Hicksville Alumni Keep Steve Meier's Memory Alive

By Rita Langdon

When Hicksville lost 33-year-old Steve Meier to leukemia in 1988, his high school buddies thought something should be done to keep his memory alive.

After some ideas were tossed around it was decided that through the Hicksville High School Alumni Association a scholarship would be established in the 1973 graduate's name.

Because Steve's friends knew what a great high school lacrosse player he was, they felt that the most fitting way to raise money for the scholarship was to sponsor a lacrosse game.

"He loved lacrosse," said 1974 graduate John Ajello. "And we thought that this would be the best way to remember him."

On Saturday, more than 50 players, some coming from out of state and across the island, arrived on the high school's field to honor Steve in a lacrosse game. June 30 marked the second time the alumni has hosted the game to benefit the Steve Meier Scholarship Fund.

During the game, the odd year graduates play the even years, but game coordinator Harry Jacobs said that it "doesn't make a difference who wins. We're here for fun. It's a good cause."

Many of Steve's buddies described him as a good athlete and a special friend.

Class of 1973 graduate Peter Humann said, "He was my best friend going through high school." He added, "He was any of a mischievous nut, but we all were." any

Many of the players noted that the game was also a great opportunity for them to see their old friends.

Donned in the original shorts he wore while a member of the high school lacrosse team, 1974 graduate John Pedranghelu said that he is glad he had the chance "to get together with a lot of old familiar faces... and work up a sweat."

Some of the players had graduated as recently as May and were at the game just because it was a "good cause." Harry Jacobs said that the younger graduates enjoy playing the older alumni.

Lou Sabato, Class of 1982, said that although he didn't know Steve he decided to play in the game "because it's a charitable cause." He added, "It's great to see the buddies again."

In 1989, the players helped raise $700 for the scholarship fund, but according to Harry, they expect to raise more this year because they have sponsors.

Many local businesses contributed to the game and the party afterwards at Levittown Hall. Chris Roach, a 1974 graduate, said, the alumni association was grateful to all the local merchants, some Hicksville High graduates themselves.

"Our sponsors are showing a lot of community spirit," Chris said.

He added that they hope to double the amount of people who attend and play in the game next year. "I think this is a rekindling of old Hicksville," Chris said. "Let's bring back the crowds from the 60s when 3,000 people turned out for one game."

New Town Ordinance Will Not Tolerate Noise

If your neighbor's loud music playing has got you to the breaking point or that dog next door just hasn't stopped barking, relief may be in sight.

Town of Oyster Bay residents and business people could be slapped with a $350 fine if the Town Board adopts a revised noise ordinance which calls for some strict measures.

Based on comments made at a town board meeting in June, it is anticipated that the ordinance could be put into effect as early as this month.

If convicted of failing to comply with the new ordinance, the punishment could be a fine, imprisonment or both.

The current ordinance on the books has proven to be ineffective, said Supervisor Angelo A. Delligatti at the board meeting last month. Under the proposed modified ordinance, excessive noise from motorcycles, motorboats, air-conditioning units, idling trucks, animals, people, construction, musical instruments, loudspeakers, public address systems and car alarms, will not be permitted during certain hours.

"This has much more teeth than the prior ordinance," he added.

At the board meeting, Town of Oyster Bay residents came out in force to support the proposed ordinance.

One Syosset resident was pleased to hear of the proposed changes in the ordinance. Dr. David Sprintzen came to the hearing on Tuesday, June 19 prepared to convince board members of the need for stricter regulations. Sprintzen said he often felt like a "prisoner in my own home," because he couldn't escape the noise made by an inconsiderate neighbor who was blasting his stereo.

The new ordinance prohibits any noise disturbance between the hours of 10 p.m. the previous day to 8 a.m. Monday through Saturday and 11 p.m. the previous day to 9 a.m. on Sunday or a holiday.

Almost anything qualifies as a noise disturbance under this ordinance, as long as it is loud and continues for a period of time.

Frank Holleran of Plainview may get a decent night's sleep if the ordinance is passed. Holleran complained to the board that since a flower shop wholesaler moved in seven years ago, he has had to put up with the noise of refrigeration trucks making nighttime and early morning deliveries. "Once you've been awakened by the noise, there's not much you can do to get your sleep," said Holleran.

A Hicksville resident complained of the vibrations coming from a neighbor's air-conditioning unit.

The new ordinance will also restrict operating or permitting the operation of any commercial tools or commercial equipment such as air conditioning and refrigeration systems which may create a noise disturbance in a residential zone.

Leonard Graff of Plainview told the board he would like to see the ordinance include a restriction on how long vehicles can sit and idle. Graff said he lives behind an industrial park in which trucks sit and idle their engines for hours at a time.

The new ordinance covers this specific problem also. It states that no one shall operate or permit the operation of any motor vehicle with a gross weight rating in excess of 10,000 pounds for a period longer than 10 minutes in any hour while the vehicle is stationary within 150 feet of a residential area. However, this does not apply when the vehicle is in traffic.

Noise Restrictions Under Consideration

If the Town of Oyster Bay passes an amended noise ordinance this month, residents and business people will have to follow certain restrictions or risk a $350 fine.

The Town has defined "noise" as any sound which annoys or disturbs humans or which causes or tends to cause an adverse psychological or physiological effect on humans.

A "noise disruption" is defined by the town as the creation of any sound which interferes with the reasonable and normal activities of reasonable persons of normal sensitivities lawfully occupying an area adjacent to the source of said sound.

Prohibited Acts

- Radios, television sets, musical instruments played loudly between 10 p.m. and 8 a.m. Monday through Saturday and between 11 p.m. and 9 a.m. on Sundays or holidays.
- Operating or using loudspeakers and public address systems between 10 p.m. and 8 a.m. Monday through Saturday and between 10 p.m. and 9 a.m. on Sunday or holidays.
- Owning, possessing or harboring any animal or bird which frequently or for continued duration in excess of 30 minutes, howls, barks, meows, squawks or makes other sounds which create noise disruption.
- Loading, unloading, opening, closing or other handling of boxes, crates, containers, building materials or similar objects, operating or permitting the operation of any tools or equipment used on construction between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m. Monday through Saturday, and 10 p.m. and 8 a.m. on Sunday or holidays.
- Operating of any commercial tools or commercial equipment (e.g. air-conditioning and refrigeration systems) between 10 p.m. and 8 a.m. in such a manner as to create a noise disturbance.

Barbara Dale Leaves Behind A Decade Of Success

By Rita Langdon

When Barbara Dale leaves her executive position at the Hicksville Youth Council next week, she takes with her much of the credit for building the council into an active and respected non-profit organization.

As the youth council's chief administrative officer, Barbara was the driving force in making the council a separate entity so it could control its own pursestrings and institute programs of its choice. Under Barbara's administration, she has seen her Nassau County, Town of Oyster Bay and New York State grants grow from $50,000 to almost a half million. She said that she had to "prove" a lot to funding agencies in order to receive money. "We kept beating on people's doors who have the money," she added. "It's really a process of convincing people that you have the credibility to really do something. I really think you need to manage the resources that you have well in order to get more money."

She said that funding is always a problem with the job and the most challenging. "I think maintaining a steady flow of funding is critical."

One of the most rewarding aspects of her job, according to Barbara, is seeing the youths "get involved in things that are constructive because there are so many destructive things. I think that's probably the most rewarding," she added. "We give them those constructive things so they can get involved."

But, Barbara's job did not only revolve around youths. During her tenure, she instituted a crime prevention program which focused on Neighborhood Watches. In doing so, she helped local civic associations form their own neighborhood watches. She said that the program helps other people become more active in the community. "We really wanted to get involved in preventing them from becoming victims."

During the summer, the Youth Council joins other anti-crime agencies in sponsoring National Night Out. The council organizes block captains to inform neighbors that Hicksville will not tolerate crime. In addition, the council sponsors a balloon release in honor of the nation-wide program.

Barbara said that when she first came to the Youth Council about 11 years ago, there were not many successful programs due to the lack of funds. "One of the things we've done was take little pieces and build them into solid programs that really work."

In addition, Barbara said that the council's employment services and leisure-time activities has become most popular. Youths are constantly kept busy on special trips to sport events, after-school gym, craft classes and boat trips.

"The leisure-time program is great because it's set up to get them involved and let them have fun."

Another program instituted by Barbara includes "Rent-A-Kid" which matches young people from 14 to 16 years old with community residents who need odd jobs done in and around their homes.

A vocational program prepares youths 16 and older to work in businesses throughout the community. Services include resume writing, interview training and referrals to businesses for job placement.

Barbara said that her biggest achievement was "getting the [council] together... getting it into a solid place in the community where it's has a good reputation and well-respected."

Barbara, who is leaving her position at the council to attend law school, has been active in many other community activities. She is a member of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club, Hicksville Chamber of Commerce and Hicksville Park District Task Force.

Past Kiwanis President Sieg Widder said that he has "the highest regard for Barbara."

When Kiwanis International proposed inviting women into the strictly male club, Sieg said he was dead set against the idea. But when the International organization made it a rule, "I was the first one to bring a woman [Barbara] to Kiwanis. When people asked me why I was the first to bring a woman when I was [originally] against it, I said if the decision was made to invite women, I was going to bring the best... Barbara."

He added that after he worked with her on a community project, "I was quite impressed with her capabilities and qualities. We're going to miss her."

Town Supervisor Angelo Delligatti said, "Barbara has proved to be a dedicated and persuasive individual."

Youth Council board member Joseph Jablonsky said that Barbara was an excellent administrator. "She did an great job and will be sorely missed."

Raymond Menchan, deputy director of the Nassau County Youth Board, said that the council has come a long way because of Barbara. "She's a human service professional who knows her community well. She's good at expanding the service outreach."

The Youth Council's board of directors has yet to appoint a new executive director. The council is located at 175 West Old Country Road, Hicksville.

Barbara Dale is leaving her position as executive director of the Hicksville Youth Council to attend law school.

Hicksville Mid-Island Seniors Install Officers

The Hicksville Mid Island Seniors elected new officers at its annual installation of officers last week.

The incoming officers are: President—Irma De Stefano; Vice President—Clare Smith; Secretary—Shirley Weiss; Treasurer—

Connie Muscat, Corresponding Secretary—Viola Spielman; Assistant Treasurer—Dorothy Barone.

Trustees are John Barone, Jerry Muscat, Joe Bonnarigo, Ben Tesoriero and George Mooring.

Gates were installed at the Town of Oyster Bay Parking Garage to control traffic flow and for security reasons, a town spokesperson Phyllis Barry said. The gates will be operated at the discretion of the TOB personnel. "They will be closed at time when not needed to reduce the possibility of people who shouldn't be there getting in, thereby reducing vandalism," Barry said.

Male Infertility...Exploding the Myth

by Bruce Gilbert, M.D., Ph.D.

Infertility, once designated as solely "the woman's problem," is, more often than not, a male problem, and one that is more easily identified and corrected in men than women.

Unfortunately, the myth of sole responsibility continues.

Male factor infertility, in more than 40% of couples, is either the sole or one of the contributing factors in their inability to achieve pregnancy. And, in some cases, the causes are known, easily diagnosed and successfully treated.

Semen analysis to assess sperm quantity and activity is usually the first step in evaluating the man's fertility. This is best done by a Urologist specializing in male infertility. Interestingly, even a "normal" semen analysis is not always a true indicator of fertility, as there are other factors beside quantity and microscopic appearance. The sperm may not be "mature" enough to survive the reproductive journey and egg fertilization process.

Sperm development from "germ cell" to maturity, takes two to three months...therefore, an analysis performed "today" monitors sperm developed several months earlier, and any illness or adverse situation which might have occurred then might have had significant impact on the sperm under analysis. A truer evaluation might analyze two or three samples collected several weeks apart.

The urologist will perform a complete physical examination and take a complete medical history, which will include present and past medications, prior illnesses and surgical procedures, traumatic injuries and personal habits. This information is thoroughly reviewed to assess possible linkage to infertility, since male spermatogenesis is "exquisitely" dependent on much more than the male genital system.

Treatment of male factor infertility may involve simple alteration in daily habits (if hot baths are part of a man's daily routine, he should be aware that the increased temperature of the bath water reduces sperm production...replacing the baths with showers, over a period of time, is found to bring sperm counts back to "normal"). Surgical intervention (microsurgery to reverse vasectomies) or medical therapy can also help a man regain fertility, enabling pregnancy to occur.

If other problems exist, there are a variety of options available to the couple. These include new techniques in microsurgery, immunology, sperm processing and in vitro fertilization.

As basic and clinical research in human reproduction continues, more and more infertile couples are able to achieve pregnancy and share in the birth of healthy infants.

Dr. Gilbert holds a Ph.D. in Physiology. He completed his residency in urology and is a Clinical Instructor of Surgery (Urology) at Cornell University Medical College. His offices are located at 1010 Northern Blvd., Great Neck. Call 487-2700 for more information or an appointment.

Basketball Fever

By Dr. Peter C. Douris, Ed.D., PT.

Millions of basketball players of all ages, shapes, and sizes take to the concrete playgrounds every spring, for pick-up games and organized play. Unfortunately, a good percentage of these players will suffer some sort of physical injury.

The nature of basketball injuries reflects the inherent contact nature of the sport. The most common areas to be injured are the foot, ankle, knee, low back, hip, thigh, shoulder, elbow, and hand. The types of injuries are usually ligamentous sprains and tears, muscular strains and tears, tendonitis, bursitis, fractures, and contusions.

The best way to decrease your chances of being injured is to take part in a pre-conditioning program that should concentrate on the following:

1) Weight training exercises to increase the strength and power of the lower body, upper body and trunk.

2) Flexibility exercises focusing on increasing ankle, knee, hip, low back and shoulder range of motion.

3) A running program consisting of a combination of long distance and interval-sprint workouts.

A pre-conditioning program does not totally protect you against injury, but will substantially decrease the risk. Most older recreational players, who play once or twice a week usually do not exercise or take part in a pre-conditioning program on the belief that they can "play their way into shape."

The physical therapist can successfully treat the musculoskeletal injuries resulting from basketball with a wide variety of treatment modalities. The goals of treatment are to alleviate the pain, and swelling, improve function, increase muscle strength, and range of motion of the affected area.

The physical therapist will outline a specific conditioning program for the patient to protect against reinjury and also to improve performance. In addition, the patient receives instruction regarding specific warm up flexibility exercises which should be performed prior to playing basketball.

A properly educated and well conditioned patient will greatly decrease his risk of physical injury and, if injured, will return to his previous level of functioning with less time and effort.

For any information on this topic or other questions regarding physical therapy please contact: Dr. Peter C. Douris, Ed.D., PT., Expressway Plaza 4, Suite 110, Roslyn Heights, New York 11577 (516) 621-1170

OPTIFAST AT CENTRAL GENERAL HOSPITAL

No one ever lost weight permanently through willpower alone. No one!

If willpower were all it took to lose weight, your first diet would have been your last. But, with few exceptions, even the most determined dieters regain the weight they lost.

Now, you can lose weight and keep it off with The OPTIFAST® Program. The OPTIFAST Program is a hospital-based supplemented fasting program that combines a nutritionally complete diet supplement, diet counseling, behavior modification and group support.

Most important of all, The OPTIFAST Program involves the close, on-going attention of physicians, nurses and other medical professionals. 200,000 people have participated in The OPTIFAST Program of weight loss. Studies have shown that up to 80% of OPTIFAST® treated patients may lose more than this amount; the average loss is 85 pounds.

But even more encouraging is the fact that in some people, long-term weight maintenance—the most important part of obesity treatment, is accomplished in The OPTIFAST Program.

If you're more than 30% or 50 pounds overweight, please call 932-6250 and receive complete details about The OPTIFAST Program. You supply the willpower you've always had. We supply the medical support you've always missed.

20-40 POUND WEIGHT LOSS

THE WHOLE TOOTH

by Laura Selub, D.D.S.

Taking Charge of Your Mouth

Here are a few more thoughts on your role in keeping dentally fit. In this effort you are irreplaceable. But it does take conscientious application of several basic practices.

Brushing, for example. A simple exercise, no? You spread toothpaste on the brush and scrub up a storm.

Well, there's a little more to it than that—if you really want good results from your work. By the numbers, here's one effective way to proceed:

- 1—Tilt the brush so its surface is angled against the gumline. You'll then be scrubbing where teeth and gums meet.
- 2—Use short strokes, moving from tooth to tooth, but gently, gently.
- 3—First the front of the teeth, then the back, all the time keeping up the short, back-and-forth strokes.
- 4—The inside surfaces of the upper and lower front teeth require special treatment. Turn the brush to a vertical position. The strokes are now up-and-down rather than across the teeth, with the top end of the brush working for you.
- 5—The final step—brush your tongue to remove bacteria there and help keep your breath sweet.

That's about it. Your dentist can help you select the proper toothbrush for the size of your mouth and the position of your teeth. Choose a fluoride toothpaste and, if you want additional dental hygiene support, use a fluoride gel or mouthwash. Then make sure that your dentist or dental hygienist teaches you how to floss. Five minutes of properly applied dental home care each day, coupled with regular dental examinations and cleanings can virtually prevent tooth decay and gum disease, the two biggest causes of tooth loss.

It's up to you to give your teeth the daily dental care they need. Turn the serious problems, which can occur despite your best efforts, over to your dentist.

Surgeons at Winthrop University Hospital in Mineola are using videolaparoscopy techniques on a variety of abdominal procedures to offer patients a minimally invasive approach to surgery.

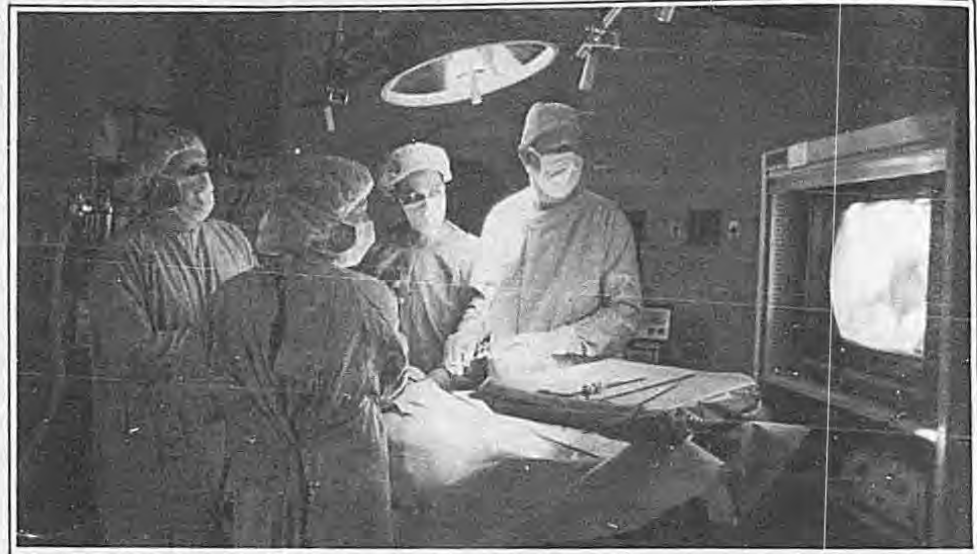

The technique involves inserting a laparoscope into the interior of the abdomen through small incisions, eliminating the need for the major, often debilitating, surgery traditionally used for gall bladder surgery, appendectomies and hernia repair.

The laparoscope, a delicate, tube-like instrument, employs fiberoptic technology and gives the surgeon a clear view of the internal organ. The procedure utilizes a video system and sophisticated, miniaturized surgical equipment to locate the damaged organ. A clear, greatly magnified, on-screen image helps the surgical team guide the instruments, while providing a view of both the affected site and the healthy tissue surrounding it. Removal of diseased tissue and suturing are accomplished through the original, small incisions.

Winthrop is the first hospital on Long Island to use the new technique, which dramatically reduces pain and shortens the recuperation period normally associated with these procedures.

"The video laparoscopic technique is expected to have a significant impact, medically and economically, on both patients and hospital," said Dr. Ralph Ger, Chairman of Winthrop's Department of Surgery. "It results in minimal post-operative discomfort, a shorter hospital stay, an easier, more rapid convalescence, and a faster return to normal activity," he remarked. "We've found that the recuperative period for gall bladder surgery, normally four to six weeks, has been shortened by several weeks."

Developed by Dr. Camran Nazhat, a surgeon at Atlanta's Northside Hospital, the technique was based on methods developed in the 1970's by European and Israeli surgeons. Frustrated by operating in a crouched position while viewing the surgical site through the small scope, Dr. Nazhat attached a video camera to the laparoscope and began laboratory research to perfect the technique.

The resulting equipment enabled a surgeon to stand upright, with both eyes open, and, with the help of magnification, to detect problems and see details which might elude the naked eye or escape the surgeon's sensitive fingers. The technique also enabled the surgical assistants to follow the entire surgical process. Videotapes recorded the full, internal, surgical procedure for future reference, affording permanent records for surgical follow-up, where required.

"Videolaparoscopy is a completely new surgical approach, really revolutionary," says Dr. Carlos Romero, an attending surgeon at Winthrop Hospital.

"Traditionally," he noted, "surgeons are trained to rely on their hands, their mental visualization, and, through long experience, their instinct. Videolaparoscopy actually allows us to see the surgical site as we are working, and to record each step of the procedure for review and evaluation.

"Actually," he remarked, "the equipment has opened a brand new field of surgical specialization. Right now, our main problem is unavailability of instruments. We, the surgical community, are working with equipment manufacturers to modify existing instruments developed and refined for gynecological use, as well as designing specific equipment for abdominal surgery."

"There's another, even more important aspect to this type of surgical procedure," Dr. Romero commented. "It gives the surgical option back to the patient. Many people are hesitant to undergo major abdominal surgery. It's painful, involves a relatively long recuperative period, an even longer time before the patient is able to go back to day-to-day activities. Videolaparoscopy dramatically reduces the pain of surgery, ensures a much shorter recovery period and the quick resumption of usual activities.

"This is especially important in treating gall bladder disease. Now, the patient is often given a long, expensive course of medication to dissolve the gall stones, must have sonograms periodically, to see if the stones have been reduced. If oral medication doesn't work, the physician may try ultrasound to dissolve the stones. All of this is 'preventive,'" he noted, "and the possibility of surgery still exists. Videolaparoscopy alleviates the protracted treatment period, and, in the long run, is less expensive and less debilitating."

Peer Review

by Dr. Felix A. Monaco, President

Nassau County Medical Society

County medical societies routinely receive complaints and inquiries about physicians from both patients and insurance companies. Many of these involve dissatisfaction about fees, charges of arrogance on the part of the doctor, or a problem in the doctor/patient relationship.

All complaints received by the Nassau County Medical Society (which must be in writing) are subject to the same investigative process. Upon receiving the written complaint, which must include the physician's name, the Society will check to see if the physician in question is a member. If the doctor is a member of another county medical society, the letter will be forwarded accordingly. However, if the doctor is not a member of any county medical society, NCMS can take no action on the complaint.

Dr. Sidney Mishkin, chairman of the NCMS's Peer Review Committee, reviews all letters. If there appears to be a basis for complaint, he sends a copy of the original letter to the physician in question, who is instructed to respond, in writing. Once Dr. Mishkin looks at both sides of the issue, and if he feels the complaint deserves further attention, he will bring the matter to his committee. At any time, however, the patient has the right to directly contact the N.Y. State Department of Health.

After conducting its investigation, the NCMS Peer Review Committee reports back to Dr. Mishkin. In cases involving fees above the average range, the physician's bill will be compared with two other physicians in the same field of specialty. If the bill is not "in the ballpark," the doctor and patient will be notified. A letter will also be sent to the insurance company.

Fees are a sensitive area. With the exception of notifying the doctor, the FTC prohibits organized medicine from taking any further regulatory action. However, patients can take the Peer Review Committee's recommendation back to their doctor for discussion.

My Aching Shoulder

by Dr. Peter C. Douris, Ed.D., P.T.

Pain in the shoulder region which increases with overhead activities may be an early sign of shoulder impingement syndrome. Frequently encountered by athletes, this condition is most common in people who engage in repetitive overhead motions.

The shoulder is made up of seven separate, but interconnected joints. In order to have full, pain-free activity, these seven joints must work in a synchronized fashion. When movement at even one of these joints is impaired, pain and limited movement may result. Full overhead arm movement is dependent upon coordinated muscular action. The rotator cuff muscle group is the most important muscle group because it provides stability and mobility to the shoulder. A weakness in a muscle or muscle group due to repetitive overuse will cause a breakdown in this coordinated movement and may result in impingement.

The impingement usually occurs between the long bone of the upper arm and the shoulder blade. The most frequently impinged structures are the rotator cuff muscles and the biceps muscle. Repeated trauma will weaken these structures, causing pain and weakness of the shoulder. If left untreated it may lead to rupture of muscles, limited movement in the shoulder. Physical therapy can successfully treat this syndrome through the use of electric stimulation, ultrasound, hot packs, cold packs, massage, and, most importantly, through the use of specific muscles and other shoulder muscles allowing the return of smooth pain-free movement to the shoulder.

For further information please contact: Dr. Peter C. Douris, Ed.D., P.T., Expressway Plaza A, Suite 110, Roslyn Heights, 621-1170.

Tai Chi...Ancient Art of Exercise, Relaxation, Health

by Keni Woodruff

Increasing numbers of people, from children to mature adults, are discovering the benefits of Tai Chi for health, stress reduction, weight control, muscle toning and self defense. An ancient Chinese exercise system, Tai Chi Chuan uses relaxed, calming, nearly effortless movements while increasing energy, strength, stamina, flexibility, concentration, coordination and balance.

According to Joi V. Eden and Betty Sun, founders of Stillness In Motion, Tai Chi Chuan Qi Gong, tension-free living is increasingly difficult in our constantly changing, stressful lives. Being calm, even for brief periods, has become a modern-day survival skill. This constant stress weakens our immune systems and increases the risk of illness.

"We may not be able to magically erase our problems," says Joi Eden, "but we can control the impact these problems have on our lives. Over the years, as the Western health community has become familiar with Oriental techniques, there has been increasing interest in the benefits of Tai Chi in reducing stress and promoting well being."

Health professionals have found Tai Chi especially beneficial for mature adults and senior citizens, but Joi Eden and Betty Sun have known that for quite a while.

"We've been teaching for four years," says Joi, and we've held courses in the Hicksville and Massapequa adult ed program for the last one and a half years. There has been record enrollment, with students coming from as far as Queens and the East End of Long Island. We've presented the program to a variety of individuals through nursing homes, clubs, libraries and organizations, and we've just completed the second program for able seniors in Westbury.

"We conduct a program for the executive staff of Suffolk County and for residents at several Suffolk County pools. We're developing a program for the physically challenged, and, under the sponsorship of Nassau County, are offering a free program for mature adults at Eisenhower Park in East Meadow (parking lot -1 from July 17 through August 9 Tuesdays and Thursdays, 9:30 - 10:30 am).

"Obviously," Joi comments, "we believe that everyone can benefit from Tai Chi. The health benefits are so far-reaching, so important. We've turned down many requests to teach at martial art academies. We want to remove Tai Chi from the 'elitist' stance and present its numerous benefits to everyone."

For more information about Tai Chi - Stillness in Motion, call Joi or Betty at 997-2650.

Peer Review works well for Nassau County Medical Society, but does need "more teeth." Physicians who do not belong to the Society are outside its mediating jurisdiction. NCMS continues to lobby in Albany for the power to investigate complaints against all physicians practicing in a given area. Presently, the only action NCMS can take against a physician is to revoke his or her membership, but this does not prevent the physician from continuing to practice medicine.

If the matter cannot be resolved at the Peer Review level, or if it involves serious or repeated complaints, the Committee will forward the case to the NCMS Board of Censors, which is chaired by Dr. William Messinger. If there is no resolution at that level, the case will be referred to the State Office of Professional Medical Conduct, an arm of the State Dept. of Health. Medical consumers must realize, however, that while every attempt is made to mediate complaints at the local level, only the N.Y. State Board of Regents can revoke a physician's license to practice medicine.

If you have a problem, or need more information, call 832-2300 or write Nassau County Medical Society, 1200 Stewart Ave., Garden City, NY 11530.

Anything New in Dentures?

by Stanley Hobish, DDS

"DOC, IF YOU WANT ME TO COME TO NEW YORK, go on the radio or television—whatever you want, I'll do it!"

The offer was made by Ray—a patient recently treated with a new denture and treatment system in one of our offices in Youngstown, Ohio. "Folks have to find out what you people are doing and what you've done for me."

Ray's enthusiasm came about as a result of his treatment with the ComfortCare Denture and Treatment System. He has been a denture wearer for the past 15 years and had developed the typical cosmetic defects and inability to chew properly that we see so frequently in denture patients. The nose and chin too close together, the crooked face due to misalignment of the jaws as well as the pain due to sore spots caused by the slipping lower denture.

He had resorted to denture adhesives to hold the dentures in place and thoroughly resented the taste, feel and cost of these messy pastes and powders.

Fortunately, there seems to be some hope on the otherwise dismal horizon for denture wearers... as well as a possible alternative to implants.

Ray's problems are by no means unique. There are over 40 million people in this country who, for a variety of reasons, have lost all of their natural teeth and must resort to artificial dentures in order to eat and look normal. The conventional dentures the Dental profession has offered to the public over the years have not been adequate to solve the difficult cosmetic, health and emotional problems a person who has lost his or her natural teeth must face.

The problem with the conventional dentures is that they do nothing to treat the conditions in the mouth that prevent the patient from successfully wearing them, which include: sore gums, muscle spasm, joint discomfort and a crooked face due to misalignment of the jaws.

Our technology has developed an appliance which the patient uses for a short time, daily, to correct these conditions.

For example, if a patient has cataracts and needs eyeglasses, the cataracts must first be treated before successful lenses can be made. So too, by treating the oral conditions first, successful dentures can be made with a patented new tooth design that helps the patient chew through their food more efficiently.

Fortunately, there seems to be some hope on the otherwise dismal horizon for denture wearers. The uniformly promising results in hundreds of full-denture cases done with the ComfortCare treatment program would seem to offer the answer to this difficult problem. The claims of no sore spots, no slipping, no paste or powder, no surgery, have in my experience been validated and merit looking into by the dissatisfied full-denture patient.

What to Wear Takes on New Style for the Wheelchair Bound...

by Keni Woodruff

"Let your fingers do the walking..." may have been a successful campaign for the telephone company, but it's even more appropriate for the wheelchair bound or physically limited individual who finds shopping impossible, and the choice of clothing limited. Everest & Jennings offers this fashion conscious, special population and exciting, easy, affordable "approach" to the best dressed list... "Avenues," a full color catalog of clothing and accessories designed especially for the wheelchair bound man or woman.

The Avenues collection includes everything from smart business suits (for men and women on the way up), to casual sportswear and elegant formal wear. There are trendy mix and match items, comfortable underwear, dashing outerwear and a collection of enabling products that make the "trip to the top" or the vacation of your dreams a smooth passage, no matter how you travel.

Start with an assortment of workout equipment to get your body in shape for stylish new clothes... Nancy's Workout, a video taped workout developed by Occupational Therapist, Nancy Sebring, specially geared to physically challenged, chair bound adults and children. Add an Easy Access training machine, a Hardbody Fitness Bar, high style velcro or zip closure sweats, and you're ready to get fit.

Are you bidding on the executive suite? Avenues offers well styled, knits and naturals with shorter jackets (for wheeling ease). Dress and casual shirts and blouses with button or velcro closures, skirts (to comfortably cover the knee or leg) and slacks with elasticized waistlines, lateral crotch zippers, and more (wrist loops in wastebands, detachable fingerings on zippers) to make dressing easier.

Clothes are cut with more fabric in the seat, less in front, to flatter the seated figure and eliminate unnecessary bulk; there are tailored shoulder pleats to give more freedom of movement, even full length coats and rainwear, cut short in back, long in front to look like a traditional coat and give optimum comfort and convenience to the chair-bound wearer.

The Avenues men's collection includes suit jacket and pants "separates," pants designed to accommodate orthopedic braces or casts, hidden zippers and fuller pants legs.

Everest & Jennings, one of the nation's largest manufacturers of mobility and convenience products for the physically challenged, launched Avenues, its first national line of clothing for wheelchair users in Spring 1989. "We're offering the opportunity to 'dress for access' in fashionable clothing that calls attention to the wearer, not the wheelchair," says Gay Dawson, general manager of the California based company.

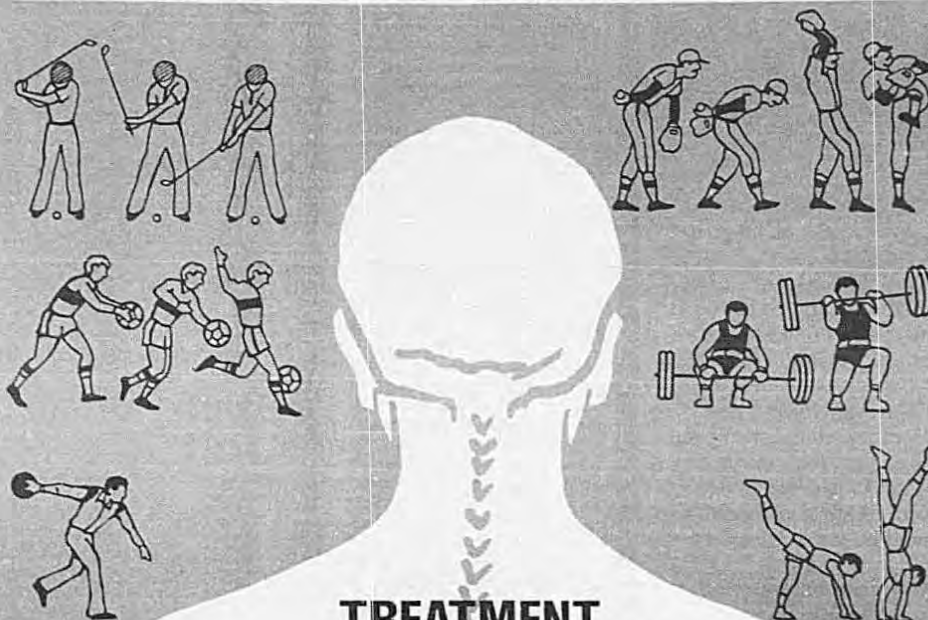

For your own seasonal catalog, call 1-800-848-2837, Ext. 5 (weekdays, 7p5 PST), or write E&J Avenues, Dept. 5, 3233 East Mission Oaks Blvd, Camarillo, CA 93010-5097.

At Our Lady of Mercy

ELECTRICITY WORKSHOP: Our Lady of Mercy fourth grade classes enjoyed an exciting workshop on electricity last month. The workshop was presented by Joseph Schaedler of the Long Island Science Museum of Manhasset. Pictured with Mr. Schaedler are students from 4C fascinated with the discovery that they can create such electricity themselves.

At St. Ignatius

FIELD DAYS were held on June 4 and June 11 for St. Ignatius grades K through 8 at Cantiague Park in Hicksville. Events included relay races, kickball, softball and the obstacle course. Each teacher ran the individual events for her class and lunch was provided by the Parents' Association. Special thanks to Robin Caparella, the physical education teacher who planned and directed both days.

At East Street

ANIMAL SCULPTURE EXHIBIT: East Street Art Teacher Phoebe Witt recently exhibited endangered animals sculpted by the sixth grade students from Bob Hilsky's and Leo Kanawada's classes. The students enjoyed working on their projects and learned a great deal about saving animals from extinction. Here, student Nicoletta Volpe displays the giraffe she made.

OUR LADY OF MERCY graduate Jennifer Wynne was the winner of the Joyce Manteria scholarship. Joyce graduated from Our Lady of Mercy and went on to Holy Trinity High School. She died of leukemia three years ago and her parents started this scholarship in her honor. At Left, Sister Joanne. At right, Joyce's mother.

Library Book Fair

Our Lady of Mercy School Library sponsored a book fair for grades pre-kindergarten through eighth grade so students would have the opportunity to make selections for summer reading. This year's fair was a great success. The money is used to purchase books for the library as well as Audio Visual equipment.

Honors Band

Our Lady of Mercy School band director Paul Effman presented an outstanding performance with his hard working students at St. Anthony's High School.

Thirty-seven of OLM's band members were chosen for this honor. Their extra hours of practice were rewarded by participating with other schools at this performance. Some of the selections played by the talented band members were "Five Foot Two, Eyes of Blue," "Love and Marriage," "Around the World in Eighty Days," "In the Mood" and "Stars and Strips Trio."

The following students entertained the captive audience: Jennifer Baumbach, Tara Bradeen, Anne Chatterton, Patrick Emmel, Kathleen Faccio, Harry Brady, Joseph Faccio, Michael Trimare-

co, Bobby Yopp, Shannon Brown, Renee Messina, Jude Walsh.

St. Ignatius first graders went on a class trip to the Gregory Museum last month where the museum guides, Mrs. Rosman and Mrs. Weintraub, taught the children about rocks and minerals.

The children enjoyed slides of Mount St. Helens volcano and afterwards had time to look at the many displays and to examine some of the rocks.

Figurative Language

Hicksville High School special education teacher Barbara Greenberg introduced the concept of figurative language to her remedial reading class recently. The students enthusiastically responded by identifying phrases they suspected were idioms. The final result is a book on idioms produced by the students, entitled Whom Are You Calling An Idiom?

The students, Christine Balistreri, Jose Benavides, Teddy Carter, Christian Foley, Frank Gerwer, Tracy Harkin, Dawn Laronga and Danielle Manna, began their project by reading and acting out selected dialogues in 101 American English Idioms by Harry Collis (Passport Books: Chicago, 1989). They followed this by writing down their own idioms and then compared and evaluated all suggestions for their book.

The lengthy book contains 40 idioms, complete with hypothetical dialogues to illustrate each idiom. The book includes such idioms as "beat a dead horse," "cost an arm and a leg," "hang on by a thread," "kill time" and "off the hook." The book was illustrated by Mrs. Greenberg.

"...Writing this book made us think," the students wrote in the introduction. "Instead of just sitting and reading books in our reading class, we all became very involved in this project. We were creative. We had never done anything like this before and we enjoyed doing it." They added, "We are now authors. We are proud of our work and of what we have accomplished."

Safety Patrol Awards

During the school year, several St. Ignatius students helped to maintain the safety of other students through their service to the school safety patrol.

The following students received a certificate of merit from the Automobile Club of New York in recognition of their participation on the safety patrol: Patricia Casserio, Jennifer Gandolfi, Mary Hannah, Elizabeth Hyde, Vanessa Lindsay, Susan Rutherford, Tracy Santanelli, Elizabeth Smith, Theresa Mais, Michelle McGunigle, Alison Petrosillo, Nicole Rutherford, Tammy Santanelli and Carmelo Aquilla.

Jennifer Gandolfi, a patrol member, received the distinguished service medal of the Automobile Club for her outstanding service.

Hicksville Soccer Club is in need of volunteer members to join its Board for two available positions—that of Club Secretary, and Director of Player Development. Those who have an interest, and wish to learn more about these availabilities, are asked to call Club President Phil Caputo at 933-7260.

Art Exhibit At Gregory Museum

Chrysalid, art in flight, is the business representing the craft of Old Brookville resident, Andrea Feinberg. Arrangement of colorful butterflies and moths in hollow lucite boxes, these wall hangings convey the appearance of swarms in flight.

Ms. Feinberg has been developing her craft since 1986, when she became fascinated with the broad diversity and overall beauty of these insects. The information supplied with her work provides a forum for education. Perhaps the combination of visual appreciation and scientific awareness will result in a finer understanding of nature's gentle balance that governs us all.

The Gregory Museum of Hicksville will display a selection of Ms. Feinberg's work during the month of July. She will also give a workshop in her craft on July 24.

Sheriff's Car Stolen

A 1984 Oldsmobile Royale which is owned by Nassau County and used by county sheriff Joseph Jablonsky was stolen outside the Ground Round Restaurant on Broadway.

According to Second Precinct Police, the incident occurred on June 28 at 8:30 p.m. The auto is a black four door and has two rear antennas. Two police radios and one mobile telephone were in the car, police said.

The Second Squad is investigating.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity.

We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only.

We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

Thank You

An Open Letter To Your Readers:

I would like to express my most sincere appreciation to all who sent me flowers, greetings, and paid hospital visits following my recent surgery. I heard from members of the Hicksville Kiwanis, the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce, the Hicksville INN, and so many wonderful friends and business associates.

It is both humbling and gratifying to receive so many good wishes. The loving concern of all you good people is most supportive and I would hope to be back in the mainstream before very long.

Many thanks to everyone. God has blessed me.

Spruce Up Plants

To The Editor:

Most of the stores in town (Hicksville) were given a tree out on the sidewalk. They can't just be left. They have to be watered. They look like they are dying. If each store just put a pot of water 3 times a week they would be great. Also, clean the rubbish that people are throwing in the pot. (What a shame). The idea was great—don't let them die there.

Nassau BOCES Employment Award Goes To Westbury Firm

The first recipient of the Nassau BOCES Supported Employment Award was announced recently. Honored, not only for making job opportunities available to special education students, but for providing unusual support beyond the typical supervisory-relationship, was Uniflex, Inc., of Westbury.

Uniflex Plant Manager Joe Viola, who accepted the award, has been directly responsible for a 19-year relationship between the plastic bag manufacturer and the Nassau BOCES Division of Special Education. In 1971, a work enclave at Uniflex was arranged for nine mentally handicapped students from the Rosemary Kennedy School. These youngsters then worked two or three days a week at Uniflex, as part of their vocational training.

"Thanks to Mr. Viola's efforts, these students were quickly integrated into his work force," said Steven Kessler, Coordinator of Supported Work for Nassau BOCES. "He personally helped smooth over problems. Students were treated well, and a number of them were offered full-time positions with benefits upon graduation."

Over the years, Uniflex has provided several other special education students with employment opportunities.

Candidates for the award were nominated by the Supported Work Program staff at Nassau BOCES, and the winner was chosen by an advisory council consisting of special educators and professionals in related fields. An award plaque and statuette were presented to Mr. Viola at a luncheon held at BOCES in the Salisbury Center on June 6.

On hand to receive his own honors was Chris James, the newest disabled employee of Uniflex.

BANK OF NEW YORK, Queens/Nassau division, sponsored the 7th annual Track Classic of the Nassau County Police Activity League recently. Held at Wantagh High School, approximately 500 boys and girls, ranging in ages from 3 to fifteen years, competed. Richard L. international money. This hurt the international funds last year as the dollar gained against them. Now that the dollar is strong, you can expect it to stay strong for awhile (as our interest rates stay higher than their rates). You should not get out of these because of poor 1989 performance. Just the opposite. Now is the time to start purchasing them. The international stock markets over the next few years should be very good. The dollar will get weaker in the future. Both of these things are good for international funds. Be sure that the fund has a track record.

If you are going to investigate, with or without a broker or financial planner, use these averages to help you make the decision. 1989 S&P +30.67 AEF (the Morgan Stanley international index average) +10.54. For those firms with a 5 year history, S&P 500 +20.31, AEF +36.14. For those firms with a 10 year history, S&P 500 +17.45, AEF +21.0. The averages are in dollar, the money that you invest.

Just ask your broker or financial planner if the fund beat these averages. If not, then do not buy them. That applies whether they are load or no load. The longer the investment company has been in business, the better for you.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

...What kind of beauty parlor or barber shop do you go to?...Not so long ago—before "unisex"—things were a lot different...The beauty parlors always had curtains around the booths, particularly those in which hair was being dyed...remember that it was considered mildly shocking to dye one's hair—and it was a carefully guarded secret, therefore, the curtains—no one could look through the front window and see anyone—male or female—having hair dyed...and in those days, when the barber pole was red and white and went around in circles, no females went to barber shops—at least none that I ever knew...Nowadays, male and female, all together, without embarrassment, sit in neighboring chairs, looking awful while their locks are being dyed, permanented or maybe even just blown...In my beauty parlor—let's call it Vinnie's—it's very homey, old-fashioned, comfy,—and unisex!...But it's very friendly—none of this hauteur that some shops have where the "operators" inform you with all the scorn of a Saks Fifth Avenue saleslady that they don't do "sets", only blow dries...I always thought I had a well-developed ego, but when these creatures look at me that way, do I look back and walk out???—Not usually, I settle for a blow dry...Now, at Vinnie's that would never happen...If you are so old-fashioned that you want your hair set on rollers and most of their customers do, they'll happily oblige...And, frankly, that thirty-five minutes under the dryer where one can't hear a thing and can concentrate on a book is one of the best times of the week!...And, at Vinnie's, there's a lovely feeling of being at home—none of this assembly-line stuff I find in some shops, even though they may be more modern, "glitzy" and certainly much larger—and sometimes like an assembly line...I'm for that good, old-fashioned ease that I find at Vinnie's...but I must stop telling them how awful their customers look who get those kinky permanents!!!

paced the U.S. markets by a wide margin. 1989 was not a good year as explained.

A COMMERCIAL. Over the years, this column has discussed some aspects of estate and will planning. I attend seminars and lectures on the subject. Indeed, I have experts lecture at some of the seminars I put on with the IRS for tax preparers. I have books on the financial planning for wealthy individuals. The purchase of estate planning books is an annual expense. Most of the books are written in such legalese that I get a headache.

Therefore, I am grateful to a friend who has written a book on the use of a will and different trusts in estate planning. Eugene Daly has lectured as one (of many) of my experts at the IRS seminars. He will be used again especially after this book.

What I like about it is that it does not give me a headache to read. It is written in plain, simple ordinary English. Any lay-person of reasonable intelligence should be able to understand it. It is loaded with suggestions. It explains the consequences of different types of things that can be put into a will. It tells you the ways to save your estate money. The writing style can be enjoyed. It is folksy and compassionate. You will love some of the clauses people put into their wills. Some things are quite humorous.

While it is the next best thing to doing it yourself, it does not do away with the necessity of having an ESTATE lawyer draw up your will. Finally, it enables you to understand what the lawyer is talking about when you discuss your will. That is a big plus. The name of the book is Thy Will Be Done, a guide to wills, taxation and estate planning for older persons, by Eugene J. Daly, Attorney at Law. Do not let the title turn you off. There is nothing religious here, just good common knowledge.

It may not be in your local bookstore. If not, then call Prometheus Books, 1-800-421-0351. It could be the best $21.95 (cloth) or $14.95 (paper) that you spent. It costs $2.50 to ship to you, plus tax. I hope you enjoy it and learn as much as I have.

EUPHORIA IN EUROPE. On 2/1/90, while everyone was rushing to invest in Europe, this column discussed the problems that would last for years. While it is true that the breakdown of communism in Eastern Europe will create spectacular investment opportunities, the article said, go slowly. In the New York Times of 6/28/90, page D10, "Less Euphoria in East Europe," these exact sentiments were expressed. It is nice to have corroboration.

Irving Berlin Showcase.

And on Tuesday, July 10, music nostalgia buffs are in for a special treat. It will be an evening of 50s and 60s music as Johnny Maestro & the Brooklyn Bridge share the stage with Starlight at John J. Burns Town Park, Merrick Road, Massapequa. Show time will be 8:35 pm with Massapequa High School Auditorium, Merrick Road, the location in the event of rain.

"Johnny Maestro & the Brooklyn Bridge virtually span the entire rock era," said Delligatti. Maestro started with a group called the Crests, which recorded such hits as "Sixteen Candles", "Step by Step", and "The Angels Listened In". When the group disbanded in 1963, Maestro formed the Del-Satins, which eventually merged with a group called the Rhythm Method to form The Brooklyn Bridge.

Some of the Brooklyn Bridge's better known hits include "The worst that could happen" and "You'll never walk alone".

The Music Under The Stars series is sponsored by the Cultural and Performing Arts division of the Oyster Bay Department of Community and Youth Services. Additionally, Roslyn Savings Bank is co-sponsoring the July 9th and July 13th performances of the Concert Pops of Long Island.

ARE YOU OVERLOOKING LONG ISLAND'S WILDEST NIGHTLIFE?

The black-crowned night heron (Nycticorax nycticorax) is a mostly nocturnal native Long Islander who is highly discriminating. You won't find him at just any watering hole. And for dinner the fish had better be fresh, the ambience unhurried.

You might say the black-crowned night heron is a hard bird to please. But The Nature Conservancy has been working hard for 38 years to provide the night heron and hundreds of other animals and plants the finest accommodations available on Long Island.

We've saved 18,000 acres of ecologically significant land on Long Island alone, from the last 19-acre remnant of the Hempstead Plains to our 2,000-acre Mashomack Sanctuary on Shelter Island. Nationwide, we've preserved nearly 4 million acres of forest, prairie, desert, island, and mountain. And our international program is fighting to save the world's rapidly vanishing rain forest.

You can help The Nature

Conservancy do its vitally important work. For $15, not much more than the cover charge for one of Long Island's hottest night spots, you can become a member of the Long Island Chapter. You will receive the Long Island Chapter Newsletter and

The Nature Conservancy Magazine to keep you informed of Conservancy activities. As a member of the Long Island Chapter, you can participate in hikes and education programs led by experienced naturalists, and you are welcome to volunteer to take part in Chapter operations.

If you're concerned about Long Island—not just about its native flora and fauna but also about the water we drink, the air we breathe, and the quality of life here—we urge you to give us a hand. Just call (516)367-3225. You can help protect your environment. And you can have a wild time!

Please enroll me as a member of The Nature Conservancy. My $15.00 check is enclosed.

Hicksville PAL Lacrosse Wins Division Title

By Eileen Puerta

The Hicksville PAL Lacrosse Team made up of third and fourth graders ended its season as Number One. This team had an exciting season with a record of 6 wins and 2 losses.

The first loss that this team suffered was to Manhasset in the first game of the season. After this, team members seemed to come together and work well with each other. The games were action-filled and fast-paced. The second loss, to Floral Park, came after a sudden death over-time. Hicksville did beat both of these teams the next time they met.

The boys who played on this team showed skill and excellent team spirit. Their goalie, John Kinsella, was outstanding all season. Hicksville should be proud of these boys for the way they conducted themselves on and off the field. This team certainly earned a name for itself throughout its division.

A special note of thanks to Tom Kinsella for his wonderful coaching skills. He taught these boys the fundamentals of lacrosse. Tom always instilled in these youngsters the need for team play and team spirit. Thanks, Tom, for a terrific season!

By Eileen Puerta

The Hicksville 1978 traveling soccer team gave their fathers a special treat by winning the coveted Chase Cup on Father's Day. The final game of the tournament was played at C.W. Post College against the 1978 Massapequa team.

In this last game of the Cup series, Hicksville displayed an extremely strong and controlled attack resulting in a 2 to 1 score against Massapequa. Hicksville played with a purpose as they competed against the only team that had played them to a tie during the regular season. The Raiders completely dominated the first half of the game with pinpoint passing and barrage of attacks on the Massapequa goal. The first goal was scored by Nikitas Koroneos as the Massapequa goalie lost control of a shot taken by Jack McFigue.

The second Hicksville goal was scored on a strong penalty kick taken by fullback Mike Tesoriero.

The second half of the game saw Massapequa valiantly trying to mount a consistent attack against Hicksville's strong defense to no avail.

The Hicksville American Soccer Club would like to thank Chase Manhattan Bank for its sponsorship of this prestigious event which means so much to the youth of Long Island. Their support of these tournaments helps keep young people interested in activities that provide an opportunity to grow in self-esteem and pride.

Special thanks go again to two outstanding and dedicated coaches Rich Ilsley and Giovanni Riccardi.

Kiwanis Key Notes

Jane Cullick, manager of Community and Governmental Relations for the Metropolitan Suburban Bus Authority (MSBA), was the guest speaker at a recent luncheon meeting of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club.

In speaking to the Kiwanis Club members, Ms. Cullick mentioned the availability of the Nassau County Bus Map showing all of the different bus routes servicing Long Island Railroad stations, including a listing of Places of Interest served by the MSBA, as well as a variety of special information for bus passengers such as transfer points. These maps, along with time tables of all the "N" numbered routes, are available by calling the MSBA Bus Information Center at 222-1000. She also mentioned that more new wheelchair lift-equipped buses are scheduled to be added to the fleet.

Second Half of 1990 General Taxes Due July 1

Oyster Bay Town Receiver of Taxes Gary F. Musiello reminded residents this week that the second half of the 1990 General Tax Levy is due on July 1, 1990 and may be paid, without penalty, through August 10, 1990.

"By law, a taxpayer has a 40-day grace period from the date the tax is due during which payment may be made without penalty," Musiello explained. "After the 40 days, a 1 percent penalty is added for each month the tax remains unpaid, retroactive to July 1st."

Residents can pay in person at the Tax Office, Oyster Bay Town Hall West, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay, or at Town Hall South, 977 Hicksville Road, Massapequa. They may also pay by mail. In addition, Oyster Bay Town Clerk Carl L. Marcellino said that the Town Clerk's Annex, Newbridge Road and Duffy Avenue, Hicksville, will be open to accept payments, by check only, from 9 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. on August 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10.

When paying the tax bill in person, residents are reminded to bring the entire tax bill with their payment. Payments being made by mail for the second half of the year should include Stub No. 2. Musiello urged residents who are mailing in their payment to do so at least 10 days before the August 10th deadline.

The Tax Office will be sending a computerized receipt, but Musiello advised residents to retain their cancelled check as additional proof of payment.

Musiello also cautioned residents not to write on, cut, fold, staple or otherwise deface the tax stub as it can cause the computer to reject the payment.

Hicksville's Prized Pets

Polka Dot Pokey

We received the following note from the De Angelis Family—Ray, Linda, Laura and Ray.

"This is Pokey, our 2-year-old Dalmation. Pokey loves to sit at our front door and watch everything that is going on. Pokey is a very smart fellow and very sweet. He has become a big part of the family. He knows that every Thursday he goes collecting with Laura on her paper route. Her customers ask where her partner is if she happens not to take him (not often). He is always ready with his leash to go collecting. He is very special to us and he is the ultimate dog in Hicksville!!!"

CITIBANK ANNOUNCES A DREAM MORTGAGE FOR THE AMERICAN DREAM.

THE AFFORDABLE MORTGAGE FOR HOUSES, CONDOS, AND CO-OPS.

Whether you're a first-time buyer or a homeowner looking for a new house, condo, or co-op, Homeowner's Key® could be the mortgage you've always dreamed of.

The payments are low in the beginning. With several options to choose from. Including one that gives you first-year payment rates* as much as 5% below market rates.

And it's a fixed-rate, graduated-payment mortgage. So you don't have to worry about rising interest rates. And you'll always know exactly what your monthly payments will be for the entire term of the mortgage.

What's more, this mortgage is easier to qualify for. Because the amount you can borrow is based on the low initial payments. Which also means you may qualify for a larger loan.

So take the first step in making your dream come true. Stop by any branch, talk to a Mortgage Power® Member, or call a Citibank mortgage specialist, Mon.-Fri., 9-9 and Sat. 10-2, at 1-800-321-CITI, ext. 2578. Sweet dreams.

*The payment rate is not the best interest rate. It is a way of comparing the payments on a Homeowner's Key loan to the payments on an adjustable-rate mortgage. For example, your monthly payments for the first year on a $50,000 Homeowner's Key loan at 5.00% with an interest rate of 6.75% are $300.00. If you had a fixed-rate mortgage with an interest rate of 6.75%, your monthly payments would be $330.00. A new fixed-rate mortgage with an interest rate of 6.75% would have monthly payments of $330.00. In our example, the Homeowner's Key loan would have lower payments for the first year. However, payments will increase to market rates over the life of the loan. In our example, payments would increase to $330.00 by the end of the first year. Payments are based on a 30-year term. Payments may vary. See your Citibank mortgage specialist for more details.

Woodland Students Are Winners in Poster Contest

Last month, the Hicksville Elks' Drug Awareness Committee attended Woodland Elementary School to present the prizes to the winners of their HUGS ARE BETTER THAN DRUGS Poster contest for Kindergarten, first and second grades.

The more than 40 entries were posted at the Lodge and voted on by more than 50 Lodge members based more on concept than on talent. Prior to the contest, the committee had been to the school with their video, HUGS BUNNY character and clown to conduct a program acquainting the children with the problems of alcohol abuse, smoking, dealing with approach from strangers and similar hazards facing our youngsters.

This program for the extreme lower grades is an adjunct to a more sophisticated original program for grades 3 through 8. It was devised by the Lodge Committee on request from the schools since there are so few programs for this age group to prepare them for the dangers facing them as they progress.

First three places each received a beautiful stuffed bunny wearing a T-shirt with the Elks' slogan "HUGS ARE BETTER THAN DRUGS". The children were delighted with their prizes which were supplied by the N.Y. State Elks Assoc. Drug Awareness program. Also on hand for the Fall school season are more HUGS BUNNIES for these grades and a Nintendo game and Bicycle for the third and fourth grades essay contests based on the more sophisticated program the Committee brings into the school. Additional prizes may be provided if there are a significant number of entries.

The committee also appears at street fairs and other public gatherings, is accessible to PTA and other civic groups surrounding the Hicksville area.

For additional information contact chairman Murray Appel, 25 Lenore Lane, Farmingdale, N.Y. 11735 or call him at 694-7238.

Food, Fun and an Italian Marching Band... Saint Rocco Festival Returns To Oyster Bay

For those who don't know it, Saint Rocco is the patron saint of serious illness. Also, he's the patron saint of the St. Rocco Society, an Italian American Benevolent Society established in 1911 to help take care of Italian immigrants coming to America.

But there's something else - St. Rocco is the name of a major festival held every year in the village of Oyster Bay.

But it's not just a festival! The St. Rocco Festival offers the community of Oyster Bay and the surrounding communities an opportunity to come together with a sense of family unity - because, as organizers say, there's something for everyone.

It all started back in 1911, when the festival was established by the St. Rocco Society to raise funds for Italian American immigrants. The society sponsored the Festival until the 1950s, when at the time membership diminished and there were not sufficient members to work the festival.

Fortunately for Oyster Bay and for festival lovers throughout Nassau County, in the early 1970s the parish of St. Dominics in Oyster Bay sought permission from the St. Rocco Society to once again establish the festival.

At that time, the parish was seeking a way to raise monies to build a new sports center for the parish. But as the years passed, the St. Dominic Church became the regular St. Rocco Festival sponsor.

Today, it is one of the largest fund raisers in the diocese, and the largest fund raiser of the parish.

This year, the St. Rocco Festival is back, complete with rides for the kids, nightly entertainment, a Las Vegas tent, home made foods, and more. The dates are July 11-15, and the event will be held at Memorial Field, Oyster Bay.

Entertainment for the festival this year includes the Oyster Bay Community Band, on Wednesday; an Oldies Review on Thursday night; Harry Hepcat & the Boogie Woogie Band (back by popular demand) on Friday; Mike Heaphy and the High Lonesome, on Saturday; and Felix SanGenito & the Italian Marching Band, with Christina Fontanelli, Italian Soprano, on Sunday.

On Wednesday evening at 9:15 pm, there will also be a Fireworks show, a first for the festival.

Holding a prominent place at the St. Roc-

"RELAX, ENJOY, HAVE FUN!" URGE volunteers manning the booths at the St. Rocco Festival in Oyster Bay - like these five, all members of St. Dominic's Church: Father Bud Ribaud, Joe Barnao, Angelo Delligatti, Bob Romanelli, and Dominic Vilanni (l-r). The St. Rocco Festival runs July 11-15 and is at Memorial Field in Oyster Bay.

co Festival is the Sunday night procession, following five o'clock mass. The procession consists of members of the society, and parishioners, walking through the community. With a statue of St. Rocco, to Memorial Field.

In fact, the statue of Saint Rocco, which resides in the Chapel at St. Dominics, was imported from Italy back in about 1910. Standing at St. Rocco's side, there is a dog with a loaf of bread in his mouth. Legend has it, the dog helped keep St. Rocco alive during the time of the plague.

Standing at St. Rocco's side, there is a dog with a loaf of bread in his mouth.

The Saint Rocco Festival should delight a wide range of visitors - if not for the food, and if not for the fun and games - then for the procession of St. Rocco, and a celebration of the spirit of the St. Rocco Society of 1911!

Pop Star Plays Romeo At International Theatre Festival

Who says Art and Pop Music don't mix? Fine Young Cannibals lead singer Roland Gift will star in a production of Shakespeare's tragic love story, Romeo and Juliet, from Tuesday July 10 through Saturday July 14 at 8:00 pm, at the International Theatre Festival at the University of Stony Brook. This exclusive U.S. engagement will be at the Staller Center for the Arts.

Joining Gift will be Daphne Nayar, playing Juliet, in the Hull Truck Theatre Company's production. Hull Truck is one of England's leading national theatre companies. And their version of this timeless story, say Staller Center directors, is passionate, contemporary, and intense.

Gift was born in Birmingham England, and grew up in Hull. He worked with the Hull Community Theatre and the Northern Theatre Company for four years before moving to London to further his musical career. In 1984, he formed Fine Young Cannibals with Andy Cox and David Steele. The groups has released a series of successful singles and albums.

Gift also wrote the score for the Touchstone film, Tin Men, in which he appeared as a night club singer. In 1987, he played a lead role in 'Sammy and Rosie Get Laid', and in 1988 he played Johnnie Edgecombe in 'Scandal'.

Nayar was born in New York, and raised in New Delhi, India, and Athens, Greece. She has many American repertory credits to her name, and has performed on CBS televisions 'Kids Are People Too', and NBC's 'Weekday'.

FROM FINE YOUNG CANNIBAL to Romeo in Shakespeare's tragic love story. Pop Star Rolan Gift will be appearing next week at the Staller Center for the Arts in Stony Brook.

Tickets for Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday night performances are $15; for Friday and Saturday, $17. For reservations, call the Staller Center Box Office at (516) 632-7230 or (516) 632-7227. Tickets are also available through Ticketmaster at (516) 888-9000 and (212) 307-7171.

The Staller Center for the Arts, located on the campus of the State University of Stony Brook, presents the New York metropolitan area's only 1990 summer theatre festival. The final production of the summer season will be 'Seance', a humorous and haunting ensemble piece by Czechoslovakian playwright Bolek Polivka. This exclusive American premiere marks the first North American performance to come from recently liberalized Czechoslovakia.

'Seance' will be performed from Tuesday, July 17 through Saturday, July 21.

Political Cartoons And The Environment

By Stephanie Delaporte

Americans seem to have a perpetual love affair with cartoons. Most of us grew up devouring the Sunday newspaper funnies. The beloved characters - Marmaduke, Donald Duck and Superman - all offer a moment of escape from the toils and tribulations of our daily lives. Usually, we laugh at what we see, for many times we see ourselves in the cartoon.

The cartoon is an eye-catcher - because a picture is worth a thousand words. When Boss Tweed and the Teapot Dome participants lent themselves to caricature, and their actions to comment, an artist by the name of Thomas Nast could not resist, and with his satirical pen elevated the political cartoon to an art form.

Thomas Nast used the cartoon to make a point.

Today original editorial cartoons appear in almost every newspaper of size throughout the world. While they touch a wide range of subjects from differing political sides of the fence, when it comes to the environment they all agree - man is destroying the earth.

Whether cartoons can be considered art is subject for debate. But when cartoons from all over the world address the same subject, they have an impact which earns them respect.

Such is the case with an exhibit of cartoons set up for public viewing at the Axxin Library at Hofstra University. Originally created as part of a three day conference entitled "The Environment", the exhibit features 150 cartoons from 35 countries, and will run through August 30 - at which time it will depart for the New York State Museum in Albany. It is open to the public and free of charge.

The exhibit is located on the tenth floor of Hofstra's Axxin Library. Hours are: Monday, Wednesday and Thursday 9 to 5, Tuesday 9 to 9, Friday 9 to 4, and Saturday and Sunday 1 to 5. The easiest way to reach the library is to park in the lot on the north side of Hempstead Turnpike, and walk through the Student Union Building and across the overpass.

Harry Chapin Theater...

Spinners, Bobby Rydell Highlight Two Outdoor Shows

Timeless showmanship continues this season at Eisenhower Park's Harry Chapin Lakeside Theater, with visits to the outdoor venue this week by the Spinners on July 7, and internationally known singing star Bobby Rydell, on July 9.

The popular Spinners, Atlantic records recording artists, will perform their special brand of Pop music at 8:00 pm. "The universal appeal of the Spinners has earned them twelve gold records since their recording career began almost twenty years ago," said a spokesperson for the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks. "They are six-time Grammy award nominees, and have entertained twice on the Grammy television show."

Not only that, The Spinners - namely John Edwards, Henry Fambrough, Billy Henderson, Bobbie Smith and Fervis Jackson - have appeared on the soundtracks of such popular motion pictures as "Spaceballs", and "Twins".

They've even got their own star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

Meanwhile, Bobby Rydell will be headlining Italian American night on Monday, July 9, with a rain date of July 10. Italian American night is the first of twelve "International nights," an award-winning concert series that is held annually in recognition of the various ethnic groups that make up Nassau County. Sponsored by Canon, USA, Inc., and WHLI 1100 A.M., they are presented by the county parks department.

Said parks officials, "Bobby Rydell is a paramount talent who has appeared with many of the great ones in show business." That includes George Burns, Red Skelton, Don Rickles and Joan Rivers. Rydell first made his mark in the music industry as a rock and roll teenage idol, with huge hits like "Swinging School", "Wild One", and "Volare". Each of those brought him gold records.

Today, Bobby Rydell has blended his rock and roll roots with the music of the big band era, and has emerged as a unique talent who has thrilled fans and critics in every major night club and concert hall around the world.

Joining Rydell on the program will be Mary Mancini, a versatile singer who will offer Italian favorites; and Mario Tacca, her husband (and a world champion accordionist).

WITH TWELVE GOLD RECORDS to their credit, the Spinners have good reason to be smiling. The Spinners will be performing Saturday, July 7th, at Eisenhower Park - and that will be followed July 9th with a star-studded Italian American Night.

say organizers!)

About half an hour before showtime, County Executive Thomas Gulotta will honor Nassau's Italian-American community with a brief on-stage ceremony that will include the presentation of a proclamation.

Eisenhower Park is located in East Meadow, with entrances on Hempstead Turnpike at East Meadow Avenue, and another at the intersection of Stewart and Merrick Avenues. The concert takes place at Parking Field number 6.

you can make a wish come true. There are hundreds of children right here in our communities who have special wishes, but perhaps a limited time in which to accomplish them.

While the foundation and agencies looking for cures still need your dollars, all we're asking for is a wish come true...to light up 4 year old Melissa's eyes, a leukemia victim, when you tell her she's going to Disney World this summer...or see the joy in 12 year old Ernie's eyes when we can give him plane tickets to California to see his grandma one more time.

Call today and see how you can help a dream come true.

Contract Bridge By Steve Becker

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠

Opening lead — queen of diamonds.

If you toss a coin, it is even money it will not come down heads. If you toss two coins, the odds are 3 to 1 they will not both be heads. (Toss three coins and the odds become 7 to 1.)

It is not really necessary to understand how probabilities of this sort are determined, but it is important to realize that bridge leans heavily on probabilities. A player who understands and abides by percentages will do very well over the long haul.

Consider this deal where South took the opening diamond lead with the king and led a low trump to dummy's jack. East won with the ace and returned a diamond, taken by declarer with the ace. After cashing the king of trumps, South led a heart to the queen, which lost to East's king. Back came a diamond to West's ten and the contract went down one when West cashed the ace of clubs.

South did not give himself the best chance for the contract. Instead of leading a trump at trick two, he should have finessed the queen of hearts. True, the queen would lose to the king and East would return a diamond, but even so South would make four spades. He takes the diamond return with the ace and finesses the ten of hearts. After the ten wins, declarer discards his diamond loser on the ace of hearts and eventually scores ten tricks.

In effect, South based all his hopes on the 50 percent chance that West had the king of hearts. But if he had finessed the heart queen at trick two, planning to finesse the ten later if the queen lost to the king, he would have had two chances to make the contract instead of only one.

This would have given him about a 3-to-1 chance of succeeding, a situation similar to the toss of two coins.

"PEE-WEE"

They call me "PEE-WEE." I am a 4 month old Terrier mix. I may be little, but if you'll just give me a chance, I'll warm your heart in a big way! I'm great with kids, and I just love hugs and kisses. All I need is a family I can call my own. Bring your big heart down to the North Shore Animal League, in Port Washington, on South St. For more info., call us at: (516) 883-7575.
