

Residents to Criminals: Stay Out of Hicksville

Residents joined together for National Night Out last week to send the message that Hicksville will not tolerate crime. To get their point across, this community joined thousands of communities across the nation in turning on their outside lights, locking up their homes and spending time outdoors with neighbors. Hicksville's people were also asked by their sponsoring organization, Hicksville Youth Council, to tie red ribbons around trees and lampposts and to sit outside from 8 to 10 p.m.

The Youth Council also sponsored other activities such as a balloon launch and when the Hicksville Fire Department sounded their air sirens at 8 p.m., 1,000 balloons were released by participants at nine different locations.

Also on hand at the festivities was McGruff the Crime Dog who visited with hundreds of children and adults.

Jane Klinser and Rose Coopersmith (8) gear up for the releasing of the balloons.

Bridget Barber, a 24 year resident, could be seen tying red ribbons around almost every tree on Kuhl Avenue.

Board Delays Setting Tax Rate

Hicksville School Board, at its Aug. 8 meeting, voted 4-2 to defer setting the tax rate for the district. On June 21, taxpayers approved a $10,686,710 budget, which called for an estimated $1.54 per hundred increase. The Nassau County Board of Assessors has advised the school board that because of a 2.9 percent increase in the values of construction in Hicksville, the taxpayer-approved budget will call for a .73 per hundred of assessed valuation instead of the aforementioned $1.54, a savings of $.81 per hundred for a total tax rate of 127.48 per hundred instead of the earlier estimated tax rate of 128.29.

However, the school board voted not to set the tax rate at this time. William Hall, Assistant Superintendent for Business Services, had recommended that the board approve the Nassau County Board of Supervisors resolution attesting to the amount of the 1989-90 budget needed to operate the schools and library and the amount to be raised by taxation for 1989-90. The final vote on this recommended resolution saw president Mark Cardella, vice-president Daniel C. MacBride, secretary James Martillo and William Collins voting not to set the tax rate at this time.

Before the board voted, school board trustee William Bennett presented his concerns to the public regarding the consequences of this non-action. He said, "The taxpayers of this district are entitled to an 81 cent reduction on the tax rate" or $800,000. He stated that if the motion were defeated the "community and the taxpayers stand to lose that benefit." He expressed the views that the board of education might use the $800,000 to support a salary increase to the Hicksville Congress of Teachers (HCT), who are currently in negotiations. Their contract expired on June 30.

Mr. Bennett said, "We have sufficient funds in the budget for a suitable salary increase for the teachers in 1989-90 without raiding the 81 cents on the tax rate that [taxpayers] are entitled to. I am urging the board of education to pass the tax rate that you are entitled to."

The Board of Supervisors will meet on Aug. 25 to set tax rates for school districts. Since the Hicksville School Board does not plan to meet until Aug. 30, the district will file for an extension. Failure by the school board to act on this resolution by September would cause the district's tax rate to remain the same as last year's and could add whatever actual tax increases occur to the 1990-91 school tax.

Near the end of the meeting, following a suggestion by former school board member Thomas Nagle, trustee JoAnn Miltenberg asked that a press release be sent regarding the board's decision with regard to postponing the setting of the tax rate.

Superintendent Confirms Board Members' Charges

By Rita Langdon

Hicksville Schools Superintendent has confirmed that a contract proposal presented to the teachers' union by the president of the board of education was not the package which had been approved by the entire board of education, as two board members charged last week.

Contacted by the Hicksville Illustrated News last week, Dr. Catherine Fenton said that on Aug. 3 during negotiations to determine a contract proposal for the Hicksville Congress of Teachers (HCT), at which she, Mr. Cardella, and the district's attorney, Gregory Guercio, were present, Mr. Cardella presented a different HCT proposal from the one the board had seen on Aug. 1.

Mr. Cardella could not be reached for comment. However, in a letter to the editor, published in this issue, Mr. Cardella said, "The salary offer made to the HCT Aug. 3 and accepted by the union on Aug. 4, was in accordance with the recommendations of Dr. Fenton."

But, Dr. Fenton said that at the Aug. 3 meeting, Mr. Cardella presented Mr. Guercio and herself with the original HCT demands, which were given to Mr. Cardella in July instead of the document that was discussed with the full board on Aug. 1. She added that the demands "were not even re-typed" and "so blatantly" represented the HCT's July demands.

According to Dr. Fenton, on Aug. 4, "Mr. [Robert] Zaleski [union president] came in with a document called the HCT Settlement Proposal." It was the same document that Mr. Cardella had given to the attorney and Dr. Fenton but with the heading "HCT Settlement Proposal."

Dr. Fenton said that after Mr. Zaleski gave the document to the negotiating team, he left the room, and "Mark says 'This is what's going to be given to the board. I have four votes for that settlement,'" referring to the board majority. (There are seven members on the board of education). Dr. Fenton added the Mr. Guercio questioned Mr. Cardella saying, "I didn't hear the last part."

Reached by telephone Monday, Mr. Guercio declined to comment.

Dr. Fenton said that the proposal, the HCT Settlement, was never discussed in front of the full board of education. "The board had never voted on that document, so technically, he can't say he had four votes unless [board members] met or talked over the phone," said Dr. Fenton. She added, "I have no knowledge of how he could have made the statement that 'I have four votes.'"

In the letter to the editor, Mr. Cardella also said that "there have been no meetings of School Board Trustees Collins, MacBride, Cardella and Martillo with the HCT, or any other group for that matter."

Dr. Fenton said that, as part of the negotiating team, she had reported to board members Patricia Rooney, Jo Ann Miltenberg and Bill Bennett what had occurred, "that Marks said he had four votes for a settlement."

She added that she told Mr. Cardella she

Parents Ask for Better Communication

Parents addressed the Hicksville School Board at its meeting on Aug. 8 regarding their concerns, questions and demands relating to the arrest of school bus driver Robert Izzo on sexual abuse charges.

In response to resident Donna Martillo's question as to how many board members knew on May 20 of Mr. Izzo's arrest, School Superintendent Dr. Catherine Fenton indicated that all members of the board had received a privileged and confidential memo on that date regarding Mr. Izzo. Dr. Fenton also stated that board procedure is that any items that have to do with personnel are to be privileged and confidential.

Resident Richard Pender read a letter requesting an explanation as to why parents weren't informed of the May 21 arrest of Robert Izzo. Dr. Fenton said she considered the information first received "hearsay" because Harran Bus Co. did not have it in writing and she reported what she knew at that time to the board. After a board member called her saying he recognized the name, a follow-up privileged and confidential memo went to the board.

Mr. Pender asked that the board establish a committee to look into policy changes that would improve school safety. He asked that, among other things, the board consider improving building security by having a security system on each school door, requiring everyone to enter a school by the front door only and requiring visitors to sign in and out at the main office and wear a visitor's I.D. badge, and that the policy be reviewed regarding visitors to the classroom during school hours.

On busing, Mr. Pender asked that mandatory rules be set up regarding bus driver contact with children including no physical contact at any time; no exchange of gifts; no photographs taken by the bus driver; bus drivers cannot accompany children on class trips other than to transport them; a route schedule including times should be provided to parents; buses to be clearly numbered and drivers to wear I.D. badges; matrons to be placed on kindergarten buses; complaints to be responded to within seven days and a complaint form be developed.

In conclusion, Mr. Pender stated that the administration should have used "common sense and informed the community at once ... the board, the administration and parents must work together in the future. We must form a partnership and communicate freely with one another. The entire community will benefit from this cooperation."

President Mark Cardella responded that changes in the board's policy come about through the board's policy committee and board meetings where the community, the administrators and the board come together. Dr. Fenton thanked Mr. Pender for his suggestions, and said that the district was already working on changes, that they would not wait until September because "this is too serious and that would be an affront to you and to us." She said that the district's attorney, Gregory Guercio, had been contacted in connection with language for a new policy, certain repercussions were being looked into and that "we will be very glad to work with you." When a draft of the policy is acceptable to the board, Dr. Fenton said the local newspapers will be asked to print it and a copy will be sent to all parents for their input.

Robert Izzo's Latest Bail Request is Denied As District Attorney Seeks A New Indictment

By A. Anthony Miller

Robert Izzo made another try—in another court—at getting his bail lowered last week. His latest attempt was no more successful than the earlier ones.

And the District Attorney may soon add to his woes with another indictment.

Although Judge Marvin Goodman, who will preside at his trial, fixed bail at $650,000 Aug. 4, Mr. Izzo, the Hicksville school bus driver formally accused of molesting two children and under active investigation for his actions with another 20, has repeatedly sought to have bail set at no more than $150,000.

His attorney, Anthony Capetola of Williston Park, appeared before Justice Patricia Collins in state supreme court Aug. 7 and asked for a habeas corpus writ. He contended in the request that the amount of bail set by Judge Goodman was "excessive and unlawful".

Under state law, Justice Collins could order a hearing only to determine whether Judge Goodman's actions violated the state constitution. Although the hearing was set for Aug. 9, just two days later, word of it quickly reached Hicksville residents, some 28 of whom packed the fourth floor courtroom in Mineola at 11 a.m. when Mr. Izzo was brought in by five court officers, his hands manacled behind him.

In a 20-minute hearing, Mr. Capetola repeated the same arguments he previously presented, and criticized Judge Goodman for allowing a flawed probation report to lead to the conclusion that Mr. Izzo is a "poor parole risk".

Justice Collins wasn't swayed and after hearing assistant district attorney Maureen Riordan explain that some 20 additional allegations are under active investigation by the police and her office, dismissed the writ. Mr. Izzo was returned to the county jail, where he has been held in a separate wing.

In another development, a felony hearing scheduled for Aug. 15, was cancelled. By law, the district attorney may refuse to produce witnesses for such a hearing if he intends to present the case to a grand jury.

Mr. Izzo could make application to exonerate or release the bail of $150,000 in which he is held on that charge. Even if that happens, however, he would still have to post $500,000 bail on the present indictment before he could walk out of jail.

The district attorney's office did not specify when the grand jury would consider additional charges against Mr. Izzo, but a source close to the case said it would be "in the near future."

New Home for Hicksville I.N.N.

By Effie Krogman

The Hicksville I.N.N., which has operated a soup kitchen for the past four years housed in the Parish Hall of Trinity Episcopal Church, is moving into new quarters on Aug. 19.

Starting Aug. 21, Redeemer Lutheran Church (The Church of the Open Door), at 17 New South Road will house the I.N.N. (Interfaith Nutrition Network). Actually, it is much like a "homecoming" since the plans and dreams which resulted in this branch of the Interfaith Nutrition Network were originally instigated by the Rev. Dr. Theodore S. Grant and some of his parishioners in conjunction with the input and cooperation of several other local parishes, institutions and individuals.

The Hicksville I.N.N. has benefitted from donations from many local companies, organizations and churches who are pledged to underwrite the work. Food donations are received daily, and all the work of coordination and food preparation and serving is done by volunteers. The soup kitchen serves between 40 and 50 people each weekday.

In addition to serving a hot meal each noon, each guest who comes to the soup kitchen is given a package of whatever surplus food is available, to help with their daily nourishment.

The Board of Directors of the Hicksville I.N.N. would like to extend their gratitude for the support of the community in the past, and request that any individual or group who wishes to make a donation in the future can do so by addressing the I.N.N. at 17 New South Road, Hicksville. The telephone number there is 98-8693, if anyone has any questions.

The Directors also extend to Trinity Episcopal Church, and its Pastor, the Rev. Dominic Cianella, their thanks for the hospitality which they have extended to the I.N.N. in the past years.

Any interested in volunteering services may also contact the I.N.N. at Redeemer Lutheran Church.

Editor's Note: Mrs. Krogmann is on the I.N.N.'s board of directors.

Training Program for Hearing Impaired Set

Deaf and hearing impaired youth (ages 17-21 years) living in the Towns of Oyster Bay, North Hempstead and The City of Glen Cove are eligible for a new employment training program sponsored by the Town of Oyster Bay's JTPA (Job Training Partnership Act).

A School-to-Work transitional program was developed for hearing impaired youth focusing on the following areas: Vocational Assessment/Evaluation, Job Seeking Skills, Job Readiness Training, Job Development, Placement, On-the-Job Training and Follow-Up Assistance.

This curriculum utilizes a combination of classroom instruction and on-site job training in competitive worksites. Classroom instruction will take place on the campus of Mill Neck Manor School for the Deaf in Mill Neck (Oyster Bay). Classes will begin shortly and will run throughout the school year. Classes will be held twice a week during the late afternoon. There is an open enrollment policy so that individuals can enter the program at any time.

This program is available to JTPA eligible youth who are hearing impaired (40 dB or heavy loss), deaf or multihandicapped. Youth in this program include high school juniors and seniors or out of school youth between the ages of 17-21 years old. For further information, contact: Job Development Program for Deaf Adults, P.O. Box 103, Frost Mill Road, Mill Neck, New York 11765, Tel: 922-3818.

Motor Vehicle Relocates

The Hicksville Motor Vehicle Office relocated to a new building at 415 South Broadway in Hicksville on Monday, Aug. 14. Motor Vehicles Commissioner Patricia B. Adduci said.

The new office will offer full motor vehicle services, including driver written and road tests not available at the old Hicksville office in the Broadway Mall (formerly Mid-Island Plaza). The new office will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays, the same hours as the Broadway Mall office, which will close.

The new office will occupy 23,000 square feet of floor space, compared with 2,000 square feet in the current office. The new office will employ 45 people, compared with 12 in the old office, and will have 10 computer terminals to serve customers, compared with eight at the old office. Driver license applicants will be able to take written tests and make road test appointments at the new Hicksville office, rather than traveling to a DMV office in Westbury, Hempstead or Queens.

Commissioner Adduci noted other steps DMV has taken to improve motor vehicles services in Long Island and the Metropolitan area:

- Establishing and later expanding telephone information services for New York City, and Nassau, Suffolk, Westchester and Rockland Counties.
- Opening new offices in Hempstead, Amityville, Hauppauge and Newburgh, relocating offices in Huntington, Medford, Riverhead and Yonkers, and renovating offices in Manhattan and White Plains.
- Implementing a centralized system to process car registration renewals by mail so local offices can provide better service to customers who must visit a DMV office.
- Streamlining procedures and simplifying forms to make transactions easier.
- Hiring floor aides and part time workers for peak hours, and installing new computer terminals.

"We are pleased to bring a new motor vehicle office and expanded service to Nassau County," Commissioner Adduci said. "In the year ahead, we plan even further improvements by relocating our Westbury office to western Nassau County."

Students Contribute To Less Fortunate

Once again, the students in Holy Trinity Diocesan High School shared their money with those less fortunate. According to Sister Johanna, mission club moderator, $3,867 was collected this year and shared with the Propagation of the Faith. $1,000 of this amount was sent to the victims of the earthquake in Armenia. At Thanksgiving, money and a great deal of food were given to poor families.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity.

We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only.

We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

Hicksville's Best Interest

To The Editor:

As a new trustee, serving only my fourth week on the Board of Education, I am distressed by the articles which appeared in last week's paper which imply that I am "giving away the store to the teachers." In negotiations, I will not answer, at this time, the charges levied because it would violate board trust on the news blackout that the board members "all" agreed to concerning negotiations.

Let me assure you however, that it is my intention to work with the entire board on things that will benefit our school district. I have not rushed into any decisions, nor do I intend to be railroaded into making decisions that are not in Hicksville's best interest.

James Martillo
Trustee, Hicksville School Board

Distortions of Truth

To The Editor:

As president of the Hicksville Congress of Teachers, I have been the chief negotiator for all contracts since 1978.

For the last three contract negotiations, the Board of Education has joined with the HCT in a "news blackout." This practice was started by mutual agreement because both sides felt that the "circus atmosphere" of bargaining in public or in the newspapers was not conducive to reaching a settlement acceptable to both sides.

Last night, Mr. Bennett chose to break his word as a Board Trustee and go back on the agreement.

Today, I read the scandalous article written by Rita Langdon and the two letters of Trustees Miltenberg and Bennett. Both letters and the article are distortions of the truth.

Now that the confidentiality of bargaining has been breached, let me state the following:

Both Mrs. Miltenberg and Mr. Bennett state that the "Board had agreed to grant the teachers a certain percent increase."

This is true. Based upon the recommendation of Dr. Fenton who conducted extensive salary comparisons between Hicksville and all of Nassau County, the School Board voted to accept her recommendation and that recommendation was presented to the HCT by Mr. Guercio, School Board Attorney/Negotiator, Dr. Fenton, and Mr. Cardella on Thursday, August 3rd.

The offer was 7.75 percent for year one, 7.75 percent for year two, and 7.75 percent for year three plus increment. Additionally, there was to be the dropping of a salary step and the addition of a salary step in years one and two of the agreement, as was recently done for District Secretaries and R.N.'s.

On Friday, August 4, 1989, the HCT accepted this salary offer.

We continue to bargain other parts of the contract. The process began in February and we are hopeful of completing talks before school opens.

Over the last several years, Mr. Bennett has seen his hold on the Board of Education slip away as the voters of Hicksville elected people against whom Mr. Bennett campaigned.

Now that both are no longer the majority on the Board, he and Mrs. Miltenberg are trying every means possible to try and sabotage the negotiations for their own personal ends.

I am truly sorry for Mr. Bennett and Mrs. Miltenberg when they feel compelled to resort to such tactics.

In light of the recent secretarial and R.N. settlements, which called for step dropping, and the administrators' settlement which calls for raises in year two in excess of 10 percent for many, the settlement offer made to the HCT and accepted is right on target.

It is regretful that some still treat the world's noblest profession as if it were the world's oldest.

Bob Zaleski, President
Hicksville Congress of Teachers

No Trust In Trustees

To The Editor:

After reading their letters, I do not have trust in School Board Trustees, Bennett or Miltenberg.

Mrs. Miltenberg quotes figures of 11.5, 11.7, and 12.4 totalling 5,093,000. Mr. Bennett quotes figures of 10.4, 10.7, and 10.6 totaling 6,800,000.

Were they at the same meeting? Did they read the same papers? Do they really understand what's going on?

Mr. Bennett, Mrs. Miltenberg—get your act together!

Leave Tax Rate Alone

To The Editor:

After attending last night's School Board meeting and observing Mr. Bennett's near hysterical remarks about the tax rate, and reading his letter in your newspaper, I decided that I would see what the fuss was all about.

Last year, a house assessed at $15,150 generated $1,377.00 in school taxes.

This year, the same house is to be assessed $14,457.00 according to the school budget vote.

Mr. Bennett writes that he is desperate, urgent, embarrassed, and frustrated because he wants to reduce the assessment to $14,155.00.

The difference between what the voters okayed and what Mr. Bennett wants amounts to $42.00 a year or $3.50 a month.

I can't believe that Mr. Bennett could get so hysterical over such a small sum.

I would rather that Mr. Bennett leave the tax rate the voters approved alone and allow the School Board to use the surplus funds to settle the open employee contracts and provide for asbestos abatement rather than hav-

Editorial Speak Now Or . . .

As you can see from some recent news stories and letters, all is not quiet on the board of education front. Some board members have lashed out against others, charging impropriety and questioning their behavior. Just as quickly as the accusations are made, the accused become the accusers.

While it all makes for interesting reading and adds a little spark to normally hazy days, the controversy among the board members may have some far-reaching repercussions and the results may be felt most seriously in the pocketbooks of the Hicksville School District taxpayers.

Unfortunately, since these are the dog days of August, people who would usually take an active role in such school matters may be caught up in savoring the last moments of summer and put off addressing the problem until September. September, however, may be too late.

The board of education will meet again on August 30 at 8:15 p.m. in the Administration Building.

If our recent mail is any indication of what the meeting will be like, and we believe it is, the session will be lively.

Clear your calendar for Aug. 30 and plan to be at the administration building. You elected your school board trustees and they are commissioned to serve you. Since they are having difficulty reaching a common ground, it is your duty to let them know where you, the taxpayer, want that common ground to be.

Next May, when the budget is on the ballot, even your "No" vote will not be enough to undo what is about to be done.

Talk to the board members before they pick up the pens to sign because once the ink is dried, there is no turning back.

See you all Aug. 30.

Facts Misrepresented

To The Editor:

With respect to the letters of Mr. Bennett and Mrs. Miltenberg and the accompanying article on page 1, both School Board trustees and Ms. Langdon have misrepresented the facts.

Fact: The school superintendent recommended a salary offer to the School Board in teacher bargaining.

Fact: A majority of the School Board accepted the recommendations of Dr. Fenton, our educational leader.

Fact: This offer was made to the HCT on August 3, 1989.

Fact: The HCT accepted this offer on August 4, 1989.

Fact: There have been no meetings of School Board Trustees Collins, MacBride, Cardella and Martillo with the HCT, or any other group for that matter.

Fact: The only unethical conduct was that of Mr. Bennett in breaking the news blackout we agreed to with respect to bargaining.

Fact: Mr. Bennett and Mrs. Miltenberg cannot accept Democracy where it functions with results they do not like.

Mark J. Cardella
School Board President

Stop Blaming Unions

To The Editor:

In response to Mrs. JoAnn Miltenberg's letter published in the August 10th edition of the Hicksville Illustrated, the first paragraph states: "We are bought and sold anyway, that's why" and "We have already given away the store, whysop now?" give a good indication of what direction negotiations are headed.

If these statements are true, and I strongly believe they are not, then I conclude that they are referring to the three previous contracts settled this year: Council of Administrators, School Nurses and Secretarial Units. Let us also not forget the Superintendent's salary increase, bringing her a yearly salary of $100,700.00.

All of the above were signed, sealed and voted on before the two new boardmembers you refer to, took office.

Mrs. Miltenberg, let me refresh your memory. You were supported by the same organizations and community members as the "two new board members." Therefore, don't you think it is time to stop blaming unions for everything that you disagree with? A union can only suggest voting for a particular candidate; it is ultimately up to the individual when they close the curtain of the voting booth as to whom they will vote for.

The superintendent does not belong to any union, and you strongly supported her exorbitant salary increase.

I hope I have made my point. We can continue criticizing everyone we disagree with; however, I strongly suggest we get back to the business of educating the children of our community.

Linda Hild

Editor's Note: Ms. Hild is the president of the Hicksville Teachers' Aide Union.

Teacher Negotiations

To The Editor:

After attending the Board of Education meeting on Aug. 8, 1989 and then the very next day receiving my copy of the Hicksville Illustrated News, I feel compelled to write you this letter.

Mr. Bennett, how dare you speak out at a public meeting and then write a letter to a local paper discussing negotiations with a recognized bargaining unit in our district? You must have a very short memory because just a few years ago, when the teacher side unit was involved in negotiations with the district, you forbade Linda Hild, on numerous occasions, from making any statement at a school board meeting if she even mentioned the teacher aides. On every occasion, her statements had absolutely nothing to do with negotiations. Her issue, at that time and presently, is certifying teacher aides and making them teacher assistants. This issue was not part of our negotiations, but you insisted it was and instantly stopped Mrs. Hild from speaking at the microphone. Your reasoning, back then, was that you could not allow any discussion pertaining to negotiations at a public meeting.

How, may I ask, do you explain your changing views?

I was a part of the teacher aide negotiating team at the time, as was Linda Hild. We took our positions very seriously and never spoke about negotiations outside our closed door meetings. We agreed with you that negotiations are private and should never be discussed publicly.

Bill, what happened?

I must say that after I heard you divulge information about private negotiations with the Hicksville Congress of Teachers at the Aug. 8 school board meeting and then reading similar statements in the Aug. 10 issue of the Illustrated, I, for one, have lost all respect for you as a school board trustee.

Betsy Woessner

Appalled at Increase

To The Editor:

Just finished reading your wonderful paper and am appalled by what I read about the proposed teachers' salary increase.

As a taxpaying resident in the Hicksville School District for 22 years, I always thought our school board looked after the interest

The Investor's Corner

By Dr. Joseph P. Frey

We now consider the wisdom of a total refinance with a new first mortgage or taking a second mortgage. Below is a simple method of figuring which is better.

I use some dummy figures to show you how. Substitute your own.

A. Total Refinance:

Mortgage	Rate	Points
$200,000	10.0%	3

B. A Second Mortgage in Addition To Your Present Mortgage:

Dollars	% of total	Rate	2 x 3% pts.
Present mortgage:
150,000	75	7.75%	0
Second mortgage:	75	15%	0.75% avg
1200,000	100%	11.50% avg

Note 1—the percent of total is obtained by dividing the total into the mortgage amount.

Dr. Joseph P. Frey

that is, $50,000 divided by $200,000 and $150,000 divided by $200,000.

Note 2—you multiply the rate, .07, by the percentage; that is, $.07 \times .75 = 0.0525$ or 5.25%. Then divide by 100,000.

The average is obtained by adding the two rates.

Now you can compare the two interest rates. In our illustration, it would be better to refinance totally. I left out of consideration the points, because they have to be prorated annually over the entire life of the loan.

The points should be pro-rated and not taken into immediate consideration because in May, 1988, the IRS re-interpreted a ruling on the immediate deductibility of the points as interest. In the past, if you paid the points in a separate check (rather than reducing the cash received at the closing) you could deduct the points.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

I've been thinking about the first time I rode in an airplane...it was 1954 and I don't remember that I even knew anyone who had flown, except for the fellows who had been in service in World War II...you can imagine how exciting an adventure it was...and it was a long ride—to Holland!...Of course, the plane had propellers—jets were unheard of in 1954—fifteen hours of flying time to Amsterdam—one stop in Gander and one stop at Shannon—planes couldn't carry enough fuel for the entire distance...and the stops were quite long—long enough to get off the plane and walk around—and in Shannon, eat breakfast and have time to go into the gift shop....I was never frightened of flying, so I anticipated the trip with great delight—and in my usual fashion—much planning about how to prepare...read all the travel books on packing for flying—and all emphasized that only forty-four pounds per person was the baggage allowance—and warned that overweight was very expensive...so there were many suggestions on how to manage—carried on coats were not weighed, said the books, so fill all the pockets with whatever is heavy—also umbrellas could be stuffed with some articles—and it suggested dressing in layers—a blouse, a sweater, a jacket, whatever—all to make the suitcase weigh the magical forty-four pounds—I had mine complete with contents on the bathroom scale a dozen times!...and then, they didn't even weigh it....The flight itself was bumpy compared with today's, but not at all scary...and imagine...I was even enchanted by the airline food!...even though I was sitting in the middle of the three seats with my elbows hermetically sealed to my body in order not to disturb those on either side (that has never changed!)....And speaking of getting prepared—all of the books said to coordinate your wardrobe...so I decided to be truly American and everything was red, white or blue...and to my great astonishment, my husband had handed me 100 dollars to buy my wardrobe—and that was the first time in my life I ever had 100 dollars all at once to spend on clothes!...There have been many flights—and many wardrobes—since then—and I can't remember any of them—but I remember every detail of that first flight—and that first wardrobe—so clearly—I can even remember the costume jewelry I took along—and that's the time I started a travel diary, which I have continued to this day—because so many of the funny little things that happen are so wonderful to read when browsing through those diaries...Do you remember your first flight—or are you so young that you were in your baby tumbler when your mother took you to the skies??

Yours, Lulabelle

© 1989 Community Newspapers Inc.

The new rule states that the points must be spread out annually over the life of the mortgage. This significantly changes the tax value of the mortgage points. This applies to refinancing only, not new mortgages on a newly purchased home.

To make matters worse, this ruling was made retroactive to January 1, 1985. Many people will have to redo their 1985 tax return and pay more taxes as a result.

You should now have enough information from this and my first article on refinancing to make an intelligent decision about your own mortgage refinancing plans.

If there are unanswered questions, send them to me in care of this newspaper, I will use them as the basis for another article, or I will answer individually, depending on the volume of requests.

ROBERT R. McMILLAN'S

Direct Line

With approximately thirty seven million people not included under some form of medical insurance, there will, unquestionably, be more debate about national care in the coming months. Some of the early discussion has focused on the Canadian health care system. Looking at just about every indicator in the measurement of a nation's health, from infant mortality to longevity, Canada is far ahead of the United States. And, Canada's national health care system costs forty percent less than the per capita cost in the United States! Doctors in Canada, unlike the United Kingdom, are self-employed. They are not employees of the government even though they have restrictions on their earnings.

There are a number of reasons for lower costs in Canada when compared to the United States. First, the Canadian system is not as readily accessible for more sophisticated and complicated medical procedures. The installation of expensive scanners and x-ray machines is much more restrictive than the United States. But, I am not sure whether the impatience of this country—the requirement that everything be available immediately—would tolerate a Canadian system with some built-in delays.

While there are problems in the delivery of Canadian health care, I have to say, from the first hand experience of my Canadian relatives, that there is a generally good perception of health care in Canada. Health care without charge has been accepted as a part of Canadian culture. A recent survey of public opinion, in the United States and Canada, by MacLean's, a Canadian weekly magazine, found people in Canada overwhelmingly said they had an absolute right to publicly funded health care without regard to income. In the United States, the survey showed that fifty two percent thought the right was absolute. The point is that more and more people in both countries are looking at health care as a government responsibility — just as in education.

How to provide coverage is only part of the health care challenge in the United States. Questions about mandatory national insurance, an expanded Medicaid system, or other form of health care must be coupled with the level of care required. For example, where is the line drawn on who is entitled to a heart transplant or hip replacement? Does each one of us have the right to the same quality of medical care? The ethical and moral answer is obvious. Every American should be entitled to equal access and equal quality. But, the practical aspects of following such a course would be a financial disaster with resources unavailable to meet the demand. Mandating insurance for all workers would create another dilemma. Some small businesses would not be able to stand the added expense.

The competitive impact of health care on the international economic scene is already a factor. Japanese health care per capita costs are less than one half of ours. As a result, it is estimated that every car exported from Japan has a built in price advantage of around two hundred dollars. It is obvious this nation cannot decide health care issues in a vacuum.

The United States will undoubtedly move, over the next several years, to some form of expanded coverage. The real question is how to pay for the poor, the marginally employed and part-time workers? One approach would be to take a hard look at taxing those businesses whose products contribute to disease and illness. The pool of funds created by such taxes could be used to supply health insurance for some who are not covered.

Another approach might be to permit a double tax deduction for small businesses supplying medical benefits. This would mean less economic pressure on the segment of the business community least able to afford an added burden.

While it should be an objective of this nation to supply the highest quality of health care to the broadest cross section of our populace, we must be careful not to deprive doctors and health care institutions of the right to be paid fairly for services. Universal coverage does not have to lead to socialized medicine.

of the people, but it seems a few are after personal recognition.

There are many other things in the budget that need more help than the excessive 11 percent increase for the teachers. I agree for a nominal increase, but 31 percent over 3 years is ridiculous.

I hope other taxpayers would write in and express their feelings. Also would like

Heelan Named Accountant

Gary Heelan of Hicksville has been named senior accountant of E-Z EM, Inc., a leading supplier of diagnostic products for the medical imaging market.

Mr. Heelan joined E-Z EM from the public accounting firm of Marks Shlon and Company in Great Neck, where he served as an accountant.

He is a graduate of Hofstra University in Hempstead with a B.B.A. degree in accounting. Mr. Heelan was certified in May of 1988.

E-Z EM has been headquartered in Westbury for more than a quarter century. The company posted nearly $18 million in sales during its last fiscal year.

New Facilities For Fox

Fox Glass, a major commercial and industrial glazier, located on Bloomingdale Road, has acquired additional fabrication facilities at a site adjacent to its present location on Bloomingdale Road.

The approximately 3500 sq. ft. additional space will be dedicated solely to the fabrication of insulated commercial & industrial glass, and to the manufacture of storefronts.

Steve Stravitz and Richard Kohler opened Fox Glass 15 years ago to service the needs of the growing Long Island economy. Fox Glass currently has other major facilities in New York City and Florida. Additional Florida facilities are planned and should be in operation before the end of 1989.

Legionnaires' Log

By GREG BENNETT
Charles Wagner Post #421, Hicksville

On Saturday Aug. 12, Nassau County American Legion welcomed home its own John Tipping of the Elmont Post. John served as National Vice Commander of the American Legion this past Legion year and served with distinction. John attended Legion events in most of the northeast states and has met with Presidents Reagan and Bush. John Tipping, a Korean War Army vet, is described as a "true bluecap Legionnaire serving all veterans."

Nassau County Executive Tom Gulotta and Comptroller Peter King proclaimed Aug. 12 as John Tipping Day in Nassau County and presented John with a Nassau County flag. National Americanism Chairman Emeritus Dan O'Connor also honored John Tipping and spoke about the need for Americans to return to morality with respect for God and Country. Past Department Commander Calvin Cole of Vermont also attended the dinner. Hicksville Legionnaires Cdr. Howard, PC

Artie Rutz, PC Ray Gamble, PC Lou Braun, PC John Pizos, Adj. Greg Bennett, VC Al Cinotti, Americanism Chairman Dick Evers, PCC Dick Hockbrueckner, Steve Waladyka and auxiliary members proudly attended the John Tipping Dinner.

Aug. 12 was also Salute To Veterans Day at Eisenhower Park in Nassau County. During the evening there was an USO show and an Army National Guard display complete with parachute jump were held in the afternoon. We salute the New York Army National Guard and dedicated officers such as Lt. Larry Rivera of the 71st Infantry in Freeport, who greeted the public and answered questions despite constant rainfall.

Friday, Sept. 15 is POW-MIA Recognition Day with a ceremony to be held at Eisenhower Park at 7:30 p.m. Our nation now has another live sighting report of American POW's alive in Vietnam. Stan Cottrell, a member of the Bill Graham Crusade and a Jaycees "Outstanding Young Man of America" in 1979 stated he observed 20 Americans dressed in fatigues entering camouflaged tunnels north of Hue in early 1988. Cottrell has been hesitant to speak about the POW situation because he has to return to Vietnam to complete filming of a documentary. Again it's time for a national outcry for President Bush to seek a return of our POW-MIA.

Charles A. Wagner Post 421 meets the first and third Mondays of the month at 36 West Village Green at 8 p.m. Be proud that you are an American by displaying the flag at your home and encourage your neighbors to display their's. And pray for the return of our POW-MIA.

Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Gulotta, (right), proclaimed "Rotary International Day" in the County of Nassau at a recently held ceremony at the Harry Chapin Theatre in Eisenhower Park. At the ceremony, which featured a performance by the American Concert Band with Dr. Kirby Jolly, rotary club members are honored in recognition of their outstanding contributions to the community. The Rotary International is a service organization, consisting of worldwide business and professional leaders. With a membership exceeding 1.5 million worldwide, rotarians raise funds to assist senior citizens and young heart patients. In addition, rotarians provide student throughout the community with the largest student exchange program in the world. Accepting the Proclamation was Arthur Pettorino, of the Hicksville-Jericho Rotary Club.

Dog Training Offered

What makes a pet a good family member? The family member who takes the time to teach the pet proper etiquette! For those family members who need a little friendly advice, Bide-A-Wee in Wantagh, along with professional dog trainer Joseph Knapp, can help. Together, they are offering a seven-week, once-a-week training course that covers everything from on-leash obedience training to trouble-shooting various canine behavioral problems. Classes are limited in size to allow for maximum personalized attention and the fee is low-cost.

Bide-A-Wee not only offers dog-training courses, but also a wide range of other services available to the public. Some of these include pet loss grief counseling, animal-facilitated therapy in nursing homes and other health-related facilities and pet memorial parks. And, of course, Bide-A-Wee has many adorable, adoptable dogs, cats, puppies and kittens just waiting to "bring love into your home."

FROM THE DESK OF:

SUPERVISOR DELLIGATTI

Attribute it to the "busman's holiday" principle but, as a Town Supervisor, there are certain things I've come to be constantly aware of. Garbage is one of them. Even when I'm away on vacation, I'm attuned to refuse trucks, recycling projects in other communities and waste related articles in local newspapers.

Since I've heard other Long Island Town Supervisors admit to this, I know I'm not alone. I don't think this is unusual either, considering the fact that being the chief executive of a Long Island municipality today carries with it an automatic, if unofficial, qualification as a trash "expert."

This has also made for a unique kinship among us. Since we are all helping to usher in a new era in solid waste management on Long Island, we know, in the writing of our respective towns' histories, our names will be forever linked to the critical, but unglamorous, issue of garbage.

My trash awareness has affected me as a consumer, and I'm especially conscious of product packaging: i.e., glass versus plastic containers, utilizing recycled material in packaging and the general excess in packaging, usually of a styrofoam nature, that seems to accompany so many products today.

Recently, my wife ordered an item through the mail. When it arrived, we both noted that the carton seemed quite large in relation to the size of the article ordered. Since it was a fragile item, however, we assumed that the extra capacity of the carton was filled with material to protect it in shipping.

As I started to open it, I thought to myself, "this is going to add a whole lot of styrofoam peanuts to our wastestream." The item was indeed tightly and carefully packed in filler material, which had ensured its safe delivery. But instead of the expected styrofoam, the carton contained shredded office waste paper, presumably from the manufacturer.

Whatever the motivation, I was wholly impressed with their initiative, as a concrete example of the cost-effectiveness of recycling. It also proves that, if the American business community would channel its creativity and innovative thinking more towards waste reduction and recycling, the current disposal crisis could be alleviated sooner rather than later.

I don't know whether this company was recycling their waste paper in this manner as a statement of their environmental responsibility, or because it just makes good economic sense to utilize an on-hand commodity that can do the job called for rather than purchasing another material—and cut down on waste disposal costs at the same time.

Better Communication

school year and at the administration building during the summer.

Other Remarks

Jo Ann Broska stated that she felt "blame" "vassally Dr. Fenton's and concluded by stating that she felt Dr. Fenton should resign. Another resident complained about the absence of Dr. Fenton who was on vacation during a major incident in her district.

Another resident stated that he felt the superintendent "made an extremely poor judgment" and asked what the procedure might be to seek a new school superintendent. Mr. Cardella responded "we'll have to look into it and come back with an answer." The district's attorney added that there is no such thing as a procedure for the removal of a superintendent by the community. The procedure, he said, is strictly between the board and superintendent and is a matter of contract.

Resident Steven Voss stated that it was very important that the board and administration understand the depth of the issue. He commented that he thought Mr. Cardella was "somewhat flip" to Mr. Pender after listening to his report on serious concerns. He asked that the board consider a committee to look into what happened. "A mistake was made . . . who was culpable? I don't know that I can agree that Dr. Fenton ought to resign or disappear." However, Mr. Voss added that answers to many questions were important because "every moment from May 21 . . . without receiving help can never be gotten back."

Conclusion

Board members were asked if they had "thought of anything to do since this has happened." William Bennett said on July 27 he sent a memo to Mr. Cardella suggesting the board immediately prepare a policy specifically relating to sex offenses and notification of parents of children involved. He also stated that administrative regulations could be adopted by September while the policy is formally adopted over a three-month period. Daniel MacBride stated that many problems are caused by state regulations and that help is needed from Albany. He also stated that he is willing to sit down with the Policy Committee. James Martillo said there were "mistakes on both sides . . . no one [on the Board or in Administration] took the initiative . . . I believe that once we've established the fact that the person was arrested, I feel the people should be informed." Mr. Collins said "we should take very swift action" to prevent these incidents.

Harran Bus Company

Residents also spoke on complaints made with Harran over several years regarding Mr. Izzo that apparently were not recorded. In response to a question as to whether complaints would be written down in the future, Dr. Fenton responded "definitely."

In response to a request from Lynn Marie Flynn, Dr. Fenton agreed to send a letter to Harran requesting a female bus driver for kindergarteners.

Mr. Gregory Guercio, the district's attorney, said that there is nothing, legally, that prohibits the disclosure of information regarding an arrest for child molestation. In response to a question from resident James Black, Mr. Guercio added that anything beyond "there has been an arrest" would be potentially libelous "and you better make sure that you know for sure that there was an arrest because if there wasn't, even that remark would . . . be libelous . . ."

Board Trustee Jo Ann Miltenberg asked Mr. Guercio if the district could request a bid on a bus matron in the middle of the contract. He replied it was possible and added that some districts have district employees as matrons. As far as volunteers serving as matrons, Mr. Guercio said not without the consent of the bus company and it would have impact on insurance.

School Board Trustee William Collins suggested that the Nassau County Police Department be contacted and that perhaps limited duty officers could be assigned to Hicksville's buses.

Curriculum

Resident Pat Love asked that the board try to implement a program to teach children to protect themselves and how to say no. Dr. Fenton stated that the district has such a program. Mrs. Miltenberg asked for a restructuring of the program. Board Trustee Patricia Rooney mentioned the Operation Safe Child program that has been offered in the district at the option of the building principals.

Policy Manual

In response to a request, the district will prepare additional copies of its policy manual to be loaned to residents. The manual, which must be updated from time to time, will be available at each school during the regular would not sign a stipulation, which is required for a contract to be approved, until she fulfilled her duty to inform all board members of the repercussions of the HCT settlement.

She also said that the HCT Settlement Proposal included a 7.75 percent increase the first year plus 2.65 increment (totaling 10.4), 7.75 percent increase the second year plus 2.95 increment (totaling 10.7), and a 7.75 percent increase the third year plus 2.8 percent increment (totaling 10.55) for teachers' salaries. According to Dr. Fenton, the June budget, which was passed the second time it was submitted to voters, anticipated an 8.3 percent (7 percent plus 1.3 increment) pay raise for 1989-90.

She said, "We don't have the money. It's more than we anticipated. Somebody has to pay for it . . . which means we have to increase the budget."

Dr. Fenton would not disclose the amount of the original percentage agreed upon by the board on Aug. 1 as it was discussed in an executive session, she said.

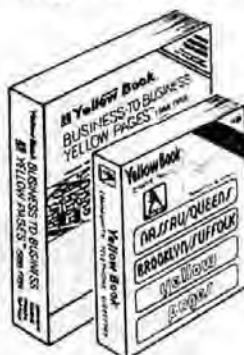

Dr. Fenton said that the entire board did not see Mr. Cardella's revised HCT Settlement Proposal until after the regular school board meeting on Aug. 8. She added that at that meeting the entire board reviewed the document and voted on its contents. She also said that at a meeting with the negotiating team scheduled for Aug. 28, Mr. Zaleski will be updated on the Aug. 8 meeting's outcome and negotiations will continue.

Editor's Note: Mr. Zaleski's comments on this issue can be found on page 10.

meeting regarding the disclosure of information during negotiations with bargaining groups.

Early in the evening, Mr. MacBride asked the district's attorney, Gregory Guercio, if the board had a "news blackout during negotiations." Mr. Guercio replied that "it had been the practice on occasion." When pressed by Mr. MacBride as to whether these particular negotiations with the HCT were operating under a blackout, Mr. Guercio replied "that's a very difficult question to pose to me at a public session." Mr. MacBride proceeded to question Mr. Guercio regarding the ethical implications should a board member break that "blackout, that code, the one thing that holds us together."

Mr. Bennett said that he was "really the subject of that dialogue" between Mr. MacBride and Mr. Guercio.

"I had to make a serious decision," said Mr. Bennett. "I've been on the board for 12 years and I've been involved in negotiations . . . I'm a member of a board where there is limited experience in negotiations . . . I feel that certain board members are too close to the other side of the negotiating table and therefore I feel the community's best interests are not being served."

Mr. Bennett added, "I don't believe in Nassau County or New York State you see double digit salary increases . . . I don't see in New York State the salary package that we have before us that would jeopardize the financial structure of this district." He then referred to the anticipated $6.5 million cost of asbestos removal and stated "we are looking at a salary package of approximately $6.5 million . . . I foresee Hicksville having a budget expenditure in three years [approaching] $60 million dollars if this goes through, I have to follow my conscience." Mr. Bennett said. He added that the language of certain board demands had been "changed by the other side . . . which turned our own demands against us."

At that point, President Cardella asked, "Are we discussing, Mr. Guercio, a little bit too much about negotiations, privileged information, in public?" Mr. Guercio said that "executive session matters include negotiations but statute . . . enables you to discuss those matters exclusively in executive session should the board elect to do so. The board can discuss such matters in public if it wants to. If it doesn't want to, it can implement the negotiations in executive session only. The majority of the board makes that decision."

Mr. Bennett said that the reason he had gone public with this information was because "somebody has to watch out for . . . the taxpayers and I feel the taxpayers are not being served, the educational programs are not being served" and further remarked "that I have every indication that we're ready to come to closure . . . Maybe they'll think twice . . . We have to do what's right for our community."

Mr. MacBride at that point said, "Mr. Bennett, you are a hypocrite . . . you're talking about rushing to closure . . . what side of the board were you on when the old board rammed the superintendent's contract down the throat of this community?" Mr. MacBride added, "I didn't break executive session silence, because my conscience told me to . . . I have some set of moral values."

To which Mr. Bennett replied, "When the people see the results, they'll know whether he's telling the truth . . . you can act one way publicly but you act another way privately."

Regents Results

Mrs. Miltenberg reported on the Hicksville High School comparison of Regents' results for June 1988 and June 1989. She referred to the program that was instituted to give extra help after school in math and science prior to this year's Regents. In sequential math, the percent passing this year was 82 percent compared to 65 percent last year. In earth science, the passing rate was 78 percent compared to 55 percent in 1988. She said, "I would like to see us continue the program . . . to make sure that we have continued success. I think it's a preventative program and . . . the results showed that it worked well." Board Trustee Patricia Rooney also thanked the "parents and students who last summer were disappointed in the results in 1988 and who came forth and who participated by writing letters, phone calls and who were a part of the Curriculum Committee. It came down from Central Administration to the high school principal, to his administrative staff and I'd also like to thank the teachers and the students . . . for the improvement. I hope that this year we can improve the RCT results."

Newspaper Designation

Mrs. Miltenberg read a letter she had written urging that Mr. Cardella, Mr. MacBride, Mr. Martillo and Mr. Collins reconsider their votes eliminating the Hicksville Illustrated as an official newspaper of the district. She stated that "If your intent was to reach more residents by replacing the Hicksville Illustrated by This Week (Pennysaver) that will not be accomplished because This Week does not print legal notices . . . if your intent was to save the district money that will not be accomplished either . . . comparative costs for our legal ads and budget announcements show that Newsday is more than double either of our local papers."

In answer to a question from Mr. Cardella, Mr. Guercio stated that the district must have two newspapers for the purpose of legal notices which must be published as a matter of law. Mr. Guercio remarked that some communities do not have any local newspapers or only one. In that case, as well as when time is a factor and a district cannot wait for a weekly newspaper, districts have used Newsday.

Mr. MacBride commented that he thought a "misconception existed that since the district had dropped the Illustrated as an official newspaper that it would no longer cover district activities. This is not the case," he said. "If the Illustrated chooses to take out their frustration on us that way that's their problem and they're lousy journalists if they do that but just because we're not placing our legal ads doesn't mean they're not going to cover district events."

After receiving figures from Mrs. Miltenberg, Mr. Cardella outlined per line costs for the three papers: Newsday $1.94, Mid-Island Times $1.57, and the Illustrated $0.95. He said that the difference in Newsday was roughly 9 cents per line over the Illustrated and that the difference between the Times and the Illustrated was almost 40 cents. Mr. Martillo questioned the difference in the cost of publishing the budget in the two papers and Mrs. Miltenberg replied that the information is incomplete in that area.

Mr. Bennett said, "The Hicksville Illustrated does a great service to the district during the course of the year . . . I think the question has to be asked, Mr. MacBride, . . . what's the reason for deleting the Hicksville Illustrated News? Certainly you wouldn't attach too much importance on so little cost when we're spending $47 million and we're all set to embark on a $6.5 million package."

Mrs. Miltenberg added that letters had been received from the general public asking for the reinstatement of the Illustrated and that "it was you [Mr. Cardella] who just a month ago said we should listen to the community. So I think we should go to the community and see what they think."

In reply to a question from resident Donna Martillo regarding the length of time the Illustrated had been used by the district, Mr. Bennett said that the Illustrated had merged with the former Mid Island Herald. Mr. MacBride commented "that was before that newspaper moved out of Hicksville and into Mineola."

Several residents, including Cathy Corrado, Norma Goerke and William Kelly, spoke on behalf of the Illustrated. No action, however, was taken by the board.

Board Meeting Locations

School Board Secretary James Martillo suggested that the Board schedule some of its meetings in the elementary schools. He stated that it had been done in the past and it might open the lines of communication between the board and the community. He suggested that the Aug. 30 meeting be held at Willet Avenue. Mrs. Miltenberg said that asbestos removal work going on in the district could interfere with the next meeting's location. Mr. Cardella asked, "How does everybody feel about taking the show on the road?" He indicated that he will check to see what building would be available on Aug. 30 if the Board chooses to go to the elementary schools.

Meeting Times

Mr. Cardella suggested that board meetings begin at 8 p.m. instead of 8:15. Mr.

Bennett asked if the first Executive Session time (used for personnel matters and other confidential items) which now started at 7:30 would be cut into. Mr. Cardella indicated that the first Executive Session could be abolished and that the board could adjourn to executive session during the public meeting if necessary. Mr. Cardella then said that instead of meeting for 45 minutes, the first Executive Session could be cut by 15 minutes.

Mrs. Miltenberg said that last year (1987-88) when board meetings started at 8 p.m., the Board was "reprimanded for coming out late" and that "last July it was changed to 8:15 for that reason because the board did not have enough time to discuss (at Executive Session) what they had to vote on during the general meeting." Mr. Cardella replied that it would "have to be the officers of the board's duty to see that meetings run on a timely fashion." Mrs. Rooney commented that at that evening's Executive Session only three board members were present at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Cardella tabled action on a change of time until the next meeting.

Superintendent's Report

Dr. Fenton commented on help that Congressman Fred Pollio had been in receiving a legislative grant last year for $14,000 and again for this year in the amount of $15,000 with the intent to supplement computer programs. Dr. Fenton then received authorization from the board to go forward with a "Hypermedia" program offered by BOCES, which provides the use of software, video discs and peripherals on a library basis. BOCES will provide workshops and training as well as certain equipment. The District will purchase the computer hardware necessary to drive this system and BOCES will supply the most expensive item, the laser-disc unit.

Award Of Bids

The board approved a total of $640,222 in bids for asbestos abatement for 1988/89. Additional costs are expected in the area of air monitoring and air sampling.

Additionally, the district will receive a return of $5,000 from Ideal Management Services as a result of a re-bid on food management services for 1989/90. Sanitation services were awarded to Star Carting at a cost of $13,151.28.

Other Items

The Board approved (6-1, Mr. Collins voting no) various personnel items and a resolution to hold its Annual Meeting and Election on May 23, 1990 with the following seats being up for election: Daniel C. MacBride, Mark Cardella and Jo Ann Miltenberg.

The Board voted (6-1, Mr. Bennett voting no) to make application to New York State for Excellence in Teaching (E.L.T.) funds. Mr. Bennett commented that the district has accumulated $57,000 in such funds which will rise to $303,000 with this year's grant. He said none of the monies have been distributed because the district and the HCT have not been able to reach agreement. He said that the state intended the money to be used to reward those teachers who excelled or to raise salaries which did not meet the average in an area. He added that some districts use this money to reward good attendance. He said that the HCT wants the money to be used as bonuses for all teachers on top of negotiated salary increases. "I voted in all previous years to get this here money . . . I am not going to vote for the E.L.T. money this year . . . it is not being put to good use."

Public Session

The first public session was dominated by concerned parents from Willet Avenue and other schools with regard to the arrest of Robert Izzo, which is reported separately in this newspaper.

Former board members Daniel Arena and Thomas Nagle commented on the board's decision not to set the tax rate at this time. Mr. Arena said the actual school budget could be $800,000 higher than the one the public voted on. Mr. Nagle commented on the Board's "obligation to tell the people what you are about to do," and urged that the Board "work as a team, you can have discussions, you can have disputes . . . when you vote and those four votes count you jeopardize the whole community."

Cathy Corrado, President of the Burns Avenue PTA, inquired as to a recent Newsday article which stated that the temporaries at Dutch and Burns were to be demolished "to make room for the latest boom; soccer." Mr. Shaw, the District's Director of Facilities, explained that the misquote occurred when he told Newsday that "once the temps were bulldozed there would be grass left approximately the size of a soccer field." In response to Mrs. Corrado's question about when the Burns Avenue temporary would be demolished, Mr. Shaw said it would probably be done by Aug. 31.

Several residents complained about the manner in which the meeting had been conducted. William Kelly said, "If I had a video of [this meeting] . . . I think some of you would be ashamed."

Resident Richard Pender said that "I can't understand the bickering that goes on . . . if you are working toward the interests of the community, you should all get together."

Janet Von Bargen said that "if this school board continues to conduct itself in the antagonistic manner that I witnessed tonight then education in Hicksville is in trouble." Mrs. Von Bargen added that she thought Mr. Martillo's idea to take the school board meetings to the elementary schools was excellent "because the people that vote for names will now be able to connect names with faces." Mr. Kelly also asked that Mr. Cardella inform the public about the content of letters it receives.

Dr. Steven J. Tremaroli, a Hicksville chiropractor, gives a lesson on the importance of straight spine to Mrs. Horvitz's kindergarten class at Robbins Lane School last June.

Hicksville PAL Baseball/Softball News

By Charlotte Anstey

It doesn't seem possible that we're already almost finished with our baseball/softball season. Many times we sat in heat or were chilled or even sat in drizzle, but the weather did not seem to matter while we watched our children.

Umpires

The teenagers and adults who are our umpires deserve a thank you from all of us. They are excellent role models for our children. How fortunate the Hicksville community and Hicksville PAL are to have such exceptional people involved in this program.

Photographs

A reminder to all boys' teams: You are responsible for having a photograph taken of your team. Please list the boys' names on a separate sheet of paper (Do not write on back of photograph) and send it to me at 43 Wishing Lane, Hicksville, New York, 11801.

Publicity

Please send all publicity releases to me at the above address. They can include only one game or as many as you want. I can't put your teams in the paper if you do not send me your publicity sheet.

Games

Girls' Softball Junior Division
July 11	Red Sox 12 Orioles 8
July 18	Red Sox 11 Yankees 8
July 20	Red Sox 23 Angels 4
July 25	Royals 10 Red Sox 1
August 1	Red Sox 17 Angels 10

Red Sox Coaches: Rita Hill and Pat Clarke

Coach Rita Hill said that the Red Sox have gotten off to a good start this summer, as their record of 4 and 1 shows.

On July 18 and July 20, the Red Sox managed to win both games with only 6 and 7 players, respectively. Their fielding and hitting were absolutely phenomenal on those days.

We've had excellent pitching in all games by Christie Pfeiffer, Aubrey Hill and Susan Dalpiaz. Homeruns have been hit by Christie Pfeiffer, Aubrey Hill, Susan Dalpiaz, and Jenise Hamma. On Aug. 1, Janine Rovtar hit two triples. The girls are improving tremendously on their fielding, especially in the infeld.

The names of the players on the team are: Lauren Clarke, Suzan Dalpiaz, Andrea Ferucci, Jenise Hamma, Aubrey Hill, Jill Hilton, Beth Hoffman, Christine Peters, Christie Pfeiffer, Kiera Regan, Janine Rovtar, Suzanne Rovtar, Jessica Smith and Jean-Marie Roben (Coaches Rita Hill and Pat Clarke).

The Coaches wish to thank the parents for all their help getting the girls to practices and games on time and for being wonderful supportive spectators. We also wish to thank the umpires for doing a wonderful job at the games this season. Everyone (girls, coaches, parents and umpires) are having a lot of fun while the girls are learning to play softball, which is the way it should be.

Angels Coaches: Rich Nolan and Joe Panica

On July 26, the Angels and Royals played to a 17-17 tie in an exciting game in which every girl from both teams had at least one hit. The hitting stars for the Angels included Amanda Mahnken, Kristen Anstey, Dawn Power, Rebecca Mutterperl, and Christine Dempsey, all of whom had three hits; as well as Jessica Panica and Kelly McCarthy, who each had two hits. Tabitha Strauss and Stacy Volo each had one hit and provided good fielding.

Coaches comments: It can honestly be said that there were no losers in this game; and most important of all, every girl from both teams had a good time.

On July 27, the Angels defeated the Orioles 8-7 in an exciting game in which the lead changed many times. The Angels won the game with two runs in the bottom of the sixth inning. The Angels got great pitching from Kristen Anstey, who also had three hits, Dawn Power, who also had two hits and four RBI, Amanda Mahnken, who also had played well at second base. The outfield was covered well by Jennifer Nolan, who made a good running catch and also had two hits, Rebecca Mutterperl, who also had two hits, and Christine Nolan. The infield and catcher positions were handled by Kelly McCarthy, Stacy Volo, Catherine Micalizzi and Laura Power on a rotating basis; and all of the girls played well.

Apple Bank to Sponsor Tennis Tournament

Apple Bank for Savings will sponsor the "Apple Bank Pre Open-Open Hardcourt Championships" presented by "News 12 Long Island," from Aug. 19 through 27 as part of its continuing effort to promote sports on Long Island.

Sanctioned by the Eastern Tennis Association (ETA), a member of the United States Tennis Association (USTA), the tournament will be played at the North Hollow Hills Health and Racquet Club in Huntington Station. Mens and womens single and double matches will be featured for prize money totaling $2,000. In addition, a free tennis clinic will be offered to all fans attending the event.

For match and clinic times, call 271-6616. For all other information, contact Leo E. Tedesco at 471-9311.

Kids-For-Kids Baseball/Softball Tournament

By Charlotte Anstey

Saturday, Aug. 26 is a very important date to mark on your calendar. That is the date that the third annual Hicksville Kids-for-Kids Baseball/Softball Tournament will be held. If it is raining moderately, this tournament will be held on Sunday, Aug. 27.

For the second year in a row, the award-winning band, The Sound of Long Island, will be making a stop on their way to Connecticut to entertain the ballplayers, retarded children, dignitaries and the community of Hicksville. Also returning this year will be Hicksville PAL's and Our Lady of Mercy's twirling teams. New entertainment added this year will be provided by the Peggy O'Connor School of Dance, which will be supplying us with a kickline and acrobatics. Next week, we will let you know what sports figures we have coming. Each year these nationally famous athletes have signed autographs, had their picture taken with anyone who asked and have talked to all the ballplayers and the Hicksville community.

If you are planning to attend this all-important tournament, please bring lawn chairs (umbrellas for grandparents) since there is limited seating. Food and drinks will be sold at this tournament.

The tournament will be held at The Abe Levitt Complex, Stewart Avenue and Levittown Parkway, Hicksville. (In the rear of the Dutch Lane School).

The charity we will be donating the money to this year is the Association for the Help of Retarded Children (A.H.R.C.). Each boy and girl who plays in the tournament will have sold 10-12 admission tickets. If you wish to make a direct donation, you can send it to the A.H.R.C., 189 Wheatley Road, Brookville, New York 11545. The Hicksville Baseball Association (HBA) will again donate all proceeds earned from their food shed to this organization.

There will be more than 90 all-star ballplayers this year. All three organizations, Hicksville Baseball Association (HBA), St. Ignatius Catholic Youth Organization (CYO), and the Hicksville Police Athletic League (PAL), spent a lot of time going over their rosters making up these all-star teams.

The following are the line-ups for this tournament:

HBA 12-Year-Old Girls' Team:

Kids for Kids Tournament

On July 24, at St. Ignatius Old School, Gary and I were very happy to host the meeting with Al Caccio. This meeting was to have all the coaches meet and finalize the rules for the tournament. Al Caccio also discussed the agenda for the day. The tournament will take place on Aug. 26, at 1 p.m. (raindate: Aug. 27) at The Abe Levitt Complex, Stewart Avenue and Levittown Parkway, Hicksville, in the rear of Dutch Lane School.

Each child who participates in the tournament will be selling admission tickets at $2 per person. Anyone interested in donating money to the Association For The Retarded Children can do so at the games. If you are unable to attend you can send your donations to: AHRC, 189 Wheatley Road, Brookville, New York 11545.

The directors of C.Y.O. feel very strongly for this Association, we all feel very pleased to have so many healthy children in our organization. We are also very pleased to see our children participate in these games to help support children less fortunate. Please mark your calendars for Aug. 26 and attend the tournament. You will be able to see Hicksville's youth from Hicksville Baseball Association (HBA), Hicksville Police Activity League, (PAL) and St. Ignatius C.Y.O.

The following are our youths who will compete in this tournament.

Sport Physicals

Those students interested in playing sports this school year in the Hicksville School District, must receive a physical exam. Since New York State regulations require the exam by the school district physician, it will be necessary for this examination to take place prior to your first practice session. With this in mind, the following schedule for summer sports physicals has been established: Senior High Participants — Physical Date: Thursday, Aug. 17, 8:30 a.m.; Location: Senior High Health Office.

Middle School Participants — Physical Date: Wednesday, Aug. 20, 8:30 a.m.; Location: Senior High Health Office.

Please be prompt. Failure to report may exclude your participation from the program.

The following is the schedule for practices: Football, Monday, Aug. 21, 8:30 a.m.; Soccerboys, Monday, Aug. 25, 9:00 a.m.; Volleyball, Monday, Aug. 28, 9:00 a.m.; All other sports, Monday, Aug. 28, 8:30 a.m.; Middle School sports, Monday, Sept. 1, 2:45 p.m.

Alumni Lacrosse Players Raise Funds for Scholarship

Town Councilman Tom Clark and Hicksville lacrosse coach of 23 years, Bill (Bear) Meyer, get ready to face off the start of the 1st alumni lacrosse game.

Facing off is Paul Curcio, '74, and Artie Whitmash, '79.

Hicksville High School Alumni held its first Alumni Lacrosse game June 24 to benefit the Steve Meier Scholarship. More than $100 was raised by donations from the players and friends. The game was played by Alumni classes from the early sixties to the late eighties. The odd year's team was the winner by a score of 7 to 4. A buffet was held afterward at Chaplin's in Hicksville for the player's and their families, at which time a plaque was given to Coach Bill (Bear) Meyer, who has coached every lacrosse player who has come out of Hicksville. More than 300 people attended the game to cheer on the somewhat older and slower alumni players. Special thanks to the committee of Peter Humann, Doug Dwyer, Paul Desimone and Tom Campitano for helping me put this game together. Also, thanks to Kevin Harifan, Jim Howell and Rich Millet for donating their time to referee the game and Bob Scuzzillo and Greg Grimmer for taking care of the scoring and clocks. And a note of thanks to Councilman Tom Clark, who helped throw out the first ball. But, most of all, thanks to all of the people who donated their time and money to make this day such a tremendous success. Hoping to see everyone at next year's event.
