20-60 Year Prison Term For Robert Izzo

By A. Anthony Miller and Rita Langdon

Robert Izzo was sentenced to prison last week for the sexual abuse of 16 kindergarteners, three boy scouts and another Hicksville youth. He will be in jail for at Aust 20°2 wears.

The former bus driver stood expressionless and virtue ally silent in Nassau County Court as Judg e Jack Mackston—calling Izzo's conduct; lepraved '—read through the charges' and three indictments.

Izzo, a Hicksville resident, was found guilty earlier this year after a trial on two of the indictments. To avoid a second trial on the remaining indictment, Izzo's lawyer, An thony Capetola, negotiated a plea of guilty to 38 of the 143 counts of sodomy, rape, sexual abuse and endangering the welfare of a child. Izzo also agreed to waive his right to appeal.

The May 7 sentence of not less than 20 or more than 60 years was part of the agreement with the Nassau District Attorney's Office.

"This is one of the worst crimes of this kind that Nassau County has ever seen," Maureen Riordan, the assistant district attorney who prosecuted Izzo, emphasized. "What this man took from these children they will never get back."

The courtroom was packed with a number of the youngsters Izzo abused, and their parents.

The proceedings were almost aborted at the outset when Judge Mackston asked Izzo if he wanted to change his plea of guilty. The jurist's question was based on a Probation Department report in which Izzo denied any guilt. The school bus driver showed neither remorse nor emotion in his appearance before Judge Mackston and remained expressionless.

The parents sat completely silent during the sentencing, but when Izzo, 41, was led away after the 14 minute sentencing, the audience broke into brief applause, one man yelling "Bye, Bob," and another screaming, "Rot in hell, Mr. Bob."

The sentencing ended one of the most shocking criminal cases in Hicksville's history. The community was both stunned and outraged in July 1989 when news of the crimes and the arrest of Izzo were announce-

ed. Izzo, a Hicksville bus driver and scout leader for several years, had driven dozens of children to and from the Willet Avenue Elementary School.

After Izzo declined an opportunity to speak, Judge Mackston, face stern, looked straight at Izzo and said, "You have violated a sacred trust, the care and well-being of young children placed in your care. You have caused untold anguish. You have taken their innocence and permanently scarred their minds. Your conduct, as far as I'm concerned, was incredibly depraved and you will be sentenced accordingly."

The sentencing drew significant media attention, with reporters and TV crews from most stations in the metropolitan area present.

Parents, noting the presence of television and still cameras, asked the court to ensure they would not be filmed or photographed. Judge Mackston instructed media photographers to confine themselves to taking pictures of Izzo and the attorneys.

Capetola, who defended Izzo from the outset of the case, said the representation was at "the high end" on the scale of difficult cases he has handled in his 19 years as a defense lawyer. Capetola said that he had received a "few negative calls" and some threats after agreeing to represent Izzo.

A 20 to 60 year sentence is an indeterminate term. By law, Izzo must serve at least 20 years before even being eligible for consideration for parole. The state parole board has authority to determine whether and when to release Izzo.

Three Propositions Up For May 22 Vote

Residents To Vote On Budget, Transportation And Museum Proposals

By Rita Langdon

When Hicksville residents go to the polls on Wednesday, May 22, they will be asked to vote on a school budget, two separate propositions and for three school board trustees.

The following is an overview of what voters will decide at the polls next week. The polling places, located at all elementary schools, except Willet Avenue, are open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

 Proposition No. 1 (Budget)—Residents will vote on the proposed 1991-92 budget of $49,814,000, which is $58,182 less than the austerity figure adopted by the board in September 1990.

 Proposition No. 2 (Gregory Museum)—Residents will vote on whether $30,000 will be appropriated to the Hicksville Gregory Museum for educational services.

Even if this proposition passes, the money can only be awarded if the budget (Proposition No. 1) is approved.

 Proposition No. 3 (Transportation)— Under state law, school districts have to provide bus transportation to private and public school students residing more than 2 miles (Kindergartento Grade 8) or 3 miles (Grades 9 to 12).

Funds for this mandated transportation is included in Proposition 1 (budget).

However, residents have the opportunity to vote on returning bus transportation to the pre-austerity mileage guidelines which are:

Kindergarten through grade 3-those living more than ½ mile from school; grade 4through 6—those living more than 3/4 mile from school; grade 7 through 8—those living more than 1½ miles; grade 9 through 12th—those living more than 2 miles.

This additional cost would not exceed $916,441.

Again, this proposition can only be successfully approved if Proposition 1 (budget) passes.

Residents will also be asked to vote for three new school board members. Seven people are vying for the three available positions.

Running on Row 'A' are residents James Black, Helen M. Lafferty and Richard Pfaender.

Running on Row 'B' are Mary E. Carton, Jeffrey Siegel and Kevin Asher.

Running on Row 'C' is Susan De Freitas.

Asher and Pfaender are running for the seat of Jo Ann Miltenberg. Vying For Patricia Rooney's seat are Black and Siegel.

In order to citizen 18 years of the vote.

Running for William Bennett's seat are Mary E. Carton, Susan De Freitas and Helen M. Lafferty. Miltenberg and Rooney resigned from the board in November. Bennett is retiring after 12 years on the board.

Absentee ballots will be mailed to all voters registered as permanently disabled. Other voters who qualify for absentee ballots must apply to the District Clerk at least seven days prior to the vote if the ballot is to be mailed, or on May 21, if the voter will pick up the ballot in person.

Absentee ballots must be returned by 5 p.m. on Wednesday, May 22. Call 933-6592 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. for application information.

We Remember Him

May 12-A year has gone by since Neafie Buck Sr. passed away.

Mr. Buck was such a nice gentleman. I remember him coming over to our house all the time when I was a young girl. He lived in Hicksville most of his life and was an externely intelligent man. He was born in 1899.

He was the first independent owner of a lawn mower and small equipment repair shop in Hicksville. He started his business in Halleran's Barns in Jericho which was located behind the old Maine Maid (Now Milleridge). He later moved his shop to Old Country Road where the Foreign Car Clover Repair Shop is located today.

Mr. Buck was also an inventor. He has a patent for one of the first walk-behind garden tractor.

One day not too long ago he told me, "Your dad (Mike Caruso) and I were both the same year. We both had 1899 silver dollars. Your dad kept his in his pocket and wore it smooth. I put mine away and it's still as good as new."

He left his wife, Mildred, sons Garrett, Frank and Neafie Jr., and daughters Mildred Lehnhoff, and Etta Kramer.

We still miss him.

Hicksville School Board Candidates' Race

By Rita Langdon

Seven candidates are seeking three available seats on the Hicksville School Board in this year's district election on Wednesday, May 22:

Kevin Asher and Richard H. Pfaender are running for the seat of Jo Ann Miltenberg. The winner of Miltenberg's seat will be sworn in the night of the election to carry out the rest of her three-year term. The winner will immediately become involved in the search for a new superintendent of schools. Miltenberg resigned from the board in November 1990.

James M. Black and Jeffrey A. Siegel are vying for the seat of Patricia Rooney, who also resigned in November. Since Rooney's term expires in June, the winning candidate will take the oath of office on July 1, 1991.

Running for William Bennett's seat are Mary E. Carton, Susan De Freitas and Helen M. Lafferty. Bennett is not seeking reelection.

Kevin Asher, a 27-year resident, is running for the school board because "it is important to me to restore the credibility of the board to this community! Headded. "Without solid leadership that can work as a team, the children in this district will suffer," he said. As a product of the Hicksville school system, "I know how well this district can be and I would like to be part of the restoration."

Among Asher's goals for the district is to unify the community. He said that it is time for all the people of Hicksville to work together for the well-being of the entire town. With a new superintendent and three new board members, I believe the school board will now be able to offer the community stability and get back to the business of run-ning the district."

Asher said he can offer the district his impartiality and decision-making skills. As a single resident, he said he has the free time necessary to devote his full energy to this board position. Asher said that in addition to being objective on all matters, his business experience as customer service manager at Chemical Bank, has afforded him extensive training in human resources. "On a daily basis, I am directly responsible for the office receipts of several million dollars which I feel qualifies me to deal with Hicksville's budget.

Asher said that the board should focus more on the general business of the district. "Too much time is wasted on petty bickering and it takes away from board business," he said, adding that the main focus of the school board should be the education of the children of Hicksville and all things pertaining to it, not the disagreements between board members.

Although Asher said he is not satisfied with the current budger, he will support it because "the children suffer greatly being on austerity." He added, "I will, however, strive toward making greater cuts in our budget."

Asked if he is satisfied with the level of academic achievement in the district, he said, "I don't think we can ever be completely satisfied with the level of academic achievement in the district. We should consistently strive to improve our educational accomplishments."

Asher said that most difficult problem facing Hicksville today is the discord among its residents, "With special interest groups fighting amongst each other, it is impossible to work on the community as a whole," he

Asher said he is not opposed to the closing of a second elementary school, but he would base his final decision on information provided to him by the superintendent of schools and other appropriate sources.

Asher is a 1981 graduate of Hicksville

High School. He attended Nassau Community College pursuing a degree in banking, real estate and insurance. He currently holds a New York State real estate license.

Asher said he running as an independent.

James M. Black, a 29-year resident of Hicksville, says he can bring perspective to the board by putting his legal background, negotiating skills and business experience to work. Black, a corporate attorney, said, "My background is a mix that can best serve the district and community at this time of crisis."

If elected, Black said he plans to streamline the district and cut costs while focusing on giving the children the best education the community can afford. "We would pay for the children's programs, not buildings and excessive staff, he said.

Black would also like to restore credibility and leadership to the board.

Black said he is not satisfied with the proposed budget. "Hicksville pays salaries and costs, but to the detriment of the children. I will vote for the budget to avoid austerity, but will not campaign for its passage." He added, "Since I had no hand in preparing it, Heave it to the people to make their own deci-

Problems that Black sees in the district include the board's failure to relate and respond to the community's needs; excessive influence and control over board members by union leaders; failure to act resolutely and in a timely manner to cut costs, streamline the district, close buildings and cut excessive staff on all levels.

If elected, Black said he will be "open to all the people and listen." He added, "I will not permit the special interests to control the board." He also plans to move the sixth grade into the Middle School, close two elementary schools, cut the administration staff, marginally increase class size and cut staff.

Organizations of which Black has been or is still a member include the District's Reorganization Committee, Giese Park Civic Association, Knights of Columbus, St. Paul's Parish Council, vice-chairman of the Region 17 Diocesan Regional School Board, Hicksville Community Council, Hicksville Republican Club and Concerned Citizens of Hicksville.

Black, who is being endorsed by the Concerned Citizens, has two running mates, Helen M. Lafferty and Richard H. Pfaender.

Black attended Hicksville schools and received a bachelor's and law degree from Hofstra University.

Mary E. Carton, a 38-year resident, said she is running for the board because she is concerned about the reputation that Hicksville has in the media and among its residents. She said, "I would like to bring back the sense of pride we all had at one time in our school district. I want to make it possible for all students of Hicksville to learn to the best of their ability, in an atmosphere of respect for their educators."

If elected, her goals for the district include establishing academic excellence through fiscal responsibilty; re-establishing pride in Hicksville's schools, to prevent the devaulting of real estate in the Hicksville community: common sense business decisions that will result in Hicksville being an affordable place to live in and own a home, "Last, but not least, give our teachers the respect that their profession should call for," she said.

Carton said the newly elected board should cooperate with the present members in the selection of the "right" candidate for the position of Superintendent of Schools.

The Superintendent should, by board direction, be the captain of the "ship," enmorale of the teachers to a decent level," Carshould consider when making decisions on spending money, that Hicksville is an 'aging community. There should be a strong sense of obligation to consider these residents to remain in an affordable community."

At the same time, she said, it is of great importance that Hicksville retain its academic excellence. "I believe we can do both."

As for the budget, Carton said she will vote yes to prevent the "austerity nightmare" of this current school year. She said she has studied the current budget—by code and line by line. "I sincerely believe that if time perby line. "I sincerely believe that if time permitted more monies could have been cut without loss in teaching staff or creating any danger to our current programs being offered to our children," she added.

Carton said that she is satisfied with the academic achievement in the district, but she noted that the success of a student is often achieved by the environment in the home; necessary discipline; as well as study habits; listening to guidance counselors advice and the classroom teacher "who by far and large, contrary to some opinions, do care," she said.

Asked if she favored closing schools, Carton said that there is no "yes" or "no" answer, "When all the data is compiled by our able business administrators and studied by the school board very carefully, then and only then can an intelligent answer be given." She added that she would be against the sale of any school property. "We have a moral obligation to retain these buildings for the children of tomorrow." If it is necessary to close any school, she said, the district must rent the space and "enable us to retain title"

Carton, a licensed real estate broker, has more than 30 years of business experience. She has been a member of the Citizens Budget Advisory Committee for the past several months.

She is running as an independent can-

Susan De Freitas, a resident for more than 30 years and a product of the Hicksville school system, said she is running for the school board because she is concerned about the community's future. An attendee at every board of education meeting and all but two committee meeting for two years, she said: "I watched the school board and the community fraction in ways I would have never imagined. Also, seeing the fiscal difficulties all over the state, in Nassau and Oyster Bay, and in our own back yard, worries me. It worries me that our children's education will suffer."

Sheadded, "I owe a big debt to Hicksville for all it has done for me and I would like a chance to give what I can back to our schools and our children?"

De Freitas said that Hicksville has a unique chance at a fresh start with "a full compliment at the board table and a new superintendent" If elected. De Freitas said the first goal she would like to accomplish would be to "reorder our priorities. When that happens we will be better able to address our direction and work at maximum effect!

She said she is an independent thinker and has always done her research and homework necessary before making a decision.

"I can offer the district the willingness to listen, openmindedness and the ability to work with all persons," she said.

De Freitas said the board needs to sit down (continued on page 5)

Advisory Committee Says No To Budget

By Michael J. Maloney and Rita Langdon

The Hicksville School District's Citizens Budget Advisory Committee announced last week that it is not supporting the 1991-92 proposed school budget up for vote May 22.

In a statement released to local newspapers Friday, the committee said, "We hope that the newly elected board will present our community with a second budget that demonstrates much more fiscal responsibility; one that the taxpayers can afford; and one that results in the highest standard councation did not fully incorporate the committee's 16 formal budget recommendations when drafting the current budget proposal. The committee, comprised of 14 ap-

'If adopted, our suggestions would have resulted in additional substantial savings to gour community, said the statement. "No reasons were presented to this committee as our community," said the statement. "No to why our recommendations were passed

Some of the recommendations included:

- · Justifying reserves which the committee said appeared larger than prudent.
- . Should a second vote be necessary, the committee recommends that budgets proposed be further reduced to lessen the burden on the taxpayer without reducing the educational quality and safety of the children. Further austerity budgets should consider eliminating such things as stipends for all non-educational sports/activities, drivers education, continuation of senior citizen and continuing educational programs and insurance modifications based on discontinued events.

. In future contract negotiations, they recommend that the board aggressively explore modifications to salary and benefits along the following lines: fringe benefits and co-payments, employee salaries related to the Consumer Price Index, cap dental coverage, review holiday differential pay, use outside contracting for custodial service, reduce or replace the school nurse teachers, consider incentives for early retirement.
 Recommend that more buildings be closed by September 1992.

· Planning should take place now that will guide the district for the future needs of the community. Changes in the student enrollment, educational needs and financial realities dictate a longer planning cycle than the current year by year approach.

• Recommend that the district maintain its current position in that there is no contribution to the Gregory Museum.

Although Dr. Catherine Fenton, Superintendent of Schools, praised the efforts of the committee, saying in a statement that the group "was a most diligent committee," she said that some of the recommendations would not be wise under the current

"Their complaint is that the board didn't listen to them. Many of their recommendations had to do with future activities," said Fenton in a telephone interview.

"Their recommendations were philosophical and too far into the future. For instance, they tell the board what it should do if the community goes on austerity and what they should do in future contract negotiations. That has nothing to do with the 1991-92 budget."

She added that the committee also recommended the closing of schools in September 1992. "These things would impact on the 1992-93 budget. That's a year away. The result of buildings being closed would im-pact on the next year's ('92-93) budget." Fenton said, "We did agree that the School/Nurse teaching positions should be cut. The committee even took a softer view saying that the elimination of the jobs could be by attrition. I took a harder stance and so did the board, and all nine School/Nurse Teachers were cut?"

Fenton said that there is no increase over the 1990-91 austerity budget. "All increases in telephone, fuel, electric, salaries, insurance, textbooks and supplies were absorbed by eliminating 37 positions and closing the Willet Avenue School;" said Fenton. "Yet, that is not enough says the Budget Advisory Committee" Fenton added; "I can understand the committee's disappointment and anger that after all of their work, their advice was not accepted on all counts; but I am surprised that they should turn around now after the board has approved the

Thomas Farrell, President of the budget committee, would not comment on whether the vote to not support the budget was unanimous, but said that the committee passed the measure "on a majority vote" He added that all committee proposals are decided by majority vote. The committee voted 6-5 in favor of issuing a public statement of opposition to the budget, said

The Citizens Budget Advisory Commit-tee was first established in November 1990 to allow more community involvement in the budget process. Members were appointed to sit on this committee by the Board of Education after candidates were screened through an application process.

Osteoporosis - A Common Cause of Bone Fractures

Osteoporosis is caused by the loss of calcium and bone substance from the body. Recent estimates suggest 25 percent of women over the age of 65 years will suffer a fracture of the spine due to osteoporosis. Over the age of 80 years, 50 percent of women will be affected. This disorder can also strike one out of every six men.

The loss of bone usually affects the spine, hips, ribs, and wrists. When enough bone is lost, fractures may occur. Estimates as high as one million fractures annually occur in women over the age of 45 years. By the elimination of osteoporosis, 350,000 of these fractures may be prevented. Women who are at a high risk for osteoporosis are those who are post-menopausal, who smoke cigarettes, lack exercise, or are of small build.

Treatment of this common problem is based on its prevention. Patients are encouraged to eat foods high in calcium. This would include foods such as milk or cheese. Unfortunately, most patients are not able to take enough calcium in their diet and must begin supplemental calcium pills. Currently, many overthe counter pills are available. However, not all can be absorbed by the body. Additionally, some patients may have a tendency to develop kidney stones while taking calcium.

If you fall into one of the high risk groups, you should consider seeking medical advice. Your physician can then determine if calcium is right for you, or if you are in need of additional therapy.

with the new superintendent and start streamlining the district from the top down. "We are overbuilt both with buildings and within buildings. The board needs to make the cuts that least affect children, first."

She said she is not happy with the proposed budget for this year, but she does support the budget every year because "austerity budgets only hurt the children and the seniors." She added: "A second year of austerity would be devasting to the Middle School and the Senior High!"

De Freitas said that a major problem within the district is the lack of confidence in the school board and the lack of respect for the board. "I can bring the board the willingness to work with all and for all facets of the community. I have no axes to grind and have always put aside my personal agenda when representing other people."

De Freitas said she is in favor of closing schools. "I don't think we would be working in the taxpayers' and children's best interests if it wasn't addressed."

Asked if she is satisfied with the level of academic achievement in the district, De Freitas said, "We should never be satisfied. We should always strive to do better."

Currently the Woodland Avenue PTA president, De Freitas is also a member of the Willet Avenue Leasing Committee, a religious instructor and a PTA Council Delegate. A graduate of the Hicksville schools, De Freitas has three years of college credit towards an education degree. She worked as a retail manager for five years and is now a mother and homemaker.

Helen M. Lafferty said she is running for the school board because "we are in the midst of a financial crisis that directly affects all of us." She said that for the past several years, the board majority has not made the necessary difficult decisions to preserve academic excellence and fiscal stability in the community.

"The board's vacillation and reversal of decisions have caused a division in our community." She added that Hicksville's taxes have increased by keeping open half empty schools that should have been closed in a timely fashion.

Her goal for the district includes striving for educational excellence at all levels. She would also like to unify education in the elementary schools starting starting as soon as possible with the sixth grade level students who may be moving to the Middle School. If elected, she also plans to reduce taxes by closing schools and cutting staff at all levels.

"With the cuts in state aid, we must strive for a lean, trim budget free of all frills," Lafferty said, adding that she would like to increase class size wherever possible. "I would endeavor to work harmoniously and productively with other board members and the new superintendent of schools for the benefit of the children and the taxpayers.

Lafferty said that her 30 years of business experience in banking, education, real estate and negotiating should prove to be an assess in conducting the business of the district and negotiating a new teachers' contract that will be fair to the teachers and the taxpayers.

Lafferty said the board should focus more on improving academic achievements of the students in the senior high. The board, she added, should also focus on the teachers salary contract. "There should be a line by line review of all increments, steps, benefits, including medical and dental."

Lafferty said she is not satisfied with the current budget. "It really is not "no growth" or "0 percent" budget. If the propositions are included it is almost 551 million." She added, "I am not in favor of fragmented budgets. The budget should be all-inclusive.

Since I had nothing to do with preparing this budget, the taxpayers should vote their own opinion?' She added that no tentative amount has been included for the proposed State aid cuts. "In good conscience, I cannot support this budget."

Elementary school buildings that are not being fully utilized is one problem Lafferty cites within the district. She said that the sixth grade should be moved to the Middle School and that two additional schools should be closed as soon as possible.

"To wait to face these problems and not solve them until September 1992 would be short-sighted and fiscally irresponsible." She added that the school closing decision should not be based on the financial (real estate) value of the particular property but first on what is best for the children involved and secondly the cost to the taxpayers.

Lafferty is past president of the Burns Avenue School PTA, is a PTA Honorary Life Member, is a member of the St. Paul the Apostle Church Parish Council, serves as a Eucharistic Minister and is involved on other church committees. She has been a member of the school district's Ad Hoc Reorganization Committee and is active in the Northwest Civic Association.

Lafferty is endorsed by the Concerned Citizens of Hicksville and her running mates are James Black and Richard Pfaender.

Richard H. Pfaender, a 38 year resident, said heis running for trustee to bring to the school board the concerns of the community. If elected, Pfaender said he will be firm but fair in making the hard decisions that have to be made in order to ensure the future of the school district. "I want to be a voice of the community on the school board. All members of this community (students, parents, seniors) have needs and those needs should be taken into consideration at all times," he said.

His goals for the district include providing a quality education for the children at a price this community can afford to pay, while at the same time considering their safety and well being; hire the most qualified superintendent that this district can afford, negotiate a teachers' contract in a fair but firm manner that reflects the economic hardships faced by this community now and in the future.

He would also like to streamline and consolidate the district to reduce waste and improve efficiency at all levels within the district.

Pfaender said that he board should focus more on such issues as uniform instructional programs at the elementary level, improvement in the high school at all levels (education and social) "to once again make that school the centerpiece of our educational system." He added that all members—parents, students of private/parochial schools, senior citizens—of the community should be considered when making decisions.

Problems Pfaender sees in the district include the K-12 AIDS curriculum and K-8 child abuse curriculum. "This is the 90 sand the world around has changed," he said. "We need a comprehensive and uniform K-12 program that deals with all aspects of the human experience. We have too many gaps in our current health programs at the secondary level!" he added.

According to Pfaender, health is given at grades 9 and 11 but not at grades 10 and 12. "A sex education/family living/curriculum linked with morals and decision making is needed to provide our children with the knowledge needed to cope with the pressures of modern society," he said.

As for the level of academic achievement, be said that the district needs to challenge the students and staff to be the very best they can be and to work at that process on a continuing basis.

Plaender said he is in favor of closing schools as part of a long range goal to streamline and consolidate the district. Moving the sixth grade to the Middle School, closing two additional elementary buildings is the first step in that plan, he said. He added that the closed building should be leased as it could be needed in the future if the district population increases. Pfaender said he is not in favor of selling any school property.

Pfaender graduated from Hicksville schools and has a bachelor's degree in communications. He is employed as a a sales representative for a major U.S. Corporation. He is president of the Midland Civic Association and chaired the Willet Avenue leasing committee.

Placender is endorsed by the Concerned 5 Citizens of Hicksville.

Jeffrey A. Siegel, a 10-year resident, said

10-year resident, said that he is running for the board because he is concerned with the lack of leadership and the "cloud of disorganization the board has operated under" and he wants to "protect our children's right to a quality education."

If elected, his goals for the district include advancing education, developing and implementing new ideas to improve district operations, trim budget fat, bring fiscal stability back to Hicksville schools and place the best interest of the entire community over any special interest groups.

Siegel said that his 17 years in the business world has taught him how to extract the finer points of all views and develop them into workable plans. "Because of my background in budget forecasting, contract negotiating and purchasing, I will be able to move back and fortheasily between topics," he said.

Because of the uncertainty of state aid, the board must become creative in new ways to trim budgets. "They must begin to examine all curriculum to see it is run in an effective and efficient manner," he said.

Siegel said he is satisfied with the current budget "in that Hicksville must be off austerity." But, he added that there is still work that can be done to the budget that the board adopted.

Siegel sites a lack of trust of the school board as one of the district's problems. "I am a good listener and respectful of others' opinions. My business sense will be a stabilizing factor," he said. The district, he added, must also have uniform education on the elementary level. The curricular committee must evaluate all text books used and come to an understanding on which are best suited, he said. "By having a uniform program, we will be able to accurately measure academic growth. With the uncertain financial status we are in we must look for ways to trim the budget," Siegel said. "Applying for corporate fleet rates for the gas our vehicles use, developing a percentage of co-payment employees pay for medical benefits and a strong central buying office that takes advantage of maximum net cash discounts."

Slegel said he is not satisfied with the level of academic achievement in the district, "We should aways strive to improve."

He said he is in favor of closing schools "if it is done for a substantial financial gain for Hicksville following strict criteria."

Siegel is a member of the Citizens Budget Advisory Committee and president of the East Street Coalition. He has an associate and bachelor's degree as well as 17 years retail background.

He is running as an independent.

Long Island's water supply is the finest in the nation. At Slomin's we're taking positive steps to help preserve it. Specifically, we've established a special financial assistance program to help subsidize the cost of complying with the new regulations regarding buried fuel oil tanks.

Under this program, you will be able to purchase our environmentally safe, 280-gallon fiberglass tank for a price that is truly below our cost.* There are also economical options available for above ground storage tanks, starting as low as $100 installed. We realize that even with our subsidy, replacing your tank may be a financial burden, so we're offering low monthly payments with no interest or finance charges.

Endorsement

To The Editor:

I endorse the candidates of Helen Lafferty (1A), Richard Pfaender (3A) and James Black (5A) to become trustees of the Hicksville school board. While some of the other candidates offer desireable qualities, these three will best advance the interests of our children and community. Although I do not agree with every position taken by each of them, we need the insight and judgment offered by the "A" line.

All Hicksville voters should attend the candidates' forums. Ask questions and listen carefully. Your thoughts should decide our future, not advertisements, telephone banks, flyers or name recognition. Vote for community spirit, not special interest groups.

Hopefully, the main budget proposition will pass. Its defeat will eliminate extracurricular activities without resulting in any significant tax savings. Please support the proposition in favor of modest financial support for the Gregory Museum at an annual cost of less than one dollar for each home.

Helen Lafferty, Richard Pfaender and James Black deserve our votes. An austerity budget offers illusory relief. We need quality Trustees to create long range solutions to the difficult problems that confront Hicksville Board of Education. Our statement read "When we ran for the Board of Education we were motivated by our children's education and the welfare of our community.

"In the past two years we have watched Board members who are motivated by politics, self-interest and hatred. When these factors are the basis for making decisions; or for reversing a decision which benefits the community both educationally and financially, Board members have lost sight of their responsibilities as elected officials.

"Our principles will not permit us to have

'our names associated with this type of decision making. After lengthy deliberation, we the President and Vice-President of the Hicksville Union Free School District resign.

This was a painful but thoughtful decision, and the sacrifice was made in the hopes that it would wake-up Hicksville. Now six months later, William Bennett has announced his retirement, and we are preparing for another election and School Budget Vote.

Don't let our actions be in vain. Bill Bennett, Jo Ann and I were good board members and always put the children, their education, and the community first in our decisions. This is your opportunity to replace us with three more good board members, whowill think independently. The Hicksville school system is in crisis, we cannot afford another board member motivated by politics, self-interest or hatred. Helen Lafferty, James Black, and Richard Pfaender. We need intelligent, mature, prepared, ethical people to represent us. Mrs. Lafferty can relate to our retired homeowners, Mr. Pfaender as a parent of three children can relate to the families with children in school, and Mr. Black represents the young married couples who are looking at schools and deciding whether or not families. Seek these candidates out and speak to them, I have, find out what their views on all the issues.

Vote on May 22nd Row A, for Lafferty, Black and Pfaender and please vote Yes for Black and Pfaender and please vote the budget, it is important to our children. 2

Vote 'Yes' On School Budget

Hicksville's children deserve your support. On May 22, voters can lift the burden of austerity—which has had a damaging effect on students, senior citizens clubs, the Gregory Museum, local sports organizations and others—by passing the proposed 1991-92 school budget.

The children have already suffered through a year of austerity. Let's not take that road again. Let's not see a student's academic, athletic achievements and talents suffer because he or she could not afford to join a sport or participate in a club.

Under austerity, senior citizen clubs received limited funds; the Gregory Museum lost funding as well. Local organizations had to pay to use facilities for meetings and fundraisers; and bus transportation was severely curtailed.

Don't count on the other voters to cast a ballot in favor of the budget. In the past, budgets have been defeated by as little as 17 votes. For these reasons, we urge you to vote and to vote in favor of the budget package.

Residents will also be asked to vote on a separate proposition—a $30,000 service contract for the Hicksville Gregory Museum. We ask that voters approve this proposal in order to help preserve Hicksville's history at this landmark site.

Vote "yes" on Proposition No. 2.

As for Proposition No. 3 (transportation), austerity brought increased traffic and safety hazards to our youngsters. Fortunately, no serious accidents have been reported. Our children's safety should be a prime concern and we urge voters to pass this proposition.

Vote 'No' On Budget

To The Editor:

Hicksville taxpayers must enhance fiscal responsibility by defeating the projected budget and all associated propositions. If not done the Hicksville school system will become bankrupt.

Having the school district vote on May 22 is an abomination. It is too early. We could and should have waited until June 30. At this point in time, Hicksville tax payers are threatened with a six million dollar cut in state school aid. We absolutely should not approve a "blank check" budget for the school administration before knowing how much our state aid will be reduced. The budget must be voted down in the May 22 vote. If it is defeated, a new revised and reduced budget could be prepared and presented for a revote after a state budget is approved and the amount of our state aid is confirmed.

If it is not defeated, taxpayers will in effect replace the reduction in state aid with increased property tax dollars reinforcing the tax and spend policies of previous Hicksville school boards. To understand the significance, a six million dollar reduction will result in about a $6.00 per hundred tax increase or about $360.00 per year for a home assessed at $6000. The cumulative effect of this increase plus those occuring over the past five years and for the increases in years to come have and will continue to greatly erode taxpayer property values and lower the standard of living for many elderly residents, for the newly unemployed, and for the many young families with children who are now barely getting by on reduced Talsostrongly urgeall residents to vote for the taxpayer's friend Helen M. Lafferty, Kevin Asher, and James Black and above all to vote no on all budget propositions.

Support All Propositions

To The Editor:

Having attended all the joint School Board/Citizens Budget Advisory Committee (CBAC) meetings, the Hicksville Council of PTAs has heard the recommendations from the CBAC regarding the School Budget. Many of their recommendations will hurt our children, both public and private school students.

The CBAC has suggested that bus transportation costs could be reduced. One suggestion in this area is to transport some private school students by public transportaiton via the LIRR or MSBA.

If the school budget is defeated and the district remains on austerity, the CBAC has recommended that stipends for all "non-educational" sports/activities be eliminated. The cost to parents would become so prohibitive that there would be no extra-curricular life at our public schools. These so-ealled "non-educational" activities, which are widely recognized as necessities not frills, do in fact educate our students by promoting self-esteem and tolerance, affording leadership training, expanding opportunities for learning and developing well-rounded student whose talents will affect our next generation.

The CBAC has recommended that Drivers Ed be eliminated under austerity. Who will train our future drivers to safely operate vehicles on the road we all travel?

Many of the CBAC's recommendations call for extensive studies that could not possibly be completed before the Budget Vote. We agree that all potential areas that will not jeopardize our children's education should be examined and we expect these recommendations will be studied.

However, by recommending a "no" vote on the May 22 budget, the CBAC has done a grave injustice to the children of Hicksville. The Hicksville Council of PTAs, representing eight elementary and two secondary school PTA units as well as SEP-TA, urge all residents to support Propositions 1, 2 and 3 on May 22.

...Were you a little kid during prohibition and did you have a father who decided that he should try to make beer?...He said that making beer was not illegal, just selling it—and I don't know if that's right or not... In any case, he and all the men who worked with him in his house building business decided to get together and make beer which they would then share...It's strange how well I remember it...At that time we lived in an old house owned by my Grandmother and the kitchen was on the lower level and I see myself with my little brother sitting on the stairs watching... I don't remember just how one makes beer, but I do remember many very large pots on the old coal range bubbling away—some with bottles being sterilized and some with the malt and hops or whatever—and I do remember the horrible smell!!...With much laughing and joking and much stirring of what they kept calling "the mash", after a long time the brew was pronounced ready...All these clean bottles—(where did they come from??)...The pots were huge—(they were the ones all the ladies used to boil hams in those days before we had hams that were nearly ready to eat—the hams had to be boiled for hours to remove the salt so that they would be edible—I remember that I hated ham in those days because it was always so "wet")...in any case, these heavy pots had to be lifted by a couple of men and the "mash" strained through cheese cloth into other vats, then cooled, and, eventually, poured through a funnel into each bottle...Then there was a gadget called a "capper"—the cap was set on top of the bottle and then this gadget was lowered by a lever and firmly closed the cap on the bottle—that seemed to be everyone's lavorite job...And then the bottles were divided up and sent with each worker to rest a bit and then be tested—I never heard that this beer was very good, but, in those prohibition days, it was pronounced "better than none"...I imagine this memory is so clear because it was such an unusual happening—my Mother had fled the smell by going to a movie with a friend and my little brother and I were so fascinated sitting on the stairs watching what looked to us like some witch's alchemy...Do you have a prohibition memory??

Row "A" Endorsement

To The Editor:

I have heard recently that there are rumors circulating around town labeling certain individuals who are running for the school board as a "Special Interest Black supported by a Special Interest Organization."

Yes, this is absolutely true. Mr. Black, Mr. Pfaender and Mrs. Lafferty are supported by an organization called the Concerned Citizens of Hicksville. Their "special interests" are; fair taxes for the taxpayers, the best affordable education for our children and unity and pride for the community. This organization is made up of parents whose children attend all the 10 public school buildings in Hicksville as well as some parochial schools. This group is comprised of senior citizens whose children have already gone through the system and some taxpayers who have no children at all. The membership is comprised of residents from all areas of Hicksville, From the Dutch Lane area to the Woodland area. From the Old Country Road area to the East Street area. This group represents every corner of Hicksville and perceives that the current turmoil in Hicksville is detrimental to the future of this community. Thus, they have found it necessary to get involved in the local elections as a means of electing honest, sincere and dedicated people to public office in hopes of turning around the dismal future that lies ahead.

Hours, Lulubelle

Based on this I whole-heartedly support and endorse Helen Lafferty, Richard Pfaender and James Black for the Hicksville School Board.

Joseph Visconti

Supports Jeff Siegel

To The Editor:

This letter is in support of Jeff Siegel in his bid for a seat on the Hicksville School Board, row 5 B. I met Mr. Siegel, as I have met most of the people I know, through his children. He has always been a level headed person with many interesting ideas in how the district could save substantial amounts of money when purchasing equipment for the district. He knows of what he speaks because of his occupation. Our government trusts him with a 47 million dollar budger and I think the people of Hicksville should too. We need his financial expertise and experience to help us through this financial crisis the State has us in by cutting out aid.

Jeffis the type of person who can see both sides of an issue and make a clear and concise decision for the betterment of all of Hicksville, not just a few.

Now more than ever we need a board member who has a solid business background to ensure that the Superintendent's office is doing the very best job and saving the most money for the Hicksville residents.

I urge all of you to vote May 22nd, row 5 B, Jeffrey Siegel. He can and will make Hicksville what it once was.

The Fair's Back In Mineola

Traditionally, when the Mineola Fair came to town, the streets emptied as people poured into the fairgrounds. Unfortunately, there hasn't been a fair in Mineola since 1952, but on May 19, history will be repeated.

The Mineola Fair was the largest and most successful fair on Long Island, It gave families and merchants the opportunity to meet each other. There was food, contests, games and entertainment. The Mineola Chamber of Commerce and the United Way are returning the magic from noon to 5 p.m. this Sunday.

The Mineola Pride Family Fun Fair will recapture the excitement of past fairs at the Mineola Memorial Park, behind the Mineola Library, off Marcellus Road.

Also sponsoring the fair are Sheridan Bowl, Windsor Fuel, New York Chiropractic Council, Harry Katz Floor Coverings, All Island Taxi, Manufacturers Hanover, North Fork Bank, Apple Bank and Entenmann's.

In case of rain, the fair will be held at the middle school adjacent to the park.

Stop Throwing Away Tomorrow

By Eileen Brennan

As most residents of Nassau County are aware, everyone is facing a crisis in solid waste disposal. The nightmare of the Islip barge of two years ago, the closing of landfills all across the Island and the rapidly escalating costs of garbage disposal leave no doubt that changes must be made. In an effort to educate the public about this potentially catastrophic situation and to try to discover solutions, WLIW, Channel 21, Long Island's public television station, gathered 15 experts from governmental and environmental groups for a panel discussion "Throwing Away Tomorrow."

A preview showing of the program was held in Huntington's New Community Cinema May 8. Channel 21 aired the show May 13, and will repeat it Sunday, May 18,

Members of the panel from the government sphere include Dennis DeConcini, United States Senator from Arizona, Frank Jones, Islip Town Supervisor, Thomas Jorling, New York State Commissioner of the Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) and Madeline Kunin, former governor of Vermont.

Other familiar names are those of Ralph Nader, consumer advocate, and Barry Commoner, recycling expert. A name less familiar nationally, but known to many in the North Hempstead area, was Robby Donno. Mr. Donno is president of Donno Company, Inc., a municipal hauler, and serves as Legislative Chairman of the New York Waste Industries Association.

The program was moderated by Harvard Law professor Charles Ogletree, Jr. The format is modelled after Fred Friendly's Colunbia University seminars, which Ogletree has moderated for public television. It involves role playing by the members of the panel.

Mr. Ogletree began by imagining River-City, a fictitious town of 40,000 people that is in the process of setting up a solid waste management program. Turning to Mr. Don-no, he said: "O.K. Mr. Donno. We have to get rid of all this garbage. What can you do for Mr. Donno replied that his company can collect recyclables, separate waste and deliver everything to a legally sanctioned facility; a landfill, incinerator or resource recovery plant. He cautioned that his bid might be higher than some others, because he would only operate with the proper

Mr. Donno's comments about permits led to a discussion with Supervisor Jones about the need for municipalities to monitor the activities of the carters they hire to ensure that everything operates within the law.

Consumer activist Ralph Nader and Arizona Senator Dennis DeConcini "talking garbage" on WLIW's "Throwing Away Tomorrow."

Mr. Ogletree managed to bring out the position of each of the members of the panel. There were many areas of general agreement, but when specifies were discussed, there was frequently a parting of the ways. Everyone agreed that the waste stream must be reduced. Mr. Commoner took the position that the consumer is being asked to assume responsibility for a situation that emanates from the producer. He said that manufacturers should be legally prevented from overpackaging and he contended that 90 percent of our waste stream can be recycled.

Ralph Nader is also an advocate of what he calls "pre-cycling." He said that while, years ago, a harnburger was served on a small paper plate; it is now enclosed in a carton with a lid. Mr. Nader also spoke of the need to educate the public concerning the choice of environmentally safe products.

Two participants on the panel were in sharp disagreement, Jerry Schubel, professor at the State University of New York at Stony Brook, has developed a product that looks like a brick and is made from incinerator ash. This could be an important factor in reducing the waste stream, because even when garbage is burned, there is a residue of ash amounting to 25 percent of the original matter. Mr. Schubel said that his "brick" can be used to create artifical barrier reefs, in construction and in a variety of other ways. Vociferously opposed to him was Larry Shapiro, counsel to the New York Public Interest Group (NYPIRG). Mr. Shapiro took the position that incinerator ash contains so many toxic metals that it is unsafe to use in any product. NYPIRCI's position is similar to Mr. Commoner's: that a large amount of solid waste need not be generated if manufacturers can be controlled, and that a very high percent of the waste that is generated can be recycled.

Governor Kunin left no doubt that Vermont would strongly oppose any acceptance of waste generated in any other state, but Senator De Concini, whose state of Arizona has large areas of uninhabited land, took a different position. Whereas almost all of Vermont is privately owned, the federal government owns more than half of the land in Arizona. The senator said that his state might look with favor on interstate agreements on the disposal of commercial, residential and even nuclear waste.

Scott G. Mackin, president and CEO of Ogden Products, Inc., a waste-to-energy facility, advocated a four-part integrated method for waste management; waste reduction, recycling, waste-to-energy plants and landfills. It is the percentage that makes up each component that divided the panel.

This hour-long program is well worth watching. WLIW has done a real service to Long Island with its production.

Penn & Teller Show & Tell On B'Way

By William Gravert

Abra-ca-dabra, Presto-chango and Alakazam! While these magical cliches are used sparingly by Penn and Teller, they do suggest the type of slam-bang comedy/magic act these two are pulling off nightly at the Eugene O'Neill Theatre in Manhattan.

As part of their "Refrigerator Tour", new wave illusionists Penn Jillette and Teller (one name only, kind of like Madonna or Prince), perform sleights-of-hand, escapism and other acts of prestidigitation to gasping, wide-eyed audiences.

As a modern day Laurel and Hardy— Penn is Husky and talkative, teller slight and mum — the duo is neither hilarious as comediennes nor astonishing as magicians. But the innovative pairing of audience interactive humor and popular pranks makes for a fun night out.

Named after the 450 pound (frost-free!) refrigerator that falls on them at the outset, the show proceeds through two-plus hours of debunking the magic-world's most practiced tricks and deflating it's practitioners.

Most the subterfuge is performed twice. Straight the first time through, then a blowby-blow account of how the trick is done. Perhaps the Marquee should read: "Show & Teller". For fear of removing the mystique, this peck-a-boo approach has rocked many magic sectors and left their rivals reeling.

"They're cry-baby scum," claims the offbeat Penn (who wears a bracelent of "human ivory" — people's teeth) in reference to the disgruntled magicians.

"Violence and danger in art," said Penn, "is really a celebration of life and health. (Magic is) like a rollercoaster, it's fun because you know it's safe."

Most interesting is the always-popular sawing a woman in half; only this time it's Teller who gets the axe and into many more than two pieces. The second time around a clear plastic box is substituted, shedding lighton the trickster and his moveable parts.

Also popular was the shapely assistant, Carol Perkins — the only fire-eating model on the Ford Agency roster.

In what has become a P & T signature trick — they've been making the talk show circuit — they levitate an audience volunteer with only her head resting on the back of a chair.

Tickets are at the Eugene O'Neill Theatre Box Office, 230 W. 49th Street or charge by phone, 212-246-0102.

Vote Yes For Museum Proposal

To The Editor:

The "Alliance for Education" is a term once aptly used to describe the 10-year relationship which has existed since July 1981, between the Hicksville Gregory Museum and the Hicksville School District.

This service contract, entered into by Superintendent Dr. Wilbur Hawkins and an enlightened school board, has been one of a long series of innovative, progressive programs our school district has undertaken.

Designed to assist the Earth Science and Local History Curriculum needs of our teachers and students, the museum-district educational collaboration was fully countenanced by the chief counsel for the State Education Department, was endorsed and encouraged by its presence in all of Dr. Catherine Fenton's budgets for 1983-1990, annually approved by 16 of the 20 Hicksvillites serving as school trustees, this past decade, and today has the warm support of 6 of the 7 current candidates for the School Board.

Among the champions of the Gregory Museum-school service relationship, which provides a wide assortment of free services to our children, teachers and families—all for as little as $2.30 annual tax per propertyowner—have been many well-known school board trustees.

Over many years, much of Hicksville has felt the constructive gifts of the Gregory Museum. School class guided tours to see the wonders and glories of geology, the world of fossils, free gifts of butterfly and moth cocoons so kids can experience, at first hand, the marvel of insect metamorphosis.

Other programs include internships at the museum for Gifted and Talented students; programs oriented toward the needs of Special Education groups; museum-sponsored bus "sight-seeing tours of Hicksville" for many second grade classes, each year; out-reach and in-house slide photo programs on "The Indians of Long Island" for our fourth graders.

Also offered are children's Saturday workshops in nature and science, annual Museum Science Fairs; "open house" every day of the year, a free service to visiting family groups, senior citizens and solitary passersby.

Our local history programs preserve the Old Hicksville Courthouse and its honored presence in the National Register of Historic Buildings; we create books on Hicksville history; we have 30 slide sets on Hicksville history and life, often seen at our clubs and churches.

The Museum makes, preserves and relates Hicksville's long, colorful history and therein is a value not lost on many of its friends. Whether we boost Hicksville's image in feature articles in major area newspapers or bring national good humor and appreciation to many with an IKEA TV ad featuring the museum's historian and photographer, or lead in the creation of the Hicksville Historical Society—every service we offer honors and enhances our village's image.

Many knowledgeable people and leaders well understand how the Gregory's existence enhances all our lives and properties.

And the bottom line, friends? $2.30 per property owner per year keeps the Gregory Museum alive. Come out everyone and vote for Proposition No. 2—a resumption of the free museum services to our schools. But, please vote, also for Proposition No. 1. The 1991-92 school budget must be passed so Proposition 2 can go into effect.

Richard Evers, Historian Hicksville Gregory Museum

Secure Our Future

To The Editor

We, the undersigned, who are students that go to the Hicksville Middle School are too young to vote, want to state that our classrooms, extra-curricula activities (sports, art, music, drama, etc.) and school are suffering under austerity.

We, as concerned students and future citizens, are strongly asking that those who are old enough, please vote yes in support of next year's budget. We need your yes vote so that we can get a budget that provides a good and well-rounded education for us so that we may become self-supportive citizens and capable members of our Hicksville community.

S.T.A.B.B. (Students Tired of Austerity From Bad Budgeting!) Editor's Note: This letter is being printed upon request. More than 200 students signed this petition, but due to space limitations, we are unable to print all the names.

Supports Budget

To The Editor:

Can your child afford another year on austerity? On the whole, elementary school programs were not affected this year. Yes, the class trips were few and far between and the ones your child took cost considerably more. The loss of bus transportation created a great hardship for many families, especially for working parents and those who do not drive. How long can Hicksville continue to operate under an austerity budget?

Will there be supplies? Because of the present austerity budget, new supplies were not ordered and careful use of existing inventory enabled the school to provide the children with necessary materials this year. However, there is no inventory for a second year of

Will programs be cut? Very possibly. Kindergarten, music, art, physical education, remedial reading and library services are not mandated subjects for elementary students and could be eliminated. A quality education is a well-rounded education. It's not enough to provide our children with the academic basics. Education helps make dreams come true. When sports, music, art and other programs and services are cut, dreams vanish.

The Old Country Road PTA Executive Board urges all residents to vote Yes on May 22.

The Old Country Road PTA Executive Board

Endorsement

To The Editor:

When I first ran for a seat on the School Board I was supported by the Teacher's Union and the Teacher Aids Association. I thought that it was because I was prochildren and pro-education.

As the years unfolded and the phone calls came from union leaders on different issues I realized that I was probably supported because I was a teacher and would further the union's position. After I voted "no" on the teacher's contract it became apparent, in no uncertain terms, that I would not be supported by the union in my campaign for a second term.

I believe that after the Hicksville Congress of Teachers support of Mrs. Patricia Rooney and me and subsequently our "no" votes on the teacher's contract and our "yes" votes on the superintendent's contract, they needed upfront assurances from candidates who would further the union' interests. The union hierarchy has a constitutional right and responsibility to its membership to support candidates who will their position. This is not unique to Hicksville. It exists nationwide. As a community, we have to decide who our board members are elected to represent.

HCT President Robert Zaleski is doing exactly what he is elected to do: protect the teachers' interests. The question is: are our board members doing what they are elected to do? Protect our community and provide the best education for our children. The union can start negotiating as early as November 1991.

Six of the seven School Board candidates gave opening speeches at the Hicksville Community Council meeting. I was not surprised to see union leaders clap only for three candidates.

Use your votes wisely. Helen Lafferty, Rich Pfaender and Jim Black are candidates who truly represent our children and our community. On May 22 - Vote Row A.

Jo Ann Miltenberg

Editor's Note: Mrs. Miltenberg resigned from the school board in November 1990.

Siegel Endorsement

To The Editor:

I am endorsing Jeff Siegel for the Hicksville Board of Education. Jeff is hard working, conscientious individual who will fully commit himself to the responsibilities of a Board member. He is well educated, and his strong business background enables him to make logical decisions based on his fact-finding abilities. Jeff weighs evidence, not emotions. However he is a good listener and is respectful of the opinions of others. Jeff is an independent thinker and creative problem solver.

Some have accused Jeff Siegel of representing a special interest group because of his work with the East Street Coalition. But Jeff, along with many other concerned residents fought the Board of Education, believing the decision to close two schools in the same area of town was illogical. In the five years I have known Jeff, I find him to be a good, honest person and a family man, with only the children's interests in mind. I strongly urge you to vote for Jeffrey Siegel, Row 5B on May 22.

Al Ciaccio

Vote For Black, Lafferty

To The Editor:

I have worked on various committees and organizations with Jim Black and Helen Lafferty. Both of these candidates for the Hicksville School Board are dedicated, hard working and honest persons. I know that both of them are very concerned about Hicksville, today and tomorrow. Our community would benefit greatly from their being members of our School Board.

Cecilia M. Eberle

Support Jeff Siegel

To The Editor:

I am writing to personally urge all Hicksvilleresidents to vote in the upcoming school board election and I encourage them to support Jeffrey Siegel in his bid for a seat on that school board. I have worked with Jeffon the Citizen Budget Advisory Committee. In the many hours we worked together on that committee I found him to be respectful of the opinions of others, honest, open minded and sincerely devoted to improving the Hicksville School District.

Our current school board has been beset with problems, many of which were internally created. After attending numerous School Board meetings, I found the board to be highly fragmented, disrespectful to themselves as well as members of the community and generally ineffective.

Those of us who are truly concerned citizens owe it to ourselves and the community to come out to vote in support of a change in the current state of affairs. I believe Jeff because of his integrity will be a strong addition to the Board.

When our committee started working together, each member was asked to disregard any matter that may be part of their personal agendas and to focus solely on the betterment of the entire Hicksville School System. In my opinion Jeff always kept in mind what was best for the entire School District.

Despite differences of opinions members of the committee had. I found Jeff to be courteous of opinions he did not share. To his credit I am not aware of a single time when he personally attacked another for holding a different opinion. In the current election unfortunately I have heard many personal attacks by other candidates and their cronies, Much to his credit Jeff has not stooped to this level.

I found that he researched facts more thoroughly than most and was generally able to support his positions with more than mere opinion (much to the annoyance of those less prepared then he.)

Jeff represents change as well as throughtful innovative approaches to many of the problems currently facing our school district. I urge you to support him because he is experienced in business, honest, innovative and has the courage to attack the problems our school district is faced with.

Howard Rabin

Supports Row "A"

To The Editor:

This year's school board election is perhaps the most critical election Hicksville will ever experience. We must elect sincere, competent and honest individuals to lead our school district through its current fixeal crisis.

Candidates Pfaender, Black and Lafferty come before the community with the ernestness and integrity we need. They are supported by the Concerned Citizens of Hicksville (CCH), a group of residents who have united from all areas of the community. CCH has carefully screened and selected these candidates based on their dedication and support of quality education for the children of Hicksville.

Pfaender, Black and Lafferty are the kind of people we need and deserve on our school board. For the future of our children and community, please vote Row A on Wednesday, May 22.

Raymond Manzo

Vote Row "A"

To The Editor:

It has been my pleasure to know these individuals personally for the past few years. I can assure you that these are people of integrity, intelligence and commitment. They have no hidden agendas or represent any special interest group. They are being endorsed by the Concerned Citizens of Hicksville.

The Concerned Citizens of Hicksville are a group of Hicksville residents with representation from every elementary school, the middle school, high school and private/parochial school. Our members include new homeowners, senior citizens, parents with school age children, and parents whose children have completed their education in Hicksville schools.

We were originally brought together to seek the resignations of Board members James Martillo, Arlene Rudin and William Collins. Since then we have grown into a group seeking to better our educational community. Are we a special interest group? Only if you consider all the children and taxpayers of Hicksville to be a special interest. And our membership is always open to all residents of the Hicksville community.

Know your candidates and their motivations for running for the school board. Find out what members of the present board they are involved with. As a member of the Board, will they represent the whole community or only further and/or protect their own interests?

Bring quality education and responsibility back to Hicksville schools. Please vote Row A-Richard Pfaender, James Black and Helen Lafferty- on May 22nd.

The bidding: South

West North East Pass. 1 4 1 NT Pass Pass Pass Pass Opening lead - queen of clubs.

The principle of covering an honor with an honor is cited with reverence from Walla Walla to Dnepropetrovsk, but the fact is that the application of this rule is not quite as simple as it

Thus, it is surely correct to cover with the king if declarer leads the jack from J-3-2 facing the A-Q-4. Covering with the king holds declarer to two tricks instead of the three he would make if the jack were ducked.

But it would be wrong to cover if you had the K-x-x and declarer led the jack from dummy's J-10-4 toward his A-6-5. He would make two tricks if you covered, but only one if you ducked. As a matter of fact, the best rule to follow is to cover an honor if it can gain a trick, and not to cover if it can cost a trick.

This advice may not be particularly helpful - for it tells you to use your head instead of a rigid formula - but that is the kind of game bridge is, and if you find the rule too difficult you can always switch to another pastime.

Today's hand demonstrates the principle. South is in three spades and West leads the queen of clubs, which wins. When West shifts to a diamond, declarer goes up with the queen and returns the nine of trumps. If East ducks, so does South and, as a result, he makes three spades.

But if East covers the nine with the - as he should to cater to the possibility of West's having four spades that include the eight and a high honor - South goes down one The nine in this case is treated as an honor, and East covers because the play cannot cost him a trick but may gain him one.

Local Skater To Perform At Ice Show

HICKSVILLE'S Lauren Ingvoldstad will be performing in the ice show.

Hicksville resident and Our Lady of Mercy fifth grader Laureh Ingvoldstand will be starring in a special ice skating show this weekend at Cantiague Park.

The 10-year-old will be performing in "Time Warp" and "Precision Team" programs in the annual ice show, "Fantastic 91" which is being sponsored by the Cantiague Figure Skating Club, in cooperation with the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks.

The annual ice show will be held on Saturday, May 18 at 8 p.m. and Sunday, May 19 at 2 p.m. This year's glittering event will be on a gala Salute to Hollywood, and will highlight some of the most exciting young skaters in the area, in both solo and extravaganza "Ice Capades"-type numbers. This family entertainment program will be held at the Cantiague Park Rink in Hicksville.

As in the past, the young members of the Club, who include many local and regional champions, will be joined by several National, Olympic and World skating stars. Among the other guest stars headlining Fantasia 91 is Olympic ice dancer Suzanne Semanick, who returns to the Cantiague Show by popular demand, and her partner, Russian skating star Igor Shpilband. Igor is a very exciting skater and World champion, who recently toured with the Torvil & Dean Show. They will be joined by professional World Skating competitor Julia Simkin, who has just skated in a video with Paul Wylie on Style and Technique. She is a lovely, spectacular skater. They will be joined by national skating star Doug Mattis, who delighted audiences last year. Doug skates and teaches at the famed Ice Castles Training Center in California. From back east comes Michael Chack, who just won the University Games in Japan, as well as coming in among the top winners in Nationals. Special appearances will also be made by Levittowner Marianne Diliberti, a National competitor who originally started with the Cantiague Club, and Cantiague skater Robin Heckler, 14, from Franklin Square, who competed in Nationals in February.

More than 50 area youngsters will be participating in the Show. Group numbers include the Cantiague Precision Skaters in 'New York, New York," our own version of Star Wars Meets 2001, and a tribute to Oscar winning music. The highlight of the Show will be a celebration of the most loved hits by Walt Disney.

All Long Islanders, of any age invited. The Cantiague Park Rink is on West John Street in Hicksville. For more information, call the rink at 935-3501.
