Town Seeks Alternatives To Road Construction

By Rita Langdon

Because Meadow Lane residents fear that proposed road construction will ruin their neighborhood's rural look, the town has postponed work on the street temporarily.

Homeowners of the area which is known as Hicksville Gardens, told Town of Oyster Bay engineers that they didn't want trees removed, the road widened or existing curbs removed.

"We lost a lot of trees on this block when they put in sewers," said Eileen Biedrzycki. "We'll lose most of our trees all for the sake of making things more traffical." She added, "We already have traffic barreling down the street."

The residents main aim is to preserve the beauty of the area which currently has no sidewalks, and in some parts, no curbs—only Belgium blocks.

"It's a part of Hicksville that's more country-fied and we want to keep it that way," said resident Betty Ann Bennett.

In a statement released to the Illustrated, town officials said that after meeting with the residents, consulting engineers are now conducting a "cost analysis for new curbing along Meadow Lane." All existing Belgium block curbing will be replaced. While the analysis is underway, construction will take place on other roadways in Hicksville.

Residents were also adamantly opposed to tree removal that they said was slated if the street was widened. But the town said that Meadow Lane will not be widened to the Town standard width of 33 feet. "The roadway varies from 24 to 26 feet, the lowest acceptable width for safe traffic flow." The town noted that by not widening the street, many trees will be saved. However, if other construction did require tree removal for safety reasons, they would be replaced, the statement said.

Severe drainage problems is another problem Meadow Lane residents face. Portions of the road are sometimes impassable after heavy rain storms.

Ruth Schaeffler, a 50 year resident said, "What we want mostly is to get rid of the water. It's a disaster."

Edith Frohnhoefer, a 46 year resident, agreed. "If I tried to walk up there after a rain storm, I would have to wear boots."

The residents want a solution to the drainage problem without destroying the country look of the area.

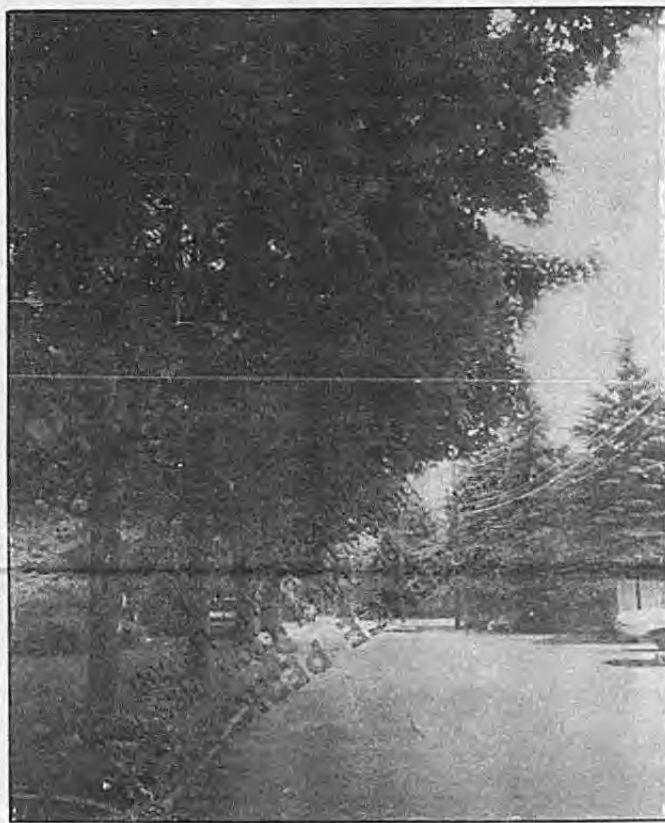

The original Meadow Lane contract called for the installation of two catch basins in front of 35 and 40 Meadow Lane, the location of the most severe flooding area.

According to town spokesperson Jayne Mayer, the underground drainage system will connect to the catch basins to the positive drainage systems beneath New South Road. Since the highway surface is extremely flat, Meadow Lane must be graded so that the water flow will meet the catch basins.

According to the town, a concrete gutter and curb line is necessary to guide the water to the storm drains, otherwise the highway runoff will flood the adjoining private properties.

Although curbs for Meadow Lane are being postponed, Mayer noted that the "town is obligated to ensure the well-being and safety of its residents and must maintain its roadways in a safe condition." She added, "Therefore, in an effort to eliminate any potentially dangerous accidents from occurring, the town has planned to correct the hazardous drainage condition on Meadow Lane."

Residents fear that these trees along Meadow Lane will be removed when the Town does road construction.

Hicksville Bids A Fond Farewell To Starlight Shop

By Rita Langdon

When people name the many stores in Hicksville's downtown area, they never fail to point out the one shop that still holds the spirit of the good old days.

With its old fashioned and personal service, the Starlight Shop at 95 Broadway has been called, by some, Hicksville's community center "where everybody seemed to know everybody else," said longtime patron

Elizabeth Lang.

The shop's diversified stock of jewelry, accessories, dresses, slacks and nightwear for women in petite, misses and plus sizes are always popular with Hicksville's ladies.

But, like other well-known stores from the 40s, the Starlight Shop has become but a sweet memory as it made its final sale on June 29.

Because the Starlight Shop has long been part of Hicksville's history, its owners, Gene and Roz Staller, will not soon be forgotten by their loyal customers.

"They were very congenial and very helpful," said Lang. "Their clothes would last." She added, "I have clothes from a few years ago and there perfect yet."

The personal treatment by Gene and Roz and their staff was the shop's trademark. Because they considered their customers family, Hicksville husbands knew where to buy presents for their wives. Gene and Roz were well-known for their ability to remember the tastes and sizes of almost all their regular customers.

Hicksville Gregory Museum historian Richard Evers said that he often shopped for his wife, Anne, at the Starlight Shop.

"It was a delight for us hard pressed husbands who only had their wives' sizes on a piece of paper," Evers said. "They knew their builds and tastes and it was the most convenient way to do your husbandly shopping."

Evers said he is including a story about the Starlight Shop in his third volume of his Hicksville history book due out at the end of the summer.

As a saleswoman at the Starlight Shop for more than nine years, Lillian Moseman remembers fondly the good times she had working at the shop. "It was wonderful," she said. "You couldn't want a nicer boss."

Roz and Gene said they thoroughly enjoyed the 44 years they owned the shop and have no regrets. "We loved waiting on our customers and we had a wonderful relationship with them," Roz said. She added, "I just want everyone to stay healthy and happy."

The Stallers knew a few years ago that they would not be renewing their lease in June. They said it was time to retire and "see our grandchildren." Gene said, "We're going to enjoy our lives. That's the name of the game."

But as the Stallers spend time in their Merrick home, Starlight Shop's former customers who travel down Broadway can't help but notice the empty shop which made its home next to the House of Donuts for so many years.

No Fourth of July Mishaps Reported in Hicksville

An occasional firework sounding in the background was the only evidence that the Fourth of July was here, as Hicksville experienced a fairly quiet and safe holiday, according to local fire and police departments.

The Hicksville Fire Department reported two minor brush fires on July 4, one in the sump behind Salem Road at 10:11 p.m. and another at 10:39 p.m. in the sump behind Ronald Avenue and Moeller Street. Both were caused by fireworks.

"One Fourth of July we were kept busy all day and night," said fire department spokesperson Owen Magee. "This year we were very quiet."

Second Precinct Police reported no incidents in Hicksville for most of the Fourth of July week.

"We had nothing from the third through today [Friday afternoon]," said police spokesperson Warren Nelson.

Eighth Precinct Police, however, reported one arrest for a woman driving while intoxicated at 10:25 p.m. The woman, Ellen Dixon, 30, of Hicksville, was driving a 1971 Dodge on Lee Avenue, 75 feet north of Farm Road, when she hit a parked 1990 Ford, police said. She received abrasions to the head.

July 4th Celebrations

The Charles Wagner Post American Legion members continued their Fourth of July tradition of placing American flags along Broadway. The Post reports that about 80 flags were placed on the road but the holders on Broadway can accommodate 25 more 3 by 5 flags. Residents can donate flags by contacting the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce.

Under the Legion's Americanism Chairman Richard Evers, the following members placed the flags on Broadway: Commander Richard Hochbreuckner; Past Commanders Arlene Howard, John Rizos, Arthur Lutz, Raymond Gamble, Lou Braun, Tom Nikitas; Legionnaires Jack Reichlin, Steve Wladyska; and volunteer Bill Gamble.

Because there are no major Fourth of July celebrations by local service organizations in this community, Hicksville was well represented by veterans' posts at the annual Town of Oyster Bay Independence Day Program.

The Oyster Bay Veterans of Foreign Wars Post hosted a parade and unveiling and dedication of a war veterans memorial at Town Hall on Audrey Avenue in Oyster Bay.

Among the Hicksville units taking part were Charles Wagner Post 421 and the William M. Gouse Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3211.

The Hicksville American Veterans (AMVETS) Post 44, the Masonic War Veterans—Henry Biel Post No. 46, and the Vietnam Veterans also participated.

under town historian Dorothy Horton McGee, honored, in part, the founding of the United States Coast Guard. Among the speakers at the ceremony were Town Supervisor Angelo Delligatti and David Layton. Layton portrayed his ancestor, captain David Layton of the Oyster Bay Minutemen Company. He read from a roster of names of the Town of Oyster Bay patriots of 200 years ago.

At the dedication of the new veterans memorial monument, speakers included Nicholas DeSantis, commander of the Oyster Bay VFW Post 8033, Town councilman Howard T. Hogan, Jr., Nassau County American Legion commander, Anthony Paternostro, and VFW Nassau County Commander Gerard Ahern.

TO YOUR HEALTH

Arthritis Myths and Facts

A major misconception concerning arthritis is that there is only one type of arthritis. Most rheumatologists (arthritis specialists) recognize that there are over 100 types of arthritis. Each type requires its own diagnosis and treatment. Arthritis symptoms include painful, red, warm or swollen joints, morning stiffness, or muscle aches.

The Arthritis Foundation has estimated that one out of every seven Americans will suffer from some form of arthritis. This means that over 35 million people in this country will have arthritis. Additionally, arthritis is not limited to elderly people. Over one quarter of a million children suffer from arthritis in this country alone!

Another misconception about arthritis is that it is a disease of only the joints. Various forms of arthritis can affect not only the joints, but the eyes, the skin, the heart, the lungs, the kidneys, the spleen, the nerves, the blood vessels, the blood, and even the brain! We call this a systemic disorder (a disorder which affects many organ systems in the body). Of course, not all sufferers have every organ involved, but many patients do have symptoms outside the joints.

The greatest myth of all is that nothing can be done for arthritis and patients must learn to live with it. Nothing can be further from the truth. I find it unfortunate that in this day and age, we continue to see patients needlessly in pain for what could be a treatable illness. No cures for most forms of arthritis exist. However, most people can be treated successfully with medication, physical therapy, and exercise, improving their overall medical condition and physical well-being. A consultation with a physician or rheumatologist is recommended should you suspect that you have arthritis.

Arthritis strikes one out of seven people. Learn the facts. Call for your complimentary copy of "The Joint Approach - An Arthritis Overview."

Special Trophy Donated to the Gregory Museum

Local resident Joseph Normandy has donated the trophy won by his famous racing dog "Hicksville" at the Raynham Derby in Massachusetts, to the Gregory Museum in Hicksville.

This donation is so significant because "Hicksville" attracted huge crowds on the days he raced in Massachusetts—including large entourages from New York, wearing t-shirts and jackets bearing Hicksville's colors—black and orange.

The evening that "Hicksville" won the derby, there were many of these colored jackets in the crowd. "Hicksville" qualified for six derbies and in every set of qualification races, always would win at least one round, which gives a racing dog the points to make the final races.

The pride of Hicksville, Long Island, was headed for 80 or more wins, which would have put him in the hall of fame of racing dogs in Abilene, Kansas. Although he only achieved 50 wins, he earned more than $100,000 in purse money in his year and a half of racing, before he tripped and broke his hock during a race.

His racing days over, "Hicksville" was retired to stud.

"Hicksville's" trophy can be observed at the Gregory Museum, which contains a history of the Town of Hickville and has many artifacts from the community's past.

Homeowners Edge. One of the only installment loans that's still tax deductible.

One by one they're disappearing.
All those deductions that used to make tax time somewhat less taxing.
Even the interest deduction on most installment loans is being phased out.

Which is why, if you own a house, condominium or co-op, you should know about Homeowners Edge* from The Bank of New York.
Especially if you plan on borrowing between $7,500 and $50,000.

With Homeowners Edge, 100% of the interest may be tax deductible. And because it's an installment loan, you can choose the variable rate and take up to 15 years to repay, or the fixed rate and take up to five years to repay. Either way, your regular monthly payment will remain fixed. And there are absolutely no upfront fees, points or closing costs. Homeowners Edge even offers one of the lowest rates of any leading bank for a loan of this kind.

McDonald's Launches Island Wide Recycling

Two Hicksville McDonald's restaurants plan to participate in a polystyrene recycling program along with 52 Nassau-Suffolk McDonald's, as of September.

This program will require McDonald's customers to place their polystyrene foam and other plastic packaging in special trash bins marked "for recyclable plastic only."

Harold Berger, Long Island Regional Director of the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation, said, "The program announced is consistent with our efforts to encourage recycling and reducing the waste stream on Long Island. We hope that other large companies follow McDonald's lead to undertake similar programs."

This program involves the collection and transportation of recyclable polystyrene to a recycling center where it will be turned into recycled plastic resins.

The resins will be sold to companies such as Rubbermaid, which will use it to create office and household items, including McDonald's own restaurant trays.

In a written statement, Ed Rensi, President of McDonald's USA, said, "Children have always been important to McDonald's, and we feel one of the best things we can do for children is to provide them with a safe, clean environment to grow up in. Today that commitment includes finding workable solutions to our nation's growing solid waste problem."

Class size is very limited. It is a two day course, Saturday, July 28 and Aug. 4 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Each participant, upon completion of the eight hour instructions and passing the test, will receive a first aid and CPR certificate and a standard first aid book.

Special Permit Sought For Gas Station

A request for a special use permit to alter a gasoline service station in Hicksville will be the subject of a public hearing by the Oyster Bay Town Board on Aug. 28.

The applicants, Tartan Oil Corporation and Ingraham Bedell Corporation and Stewart Berger and Richard Berge, are seeking a special use permit, in an "F" Business District (Neighborhood District) to alter a gasoline service station. The property is located at South Oyster Bay Road and Woodbury Road in Hicksville.

The meeting is scheduled for 10 a.m. in the hearing room of Town Hall East, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

Auxiliary Police Attend Service Training Program

Members of the Hicksville Auxiliary Police Unit 312 attended a New York State mandated in-service training program held at the Nassau County Police Academy in Williston Park, on June 28.

A three hour lecture given by the Police Academy staff consisted of the justification of force and deadly physical force according to the New York State Penal Law. The second part of the training will follow in August with the proper use of the Police Baton.

Attending this type of training is vital to the Officer's ability to retain and use this knowledge in the field, which results in a more confident and qualified volunteer officer.

Easter Seal Benefit Softball Game

Legionnaires' Log

By Greg Bennett

Charles Wagner Post #421,
Hicksville

Charles Wagner Legionnaires continued a proud tradition by raising our National Colors along Broadway on the 4th of July. This is a grand date—the birthday of our beloved nation. The United States of America continues to be the land of the free and the home of the brave.

The 3rd Annual Salute To Veterans will be held at Eisenhower Park on Saturday, August 4 with a music show starting at 8 p.m. at the lakeside bandshell. The show will feature the music of World War I. The show is a joint effort between the Nassau County Department of Parks and Recreation along with the Veterans Service Agency, and major veterans organizations.

A groundbreaking ceremony was held on Monday June 25, at the New York Korean Veterans Memorial site which overlooks the Statue of Liberty from Battery Park in New York City. This date was also the 40th anniversary of the start of the Korean War during which more than 54,000 Americans lost their lives. The ceremony was attended by veterans and representatives of the governments who comprised the United Nations Forces in Korea from 1950-1953. The Memorial will be a 20 foot high sculpture of black polished granite with the stainless steel cutout of a soldier. Flags of the 21 nations that served in the UN fighting forces in the war will be inscribed on the base of the monument. Contributions should be mailed to: The New York Korean Veterans Memorial Commission, P.O. Box 467, Church Street Station, New York, New York 10008.

In Nassau County plans are underway to erect a Korean War Monument, a Vietnam War Monument and a POW-MIA Monument at Eisenhower Park.

The next meeting of Charles Wagner American Legion Post 421 is Monday July 16 at 8 p.m. at 36 West Village Green, Hicksville. Until then remember our disabled veterans and our POW-MIA's.

SERVICE CO. INC.
LICENSED ELECTRICAL CONTRACTORS

SERVING LONG ISLAND OVER 23 YEARS

IN OUR CONTINUING EFFORTS TO GIVE OUTSTANDING SERVICE WE DEDICATE THIS COLUMN.

Electrical wiring is not a hobby. The home wiring hazards which can result when you attempt to do your own wiring because you're handy, or hire an unlicensed electrician, can lead to serious injury or death to you and your family. Electrical work is serious business and we all tend to be lulled into a false sense of security because we wire it, turn on the power and it works—It's OK. Right? Wrong! There is more to it than that.

So, I urge you to use a professional, licensed Electrical Contractor. Remember a non-licensed (moon-lighter) or handy person is not up on the latest code changes and does not carry any insurance. That's why he's cheaper and, by the way, can sue you personally if he gets hurt while performing this work for you!

Licensing provides the homeowner with recourse by reporting the Electrical Contractor to the Municipality that you reside in when he does not perform to code standards.

Giuseppe's: Westbury's Traditional Success

By Andrea Martone

Do you feel like eating home-made Italian food in a tight-knit community on Post Avenue where a trip to Little Italy would prove unnecessary? Head to Giuseppe's, where long-time locals will find owner Giuseppe still making dough for pizzas and whipping up tomato sauces like he did when he was a young boy of sixteen at the same establishment.

Giuseppe Iannucci has come a long way for himself. Having immigrated to Westbury in his teens with his mother, Giuseppe preferred washing dishes, making pizzas... anything to earn money. Despite earning his high school degree over the course of many years through the help of tutors, "school was not my favorite pastime," he admits. Giuseppe's teachers would nod in approval now if they saw the kind of business success Giuseppe has become. Having bought and expanded the once small pizzeria at 134 Post Ave., Giuseppe also opened the Union Fish Market three years ago, also in Westbury, a seafood retail business that is run primarily by his mother. "I'm the prime example for every kid who might immigrate here to America," says Giuseppe. "I proved that it's possible to succeed despite obstacles."

Maintaining the successful pizza take-out business that it had grown to become, Giuseppe's has expanded to include a separate dining room, complete with stained glass fixtures, captains chairs, oil paintings on the wall and pretty pink tablecloths where families can feel comfortable having a casual, laid-back dinner. An extensive menu gives a wide assortment of pasta dishes beginning at $4.75, complete with salad, or a choice of twenty entrees including veal, chicken, eggplant and sausage dishes. Prices, including servings with spaghetti or linguini, range from $7.25-$12.05. Adding to the list are a variety of seafood and special combination dishes, as well as hot and cold heros to suit everyone's tastes. Portions are plentiful and the price is right at Giuseppe's, so it's worth a trip with the whole family when you're in the neighborhood or passing through, and you want the most for your money.

Giuseppe and Fran Iannucci owners of Giuseppe's

You'll find no fancy wine lists at this restaurant, nor the dining ambiance conducive to intimate talk. Instead, beer and wine is the only alcohol that is served, and the radio is entertainment at Giuseppe's.

Giuseppe's claim to fame is the fact that he introduced the first "hippy rolls," that he invented in 1975 consisting of sausage, peppers and onions rolled up in pizza dough. Nowadays, they are referred to as sausage rolls and pizza pops and are popular at most pizzerias, though "never as good as mine," he admits. Having the fish market around the corner, Giuseppe has fresh seafood specialties daily including fresh calamari, scungilli, shrimp, mussels, clams, and scallops. Also fresh is the sausage that is home made on premises along with the desserts.

Sip a cappuccino or espresso at Giuseppe's after dinner and feel content.

25th Anniversary Celebration for Lamb Council

Grand Knight of the Lamb Council Josef Ort with past grand knight Robert Corrado, P.G.K. John Lombardi, and P.G.K. Otto Schmidtman.

By Frank Jopp

On June 22, the Joseph F. Lamb Knights of Columbus celebrated its 25th anniversary with a gala dinner dance at the Imperial Manor in Bethpage.

The council, organized in 1965, has always been very active in the community with its charity drives and other good endeavors.

More than 130 members of the council (past and present) and their wives and friends attended.

A cocktail hour was followed by an enjoyable dinner as many danced throughout the evening to the music of "Amici D'America."

At the onset of the dinner, Josef Ort, Lamb Grand Knight, welcomed everyone and talked about the origin and accomplishments of the council.

P.G.K. Bob Corrado, chairman of this event, introduced all of the past Grand Knights and their wives.

Special guests Charles Lagattuta (Nassau Suffolk chairman), Ed Duschowski (district deputy in 1965), and Otto Schmidtman (present 16th district deputy P.G.K.) were introduced as well.

A proclamation from the supreme council K of C, honoring the Lamb Council, was also received and read.

Fifteen former Grand Knights, their wives and present Grand Knight, Josef Ort, all from Lamb Council, were on hand to renew old friendships and reminisce.

DONOVAN REPORT

Joseph & Karen Donovan
 "Hicksville's Leading Brokers"

RENT HOME OUT OR SELL?

QUESTION: I plan to buy a larger home. Do you have any advice on the merits of selling versus renting out our present home?

ANSWER: I would strongly consider selling over renting. To keep the house rented, you'll have to pay advertising costs or fees to a broker. Maintenance costs take a bite out of rental income. Each time there is a turnover the house will have to be cleaned and redecorated. A vacancy can result in a loss that could take years to recover. A deadbeat tenant could take up to six months to evict plus legal costs. You're better off selling a single-family home and using the money to move up to a bigger and better home.

IT MAKES MORE SENSE to sell your house than to rent it out.

Deanne F. Purcell, a longtime customer said, "The Stallers have long been a part of this community." She added, "Starlight Shop's passing into history leaves a very large void that can't be filled."

Meadow Lane homeowners' concerns are similar to those of nearby Field Avenue which was also slated for road construction consisting of asphalt roadways, aprons, curbs and sidewalks wherever necessary.

Field Avenue was originally scheduled to be rehabilitated in a previous long-range drainage contract which included Edward and Walters Avenues. After Field Avenue homeowners objected to the work of their roadway, the Town's Department of Public Works reevaluated the Avenue. They determined that the Field Avenue section of the contract could be deleted since conditions were not as prevalent as other areas, according to Mayer. She added that the department will again consider Field Avenue as conditions deteriorate.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity. We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only. We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

Cut Costs

To The Editor:

The new School Board must work diligently to reduce the school budget. One avenue that needs to be taken is to combine administration duties wherever possible. A recent letter by H. Frey, mentions two positions (High School Assistant Principal and Director of Personal). These two positions can be combined with other existing positions.

Similarly the School Board should look further. For instance, do we need two Assistant School Superintendents for only 4,300 students (less than half of what it once was)? In times of declining enrollment administration cost must be reduced. Too much tax payers' money is wasted on non-educational expenses, with no benefit to our children!

Thanks For The Memories, Gene and Roz

Dear Roz and Gene:

For 44 years you served Hicksville well at Starlight Shop. We all came to buy apparel, handbags and jewelry. It always brightened my life to come into the store.

Saying 'goodbye' and 'thank you' is difficult without becoming very emotional. Starlight Shop's passing into history leaves a very large void that can't be filled. Some stores are just stores, but we all knew you for so many years. You were very important to us; as with close family and longtime friends.

Stores such as yours, run by husbands and wives, have been known as "Mom and Pop" stores. This certainly is true for you.

For you were there and we came with all of our problems and you solved them all with your expert advice.

Whether we came for your anniversary celebrations to buy or browse, we could share together our lives and our hopes for the future.

As for me, I knew from long experience that if I ever had a special occasion that I had to look nice for, you had a definite solution to my problem.

Roz and Gene, we will all miss you and your helpful employees. We will carry fond memories of all our years that we shared together.

—Deanne F. Porelli

Small Business Sought For Trade Missions

Want to go on a trade mission overseas? If you're a small business on Long Island, there may be an opportunity coming up for you.

An opportunity like the one just exploited by IMEL (Integrated Management Enterprises, Ltd.), of New York, which was one of seventeen small businesses that were chosen by the United States Small Business Administration and the Department of Commerce to participate in a trade mission to Lisbon, Madrid and Barcelona.

Said Mr. Frank M. Bachhus, president of IMEL, "This trade mission opened the world of export opportunities for our company."

Producers of personnel management computer software, IMEL had done very little in the way of international trade. "But we suspected that there was a huge demand for our product in Europe," said Mr. Bachhus. "The SBA mission confirmed our suspicions and we anticipate selling our product overseas. We discovered there is an excellent marketplace for U.S. high-tech products in Spain and Portugal, particularly with the impending 1992 unification of Europe."

The "Matchmaker Trade Mission" program is sponsored by the Small Business Administration (SBA) and the Department of Commerce. According to Charles Freeman, Regional Administrator of the SBA, the matchmaker missions are a success because "they are designed for the small business owner."

"These are cost-effective missions, accomplishing in one week what it might take months for a small company or individual to achieve," he added.

The SBA is seeking small businesses from New York State to participate in the remaining missions schedules for this year. They include visits to: Seoul/Taipei, September 10-14, on food processing; Barcelona/Genoa, October 8-12, on Pleasure Boats; London/Stockholm, October 15-19, on Computers; and London, November 27-29, on Medical supplies.

In addition, the SBA offers $500 to the first ten companies that participate in each mission, helping the small business owner defray the cost of the mission.

Contact the SBA at 212-264-4981 for details.

EAB HELPS THE DUCK: As part of the campaign to save Long Island's 'Big Duck,' EAB recently collected $1,000 in donations from six of its branches, and matched it with another $1000 of its own, to help make a permanent museum of the landmark. At the presentation are (l-r): J. Lance Mallamo, Director of Historic Services, Suffolk County; EAB Riverhead Branch Manager Barbara Halpin; EAB Senior Vice President Vincent Alessi; and Gerald S. Kessler, President of the Friends of Long Island Heritage.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

...One of the old-time customs which I do not miss is the wearing of black mourning clothes...You remember how it was—women wore black from head to toe—and maybe underwear?—for long periods—maybe a year—after the death of a loved one...and then they gradually, over many months, returned to color—lavender or gray at first...and maybe white if it were summer...but no red, yellow, orange, or blue for such a long time...In fact, when my uncle died, his mother who was my grandmother never wore anything but black until her death at 87...and my Mother, sister of the deceased, actually wore black to my wedding because it took place within the mourning period!...It was the custom and "what will people say if I don't observe it?"...But, did it make anyone feel better or worse about the loss...and how would the deceased feel about seeing his family looking so droopy?...In some countries I have visited, like Greece, mourning is taken very seriously, and since, by the time the end of the mourning period for one person has passed, another has died, and so, many Greek women wear black their entire adult lives...If you want to keep the old tradition, that's up to you and I have no quarrel with your decision, but I really don't like to have someone say of me, "You really can't have cared much for your Father since you didn't even wear black to his funeral!"...Let us each choose to mourn in our own way...and I hope none of us has reason to mourn for a very long time.

Yours, Lulabelle

HOW TO PICK A STOCK BROKER

A stock broker can be an important person in your life. The brokers serves as an advisor and a confidant. This person is entrusted to a great degree with your financial health. To choose a broker is an important financial decision for anyone. This article deals with how not to pick a stock broker. Then how to pick one. I was appalled to find out that most of the brokers do not know their customers. I have former students who are brokers in medium sized and small firms. One went with a small firm last year. He recruited another student to work with him. Several of my present students are brokers who only operate part time. They came back to finish their degrees.

One returned student just makes a living because it is part time. Another does very well. He works hard at it. One, who graduated a year ago, makes about $150,000 per year. The newly recruited student hopes to be on that gravy train soon.

What I find so curious is the method of getting new clients. They use the telephone to cold call people, many, many phone calls. They spend their life on the phone. It seems that this is the norm rather than the exception for new brokers. It applies to the big firms also. After they build a cadre of customers the need to cold call stops.

This method gets them almost 100 percent of their customers. The scary part is that 70 percent or more of the customers have never met the broker. It is a telephone relationship. The broker and the customer know nothing about the other. The customer knows little about the firm with which they are dealing. This is the first way NOT to pick a broker.

It is not my intent to make it difficult for my former students to get clients. My intent is to see that the readers of this column do not become their clients.

The product line that the firms peddle is the second reason for not picking them. They sell new issue companies, risky stuff. They are penny stock companies. They may be perfectly good companies. In one student's case, this seems to be true. What I have seen are good. My objection is that these stocks are sold, and sold hard. That the stocks may not be appropriate for the customer is immaterial. The object is to get them sold. That is how they make the big bucks. It is my definition of a stock bucket shop. It is to be avoided.

People give their money to someone they know little or nothing about. They put their money into companies on the recommendation of someone they have never met. To me this is stupidity. It is a formula to lose money.

It happens over and over again.

There are ways to find a broker. The first, is to go to a brokerage house, seek out the manager of the branch and ask for a recommendation. If you have plenty of money to invest, do not be surprised that the manager recommends the manager. This method is only a little bit better than finding a broker by telephone. Do not go in and take the next up broker. This is the daily designated person who gets all walk-ins for the day.

The way to hire a broker is to call your friends who use brokers. You go out and shop. You go and interview more than one. Do it the same way you would hire a doctor or a lawyer. You do not want just anybody, you want the best. The more you are going to rely on the broker for advice, the more time the search will take. It is a very important decision. Your friends will not want to lose you as a friend, so any recommendation will be valid.

If you don't need the brokers advice, then get the cheapest discount brokerage house you can find. If you want some service, then get a semi-discount brokerage house. Be sure that they are members of SPIC.

My next to last piece of advice on the hiring of a broker is never ever give anyone complete discretion over your money. You must always be involved in the decision, to say yes or no.

Lastly, examine your statements. You get confirmation of all trades from the firm. Get the monthly statements and be sure that you know about all trades that took place. You do not want to end up in the arbitration process. It is costly and risky. After all, it is only your money you are protecting. How important is that to you?

'Hand-Sewn' Chilean Art In Hofstra Show

Smuggled Messages From The Andes...

Arpilleras - hand-sewn pictures from Chile - they may be colorful, but according to Dr. Frances Kaplan, of Hofstra, they contain dark messages reflecting the hardships of women under the rule of a military dictatorship.

An exhibit of these colorful, hand-sewn pictures will be on display at Hofstra University from July 16 through September 7, 1990, in a show entitled "Arpilleras Of Chile: An Exhibit of Pictorial Appliques By Chilean Women."

Dr. Kaplan, coordinator of Hofstra's Creative Arts Therapy Program, was inspired to bring the exhibit to the University when she saw Dr. Adele McCollum's private collection of arpilleras on display at Montclair State College in New Jersey. She was impressed by the therapeutic qualities the work possessed.

According to Dr. Kaplan, many of the artists lost their sons and/or husbands during the time of political unrest. That period, she said, lasted from 1974 to just this past year. In her view, making these pictures was the only

"In our society, we come to think of art as a frill. There are some instances where art is a last resort, one's only means of communication" means of expressing anguish. "In our society, we come to think of art as a frill," noted Dr. Kaplan. "But there are some instances where art is a last resort, one's only means of communication."

The Spanish word "Arpillera" means burlap, referring to the backing material for these pictures. While arpilleras are made in other Latin American countries, those in the exhibit are unique in that they have a distinct, troubled message to convey.

The circuitous route by which the artwork has come to America, alone, is a story in itself. According to Dr. Kaplan, the Chilean women were convinced by their local churches to sell the arpilleras. They were then smuggled out of the country, so that the Chilean pleas for help would be heard by the outside world.

Dr. Kaplan also believes that the multicultural aspect of the arpilleras are important. "Our society is not that knowledgeable about South America," she said. "This exhibit offers people a chance to learn more about that culture."

"Arpilleras Of Chile" may be viewed at Hofstra's Calkins Gallery in Calkins Hall from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. And opening reception will be held on Tuesday, July 17, from 4 to 6 p.m. For more information, call 560-5752.

Dinosaurs Return To Sands Point

Giant animated roaring dinosaurs!

Yes, the dinosaur exhibit will return to Castlegould at Sands Point Preserve this week, when "Dinosaurs Live II" opens on Saturday July 14. On display daily till January 1991, the show should delight kids and grownups alike with its ghastly, life-like quality - right down to the roar.

According to the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, "Dinosaurs Live II" is different from last year's exhibit, featuring a great new gathering of seven, giant adult dinosaurs and their babies, in a setting that recreates the warm, moist climate of the Age of the Dinosaurs.

For those of you who don't know it, that's a period that began about 245 million years ago.

The three-quarter scale creatures will include some real beauties, say county officials. They include:

Malasaura*, a plant eater which grew to 30 feet long. Its skeleton was first discovered in 1978 and was named "the good mother reptile", because it was found near a rookery of nests and fossilized young dinosaurs. This, it is suggested, indicated that Malasaura looked after its young.

Apatosaurus*, formerly known as Bronchosaurus, which is shown foraging for plants - of which they consumed some one and a half tons a day. They were 30 feet long and weighed 30 tons.

Ankylosaurus*, a massive armored dinosaur whose body and limbs were protected by spines and bone plates. A wide tail club was swung from side to side, giving powerful blows to any attacker. Ankylosaurus young were also protected by their mother.

Triceratops*, a well-known creature with three horns, which also grew to 30 feet. Some of its key characteristics? A neck frill that was edged with zig-zag knobs of bone, and those three incredible horns.

Tyrannosaurus*, the largest meat-eater of all the dinosaurs, complete with 60 sharp, serrated teeth which grew to a length of six inches. This crowd pleaser will be represented by a 15 foot tall animation.

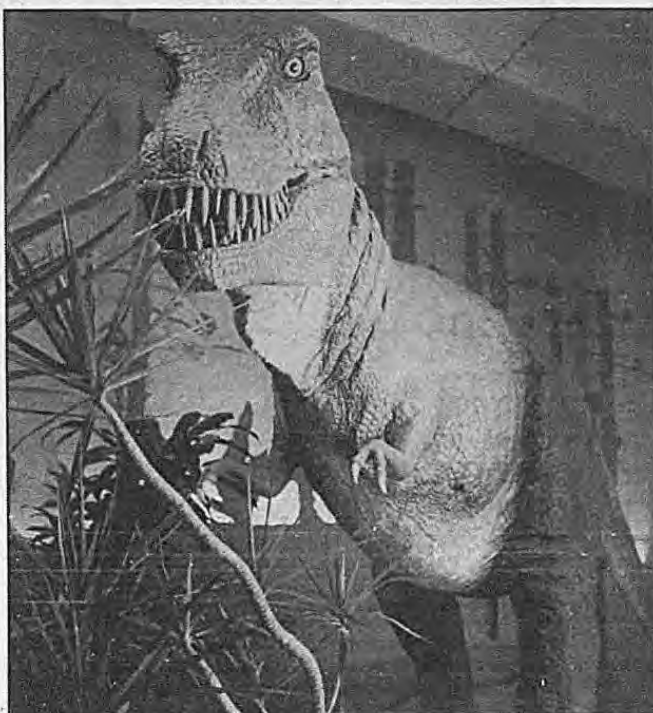

Two life size non-animated replicas, which will remain in Nassau County's natural history collection, round out the herd.

Visitors may also visit the Dino Den, where students and older visitors can learn about dinosaur biology, behavior, evolution and their extinction. The Dino Den is also equipped with computer games, puzzles, a dino dig and more.

It even has dinosaur try-on tails.

"Dinosaurs Live II" was created by Kokoro, the original mechanical dinosaur creator, and is sponsored by the Friends for Long Island's Heritage. The admission fee to the show, which is open from 10 am to 4:30 pm daily, is $5 for adults, $3 for senior citizens, and $2 for children 3-12. Reservations are required for schools and other groups by calling 883-1612.

Sands Point Preserve, a 216-acre former Gold Coast estate overlooking Long Island Sound, is operated by the Museum Services Division of the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks. It is located on Middle Neck Road in Sands Point, six miles north of the Long Island Expressway at Exit 36, Seasingtown Road. For more information, call 944-DINO.

T-REX, THE LARGEST MEAT EATING DINOSAUR, will roar and rule when "Dinosaurs Live II" opens on Saturday, July 14 for a six month stay at Sands Point Preserve.

Island Landscapes In Museum Show

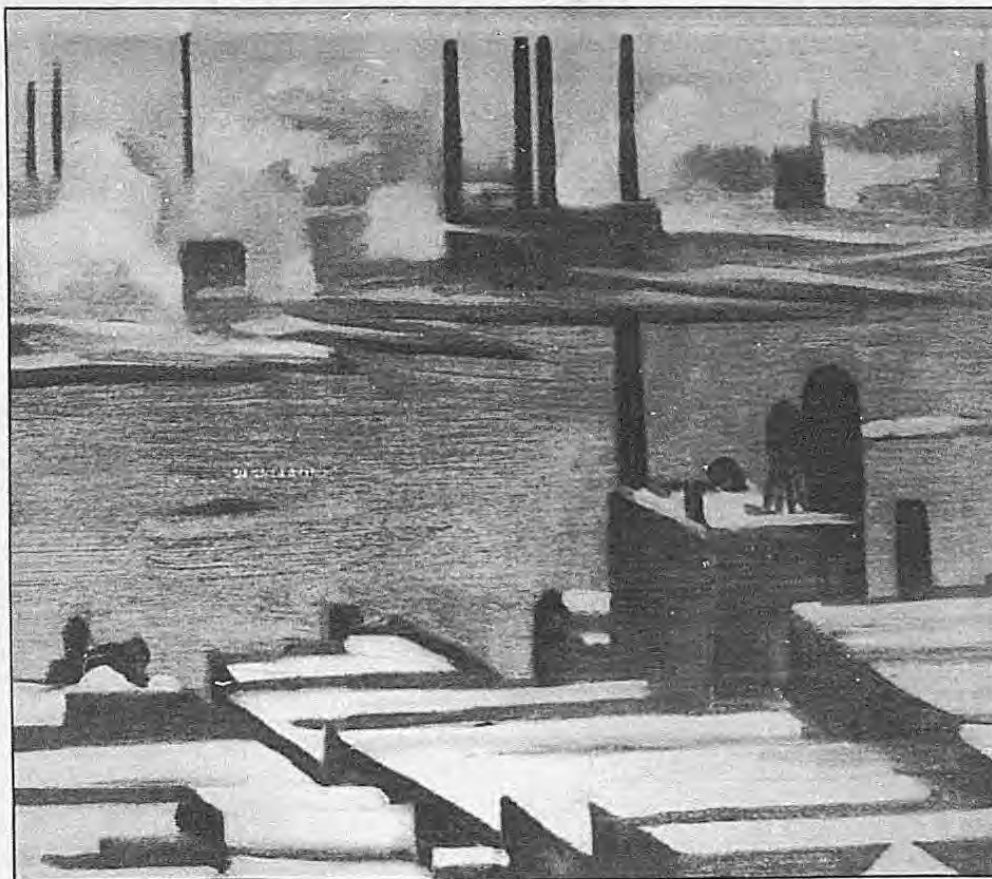

Paintings and works on paper depicting the Long Island landscape during the 20th century will be on view at the Heckscher Museum from June 30 through August 26. Based on Ronald G. Pisano's book, called "Long Island Landscape Painting: The Twentieth Century," the exhibition is co-curated by Mr. Pisano and the Heckscher Museum's curator Anna C. Noll. Comprising some 35 works, the exhibition includes work by numbers of artists with national reputations, including some with a particular Long Island identification. John Marin, Arthur Dove, Jennifer Bartlett, Lee Krasner, Larry Rivers, Georgia O'Keeffe and Fairfield Porter are among those whose paintings will be on view at the Heckscher exhibition.

Stylistically, the images in "Long Island Landscape Painting: The Twentieth Century" range from early modernism through abstract expressionism towards gestural realism. As the artistic styles evolved so did the landscapes, from the rural Long Island of the early 20th century to today's more urban environment. A companion exhibition, called "Twentieth Century Long Island Landscape Painting" also co-curated by Ronald G. Pisano and based on his book, is on view at the Museums at Stony Brook from June 17 to November 25.

Mr. Pisano, a former director of the Parrish Museum in Southampton, is an independent art historian and writer who is a noted authority on the works of the 19th century American artist, William Merritt Chase. His 1985 volume documented Long Island landscapes of the 19th century. Speaking of his newest book, published this year by Bulfinch Press of Little, Brown and Company, Mr. Pisano said, "It was a natural progression to go on to the 20th century since so many artists are active in the area."

Mr. Pisano noted that many of the illustrations of Long Island landscape painting he used in his book are held in private collections or are owned by museums off Long Island. He was instrumental with Ms. Noll in obtaining some of these works for the Heckscher Museum exhibition.

YANKEES 10 CARDS 1

The Yanks and the Cards played a first rate game. Playing together for only the second time, the Cards had some opening day jitters but once they settled down they played quite an impressive game. Catcher Chris Jamison played a great game behind the plate. Matt Koenig pitched three strong innings, with second baseman Eric Pasquarelli making a heads up play at second base to get the Cards out of a tough inning. Tommy Moscato had the first hit of the game, a single up the middle in the first inning.

Yanks Peter Ruffini hit a grand slam home run. Robby Dwyer did an outstanding job as starting pitcher. Bradley Zaglin provided the team with a three run homer and great pitching the last two innings. Ryan Pingitore handled some great plays at second base. Andrew Panica did a great job as shortstop. Mike Elkati played well at first base. Catching duties were well handled by Shaun Ruland and Kevin Short. Brandon Ruland contributed well to the team with his hitting and fielding. Joshua Beasley, Brian Citrino, Robert Horden and Nikhil Verma played hard in the outfield helping the Yanks to a 10 to 1 victory.

CARDS 12 A'S 6

The first week of play saw good playing on both teams. There was good pitching by A's pitchers Eddie Eicholz and Michael Kearney. The hot bat of A's Danny Dunleavy, Matthew Dunleavy, Ian Hausner and John Mohrman contributed to the game.

Sub-Intermediates Division

On Thursday, July 5, the A's played the Cards. The Cards jumped out to an 8 to 0 lead in the first inning. Then it was the A's turn. With 3 runs in the second, 1 run in the 4th, 4 runs in the 5th and 3 runs in the 6th the A's came back to win 11-9. There were 3 perfect innings by Pitcher Mike Whitman who also had a double, and 2 rbi's held the Cards in check through the middle innings. Danny Russo then shut the door giving up only 2 hits in 2 innings. The hitting stars for the A's were many. Robert Lane hit a 2 run double, Bobby Hughes an rbi single, Josh Aaron was on base twice with 2 stolen bases and a run scored. Bob Braun, who shared catching duties with Justin Serpico, went 2 for 3 with 2 rbi's. Justin, scored a run and the two were superb behind the plate. Neil Swanson hit a 3 run homer that got everyone's attention. Craig Kemmlein had a single, 2 stolen bases and a run scored. Hubert Hu went 1 for 3 and scored twice. Scott Salz had an RBI single.

Intermediate Division

A'S 11 CARDS 5

This was an exciting game with a pitcher's duel to the fifth when the A's scored 5 with hits by Chris Thayer and Ed Kurz. The A's Chris McInerney and Greg Henglein pitched a strong game. Good catches in the outfield by Jarrod Pfeifer and Mark Ample lead the A's to this win.

On Saturday June 30, the Cubs defeated the Dodgers, 4-3, to capture the bragging rights of the senior division of the Hicksville Baseball Association.

These two teams finished first and second, respectively, in their division. Good defense and outstanding pitching by Mat Lewis and Andrew McLoughlin held the Dodgers in check. Hustle and clutch hitting were a big factor in the victory. It was a total team effort. Congratulations Cubbies on a grand finale to a terrific season.
