SORT Success Saves Town $1 Million

Recycling has resulted in a savings of more than $1 million for town residents for the first half of 1989, according to figures released by the town.

The Town of Oyster Bay Separate Oyster Bay's Recyclables Today (SORT) program has netted the savings in solid waste hauling costs which have skyrocketed with the mandated closings of area landfills.

Thanks to the outstanding cooperation of our SORT residents, more than 10,000 tons of recyclables have been collected through June of this year, said Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Angelo Delligatti. This tonnage is right on target with our recycling bureau's goal of removing 20,000 tons of recyclables from our waste stream during 1989.

The success of the SORT program was attributed to the cooperation of private carters in Massapequa Park, Nassau Shores and Harbor Green, where participating residents contributed 1,024 tons of material.

Robert Izzo Remains In Jail — For Now

By A. Anthony Miller

Robert Izzo, the Hicksville school bus driver accused of sexually molesting young children, will remain in the Nassau County jail without bail—at least until tomorrow (Friday) when he must again appear before Judge Marvin Goodman, who Tuesday ordered a pre-trial probation report to determine whether Mr. Izzo should be freed pending trial.

Some 50 parents and other Hicksville residents packed the courtroom as the slight, mustached defendant was arraigned on a 20 count indictment, voted July 26 by a grand jury, which charged Mr. Izzo with various counts of sodomy, sexual abuse and endangering the welfare of a child.

The spectators gasped as Mr. Izzo, asked to plead to the charge, said in a loud voice, "not guilty." They were the only words uttered by Mr. Izzo, who did not look at the audience. His attorney, Anthony Capetola, blasted the indictment, claiming it was based solely on the uncorroborated allegations of a 13 year old boy. He asked that Mr. Izzo be freed in $50,000 bail. Assistant District Attorney Maureen Riordan, who has been placed in charge of the case, countered by saying that bail of one million dollars would be acceptable to the prosecution. "Might as well make it two million," Mr. Capetola answered. "He doesn't have it."

Under a statute which became effective August 1, the question of pre-trial release is deferred until the county probation department can investigate the extent to which Mr. Izzo should be released.

Although spectators began arriving in court as early as 9:15 a.m., the arraignment did not get under way until 11, following a conference, in chambers, between the judge and the attorneys.

Mr. Izzo wore an open-necked white shirt and blue-gray slacks. His hands remained manacled behind his back throughout the 15 minute appearance. Uniformed court officers ringed the room, but took no action as the audience burst into a loud cheer when the judge denied the bail request.

Both attorneys indicated they were ready for the next step, and Judge Goodman indicated that an early trial date might be set.

Questions Dating to 1987

As the story continued to unravel, it was learned that as early as December, 1987, questions about Mr. Izzo's relationship to children he was driving had been surfacing. In a letter dated December 21, 1987, Jane Maloney, secretary of St. Ignatius Loyola School, had petitioned Mr. Izzo's employer, Harran Transportation of Hicksville, to remove him from his route "as quickly as possible," because he was making "the children very nervous and they are becoming frightened of him."

Mr. Izzo was first arrested on sexual abuse charges on May 21. The report of that arrest was not wide-spread, leading parents to accuse the Hicksville School District of not informing parents of the situation. Dr. Catherine J. Fenton, superintendent of schools, said Tuesday afternoon that Haran had informed her that the child involved was not one of "our students on our buses—(public and private bus transportation) and that Mr. Izzo had been suspended." Therefore "I thought our children were protected. I thought our children were clear," she said.

Mr. Izzo was arrested a second time on July 21. He has been in jail without bail since.

If convicted of all the charges, Mr. Izzo faces a 25 year prison term.

PTA/Parents Discuss Sexual Abuse Case

Concerned parents met July 25 to discuss the arrest of Robert Izzo, who was later indicted on sexual abuse charges.

The meeting, conducted by Willet Avenue PTA president Donna Conk, was attended by representatives from PTAs throughout the district.

Parents received information from several sources on how to best deal with the situation. Kenneth Lau, a coordinator from the Nassau County Coalition on Child Abuse (481-7784) stressed that parents should be supportive. Also on hand were representatives from the Nassau County District Attorney's office and the Crime Victim's Advocate Unit.

Abuse Case

Nassau County Assistant District Attorney Barry Grennan advised parents on various procedural aspects of the case, but cautioned them against telling personal stories as it might jeopardize evidence.

School Board Vice President Daniel MacBride and secretary James Martillo attended the meeting. Assistant superintendent for business services, William Hall, whose office is in charge of the District's transportation services, and the school's attorney were also available to answer questions. Willet Avenue School principal Michael Dunn was present. The absence of superintendent Catherine Fenton, who was on vacation, angered many parents.

Parents in attendance from Holy Family, Fork Lane and Dutch Lane schools said that Mr. Izzo has also driven for their schools. Several parents described difficulties when filing complaints about bus drivers and asked for direction on how to proceed in the future. Mr. MacBride suggested that complaints be put in writing and sent to the superintendent with copies sent directly to school board members at their homes. Concerns were raised over a perceived lack of parental notification regarding Mr. Izzo's first arrest in an incident involving a child from another district. Mr. MacBride suggested that the parents attend the school board's policy committee meetings and "help draw up policy" for the district to follow. After a policy is presented to the board for adoption, three meetings must occur before the policy can be adopted. The next policy meeting is Wednesday, September 20 at 8 p.m. in the Administration Building.

Anyone with information about Mr. Izzo has been asked to call the Sex Crimes unit at 535-7816. The telephone number for the Crime Victim's Advocates Unit, which offers help to victims by providing information, counseling and referrals, is 535-4967 for County Court and 566-2000 for District Court.

Mrs. William Jabour

Capt. Virginia Holland Married to Lt. Col. William Jabour

Captain Virginia Marie Holland and Lieutenant Colonel William Jay Jabour exchanged vows recently at Southside Baptist Church in Suffolk, Virginia.

The bride is the daughter of Elizabeth C. Tompert and Raymond J. Holland, Sr., of Suffolk. She received her bachelor's degree from Virginia Tech in 1981, and her master's degree in 1988 from Oklahoma University. She's a public affairs officer at Nellis Air Force Base in Nevada.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Arlene Jabour of Hicksville, New York, and the late Elias J. Jabour. He is a graduate of the U.S. Air Force Academy and holds a master's degree from the University of California, Fresno. He is deputy director of tests for the advanced tactical fighter at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio.

The bride wore an original gown designed by Pearl for Sweetheart of New York, created with a fully fitted sheath. The gown was trimmed in re-embroidered lace encrusted with opal sequins and pearls to accent the Queen Anne neckline and long sleeves. The swirled skirt finished with the same lace and encrustment flowed into a deep chapel train.

Attending the bride was Teresa Holland, maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Beverly McQuarry and First Lieutenant Pam Colla. Serving the groom was John Jabour, best man. Groomsmen were Vincent Luna and Peter Grabowski.

A reception was held at Riddick's Folly in Suffolk.

The couple honeymooned in St. Thomas, U.S. Virgin Islands.

Met Old Friends

I went to a few parties through the summer and saw a few of our old Hicksville friends . . . a couple that went to Hicksville High School—only much later than I did—Lynn (Churnak) and John Murphy were there. (He is an accountant). They have three beautiful children—two girls and a boy . . . Lauren, Chris, and Allison. John's mom still lives in Hicksville. . . . I also met Shorty and Frances (Thomas) Fricke, who are the grandparents of three—two boys and a girl . . . and Lucy Mae (Thomas) McLaughlin who told me that all her children are now married . . . and their sister Margie Cummings is now a four-time grandmother. . . . I also met another couple—Alan and Barbara Frawley. Now there's a handsome looking couple. They look great! Alan's mom still lives in Hicksville too.

Heard From . . .

Received a note from someone without a name or address stating: "Just a note to let Herman Rigby know that Danny Coletta and his wife Helen (Gasser) are living in Cape Coral, Florida . . . and some of Danny's brothers and their wives live there too!"

Editor's Note: Thanks for the information—Herm will be happy to know that.

Anyone Interested???

Local Auxiliary Member Installed as State President

Joan Chwalisz was elected president of the Department of New York Ladies Auxiliary in White Plains, New York in June after progressing through the chairs.

Mrs. Chwalisz joined the Wm. M. Gouse, Jr. Auxiliary #3211 in February, 1964, serving as president of the Auxiliary in 1969-70. Since joining she has been active on all levels. Joan served as Nassau County Council President in 1976-77, District No. 1 President in 1979-80. She has worked as a chairman or officer for the Department since 1972, when then department president, Anna Coons gave her the first department appointment.

She is married to Edmund, a WW. II Veteran who served in the Navy. Joan is the mother of three children and the grand-mother of four.

Mrs. Chwalisz will lead almost 28,000 Auxiliary members who belong to 386 Auxiliaries across the State.

The organization has continually grown over the years. Their motto "Honor the Dead by Helping the Living" is carried out each day by the members volunteering in hospitals and working with hospitalized veterans. They meet their commitments to their communities by working with the youth groups and fostering good citizenship; i.e. Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, 4H Clubs, Junior Girl Units, Campfire Girls, etc.; serving dinners to the homeless, conducting drug awareness programs, etc.

They are constantly reaching for new goals and meeting new challenges. This year they will try to help the Ronald McDonald Houses across the State with donations of money, food and household items, etc.

Take a Bite Out of Crime on Aug. 8

On Aug. 8, the Hicksville Youth Council will sponsor local activities, from 8-10 p.m., in celebration with National Night Out. This nationwide event is designed to heighten crime awareness, demonstrate the effectiveness of community crime prevention and send a message to criminals that our neighborhoods are organized and on the lookout for crime.

All across America people will be demonstrating support by turning on their outside lights, locking up their homes and spending time outdoors with neighbors. The Hicksville Youth Council will also be conducting special events such as red ribbon tying around trees and lampposts, visits by McGuff, the Crime Dog, as well as forming a balloon release at 8 p.m. Organize your neighborhood and join the Hicksville Community and our nation in the fight against crime. For more information about National Night Out, or to volunteer for the balloon release, please call Christine at 822-KIDS.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity.

We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only.

We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

Reconsider Decision

To The Editor:

This letter is being published upon request:
Mr. Mark Cardella, President
Hicksville School Board

Dear Mr. Cardella:

As a parent of a child in the Hicksville School District, I am writing to let you know how disappointed I am about your decision to use This Week instead of the Hicksville Illustrated as the official newspaper for the school district. I don't consider This Week a newspaper; rather it is an advertising supplement. In addition, I live south of Old Country Road and received the So. Hicksville-Levittown issue, which is of no use to me. Furthermore, I don't read This Week. Half the time I don't receive it or it's a few days late or it's very wet. The information in it does not inform the Hicksville resident as to what is going on in the neighborhood. I enjoy Hicksville Illustrated, it is very informative reading. It tells me what is going on in the community and in the school district. Most of the time I find information in the Hicksville Illustrated before I hear it from my child. I feel I can always stay on top of things by reading the Hicksville Illustrated. It is a definite asset to the community.

For whatever reason you decided to use This Week, I think you should reconsider this decision, since so far everyone I have spoken to about this feels the same way. Mistakes can be made, but they can also be corrected. I have a few suggestions that could help you in changing your decision.

1. Put it up for a vote to the Hicksville residents or
2. Send out a survey to the Hicksville residents asking them a very important question: 1. Do you have a child in the Hicksville School and 2. Do you subscribe to the Hicksville Illustrated?

If this can't be done, maybe the Hicksville Illustrated can do it. In my opinion, your decision is a real disservice to the community.
Caroline Murphy

Response To Letter

To The Editor:

In response to the letter from "Name Withheld Upon Request." Those were pretty bold statements from someone who is such a coward that they will not have their name printed. Why don't you want everyone to know who you are? Before you prejudice the new board, think about how little the old board accomplished. It's funny that you heard Mr. Collins say that we should share buses with Westbury, when I myself, and everyone I've spoken to didn't hear him mention any school by name. Another point was your comment that Mr. Cardella stuttered and stammered trying to defend himself. Boy, I wonder if you wear the same meeting as everyone else. I remember it more like Mr. Bennett constantly interrupting him to be more the truth of the matter. I believe Mr. Cardella was very patient with Mr. Bennett and that Mr. Cardella should have been given the same courtesy. It's amazing how many people, after the meeting, spoke of how well he did for his first day as president. As far as childish, I think being childish is when things don't go your way and you write false statements and/or call it a vendetta.

Why is it every time one of the new board members mentions something about saving us taxpayers money, certain old board members put up roadblocks. They don't want to discuss it or look into it. Why? Do they realize that by closing their eyes and ears to every suggestion the new members make, they're only hurting us, the taxpayers? For these reasons, I agree with Mr. Cardella, that the people should have an input on important matters. I don't want to hear from any board member, "they elected us and we are the only ones to have any say in the matter." Those board members who feel that way may not be elected next time. I would think that the people have made that clear over the past few years.

Editorial

Our Main Concern Should Be the Children

Hicksville's parents are justifiably angered by the case of a local school bus driver who was indicted on sexual abuse charges; and many parents have shown their anger to the court. But, now the matter is in the hands of the authorities and we can't let our thirst for justice get in the way of our real obligation—the children.

Clyde Friedman, a certified social worker at Central Nassau Guidance and Counseling Services, Inc., Hicksville, offers these suggestions to protect a child from sexual abuse:

- Find out where your child will be and what type of supervision will be provided.
- If you have a new babysitter, check references.
- If your son or daughter has a new friend who is a few years older, get to know that person.
- Tell your child what to do if someone makes them feel uncomfortable in a situation. "It's okay for the child to scream and run away if someone touches them," Mr. Friedman said.
- Tell your child it's okay to say "No" to someone who tries to touch them.
- Tell your child not to accept anything from a stranger. For example, money or food.
- Tell the child that if anyone (a relative, close friend of the family, bus driver or babysitter) touches them in their private parts to tell their parents immediately.

Mr. Friedman advises that anyone seeking more information call the New York State Department of Child Protective Services at 800-342-3720. They can refer you to a local agency.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

...Since I still live very near to the town where I was born and schooled and grew up, I often have the pleasure of riding around seeing myself at many ages in different areas of the village...There's the school I attended from kindergarten through sixth grade—still looking exactly the same and I can mentally wander through the halls seeing each room and smelling that schooly-blackboard chalky smell...and I see me out there on the playground with my friends who jumped rope and played bounce-the-ball...and there should be—but isn't—the covered bike rack, where I parked my beautiful green Columbia bike when my Mother finally decided I was old enough to ride the three blocks to school...and there's the corner, where, when I was only six, a dog knocked me down and stole my hat and I was afraid of dogs for years after...and then there's the long street down to the junior and senior high school—in the same building in those days...where I walked with my friend, Jane, and talked and talked about boys, of course—and that's the same street where my first steady boyfriend would stop and give me a ride on the bar of his bike—Jane and I understood that it was perfectly all right to leave a girlfriend for a boyfriend!...And there's that high school where I had such a happy school life, taking a part in all the extra-curricular activities (except sports—I even hated gym!)...and there's the church where I went to services and Sunday school—even on Sunday in those days—and where I was married...and then there's the waterfront, where we swam in the little beaches on the canal—before pollution was heard of...and there's the candy store, where we went for sodas after the movies—although all the movie houses have gone—how could it happen?...I drive around slowly—and it has to be by myself—who else, except Jane, would care?

Yours, Lulabelle

Should I Refinance My House?

There is no hotter topic today than "Should I Refinance My House?" Everyone knows that interest rates have fallen and many are stuck economical deal. It will take you too long to recoup your fees, points, surveys, etc. There will be too much up-front payment for too little long-term gain. This is especially true if you have a variable rate mortgage that is pegged to a current interest rate index.

If you do have a variable rate mortgage, it may be paid off with a prepayment penalty. Be sure to note the index to which the rate is tied and be sure to ask what the bank charges above that index.

There are two basic indices: the one-year treasury bill index and the Federal Home Loan Bank Index. Generally the FHLB index is the higher of the two.

Many 15 and 30 year mortgages charge a prepayment penalty if you pay off in advance. It can amount to one or two percent of the unpaid balance, a steep penalty.

In general, you should not refinance with a variable rate mortgage if you intend to stay in your house for at least five years. Refinancing with a fixed rate is better. I base this on my assumption that rates are near the bottom right now and should start to escalate in about 18 months.

I recommend a 30-year mortgage rather than a 15-year mortgage, even though the interest paid is considerably more. Even if you can afford the higher 15-year monthly payments, you have more flexibility, more immediate cash. In addition, if you make one additional prepayment each year, you will pay off a 30-year mortgage in about twenty-one years. Also, you will not lose much of the interest rate deduction on your tax return.

Should you refinance your first mortgage or keep it and seek a second mortgage? This depends on how much mortgage you have, how much you can get, the interest rates of both of these mortgages. I will discuss this next week. In the meantime, here's some homework. Go to the yellow pages and look under "mortgages" and look at the ads in all of the newspapers. You will see how many people want your business and will be willing to lend you money at the best rate.

Vet Center Holds Open House

On Aug. 5, the Long Island Vet Center will commemorate the 25th Anniversary of the beginning of the Vietnam War. Though U.S. involvement in Vietnam began prior to Aug. 5, 1964, the official dates of the Vietnam War are Aug. 5, 1964-May 7, 1975. The Long Island Vet Center is a VA storefront setting, offering free, professional counseling to Vietnam veterans and their families, whose lives remain affected by military service. The Long Island Vet Center has locations in Babylon, Mineola and Westhampton Beach.

The Vet Center, at its primary location of 136 West Main Street, Babylon, L.I., will have an open house from 12 p.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 5, from 12 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. there will be speakers recalling events circa Aug. 5, 1964 and their own eventual experiences with Vietnam. From 2:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m., the Vet Center will display works of art and poetry born out of personal experience with the Vietnam War.

Throughout the day, there will be Vietnam veterans available to speak to about the war and video tapes on the Vietnam War shown. In addition, recorded music from the Vietnam era will be played during the day's activities. Vet Center staff will also be present to provide information on Vet Center Services.

(that's a nice acceptable word for a second mortgage)—or should you do nothing? My experience indicates that if you cannot reduce your mortgage interest rate by 2½ percent or more, it is generally a non-

ROBERT R. McMILLAN'S

Direct Line

A few weeks ago, I actually chased the end of the rainbow. You know that old story that there is always a pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. There will be a little of that in this saga.

Well, it all started as our family car reached one of the last exits of the Long Island Expressway near Riverhead. Straight ahead, I spotted the most glorious rainbow I had ever seen. The reds, blues, and greens were vivid, and the rainbow made a complete arch across the sky. Uniquely, there was a second partial arch slightly above the primary rainbow. The sight was truly breath-taking.

As soon as the rainbow was sighted, a great excitement was generated in the car. My wife, one of my daughters, and two grandchildren, ages six and seven, were all straining to get the best view of this phenomenal scene. At one point, we pulled over and stopped to take a better look. Expressions like, "Oh my" and "Wow" could be heard from all. There were many happy faces as we left the Expressway and onto a highway which took us through a rural area lined with pine trees. Then, the unexpected happened. The end of the rainbow appeared just off the road and into the pine trees about a mile away—with the colors just as vivid.

I thought to myself, "Could we reach the end of the rainbow and actually see where it touches the ground?" There was great anticipation as we proceeded East with everyone keeping his eyes on "our" rainbow. Having fun with the "chase," I told my grandchildren about the pot of gold and how one could be sure to find it at the end of the rainbow.

The excitement built as I asked, "Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could see the end of the rainbow, stop the car, and pick up that pot of gold?" We seemed to be getting closer and the car was now vibrating with expectation—most of which I had caused by the enthusiastic telling of the story. Eager eyes were fastened on the rainbow.

Then, it happened—just as we came off a curve in the road, the end of the rainbow appeared two hundred yards ahead and at the edge of the roadway. It kept getting closer and closer. All of sudden it was immediately in front of us, and we could see exactly where it touched the ground. "Stop the car," someone said. "Maybe we can get the gold," said another. I could not believe what was happening. Every rainbow which I had ever seen before was always far away with the "end" descending to some vague distant point. Here it was, practically sitting on the end of a strikingly colorful mirage. But, as the car moved forward, the rainbow kept its distance. We could not reach the end—not could we touch it. The pot of gold was elusive. What disappointment! We had come so close.

Suddenly, the rainbow disappeared as quickly as it had arrived and reappeared at a place in the sky which seemed to be miles away. Everyone was disillusioned. Explanations were in order. My daughter clearly handled the scientific portion—something about the sun, refraction, reflection, and the rain. But, where was the pot of gold?

For many, life is like chasing that end of the rainbow. We often get close to the "pot of gold"—only to have the objective vanish, just a little beyond our grasp. In our day-to-day lives, we are so busy chasing the fleeting pot of gold that we do not pause long enough to savor the beauty which surrounds us. The next time you see a beautiful rainbow in the sky, why not sit back, relax, and enjoy a great wonder of nature. It is probably best that you just forget the pot of gold. And, besides, the "chase" can be a lot more fun.

The bidding:

East South West North
 1♥ 1♣ Pass 4♠

Opening lead — seven of hearts.

There is a lot of guesswork in bridge, but some of it can be overcome by careful play. Let's assume you're in four spades and West leads a heart. When dummy comes down you see that your only possible losers are a heart, a diamond and two clubs.

You realize that the diamond loser can be eliminated with a successful diamond finesse, and that one of the two club losers can also be rescued if you guess which way to take the two-way club finesse against the jack.

You may therefore feel that the outcome depends largely on whether or not this is your lucky day. But if you consider the matter more thoroughly, you discover that making the contract is an absolute certainty (with correct play), and that it does not matter how the missing cards are divided.

You therefore win the heart lead with the ace, cash the K-A of trumps, and play a heart from dummy. East wins with the jack and presumably returns a low diamond. Now, contrary to all your natural instincts, you go up with the ace, deliberately rejecting the opportunity to finesse the queen!

Of course, there is method to your madness. You refuse the diamond finesse because by doing so you guarantee the contract 100 percent. You next ruff your last heart in dummy and then exit with a diamond.

At this point, it does not matter to you whether East or West wins the trick with the king. The next play is bound to be either a club, which automatically eliminates one of your two potential club losers, or a diamond or heart, which allows you to ruff in dummy as you discard a club from your hand.
