Library Takes A Bigger Byte Into Computers

By Rita Langdon

Computerization is becoming a more prevalent tool at the Hicksville Public Library as the facility beefs up its services.

Construction is underway for a new wing that will accommodate the library's computers and a portion of the reference department.

The growing number of computer classes during the past two years had resulted in a need for a central location to host the programs, according to assistant library director Celeste Watman.

"The computer room is a definite advantage [because] we formerly held classes in the local history room which was very cramped," said Watman. "This will provide us with a much more comfortable environment."

In addition to having three computers and work stations in the room, a personal reader for the blind—called Xerox/Kurzwell Personal Reader—will be available as well.

A new computer room is under construction on the northeast side of the library.

Classes for that computer—which was donated by local businessmen, personal donations and the library—will be offered. The room comes equipped with printers which can be used free of charge.

The new room will also have tables and chairs to be used as a quiet study area, Watman said.

In addition, the reference department will be expanded into the computer room because "our current collection is very tight," Watman said. Shelving will also be added for reference material.

The cost to build the computer room is $156,392, but due to a state grant of $9,852, the final cost is $146,540. Other funds to pay for the construction comes from fines and fees and budget money, according to Ken Barnes, library director.

The new wing, which is approximately 11-12,000 square feet, will replace the former patio on the northeast side of the building. No completion date has yet been set.

The room will be named after the late Peter DeNinno, a longtime library board trustee.

The library's Community Room is also experiencing the effects of modernization. The room, which is widely used by local organizations as well as library programs, has received a ceiling to floor face-lift.

"We realized the purposes of the room had expanded," Watman said. Because many of the programs the library offers requires the use of a stage, one was built. Other construction includes a new public address system, ceiling, lighting, floor and track lighting around the perimeter.

"We really wanted to improve the looks of the auditorium and we wanted to make it a better place to exhibit paintings, photographs and other art exhibits that we had in the library," said Barnes. He noted that the Community Room was in dire need of construction because it was never fully completed although it was useable throughout the years.

Watman added, "I think it is a colossal improvement. I am really proud of it."

Construction of the Community Room which officially opened at the end of July, took four weeks to complete. Library officials had originally wanted to renovate the room last year, but were unable to because asbestos had to be removed, Watman said.

Funds to pay for the cost of the Community Room came mostly from fines and fees and budget money that had been saved for a couple of years for this project. Barnes said. The total cost for the auditorium's renovation was $100,062.

An exhibition of paintings by Robyn Bellospirito are the first works to grace the walls of the new room. That exhibition is open to the public through Aug. 31.

A rededication ceremony for both the new computer and community rooms is scheduled for September.

The construction of the computer Community Rooms have been the most major projects of the library since the local history room was constructed in 1985.

We're All Wet!

For a couple of years now, ever since we became water conscious, everyone's known you can't water your lawn between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Everyone, that is, except us.

Well, that's not entirely true. We do know the watering regulations, but somehow, what was in our heads didn't get in our paper last week.

Generally, we would address such an unintentional error in a small correction statement elsewhere in the paper. This case is different, not because of the severity of the mistake, but due to the reaction of our readers.

The calls came in quickly and they came in often. Most simply wanted to point out to us, gently, our error. We stopped counting after 20 calls.

So here's our correction: You may not water your lawn between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. If you do, let the record show that we're no longer to blame.

Hicksville Has A Home Away From Home

By Jim McCrann

After months of preparation and anticipation, seven local fire department members embarked on a journey out west.

Having traveled hundreds of miles, they finally reached their destination — Hicksville!

No, they didn't take a wrong turn. They really did end up in Hicksville, Hicksville, Ohio, to be exact.

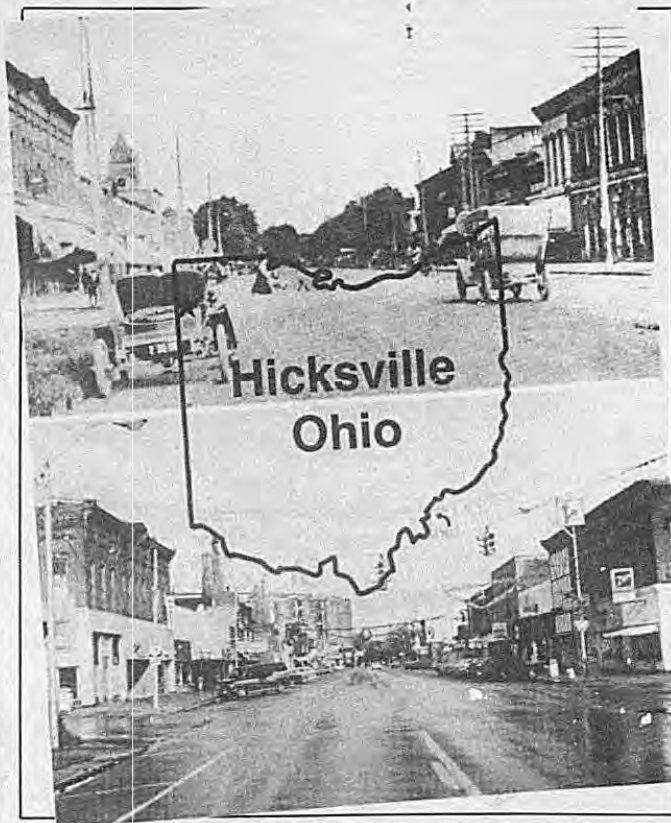

With a population of only 4,500 people and a landscape marked by farmland, Hicksville, Ohio, bears little resemblance to the Hicksville, N.Y. of today. For the oldtimers of Hicksville, N.Y., going to Ohio would be like journeying back to our Hicksville of the 1940s, with small stores and open spaces.

Hicksville, Ohio is a small rural town located near the Ohio Indiana border. Though it is small in size, Hicksville is actually a major marketing center for the wheat, when Mike Brown, a lieutenant in the Hicksville, Ohio Fire Department, visited Long Island's fire department while on vacation in New York.

Since that time, the two departments have kept in touch while exchanging fire helmets, patches and other items. The Hicksville, Ohio Fire Department, and its chief Joe Stotler, extended an invitation to Hicksville, N.Y.'s fire department to participate in the anniversary celebration.

Like the town itself, the Hicksville, Ohio Fire Department is much smaller than Hicksville, N.Y.'s own; it has 31 members as compared to our 265 members. And though it covers approximately 96 square miles (including other townships and parts of Indiana) compared to our department's five square miles, the Hicksville, Ohio department only responds to about 365 calls per year whereas corn, oats and beans which are grown on the surrounding farms. The village has its own fire department, police department, city council and mayor. There is a Hicksville High School (home of the Aces, not the Comets), a Little League, a Hicksville Chamber of Commerce, a Kiwanis Club, a newspaper — the Hicksville News-Tribune, and even a Bank of Hicksville.

This year marks the 100th anniversary of the founding of Hicksville, Ohio's, fire department. Members of the Hicksville, N.Y. Fire Department were invited to participate in the celebration that took place June 15-18. Seven Hicksville firemen took part in the festivities: Hicksville Fire District Commissioner William Schuckmann, Charles DeStefano, Chris Haggerty, Mike Sheehan, Spike Thunnell, Jim Fiore and John Hanifan.

The correspondence between the two Hicksville, Fire Departments began in 1986 our department responds to close to 1,500 alarms.

Though originally founded in 1890, the roots of the Hicksville, Ohio fire department actually go back to 1872 when an organization of volunteers responded to fires by gathering any fire-fighting equipment they could find and forming a "bucket brigade."

The village subsequently purchased buckets which the volunteer firemen kept at home and brought to every fire.

It then built underground water storage tanks throughout the town. This proved to be inadequate, so in 1890 a new fire department was formed by the village council with a new hand-drawn hose cart and a hook and ladder. The village also funded the construction of a new waterworks system. A new firehouse was constructed to house the equipment. Ironically, the first firehouse was destroyed in a fire in 1892.

Coinciding with the 100th anniversary of the fire department was Hicksville's hosting of the annual Northwestern Ohio Volunteer Fireman's Association convention for the first time since 1933. This event drew tens of thousands of volunteer firemen and family members from all over the state.

Hicksville, N.Y.'s firemen were among the honored guests.

Upon arriving at Hicksville, Ohio on June 15, the Hicksville, N.Y. firemen were welcomed to a small party in their honor at the firehouse. They were then given a tour of Hicksville, Ohio.

Friday, June 16 was "Friday Fun Night." Hicksville, Ohio's Main Street, similar to our Broadway, was closed from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. and our firemen were given the opportunity to ride in the firetrucks of their Ohio counterparts. Saturday was the first day of the convention. The firemen attended the convention along with a luncheon at a local church. They were also interviewed by a local radio station at the high school.

The highlight of the trip was a parade on Saturday in which Hicksville, N.Y. Fire Commissioner William Schuckmann served as Grand Marshal while the other Hicksville, N.Y. firemen followed behind in convertibles.

The name of the town was not the only thing that made the Hicksville New Yorkers feel at home in Hicksville, Ohio—the people were very hospitable.

"They treated us like we were royalty," said Rita Hanifan who went with her husband John.

Nevertheless, seeing the name Hicksville on so many foreign objects made many of them feel a bit awkward at times.

The local firemen and their families who visited Hicksville, Ohio found more than just a town bearing the same namesake. Many of them felt as if they had traveled back in time to the Hicksville, N.Y. of yesteryear. And though Hicksville, Ohio may not be quite the same as Hicksville, N.Y., at least it can be called a home away from home.

Hicksville Sex Abuse Case Headed For Trial

By Rita Langdon

The case against Robert Izzo is slowly moving closer to trial as Nassau County Court Judge Marvin Goodman last week set Sept. 12 as a final date for submission of legal arguments.

At a conference last week, Izzo's attorney, Frank Doddato, told Goldman that Izzo, an alleged child abuser, would not take a plea to a lesser charge. A negotiated plea would have resulted in a definite sentence and avoided a trial.

Assistant Nassau District Attorney Maureen Riordan said that she wanted to consolidate the cases brought against Izzo into one trial. She added that there are 28 witnesses, mostly children.

Izzo himself did not attend the court session, saying through his attorney that he did not wish to be photographed.

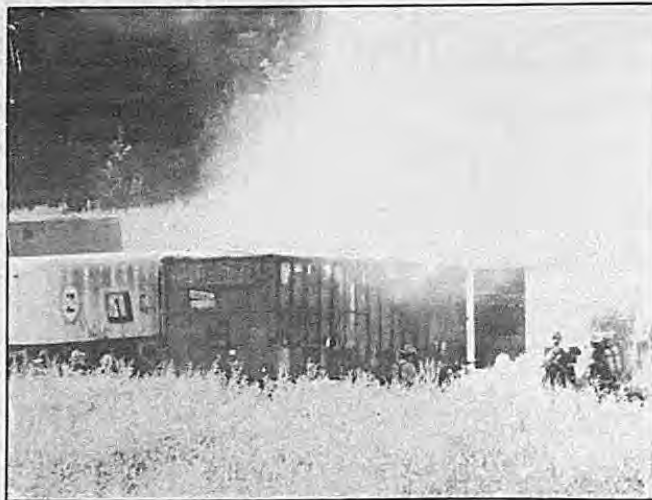

Izzo, who has maintained his innocence, is still being held in the Nassau County Jail in East Meadow.

Parents whose children were allegedly sexually abused by Izzo, a former Hicksville school bus driver, filled all the seats in the room, with some having to wait outside. Usually, there is no standing allowed in a court room. Superintendent of Schools Dr. Catherine Fenton and one school board member, Patricia Rooney, were present at last week's conference.

One parent at the court house said that he will continue to attend the proceedings. Said Bill Delaney, a Hicksville parent, "This is a strong case and we're going all the way."

After the conference, Riordan met with parents to answer questions and brief them on future plans, said Ed Grilli, spokesperson for Nassau County District Attorney Denis Dillon. "This has been a continuing dialogue," said Grilli, who added, "The parents have been cooperative."

Once the final pre-trial motions have been decided, a definite date for jury selection will be set.

The wheels of an empty tractor trailer at American Transfer, 341 Duffy Avenue, caught fire from an unknown source last Thursday at about 4:45 p.m. About 35 firemen and three chiefs were at the scene. It took about 15 minutes to put out the flames. Because a sign on the trailer said "Danger," indicating that there were dangerous items inside, the firemen had to proceed with caution. It was later discovered that the trailer was empty.

A dump truck was found smashed against the Airborne Express building at 353 West John Street on Sunday at about 12:45 p.m. The driver could not be located and no one knows how or why the truck hit the building, a Hicksville Fire Department spokesperson said. Firemen were called to clean up the gasoline that was spilling from the truck's gas tank and headed for a catch basin. Here, firefighters use speedy dry to clean up the gas.

TO YOUR HEALTH

By RICHARD H. BLAU, M.D.

Carpal Tunnel Syndrome - A Common Cause Of Hand Discomfort

Carpal Tunnel Syndrome (CTS) results from entrapment of the nerves which go from the wrists into the hands. The wrist contains many structures in close proximity, all of which pass through a very narrow area, not unlike a tunnel. When crowding of this tunnel occurs, the structures become compressed, and damage to the nerves occurs.

The median nerve is most commonly involved. This nerve begins in the neck, runs through the arm, and into the hand. It supplies movement and feeling for the thumb, the index finger, and part of the middle finger.

Burning, tingling, and numbness of the fingers, often at night or early morning, are the usual symptoms of CTS. This discomfort may initially be relieved by shaking or exercising the hand. Some patients also find that the numbness radiates up the arm. If left untreated for long periods of time, weakness and loss of muscle mass in the hand can occur.

Inflammation or swelling of the structures within the wrist often produce this syndrome. The more common causes include: arthritis, tendonitis, thyroid disease, injury to the wrist, and even fluid retention associated with pregnancy. Due to the frequent association of carpal tunnel syndrome with arthritis and inflammation, people with this disorder are often treated by rheumatologists.

Once the diagnosis has been established, the initial treatment is often conservative. Included in the treatment is the use of anti-inflammatory medications and splinting of the wrist at night. If these measures should fail, an injection of medication into the area is often helpful. In the non-responsive forms of the disorder, surgery may be a consideration.

Arthritis strikes one out of seven people. Learn the facts. Call for your complimentary copy of "The Joint Approach - An Arthritis Overview."

With regard to these investments pillars, he suggested there should be an appropriate mix between interest sensitive securities and equity securities. # Plan A Trip To The Map Man In Hicksville

By A. Anthony Miller

If you're planning any kind of a trip, perhaps your first stop should be at 128 Broadway in Hicksville.

That's the location of The Map Man, a store actually owned by a woman and her husband who have in stock at least 7,500 different kinds of maps—and more coming in all the time.

Want to go to Greene County, New York? No problem. Dawn O'Neill and husband Ron Billing can sell you street maps for every county in the state.

Planning a trip to Algiers? Maybe you're thinking of Zagreb, Yugoslavia? Or anywhere in between? No problem for The Map Man.

How did all this come about? For 12 years, The Map Man was Joseph Morris of Levittown, who ran the business from his home, and primarily sold Hagstrom Maps to commercial accounts in the area.

Six years ago, he decided to retire, and sold the venture to Ms. O'Neill and her husband. Dawn, a native and lifelong resident of Hicksville, elected to expand it and in May, 1989, selected a Hicksville site as a central point for her customers in Nassau and western Suffolk.

The couple took space in a store in a new shopping center directly across from Saint Ignatius Church. It's easy to reach either from the Northern State Parkway and the Expressway, or from the Southern State Parkway (get off at the Wantagh Avenue exit and go North).

In September, 1989, The Map Man opened its doors to the public. Less than a year later, it's already outgrown its space, and next month, Dawn and Ron will mark their first anniversary by expanding to make room for the additional stock and merchandise they want to display.

There are maps available for every country and major city. And if it exists but isn't in stock, Dawn and Ron can get it, usually in less than two weeks. They're members of the International Map Dealers' Association, an organization of more than 300 publishers, retailers and distributors of maps, and have excellent contacts.

Presently open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturdays, hours of The Map Man will expand in the fall to remain open until 6 p.m. Saturdays, and from noon to 4 p.m. Sundays.

You can reach The Map Man by telephone at 931-8404.

Their mail order business is expanding, say Ron and Dawn, and while at present payment must be by cash or check only, they will soon make arrangements to accept credit cards.

With the help of Dawn's brother, Chris

O'Neill, an outside salesman for the company, and Mary Lynn Rohr, the store manager, The Map Man has expanded to stock travel guides, geography-related children's educational materials, and what Dawn said is "the largest selection of globes on Long Island."

Another new feature: topographical maps of the area. Dawn and Ron recently became agents for the sale of government maps. Like to go camping or hunting? Maps showing the best spots in New Jersey and New York are in a separate display rack.

Want more? Not only does The Map Man have the largest selection of world atlases on Long Island, but Dawn and Ron will arrange custom mounting and framing of any map.

And before the holiday season, Dawn said, the stock will again expand to include a larger children's section and map-related gift items for the holidays.

A trip to The Map Man may be just the perfect way to begin any journey.

Dawn and her husband, Ron, put globes on shelves inside The Map Man.

Road Construction Results in Tree Removal

A plan to install catch basins on Meadow Lane to correct the severe drainage problem has resulted in the removing of seven trees, according to Town of Oyster Bay spokesperson Phyllis Barry.

Some Meadow Lane neighbors told town officials in June that they feared the loss of the trees would destroy the "countryfied" look of the area which is known as Hicksville Gardens.

After the residents met with officials, Barry said the town supervisor, Angelo Dellagatti, agreed to look at the plans again and review other alternatives to the drainage problem. "No one likes to see trees come down," Barry said. "But sometimes they have to."

Barry noted that all the trees will be replaced. She added that if the town had enforced its original plan to widen the road, "we would have lost an additional eight trees and many more would have been severely trimmed." The standard width of a street is 33 feet, but Meadow Lane will remain between 24 to 26 feet. Other construction includes installing Belgium Block curbs, Barry said.

One resident, in a telephone conversation last week, said he was never notified that the trees would come down.

"All of a sudden there were sewer pipes thrown on everyone's lawns and red marks on the trees," said Bruce Bennett. He added that a town official said at the June meeting that he would notify all residents of construction plans.

Barry said that everyone on the block should have been notified, but due to an error, only the three homes directly involved were informed. She added that the contractor "misunderstood" the town official's request to notify all residents. She also said that the three homes involved were notified by a hand-delivered message. Of the three, two spoke directly to the messenger and there were "no problems" reported, Barry said.

Most of the old tax deductions have been eliminated. One hasn't.

Homeowners Edge. One of the only installment loans that's still tax deductible.

One by one they're disappearing.
All those deductions that used to make tax time somewhat less taxing.

Even the interest deduction on most installment loans is being phased out.

Which is why, if you own a house, condominium or co-op, you should know about Homeowners Edge* from The Bank of New York.
Especially if you plan on borrowing between $7,500 and $50,000.

With Homeowners Edge, 100% of the interest may be tax deductible. And because it's an installment loan, you can choose the variable rate and take up to 15 years to repay, or the fixed rate and take up to five years to repay. Either way, your regular monthly payment will remain fixed. And there are absolutely no upfront fees, points or closing costs. Homeowners Edge even offers one of the lowest rates of any leading bank for a loan of this kind.

History Of U.S. Flag Exhibit At The Library

It's been 14 years since Hicksville's grand American Revolution Bicentennial programs. The Hicksville Public Library will recall that stirring year for the foreseeable future with a colorful wall exhibit in the Elery Bean Memorial Wing of the library.

The Library's "Local Community Collection" historian, Richard Evers, has arranged for the display of 12 5x7 foot Colonial and Revolutionary War flags, the gift of an anonymous donor.

Sol Bleck, proprietor of the American Drive-in cleaners in the Woodbury Shopping Center, assisted the Library by steam pressing the flags.

The public is invited to see these identified flag replicas which so colorfully illustrate some of the flag history of the U.S.A.

At the Hicksville Public Library

Sensational Summer Salads

On Wednesday, Aug. 15, at 8 p.m., the Hicksville Public Library is offering a special program: Sensational Summer Salads. This program continues the focus on Heart Healthy foods that the library has been featuring in its cooking presentations.

"If it tastes good, it can't be good for you"... heard that one before? Anne Winsch, R.D.M.S., will show how to incorporate delicious salads into a Heart Healthy diet plan. "Gourmet" condiments will be discussed and recipes for salads made with Couscous, Quinoa and "Oriental" style chicken.

Library Bookmobile

The Hicksville Public Library Bookmobile is permanently out of service and all Bookmobile Books must be returned to the library at 169 Jerusalem Avenue. No fines will be charged for books returned late.

Children's Computer Program

Ruth Hermann, a Nassau County educator, recently donated a handwriting software program to the Children's Room of the Hicksville Public Library.

Mrs. Hermann and her daughter designed "Write Now" to show children how to form curves and lines when writing letters of the alphabet. The program is simple to use and is designed for a parent and young child to work together. Preschoolers and young school-age children are invited to try this new program on one of our two Apple IIe computers. Free computer time can be reserved in person or over the phone. Appointments begin on the hour for an hour. Call 931-1417 and ask for the Children's Room.

DONOVAN REPORT

Joseph & Karen Donovan
"Hicksville's Leading Brokers"

FINANCING DECISION

QUESTION: I plan to buy a home in the near future. When should I decide on whether to select a fixed or variable mortgage?

ANSWER: Actually, this should be a last-minute decision. The financing market changes often enough so that the best financing made one month may not be the best the next month.

If you expect to live in the house for a long time and you feel that interest rates will increase, you may lean toward a fixed rate. An equally sound case can be made for the lower initial interest offered on variable rate mortgages. If you don't expect to live in the home for a very long time, the variable rate mortgage would be the answer.

DECIDING BETWEEN a fixed or variable mortgage should be a last-minute decision depending on the marketplace.

Hicksville Kiwanis Club Adds Two New Members

The membership roster of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club was increased by two at the club's July 25 luncheon meeting with the induction of Rose Lee and Joseph Kunz, Jr. as Kiwanians.

Lee, sponsored by Sieg Widder, is the Personnel Manager of Kraft General Foods at 50 Ludy Street in Hicksville, is a member of the Association of Personnel Professionals and is anxious to become involved in Community Service.

Kunz, sponsored by Bob McGuiness, is the Owner/President of Assured Cleaning Services in Hicksville, wants to be of assistance in solving community concerns and bringing more business into the Hicksville area.

Kiwanis President Dr. Joe Lupo asked Past President Widder to officiate at the induction ceremony which consisted of congratulating the applicants on their choice of service clubs to join and asked them again to listen to a reading of the Objects of Kiwanis. Upon their agreeing to abide by these objects, Mr. Widder declared them to be full-fledged Kiwanians. The new Kiwanians were welcomed and "K" pinned by their sponsors. Mr. Kunz's sponsor Bob McGuiness was unable to be present, but President Joe adequately served as a proxy sponsor.

Hicksville PAL Baseball/Softball Game Results

By Charlotte Anstey

Boys' Rookie Division

A's 10—Mets 9

Great game played by both teams. The winning pitcher for the A's was Danny Dunleavy and Brent Rogers recorded the save. Sean Naughton reached base four times and there was clutch hitting by Matty Dunleavy, Kyle Wendel, John Mohrman and Mike Kearney. Cards 8—A's 6

An excellent game played by both teams. For the A's good hitting by Brent Rogers, John Mohrman, Mike Kearney, Sean Naughton made a great throw from right center to throw a runner out at third base.

Boys' Junior Division

A's 4—Pirates 3

The A's on a last inning game saving catch by Paul Jan defeated the Pirates. In a well played game on both sides, the A's fortunes turned on two steals at home by Jimmy Nagle. The pitching trio of Mike Baglieri, Mike Busch and Erick Micalizzi held the Pirates in check. A's 20—Mets 10

An 18 hit attack propelled the A's to their slugfest victory. Bobbi Geramita led the way with 3 hits while Paul Jan, Harpett Chadda and Mike Busch knocked out two hits apiece. Harpett Chadda and Tommy Geramita both in their 1st ever pitching performances were tough in the clutch.

Girls' Senior Division

Manager Nancy Galdo reports that the team is 6-0 so far this season. Fine pitching efforts are being made by Lauren Guerriero, Laura Ann Dubeckey, Carolyn Galdo and Janine Rovtar. Fine defensive playing by the infield made up of Meredith Hennessey, Christine Hickey, Holly Griffenkanz, Lauren Clarke and Danielle Taddeo. Also defensively the Giants outfield is well covered by Elizabeth Dubeckey, Lindsay Kist, Karin Meade, Theresa Rejowski and Maria Taormina in all our games. Allison Sayer is doing a good job behind the plate catching for us. The hitting has been supplied by all the girls so far this season. We are looking forward to Monday night's game against the Cubs whom we haven't played so far this season.

Girls' Junior Division

The Orioles beat the Red Sox in a hard fought game. Becky Mutterpearl celebrated her 11th birthday with 3 hits including a long home run. Liane Lewis walloped a grand slam home run in addition to a single, double and triple for 10 RBI's. Sparky Hines had 3 hits and made an unassisted double play. Cathy-Jo Badalucco reached base every time. Jessica Smith had 2 hits and 2 RBI's, Kely Mathis and Tara Keilty each walked 2 times and singled. Stephanie Mitas hit 2 singles and Maureen Brzozowski walked twice. Special appreciation to Ivonne Gomez, who couldn't play, but stayed to root for her teammates. Congratulations to Lori Sayer, Carolyn Corrado (who belted a home run), Devin, Jillian, Jill and the rest of the Red Sox for a well played game, even though they were missing Sandy Drew a great pitcher and excellent hitter.

Town of Oyster Bay activities coordinator Ginny Brown set up a trip to New York City for local senior citizens last month. There were seven buses from the different towns in Oyster Bay. One bus picked up the seniors at 355 Housing, Newbridge Road, and Levittown Hall, both in Hicksville. The seniors took a cruise around the city, past the Statue of Liberty, in the "Spirit of New York" cruise ship. Lunch and entertainment were provided. After the boat ride, the seniors took an afternoon walking tour of the South Street Seaport. Pictured from left: local senior club members Lee Curran, Helen Kobel and Edna Crews.

The Effects Of The 1973 Gas Crisis On Sunday Driving

Motorists may be feeling the effects of today's gas crisis, with prices starting to rise each day due to the conflict overseas. But, many will remember the gas crisis of the winter of 1973 and 1974 when drivers waited on long lines to buy limited gallons of gas. (Photos from Feb. 1974 Mid Island Herald)

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity. We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only. We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

Thanks Monsignor

To The Editor:

Sixteen years ago, Father James Boesel took over as pastor of Our Lady of Mercy Parish and School. With him came a dream. A dream to be the best school on Long Island, in New York and even all of America.

The first of your dreams was recognized in 1987, when Our Lady of Mercy School was recognized by New York State, as an outstanding elementary school. That came as no surprise to us, as we knew how great Mercy was, thanks to your diligence and hard work. Then, in 1988, we received a notice from the United States Department of Education informing us we were classified, along with only 286 other elementary schools, as 'Excellent in Education.' All of the Mercy family was proud, and we all knew it was because of you that we accomplished this.

Monsignor Boesel, you were always around to say hello with a wink and a smile, or to help anyone if they needed it. None of us will ever forget 1985, when you became Monsignor Boesel. We were all so happy for you, and we were also very proud to have a monsignor in our parish.

So, for all the help you gave, for all the caring you showed, for all the times you were there, for all you did and still do for Our Lady of Mercy school, the Graduating Class of 1990 would like to thank you.

He had a vision of the future, therefore, he created one of the first Pre Kindergarten programs in Catholic Schools. Nine years ago, the first Pre-K class graduated to Kindergarten. We, the same class, along with new friends, are graduating, and leaving Our Lady of Mercy School. But we can never leave completely, because as long as we live, the school will be in our hearts and minds.

Appalled At Comments

To The Editor:

I was recently a spectator at the last few games of the Hicksville Baseball Association's Girls' Majors Williamport team, and I would like to commend all the people involved with HBA who give their time, effort, talent and love unconditionally and more important, voluntarily to the children of Hicksville Baseball Association. Parents should be very grateful that there are people around who can extend themselves so that children can learn the art of sportsman-like conduct and fair play.

As a spectator in the stands, I was appalled and shocked to hear what some of the parents were saying. I actually heard (more than once) a parent telling a player not to listen to the manager or coach, because "They don't know what they're doing." "They're Crazy!" "You just do what I tell you to do." I heard parents telling children that certain children shouldn't be on the team, because they were not good enough or not to throw the ball to certain positions because a particular child was playing that position. Some even yelled to the kids on the field that they were "Stupid" because they muffed up a play. I heard the manager and coaches being criticized relentlessly behind their backs for decisions they made during the games.

At one point, the kids on the field didn't know who to listen to. They were looking back and forth between their manager and their parents, being totally confused as to who they were supposed to listen to or what they were supposed to do.

This past Friday night the Hicksville team bravely and courageously took on a team from Suffolk County. Unfortunately, Hicksville suffered a heartbreaking loss, but in no way should they be ashamed or embarrassed about the way they played. The Hicksville team, whose record is five wins and two losses, scoring 124 runs in seven games took on each opposing team with competitiveness and determination. But, again, I could not believe the things being said by some of the spectators. As the last out was made and some tears were being shed, I heard comments such as "I'm glad I don't have to do this anymore," and "I'm really tired of sitting on these bleachers, my rear end is killing me." And it went on and on.

The only losers we have here are the parents who find it necessary to be so negative about something as positive as Hicksville Baseball Association.

God help our kids!

In Need Of Funds

To The Editor:

The students enrolled in the Hicksville High School Marching Band program would like to take the opportunity to inform the community of our current situation.

On July 10, the Board of Education refused to fund a summer music program that was to be held at East Stroudsburg University from August 12-17. Later on, however, the Board informed the band that we can attend this program if we can pay for it ourselves.

Currently, we have some of the $12,000 needed. Unfortunately, we are still in dire need of funding.

The members of the marching band kindly ask the residents of Hicksville to please give whatever they can to help our program. Without the necessary funds, we will not have the summer program. This guarantees a less than successful marching season. Please, do not let this program, which has greatly touched all of our lives, be less than it can be.

Please make your donation to payable to:

$3.5 Million In Fed Funds To LI Small Business

Pursuit of grants and contracts available under the Federal Small Business Innovation Research Program (SBIR) paid off in some $3.5 million in awards to 15 Long Island companies in FY 1989, according to the Long Island Forum for Technology (LIFT). Out of nearly $17.9 million awarded New York State-wide, said LIFT officials, about one out of every five dollars awarded by the program came to Long Island.

"Long Island small businesses are recognized consistently for winning SBIR research grants and contracts," said LIFT Chairman Fen Fisher. "This is a reflection of our science-oriented community, which is world-class in stature and innovative as entrepreneurs."

Among those awarded in Nassau County were: Application Configured Compute, of Baldwin; EEG Enterprises, of Farmingdale; Lintel Technology of Roslyn; NYCB Real Time Computing of Lattingtown; Oncogene Science of Manhasset; and Prospective Computer Analysts of Roslyn.

The SBIR program requires all federal agencies with research and development budgets of $100 million or more to allocate a portion of those funds to companies that meet the federal definition of a small business.

A SBIR Awards meeting to recognize the winners will be held at 7:45 am on September 13, at the Down Under Restaurant, 225 Broadhollow Road in Melville. New York State Senator Owen H. Johnson and Assemblyman Lewis J. Yevoli have been invited as guest speakers. Additionally, LIFT and the NYS Science and Technology Foundation will present a seminar to assist potential SBIR applicants, as a session scheduled for October 17th.

A free pamphlet describing the SBIR Program can be obtained by writing to LIFT, c/o Polytechnic University, 901 Route 110, Long Island 11735-3986.

CHILD CARE PLANNING SERVICE for Long Island companies got a boost recently, with a $53 thousand grant from the Rausch Foundation to the Corporate Connections project of the Day Care Councils of Nassau and Suffolk Counties recently. Under the grant, corporate child care consultant Winifred S. Freund (pictured, left) will provide information and guidance to local companies. Pictured with Ms Freund are (l-r) Nancy Douzinas, President, Rausch Foundation; Gloria Wallick, Executive Director, Day Care Council of Nassau County; Suzy Sonenberg, Executive Director, Long Island Community Foundation; and Janet Walerstein, Executive Director, Child Care Council of Suffolk County.

At the end of last week's article I promised that this week would be an update on long term health care. Frequent readers of this column know that I was in favor of the Catastrophic Medicare Law. I was quite depressed that we, the older people, "shot ourselves in the foot" by opposing it. To have Congress repeal the law made me sad.

Last week I said that the public has to accumulate a lot of wealth over the next 20 years. That requires some sort of savings and planning to do it. This older generation has been fortunate if they purchased homes. Many were provided with some modicum of security when they sold their homes and moved to less expensive areas.

This country is far behind the rest of the developed countries of the world in providing health insurance protection for its citizens. If you are VERY rich, you can afford to pay. If you are poor and without assets, the government will take care of you. If you go to a nursing home, the care and treatment is identical. It makes no difference if you are rich or poor.

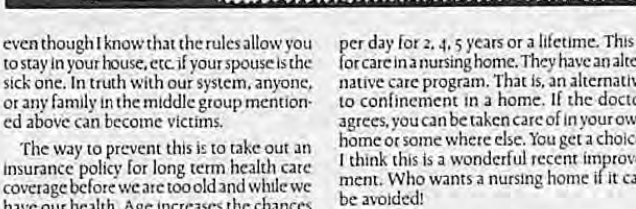

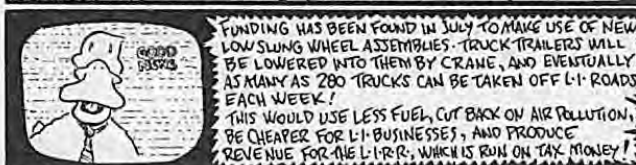

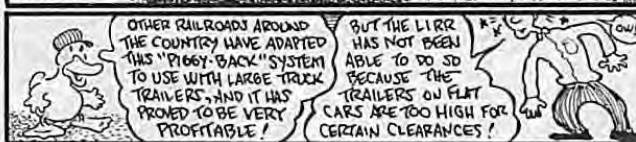

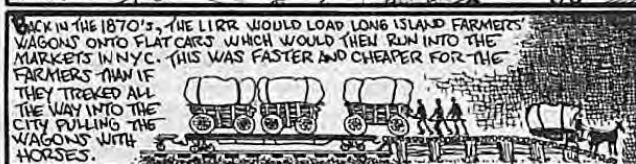

The problem comes with the vast majority of us who are not very rich or poor. This includes many people who are rich, but not super rich. The costs of any extended health coverage can bankrupt some people. I say this

A Letter from Lulabelle...

...It's time we talked about a really serious subject...the proper way to eat things—especially things like Oreos cookies!...Now, when you were little, you knew that the only way to eat Oreos was to separate the two chocolate wafers, lick all the white middle and then eat the cookie—and, I'll bet that you still do it that way—and that's good—because they taste much better...And then there are Mallomars—some people like to eat the chocolate and marshmallow from the top and then eat the cookie—but I prefer the top-to-bottom bite that gets a bit of each in every mouthful...How about ice cream cones?...Do you like those pale ones that taste like cardboard (my favorite) or the waffle-type which is crispy and tends to break in your hand if you aren't careful...And how do you eat this cone?...Push it down into the cookie part or lick it all around and savor each drip...Now let us consider mashed potatoes and canned green peas—high on my list!—you know, of course, that is important to put the potatoes on your plate, make a little hole in the middle and then put the peas in the hole (frozen or fresh peas do not do this as well, as you already knew) but this is a spectacular taste...Are you one of those people who eat each item on the plate separately and completely before starting the next?...all the meat, then all the vegetable, etc.—or do you eat a bit of each and maybe one or two things in one bite?...Do you like your salad before the meal, during or after?...And how about those of our friends who had European parents and who learned to handle the knife and fork in European style, one in each hand?...It's probably a lot more sensible—consider how we do it—knife in the right hand, fork in the left—cut the food, put the knife down, put fork into right hand—next bite, start over—it does sound foolish when you think of it, but that's what feels familiar and that's what many do...Do you have some special ways of eating some things?...I know you do because we all do.

even though I know that the rules allow you to stay in your house, etc. if your spouse is the sick one. In truth with our system, anyone, or any family in the middle group mentioned above can become victims.

The way to prevent this is to take out an insurance policy for long term health care coverage before we are too old and while we have our health. Age increases the chances of getting very sick and the costs are too great if we did not start early enough. Once you have a policy, the costs do not rise for any individual. Only if every policy holders get a general cost increase.

Is there a necessity for this type of coverage? I believe so. Let's look at the numbers and the odds. Two out of five Americans will spend time in a nursing home (that's 40% of us). Some for short periods, and others will be there for long periods. Short periods do not worry us too much. Most of us can handle that situation. It is those long periods that destroy our wealth.

In metro NY the average nursing home stay is $45,000 per year. It does not take long to run through your assets at that rate. My mother has been in a nursing home for enough time to equal the value of my Garden City home. I am sorry and glad at the same time that she is a pauper.

I have come across a policy that is competitively priced, which will cover up to $150 per day for 2, 4, 5 years or a lifetime. This is for care in a nursing home. They have an alternative care program. That is, an alternative to confinement in a home. If the doctor agrees, you can be taken care of in your own home or some where else. You get a choice. I think this is a wonderful recent improvement. Who wants a nursing home if it can be avoided!

The policy is guaranteed renewable, with a fixed premium. It covers Alzheimer disease and no prior hospitalization is required. You may be able to cover preexisting medical conditions (at a cost). It carries inflation protection. Finally, it is a New York State approved insurance company with an A+ Best rating. Both of these things about guarantee you against an insurance company bankruptcy. The State approval is more important than the A+ rating.

This present policy is far better than the ones that I was in favor of, when I first investigated this problem. Short of having the Government pick up the tab for everyone, this is probably the best alternative. In my book it beats the option that we all have, hoping and praying that we do not get sick. Drop me a short note for more information.

ARE YOU OVERLOOKING LONG ISLAND'S WILDEST NIGHTLIFE?

The black-crowned night heron (Nycticorax nycticorax) is a mostly nocturnal native Long Islander who is highly discriminating. You won't find him at just any watering hole. And for dinner the fish had better be fresh, the ambience unhurried.

You might say the black-crowned night heron is a hard bird to please. But The Nature Conservancy has been working hard for 38 years to provide the night heron and hundreds of other animals and plants the finest accommodations available on Long Island.

We've saved 18,000 acres of ecologically significant land on Long Island alone, from the last 19-acre remnant of the Hempstead Plains to our 2,000-acre Mashomack Sanctuary on Shelter Island. Nationwide, we've preserved nearly 4 million acres of forest, prairie, desert, island, and mountain. And our international program is fighting to save the world's rapidly vanishing rain forest.

You can help The Nature

Conservancy do its vitally important work. For $15, not much more than the cover charge for one of Long Island's hottest night spots, you can become a member of the Long Island Chapter. You will receive the Long Island Chapter Newsletter and

The Nature Conservancy Magazine to keep you informed of Conservancy activities. As a member of the Long Island Chapter, you can participate in hikes and education programs led by experienced naturalists, and you are welcome to volunteer to take part in Chapter operations.

If you're concerned about Long Island—not just about its native flora and fauna but also about the water we drink, the air we breathe, and the quality of life here—we urge you to give us a hand. Just call (516)367-3225. You can help protect your environment. And you can have a wild time!

Please enroll me as a member of The Nature Conservancy. My $15.00 check is enclosed.

CUISINE CONNECTION

Riverbay: All The Romance of the Sea

By Susi Bahr

I've eaten seafood all over the US - from San Francisco and Boston to New Orleans and Key West. But I can truly say that I've never eaten seafood as good as what I had the other night at Riverbay on 700 Willis Avenue in Willison Park.

Named after a fishing village in the Caribbean, Riverbay bills itself as a "fish house". Before I walked in the door I had conjured up images of fishing nets and mounted sharks, polycarbonate tables and musty carpets.

Wrong.

What I walked into was a New England style fish house with a cosmopolitan flair that echoed the romance of the sea - which is a darn sight better than the sea itself!

"People should only know what we put into this place. We're fanatics," boasts Gillis Poll, the eldest of three brothers who own and manage Riverbay.

As one of very few restaurants on Long Island that buys its fish at the market, Riverbay can guarantee fresh fish - including varieties that you've never even heard of before. "Essentially, we shop for variety and quality, not for price," states Dean. "We buy direct because it will be fresher than if we bought it from a middleman, not because it will be cheaper."

All of this sounds great - but the proof is in the eating. And take it from Susi Bahr, the Poll brothers weren't putting one over on me.

We started our dinner at Riverbay with oysters from everywhere - including Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, Maine, Caribbean, Chili and of course, Long Island. I've always thought an oyster was an oyster, but believe me, I know better now. Some had a briny taste, some woody, but all were spectacular. After the appetizer I would have been content to leave and give the place a hundred stars.

But that was only the beginning. We were urged to try the crab cakes. Reluctantly, I did. Now, I've never had a crab cake I liked. They usually have too much bread and not enough crab. Not these. If a crab cake could be perfect, these were. Try them!

For an entree, I had Wahoo, lightly breaded and herbed, despite the fact I'd never heard of it before, and my partner had the Lotte, sauteed and served with fresh vegetables and mushrooms. I can unequivocally state that this was the finest fish I'd had in my life.

After eating, we had to inquire about the chef. "He's a 'young, with-it' guy," said Gillis. "He's a culinary graduate, and he came with his own secrets."

We were afraid to have dessert, because up to the entree everything had been perfect. We asked the waitress if they made their own desserts at Riverbay. "Some," she replied. "But they get a lot of them from an outside baker. But like everything else, they make sure it's only top quality." So we broke down and shared a piece of truffle cake in raspberry sauce.

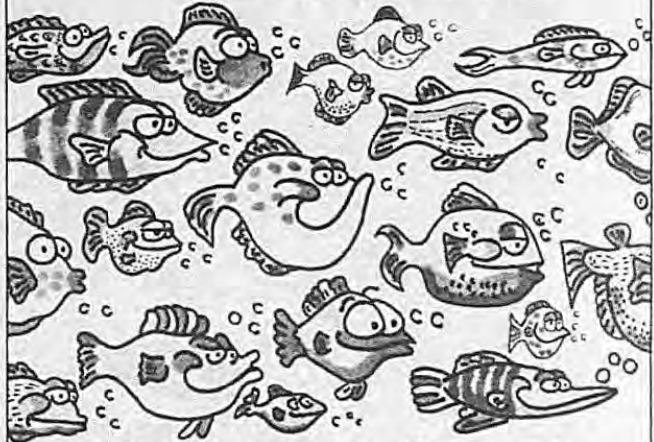

It was so good tears came to my eyes.

Riverbay is constantly on the move. The menu always changes and there's always something different going on. "We have Monday Night football hosted by my brother George," said Gillis. "He hands out chicken wings at halftime."

Whether you are a 21 year-old out on a date, or an 80 year-old who enjoys a basic fish dish, Riverbay is perfect. It's also affordable. "Without a salad and appetizer, you can have a great meal from $10 to $16," said Gillis. "And don't think that it's just fish. Riverbay is a great place to go after a movie for just a hamburger."

If you're going to Riverbay for lunch, dinner, or to have your party of 50 to 150 guests catered, I know that you will be impressed and delighted. If I gave out stars, Riverbay would get all of them.

Native American Arts Festival Paumanauke Pow-Wow Presented at Tanner Park

Native Americans who will participate in traditional dances such as the shawl dance and men's fancy dance at next weekend's Paumanauke Pow Wow.

The Pow Wow drum is the heartbeat of a Pow Wow to the Indian. People come together to socialize, to meet new friends and renew old friendships. The Indians' lives revolve around the drum as do the dancers. Dancers are rewarded for willingness to participate and to compete; thus, cash prizes are presented to those dancers who are selected by the judges for their fancy or traditional footwork and movements.

The drummers and singers at a Pow Wow are very important. They share their songs, some of which are hundreds of years old, others perhaps only days old. Flag songs, religious songs, songs of war, social songs, contest songs and honor songs.

The master of ceremonies will direct the events of the Pow Wow. He may call upon the audience to stand in tribute to the flag, or in prayer, or to honor certain individuals.

Members of the audience may be asked to participate in the dancing. If you are asked by a girl to dance with her, you are obliged to do so or you will have greatly offended that girl.

Tanner Park in Copiague can be reached by taking Southern State Parkway to Exit 32 South (Route 110), South 2.6 miles to end of Route 110, Montauk Highway (route 27A) East 1.0 mile to Wilson Avenue, South .5 mile to Tanner Park.

The Waterviews at "Captain Bill's" Are Spectacular -- But the Food and Service Are Even Better!!

by Ellen Burke, Food Correspondent

Located at the foot of Ocean Avenue in Bay Shore, "Captain Bill's Commodore Inn" is a change from the ordinary -- it is, we found, a "get-away" from the rigors of everyday.

The Setting Is Only The Beginning

The setting of Captain Bill's is on the water, in the water and by the water! Virtually every table looks over the water! And Captain Bill's is uniquely designed to cater to an informal group of two, a formal dinner party, casual lunches, business conferences in a dedicated upper level room ("The Victorian Room") and everything from weddings to Fund Raising functions in a separate building on the water ("The Harborview Room") which doesn't interfere with any of the goings-on at the restaurant or bar!

The Personal Touch Is Real

"Everyone is greeted at the door," commented Janice August at Captain Bill's the other day. "We want everyone to feel 'at home' away from home here. When you go out for lunch, dinner, or just a snack, you want everything done for you...without it being a production. And we specialize in that kind of personal service."

Something For Everyone

"There are so many places at Captain Bill's for people to enjoy themselves," pointed out Ron Sieverl as he showed us the new "Captain's Walk", a wide outside veranda directly on the water. "The tables outside on the Captain's Walk are comfortable too--they each have their own awning, see--you can have a drink, a light snack or a formal dinner--right on the water as you overlook the Great South Bay. The view of the lighthouse is spectacular."

There Is A separate Catering Facility, Too

"On the east side of Captain Bill's is the 'Harborview Room'," continued Sieverl. "It is a complete, separate catering facility with its own kitchen, cocktail lounge, canopied deck, dining room, immense dance floor, private parking...and all on the water of course. We can be running a wedding for two-hundred in the Harborview Room, and the folks having a casual dinner in the Captain's Room will still have terrific service -- no matter how many people are here, you get the feeling that your table is the special one!"

Different Tastes And Different Lifestyles Are Tailored To Fit

"People want different things. Business people may want a quick and light half-hour lunch or a fast bite at the bar. We love to do that. But many people like to linger for a couple of hours (or more) at lunch or dinner. We love that too. On the weekends from Noon to 6PM we have live music on the Captain's Walk just because our friends -- I mean our customers -- asked for it -- and it's been very successful," continued Sieverl. (It was interesting to note that while Ron Sieverl was giving us our "Cook's" tour he greeted, personally, about thirty customers, or "friends-of-Captain Bill's", and made sure that an older couple was personally escorted through the double-door main entrance to a convenient table--all without missing a beat.)

Changes -- But The Good Things Remain The Same

"We're constantly improving," bubbled Janice August, as we chomped on Chicken Chaucer (the recipe is a secret) and some outrageously fresh lobster. "We've put a new deck on the Victorian Room, on the upper level. It's an 'intimate' setting for special functions for 25-60 people, ideal for just about any special occasion. We've had business meetings there, and during the break, everyone sauntered out to the deck for a whiff of sea air -- it's my favorite room."

And There's More

And there was more of course, but we had to get back to the office. We're going to come back very soon to grab some of the free buffet at cocktail time. Just for hard working folks, boating folks...every folks...as Janice August says. Meanwhile, give captain Bill's a try. It's right at the foot of Ocean Avenue in Bay Shore just minutes off Southern State. Call for a reservation at (516) 665 - 3677 or just drop in.

Double Bill Ends Summer in Great Neck Park

Andrew Janneth and Dancers will perform at the "Summer in the Park" series.

The Village of Great Neck Plaza says that a "very special double bill" will be the final production in this season's "Summer in the Park" entertainment series. On Tuesday, August 14 at 8 p.m. at Grace Avenue Park, the Red Peonies Performance Project, featuring Andrew Jannetti and Dancers, as well as magician Anthony Corrao will perform. The show is free and open to the public. Rain date is Thursday, August 16.

Andrew Jannetti and Dancers has been in existence since 1981 and was incorporated in 1985 under the umbrella of Red Peonies Performance Project. Since that time Mr. Jannetti has choreographed over 20 pieces of his company, which has performed throughout the New York/New Jersey area. The company has been the recipient of numerous Meet the Composer grants and recently received a grant from the Manhattan Community Arts Fund. Mr. Jannetti's choreography has been described as "a sculpture of emotional experience that incorporates pure form and movement to create an atmosphere in which specific personal images are evoked." Four pieces of contrasting moods and images will comprise this particular performance, including Mr. Jannetti's new piece, Odds and Ends. Set to an original vocal score by Tony Twinning, this new work is made up of variations of themes evoking a series of interpersonal relationships between the performers.

"Showmanship at its very finest in an excitingly different type of program of magic and fun," wrote the New York Times about the magic of Anthony Corrao. Bring the kids for a unique entertainment designed to spellbind a captive audience with a wealth of tales, magic, illusion and, of course, audience participation! Corrao has worked his magic on both stage and TV, appearing with stars like Kate Smith and Wendy Barrie.

Philharmonic Director In Performing Arts Festival

Marin Alsop, music director of the Long Island Philharmonic, who will conduct the orchestra at Eisenhower Park on August 19.

Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Gulotta is pleased to announce that the Long Island Philharmonic Orchestra will appear at the Lakeside Theater at Eisenhower Park on Sunday, August 19 at 8 p.m. This special evening will be part of the county's Summer Performing Arts Festival.

*"One of America's
young conductors"*

Jerome E. Seckler, director of the Nassau County Office of Cultural Development, says that Marin Alsop, the music director of the Long Island Philharmonic, will be conducting. Ms. Alsop is gaining a reputation as one of America's most talented young conductors, he says. Recently awarded the prestigious Koussevitzky Conducting prize, she is the first woman to receive the award. The 33-year-old New York City native was awarded the Leonard Bernstein Fellowship to the Tanglewood Music Center for an unprecedented second year.

Ms. Alsop is the founder of Concordia: A Chamber Symphony that presents a series at Lincoln Center in New York City. As Artistic Director of Concordia, Ms. Alsop has championed the cause of American music. She has been heralded for designing repertoires that include both classical and jazz compositions — an innovative approach.

Now in its eleventh season, the Long Island Philharmonic was founded by folk singer Harry Chapin, in collaboration with several Long Island business leaders. The Philharmonic's performances in Nassau and Suffolk counties have been critically acclaimed.

The program for the Eisenhower Park performance will include Oh Kay: Overture and Girl Crazy by Gershwin, Concerto for Dixieland Band and Orchestra by Kravetz, Romeo and Juliet by Tchaikovsky, On the Town by Bernstein and Bolero by Ravel.

The night of music will be free and open to the public. Those attending are encouraged to arrive early and to bring chairs or blankets; seating arrangements will be informal. Eisenhower Park is in East Meadow; entrances are located on Merrick Avenue and Hempstead Turnpike.

In the case of rain, the performance will be held in the gymnasium of Nassau Community College. Residents may call 542-4585 for information after 6 p.m. if the weather is threatening.

Latino Music At Forest Park

Latino music from Puerto Rico and the Dominican Republic are featured in a presentation entitled "Musica Tradicional" at Forest Park's Seuffert Bandshell on August 11th at 7:30 pm. The program will include Dominican music by Jose Quesada and Los Cinco Diablos, as well as Puerto Rican bomba and plena performed by Los Pleneros de la 21. The concert is part of Queens Council on the Arts' twenty-first season of Arts in the Parks concerts.

Concertgoers may expect a program of traditional merengue as well as pri-pri, mangolina and other lesser-known forms of music from the Dominican Republic, while the Puerto Rican traditions of bomba and plena will also be presented. While the musical traditions of the two countries exhibit different melodic instrumentation and singing style, say organizers, both have strong roots in African culture.

MARMADUKE® by Brad Anderson

"But it's only midday...how could he get into so much trouble so early?"

"They said the baby-sitters union doesn't handle puppy-sitting."

"I'll be all right as soon as I wipe off this welcome-home kiss!"

It's history. It's art. It's culture. It's dying.

For centuries, it has steered man to safety. And now because of neglect, vandalism and erosion, it's endangered.

We are The Lighthouse Preservation Society. And we're working to preserve our lighthouse heritage.

Since 1984, we've been helping to restore these landmarks, increase public awareness, and document and interpret their history.

And you can help. Contact The Lighthouse Preservation Society, Post Office Box 736, Rockport, Massachusetts 01966.

Let's say you're West in this deal and lead a heart. Your partner wins the trick with the queen, continues with the ace, and then plays the king. South follows to all three rounds of hearts, and the question is whether or not you should win the third trick by ruffing with your queen of trumps.

Let's see what happens if you ruff. Declarer discards a club or a diamond from dummy and wins the rest of the tricks. He takes your diamond or club return in dummy, leads the nine of spades, which wins, and then repeats the trump finesse to land the contract.

But if you discard a club or a diamond at trick three, you defeat the contract. Declarer must ruff the third heart lead in dummy and is then sure to lose two trump tricks regardless of what he does next.

On what basis should you discard rather than ruff at trick three? That's a fair question, and it's entitled to a fair answer. You should reason that there's very little chance of beating the contract unless your partner has a trump holding as good as the K-x-x or J-8-x-x, and you should shape your defense to meet that possibility. Refusing to ruff enables you to sink the contract in these cases, while ruffing allows declarer to get home safely.

Host Families Needed For Exchange Students

The Russians are coming! So are the French, Spanish, the Italians, Japanese, Australians, the South Americans and the Scandinavians. Unfortunately, many might not be able to come because there will not be a place for them to stay when they get here.

All over the United States, volunteers and staff with student exchange services say they are facing a critical shortage of host family homes for year long high school exchanges.

If host families aren't found within the next few weeks, some organizations say that many students eager to live an American experience may have to give up their dream. Were this to happen, some of tomorrow's future foreign leaders may be deprived of the opportunity of learning first hand about the United States, its customs, its institutions and, above all, its hospitable people.

"We are finding it very difficult to find families interested in hosting. Perhaps the market is too saturated," said J. Scott Thornton, President of International Education Forum.

"There has been a dramatic increase in the number of student exchange service organizations. There are now dozens of foundations bringing thousands of students to visit and study in the United States," Thornton said.

"This dramatic increase in the need for host homes is also coupled by a decline in the number of host families asking for an international student," Thornton continued.

When both husband and wife have separate careers, they are often reluctant to take on the responsibility of caring for an international high school student. They worry that the student may feel neglected and unhappy in this family situation.

"But two-career families, and single parent families should not rule themselves out," says Bill Gustafson, President of ASSE International Student Exchange Programs.

"Local coordinators interviewing prospective host families are not looking for a specific traditional family structure that might resemble 'Ozzie and Harriet,'" said Marsha Day, local coordinator, "we are looking for a happy family situation even if it is a busy one. The family must also provide a student with their own bed and include the student with the family meals and normal activities."

Here are some of the exchange agencies seeking local families:

AMERICAN SCANDINAVIAN STUDENT EXCHANGE (ASSE): ASSE, founded as American Scandinavian Student Exchange by the Swedish government, is affiliated with the Swedish and Finnish national Departments of Education, maintains 21 offices in 10 countries and accommodates more than 10,000 high school age student exchanges annually. In August, over 2300 girls and boys, 15 through 18 years of age from Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Mexico, France, England, Australia and eleven other countries, plan on coming to the USA through the ASSE program. Families or persons interested in finding out more about hosting as ASSE exchange student should call Debbie at 1-800-333-3802.

INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION FORUM (IEF): Over 1300 high school age students are expected to arrive in August from Brazil, Denmark, Finland, Sweden, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, the Netherlands, Thailand, and many other countries. Students are highly screened, and academically qualified since school attendance is a requirement. Students will be visiting for 3.5, or 10 months. They have medical insurance and have their own spending money. Those families interested in hosting an international student should call 1-800-234-8339 and ask for April.

SPANISH HERITAGE: Spanish Heritage needs homes for carefully screened high school students from Spain and Mexico who wish to attend high school for one year in this country. They are fully insured and are responsible for their personal expenses. For further details, call 1-800-669-1223.

Officials of long-established student exchange foundations recommend that potential host families ask the agency representative several questions before they agree to take in a student:

- * Is there a local representative who will be available to counsel the student and family if there are problems? Will they be ready to move the student if relationship between the family and student doesn't work out?

- * If the student is here for a year long high school program, does the program have counselors available to help students get in the right classes, and assert themselves if a school tries to push them into inappropriate classes?

- * Does the organization require visiting students to have their own medical coverage and other insurance before they come to the United States? Is a responsible agency representative nearby and on-call in case the student gets in trouble or has an emergency?

- * How long has the organization existed? If the organization has its headquarters overseas, how long has it operated in the United States?

- * Has your local school district ever worked with the agency or had students enrolled who came to the United States through the agency? Were there any previous bad experiences?

For those seeking further information on the various student exchange agencies, the Council on Standard for International Educational Travel publishes a book that lists nonprofit exchange agencies, the Council on Standard for International Educational Travel publishes a book that lists nonprofit exchange agencies that meet its criteria. The council may be contacted in writing at 3 Loudoun Street, S.E., Suite 3, Leesburg, Virginia 22075, or by calling (703) 771-2040.

Cocaine can make you blind.

Cocaine fools your brain.

When you first use it, you may feel more alert, more confident, more sociable, more in control of your life.

In reality, of course, nothing has changed. But to your brain, the feeling seems real.

From euphoria...

You want to experience it again. So you do some more coke.

Once more, you like the effects. It's a very clean high. It doesn't really feel like you're drugged. Only this time, you notice you don't feel so good when you come down. You're confused, edgy, anxious, even depressed.

Fortunately, that's easy to fix. At least for the next 20 minutes or so. All it takes is another few lines, or a few more hits on the pipe.

You're discovering one of the things that makes cocaine so dangerous.

It compels you to keep on using it. (Given unlimited access, laboratory monkeys take cocaine until they have seizures and die.)

If you keep experimenting with cocaine, quite soon you may feel you need it just to function well. To perform better at work, to cope with stress, to escape depression, just to have a good time at a party or a concert.

Compulsion is now definitely addiction. And there's worse to come.

To paranoia...

---

Like speed, cocaine makes you talk a lot and sleep a little. You can't sit still. You have difficulty concentrating and remembering. You feel aggressive and suspicious towards people. You don't want to eat very much. You become uninterested in sex.

You stop caring how you look or how you feel. You become paranoid. You may feel people are persecuting you, and you may have an intense fear that the police are waiting to arrest you. (Not surprising, since cocaine is illegal.)

You may have hallucinations. Because coke heightens your senses, they may seem terrifyingly real.

As one woman overdosed, she heard laughter nearby and a voice that said, "I've got you now." So many people have been totally convinced that bugs were crawling on or out of their skin, that the hallucination has a nickname: the coke bugs.

Especially if you've been smoking cocaine, you may become violent, or feel suicidal.

To psychosis...

---

When coke gets you really strung out, you may turn to other drugs to slow down. Particularly downers like alcohol, tranquilizers, marijuana and heroin. (A speedball—heroin and cocaine—is what killed John Belushi.)

If you saw your doctor now and he didn't know you were using coke, he'd probably diagnose you as a manic-depressive.

Literally, you're crazy.

But you know what's truly frightening? Despite everything that's happening to you, even now, you may still feel totally in control.

That's the drug talking.

Cocaine really does make you blind to reality. And with what's known about it today, you probably have to be something else to start using coke in the first place.

Dumb.

Residents Win Prizes, Awards at Tennis Academy

As a grand finale to the second year of a unique, free month-long tennis program for more than 45 Town of Oyster Bay youths—the Spiegel Associates/Gene Mayer Junior Tennis Academy—world class tennis greats participated in an inspiring tennis exhibition. In addition, a fast serve contest and an awards ceremony took place with new Wilson tennis racquets awarded to deserving young players, it was announced by Arthur D. Sanders, president of Spiegel Associates.

Supervising the "fastest serve contest" and performing in the special tennis exhibition was Colin Dibley, a former U.S. Open and Wimbledon champion in the 35 and over division. Dibley also was clocked as having the fastest serve in the world at 147 m.p.h. In addition, former New York Jets wide receiver and Dix Hills resident Wesley Walker gave a "pep talk" to the students about studying hard in school and saying "no" to drugs and alcohol.

"This year's program created a tremendous interest within the community," noted Sanders. "We received more than 150 applications and Spiegel Associates is now considering expanding next year's program so we can accommodate an even greater number of aspiring players."

Six of the Academy's students were awarded new Wilson tennis racquets in the following categories: Girl's and Boy's Future Tennis Stars; Girl's and Boy's Most Improved; and Girl's and Boy's Best Attitude.

Supervisors of the Academy were Long Island residents Gene Mayer of Mill Neck, formerly the fourth ranked tennis player in the world; and Laurie Fehrs of Huntington, who has been rated among the top 10 women players in the United States. In addition, three other expert instructors coached each session at all times.

The second annual Spiegel Associates/Gene Mayer Junior Tennis Academy was held at the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial Park on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, from July 2 through July 30, 1990. Lessons, based on the junior's level of skill, were given in four hourly sessions, from 2:00 - 6:00 p.m.

Spiegel Associates is the academy's principal sponsor. Funds in support of the tennis academy were contributed by The Jerry and Emily Spiegel Family Foundation. The tennis courts which were used by the academy were provided as a courtesy by the Town of Oyster Bay.

THREE HICKSVILLE residents won awards and prizes at the grand finale of the second annual Spiegel Associates/Gene Mayer Junior Tennis Academy—a free month-long tennis program. Rod Carolan (second from left) won a new Wilson tennis racquet for being selected as the program's "Boys Future Tennis Star." The closing day also featured a "fastest serve contest" in which Shanna Barter (center) won the "Girls Fastest Serve" title with her 55 m.p.h. serve, and Tom Carolan (second from right) captured the "Boys Fastest Serve" title with a 62 m.p.h. reading. Flanking the students were Gene Mayer (left) of Mill Neck, Long Island, formerly the fourth ranked tennis player in the world and supervisor of the program, and Lori Lee (right) of Spiegel Associates. The Academy's sponsor is Spiegel Associates of Jericho.
