Izzo Found Guilty On 35 Counts Of Child Abuse

A Nassau County jury last Wednesday returned a guilty verdict on all sex abuse counts in the first case against Robert Izzo, the Hicksville man accused of molesting Boys Scouts in a local troop of which he was a leader.

Through a spokesman, Nassau County District Attorney Denis Dillon said that Izzo, 41, would be sentenced by County Court Judge Jack Mackston on Tuesday, April 2, in Mineola.

Izzo faces a maximum sentence of 55 3/4 to 167 years for 35 counts which charged him with abusing three boys and another youngster.

Additional indictments remain outstanding against Izzo and include a 143-count indictment charging him with molesting 16 kindergarten children who were passengers on a bus he drove.

No date has been set for a trial for that indictment, according to assistant district attorney Maureen Riordan.

Izzo's attorney, Anthony Capetola, said Thursday that he will consult his client to discuss his options—which could include a possible appeal.

Hicksville Awaits Return Of Heroes

By Rita Langdon

America might be celebrating a cease fire in the Persian Gulf War, but for many families the real moment of victory will not come until their sons, daughters, husbands and wives return home.

"I'll know when it's over when I hear from him and the troops get out of there," said JoAnne Renneisen, of her son, John, 21, who is stationed overseas with the 2nd Armor Regiment Division.

"I'm being cautiously optimistic," said Joyce Jurgensen, whose son, Paul, was one of the first troops deployed to Saudi Arabia.

Paul, 20, is well-known to Hicksville residents who have read about him in the local press when he served during the U.S. invasion of Panama in 1989.

After hearing President Bush's cease-fire address last week, Joyce said she "expected more. I was hoping for more to grasp onto. I still don't trust Hussein."

Joyce, who heads a newly formed support group for local families, added that over the past few months she, and other group members, have had their hopes raised many times after hearing reports that Iraq would leave Kuwait, only to find out that the fighting still continued.

"That was a letdown," said support group member Arlene (Fugarazzo) Artale about the false alarms. Her husband, Joseph, 43,

School Board Agrees To Hire Consultant

By Peggy Theis

Will Assist In Superintendent Search

The Hicksville School Board as agreed to hire a consultant to assist in its search for a new superintendent to replace Dr. Catherine Fenton, who is retiring.

The board had met in executive session with Dr. Ira Singer, the District Superintendent of Nassau County, and agreed with his recommendation to hire a consultant.

Using a list of 10 consultants provided by Dr. Singer, the board had already mailed letters to 11 consultants and received responses from four. Board President Carole Wolf said that a time line had been drawn and that a consultant will be selected by March 12. By March 21, the board will have decided on its guidelines to be used by the consultant in conducting the search. Besides reviewing resumes, the important background checks on candidates, which cannot be done by the board alone, will be handled by the chosen consultant. The board will personally interview the final candidates.

According to Dr. Singer, the search process usually takes about three months; five Nassau districts are currently seeking new superintendents.

Wolf said that the Board Trustee elected on May 22 to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Jo Ann Miltenberg would be sworn in immediately and would participate in the selection process. According to the time line, a new superintendent should be hired by Aug. 1 in order to insure a smooth transition.

In recommending that the board accept Dr. Singer's suggestion to hire a consultant, Dr. Fenton expressed her concurrence in that decision. The board limited contractual costs to $15,000, excluding work-related personnel expenditures.

Dr. Fenton will retire on Aug. 31.

Board Business

After listening to over four hours of debate at the School Board's Feb. 26 meeting, a resident commented that the board's lack of "internal harmony" was causing "external disharmony" in the community. While the board has been reduced to five members as the result of the resignations of Jo Ann Miltenberg and Patricia Rooney, four affirmative votes are still necessary for the approval of action items.

With Trustee William Collins absent due to illness, motions for the lease purchase of a xerox at the Middle School, the payment of Section VIII athletic fees, the hiring of a teaching assistant and the elimination of the planned balance contained in the 1990-91 budget were defeated. In addition, the extension of the Jaco bus transportation contract at a 1% annual increase was tabled. However, the board did set guidelines for a committee appointed to review leasing for the Willet Avenue School.

Planning Balance

On Feb. 26, Board President Carole Wolf motioned that the board authorize a reduction in the budget by $1 million by eliminating Code 9080 (Planned Balance) and increasing the Unreserved Fund Equity by the same amount. According to Wolf, the "incorrect terminology" would be corrected by this action.

According to the State, a district on austerity cannot budget a planned balance because it is not allowed to intentionally formulate a budget calling for more money than it is planning to spend. Upon questioning

Adopt A Pet At Town's New Animal Shelter

By Kathy Gerber

Stray cats and dogs in the Town of Oyster Bay were officially welcomed to their new home—a $1.2 million animal shelter in Syosset—at a ribbon cutting ceremony held last month.

Town Clerk Carl Marcellino, a Syosset resident, called the new shelter the "most modern facility around." The new shelter, designed by the firm of Edward Durell Stone Associates and replaces the Town's previous animal shelter located at the same location on Miller Place. The former facility, built in 1958, was demolished last year because of its inadequate size.

The increased size of the new facility will allow the Town to hold cats and dogs for a longer period of time in the hopes that the animals will be adopted, said Supervisor Angelo A. Delligatti at the opening day ceremony. The new building meets or exceeds standards set by the American Humane Association, a town spokesperson said.

Some of the first occupants to enjoy the comfortable surroundings included a pedigree Doberman, a Dobie mix, a female Labrador, terriers, a Collie mix, and a full-blooded Akita with four two-week old newborns. The newborns will be eligible for adoption when they are five or six weeks old, according to a shelter employee.

Features of the shelter, which was designed with help from animal rights groups, include an insulated ceiling which allows natural light to flow into the kennels during the day and saves on electricity both in winter and summer, and a complete air exchange system to circulate air within the kennels every 15 minutes.

In addition, each cage in the kennel area has a sheltered outdoor area so dogs can run outside regardless of the weather.

Cats are kept in a soundproof room to keep them from hearing the sound of barking dogs, which Charles Yodice, shelter director, said tends to "worry" them. The result, he said, is a "happier, healthier and more appealing cat to prospective adopters."

There is a showcase in the main lobby of the shelter to highlight pets for adoption. All of the animals at the shelter are up for adoption after the required holding period ends, said Yodice. This period ranges from 7 to 12 days.

The charge for dogs is $9 and includes the $7.50 state licensing fee. Cats are free because they do not require licensing, said Yodice.

Four veterinarians are associated with the animal shelter and will provide emergency services for the animals.

Many of the dogs in the shelter are brought in after town residents alert the facility that they have seen a stray in their neighborhood. Director of the animal shelter, Charles Yodice said, the Town will generally not pick up cats because many are pets simply roaming the neighborhood. Yodice said most cats are brought in by residents.

Other Town of Oyster Bay officials at the ceremony were Councilman Leonard B. Symons, Councilwoman Ann R. Ocker, Town Clerk Carl Marcellino, Receiver of Taxes Gary F. Musiello and Sybil Meisel of the Pioneers for Animal Welfare Society (PAWS).

The shelter is located at 150 Miller Place, off the Long Island Expressway Service Road, west of South Oyster Bay Road in Syosset. It is open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Saturday, 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and is closed on Sunday.

"Buzzy" Named Most Valuable Barkeeper

Hicksville's own Joseph "Buzzy" Assante was named the "Most Valuable Barkeeper" at Barkeepers' Hall of Fame ceremonies held on Feb. 25.

Buzzy, who is employed at Peppercorn's on East Marie Street, competed against 11 other candidates for the top award. Buzzy raised the most money for charity during an eight-week campaign. Buzzy, who raised $27,800 for Hope House Ministries, also won a trip for two to the Bahamas, compliments of Hauppauge-Lloyd and Euro Lloyd Travel. He raised the funds through various raffles and parties which he coordinated with the help of his friends.

Buzzy, 34, has been bartending since 1976 and is married with four children. He is a graduate of Hicksville High School and the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point.

Also at the Feb. 25 ceremony, Buzzy was inducted into the Barkeepers' Hall of Fame (BHF).

BHF, sponsored by Paddington Corp., was created in 1987 by Long Island restaurateurs, retailers and wholesalers to stage an industry-wide event to honor the best barkeepers, those professional men and women who are the dispensers of cheer, philosophers of life, arbitrators of disputes, tellers of tall tales, current event specialists, setters of the limits and creators of successful establishments.

The ceremonies were also an opportunity to raise funds for worthy charities. Tony Greco, chairman of the ball, announced that this year's proceeds will benefit Hope House Ministries, a creative human services center for young people and adults in crisis, and the Long Island Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Resident Writes Book

Hicksville resident Gerald Albert has written a new book on real-life behavior changes called The Wonderful Magic of No-Fault Living.

Encouraging people to change, even for the better, is not easy, especially if their behavior patterns have been reinforced over a long period of time. But there is an effective way of approaching this difficult task, according to Albert, a professor at C.W. Post Campus of Long Island University.

Albert's philosophy is outlined in his book which will be published this spring by Impact Publishers of California. He believes major changes for the better can be made in almost all human relationships, personal and professional, by completely abandoning the concept of blame and fault.

Gerald Albert has a doctorate in marital and family therapy from Columbia University. He maintains his psychotherapy practice in East Meadow.

—Week ending March 4—

Saying, "Kuwait is liberated, Iraq's army is defeated, our military objectives are met," President Bush announced Feb. 28 that the military would end its mission in the Persian Gulf after 41 days of war. The president and the Iraqis agreed to terms that included Iraq releasing all prisoners of war, notifying Kuwait of all mines on land and sea; and complying with the 12 United Nations resolutions passed against Iraq. The Iraqis later accepted the terms of a UN resolution setting terms for a permanent truce.

Local communities planned welcome-home gatherings for their service-people in the Persian Gulf.

TO YOUR HEALTH

By RICHARD H. BLAU, M.D.

Osteoarthritis Is The Most Common of All Arthritis

Osteoarthritis, also called degenerative arthritis, is estimated to affect 17 million people in the United States. Often confused with rheumatoid arthritis, osteoarthritis usually affects people over the age of 40. Unlike rheumatoid arthritis, which strikes the smaller joints, osteoarthritis affects the larger weight bearing joints. People with osteoarthritis usually have pain in the lower back, hips, and knees. This pain is worse toward the latter part of the day and after activity.

The cause of osteoarthritis is not known. Many rheumatologists (arthritis specialists) believe some people may be born with a predisposition to develop this form of arthritis. Additionally they feel a defect in the cartilage, coupled with years of stress or injury to the joint, may also result in this disease.

Unfortunately, many people believe that if you have arthritis nothing can be done. Nothing can be further from the truth. Treatment begins with a correct diagnosis. Your physician will ask you many questions about your joint pain. A complete physical examination will be performed. Additionally, blood tests and x-rays may be required.

Once the diagnosis is established, a proper treatment program can be initiated. Often a multi-disciplinary approach is required. This may include anti-inflammatory medications, regular special exercises, a balanced diet, physical therapy, and instruction in joint protection. These various modalities are usually able to control the pain and disability associated with osteoarthritis.

Arthritis strikes one out of seven people. Learn the facts. Call for your complimentary copy of "The Joint Approach - An Arthritis Overview."

To Each His Own: Nassau's Unique Libraries

By Eileen Brennan

West to east, north to south, the individual libraries in Nassau County have unique programs, reflecting the communities in which they are located.

According to Muriel Turk of the Great Neck Library, Great Neck has a "symbiotic relation with the community." Pointing to the wide variety of cultural programs, from concerts to art exhibits to lectures, offered by the library, Ms. Turk says proudly that Great Neck has never defeated a library budget. "We couldn't do all the things we do if the community wasn't willing to pay for them."

One program unique to Great Neck is called LEVELS. An after-school recreational and cultural program for students from seventh grade through college, LEVELS goes from A to V, from art to video production. Students write, produce and act in plays; they have community discussions with their parents, with local politicians and with one another. According to Ms. Turk, "it's also a great place to hang out."

Moving west, there is a small but excellent library in Manhasset. The library, which is rapidly outgrowing its present building, is one of the most heavily used on Long Island. In other words, Manhasset residents check out more books, per capita, than members of other library districts.

The Manhasset Library is the home of the Frances Hodgson Burnett collection. The author of such popular books as Little Lord Fauntleroy and The Secret Garden, Mrs. Burnett was a resident of Plandome and the collection was a gift to the library from her heirs. Mrs. Burnett is in the news these days because a Broadway musical, based on The Secret Garden is expected to open next month.

The thoughtfulness of a Manhasset resident was responsible for a program that, according to Marcia Conescu of the Manhasset Library, is "the only one of its kind in the world." The woman was employing an "au pair" girl who found herself without companionship in her new surroundings. Her employer went to the library with the problem. Today, the Manhasset Library sponsors an Au Pair Circle. Girls come from all over the county to make new friends and hear appropriate speakers. Next month, for example, a social worker is coming to a meeting to teach the girls about "positive self-imaging." The program has meant a great deal to these young women, many of whom are away from home for the first time.

Elly Shodell of Port Washington was working in the oral history department at Columbia University when she decided that she didn't want to commute any more. "The Columbia program, which was begun in 1949, only documents the movers and shakers," she says. "I had the idea that there were many interesting groups in Port Washington whose stories were worth telling." She began with the African-American community and found members of 10 old families who were willing to talk. The result of these conversations was an art sandpits. Ms. Shodell says that she was fortunate in finding Al Marino, who had been a foreman for the Pope family. "He knew everybody and everybody knew him," she says. That meant that people were willing to talk to us." This program, with funding from the New York State Council of the Arts, resulted in a folk art exhibit.

The next program focussed on the people who worked on the Gold Coast estates. Some exhibit and an audio-montage. The African-Americans worked in many areas of the town, but not in the famous Port Washington sandpits.

This led to in Ms. Shodell's second project, an oral history of the Italian-Americans and especially the Sardinians who came to Port Washington and found employment in the of the Italian-American families whose members worked in the sandpits also has members who worked as gardeners and day laborers on the estates, but the house servants were Scottish, Irish and English. Their story became a traveling exhibit of photographs, tapes and documents that has been shown in many Long Island libraries and is presently at the Vanderbilt museum in Centerport. Ms. Shodell's ambitious next program will be called "Ship-riggers and Clam-diggers." They are all "history from the bottom up," she says.

The Bryant Library in Roslyn located in the beautiful Roslyn Pond Park, is also deeply involved in history. Its local history collection is housed in the beautifully paneled Bryant Room. It is a scholarly collection of documents, maps, postcards and photographs of the life of Roslyn and surrounding areas of the north shore. The library was recently given the scrapbooks of the Clarence Mackey family, one of the great landowning families of the Roslyn area. Ellin Mackey was married to Irving Berlin and when a recent biography of Berlin was written, its author borrowed photographs from the Bryant Library.

The Bryant Library has a beautiful art gallery and has often been the first to show the work of important local artists.

In a future article we hope to focus on other libraries of the island that have created unique programs.

School Board Business

from resident Ray Manzo, the district's legal counsel (Gregory Guercio) at the board's Jan. 23 meeting said a surplus from a prior year could be placed in a "planned reserve". At that time, Guercio claimed that the district had erred in labeling this surplus as a "planned balance".

Manzo wrote to the Commissioner of Education requesting a determination on the appropriateness of a "planning balance line item" in Hicksville's 1990-91 austerity budget. Manzo requested by letter that the board submit a statement of agreement to the Commissioner to review the dispute.

In August, the board had decided that it wished a reserve of $1,000,000 to appear as a line item on the 1990-91 budget. Approximately $1.5 million was then cut from the defeated May budget in various codes. Trustee William Bennett said he regretted voting in favor of this decision. He said he believed the building of a reserve by accumulating savings in budget codes was very important and had been used in the past as a revenue item to help lower taxes.

In voting against Wolf's motion, Bennett persisted that the $1 million remain intact as a reserve to offset tax increases for 1991-92. Superintendent Catherine Fenton stated that the district's auditor had agreed with that commitment.

Trustee Arlene Rudin asked for a meeting with the auditor to discuss the situation as she did not want to make a commitment at this time. Fenton, in indicating that the matter had already been discussed with Wolf and Rudin, said she was bringing the matter up in public in order not to cause a problem in the future.

In voting no, Bennett said he felt the board should "not tamper with the people's budget." Further problems will occur, according to Bennett, because "too much money" was taken out of the budget in August in the failed effort to obtain passage on the second vote. He then asked that Wolf request the Citizen's Budget Committee to look at closing another school, particularly East Street.

Fenton recommended that the board approve the extension of the Jaco Bus contract, a division of Educational Transportation, for a three-year period at 1% increase per year, commencing in September. In voting no, Rudin indicated that she wanted to review the full contract and that the item could be brought back in March for a decision. Approval of the extension, according to Fenton, would have a "tremendous financial advantage to the district."

At that point, Assistant Superintendent for Business William Hall said he would notify Jaco that the extension had been rejected and the district would go out for bid. Later, Rudin indicated that she would vote to table a new motion regarding Jaco if one of the board members who had voted on the affirmative asked for a re-vote. Although Bennett first indicated he would vote no on the tabling because he felt it indicated a lack of board support for Jaco, he was convinced by Wolf to go along with the tabling.

Angry residents asked Rudin to decide in favor of Jaco, citing their support of the company who had taken over the routes formerly serviced by Harran Transportation. The district had involved community members in the decision-making process relating to the February 1990 transfer of the Harran contract to Jaco. Resident Joan Kani "implored" the board to take into consideration the community's acceptance of Jaco as a "safe company" when making its decision. Resident Nancy Callari received a "yes" answer to her question as to the ability of Jaco to raise its increase higher than 1% in waiting longer for an extension.

Use of Playing Fields

In reporting on the Feb. 6 Facilities Committee, Wolf said a discussion was held on continuing to allow Holy Trinity High School to use the Dutch Lane Fields. Members of the community, as well as staff, have reported a misuse of this privilege by Holy Trinity students. The school will be notified of these concerns and permission for use of the fields will be withdrawn if the concerns are not rectified.

Public Session

A snowy evening kept attendance lighter than recently experienced and the meeting began promptly in the high school auditorium. Resident Gene Diradourian began the first public session by thanking the board for moving the session back to its earlier agenda slot. He expressed displeasure with administrative budget preparations in light of the proposed state aid cuts. Wolf stated that administration has come out with "many, many" areas to cut and that the budget now being looked at was only a "working budget...a lot has to be done." Martillo commented that in formulating the new budget residents had to realize that replacing the austerity-reduced items alone added $1.8 million to the 1991-92 budget.

Throughout the evening residents restated their belief that Martillo should have abstained from voting with regard to the East Street school. Resident Janet Von Barga reiterated her reasons for asking for Martillo's resignation, as well as for Rudin's and Collins'. Martillo said the accusations were "pure opinion" and had no basis in fact. He said he had been placed in a "bind" when then President Jo Ann Miltenberg would not allow the vote to close Willet and East to be separated as requested by Wolf.

Jeff Siegel brought up the possibility of moving the Middle School into the high school building. According to his figures, the total secondary population is now less than the 1980 high school enrollment. He also discussed the costly asbestos abatement project facing the Middle School similar to East Street's problem. Siegel said that Jericho had a joint Middle School/High School.

In vehemently disagreeing with him, Janet Von Barga questioned Siegel's motives in making such a suggestion.

Opening lead — three of diamonds.

Bridge is much too difficult a game for anyone to always play perfectly. Mistakes are fairly frequent, even at the highest level, and the most that anyone can realistically hope to do is to hold these mistakes to a minimum.

Consider this deal from the 1977 World Championship match between the United States and Sweden. When the U.S. held the North-South cards, the bidding went as shown. North's two club bid over one notrump was "Landy," showing length in both major suits.

West led a diamond against four hearts doubled and the American declarer took East's king with the ace. South played a trump at trick two, winning in dummy with the queen and learning of the 3-0 trump division. He then returned to his hand with a diamond and this time led a spade.

West followed low, as most defenders would do, and declarer went up with the king because West was marked by the bidding with the ace of spades. Next came a low spade to West's ace, after which it didn't matter what West played next. With proper play, South was now bound to make the contract.

However, West could have defeated four hearts by going up with the ace of spades at trick four. West could then have exited with a spade at trick five, and South would have found it impossible to stop West from scoring two trump tricks with the A-J.

It is not difficult to prove that West's proper play at trick four was to go up with the ace of spades and return the suit. But in the heat of battle — when a defender does not have the time to analyze a situation completely and instead reacts instinctively — it is easy to make a mistake. West was only doing what came naturally.

Reflecting On VFW Post 3211's 56 Years

By P.P.C. Carmine A. Somma

William M. Gouse Jr. Post 3211, celebrated its 56th anniversary with a dinner dance held at the post hall Feb. 23. The chairman of this event was Sr. Vice Commander Vincent Edwards and his two co-chairmen Aldo Vitiello and Joe Normandy. Here is a summary of the post early years and its most current accomplishments. Mrs. John Distler was awarded a plaque for community service.

VFW Post Hicksville was originally named Manetto Plains Post 3211. Its charter was approved on Feb. 4, 1935 and instituted on Feb. 11, 1935. Twenty comrades comprised the post at the time of the first muster. By the end of 1935, the post listed 61 members. Today, the Post has grown to more than 500 members.

The Manetto Plains Post 3211 was renamed the William M. Gouse Post 3211 several years later as per agreement by the comrades of the Post that whichever comrade died first the post would be named after him. William M. Gouse Jr. died on Oct. 6, 1938 at he age of 39. He was the son of Quaker parents and served in the U.S. Army in World War I.

VFW Post 3211 bought its property in 1946 at 320 South Broadway. It held post meetings in the Odd Fellows Hall at the Masonic Temple in Hicksville until 1948. The Post then moved into their building on Sept. 9. In 1973, a new wing was added.

New Treatments For Hearing And Speech Disorders At North Shore-Cornell

New programs at North Shore University Hospital-Cornell University Medical College have extended the hospital's speech and hearing services so much that the department has taken a new name to reflect its greater scope.

Now called the Department of Communication Disorders - formerly the Speech and Hearing Department - the unit's team of diagnosticians and therapists can diagnose and treat infants in their first days of life, as well as older patients. The department retains its two divisions, Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology.

At North Shore-Cornell, it now is possible to communicate without talking and discover hearing disabilities in newborns before they are old enough to leave the nursery.

The Communication Disorders Department offers comprehensive diagnosis, treatment and counseling for a wide range of speech and hearing disorders. In addition to identifying and treating hearing loss, the department diagnoses language disorders in children who cannot adequately express their thoughts and provides speech therapy. It also provides comprehensive care for children with cleft palates and adults with voice or language disorders.

For further information, contact the Department of Communication Disorders at (516) 562-4600.

IT TAKES MORE THAN A RESOLUTION TO LOSE 50 POUNDS.

It happens every year about this time. You make a list of resolutions. At the top of the list: I will lose weight!

But if you have learned anything from these annual rituals, it is this: Losing at least 50 pounds takes more than a resolution.

It requires a medically approved and supervised weight-loss program like The OPTIFAST® Program. The Program provides the close attention of physicians, nurses and other professionals to help you lose weight. And to help you keep the weight off, The OPTIFAST Program also provides nutritional counseling, behavior-modification techniques, an exercise program and the group support of others who share your problem.*

So make 1991 the year you give your number-one resolution a real chance. If you are 50 pounds or more overweight, resolve right now to attend our next evaluation session. It's free and there's no obligation to sign up.

Losing 50 pounds or more won't be as easy as ringing in the New Year. But with honest commitment, it could make a big difference in your life for many new years to come.

*Based on the Optifast® Core Program Clinical Trial, nearly half of all people completing 26 weeks of treatment have maintained, on average, over 70% of their usual weight loss at one year period.

Climb into Fitness. And save $50

Most people think total fitness is a long climb. But it's not. It's just a series of steps. And you can take them on the Spirit 764C Flex Step.

Climbing on a Spirit 764C Flex Step helps improve your cardiovascular fitness while you work all your major muscle groups: shoulders, chest, legs, buttocks, back and arms.

More important, Spirit steppers, which start as low as $349, give you a smooth, low impact workout: so you can exercise your muscles while you exercise your tensions.

And if you come into All For Fitness before March 23, 1991, you can, without climbing all over our salespeople work out a $50 savings.

Student Expenses Add To College Costs

For parents and children who are just beginning the college search, it's smart to take some time to estimate the total costs of attending college before deciding how to pay for it. When calculating those costs, don't forget to include living expenses and other discretionary costs, which are often overlooked when considering the total college tab, according to the Student Loan Marketing Association (Sallie Mae).

"Before deciding on a college, parents should sit down with their child to come up with a typical school year budget to help understand the total cost of attending a particular school," said June M. McCormack, Sallie Mae Vice President. "By estimating first-year living expenses early and realistically parents can, with the help of a financial aid specialist, decide the best way to finance college—whether from the parents' or the child's savings, financial aid, or a combination of resources."

McCormack said that when developing a student budget, families should list, on the income side, the parents' and child's contribution from income and savings, and include any grants, loans and scholarships they expect to receive. On the expenses side, in addition to tuition and room and board, the budget should include fees, books, transportation, insurance, medical expenses, phone bills, laundry, car upkeep, gas and any other living expenses.

For the budget to work, she said, discretionary spending must be considered, too. Clothes, trips home, entertainment and weekend trips should be part of the budget.

"After doing a budget, families may realize that the student may need to work part-time to help pay for college expenses, for example, or that the student can reduce some of his or her living expenses by attending a school near home," said McCormack.

HOFSTRA

An education
doesn't last four years,
it lasts a lifetime.

An education should not only prepare you for a career, it should prepare you for life. At Hofstra we have created a university environment which nurtures this kind of growth.

This environment is enriched by over 450 full-time faculty members, of which 85% hold the highest degrees in their field. It is supported by a library with over 1.2 million volumes available on campus, a collection larger than that of 95% of all American colleges and universities.

Yet, there's more to Hofstra.

Each year on campus there are over 500 cultural events, from classical concerts to presidential conferences. The 238-acre campus itself is so impressive that it has been designated as a national arboretum, complementing the nationally accredited Hofstra Museum of Fine Arts.

It is this unique blend of academics and campus life that helps Hofstra students develop the confidence they will need to succeed in all aspects of life.

HOFSTRA UNIVERSITY
WE TEACH SUCCESS.

Hofstra: Major Growth In A Short Time

Throughout the short history of 5 years' progression in academe, Hofstra University in Hempstead stands proud because of the yield provided by its determination to hold fast to many of the original criteria of the founding members.

The emphasis from the outset of quality of student and quality of faculty, the willingness to innovate, both in program course offerings and pioneering programs for the ethnically, academically and physically handicapped, the assumption of university responsibility of the problems of its immediate and its larger community, together with upholding the commitment for excellence, has attained for Hofstra recognition of maintaining standards acceptable to many of the educational accrediting agencies.

In addition to the many academic program accreditations earned, the University Gallery received national museum accreditation, one out of 45 university museums in the nation to be so awarded this recognition.

The Hofstra campus has also received recognition as an arboretum. The Hofstra collection of more than 3500 trees representing 165 species, varieties and cultivars provides "living lab" for the Biology department, and offers the public an attractively landscaped area in which to learn about and enjoy nature. The flowering seasonal plantings enhance the campus area, most notably the Spring-blooming tulips of more than 70,000 count that celebrate the Spring Festival of Dutch heritage for the Hofstra mansion and grounds of the south campus. The north campus celebrates the Dutch heritage in early December when Kinter Klaus is welcomed in a tree-lighting ceremony that begins the holiday season.

The vigor of all cultural and entertainment activities has developed from the enthusiasm of interest and support of both alumni and student, faculty and administrator. The diverse student body come from many parts of the United States and abroad. The accessibility to national and international travel facilities provides Hofstra with an ideal location for both academic study and exploration of Long Island and New York City environments for its students, while at the same time providing accessibility for world leaders and scholars participating in major conferences, most notably the presidential series of past United States presidents.

In implementing a strong academic standard for its students, Hofstra has realized a strong student outcome as its graduates earn recognition in the arts and professional fields. The longitudinal student outcome study of the university shows a continuing high success rate for its graduates within the educational, business, law, public, political, sciences and arts fields. More than 60 percent of Hofstra graduates of both the undergraduate and graduate degree level indicate attainment of graduate or professional school degrees. This measurement of educational outcome substantiates the Hofstra proclamation "We Teach Success."

The 238-acre, state-of-the-arts campus complex serves the academic, residence and activities needs of its student community as well as providing accessibility to cultural events for the general public through the Hofstra Cultural Center.

The campus, divided by a major thoroughfare (Fulton Avenue), is united by an elevated walkway spanning the thoroughfare, the Unispán. The north campus provides a variety of residence settings for its 4100 resident students, offering high-rise towers, living-learning centers, apartments and a freshman center residence. Services provided in each of these areas include study areas, washers and dryers, and, complete kitchenettes.

The north campus also includes dining halls and bookstore within an atrium setting, an entertainment center with performance hall seating over 500, a game room, a skating rink and a gourmet food shop. The Infirmary, the Physical Fitness Center and an indoor olympic-size swimming pool as well as the University Club dining/conference center are also located on the north campus.

Central focus on the south campus is the original Hofstra mansion wherein the original college was established in 1935. The south campus of 1988 is now greatly expanded to include the Hofstra College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, the School of Business, the School of Education, New College of Hofstra (innovative undergraduate college), the School of Law, Alumni College and the University College for Continuing Education.

Adjacent to, or, as a support facility to these academic environs are located the 10-story tower and 2-story pavilion of the award-winning Library housing more than 1.2 million volumes; the Arts-Technology Complex which includes major computer labs and the Television Institute with Dance Studio, the Playhouse performance theater, a lecture center in the Life-Sciences Complex, a music listening room, resource centers for Reading/Communication, Reading/Learning, Special Education and Rehabilitation, two intimate-size performance theaters, the major outdoor exhibition areas of the Hofstra Museum, a child-care center open to children of Hofstra students, an indoor-outdoor dining facility, the Campus Deli and the administrative buildings along with the other various support services buildings.

In 1959, Hofstra University established Long Island's first non-commercial radio station. Now known as WRHU-FM, the station has the second-largest audience of any college station on Long Island and has been the training ground for professionals like legendary WABC disk jockey Dan Ingram and WBAB-FM's Ralph Tortora. For the past three years, WRHU has been the only radio station providing coverage of Nassau election returns.

The Hofstra campus is architecturally barrier-free for the physically disabled and recognized as a national model.

Sportset

It is an accepted medical fact of life that regular exercise is essential to good health, yet only 20 percent of the adults in our country follow a regular program of physical fitness.

According to researchers at the University of Massachusetts Medical School, people are more likely to stay with an exercise program when they have easy access to good workout facilities and get the support and guidance of fitness experts. That is where a full service club such as Sportset's Syosset Club can help people stick with a program.

Sportset is more than an exercise studio. It offers the basics—weight training, cardiovascular exercise machines, and an aerobics studio with over 50 classes per week. There are a variety of active sports options including 14 professional racquetball and basketball courts. Members can participate in league and tournament play and many experts are available for lessons. The club also has an indoor jogging track.

Sportset is open from dawn until 11 p.m. so that members can work out at their convenience. The staff of professionals will help members design workout programs to suit the individual's goals. Periodic testing and cardiovascular screening enable the members to evaluate their progress.

The facilities at the club are excellent. The cafe is open all day every day. It is a convenient place for breakfast following an early morning workout. There are amenities such as a steam room and sauna adjacent to each locker room. Wellness lectures, parties and group trips are all part of the Sportset experience. Supervised child care facilities are a plus for busy families as well. There is also an on-site physical therapy and cardiovascular fitness center for medical problems.

Working out in a fitness and athletic club environment such as Sportset offers the benefits of exercise variety, interaction with fitness-oriented people, professional instruction and access to specialized equipment. One visit is all it takes to experience the meaning that full service can give to physical fitness.

For information call 496-3100. Sportset is located at 10 Gordon Drive in Syosset.

Brooklyn, the Bronx and even some Long Islanders. It is a clear affirmation of Polytechnic's longstanding commitment to the Long Island region.

For 50 years, Polytechnic has been an important presence on Long Island, when during World War II highly sensitive research that helped develop radar and major aerospace technology was undertaken. In 1961, the school opened its Farmingdale campus as a graduate center. Undergraduate programs were added in 1974. Today, the Long Island campus off of Route 110 serves some 1,000 students studying engineering and technology.

Polytechnic was founded in 1854 in Brooklyn, and for many years was known as "Brooklyn Poly." With some 4,000 students, the university has the largest graduate engineering enrollment in the metropolitan region and one of the largest in the nation. Polytechnic offers a wide range of graduate and undergraduate programs in engineering, arts and sciences, and management at its three campuses in Brooklyn, Hawthorn, and Farmingdale.

"At virtually every major Long Island technology-based company, the common denominator among the engineers and technology-oriented managers who have built 'Tech-Island' is a degree from Polytechnic," says University president George Bugliarelli.

Carousel Day School Meets Families' Needs

Because parents today find it necessary to have a two-family income, it's important for them to find a reputable day school that can provide their children with the individual attention needed to develop independence and self-esteem.

This aim to impart knowledge, teach basic skills and build confidence is the philosophy of Hicksville's Carousel Day School, according to Jane and Gene Formica, owners and directors.

Carousel's staff consists of certified teachers and teachers' assistants who offer enrichment programs including a computer program on appropriate developmental levels.

Nursery through kindergarten programs are offered in the morning, afternoon and full-day sessions.

Carousel's elementary program instruction and classroom atmosphere are equivalent to that provided for children of similar age in local school districts.

Development reports are sent home during the school year. The parent is welcome to arrange a conference with the teacher periodically. Carousel's staff will discuss the child's progress and help parents plan his or her home activities.

Carousel also has before and after school programs which bring children to their schools in the morning or picked up from their schools and brought back to Carousel in the afternoon.

During this time at Carousel, the children are given a snack and are able to do their homework with supervision.

A summer program is offered for boys and girls ages 3 through 13. Carousel provides a complete sports program including badminton, baseball, basketball, tennis, soccer, softball and volleyball.

Other summer activities include aerobics, arts and crafts, cooking, sports Olympics Day, swimming marathons, ceramics, dance, karate, music, wood craft and puppetry.

Certified life guards man the camp's two heated swimming pools.

A registered nurse is always on staff. All transportation is provided by Carousel. The buses are inspected by the New York State Department of Transportation and are equipped with individual seatbelts.

Carousel is chartered by the N.Y. State Education Department and Board of Regents from nursery through grade 3. The school is located at 9 West Avenue, Hicksville, 938-1137.

College Admission: A Buyer's Market

Is an Ivy League education your child's dream? If so, the timing couldn't be better, but Mom and Dad's help will be needed according to the results of a national survey of high school seniors.

"Now is the time to dream," said Janet Ronkin, president and founder of The Ronkin Educational Group, which recently polled America's high school seniors to compare attitudes on college preparation, the SAT examination and general study habits. "Now, more than ever before, students can be accepted to colleges they never dreamed were within their academic or economic reach," she said.

According to the survey, nearly 68 percent of high school seniors say there are colleges they would like to attend, but cannot. The reasons? Students either believe the colleges are too expensive (48 percent) or that they are not academically qualified for admission (41 percent).

However, shrinking pools of applicants for colleges and universities across the country may mean good news for high school seniors.

"There are significantly fewer applicants competing for admission even at the schools which are traditionally considered the most competitive," Ronkin said. Therefore, your child's chances of being accepted improve significantly.

The Ronkin Educational Group polled 940 high school seniors nationwide, 599 of whom say they plan to attend a four-year college. The survey was conducted by National Family Opinion, Inc., a market research firm in Toledo, Ohio. The survey has a variance factor of plus or minus four percent.

Ronkin expects the trend toward smaller numbers of applicants to continue for the next two to three years. "College admission is currently a buyer's market — and parents and their children can take advantage of it to get into the college of their dreams," she said.

So, just how can parents improve their child's acceptance chances?

Ronkin has these suggestions for parents and their college-bound children: "Start planning with your child for his or her college career as early as possible, and be involved every step of the way."

Nearly one quarter of the high school seniors polled say their parents began preparing financially for their college education shortly after their parents began preparing financially for their college education shortly after their birth. Yet nearly half the students (48 percent) don't actively begin the college selection process themselves until the 11th grade.

"Both parents and students should begin actively preparing for college by the eighth grade," said Ronkin. A typical college education represents an investment of $20,000 to $100,000.

Clearly, children want and need their parents' input.

Students agree. Thirty-eight (38) percent say they "wished someone would make the college selection for them" and more than one third (35 percent) call the college selection process "the most important decision I've had to make."

Aside from getting an early, active jump on preparing for college admission, Ronkin said parents can also help their children gain a competitive advantage over other applicants by helping their child highlight his or her special qualities.

Grades are important, but admissions counselors are looking for other attributes such as interesting hobbies or part-time work performed, special skills the student may have such as being fluent in a second language or interest in working with handicapped children, she said.

The key is to recognize these qualities because admissions counselors are looking for attributes which make applicants stand out. Then, parents must help their child communicate those qualities during the admissions process because it can help him or her be accepted to their top college choice.

The Ronkin Educational Group, based in Plantation, Fla., currently operates a network of centers nationwide. Each location offers comprehensive education services including SAT/ACT preparation, LSAT, GMAT and GRE test preparation, college selection and counseling, graduate school selection and counseling and enrichment courses such as study skills, critical writing, term paper preparation and math problem solving.

Pretty "Baby"

"Baby": A Musical Comedy at BayWay Arts Center

By William Gravert

The BayWay Arts Center in East Islip and the resident BroadHollow Players sit on the fence between Off-Broadway and Community theatre. Potent musical and serious theatre without pretentiousness.

Currently playing is "Baby," a musical comedy that romps through the perils and pleasures of pregnancy. Directed by Gerard L. DeFina, written by Sybille Pearson with music and lyrics by David Shire and Richard Maltby, Jr., the story surrounds three couples -- of different ages -- and their encounters with the art and science of baby-making.

College students Lizzy and Danny (Mary Lakis & Tony Agati), though unmarried, decide they want their child. Initially full of feminist ideals, Lizzy consents to Danny's marriage proposals by show's end.

Pam and Nick (Marie Antoinette & Anthony Schiavone) are primed for childbearing but so far, no luck. Their unsuccessful and sometime convoluted chase for parenthood leads to the revelation that their love is inversely proportional to their ability to conceive.

Parents of three grown children, Arlene and Alans (Mary Ellin Kurtz and John Salvato) stagnating relationship is on autopilot until they discover she's pregnant -- after "that night at The Plaza." Fueled by indecision over the child, they find their return down the road to romance can indeed be rocky.

Though basically a musical, "Baby" is peppered with spicey, sometimes salty, dialogue. In the doctor's office Pam and Nick are told of Nick's low sperm count in medical jargon. They want to hear it in simpler terms. After a series of hilarious gesticulations, the Doctor (Gary Milenko) replies: "Sir, you're shooting blanks!"

Musically the show is dangerously bereft of catchy or memorable hooks -- no real toe-tappers. The tunes are rather verbose, but they do convey the sense of urgency and expectation felt by parents-to-be.

Helen Keller Educators Visit Fork Lane

Esther Kossoff and Linda Stillman, educators from the Helen Keller National Center for Adults, Sands Point, visited Robin Greene's class at the Fork Lane School recently to teach the children about sight and sound handicaps.

The children learned about Helen Keller's life and were taught to be friendly and helpful rather than fearful or apprehensive when among a blind and/or deaf person. Guidelines for assisting blind/deaf persons were also taught. A booklet, "Without Sight & Sound," described facts about blind/deaf persons.

Mrs. Kossoff and Mrs. Stillman described various devices for communicating that a blind/deaf person can use. These included the Teletouch, a device worn like a shoulder bag with a keyboard and a screen. Also, the children learned to read and write their names in Braille. In many cases, the children wore eye goggles which simulated various degrees of blindness.

The children worked together and learned about respect and kindness. They also learned a lesson once written by Helen Keller: "The best and most beautiful things in the world cannot be seen or even touched. They must be felt with the heart."

For the Bulls, this was truly a team victory in which every member contributed. Danny Meegan led the scoring with 18 points, while Michael Coen and Anthony Panarelli had 8 points each and played aggressive defense. Patrick Russell chipped in with 4 points and 4 rebounds, and John Brannan played excellent defense, especially in the press. James McVeigh scored an important 4th quarter basket and had 2 fourth quarter rebounds. Kevin Sullivan had 4 assists and made the key play of the game when he stopped a fast break late in the fourth quarter by positioning himself in front of the basket and taking a charging foul. He picked himself off the floor (luckily, he was still in one piece), and this gutsy play by Kevin inspired the Bulls for the rest of the game.

The 7th & 8th grade coaches, Fred Foran,

Nemish Udeshi, and Joe Panarelli want to thank all the boys for a great season and thank the families for their support.

Reflecting On VFW Post 3211's 56 Years

The club supports veterans programs and members visit Northport Veterans Hospital. During the 1990 holidays, the Post entertained patients at the VFW Hall and gave a gift to each person. Post 3211 is dedicated to serving the community and to promotion of patriotism. The Post contributes to charitable institutions and organizations such as the Vietnam Veteran Resource Center, the International Games for the Disabled, needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas, Hicksville Community Council, and others.

Comrades and sisters of the Post answered the call for used clothing and shoes for comrades of Vietnam Veterans in Logan County, West Virginia, also known as Appalachia. The Post made a monetary donation to be used for school supplies and food. The Post promotes patriotism by offering scholarships, sponsoring the Voice of Democracy and Coloring Book contest for the students of the Hicksville School system. For its participation in the community activities, the Post received two national awards for unity service, one for the formation of the Veterans Employment Agency, the other for its first coloring book contest.

The Post was one of the first organizations to contribute to refurbishing the Statue of Liberty. The post donated to Hicksville Veterans Monument Fund Korean and Vietnam War Monuments. The Post made a monetary donation to the Long Island National Cemetery Memorial Organization to Modify and Relocated the Carillion at Pinelawn National Cemetery. Also, the post made a monetary donation to the Pearl Harbor Memorial and Museum at Percy Raynor Park, Setauket, N.Y.

At the present time, the newly formed Mid-Island Support Group for Desert Shield meets at the hall.

Also, the Post has mailed 49 packages to the military personnel in Operation Desert Shield. Members have received letters of thanks from the recipients.

In other Post news, George C. Lang, who served in Vietnam and is the recipient of the Congressional Medal of Honor, is a life member of the Post.

Record Breaking Season For Top Gymnast

Tammy Marshall of Hicksville, a University of Massachusetts sophomore, has been a valuable gymnast for Coach Allie Mitchell's 3-1 Minutewomen.

Tammy competes on all four events and has been UM's top all-around performer. She placed first in the all-around against Cornell (36.10), first in a tri-meet against the University of Pittsburgh and Yale (37.2), and she finished second in the all-around against Towson State with a 36.95.

Coach Mitchell said, "The future looks bright once again for Tammy to have another record breaking season."

Last season, as a freshman, Tammy was named MVP for the Minutewomen. A graduate of Hicksville High School where she competed for Coach Tony Violis, Tammy is a Sport Management major at UM. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Marshall who reside at 3 Fairview Court in Hicksville.

In 1990, Marshall was also the Atlantic 10 Freshman-of-the-Year, and won the A-10 all-around championship. A national competitor in vaulting, she won the NCAA regional title in vaulting.

Hicksville Lions Announce Annual 5K Run

On Sunday, April 14, 1991, the Hicksville Lions will hold its annual 5K Run at Holy Trinity High School, 98 Cherry Lane on Newbridge Rd. (Rte. 106) in Hicksville beginning at 9 a.m.

With a professionally-timed, well-organized run along the flats of Hicksville, the Lions provide a fun and competitive race with a reputation for high quality prizes.

Professional sports footwear and equipment are donated by Goldman Brothers of Hicksville. Goldman's is a major sponsor of the race, along with Natwest Bank USA, Westbury Federal Savings and Montana Agency of Hicksville, a circle agent of Continental Insurance Company.

With major sponsors, the Hicksville Lions is able to donate all proceeds from the race to various charities supported by the club.

Please pre-register by March 31. Pre-registration is $11.00. Registration on the day of the race is $13.00. Call George Montana with any questions at 938-3600.

Comets Lacrosse Team Begins Season Practice

In preparation for opening day against Plainview on Thursday, March 21, the Hicksville High Comet Stick-Men began practice on Monday, March 4.

The Comets, pre-season rated number 2 in Conference I-Nassau County, will be preparing for what promises to be an action packed season.

"Right now we have a team with a huge question mark," Comet coaches Bill Meyer and Chuck Arnone said. "We are faced with the constraints of an Austerity Budget, and are attempting to prepare our personnel to perform at a high level of consistency."

Fourteen of these players are turning offensive and defensive starters who will lead a squad determined to improve upon last year's 13-6 mark. Seniors Mike Valente, an All-Nassau Attack-Man-Empire State player last year and Eugene Goodrich, an All-Conference Midfielder-Empire State Selection last year, and Joe Renneisen, All-League Attack-Empire Finalist in 1990, who will propel the Comet offense along with seniors Rich Nofi—midfielder, Les Spence—midfielder, Pete Kabacinski, a junior midfielder and junior long-sticker Eric Basta who will lend plenty of support. The success of the defense will largely depend on the play of seniors Tom Bruckner, an All-League Defense-Man-Empire State Finalist in 1990, Bob Coogan, Jarret Roth along with junior prospects Scott Hutchinson and Tim Glover.

As the ultimate stopper, senior netminder Doug Danowski returns as a formidable presence in the goal. Danowski had an All-Conference season in 1990 and looks to expand his leadership role on the field this year.

The Comets will highlight three home scrimmages this season on March 13 at Garden City, March 14 at Elmont and March 15 at Port Washington.

Basketball Highlights

3rd and 4th Grade Championship

Knicks 50 Lakers 22

The Knicks concluded an undefeated season with an impressive victory in the championship game, with the entire team contributing to the win. Joe Panarelli led the Knicks with 32 points, followed by Paolo Fumagalli with 10 points and David Barnard with a season high of eight points. Jimmy Cole, Chris Carsten and Chris Charalambous played aggressive defense throughout the game. Voley Martin was out with the chicken pox, but was home rooting for his team all the way. All the Lakers should be commended for their hard play, including Brian Horvath, Michael Conk, Steven Verde, Joshua Beasley, James O'Donnell, Philip Laudin, Danny Cocchi and Marc Ferguson.

The third and fourth grade coaches, Jeff Klupt, Tom Kiernan, Tom Snadecky, Bob Horvath and Joe Panarelli, want to thank all the boys for a great season and thank the parents for their support.

3rd and 4th Grade All Star Game

This was another exciting game which was decided in the last quarter. The Yellow Team All Stars, coached by Joe Panarelli, just beat the Blue Team All Stars, coached by Andy DeBernardo, by a score of 35-30.

Joe Panarelli, as he did all season, led his team with a game high 26 points. Paolo Fumagalli had five points, four points of which came in the last quarter. Matt Connolly contributed four points, including a key fourth quarter basket. Paolo and Matt also played great defense. David Barnard, Stratos Mitsopoulos and Matt Snadecky played aggressively for the entire game.

Andy DeBernardo made his coaching debut in this game and is ready for his own team next season. His Blue Team was led by Danny Cocchi and Jimmy Quinn, both with eight points each. Anton Berzins chipped in with five. Robby Dwyer and Jimmy Williams scored two points each, while Phil Laudin played a great all around game. The big surprise was Sean Cain, who scored a season high five points and great defense.

Basketball Director Joe Panarelli would like to thank all those who participated in the "All Star" activities. Special thanks to Sal Vecchio and Bobby Vernon, who refereed both games and helped to make them more enjoyable for the boys. Also special thanks to Andy DeBernardo, who volunteered his time and talent to coach the 3-4th grade All Stars.

7th and 8th Grade All Star Game

In one of the best played and most exciting games of the year, the Blue Team All Stars, coached by Fred Foran, held on to a two point victory (60-58) over the Gold Team All Stars, coached by Nemish Udeshi. But this game was not about winning and losing, all the boys had a great time and we even had a small party at halftime for the boys, coaches, refs, timekeeper and everyone involved in the game.

Jimmy Famiglietti won the "sports car" as the game's "MVP" leading all scorers with 30 points. He also had 12 rebounds. Rod Carolan chipped in with 14 points, while Mike Foran poured in 9 points, all in the second half. Patrick Russell had 6 points and 4 rebounds. Brian Bruckner and John Brannan played great defense the entire game.

Danny Meegan led the Gold Team with 27 points and 12 rebounds. Anthony Panarelli contributed 13 points and Brian Rigert had 8 points. Kevin Sullivan had 6 points and 5 assists. Mike Coen scored 2 points and played his usual aggressive defense leading to many points for his team; just as he did all season. Carmello Aquilia played a good all around game.

Senior League Championship Game

In the Championship game, Georgetown defeated Notre Dame, 52-51. Billy Jimenez scored 18 points, including a 30 foot shot at the buzzer for the victory. Andy DeBernardo scored 14 points and Shennen Macco scored 10 points for Georgetown. Notre Dame was led by Tom Bruckner and Mike Montana, who had 22 and 17 points respectively.

7th & 8th Grade Championship Game Bulls 40-Warriors 38

In a very exciting and well played championship game, Danny Meegan's clutch free throw with 10 seconds left sealed the victory for the Bulls. This was an extremely close game in which the lead changed hands many times and neither team led more than 3 points at any time.

The Warriors were led by Jimmy Famiglietti with 14 points. Mike Foran and Danny Sydor contributed 7 points each, while Brian Bruckner had 4 and Jimmy Powderly chipped in 3 points. Paul Gomez and Jeff Reinhardt helped in scoring and contributed a great defensive effort.
