

Plan to Repair Facade Of Hicksville USA Sign

The marble facade of the Hicksville USA welcoming sign at the corner of Broadway and Jerusalem Avenue will be repaired by the Town of Oyster Bay.

The sign, which was originally erected by the Galileo Galilei Lodge, Sons of Italy, is expected to be fixed within the next week.

Under the direction of Town Supervisor Angelo Dellagatti, the parks department hired Cosmo Tile and Marble of Locust Valley to replace the marble slab and remount the seven dedication plates attached to the marble.

A town spokesman said that the repair could cost more than $2,000, but Cosmo's owner, Joseph Gallo, is charging the town only for the labor which comes to $850 because Mr. Gallo "believes in community service."

Hicksville Captures the Halloween Spirit

The Hicksville Illustrated's photographer, Cathy Greenfield, had the pleasure of visiting local families who went all out for Halloween by decorating the outside of their homes. Although the endless rains dampened the many dummies and scarecrows, and the heavy winds blew most of the cob webs away, Hicksville families, as usual, kept their Halloween spirit.

best friend, Joe Messana (12), who both attend the Middle School. Although Joe was unavailable for the photo we did find out that Joe's house on Cottage Boulevard is also decorated. Also in photo are Shawn's sisters, Megan (8) and Bridget (7).

The Castoro Family: (In rear) Mom, Gail, holding 2½ year old Jonathan. (Front) Matthew (6) and Katherine (5). Gail is a life-long resident of Hicksville. She grew up on Dakota Street and now lives on Cantiague Lane.

When our photographer arrived at the Smeriglio home on Princess Street, Maria was teaching her little neighbor, Erica Sabatello, (7) how to decorate Halloween cookies.

Scott Wilhelm can be credited with making this the scariest looking house on Walnut Lane. The whole family calls this the "Wilhelm's Eternal Rest Home" with "No Vacancies." It's ... TWINS

Mary and Bob Caccioppoli were twice as excited as other parents when they found out they were the parents of twins. Brian, and Laura were born Sept. 1 at Winthrop University Hospital. Brian came into this world at 4 lbs. 12 oz. and his sister Laura came in at 2 lbs. 7 oz.

Happy grandparents were all from Hicksville: Dorothy Kilgallon and Amy and Louis Caccioppoli. What a joy! The twins will be between the work ... but they'll also be between the fun. Congratulations to all of you.

About The Schuldiners

I met a very lovely young lady last week. I went to Wm. Matt's Salon in Carle Place to have my hair cut. While this young lady was washing my hair I asked her where she was from. "Hicksville," she said. Well, that's my que. Her name is Mindy Hibson. I found out her grandparents—The Schuldiners—were longtime Hicksville residents but are now residents of Virginia. Her mom's name is Jane, and she has a sister Ann. She told me her aunt Barbara Schuldiner lives in Virginia and her uncle Jimmy Schuldiner is living in Florida. It was nice meeting her.

Cafe Broadway Grand Opening

Received a note from Joan Bulkley. She wrote: "Special thanks goes to the family and friends of Linda and Ronnie Ruggiero for making the grand opening Aug. 12 and 13 of their new restaurant Cafe Broadway, a hit. Attending the party were Linda's parents Frances and Rocco Parrella and Ronnie's mom, Millie Ruggiero, all longtime residents of Hicksville.

"Out thanks also go to Linda and Ronnie's new business associates Roger Montanaro and Douglas Axman, for making Cafe Broadway located right on North Broadway in Hicksville ... a very welcome addition to Hicksville's beautification program."

Best Of Luck, Joey

We're sending our best wishes to Joe (Hobo) Hawhurst who is now the proud owner of Annie's Place, at 330 Broadway in Bethpage. He's having a Halloween Ball on Saturday, Oct. 28 and would like all his old friends (and new) to come down for a really great time. There will be music and prizes for the best costume, most original, etc., plus door prizes. Helping Joey will be Dee, Steve and Chick. Go see them, tell them you read about it in the Illustrated.

A New Boy In Town

Donna and Michael Clark of Hicksville are the proud parents of a son, Timothy Michael, born Oct. 13 at Syosset Community Hospital. He weighed 7 lbs. 11 1/2 oz. and was 19 1/2" long.

Timmy's maternal grandparents are Eileen and Michael Clark of Port Richey, Florida, and Jean and Vincent Murphy of Hempstead.

They're Doing A Great Job

Navy Fireman Barbara Acquino, daughter of Erwin Doyle of Hicksville, has completed recruit training in Orlando, Florida.

Barbara completed an eight-week training period, studying general military subjects designed to prepare her for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields. She joined the Navy in April, 1989.

• Pvt. Martin Jaycard has completed military police training at the U.S. Army Military Police School in Alabama. He was trained in civil and military law, traffic control, map reading and self-defense.

Martin is the son of Bernice Jaycard and graduated from Hicksville High School in 1986.

A Boy For The Maccios

Barbara (Murphy) and James Maccio, of Hicksville, now have a son, James Anthony, born Oct. 5 at Central General Hospital. He tipped the scales at 7 lbs. 2 oz. James has a two-year-old sister, Tara Ann.

Grandma (Cary) and Grandpa (Vinnie Maccio) now have six grandchildren while Grandma Hilda and Pop-Pop (William) Murphy now have eight.

Hilda and Bill Murphy just returned from a wonderful trip to Evansville, Indiana. They were there for Bill's first U.S.N. LST 826 Ships Crew Reunion (35 years). The LST was built in Evansville and Bill said, "I enjoyed so much reminiscing with my Navy buddies after so many years. We shared a lot of time together."

Congratulations Irwin

We're sending our best wishes to an old school friend, Irwin Botto, who was honored for his 60th birthday at a surprise party given at the home of his son James and Monica Botto, in Hicksville. From what I understand there were enough there to celebrate with him—all his children, his family and his many friends ... but most important, his wife, Cissie.

Irwin, a contractor, owns Botto Mechanical Plumbing Co. He is in the process of renovating a building he recently bought, on Old Country Road, (near where the unemployment building used to be).

We're Glad To Hear...

We were very happy to hear the wonderful response about our recent issue that contained the "Nostalgia" section. We are delighted so many enjoyed it.

What An Anniversary Present!

David and Annette (Sardi) Whidden are proud to announce the arrival of their first child, Thomas Anthony. Thomas arrived at 12:30 p.m. Aug. 17 and weighed in at 8 lbs. 5 oz. and was 20 1/2" tall. Thomas' maternal grandparents, Mella and Ernie Sardi, of Hicksville, and paternal grandfather, Howard Whidden of Dayton, Ohio, (formerly of Levittown), were thrilled at his arrival.

Thomas has one cousin, Andrea Breihol, on his mom's side; Meredith, Jonathan and Bradley Whidden, and Daniel and David Keller. Many of Thomas' aunts and uncles were at his house in Farmingdale to welcome him home on August 20.

It was a wonderful day for his parents who were also celebrating their sixth wedding anniversary that day.

Dr. Garger Offers Alternative to Chiropractic Treatment

By Jim McCrann

Offering the Hicksville Community an alternative to conventional medical treatment is Dr. Michael F. Garger, a chiropractor, who began his practice last August. A 1977 graduate of Hicksville High School, Dr. Garger decided to begin his practice in the town where he grew up and in a place where he says he feels comfortable. In seeing approximately 25 patients per week, Dr. Garger's practice is on a pace which he says is "Slow, but sure."

Dr. Garger's interest in chiropractics came about from chiropractic treatment he received seven years ago for a back injury. The feeling of relief that he experienced and the unique way in which the treatment was administered aroused his curiosity of the subject. Dr. Garger's chiropractor showed him some basic techniques and forms of treatment. This experience led him to his decision to become a chiropractor. After graduating from high school in 1977, Dr. Garger attended S.U.N.Y. at Farmingdale and then the College of Environmental Science and Forestry in Syracuse. He received a Ph.D. from New York Chiropractic College in December, 1988.

One of the most difficult dilemmas facing Dr. Garger upon graduation from graduate school was getting started. He had two options, either he had to begin his own practice or buy another chiropractor's practice. Though he said, "It's hard trying to start from scratch," he decided to begin on his own. According to Dr. Garger, "Good health can't just come from a pill, you must take into account all sides of life." This is part of what he calls the wholistic approach. Though the chiropractic treatment itself is the most important, treatment must also deal with good nutrition and sound emotional health.

"My job is to give people ideas of how to help themselves," said Dr. Garger.

The body works at its fullest potential when its life force energy is allowed to flow freely. The job of a chiropractor is to remove blockages of the life force energy. According to Dr. Garger, this is achieved by balancing the spine and removing interference in the nervous system so that the body can communicate with the brain more efficiently. "If we balance the body," he said, "It lasts longer by overcoming stresses easier." Therefore, the quality of life is improved. This is what he means by "adding years to your life and life to your years."

Dr. Garger takes great pride in his close relationship with his patients. He said, "I like to spend time with my patients; that's important. I don't want to just rush people out. My emphasis is on spending some time with people. I don't want to reach masses of people at the expense of the individual."

He believes that this approach will assist him greatly in making people aware of chiropractic treatment. "I want to get the message out to as many as I can. I want people to know that there is an alternative," he said.

Dr. Garger's office is located at 60 West Barclay St. The phone number is 959-0031.

Griske Completes Summer Science Honors Program

While many of us were enjoying time at the beach or the pool this summer, Ryan Griske was busy conducting experiments in biology, chemistry and physics. Ryan, a native of Hicksville, recently returned home from Washington, D.C., where he spent four weeks attending a special Summer Science Program held at Gallaudet University. Ryan is one of only 15 students from across the country who were selected to participate in Gallaudet's Summer Science Program.

The Summer Science Program, supported by both Gallaudet University and the National Science Foundation, is especially designed for deaf and hard of hearing students, ages 14 to 16, who want to learn more about careers in science. Summer Science scholars attend classes, conduct experiments, meet deaf scientists, and go on educational and recreational field trips.

Legion Recognizes Crime Prevention

The following is being printed as a service by the Charles A. Wagner American Legion Post 421.

The National Crime Prevention Council has declared October Crime Prevention Month. The Bureau of Justice Assistance, U.S. Justice Department urges all citizens to support local crime prevention and block watch programs. McGuff, the trench-coated crime dog, is the most visible symbol of the national "Take A Bite Out of Crime" public education campaign.

The American Legion Law and Order program urges citizens to crimeproof your home by using solid core wood or metal hinged doors. Make sure all hinges are on the inside, safe from burglar's tools. Replace hinges with new ones that have non-removable pins. Burglars look for sliding glass doors because they are easy to open. Adjust rollers so the door cannot be pushed up enough to lift off the track. Insert screws along the upper track of the door. Leave enough room for the door to slide, but not enough space to lift the door out. Drill a hole and insert a nail through the inside frame and part way through the metal door frame. You can remove the nail but a burglar can't.

A deadbolt lock can provide good protection. Another good lock is an auxiliary rim mounted lock with a deadbolt. A police lock works well on rear and basement entrances and in apartments. It is a metal bar bracketed against the inside of the door at an angle, which slides into a small hole on the floor. It prevents an intruder from jimmying or kicking in the door. Special key locks for windows can be purchased at hardware stores. Keep the keys away from the windows, but be sure everyone in the house knows where to find them in case of emergency. An easy inexpensive way to secure your windows is to use the "pin" trick. Drill an angled hole through the top frame of the lower window partially into the frame of the upper window. Then insert a nail or an eyebolt. The window can't be opened until you remove the nail. Make a second set of holes with windows partly opened so you can have ventilation without inviting intruders. Eyebolts can provide strong resistance against jimmying. A local or central alarm system are recommended. A "buddy buzzer" alarm is one that sounds at the home of a friend or neighbor.

Residents are urged to join Operation Identification by borrowing an electric engraving pen from your local police to mark valuables with a special identification number. Operation Identification stickers can be placed on your front door and window to deter burglars.

And remember, if you suspect burglary don't enter your home to confront a burglar. Run to a neighbor and call police at once. After a burglary don't touch anything as you disturb a crime scene. For information on how to crime proof your home write to Charles A. Wagner Post 421, The American Legion, Hicksville, N.Y. 11801.

Don't Park Your Car on Leaves, Fire Dept. Urges

The fall season is upon us in all its glory. Along with autumn comes the hazards of fire.

It is a fire hazard to park your automobile over leaves. The new vehicles equipped with Catalytic Converters can ignite leaves easily. The converters reach a temperature of 1,500 degrees.

Please exercise caution by not parking over leaves no matter what type of vehicle.

P.S. Remember to change the batteries in your smoke detector. And if you don't have a smoke detector in your home, business or apartment, but some now.

Burns Avenue Students Honor a Veteran

Throughout the United States, ceremonies are being planned to honor former servicemen on Veterans Day. All too often, most of these ceremonies are bland, perfunctory, and impersonal. However, in two classrooms at the Burns Avenue School, Hicksville, a ceremony is being planned by 27 children which will be significant, personal, and truly touching. For at this ceremony, fifth grade students will pay their respects to 27 specific veterans. Each veteran will be publicly thanked for his contribution to the United States, and/or the personal and specific sacrifices that were entailed while in service.

The honoring ceremony will be culminating activity of a classroom project called, "Honor A Veteran." The entire project consists of a series of activities aimed at teaching American history, culture, and values. At one point, each student will interview a veteran. Through this interview, the child will gain an insight into what military service entails. He will gain an understanding of the highlights, disappointments, frustrations, and happiness associated with serving one's country. The student will then write a brief biographical paper on his veteran.

Finally, on the evening of Nov. 9, the students, their families, and the veterans will gather together at the Burns Avenue School. Everyone will share in a buffet dinner prepared by the parents. The room will be decorated with art projects made by the students during their course of study. The highlight of the evening will be when each child presents the veteran he has studied to the entire group. A brief biographical sketch will be recited, and then in his own words each child will publicly thank the veteran for all he has done for our country.

Just A Reminder: If you're sending information to be put into the Hometown People section, please include your name, address and phone number in case we have a question.

Hicksville resident Bill Grabowski (right) and Jim McNicholas rehearse a scene from Township Theatre Group's upcoming production of "Rashomon," a mysterious tale of murder in ancient Japan. The play will be presented Oct. 27 and 28 at the Burr's Lane Junior High School in Dix Hills. For information call 427-3573.

TRUMP'S Casino?

So Friday the 13th did not surprise you? Or did it? If you are a regular reader of this column with a good memory, you may remember the article of October 29, 1987 entitled "Market Madness" where we discussed Friday, Oct. 16th and Monday the 19th. At that time I stated that Congress would investigate (they paid lip service to the process) and then act poorly (they really did nothing). That article ended by saying that "One of the results of a market mania is that we do not learn or remember the lessons of our past mistakes. I hope we have this time." The so-called controls that were then enacted were praised to the high heavens over the week-end. One NY stock exchange official said that everything worked well on the 13th. I am so glad because I would hate to know what would have happened if things had not gone so well. How by any stretch of anyone's imagination could anyone think that a fall of 190 points of the Dow is "going well."

These are the "reforms" enacted after 10/19/87: 1) S&P futures fall 5 points—a 10 minute pause in trading. 2) If the DJIA falls 25 points, the small order express kicks in (your orders go before large institutions). That's OK if it is true. 3) If S&P futures fall 12 points, 1/2 hour trading halt in them, and on the NY Stock Exchange, program trading is diverted to a separate computer. 4) If the S&P futures fall 30 points, trading is restricted to no lower price. 5) If the Dow falls 250 points, trading halted for 1 hour. And finally, 6) If the Dow falls 400 points trading is halted for 2 hours and the futures trading is halted also. These are the much touted "circuit breakers." This is what worked so well so that the loss was only kept to 190 points. Congratulations for nothing!

What is now apparent is the fact that the public learned a lesson from 1987. Then, many became scared and withdrew their money from the market. Only the most courageous bought stock then. This time around, many saw the 190 point fall as a buying opportunity and bought on Monday. They did not panic, they saw that small stocks did not fall by much, that the losses were confined mainly to the 30 Dow stocks. They reasoned that it was not a catastrophe, and they were right.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

"...Have you been up to your attic lately?...I decided recently when the day was cool enough so that the attic temperature was bearable to clean the attic. We do have stairs going up and on each step—guess what?—there was something on its way to the attic—too good to throw out, but not good enough to keep below stairs....At the top was an old dresser and in its drawers, what treasures!!! One of those bedspreads of little round circles sewn together—Do you remember making them even when you were quite small?...You found all kinds of printed (I suppose it could have been plain, but I remember only printed) material and drew a circle on it using a saucer as a guide...then you turned in the ends and gathered all around the circumference—pulled it into a little tight pouch, flattened it out and joined it in four places to its fellows...It had to be used over another spread or blanket because the little holes showed between the circles...Now, of course that was just too precious to discard, so I folded it neatly and returned it to the drawer with the large linen tablecloths that we use only on holidays and the antimacassars that we never use—but they're so pretty!!!...Next I came to a carefully covered box containing every letter I received during four college years from the man who was to become my husband—and I started to read them—and pretty soon, it was so late that all I could do was look at the electric trains, which are too big for our model railroad—the lamps, which have brass bases too pitted to see the light of downstairs—several garment bags of clothes that I will never, never fit into—all the drawings that my children did in elementary school (it would be sacrilege to throw them away!!)—a large box of ties, which are unfashionably wide and my husband is saving them until the style changes...a really old typewriter—several old pieces of luggage with broken locks and no keys...If you've been in your attic lately and you're not one of those impossible people who have a neat attic—(I don't know any like that)—you must know what I mean...So, after three hours in the attic, I left with a dirty air conditioner filter to throw away—but such happy feelings—it's always so good to rummage through the past!! Go on—be brave—go up to your attic!

© 1989 Lulabelle's Love Letters

Years, Lulabelle

I knew that the market would not be a disaster on Monday by using a crude, simple gauge. In 1987 my phone rang off the hook with calls from worried clients and friends. This time, not one single call did I get, no panic. I felt neglected and relieved.

Others will look at the stock market and say to themselves that indeed the stock market is a gambling casino like Donald Trump has in New Jersey. Others will see it as a place where there are large institutions that will play their program trading games to take advantage of market movements. The smart ones will see it as a place where they can invest their money over a long period of time and get a very good return, better than almost any other, if they invest, not gamble. All they have to do is buy quality. I have said this many times before. There has not been a time in the last 50 years that a portfolio of quality stocks has not been higher after 5 years, no matter when you bought them, at the high or the low.

This fact alone is why your writer is such a strong advocate of good quality mutual funds and mutual fund-like insurance products. They are as close to being guaranteed winners as you can get. People who got out of the stock market in 1987 should be kicking themselves today, all the way to their bank CD's. They should be getting back in now, if they are long term investors. More next week on this.

Seminar: Last week we held the first 1989 seminar. It was held in Manhasset on a raw, rainy October night. Tonight we will hold the second one at Garden City Casino (not a gambling joint). Come if you can, no ticket is necessary.

Doctor Frey is a professor of investments and finance at LIU/CW Post campus on Long Island.

ROBERT R. McMILLAN'S

Direct Line

When is it "mud"? When is it "negative campaigning"? When is it just stating the facts even though they seem negative? Charges seem to be flowing heavier today than in most political seasons. Campaigns today are run totally from the perspective of how the "media" will react. Presidents are elected, to a large extent, on the basis of thirty second prime time spots and television commercials. Was it any different one hundred years ago? Not really. Even though there were time delays in distribution, the print media played a singularly important role. There was always the stump speech and word of mouth advertising. Political parties meant much more because the candidates were often very distant.

Today, at the local level, weekly newspapers make a difference. No member of the Assembly or town council would ever think of missing a photo at a community meeting or sending a press release to the local paper. Dailies even become more important to candidates running for higher office. But is all this focus on the "photo opportunity" good for the governmental process? Even protests are now geared to provide a message on the tube or in a photo. A recent protest against the launch of a space probe was complete with a skit to attract color cameras.

At times, I think our political candidates are media-obsessed, and those responsible for reporting the news often contribute to the indulgence. There should be much more focus on issues. The responsibility of TV, radio, and newspapers must be to search out the substance of issues, rather than sitting back and waiting to be spoon-fed by press agents. Let's get behind the press releases and see what a candidate really means.

The candidate with funds—mostly incumbents—do not have to rely on the "photo opportunity." They can bring their own slant to a campaign through the use of print, radio and TV advertising. Ron Lauder's negative campaign against Rudy Giuliani is an important reason for Giuliani's current weakness in the Mayoral sweepstakes.

The Willie Horton advertisement in last year's Presidential campaign has been widely criticized. But the facts in the TV spots were accurate. The ad would have been just as effective if Willie Horton had been white. The public is generally against letting dangerous convicted criminals out of jail for a vacation—whether they be white or black.

The tracking of Gary Hart's womanizing was invited by the candidate. Yet, when the facts about his escapades were reported, some politicians cried foul. Often, personal traits of candidates are treated with a rule of silence. Silence can be "golden" if the failure to report does not interfere with the voter's right to make the best choice. If the personal trait does not impact on a candidate's performance, then the media and opponent are better sticking to substantive issues. The problem is that many reporters and editors find that approach to be dull, and it doesn't help ratings or circulation. The evening television news or newspaper headlines has to catch the viewer—again the "photo opportunity."

The media has a real responsibility in how campaigns are presented. If our television, radio and print reporters were to ignore negative campaigns as much as many ignore reporting substantive positions taken by candidates, negative campaigning would soon fade. A candidate's position on an important national, local, or international issue is far less interesting than a sensational charge. But it should not be that way. The next time you see or hear an editorial comment condemning negative campaigning, take a look and see who reported it in the first place. The mud is slung only because it often sticks after being reported.

By Gary Ryder

HALLOWEEN SPIRITS!!

This is the perfect time to visit a winery, to see the grapes being picked and pressed, and to smell the heady aroma of fermenting wine.

WINE WAREHOUSE offers a Free Harvest Package with a wine country calendar of tours, tastings, and special events; plus brochures on the different growing areas in the state.

Harvest isn't always what you expect. At one time, workers picked grapes in the October sun; but many growers are mechanized now, and harvest may be in the cool hours between midnight and sunrise.

Three different kinds of grapes are made into New York State wines: native lobusca varieties such as concord or catawba; French-American hybrids like seyval blanc and baco noir; and vinifera varieties like chardonnay and cabernet sauvignon.

Now the premium wine producers whose wines are made exclusively from the European vinifera varieties have formed the Vinifera Code to promote these wines, create a quality seal for wines that pass special tests, and encourage winemaking research.

Stop in for your Free Harvest Package at WINE WAREHOUSE. Make us your wine headquarters. Cocktails are back in style, according to such stylesetters as New York's Rainbow Room. Its bar menu lists 27 different mixed drinks, all made with fresh fruit and quality spirits.

Photographer Hurt By Soccer Team Members

Members of a Brooklyn soccer team playing at a Hicksville field attacked a newspaper photographer after he started taking photos of an altercation between team members and referees, on Sunday police said.

According to the Eighth Precinct Police, the Hercules soccer club of Hicksville was participating in a game against the Juventus soccer club of Brooklyn, at a Pistor Road soccer field, when a disputed goal was scored.

Police said that members of the Juventus club began an altercation with the referees and chased them from the field.

Dimitrios Panagos, 31, a photographer for the National Herald newspaper in Long Island City, was at the game and began taking pictures of the incident. Members of the team demanded that he turn over his camera and he refused. He was then assaulted and struck over the head with an unknown object and his camera was destroyed, police said.

Panagos was taken to Central General Hospital and was treated and released for facial lacerations.

The subjects of the assault were gone upon the arrival of police.

The second squad is investigating.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7TH-VOTE REPUBLICAN ROW "B"

The Hicksville High School Marching Band is enjoying an exciting and successful 1989 band season. Band Director James McRoy and his Assistant Director James McDougall have been very pleased with their progress this early in the year.

"This band has the potential to compete with any marching band on Long Island," said McRoy. This is the first time Hicksville has competed in Division IV, the division with the largest bands. The band has 110 musicians and color guard performing their field show.

School Marching Band Successful Season

At their last performance at Division Avenue High School in Levittown, the Hicksville Band earned the award for "High Music" in their division.

In their previous competitions at Huntington H.S. and Brentwood H.S., the Hicksville Band earned the respect of the other division bands by being very competitive while only in the first year in this talented group.

"All of the students in this band have so much to be proud of," said Mr. McRoy, "because they are challenging bands that have had strong organizations for seven or eight years, while our band is still fairly new to serious competition."

The band has two more performances (Sachem H.S. and Copaque H.S.) before the Long Island Championships, which will be held in the North Hempstead Stadium in Mineola on Saturday evening, Nov. 4. If the band keeps improving at its present rate, they will be invited to the Atlantic Coast Championships, which will be held on Nov. 11 and 12 in Scanton, Pa. The band will also be performing at all home football games at the high school. The band would like to invite everyone in Hicksville to come out and see an exciting Cornet football and a terrific halftime show.

Add Brass and Bronze To Your Home

By Keni Woodruff

BANISTERS ARE a thing of the past... today's look in stair railings is sophisticated, elegant, flowing... a work of art in brass, bronze, stainless steel or enameled aluminum. Thanks to New Star Brass & Bronze Works, the words upstairs and downstairs have taken on a whole new meaning, becoming a dramatic focal point in the home.

"...today's look in stair railings is sophisticated, elegant, flowing... a work of art in brass, bronze, stainless steel or enameled aluminum..."

According to Al Grano, president of New Star, "when people remodel their homes, they look for exciting ways to add openness and beauty, a feeling of height and space, of transition from one room to another, one floor to another. We've added a whole new dimension to their plans with custom stair railings that add even more definition and drama to their remodeling plans."

New Star, a family business founded in 1924, is a favorite name on the Long Island remodeling scene. The firm is known for its old world craftsmanship and metalworking skills, which have been enhanced over the years by Al Grano's contemporary ideas and dedication to his father's and grandfather's philosophy of exquisite workmanship and perfection.

"Railings are traditionally made of wrought iron or mixed wood. When people remodel, they want a whole new look. Brass or stainless add wonderful accents to the home. We're also working with something new, baked enamel finished aluminum. We can bake on any color the client or decorator wants and it becomes part of the design and decorative scheme of the home."

New Star works with the designer or architect to assure correct structural detail, and to make sure the rail is strong. "We do our own designing and layout after the stairs are in place," Grano says. "Our railings are customized for the contours of the stairs and space, every staircase is different, every angle and curve is different. We give the customer shop drawings of all the architectural metal work, show them how the finished staircase will look, on paper, before we start. Our prime interest is safety, especially in a home where there are children."

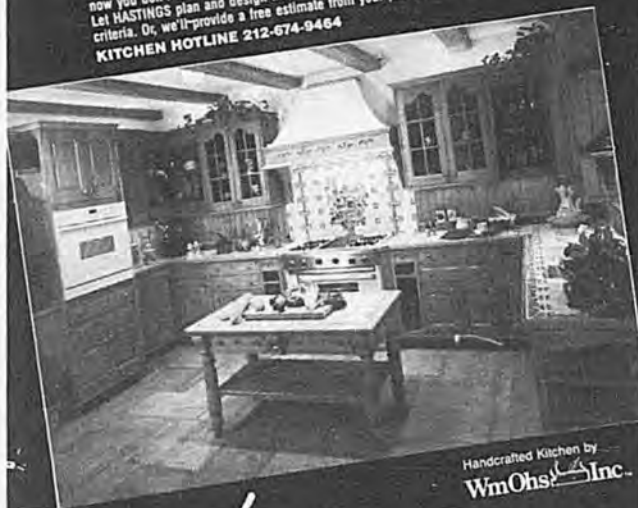

"We use tempered plate glass or lucite in a really open railing. It gives Appliances...

QUARTZ HALOGEN cooking surfaces! Convertible cooktops! Solid core, silicon quartz sinks! Tempered glass stove tops... Your kitchen of tomorrow is a sleek, functional, hi-tech work center, where space age materials, convenience and efficiency combine with style and quality to make meal preparation an art, cleanup a snap and durability an absolute! It's here, today, it's exciting and affordable, let's take a look...

"The trend in appliances is 'upscale'," says Marvin Alper, owner of Alper's Appliances in Glen Cove. "People are going to a white on white European look with accents of grey and black. American manufacturers are starting to move towards the designs that have been available in Europe for a number of years. We've always paid attention to the function of appliances, without real attention to design. Form followed function instead of the other way around."

"What's happening now in American appliances is a trend toward the Euro look with high performance technology. The big trend in cooking surfaces, particularly gas, is sealed burners. In most cooking tops, you take everything apart, take off the burner, the gas ring, and there's a big hole underneath that catches the spills. The new sealed burners just wipe clean. They're one unit, a really functional, practical, beautiful surface."

There's also a trend back to the separate cook top and oven," Marvin noted. "I think that's good, in medium to large size kitchens, not small ones. It gives you more working area, gives a cleaner look. It means you can put the oven at a height that's appropriate for the individual and the cook top can be anywhere you want it to be, and it can be bigger than the oven."

Why is there so much emphasis on European design? "The good European design is very simple, no glitz, no metal, no chrome, just neat. But part of that is due to their cooking philosophy. Their kitchens, in general, are tiny. The products are designed to perform well in small spaces. Even their cooking utensils are completely different than ours."

"European ovens are built for efficiency, for installation at more convenient heights, with broilers that are easier to reach, surfaces that are easier to clean, and convection systems that simply cook better."

"Gas cook tops and convection ovens are becoming more and more popular. And there's a new cooking surface that I think is going to be the wave of the future... a smooth top of Ceran glass, not like the old Corning tops which needed special pots. These new tops will cook with any relatively flat bottomed metal pot, not glass or Corningware."

"Manufacturers are using quartz halogen burners. They've been popular in Europe for many years, are just coming out here. They give a very hot, instantaneous heat. Amana has a halogen unit and they're coming out with a 'second-generation' that has two halogen burners."

"There's a beautiful new product out now... glass cook tops. They're black... the only color that will allow heat transfer. They're using tempered glass on oven fronts, too. It's much easier to maintain, looks great, adds to the built-in look people want today. Dacor, a California manufacturer, uses glass on all its built-ins."

"We're also seeing interchangeable cooking modules. Two burners are built into one plug-in unit. You can buy a griddle module, a barbecue module, a deep fry module, a rotisserie, a wok, there are others, too. Many of these new cook tops have hinged lids that close when you're not cooking, to give the kitchen a clean, neat look."

"Proper ventilation is very important in the kitchen. We're seeing a lot of down-draft systems. Instead of venting upwards, with a hood, the new stoves feature a vent at the rear of the oven which vents down. It gives much more room on top, does away with an unsightly, space-consuming hood. There's even a combination microwave oven with a vent that can be installed over the cooktop."

Refrigerators, too, are joining the trend toward the built-in look, the "no appearance appearance," kitchen designers are incorporating into their plans. Manufacturers are producing shallow, 24" deep models. Glass fronts and the all white look, are the most important features. Most important is the move toward reduced energy usage, especially in the last three years and the Government has enforced some strong energy laws.

"Perhaps the most exciting new refrigerator feature is a fast chill section. It's not out yet, but it's coming, (ed note: look for something extraordinary from Canada... a frozen section with an INSTANT CHILL feature! Not available here, yet, but coming! You can turn the temperature down to -15 degrees, chill a dessert in minutes... no more warm chocolate pudding, kids!)

We can't talk about "everything in the kitchen sink" any more. High technology is making an impact here, too, with a whole range of new materials and gadgets. "Gourmet sinks" with HALOGEN QUARTZ burners. Ceran glass cooktops, downdraft vents, interchangeable cooking modules, convection ovens... form and function combine in today's cooking appliances. Gaggenau's built-in oven, Amana modular cooktop.

"We're seeing some interesting new sink designs and materials," Alper notes. "Instead of square back sinks, the manufacturers are making a single faucet model with a larger basin... they're the same overall size, but give 30% more basin room and many include a small extra basin with a separate drain."

"Manufacturers are moving toward solid core, silicon quartz materials for sinks. They come in a variety of decorative colors that go right through. They don't chip or scratch, don't stain, take tremendous abuse, and clean up with soap and water."

"People should be aware of 'clones' when they're shopping for appliances," Marvin says... "there have been many mergers in the industry. I tell my customers, it's no secret, it's more confusing not to know, and you can save money if you're informed."

"Raytheon makes Amana, Speed Queen and Caloric," Alper remarked. "GE makes Hotpoint and Roper, and uses the RCA name on some products. White Consumer Products makes you use your appliances, who will use them (you, your spouse, your children, no-one?), and how they will be placed in your kitchen."

An experienced dealer, like Marvin Alper, can help you answer your questions and guide you to products that are perfect for your cooking, food handling and housekeeping needs. Kitchen and bath shows are wonderful sources of information, fine places to see what's available and what's coming off the drawing boards.

Magical Spaces...

MAGICAL SPACES is a custom interior design studio where each piece you buy is an artistic treasure. "We are offer full design services—space planning, color coordination, lighting, carpeting, wall finishes," says Pamela Perry, owner of the Woodbury store. "It's not an arts and crafts store," she says, "it's like a home fashion art gallery."

Perry specializes in decorative, "fantasy" wall finishes, all of which are washable. She also does hand painted silk fabrics for furniture and draperies. All of the work is done by hand, mostly the hands of Perry.

When the job is too big for Perry, she calls upon the services of Masterwork Inc, one of the very best contractors in the area owned by master carpenter Steve Szczoniak.

Another specialty of the store is natural stones. These brilliantly colored crystals, minerals and gemstones are truly one of a kind. "We mainly offer the large ones as decorative accessories," said Perry. "They're fine investment pieces."

Perry dedicated her life to making other people's homes beautiful because she feels that one's surroundings have a lot to do with their well being.

"The environment in which you live has a tremendous effect on who you become, how far you will go, opening up your mind to fulfill your highest potential," said Perry.

When Perry designs your interior, she offers an uplifting environment plus a number of options in the design of your furnishings.

"It's important that your surroundings be stimulating and dynamic. It is also important a certain adaptability to changes in people's lifestyles," said Perry. "People don't like to feel that they can't change their environment."

Perry has a masters degree in the Psychology of the Environment from one of the top schools of design in the country, the Cranbrook Academy of Art, perfect qualification to design the perfect environment for you.

You can buy just a candlestick or you can buy an entire furnished home at Magical Spaces. The store accepts American Express, Visa and MasterCard and is an allied member of the American Society of Interior Designers.

Perry and her partner Maryann Aymancyk, want you to come in and experience the store. "If you come in here and immediately get a good feeling about how you feel, more than focusing on individual pieces, then I'm for you," said Perry. "I'm selling a feeling." The store is located at 28 Piquets Lane, in the Serendipity Shopping Center, Woodbury.

the illusion of space, but no one can fall through... the tempered glass is an additional safety factor, it's so strong it's almost impossible to break and if it ever does, it crystallizes."

New Star uses tubular and flat metals in their work, working with the customers' color and decorative style to select just the right metal and finish. "Brass," says Grano, "has a warmth and richness, a really elegant glow. It should never be lacquered, that takes away the finish, and it wears away. We use a very heavy gauge, solid brass, and we hand polish every inch until it's silky smooth, it's really beautiful, not the brassy yellow look of plated metal."

Stainless steel, whether polished or satin finished, is treated with the same care. "Stainless is much more contemporary," says Al. "It's extremely strong, has a beautiful reflective quality, and takes very little care."

"We're using something I developed," Al says, "a heavy aluminum tubing with a baked enamel finish. It's really beautiful, and we are able to offer an almost unlimited variety of colors to match, highlight or contrast with the customer's color scheme. It's very strong, very exciting to work with, and it's becoming an important part of our product line."

New Star's craftsmen will create your new stair railing in their own factory, turning, bending and curving the metal to conform to your staircase "it takes from 4-6 weeks," says Grano, "and we do the complete job, from design to installation. There's a lot of hand work, bending and twisting the metal for compound curves, we do the shaping, the welding, the finishing, in our own site. My plant supervisors are artisans, trained in Italy when they were boys. They've been at New Star for more than 30 years. They are really craftsmen, old world craftsmen, there's no one like them... and they're training our young workers in the same methods and techniques, teaching them their art."

New Star does exterior railings, decorative fireplace frames, tables and window grilles... with the same pride, craftsmanship and attention to detail.

Give your home a brand new dimension. Call New Star, 718/443-0800.

Today's Kitchen...

GREY SETS THE TONE in this handsomely functional kitchen (design by Classic, cabinets by Roseline).

It's The Heart of Your Home

by Keni Woodruff

TODAY'S FAMILY is a busy, multi-scheduled, multi-interest group, its meal schedule as diverse as its activities. The kitchen has become the core of this activity, a large, warm, welcoming area with space for meal planning and preparation, for study and for entertaining...kitchen designers call it a "great room," families who have one call it "home."

According to Monte Berkoff, CKD/CR, president of Bisulk Kitchens in Garden City, "the kitchen has become an integrated living space, almost a second den. It's a gathering place, an entertainment center, a place where the family cooks and eats, where the children do their homework, where the family can be together."

"It's a relaxed, comfortable area that's functional and beautiful. We, kitchen designers and builders, call it a great room, for its size, for its ambience, for its multi-purpose utility. It has large amounts of glass, skylights, windows, often it has a 'garden' area, to bring the outdoors in."

Don Boico, CKD/CR, founder of Classic Kitchen & Bath Center in Manhasset, underscores the great room concept. "The kitchen has become the heart of the house. Years ago, the kitchen was hidden away behind four walls, now we're removing those walls, changing the concept of the separate, formal, dining room-kitchen-den, into one large, bright, welcoming space where several activities can take place at one time."

*"...they're going back to products of nature...granite,
marble, wood..."*

Manufacturers, too, are part of the trend. At Roseline Products, a major U.S. cabinet manufacturer located in Farmingdale, president Stan Shapiro echoes Boico and Berkoff in his feelings about kitchens: "A well designed, working kitchen is usually the prettiest, most interesting, most exciting room in the house. It isn't just for show, and you can do tremendous things with it."

"There's a charm about doing a kitchen," he says. "You can take a family's dreams and turn them into reality. You can take a small space and make it enormously functional, change the whole appearance by turning things around, add a little of 'this and that,' give it a whole new dimension."

And when you've got a large space, the options are unlimited...especially here on Long Island where we've got some of the best designers in the country."

"There's a growing shift towards traditional country kitchens," says Monte Berkoff. "The glitz of the early 80's is turning into 'the soft and gentle kitchen' [if I may borrow a phrase] of the 90's. It's part of a whole trend toward making the kitchen a hub of activity. People want this room to be warm and inviting, as well as extremely functional. And they're going back to products of nature...marble, granite, wood."

At Classic Kitchen, the trend toward traditional seems to be slower. "But," says Don Boico, "I'm definitely seeing a break away from white. People are starting to go into pastels, soft greys, and there's a lot of interest in wood especially white washed or natural finished woods where the grain shows."

And granite, real stone, is becoming more and more popular for counter tops. It's beautiful, really rich looking, and very durable.

"There must be proper storage," says Boico. "We look at the family's shopping habits, lifestyles...do they buy lots of canned goods, do they have more than one set of cookware, dishes, flatware, lots of serving pieces?"

"Functionality," says Berkoff. "Most people want a kitchen to be designed as a working entity so there's storage of jars, bottles, dry goods, fresh and frozen foods and good counter space. Husbands and wives both work, they come home and put a meal together, together, and they need a kitchen that works."

"Trends are set by family lifestyles," he comments. "Families are getting smaller, and they're functioning on a whirlwind. Everybody's on a different schedule, all busy. I'd say that one of the most pronounced trends in kitchens today, is the two-microwave kitchen."

"Families have to get it done fast. They want storage space, appliances that work, space that works, a more integrated look. There's a kid's handiwork and homework area, an area where the family gets together, where small groups are entertained. They want to bring the outdoors in, want lots of glass, lots of light..."

"Most important," says Roseline's Stan Shapiro, "is a return to quality, to American-made cabinetry. American cabinet manufacturers, in general, are making better cabinets than the Europeans. They're Euro-style...frameless, a perfect box, and truly custom... They're made in inches, to fit perfectly! Kitchen cabinets are really pieces of furniture, and they should rival the finest piece of furniture in your home, whether they're wood or laminate."

"Roseline and other high end American cabinet manufacturers offer some of the finest products on the market," Shapiro commented, "and we offer a greater variety of laminates than all the European companies together."

"I can't recommend anything more strongly, than going to a reputable kitchen designer, an accredited member of the National Kitchen and Bath Association, for a new kitchen," says Stan Shapiro. "It's not a do-it-yourself project. And it's really the least expensive way to do it."

"People might get what I call 'sticker shock,' but when you compare the difference in cost from stock cabinets to a super custom kitchen, it might be 15-25%, and cabinetry is the least part of the cost. There's also very little truth in the reputed differences in cost depending on location. A top line kitchen in Baltimore, Washington, Great Neck or Queens might differ by 1%." On a big job, the prices are competitive.

Form and function, space and utility, beauty and usability, ambience and practicality... today's kitchen has it all. And, by using a reputable, professional kitchen designer, choosing products made by recognized manufacturers, you assure that the investment you've made will last into your future, adding warmth to your life and value to your home.

Contemporary art has many venues these days, but none so stimulating as Crescent Galleries, which opened its doors to Long Island earlier this year.

The Gallery, and its owner, Greg Doran, sincerely project quality and an understanding of contemporary art. Crescent Galleries has quickly positioned itself to represent some of the most exciting and refreshing art available, poised to reflect a statement for the nineties. The Gallery represents paintings, prints, sculpture and wall hangings primarily original in keeping with its unique character. The Gallery is also well qualified to lend expertise with individuals seeking assistance with art coordination for the home or business environment. The pleasant atmosphere is aided by artists who have both regional as well as national exposure.

There is a provocative wall sculpture by A.F. Shulman, and powerful yet delicate tapestry like-works on paper by Paul Hammerman. The neo-deco paintings of Anthony D'Amico add elegance and sophistication, and Dennis Ciesby's masterful paintings of the American landscape are bound to please.

When seeking the uniquely beautiful, consider what Crescent Galleries has to offer.

"DISCOVER"

Karen Braunstein, Cantor at Temple Avodah in Oceanside, still talks about her summers of discovery at Camp Usdan.

A quiet, gifted child, Karen loved to draw and make music. At 10½, when Karen spent her first summer at Usdan, she found the experience liberating. "I felt complete and content."

At Usdan, Karen found the UJA-Federation supported camp offered all kinds of theatre, art, dance, writing and music courses. "You got to choose," she remembers. "There was no pressure to conform, and you weren't judged. Instead, you were continually encouraged to try new things."

Summer after summer, singing in the choir, Karen built on her dreams for the future.

Today, Karen still goes back to Usdan. Two summers ago she returned for her third professional appearance there, singing with Mechayeh Klezmer Music.

Not every child who studies at Usdan grows up to become a professional artist, but a Usdan summer gives children the chance to stretch their skills, raise their sights — and have fun.

UJA-Federation helps thousands of children like the young Karen Braunstein experience the joy of discovery that awaits them at Usdan Camp. Just ask Karen. "True, I don't get to spend my summers at Usdan any more, but I can't wait to send my kids there!"

Gifts to UJA-Federation help four million people in New York, Israel and worldwide.

Minutemen Post 2-0 Victory Over Navahoes

By Al Blicher

The Hicksville Minutemen, the 1977 B traveling soccer team, thoroughly outplayed the Auburndale Navahoes at Cantiague Park on Oct. 15 for a convincing 2-0 victory. The win brings their L.I. Junior Soccer League record to two wins, one loss, one tie.

Auburndale, which is a very physical team, attempted to outmuscle Hicksville, but the Minutemen rose to every challenge, putting their skills to use, winning the loose ball every time. The front eight of Danny dePinho, Mike Whitman, Jorge daSilva, Timmy Dalton, Anthony Noya, Jason Brown, Andres Tuncios and Bobby Wagner, exerted tremendous offensive pressure throughout the game, keeping the heat off the defense. The defense, led by Bobby Braun, at stopper, ably assisted by Robin Blicher, Kenny D'Introno and Timmy

Dalton at fullback, as well as Greg Walunas at sweeper and Tracy Koetter, in goal, rose to the occasion whenever they were tested. They played the offside trap to perfection and constantly kept the ball moving upfield to their halfbacks.

Danny dePinho, at left wing, put in the first score midway into the opening half, off a lead by striker Mike Whitman. Late in the first half, striker Bobby Wagner gained control of the ball in a melee, and put in the second goal assisted by an Auburndale defensive player.

The two goals stood up for a well-earned victory and Tracey Koetter's second shut out of the season.

Coach's notes: Congratulations to the team for a terrific game. Thanks to assistant coaches Tonny dePinho and Pete Whitman for their contributions during the game, as well as to sponsor Seaman & Eisemann for their support.

OPTIFAST AT CENTRAL GENERAL HOSPITAL

No one ever lost weight permanently through willpower alone. No one!

If willpower were all it took to lose weight, your first diet would have been your last. But, with few exceptions, even the most determined dieters regain the weight they lost.

Now, you can lose weight and keep it off with The OPTIFAST® Program. The OPTIFAST Program is a hospital-based supplemented fasting program that combines a nutritionally complete diet supplement, diet counseling, behavior modification and group support.

Most important of all, The OPTIFAST Program involves the close, on-going attention of physicians, nurses and other medical professionals. 200,000 people have participated in The OPTIFAST Program of weight loss. Studies have shown that up to 80% of OPTIFAST® treated patients may lose more than this amount; the average loss is 85 pounds.

But even more encouraging is the fact that in some people, long-term weight maintenance—the most important part of obesity treatment, is accomplished in The OPTIFAST Program.

If you're more than 30% or 50 pounds overweight, please call 932-6250 and receive complete details about The OPTIFAST Program. You supply the willpower you've always had. We supply the medical support you've always missed.

Broadway Mall workers Matt Weeks, Kenneth Coumou and Patrick Pavlicin, all from Hicksville, said they closed the lid on the dumpster that caught fire last week at the mall. They heard about the fire on the walkie talkie used by the mall security.

Smoke, Water Damage to Renovated Mall

Hicksville firefighters responded to the upper level of the newly renovated Broadway Mall for a rubbish fire in a compactor chute last Wednesday, Oct. 18.

According to a fire official, the alarm was phoned in to the fire department at 10:14 p.m. after internal pull station alarm boxes failed to operate. The mall sprinkler system activated but it did not activate the alarm to the fire department.

Sixty firefighters and eight pieces of apparatus under Chief Terry Farrell responded and had the fire out in one hour. About $20,000 in damage resulted from the water and smoke. The recently modified sprinkler system controls could not be located by firefighters in time to prevent excessive water damage. The chute door at the mall level was left open allowing the smoke to activate the overhead sprinklers. Firefighters worked on the fire from the truck tunnel below. The fire itself was confined to the compactor and chute. There were no injuries.

Baseball/Softball Tropics

On Oct. 20, St. Ignatius C.Y.O. held its annual Trophy Night. This past September, C.Y.O. was very saddened by the loss of one of our youths, Jennifer Gomez. Jennifer and her family have been very active in our organization for many years. President, Gary Lewis presented Mr. and Mrs. Gomez, a Memorial Award in Jennifer's memory. The award reads as follows: Jennifer Gomez, Memorial Award, "Awarded to the sixth grade student who shows, outstanding spirit, sportsmanship and congeniality in all endeavors." We hope in some small way that Jennifer's spirit will be kept alive in this Memorial Award.

During the evening, Mrs. Audrey Andrews was standing by a table with many awards and trophies that C.Y.O. has been awarded in the past years. Many people were impressed with all the awards. Our most recent awards were the three Sportsmanship Awards presented to our fifth, seventh, and eighth Grade Travel Teams. A highlight of the evening was to see Mr. Joe Andrews with so much pride carrying the large trophy won by his team this year in the AHRC Tournament. This is the second year that our boys won this tournament; it says a lot for our excellent coaching staff.

Again this year, we were very blessed to have so many dedicated sponsors. Their support is so much needed during the year. The following are our 1989 sponsors: Lions Club, Hicksville; Kiwanis Club, Hicksville; Greenpoint Savings Bank; Agway; Medical Group Pharmacy; Elks Club, Hicksville; Goldman Brothers; Antun's Catering; Malvese Corporation; Chorma Paint; Carvel, Broadway; Montana Agency; Dalton Funeral Homes; William M. Gouse, Jr.; VFW Post 3211; Beacon Federal Savings; Seaman & Eisemann, Inc.; Westbury Federal Savings; Madden's Auto Body; Ferrucci Repair; and Knight of Columbus; Joseph Barry Council No. 2520. To all our sponsors our sincere appreciation.

I would like to take this time to thank everyone involved in the C.Y.O. organization for the beautiful bouquet of flowers presented to me. I got involved in C.Y.O. when my husband, Gary, was elected president two years ago. I started writing for the papers, with all our sports highlights because I felt the organization needed the exposure. Then last year, I was elected to the position of secretary. Our involvement in C.Y.O. has been one of many tasks. During Trophy night many people spoke, with the same message: We need your support and help. We can't say it any plainer. Get involved! The success of the organization depends on the involvement of the parents.

Basketball News

Our fall programs will be starting soon. All our coaches have received their teams and schedules. We are still in need for boys in grades, 9-12 for our Senior League. Any boys interested please contact, Barbara Lewis 681-6947 or Mr. Tom Carsley.

50's Dance
