as it has been successful. Cheryl is a member of the high school marching band and the jazz ensemble; she is also captain of the math team and treasurer of the Modern Music Masters honor society.

Though she has had great academic success in all of her subjects, she has no favorite one; however, she does have two favorite teachers, Mr. Palmieri, an English teacher, and Mr. Horn, a Social Studies teacher.

"Mr. Palmieri taught a lot about what is going to be expected in college and Mr. Horn was a friend as well as a teacher," said Cheryl.

When asked what she will miss most about Hicksville High, Cheryl, after much contemplation responded, "Band."

Among the many awards and honors that have been bestowed upon Cheryl are the National Merit scholarship and the Empire State scholarship, though she will not be able to use the latter as she will be attending college out of state.

It certainly appears that Hicksville High School's Class of '89 Valedictorian is well on her way to a future as exciting as it is promising.

Steven McNicholas, the son of John and Rose McNicholas of Burns Avenue, and older brother of Pauline, age 15, and Kenny, age 13, earned the distinction of Hicksville High School Class of '89 Salutatorian. Steve was ranked second in his class with a grade point average of 100.6. He also scored a remarkable 1,360 on his SAT.

Steve has aspirations of entering the business world. He will attend Hofstra University this fall as a business major in either finance or management. Though he was accepted to many colleges, including New York University, SUNY at Binghamton, Manhattan College, St. John's University and Adelphi University, Steve decided to attend Hofstra because of its excellent reputation and also because he received a full scholarship there.

Steve has undoubtedly made the most of his tenure at Hicksville High School. Along with his academic success, he has participated in such distinctive organizations as the National Honor Society and the Spanish Honor Society.

His favorite subjects in school are Spanish and English. He said he does not really have a favorite teacher.

School Budget Approved on Second Vote

By a margin of 424 votes, the Hicksville community approved the revised school budget on June 21. The $46,686,710 budget, $93,600 lower than the budget defeated on May 10, drew 3,882 voters to the polls. This was 70 voters fewer than had voted in May. However, the June 21 budget received 2153 yes votes, 1720 no votes, vs. 1806 yes, 2146 no on May 10.

School Board President Jo Ann Miltenberg reported that more than 154 people had registered on June 14, considerably higher than the usual number of new registrants for a budget vote.

Board Trustee Daniel MacBride, who had urged the public to vote no on the first budget, thanked the CSEA for urging in its newsletter that members vote yes on the June 21 budget.

Recognition of Services

Outgoing school board trustees Daniel E. Arena and Carole R. Wolf were presented with plaques by Mrs. Miltenberg. Mrs. Wolf, in accepting her award, announced that she would seek re-election to the board next year.

Mr. Arena, commenting on his 12 years on the board, said it "had its rough moments... [but I] wouldn't change it for the world."

Board Action

The board unanimously approved the ratification of the Memorandum of Agreement between the school district and the Hicksville Council of Principals, Assistant Principals, Supervisors and Department Chairs covering the period July 1, 1989 through June 30, 1991. Mrs. Miltenberg announced that the Superintendent's contract is not covered by this agreement and that Dr. Catherine Fenton would be receiving a six percent increase.

The board also approved the Town of Oyster Bay grant to continue the Hicksville

Two Smartest Students

After college, Steve hopes to make it big in the business world. Already a staunch supporter of capitalism, Steve wants to begin his career on Wall Street as a stockbroker where he will encounter mergers and takeovers on a daily basis. From there, he hopes to climb the "corporate ladder."

When asked what his ultimate goals are, Steve humorously remarked, "I want to buy Japan."

If he is as successful in business as he was in Hicksville High School, this may not be far-fetched after all.

Hicksville Teachers and Alumni Association Honored

By Peggy Theis

Ten Hicksville teachers received a truly special honor prior to the school board meeting on Wednesday, June 21. Their former students chose them to be the recipients of engraved crystal bells commemorating the occasion, which came about as a result of this year's Scholars Dinner.

Eighty-three seniors representing the top 20 percent of this year's graduating class from Hicksville High School attended the Scholars Dinner in May at the Elks Club. Space limitations restricted the guest list to students, parents, PTA and school representatives. Many teachers who would have liked to attend could not.

In order to share this event with the many teachers who contributed so much to their education, these students selected the teachers they remembered most—the people who had an impact on their lives—and presented them this unique honor, entitled "Remember When."

Each school (with the exception of Burns Avenue) was represented by a group of former students who bestowed their gift, which was accompanied by speeches that made the evening a wonderful moment for all who attended and believe so strongly in education.

Dr. Catherine Fenton, superintendent of schools, presented the first award to Stuart Blummer, sixth grade teacher at Burns Avenue. In her remarks, she mentioned Mr. Blummer's love of science which he imparted to his students through the use of magic shows and other "gimmickry."

Dutch Lane's recipient, Selma Spector-Marx, was praised by her former students for her willingness to work with students who were having difficulty as well as those who were doing well.

Marlene Kreditor was chosen by East Street alumni for "the values that were instilled upon us when we were younger."

Math, baseball, spelling hngman and the incentive to learn and please, Gregory Pisani, and themselves were mentioned by Fork Lane's former students. Mr. Pisani added that he believed students must "start off with a strong foundation."

Now retired, Theodore Savalas came back to accept his award from his Lee Avenue scholars who thanked him for showing that school achievement can be rewarding and fulfilling.

Catherine Dillon of Old Country Road was warmly thanked by her students for teaching them "how to live with people." Miss Dillon, visibly moved, added that she had spent "31 good years here at Hicksville."

Retiring at the end of the school year, Rosemary Barrow of Willet Avenue was remembered for helping all her students in many areas.

Woodland Avenue's graduates thanked Charles Buckel for his "patience, humor, kindness and words of encouragement."

Anthony Corneri, although unable to be present, was thanked by his former junior high students for giving them a firm background in mathematics.

Admired by his students for creating a college environment in the high school, Dave Persinger, also unable to attend, was thanked in a delightful fashion by two of his students.

In addition to these awards, 15 individuals received recognition of outstanding achievement presented by Dr. Fenton. They were Sparkling wines are wonderful anytime; you don't need a special occasion. Yet there's one special occasion where bubbles really belong; to celebrate a wedding!

A bottle of sparkling wine will fill 6 glasses. Have enough on hand for that special toast to the newlyweds. Or, if you're feeling lavish, you can let the wine flow throughout the party!

Champagne may be an aperitif, or served throughout a meal. If you're serving sparkling wine with wedding cake, you may prefer semi-dry.

Champagne flutes, not saucer-type glasses. Bubbles will last longer and the wine will taste better. Use a clean napkin to grasp the cork before opening it gently, pointing the bottle away from anyone.

I'm getting married this summer to the most wonderful girl in the world—Elizabeth Ann Ciola from Utica, NY! We'll be celebrating with Mumm's Cuvée Napa, California.

Imported or domestic? There are fine sparkling wines available from everywhere, at a wide range of prices and types. We even carry a champagne from Long Island!

SENIORS - Join our Over 60 club for discount! Any special occasion deserves special spirits, too. Now's the time to bring out the premium brands that impress.

Celebrating (July 4) requires a lot of ice! We have it for you a large 8lbs!

May we offer our expertise in choosing the just-right sparkling wine at:

Captures Skyline Beauty

What propels some people into the world of inventing? For some, it may be out of necessity that a person invents something. For others, a new product may result from an attempt to solve the common problem. Marilyn Skelton, who lives in Hicksville, falls into neither of these categories. Her venture into the realm of innovation found birth in her interest in interior design.

Living in New York, she has always been struck by the beauty of the Big Apple's skyline. Putting her design abilities to work, she has developed a household accessory—Garden City—designed to capture the essence of the skyline while providing beauty for one's home.

Garden City, resembling the skyline as Marilyn often sees it, can be used to display plants, trophies or prized collections. And it can be beautifully displayed in an office or lobby, the inventor said. The Innovation Center, with headquarters in Washington, is acting as a publicity and licensing agent for Marilyn.

Congratulations!

Best Wishes

Years ago Edith and Willie Frohnoefer were deciding on the date for their wedding. They chose July 3rd. (Guess they thought that it was a good day due to the fact they could continue to celebrate with the rest of the country on the next day, July 4th. Congratulations to the happy couple.

Speaking Of The 4th

We're sending our happiest of birthday wishes to Robert Johnson who celebrates his big day on July 4th.

They Come In Twos

Anna and Tommy Luongo have become the proudest grandparents. This is their first time experiencing the joy of becoming grandparents—and guess what????—they experienced twice the pleasure. Their son Anthony and daughter-in-law Suzanne became parents of twin sons! On June 16th Suzanne gave birth first to Andrew, a 6 lb. 9 oz., 21" long son . . . and then Marc was born—weighing 6 lbs. 1 oz. and 19 1/2" long. Mother, father and sons are all doing fine—and Anna and Tommy are still up on 'cloud 9'. The happy parents were formerly of Hicksville and now live in Denver, Pennsylvania.

Proud maternal grandparents are Joyce and John Westell of Frederick, Maryland.

Also excited over the new additions are Aunt Barbara, Uncle Jim, Uncle Thomas, and Aunt Donna, Aunt Debbie and Uncle Michael.

Correction

We received a note from Olga (Spunder) Sjem stating that we had our facts wrong. She writes: "In one of your earlier issues it was mentioned that there was a Polish Hall next to Jim's Deli and Smith's Drug Store. That definitely was a Ukranian Hall and I know since I participated in all its activities. They had plays, concerts, and dances. They played all kinds of music: polkas, waltzes, fox trots and Kalamyka's. In those days the whole family attended: mothers, fathers and children. No baby sitters were needed. We had fun! Many of the Ukranian families worked on nearby farms—there was quite a settlement of them in Hicksville and some of their children are still living here."

Editor's Note: I'm sorry for the error. All I can remember is that whenever I went past the hall I wished I was inside enjoying the festivities. It always sounded like everyone was having 'so much fun'.

We were down in North Carolina last summer. While there we went to a dance and saw entire families dancing together. I believe they called it "clogging." They were all having 'so much fun'.

I also remember the fun we used to have going to 'football' weddings. Everyone in the family was invited. We were allowed to dance right along with the grown ups. (Mostly we 'slid' across the waxed dance floor.) They had big tubs filled with small bottles of "Roxy" soda laying in iced water. They had big barrels filled with sandwiches wrapped in waxed paper—and you were always happy to see what kind of meat was inside. They were always on rolls and were so delicious. We would stay up late and no one ever "yelled" at us for sliding across the dance floor or for eating too many sandwiches or drinking too much soda. I'm sure many of our readers will be able to relate to these stories. It was wonderful growing up then.

Goodbye and Good Luck

Martha Daur, a teacher at St. Ignatius Loyola School for more than 20 years retired at the end of the school year. Martha and her husband George are longtime residents of Hicksville and their three children George of Bethpage; Thomas of Ronkonkoma, and Dorothea Lindsay of Hicksville are all graduates of St. Ignatius School.

Two of Martha's granddaughters, Vanessa and Kara Lindsay are students at St. Ignatius. Her sister, Billie Schaffmacher, secretary to the principal at St. Ignatius for over 20 years, retired a few years ago.

At a recent reception at St. Ignatius, many present and former students and their parents came to pay honor to Mrs. Daur. We wish her joy and ease in her retirement.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity. We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only. We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

...Can you remember your first garden?...My paternal grandmother was the gardener of the family and I remember so well when I was about six and my little brother was four, she decided that we should each have a garden of our very own and we should take care of it...First, she bought each of us a set of miniature garden tools—rake, hoe and shovel, about three feet long...Then we received a very large envelope with all sorts of flowers printed on the front—and inside were many small envelopes, each with a different kind of flower seeds—cosmos, marigolds, petunias, sweet alyssum, ageratum, even hollyhocks—and more...She helped us spade up the little plots and made us take out every weed and large stone and make it all ready for the seeds...Then, of course, we had to plan the planting scheme, since some flowers were much taller than others...We made careful little troughs and scattered our seeds, patting each one down with gentle fingers...We each had a watering can—it was tin and had pictures on the sides and Grandma showed us how to water very carefully in order not to disturb our seeds...Then she gave us a piece of fine mesh chicken wire, which we spread over our gardens so that the chickens would not be able to scratch up our seeds before they germinated—(Do you remember that lots of people had chickens in those days and we were always awakened by the crowing of the rooster?)...How excited we were when the first little tender green leaves poked up from the earth!...and when the flowers bloomed!...one would think that we had invented flowers...and all summer, these plants kept blooming and we were so delighted to take bouquets to our Mother...and Grandma made us keep the garden all watered and weeded...and do you know, I have never, to this day, had a garden that was as satisfactory as that first one!!

Understanding Closed End Mutual Funds

Last week we looked at open end mutual funds. We looked at how they were purchased, what the charges are and why they are there for us if we want them. This week we will do the same for the closed end type. We will give you some investment ideas in them.

Dr. Joseph P. Frey

Closed end mutual funds are very different from the open end funds, because their shares are not able to be constantly purchased from the fund or resold to them. You purchase your shares like any other stock, through normal brokerage channels. There is no difference from buying shares in General Motors, IBM, Kodak or any of the thousands of companies listed on the New York, American or over-the-counter stock exchanges.

The investment managers originally sell the stock to the public through investment banking houses, the same as any other listed company. Because of this, when you want to sell your stock, you sell it to someone else through a broker. The company never, never has to buy it back from you.

When they take your money, they invest it like any other mutual fund. Therefore, before you buy one of these you should know how the fund invests that money. They all have a strategy. Some invest only in particular areas of the world, the Korea fund as an example. Others only in a particular industry sector, like the Petrol and Resources Fund (petroleum and natural resources). You can buy these funds in particular types of securities, such as the Ellsworth Convertible Growth and Income Fund (specialists in preferred stock and/or bonds that can be turned into common stock). The Weekly Barron's has more than a full page of these funds every week in the Laboratory section of the paper. Our advice here is to know what you want before you buy.

When the fund gets your money from the stock sale, they invest it like any other mutual fund, and like other mutual funds, they take their expenses from the cash on hand. The expenses will vary by the fund, some high, some low. The investment results will vary in the same way.

Since the fund does not have to redeem the shares at any time, and since the price is dependent upon the supply/demand for the stock on the exchange, the investment results, the NAV (net asset value), and the stock price are independent. Which means you can buy the shares at whatever price an owner is willing to sell and you are willing to pay. This is a fancy way to say that the value and the stock price may be higher or lower than the NAV. If it is higher, you would buy at premium to NAV, and if lower, at a discount.

This sets up some unusual investment opportunities. For example, if you can buy control of a closed company at a steep discount from NAV and you can convert it to an open end firm (not hard to do), you will have an immediate gain, because all open end funds are priced at NAV. You could liquidate the fund with the same results. Closed-ends are selling at an average 13-1/2 percent discount to NAV. A few sell at premiums like the Rep. of China Taiwan Fund (+24.8%) or Korea Fund (+93.1%), most sell at discounts, like the India Fund (-15.0%) or the Brazil Fund, (-51.3%).

The steep discounts mean that you can buy these stock funds with a lot of natural leverage. Example, recently the Franklin Holding Company (American Stock Exchange-FKL) traded at about a 35 percent discount to its NAV. It sells at about 19.50/share (1988 low was 4-1/4), its value is about 15/share. Some of its portfolio is illiquid, i.e., mortgage loans and small company stock. However, in 1996 it has to liquidate or become an open end fund. Either way you can gain. It specializes in utility stocks, not a bad place to be in these times. There are only 880,000 shares, so the total market value is about 8,300,000 dollars. Liquidated it is worth about $13,000,000. It could be volatile with such a small float; it could also make you a lot of money if you buy and hold onto it.

ROBERT R. McMILLAN'S

Direct Line

An outgrowth of the ethics parade on Capitol Hill will undoubtedly be a look at campaign financing. There has already been a great deal of talk. The Democrats have a package, and George Bush has called for restrictions on political action committees.

Because fundraising is difficult, many politicians are ready to jump on the bandwagon of a taxpayer gravy train to pay for elections and will try to make that part of the reform. Nothing could be more wrong. The taxpayer should not be expected to pay for the conduct of elections. Rather than using tax dollars for campaigns, the Congress should explore changes to make the process fairer. Here are some ideas:

The first change should be elimination of the "grandfather" provision of the law which allows more senior members of the Congress to keep campaign funds for their own personal use on retirement. This is an obscene provision and should be repealed. If an individual or a political action committee gives money to a candidate's committee, the expectation is that the funds are going to help finance a campaign—not to line the retirement pockets of members, or to purchase personal items. Those interested in legislation could not give a gift directly to a member and should not be able to do so indirectly through an election committee.

Political action committees have kept the Congressional playing field uneven for challengers. For example, in 1987 and 1988, incumbents received over seventy-four percent of all PAC dollars. Challengers received only twelve percent with some fourteen percent going to candidates running for open seats. Because the Democrats control both the House and the Senate, and money tends to flow where the power is, Republicans received only thirty-eight percent of political action committee contributions. The imbalance helps to guarantee wins for incumbents. In Senate races, incumbents usually start building a war chest for the next election the day after they are elected. That gives an incumbent six years to collect funds. For practical purposes, a challenger has to announce that he or she is running before money can be solicited. To give challengers a chance, the law should be changed to prohibit fundraising by individual candidates until they have announced for reelection.

There should be limits on how much an individual is permitted to spend in pursuing a seat in Congress. Right now, there is no limit on the amount of personal funds which can be put into a race. That is patently unfair and does not assure that the most qualified person is either nominated or elected. "Freedom of speech" aside, there must be reasonable limitations.

The length of a Congressional race should be limited to nine months. During that nine month period, an incumbent should not be permitted the use of free mailing privileges for newsletters, questionnaires, and the announcements of so-called "town meetings." Taxpayer dollars are currently being used for these direct mail campaign supplements, and the practice should be stopped.

Political action committee contributions should be restricted so that committee funds can only go to the national parties—not to individual candidates. To encourage individual support, the tax laws should be adjusted to permit a one thousand dollar a year political contribution deduction.

Finally, the television industry should provide a greater use of free time for political debate. While it is arguably difficult in a large metropolitan area to be totally fair, there has to be a better structure for the presentation of candidates than the current procedures. The cost of television advertising is prohibitive to many challengers and stifles political debate.

There is little doubt that money has become the key ingredient in political campaigns today. For that reason, it is all the more unfortunate that a candidate's creditability is based more on how much money is in the bank than how many ideas are in the candidate's head. Let's hope that the ethics debate will address some of the shortfalls in the current process.

THE SCHOOL NOTEBOOK

From St. Ignatius

Future Scientists

St. Ignatius Loyola students in grades three through sixth held their annual science fair recently. The winners for first places were: Grade 3: Richard Mirabella for his rocks and minerals project; Grade 4: Melissa Zoleta, Karen Lindsay, Meghan Quinn, Jenny Iahy for The Human Eye. Grade 5: Jason Amplo for The Life Cycle of a Brine Shrimp. Grade 6: Brian Totino and Brian Rigert for electroplating.

In other science news, four St. Ignatius students were also winners at the Bishop Kellenberg Memorial High School Invitational Science Fair.

Vanessa Lindsay, a seventh grader, won first place for her project, "The Heart, Circulation and Heart Attacks." Daniel Gouch, an eighth grader, won third place for his work, "Organic Polymers." Ann Marie Lohman and Torie Wise, both eighth graders, received third place ribbons for their project, "Diabetes."

Students Take a Trip

Mrs. Snee and Miss Scheels first grade classes at St. Ignatius School enjoyed a field trip to Old Westbury Gardens recently. Although it rained two days prior to the trip, sun prevailed on the scheduled day and the trip was a success.

The children not only toured the gardens, but also learned about the mansion and the family who lived there. At the conclusion of the trip, each child was given a sunflower to plant in their own gardens. Summer vacation will be an ideal time to watch them grow.

First Communion

St. Ignatius' second graders recently received the Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist. The glow of anticipation is seen in their faces as they proceed to the church.

From East Street

The Wonders of Science

Mrs. Mingin's fourth grade class at East Street School, discussed the wonders of electricity through a new hands-on science program. The children had activities to complete both individually and in groups, and afterward the students discussed their results. It was an exciting way to learn.

East Street student Ian Rasmussen demonstrates how electricity works.

From Burns Avenue

When I Grow Up...

Lee Oliveri and Virginia Blaauboer's second grade class at Burns Avenue learned about many different careers.

As part of their interdisciplinary unit on careers (Anything I Want To Be In The World), each child designed and made an original career hat. To accompany their hat, each child wrote an original riddle. Their hats and riddles were on display in the classrooms.

The second graders visited Mrs. Grumo's kindergarten A.M. and P.M. classes and read their riddles and wore their hats. All the children enjoyed guessing the riddles and seeing the hats.

On June 2, the children once again read their riddles in honor of Grandparents' Day. What a wonderful experience for all.

As part of Grandparents/Special Persons' Day festivities at Dutch Lane School, the students the chorus, string ensemble, brass, woodwind and percussion ensembles performed many musical selections. In The Schools:

Our students certainly have been kept busy during these past few months. In this issue we'll take a look at St. Ignatius, East Street, Dutch Lane, Fork Lane and Burns Avenue. And in upcoming weeks we'll look at news from Woodland Avenue, East Street and St. Ignatius.

From Fork Lane

Indian Picture Writing

Fork Lane School recently held its Expo night. Mrs. Heffernan's fourth grade class studied different types of Indians. They wrote reports and picked Indian symbols to create their own Indian messages. The students learned a lot about Indians and Long Island history.

E.T.'s Farewell Party

Mrs. Grib's third graders at Fork Lane School celebrated a successful journey into space. The children made hats, placemats, and acted out their own skits. Their space menu consisted of Flying Saucer Cookies, Jupiter Jumping Jelly Beans, Extra Terrestrial Juice, Mars Martian M&M's, Martian Man Made Cupcakes and Out-of-This World Saturn Suckers.

The Little Engine

Mrs. Schreck's first grade class "The Class of 2000" at Fork Lane School celebrated the end of the year by performing in a play called The Little Engine. Everyone had a special part and all participated in the singing of several songs and a dance routine to Neil Diamond's America. It was a great thrill for all to see.

School District Inducts Its Hall of Fame

Five former Hicksville High School graduates were inducted into the Hicksville School District's Hall of Fame on Sunday. Those elected—Captain Philip S. Anselmo, USN; Roslyn D. Goldmacher; Curt Brill; Dr. John R. Levison; and Dr. Leslie Becker Hecht—had been chosen by present graduates to lead the current senior class onto McCormack Field during commencement ceremonies. Their names have been added to the commemorative plaque hanging in the school's lobby in tribute to their accomplishments since leaving the district's schools.

Persons chosen for this honor are former Hicksville students who have made their marks with important achievements and contributions to their community and/or profession. Anyone may nominate a former student of the Hicksville schools for this honor. A committee made up of student representatives with guidance from an administrative advisor determine, from those nominated each year, who's life and career they value and hold in the highest esteem.

It is the hope of the board of education that this ongoing project will serve to inspire current and future students to instill a sense of pride in the schools and in the community.

Captain Philip S. Anselmo, USN, Class of 1958:

Captain Anselmo received his college degree from the State University of New York at Oswego, furthering his education at the U.S. Naval Aviation Officer Candidate School. He served as an aircraft carrier pilot during the Vietnam War and received many medals and citations for leadership in peacetime, and courage and discipline on highly dangerous missions over Vietnam. Noted one student on the Hall of Fame Committee: "He is one of the few persons recognized for their bravery and courage in their action during Vietnam . . . He is a part of history." Captain Anselmo has been described as a highly motivated, educated, brave and responsible person. Currently, he is the Commanding Officer aboard the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Constellation.

Roslyn D. Goldmacher, Class of 1971:

Roslyn Goldmacher received her Doctorate of Jurisprudence from the Hofstra University School of Law and is currently a practicing attorney as well as the executive director of the Long Island Development Corporation. Her resume and her energies are endless. She is the founder and president of Women Economic Developers of Long Island, Inc., a regional director of the National Association of Development Co.; the vice chairperson, L.I. Delegation, of the White House Conference on Small Business; a government resource panelist for the L.I. Business Council; a member of the L.I. Regional Economic Development Council, appointed by the NYS Governor; a member of the Nassau County Womens Advisory Council, appointed by the County Executive; and was an elected delegate to the 1986 White House Conference on Small Business.

Curt Brill, Class of 1970:

His art work has appeared in numerous invitational shows, group shows and individual shows and he has received many awards for his talent. Aside from teaching art courses at several colleges, he has served as a drug rehabilitation counselor, and has been a paid professional as well as an active volunteer in state run mental health institutions and private and county run nursing homes.

"My search in the visual arts is for the hidden human spirit," Curt writes. "That small part that makes us each unique, yet finds us a common home."

Dr. Levison pursued his biblical studies at Cambridge University, Christ's College, England, before earning his Ph.D. at Duke University in North Carolina. At Cambridge he received the highest score in his final exams and was honored at a formal dinner where the guest of honor was the Duke of Edinburgh, Prince Philip. Aside from his schooling in England, he studied in Israel and in Germany, and later accepted a Post-doctoral Rotary International Scholarship to study and teach at St. Andrews University in Scotland. Dr. Levison is a published author and aside from books has had numerous articles printed in Theological journals. Currently, he is the Assistant Professor of New Testament at St. Paul's School of Theology in Missouri.

Dr. Leslie Becker Hecht, Class of 1976:

Dr. Hecht received her Ph.D. from the University of California at Riverside in Molecular and Cellular Biology and is currently involved in Post-doctoral research on insulin-stimulated activity. According to Dr. Hecht: "This research may be useful in explaining certain types of diabetes and determining why some cells grow when given insulin." Aside from her research, she is teaching microbiology and general biology at the University of California, Riverside. She has co-authored two reviewed papers and four presented papers. According to one student on the Hall of Fame Committee: "Dr. Hecht has proven her intelligence and devotion to humanity in researching life-giving activities."

Legionnaires' Log

By Greg Bennett
Charles Wagner Post #421, Hicksville

The Charles A. Wagner Post 421 extends its deepest sympathy to John and Jean Bednarek of Ridge, Long Island. The remains of their son U.S. Air Force Captain Jonathon Bednarek were recently returned from Vietnam. Captain Bednarek was shot down over North Vietnam on May 18, 1972. Burial took place June 22 in Calverton National Cemetery.

Legionnaires are asked to assist in the restoration of the Enola Gay, the famous B-29 "Superfortress" that dropped the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima, opening the brief final chapter of World War II. This period plane now gathers dust in a Smithsonian Institution's warehouse in Washington, D.C. Contributions may be sent to Enola Gay Restoration Fund, c/o Atomic Library, 11004 East 40 Hwy., Independence, Mo. 64055.

The Vietnam Veterans Memorial "Traveling Wall" will be at the Bronx Veterans Memorial Park from July 12 to July 18 and can be seen 24 hours a day. This is located just over the Throgs Neck Bridge. For information call John Greco at (212) 671-9326.

June 22 is the 45th anniversary of signing the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944 known as the "GI Bill of Rights." June 25 is the 39th anniversary of U.S. entry into the Korean War in 1950.

The Veterans Administration announced that $8 million is available in scholarships to nursing and physical therapy students who are in the third and fourth year of baccalaureate or master's degree programs. Students receive tuition, education expenses and a monthly stipend of $621. Participants agree to serve as full-time registered nurses or physical therapists in a VA medical center for a period of one year for each year of scholarship support. For information report to the Chief of Nursing or Chief of Rehabilitation Medicine at any VA medical center or write VA Health Professional Scholarship Program, Office of Academic Affairs (14N), 810 Vermont Ave., N.W. Washington, D.C. 20420, or call 1-800-368-5896.

Robbery at McDonald's

Two armed men stole $3,000 from McDonald's on South Broadway Friday just after closing, police said.

The two men entered the rear door of the restaurant at about 11:50 p.m. and announced a holdup. One subject had a sawed-off shotgun and the other carried a handgun. At the time of the robbery there were three employees and a manager in the store.

The subjects forced the store manager to open the safe and fill their knapsack with the contents which amounted to $3,000 in cash. The subjects then fled in an unknown auto on South Oyster Bay Road.

The first subject armed with the handgun is described as 6'1", black, thin, about 18-years-old, with a goatee, wearing sunglasses. The subject armed with the shotgun is described as 6'11", black, medium build, about 24-years-old.

The Eighth Precinct is investigating.

You Auto Know

By D. F. Karppi

Just to keep you informed...you are really being watched as you ride the L.I.E. Is it Big Brother??? No, it's INFORM. That is an acronym for information for motorists.

Through sensors under the pavement, INFORM computers constantly monitor traffic speed and density throughout the corridor, enabling operators to alert police, other agencies and the media, along with motorists by means of traffic message signs, when there are accidents or delays.

INFORM rush-hour operation of merge lights is beginning to save travel time for motorists on the Long Island Expressway, James A. Kuzloski, the New York State Department of Transportation's Long Island Regional Director, said recently.

On a 12-mile stretch of the L.I.E. in Suffolk County, eastbound travel times during the evening rush hours dropped by an average of 13 percent when merge lights were operating on six entrance ramps in that segment, he said. The figure takes into account waiting time on entrance ramps. For through traffic, the average travel time dropped by 20 percent, while average speed rose by 10 percent.

Merge lights, part of the INFORM system, are red-green traffic lights on entrance ramps that smooth traffic flow by feeding in entering vehicles one at a time. INFORM is a computerized traffic information system operating along a 35-mile east-west corridor extending from Hauppauge in Suffolk County to the vicinity of Shea Stadium in Queens.

"These are preliminary results, and obviously the highway remains overloaded at peak times," Mr. Kuzloski said. "But it's clear that the merge lights are helping, as they have elsewhere in the country."

The improved traffic flow has also yielded a 6 percent fuel saving and cut vehicle emissions, he said. Carbon monoxide emissions have been reduced by 17 percent and hydrocarbons by 13 percent, although nitrogen oxides increased slightly more than 2 percent because of the higher speeds.

DOT studied the traffic movement last September, before any of the merge lights were in operation, and again in March and April when the six lights were in use during the evening rush hours only. The section of highway involved runs from the Nassau-Suffolk line to Exit 57, Route 111.

"DOT has now fine-tuned all 12 merge lights in Suffolk County, including 10 on the L.I.E. and two on Northern Parkway," Mr. Kuzloski said. "We are working westward through Nassau County and currently have 18 merge lights operating there." The computer-controlled lights usually operate from 7 to 9 a.m. westbound and 4 to 6 p.m. eastbound, although times are modified according to location and traffic flow.

Opening lead — jack of spades.

Probably the most mystifying play in bridge is the smother play. It is hard to believe that such a play can exist, but it does. True, the necessary setup seldom arises, but its very rarity makes the play that much more dramatic when it does occur.

Here is an example of the smother play. West appears to have an absolutely certain trump trick, but South can neutralize it by playing his cards correctly.

West leads a spade. East cashes his K-A and continues with a spade. Declarer ruffs with the nine and plays the queen of trumps. West ducks, of course, and South finesesses. Declarer then leads the three of trumps and finesesses the eight, East showing out.

A trump loser now seems inevitable, and this, together with a certain diamond loser, would appear to doom the contract. However, South still has one other possibility to lean on — the smother play.

He therefore cashes the A-K of diamonds and A-K Q of clubs, every one following suit. Then, with fingers crossed, he exits with a diamond, hoping East will have to win the trick and that he started with only three diamonds.

As the cards lie, East is forced to win the diamond with the queen and has no more diamonds. Only two tricks remain to be played at this point. South has the J-10 of trumps, West has the K-6 of trumps, dummy has the ace of trumps and a diamond, and East has a spade and a club.

Whatever East returns, South ruffs with the ten and West's ironclad trump trick is obliterated.

Hicksville Pal Baseball/Softball News

By Charlette Anstey

Our children/teenagers are saying "hooray" that school's out and Hicksville PAL's baseball/softball season has started! During the past two weeks, girls and boys have been to our ratings night and teams have been formed. This week will see the start of practices.

Our league is held during the summer to ensure that the Hicksville youth have an activity to occupy their time during these months. Our children and teenagers will be at their games two nights a week where they will be encouraged to display good sportsmanship.

This program is sponsored by the Nassau County Police Department as a crime prevention program. Your children and teenagers are exposed to an excellent coaching staff selected personally by Nassau County Police Officer Bill Toelstedt.

Officer Toelstedt will be taking the names of children/teenagers who would like to go on a waiting list. If you are interested in playing in this summer league, please send your name, telephone number and address to 43 Wishing Lane, Hicksville, 11801.

Because Hicksville PAL is an instructional league, our children/teenagers will not be restricted to one or two positions during the season. Hicksville PAL's philosophy is that the only way you can learn to play a position is to do it.

As with all our programs, good sportsmanship and a congenial atmosphere are encouraged. For first timers, this is an excellent program since no pressure is put on them. For our spring ball players, this is an opportunity to continue your ball playing skills.

We would like to thank the Hicksville School District for allowing us to use their school fields. The Town of Oyster Bay Parks Department has been very cooperative in trying to upgrade Schwamb Field and Hillside Terrace Park.

Experience the Soothing Effects of Tai Chi

By Catherine Tokar and Cathy Greenfield

The Continuing Education Department of Hicksville High School offers residents a unique exercise class that benefits its participants by calming them, helping them concentrate better and become more confident.

According to the instructor, Joi Eden, the class has increased in popularity over the years. More and more, participants in Tai Chi Chuan, an ancient Chinese exercise system of health and self defense, experience stress reduction and body toning using relaxed, calming and balanced movements. Ms. Eden explained the following about Tai Chi:

Our constantly changing, stressful lifestyles make living an anxiety-producing effort. Tension-free living is increasingly difficult under the trying conditions of today's world. Being calm, even for short periods, has become a modern survival skill.

There is no "cure-all" for this situation, but there is an approach dedicated to relieving stress in mind and body. This approach, called Tai Chi, is enjoyable and immediately applied to every part of life: to cope with conflict/stress/problems, enhance performance and produce healthful, structured and creative environments. It is easily presented, whether you are in business, social service, recreational, athletic, education, government, health/medicine, science, cultural or religious. It can work for your group, organization, students or patients.

Tai Chi Chuan has been called the only self-improvement program/method you'll ever need. It promotes strength, stamina, energy and improves overall physical conditioning and weight control. Increases confidence, heightens creativity and concentration. Improves flexibility, grace, coordination and control. Most important - it is very calming.

Evidence has repeatedly suggested that tension-filled ways of coping weaken the immune system and increase risk of illness. Those under stress and pressure become ill.

We can't magically erase our problems, but we can control the impact our problems have on our lives - and that is the key for reducing stress/tension/anxiety. Evidence indicates a positive attitude and sense of control are essential.

- Tai Chi can help in
- coping with difficult situations/people
 - relaxing without strain
 - calmly meeting challenges and pressures
 - adapting to new situations
 - moving comfortably with change
 - letting go of physical and emotional tensions
 - gaining patience
 - improving ability to communicate/relate to others
 - increase concentration, confidence and creativity
 - gaining insight
 - improving productivity - decreasing sick days

- improving mental attitude and outlook
- using energy less wastefully
- being calm; when we are more calm, we can do almost anything.

Student Reaction

According to Hicksville resident Jackie Adelstein, Tai Chi has benefitted her in that she sleeps better than ever before and she is much more relaxed. She brought her mom to class, which is held at Eisenhower Park, and it helped her to feel more relaxed, even after triple by-pass surgery. She found she didn't need her evening medication after taking the class. Jackie said she has been doing this for eight weeks and the exercises have helped her with a rapid heartbeat problem.

Another Hicksville resident, Joe Wilkonski, has been doing Tai Chi since the fall. "I joined because the printed material describing the class intrigued me and because it was something my wife and I could participate in together," said Mr. Wilkonski.

He added that the deep breathing benefits him at night, when he tries to relax and go to sleep. "I only get up to counting to three or four and before I know it, I'm asleep," he said. "I sleep well now the entire night through."

For more information about the class, call the continuing education department at 933-6671/6672 after 6:30 p.m.

We are all proud of him and wish him good luck.
