Nick Brigandi Seeks District Re-election

Nicholas J. Brigandi, presently serving as secretary of the Board of Water Commissioners, Hicksville Water District, has announced his intention to seek re-election to that board on August 30. He is running unopposed. Mr. Brigandi has been an active member of the community for many years. In addition to his service in water district affairs, he has been a member of the Hicksville Fire Department for 30 years.

Mr. Brigandi is in charge of the Nassau County Garage on Cantiague Roads in the area. He said this is of importance to his supporters because as a result he is always present in the area, readily available and quickly on site should emergencies arise relating to water district matters. He added that this has enabled him to be an active team member of the water board in the past and to be the type of board member that is most desirable to the community during these unsettled times.

Nick has made himself available to community civic groups, the Hicksville Community Council, political groups and those who are interested in hearing the story of water as it applies to the town. This is "home rule at its best" where the responsible local officials are closest to the people and answerable to them in a local election, he said. Mr. Brigandi said that creating panic in the public place, spreading a false story concerning the quality of the water supply can be most damaging to community morale. In the past he has pointed out that lead in drinking water is set at only 5 parts per billion under the proposed standard, as opposed to 1,000 parts per billion, the allowable amount for grapefruit. The amount of temik allowable in the drinking water in which you boil a potato is limited to seven parts per billion. Yet, 1,000 parts per billion of temik are permitted in the potato itself. "Clearly, this is another example of drinking water standards being far more stringent in most cases, than those set for food," Mr. Brigandi said.

Voters in the Hicksville Water District may cast their ballot on Wednesday evening, Aug. 30 between 7 and 10 p.m. at the Main Fire House on East Marie Street, east of Broadway.

Zone Change Granted For Shopping Plaza

The Oyster Bay Town Board has placed 19 restrictive covenants on a change of zone from "H" Industry to "G" General Business granted to Jerry Spiegel and Dawson Holding Company to construct a shopping plaza.

The applicants were seeking a change of zone for the purpose of constructing one-story retail shopping plaza, totalling 147,000 square feet, located at Willis Court/Bloomdale Road and Broadway-Hicksville Road in Hicksville, which is the site of the former Farmer's Market. Following a public hearing on July 19, 1988, the Town Board has granted the change of zone subject to the imposition of 30 covenants and restrictions on the premises.

No certificate of occupancy shall be issued until a "site plan" has been approved by Town Board resolution.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schmidt and Bridal Party

Geraldine Geoffrey Married to John Schmidt

Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Geoffrey of Hicksville have announced the marriage of their daughter Geraldine, to John G. Schmidt of Levittown, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schmidt.

The ceremony took place at Holy Family Roman Catholic Church in Hicksville on April 15.

Gwen Fried, sister of the bride, was matron of honor with Gary Harding serving as best man. The bridesmaids in attendance were Lynn Tatem, Maria Pipolo and Patty Schmidt, sister of the bride. Usheers included Bob Thompson and Patrick Rosenberger.

The bride is a graduate of Queen of the Rosary Academy and is presently employed at Cablevision in Woodbury, as a Designer/Project Coordinator.

The groom is presently employed at Unisys as an Engineering Technician.

After a honeymoon in the Isle of Jamaica, the couple took up residence in Plainview.

Condolences

Our condolences are going to the family of John (Pat) Mensching who died suddenly August 16. Pat and his wife Catherine raised their five children in Hicksville. A 4th Degree Knight, he was very active in the Joseph Barry Council No. 2520.

We were very sorry to hear of his death.

Mary's Gonna' Be A Grandma

Barbara (Dougherty) Beale made a very nice announcement at her future sister-in-law's bridal shower recently, according to Alice Petruzy. She announced that she and her husband Ron are going to make her mother, Mary Dougherty, a grandmother—for the first time. Many of you know Mary...she works in the Hicksville Public Library. Congratulate her next time you see her.

JoAnne's Doing Well

I recently met a lovely young lady—17 year-old JoAnne Bell. She's the daughter of Jessie (who works at the Harvest Diner) and Richard. She's attending BOCES Beauty School in Levittown and says that she loves it. She's going into her second year and is doing very well. Keep up the good work JoAnne.

Speaking of Dean's Lists

We received word from the State University of New York College at Old Westbury that Linda Hackett of Hicksville, a senior majoring in accounting, was recently named to the Spring Semester Honors List.

Erik Scott Fried certainly is a lucky little boy. He has Mildred and Norman Geoffrey for grandparents. They are looking forward to helping him celebrate his fourth birthday on Saturday, August 26th at a party being held at his home in Cranberry, New Jersey. His dad, Elliot, and his mom, Gwen are expecting a playmate for Erik.

The Geoffreys are longtime Hicksville residents. Gwen grew up in Hicksville and graduated from Queen of the Rosary Academy in Amityville.

Newlywed Gerri (Geoffrey) Schmidt, Erik's godmother, is just as excited as Grandma and Grandpa are to help celebrate his birthday. Enjoy—aren't grandchildren 'precious'?

Free Jazz Festival Next Weekend

Jay Fryhover of Hicksville heads up a Task Force of Nassau volunteers who make Long Island's biggest Jazz event happen—the 7th annual Free Isip Jazz Festival. Produced by International Art of Jazz and sponsored by the Town of Isip and Marine Midland Bank, the weekend of jazz will be held on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 26 and 27 at Heckscher State Park, East Isip.

There will be more than 70 artists in 'L.I. Jam' on stage in seven non-stop sets each day. Two major jazz stars will be featured: Illinois Jacquet & His Big Band, on Saturday, and Tony award winner Ruth Brown & Company on Sunday.

So do what the rest of the jazz enthusiasts are doing next weekend—go and relax on a blanket and enjoy five hours of fabulous music each day. For more information call [AI] at (516) 632-6590.

Let's Hear If for the Birthdays

Nancy (Bezzi) Magrini and Karen (Jablonski) Thomas went all through school together and remained best of friends. They recently celebrated their July 3rd and July 25th birthdays by having their husbands take them out to dinner . . . then on Aug. 11th, Karen's son Matthew became 5 years of age and was so excited about having his friends over for a pool party—naturally, it rained—so dad Mark took all the kids to the movies to see Honey, I Shrunk the Kids. . . On August 19th, Tony Weinard had a birthday—which one.

he's not saying . . . and on the 21st both Rosemarie Ciocciari and Vicki McAllister celebrated their mutual birthdays . . . the 21st also made Larissa Budinich a year older. She celebrated her 9th birthday with all her friends' painting t-shirts, eating pizza and hot fudge sundaes . . . On Aug. 23rd Dolly (Ruggiero) DeCicco, George Thomas and Christine Sacco, will be celebrating their birthdays . . . and on August 26th, a great mom—Bernadette Famigletti will be celebrating her big day with her husband Michael and their eight children, their spouses and all her darling grandchildren. Happy birthday to all of you.

Happy Birthday Miss Wessell

We're sending belated happy birthday wishes to Miss Runchild Wessell, from all the alumni of Hicksville High School. Many of you reading this column will remember her and will be pleased to see photos of her elsewhere in this issue. She looks marvelous.

His Grand-dad's So Proud

Received a note from Charlie Montana, Sr. the other day. He writes: "I'm enclosing a photo of our grandson Charles L. Montana III (Chuck) as a Cadet in his first year at West Point, taken when his mom and dad, Patti and Charles, Jr., and his brother Jimmy went to visit him."

Chuck graduated from Chaminade High School and was very pleased to have been appointed to West Point through the recommendation of his Congressman, Mr. Montana continues: "Chuck is now working out with the freshman football trainees and hopes to make the squad. He had a very good football record at Chaminade."

"West Point is such a spectacular place to visit and it is very inspiring to see the corps of cadets in review and to see the type of training they receive. The new cadet class numbers over 1300 and is composed of young men and young women from all 50 states."

P.S. His grandmother Marge is just as proud—as are his mom and dad.

Editor's Note: Wouldn't it be great if he makes the team? Imagine the fun going to West Point to watch him play.

Hicksville Legion Hears Boys State Program Report

Members of the Charles Wagner Post applauded the report and guest appearance of their 1989 American Legion Boys State Program representative at their last meeting. Christopher McCarthy, a junior classman at the Holy Trinity High School, Hicksville told of greatly appreciating the week-long political science program at Cobleskill State College. The youth was elected a County District Attorney as well as being appointed a member of his city's Board of Estimate. An active campaigner in the Legion's great "role-playing" mock government program, Christopher was also elected a State senator.

The outstanding youth, a scholar and athlete, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McCarthy of Levittown. He is the latest in more than 40 years of students from the Hicksville High School and Holy Trinity High to represent the Charles Wagner Post in this nationally acclaimed youth training program.

Christopher McCarthy of Holy Trinity High School is surrounded by admirers from Post 421 who heard their representative at the American Legion Boys State Program report on his successful participation. Legionnaire's Log

By GREG BENNETT

Charles Wagner Post 421, Hicksville

Commander Arlene Howard and Charles Wagner Legionnaires extend the deepest sympathy to the Mensching family as our Comrade John P. Mensching, recently passed away. John Mensching served our nation and defended freedom in World War II and Korea. His service to our nation and community as a legionnaire and member of the Knights of Columbus certainly will be long remembered.

Americanism Chairman Dick Evers reports that Holy Trinity High School junior classman Christopher McCharity recently returned from representing Post 421 at the 1989 American Legion Boys State Program held at Cobleskill State College. The American Legion Boys State and Girls Nation Program is a week-long political science program where students run a "mock government" to learn how democracy operates. Christopher distinguished himself as a County District Attorney and State senator during Boys State. Chris and his mother, Mrs. Jerry McCharity, were special guests at a recent meeting of Charles Wagner Post 421 here in Hicksville.

We ask all citizens to remember that Sept. 12 is POW/MIA Recognition Day with a POW/MIA ceremony hosted by Nassau County at Eisenhower Park at 8 p.m. A candlelight vigil and brief ceremony will be held. For information call the Nassau County Veterans Service Agency at 535-3220. We urge the citizens to attend.

Charles A. Wagner Post 421 meets at 40 West Village Green on the first and third Monday of each month. Remember to fly the flag and never forget our POW/MIA.

This program is targeted at motivating, stimulating, enhancing and enriching the mathematics experience of 25 young women from Nassau and Suffolk Counties.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity.

We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only.

We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

Soup Kitchen

To The Editor:

I believe it was Shakespeare who said: "The pen is mightier than the sword." So be it.

So now Hicksville's main claim to social philanthropy is moving Eastward. Last week it was announced that the Hicksville L.N.N. was moving from one location to another. For over four years, the hungry and homeless have been fed by the L.N.N. in the Parish House of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church. Now it is time to move on, and Redeemer Lutheran Church on New South Road has agreed to allow this good work to continue there. Redeemer is a relatively small congregation with a relatively large outlook and approach to social outreach. God bless them.

Redeemer has housed AA, a day care center, the Boy Scouts, Over-eaters Anonymous, homeless families and individuals and generally speaking has reached out to the community in whatever ways they were able, and, lest anyone believe that, their beneficent efforts were always in the direction of the downtrodden, be it known that the children of the neighborhood have long considered Redeemer's parking lot as an official hockey field, residents of the contiguous community park vehicles in the church parking lot, and it is hard to determine whether the property at the rear of the church is used for a driving range or a canine bathroom. And welcome.

The fact that the L.N.N. (Interfaith Nutrition Network) was moving from Trinity to Redeemer was not a carefully kept secret. Announcement was made at several public meetings, and anyone who heard about the move did not hear a "rumor" - they heard a "fact." Articles were sent to all the local newspapers two weeks ago -- and were published in the most recent issues.

While it is true that citizens have a "right" to know what is being done with public property - there is no obligation of a property owner to consult his neighbor about every event that is going to take place on that property.

Hicksville residents -- or at least some of them -- believe that somehow Hicksville has miraculously escaped the blight of homeless and hungry people. This phenomena is happening everywhere else, but if there are hungry and homeless in Hicksville, "they must be from the city." Wake up, Hicksville! They're here -- right in our midst. And on the way to mail a ten dollar bill to ease our conscience about the big-bellied children we see from far off land on the Television -- we trip over the same kind of people on our own doorstep. What hypocrisy!!

The people who are concerned enough to keep the L.N.N. going are giving enough of themselves - their time and their talents and their assets so that they do not deserve to be maligned by unthinking individuals who are only concerned about themselves and their "possessions." I have personally been called by several of Hicksville's good people, and have actually been threatened by them. Their main problem seems to be the fact that I no longer live in Hicksville. True, I lived in Hicksville for thirty-eight years, and have been in business here for over thirty, I have paid my dues and made my contribution in public service to the community which I will match against anyone else. My business is here. I pay rent here. Some of the people hate me because I usually say what I think -- and have the courage of my convictions. And it takes plenty of courage these days!

As one concerned individual remarked, the social needs of the community should really be the obligation of the government. So far our government has not, shall we say, "risen to the occasion." And so the churches have. Does anyone really believe that the people who are fed at the L.N.N. would not change places anytime with the complaining people of the community who are somehow better off, and don't go to bed with an empty stomach?

When the homeless man named "Reuben," whom everyone remembers, I'm sure, was killed in an accident -- there was a community outpouring which warmed everyone's heart. It seemed that somehow there really was "love" out there. Do the homeless and hungry have to die before we shed our crocodile tears and murmur over and over again, "we loved them, we really loved them." To those who really need our help, for today I'll say, "there are some of us who love you, and some of us who don't. We all know who said "they know not what they do."

Bad Politics

To The Editor:

After reading the lengthy article, ("Superintendent Confirms Board Members' Charges"), printed in the Hicksville Illustrated, I conclude that the controversy revolves around a meeting attended by: Dr. Fenton, (Superintendent of Schools), Mr. Gregory Guercio, (School District Attorney), and Mr. Mark Cardella, (President of the Hicksville Board of Education).

As I understand it, this meeting was held to discuss teacher contract negotiations. At a certain point in the meeting, using a quote from the Superintendent's article, (Mark says, "That is what's going to be given to the board. I have four votes for a settlement.")

If I am correct, this quote is what the turmoil is all about.

Having been personally involved on numerous occasions in meetings of this nature, this appears to me to be a statement that was provoked and made out of frustration. For people who have been involved in negotiations, this is neither shocking nor disturbing. We could all tell some pretty wild stories about, "closed door meetings." I tend to believe that this statement has been taken out of context for political reasons, since I am not privy to the entire dialogue that took place.

Why an immediate breach of the confidential policy law by two Board members and the Superintendent?

Why an immediate rush to the newspapers without discussion with all Board members?

Why did the Superintendent choose to single out Mr. Bennett, Mrs. Miltenberg and Mrs. Rooney, when in her statement she reminds all of us that we have a seven member board?

Why attempt to incite an entire community when the answer was a phone call away?

On many occasions, I have been prohibited from speaking at the Public Session of the Board of Education meetings. Mr. Bennett, then Board President, declared that what I was addressing was confidential in nature and part of negotiations, when in fact, it was not.

In light of the fact that this incident was, without a doubt, part of negotiations, New York State School Law, as well as Hicksville School District policy pertaining to confidential information, have been violated.

In my opinion, there is no justification for the hysterical breach of the confidential law/policy, since teacher contract negotiations are still in progress.

Ethically speaking, if I have to abide by the rules as interpreted by the School Board, then so does everyone else. I firmly believe, "what is good for one is good for all." Firm action must be taken for this violation.

This matter appears to be an attempt to sabotage the new board and an example of very bad politics.

Homeowner and taxpayer

Qualified For Office

To The Editor:

In their letters, Mrs. Miltenberg and Mr. Bennett make a big deal out of the fact that Mr. Cardella and myself live without parents and do not own homes in Hicksville.

For the record, Mr. Bennett, State law provides that School Board Trustees must be residents, not homeowners. Therefore, both Mr. Cardella and myself are qualified to run and hold office.

For the record, Mrs. Miltenberg, you state that you are "a homeowner and taxpayer." What you fail to mention is that you were neither a taxpayer nor a homeowner in Hicksville when you were elected School Trustee. You only became a homeowner in March of this year.

You accused Mr. Cardella and myself of not paying taxes in Hicksville, yet you never asked us if we contributed to our respective households.

How, then, can you expect anyone to believe that you pay the taxes on your mother-in-law's house?

Daniel MacBride,
Vice-president
Board of Education
Mark J. Cardella,
President.

Teacher Negotiations

To The Editor:

Mrs. Loraine O'Neill's letter in "Letters from Our Readers" made a very interesting observation, why are my percentages and figures different than Mrs. Miltenberg's?

To begin with my percentage of 10.4, 10.7, 10.6 refer to the salary increases of the teachers, that you the tax-payers will be paying, if this agreement is approved. Mrs. Miltenberg was referring to the entire "Salary Package" namely, 11.5, 11.7 and 12.4 percent and that includes the costs of Inservice courses, Evening H.S., Adult Ed., Dental Insurance, extra-Curricular, Coaches salaries, etc., these costs are over and above the costs of salaries, that you must pay for. Totaling 6.8 million, or 35.6 percent for the entire package.

Mr. Zaleski's letter, "Distortions of Truth" that appeared alongside yours, Mrs. O'Neill states that "The offer was 7.75 percent for year one, 7.75 percent for year two, and 7.75 percent for year three plus increment." (THE INCREMENT is 2.8 percent. Mr. Zaleski.)

Now that's tricky, since the 7.75 percent is placed on a very complicated Teacher Salary Schedule, where steps and latitudes are involved, and that 7.75 percent generates a percentage salary increase from 10.3 percent up to 18.0 percent. The only one getting a 7.75 percent is the teacher on the "first step" and we haven't any on that step. When you add up all the teacher salary increases (360 teachers) it totals 10.4, 10.7 and 10.6 percent including increment. If you think this is confusing Mrs. O'Neill, just think how "CONFUSED" our inexperienced Board members are, and they APPROVED IT.

Oh, yes, one more point, Dr. Fenton did not recommend this Salary Package, as Mr. Zaleski and Mr. Cardella contend. It was produced as a "see what if . . ." proposal, and the Board Majority of Mr. Cardella, Mr. MacBride, Mr. Collins and Mr. Martillo changed "what if" to "LET'S DO IT."

And may I make this point CLEAR, I did not violate executive session confidentiality, ONLY the document, that Mr. Cardella said he had the four votes on, as stated in the presence of Dr. Fenton and Mr. Guercio, and that document was the HCT SETTLEMENT PROPOSAL, which the entire Board did not discuss, prior to August 4, 1989.

The question should be asked Mrs. O'Neill, when and how did Mr. Cardella secure the four votes he said he had on August 4?

Bill Bennett
Trustee Board of Education

Questions UnAnswered

To The Editor:

This is in response to Jo Ann Miltenberg and Bill Bennett's letters and Catherine Fenton's non-response to an important question the people had asked about the Robert Izzo issue.

The first sentence of Mrs. Miltenberg's letter states, "In June, innuendos circulated about two new board members being supported by the teacher's union." The facts are:

1) over 300 people had shown their support of which only a fraction work for the school district.

2) 2,222 people voted for Bill Collins giving him 61 percent of the vote. Mrs. Wolf received 1404 votes giving her only 39 percent.

3) Mr. Martillo received 1747 votes giving him 47.5 percent. Mr. McGovern received 1217 votes giving him 33 percent. Mr. Schwartz received 708 votes giving him 19 percent. I would think with these figures, there is no question that the people are the reason Collins and Martillo are in office—not the teachers.

Mrs. Miltenberg and Mr. Bennett state that certain board members have negotiated a package with the HCT. If that were true, why then do they have totally different figures? Mrs. Miltenberg's 11.5, 11.7 and 12.4 percent totaling 15,093,900 over a three year period. Mr. Bennett's 10.4, 10.7, and 10.6 totaling 16,800,000. Figures out of thin air! Maybe a smoke screen to take the heat off the Robert Izzo issue?

That brings me to Catherine Fenton. You never answered the question why you kept the Izzo issue quiet. You stated that you followed procedures dealing with personal matters. However, when it was mentioned that Mr. Izzo was not an employee of the school district, but an employee of Harlan Bus Co., you still did not answer an important question. Why were you keeping the matter quiet about an non-employee? I would think with the high salaries our administrators are getting (taxpayer money), whose contracts were given by the old board members (18 months early), that someone could give us an answer to the question.

A Letter from Lulubelle...

...Do you have up in your attic a big box all filled with the papers and "master-pieces" your kids did in school—the ones you probably put on the refrigerator?...My box in the attic is an ancient suitcase full of marvelous things—there's the kindergarten silhouette of older daughter, complete with pixie nose and pigtail—it's white and pasted on red paper and it's enchanting...Daughter number two had a teacher with a different idea and hers is a handprint with all the little fingers showing promise of how long and beautiful they would be one day....And surely you must have some of those portraits of "mommy"—a round circle for a head—maybe curls—no neck—arms straight out from the sides—a triangle for a nose and king sized eyes...Everyone has one of them...And as for landscapes—there's the large sun complete with rays in all directions shining brightly over a tiny house with a crooked chimney and a car in front that looks like a box on saucers...All kids did that one...Further along we have the special things the art teachers planned...a design completely covered with crayon, then turned onto a sheet of newspaper and pressed from the back to make the wax run together and the whole resemble a lovely stained glass window...or how about a linoleum block, painstakingly carved out with exacto knives and then printed by standing on the back of the block as it transferred the design to cloth or paper...Later on, my kids were keen to try oils and they painted their friends and even the friends they made in books or comics—such as Bullwinkle...and these are so delightful that I have them framed and placed on the wall of the basement play room...The grown up kids pretend to be embarrassed, but I think that they are secretly pleased!!!...If you want to relive the fun of your children's growing up, get out that old box from the attic—and chuckle.

ROBERT R. McMILLAN'S

Direct Line

We have not heard much lately about El Salvador. This Central American country, about the size of Massachusetts, had been constant front page news for the last ten years. But, where have the headlines gone? What is happening today in that small country on the Pacific Oceanside of Central America? Well, first of all, the guerrillas are still there and fighting. While their numbers have dwindled somewhat, experts estimate that about eight thousand remain in the countryside. And, they are certainly not there on a vacation!

El Salvador, with the full support of the United States, has been holding off foreign-backed guerrillas since the late seventies. The history of El Salvador has been of one revolution after another. Violence has been a way of life—a hallmark of any change in power or attempt to overthrow established governments. Violence often flowed from the right and left with moderates always caught in the crossfire.

Lately, the moderates and nonextremists elements on the right have held power. They do so with real mandates from the people. El Salvadorans, so long deprived of the right to elect their leaders, vote in very high numbers. A turnout of seventy-five percent and more of those eligible to vote is not uncommon—with many voting in defiance of pressure from the leftist guerrillas who dominate a portion of the countryside.

With this background in mind, I decided to check with the State Department, the House Foreign Affairs Committee, and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to find out just who has been providing support for the guerrillas? Our support for the contras in nearby Nicaragua is well documented. It has been on the front pages and prime time regularly—but not so with regard to support of El Salvadorian communist insurgents. I was shocked about the unclear and hesitant answers I received.

The State Department, in a low key fashion, said the arms were probably coming from Cuba and Nicaragua. "Probably," I asked? How could they be so unsure after nearly ten years? Does anyone care? The responses were equally vague from the House and Senate Committee spokespersons. Here we have guerrillas operating to overthrow a friendly country in critical Central America, and we are not absolutely clear who should be held responsible for supplying the arms. Why not? Why has the Congress not spent as much money to answer this question as it did to persecute Ollie North? Central America is not Vietnam. It is vital to the interests of the United States, and we should know clearly where the support for guerrillas is coming from. Now, the Central American Presidents have called for an end to all support for the contras in Nicaragua—without a similar ban in El Salvador. That is ridiculous.

There is no doubt in my mind that a large portion of the supplies for the leftist guerrillas in El Salvador comes secretly from Cuba and Nicaragua. Weapons are supplied by Russia and other East Block nations and reshipped to El Salvador. While "glasnost" and "perestroika" are the public relations catch words of Mikhail Gorbachev, his surrogates in the Western Hemisphere are exporting materials to perpetuate a continuing destabilization of the region.

Now, I see that this same Soviet Union wants U.S. dollars to bolster its faltering economy. The Administration may soon have to decide whether our banks should make loans to Russia. From my view, it makes no sense to allow banks to loan money to the Soviet Union while Russia continues to undermine democracy and the interests of the United States in Central America.

Even though reported figures show that Russian military aid for Nicaragua has been somewhat reduced over last year, the Soviet Union maintains a significant presence in Cuba and Central America. Unless this military presence is eliminated, not one dollar should be loaned to the Soviet Union. To do so, would be to ignore reality, sacrifice principle, and jeopardize our security.

Questions and opinions may be addressed to Mr. McMillan, Anton Community Newspapers, 132 East Second Street, Mineola, NY 11501.

A Letter to Lulubelle...

Dear Lulubelle,

Here's a topic for you:

What has happened to the wash clothes line one used to see Monday mornings? Nowadays, there is no set "Wash Day". Clothes flapping in the gentle wind and sunshine—mmm, what a beautiful smell, feel and look of your clothes. No washer detergents with added aromas can compare with the outdoor fresh smell.

I must be of the minority (65 years old) that still hangs out wash, weather permitting. I still go to business three days a week and still manage to hang out the wash. I get sunlight and fresh air for my health, converse with my neighbors for a little chat and can enjoy the outdoors.

Don't misunderstand, dryers do have their pluses, especially in humid weather and fluffing up wash and wears. One must not only think of the convenience of a dryer, but when not in use, think of the precious energy we've saved and the money saved on utility bills.

I'm not a writer, Lulubelle. If you can use it, be my guest! I do enjoy your column.

A happy reader,
Marie Lemiszki
Floral Park

The Investor's Corner

By Dr. Joseph P. Frey

an investment that is a nice place to live; rather, he sees the cooperative apartment as a nice place to live which may also be a very good investment. There is a vast difference in point of view.

For our writer, the answer is pay cash, live debt-free.

A mortgage, borrowed investment money, enables us to use leverage to maximize the return on our investment. Rule No. 6 of my book, "How to get rich and keep it, too," says the most powerful weapon is other people's money. This increases your investment return. It also presupposes that you have other investment alternatives for the cash.

Our letter writer is most fortunate that he has accumulated the cash for the co-op purchase. If I assume that he is in his late thirties, then I suggest that if he had accumulated a down payment ten years ago and purchased a home with a mortgage, wealth-wise, he would be better off today.

For most people the mortgage is the only way to own a house. In fact, many young people scrape together the down payment with considerable help from the family.

My consistent advice to my students is to buy a two or three family house and let the rentals pay the mortgage. Then, after several years, take out a new or second mortgage to make the down payment on the second multiple family residence, living in part of the second and renting the entire first. Continue the process until, eight or nine years down the road, you purchase your dream house with your income from your investments.

I learned this from a co-worker thirty years ago—his job never paid more than $25,000 to $30,000 a year ever. When his wife inherited $10,000 they used the money to buy a west side New York brownstone. They used what is known as "sweat equity", i.e., they painted and plastered at night. They rented apartments and lived there also. They repeated their investing and financed more brownstones. By the time, they were in their early forties, they owned thirteen New York City brownstones. Today they live in their dream house, a Park Avenue cooperative, and they are very wealthy.

So the answer to my letter writer is that in the investment world, right and wrong are very subjective and personal. Each of us must decide what is our investment comfort level.

No Need To Fear College Costs

Many college-age students and their parents have been frightened by news articles about rising tuition. Their fears may be unwarranted, according to Nancy Fadem, Admissions Director at Briarcliffe College for Business.

"There is a lot more money available to help pay tuition than most people seem to think," says Fadem. Financial aid makes it possible for some students to attend private colleges like Briarcliffe without spending any of their own money on tuition. Federal and state grants alone can cover as much as $5,950 of college expenses.

There is even more money available than that. Briarcliffe has established academic scholarships for students who have excelled in high school, and need-based scholarships for those whose personal financial circumstances would prevent them from attending college. "We want to help every student who wants an education to get one. Money should not have to stand in the way," says Fadem.

In the cases of students whose family incomes may be too high to qualify for grants, there are deferred payment student loans available. With student loans, the students do not need to begin repayment until after they finish school. Depending upon the amount borrowed, monthly payments can be less than sixty dollars a month.

Why is this money available? Robin Masters, Briarcliffe's Career Development Counselor says the government is making an investment in the future. "The lawmakers who create the budgets for college financial aid know the value of a business degree. Our graduates make more money and as a result pay more taxes during their careers. It's a good deal for students and for America," Masters adds.

that the demand for business college graduates is very high.

Briarcliffe's commitment to helping students go to college goes beyond their own students. For years they have been providing financial aid counseling to family members of students enrolled at Briarcliffe. Under a new program just announced by college president Richard Turan, free financial aid counseling will be provided to all members of the community.

For information about free financial aid counseling for any of Briarcliffe's programs call the admissions office at (516) 681-1100.

Just Wee Two

Mommies and Children Together

"Where did today's active toddlers make their own holiday gifts this year? Many toddlers and their mommies (or daddies) are making clowns, pumpkins, bunnies, big birds, etc. at Just Wee Two classes. They are also singing, playing, and having lots of fun together."

"Our mommies and children love the small classes and relaxed social atmosphere in which they can paint, paste, glue, glitter, do musical activities, listen to stories, and interact with other mommies and children. Over the past six years, the response has been overwhelming," say the directors, Helen Beck and Ruth Broitman. "Our classes are filled with mothers who are looking for constructive, quality time to spend with their infants and toddlers."

Just Wee Two classes are designed for children from 7 months to three-and-a-half years. Under the direction of caring and highly qualified teachers, classes meet once a week for one-and-a-half hours. Each class is limited to ten mothers and ten children, which enable each child to participate and receive special attention from the teacher.

Classes are held on Mondays thru Fridays at six locations in Nassau, Suffolk, Queens and Brooklyn. To accommodate working parents, Saturday classes are also available.

Take this opportunity to share a very special experience with your child. Call 516-433-0003.

Dentistry for Children,

By Douglas Pollack, D.D.S.

The Summer of '89 will soon be a fond memory of your children smiling when they caught your eye on visiting day at camp, or when they showed off on a bicycle or cooled off in the swimming pool.

As we look forward to the fall, there are other pleasures in store. Hopefully, the good news of "No Cavities" during a back-to-school dental check-up will be one of them.

Here are some tips that may help the good news continue all year long:

Nutritious Snacking

The mother of two sons from Roslyn asks: "I'm a working mom and need some suggestions for tasty, quick, healthy snacks that won't cause decay."

Dr. Pollack — This is actually a difficult issue. Some children seem to consume massive quantities of chocolate chip cookies, gummy bears, bubble gum and potato chips every day and never have tooth decay. Nevertheless, here are some nutritionally sound selections unlikely to promote decay:

popcorn	Jarlsberg cheese
carrot sticks	melon slices
cubes of cheddar	slices of turkey or celery sticks	roast beef
	fresh peaches

Preventing Decay

An expectant mother from Port Washington with a six-year-old girl asks: How can I give my children the fluoride protection not found in Long Island's water or in spring water?

Your Baby's Teeth

A woman from Great Neck is curious: "When should my child have his first visit to the dentist?"

Dr. Pollack — This is an excellent question, and the answer may surprise you. Until recent years, tradition in pediatric dentistry has recommended that a child's first visit occur at three years of age. This was related to the child's ability to cooperate in the dental setting.

Although the prevalence of dental disease in children is decreasing, infants and toddlers do still experience dental disease. Therefore, many pediatric dentists recommend that a child's first visit to the dentist should occur no later than 12 months of age. The dentist can then evaluate the infant's oral health, prevent potential problems such as nursing caries and educate parents in the prevention of dental disease in their child.

Dr. Douglas Pollack is the Pediatric Dentist at the Sea Cliff Heath Center Located At: 216 Sea Cliff Avenue, Sea Cliff, N.Y., 11579, (516) 676-8148. He will be glad to examine your child and answer your family's dental questions.

NJL College Preparations SAT Tips & Traps

The SAT's will be given again on Saturday, November 4. This is generally the last time that seniors will be able to take this all important exam.

NJL College Preparation, 880 Willis Avenue, Albertson, N.Y., offers some valuable tips taking the SAT.

- DO NOT answer all the questions on the test. Unlike school exams, you are penalized for wrong answers and not penalized for omissions. Thus, unless you are reasonably sure of the correct response, omit the question.

In general, math questions go from easy to medium to hard within each math section. Stop at an appropriate question and review your work instead of trying to complete the entire test.

- Bring gum and candy for energy during the test.

- Go to bed early the night before the test and eat breakfast that morning.

NJL College Preparation offers private, semi-private and small group instruction for the PSAT and the SAT. There are three locations for your convenience:

Roslyn/Albertson

Bellmore/Massapequa

Plainview/Old Bethpage

NJL College Preparation also offers a full spectrum of services, including achievement preparation in all subject areas and tutoring for all high school and college courses. In addition, services are now available for the elementary school student as well. For further information, call Dr. Levy at: (516) 741-3550.

Can You Succeed in Business Without an MBA?

Many college bound, and about-to-graduate students, look at their potential in the business world and feel that an MBA is absolutely necessary. The Graduate Management Admission Council is holding a series of MBA forums to help individuals determine whether a graduate degree is really necessary to their career goals, and, if so, to help them identify continued on page 5a tify which business schools would best fulfill their advanced education goals.

A recent study commissioned by the U.S. Department of Labor indicates that between now and the year 2000, the economy will become more global, more technically advanced, demanding higher education and higher skill levels. It also points to an older workforce which contains more females and greater ethnic balance.

According to Susan McTiernan, Director of Hofstra University's MBA Program, "MBAs are better equipped to meet the divergent needs and resources of the marketplace, an ability greatly valued in today's highly complex service oriented society."

To inform and direct the potential MBA candidate, the 1989 MBA Forums will offer an opportunity for individuals to meet representatives of more than 100 national and international colleges and universities during two days of sessions at the Omni Park Central Hotel, 7th Avenue & 56th Street, New York City.

Forums will be held on Friday, October 6, between 2:00 pm and 8:00 pm, and Saturday, October 7, between 10:00 am and 4:00 pm. There will be workshops and panels, and topics include "The MBA and You," "MBA Careers," and "Doctoral Programs." Panels will be headed by education and career experts in admissions, curricula, career planning and job search strategies. Workshops will last one hour and there will be ample question and answer time. A $5.00 daily registration will cover all activities.

St. Edward Confessor School

September 1989 marks the 28th year that St. Edward opens its doors to those seeking a viable Christian alternative to education. We are happy to announce that St. Edward School is alive and well, and extremely proud of its accomplishments.

Administration, Faculty and Staff

The present principal of St. Edward possesses a Masters degree in Education as well as a Masters degree in School Counseling, coupled with permanent New York State certification in Administration and Supervision. Two efficient administrative assistants provide the necessary support for a well organized school office.

There are ten full time faculty members, all of whom possess or are completing a Masters degree in education. In addition, a librarian, a part time first grade reading teacher, a part time resource room teacher, a full time certified health educator, a part time music teacher, and a part time physical education teacher complete our professional staff. A speech therapist, school psychologist and school nurse are provided by the Syosset School District.

This combination of personnel in conjunction with the supportive leadership of our pastor, Fr. Martin and our parish priests, provide a total personal development for each child.

Our School board and Parents Association provide an effective channel of ongoing communication and support.

St. Edward School's teachers view their work as both a career and a ministry. The teachers' visible respect for each student, their confidence in each child's abilities, and their genuine concern consciously sets a standard for relationships among classmates.

In the classroom, each child receives personal, one-on-one attention to more fully develop his or her intelligence and creativity. Each child's life is enriched by the planned integration of religious and social values within daily school activities.

Curriculum

Curriculum in St. Edward emphasizes religion, mathematics, science, English, social studies, and foreign languages. These core subjects offer each child in-

Strolling through hicksville in the Early '40s

On a lovely spring Sunday afternoon in the early 1940s, Irene (Marcinkowski) Sokolauf, Angela (Cuccaro) Antonucci and Madeline (Petri) Small went around Hicksville snapping pictures of what they thought would make nice keepsakes for future days. Here are some of the photos they thought would be interesting to some of the old-timers of Hicksville and to the newcomers to see how lovely Hicksville was in those days.

In those days Madeline wrote the column "Dear Jean" for the Centre Island News.

Leo Kanawada Takes a Look Back

by Michael J. Maloney

Men landing on the moon, the first television show and movies that had no sound.

Leo Kanawada, Sr. has seen it all: In fact, Leo was born just five years after the Wright Brothers flew a few yards in an airplane. A lot has changed in Leo's 81 years. The world has changed. The country has changed. Even Hicksville is a far cry from what it was in 1908, the year Leo was born.

Leo had a grocery route that serviced the Hicksville area at the time of the depression. "You could look all the way to Levittown from here," said Leo. "There was nothing."

In fact, when the Kanawada family moved to Hicksville in 1951, their backyard on Halsey Avenue opened up to an empty field that is now occupied by Hicksville High School.

Leo has fond memories of tending his garden in which he grew corn, string beans, carrots, pumpkins. "You name it, I had it," said Leo. He still has a garden, but it is not as extensive as it once was. Doctors' orders prevent him from partaking in strenuous activity. Leo is the father of two sons, Leo Jr. and Gerald. His wife, Anne, passed away almost "Kids had nice haircuts back then. Now they have grubby haircuts in the back. Girls wear pajamas to school, I call them pajamas."

"I always had a slingshot in my back pocket," said Leo. "I always had a hole in my head from all the stone fights. The Winfields would fight the Woodsides. The Winfields would fight the Maspeth bunch. We would always get into some kind of scrimmage."

Leo remembers one thing that his father always said: "Save a dollar a week and you will be the best dressed guy in town. That's when you could buy a suit for $2.50 with two pair of pants."

Leo must not have skipped too many piano lessons because one of his favorite activities is playing ragtime tunes on his piano. He also likes to watch the ball games on television. "I like the Mets," said Leo. "I don't care too much for the Yankees. I don't like Phil Rizzuto,

"I remember years ago when a girl's bloomers hung below the knees when the elastic wore out. They would blush something terrible and hide behind a bush and pull up their pants."

to tell you the truth. When I hear him on the TV, I shut the sound down and I look at the picture."

He also spends time with his "lady friend" Dorothy Schaller. "She plays the piano and sings in the choir," said Leo. "She loves to cook. She makes all kinds of exotic recipes. She's English but she cooks German. You figure that out."

What does Leo think about the world after 81 years? "I think the world is too small. With the airplane, they can get to places they never got to before."

What would he still like to accomplish? "I'd like to go to Europe. I'd like to take a trip someplace. But I've done so many things in my day," said Leo. "I have no regrets."

— Leo Kanawada —

Leo Kanawada Jr. stands in an open field which would later become Hicksville High School, where Leo would be teaching for 18 years.

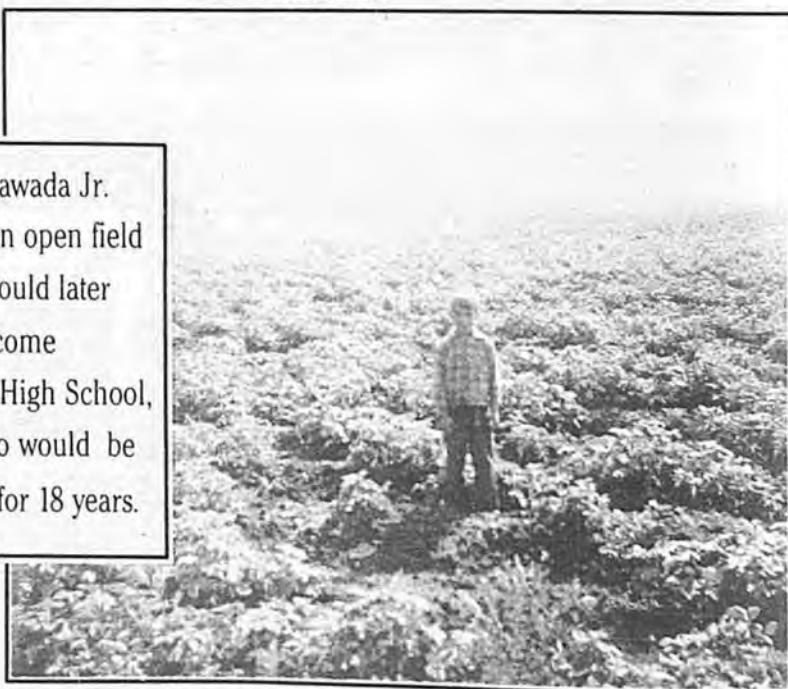

10 years ago, Leo Jr. is a teacher in the Hicksville School District, having taught at the High School for 18 years, and now at East Street School. Gerald works for the Long Island Lighting Company in Greenlawn. Leo has three grandchildren: Kristina, Sean, and Christopher.

Leo's extended family includes children who grew up in the neighborhood over the years. "I was a great guy with kids," said Leo. He taught them how to plant flowers and vegetables and how to make greenhouses.

Leo has noticed that the youths have changed a lot over the years. "I take note that they use a lot of adjectives," said Leo, referring to their slang. "Every time I stick my head out the door, I get an adjective thrown at me."

He also notices the way children dress and style their hair. "Kids had nice haircuts back then. Now they have grubby haircuts in the back. Girls wear pajamas to school, I call them pajamas," said Leo. "I remember years ago when a girl's bloomers hung below their knees when the elastic wore out. They would blush something terrible and hide behind a bush and pull up their pants."

Leo recalls his own childhood growing up in Winfield, Long Island, which is now a part of Woodside, Queens. "I was a mischievous kid," said Leo. "I was a swamp kid. My parents would send me for piano lessons. So I would take the 50 cents and buy a pack of butts or something."

Broadway Mall

The Broadway Mall in Hicksville, formerly the Mid Island Plaza, is scheduled to hold its grand opening in late October. The mall has undergone millions of dollars in renovations over the past couple of years and has a completely new image. Its modern skylights, new benches and archways add to its fantastic up-to-date style.

In addition, you'll find an impressive number of stores plus a 12-unit international food court being planned for the west end of the mall.

Stop by the mall on Routes 106/107 and take care of all your shopping needs.

Dalton Funeral Home

"The smallest detail is not forgotten" at Dalton Funeral Home where there has been "three generations of caring." This third generation, family-owned and operated business has been a mainstay in the Hicksville community for 22 years, and in the funeral home business since it was founded in 1924.

The Hicksville branch of the Dalton Funeral Home on Jerusalem Avenue was the second of five branches opened up by the Dalton Family. It is currently managed by Beth Dalton-Costello. She explained that the reason why one was opened in Hicksville was because of Hicksville's location, and her family's involvement in the community.

According to Mrs. Dalton-Costello, Hicksville has changed dramatically. "It's almost unrecognizable now," she said. All of the development has forced Hicksville to "fight to keep its identity as a town." But, she believes Hicksville is winning the fight.

Employees of Dalton Funeral Home and members of the Dalton family have been involved in numerous community groups, such as the Chamber of Commerce, the Kiwanis Club, the Rotary Club, the Lions Club and the Elks Club.

Ella Marie Dance School

Twenty-seven years in Hicksville has not slowed down Ella Marie Columbo or the growth of the dance school she founded. "It's grown 100 percent," said Ms. Columbo. "Now I'm teaching the children of students I had 27 years ago." It is her love of dance and of teaching which has kept her school going strong.

Though the school has not changed much in the last 27 years, Ms. Columbo said that the community has "changed completely." According to her, Hicksville's "stores were quaint and small and we all knew each other. Now, it's all commercial."

Some students of the Ella Marie School have gone on to much success in dance. One student went on to the Radio City Music Hall Rockettes. Another won a dance scholarship at the Juilliard School. Some former students have opened up their own dance studios.

According to Ms. Columbo, the Ella Marie School, located on Herzog Place, provides "the very best quality of teachers you can get on Long Island."

Antun's Catering Hall

In the midst of our town sits one the most prestigious catering facilities on Long Island. With roots that came from Queens Village some 20 years ago, An-tun's of Hicksville has grown and become a major landmark in the community.

This full-service catering facility on Old Country Road can accommodate from 15 to 900 guests.

Antun's has played host to thousands of brides, anniversary couples and high school prom-goers over the years. They also have elegant banquet rooms for sales seminars, staff training sessions and a multitude of other conferences.

Community involvement is another one of Antun's tradition. In addition to serving on the board of directors for the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce and the Hicksville Youth Council, Antun's manager Don LeCompte has been involved with the Long Island Restaurant and Caterers Association and the New York State Restaurant Association.

Boos Florist by Phyllis

Flowers speak louder than words, according to Phyllis Caggiano, the owner of Boos Flowers by Phyllis located at 38 West Village Green. And for 10 years, her business has been thriving with that motto.

Up until 10 years ago, the business was known as the Boos Brothers Nursery and it was located on Stewart Avenue. For more than 60 years it has served the Hicksville community with a reputation for respect and quality. When Mrs. Caggiano bought the business from Howard Boos 10 years ago, she not only decided to keep the Boos name but she kept the business in Hicksville.

"Howard Boos did a lot for the community," Mrs. Caggiano said, adding that the business has always received a good response from the people of Hicksville.

Though she resides in East Meadow, she remains active in Hicksville community affairs as a member of the Kiwanis Club, the Holy Trinity and Holy Family churches. And despite the great commercial development in Hicksville over the years, she finds that the people are still basically the same.

Broadway Dance

Like to dance? Then Broadway Dance is the place for you. Specializing in tap, ballet and jazz, Broadway Dance has classes for ages two through adult. And the prices for the classes are just right.

You'll receive only the best instructions from Robin Ribarich, a 35-year Hicksville resident and owner of Broadway Dance. A graduate of Adelphi University, she majored in physical education and the arts.

You can dance your way into her studio at 545 South Broadway or call 822-2233.

BEACON FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK

If money talks, why don't most banks listen?

In their rush to get your money, most banks don't try to get into your mind. They forget about what's most important to you: service. And service that's more than answering the phones or shortening the teller lines.

At Beacon, we haven't forgotten service. In fact, we're putting greater emphasis on it than ever before. Our people are now undergoing an intensive customer orientation and training program, so they can serve you more and serve you better.

That adds up to great service — and great business. After all, at Beacon we're not only shining for your sake. We're shining for ours, too.

Krogmann Realty

After spending 28 years with the Montana Agency, Elfie Krogmann decided it was time to go out on her own. And she did so in a big way, by founding the Krogmann Realty in 1987. Her talents as a realtor and an appraiser have been of great assistance to her and to her four sales associates in running this successful business, located at 420 South Broadway.

A mother of three and a grandmother, Mrs. Krogmann is a very active woman. She is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, the Kiwanis Club and the Community Council. Also an active member of her church, Redeemer Lutheran Church, she works with the Hicksville soup kitchen, is a member of the church choir and enjoys music, writing, gardening, cooking and entertaining.

Mrs. Krogmann brings much more to her business than a wealth of experience and expertise. She also brings the caring and professionalism that have made her such a success within the Hicksville community.

Dr. Michael Garger

Just starting out in Hicksville is Dr. Michael F. Garger, who is beginning his chiropractic practice in the town in which he grew up. Dr. Garger decided to begin his practice in Hicksville, because it is a town where he feels comfortable. Despite the growing population and the ever increasing development of the area, Hicksville is still family oriented, Dr. Garger said.

His goals as a chiropractor are to "make bodies work to their fullest potential." He says this can be done when he "restores balance in the body."

A graduate of Hicksville High School, Dr. Garger will soon become a member of the Alumni Association. He hopes to become a major part of the community for years to come.

His office is located at 66 West Barclay Street.

Montana Agency

When Charles Montana, Sr. founded what is now known as the Montana In-

urance/Real Estate Agency, he knew there could be no better place for his business than Hicksville. This is where he grew up. He can vividly remember how Hicksville looked when the community was mainly potato farms. "We went from potato farms to every foot of land being built upon. I used to be able to see Melville from my upstairs window," said Mr. Montana.

Despite the great changes in Hicksville, he never had any intention of leaving. The business, located on North Broadway, is continuing to grow with greater support from the Hicksville area. And with almost half of the current staff living in Hicksville, it appears that the Montana Agency will remain here for a long time to come. It is already an integral part of the community as a member of the Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions Clubs.

Mr. Ramirez was past president and executive secretary of Nassau Electric League and voted Man of the Year by the league two years in a row. He also served as president of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce for three years and received a community service award from the Hicksville Community Council.

In addition, he was chairman of the Town of Oyster Bay Electrical Licensing Board for 15 years, is currently vice-president of Hicksville Kiwanis Club of which he was also named Man of the Year. He is a member of the International Association of Electrical Inspectors and works as an advisor to insurance companies.

He is available to conduct programs on electrical safety for local clubs and groups.

"Our main purpose is to educate and promote electrical safety and to make the public aware of the dangers of electricity and using unlicensed electricians," Mr. Ramirez said.

Mr. Electric, which was founded by Mr. Ramirez 22 years ago, is located at 420 South Broadway.

finance campaign chairman of the Hicksville Boy Scouts. His involvement further included membership in the Manetto Masons and as a dedicated parishioner at St. Stephen's Lutheran Church.

In 1937, he was elected as Hicksville Republican Executive Committeeman, a post he held until his untimely death in 1959. Hicksville Republicans fondly remember Ernie's dedication to his party.

Robert Chevrolet

In an industry that has grown more complex, Robert Chevrolet stands out as a business easy to deal with. It is this characteristic which explains why this automobile dealership, located at 236 Broadway, has flourished for 39 years.

With a complete line of new and used cars and a fully equipped service and parts department, Robert Chevrolet has grown tremendously in personnel, and in itself. Within 3 years of its founding, it surpassed both Plymouth and Ford in sales.

According to its president, Bob Brown, despite his dealership's success in a growing Hicksville, he feels the community has not been treated fairly by developers. "They did not build up the community the right way," he said. He blamed this on poor planning by both developers and politicians.

Nevertheless, he feels Hicksville is a great community to live in, as well as an ideal place to conduct business. And he encourages anyone in the market for a car to pay him, or two of his colleagues for 30 years, John Neal and Bill Bostleman, a visit.

Peppercorn's

Peppercorn's has a very special Hicksville history behind it. This "pub-style" restaurant was once the old East Marie Street firehouse, which in later years moved to the other side of the street. Peppercorn's owner, Eddie Restivo, renovated the old firehouse's dome-shaped second floor, and created a catering hall for 100 people. It has a bar, dance floor, and of course, the same great food as the restaurant.

Peppercorn's is also known for its gourmet continental specials and its aged (on premises) steaks. Add Peppercorn's friendly staff and the relaxed atmosphere to make a winning combination.

Stop by 25 East Marie Street and taste for yourself.

Republican Club

During the summer of 1959, Hicksville Republican Leader Philip Robinson suggested that the Republican Club be renamed to memorialize his predecessor. The club then changed its corporate name to the Ernest E. Francke Republican Club of Hicksville.

Mr. Francke was instrumental in preserving the predominantly Republican hamlet as it was transformed from the rural farming community at the turn of the century to the suburban community of today. The club that was renamed in his honor has since played a significant role in choosing several distinguished Hicksville residents for elected positions, among them Francis Anderson, Tom Clark, Francis Donovan, Warren Doolittle and Carl Grunewald.

Ernie Francke grew up in Hicksville and attended the modern Nicholai Street School when the hamlet's population numbered 1,000.

Mr. Francke helped organize the Hicksville Water District and was a water commissioner for 10 years. Beginning in 1932 he began his 20-year tenure as a member of the Town Zoning Board of Appeals. Ernie was an active member of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club, serving as the chairman of the public and business affairs committee. His community involvement included serving as a director of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce and

The Christian community that is today's Catholic school provides each child with a living, dynamic example of the value of love, compassion and concern. Prayer experiences help students develop a relationship with God and realize the importance of belonging to a worshiping community.

A special feature of St. Edward's curriculum is the presence of a comprehensive health and drug education program. This program, which is a result of an ongoing grant from Nassau County, has achieved national recognition as one of 30 schools throughout the nation effectively educating and achieving success in this most vital area.

The Arts

Our music program provides an enriching and enjoyable mode of learning. In addition to the basic music curriculum, our students participate in the Orff approach, a highly creative and active involvement in the use of Orff instruments.

Our school band is rapidly becoming a well known entity within the community. At the present time, 104 children belong to the school band. Our school choir and band provide entertainment at our winter and spring concerts.

St. Edward dance program has long been a popular activity and continues to be so today. Some 65 students participate in this program, and a yearly recital allows us the opportunity of witnessing their developing talents.

Our Art department is gaining increased recognition each year. A variety of art expression is displayed throughout our school and yearly in our public library.

Academic excellence, leavened by a commitment to the success of the individual child and integrated with the message of the Gospel, is the heritage of St. Edward School. This is St. Edward — a community with memories. For complete information call St. Edward Confessor School, 2 Tiebrook Avenue, Syosset (921-7767).

NYIT offers graduate degrees in Architecture (5-year professional Bachelor of Architecture), Engineering, and Technology; Hotel Administration; Culinary Arts (a new, 2-year degree program); Humanities; Management (including a new Telecommunications Management degree); Media and Arts (including Advertising). There are also liberal arts programs where students may declare a major after completion of their first year. The institute offers a combined BS/Doctor of Osteopathy degree through its medical school: NY College of Osteopathic Medicine. This is a seven year program affording the highly motivated student both an undergraduate and professional degree.

Masters degrees in Business Administration (including MIS), Communications Arts, Computer Science, Human Relations (including credentialed alcoholism counseling), Labor and Industrial Relations, Energy Management, Clinical Nutrition, Training and Learning Technology. A certificate in Computers in Education is available within this program.

NYIT offers small, personalized classes, affordable tuition and generous financial aid packages. An Honor and Challenge Scholarship Program provides annual grants based solely on scholastic ability, and brings tuition to a figure comparable to that of a state or city college or university.

There is a cooperative education program which allows students to work while attending classes...on-campus instruction is combined with salaried work experience in career related fields.

NYIT's Independent Study program, offered through American Open University of NYIT, provides an alternative learning experience, with varied courses and specially prepared study materials, allowing students to proceed at their own pace. Available anywhere in the world, via computer teleconferencing, the "IS" program is valuable for adults who wish to pursue an undergraduate degree while actively involved in their careers or while raising a family. B'nai B'rith Career & Counseling Services

B'nai B'rith Career & Counseling Services, celebrating over 50 years of service, assists high school students faced with the confusion of selecting a college, choosing a major, and a career direction. These decisions are no longer as simple as they were in the past. Today it is far more complex due to rapidly changing times, and the vast number of careers and colleges from which to choose.

For the high school youth, the service helps answer questions such as: "What will I do after I graduate? Should I go to college? Which college will best meet my needs? What am I best suited for?"

For college students and graduates, there is assistance in choosing the right job and a satisfying career path.

Adults often find more than one career in the course of a lifetime. If there is a dissatisfaction with a current job and a desire to make a change, adults can find help in shifting gears or embarking on a whole new career.

The divorced woman often finds herself in a position of needing to select a new career in order to earn a living. She might need skill development through course work or a retraining program and is often with these difficult decisions at a most stressful time.

This B'nai B'rith service can be used by anyone facing a transition phase.

Through testing and counseling, objective feedback is provided regarding abilities, career interests, and personality characteristics. Recommendations are geared toward bridging the gap between where each person is and where he or she would like to be.

B'nai B'rith Career & Counseling Services is accredited by the International Association of Counseling Services. For more information contact: B'nai B'rith Career & Counseling Services, 823 United Nations Plaza, New York, 10017, (212) 490-0677.

Perceptions From a Different Point of View

By Joel H. Warshovsky, O.D.

Is your child perceptually impaired or is there a need for you as parents to discover how your child learns?

The symptoms of perceptually impaired children are as varied as the individual personalities they present. How then do we go about the process of knowing which children are not developing and learning successfully? Children who don't have trouble perceiving what they see, sail through experiences building self-confidence. Those who have difficulty stick out in the crowd waving a red flag with says, "I'm stuck!"

Perceptually impaired children may often be identified as being immature. Immaturity may mean that a child can't sit and play with others. Inattention and distractability become the hallmark of the condition. From this immature behavior comes what we all dread as parents, an unsuccessful child.

Lack of success begins with an inability to learn, and develops into academic failure. There may first be an aversion to learn colors, alphabet letters, or even tying shoes and buttoning buttons may become the greatest of chores. Once a child begins to internalize the feelings of frustration, the problem shifts from one of learning to one of developing self-confidence.

Nobody has all the explanations for such a complex problem. However, there are answers if we begin to look at the problems from different points of view. In part, our children's perceptual problems stem from our inability to understand the learning processes involved with teaching our young. Still another part of the problem is our educational system's inability to utilize information from professionals in related disciplines, specifically those trained in the area of perceptual development.

An approach towards integrating related disciplines within the school systems is inherent to the success of our child study teams. These teams frequently include special education, reading specialists, learning disability specialists, speech and language specialists, social workers, educational psychologists, and at times, pediatric neurologists. These teams individualize the education of our young by identifying strengths, weaknesses, and designing programs accordingly. In spite of these programs many of our children fail to thrive academically and/or socially, and remain at risk.

Developmental optometrists and occupational Therapists are professionals skilled in perceptual development. They can view a perceptual problem from a different perspective than education or medicine. Occupational therapists support the development of delayed gross and fine muscle systems for children who are disorganized, uncoordinated and inattentive.

Once eye muscle (des top) demands begin, the symptoms of visual perceptual difficulties that may result include reversals, loss of place, skipping lines, leaving out words while reading or writing, eye strain, headaches, blurred vision, double vision, an inability to comprehend, or simply avoidance of reading. Developmental Optometrists are specialized in the remediation of eye muscle imbalance with the focusing and/or coordination systems.

Vision Therapy (a program designed to correct eye muscle imbalance) prescribed by a Developmental Optometrist stabilizes the visual information that reaches a child. A sequence of bio-feedback activities provide an individual the opportunity to learn how to accurately point and focus their eyes. Once corrected, visual processing occurs without the visual perceptual delays.

Occupational Therapists and Developmental Optometrists are solely under utilized in the search for the perceptual development of our young today.

For more information about perceptual impairment and its treatment, call Dr. Joel Warshovsky, an optometrist specializing in pediatric and adult vision training and eye care. His offices are at 7 Garden St., Roslyn Heights (484-2064).

CONTEMPORARY HEALTH CARE ISSUES

Why should you bring your teenage daughter to a gynecologist? Even if she's not sexually active.

As a parent concerned about your daughter's good health, you'll want to make sure that her first trip to the gynecologist is as pleasant and free from anxiety as possible. You know that your own relationship with your gynecologist is built upon trust and respect, and that's why you'll want your daughter to have a professional friend she can talk to before she has any gynecological problems or concerns.

As she develops physically and emotionally into a young woman, your daughter will also be developing a sense of privacy about her own life. And that's why, if she's menstruating regularly, using tampons, plus asking sexual and relationship questions, she's ready to talk to an understanding gynecologist and receive an examination given with extra special sensitivity...before she has her first boyfriend...before she goes off to college...before she's faced with a problem that needs immediate attention.

You may think it's too early to bring in your adolescent daughter...but it's better than being too late!

This medical news is being brought to you as a community service by the Long Island Women's Health Care Group. We're a dedicated group of obstetrician-gynecologists who treat each patient as an individual. We're affiliated with the Maternal Child Care Center at Winthrop University Hospital, a major teaching affiliate of SUNY at Stony Brook School of Medicine.

Chiropractic Care for Children

Dr. Peter Swerz is originally from Westbury, Long Island. He completed his undergraduate study at SUNY Stony Brook with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Psychology with a pre-med background. In April 1983 he completed The Doctorate of Chiropractic program from N.Y. Chiropractic College in Greenlawn, NY.

"In my practice over the years people have asked many questions concerning children and Chiropractic. The most common questions asked are: "Why should children be checked regularly by a Chiropractor?" "Do chiropractors treat children?" "Do back problems run in the family?"

These are but a few of the commonly asked questions about children and chiropractic. Let's examine some basic considerations of this subject.

Childhood Posture. A child's growing years are critically important to his or her future well being. The development of a strong and healthy musculoskeletal system is vital. Normal spinal development is essential for a healthy and sound adult posture. In fact, many adult postural problems have their origins years earlier, during childhood.

Such problems may include curves of the spine. Scoliosis — a lateral curvature of the spine when viewed from behind — is predominantly a childhood disorder, which in many cases can be adequately treated if detected early enough.

Other common postural problems are related to excessive curvature of the lower back, the so-called "sway back." Excessive curvature of the mid-back, known as kyphosis, may also appear during childhood.

Childhood Trauma. Children, particularly, are subjected to many types of physical trauma. Repeated, seemingly innocent falls and spills are commonplace. While youngsters are amazingly resilient to frequent mishaps, problems can often develop unnoticed.

Small children often suffer from improper lifting by adults. Parents will frequently lift a child by the arm and place its full weight upon the shoulder girdle. This joint is not designed to support full body weight and, consequently, neck, shoulder and arm problems may develop.

Structural and Postural Evaluation. The Doctor of Chiropractic specializes in postural and structural aspects of the human frame.

The Doctor of Chiropractic can detect early warning signs that may indicate spinal or structural problems are present in the child. Special attention is given to proper spinal development. Excessive curves, misalignment and loss of normal flexibility can be corrected in most cases once early detection is made.

Chiropractic care, now in the mainstream of treatment for back related problems, should always be considered before other noninvasive types of treatment. Chiropractic care, without the risk of drugs or surgery, can handle these problems very effectively. Treat yourself and your family to a safe, natural healing art, your body deserves it.

For more information on Chiropractic and its methods of treating spine and other related problems, please don't hesitate to call us at the Carle Place Chiropractic Center, 333-2233."

Injury Prevention and Care In Our Schools

Until recently injury prevention and on-the-field-care for athletes have been a privilege granted to only those at the college and professional levels.

At present, there is a growing concern for our teenage population of athletes. This is an age group that is more vulnerable to injury than any other. Coaches on the junior high and high school levels have been responsible for the detection of and response to any injuries that occur during athletic participation.

Most coaches are not experts in the areas of injury recognition and care, and, therefore, should not be solely responsible for taking the proper course of action when such problems arise.

Both college and professional athletics are monitored by Athletic Trainers who have been trained specifically in prevention, recognition, and treatment of athletic injuries. They have been certified nationally to perform these responsibilities and there is no reason why our teenage population should not receive this optimum level of care. The level of funding our school systems receive from our taxes amply allows for such a position.

Island Orthopedics and Sports Medicine, in Massapequa, currently provides a program for this population of athletes for a few schools in Nassau County. This program places a Certified Athletic Trainer within a junior high or high school to oversee both practices and games on a daily basis. Island Orthopedics and Sports Medicine also provides a Pre-Season Screening which consists of strength testing, ligament stability testing, body composition analysis, postural screening, and the basics of height, weight and blood pressure measures. This screening has been designed to recognize any abnormalities prior to athletic participation and possibly prevent any serious injuries.

Individual recommendations are made based on the results of the screening in the areas of exercise, as well as preventive measures.

These screenings are performed yearly with files being kept on each participant. This program is presently in its second year and has been beneficial to the athletes, as well as financially affordable to the participating schools. These schools, as well as Island Orthopedics and Sports Medicine, are very excited at the potential of this program to prevent and care for the athletic injuries of our communities' teenage population.

Island Orthopedics and Sports Medicine is a comprehensive orthopaedic and sports medicine facility located at 660 Broadway in Massapequa. The staff consists of three Orthopedic Surgeons; Drs. Donald Kurth, Michael Carroll, and Douglas Barkin, as well as a skilled staff of licensed physical therapists and certified athletic trainers, all of whom have a special interest in sports medicine. The 5000+ square foot facility has a complete line of state-of-the-art rehabilitative and exercise equipment.

Island Orthopedics and Sports Medicine welcomes any response or questions regarding the promotion of this type of program in your community at 798-7554.

OPTIFAST AT CENTRAL GENERAL HOSPITAL

No one ever lost weight permanently through willpower alone. No one!

If willpower were all it took to lose weight, your first diet would have been your last. But, with few exceptions, even the most determined dieters regain the weight they lost.

Now, you can lose weight and keep it off with The OPTIFAST® Program. The OPTIFAST Program is a hospital-based supplemental fasting program that combines a nutritionally complete diet supplement, diet counseling, behavior modification and group support.

Most important of all, The OPTIFAST Program involves the close, on-going attention of physicians, nurses and other medical professionals. 200,000 people have participated in The OPTIFAST Program of weight loss. Studies have shown that up to 80% of OPTIFAST® treated patients may lose more than this amount; the average loss is 85 pounds.

But even more encouraging is the fact that in some people, long-term weight maintenance—the most important part of obesity treatment, is accomplished in The OPTIFAST Program.

If you're more than 30% or 50 pounds overweight, please call 932-6250 and receive complete details about The OPTIFAST Program. You supply the willpower you've always had. We supply the medical support you've always missed.

entered the Hofstra Health Dome's University Weight Control Program to reduce weight and change lifestyle. Patients were placed on a low calorie liquid supplement to reduce weight, received weekly medical monitoring, participated in weekly group counseling sessions, received nutritional education, and exercised three times per week.

The average patient entered treatment 64% overweight and achieved significant weight loss during the program's weight loss phase. Results showed 97% lost at least 20 lbs., and 74% lost at least 40 lbs. The average weight loss was 70 lbs. for men and 54 lbs. for women. However, the more important findings occurred during the maintenance phase of treatment.

Of the 116 patients, half continued in treatment through the maintenance phase and half left treatment after completing the weight loss phase. A two year follow-up showed that 70% of those who completed the maintenance phase maintained their weight loss within 10 lbs. of their goal weight. However, of those who did not participate in the maintenance phase, 89% regained at least 30 lbs.

This disparity points out the importance of well constructed maintenance phase and lifestyle change in weight loss programs, such as Hofstra's University Weight Control Program, as the basis for long term weight control.

For more information about the research project and the University Weight Control Program, please call Michael Harriss at the Hofstra Health Dome at (516) 485-7632.

Research Shows Long Term Effectiveness of Hofstra Weight Loss Program

A recent Hofstra Health Dome study headed by Dr. Robert Figlerki investigated the long term effectiveness of supplemented fasting.

The research assessed 116 patients who

Patients were placed on a low calorie liquid supplement to reduce weight, received weekly medical monitoring, participated in weekly group counseling sessions, received nutritional education, and exercised three times per week.

A two year follow-up showed that 70% of those who completed the maintenance phase maintained their weight loss within 10 lbs. of their goal weight. The bidding:
East South West North
Pass 1 NT Pass 3 NT
Opening lead — six of spades.

You have to do a certain amount of guessing in bridge, because that is the nature of the game. But, even so, you should guess right far more often than you guess wrong.

Many so-called guesses in the play can be resolved by adopting what is called the percentage play.
There is no guarantee that a percentage play will succeed; it is merely that the odds favor it because, over a long period of time, the percentage play will do better than the anti-percentage play.

For example, suppose you're in three notrump and West leads the six of spades.
How should you play the hand? Actually, the outcome hinges on your play from dummy at trick one.
If you follow low, East wins with the queen and returns a spade, establishing West's long suit.
When you later try a club finesse, you wind up down one.

But if you go up with the ace of spades at trick one and take the club finesse, you make the contract, because the spades are blocked and there is no way for West to run the suit. As soon as you regain the lead, you have nine tricks.

Percentagewise, you should play the ace at trick one and try the club finesse. True, you go down if it turns out that West started with five spades to the K-Q and the king of clubs, and you could have made the contract by playing low from dummy on the opening lead. Despite this possibility, possibility, you will be better off in the long haul to step right up with the ace of spades.

This is because there are many more hands where East holds the K-x or Q-x than either of the honors. If East does have the king or queen, you insure the contract by playing the ace at once, but jeopardize it by playing low from dummy instead. The ace play is therefore the percentage play.

Hicksville PAL Baseball/Softball News

By Charlotte Anstey

It's hard to believe that our season is almost over and school will be starting in a few weeks. It's been a very busy summer and we've all had lots of fun playing Hicksville PAL.

Boys' Intermediate Division

Mets Coach: Bill Dammes

Scorekeeper: Pat Dammes

Monday, Aug. 14, Mets 9 Orioles 8

Chris Koetter hit a triple with 2 RBI's in the 1st inning and a triple with 1 RBI in the 4th inning. Chris also made an outstanding play in centerfield and is our "Player of the Day Award" winner. Bryan Fayda had two singles, 2 stolen bases and did a nice job at 2nd base. Rob Patterson had one single, 1 Sac for RBI, three stolen bases, did a terrific job as relief pitcher and shortstop and was the team motivator. Greg Henglein had one double with one RBI and did a good job at 3rd base. Carl Antaki had one single, two stolen bases and made a nice play at 1st base. Joey Walsh hit two singles with one RBI, had one stolen base and had a nice catch in rightfield. Jay Dammes had two stolen bases, walked two times and did a good job at shortstop. Eric Germuth played leftfield well. Mike McKenna was the opening pitcher, was terrific on the mound and in the field. Mike will play wherever he's needed, he never complains and has a very positive influence on the rest of the team. Joey Walsh did a nice job in rightfield and had one walk and one single. Frank Montalbano had one stolen base, two walks, and one single. Gregg Henglein had two stolen bases, a single and did a great job at 3rd. Good base running by Gregg and Jay who managed to get back to their bases in a rundown that had to be seen to be believed.

Girls' Junior Division

On Aug. 14, the Angels defeated the Yankees 12-8, scoring eight runs in the fifth inning to take the lead for good. The Angels got strong pitching from Jessica Panica, Amanda Mahnken and Kristen Anstey. All of the girls contributed to the run scoring especially, Amanda Mahnken, who had three hits and 4 RBI, Kristen Anstey, who had three hits, and Christine Dempsey, Kelly McCarthy and Stacy Volo, who had two hits each. Defensively, shortstop was covered well by Jennifer Nolan; and Rebecca Mutterperl, and Catherine Micalizzi did a good job sharing the catcher position. Recognition should be given to the Yankees' pitcher, Elaine Koenig, who allowed only four runs in four innings; and she also hit a home run and scored three runs.

Correction: The edition dated Aug. 17, regarding the game of July 27 between the Angels and Orioles, should have read—The Angels got great pitching from Kristen Anstey, who also had three hits, Dawn Power, who also had two hits and four RBI, Amanda Mahnken who also had two hits, and Jessica Panica, who also played well at second base.

Mets Coach: Bill Dammes

Thursday, July 17 Mets 2 As 2

A special thanks to Todd "Paco" Burger and John "Woody" Woodworth for filling in for vacationing players. Todd "Paco" did a great job, 5 catch, had four stolen bases, a triple, a single and two walks. John "Woody" came in for the last two innings and has 2 RBI's, one walk and two stolen bases.

Tom Anstey was outstanding at 1st base.

Kids-for-Kids Charity Baseball/Softball Tournament

By Charlotte Anstey

The Hicksville community is extremely fortunate to have so many upstanding, dedicated teenagers representing it at the Kids-for-Kids Charity Tournament to benefit AHRC. The ballplayers, the entertainment and the helper (collecting money and helping in the food shed) will be giving up many hours of their free-time to devote to this endeavor. I hope the Hicksville community comes out to meet and watch these dynamic teenage ballplayers.

Because of limited seating, please bring lawn chairs and perhaps umbrellas if it is going to be a sunny or overcast day. The HBA Food Shed will again be open for business. The Hicksville Baseball Association (HBA) will again donate all profits from this food shed to the A.H.R.C. (Association for the Help of Retarded Children).

During our previous meetings, the differences in each league were discussed and some agreements reached at these meetings were:

1. That preference to making up these All-Star teams would be given to 12-year-old girls and 13-year-old boys. If there were not enough qualified teenagers in these age groups, the managers and coaches of each team could only use lower aged youth.

2. Since each league has its own rules, managers and coaches of each team would meet together and compromise would be the order of the day.

Soccer Club Picnic at Eisenhower Park

Not even a torrential downpour could dampen the enthusiastic group rather for the Hicksville Americans Soccer Club picnic at Eisenhower Park on Aug. 13 (postponed from Aug. 12 due to another bout with the weather).

The soccer stalwarts munched on snacks and beverages provided by the Club while eating their somewhat soggy picnic lunches. While parents quickly put up a tent for shelter, the youngsters enjoyed a lively, albeit wet, game of soccer.

Trophies and medals were distributed, not for picnic attendance, but to those children whose teams had impressive showings in the spring season. Soccer photos were distributed, as well. Special thanks to Jay and Gail Schwartz for their hard work at this event! Additional thanks to Phil Caputo, Gerri Himes and Mike Kanuck for their terrific assistance.
