State Cuts $3.1 Million In Aid To Hicksville

By Rita Langdon

Although budget cuts were not as severe as the governor had originally proposed, the Hicksville School District will still see substantial reductions in the amount of state aid it receives next year.

The announcement of a $3.1 million cut to Hicksville schools came three months after the required deadline. The New York State legislature and Governor Mario Cuomo finally reached an agreement on a budget package earlier this month.

According to figures released by Assemblyman Fred Parola (R-C, Wantagh), the Hicksville School District is slated to receive $5,649,638 for the 1991-1992 school year. The state's original plan called for $8,19,073.

Parola, who represents Hicksville in Albany in the 14th Assembly District, argued against the reductions to school districts in the final budget agreement which was reached on July 2.

He assailed the agreement as a "sell-out" of education in New York State that will "further decimate Long Island's schools and increase property taxes dramatically."

He said, "This agreement represents a direct attack on our property, taxpayers and schools. The result of these cruel and disgraceful cuts will be evident in our October property tax bills!"

The Hicksville school district expected to receive more than $9 million in aid last year, but mid-year cuts by the legislature resulted in Hicksville receiving $8.8 million, according to Hicksville School Board President Carole Wolf.

Although the state aid figures are now available, Wolf said that the board could not set an accurate tax levy at this time.

"Even though the state aid figures have been released, without the most current assessed valuation released by the county, it's impossible to give an accurate tax rate per hundred," she said.

Nassau County is scheduled to release the property assessment figures for Hicksville on Aug. 1.

The school board and its new superintendent—Salvatore Mugavero who takes office Aug. 1—will then study the figures and set the tax levy at the board's Aug. 28 meeting in the Administration Building, Wolf said.

The Board of Education's next public meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 1 at 8 p.m. in the Administration Building board room.

Student Proves There's Nothing He Can't Do

By Rita Langdon

Ryan Michael Griske has lived most of his life with one philosophy: "Deaf people can do everything except hear."

Ryan first heard the phrase from I. King Jordan, president of the Gallaudet University, a college for the deaf in Washington D.C., and his adoption of the motto has proven to be a good move.

The Hicksville resident's long list of achievements were topped off when he was named valedictorian of his class at the Mill Neck Manor Lutheran School for the Deaf in June.

Ryan, son of Catherine and Michael Griske of Newbridge Road, graduated with a 93.9 cumulative grade point average and was the only student in the school's history to achieve first honors for all 16 quarters and to take courses in physics and calculus.

School didn't always come easy to the 17-year-old, who has been deaf since birth. (His mother was ill with rubella while pregnant).

"I know there are other smart kids around who didn't work hard. I knew I had to get good grades and work very hard," he said.

He added that the secret to his success has been his good attitude, effort, motivation and patience.

"He's done really well," said his mother, Catherine. "He's a very hard worker and we are extremely proud."

His list of credits include his selection in 1988 to attend the Summer Science Program at Gallaudet University. He was one of 15 students nationwide to participate in the program.

In 1991, Gallaudet awarded him a certificate of outstanding achievement in the National Math and Science Puzzle Competition.

He also won first prize in the National Science Essay Contest for his research paper entitled "Amazing Ecological Facts and Predictions."

Ryan has been recognized for these accomplishments by receiving an Outstanding Academic Achievement Award from the Oyster Bay Town Board, a Citation of Excellence Scholarship from the Phi Beta Kappa Alumni of Long Island and the Empire State Association of the Deaf Award for Outstanding Deaf Student in New York State.

In addition, he has received scholarships from the Nassau Educators Federal Credit Union, the Williston Masonic Club and the Mill Neck Manor's Melvin W. Leubke Memorial Fund.

Ryan was also awarded a Lillian Cowin Scholarship from the National Technical Institute for the Deaf in Rochester, which he plans to enter this September and pursue a computer science program.

The problems Ryan has encountered in his studies include learning English. "Hearing people have some advantages," he said.

"They can hear different languages and have better reading and language skills."

Ryan added, "I have to struggle very hard to learn English and writing, but I'm patient and will get it from experience."

His mother said that when Ryan was an infant and toddler, she had a very difficult time communicating with him because he did not know sign language at that time.

"When parents have a handicapped child, they worry at first because it's a big adjustment to a new world," said Ryan. "They have to learn to share the hearing world with the deaf world," he added.

"It's been a very enlightening experience for us," said Catherine Griske. "It's opened a new world. It's very scary at first, but when you become used to the idea . . . it's really a great challenge."

She also said, "Ryan has opened doors. I think that people who have a handicapped

July 4th Birthday

Our photographer Cathy Greenfield was traveling around Hicksville on Independence Day and came across a family having a birthday celebration for Alycia Muller who turned 3-years-old on July 4.

The theme of the party was "Minnie Mouse" and little Alycia wore a Minnie Mouse dress that was simply adorable.

Hope you had a great day, Alycia.

Doctor of Medicine

Lauren Boglioli—great granddaughter of John Boglioli Sr. who resided in Hicksville from 1919 until the time of his death in 1977—received a Doctor of Medicine degree at the John Hopkins University School of Medicine on May 23.

Dr. Lauren Boglioli has coauthored 19 articles appearing in Medical Forensic literature and has worked in research with the Department of Cardiac Surgery and Cardiology at Johns Hopkins. She has been appointed a resident physician in the Department of Medicine at New York Hospital, Cornell Medical Center in New York City and will pursue a career in cardiology.

Dr. Boglioli, daughter of Professor and Mrs. Raymond Boglioli, received a B.S. degree from Adelphi University in 1987.

Prof. Boglioli was a longtime resident of Hicksville and attended elementary and high school in Hicksville.

Prof. Boglioli's parents John and Estelle also resided in Hicksville for many years.

Editor's Note: Lauren's great-grandfather, John Boglioli Sr., was 101 years old when he died. On January 1977 in the Mid Island Herald (now the Hicksville Illustrated News) a story about John Sr's 101st birthday was featured.

The article said that John lived on East Avenue, which, at one time, was occasionally used as a landing field for airplanes. In fact, Clarence Chamberlain, who flew over the Atlantic Ocean shortly after the historic Lindbergh flight used to land his plane near the Boglioli residence barely missing his chimney while tutoring a Hicksvilleite in flying lessons.

Before his retirement at the age of 75, he was a famous chef having prepared meals for many celebrities including President William Taft, movie western stars Buck Jones, Ben Lyons, Bebe Daniels of Hollywood fame.

His secret to life, as he put it, is to "Keep busy and try not to worry, serve the Lord and follow the Golden Rule and you will live a long and happy life!"

Oops!

Due to a production error, Page 5 from our sister paper, The Westbury Times was inadvertently printed in last week's Hicksville Illustrated News.

In addition, page 8 from the Westbury Times also appeared. As a result, the following stories were cut short.

The first story "Another Yellow Ribbon Is Untied" concerned a Desert Storm soldier—Michael Krikalo—who returned home after serving seven months overseas. The remainder of the story is as follows:

His sister, Sue, said: "I was nervous when I learned he was going to the Gulf, especially since he was on a battleship. I thought he'd be in combat. I worried a lot about him when I watched the news and saw battleships and bombs in the water. I just wanted him to get out and come back."

Michael joined the Navy more than four years ago. When the Gulf crisis arose, he volunteered to serve additional time and will be discharged in February 1992.

Michael said he cannot pinpoint where he will head after his term in the Navy is completed. "I have a lot of options," he said. "Right now I'm taking things one step at a time."

The story "Townships Ink Recycling Contract" discussed the Town of Oyster Bay and three other Suffolk County Townships, which signed a contract with Garden State Paper Recycling Corp. This contract guarantees a minimum payment of $27.50 per ton for its recyclable newsprint.

The remainder of the story is as follows:

The recent scarcity of container ships that resulted from the Persian Gulf War, resulted in a glut of recyclable paper in the northeast US. Although it is in demand overseas, particularly in the Far East, newspaper's relatively low market value has made it a low priority item when container ships do become available. As a result, values are being driven down further and stockpiles of newsprint have been growing or in some cases, being burned in municipal incinerators.

The third story talked about a 1964 Hicksville High School graduate who was named to the high school's Hall of Fame. Diana Dantuono, who is legally blind, was recognized for her many achievements after graduating.

The following are the rest of her many achievements:

In May, Dantuono received her certification in Educational Administration from Hofstra University.

Currently, Dantuono teaches patients in the Special Education Department at Pilgrim State Psychiatric Center. Her duties include teaching ESL (English as a Second Language) and American Sign Language. She has also tutored Cambodian refugees and has helped with many of their personal problems such as how to write checks and fill out applications.

Dantuono's name will now be added to the commemorative plaque hanging in the high school lobby as a tribute to all the Hall of Famer's accomplishments since leaving the district.

The Illustrated regrets the errors.

Lamb K of C Installs New Slate of Officers

The Joseph F. Lamb Council No. 5723, Knights of Columbus of Plainview-Hicksville, elected its new slate of officers at a meeting June 6.

The Grand Knight of Joe Lamb Council is PGK, PFN, FDD Peter S. Volpe and the Deputy Grand Knight is Henry D. Schettini. This is the second time that Volpe will be serving the council as Grand Knight. He served in this position in 1975.

The remaining officers are as follows: Chancellor Pat Annello, Warden Bill Ohm, Recorder Robert W. Andruzzini, Financial Secretary Richard Layh, Treasurer Joe Catalano, Advocate Frank DeTurris and Lecturer John Lombardi. The Inside Guard is Frank Jopp and the Outside Guards are Joe Zitto and Joe Palminteri. Chaplain of the Lamb Council is Msgr. James E. Boesel, who is pastor of Our Lady of Mercy Church in Hicksville and who has served as chaplain of the council for many years.

The trustees of the council are PGK Josef Sort, PGK Anthony Iannuzzi and PGK Daniel Pasternoster.

The Council meets the first and third Thursdays of every month in the school basement of Our Lady of Mercy in Hicksville at 8:30 p.m. However, during the months of July and August, the council will hold one meeting each month on a special date.

Anyone interested in joining the council should call Peter Volpe at 935-3116.

Hicksville Kids Win Clown Contest

You didn't have to be a clown, act like a clown or even look like a clown to win tickets to Long Island's most popular circus — The Big Apple Circus, which recently was held at C.W. Post College. Spiegel Associates, of Jericho, awarded several sets of four tickets each to four Hicksville children for the June 12 show in its first-ever "See A Clown Contest."

The rules were simple. Anyone 18 years of age or younger and residing in North Hempstead or the Town of Oyster Bay was eligible. The entrant could either draw a picture of a circus clown or write an essay of 50 words or less on why he or she would like to "See a Clown." The submissions were judged on originality, creativity and sincerity. Net proceeds from the tickets purchased by Spiegel Associates benefitted the Association For A Better Long Island.

Among the Hicksville winners were Danielle Faulkner (11), Douglas Faulkner (8), Christopher Holden (6) and Lindsey Krecko (8).

Spiegel Associates is a real estate acquisition, development and management firm.

Vietnam Veterans Receive Special Awards

At The Annual Dinner Dance of the Nassau County Chapter #82 Vietnam Veterans of America, four members received awards for outstanding contributions to Chapter 82.

Barry Heimbender of East Meadow received a Past President award for outstanding leadership for 1990-1991. Bob Kreizmer of Bethpage received an award for Volunteer of the Year. Vincent Duena of Mineola was Veteran of the Year. Conrad Steers of Hicksville was honored as Vietnam Veteran of the Decade.

The new officers installed were president Mike Aubel (Franklin Square), 1st vice-president Robert Lorher (West Hempstead), 2nd vice-president Paul Masi (Bethpage), secretary Gregory Bennett (Hicksville) and treasurer Conrad Steers (Hicksville).

Husband & Wife: A Musical Team

By Rita Langdon

Husband and wife duo Dale Stuckenbruck and Heawon Kim will show they are a winning combination during performances at C.W. Post Campus of Long Island University.

The Hicksville residents will join LIU's Summer Chamber Music Festival in performing works of Mozart, Dvorak, Ravel, Debussy and Elgar from now through Aug. 2 at the Brookville campus.

In addition, Stuckenbruck, who plays the violin, and Kim, who is a pianist, will teach a series of master classes during the three-week festival.

Stuckenbruck, a native of Germany and Kim, born in Korea, met while attending the North Carolina School of the Arts in 1972.

"We've always enjoyed playing together," said Stuckenbruck. He noted that some musicians who are married have trouble performing side by side. His wife, Heawon Kim, said she enjoys working with her husband and other people as opposed to being a soloist. "It's really wonderful especially when you're working with other professional people."

Because Kim is so familiar with her husband's style of music, she said they do not have to practice as much together. "We are lucky. You feel without doing too many rehearsals," she said.

Stuckenbruck is a violinist by profession, and performs in various concerts in New York City. Currently, he is concertmaster for The Secret Garden, a Broadway show. He teaches violin at three separate schools including Queens College, C.W. Post and the Brooklyn Conservatory of Music.

Stuckenbruck, 37, moved to the United States from Germany at age 14. He became interested in playing the violin as a child after his family had a chamber concert played in his home. "Music was just a natural part of living in Germany," he said. "I loved [the violin] from the moment I saw the concert."

He added, "The ideas we have are communicated through music. Chamber music is wonderful and stimulating."

Stuckenbruck has been a soloist with the Soviet Emigre Orchestra, the Brooklyn Philharmonic, the New York String Ensemble, the New York Virtuosi, and the Taipei City Symphony Orchestra. His major studies have been with Erik Friedman.

He has recorded for Opus One, Kultur Video, RCA, Angel, Musical Heritage and CRI.

Stuckenbruck has been on the faculty of the C.W. Post Campus of Long Island University since 1985. He received his D.M.A. and M.M. from the Manhattan School of Music and his B.M. from the North Carolina School of the Arts.

Heawon Kim, 37, received her M.M. and

B.B. degrees from the Manhattan School of Music, and her Artist diploma from the North Carolina School for the Performing Arts.

She has studied with Clifton Matthews, Robert Goldsand and Claude Frank. At age seven, Kim was the youngest winner in history of the Korean National Competition. She has given numerous performances with the Seoul Philharmonic and the National Orchestra of Korea.

She said that her musical career differs greatly from her husband's because in Korea she was "pushed" into playing the piano. "I didn't have a childhood," she said. But, it wasn't until she began performing with other people that her attitude changed.

Local Glass Company Shuts Doors

By Rita Langdon
and Cathy Greenfield

Hicksville said goodbye last month to one of its longtime businesses which has been known for its friendly service and quality work.

Admiral Glass at 269 Old Country Road closed its doors late last month after the company's owner, Marty Bittner, 59, passed away.

Bittner's sons, Marty Jr. and Jim, struggled to keep the business open after their father died six months ago, but high rent and the slowing economy forced the company to close. "I tried to do it for him," Marty Jr. said.

He added that the decision to close "was sad in the beginning, but now I think it's time we have to move on. There's a lot of memories, a lot of people remember my dad."

Marty Bittner Sr. began working for Admiral Glass—which replaced auto glass, broken windows and screens—when he came out of the service in 1953. Back then, the business was located directly across the street from its current site.

Bittner worked there from 1953 through 1962 until Admiral Glass opened another store in Commack. He stayed in Commack from 1962 through 1972 and then he bought the Hicksville site.

For many of its customers, Admiral Glass' closing marks the end of decades of good old fashioned service.

Marty Bittner was well known for his quiet, but friendly ways. He may not have remembered every customer's name but he recognized faces and always greeted everyone with a smile, according to some of his long-time customers.

Resident Nancy McAllister has been using Admiral Glass services for 34 years. She said that Marty Bittner was "always a nice man who had a quiet way about him." She added: "I had a windshield put in and about a year later it leaked and I stopped in and told him. He said bring it in anytime and I'll fix it. Sometimes I would go in with a 5 by 7 picture frame and need a piece of glass and many times he would cut it and give it to me at no charge. Marty and his staff were always accommodating and dependable."

SCHOOL NOTEBOOK

St. Ignatius Students Of The Month

Several students in grades 1 to 3 at Saint Ignatius Loyola School were named Students of the Month for June by their teachers. The students were chosen for their effort and achievement. They will be honored during September. The Students of the Month for June are: Class 1-1: Scott Bryan and Peter Sluka, Class 1-2: Brendan Donohue and Eric Smith, Class 2-1: James Bligh and Maria Panarelli, Class 2-2: Mega Rorech and Jonathan Maler, Class 3: Christina Heredia and Shannon McLaughlin.

Students of the Month for May were honored during June at Saint Ignatius Loyola School. Each student received a certificate to celebrate their effort and achievement.

The Students of the Month for May are: Class 1-1: Christopher Donovan and Jennifer Ryan, Class 1-2: Jason Velarde and Matthew Monette, Class 2-1: Joseph Petrosillo and Roxanne Cucuro, Class 2-2: Stephen Clark and Norma Loredo, Class 3: Meghan Keohane and Catherine Mareno.

In other St. Ignatius news, throughout the school year, several students at Saint Ignatius Loyola School helped to maintain the safety of the other students by their service on the School Safety Patrol.

The following students received a Certificate of Merit from the Automobile Club of New York in recognition of their service on the Safety Patrol: Nicole Rutherford, Theresa Mais, Michael Mirabellà, Dawn Vallone, Carmelo Aquilia, Daniel Meegan, ST. IGNATIUS School's May students of the month display their certificates of merit.

Steven Sattler, Brian Totino, Tabitha Ithier, Alison Petrosillo, Karen Apostolo, Danielle Cirillo, Kimberly Lap, Nicholas Donahue, Omar Syed, Francesca Aquilia, Patricia Koh, Joanne Smith, Antonietta Suppa and Melissa Zoleta.

Nicole Rutherford, the Captain of the Safety Patrol, received the Distinguished Service Medal of the Automobile Club for her commendable service. The Safety Patrol is coordinated by Miss Scheel.

On May 31, the third grade at St. Ignatius Loyola School visited Safety Town at Eisenhower Park in East Meadow.

The children were instructed on bicycle and pedestrian safety. After the instructional class, the boys and girls had an opportunity to take road tests on bicycles and motorized cars.

Everyone passed the test with flying colors and received a safety diploma. A fun time was had by all.

Fifth graders celebrated their annual States' Day on June 4. The displays included research reports, maps, pamphlets, posters, and memorabilia from the states studied. The students were dressed in costumes to represent their state. Samples of special foods important to the people of the state were served to visitors.

SCHOOL BRIEFS

Lee Avenue Performers

Miss Flanagan's second grade students at the Lee Avenue School recently performed Sleeping Beauty. Thomas Dougherty narrated the traditional play that included a cast of 23 youngsters. Kristen Williams played the part of Princess Aurora, who pricked her finger on the sewing needle that sent the kingdom into a deep sleep. Michael Tricarico was Prince Phillip, who awakened the sleeping princess, ensuring that the play had a happy ending.

Michele O'Brien received a rousing ovation for her portrayal of the Wicked Fairy. King Frederick and Queen Alicia were played by Brendan Similio and Kerri Anne Hughes, respectively.

Other cast members included the Guards: John Douroups, Joseph Martinez and William Carney; the Fairies: Nicole Dillard, Zulehka Wallace, Litsa Xipoleas, Amanda Roche, Jessica Lyons, Janice Finn, Cynthia Hidalgo, Paola Echeverri, Monica de Bruin, Theresa Schuck, Alison Watterson and Melissa McGovern; and the Hunters: Jared Troise, Christopher Barbino and Denis Noonan.

Prom Display

Several students from the Hicksville High School chapter of SADD (Students Against Driving Drunk), under the guidance of advisor Susan Galland, designed a frightening prom display in the front glass showcase of the school. The display effectively employs a scare tactic to prevent students from driving while under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

The students chose to paint the glass of the display case black in order to add to the overall effect. A small window with messages urging students to peer into case were also on the glass facade. Inside the showcase, the students draped a skeleton in a black cloak, a beer can in one bony hand. It is a frightful reminder to urge students not to drink and drive, not only at prom time, but all year long.

The Lee Avenue Kindergarten Circus 1991 performed fabulous feats in their fun and fantastic performance on June 14. The children in Betty Grayson's and Nancy Ellis' classes performed as clowns, lions, elephants, monkeys, acrobats and twirlers. Many parents were on hand to enjoy the show. Pictured are students in Mrs. Grayson's kindergarten class.

The students who worked on the prom display include Irene Kane, Colleen Bartley, Barbara Willson, Mary Rielly, Diane Brzozowski, Joe Feeser and Nicole Crapanzano.

Nursing Awards

The Hicksville High School congratulates Practical Nursing seniors Theresa Ruffini and Patricia Collins, who graduated from the Clarke High School program.

Junior Elizabeth Knappe was capped and will enter her senior year in September.

Theresa received high honors and was awarded the Practical Nursing Department Award.

Voting Machines

This year, Hicksville Middle and Senior High students in grades eight through 11 voted for next school year's student government officers. Election machines were obtained from the Board of Elections in Mineola and, following a brief campaign by the candidates, students used the voting machines to cast their ballots.

Understanding Leverage

Leverage is a word you have been hearing a lot these past several years. It was used to help sell the "Junk Bonds." It is presently used to explain why a sales turnup is beneficial for a company because of the leverage. It is used to explain how cash flow is used to alleviate the problems caused by the "junk bonds," now that they have become such a problem.

When most people discuss leverage they mean the leverage caused by the introduction of fixed income securities, preferred stock and debt, into the balance sheets of a company. Most forget that there are two kinds of leverage, operating and financial. Financial leverage is preferred stock and debt and the effect of the interest on the profit. We got a belly full of that kind in the 1980's with the ultimate in leverage: "Junk bonds."

The 1990's belong to the other kind, the operating leverage. By definition it is the relationship between the sales of a company and the operating profit or the profit before interest and taxes. This relationship can be seen on any income statement (profit and loss) in the annual report.

If we use a lot of costly assets or have a high cost of goods sold or a lot of overhead to produce our product, we will have a high operating leverage ratio. Typically what happens in good times is the company gets lenient and overhead climbs. Who cares, we are making money! Of course this is self-defeating.

As our overhead climbs we create problems with bureaucracy and make the company less efficient. The expense makes it less profitable. But who cares, sales are climbing and so are profits. Good times mask a lot of problems. Unfortunately, good times do not last. We are all subject to cycles, an economy is no exception.

As the economy slips into recession, sales fall. Overhead "fat" is cut. Companies restructure to save money or they rid themselves of a division that does not respond to usual cost reduction methods. These are job layoffs, plant closings, tighter credit and inventory control to name a few. All of these affect the operating leverage as we reduce the cost of overhead and of goods.

Why do we mention this? Because we do not think the recession, just declared ended, will give us a great recovery. Yet the stock of companies will rise much more rapidly than the sales. The reason is the operating profit will rise faster with the small rise in sales.

As the restructuring has been accomplished, the cash flow has increased. It will continue to increase because overhead and expenses have reduced. The increased cash flow has been used to buy up debt in the market place at greatly reduced prices. This lops off debt and the interest on that debt.

Isn't this a wonderful country? Our corporations were bought with a lot of debt. As the economy worsened, companies restructured, and downsize to increase cash flow to service that debt. Any remaining cash, after the interest payments are made, go to reduce the debt with which the company was purchased, at reduced prices. On top of that the difference between the face value of the bonds and the purchase price in the marketplace is treated as current income, i.e. profit. Isn't that great? Management has their cake and they can enjoy eating it.

Macy's "junk" recently sold at nine cents on the dollar. Was that a good deal for Macy's? You bet. TWA is trying to buy back about $1.2 Billion of its bonds at 17.5 cents on the dollar. Will that be good for Carl Icahn? What do you think?

The kicker is that the use of the cash flow resulting from lowering the operating leverage reduces the financial leverage. Everybody wins except the people who were laid off and who bought the bonds in the first place.

We're putting our money where our mouth is to preserve Long Island's water supply.

Long Island's water supply is the finest in the nation. At Slomin's we're taking positive steps to help preserve it.

Specifically, we've established a special financial assistance program to help subsidize the cost of complying with the new regulations regarding buried fuel oil tanks.

Under this program, you will be able to purchase our environmentally safe, 280-gallon fiberglass tank for a price that is truly below our cost.* There are also economical options available for above ground storage tanks, starting as low as $100 installed.

We realize that even with our subsidy, replacing your tank may be a financial burden, so we're offering low monthly payments with no interest or finance charges.

As a leader in the fuel oil industry, we feel a responsibility to invest in our community... to put our money where our mouth is, so to speak.

We're proud to be working with our Long Island neighbors to preserve our fragile environment.

Joseph Lamb Council Bestows High Honors

By Frank Jopp

Members of the Joseph F. Lamb Council No. 5723 Knights of Columbus, Plainview/Hicksville, were presented with various awards for special achievements during the Columbian year of July 1990 through June 1991.

The honors were presented at the council's annual Awards Night on June 20 in the school basement of Our Lady of Mercy in Hicksville.

First on the program was the awarding of certificates of merit to 14 members of the council who had been selected throughout the year as Knight of the Month as well as the three members who were selected in June as Knight of the Month.

A special plaque was presented to Knight Frank De Turris and his wife, Ginny, as the Lamb Catholic Family of the Year. Frank and his family have lived in Plainview for many years. He was one of the original members of the council and has been very active in the many affairs of Lamb Council.

He is the vice-president of the DeVoe Columbus Club which is a club within the council.

The Joe Lamb Knight of the Year was then presented in the form of a special plaque, to P.G.K. Sam Repoli. Sam, who is also a warden in the 16th District K. of C., is an efficient worker for the council. He has organized many affairs for the council and is president of the 300 Club.

Sam, together with his wife, Doris, and family, have also lived in Plainview for many years.

A special plaque was presented to brother Knight Frank Beebe for his charitable efforts raising money for various needy organizations. Frank, while working at the New York Times and with the help of many of his fellow workers, has collected throughout the past 10 years thousands of dollars for charity. Every cent collected has been donated to charity groups. Frank and his wife, Paula, now live in Pennsylvania.

Grand Knight Josef Ort and Deputy Grand Knight Peter Volpe presented all of the awards and gave a short speech as each member was honored.

Retirement Reception

I would like to take this occasion to thank those of you that attended my retirement reception on Sunday, June 30, at Anton's.

It was an occasion that my family and I will never forget. The warmth and kind words and affection shown me and my family will always be a part of my memories on the school board. You have all been a part of my life and I have had the privilege to talk to many of you in the community and it was that experience that gives me so much good memories and satisfaction in serving all of you. The reception of June 30 was the ultimate joy of my service on the Board of Education—and it is for this reason that I would like to share my appreciation and thanks to all of you in the Hicksville community.

I would like to thank our county executive, Mr. Tom Gulotta, our Town of Oyster Bay Supervisor Mr. Angelo Delligatti and Assemblyman Fred Parola for attending and saying such nice things about Hicksville, and my service on the board. Our own Mr. John Budnick, of the County Board of Supervisors, was also on hand to represent the Town of Hempstead and the New York Senate presentations. What a wonderful day it was for me and my family.

My thanks and appreciation goes out to the Concerned Citizens of Hicksville (CCH) that sponsored the entire affair, and they presented me with a beautiful plaque that I will cherish always. The CCH is destined to be one of the most influential organizations in Hicksville for they are made up of a cross section of Hicksville that are determined to serve this community with the best of intentions both for education and community service. And that is why I am a proud member of the CCH.

Thanks again, and I will be pleased to be with some of you in the audience, at our upcoming board meetings.

In Need Of Help

The Hicksville Youth Council is still carrying on business as usual despite any rumors that you may have heard of us closing our doors.

The New York State Budget was finally passed in the wee hours of the morning on July 3, and we did get a portion of our money restored.

The bad news is that we are going to probably get hit with a 20 percent cut in funding which will work out to a reduction of funds by about $30,000.

To make up for this loss we are going to have to find alternative funding sources. The first avenue that we are going to approach is fund raising. We are planning a major fund raising effort the weekend of Aug. 17 and 18.

On Aug. 17 we are planning a Garage Sale/Carnival in the Beacon Federal Savings Bank parking lot, which is located right next to the Youth Council on the corner of Division Avenue and Old Country Road. The hours of this event will be 2 to 8 p.m.

On Sunday, August 18, we will be holding an outdoor Flea Market in one of the local parking lots, between the hours of 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. At this time we are looking at several different locations. Once we find a suitable lot we will advertise it.

We need your support to make these events work. We hope that you will attend these events. But we also need your support by donating any good used clothes, furniture, appliances, or any other treasures that might be sitting around your home to our garage sale. We will be accepting articles

DiLallo Wins 'Find The Symbols' Contest

Congratulations to Fran DiLallo, the winner of the Hicksville Illustrated's Find The Symbols contest.

Every week during the month of July, we hid symbols in our advertisements and our readers had to list which ad they found the symbols in.

The winner was chosen at random from hundreds of entries we received.

Fran said, "I read the paper all the time and thought, what the heck. I always read the ads so it was really simple and no effort to just look for the symbols at the same time."

Fran and her husband, Dom, Hicksville residents for 33 years, will now enjoy our grand prize, dinner for two at Peppercorn's on East Marie Street in Hicksville.

We also learned that this win for Fran was the conclusion of a streak of good luck. When we tried to contact Fran to tell her she won, no one was ever home. And when she was home, the line was busy. We now know why. Fran and Dom became grandparents for the third time last week. Either she was at the hospital or she was on the phone telling everyone the good news.

Their daughter and son-in-law, Patricia and Robert Capasso, became the proud parents of Ernest Robert Capasso on July 6. Ernest weighed in at 8 lbs., 7 ozs.

A Letter from Lulubelle...

...Did you move around when you were a little kid?...Or did you live most of the time in one house?...I did, and that house still has a mysterious attraction for me...Every time I go to the neighboring town where it is located, I drive past the house (and note that it is in better condition than when I lived there in those poor depression days!!!!) and I park and wander in my mind from room to room...The front steps are brick and as I go up, I look to the right where the supports for the small roof make a "V" with the wall and, instinctively, I put up my hand to find the key that was always there in those pre-burglar days...The door opens into a room that is half panelled with dark wood and then there are French doors to the living room...As I imagine that living room, I realize that it was a dreadful room to decorate—no wall space...my Mother solved that by putting furniture in front of the stairs, the windows, whatever...Our furniture was quite decrepit and there was even cotton peeking out from some tears in the upholstery, but we never even thought about that, because everyone was welcome in this house and there were so many people sitting on the furniture that we couldn't see the tears!...The dining room, of course, had a "set" of furniture—table, chairs, side board, china closet, and, in the corner was the Morris chair—remember them?...an early convertible—which had a metal bar across the back which adjusted the slope of the back of the chair...The china closet was filled with cut glass, and, on top, were many bowls filled with the fruit we all loved...In the kitchen was the gas stove, one side higher than the other...That high oven was really quite a good idea—you could see the cake or roast much more easily...and the ice box was in the back hall before you went down to the cellar with the coal and the wash tubs and wringers...Upstairs, we had three bedrooms—no stairs to the attic which became, in my mind, a fascinating place...I slept in an old brass bed which I hated and which I wish I had today...the sewing machine was in my room—a Singer with the pedals and all the little drawers on the right and left...the center of the top was higher than the sides, so, in order to make it into a dressing table, it was necessary to put blocks on the low parts to level the top, and then to gather a skirt around the sides, and, voila, a dressing table...My little brother slept on what I remember as almost a cot bed, and that must have been interesting because Ginger, our large dog, always slept with him...All the lights were in the ceiling and had shades covered with fabric and fringe...I wonder if I were to go into my house today, what would it look like?...Do you take memory walks through your old house, too?

Yours, Lulubelle

COUNTY BRIEFS

County Proposes Plastics Recycling

Nassau County Executive Thomas Gulotta recently directed the Nassau County Recycling Board to develop recommendations relating to a countywide program which would establish plastics control and/or recycling requirements and would restrict the use of plastic packaging in retail food establishments.

Gulotta's request was contained in a letter which he sent to Guy Mazza, Nassau County recycling coordinator. In the letter, Gulotta asked Mazza to work with the members of the recycling board to review the following areas:

- plastics legislation enacted in other municipalities to ascertain the elements which could be included in a Nassau County law;
- various recycling efforts underway in the towns and villages on Long Island and determine how they might interact with a countywide plastics law;
- meet with industry representatives and environmental experts to identify their concerns;
- Assess the economic impact a plastics ban would have on the county's residents.

In a second letter, Gulotta asked the Nassau County Board of Health to draft a new beach permitting law for 1992, which would require that all beach vendors discontinue the use of styrofoam and plastics as a condition of permitting. This ban has already been enacted at beaches operated by Nassau County.

The recycling board was established in 1990 to promote education, research and recycling markets. It recommends policies and procedures relating to recycling and waste management.

School Districts Seek Energy Cost Relief

An organization of education, business, labor and parents have urged legislation to allow Long Island school districts to take advantage of lower cost electric power through the New York Power Authority.

John Fagan, chairman of the Long Island Education Conference Board, said "high costs of power on Long Island are threatening the school districts' ability to provide a quality education at an affordable cost. We feel that school districts should be allowed to take advantage of lower cost electric power that can be provided through the New York Power Authority."

The Long Island Education Conference Board consists of education, business, labor and parents who are seeking to represent the educational needs of Long Island to the state legislature, Board of Regents and other appropriate groups. The LIA has drafted legislation on behalf of the Education Conference Board to allow NYPA to provide lower cost power to school districts in Nassau and Suffolk counties.

The Long Island Education Conference Board is a direct result of the region's first-ever Economic Summit. In February, summit participants developed an action agenda to address economic challenges facing Long Island, and members of the Summit Coordinating Council continue to meet and follow up on these recommendations. One recommendation called for an education summit, which was held in May. From this, the Long Island Education Conference Board was created to help voice the concerns of Long Island education needs in the public policy process.

Flying In Search Of A Cure For AIDS

By Nancy Fischetti

Ryan White's struggle with AIDS and the prejudices that sometimes accompany the disease touched millions of hearts throughout the United States and the world.

Two of those most touched by the teen's courageous battle with the devastating disease were Mark and Laura Rappa of Deer Park who have devised a monumental fundraising plan, in memory of Ryan White, to benefit AIDS research.

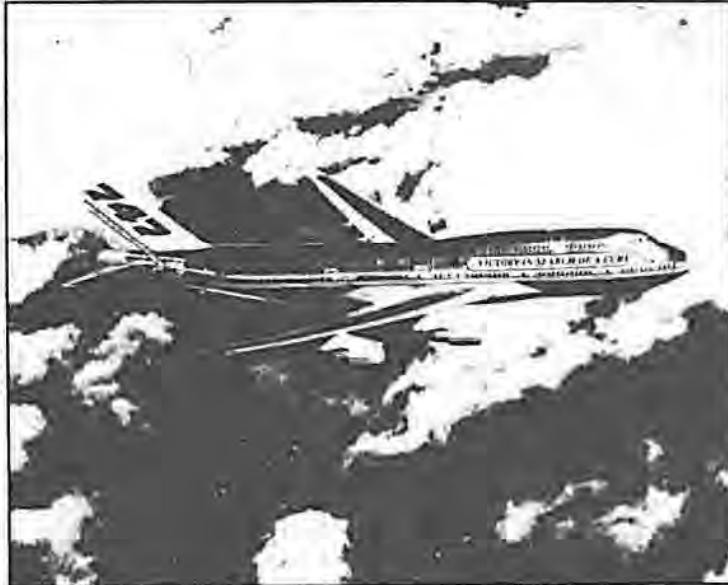

The Rappas are singlehandedly coordinating Victory In Search Of A Cure, a race around the world of 747s or comparable commercial aircrafts. The race and the accompanying activities, scheduled for the beginning of 1992, are targeted to raise $500 million for AIDS treatment and research, according to Mark Rappa. The funds will be dispersed through the various organizations worldwide that assist persons with AIDS.

All donors to Victory In Search Of A Cure will be eligible for a ride on the planes during the race. Their names will be placed in a computer and, approximately 90 days before lift-off, 1,000 people will be chosen to take part in the flight.

Depending on the type of aircraft used, Rappa said, two to three touchdowns will be required for refueling only. The official start and finish of the race will be the Orlando International Airport in Florida, he said.

The idea for the race-fundraiser began three years ago. Rappa, medically retired from the United States Air Force, was diagnosed with Multiple Sclerosis more than 20 years ago.

"I must admit, when Laura and I began planning Victory, it was my initial desire that the event be for MS," said Mark. "Yet, Laura's heart went out to the millions of children who are and will be AIDS infected in this decade and said, 'Mark, no one is dying with MS... Let's do the first event for AIDS and the second for Multiple Sclerosis!"

The Rappas have been soliciting help and participation from national and world leaders. He has received responses from Nancy and Ronald Reagan, President George Bush and many of the country's governors. While none of them could endorse the project, they all commended the Rappas on their effort.

Victory In Search Of A Cure, Inc. fully intends that 80 percent of the gross receipts will be used to fulfill its stated purpose and goal that 20 percent will be used for daily operating expenses and toward the cost of the event.

For further information on Victory, call CURE-496 or write Victory In Search Of A Cure, Post Office Box 596, Deer Park, NY, 11729.

NOT-FOR-PROFIT NEWS

Host Families Sought For Exchange Students

Host families are being sought for high school exchange students from Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Holland, Switzerland, Germany, Spain, France, Italy, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Brazil, Ecuador, Japan and Australia for the school year 1991-92 in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE).

The students, age 15-17, will arrive in the United States in August 1991, attend a local high school and return to their home countries in June 1992. Students are fluent in English, have been screened by their school representatives in their home countries, have spending money and medical insurance.

Host families may deduct $50 per month for income tax purposes.

Families interested in host family programs should call 1-800-SIBLING.

AISE is a non-profit, tax-exempt educational organization.

Covenant House Nineline Volunteers

Covenant House Nineline, a toll-free hotline for troubled youth and families, seeks volunteers to work with crisis callers from throughout the United States and Canada.

The program offers training, a supportive environment and the chance to help young people.

For information, call the director of volunteers at 212-727-4031.

Coalition Against Domestic Violence

The Nassau County Coalition Against Domestic Violence is offering "Call Police" banners for car windshields at $5 each.

To obtain a banner, send a check to the Coalition at Box 903, Levittown, NY 11756.

Additionally, the Coalition offers a 24-hour hotline that is confidential and provides information and assistance for safe emergency housing. The hotline can be reached at 542-0404.

The Coalition has speakers available to make presentations to local organizations. Topics include violence in the family, battered women, women's history and how family violence problems are dealt with in Nassau County.

For information or to schedule a program, call 542-2596.

Red Cross Helps Fire Victims

In a six-week period this spring, the Nassau County chapter of the American Red Cross spent more than $4,500 aiding fire victims throughout the county.

From March 5 to May 28, 12 families in Uniondale, Hempstead, Inwood, Old Brookville, Freeport, Roslyn Heights, Massapequa Park, Levittown and Roosevelt received assistance ranging from hotel accommodations, to food, clothing, shoes, bed linens, furniture and bus fare.

Red Cross assistance is a gift to victims. Volunteer or send donations to 264 Old Country Road, Mineola, NY, 11501 or call 747-3500.

Big Brothers Make Summer Worthwhile

Summer is the time for picnics, the beach, barbecues and fishing. According to the Big Brothers/Sisters of Nassau County, summer is also a great time to embark on new projects that can go through the whole year.

There are children throughout the county who find the summer months a very lonely time, with school out and their only parent at home working long hours. These are the children Big Brothers/Sisters concern themselves with, spending just a few hours a week giving them companionship.

To find out how to attend an orientation session on Big Brothers and Sisters, call 731-7880.

Granting Wishes

Wish Is Granted is a non-profit organization with bases on Long Island, Staten Island, Queens and New Jersey that was established to grant special wishes for terminally ill children. Wish Is Granted also has a coupon distribution program that employs kids in the community to distribute coupon booklets to help fund the wishes.

Recently, Wish Is Granted sent a 4-year-old Brooklyn leukemia patient to meet Michael Jackson at the Santa Monica circus. Earlier this month, the organization granted a 6-year-old from the Bronx, who suffers from cancer, her wish by delivering a canopy bedroom set.

Anyone interested in taking part in the organization, as supervisors, volunteers or contributors should contact Gigi at 361-9365 for more information.

Feet Meet To "Defeat" Diabetes

Feet Meet walk-a-thon volunteers have joined hands and forces, pledging to raise more than $50,000 to benefit the Long Island Chapter American Diabetes Association's research and educational programs.

The walk-a-thon will be held Oct. 20 at Belmont Lake State Park in Babylon. At a recent planning session, members of the Feet Meet steering committee established goals for Feet Meet of 750 individual walkers and 35 walk-a-thon teams.

Lifestyles Of The Rich And Extinct

By William Gravert

Want to lure the kids out from behind their Nintendo screens? See how the upper-crust lived in Gatsby-era mansions? Hike a nature trail or the L.I. Sound beachfront? Maybe just picnic on the pristine lawns of a former Gold Coast Estate? At the Sands Point Preserve in Port Washington you can do it all... and if you're not careful, you might learn something!

For the kids, life-sized animated dinosaurs are to centerpiece of the Preserve's current exhibit, "Clash of the Dinosaurs," running through September 2.

From domed-skulled, head-butting behemoths (with pre-historic tongue-twister names) to a pack of meat-eaters ganging up on a giant, but helpless, plant-eater, to a mother dino minding her clutch of eggs, moving lifelike models suggest what life was like over 65 million years ago. Audio visual displays speculate on why the dinosaurs vanished.

In the Dino Den, try a hands-on re-creation of a paleontological dig. There's also computer-interactive learning games and a dino-computer coloring book. For the tots, there's even a Dino-Tykes playroom. But bring your wallet, because after all this dino-fun they'll want to visit the Dino-Storus giftshop!

For Mom and Dad (no kids under 10) there's tours of Falaise, Harry Guggenheim's magnificent Norman French-Manothouse. Built in 1923 and deeded to Nassau County on his death in 1973, the house and ground appear as they did during the Gold Coast glory years—right down to the brie-a-brac. Trained tourguides direct visitors through the 27-room mansion with an eye toward architectural and historic significance.

Starting at the 15th Century gates brought from France, the courtyard affords a full view of the house's landward side. Besides the massive tiled roof and ivy covered walls, the first thing to catch the eye are the hand-carved madonnas, figurines, gargoyles, and chimera cornices. Once inside the 14th century front door, the 'old' smell hits you. Not a nasty or musty old smell, but that nice 'woody' aroma aged homes take on. The living room and hallways feature carved Flemish marriage chests and hand-woven tapestries adorning all-wood flooring, beams, and banisters.

Guggenheim's influence as a former Navy captain and Ambassador to Cuba is evident throughout the house. In the dining room, the china sports the official presidential seal.

Besides being the first publisher of Newsday, Harry financially supported the exploits of rocket scientist Dr. Robert Goddard and flyer Charles Lindbergh. Both were regular houseguests.

In the basement Trophy Room is an impressive display of hardware won by Guggenheim's stable of thoroughbreds, including the Kentucky Derby Trophy from Dark Star's 1953 Churchill Downs victory.

Outside, the magnolia-surrounded pool is accompanied by a Spanish generalize archway and garden. On the mansion's seaward side, the balconies afford a breathtaking view of L.I. Sound, Westchester and Connecticut.

The 216 acre preserve, originally the estate of financier Howard Gould, was bought by mining magnate David Guggenheim (Harry's dad) in 1917. He maintained a working estate/farm with a staff of over 200 to keep things tidy. Though now empty, tours of his 40-room Hempstead House mansion are conducted daily. The huge carriage house, now known as CastleGould, houses the dino exhibits, preserve offices, and information booth.

Six nature trails traverse the grounds, including a shoreline beachcombing trail and a dino-tracks trail.

Admission to the preserve is free, seven days-a-week. Clash of the Dinosaurs: $5 adults, $3 kids. Falaise/Hempstead House tours: $3.

Though you can get snacks at the Dino Diner, I recommend packing a picnic and making a day of it! Just leave the GameBoy home.

WHEREAS, all conditions precedent to the incurrence of the capital project hereinabove described, including compliance with the provisions of the Environmental Quality Review Act, have been performed; and

WHEREAS, it is now desired to authorize the spending of such capital project; NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT

RESOLVED, by the Town Board of the Town of Oyster Bay, Nassau County, New York, as follows:

Section 4. For the specific object or purpose of paying part of the cost of bulkheading and dredging at the Tobay Boat Basin of and for the Town of Oyster Bay, Nassau County, New York, there are hereby authorized to be issued $1,500,000 serial bonds of said Town pursuant to the provisions of Local Finance Law.

Section 2. It is hereby determined that the maximum estimated cost of such specific object or purpose is $1,750,000 and that the plan for the financing thereof is as follows:

a) By the issuance of the $1,500,000 serial bonds of said Town authorized to be issued pursuant to this bond resolution. Further details concerning said bonds will be prescribed in a further resolution or resolutions of this Town Board; and

Hicksville Youth Council

Congratulations

I would like to congratulate the 6th Grade Travel Team from St. Ignatius CYO (Chris Connolly, Kenny Binick, Kenny McCullough, Robert Haddad, Brian Klein, Tommy Geramita, Mike Gandolfi, Craig Finn, Chris McGinnigle, Kevin Krueger, Kevin Snowden and Andy Fumagalli) on winning the Bishop Gerald J. Ryan Sportsmanship Award for the second year in a row.

And I would also like to thank them for their generous gift. It was a great pleasure to help coach these boys. They are really well behaved and a great bunch of kids to work with.

Mr. Binick

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	3 ♦	Pass

Opening lead — ten of diamonds.

Luck plays a substantial role in the outcome of many deals, but some of the bad results attributed to poor luck could be more accurately ascribed to poor management.

Consider this deal where West leads a diamond against four hearts. Declarer wins in dummy, cashes the K-A of trumps and A-K of diamonds, and then leads a low spade to dummy's king. East wins with the ace and returns the nine of clubs, won by West with the jack. Back comes a spade to East's queen and, when East returns another club, South finesse again and goes down one.

Of course, declarer is unlucky to find the ace of spades and K-J of clubs all poorly placed. Furthermore, it would not have helped him to attack clubs before spades. He would have run into the same dead end and gone down one against proper defense.

There is no way to assure the contract against every possible lie of the cards, but South can increase his chances considerably by playing the spades differently. After drawing trumps and cashing the top diamonds, he should lead a low spade from dummy towards his J-2, instead of a low spade from his hand to dummy's K-6-3.

This unusual approach pays handsome dividends. East goes up with the queen of spades and returns a club. South follows low and is now certain of the contract. West takes his jack of clubs but cannot return a club or a diamond without handing declarer a trick. And if he leads a spade, East takes the ace, but dummy's king then provides a parking place for the queen of clubs.

The great advantage of the low spade lead from dummy is that it guarantees the contract if East has the queen. Even if West has the queen, South still gets home safely if West has the ace of spades or if East has the king of clubs. The recommended play thus gives declarer three chances to make the contract instead of only two.

She added, "We are very proud of him."

Ryan's hobbies include collecting stamps, coins and baseball cards. He is also a whiz at Scrabble, computer games and puzzles. He enjoys bowling and swimming as well.

Before he heads for college, Ryan will spend the remainder of summer visiting friends and brushing up on his math and computer skills.

Musicians

She said she found performing with a group most interesting. Kim added that she enjoys "sharing music with other musicians."

Kim has performed as an accompanist for Sergiu Luca, Dennis Brott, Marion Davies and Elizabeth Suderburg. Her other appearances include recitals in Germany, Taiwan, Mexico and at colleges and universities in the United States.

Kim teaches piano privately in Hicksville. She and her husband, who live on Acre Lane, have a six-month-old son, Orin.

Quayle Attends Victory Games

By Hank Russell

On a sunny Friday morning, more than 5,000 disabled athletes from eight states and five countries paraded around the track at Mitchel Park in Uniondale for the United States Disabled Sports Championships/Paralympic Trials, also known as the Victory Games.

In addition to hearing the cheers of spectators, they were praised by United States Vice President Dan Quayle.

"Your unity demonstrates that disabled people work together for a common goal," Vice President Quayle said. "Your common bond is your spirit of competition and your individual will to win."

Vice President Quayle said the Games eliminate negative images that have plagued people with disabilities far too long.

"The Victory Games is a victory for disabled people everywhere," he continued. "You proved that the only limits of people with disabilities are the limits of misinformation and misunderstanding."

The Vice President's voice became sterner throughout the speech. "The intensity of competition proves that you are not disabled athletes," he emphasized, "but world athletes who happen to have disabilities."

He concluded his speech by saying, "I express the feelings of our entire country when we say, 'Go for the gold!'"

Before leaving, Vice President Quayle shook hands with all the athletes and posed for pictures with them. One athlete presented the Vice President with a book as a gift.

Quayle was praised at the presentation for being the first vice president to focus on the disabled. In his first year in office, he met with close to 100,000 disabled people.

Others who spoke at the ceremony included John Hurley, president of the United States Organization for Disabled Athletes; Angelo Corva, honorary chairman of the Victory Games; Robert M. Johnson, publisher and chief executive officer of Newsday; Joseph N. Mondello, presiding supervisor of the Town of Hempstead; H. Takemoto, president of Canon U.S.A. and U.S. Senator Alfonse D'Amato.

"There are 400 million disabled persons in this country," D'Amato said, "and you're their role models."

Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Gullotta told the aspiring Paralympians, "You are very, very fine athletes."

Five disabled sports organizations—the National Wheelchair Athletic Association, the United States Association of Blind Athletes, the Dwarf Athletic Association, the United States Cerebral Palsy Association and the United States Les Autres Sports Association—are represented at the Games.

The Games will determine which players will represent the U.S. in next year's Paralympics in Barcelona, Spain, and will run until July 18.

Outstanding Athletic Achievers

STERBAY TOWN Councilman Thomas L. Clark (right) presents certificates for Outstanding Athletic Achievement to Neil Laurine and Bernadette Clark of Holy Trinity High School in Hicksville. Guidance Counselors Bruce Duncan and Jeanne McCarthy were also on hand for the ceremony. The Town initiated the program to honor students from high schools throughout the area for their athletic accomplishments. The students were selected according to criteria established by their school's administration.

Jets Youth Day

The Hicksville Youth Council will be attending the NY Jets training camp on Tuesday, Aug. 6 at 10 a.m.-2 p.m. If you are a Hicksville Youth between 12-16 years of age and would like to go with the Hicksville

Youth Council to watch the NY Jets practice, see a football film, receive autographs, photographs and lunch, then contact John from the HYC at 822-KIDS.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

Scholar-Athlete Award

David Knuth, a senior at Holy Trinity High School in Hicksville was awarded a $500 U.S. Savings Bond from EAB and News 12 Long Island.

David was one of 30 high school students honored at a special ceremony at EAB Plaza. The event was a culmination of the fourth annual EAB/News 12 Scholar-Athlete award programs which gives recognition and financial awards to outstanding high schoolers in Nassau and Suffolk Counties.

The award is in recognition of David's accomplishments on Holy Trinity's baseball and soccer teams while ranking first in his class for four consecutive years. He will attend Harvard University in the fall.

Five Gold Medals

East Street Elementary School is proud of fifth grader Nicholas Linnehan who participated in the Olympics for the Physically Challenged and won five gold medals.

Hole-In-One

Elfriede Lackritz of Hicksville scored a hole-in-one at The Mill River Club in Oyster Bay and entered the 31st annual Drambuie Rusty Nail Hole-In-One Sweepstakes. The 151 yard ace was scored at hole No. 7.

Lackritz and Bob Weber, the golf professional who validated the sweepstakes entry, are both eligible to win the grand prize, a one-week trip for two to Scotland, VIP tour of the Drambuie Liqueur Co. Ltd. and $1,000 cash. Second and third prizes include five personalized, professional golf bags and 100 sets of a dozen Titleist golf balls.

Nearly 10,000 people score a hole-in-one and enter the sweepstakes each year, which has become one of the country's most successful sports promotions of its kind.

Wins Memorial Trophy

Ellen Glufof Hicksville was the first member of the host Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club to cross the finish line of the 8th annual Long Island Women's Run on July 4, and that earned her the Paula Wunderlich Memorial Trophy.

Ellen finished 12th overall in the 5 kilometer race in 18 minutes and 7 seconds, in a field that included most of the top women runners in the New York area and beyond. She outlasted fellow Club member Karen Cott of Merrick by only four seconds to win the trophy.

The Paula Wunderlich Memorial Trophy is presented in memory of Paula Wunderlich, a dedicated runner and triathlete whose untimely death in 1989 from liver cancer saddened the entire local running community.

"Ellen is a great runner and a dedicated competitor," said race director Barry Saltsberg. "We're proud to present the Paula Wunderlich Trophy to such a deserving individual."

Bob Kratochvil

Voted All-Region

Dr. Frank A. Cipriani, president of SUNY College of Technology at Farmingdale and Fred Acee, varsity lacrosse coach at the college, announced that Robert Kratochvil of Hicksville, member of the 1991 SUNY Farmingdale lacrosse team, has been voted to the 1991 All-Region 15 Lacrosse Team.

Hicksville's Ellen Glufof accepts the trophy from race director Barry Saltsberg.

JOG-A-THON: Ryan Hannigan, Tom McDonough and Kenny Furst carry their Our Lady of Mercy school banner during the school's annual jog-a-thon. The money raised during this activity will benefit the students in their scholastic achievement.
