Duffy Trash Clean Up

The Duffy Park Civic Association has slated Saturday, March 31 as the first day to start the clean up of the Duffy Park area.

The members of the beautification committee will be working along Frank Road to help clear out some of the overgrown parcels of property. Anyone interested in assisting the committee is invited to join on this day.

The Duffy Civic Association has asked the Town of Oyster Bay and Nassau County to assist in the efforts by donating planters to be placed around the Duffy Park area. The beautification committee will plant flowers and shrubs in these planters and maintain them.

Transportation Requests

The Hicksville School District reports that all requests for transportation of students attending private and parochial schools in 1990/91 must submit an application for transportation by April 1, 1990. For further information call 933-6518.

Hicksville History Book

Dorothy Rettberg Brown's third book on "Good Old Hicksville" is now available to the public.

In this book, Brown, a retired teacher, describes Hicksville in the World War II years.

Part I includes the story of her family's Hicksville arrival in 1922 from Ridgewood, Brooklyn and Part II contains information on the founding fathers and local farmers.

These books can be obtained by calling her at 423-7398. Parts I and II are $3 each; part III is $5. A portion of the proceeds is donated to the St. Ignatius Human Services Program for the needy people of Hicksville. To date, $300 has been contributed to this project.

Brown is currently a Huntington Station resident.

Night Hearing for Spiegel

A public hearing has been scheduled for next Tuesday night, March 27, for the Oyster Bay Town Board to consider an application for a change of zone in Hicksville.

The applicant, Jerry Spiegel, is seeking a change of zone from 'D' residence to 'F' business district (neighborhood business). The parcel is located on the northwest corner of West John Street and Strong Street, the former site of a dilapidated home which was demolished last year.

The meeting will be held in the hearing room of Town Hall East, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay, at 8 p.m.

February Alarm Totals

The Hicksville Fire Department reports that firemen responded to 96 alarms in February. There were 50 fire calls, including four Hazardous Material calls and eight malicious false alarms. There were 46 rescue calls. No firefighters were injured.

File for Board Seats

Persons interested in running for positions on the school board must file petitions with the Hicksville School District by Monday, April 23 at 5 p.m. in the district clerk's office. The actual vote for school board candidates is Wednesday, May 23.

Board of Education trustee candidates must run for a particular seat. This year the seats occupied by Mark Cardella, Daniel MacBride and Jo Ann Miltenberg will be up for election. Applications for the three-year term can be obtained in the district clerk's office, Administration Building, Division Avenue, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Seventy-nine signatures are required for candidacy.

For more information call the district

Board Sees No School Closings for 1990

At a special meeting on March 14, the Hicksville School Board voted not to consider closing any schools. The board's focus will now be on the 1990-91 budget.

Data was, however, presented on the effect the closing of two schools would have on the district, as well as information on redistricting without closing buildings. The superintendent of schools was given no direction to make any further studies.

Resolution

Many residents have taken the opportunity to speak lengthily at public sessions during the last few board meetings. Approximately 500 people gathered at the Middle School on the 14th, but before they had the chance to continue their requests that the board "slow down the pace" and not close schools, the board's agenda order was changed and Trustee William Bennett proposed a resolution which stated, "that the issue of closing schools not be considered by this Board of Education."

Bennett said that the board "reacts to what the public says . . . to be fair and just we should evaluate all eight schools." He continued that the deadline of closing schools for September 1990 was "much too close." He also said the budget demanded the board's full concentration.

Board Secretary James Martillo commented that "this Board of Education," referred to in the resolution will cease in July when a new board is established. (Three board terms are expiring this year—Seats held by President Mark Cardella, Vice President Daniel MacBride, Trustee Jo Ann Miltenberg.) Martillo said that future boards could not be bound by any resolution of the current board.

Bennett added that the thrust of his proposed resolution was to make the community as informed as possible on each of the eight schools before any decision by the board. He referred to the many residents who have not attended board meetings and said the board "would be remiss in our responsibility not to consider closing schools."

Believing there might be concern about the possibility of the reorganized Board deciding to close schools when it meets this summer, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Catherine Fen-

Parents Picket Against School Closings

By Rita Langdon

Demanding more state aid and no school closings, more than 40 parents and children picketed outside the School District Administration building last Wednesday morning and afternoon.

Later that evening approximately 500 people jammed the Middle School auditorium to repeat the request that no schools close. However, the board's decision that it would not consider school closings for 1990 and 1991, concerned some residents who viewed it as a temporary reprieve as it is not binding on any future boards of education.

At the picket line, parents said the school board was not acting logically when members asked to see data on only three community schools—East Street, Fork and Dutch Lanes.

"They're dividing the community," said resident Irene Marchione who has two boys attending East Street School. "They zeroed in on these three schools with no logical explanation."

But, according to a letter to the editor in last week's Hicksville Illustrated, school board trustee Jo Ann Miltenberg said the board had extensive data on all eight schools dating back as far as 1983.

"When I asked for back information on certain schools I felt obliged to give reasons for my decision." She added, "It [may have] appeared to the community that schools were being chosen for no apparent reason [but] the community members were not aware of the reports the board had for back-up material dating back to 1983 up to and including information generated for that night."

Dori Bernardo, whose three children also attend East Street, said that the board is not qualified to make a decision to close any schools and an outside consulting firm should be brought in.

Residents said they expect a budget defeat this May—a trend for the past four years in Hicksville. Parents also said they are concerned that more children will be walking to school. In addition, if schools close, many children will be walking further and morning traffic will increase when parents drive their children to school, residents said.

Auxiliary Police Report

Hicksville Auxiliary Police reports the following incidents for February: With 13 members, a total of 143 hours were accomplished for the month.

• Feb. 16—Hicksville auxiliary police chief and two auxiliary police officers assisted the Eighth Precinct and Bethpage Fire Department at the scene of a motor home fire containing a 15 gallon propane tank.

Auxiliary police officers diverted traffic at the intersection of Millwood Gate and Route 107. Officers were also requested to stand by for a possible neighborhood evacuation. Due to heavy fog conditions, special auxiliary police emergency equipment was used. The auxiliary officers maintained their post for nearly three hours until 1:15 a.m. when the fire was brought under control.

• Feb. 23—Two auxiliary police officers assisted the Second Precinct at an automobile accident at Old Country Road and Levittown Parkway. Using the auxiliary police patrol vehicle, the right hand west-bound lane was closed for approximately 20 minutes.

• Feb. 25—Two auxiliary police officers assisted Eighth Precinct police at the scene of a three car accident at Route 107, in the vicinity of Summertime's Restaurant, Bethpage. Using the auxiliary police vehicle, the southbound right lane of Route 107 was closed for one half-hour.

Three Car Collision Damages Home, Lawn

Three people were injured in a three-car accident on Plainview Road and Cliff Drive on Monday, March 12 at about 2:15 p.m. Second Precinct Police gave the following account: After a 1981 Volkswagen, collided with a 1978 Buick, it jumped the curb and struck a 1982 Peugeot, pushing the Peugeot into a home at 299 Plainview Road, causing minor damage. The Volkswagen then proceeded across the lawn and stopped at 297 Plainview Road, causing minor lawn damage. The driver of the Volkswagen, a 25-year-old female, and an 18-year-old passenger in the Buick complained of neck pain and had minor bleeding. The Buick driver, also an 18-year-old female, complained of head pain. All three were transported to the hospital. Shown above, Volkswagen on lawn of 297 Plainview Road. ### Baumgaertner—Swan Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Baumgaertner of Syosset, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Karin Renate to Alan Charles Swan, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Alan C. Swan of Miami, Florida. An October wedding is planned.

Ms. Baumgaertner, 25, graduated from Bucknell University in 1987. She is working with the Private Banking Group at Midlantic Banks in New Jersey.

Mr. Swan, Jr. graduated from Colgate University in 1987. He trades precious metals on the Commodities Exchange in New York.

The bride's parents are the owners of A&B Graphics, a graphic art service in Hicksville. The groom's father is a Professor of Law at the University of Miami, Florida.

Tony Walker and Lisa Taiclet

Walker—Taiclet Engagement

Anthony Walker, son of Ann Walker of Hicksville, and Lisa Taiclet, daughter of Arlene and Harold Taiclet of Farmingdale, announced their engagement on March 4.

Anthony graduated from Hicksville High School and Lisa graduated from Farmingdale High School.

A wedding date has not yet been set.

Surprise Bridal Shower

Feb. 18 was the day Christine Bozzi was honored at a bridal shower given by members of her bridal party: Donna Shaw, who will be her matron of honor; Linda Pretter, and Christine's sisters, Nancy Magrini of Hicksville and Susan Fitzpatrick, of Rochester, N.Y.

Christine is the daughter of Evelyn Bozzi Leahy, and the late Joseph Bozzi, and Col. S. James Leahy of Hicksville. Christine and Richard Jones will be married in March. Richard is the son of Joan and William Jones of Bethpage. Christine is a graduate of Hicksville High School and Adelphi University.

Then Comes Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Kenny

Dawn Cornwell—Robert Kenny Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. John Cornwell have announced the marriage of their daughter, Dawn, to Robert J. Kenny, son of the late James and June Kenny. The ceremony took place at the United Methodist Church in Hicksville.

The bride was given away by her father and attended by her sister, Laurie, as maid of honor. Attending her as bridesmaids were Eileen Whitefish, Evelyn White, Joann Funsch, and Sandra Izzo. Her cousin, Stacie Leigh Fritz, accompanied her as her flower girl.

The groom was attended by his brother, John, as best man. Ushers were his brother, Bill, Mike Russo, Mike Seeley and Joe Bonomo.

Dawn, a 1982 graduate of Hicksville High School, is a secretary at Reckson Associates of Melville. Bob, also a Hicksville High School graduate is Service Manager at Zino Construction, Levittown.

A dinner reception followed at the Huntington Town House. After a honeymoon in Aruba the couple moved into their new home in Levittown.

Lori Dobrindt Bride of Craig Schmitt

Attending as maid of honor was Lori's sister, Dora. Best man was Craig's brother, Perry. Bridesmaids were Amy Badgett and Tiffany DeGroot. Groomsmen were Mark Blessing and Tod DeGroot. Ushers were David Dobrindt and Mark McMillan. Lori and Craig are now living in Phoenix, Arizona.

Then Comes . . . In a Baby Carriage

Amanda's A Beauty

Lucille and John Cornwell started off 1989 by becoming grandparents for the first time. Their daughter and son-in-law Traci and Dennis Stawkowski presented them with a beautiful little granddaughter—Amanda Leigh, weighing exactly 9 pounds. "Yes," said Lucille, "It is true what they say about being grandparents—it's absolutely wonderful!"

Amanda Leigh Stawkowski

A Perfect '10'

Nanny and Poppy (Blanche and Artie) Baldwin became grandparents to their 10th grandchild on Feb. 22. Katharine Anne was born to their daughter Ellen and proud daddy, Bob Mackey.

Writes Blanche: "Katharine joined our family at the Princeton Medical Center in New Jersey. Her mom and dad recently relocated to Lawrenceville. She weighed 8 lbs. and was 21" in length.

"We are so happy to welcome our 9th granddaughter. Paternal grandparents, Dan and Mary Mackey of Bethpage were also on hand to welcome Katharine into the Mackey fold. She is their 5th grandchild.

"Katharine will be making her first visit to Hicksville in April when she will be christened at St. Ignatius Church where her mom and dad were married. Her honored godparents are aunt Erin O'Donnell and uncle Jim Mackey."

Katharine Anne Mackey

Look At What The Stork Brought

Christine Dwyer is so excited having a new sister that she wanted me to print the following announcement so all of Hicksville can know.

"Precious little Chantale Rene was born at Mid-Island Hospital at 6:12 p.m. on Thursday, February, 22. She weighed in at 5 lbs. 8 oz. and was 19" long. Her proud mom and dad, Dianne (Billings) and Peter Connan did a perfectly natural job.

Chantale's sisters, Michelle, Christine, Colleen, Debra, and Susan think she's a perfect angel!"

Well—Isn't Chantale Rene lucky to be born into such a loving family? Looks like Christine is going to make a great baby sitter. Congratulations.

TO YOUR HEALTH

By RICHARD H. BLAU, M.D.

Rheumatoid Arthritis Affects All Body Organs

Rheumatoid arthritis strikes three out of every ten people with arthritis. Most people believe arthritis is a disease of the joints, but rheumatoid arthritis affects almost every organ in the body. A patient with this form of arthritis can have problems with the skin, lungs, heart, nerves, kidneys, spleen, eyes, muscles, blood vessels, as well as the tendons and bursa.

People affected with rheumatoid arthritis may initially suffer from early morning pain and stiffness. The joints may become swollen, hot, or reddened. These symptoms are the result of an inflammation occurring in the body. This inflammation is the body's way of fighting the arthritis. Unfortunately, after long periods of uncontrolled inflammation, fatigue and joint damage may occur. If you have any of these symptoms you should consult your physician. Early diagnosis and treatment may prevent many of the problems associated with longstanding arthritis.

The diagnosis is only made after a careful study of the symptoms, a comprehensive physical examination, blood tests and occasionally x-rays. Fortunately, physicians can successfully control the inflammation and are capable of reducing the pain, discomfort, and possibly prevent the deformity associated with rheumatoid arthritis.

Your rheumatologist (a specialist in arthritis) may use anti-inflammatory medications, prescribe personalized exercises, advise you on techniques of reduction of emotional stress, and begin you on a proper diet. All play a major role in the treatment of arthritis.

Last year $1\frac{1}{4}$ million people said goodbye to their banks. Here's why.

Over the last twelve months, 250,000 New Yorkers found the best of what banks have to offer at The Bank of New York.

They found the fastest loan approval system in retail banking. With The 60 Minute Loan,** we do in minutes what it takes most banks days, even weeks, to do.

They found a unique new installment loan called Homeowners Edge,** which not only gives you a great rate, but 100% of the interest may be tax deductible.*

New customers also found two of the most remarkable ways to save money. With Priority Savings,** we not only offer one of the highest rates in town, we give you unlimited access to your money. Day or night. Our new Priority CD is the only CD that goes up with interest rates and doesn't go back down. It's the only CD you'll ever need.

Better yet, we offer free checking with both Priority Savings and Priority CD.** There's more.

Over the last year we added sixty new branches, giving us the largest, most convenient suburban branch network in greater New York. Over fifty of our branches offer full service banking on Saturday and most are open Thursday or Friday evenings. Which means you can now find us in more places open more hours than ever before.

So why not visit one of our more than 240 convenient locations.

Something's happening at The Bank of New York. Maybe you ought to be in on it.

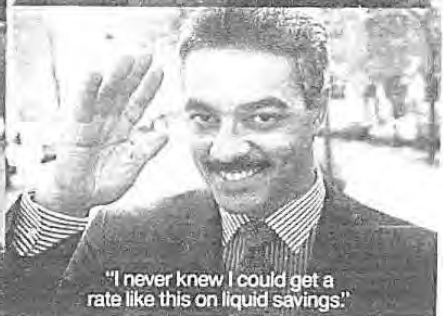

"Saturday hours simplified my life."

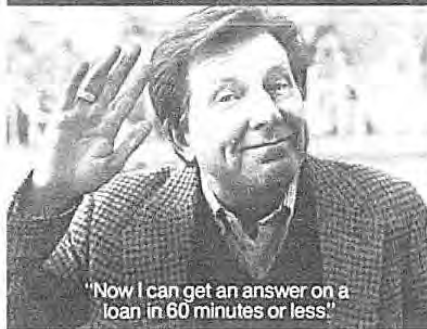

"Finally, an installment loan that's tax deductible."

"My Priority CD rate can only go up."

"I never knew I could get a rate like this on liquid savings."

"Now I can get an answer on a loan in 60 minutes or less."

"There are so many ways to get free checking."

We're making it hard to bank anywhere else.

Woodbury Optical Focuses on Better Eye Care

Dr. Dean Hart

By Rita Langdon

If you're looking for a thorough eye exam provided by a caring doctor who won't treat you like a number, then Woodbury Optical Group in Hicksville is the place for you.

Woodbury Optical's, founder Dr. Dean Hart, has done everything to ensure that his patients receive the most complete eye care available. For instance, he has installed the only linked automated phoropter and refractor in the United States—for the sole purpose of permitting the most accurate examination and prescription results.

He also prides himself on his state-of-the-art computerized visual field and other diagnostic equipment with which he tests for brain tumors, diabetes, high blood pressure and blindness-potential glaucoma.

"My role is to catch whatever I can before it's too late," he said. "I can find warning signs for diabetes before they become symptoms." He added, "The machine will pick up even the most subtle changes." He also said that he will send his patients to a physician if he finds a pathological problem.

Dr. Hart said that his eye examinations last about an hour. "I need that time to check thoroughly for disease and to perfect the prescription." He added, "I won't be a chain store doctor who is always saying 'next, next, I care about my patients. I can charge a lower fee overall and still do a better job, so all patients benefit."

Not only can you get the best eye care at Woodbury Optical, but you can get the latest in eyeglass frames. Dr. Hart has a full line of name brand frames, including Christian Dior, Cartier, Gucci, Laura Biagiotti and Cazal. He added that he has a large selection of frames sold at a substantial savings to his patients.

Dr. Hart also maintains a complete contact lens facility, and is recognized as one of the world's leading experts in the contact lens field.

One of Dr. Hart's specialties is child eye care. He and his associate, Dr. Vincent Coltellino, have an entire child vision therapy department which focuses on helping students perform better in school. His Children's Vision Center is designed especially to give elementary school children the best eyecare—while they have fun too. As part of the treatment, the children wear colored glasses and play eye association games. "Sometimes their eyes don't focus well, so these eye exercises are designed to make the eyes function more efficiently so the children do better academically," Dr. Hart said. "A significant percentage do have eye problems, but don't get checked and treated."

He added that his basic objective is to keep his young patients from needing glasses. This is particularly important at the time of the first prescription for eyeglasses.

When Dr. Hart isn't treating his patients he's busy as instructor of ophthalmology residents at a leading New York teaching hospital, in the field of low vision. There he is the director of the hospital's low vision clinic which treats the visually handicapped. Using both government and private grants, Dr. Hart performs and directs research through the Contact Lens Research Foundation which he founded in 1985 and is also located on his Woodbury Road premises. Since 1983, Dr. Hart has been a featured speaker to the profession at eye care symposiums and various points on the globe such as Rome, Barcelona, Montreal and many major American cities. Also, he has written numerous instructional texts, publications and research articles. He is currently writing texts, which his editor believes will serve as the reference guide to the profession.

In addition to his doctorate as an optometrist, Dr. Hart has an advanced degree as a research biologist and uses these skills in connection with his eye care activities.

Dr. Hart calls Woodbury Optical Group "the culmination of my plan to make available to patients the finest care that my profession has to offer."

You can visit Dr. Hart at 185 Woodbury Road. The phone number is 681-3937.

Joseph F. Lamb Council No. 5723

Knights of Columbus
Plainview, L.I., N.Y.

More than 250 people were on hand at the annual "300" Club dance hosted by the Joseph F. Lamb Council No. 5723 Knights of Columbus, Plainview, on March 3. Plenty of food, drinks and refreshments were made available to all. Music was provided by Joe Ratto.

This party is held each year for all paid-up members of the "300" Club. The club, which is limited to 300 people, helps raise funds for council charity purposes.

Each member of the "300" Club pays $55 (or $60 if by installments) to participate in drawings held every month. Each member has his or her own number, and if that number is drawn, he or she can win a cash prize. Each month there are drawings for one $50 prize, one $25 prize, three $10 prizes and four $5 prizes. There are also three special $1,000 drawings, one every four months beginning in July and ending with the final one at the "300" Club dance. Each paid-up member is invited to the party with his or her guest.

The chairman of the "300" Club is P.G.K. Sam Repoli who is also the District Warden for the 16th K of C. The co-chairman of the Club is P.G.K. Dan Paternoster.

There are openings in the "300" Club dance. A person does not have to be a member of the K of C to join. Anyone wishing to participate in this club can contact Sam Repoli at 931-8116 or Dan Paternoster at 931-2494.

On a different note, congratulations to Frank Beebe, who was selected as the March "Knight of the Month." Frank, who is charity chairman of the council, has done a great job in raising much needed money for the various charities of the council.

The Lamb Council also wishes good health and get well wishes to Mario Bignami who is recuperating at home after an illness.

Local Artist's Sculpture Unveiled at Monastery

Hicksville resident Josephine Belloso, assistant professor of Art at St. Joseph's College—Brooklyn Campus, recently unveiled and dedicated her sculpture of "The Madonna of Redemption" for St. Gabriel's Monastery at Clarks Summit, Pennsylvania. The three foot statue, which was carved from a single piece of basswood, is mounted on a darker panel with angular lines to offset the figure of the Madonna. The artist's vision of the sorrowful Mother shows Mary with an expression of serenity and peace.

Belloso is a graduate of Marymount Manhattan College and received her master's degree from the City University of New York.

Josephine Belloso, a Hicksville resident, unveils her sculpture of "The Madonna of Redemption" that she carved for the St. Gabriel's Monastery at Clarks Summit, Pennsylvania.

Charles Montana, Montana Agency of Hicksville, looks on as Dennis Manzella presents Sister Mary James, Executive Director, Madonna Heights Services, a child care facility located in Dix Hills with a $1,000 donation. This contribution was made possible through a matching grant feature of Continental Insurance's Community Circle Program. Sr. James said, "This grant will be used for Marydale, one of our newer programs, which provides a safe and supportive home for single young mothers and their babies." Madonna Heights Services a non-profit social service agency directed by the Sisters of the Good Shepherd provides a variety of services to troubled young women and families who are residents from both Nassau and Suffolk Counties. Dennis Manzella representing Continental Insurance Company and Mr. Montana are joined by George Montana, (extreme right) and Bill Heberer, (extreme left) also of Montana Agency, who were all actively involved in acquiring this grant. Mr. Montana and his wife Patricia are no strangers to Madonna Heights Services as they serve on the committee for the Shepherd's Ball which is the main annual fund raising event for Madonna Heights Services.

An M.T.A. work train track machine caught fire on the eastbound tracks near the New South Road crossing on March 13 at 2:55 p.m. Hicksville firefighters were able to cut off the flow of burning kerosene used to propel the engine and extinguished the fire in 15 minutes. Rail current was shut off during operations but did not affect the train schedules. Three units responded under Assistant Chief Pat Scanlon.

All They Did Was Celebrate

Eileen and Doug Dwyer had a round of celebrations recently. First, their son, Dillon, became two years of age—the same week there was a pre-St. Patty's Day celebration for Daddy Doug. This past weekend Brady celebrated her 4th birthday. The week before the party Doug went to a friend's house. He knocked on the door which was slightly ajar. He put his hand in to open it when his friend's German Shepherd thought someone was breaking in and mistook Doug's hand for lunch. Doug wound up with five stitches. He said he'll never push open an open door again. He's fine now, tho.

Congratulations

Everyone is wishing Tricia Manaskie the best birthday ever. She turned 18 March 21. (P.S. Buff says happy birthday too, and a big "woof, woof" from Spanky). . . God bless the Breen twins, Courtney and Erin on their baptism which will take place March 24 . . . A very happy belated birthday to MaMa Ghisone, with love, hugs and kisses from Amie and Michael. . . Happy 10th birthday Matthew Puerta. . . The Walker Family is very proud of Bryan who received the Levittown Tribune Award for being an Outstanding Nine-Year-Old Player on the Levittown Red Devil Football Midget Rebels. . . ## Condolences Old time friends and all followers of the old Hicksville Field Club regret the passing of Eleanor, wife of the late E. Irving Jesser. Mr. Jesser was prominent in Hicksville and had announced all the field club games.

Her First Birthday Party

Gladys (Andersen) Schwartz had the surprise of her life last week. She was given a surprise birthday party by her daughter and son-in-law, Sandra and Peter Tropper of Chevy Chase, Maryland. The party was held in the Palm Room at The Linden Tree.

Gladys thought she was just going to dinner with a few people and was surprised to find so many people there to honor her on this??? birthday. Guests were her sister, Ruth Andersen, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Kapstetter, Marge McGough (husband Paddy was in Ireland), Terrianne (McGurk) Kingsbury and her husband, Nat; old friend Howard Finnegan, and the maitre 'd of the Linden

Hicksville Eldoes Helen D'Achille, Theresa Vent, Irene Mosca and clowns—Patches Annie, Benny the Bum, and Torchie at the Nassau County Hospital pediatric ward.

Tree Dennis Mezzapezza, (attending without his wife Millie, who was at home ill). Gladys was just thrilled.

Gladys was married to the late Julie Schwartz, a very popular, well-known attorney, who came from a really old-time Hicksville family. I became friends with Julie and Gladys when we formed the Hicksville High School Alumni Club. Julie was one of the founding members and we had many a happy time meeting at their home. They were very gracious to all of us. I mostly remember the delicious chopped chicken livers and the marvelous tuna fish salad that they would serve at the end of the meetings. It was really a fun time and a time when we old timers wanted to preserve the friendships we had all made during our school days. The alumni club gave us a chance to meet a lot of the older and younger people who had gone to our high school.

Gladys, may you have many more happy birthdays. It's been a real pleasure knowing you all these years.

You'll always find someone you know in the Hicksville Illustrated News.

Eldoes Host Party

Recently a party was hosted at the Nassau County Hospital pediatric ward, by the Eldoes of B.P.O.E. 1931 Hicksville Lodge. They gave out ice cream, candy, cupcakes and hand-made stuffed toys made by the Eldoes. There was an assortment of toys donated by Elk William Maher. The children were also entertained by the clowns Benny the Bum, Patches Annie, Torchy and Starr. The clowns made all kinds of animals out of balloons for the children.

The ladies who attended were Irene Mosca, chairlady, and her assistants, Ann Kalman, Helen D'Achille, Agnes Peck, Pat Jerabek, Eleanor Sutter, Vi Preston, Harriet Maher, Debi Maher, Ann Franchine, Anita Appel, Florence Borzell and Grace Brancaccio. The ladies would also like to thank Elk Lou Mosca for all his help which was greatly appreciated.

Happy Birthday Sister

Sister Eileen McMahon, principal of Holy Family School, must really be loved. Her students, faculty, staff and friends sent a note asking up to put it in the paper this week in time for her birthday. "Dear Sister: We are publicly wishing you "good health, happiness and many more birthdays to be celebrated at Holy Family. We all love you!" Isn't that a nice tribute! Happy Birthday from all of us too, Sister.

Sister Elaine McMahon

Kerri, a Lhasa Apso, is the prized pet of Hicksville resident Lori Maney and Kerri certainly is a little cutie.

Kerri is 3-years-old and was adopted by Lori when the dog was 7 months old. Said Lori: "Kerri loves to go on the raft in our pool and she also loves to ride in the car. She plays dead, gives her paw, crawls and plays hide-and-seek (someone hides and then she looks for them when you give her the Okay) In the picture with the stuffed animals it is hard to tell she is real."

So, readers, have you guessed where Kerri is located in the above photo? If not, she's in the back row, middle.

At East Street

The Old-Fashioned Way

Miss Saxon's fourth grade class at East Street School make corn cakes and butter from scratch as part of a course on food growth and preservation.

Dressing as children did 100 years ago, the children of Miss Saxon's fourth grade class at East Street School in Hicksville enjoyed an old fashioned snack.

After studying the methods of food growth and preservation in their study of Long Island the children air-dried a variety of fruits and vegetables.

Corn cakes and butter were made from scratch and eaten with sunflower and pumpkin seeds along with fresh apple cider.

At Holy Family

February Activities

Holy Family students Marvin Bonilla, Kristin Conlon, Bernadette Sosnowski, Steven Bellucci and Gene Ungeheuer refill their plates with pineapple pieces and coconut during Hawaii Day.

Holy Family eighth grader Maureen Buckley writes Matthew Perullo's story while Gene Ungeheuer poses for the photographer. The seventh and eighth graders have been helping the kindergarten children with their written skills.

February was a very busy month for Kindergarten children at Holy Family School. There just weren't enough days for all the projects. What a great time the children had on their "trip" to Hawaii during the letter "H" week. As the children and each visitor arrived at the classroom door they were greeted by "Aloha" as leis were placed around their necks. They found Hawaii on the map, saw a video of scenes of Hawaii and ate fresh pineapple and coconut. They also learned some Hawaiian words, including "Wiki-wiki" (which was the favorite!).

The seventh and eight grade buddies have been coming down to help the Kindergarten children realize that oral and written communication are closely related. Both the older and the younger children have learned from this Creative Writing Buddy Program.

Another wonderful experience the children had was giving a surprise Baby Shower for Mrs. Connan, Sister Elaine's Kindergarten Aide. The children were so excited as each little gift was opened, knowing they helped pick it and wrapped it, and seeing Mrs. Connan's delight. They also enjoyed the punch and cupcakes which was part of the celebration. When they returned after Winter Recess they learned that Mrs. Connan had a baby girl named Chantel. Congratulations!

At Lee Avenue

Reading is Fun

On Feb. 13, Lee Avenue School had its second RIF distribution. All the children received books and many won prizes from the raffle. That afternoon, RIF sponsored a program for the first, second and third grades. The children wore costumes of their favorite book characters. The winners were Jennifer Andrews—first grade, Erik Gonzalez—second grade, and Megan Healey—third grade. They received a gift certificate to Waldenbooks. A special thanks to Mrs. Pfizenmayer and Ms. Eisen for all their help with this project; to the judges, Mr. Mateer, Mrs. Dalo and Ms. Nielsen as well as to all of the mothers.

National German Examination

Kim Franchino, a Hicksville High School student in German VI Independent Study, has placed in the 91st percentile in the Level IV National German Examination. This entitles her to compete for the Study Trip Award offered by the German Government in the summer. There will also be an Awards Ceremony Dinner at which Kim and her parents will be honored.

Hicksville Secures 1st Place

Hicksville students took the first place trophy in the Division B Science Olympiad held at C.W. Post College on March 3. They scored a total of 62 points with the nearest competitor 17 points behind.

The team was comprised of five ninth grade students from the high school and 10 middle school students. All 15 students received a certificate and many received medals. For the project "Tree Identification," Mark Haddad, was awarded a gold medal, for "A is for Anatomy," Kathy Hora and Linda Thomas won a silver medal, for "Metric Estimation," Monica Alexandris also won a silver medal; and, for "Weather or Not," Victor Yee won a bronze medal. The overall outstanding performance was of course a team effort and included members Lisa Latzo, Jennifer Murphy, Mark Franchino, Billy Harvey, Amy Entel, Jennifer Yost, Ross Michaels, Mike Chang, Susan Gaylord and Helen Woo. Kathy, Linda, Monica, Mark Haddad and Victor are ninth graders who participated.

The team was coached initially by Dave Bouton and Hal Buck; Buck and Sidney Gelb participated at Saturday's event.

Winners of regional contests will now move onto the State Tournament April 28 at the State University of New York at Buffalo. There will also be a National Tournament held in May.

East Street Trip to Caumsett

East Street sixth graders attended a resident program at the BOCES Outdoor and Environmental Center at Caumsett State Park on Feb. 7 through the 9th.

The students enjoyed studying many programs first hand: Astronomy, Nocturnal Awareness, Weather, Forest Ecology, Survival, Animal Tracking, Orienteering, Maple Sugaring, Food and Fire. The students also enjoyed birdwalks and exploratory hikes.

BOCES has used this magnificent site for its Outdoor and Environmental Program since 1976. The 1,600 acres encompass a unique combination of diverse natural habitats: fields, forests, pond, salt marsh and seashore.

Once the estate of Marshall Field III, Caumsett retains many of its historic buildings. The former "summer cottage" and the guest house, located 50 feet behind it, houses boys and girls, respectively. Students sleep in small groups with staff and teachers in adjacent rooms. Both buildings are completely winterized, contain modern plumbing facilities, and have been approved for fire safety and health standards.

Special Education Class

Mrs. Goldstein's Primary Special Education class is new to East Street School. When they arrived in September, they were welcomed by the Principal, teachers and children.

For Friendship Day in February, they made candy which they shared with some children in another primary class.

More recently, in February, they had a Valentine's Party for which they also cooked. This time they shared their goodies with Mrs. DeLucia's Special Education Intermediate Class. The children entertained their guests with folk dances and then everyone feasted on cherry tarts and candy. The afternoon ended with the children playing board games.

Students Visit Hospital

East Street sixth graders recently visited the Coronary Care Unit of Nassau Community Hospital. The field trip was in conjunction with the School's Growing Healthy Science Program.

Annual Science Fair

Recently, Miss Saxon's fourth grade class at East Street School, held its annual science fair.

They showed the application of simple electrical battery circuits in a variety of imaginative and creative projects.

All classes of the school enjoyed working with the projects and listening to the explanations and scientific principles involved.

Students of the Month

The following children were chosen as Our Lady of Mercy's Students of the month for January: Kindergarten A.M. Katelyn Beaudette, P.M. Robert Welk, 1A Carol Tichio, 1B Stephanie Macchia, 2A Theresa Walt, 2B Thomas Orr, 3A Sean Donahue, 3B Jonathon Lawnicz, 4A Larissa Budinic, 4B Melissa Buonagora, 4C Victor Ng, 5A Chris Murray, 5B Lucian Veneziano, 6A Larine Runo, 6B Christina Calvi, 7A Lauren Freitag, 7B Gibi George, 7C Dymphna Grannone, 8A Danielle Conte, 8B John Zimmerman and 8C Melissa Young.

Jump for Heart

Burns Avenue children held a jump-a-thon to benefit the American Heart Association. The students raised $3,327.70. Everyone is very proud of them.

A Special Thank You

Mr. Mandel's fifth grade students at Woodland Avenue School recently received a very special thank you note from the Hospital Director of the Veterans Administration. The students sent Valentine cards and messages to hospitalized veterans who wished to thank the students for remembering them on Valentine's Day. It made their day.

Brownie Trip

Brownies from Troop 3682 at Saint Ignatius Loyola School went on a field trip to Jazzerise in Hicksville recently.

Aromatherapy A Renaissance of Beauty and Wellbeing

by Keni Woodruff

Put your skepticism to rest and become a believer. . . Aromatherapy (especially with Judith Jackson products) is one of the most delightfully rejuvenating, soothing, beautiful experiences this editor has encountered.

The restorative, healing, energizing properties of aromatherapy, massage, and scented oils have been recognized throughout history. From China to the Americas, ancient healers brewed potions from leaves, flowers and herbs, using them in combination with therapeutic techniques (including massage and the "laying on of hands"). Scented oils eased pain, inspired pleasure, and were prized as offerings to the gods.

On examining a Neanderthal burial site in Iraq, archeologists found concentrated deposits of pollen from yarrow, grape hyacinth and groundsel. . . medicinal plants still grown and used by Iraqi peasants. Seeds from medicinal herbs have been found in Central and North American excavations dating back to 3000 BC.

In one of the world's oldest medical textbooks, written in 2000 BC, Chinese Emperor Kiwang-Ti described the medical properties of opium, rhubarb and pomegranate. And, according to hieroglyphics, the Egyptians used aromatic plants for both medical and religious purposes. In fact, King Tut's tomb contained alabaster vases filled with fragrances which still retained their ancient aromas.

In our haste to get where we're going first and fastest, surrounded by atmospheric pollutants, immersed in the latest get young, get thin, get-it-all gimmicks, we've become a stressed-out, worn-out generation with yearnings for gentler, more natural lives.

Judith Jackson was a classic example. . . but she had an edge. . . her lifetime "addiction" to massage. Arriving at the London end of a Transatlantic business trip, exhausted and jangled, a friend suggested she visit the famous Micheline Arcier Salon for an Aromatherapy treatment. Using her own blends of essential oils Madame Arcier began a massage that would change Miss Jackson's life, and, ultimately, ours. . .

"I could almost feel the scented oils seeping into my skin," says Ms. Jackson, in her book Scentual Touch. "Tingles and warm surges appeared. . . quite distant from the massage points. As the treatment continued, Mm. Arcier gave me bits of advice about my physical condition. . . her sensitive hands assessed my skin, muscle and nerve responses. We discussed the demands of my high powered job, the problems of being a divorced, single mother in New York City, my concerns about raising my children while I worked so hard. By the end of the treatment I was totally relaxed, almost floating, yet invigorated. I was also determined to pursue Aromatherapy as a way to look and feel better."

That was 15 years ago. Today, after an in-depth article on Aromatherapy for Harper's Bazaar, gaining a certificate in massage therapy and completing an intense training program with Micheline Arcier, Judith Jackson has developed her own line of Aromatherapy products, and trained a staff of professional massage therapists in her own therapeutic massage techniques. . . an incredible combination of aromatic products and massage techniques that takes Aromatherapy out of the world of self-indulgence into the very real place of "musts."

The products. . . blends of exquisitely fine essential oils (chamomile and cedarwood, eucalyptus and juniper, lavender and geranium, vetiver and patchouli. . . there are hundreds of essential essences used in a variety of combinations, each with its own distinctive properties, aroma, and therapeutic impact.)

"When various oils are combined," says Ms. Jackson, "their therapeutic impact is often multiplied. They have proved highly effective for many conditions, from insomnia and migraine to sunburn and cellulite. Aromatherapy doesn't just make you feel well, the essences penetrate the skin. They neutralize bacteria and viruses, reduce inflammation, heal sores and burns, soothe the digestive system, aid the respiratory system. . . the list is endless, the benefits, amazing!"

"You have to be so careful when extracting and reducing the oils," she commented. "Extraction reduces the oil molecules, allowing them to enter the skin more easily. Their natural chemicals become more concentrated, more potent. They have to be extremely pure, carefully blended and diluted so that they do their work without irritating the skin."

"We use only the finest, purest, most natural essential oils available. There are Judith Jackson, trained Aromatherapists at many of America's top spas. . . The Doral Saturnia in Miami; Bonaventure in Ft. Lauderdale, The Camelback Inn in Phoenix, Top Notch at Stowe. . . just to name a few. We've just introduced our treatment system at Saks Fifth Avenue in Garden City, and my own treatment center will be opening soon in Greenwich, Connecticut, close to our U.S. headquarters."

The Judith Jackson Aromatherapy line includes face, body, bath and room fragrance products. Room fragrance! "Oh, yes!" says Ms. Jackson.

"There are five to relax you and relieve stress, and invigorate and stimulate. You place a drop or two in a special heater and the pure essence permeates the atmosphere of your room, you breathe it in. . . it's wonderful!"

"No cost is spared in the quality of the products," says Jackson, "and each is packaged to protect the fragile oils." The massage, facial and bath essences are packaged in light-proof amber glass, the creams, cleansers and masks in sturdy, attractive glass and plastic containers designed to protect the essences and ensure maximum effectiveness. You can buy the whole line for about $100. Are they worth the price? Yes! Absolutely!

THE WHOLE TOOTH by Laura Selub, D.D.S.

Taking Charge of Your Mouth

Here are a few more thoughts on your role in keeping dentally fit. In this effort you are irreplaceable. But it does take conscientious application of several basic practices.

Brushing, for example. A simple exercise, no? You spread toothpaste on the brush and scrub up a storm.

Well, there's a little more to it than that—if you really want good results from your work. By the numbers, here's one effective way to proceed:

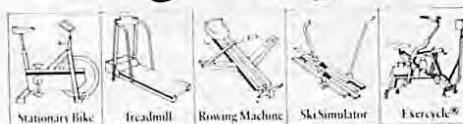

- 1- Tilt the brush so its surface is angled against the gumline. You'll then be scrubbing where teeth and gums meet.
- 2- Use short strokes, moving from tooth to tooth, but gently, gently.
- 3- First the front of the teeth, then the back, all the time keeping up the short, back-and-forth strokes.
- 4- The inside surfaces of the upper and lower front teeth require special treatment. Turn the brush to a vertical position. The strokes are now up-and-down rather than across the teeth, with the top end of the brush working for you.
- 5- The final step—brush your tongue to remove bacteria there and help keep your breath sweet.

That's about it. Your dentist can help you select the proper tooth brush for the size of your mouth and the position of your teeth. Choose a fluoride toothpaste and, if you want additional dental hygiene support, use a fluoride mouthwash. And of course, ask your dentist or dental hygienist to show you how to floss.

It's up to you to give your teeth the daily dental care they need. Turn the serious problems, which can occur despite your best efforts, over to your dentist.

Home Infusion Therapy, . . . Effective Alternative to Lengthy Hospitalization

An innovative healthcare agency offering Home Infusion Therapy Islandia Infusion R.N.'s, has been established at 436 Willis Avenue in Williston Park.

Licensed by the New York State Department of Health, the group offers an alternative approach to traditional hospital-based care by providing infusion, or intravenous, treatments to medically stable patients in the privacy of their homes. Owned and operated by registered nurses with over 20 years of clinical experience, Islandia employs only highly skilled, experienced R.N.'s. Islandia nurses are available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, serving Queens, Nassau and Suffolk Counties. The agency supplies all the necessary pharmaceuticals and equipment required to perform their services.

Specialized services include the administration of intravenous antibiotics, intravenous pain management, management of HIV-related infections, total parenteral nutrition, enteral nutrition, parenteral chemotherapy, intravenous hydration, catheter care and intravenous restarts for patients with peripheral lines.

Owners Carol O'Neill, R.N. and Joan Callahan, R.N. started Islandia Infusion R.N.'s when it became apparent to the healthcare industry that a substantial number of patients were remaining in the hospital solely for the purchase of receiving long-term intravenous therapy. The need to shorten the patient's hospital stay and reduce overall healthcare costs sparked the development of their agency on Long Island.

The agency's registered nurses work closely with hospital home care departments and the physician community to determine which patients will benefit from their services. O'Neill states, "Our program starts as early as possible, very often before the patient has been discharged from the hospital. We meet with the patient and the family in the hospital in an effort to educate them about the home infusion therapy program. Following the patient's discharge, we continue the education process as we care for the patient at home."

"We've seen so many cases in which hospital patients could be treated much more comfortably at home," Callahan said, "and, thanks to today's advanced technology, we can provide this service."

Prior to establishing Islandia Infusion R.N.'s, Ms. O'Neill was a staff nurse at Syosset Hospital, as well as an assistant head nurse at North Shore University-Cornell Medical Center. She was also the Director of Nursing at Garden City Home Care.

Ms. Callahan was a pediatric nurse at Nassau County Medical Center and specialized in pediatric oncology at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center. As a private oncology nurse, she specialized in caring for patients with breast cancer.

"I'm Going to Quit Smoking! . . . Keeping the Resolution

"My mother smokes and I'm scared. I'm afraid she's going to die. I keep asking her to stop, but she doesn't. I don't know what to do!"

That's a typical call from a worried child, according to Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center's Cancer Information Service. Desperate adults also call in, pleading for help. "I've tried everything," they say. "I don't know what to do."

More than 3 million Americans quit each year (most, after several tries).

Most relapses occur after the first week, again in the next three months. For most smokers, just saying "I'm going to quit," simply isn't enough. Planning for the plunge, and its pitfalls, is important, as is support and PER-SISTENCE. Some tips from CIS to make quitting easier:

of the trash. Carry some substitutes with you... gum, hard candy, a toothpick. Plan a treat for the end of that day... a movie, a new shirt, your favorite dinner. Feel proud!

Smoking is an addiction, complete with withdrawal symptoms: these include irritability, fatigue, insomnia, coughing, clearing the throat, dizziness, lack of concentration, depression, tightness in the chest, constipation, hunger, and, of course, craving. Remember, withdrawal symptoms diminish over time and eventually disappear (usually in a few weeks). If any persist or are severe, check with your physician.

Benefits begin within a few days... the carbon monoxide level in your blood will drop; you'll have more oxygen in your system, and improved circulation; you'll breathe better, have more stamina and vigor. Your sense of taste and

Deaths Attributed to Smoking

Number of deaths per 100,000 people by state in 1985.

Write down your reasons for quitting...remember to include the money you'll be saving (cigarettes now cost about $2.00 a pack...multiply by how much you smoke in a week, a month, a year!); also include how much time you spend searching for a match, running out to buy a pack (...in looking for a place to smoke, and in borrowing from others).

Set a target date (Q day) to quit...stick to it. Start cutting down before Q day, set a limit to how much you'll smoke each day, then smoke only half of each cigarette.

Find someone who will quit with you. Tell your family and friends you are quitting (great support!).

Decide how you are going to quit. Cold Turkey? Gradually? In a "clinic"?

On Q day get rid of all your cigarettes. Wet them so you won't be tempted to take them out smell will improve and your self image will be enhanced.

Once you've quit, try to avoid "high risk" situations...drinking alcohol when there are cigarettes around, socializing with smokers, feeling hungry, tired, bored, depressed.

If the urge hits (it will) keep some oral substitutes around...carrots, sunflower seeds, apples, raisins, etc.; take a deep breath (learn to breathe with your diaphragm, it's very relaxing). Think about all your reasons to quit. Call someone on your "support team." NEVER ALLOW YOURSELF TO THINK "ONE WON'T HURT"—IT WILL.

If you've already quit, want to quit, need some support, or you want some help from a friend call the Cancer Information Service toll-free at 1-800-4-CANCER for more information, pamphlets, and lots of support!

Culinary Architect for the Diet Conscious Gourmet

Alexandra Troy, TV personality and owner of Culinary Architect Catering noticed that many of her clients' were watching their waistlines at home, work and at parties. Always keeping up with clients' wishes and current food trends, she created "SPA ENTERTAINING", elegant gourmet meals of 500 calories or less, presented with the same style and excellent taste of her other culinary delights.

A typical dinner party begins with an hors d'oeuvre of Cherry Tomatoes stuffed with Diced Vegetables and Rainbow Vegetables with Dip Culinary Architect. For starters, Troy makes a Curried Carrot Soup garnished with her farm fresh herbs. It looks and tastes like its creamy counterpart, but instead it has only a quarter of the calories. Next clients are indulged with Sole Steamed in Lettuce Leaves with New Potatoes and Sautéed Zucchini. Following, in the French tradition of having a salad as a "digestive course," comes Spinach Salad with Enoki Mushrooms and Fresh Herb and Garlic Mayonnaise. Sublime, at a mere 75 calories per serving! The delicious repeat ends with homemade Mandarin Orange Sorbet. It's hard to believe that all of these goodies weigh in at 410 calories.

Culinary Architect is equipped to provide a trained and gracious waitstaff to serve these low calorie delicacies in your office, home or at one of their unique party spaces. With delicious and healthy menus, it's no wonder that Culinary Architect is now booking parties well into 1991.

For further information, contact: Alexandra Troy, Culinary Architect Inc., at (212) 410-5474 or (516) 883-7885 or visit her showroom at 475 Port Washington Blvd., Port Washington, for a complimentary consultation.

Pain In The Neck? Chiropractic, Naturally!

If you have a physical problem that hasn't "gone away by itself," don't neglect it, call Post Chiropractic. A graduate of N.Y. Chiropractic College, and formerly on the staff of Garden City Chiropractic Center, Dr. Ira S. Fisher opened his Westbury clinical practice in 1989.

He treats sports injuries; stress related problems such as neck pain and headaches; trauma from car accidents (which may not appear for days or weeks later); a wide range of geriatric problems, and workman's compensation.

Dr. Fisher offers a complimentary consultation to discuss how your family can benefit from his chiropractic care. Post Chiropractic Center serves the needs of every member of your family from children to mature adults. Licensed massage therapists are available to provide a variety of massage techniques and myotherapy to complement the patients' chiropractic care.

Most insurance is accepted, and a flexible payment plan is available to meet your financial needs.

Located at 320 Post Ave., Westbury, Post Chiropractic Center is open Monday through Friday 9-6:30, Saturday 9-noon, and Tuesday and Thursday evenings by appointment. For emergency care, Dr. Fisher can be reached 24-hours a day at the Center's office. Call 333-3253 for information and an appointment for your complimentary consultation.

Better Nutrition for Healthy Hearts

Green Beans in Walnut-Dill Dressing

Yield: 5 servings

Approx. Cal./Serving: 155

- 1 pound fresh green beans
- 1/2 cup chopped scallions (including green tops)
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 2 tablespoons snipped, fresh dill
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley, preferably Italian
- 3 tablespoons rice wine or mild vinegar
- 1/4 to 1/2 cup vegetable oil
- salt, if desired
- freshly ground pepper to taste

1. In a large saucepan over boiling water, steam beans until just tender—about 8-10 minutes. Remove from heat and plunge beans into cold water to stop the cooking. Drain well and set aside.

2. In blender or food processor, combine scallions, walnuts, dill, parsley, vinegar and 1/2 cup oil. Blend, adding a little more oil if necessary. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Pour over beans and toss. Let beans set one hour before serving to develop and blend flavors.

TOWARD BETTER HEALTH

Dr. Sheri R. Brent,
Chiropractor

HEADACHES

It is estimated that 9 of 10 people suffer with headaches. Some are mild; but chronic, recurring headaches, which can be serious, are of two major types, migraine or tension.

Headaches occur for a reason. They are your body's way of telling you that something is not right. It is important to identify environmental factors which can cause the common headache. These may include eye strain, improper diet, hunger, poor lighting, excessive noise, constipation, daily pressures, sinus infections, medications and dental problems among others. These factors may produce abnormal muscle tension and irritation to the nerves and blood vessels in the neck and head. In rare cases, headaches may be caused by more severe conditions.

What can you do to prevent headaches?

1. Maintain good head and neck posture to prevent strain.
2. Avoid too little or too much sleep and use your pillow to support your neck, not your head.

3. Avoid foods which contain tyramine including: aged cheeses, wine, liquor, chocolates and pickled food.

4. Try to avoid situations of pressure and tension.

5. Seek care from appropriate dental, optometric, medical and chiropractic professionals for their services.

To ease the pain, apply an ice pack to the affected area, apply moist heat to shoulders to relax the muscles and avoid bright lights and noise.

Headache is a potentially serious warning sign. If symptoms persist seek professional care. You may not "have to live with them."

"For a complimentary consultation with Dr. Brent to discover what you can do about your headaches, please call 516-932-5077.

OPTIFAST AT CENTRAL GENERAL HOSPITAL

No one ever lost weight permanently through willpower alone. No one!

If willpower were all it took to lose weight, your first diet would have been your last. But, with few exceptions, even the most determined dieters regain the weight they lost.

Now, you can lose weight and keep it off with The OPTIFAST® Program. The OPTIFAST Program is a hospital-based supplemented fasting program that combines a nutritionally complete diet supplement, diet counseling, behavior modification and group support.

Most important of all, The OPTIFAST Program involves the close, on-going attention of physicians, nurses and other medical professionals. 200,000 people have participated in The OPTIFAST Program of weight loss. Studies have shown that up to 80% of OPTIFAST® treated patients may lose more than this amount; the average loss is 85 pounds.

But even more encouraging is the fact that in some people, long-term weight maintenance—the most important part of obesity treatment, is accomplished in The OPTIFAST Program.

If you're more than 30% or 50 pounds overweight, please call 932-6250 and receive complete details about The OPTIFAST Program. You supply the willpower you've always had. We supply the medical support you've always missed.

Let's Do the Lambada! The Hottest Dance Since the Twist...

by Keni Woodruff

Ballroom dancing is all the rage, and the hottest entry into the touch dancing scene is the Lambada... the fast-paced, hip-swinging, sexy, Brazilian dance that's sweeping the country via South America, Europe, and the West Coast.

We've all heard the music, felt the rhythm, now we can learn the steps... at Arthur Murray Studio in Great Neck and Williston Park. Says Safwat Gerges, owner of the two dance studios, "we're experiencing a tremendous surge in social dancing, especially the Lambada. We've done several demos at our schools and elsewhere, and it's really in demand!"

Your days of being a wallflower are over! Safwat's Arthur Murray-trained instructors will help you master all the favorite social dances, American and Latin, new and old. You'll learn to disco and mambo. You'll cha-cha and lindy. Sample the samba and waltz, the meringue, the peabody (that lovely, gliding one-step) and the foxtrot. Wow your lady with a rhumba. Turn on to the sweeping drama of the tango. And go native to the lusty lilt of the Lambada. Your dance floor ratings will go from 0 to 10, and you'll feel great, too!

LAMBADA! Safwat Gerges and one of his instructors dance at the recent Ohio Star Ball... the biggest ballroom dance competition in the U.S. The event was hosted by Juliette Prouse and featured on Channel 21 in January.

Both the Williston Park and Great Neck Arthur Murray Studios offer private and group lessons, socials and competitions, hobby and club dancing and free introductory lessons. Safwat Gerges and his staff will help you tailor an instruction program to put your "two left feet" into dancin' shoes you'll never want to take off.

"Anybody can (and should) dance," says Safwat Gerges. "In fact, the Arthur Murray motto is 'if you can walk, you can dance.' It's true, whether you're young or old, and it's so much fun... healthy too!"

The University of Texas' Health-Science Center's February Health letter headlines dancing... "An exercise you can enjoy for a lifetime... great for your bones, joints, heart, blood pressure, posture and coordination..."

Call today for a free introductory lesson, or see for yourself at one of the studios' weekly dance parties... you'll never be a wallflower again. If you'd rather be dancin', now's the time! The studios are located at 433 Willis Ave., Williston Park (248-6430) and 10 Grace Avenue (upstairs), Great Neck (482-7210).

Shape-up Now For Summer!

Looking to shape-up in time for the beach season? Now is the time to shake off those winter doldrums and start the fitness program that could change your life.

Located at 20 W. Vandeventer Avenue in Port Washington, Body By Basile is the place to go when you're serious about a healthy body. Fast becoming one of the hottest clubs on Long Island, Body By Basile features exclusive "One-To-One Fitness Training." This method is the surest, most effective way to contour and trim the human physique.

"We are not a social club," comments founder Steve Basile, himself a bodybuilding champion. "Our clientele have specific goals, whether it be weight reduction, body shaping or muscle toning and conditioning. We custom design a program to meet these goals."

The atmosphere at Body By Basile is relaxed and friendly. All the latest work-out machinery is available to members, including Stairmasters, aerobicycles and full Nautilus cycle. But the key to success, according to Basile is the personal trainer, an experienced professional who guides each member through every workout exercise. In this way, proper technique is utilized, maximizing the effect of each muscle movement.

What type of people train at Body By Basile? Some are celebrities, some are corporate executives; housewives; professional athletes; young, old, male and female. Yet all share a common goal—they care about their health and well-being.

A new program for 1990 includes semi-private, low impact aerobic classes with specialized instructors.

Informational brochures are available or you may call 944-5875 to arrange a tour of the facilities.

Aromatherapy...

Just a comment, no axe to grind, nothing to gain... I went to Saks, where I met Ms. Jackson, enjoyed a delicious massage and Aromatherapy treatment by one of her top massage therapists, Elizabeth C. Kuhns, took home my package of samples... a flacon of facial oil, another of bath oil, two of body essence. A skeptic to the core, typically stressed, much too busy to over-pamper myself, and always reluctant to over-spend at the cosmetics counter...

I ran a bath with a few drops of "serenity" (Tangerine, Fennel, Ylang Ylang, Vetyver and other natural fragrances), soaked for 10 minutes and off to bed. Mid-morning it occurred to me that I felt absolutely wonderful... not "all in my mind," but calm and full of energy and really good. Then I started using the facial oil... I have very dry skin, and the heat of the office and my apartment was really destructive this winter... I've been using it (morning and night) for a week and a half... amazing, truly. My skin is like silk, the dryness is gone, people have commented! Aromatherapy... Scentsational! Go to Saks Garden City and try it for yourself... it's worth every penny... Keni.

"It was the best of times, it was the worst of times."

Charles Dickens
Tale of Two Cities

Although Charles Dickens wasn't talking about menopause, your attitude toward this major change in your life could reflect either side of the proposition. With increased longevity and new options in today's society for your personal fulfillment, menopause truly can represent a vital, rewarding time in your life.

But your health at this special time demands some extra attention and thought...and some choices. And the experienced doctors at the Long Island Women's Health Care Group know that what you experience is not a tale without meaning. We're ready to be your health partners, responding to your new concerns by listening to you and helping you to make good choices for your continued good health.

Q What is osteoporosis and what can I do to prevent it?

A Osteoporosis, a thinning of the bone structure that can lead to fractures, affects one in every four women. After menopause, women experience more bone loss, for it's believed that estrogen, the female hormone produced by the ovaries, has a protective effect on the bone. Yet you can take some positive steps to reduce the risk of osteoporosis.

- Be as active as possible. Walk, jog, bike and exercise.
- Make sure you get enough calcium and vitamin D.
- If you smoke, quit.
- Avoid excessive alcohol intake.
- Discuss appropriate medical intervention with your doctor.

This medical news is being brought to you as a community service by the Long Island Women's Health Care Group. We're a dedicated group of obstetrician-gynecologists who treat each patient as an individual. We're affiliated with the Maternal Child Care Center at Winthrop University Hospital, a major teaching affiliate of SUNY at Stony Brook School of Medicine.

Hicksville Students Shine

Guys and Dolls was a tribute to the talents and efforts of all the students and faculty involved in this Hicksville High School production. From the opening chord to the final curtain, the play was a delight.

Donald Hudson (Sky Masterson), Terry Glynn (Miss Sara), Robert Allen (Nathan Detroit) and Jenn Kremer (Miss Adelaide) performed as if Broadway-bound. The comic and musical talents of John Butt and Taylor Ferranti, as well as the rest of the cast, entertained the nearly-packed high school auditorium on March 16 and 17. A free performance for senior citizens was given on the 15th.

In all, 85 students participated in the Drama Club's annual musical. In addition to performers, members of Hicksville's orchestra and band provided the superb musical accompaniment. The sets, beautifully painted backdrops and costumes were due in large part to the students' artistic skills.

The director/choreographer Judith Pasettiner, as well as James McRoy (orchestra director), Matt Sullivan (technical director), Darren Lougee (vocal director) and Beth Atkinson (costumes), deserve special recognition for showcasing Hicksville's students in such a professional manner.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity; we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only. We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

Figures are Wrong

To The Editor:

Mrs. Lafferty must have been a classmate of the Superintendent of Schools. Both must have paid little attention to Math — because their figures concerning the teachers contract are, for the most part, wrong.

Driver Education teachers make $21.16 an hour, not $32.00. In fact, by the end of the contract they will be making $25.59 per hour.

Since the After School Enrichment program was written into our contract in 1984, the $25.00 per session rate hasn't changed. In fact, we did not even demand to increase this stipend. It is, and will remain for the life of this contract, $25.00 per session.

Yes, the Drama Club Adviser, who is responsible for producing the traditional drama and the contemporary drama, gets paid $2,646.00 for both productions or $1,323.00 each. The hours required to do both of these mean that the hourly rate of pay is less than $5.00 an hour. (You could make more at McDonalds.)

Yes, some varsity coaches in Hicksville make

$3,200.00 plus. The hours they put in, however, are many and the per hour rate is, therefore, low.

Mrs. Lafferty, you acknowledge that teachers in Hicksville should make a decent wage. Yet for years and years in Hicksville our salaries were in the bottom 25% of Nassau County — where were you then? Why didn't you complain about that fact?

The truth be known, it is only AT THE END of the contract that teachers' salaries will be at the median or 50th percentile of salaries in Nassau.

That's right! AFTER 3 YEARS we will finally be making the average salary of a teacher in Nassau.

Instead of complaining about the salary settlement (which, by the way, was the recommendation of Dr. Fenton) you should be apologizing about the fact that for years your teachers were grossly underpaid and you did nothing about it.

A Local Point of View:

Hicksville Has Everything

By Clara Noack

I look forward to receiving your newspaper every week. The articles are very artistic and the beautiful pictures brighten my day. Your listings of "Houses of Worship" has been very helpful to me. I like visiting different churches now that the children are grown and your listing is much easier than looking in the telephone directory. I have visited many of the churches and hope to visit every church this year. The next church that I plan to visit is the Methodist Church. I have heard so many nice comments about it from Hicksville residents. I might also go to the Olive Tree Congregation in Plainview for Hannukah.

There is so much to do in Hicksville and the surrounding areas. I especially like the Y in Plainview, where I often go swimming. The Homemaker's Club meets every Thursday at the Parkway Community Church. I am going there for a cooking class this month.

It is also nice that poor people are helped in our towns. There is the soup kitchen at Redeemer Lutheran. I have heard that there are now several social workers to help the poor. There is also the large Salvation Army Thrift Store in Levittown. The clothes all look new and are very reasonable and very needy people can select some free clothes.

There are so many stores in Hicksville now, that I do all my shopping locally. I sure do love the mall. The glass roof lets in lots of sunshine.

Easter is coming soon. Hope yours is the best. Aloha.

Legionnaires' Log

By Greg Bennett

Charles Wagner Post #421,
Hicksville

The Nassau County American Legion newsletter, the Nassau County Legionnaire, reports the final VA 1990 budget has been reduced $158.4 million under the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings deficit reduction law and provisions included in the Fiscal Year 1990 budget reconciliation bill. A VA computer error caused health care personnel costs to be underestimated by $94 million.

More than 40 U.S. Senators have warned of a shortage of funds for staffing, drugs, supplies and maintenance. The President has urged these funds to be restored so medical services will not be denied to veterans. The Senators urged the President to provide consistent funding levels and set forth a fiscal year 1990 $252.4 million supplemental request to restore the VA health care system. The President is urged to propose sufficient funding in 1991 to meet the required level of VA medical care. PCC Pete Holowicki provided the budget information and is one of the Legion watchdogs keeping a close eye on health care provided to our veterans.

The Nassau County Committee of the American Legion reports almost $10,000 has been raised for Special Olympics under the guide of Chairman Legionnaire Ed Smith, Jr. The recent night at the races netted $2,888.60. This is a great program for very special young Americans. Charles Wagner Post has donated $200 to this program. Several Legionnaires have made personal donations supporting this wonderful program.

Hicksville Legionnaires are reminded of two important dates. March 29 is the Third Division Caucus at Carle Place Post located at 241 Rushmore Avenue at 8:30 p.m. The Nassau County Committee of the American Legion has a monthly meeting on Friday, March 23 at Williston Post at 8:30 p.m.

Regular meetings of the Charles Wagner Post 421 are the first and third Mondays of the month at 36 West Village Green in Hicksville. Veterans are most welcome to attend meetings. Now is the time for veterans to serve together again to save veteran benefits and serve our fellow veterans and community. And also to work for the return of Prisoners of War-Missing in Action.

Library Trustees Meet

For our readers who receive the Illustrated on Wednesdays... the Hicksville Public Library Board of Trustees will meet tonight, March 21, at 8 p.m.

A Letter from Lulubelle...

...How many names are you known by? I don't mean aliases or noms de plume, I just mean—are you the kind of person who is called James Jones—or are you, like our famous actor, always James Earl Jones? If I asked about Ed Poe, you might think a minute, but if I said Edgar Allen Poe, there'd be no hesitation...It's such a strange thing that this has grown up as it has, and so many New England poets and writers seem to be known that way—think about Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, John Greenleaf Whittier, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Louisa May Alcott: and then there's Franklin Delano Roosevelt—I bet you don't even know what George Washington's middle name was—or even if he had one—I certainly don't...and how about the famous editor, William Allen White?...Emily Dickenson and many others made the big time without the three-name-thrust, but it certainly does sound more sonorous and impressive...I think from now on I'll have myself known as Lulubelle Arimathea Vostavazoo—that will make them pause!!

Paying for College—Three

In January of this year we wrote two articles on paying for college. This one may be the most important of the three.

about how to cope with the rising tuition costs. We wonder if we will be able to swing college for the kids.

The sad truth is that there are whole pools of money that are not used because people do not know that the money exists. They do not know how to get it. As our "education president" has cut the available funding and as many states have cut back on eligibility, private sector financial aid has increased.

The poor products of our schools, called

The government has been shifting college aid toward low income families for many years. Middle income families are getting more and more worried students, have helped provide the educational motivation for more educational spending from private sources. It is a matter of self preservation for them. They need trained people. The supply of educated people is getting scarce. Business needs them and business is spending to educate workers. LIU/CW Post, my school, and other colleges have funds to put toward scholarships. It is not as much as any of the schools would like, but we are working on it.

College funding, scholarships and grants have been a large part of the private sector funding for education growth. Many businesses provide education money for tuition. Many organizations provide scholarships for children of the members of that organization. Professional groups have money to educate deserving people to become professionals. Many charitable foundations provide money for many odd reasons.

Did you know that some money is available if you have the right birthday, the right name, or if you live in the right town. Some states of the union will pay the tuition as a loan and forgive the loan if the person will become a teacher (Florida). The Union Pacific Railroad gives grants to students who live in the towns that it serves. The lists can be endless. Do you bow?—you may get your child a grant. Member of a union?—ditto, etc. On Long Island, the Dante Society provides educational scholarships to Italians. The Foundation for Professional Growth, of which I am a director, was recently formed to provide scholarships for young people to become lawyers and accountants. The question is, how can you tap into this bonanza?

No matter how large your family assets, the first thing to do is apply to the government for a Pell Grant. This is a grant from the federal government named after the late Rhode Island senator who sponsored the legislation. Most of the private sources will not even consider your application unless you have done this. You get this information from the high school guidance departments, the college financial aid department or from the Federal Student Financial Aid Programs, Box 84, Wash., DC 20044.

You can research professional organizations in the student's areas of interest. Any college library has a section devoted to financial aid. Your city or town library may have some information. Try Lovejoy's guide to financial aid, it is the bible. Peterson's college money handbook qualifies also.

Use a private planning organization to provide you with a list of potential scholarships and grants that your child may be able to receive. One that I know is the College Financial Planning Service. 1-800-933-3100. For $45 they will give you a computer print-out based upon a form that you fill out and send in with your check. Call them, they will send you the form. The $45 is refundable if you do not receive at least $100 by 10/30/90. It is a no-lose situation. How often is that possible?

If your child is in high school and if you have been in the looking stage, you probably have started the next part of the process. You do these things one step at a time. You have to fill out a financial aid form and make a family financial statement. These forms follow basic guidelines, applicable to everyone. You will get a rating. You will know how much the family and/or the student is expected to pay.

Never back out of a school because you think that it will be too expensive. It is quite possible that the "better" school has better aid packages. They may have more scholarship money. The college financial aid department will let you know what they have for you.

Do not let pride get into your way. Some people with money do not want to consider the grant route. For instance, in the financial applications, you may overinflate the value of your house. That is a large mistake. Put a realistic market value on the home. The greater your net worth, the more college costs you will have to bear. My feeling is, as always, THE MONEY YOU SAVE IS THE MONEY YOU DO NOT HAVE TO EARN, PLUS YOUR TAX RATE.

There are some legal strategies you can use to reduce your income. You might be able to use the government formula for figuring the value of your home. That is, the purchase price of the home plus the dollar cost of the improvements plus two percent per year COMPOUNDED for inflation. This is almost sure to give you a lower home value for grant purposes than your real value.

Another little trick: take money in a CD and put it into a single-pay insurance annuity or life insurance policy. This will take the CD income out of your income stream. It becomes tax deferred and increases the possibility of a larger grant. It does not decrease your net worth either.

Foreign Aid Dollars Are Limited

We probably should restructure foreign aid as soon as possible. Hands are out for American dollars all over the world. The aspirations of Eastern Europe, Panama, Nicaragua, and the Philippines seem to ride on dispensing the so called "peace dividend." And so do many programs at home. President Bush has asked for $14.1 billion in fiscal year 1991 to aid 120 countries. Financial support, around the world, is truly a mixture of cross-winds for the recipient and the United States. Is our foreign aid program bribery, an aid to developing democracies, economic leverage for American businesses, or a tool to prevent the spread of communism? It is probably all of these in varying degrees depending on the country and the times.

Right after World War II, General George Marshall led the program to prevent the spread of expansionist, minded communism to western Europe. The "Marshall Plan" placed billions of dollars into the economies of those nations. Following right after the economic aid came U.S. business interests. Saving western Europe from communism also meant opening markets to our businesses—both imports and new American facilities I saw first-hand in the seventies the European-welcoming hand turn to an inward focus. That change now leads us to the 1992 challenges of a common market—a market which will not be so hospitable to American interests.

Some of the largest amounts of our aid go to Israel, Turkey, Pakistan, Egypt, and the Philippines—more than one half of the total. Foreign policy objectives, shoring up democracy, and strategic locations are the underlying reasons for our largess. Senator Bob Dole has suggested shifting some of the aid from Israel, Turkey and Egypt to Eastern Europe and Central America. Israel is our strongest ally in the Middle East, and there is a necessity to balance that aid with support for Egypt. I do not see any measurable change in our support for Israel—nor should there be. The result is that the Dole proposal will go nowhere.

Even our military bases in countries overseas are the focus of mixed reactions. For example, the workers at our Philippine installation love the American dollar and the standard of living it brings. Yet, the politics surrounding our bases say, "Yankee go home." And, in Panama, it may well be that twenty percent of the nation's economy is based on the U.S. military and Canal presence. While the gringos are not wanted by a portion of the populace, the reality is that their fate is much more intertwined with the United States than many Panamanian politicians would like to believe.

Panama provides an interesting insight into foreign aid. Right after the December military action, the Congress rose as one to support the President on the action and supported the rebuilding of Panama. President Guillermo Endara requested one-and-one-half billion dollars in aid. Forty-two million has been appropriated for immediate reconstruction. But one-half billion dollars of aid proposed by President Bush is being delayed by the bureaucracy of Congressional inaction. There is a real question as to whether the failure of Congress to act on a timely basis will negatively impact on our relations with Panama. Our sanctions hurt the economy more than the military action in December. The euphoria resulting from the elimination of Noriega could turn very sour if the expected aid is not forthcoming. Our actions and rhetoric led to the expectations. The Congress has a special responsibility to act quickly. If we do not, I see Japan just over the horizon. Japanese business interests would quickly follow the granting of aid.

Where do we go from here? The U.S. colossus of the last few decades cannot stride across the globe totally unrestricted. We, along with the Soviet Union, are stretched economically. The message is clear. We will have to have a full debate on the validity of foreign aid and its objectives. The sooner that debate takes place, the better it will be for the recipients and the taxpayers of this country.

ton said, "There isn't a chance." She added that she would not make such a recommendation and logistically, it would be an impossibility. Millenberg agreed that the board "wouldn't be acting responsibly if it did something over the summer."

Martillo asked if the resolution stopped the data gathering on school closings. Fenton indicated that if the board further directed her to gather data the resolution did not prevent it.

The board voted 5-0 to accept Bennett's resolution. MacBride was not present and Trustee William Collins abstained.

Superintendent's Presentation

After the first public session, Cardella indicated he would poll the board to see if they still wished to listen to Fenton's reports on reorganization and redistricting, which he felt should not be presented. However, Bennett objected saying the reports had been prepared and were on the agenda. "If we don't hear Dr. Fenton tonight, thousands of dollars are thrown away," Bennett said.

Reorganization

A 15-page report, including maps of attendance areas, was presented on the topic of Reorganization. Fenton began her presentation by stating, "We look at this as a process." Four members of the board had mentioned Dutch Lane, East Street and Fork Lane as possible buildings to be closed and the initial data prepared by the Superintendent focused on these buildings.

Six members of the board had indicated on Feb. 7 that they wished Fenton to pursue Plan A, which would affect the entire elementary population. Under that plan, if a school were closed, students would be redistributed throughout the district "so that all buildings would be impacted by having a shift of students in their attendance area." Plan B, which Fenton said was "less efficient," would send a closed school's population to only one or two neighboring schools, thereby better utilizing some, but not all buildings.

The report presented on March 14, Fenton said was a "little bit of both" Plan A and B. She said, "We tried to find a plan that causes the least amount of havoc rather than the ideal... [where] we will all suffer." This report does not effect students at Burns Avenue which she described as "landlocked" or Willet Avenue.

Under this new plan, two to five additional buses would be needed and nine to 11.5 teaching positions would be eliminated. However, class sizes would still range from 14-30 and still result in singleton classes on a grade level.

Attendance areas for the studied schools were determined in conjunction with building principals, using natural dividers such as major roads. Numbers of students are based on projected figures for each area. Fenton agreed with residents that problems could arise if student population increased in certain areas. Consultants hired in the past have indicated that a five-year history of a stable community is required when making projections. By rearranging attendance areas, Fenton acknowledged that a new data base would be started.

Redistricting

Redistricting, without closing schools, had the support of the Ad Hoc Committee on Reorganization and data on this recommendation was unexpectedly presented by Fenton. Cardella was the only board member who voiced an opinion on Feb. 7 that this option which would not close schools be looked into.

If this plan was adopted, East Street and Lee Avenue would be in the "pivotal spots" as described by Fenton. Because of their location, a movement of attendance areas would see many students leaving these buildings and in the case of East new students entering.

Using the District's projected 2,250 elementary students and eight buildings (including the largest building Lee and the smallest Willet) an "ideal" population was determined by Fenton's staff, which was 290 students for the majority of schools. Students had to be moved from some buildings to fill less utilized schools. Burns (because of its location) and Dutch (approximately to ideal size) were left as is.

Under the two options discussed, no additional buses would be needed but only one to three teaching positions would be eliminated. Class sizes would range from 14-28 and singleton classes would still exist. Redistricting had been recommended by the Ad Hoc Committee, who sought to eliminate singletons at Willet and to equalize class sizes throughout the district. Now that it has been addressed, Fenton asked "what have we gained?" She added that 230 children have been moved. "Is it worth it?"

No direction was given to Fenton to proceed with further studies. Resident Carolyn Kelly said she could "see no point in analyzing Burns, Old Country, Lee or East" because of their current large enrollment and added that she hoped studies would continue on moving the sixth grade to the Middle School.

Leo Brecht said, "It's impossible to save anything by redistricting alone."

Copies of the redistricting and reorganization data are available at the administration building.

Public Session

Prior to Fenton's presentations, the public had the opportunity to speak to the board. Some thanked the board for deciding not to consider closing at this time. Others offered their differing viewpoints.

Commenting that the Hicksville board had been faced with the "worst decision to make" in the past year, Carolyn Kelly said although cuts can be made in next year's budget, nothing would be as obvious to the general public as a closed school. She presented a petition from 500 residents asking that two schools be closed. She added that many residents she spoke to were in favor of closing a school as long as it wasn't their school and expressed displeasure with the number of "rumors" being circulated as to future use of closed schools. She voiced her concern with a possible austerity budget which she said would not save that much money but would cost the children much more. She concluded by suggesting that one school be closed this fall, move the sixth grade to the Middle School in 1991 and close a second school in 1992.

Resident Jeff Segal said that "the fear is real" with regard to future use of closed schools and commented that Syosset taxes had continued to go up after schools were closed. Segal advocated the hiring of a consultant to thoroughly examine the situation.

William Kelly asked "how much more would [Syosset's] taxes be if they hadn't closed [schools]?"

Leo Brecht, a retiree, spoke about the difficulty of "selling" the budget in the face of rising taxes. Commenting on the possible savings if two schools were closed, he said, "You spend your 27 cents [a day], don't spend mine... I just can't keep this up."

Hugo Ljungquist said he had "no problem" with a teacher making $50,000 a year teaching a full schedule with a full class. However, he questioned figures presented to the public and asked how much fringe benefits cost taxpayers.

Trustee Millenberg responded that an additional 28 percent of each salary is needed to fund those benefits. Ljungquist said his belief that the problem was not in closing schools but in how to reduce teaching positions, saying he felt there were too many teachers for the number of students. He added that the teachers' union was opposed to closing schools because "so many teachers might lose their jobs". As a member of the Ad Hoc Committee on Reorganization, Ljungquist commented that the vote to recommend closing schools was very tight (13-11) and that the teachers' union president and the high school principal were members of that committee.

James Black asked for confirmation of a lawsuit filed against the district in regard to the Robert Izzo incident, the Hicksville school bus driver who was charged with child abuse.

Cardella said that the board has "agreed not to discuss litigation openly". Fenton said numerous lawsuits are facing the District. In response to Black's request for information under the Freedom of Information Act, Fenton suggested that he fill out the necessary forms so that his request might be filled.

Black also brought up his concern that school children were being allowed to bring home letters "attacking school board members". Referring to an East Street PTA letter which stated that Millenberg had called East Street "a heap of asbestos", he asked why this was allowed. Fenton said no comment would be made as it was a personnel matter. Donna Martillo, president of the East St. PTA addressed the board stating she had the permission of her principal to send out the notice in question. Stating that "many things have been in the papers that are not true... I have the right as a PTA President, wife, mother... I sent it home and that's tough."

Bennett commented that "not every parent has that same right to use our kids as couriers" and that he viewed the matter as an "impropriety." Millenberg said while she believes in the right to pass along information, she has a "problem with misinformation." She repeated her statements made at the Feb. 7 meeting, saying she had indicated that East Street was one of the schools that should be considered for closing because it faced $1.2 in asbestos removal costs and needed an elevator to make it accessible to the handicapped.

Richard Pfander urged the board not to close schools or redistrict and spoke of "a groundswell of support" for neighborhood schools. He said there is a "renewed spirit in this community" which has come together in support of children. If schools are closed, Pfander believes "pressure" will be on to sell the property. Saying that all residents must work together to get costs under control, he challenged "parents, students, taxpayers, teachers, administrators and other district personnel to each submit their ideas to reduce waste, to improve education" while maintaining neighborhood schools.

"Let's focus our attention in the future on setting educational goals for ourselves, let's improve our test scores, let's make our High School a school of excellence as our Middle School already is. These are the changes that are needed to be made. Not the changes that you have proposed over the last few weeks."

Residents spoke about the "legal pitfalls of leasing" buildings and the situation now facing East Meadow, which sold the property and signed long-term leases for its buildings, but now faces a shortage of school space. With regard to an aging population, the question was asked by a resident "who's going to be here in 10 years?" She then expressed her views that many retirees would be moving from the area

Science Olympiads

Ten students from the Hicksville Middle School and five from the High School recently won the Nassau County Science Olympiads. Accompanied by one of their advisors, Mr. Bouton, some of the students were presented to the board. Hicksville will next be competing in the state finals in Buffalo.

Future Meetings

The Board's Finance Committee will meet on March 21 at 8 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. This will be conducted as a board meeting in order that action on budget items may be taken.

The next regular board of education meeting will be on March 28 at 8:15 in the High School Auditorium. The board is scheduled to adopt its budget at that time.

Warriors Open Season with Shutout Victory

By A. Blicher

The Hicksville Warriors 1974 travelling soccer team outplayed the Island Trees Phoenix 2-0 at Triangle Field, March 11.

The season debut featured a Dom Perillo goal off a David Lovato feed, and a Brian Harkins goal off a corner kick. The team never stopped hustling and exerting great offensive pressure. They are: forwards and newcomers, Everlin Giron-Pino and Julio Ortiz; midfielders David Lovato, Jason Kingsley and Dom Perillo, and defenders Eric Blicher, Kris Friedrich, Brian Harkins, Coaches Mike Heyer, Chuck Oliver, and our super goalkeeper, Joe Flanagan.

Congratulations to the Warriors, Coach Pat McHugh, and assistants Pat Harkins Jr. and John Flanagan. Get well to Junior Tomlinson, Jose Garcia and Karl Rice.

Christopher Matthews: A 'No-Attitude' Attitude Restaurant

By Susi Bahr

If you don't look carefully, you may miss Christopher Matthews Restaurant in Roslyn — and it's not just that from the street it looks like a quaint English pub. With an unpretentious business sign and a location on the outskirts of the historic village area, the restaurant is clearly not out to grab your attention. In fact, dining inside Christopher Matthews can be as relaxed as being in an extension of your own living room.

Just what owner-manager Peter Collinates wants. With a desire to create a 'no-attitude' in this historic building (circa 1879), Collinates is dedicated to running a quality dining establishment that emphasizes a relaxed, friendly environment — a rare commodity, he says, in historic Roslyn.

"There are so many theme places around today, to be different I wanted to offer a little bit of everything," said Collinates. "And most of these places are so formal! I wanted to create an 'Alice's Restaurant' type atmosphere, you know... you can get anything you want..."

One look at Peter and you know this place is going to be different. Sneakers, wool vest, tie and short ponytail reveal a casual and modest personality. "I'm not trying to be something I'm not," he says quietly. "I believe Christopher Matthews is more like country inn dining. I want people to feel comfortable — as though they were in their own dining room at home."

Peter traces an interesting relationship with the building that now houses his and his brother William's lifelong ambition — to own a restaurant. "I fell in love with Roslyn the first time I saw it," he says. "I also have a personal relationship with this building in particular. It used to be Fearn's, a wine and cheese establishment which I managed for 15 years."

"I even met my wife here!"

Matthew and Christopher, the owners' young sons, for whom the restaurant was named.

Modest and unassuming may well define Peter, but certainly not the menu at Christopher Matthews. We started with a hot antipasto for two ($10.95) — and first bite revealed how modest Peter was. Stuffed mushrooms, calamari and casino clams with jalapeno peppers, onions and celery served with small garlic toasts, which were unusually good. No theme — no attitude — just lots of flavor!

I had chicken stuffed with apple stuffing, and definitely recommend it.

When you go to Christopher Matthews, make sure someone at your table orders the chicken special of the day. Chef Vince Ferrari likes to play with the chicken special daily. "I never know what he's going to make, but it's always great," said Peter. "Sometimes he stuffs it with raisins and walnuts, or another time he'll try spinach and swiss cheese."

"You could come five days in a row and never have the same chicken special!"

My partner had blackened swordfish, Cajun style, and it was just right. This was another indication of an 'anti-theme' attitude! At the same table we had chicken better than my grandmother ever made it — and a Cajun dish that would have made her face turn red!

In another area of modesty at Christopher Matthews, prices seemed well-suited to Collinates drop-in, no-nonsense approach. There are daily luncheon specials starting at $5.95; and if time is a problem, orders can be called in ahead of time. There are also nightly dinner specials which at $14.95 are affordable and complete. Even the wine list, well chosen yet unpretentious, is a 'no-attitude' wine list.

Of course!

Whether or not you live in Roslyn, Christopher Matthews is a good spot to visit if you're looking for a place to feel at home in an attractive restaurant setting. With downright good cooking and a relaxed atmosphere (dress is casual — no bedroom slippers though!), the Collinates brothers have created a fine place to drop into for a quick meal or better dining.

Christopher Matthews is located on Old Northern Boulevard in Roslyn. 621-1594 for reservations.

Light Opera Company To Present Ruddigore

The Gilbert and Sullivan Light Opera Company of Long Island has announced that it will present two performances of its production of Gilbert and Sullivan's Ruddigore at Hericks Middle School. The performances, both on Saturday nights at 8 p.m., will take place March 24 and 31.

The company is one of Long Island's oldest and best-known theater groups, having been touring Long Island and the New York metropolitan area for thirty-six years. A not-for-profit group, it presents only the works of Gilbert and Sullivan.

Its current production of Ruddigore, directed by Gayden Wren and music-directed by Raymond J. Osnato, has proven to be one of the Company's most successful; among its 1989/90 performance sites are Huntington, Merrick, Manhasset, Albertson, Lawrence, Freeport, Plainview, Syosset and Long Beach, as well as other Long Island communities.

Among the featured performances are soprano Sally Ann Denmead, of New Jersey, as Rose Maybud, and tenor Ray Zagorski as Richard Dauntless. Wren, a Garden City resident, will appear as Robin Oakapple, Rose's lover, while Huntington's Paul Cohen plays Sir Despard Murgatroyd, the bad baronet of Ruddigore. Eleanor Mish, of Queens, plays Dame Hannah and Terry Hochler of East Meadow the lovelorn Mad Margaret, with Oceanside's Martin Fuller as the ghost of the late Sir Roderick Murgatroyd and Bronx resident Stefan Miller as Robin's faithful servant, Old Adam. Baldwin residents Helaine Savoca and Ellen Pickus play Zorah and Ruth, leaders of the chorus of Professional Bridesmaids.

According to director Wren, his Ruddigore offers audiences a chance to experience one of the finest, but yet little-known, works of Gilbert and Sullivan. "People think of Gilbert and Sullivan as masters of the patter song, which they certainly were," he says, noting that Ruddigore contains perhaps the duo's finest patter song, the trio "My Eyes Are Fully Open." "But that isn't what has made these shows immortal. Patter songs alone don't keep a show going strong for over a century—these are absolutely breathtaking works of theater, combining all the elements of musical theater into unified wholes in a way we've seldom seen since."

In Ruddigore, he says, Gilbert weaves one of his finest plots, a sinister story of a noble family cursed by a dying witch which is at the same time hilariously funny. "It's a masterpiece," Wren explains. "When you're watching a portrait-gallery of ancestral ghosts come to life, you can't help but feel a chill; yet, minutes later, as the ghosts run down their evil descendant's checklist of crimes, you're in hysterics."

The show also boasts outstanding music, from the beautiful lyricism of I Know a Youth Who Loves a Little Maid and There Grew a Little Flower and the bouncy My Boy, You May Take It From Me to the awesome Ghost's High Noon. "There's also a lot of dance," Wren adds. "People forget that Gilbert was a pioneer of integrating dance into musical theater; he did all his own choreography, and regarded dance as an essential part of his shows." Wren's own choreography combines touches of Gilbert's own with new material reflecting modern developments in theatrical choreography.

Stand right up for who you are.

Bloomington's Garden City Salutes Young Artists on Long Island

On Saturday, March 31st, Bloomington's in Garden City will be hosting an all day piano concert on the third floor of the store from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Bloomington's welcomes Spring with some bright "notes" as they pay tribute to piano teachers representing the New York State Music Teachers' Association. These dedicated professionals are so often the ones who diligently lay the solid musical foundation in a child's studies. When the gifted and talented student advances to the point at which they must pursue their musical education in New York, oftentimes their early teachers become the unsung heroes. And, recognizing the students' interest in concertizing, Bloomington's offers them a unique opportunity to perform in a totally different environment, and with a much broader exposure, perhaps, than they've had previously. Most of the students in this concert have been performing on a competition level and will be representing a diverse cross section of areas from all over Long Island. They will also have the chance to meet and be on the same program with others of the same caliber.

Bloomington's is very excited about this project, and the opportunity to showcase some terrific kids who will be sharing their positive efforts and talents for our pleasure and edification. In an era of anxiety over negative influences on youth, Bloomington's is proud and eager to present a group of boys and girls clearly deserving a big round of applause.

Among the enthusiastic supporters of this event are Frank & Camille's Keyboard in Huntington, Sam Ash Music Stores in Hempstead, and the Music Department of Adelphi University in Garden City. Bloomington's cordially invites the public to visit the store on the 31st and join the salute to the young artists on Long Island.

Roosevelt Field Offers Scholarship

Encouraging graduating high school seniors to continue their schooling, the Roosevelt Field Merchants Association recently announced its sixth consecutive Roosevelt Field Community Service Scholarship Award competition.

"Education is a precious gift that every young person should receive," explained Roosevelt Field General Manager Joseph P. Cilia. "We're pleased to play a role in educating tomorrow's leaders and encourage all eligible students to apply for the scholarship award."

The annual contest recognizes high school seniors who have excelled in the classroom and have demonstrated a concern for others by volunteering in community service programs involving senior citizens, young children, the infirm, handicapped or others less fortunate.

Three students will be selected as winners and each will receive a $1,000 scholarship. Any graduating high school senior who resides in and attends school in Nassau County and meets the criteria is eligible to participate.

To apply, each applicant must submit the following forms and documents:

- 1) A completed student application form.
- 2) A written statement, 1,000 words or less, describing experience(s) as a volunteer, describing how the volunteer work has impacted the student's life, future goals and dreams and why the applicant believes he or she should be chosen for the award.
- 3) An official copy of high school transcript(s).
- 4) An official copy of college board scores.
- 5) At least three letters of recommendation: One from the student's guidance counselor, one or more from persons supervising the volunteer work and one from an adult not related to the applicant.
- 6) A report of the student's grades for the first half of the senior year from his or her guidance counselor.

All completed applications must be submitted to the Roosevelt Field Management Office no later than 5:00 p.m. on Monday, May 14, 1990.

Bruno Greco Awarded Theodore Roosevelt Chief Scout Citizen Award

Bruno Greco, President and Chief Operating Officer of Fidelity of New York Bank, received the coveted "Theodore Roosevelt Chief Scout Citizen Award," at the recent Theodore Roosevelt Dinner.

The award is given by the Boy Scouts of America, Nassau County Council in recognition of the honoree's commitment to advancing the quality of life on Long Island. Thomas Dixon Lovely, President of Boy Scouts of America, Nassau County Council and Chairman of Fidelity New York, made the presentation to Mr. Greco.

The Theodore Roosevelt Dinner, one of Long

Island's most elegant and traditional affairs, was held at the Crest Hollow Country Club, Woodbury, New York. More than 400 individuals attended the black tie dinner.

George Semke, Dinner Chairman and Chairman of U.S. Omnibus Corporation, presided over the induction of the 1989 Class of Rough Riders. The 1989 Rough Riders include Hon. John R. Dunne, Coordinating Partner, Rivkin, Radler, Dunne and Bayh; Robert R. McMillan, Publisher, Economic Times of Long Island; and Francis J. Sorg, Jr., Senior Vice President, Bowne and Company, Inc.

Martin Burns Our Man In Washington The Importance of Alternatives

By Martin Burns

There is an old saying in the world of politics that "you can't beat a somebody with a nobody." The rationale behind this statement is clear: no matter how beatable and weak an opponent might be, to achieve victory you must offer a credible alternative.

In our nation's war on drugs, on both the supply and demand fronts, we must develop a "somebody" that can beat the scourge of drugs. That somebody is making both producers and users of drugs aware of the alternatives.

On the demand front, we must make users, particularly in the inner cities, aware of the alternatives. It is tragic to admit it, but in many inner cities across the country, drug dealers are seen as the role models. They are the ones who are successful, they are the ones who have found a way out of the cycle of poverty and despair. Never mind that the profession of drug dealing, if we can call it that, carries the occupational hazards of a violent death and imprisonment.

If you are a child growing up in the inner city, you tend to ignore the risks and concentrate on the short term benefits. The tasks for government, federal, state and local, as well as private individuals, is to offer an alternative to drugs to inner city youth. Quite simply, we need to wage a battle with the drug dealers for the hearts and minds of young Americans.

There is no easy and simple way of offering alternatives. No one can wave a magic wand over the problem. The problem will not be solved by simply spending more money. Yet, without additional funds for things like education and job training programs, we might as well be fighting the war on drugs with cap guns or water pistols. Give children a choice between a college scholarship and a career as a drug dealer and I would have faith that most of them would make the right choice.

Now on the supply front, President Bush recently made a widely publicized trip to Colombia for "a drug summit" with South American leaders. One of the goals of the summit was to explore ways which could be used to persuade South American farmers, in addition to punitive measures, to grow less coca (the basis for cocaine).

Most South American farmers have no great love for growing coca. They are simply looking for ways to feed their families. Enforcement measures, such as confiscating crops, may be fine, but what about also encouraging them to grow other crops, such as coffee, sugar or cut flowers.

One way to accomplish this goal would be to give them increased access to the American market. This will not be as easy as it sounds because many interests, particularly the sugar lobby, have reason to keep their American market restrictive.

The idea of winning the war on drugs through offering alternatives will not be successful by itself. Nevertheless, in order to be victorious it must be an essential part of our strategy. We must get Americans, as well as South American farmers, to not only say no to drugs, we must convince them to say yes to the alternative.

CPR Can Save a Life!

Did you know that when CPR is combined with quick delivery of the right medical care, it has been shown that about 40 percent of cardiac arrest victims can be saved?

Since 1,500 people die everyday from heart attacks, the importance of learning CPR cannot be overemphasized. Your Nassau County Chapter of the American Red Cross is offering Adult CPR, Community CPR, Infant and Child CPR. In addition your Chapter is offering CPR for the professional Rescuer, and a First Aid course tailored to the Workplace which includes CPR.

Bon Voyage!

By Edythe Shepard

Cruises are becoming more and more popular with vacationers, with over two million first-time cruisers in the past two years; and for good reasons. There are cruises to everywhere. (And even cruises to nowhere!) Long and short cruises, formal and informal-type cruises, and cruises for every season of the year; from sun-seeking winter cruising to summer cruising on northern waters and Alaska. There's no better way to relax than on a cruise: calm waters, smooth sailing (provided by today's stabilized ships), with no jangling telephones, appointments to keep, airport hassles, hotels to check in and out of, constant packing and unpacking, lugging luggage, on-the-road problems, etc. Your ship is your hotel and you'll be coddled and pampered, with excellent service and gourmet menus (often prepared to your needs). It's an all-inclusive vacation, with all expenses taken care of except for laundry, bar drinks, beauty salon, port excursions and gift shop. Relaxed comfort is the name of the cruising game.

The choice of the "best cruise" is up to the vacationer, depending on amount of time and money to be spent, kind of destination(s) desired, whether you opt for sun, sea and deck chair or emphasis on sightseeing, beaches, browsing and shopping in ports; a "quiet" cruise or the hoopla of the "fun" ships. From the Antarctic to Zamboanga, from Acapulco to Auckland, Guadalupe to Guam, up the Mississippi and Nile, down the Amazon and Yangtze; there is a cruise for everybody to everywhere. For first-time cruisers who want to get their feet wet (no pun intended!), a one-to-three-night cruise to "nowhere" from New York (in season) or a three-day cruise from Miami to the Bahamas is a good idea. And if you have the time, they have the ship: Cunard's Vistafjord will sail you (and 735 others) for 47 nights, with stops from Tangier and Villefranche to Yalta, Istanbul, Odessa and other exotic ports.

Caribbean sailings make up 70 percent of all North American cruises, with vast choices of length, islands and type of cruise. For those who like "big," Royal Caribbean's new titan: the magnificent 2,282-passenger Sovereign of the Seas, with its five-storyed brass and crystal Centrum, thousand-seat, two-level theatre lounge and over three acres of deck space, sails to the Caribbean from Miami for seven days. Prefer a small luxury yacht? Fly/sail from St. Thomas for six nights to six islands on Cunard's super elegant 116-passenger Sea Goddess.

For a different, more personal type of cruising, passenger-carrying freighters offer an informal lifestyle, smaller vessels and longer cruises. There are several such lines and information can be had from TravLips, P.O. Box 188, Flushing, N.Y. 11358. Tel. (800) 872-8584. Recently, we were given a peek at a unique luxury freighter/cruise ship: Ivaran Lines' Americana, a Norwegian vessel with plush accommodations for 80 passengers, which sails from New York to South American ports. Its facilities include pool, health club and sauna, gift shop, beauty salon, masseuse, bar, library, slot machines, fully equipped hospital and staff and a sumptuous menu. Its very large, attractive cabins range from suites to single accommodations; are beautifully furnished, with TV, mini bar, refrigerator, safe and telephone. Its 46-day round trip itinerary to Buenos Aires includes Rio de Janeiro and Montevideo as well as less frequented villages along the coast, with excursions on shore. Cruise segments can be picked up in any of the ports en route (Savannah, Miami, Rio, etc.). While we were aboard, the Americana remained at her dock for our look-see and I must admit thoughts did enter my roving spirit to hide until after she set sail! Travelers who want a taste of this unique combination of luxury cruise ship/freighter, can call Ivaran at (212) 809-1220.

Our last cruise, a seven-day sailing to Bermuda on Royal Caribbean's Nordic Prince, was a delight, with time to explore that beautiful island. We left from its New York pier (with ample parking for cars) and convenient too, was the ship's docking on Hamilton's main street, across from all its lovely shops.

The port of New York, once crowded with ships, (And who can forget the glorious sight of those majestic liners at Hudson River piers!) has, alas, lost them to jet planes and Florida ports. But come spring and summer, the harbor hosts Bermuda and Caribbean sailings, including Bermuda Star Line, Chandris Fantasy Cruises, Cunard and Royal Caribbean Lines and the Queen Elizabeth also leaves here for Southampton.

Cruisers can save on fares by very early booking and flexible sailors can take a chance on last-minute booking to fill empty cabins. Discounts may be handled through your travel agent, and last-minute discount companies include Spur of the Moment: (800) 343-1991, All Cruise Travel: (800) TO-A-SHIP, Cruise time: (800) 338-0818 and others.

Happy Sailing!

PERSONAL DIALOGUE

ATTENTION LONG ISLAND SINGLES...THIS PAGE IS FOR YOU

Dear Reader,

Would you like to meet a partner, a companion, or just a friend?

The ads on this page were submitted by readers in your area who want to meet you. Read the ads carefully. Some might intrigue you, some might appeal to you, and some might make you chuckle. Circle the ones that look interesting.

Behind every ad is a voice. And behind every voice is a person. But first things first. To listen to the voice, call 540-5060 from your touch tone phone and enter the extension number of the ad you circled. You'll hear the advertiser's special voice message. If that message isn't exactly what you're looking for, simply try another. But if you like what you hear, leave your own message at the tone.

Personal Dialogue isn't just convenient—it's fast. And it works! For example, if you call on Wednesday, it's entirely possible to arrange a date before the weekend.

The service operates 24 hours a day. And it costs only $1.50 a minute.

If you want to experiment first, call customer service at (212) 935-5077. Our reps will gladly connect you to the extension of your choice, at absolutely no cost to you.

Doesn't this beat the bars, the letter writing, the postal delays, or any other way to meet quality people?

Join the thousands of singles who found a partner through Personal Dialogue. Start your own dialogue today.

Sincerely,

OUR HERITAGE

The Battle of New Orleans

Most Americans are familiar with the popular tale of the Battle of New Orleans, of how American forces "took a little bacon and took a little beans and caught the bloody British in the town of New Orleans."

What is not widely known is that the battle took place down the Mississippi River from New Orleans — two weeks after a treaty had been signed to end the War of 1812.

On Dec. 24, 1814, British and American representatives met at Ghent, Belgium, to negotiate a treaty to end their war, which had begun June 18, 1812. While the factors that had triggered the war — British boarding of American ships, "indentured servitude" of captured American sailors and control of the Great Lakes — remained unresolved, the document was signed and a cease-fire called.

But word traveled slowly in the days before overnight mail and mobile phones. Forces in the field had no way of knowing that a peace settlement had been signed. So, on the very day that the Treaty of Ghent was signed, the forces of Sir Edward Pakenham, a British general, and those of U.S. General Andrew Jackson were fighting the first skirmish of the war's last battle, the Battle of New Orleans.

Pakenham had sailed for New Orleans with 7,500 troops in hopes of capturing the city and control of the strategic Mississippi River. Although Jackson had learned of the impending attack and had declared martial law in the city, British troops were able to march undetected to within seven miles of New Orleans. Discovering the British advance, Jackson led 5,000 American troops in a night assault on the enemy position. The attack served to cease the British advance, and Jackson pulled his men back to Chalmette, La., five miles southwest of the city of New Orleans.

At Chalmette, Jackson used a dry canal bed to dig in his men and set up a defense for the city. A British artillery attack on New Year's Day, 1815, could not penetrate the American position. Pakenham withdrew his troops and waited for reinforcements. Jackson and his men improved their entrenchment.

On Jan. 8, 1815, Pakenham directed an all-out morning assault on the American fortifications. The British general ordered two waves of his 5,300 men to attack the Americans head-on. Jackson and his 4,500 troops, many of them Kentucky, Tennessee and Louisiana militiamen, held their ground and poured on a storm of rifle and artillery fire.

The Americans proved to be more than the British could handle. After only half an hour, the British forces were soundly beaten. Pakenham lay dead, and 2,035 of his men were killed or wounded. It was the most stunning American victory of the War of 1812 — even though it had absolutely no effect on the outcome. What the Battle of New Orleans did accomplish, however, was to boost American pride and establish Andrew Jackson as a national hero. Jackson became our seventh president of the United States in 1829. The American victory is recalled in the popular song "The Battle of New Orleans" . . . even though it occurred in Chalmette. ll

The bidding:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1 ♦ 1 ♠

Opening lead — seven of spades.

Here is a hand that features a neat double twist. On the surface, it appears that South can make three notrump against an opening spade lead by establishing three diamond tricks to go with two tricks in each of the other suits. But closer examination reveals that South can be defeated by proper defense — and that the defenders can even recover from imperfect defense.

The easy way for the defense to do declarer in is for East not to take his king of spades after South plays low from dummy at trick one! This forces declarer to win the first trick with the queen or jack.

As soon as South leads a diamond, West steps up with the king, leads his remaining spade, and it's curtains for declarer. East's spades become established, and since he still has the ace of diamonds as an entry, the contract is doomed.

Observe that if East makes the more "normal" play of taking the opening spade lead with the king and returning a spade, West won't have another spade to lead later when he takes his king of diamonds. And if West allows East to take the first diamond, East apparently loses the only entry to his spades in the process. So if the play follows this scenario, it seems declarer will make the contract.

However, the nature of the deal is such that even if East errs by winning the first spade, the defense can still prevail by means of a most extraordinary play.

Assume East wins the opening trick and returns a spade. Declarer takes the queen and leads a diamond towards dummy. West must duck, and East takes the jack with the ace. East then leads a third round of spades, on which West discards the king of diamonds!

Declarer cannot recover from this stroke. East's 10-3 of diamonds are now a stopper behind dummy's queen, and since South can't come to nine tricks without the diamond suit, the contract must go down.

Raiders Start Off on Right Foot with 5-2 Win

By Eileen Puerta

Saturday, March 10 was opening day for Hicksville's 1978 Raiders. Their season opener was played against the Elmont Rangers. This first game was originally set to be played in Elmont, but field conditions warranted a change to Triangle Park in Hicksville.

The first half of the game Hicksville showed strength in offense and defense. The first goal was set up with a strong pass from Ryan Ferraro to Edward Puerta and over to Nikitas Koroneos who scored. The Raiders came back again with strong control and good passing. A long kick by Koroneos scored the second goal. Play continued with Hicksville in total control. Once again, a play with passing from Ferraro to Nicholas Riccardi to Koroneos who scored for the third straight time. Minutes later Bryan Glynn scored with assists from Riccardi and Koroneos, making the score 4-0. In an attempt to prevent Hicksville from scoring, the Elmont goalie actually assisted Kevin Brown's shot on goal to score to make the score 5-0.

The second half of the game Hicksville showed good defense by Michael Tesoriero, Riccardi and Ferraro. The goalie for the first half, Paul Oliva, came out and Chris Ilsley went in. Chris did a great job as goalie. It was his first time in goal since joining the Raiders. The Elmont Rangers had two good break-aways this half and managed to shoot around Hicksville's defense to score two goals. All in all, the Raiders showed great team work and skilled passing and shooting plays.

Notes: Thanks go to Rich Ilsley and Giovanni Riccardi for great coaching. Thanks also to our sponsor Giovanni's Deli on Bloomingdale Road.

Hicksville Grad Swims into the Record Books

Jeannine Sirey, 1989 Hicksville High School graduate, concluded a very successful freshman swimming season at The American University in Washington, D.C.

The versatile swimmer currently holds the team records in the 200 I.M., 100 and 200 breaststroke and was part of the record-breaking 200, 400 and 800 freestyle relays.

At the Colonial Athletic Association team championships held at the University of North Carolina Wilmington in February, Jeannine won the 200 I.M. with a time of 2:07.2 and placed second in the 400 I.M. with a time of 4:31.1.

Two weeks later at the Eastern Seaboard Swimming and Diving Championships, comprising the top women swimmers and divers in the East, and held at the University of Pittsburgh, Jeannine bettered her 200 I.M. placing third and winning the bronze medal with a time of 2:06.9. She placed eighth in the 400 I.M. repeating her 4:31 performance.
