Cheers, Applause For Hicksville Class Of '91

By Rita Langdon

For 284 members of the Hicksville High School Class of 1991, Sunday was a day to sit back, relax and reflect on their 12 years of schooling.

But for one graduate in particular, 1991 commencement exercises was the perfect opportunity to show how her determination and courage earned her a high school diploma.

It's been three years since 21-year-old Tricia Schrader was in an auto accident that left her in a coma for eight months. And during that time, she struggled to get back on her feet, physically, and to finish the two courses she needed to receive her diploma.

"She worked very hard," said her father, William, on Sunday. "She's a good fighter and has determination."

With the help of a cane and her brother, Billy at her side, Tricia held her arm up in victory as she walked toward high school principal Richard Hogan who handed her the diploma. The crowd and her fellow classmates cheered and applauded her as she made her way to the center of McCormick Field.

"She worked hard to get her diploma," said her mother, Patricia. "I am very proud of her determination."

Although not completely recovered from the accident which occurred in September 1987, Tricia is progressing every day. This summer, she is spending time in a camp which offers many outdoor activities such as boating and horseback riding.

This fall, she heads to the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation in Albertson where she will be trained for a job.

Tricia could have received her equivalency diploma but asked the Hicksville School District if she could graduate with the class of 1991.

"It was so very important to her," said her mother. "She came a long way since that Saturday she was on her way to work."

This year's commencement exercise was also a special time for Superintendent of Schools Dr. Catherine Fenton. In her address to the students, Fenton said her final farewells. Fenton is retiring in August.

"After 12 years of educational leadership, I, too, will be leaving and moving on to other adventures," she said.

"For the past 12 years, since these students were in first grade, my message has been that the children of Hicksville are quality students. Expect them to achieve and they will!"

She noted that 90 percent of this year's graduating class will continue their education. In 1979, when the Class of '91 was in first grade, only 62 percent of the graduating class continued their education, Fenton said. Last year, 85 percent of the Class of 1990 went on to higher education. "We never believed it could go higher," said Fenton. "But you did it!"

To commemorate the record breaking achievement, the high school set up a display entitled "The Next Step" which features the banner and pennants of every college and professional school of the class of 1991's choice. Under each school, is the name of the Hicksville student who will be attending.

In his annual address to graduates, parents, family members and friends, high school principal Richard Hogan listed many of the Class of 1991's accomplishments. "You were a great senior class," he said. "You didn't have a budget to support your activities, but you showed how much can be accomplished when people unite!"

He added, "The Class of '91 was a champion of finding solutions and making Hicksville a better place!"

Duffy Firm May Challenge Town In Court

By Rita Langdon

Oyster Bay Sand and Gravel may take legal action against the Town of Oyster Bay after it refused the company a permit to operate its business legally.

The Oyster Bay Town Board has denied the Duffy Avenue company a special use permit because of "adverse impacts on neighboring residences," said Town spokesperson Phyllis Barry.

The applicant, Oyster Bay Sand and Gravel, located at 292 Duffy Avenue, Hicksville, has sought the permit to maintain the existing wholesale and retail operation in what is zoned an 'H' light industrial district.

The reasons given by the board for denying the permit are being disputed by the company's lawyer, Aldo A. Trabucchi, and Oyster Bay Sand and Gravel owner Jeffrey Funfeld.

"It seems to me that the board members reacted to civic association or voter pressure. We believe the decision is arbitrary and capricious...and contrary to the facts," Trabucchi said Friday. "We intend to take it to the court for review."

One of the reasons for the permit denial, according to the town, is that the company starts operating before 7 a.m.

Neighbors complained that they have been awakened as early as 3 a.m. by trucks idling. In February, at a public hearing before the town board, Duffy Park Civic Association president Dave Staton said, "Residents are treated to the sounds of truck doors and tailgates slamming, air brakes hissing and the beeping sounds trucks make when they're in reverse gear."

But Trabucchi claimed in February that "restrictions on the hours of use will put us out of business." He added that drivers travel to quarries in Westchester and Nyack to pick up sand and gravel. A driver who leaves after 7 a.m. would become stuck in traffic, especially on the Long Island Expressway, Trabucchi said.

"Mr. Funfeld has to get his trucks earlier on the road in order to have a successful business," Trabucchi added.

In denying the permit, the town board also said that the property has been left in a state of disrepair and no adequate assurances have been made that the condition would be improved.

Funfeld said in an interview on Friday that the building is only five years old and is well-kept.

Staton has said that he asked Funfeld to clean up the weeds and trash located outside a fence in front of his business. Funfeld said, "I'm paying good tax dollars. I'm not going to spend money and get denied something."

The board also said that the company's operations are an "overintensification of land use" Trabucchi questioned this, saying, "How can it be an overintensification of land use...in a business zone?"

The town board said that the granting of the application "would impede future efforts to harmonize and stabilize the general use and character of the area." Trabucchi said, "He's in an industrial [area] that was established by the town. Where else do you go?"

Trabucchi also said that the board's findings are "totally inconsistent" with the environmental impact statement previously prepared and approved by the town. The statement—which includes tests of water quality and usage, air quality, traffic and noise—concluded that the company's operation would have no significant impact on the environment.

Neighbors complained about extensive noise, but Trabucchi said that the environment (continued on page 6)

HOMETOWN PEOPLE

The Calder Family: Michael and Nancy, Michael, 8, Brian, 6 and Melissa, 3½.

A Pleasant Visit

The Calder children Michael, Brian and Melissa would like to thank Grandma and Grandpa Bernard and Rose Finn for their recent visit to Florida.

Michael and Nancy (Finn) Calder are pleased to report that the children loved having grandpa and grandma to spoil them.

Michael and Nancy spent three weeks visiting the Calders who live in Clearwater, Florida. They arrived just in time to celebrate Michael's First Holy Communion. They enjoyed a wonderful day at Busch Gardens shopping in the malls and visiting other former Hicksville residents. "It was a fabulous visit and we look forward to another," said Nancy Calder.

From One Who Remembers

The following is a letter we received the other day from Jerry Zettler about Herbert Johnsen who passed away on Dec. 31, 1990. Jerry was nice enough to send us the following information about this terrific man.

"Herb was president of the Northwest Civic Association in 1953. In 1955, he co-chaired the Ambulance Fund Committee with me and we were successful in obtaining the first ambulances for the Hicksville Fire Department."

"In 1957, he was elected with me to the Hicksville Board of Education and served for nine years. In the late 50s and early 60s, we held board meetings every Friday night into the early hours of the morning."

"Herb also displayed his community spirit as he worked along with Gardiner Gregory when he was establishing the Gregory Museum. He spent many hours wiring and painting the building."

"After his term on the school board, he served with me as a Republican Committee man for more than 10 years until he retired and moved to Florida."

"The time and work he did for the Hicksville Methodist Church over the 25 years he attended is impossible to calculate.

"There are many people in Hicksville who will not forget Herb Johnsen because he was always there to give a hand when needed!"

Brian Cleary

Congratulations Graduate

Brian Cleary, son of Carol and Don Cleary graduated from Fairfield University on May 19. He received a bachelor of science degree in accounting with a minor in information systems.

Brian is a 1987 graduate of Hicksville High School. All his family and friends congratulate him and wish him the best of luck in his new career.

Neighborhood Ladies Club

Happy 40th Birthday to one of Hicksville's local neighborhood ladies club. This club, which encompasses neighbors from the Burns Avenue section of Hicksville, was originated by Glady's Dempsey Kist who now resides in Arizona.

The club was called the Bakers Dozen since it started with 13 members. Their theme is "get to know your neighbors."

Right now the membership stands at 11 with Audrey Petersen and Marge Harman as the only original ones.

The other club members include Ruth Barlow, Carmen Borja, Frank Broska, Nancy Haines, Goldie Moradi, Janet Rich, Betty Scarola, Nancy Stark and Elise Volpe.

As part of their yearly outing, the girls had dinner at the Maine Maid Inn.

Retires From Air Force

Colonel Bill Knudsen recently retired from the Air Force where he was a pilot and served for 23 years.

Bill, a 1963 graduate of Hicksville High Schools, lives in Texas with his wife Susan..

Guess Who I Met???

I met an awful lot of old timers in the past few weeks. Among them were Julia (Brady) and her husband, Caesar Roscigno; Mary (Nowinski) Chetuck, and her daughter, Antoinette, and also Vic DiMatta's son, Michael.

After talking a while I found out that Michael is an attorney at law. Many of you will remember Vic's father—he was Mr. DiMatta, one of Hicksville's best shoe repair men. When we were young his shop was located in the heart of the village—and later located next to Ted's Suprette on North Broadway. I understand that Vic is not too well these days. He has respiratory problems.

When speaking with Julia, Mary and Antoinette they all mentioned how sorry they were to hear about the death of Irene Byrnes, a former longtime Hicksville resident. Mary lived across the street from Mrs. Byrnes and said that they spent many happy evenings sitting on her porch, talking about everything. Antoinette said that when Mrs. Byrnes left her beloved Hicksville she gave her a lovely mirror and her mother a teapot for them to remember her by.

Julia said that she worked for Mrs. Byrnes during World War II at the ammunition factory that was located on Duffy Avenue (where Ebbets Field Cafe is now). Said Julia, "I worked there after school and on Saturdays. Mrs. Byrnes was our floor lady. She was always dressed nicely and her hair was always done beautifully. She always looked lovely."

I also met another old Hicksville who most of you will remember—Monsignor Lawrence Ballweg. He said to me, "So you're the one who writes that column. I read it every week. Someone sent me a subscription."

Well... Monsignor looks great. He still has that happy, clean-looking face with his nice smile. He's kinda' retired now (well, almost—he's still in charge of the Propagation of the Faith).

Father Ballweg came to Hicksville around 1940-41, I believe St. Ignatius was his first parish. After arriving here he went all over town knocking on doors to see how many boys he could sign up to play different sports.

At the time they only had a couple of basketball hoops in the old school building. He was instrumental in having basketball hoops put in the auditorium of the new school. They also started playing football. The C.Y.O. had some really good teams. Many of the fathers became their coaches and they really did well.

Father Ballweg was also responsible for starting the Wednesday night youth club called, (I think) Parish High. I was always sorry I wasn't Catholic then as I couldn't join it. The youngsters had a great time getting together for a social evening of dancing, etc.

I have a very soft spot in my heart for Father Ballweg as he converted me and my family, and my aunt's family, to Catholicism in 1946. He was a wonderful priest—and always gave interesting sermons. Monsignor Joseph Nagle, a (Sunday) visiting priest at St. Paul the Apostle Church in Jericho, reminds me and many others of Father Ballweg. Monsignor Nagle looks and sounds just like Father Ballweg.

It was a delight to see him. Father Ballweg still has that nice boyish face with the happy smile.

A Celebration

The Garger Family of Hicksville had good reason for a celebration. Their youngest son, John, graduated from New York University on May 16. He received a bachelor of arts degree in political science with a minor in journalism and metropolitan studies.

His family and friends helped him celebrate at a party on June 9. His family wishes him much success in his future.

James Neumann with new baby sister, Kerrin Ann.

A New Sister

How nice! James Alex Neumann, 2, would like to introduce his new sister, Kerrin Ann, born on November 9, 1990 to Arlene (new Lepanto) and Robert Neumann. Kerrin weighed in at 6 lbs., 1 oz and was 20 inches long.

Kerrin was christened on December 23, 1990 at St. Ignatius Loyola R.C. Church by Deacon Zirkel. Her godparents are Laura (new DeMarco) and James McShane.

Singing by Aunt Diane Otten and cousin Janene Otten was beautifully accompanied by Dan Conte on the harpsichord.

A party was held to celebrate the event at the home of the happy parents in Hicksville. Also in attendance were grandparents Ann and Louis Neumann and Dorothy Nolan-Lepanto, all of Hicksville.

Lianne Michelle Toomey

Birth Announcement

Robert and Linda Toomey (Collins) are proud to announce the birth of their first child, a precious baby girl.

Lianne Michelle was born April 25 at 10:55 p.m. at Winthrop University Hospital. Lianne weighed in at 9 lbs., 8 ozs. and was 22" long.

Her proud great-grandmas are Marjorie Collins and Helen Kunz, both of Hicksville. Lianne is Marge's fifth great grandchild and Helen's 34th great grandchild.

Lianne's proud grandparents are Charles and Eleanor Toomey of Levittown.

Lianne's godparents are Dave Staton of Hicksville and Madeleine Pflaumbaum of Asheville, North Carolina.

Ken Kelly Graduates

Kenneth P. Kelly of High School was among 1,912 degree candidates to graduate from SUNY at Oswego.

Kenneth received a bachelor's degree in broadcasting and mass communication.

Homeowner Alert: Fraudulent Vendor In Area

The Hicksville Fire Department has reported that area homeowners are being victimized by a fraudulent vendor in the area who tells residents that the fire department has recommended that their chimneys need cleaning.

The suspects allegedly tell homeowners that they obtained their name from the Hicksville Fire Department.

Through a spokesman, fire chief Anthony Wigdzinski said that the fire department does not sponsor or recommend any vendor nor does it maintain lists of any kind.

"This is a scam, plain and simple," said department spokesman Owen Magee. "The actions of this firm, using the name Scotto Brothers and possibly other names, whereby they imply the fire department is behind them is unlawful and any homeowner should get as much information as possible and notify us as soon as possible," he added. Nassau police and the county fire marshal have been notified about the situation, Magee said.

The fire department does not supply lists of residents to any vendor, he added.

Hicksville Mom and Son Graduate College Together

The Goss family of Hicksville enjoyed a double celebration this graduation season.

Together, mother and son received their diplomas from Molloy College in Rockville Centre on May 18.

Rita Goss, the head nurse on the oncology floor at South Nassau Hospital, and mother of three boys, received a B.A. degree in Interdisciplinary Sciences (biology and political science) while her son, Brian, received a B.S. in biology education 7-12.

Rita returned to college in 1989 to complete her bachelor's, a year after her eldest son, Brian, transferred to Molloy from another college. Both of them have taken many courses together.

Town To Honor Gulf Veterans On July 4

A salute to military personnel who served in the Operation Desert Shield/Desert Storm will be the theme of the Town of Oyster Bay's 4th of July celebration sponsored by the Town's Bicentennial Historical Commission.

Several members of the Persian Gulf forces, including an officer from the U.S.S. Theodore Roosevelt, will be guest speakers along with Town Supervisor Angelo Delligatti.

The program will also commemorate the 200th anniversary of the Bill of Rights and Beyond. Veteran, community and historical groups as well as youth organizations have been invited to share in this special celebration, which is being held in cooperation with the Town's Department of Parks and the Oyster Bay Community Band.

The day's activities will kick off at 10:30 a.m. on Thursday, July 4 with a parade, which will form in Oyster Bay at the Church Street municipal parking lot No. 4 and travel down East Main Street, across South Street and onto Audrey Avenue, reaching its destination at Townsend Park.

There, starting at 11 a.m., residents will be treated to a musical program and brief remarks by the guest speakers. There will also be a fly-over by three UH-1Hs piloted by members of the Army National Guard. Following the observance, parade units will reform and march back to the Church Street parking lot.

Bus Depot Seeks Operating Permit

By Rita Langdon

Neighbors of a school bus depot terminal on Duffy Avenue aired their grievances against the company at a public hearing last week.

Youngwall Brothers, owners of Valley Transit, asked members of the Oyster Bay Town Board to approve a special use permit to continue to operate a bus depot at the Duffy Avenue site, near Henrietta Street. As part of the proceedings, area neighbors were able to comment on the company's operations.

Citing early morning noise as a problem, Benjamin Avenue resident Medard Ofenloch, whose home abuts the property, asked that the permit be denied. Ofenloch said that the buses idle during the morning hours, the drivers honk their horns and use foul language. "This is all in my backyard," said Ofenloch. "We might as well board up the windows so we can get a decent night's sleep."

Ofenloch also opposes the position of security lights which he said "lights up [my] whole backyard...the whole block."

The owner of Jodee Plastics on Frank Road, which is located in the Duffy Park area, also asked the Town Board to deny the permit.

Josephine Meglino said that Valley Transit's employees park their private vehicles on Frank Road—a street which she says she owns.

"Many of the people park on the road. They don't allow for ingress and egress and it interferes with the operation of my facility," she said.

Meglino added that she pays $9,000 per year in taxes to maintain the road.

Dave Staton, president of Duffy Park Civic Association said that Valley Transit has been operating at the site for a number of years and "nothing has been done to make it fit in." He noted that there are no curbs or curb cuts on the property. Staton asked Town Board members to place restrictions on the permit if it is granted by the board.

Valley Transit's attorney, Anthony Cincotta of Woodbury, said that the company would look into correcting these problems cited by the neighbors. Cincotta also said that the owner plans to install a solid stockade fence and a 10-foot planting barrier. Currently, there is a fence and some shrubbery between the residential homes and Valley Transit.

"Little by little these problems will be worked out," said Cincotta. "My client is interested in living peacefully with the neighbors...and will address these concerns."

Cincotta said he will look into having the buses idle on the opposite side of the property and have the curbs and sidewalks paved so they are dust free.

Residents also complained that employees congregating around a food convenience

Board Votes To Abolish 6 Positions

By Peggy Theis

Responding to a decline in pupil enrollment, the Hicksville School Board last week voted to abolish six teaching positions.

The board—acting on a recommendation by Superintendent Dr. Catherine Fenton—said that the cuts would be made by eliminating classes in Grade 4 at Burns Avenue, Grade 3 at Dutch Lane, Grade 6 at Fork Lane, Grade 6 at Lee Avenue and Grade 3 at Woodland Avenue. The sixth position—reserved for an additional teacher if needed in the fall—was also abolished.

Superintendent Dr. Catherine Fenton explained the steps taken by the District in determining class sections, which has a direct link on the annual budget.

In December, estimates were first made as to the number of students on a grade level in each elementary building for 1991-92. Utilizing a "procedural guideline" the district in recent years has generally split a Kindergarten class at 28, a primary (Grade 1-3) class at 29 and an intermediate class (Grade 4-6) at 31.

Staffing costs, the largest portion of the annual school budget, are then estimated. However, projected enrollments are looked at again in the late Spring when building principals become aware of students who will be leaving the district. Projections are reviewed yet again in late August/early September when new entrants are enrolled.

Both Anita DeFelice, President of Fork Lane PTA, and Peggy Parsekian, Co-President of Dutch Lane PTA, cited special circumstances they felt would warrant two classes instead of one.

Dr. Fenton said that the situation at Dutch was unique in that seven special education students would be mainstreamed into the sixth grade at that building. She requested that the Board therefore split Dutch's sixth grade now and the Board agreed.

Dr. Fenton and members of the Board stressed to parents that further review would take place in a few months. Parsekian reminded the Board that they had cited singleton classes at Willet Avenue as a reason to close that building. She asked that for the sake of the children splits be made to avoid the creation of additional singletons.

However, Fenton said the possibility of class sizes of 15 or less "would be difficult to swallow" in today's fiscal crisis. Trustee James Martillo said "tough and unpopular decisions" would have to be made given the financial situation facing Hicksville.

By eliminating the five elementary classes, the district might save in the neighborhood of $250,000, Fenton said.

According to retiring Board Trustee

William Bennett, provisions in the teachers' contract contain average class size limits. He suggested that this provision, which he said is unusual in other districts, be negotiated out of the next contract with the Hicksville Council of Teachers, which expires in 1992.

Even with class sizes of 31 in several instances, the district's average remains below the contractual requirement, Fenton said. The projected average class size per building for 1991-92 is as follows:

Burns	22
Dutch	24
East	20
Fork	20
Lee	23
Old Country	25
Woodland	24

BECAUSE OF DECLINING enrollment, a teaching position was eliminated at Dutch Lane Elementary School. Teaching positions were also abolished at Burns, Fork, Lee and Woodland.

General Growth Center Assumes Management of Mall

General Growth Center Companies Inc. of Minneapolis has been appointed manager of Hicksville's Broadway Mall.

"We're very excited about our new association with Broadway Mall," said John Millar, executive vice president of General Growth Center Companies. "Broadway Mall enjoys a prominent position in the Long Island market. In the next several months, we'll be looking to build upon the center's strengths, while developing new strategies for growth."

Located at 106/107 Northern State Parkway, Broadway Mall was renovated in 1989. The center encompasses 1.5 million square feet, including space for 100 specialty retailers.

Broadway Mall features two major retailers: a 300,000-square-foot Stern's; and a 235,000-square-foot IKEA which opened in March of 1991.

General Growth Center Companies is one of the nation's largest managers of regional shopping centers. The addition of Broadway Mall brings to 72 the total number of retail properties managed by the company, throughout the 29 states and Washington, D.C.

Broadway Mall is owned by DELCO Development Mid-Island Ltd. Partnership, based in Long Island.

Monsignor Tom Hartman Receives Business Award

Monsignor Thomas Hartman and Sandy Chapin received the business community's highest awards at the Long Island Association Annual Dinner Dance held on May 31 at the Crest Hollow Country Club.

"Father Tom" of Hicksville received the Harry Chapin Humanitarian Award for Community Service. Sandy Chapin and the Chapin family received the Medal of Honor Award, the LIA's highest honor recognizing contributions to the Long Island community.

"1991 marks the tenth anniversary since singer/songwriter Harry Chapin was tragically taken from us. We felt it was a fitting time to honor the continuing efforts of all the members of the Chapin family for the work to make life better for all Long Islanders, especially those less fortunate," said LIA President James L. Larocea.

To make Summer reading a pleasure and as convenient as possible, the Hicksville Public Library's "Summer Vacation Loan" is now in effect. You may borrow up to ten 28-day books until after Labor Day. Rather than settle for TV reruns, settle down, nice and comfortable, with a good read.

TO YOUR HEALTH

By RICHARD H. BLAU, M.D.

Polymyalgia Rheumatica - A Disease Which Mimics Arthritis

Polymyalgia rheumatica (PMR), is an illness which causes severe muscle pain, aching, and stiffness. This disorder usually affects women over the age of 50 years. Although the cause of PMR is not known, some rheumatologists (specialists in disorders of the muscles and joints) think that the illness may be inherited.

Patients with PMR suffer severe pain in the muscles of the neck, shoulders, arms, lower back, hips and thighs. Occasionally swelling of the joints may occur, mimicking certain forms of arthritis. The pain is worse in the morning and often makes getting out of bed a very difficult task.

By the time I see a patient with PMR, they are usually very depressed from being in so much pain for a long period of time. These patients may have led very active lives prior to their illness, and often feel frustrated at not being able to accomplish previously simple tasks.

The diagnosis of PMR requires a complete history and physical examination.

Often, several blood tests are required to aid in the diagnosis. One test, called the erythrocyte sedimentation rate, can be very helpful in confirming the diagnosis.

Closely associated with PMR is a disorder called Temporal Arteritis. This illness, which affects a percentage of patients with PMR, results from inflamed blood vessels. This inflammation may produce headaches or even visual problems.

Treatment for polymyalgia rheumatica centers around the use of medications which are able to reduce inflammation, and often begin to give significant relief within 24 to 48 hours.

Should you suspect that you have any of the above symptoms, you should consult your physician or rheumatologist.

Arthritis strikes one out of seven people. Learn the facts. Call for your complimentary copy of "The Joint Approach An Arthritis Overview."

mental impact statement "found that the noise level increased only slightly as a result of the operation of [Oyster Bay Sand and Gravel]."

Trabuechi also disputes residents' claims that noise is coming from his client's site. He said that an extensive study done by Oyster Bay Sand and Gravel concluded that the noise was coming from the Long Island Rail Road, which is located adjacent to the property in question.

Through a spokesperson, Town Supervisor Angelo A. Delligatti said: "The Town Board's decision was based on all testimony presented at the public hearing. The environmental assessment was just one factor in that decision. Certainly, concern expressed by residents was also taken into consideration."

Funfeld said of the board's decision: "I guess they want more buildings boarded up in Hicksville. I've been here for 15 years. A lot of love and sweat and tears went into this building." He added, "It's a shame the people are driving the businesses out of here."

Staton said that "Mr. Funfeld's dream can not come true at the expense of the people who have lived in their homes far longer than he's been in business." He added that at the February public hearing, residents asked Funfeld to "try and run his business differently, but he refused."

"We were basically told that our concerns were not going to get in the way of his business being profitable," Staton added.

"No, we don't need another boarded up building in Duffy Park, but we're willing to trade boarded up building for a business that wrecks havoc in the neighborhood."

Funfeld said of the board's decision: "I

You won't find a Home Equity Rate this low with no closing costs.

No major New York bank offers you a better home equity credit line than The Bank of New York.

It's called EquityLink® and it comes with the lowest interest rate in town.

But that's only part of the story. The best closing argument for EquityLink is the fact that there are absolutely no closing costs, points, or other hidden charges. That means you don't end up paying for things like appraisal fees, mortgage recording tax, title insurance or bank attorney's fees. We even refund your application fee at the closing.

EquityLink also offers you potential tax advantages later on. Because the interest on home equity credit loans is still tax deductible.

EquityLink lets you borrow as little as $15,000 or as much as $500,000 or more and gives you up to 30 years to repay. So why not visit one of our more than 220 convenient branches.

Or, since this is a limited time offer, why not call us at 1-800-422-1784.

And close in on the best home equity credit line with absolutely no closing costs.

*9.50% Variable Annual Percentage Rate is current as of May 21, 1991, and applies to homes and condominiums. For co-ops, the current Variable APR is 9.75%. Rate is subject to change without notice and is calculated for houses and condominiums at 100% above the Prime Rate as published each Monday in The Wall Street Journal. For co-ops the Variable APR is 125% above the published Prime Rate. Thereafter, you may repay the remaining balance over 20 years at a variable rate of Prime +100% for homes and condominiums or Prime +125% for co-ops. The Variable Annual Percentage Rate applied to your account may increase after a consummation if the Prime rate increases, up to a maximum of 25%. (Minimum credit line of $50,000 in New Jersey. Co-op accounts available only on New York State properties.) Since this loan will be secured by a mortgage on your home, you may wish to seek financial advice before using it for non-essential purchases. Consult your tax advisor before applying, to determine the deductibility of your finance charges. Deductibility may not apply to co-op loans. For example, if you choose an "interest only" account and borrow $50,000 at 9.50% Variable APR for immediate use, you will have 120 monthly payments of a minimum of $390.41 during the 10-year revolving period if the Prime remains the same. Thereafter, you will have 240 monthly payments of $598.74 during the 20-year repayment period. For new accounts only. Further information can be obtained at any branch. ©1991 The Bank of New York. We're putting our money where our mouth is to preserve Long Island's water supply.

Long Island's water supply is the finest in the nation. At Slomin's we're taking positive steps to help preserve it.

Specifically, we've established a special financial assistance program to help subsidize the cost of complying with the new regulations regarding buried fuel oil tanks.

Under this program, you will be able to purchase our environmentally safe, 280-gallon fiberglass tank for a price that is truly below our cost.* There are also economical options available for above ground storage tanks, starting as low as $100 installed.

We realize that even with our subsidy, replacing your tank may be a financial burden, so we're offering low monthly payments with no interest or finance charges.

As a leader in the fuel oil industry, we feel a responsibility to invest in our community... to put our money where our mouth is, so to speak. We're proud to be working with our Long Island neighbors to preserve our fragile environment.

For more information, call Slomin's in Nassau at 932-7000, in Suffolk, call 242-4888.

truck use obscene language. Cincotta said he will arrange to have the truck moved to west side of the property, away from area homes.

Valley Transit houses 47 mini-buses and is open five days a week and about three Saturdays per year. The buses are used to transport handicapped children ages 6 months to 5 years to various special schools, Cincotta said. The buses begin leaving the property at between 6:50 a.m. and 8 a.m. and return between 9:30 and 10 a.m.

Dave Staton requested that the operation begin at 7 a.m., instead of 6 a.m., but Cincotta said this would be a problem because the buses need to idle, especially in the winter.

He said that about 30-35 private cars owned by the employees park in front of the property.

Valley Transit has been operating without a special use permit, which is in violation of town zoning laws. Cincotta said that it was not until Valley Transit received a summons for operating without a permit, that his client became aware that one was needed.

Dr. Fenton had cited another reason for deciding to eliminate the five classes now rather than later this summer. Excessed teachers would have the opportunity to seek employment over the summer rather than be faced with a last minute dismissal in late August when the job market would be tougher. If the district waited, they would also have to pay 30 days' severance pay to teachers not given adequate notice.

The Board also took action to lower the district's bus transportation costs by entering into a cooperative with 11 school districts, including Jericho, Syosset, Locust Valley, Westbury and Levittown.

Newly-elected Trustee Richard Pfaender questioned both William Hall, Assistant Director of Transportation and Fran Guttilla, the district's transportation specialist, as to the safety of children who would be transferring from one bus to another in the course of their journey to school.

Students involved would be approximately 50 children in grades K-12 who attend private schools outside the district. After receiving assurances that the children would not be transferred on a major road but rather in a school facility supervised by school personnel and that the districts involved followed similar bus safety guidelines as adopted in Hicksville, Pfaender said he would support the cooperative venture. This plan could generate savings of about $70,000, Hall said.

While Bennett argued against such a move, Pfaender said the potential state aid reduction of $6 million "dictates changes" in the district. He also requested that meetings be held with parents of students affected in order that they could be assured of the plans to monitor the program as well as provide for their children's safety. Hall said those meetings would be held after schedules and routes are planned. The motion was adopted by a 5-2 vote, Bennett and newly-elected trustee James Black voting no. The cooperative venture would be re-evaluated after a year. There are no plans to transport special education students this year via the joint venture.

The bidding:

Opening lead — queen of hearts.

You never know how much dynamite there is in a deal when you first pick up your cards, sort them out, and start to bid.

Consider this hand played in a national team of four championship many years ago. B. Jay Becker, former editor of this column, held the North cards, partnered by Sidney Silodor. Nothing much happened at their table, where the bidding went as shown and West led the queen of hearts.

Silodor won the heart lead with the king and cashed six diamonds and five clubs to finish with 12 tricks. The players then went on to the next deal without giving the matter further thought.

When the same hand was played at the other table, the outcome proved to be altogether different. At this table, the opposing South also got to three notrump. But the West player was the great Helen Sobel, and she wisely decided to make a neutral lead instead of the queen of hearts. She reasoned that since South was likely to have the king, a heart lead would probably cost her a trick, so she led the eight of spades instead.

This unusual lead had an electric effect on the outcome. East started by cashing six spade tricks in a row. He then shifted to the ten of hearts and Mrs. Sobel duplicated East's success by cashing six heart tricks in a row.

As a result, even though the final contract at both tables was three notrump played by South, Becker's team had the rare experience of winning 12 tricks with the North-South cards at the first table, and 12 tricks with the East-West cards at the second table. That's how championships are won!

Cleanup and Planting

In May, the Midland Civic Association had its annual neighborhood cleanup and the planting of the triangle on Willet Avenue and Nevada Street off Bethpage Road.

This year there was much less debris. We feel this is due to the awareness engendered by our annual clean-ups and are grateful to our neighbors for their cooperation.

A committee consisting of Sonia De Silva, Nimita Montinez, Tom Pfeifer and son, Richard Pfaffenreider, Maureen Seier and daughter, myself, and most importantly, Eileen and Paul Richards and son, Jimmy, were involved.

We were due to meet at Willet Avenue and Bethpage Road at 9 a.m., but Eileen, Paul, and Jimmy Richards were early birds and were just about finished planting when we arrived to work. Jimmy Richards also obtained the flats of marigolds wholesale. Fortunately, planting was much easier this year due to the cooperation of Richard Betz of the Town of Oyster Bay's Parks Department, who had rototilled the hard-packed soil and added compost. We are so grateful.

The beautification committee now needs volunteers to help weed. Anyone willing, please call 931-1740.

Hicksville High School student interns Sheldon Lieber, Jill Van Kasten and Denise Carter speak to prospective interns for 1991-92.

HHS Student Internship Program Expands

The Hicksville High School student internship program in education, initiated two years ago under the advisement of Guidance Counselor Sheldon Lieber, has expanded to 30 students who plan to enter the field of education upon graduation. Lieber has been instrumental in setting-up and running the program which has grown from only a couple of students.

This program will take high school students and place them in an elementary school or the Middle School during the afternoon, where they will assist the teachers with class assignments. The interns earn one high school credit for this practical experience.

Business education teacher Susan Galland serves as the program's Supervising Teacher and on-site visitor. The 30 future teachers in the 1991-92 program will meet with Galland in September for their initial training, introductions and placements. They will then meet periodically throughout the school year.

The students met with Galland and Lieber on June 6 for an informal briefing. At that time, they were introduced to current student interns, Jill Van Kasten and Denise Carter. Jill and Denise spoke to the prospective interns about their own experiences and fielded several questions.

Lieber said he is pleased with the high turn-out of interns planning on entering the field of education. He added that he hopes to expand the program so that other students may be placed in local industries and businesses so that they may experience their desired career, as well as to gain an advantage in the college and job market.

A Letter from Lulubelle...

...As the years have gone by, there are so many little things I can give myself that make my life just a little more pleasant and I call them my "small comforts". . . They are inexpensive and you probably have some for yourself that I haven't even thought of as yet. . . I've already told you about the delicious pleasure of taking your bath by candlelight—so much more relaxing than the bright glare of the electric lights. . . and another is having a really large bath sponge—so soft—and I have an aunt who makes what she calls "scrubbers" from nylon net and they are wonderful for rough winter-time feet—it doesn't hurt and does the job. . . and tweezers that really tweeze—they're hard to find—and just recently I have a small pair of scissors in the front of the knife drawer in the kitchen—so handy for opening those "impossible-to-open" packages and the "boil in bag" frozen things and so many more—what took me so long to think of that?—and a set of small all-different-sized strainers—no pouring through a too large strainer any more—and have you seen those "towels on a loop to fasten on a drawer or your range for drying your hands after the myriad times you wash them in the kitchen and saving all those paper towels? . . . And in your purse, a lipstick the same color as the one you put on in the bathroom in the morning. . . and a small flashlight on your key chain for those dark nights at your doorway. . . and a lip salve in your cosmetic case for those dry times. . . and a tooth and gum remedy at the ready when travelling in case something goes awry. . . and have you seen those "bed pockets" which are a cloth envelope kind of thing—one side goes under the mattress and the other hangs down with several little pockets in which to put kleenex, maybe another little flashlight to see the time if your clock doesn't have an illuminated face, and whatever else you might like in the night without having to get up. . . and how about ice water at dinner just as they do in fancy restaurants—maybe with a thin slice of lemon to be really elegant—you and your family are worth it! . . . These are a few of my favorite "small comforts" and they are, I note, mainly female—but there are so many for the fellows, too. . . For example, my husband always has a nail clipper—that little folding kind—in his pocket. . . and his wallet has a business-sized card with, in tiny writing, the numbers of those he calls most often. . . Such "small comforts" but so important—I know you can add many of your own—and if you are not being good to yourself—do it now!

Yours, Lulubelle

In Our Mailbox—A Note From Art Fricke

Classmates Meet Again 55 Years After Graduation

Arthur H. Fricke of Fairview, North Carolina, sent us the following note about a very interesting reunion.

May 31, 1991 was just the beginning of another routine day until the telephone rang. When I answered, a voice on the other end said, "How would you like to see some old friends from Hicksville whom you hadn't seen in many years?"

It was the voice of Pat Naso who invited us to meet the group the evening of June 4 at the Springdale Country Club in Springdale, North Carolina.

They were gathering there for several days of fun and golf. All has grown up together, graduated from Hicksville High School and kept in close contact with each other.

For the past 20 years, they have gone to a different place the first week in June, taking turns making the arrangements. What a beautiful bond of friendship.

Who were these people we had the pleasure to see again? Dick and Gloria Rennie, Pat and Colette Naso, "Squat" and Louise Madden, Willie and Tom Suppa, Abbie and Alissa Albert, Dick and Eleanor Metz and Phil and Betty Pignataro.

I took along pictures I had saved of the 1936 Class Washington Trip, 1936 Track Team, the Class of '36 school play, Yankee Doodle Dandy, the High School Band and the 1936 class banner. Needless to say, they generated a great deal of interest and some chuckles trying to recognize the familiar faces and seeing how we all expanded "physically."

Abbie Albert was most envious of his band picture because he was lamenting the loss of a good deal of the hair he once had. Next haircut, I'll send him some.

We had a most pleasant evening together reminiscing about Hicksville, our school days and all the dedicated teachers we had in our time.

I will be eternally grateful to Pat for having taken the trouble to contact me in Fairview, North Carolina, so we could share some time with them. None of the others knew he had done so and it came as a surprise all of them. Dick Rennie, Tom Raymond Suppa and I were class of '36 graduates so this was a 55th anniversary reunion for us and will be a highlight in my 1991 book of memories.

COUNTY BRIEFS

Special Police Patrols To Stop Fireworks

Patrol cars and police with special assignments are on the streets of Nassau County to act against people using illegal fireworks, Police Commissioner Samuel J. Rozzi announced.

"People should be warned that there are no legal fireworks," said Rozzi. "Even those sparklers which many parents get for their children are against the law. Parents should know that the wire of a sparkler burns at about 1,500 degrees."

Rozzi said that makers of firecrackers have developed more dangerous explosives. M-80's, blockbusters and super blockbusters can cause death or terrible injuries. "Flares and rockets are equally deadly," said Rozzi.

Possession and use of fireworks in violation of the New York State Penal Law will result in arrest or the issuance of an appearance ticket. The fireworks will be confiscated and destroyed by the Police Bomb Squad.

World Class Fireworks Planned For July 3

For residents who want to watch legal fireworks, Nassau County, in conjunction with Cablevision, will present a world-class fireworks production over the Mitchel Field area on July 3 at 9:15 p.m.

An estimated 200,000 Long Islanders were thrilled by last year's pyrotechnic display, with more expected to attend this year to see the work of the famous Grucci family.

Mitchel Park in Uniondale will be closed to the public for safety reasons, but public viewing and parking will take place in the areas surrounding the park, including Nassau Community College, Hofstra University, Nassau Veterans Coliseum and EAB Plaza. For more information, call 542-4422 or 338-8300.

Club For Young Adults Suffering From Arthritis

A support group for young adults with arthritis will meet Tuesday, July 2 at 10 a.m. at 39 East Jericho Turnpike, Mineola, in the offices of C & F Counseling Services.

Sponsored by the Arthritis Foundation, the monthly meetings are offered free-of-charge and are open to the public. Tailored for the 17 to 49 year old, the group will focus on issues of importance to young adults with arthritis as well as positive lifestyle management.

For more information or to reserve a place at the meeting, contact C & F Counseling Services at 873-6126 or the Long Island Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation at 427-8272.

Join County Youth Board

If you are between the ages of 14 and 20 and are concerned about your community and want to fight the problems of your town, then the Nassau County Youth Board's Youth Adult Participation Project (YAPP) is looking for you.

YAPP is a leadership training program whose goal is to provide members with the necessary skills they need to improve their leadership qualities and help them become effective members of their community. This year, members used their skills to tackle problems such as homelessness, cross-cultural communication, and the environment.

Quayle Praises Merchant Marine Grads

By William S. Dobkin

June 17 was a "banner" day for the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point. It received a battle streamer from Vice President Dan Quayle to add to its flag. He spoke at the graduation of 169 midshipmen who successfully completed a four-year college program.

The vice president's visit turned this graduation into an especially memorable day in the 47-year history of the academy because of the recognition it received for accomplishing its mission. The federal institution was established in the middle of World War II to serve the nation's economic and security interests by providing the merchant marine and armed forces with highly qualified officers and by providing the country's maritime industry with well-educated and professional leaders.

The academy is the only college to send its students to sea on operating merchant vessels to put into practice what was learned in the classroom. Sophomores and juniors served on ships supplying our armed forces in Operation Desert Shield/Storm.

Kings Point is the only federal service academy authorized to carry a battle standard. It bears the number "142" for the number of students lost at sea during World War II in enemy action.

The class of graduating seniors represented more than 40 states and several foreign countries. Valedictorian Jason D. Craine grew up in Phoenix and learned about the academy at a college night and decided that the career options were "superior." He will be entering Stanford University for a M.S. in Operation Research and then on to the Navy's Nuclear Power program in 1992.

Richard Shilling is a product of local schools, having grown up in Melville. He was a member of the Long Island Symphony. Harold Krebs is also a Long Islander. The Garden City High School graduate won the highest athletic award at the academy, the Stedman Trophy. He is an All-American defensive back with a school record for interceptions.

Michelle James hails from Challis, Idaho, where she learned the skills of roping cattle. She graduates skilled enough to skipper a premier racing boat, and was in charge of water front activities at the academy.

Rolando Rodriguez comes from Panama, and came to the academy on a scholarship from the Agency for International Development.

The Vice President was introduced by Secretary of Transportation, Samuel K.

Skinner. In his address, Quayle cited the academy's contribution to the victory in the Persian Gulf War: "On behalf of our Commander in Chief, the President of the United States and Mrs. Bush, congratulations on a job well done!"

Quayle described the contribution, stating that in the war, U.S. flagships carried 80 percent of the cargoes needed by our armed forces — the largest military sealift in more than 20 years — and that 152 midshipmen sailed into the Persian Gulf. Mentioning two dozen who are still in that region, he said, "They all worked side by side with regular crew members, 10, 15, 18 hours a day to keep their cargo ships steaming ahead."

The Vice President also cited the many Kings Point graduates who answered the call in the recent crisis. He told of a retired merchant mariner, Captain Robert Wilson, who sailed as Second Mate on a Navy sealift ship at the age of 82; and Quayle quipped, "Graduates, you have a long career ahead of you!"

Speaking to the men who will command the ships that will carry much of America's trade to the world, the Vice President took the opportunity to espouse the administration's policy on trade, stating that recent events in Eastern Europe have provided opportunities to promote open markets and investment capital. Speaking of western Europe, he said, "We're going to open our markets as widely as possible, and we expect the European Community to do exactly the same."

Concerning trade with Japan, he said, "It makes no economic sense to respond to trade barriers by simply building barriers of our own. It's far better to build cooperation, to talk about getting rid of trade barriers, and bringing our trade deficit into line."

The Vice President presented the diplomas to the graduating midshipmen, one of whom hugged him. Quayle's unflappable response was a broad smile.

During a press conference following the exercises, Quayle stated strongly his support for a viable merchant marine industry. Asked about his meeting with Gov. Cuomo later in the day, he described it as a "courtesy call and a social visit." As to President Bush's recent casting of some doubt about running again if his health is not as good as it should be, the Vice President stated, "In my heart I feel he will run again."

He also stated that the main issue of the presidential campaign will be "leadership."

NOT-FOR-PROFIT NEWS

Infant Massage Course

Bonding and Relaxation Techniques (BART) infant massage program is now being offered to community parents and their well babies by trained professionals at United Cerebral Palsy Association of Nassau County, Inc.

Recently designated a BART training site by the New York State Department of Education, UCP Nassau in Roosevelt is offering the infant massage training sessions July 20, 27 and Aug. 10 from 9-10 a.m. The course is being offered for well babies from birth to 8 months and their parents.

Infant massage has been known to improve respiration, circulation, eating habits and gastrointestinal functions as well as help reduce crying, especially in children with colic.

A fee of $40 includes massage oil, massage book and refreshments. Space is limited so early registration is advised.

Lead teacher in the Developmental School at UCP Nassau Kurt Margo and Dianna Foster, assistant director of physical therapy at UCP Nassau, both certified International Association of Infant Massage instructors, will be conducting the course.

For more information, call 378-2000, ext. 312 or 301.

Taste Of Long Island

The American Kidney Fund, the originator of the Taste of Long Island, has scheduled its yearly event for July 15, 7-10 p.m. at the Huntington Hilton, Route 110, Melville. Tickets are $25 per person.

Jay DiBernardo, owner of DiBernardo's Restaurant in Commack, is co-sponsoring the event and has many restaurants and wineries participating who will be offering a variety of fantastic specialties. Balloons, prizes, entertainment and celebrities are planned.

For further information, call the American Kidney Office at 467-2688.

War Victims Tracing

It's been 45 years since World War II ended, but thousands have still not found peace.

There's nothing worse than not knowing what happened to a loved one. Yet, for thousands who lost loved ones to the Nazis or who were imprisoned in forced labor camps, that answer may finally be available. The Red Cross now has access to copies of death books, certificates and lists containing hundreds of thousands of new names of victims imprisoned by the Third Reich.

For more information on Red Cross Holocaust and War Victims Tracing Services, contact the Red Cross chapter at 264 Old Country Road, Mineola, NY, 11501 or call 747-3500.

Drivers Needed

The Nassau County Chapter of Red Cross needs volunteers to drive patients to medical appointments.

A Nassau County Chapter volunteer driver can make his or her own hours and there is no lifting involved. Veterans are welcome to volunteer as well as housewives, teachers, retirees and others whose work schedule allows them to have spare time during the days Monday through Friday.

For further information, call the Chapter at 747-3500 and ask for the Office of Volunteers.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL DISTRICT ELECTION HICKSVILLE UNION FREE SCHOOL DISTRICT

HICKSVILLE, NEW YORK

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that pursuant to the resolution of the Board of Education of Hicksville Union Free School District, Hicksville, New York adopted March 27, 1991, the Annual District Election of the qualified voters of this School District will be held on May 22, 1991, between the hours of 10:00 A.M. (D.S.T.) and 10:00 P.M. (D.S.T.) in the seven Election Districts, stated below, for the purpose of voting upon the following propositions:

PROPOSITION NO. 1

Shall the Budget approved by the Board of Education pursuant to Section 1716, be approved, and a tax on the taxable property of the District in the amount of such Budget, less State and Federal Aid and revenues from other sources be levied?

PROPOSITION NO. 2

In the event that the voters approve the school district budget contained at PROPOSITION NO. 1 above, shall the sum of Thirty Thousand ($30,000) Dollars be appropriated to the Gregory Museum for educational services associated with its programs and a tax levied in that amount.

This PROPOSITION is contingent upon the approval of the voters of PROPOSITION NO. 1.

PROPOSITION NO. 3

In the event that the school district budget contained at PROPOSITION NO. 1 above is approved by the voters, shall the distance that students reside from the school they attend be reduced for the purpose of eligibility for school bus transportation to and from school as provided in the Education Law as follows:

Kindergarten through Grade 3: those who live more than 1/2 mile from the school,

Grades 4 through 6: those who live more than 3/4 mile from the school,

Grades 7 through 8: those who live more than 1.5 miles from the school.

Grades 9 through 12: those who live more than 2.0 miles from the school, for an additional cost of not to exceed $916.44. Dollars and the school district be empowered to collect the necessary taxes therefor. The enactment of this PROPOSITION is contingent upon the approval by the voters of PROPOSITION NO. 1.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that nominating petitions for the office of member of the Board of Education must be filed with the Clerk of the School District no later than thirty (30) days before the Annual Meeting, said date being Monday, April 22, 1991, between the hours of 9:00 A.M. and 5:00 P.M. A separate petition shall be required to nominate a candidate to each separate office. Each petition shall be directed to the Clerk of the School District, shall be signed by at least 103 qualified voters of the District (the same being two percent (2%) of the number of voters who voted in the previous Annual Meeting) shall state the residence of each signer, the name and residence of the candidate, and describe the specific vacancy for which the candidate is nominated, which description shall include at least the length of term of the office and name of the last incumbent. Philharmonic Orchestrates TillesFest

By William Gravert

During its winter season at Avery Fisher Hall in Manhattan, non-subscription tickets to the New York Philharmonic are as scarce as valves on a violin. Well, summer's here and so's your chance to see one of the premiere orchestras in the world—right here on Long Island.

In the first—hopefully annual—TillesFest, the Philharmonic will perform six concerts over three weekends at the Tilless Center on the campus of C.W. Post in Brookville. The Philharmonic Chamber Ensemble will also perform at the adjacent Hillwood Recital Hall.

In summers past, the Philharmonic could only be seen at their vastly successful (and vastly crowded) outdoor concerts in Central Park and other public parks throughout the metropolitan area. By expanding its repertoire and performance season to TillesFest '91, the orchestra will play its first-ever indoor summer concert series.

Helping to create a casual atmosphere will be outdoor picnicking on the nearby Great Lawn and wine tasting. Hot and cold picnic suppers are available with a reservation, or bring your own. For those not inclined to dining 'al fresco,' there's the Top of the Commons restaurant. Representatives from

Doo Wop Spectacular Will Benefit Family Service

A Doo Wop Spectacular featuring the Drifters, the Traditions, Jimmy Beaumont and the Skyliners, Lenny Cocco and the Chimes, and Don K. Reed from WCBS No. 1 Golden Oldies Radio Station will be presented on July 13 at the Adams Playhouse at Hofstra University. There will be two shows: at 7:00 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. to benefit the Family Service Association of Nassau County.

Tickets donations are $20.00 and there is reserved seating only. For information, call 516-485-4600 or send to Family Service Association, 129 Jackson Street, Hempstead, NY 11550. Be sure to note which show is desired.

Family Service Association is a voluntary non-profit agency.

KURT MASUR, incoming music director, will perform with the New York Philharmonic at TillesFest '91.

several L.I. wineries will be on hand offering the fruit of their vineyards.

Philharmonic management and Tilles promoters apparently hope the informal nature of the series, coupled with popular programming, will swell the audience base of both institutions to a younger, more grassroots (yet just as affluent) crowd. Conversely, the impressive musicianship of TillesFest's star-spangled line-up of classical heavies, shouldn't alienate any of the Philharmonic's core audience.

This weekend (June 29 and 30), former L.I. Philharmonic Music Director Christopher Keene will conduct an all-American program Saturday and Sunday nights, including Leonard Bernstein's "Symphonic Dances from West Side Story," song collections by Irving Berlin, Victor Herbert, and Jerome Kern, and "Meditations on Ecclesiastes" composed by L.I.'s own Norman Dello Joio. Metropolitan Opera soprano Roberta Peters will be featured soloist.

On Sunday afternoon at Hillwood, the small group will perform chamber works by composers associated with the Philharmonic.

Even in this year of Mozart overkill (L.I. Mozart Festival, Lincoln Center's two-year Mozart retrospective), some folks can't get enough Amadeus. Weekend Two (July 6 and 7) is an all-Mozart program featuring three of his most popular works, directed by Viennese conductor Erich Leinsdorf. Soviet-born Yefim Bronfman is the featured piano soloist.

On Saturday evening the Philharmonic will present Symphony No. 35: Haffner, Symphony No. 38: Prague, and the Concerto in C Minor. Sunday evening they'll play Symphony No. 39, Concerto in D Major: Coronation, Adagio & Fugue in C Minor and the Prague.

On Sunday afternoon at Hillwood, the chamber group will perform the Flute Quartet in D Major, Duo for Violin and Viola in B-flat Major and String Quartet in G Minor.

Incoming Music Director Kurt Masur (1990-91 was Zubin Mehta's final season), will conduct an all-Mendelssohn program on Weekend Three (July 13 and 14) including: Symphony No. 4: Italian. Tony award-winning actor B.D. Wong will narrate A Midsummer Night's Dream (incidental music) featuring soprano Margaret Brooks, mezzo-soprano Mary Ann Hart, and the New York Choral Artists.

Sunday afternoon at Hillwood, the chamber ensemble will present works by composers associated with Masur's Gewandhaus Symphony of Leipzig.

Father Melancholy's Daughter, Gail Godwin, William Morrow and Co., 404 pp., $21.95.

The week after Father's Day is an appropriate time for a review of Gail Godwin's brilliant novel, Father Melancholy's Daughter. This is a novel to be read on several levels. The story itself is fairly simple. It is told in the first person by Margaret Gower, only child of Rev. Walter Gower, an Episcopal Church rector, and his wife, Ruth. Margaret is 22 years old when she begins to tell the story of what she remembers as an idyllic childhood that ended abruptly when she was six and her mother walked out.

Ruth left with Madalyn Farley, a teacher she had known in college. Believing at first that she was just taking a break from her responsibilities as the wife of a rector, Walter and Margaret gradually accept the fact that Ruth has truly left them. A year later, Ruth is killed in an automobile accident and Margaret grows up with this the central mystery in her life. Why had her mother, whom she loved so much, left her and her beloved father?

Margaret dedicates her young life to taking her mother's place. She is companion, housekeeper and nurse to this brilliant, spiritual, melancholy man. Father Gower is subject to periods of depression. He goes, as he says, "behind the black curtain," for weeks at a time. Margaret, like her mother before her, tries to bring him out from behind the curtain while, at the same time, shielding him from the view of his parishioners while he is in his depressed state.

Margaret goes away to college and has a brilliant academic career, but she still puts her father first, his needs before her own.

When she meets, and is attracted to, a young curate in a neighboring parish, the reader wonders whether Margaret is doomed to relive her mother's life.

These are the bare bones of Father Melancholy's Daughter, but Ms. Godwin has fleshed them out with philosophy, poetry and the perception that has made her a writer of the first rank. Margaret, intelligent and introspective, is aware that, while some older people admire her devotion to her father, her own friends find it excessive. She knows, too, that no one else has come truly close to her since her mother left her. Neither Harriet MacGruder, her best friend since childhood, nor Harriet's brother, Ben, who loves her, has reached the inner Margaret. And always, there is her shadowy mother, Ruth, to whom Margaret looks for confirmation of her own existence. "What would my mother think of the way I turned out?" she asks herself. "Would she be proud of me or disappointed in me?"

Because Margaret's father is a priest, and a good, dedicated, Christian, religion is an important part of this novel. It is fitting that the climax of the book takes place during Passion Week. It is also fitting that, in time, he stops idealizing the wife who left him and sees the true value of the daughter. "Oh Ruth --" My father began to chortle, then stopped and looked embarrassed. "It's just that you're so like her," he explained. "It's deeper than physical similarity. I mean, in some ways, you don't look like her at all, you look much more like my mother, but there's an essential likeness...something that goes deeper. It's as though she speaks out of you at times, only she's mellowed. She's not so judgmental anymore. She's funny, but the funniness isn't because she's threatened. It's because she...you...the two of you...revel in the human comedy. Now there's compassion as well. Margaret, I think you're your mother redeemed somehow. Does that make sense?" And Margaret wonders, "If I was simply an improved version of her, was there room inside for me, as well?"

Father Melancholy's Daughter is highly recommended.

The Russian Village Festival

Anton Community Newspapers Week of June 24, 1991

Come experience the festivities of a gulanye, a traditional Russian fair, when over ninety Russian singers, musicians and dancers straight from the Soviet Union assemble at Huntington's Heckscher Park on Sunday, June 30th, to present a theatrical performance following a crafts exhibit.

This gulanye brings six groups from various areas of the Soviet Union together to celebrate. Many of these groups, often known as collectives, are dedicated to preserving their region's culture. Some highlights will include the spirited, vigorous Cossack dancers from the Volniiza group. These dancers make their own costumes based on traditional designs found in museums and archives.

The Rosianochka collective, known for its spontaneity and style reminiscent of the gulanye festivals that take place in the Russian countryside, will also perform. This collective is composed of peasants who came to Moscow from various regions of the Russian Federation to work in heavy industry; they sing, play and dance together to preserve each of their traditions and identity.

Also, experience traditional rituals when the Astrakhan Song Ensemble recreates those associated with their region. The group often performs "Wedding Lament," which characterizes the sad parting of mother and daughter.

The performance starts at 7:30 p.m., but a pre-performance crafts exhibit will be held at 6:30 at the park near the Chapin stage. At the same time, the dancers will give live impromptu performances on the lawns.

Heckscher Park is located at Prime Ave. and Route 25A, just east of the village of Huntington. Admission is free, and the performance is accessible to the differently-abled. Bring folding chairs, cushions, or blankets. In the event of severe weather, the performance will be held at 7:30 at Huntington High School, Oakwood and McKay Roads; the crafts fair will be canceled. For more information, contact the Huntington Arts Council at 516/271-8442.

Exhibition Of American Indian Contemporary Art

A new exhibition, Our Land/Ourselves: American Indian Contemporary Artists, opens in the Art Museum at The Museums at Stony Brook on July 7. The 66 paintings, prints, photographs, and mixed-media works reflect the Native Americans' respect for the land and the realities of their life and art. From diverse tribal backgrounds throughout the United States, the artists are united by their feelings of reverence for the earth and its inhabitants. Their striking works represent a diversity of perspectives and styles that range from abstraction and figurative imagery to conceptual art. Our Land/Ourselves may be seen in Stony Brook through August 11.

Nearly all of the Native American artists in the exhibition were trained in art schools or university art departments, and thus they are fully cognizant of the approaches to art-making in the white culture. Unlike the tribal craftspersons who work in traditional modes, these artists have had difficult choices to make in reconciling their personal and ethnic identities with mainstream "high art." Among the 31 artists included in the show are Marty Avrett (Coushatta/Chocaw/Cherokee); Corwin Clairmont (Salish-Kootenai); Carn Little Turtle (Apache/Tarahumara); George Longfish (Seneca/Tuscarora); George Morrison (Chippewa), Neil Parsons and Ernie Pepion (Blackfeet).

Our Land/Ourselves connotes a connection between self and place, where land is viewed, not as property, landscape or vista, but rather as a "sense of place." Issues of land rights and cultural rights, seen from a moral rather than an economic perspective, underlie some of the images in the show; more artists, however, concentrate on the eternal aspects of land. Drawing on their specific cultural identities as a resource for creativity, their work is helping to replace timeworn notions of Native American art and artists.

Organized by the University Art Gallery, State University of New York at Albany, Our Land/Ourselves was curated by Jaune Quick-to-See Smith, who is well-known as artist, lecturer and curator. A 78-page illustrated exhibition catalog includes essays by the curator, by artist and critic Paul Brach, and by Lucy Lippard, noted author on multicultural art.

Corporate and foundation funders whose commitment to multicultural understanding made the exhibition possible include: The Ford Foundation, Northern Telecom, Inc.; Bullard and McLeod; Desmond Americana; Hudson Valley Paper Company; Key Bank of Central New York, N.A.; Key Bank of Eastern New York, N.A.; New York Council for the Humanities; New York Power Authority; Omni Development Company, Inc.; The John Ben Snow Trust; and University Auxiliary Services at Albany, Inc.

The exhibition is being circulated in the United States by the Gallery Association of New York State during 1991 and 1992. Partial funding for the Museums' venue for Our Land/Ourselves was provided by a grant from Northville Industries.

Long Island's largest privately supported museum complex, The Museums at Stony Brook, are located at 1208 Route 25A in Stony Brook, New York. Open year-round, museum hours during July and August are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday and Noon-5 p.m. on Sunday. General admission to all exhibitions in The Museums' complex is $6 for adults, $4 for senior citizens and students, $3 for children ages 6-12, and free for children under six and Museums' members. For information, call The Museums at (516) 751-0066.

INVEST IN YOUR CHILD'S SAFETY

Are you teaching your TEENAGER to drive? Don't take anymore risks! Alert other motorists to be aware of your daughter's lesson by using the new

PERSONAL TEACHING DRIVING SIGNS

They are very effective in letting other motorists know that there is an inexperienced driver in your car, making them more cautious. This will help your daughter/s to concentrate on driving fundamentals. These are weather-proof vinyl magnetic signs that say TEACHING MY DAUGHTER/SON TO DRIVE. This three piece set includes 1 sign for the driver and passenger door and one sign for the trunk. They are removable & reusable for each lesson.
Reduce the risk of an accident. INVEST in your child's safety. Makes a perfect gift too!

G20 PERFORMANCE LUXURY SEDAN WITH FULL ACTIVE SUSPENSION SYSTEM

M30 LUXURY SPORTS COUPE

J30 LUXURY SEDAN

M30 LUXURY SPORTS CONVERTIBLE

The minute you enter an Infiniti and set out on the road, you'll experience a revelation. Because each Infiniti is designed and engineered to awaken the enthusiast in you.

Whether it's the simple elegance of the 278 horsepower, Q45 performance luxury sedan with Full-Active Suspension® system. [One of the World's Ten Best according to Road & Track.] The agile handling and roomy interior of the G20 luxury sedan. The luxurious comfort, and sporty handling of the M30 luxury sports coupe. Or the wide-open excitement of the M30 luxury sports convertible.

While we developed four distinct personalities, we nurtured one philosophy. Owning an Infiniti should be as pleasurable as driving one. That's why they all come with superior services such as Roadside Assistance that's available year round. A 24-hour toll-free number for Customer Assistance. Well even loan you an Infiniti when you make an appointment for maintenance.

And qualified customers can take advantage of short term leases through Infiniti Financial Services.

Why not visit your nearest Infiniti showroom and give the whole experience a test drive. It will exceed your expectations. Just like it has raised the standard of luxury cars.

Triple Crown For Hicksville Hawks Team

By Al Blicker

The Hicksville Hawks traveling soccer team defeated the Albertson Falcons, 6-5 in a double overtime "seesaw" soccer game at Sachem, on June 15 to capture the 1974 age group, Major Division, Chase Cup Tournament. The Hawks finished their spring season with 19 straight wins, and victories in the NY State Cup Tournament and their Division of the Long Island Junior Soccer League, as well.

The Falcons, with only 11 players, put up a gallant effort, led by former Hicksville Warrior Dom Perillo, who put in four big goals. Perillo opened the scoring with a blazing charge down left wing, 30 seconds into the game. Hicksville's Mike Longo came right back, the other way, to tie for the Hawks, on a feed from Andre Parris. Perillo then made it 2-1 for the Falcons, but their lead was to be short-lived, as the Hawks scored four straight first half goals, for a 5-2 halftime lead. David Baumritter tied the score at 2-2, off a feed from Tommy Basaranlar. Steven Fox then scored, with the assist again going to Basaranlar. Brian Hawkins popped one in, set up by Danny Longo. Kevin Koehn closed out the first half scoring, with an assist by Fox.

Hicksville came back for the second half overconfident and played into Albertson's hands, rather than going for the kill. Despite a series of injuries, which left them with hurt players on the field, due to no subs, the Falcons controlled the second half, again led by Perillo, who popped in two more goals. Regulation ended in a 5-5 tie and the first overtime was controlled by the Hawks, who reverted back to their excellent passing game, which had been abandoned in the second half. Their superior skills as well as manpower finally wore down the Falcons, with the game winner being put in by Danny Longo, on an Andre Parris set up.

PAL LACROSSE TEAM: (Front row) S. Koopman, P. Irka, J. Sandler, D. Abberton, D. Roche, K. Abberton, M. Busch, B. Walker, K. Brennan. (Middle) M. Puerto, J. Willie, K. Cromwell, K. Broschart, B. McCartney, G. Quinlen, P. Fumagalli, G. Donaghay, D. Connell, B. Mulholland, K. Kolm (back row) S. Hupfer, M. Logan, A. Fumagalli, R. Quinn, Coach Kinsella, B. Tower, J. Kinsella, M. Hughes.

PAL Lacrosse Team Travels To Maryland

Hicksville PAL lacrosse team, comprised of fifth and sixth graders, traveled to Cockeysville, Maryland on June 7, 8 and 9 where they won two of three games while losing one.

In the first game, the boys from Hicksville had a 9-6 victory over one of the Cockeysville teams. Scoring for Hicksville was Ryan Quinn with 3 goals and 2 assists, Brian Walker with 2 goals and 1 assist, Kevin Abberton, Bryan Tower, Keith Cromwell and Greg Quinlen each scored 1 goal. Defense was outstanding led by Marty Hughes and Gerry Denaghay. In goal, John Kinsella was exceptional making 10 saves and stopping 5 one on ones.

Having to play back-to-back games combined with the heat, Hicksville lost a tough second game. Scoring in this game was Mugs Walker and Doug Connell.

On Sunday, the boys were well rested and responded with a 9-1 victory over yet another Cockeysville team. Mugs Walker had an outstanding game scoring 4 goals. Also scoring for Hicksville was Brian Tower with 2 goals, Doug Connell, Matt Puerto, Greg Quinlen had 1 goal each.

Mike Busch had a great game at midfield. Defense was led by Lauri Fumagalli, Mike Logen, Brian McCartney and Danny Roche. John Kinsella made 8 saves in goal.

Coach Tom Kinsella would like to thank assistant coaches Kevin Mulholland and John Hupfer for all their help. Also, thanks to the parents who made the trip a successful one. A special thanks to Ebbets Field Cafe and Scruples Cafe for sponsoring the trip.

Baseball Highlights

6-14: Bluejays 12, Cardinals 9

Great comeback after being down by three runs, the Bluejays defeated the Cardinals. Fifth inning rally made by Bluejays Danny Rogers, Vinny Carroll, Sean Gleason, Steve Hernandez, Tim McCartney and Brian Jacobina. For the Cardinals, Kraig Binick and Jimmy Montana with two hits. Excellent defense played by Steve Alvarez at second base.

Bluejays defeat Robbins

Going strong for the Bluejays hitting 4 for 4 were Danny Rogers, Jonathan Maier, Vinny Carroll, Sean Gleason and Tim McCartney. Making three hits, Chris DeFeo. Hitting two hits each for the Robbins, David Sattler and David Welti. Good defensive play by Chris McKenna.

3rd and 4th Grade:

Mets 9, Braves 6

This was a very exciting game in which the lead changed almost every inning. Jesse Uanino led the Mets by pitching two scoreless innings. Key hits by Steve Sadowski and Michael MacKay. The Braves were led by the hitting and pitching of Steven Verde. John Cashin and Sean Naughton and Ryan Walker all played excellent defense and hit well.

5th/6th/7th Grade League

Royals 9, A's 5

Ed Lynch was the hitting star for the Royals, going 3 for 3. Great pitching by Mike Totino and Jeff Reinhardt turned in two spectacular fielding plays. The play by Brian B. Fran Batter Up!

The Hicksville Youth Council is starting its Summer Softball program. We need Hicksville youth between ages of 12-19 to come out and play ball.

Games will be Monday nights from 6 p.m. until dusk at the Hicksville Middle School field No. 11, July 1 through Aug. 26. No uniform is required, just a mitt and the desire to play and have fun. Registration will be Monday, June 24 and Wednesday, June 26, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Hicksville Youth Council, 175 West Old Country Road. So sign up now and batter up! For more information, call John at 822-KIDS!
