

And the Winners Are...

Congratulations to Barbara Hamilton and Myra Giarsante who were the big winners in the Hicksville Illustrated's Find the Symbols contest.

For five weeks, we hid different symbols in our advertisements and participants had to track down those symbols. The winners were chosen at random from those who had the correct answers.

Barbara, who won $100, said that she plans to take her husband out to dinner for his birthday.

Myra won a dinner-for-two gift certificate to Peppercorn's Restaurant on East Marie Street. Barbara said she didn't have any trouble playing the game, but, Myra said, "I almost gave up after the third week. We couldn't find the rose," (which was one of the symbols).

"My 21-year-old daughter, Nancy, and I were on our knees in the living room laying the paper out to find the roses," Myra said that she's always been lucky. "My dad was very lucky, and when he died I inherited his luck."

Congratulations to our winners and thanks to our more than 150 participants.

Barbara Hamilton was the grand prize winner in the Hicksville Illustrated's Find the Symbols contest. Here, she proudly displays her check for $100. Congratulations.

Myra Giarsante and her husband, Louis will be enjoying some great food when they cash in their gift certificate for dinner at Peppercorn's Restaurant on East Marie Street.

Firemen Respond to Three Fires Last Week

A fire, labeled as suspicious, broke out in the rear of the Bottoms Up Pub at 10 Jerusalem Ave. The alarm was reported to Hicksville firefighters at 6:50 p.m. on Saturday. About 55 firefighters responded under assistant chief A. Wigdinski using eight pieces of apparatus.

According to a fire official, firefighters had to work quickly to contain the fire which had already spread to the second floor via interior walls. This building—a group of several stores which is known as the Sutter Building—was almost totally destroyed by a series of three serious fires in the mid 1960s.

Two stores on the street level and eight others on the second floor received smoke and

Developer Agrees to Downscale Building

By Rita Langdon

Acting on residents' suggestions, a local developer has agreed to considerably decrease the size of his proposed office building and design its facade to be compatible with nearby homes in the northwest section of Hicksville.

Representatives of Spiegel Associates, Jericho, decreased the proposed size of the building by more than half and has plans to locate the building on the southeast side of West John and Strong Streets. It was announced at last week's Northwest Civic Association meeting.

Taking into consideration the concerns of local residents who say that traffic generating from the building will delay firefighters coming from the Strong Street fire house, Spiegel representatives said it would not locate any exits or entrances on Strong Street. The developer plans to have one ingress and one egress on West John Street only. Also, there will be no left turns allowed from the building exit on to West John Street, according to Spiegel representatives.

Residents noted that drivers will still try to make a left turn.

Vacant house on corner of West John and Strong Streets. A local developer plans to demolish this house and replace it with an office building. The house was damaged by a fire a few months ago.

Proposed office building for the corner of West John and Strong Streets. Developer Jerry Spiegel will present this plan to the Oyster Bay Town Board for its approval or disapproval.

The architect for the building, Lee, F. Mindel of Shelton, Mindel and Associates in New York City, said that the height of the building will not be much higher than a two-story house with a gable roof of approximately 33 feet in height.

Spiegel plans to install a parking lot that can accommodate about 90 automobiles. Mr. Mindel said they do not anticipate much traffic, adding that the building is not for retail purposes. Spiegel representatives also said they are looking to house one tenant at this office "for a 9 to 5 kind of use."

Residents complained that commuters would park at the building, but Spiegel representatives said security personnel at the building would discourage them.

Spiegel Associates is currently awaiting approval from the Town of Oyster Bay to demolish the vacant house it owns on the corner of West John and Strong Streets, where the office building will be located. That home was damaged by fire a few months ago. No action has been taken to demolish the other two vacant homes owned by Spiegel next to that corner house.

For the past year, architects and representatives of Spiegel Associates have been meeting with a special Northwest Civic Association steering committee which acts as a liaison between the developer and residents.

A traffic study was conducted by a firm hired by Spiegel Associates, and, according to the consulting engineer, Edward J. Sharkey, P.E., P.C., the building would not have an adverse impact on traffic. This traffic study also must be approved by the town.

Mr. Mindel said he designed the building so that it wouldn't look like it was taking over the neighborhood and "causing a major intrusion." He added, "We wanted to have the lowest impact on a piece of property."

The design of the building somewhat represents that of an apple with a bite taken out of it, according to Mr. Mindel. That "bite" or cut-out, is a plaza/courtyard which is on the far right corner facing West John Street. "We didn't want to choke the corner," Mr. Mindel said.

Also, any of the facades that face the street or buildings relate to those items, according to Mindel. Spiegel also plans to landscape the area surrounding the building.

A penthouse will be located in the back of the building "so from the street you don't get the sense that anything exists," said Mindel.

Reached by telephone last week, Spiegel president Art Sanders, said, "This is the building we'll go to the Town with. It's sensitive to its surroundings."

When the final plan, which was shown to the civic association last week, is presented to the Town of Oyster Bay for its approval or disapproval, residents will have the chance to voice their opinions. No date has been set for the hearing, a town spokesman said.

Town Grants Retail Use to Broadway Stores

Retail stores may be coming back to the west side of Broadway as the Oyster Bay Town Board has granted its developer permission to use the building for stores and offices.

L & K Holding Corporation was seeking a special use permit to use property in a G-1 business zone located on the west side of Broadway between West Cherry and West Nicholas Streets, Hicksville, for retail stores as well as offices. Pursuant to a public hearing held on March 14, the Town Board has granted the application subject to 12 restrictive covenants.

The Board stipulated that the retail use shall be limited to an area of 10,512 square feet. The building must be used in such a way that no parking variances will be required. The Board prohibited banners or signs on the exterior of the building to advertise products with all other signs to conform with Town ordinances.

The exterior of the building and the parking area must be maintained in good condition at all times and adequate drainage must be provided. No certificate of occupancy will be issued until a site plan has been submitted to and approved by the Town Board. The plan must be drawn to scale and show the location of all access and egress, layout and striping of all parking areas, drainage, placement of dumpsters, exterior lighting, landscaping, screening and any other information deemed pertinent by the Department of Planning and Development. The Board covenanted that landscaping must include at least three trees and shrubbery to be planted along Broadway and West Nicholas Street.

fire damage. The building was occupied at the time of the fire and was evacuated without incident.

Fire at Hair Design

Another fire, discovered at 8:08 a.m. on Sunday, caused $150,000 damage to the Composit Hair Design store at 394 Woodbury Rd. Fifty firefighters and eight units responded under Chief Terry Farrell. Gasoline was found at the scene and investigators said it apparently was poured down two air vents from the roof. The fire apparently burned all night undetected. On Sunday morning, the owner opened the front door and found the entire store destroyed. One firefighter was injured at this fire due to smoke and heat exhaustion, during final extinguishment. Adjoining stores on either side received smoke damage. Those stores were the Aegean East Restaurant and Cafe and Melanie Moods, LTD.

Trailer Fire

Earlier on Saturday, firefighters fought a stubborn fire in a trailer at 108 New Smith at about 1 a.m. It took three hours to extinguish the flames. Firefighters also responded to two kitchen fires over the weekend, both of which were extinguished before serious damage resulted.

Two Historic Exhibits at Hicksville Public Library

25 Years of Student Arts

The lobby showcase of the Hicksville Public Library has a nostalgic "back to school days" exhibit. On display are "25 years of Junior High School Students' Social Studies Art Projects". Drawn from the extensive public library local history collection of Hicksville student projects donated by Richard Evers. The posters on display are dynamic and bright with colors. Executed by seventh and eighth grade students in a variety of media, the posters focus on portraiture of famous people from the American colonial era.

The display may be seen during the month of September.

20th Anniversary of Museum

1989 marks the 20th year of the Gregory

Museum's occupancy of the historic Old Hicksville Courthouse. Two decades of outstanding cultural and educational contributions and a vital preservation of the landmark Hicksville building are captured in a splendid exhibit of Edward Bady's photographs now on display at the Hicksville Public Library.

Large mounted and framed photographs showing some of the earth science and historical center's programs and activities may be seen at the library during the month of September.

The photographs are part of the Gregory Museum's historical collection housed and protected in the Hicksville Library's Local History Room. The exhibit is located in the Fiction Room.

Inducted Into Hall Of Fame

John A. Baker lived on Friendly Road before retiring to Arizona. Due to an unfortunate accident, Mr. Baker was burned severely in a fire, resulting in his becoming a paraplegic. After a long rehabilitation John decided to enter the Handicapped Olympics. He competed in swimming and diving and won two gold medals. He will be inducted into the Handicap Hall of Fame. He will be in very good company. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Helen Keller, and many more distinguished folks have been so honored. The ceremony is to take place in Columbus, Ohio.

John is available to talk to other paraplegics who need help in adjusting. He is now living at The Carylton House on Park Avenue in Huntington, phone number 549-1975.

An old friend and neighbor Vivian Luft was kind enough to send us this information on this very courageous man and wrote: "I would like to wish John good luck and say that God is surely with him."

A Late Party

Dolores Crawford longtime Hicksville resident was given a belated Retirement Party by her family on Sunday, September 5th at her nephew's home in Smithtown. She retired a few months back—but her family has been so busy with weddings, etc. they never had a date open to have this party until now. She was really surprised. She has two brothers and sisters-in-law, and 11 nieces and nephews plus 15 grand-nieces and nephews. They arrived from Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, New York City, and from all over Long Island. Everyone was able to make it except two. They had a grand time.

Dolores was out playing golf with an old St. Ignatius Grammar School friend, Blanche Steplon, after renewing their friendship at their 50th year reunion.

About the Hess'

Here Comes The Bride...

Friends are sending their very best wishes to a very special couple: Thomas Welter of Hicksville and Marianne Caggiano of East Meadow.

We hear that Thomas gave Marianne the most gorgeous diamond ring and we're sure Marianne was just thrilled.

Her special guy, Thomas, is in the Air Force, stationed in Delaware.

Marianne's parents are Phyllis and Alfonso Caggiano. Phyllis owns Boos Florist in Hicksville.

Thomas parents are Edwin and Barbara Welter.

The happy couple plans a 1990 wedding.

Who's Having Birthdays???

Well I know for sure about one nice lady who is having a birthday. Her name is Marge Murphy and she is being sent love and happy birthday wishes from her son and daughter-in-law, John and Lynn Murphy, and her grandchildren, Lauren, Chris and Allison. Marge's big day is the 23rd.

We're also sending her our best wishes.

A very happy birthday to two brothers—Tom and Mike Foran. Tom will celebrate his 5th birthday on September 20th and his big brother Mike will celebrate his 12th the next day—on the 21st. Happy Birthday guys.

Our birthday wishes are going all the way down to Florida where Benny Ziembra will be celebrating his 77th birthday on September 25th. Don't worry, Benny, no matter how old you get—you still look good. Happy birthday.

And... Action!

There was a new addition to the production of The Fundus Family.

On June 20, Cara Ann Fundus was added to the cast and what a performance she has made. Weighing in at 9lbs, 2 oz. and 20 1/4 inches, Cara really brought the curtains down.

The producers of this new star are Kenny and Terry Funds of Hicksville. Co-starring with Cara is her 18 month old sister Kelliann. Kelli is playing the perfect role of big sister.

The executive producers of this hit are Margare Fundus of Hicksville and Ed and Joan Fitzpatrick of East Rockaway.

Ed. Note: I give this production a 4-star rating—a real box office smash.

Rich Nowak with the biggest fish he's ever caught.

What A Catch!

Richard Nowak Jr., age 8, won third prize in a fishing contest. His big catch was a 7 lb. 12 oz. fluke. He caught this one in Oyster Bay (by the Sewanhaka Yacht Club). With him sharing his joy was his dad, Richard and his paternal grandfather Edward Nowak.

Ed. Note: Richard's 'hooked' for life. After catching one that big at that age—imagine what his dreams are now. Good luck, Richard.

Charity Tournament Raises $2,500 for AHRC

By Charlette Anstey

On Aug. 26, more than 150 young people representing the Hicksville community participated in the Kids-For-Kids Charity Tournament. These young people deserve a round of applause for volunteering their time and effort to make this tournament a success!

A total of $2,550 was raised and donated for the A.H.R.C. (Association for the Help of Retarded Children). This money was raised in different ways: ballplayers selling tickets ($20 ballplayer), all profits from the Hicksville Baseball Association, food shed and people donating at the tournament.

The winner of the Girls' 12-year old All Stars was H&A and the winner of the 13 year old All Stars was St. Ignace C.Y.O. Tiger Trophies of Levittown provided the beautiful trophies given to these winning teams.

Al Ciaccio, on behalf of the Kids-For-Kids Charity Tournament executive committee, presented a plaque to the Islanders, who were represented by Pat Flatley, Bobby Nystrom, Bill Carroll, Brian Trottier, and Kevin Cheveldavoff. Dorothy Ganin of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children (A.H.R.C.) presented a handpainted plaque to Charlette Anstey.

There were two softball and two baseball games held simultaneously that day. The first game was held between the two teams that lost last year and the second game was held between the winner of that first game and last year's winner.

These had to be the most exciting games I've ever witnessed. The teams were evenly matched and these all-stars played to their utmost capacity. I will be requesting that each coach write about the game(s) they participated in so that each team will collect the glory they deserve. As soon as I receive these, I will put them in the newspaper.

Their First Block Party

It seems as though Hicksville is getting to be a "small town" again. This year many have organized block parties... a great way to get to know all your neighbors. The residents of Underhill Avenue had their very first block party on Saturday, July 29th. Pat Carimando and Janine Seguna were the terrific coordinators. The entertainment included: Pee Wee Herman's Magic Show, games, a bake-off, baskets of cheer, and a white elephant sale. There were two baking contest winners—Janine Seguna and Anita Fanzese. More than 150 people visited, laughed, played and thoroughly enjoyed themselves and they are all looking forward to next year.

Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William Proctor, 39-year residents of Hicksville, were given a well-attended "under the tent and lawn party" by their children and grandchildren. The lovely affair was held at the Greenlawn home of their son Paul, on Sept. 3rd.

On September 4th they received a spiritual blessing at the 9 a.m. Mass at Holy Family Church from the Rev. Ernest E. Robinson, assistant pastor.

The Proctors have two sons: Paul and William, a resident of upstate New York, and four daughters: Doris Ramsdell, of Levittown; Cathy Howland, of Horsehead, New York; Patricia Marsella, of Central Islip, and Renee Gawlik of Minnesota. They are also proud to be the grandparents of 12 grandchildren. Their children, spouses and grandchildren were very happy to be able to help their parents celebrate their 50 years of married life.

Legionnaire's Log

By GREG BENNETT

Charles Wagner Post #421, Hicksville

Sept. 15 was POW-MIA Recognition Day, which featured a recognition ceremony at Northport, VA medical center sponsored by American Ex-prisoners of War. The program was dedicated to the memory of Captain Jonathan Bednarek, USAF, whose remains were recently returned from Vietnam. Bednarek was lost over North Vietnam on May 18, 1972 while piloting an F-4D Phantom. The Vietnamese claim his body was badly burned, yet his Armed Forces ID card was returned in perfect condition.

The recognition ceremony featured a display of photos of American POW's held captive by Japan, Germany and North Korea. Needless to say the photos were titled, "Death March," "Living Dead," and "Massacre at Pyongyang, Korea," and "One Hundred Days - 100 Pounds Lost."

A distinguished highly decorated veteran at the ceremony was Lucy Wilson Jopling. Jopling was one of the 104 Army nurses known as the "Angels of Bataan and Corregidor." She escaped the Philippines by submarine and returned as a flight nurse to liberate Allied POW's.

Charles Wagner Legionnaires recently attended a Night at the Races at Seaford Post to support Nassau County's own Frank Ward for 1990-91 Department Commander. A great time was had by all.

All Legionnaires are reminded that Charles Wagner Post Installation will be Saturday, Sept. 30 at 36 West Village Green clubhouse.

Post meetings are the first and third Monday of the month at 8 p.m., held at 36 West Village Green in Hicksville. All veterans who served during time of war are welcome. Until then pray for our POW-MIA. Respect and fly our flag!

Five-Year Waiting List for Senior Housing

By W. Eric Besser

There are ten locations in the Town of Oyster Bay mostly for senior citizens with limited income and some low income families, but that's not nearly enough to meet the strong demand for that type of housing. The answer to the question why there is not more low income housing is simple: "It's the absence of government funding that has caused us to stop construction of more housing units since 1984," said Jesse Harmon, chairman of the Town of Oyster Bay Housing Authority. "When we get inquiries from interested senior citizens we have to tell them that there are no vacancies and that it takes normally five years before an opening will occur."

Salvatore Nicosia of Farmingdale, secretary of the authority and a member since 1971, has just been reappointed for another five-year term. "We are very proud of the fact that our housing authority is one of the very few in the County that doesn't need any federal subsidies at the present time." The Housing Authority is an independent agency created under state law and with the consent of town government. It owns and operates senior citizen housing and some family housing. It is authorized by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to solicit bids for sites and bids to construct turnkey housing.

One of the difficulties in the past has been site selection. "The housing site must have access to shops, houses of worship and transportation but it must not be forced upon communities consisting of one-family housing. The sites must also be big enough to accommodate about 200 apartment units," said Nicosia.

At present there are a total of 968 apartment units located in Oyster Bay, Bethpage, Old Bethpage, Plainedge, Massapequa, Syosset, Hicksville and Plainview. There are income requirements, $5,600 for individuals and $17,800 for couples. The rent is set at 30 percent of the tenant's income. The apartment houses are modern and well maintained. There is usually a studio apartment for singles, while couples will receive a one-bedroom apartment. No wonder that there are approximately 3,000 names on the waiting list of the authority.

The commission has been able to run the housing program without a deficit because there are strict guidelines that tenants have to follow. There is no tolerance of rent delinquencies, "But people know about that before they become tenants and so there are very few evictions," said Nicosia. Vacancies occur either when a tenant dies or when it is found that the tenant will be better off in a nursing home. "In such a case the family is contacted and nine out of ten times we have their fullest cooperation," said executive director Anita DiMiceli who supervises a staff of 20. There are many activities for the residents of the senior housing complexes. Each complex has a community room with cooking facilities.

There are seven commissioners heading the agency. Five are appointed by the Oyster Bay Town Board, the other two are elected by the tenants themselves.

Will there come a time when more senior housing will be funded by HUD? "We certainly hope so," said Chairman Jesse Harmon who keeps in touch with the staff on a daily basis, "at least the new Secretary of HUD, Jack Kemp, has indicated that there are plans for new turnkey construction."

They Make a Difference

Hicksville's civic associations have fought many battles in the last few years. Whether it's reminding a local business owner to clean up his property, or bringing complaints to the town that medical waste is being illegally dumped, civic association members are there fighting for a common goal—a better Hicksville.

Countless times, civic members' complaints go unheard or aren't acted upon by officials for one reason or another, but it's important that members keep trying and residents keep fighting for that common goal.

Northwest Civic Association recently achieved part of that common goal. And if it weren't for that civic association, residents near West John Street and Strong Street may have been plagued with an enormous office building that would surely spoil the neighborhood.

It did not go unnoticed by the Northwest Civic Association that Spiegel Associates plans to demolish the three existing vacant residential structures, at West John and Strong Streets, for the purpose of constructing an office building. If that developer received Town of Oyster Bay approval, Hicksville would have to put up with another huge office building. Some civic association members said that an office building might be better than those three houses, all of which are boarded, with grass a mile high, and basically looking like a slum. Many of the civic association members said that it would be better to work with Spiegel and agree upon something everyone could live with. It took more than a year of talks and four different plans, one of which cut the size of the structure in half, to come up with a smaller building which seems to complement the surrounding residential homes. Members of a special steering committee, who act as a liaison between the residents and Spiegel, decided that it was better to work with the developer and compromise, than to have to look at those three houses, or, far worse, get stuck with a building that dominates half of West John Street. And in doing so, the committee was able to have most of its demands met.

Take heed residents who are opposed to the office building all together. You can still voice your concerns at a public hearing when the application to construct the office building is brought before the Town Board.

But, whether you favor the building or not, what the action the Northwest Civic Association did should be commended. Too often residents remain apathetic about local events that affect their lives. They complain after it's too late. The Northwest Civic Association did not let any past defeats discourage them from obtaining their goal. In this case, their persistence and community awareness made a difference.

Angry and Disgusted

To The Editor:

On September 6, I attended the Special Board meeting at Hicksville High School. The meeting basically was about the ratification of the teachers' contract. The debate centered around the Pros and Cons of giving the teachers an approximate 10% raise a year for 3 years, totalling approximately 30%. Since I hadn't investigated this contract personally, I sat back and listened to everyone's views and opinions. Some senior citizens complained that the contract would cost too much money. Some teachers claimed that the proposal was just and long overdue. Some Board members argued that the taxpayers simply couldn't afford the proposed raises. It seemed to me at that point, that every political group and faction was well represented. Much of the anger at the Board meeting was directed to a few Board members who disagreed with the contract. The vote was taken and the proposal was passed 4 to 3.

I'm still not sure whether the raise was just or not, but I walked away from the meeting angry and disgusted. First my anger centered around Board members who probably (after hearing and reading different literature) I felt were backed by the teacher's union. Second, my anger was directed toward Senior citizens who no longer had children in school and were concerned about increased taxes. Third, my anger centered around teachers who acted more like teamsters than professionals.

I know everyone is entitled to a raise and I'm quite sure that there are many dedicated teachers in our district who are not rewarded fairly. But I might add that at this meeting the teachers outnumbered the Hicksville residents. Where were our teachers on August 31 when a special meeting was called to enlighten our community about the recent sex abuse horror? Were they absent because they didn't care? Were they absent because they weren't being paid? Or do they only use the "dedication to our children" phrase when a contract is up for renewal. How come at a recent orientation given by the District on September 5 to enlighten all the teachers about the real problems facing our children this year, did many teachers get up, walk out and ignore the speaker? How can you possibly convince me that all the teachers are dedicated and deserve a handsome raise!

Earlier in this letter I mentioned that all the political sides were represented. I failed to mention that the only group not represented were our children. I don't think anyone at that meeting (with the exception of 2 or 3 Board members, 2 or 3 teachers and few parents) can honestly say that the welfare of our children was their first priority. Politics and money, they were their main priorities.

If you can add 2 and 2 you'll probably discover that by next May our District will have to find plenty of money to meet the expenses of this new contract. To me the only solution will be for major cuts in special program, cuts in athletics, reorganization and of course higher taxes. Thus, everybody loses. The Senior citizens will have to pay more, teachers might be laid off, and the ones hurt the most will be our children.

I'm sure that after reading this letter many teachers will assume that I am their enemy. Quite the contrary, most of us parents of Hicksville know how important teachers are in the lives of our children. Unfortunately I have heard that we have many fine dedicated teachers who are underpaid. That must stop. These teachers must be rewarded handsomely. My only regret is that this contract does not single them out but instead gives every teacher a raise whether they deserve it or not. The teacher's union sees all teachers as being one. I find no justification for that at all, especially when we're dealing with professionals.

If this District can survive the next three years monetarily then what has been done will have been accepted. If we cannot, then the teacher's union has made the NOBLEST profession the OLDEST profession.

Correction

To The Editor:

I'd like to make a correction on a caption which accompanied a photo on page 7 of your Sept. 14 issue. The unidentified "police officer" administering aid to the driver of a car in a collision on Newbridge Road, near Fordham Road, on Sept. 9 is a good Samaritan named Thomas Schneider. He also happens to be a volunteer in the Nassau County Auxiliary Police Program and devotes much time to running the Hicksville-Bethpage-Plainedge Unit 312. He is willing to help anyone at anytime in a most professional manner. Thank goodness for all caring people such as he. Thank you.

War of Words

To The Editor:

At no time—in my articles published in the newspaper, have I ever defended myself, my beliefs, or my activities. My most recent article with regard to feeding the hungry and homeless (which I believe is what God requires of me) was actually provoked by harassment and actual threats to my well-being, made anonymously by the "decent hard-working people" in the beautiful residential area of which they speak.

There is nothing to be gained in continuing this war of words. I would pose one question, however. In this life, whom should we fear the most...the poor vagrant who has sunken to lying on the ground...or the fine, upstanding citizen from the model community who anonymously threatens someone who has really done no wrong except to try to promote the fulfillment of God's will?

A Letter from Lulabelle...

...I always think of my friend Charlie when I peel potatoes...Now that's a most peculiar thing to call to mind a friend from long ago, but that's how it is...Charlie and I shared a common "hate" and that was those people who peel potatoes and leave in little brown spots and eyes...We both carefully examine every potato until there is nary a spot and then we are satisfied...Long ago, when our kids—his and ours—were very young, his wife persuaded me to become her co-leader in the Girls Scouts and we became a close, friendly foursome—plus the kids, of course—and, in those days, there was much dropping in and "why don't you stay for dinner" between our families...And that's how I discovered that Charlie knew the right way (meaning my way!!) to peel potatoes, since he was one of those men who liked to help out in the kitchen...And it is strange, even now when Charlie lives far away in the West and his wife has gone, how I think of Charlie every time I peel a potato...Now most of us remember special times from more glamorous stimuli to memory—an old song or melody—a scent, perfume or a flower, a caress or handshake—all recall to us another time and another friend or loved one—but it is strange how some mundane things are right there in the forefront of our minds...There was the boy who liked only the "heel" of the tomato...and the girl who put chocolate milk on her oatmeal and insisted it was "porridge"...and the friend who begs me to save the core of the lettuce—that white center—I think of her every time I prepare lettuce and feel guilty when she's not around and I throw it away...What a collection is up there in our heads—and I am so glad to be reminded of so many old friends, especially Charlie.

Yours, Lulabelle

CONGRESSIONAL GIMMICKS

It is time to catch up on some developments that have been taking place in Congress. We have a Congress that is desperate to find anything that can lower the budget deficit without raising taxes. Most of what they are doing is a sham. They try to make it seem that they are making hard choices reducing the deficit. The so-called deficit reductions are being done with smoke and mirrors, all flash and no substance. As follows:

THE DRUG WAR: We are now embarking on yet another war on drugs. Every president since Johnson has had a "war on drugs." In reality, it has been a series of skirmishes which we have all lost. In any decent sized city, and in some small ones, the police are outnumbered and outgunned. The United States knows how to wage war, we proved that many times. To attempt to wage "war" with no major commitment of money and resources is to insure that this "war" will also fail. They tell us that we can rearrange our priorities and we will have money enough. If we waged WW II in this manner, we would have swastikas flying over our public buildings. This war is as important to the world (and us) as any that we have ever fought, including the Civil War. It requires a major commitment of assets.

CAPITAL GAINS: Congress seems to be set to pass this into law. Understand, that Congress is cutting taxes because they figure it will increase tax revenue for a couple of years (because people will sell) and therefore decrease the budget deficit. It is another gimmick. It is argued that it increases investment. I do not know of any reputable study that supports that argument. What we do know is that it does increase short term investment horizons. This has had a terrible effect on the economy. As an investor with capital gains,

LONG ISLAND UNIVERSITY

LONG ISLAND UNIVERSITY WAS FOUNDED IN BROOKLYN IN 1926. L-I-U GREW IN RESPONSE TO THE POST WWII EDUCATION BOOM, ESTABLISHING SIX SEPARATE CAMPUSES IN BROOKLYN, SOUTHAMPTON, BRENTWOOD, BROOKVILLE AND WITH CAMPUSES OFF LONG ISLAND IN WESTCHESTER AND ROCKLAND!

THE BROOKVILLE CAMPUS OPENED IN 1954 ON THE FORMER ESTATE OF CEREAL HEIRESS MARJORIE MERRIWEATHER POST. RAPID EXPANSION IN THE 1960S AND 70S LED TO 40 BUILDINGS ON 400 ACRES, WITH APPROXIMATELY 10,000 STUDENTS TODAY vs. 121 STUDENTS IN 1954!

I favor this approach because it will save me money, especially when I sell my house. As a thinking person, I do not favor it. It is bad tax policy and bad economics.

THE IRA PROPOSAL: We do know that this approach does raise capital and increase investment. It is long term, conservative and good policy. Its drawback is that it increases budget deficits because it reduces taxable income. It is not a gimmick, so it will not get a good hearing in Washington.

THE S&L MESS: This is really a case in point. We got a 100 billion dollars passed by Congress (not enough by about 200B) without increasing the deficit by a dollar. In fact, it is so structured that the dollars that do come in will be credited so they reduce the deficit. How did they do this, easy. All you have to do is set up another government agency and have them borrow the money. That way the money never gets counted against the deficit. The fact that this raises the interest rate by about 1/2% seems to be immaterial. So another sham, but a non-increase in the deficit. The game goes on. My, they are doing such a good job. Incidentally, where are the indictments for the massive frauds that were standard for many of the failed S&Ls?

MEDICARE: The August 31 article of this column was on this law. Many of you know that I am strongly in favor of the law (so is the AARP). The article offered a price and value comparison of the New York State approved insurance companies' policies. This will be sent to responders (over 100) this week. I have also decided to have two free seminars on the subject in October. It will be announced in the next issue of your paper. Those who were not able to get to the last seminar, and let us know, will be taken care of first. Those who sign up for the information will be sent a request form for tickets. In all cases, since your local Anton paper sponsors these seminars, you must be a paid subscriber to attend. Limit two to a family or envelope. First come, first served. Any other suggestions for another place to hold future seminars?

Dr. Frey is a professor of investments and finance at LIU/CW Post campus on Long Island.

ROBERT R. McMILLAN'S Direct Line

It is about time that contact tracing be applied to those diagnosed as having AIDS. With estimates of several hundred thousand cases of AIDS throughout the country and a large portion of those infected in New York, why should this terrifying disease be treated any differently than Syphilis, Tuberculosis, or Salmonella? With any of these diseases, local health authorities are required to contact the person infected and trace contacts to alert them to the possibility of infection. AIDS should be no different. In fact, AIDS is far more serious than those other diseases with very limited success in treating the disease and no cure. If anything, AIDS should be handled in a more stringent fashion.

Those affected with AIDS have been successful in preventing the application of contact tracing. Their arguments are based primarily on the right of privacy for homosexuals. This argument has carried the day. It is also argued that contact tracing would discourage homosexuals and IV drug abusers from obtaining tests. But what about the rights of the sexual partners of those infected or those who share a needle with an AIDS infected person? They are also entitled to civil rights as well. With AIDS related health expenditures, in New York City, expected to be five billion dollars over the next five years, taxpayers are also entitled to contact tracing. Doctor Bruce F. Farber, of the Division of Infectious Disease at North Shore University Hospital, tells me contact testing is a "complicated problem." He recognizes the ethical and socio-political conflict. But, Doctor Farber feels the contact tracing should be done even though health officials will have a hard time carrying it out. Recent evidence demonstrates that early treatment of HIV infections with the drug AZT can delay the serious complications of AIDS. This is another important reason to support the early detection of this infection and why contact testing makes sense.

The gay community, opposed to contact tracing, calls for more education to promote safer sex. The moral dimension of homosexuality aside, what kind of education are we talking about? The New York City Department of Health has one answer. The City spent forty six thousand dollars this year developing a campaign to advise men who have sex with other men to "Rubber up for safety." In announcing this program, Health Commissioner Stephen C. Joseph referred to the AIDS epidemic as the "...worst our city has faced in modern memory..." One of the TV spots features a discussion about safer sex in the "...context of a romantic evening." I cannot help but wonder whether these spots are not viewed by their audiences as more of a promotion of homosexuality than an educational effort relating the homosexual behavior. Apparently, more than fifteen gay clubs and bars have already signed up for these explicit video spots. I have not seen one on commercial television.

The New York City Health Department press release, about the ad program, lists five organizations helping to shape the radio, print, and television educational ad campaign. One year's work went into development of this "educational" program. Now, I am not opposed to educating homosexuals about the AIDS crisis. Continuing education is of utmost importance—even when it takes one year to develop. I am also fully supportive of an all-out effort to develop medicines and vaccines to deal with this scourge. No reasonable effort should be rejected. I do wish, however, that the homosexual community would have as much interest in contact tracing as it does in telling people from "romantic" settings how to have safe sex with another man. It is clear to me and most of the medical community that alerting sexual partners about an AIDS infection would do a lot more to prevent and treat AIDS than telling gay men what they already know about using condoms.

“HELP”

Sometimes you just run out of steam, even putting one foot in front of the other is an effort. Besides, what's the use when you've got nowhere to go?

That's how Denise felt, until a good friend urged her to seek help at Jewish Community Services of Long Island (JCSLI), a UJA Federation agency.

Middle-aged and chronically ill with diabetes and obesity, she managed for years—just barely—with her wits. She just had to get through the day. When her mother died, she was 45. She was 45. She was 45.

at JCSLI helped her to become self-confident and meet new people.

JCSLI helps people cope with severe as well as everyday living problems. A wide variety of services are available for children, newly-arrived immigrants, the elderly and the needy.

Today—only three years after she cried “help”—Denise has a new job and her own apartment. At last, she has fulfilled her dream. Denise is truly independent.

Gifts to UJA-Federation help Long Islanders like Denise and four million people in New York, Israel and worldwide.

History in the Re-Making: Mission Oak by Stickley

In 1900, Leopold Stickley and his younger brother, John George, bought the Collin, Scisson & Pratt furniture factory in Fayetteville, New York. Their company, L.&J.G. Stickley, was incorporated four years later. Before starting his own business, Leopold worked with his older brother, Gustav, at the Gustav Stickley Company in Syracuse, N.Y.

Gustav, a major proponent of the Arts & Crafts movement in the United States, was influenced by John Ruskin and William Morris of the English Arts & Crafts Movement.

Leopold's first furniture line, the Mission Oak, was very similar to what Gustav was manufacturing. In 1905, L.&J.G. Stickley did their first trade show in Grand Rapids, Michigan, displaying "simple furniture built on mission lines."

Originally made by Gustav Stickley in 1905 this reproduction of the graceful #376 spindle arm chair is consistent with the Craftsman doctrine of usefulness, durability and comfort. (An original recently sold for $20,000!)

Their work was well received.

Around 1918 changing public taste spelled the end for Mission furniture. Today there is a very keen interest in Gustav and L.&J.G. Stickley Mission Oak pieces. They have been exhibited in some of the most prestigious museums in the United States. The same early pieces are bringing premium bids in auction houses throughout the country.

In 1922, Leopold Stickley announced a "line of period designs in popular finishes." For his inspiration he turned to the old houses of New England and Pennsylvania. He also traveled widely throughout Europe, collecting trestle tables, corner cupboards, dressers and Windsor chairs.

Keeping English influence in mind, Stickley inaugurated his Cherry Valley adaptations of American Colonial designs. He took full advantage of the beauty and durability of the wild black cherry wood that was abundant in the Adirondack region.

A new era began for Stickley when, in 1974, Alfred Audi and his wife, Amary, bought the company. Their first priority was to train a new work force to work closely with the skilled cabinet makers.

Widely respected as the premier manufacturer of solid cherry furniture, Stickley has recently introduced classically designed pieces in mahogany as well. These pieces exhibit the stately elegance of the mid-18th century and add a more formal look to the line. Authentic in design and meticulous in execution, they add a touch of elegance to any room.

History repeats itself as L.&J.G. Stickley re-issues the historic Mission Oak furniture made at the turn of the century by Gustav and Leopold Stickley.

The bidding:

West Pass North Pass East 3 South 3

Pass 4

Opening lead — jack of hearts.

Certain deals present declarer with an opportunity to get home safely by using his wits rather than by technical prowess. However, an alert defender should almost always be able to see through such a ruse.

That was the case in this deal where South wound up in four spades after a preemptive three heart opening by East. West led the jack of hearts, and declarer took stock of the situation.

South realized that if he covered the jack with the queen, East would win with the ace and probably shift to a diamond. If West had the diamond ace, this would result in rapid defeat.

To defuse this threat, declarer played a low heart from dummy at trick one! South reasoned that by allowing West to hold the lead, the king of diamonds would be protected from attack, after which raking ten tricks would pose no problem.

South's plan would have worked fine, whether it had been declarer at the controls. However, East sensed this ruse and got with grave misfortune was obvious that declarer had the missing four of hearts, since South would automatically have covered the jack with the queen if he were void in the suit.

So East overtook the jack with the ace, even though this established dummy's K-Q as trumps, and shifted to the queen of diamonds to set the contract.

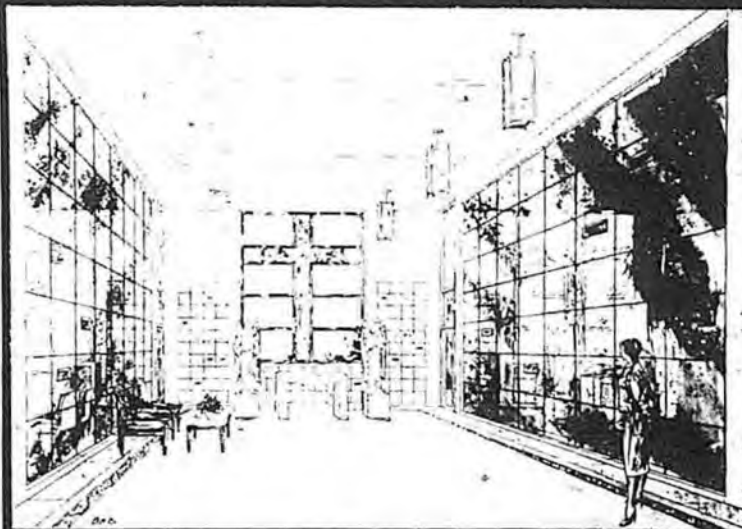

East reasoned that South had not covered the jack of hearts because it was against his best interests to have East on lead. But, thought East, if it was good for declarer to keep him off lead, then it must be correct to take the lead.

East was right.

Former Diet
Failure Reports
Amazing Success

INDIANAPOLIS — Brenda
Rollins has, by her own admission, tried and failed with every diet she came across. Now, with a new diet, "The 90 Minute Diet," Ms. Rollins reports she lost 18 pounds the first 11 days and 42 pounds total.

She states, "The 90 Minute
Diet is the solution to a weight problem. I never once felt hungry, deprived or weak. And the weight has stayed off!"

James F. Balch, Jr., M.D., a noted physician and author, heartily endorses the 90 Minute Diet as one that "will benefit anyone who desires to attain an optimal weight and maintain it."

The author of the diet says,
"It's successful because the 90 Minute Diet is a new way of thinking about food and eating.
The 90 Minute Diet will help anyone seriously wanting to lose weight to shed pounds quickly, safely and permanently.
This diet," he reports, "burns off body fat and keeps it off."
The 90 Minute Diet is available on cassettes and comes with a booklet titled Fats and Figures. The diet can be ordered by sending $19.90 to 90 Minute Diet, diana Bank Building, Suite 2001,

MARMADUKE® by Brad Anderson

"Maybe you should take them both to the vet and see if you can get a group discount."

"Yes, I know Marmaduke barked all night. But don't worry about him. He gets plenty of sleep during the day."

"Can you tell if he's sniffing me like I'm a cat or like I'm a fire hydrant?"

Minutemen Open Season With 5-0 Romp Over Oceanside Cherokee

By A. Blicker

The Hicksville Minutemen, the 1977 "B" travelling soccer team, steamrolled past the Oceanside Cherokee 5-0 on Sunday, Sept. 10, to successfully start their fall season.

Greg Walunas, the heart of the Minutemen defense at sweeper, was never better. He was assisted by fullbacks Kenny D'Introno and Robin Blicker as well as goalkeeper Tracy Koetter. Tim Dalton, at stopper, played a fine two-way game. Half-backs Jason Brown, Anthony Noya and Brian Rigert, thoroughly controlled the middle of the field by exerting tremendous offensive pressure, as well as displaying fine defensive play. The front line of Jorge DaSilva, Michael Whitman and Danny DePinho were at their offensive best, putting continuous pressure on the Cherokee defense. Bobby Braun, Bobby Wagner, Andres Turcios and Declan Healy provided relief at many different positions, as the extreme heat led to frequent substitution of players.

The Minutemen jumped off to a quick 1-0 lead on a DePinho header off a Noya cross. Noya then converted a penalty shot for a 2-0 lead, which the Minutemen carried into halftime, as two other goals were called back.

The offense continued to dominate with two goals by Jorge DaSilva. The final score was off of a cross by D'Introno to Dalton, who put it in.

Coaches notes: Congratulations to my team for playing a great soccer game and never letting up, despite the humid weather. Special thanks are in order to my assistant, Tony DePinho, for wonderful work with the team the last five weeks to get them ready for the season. Thanks, too, to assistant Pete Whitman for all his help, as well as to Seaman & Eisemann for their third year of much-appreciated support.

Special Thank You: Did you help line soccer fields this past weekend, in the blazing sun, so that Hicksville Soccer's fall season could get off to a smooth start? Are you a Board member? Perhaps you volunteered to coach your child's team, or be an assistant? Maybe you're a team mother? If any of these apply to you, thanks....not only from the Hicksville Soccer Club, but also from the youth of our community who play soccer. Our opening weekend was successful because of you, the dedicated parents of our club. Thanks again for your help.

Seventh Grade Baseball Team Highlights

By Coach Stephen Compitello

This past spring I had the opportunity to coach the Hicksville Middle School seventh grade boys' baseball team. I found that it was very rewarding to the boys and me because they were accustomed to playing Little League rules and regulations whereas in the Middle School we played Big League rules and dimensions. As the season progressed, it became easy to adjust to this change.

We started the season losing the first three out of four games. Starting with our fifth game, we went on to win the next six out of eight with one tie. Overall, our final record was 7-4-1.

The following was the basic line-up used for most games outside of substitutions:

Jarrod Pfeifer (second base)-Jarrod was an ideal lead-off man. Because of his small target he received many walks and also fielded his position very well.

Billy Rogers (shortstop)-Billy was a very good fielder and handled himself well with the bat.

Danny Ferreira (centerfield)-Danny hit well and was one of the three top hitters on the team. He stole many bases because of his speed.

Joe Barile (catcher)-Joe is a very good catcher with a strong arm. He hit well and with his overall ability he was an asset to the team.

Tom D'Angelis (third base/pitcher)-Tom played third most of the time and also pitched. He was an excellent hitter and the leading RBI man on the team.

Brian Anstey (rightfield)-Brian was also a good catcher. I played him in the outfield because he had other talent besides catching. His potential with the bat was there and he was hitting better toward the end.

Michael Moylan (first base)-Michael has the potential to be a very good player. His fielding was good.

Bryan Higgins (leftfield)-Brian has excellent baseball qualities. He was a good team player.

Edward Lynch (pitcher)-Ed's asset was his control and holding runners on base. He won three of the seven games and pitched very well in relief on three other occasions.

Billy Harvey, Shennan Maceo and Tom D'Angelis were the other pitchers on the team who pitched very well. As a matter of fact, pitching was our strongest team effort.

Kenneth Engelhardt, Michael Graziuse, Gerard Halfpenny, Mark Emanuel, Chris Boukas, Kenny Yee and Dave Pagano were substitutes who contributed either running, batting, or taking a position on the field.

As a final analysis, I enjoyed the challenge and was pleased to see all the boys improve their ability as the season progressed. All in all it was a successful season!
