Council Dinner A Grand Occasion For All

Community Council's 21st Anniversary Dinner A Success

By Victor Caputo

Community members, organizations and civic associations joined together on Oct. 3 to take part in the 21st Anniversary Dinner of the Hicksville Community Council.

Highlighting the evening's events was the presentation of three awards for work done within the community.

Sieg Widder, a senior member of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club, received the President's Award for 1991 for his many years of community service and leadership.

Throughout the years he has taken a special interest in the young people of the community. He is an active member of the Hicksville Youth Council where he has a seat on the board of directors. He also has played an active role in the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce and the Hicksville Community Council.

The Community Service Award was presented to the American Legion, Charles A. Wagner Post 421. The American Legion has served the Hicksville community for over 70 years.

They have played an active part in construction of the Hicksville war veteran monuments.

gave of themselves when their country called.

They play an active role in community affairs recognizing Eagle Scouts as well as giving students in the schools awards for outstanding efforts and accomplishments.

A Special Service Award was given to the Mid-Island Support Group for Desert Shield/Storm. The award recognizes the concern and compassion that was shared by the local families of Persian Gulf War veterans.

The group was formed by Arlene Artele, Maureen Falco and Joyce Jurgensen.

Maureen and Joyce had sons who were called to serve their country and Arlene's husband also answered his call to duty in the Persian Gulf.

They decided to start a support group so that families and friends with people in the Gulf could come and talk and find strength from others who had the same concerns and worries.

The VFW Post 3211 gave the group a place to hold their meetings. They organized, along with the Hicksville VFW Post, a "Till They Come Home" victory parade and rally.

Yellow ribbons were donated and help for the parade came from all areas of the community. The parade was a complete success. The group endured through the tough times and gave their support to those who needed it.

Assemblyman Fred Parola swore in the officers and trustees of the Hicksville Community Council.

The new officers are Joseph DePompa, president, Edwin Draycott, first vice-president, Thomas Clark, third vice-president, Eleanor Draycott, secretary/treasurer.

Many of the local politicians were on hand to congratulate the honorees and witness the installation of the council's officers and trustees.

The dinner was held at Hicksville's own, Antun's and tickets for the event were $25.

Possible School Closings For Hicksville

By Victor Caputo

The Hicksville School Board held a special meeting on Oct. 2 to discuss and then approve the hiring of an outside consultant to look at the feasibility of school buildings being closed.

The meeting opened with a general session in which many residents voiced their disapproval over the lack of publicity the meeting had received. Residents felt that notification was not done efficiently, which attributed to the smaller-than-usual crowd. One resident argued that the meeting date should have been placed on the board standing on the lawn by the administration office. The board said that the meeting was decided upon on Friday and that an effort was made to inform residents of the meeting.

Some argued that at the Sept. 25 board meeting, the board only briefly mentioned the closing of schools and that the residents were taken by surprise as to the sudden discussion.

A major concern of residents was whether or not they will be left in the dark until the last minute as to what schools, if any, will be closing its doors.

The board as well as Superintendent of Schools Salvatore Mugavero stressed to residents that they will be properly informed as to what the consultants and the board are doing.

A member of the Concerned Citizens of Hicksville asked the board to look into the closing of schools in a fair manner. The resident asked them to consider transportation and to remember the safety of the students when determining where students would go if their school closed.

The board told residents that two firms were considered for the job. The one that was voted on and approved was the consulting firm of Bishop and Evans. They have been hired to do a demographic analysis, come up with enrollment projections, do a building room utilization study, which will include the middle school, with the exception of the high school and a long range planning study for a fee of $9,500.

It took much discussion before the board rendered its decision. "I believe we need to update our data. I do not want to make a decision on 8-year-old data. We also need to know where the enrollment projections are going before we make a decision," said trustee James Black.

Residents were concerned that the board was passing the responsibility of making a decision to the consultants. "We are not giving away our voting right. We are asking them what our options are," said Carole Wolf, board president.

"The final decision on school closings or no school closings rests with us," said trustee Aline Rudin.

The board also implemented a lay committee to work with the consulting firm for an additional fee of $3,000.

The committee will be made up of one representative from each PTA, including SEPTA, middle school and high school.

Thanks For Shopping Locally

A resident recently wrote to tell us that she has been shopping locally to give the hometown business a boost.

She wrote us that the new deli at John and Kuhl Street is very clean and the workers are very friendly and helpful.

Botto Brothers on Route 107 just south of Old Country Road is also very helpful and answers all your questions from a single nail to any size job, she wrote.

She also had luck at LaFemmina Beauty Shop on Jerusalem Ave. The shop, she wrote, is about 75 percent elderly ladies and the workers there are very understanding and helpful and treat people with respect.

She encourages people to shop locally so you can see how nice you will be treated.

Thank you for dropping us that line. If other residents have been receiving the same kind of treatment from the local shops that they go to, write to us. Let the shop owners know that they are giving the community what they want and are appreciated.

Dr. Jeffrey Donahue, the brother of MIA Morgan Donahue, Mary Matejov, mother of an MIA, and Lynn O'Shea from the NY National Alliance of Families also spoke at the forum sponsored by the POW/MIA Coalition of Long Island, Inc. which was held at the Marriot Hotel in Uniondale.

Danny DeMauro, president of the Freedom Foundation, spoke about what is going on in Washington concerning the MIA issue.

Mary Matejov gave an emotional account of what happened to her son, Joseph, and the effect it has had on her family especially since she found out that he may still be alive. She finished her talk and received a standing ovation.

Dr. Donahue spoke about his brother Morgan, and how they have been tracking him from POW camp to camp. Eugene McDaniel also spoke about what is going on to help POWs, what he is doing and what he has done. At the end of his talk, he was presented with a beautiful, handmade plaque, that was made by Bob Kretzmer.

A motorcade of over 50 cars, led by the Nassau County Police Department, went to Eisenhower Park for a candlelight vigil. All vehicles had American flags, black ribbons

Dennis Oehler Speaks At School

By Victor Caputo

"Shoot for the moon when it comes to setting your goals in life and that way if you miss, you will still be sitting among the stars," said Dennis Oehler, a physically challenged world record holder in track, to sixth graders at Old Country School in a lecture that focused on, among other things, changing people's attitudes about the disabled.

He and his partner, Todd Schaffhauser, who is also a physically challenged world record holder in track, focused on such aspects as sportsmanship, respect, positive attitudes and kindness towards people.

They started the lecture by asking the sixth graders if they knew about the Para-Olympics. Several students raised their hands and said they knew what they were. "The Para-Olympics are olympic style events for people with disabilities," said Oehler, explaining to the students who did not know what they are. He told them not to confuse them with the Special Olympics, which are for people with a mental disability.

He asked the children if they ever found themselves staring at a handicapped person in a wheelchair. "What goes through your mind?" asked Oehler, trying to get the kids to talk about things they may not understand.

He explained to the students that maybe, they should ask the person what happened so that they might understand a little better.

Both Oehler and Schaffhauser described how they lost their limbs. Oehler is an amputee from the knee down, losing that part of his leg when he was struck by a car on a rainy night. Schaffhauser lost his whole leg because of bone cancer he developed as a teenager.

They expressed to the students the feeling of emptiness and uselessness they felt after their legs were amputated. They also spoke of the love and confidence they received from their family and friends. Most importantly, they spoke to the children about their own determination to succeed and not let their handicap slow them down in achieving goals they had set. "Dreams do come true if you believe in them," said Oehler.

They tried to convey to the students that they should set goals and not to quit if they do not succeed. "In our society, if we set a goal and don't succeed, we quit. Do you think the majority of the people try harder? We, as a society, do not like the way it feels to fail at something," said Oehler.

Oehler recounted the days before part of his leg was amputated. He recounted the day when the doctors told him part of his leg would have to come off. "I always created an image in my mind, I not only felt sorry for people with disabilities, I thought they were pathetic," he said.

After telling their stories, they spoke of the races they won and the low running times they accomplished which eventually turned into records. "I bet I could smoke anyone if you right now on the track," said Oehler to the sixth graders.

He then asked students how many of them do not wear helmets when they skateboard or bicycle. Several students laughed. "When I was in the sixth grade and if somebody would have asked me that question, I probably would have also raised my hand and laughed," he said. He then immediately

Success Stories At Public Library

By Victor Caputo

"Increasingly, more people are coming to the library, asking for information about job opportunities and career changes. In response to residents' increased informational queries, I thought that a program that presented diversified opportunities, which might not normally be considered, to be a valuable program for this community," said Celeste Watman, the Assistant Library Director, about the new program in the Hicksville Public Library, "Success Stories: Conversations With Dynamic Hicksville Business People."

The new program will kick off on Wednesday, Nov. 6 at 8 p.m. in the community room of the library.

The guest speakers will be Bill Kennedy, a native Long Islander and owner of the successful Long Island Potato Chip company, which uses only Long Island potatoes, and Marcos Ramirez, President of Mr. Electric Service Co., Inc., in Hicksville.

This meeting will be the first in a series of meetings that will begin again after January.

"The program might provide the needed inspiration to a member of the community who was thinking of starting their own business. It will give them a role model, so to speak, someone they could model themselves after," said Watman.

Residents can come to the meeting and ask these prominent figures in the business community questions about different careers and options that they have available to them. They can also hear how these business people got into their fields and made a success out of it.

This program is just one way residents can utilize the library to receive information on careers and how to go about starting one.

The library offers free computer courses to teach community members how to operate them and understand them. There is career counseling where residents can talk with a counselor about formulating a resume or tips on how to handle job interviews.

"We also stock over two thousand books that provide facts about different career choices," said Watman.

The "Success Stories: Conversations With Dynamic Hicksville Business People" program is free and open to all members of the community.

SCHOOL NOTEBOOK

High School Media Writing Unit

The new Media Writing and Advertising Unit in the Hicksville High School, under the direction of teacher Joe Scalia and student teacher Suzanne Strom, will be introducing the many areas of advertising and related terminology to students.

Students are currently participating in an "Advertising Agency" project where they have been divided into small groups, where each group has been assigned an "account" for which television, radio and magazine advertisements will be completed.

The students are learning many things related to how they can create an advertising campaign, how the various departments in an advertising agency input into the whole picture and how the media uses words and pictures to manipulate the consumer.

Through their individual writing, the students will come to learn that their choice of words is very important for relating ideas and achieving their purpose.

The course will give students an in-depth picture of media writing and advertising and give a student an idea if they might want to further their education on the topic and go on to make it a career.

STUDENTS PARTICIPATE in a media and writing course at the Hicksville Senior High School. The course is designed to give students a taste of writing for advertising and media.

This is the second installment of "The Great Newspaper Debate." We posed some tough questions to the major party candidates in the Town race. Their answers will appear here weekly.

Q: "Not-In-My-Backyard" has been cited with regard to development, solid waste management and incineration and it has often been cited as having a negative impact on progress. How do you define the term "NIMBY?" Do residents have the right to argue NIMBY? What happens when that right infringes on the rights of outlying areas? How do we, if NIMBY-ism is legitimate, solve the difficult problems of the township?

SUPERVISOR — TOWN OF OYSTER BAY

OYSTER BAY COUNCIL

Q: What can be done to entice businesses to the town?

Robert Aliano (D)

A major concern of any business is the cost to do business. This cost includes taxes which must be paid in the form of sales, income or real property taxes. Efforts must be made to hold or reduce taxes so that companies can operate profitably. In addition, efforts must be made to keep our work force from leaving Long Island so that businesses have a source of labor.

Barbara Amster (D)

Last week, I met a young man carrying a toddler at a supermarket in Massapequa. He said, "I can't vote for you, I'm moving next week. I can't afford to live in this town anymore." The best way to encourage business to come to the Town of Oyster Bay is to maintain a young intelligent work force. To do so, we must cut taxes.

Thomas Clark (R)

Anyone can see that the town is tailor-made for business. There is an expansive network of well-maintained roads giving easy access to points east and west and a variety of transportation modes. Responsible leaders have maintained the safe suburban communities and stable economy that business people desire. Town government has also helped promote business by participating in beautification programs.

Frank Goban (D)

The town should: promote lower utility rates as .13kw is absolutely prohibitive; encourage lower rentals ($3-5 per foot, not $6-9) by lowering landlords' taxes; provide tax incentives for plant purchase (first two years, no tax; next three, 30 percent tax; next three, 60 percent; next two, 90 percent); offer town backed "on the job training" wage incentive; and, arrange for better mass transportation.

Leonard Kunzig (R)

To attract business, a community must have a number of things: support services, a skilled work force and a government that is responsive to the needs of the business community. The town has that and more. Careful planning has fostered safe, suburban communities with a high standard of living. Most importantly, the town has maintained a fiscally sound economy where businesses can feel confident about the future.

Ann Ocker (R)

The town is attracting business by following proven policies. We have a stable tax base and a comprehensive planning program to keep an attractive and practical balance between residential, business and industry where all can flourish. Business people also find a government that is always looking for ways to assist them. An example is the Transportation Management Ordinance to help business comply with mandates of the Clean Air Act amendments.

Angelo Delligatti

I would define NIMBY as someone who puts his or her own personal interests or agenda ahead of the interests of the majority of the people. If an elected official, entrusted with serving the needs of an entire constituency, resorts to NIMBYism, that individual is betraying the trust placed in him by the voters.

NIMBY has taken on a negative connotation over the years, but, there are times when NIMBYism is legitimate. In my years as Supervisor, I have presided over many public hearings on applications for special use permits and zone changes where the proposed use or change was definitely not compatible with the surrounding neighborhood. In these instances, residents who said it didn't belong in their backyards were more than justified. I know the record shows that under my administration, the Town Board has been extremely responsive to the will of the people in such cases.

With regard to development of a comprehensive solid waste management program, the Town of Oyster Bay already has many of the components in place. We have one of the most aggressive and successful curbside recycling programs in the country. We are expanding our recycling efforts into the commercial sector and multi-family housing complexes. Composting is taking place on a large scale. . . a 12-acre compost project. But, here's where reality comes in. While it would be ideal if we could recycle 100 percent of our waste stream, current technology does not permit it. So, no matter how much we recycle and compost, there is still a portion of the waste stream that has to be disposed of in some other manner.

While the town is currently shipping its non-recycle and non-compostable materials off Long Island, that option will soon not be available to us. More and more states are legislating against taking out-of-state garbage. That will leave Oyster Bay looking for some other way to dispose of our residents' waste. That way is resource recovery.

The location of an energy-producing incinerator for the Town of Oyster Bay has been the subject of some controversy. Since the Town's former incinerator was located in Old Bethpage, along with the landfill, and that site is now the location of the Town's Solid Waste Disposal Transfer Station, logic seemed to dictate that the new incinerator be placed there, as well. But, more than logic, studies have backed up that conclusion with major reasons being the industrial nature of the area and the accessibility of the location for trucks with minimal intrusion on residential neighborhoods. There is no other area in the town that is totally removed from our communities.

I am well aware that my opponent opposes the incinerator being placed in Old Bethpage. I have to say that he is exhibiting a classic case of NIMBYism. He lives in Old Bethpage. I am sure if the town proposed another site for the incinerator, outside of his backyard, he would not be opposing it with such vigor, if at all. In fact, he once suggested, "Why not put it in Massapequa?" If he has been to Massapequa lately, the answer is obvious. . . no open land.

An elected official must be prepared to make hard decisions based on the facts, whether or not those facts are to his or her liking. I would like nothing better than to be able to recycle and compost the entire waste stream. Saying it and wanting it won't change reality. So, incineration must be a part of the town's solid waste management program. I wish I could find a place to put a resource recovery facility that would meet with the approval of all town residents. The reality is that no matter where it is placed, someone will object. So, the decision must be based on facts, not preference. Facts indicate the industrial area in Old Bethpage is the most suitable location for a resource recovery facility. My opponent has the luxury of being a NIMBY in this situation, but as Town Supervisor, I have to see to it that the best interests of all town residents are served.

Lewis Yevoli (D)

The term NIMBY has been greatly distorted by some members of the media who portray the justifiable opposition of community residents to ill-planned development as obstructionist.

All too often, local residents are at a distinct disadvantage when battling well-connected developers with the right law firm and the "right" consultants. Frequently, the result is an unwarranted commercial development that increases traffic congestion, threatens public water supplies and our air quality.

Many massive commercial developments in the Town of Oyster Bay serve as an example of ill-conceived planning that has had a decidedly negative impact on surrounding residential communities.

No one is opposed to progress, but progress must be compatible with both the area it affects and the environment that must sustain it. Public officials are supposed to represent the people who elected them to office, not the self interests of those whose sole goal is to make a maximum profit by paying over every square inch of available property under the guise of economic development.

One of the most significant powers a local town has in addition to levying the property tax is the power to rezone property. In the Town of Oyster Bay, that power has been abused. Zoning is supposed to be based on need, merit and its impact on the surrounding area and its compatibility with natural resources. Zoning applications must meet that essential criteria to be approved. However, massive office buildings, hugeretail establishments, multiplex entertainment centers, etc. that consume inordinate quantities of water from our overburdened aquifers and which generate thousands of vehicles on roads ill-equipped to handle the volume is not "progress" . . . it's insanity.

I have always maintained and continue to defend the position of those who live in an area already inundated with traffic in opposing massive new commercial development or unneeded highway expansion.

There is a happy medium and it is the role of the elected official to make sure that a sensible balance is attained.

Conversely, I do not believe that a small group of people with unrealistic objectives should block projects that are necessary for the common good. But, to term tens of thousands who oppose a $400 million incinerator or a complex of commercial developments that will introduce thousands of additional vehicles into their area NIMBY is simply ridiculous.

(Neither Assemblyman Yevoli nor Supervisor Delligatti chose to rebut his opponent's statements from last week's installment of the Great Newspaper Debate.)

Abandoned Lot Fires Now Under Control

The Hicksville Fire Department has responded to many small fires that occurred on an abandoned lot on the corner of Newbridge Road and Barter Lane in Hicksville.

The fires were underneath the foundation of what used to be either a garage or barn of the old farm house that stood on the lot years ago.

The Hicksville Fire Department contacted the Town of Oyster Bay and requested that it contact the owner of the property and have him come in and fill in under the foundation so that the hazard would be eliminated.

The town did so and the Hicksville Fire Department would like to thank the town for its speedy resolution to this dangerous situation.

Celebrating Eleven Years Of Service

By Victor Caputo

Boo's florist, which is located in the West Village Green, is celebrating its 11th anniversary in the same location in Hicksville on Oct. 17.

Boo's carries a full line of floral arrangements and also has a jewelry repair shop inside the store.

As a shopper enters the store, chances are he/she will be greeted by Phyllis, who not only runs the store but is also the secretary of the Kiwanis Club and a member of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce.

She enjoys the Hicksville community. "I love the community. I find everyone here in the community very friendly, loyal and nice," said Phyllis.

What keeps people coming back to the store. "I try to be fair and honest and give the customer a good product that is always fresh," she said.

When she is not selling flowers, Phyllis is giving back to the community which brings her her business. "I help Holy Trinity with many of their activities. I donate to a lot of different community organizations. It is my way of giving back to the community what it has given me," she said.

She sees an end to the recession and feels that business will soon pick up.

She has organized a crafts fair that will take place at the St. Anthony Society in Westbury on Nov. 1 and 2.

Crafters can call her at 735-2244 to reserve a table. Further information about the event can be obtained by calling that same number.

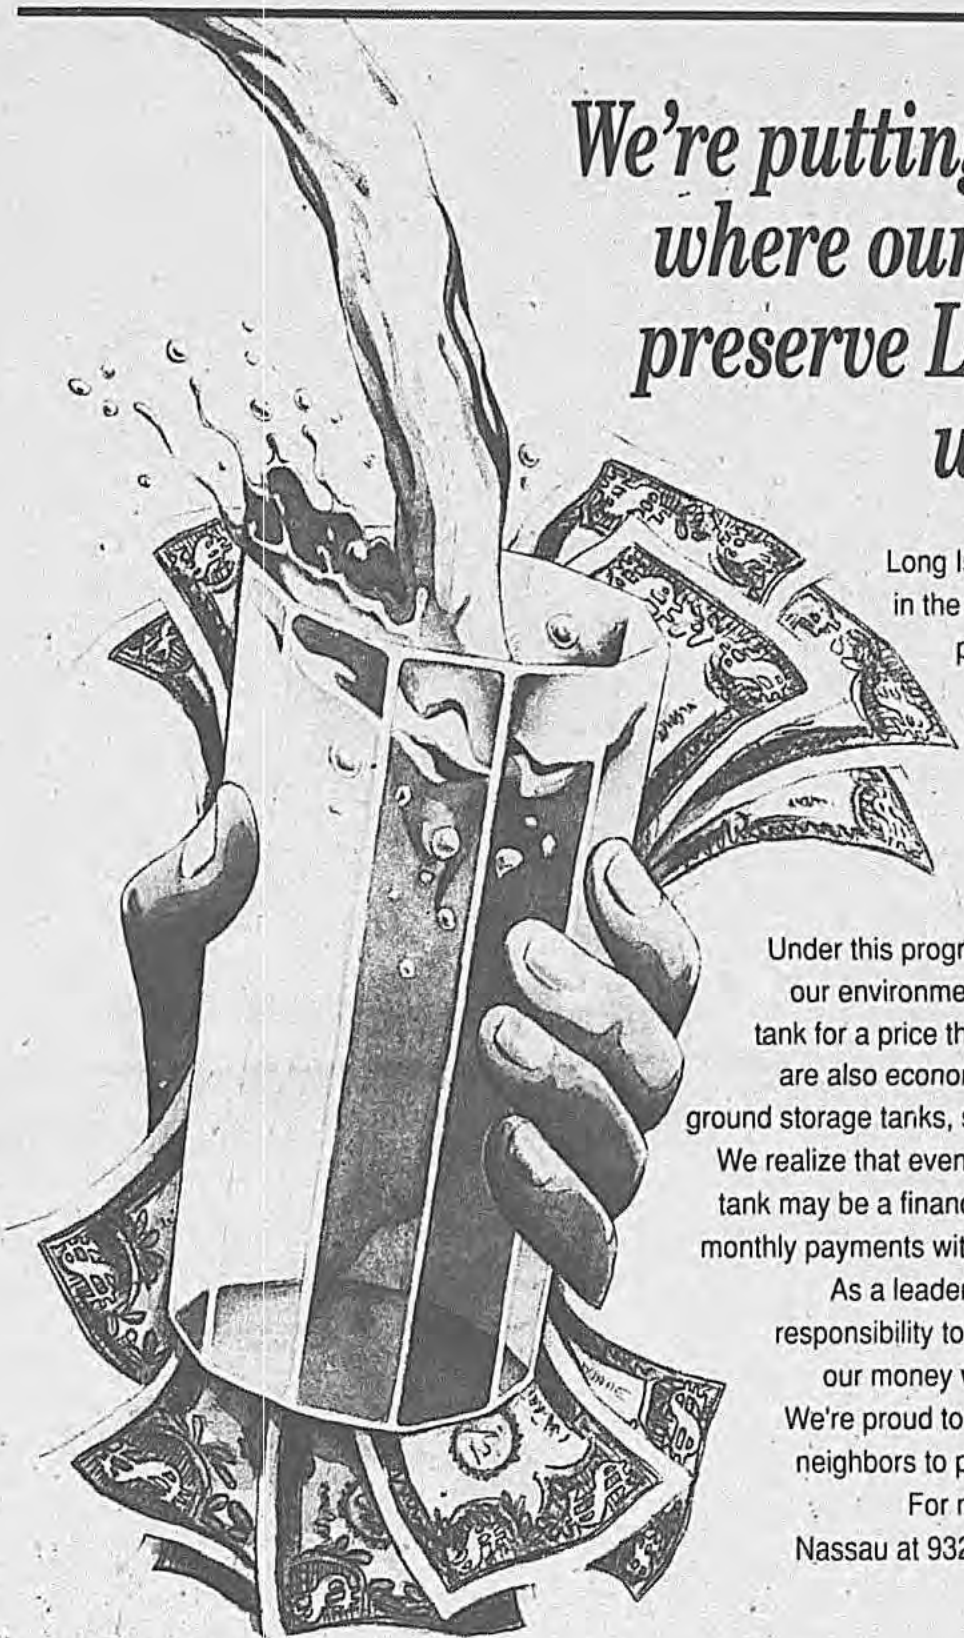

Phyllis is hoping for a long future in the community that she has grown so fond of.

To stay in touch with the community, she has volunteered to keep the Hicksville Illustrated Mail Box in the store. She is happy to show residents who want to drop off an announcement or a news release where the box is located.

To find out more about Boo's, residents can call 735-2244 and ask for Phyllis.

We're putting our money where our mouth is to preserve Long Island's water supply.

Long Island's water supply is the finest in the nation. At Slomin's we're taking positive steps to help preserve it. Specifically, we've established a special financial assistance program to help subsidize the cost of complying with the new regulations regarding buried fuel oil tanks.

Under this program, you will be able to purchase our environmentally safe, 280-gallon fiberglass tank for a price that is truly below our cost.* There are also economical options available for above ground storage tanks, starting as low as $100 installed. We realize that even with our subsidy, replacing your tank may be a financial burden, so we're offering low monthly payments with no interest or finance charges.

As a leader in the fuel oil industry, we feel a responsibility to invest in our community... to put our money where our mouth is, so to speak. We're proud to be working with our Long Island neighbors to preserve our fragile environment.

MAYBE IT'S NOT THE FLU.

Ixodes Scapularis Tick,
Common carrier of
Lyme Disease

And this is no little flu-bug. It's a deer tick, the most common carrier of Lyme Disease in the United States.

And Lyme Disease is a lot more than a little touch of flu. It's a bacterial infection that, if left untreated, can eventually cause damage to your heart, joints, and nervous system.

The deer tick lives in wooded, grassy, and brushy areas, so if you frequent the outdoors, you are at risk of being bitten and infected.

At first, Lyme Disease may feel like the flu. But, in many cases, a red, bull's eye rash will develop around the bitten area.

Up to a year after the bite, the disease can cause ear and eye pain, heart fluttering, and joint swelling.

Some time later, mild to crippling arthritis, stomach cramps, weight loss, and a wide variety of other conditions may occur.

Lyme Disease can be treated. Further damage can be prevented at any stage through treatment with antibiotics.

For more information or the name of a physician in your area who specializes in treating Lyme Disease, contact the Lyme Resource Network.

POW (continued from page 3)

Mondello and Town of Oyster Bay Supervisor Angelo Delligatti, County Comptroller Peter King and Eugene McDaniel all spoke before the vigil.

After McDaniel spoke, the lights were turned out and the hundreds of people in attendance lit candles to start the ceremony.

After each name of all the men missing from Long Island and the towns they came from were read, only the faint sound of a single bass drum could be heard. When the list of names was finished, Amazing Grace was played by a solo bagpiper and was then joined in by the rest of the Nassau County Police Department Bagpipers. All flags were then put at full staff and the Marine Corps League Firing Squad did a gun salute.

God Bless America was sung by all, closing out the vigil. The Benediction to close the ceremonies was done by Rabbi Pomerantz.

POLICE REPORT

The manager of the Littman Jewelry store which is located on Broadway in Hicksville was working on Oct. 1 at 12:55 p.m. when two women entered the store, police said.

According to police, one of the women distracted the manager while the other went behind the counter and took a tray of about 12 engagement rings which were valued at about $75,000.

Both women then fled the store and it is not known in which direction they were headed.

Police are still investigating.

A serious auto accident occurred in Hicksville on Oct. 2 at 8:50 p.m., according to police.

A Hicksville resident was driving his car northbound on Meyers Street when he was struck by a Levittown resident traveling westbound on California Street, said police.

The Levittown resident was arrested and charged with a D.W.I. and was arraigned in the First District Court.

All those involved in the crash received medical attention.

Police have reported the details of a petty larceny that occurred on Oct. 2 at 2:40 p.m. in Hicksville.

A man was apprehended when he attempted to leave the Tropical Showcase, located on Old Country Road, with two love birds valued at $180, which he had placed inside the front of his pants, said police.

An employee heard birds chirping from the subject's pants and alerted the manager who stopped the subject outside the store, according to police.

After bringing the subject back into the store, the birds were retrieved unharmed.

The subject was released on a desk appearance ticket for a court hearing which will take place later in October, according to police.

Hicksville Residents Rally Together

Please allow us the opportunity to thank the many friends and family who supported us at our recent benefit garage sale for the Cystinosis Foundation, held on Saturday, Sept. 28. To simply say that the sale was successful could not come close to truly describing the day.

To start with, there is much truth to the saying "many hands make light work", to ALL the members of the Concerned Citizens of Hicksville, who sponsored the sale and worked tirelessly the entire day from set up to take down, a heartfelt thank you. It was truly inspiring to work with you that day.

To Pat Pravato and the Neder family for letting us use their driveway and front yard for the sale, we say thank you.

To Bruce Goldblat, of Bill's Towing of Hicksville, Betty and Chris Fetta, of Charbeth's in East Farmingdale and Carl at Parkway Farms and Deli in Hicksville, we say thank you.

Lastly, we would like to say thank you to the many friends and family who came by that day to help support our cause. The members and benefactors of the Cystinosis Foundation are truly grateful for your generosity.

It gives us great pleasure to say that a check has been sent to the Cystinosis Foundation for $3,000 and a check for $250 to the National Organization for Rare Disorders (N.O.R.D.).

Once again, thank you so very much Hicksville and especially to all who helped. Larry and Mary Beth Krummenacker

Thanks For The Article

Thank you for your article in the Sept. 19 edition. It was truly a proud evening, when my wife Janet and I attended the Retired Police Association First Civilian Award ceremony. I am a member of this fine organization, after over twenty five years with the Nassau County Police Department.

That evening, the RPA awarded Jeannine and Nadine Guenther and David Loveland lifesaving certificates for saving the lives of our grandsons Bryan and Kevin Havel. The boys had fallen into the inlet near their home in West Babylon. Without the speedy actions of them, we would have lost our grandsons.

Their quick response to this emergency was outstanding. My lifesaving actions in 1977 are nothing in comparison.

Once again, thank you, Jeannine, Nadine and David and to the RPA for everything.

Nice Job, Hicksville

On Saturday, Sept. 28, The Concerned Citizens of Hicksville sponsored a charity garage sale. Money was raised to help fight Cystinosis, a rare disease. It was absolutely breathtaking to see Hicksville rally to such a great cause. Anyone who volunteered that day would have to agree that the people of Hicksville were supportive and generous. I'm proud to be a resident of Hicksville.

Thank you Hicksville!

Proud of Student Accomplishments

We, the Hicksville High School PTSA Executive Committee, are proud of the unending accomplishments of our students and graduates and are committed to the betterment of their educational experience.

A public educational system which strives to teach children of all abilities, nationalities and temperaments, is subject to continuous scrutiny often resulting in unfair criticism.

School Board meetings sometimes serve as a forum to vent frustrations. A parent recently complained that the High School was "unsafe." Is it? We don't believe so. Incidents will happen in ANY school that demand investigation and response, but cooperation is needed. Earlier this year at a board meeting, several parents complained about disciplinary action they felt too harsh,

A Letter from Lulubelle...

...Did you ever live in a house which had one or more of these: a grand piano with a shawl with long fringe draped over it; a butler's pantry (in fact, do you know what a butler's pantry is???)—it's usually a small space between the dining room and the kitchen where the dishes and serving bowls were kept and there was always a small sink so the butler could serve without going into the kitchen—but lots of houses had butler's pantries but I never knew one in my circle who had a butler; glass doors on the kitchen cabinets; only overhead lights except for the dining room chandelier which was covered in silk and also had fringe; every room with a "set" of furniture—living room: one sofa and two upholstered chairs; dining room: one table, one sideboard, one china closet, and five straight chairs and one arm chair for the father of the family; bedroom: one double bed, one dresser; one chifferrobe (we call it a chest today) and one dressing table—that's how the sets were organized and everyone I knew had exactly the same makeup of his "sets"; a mirror over the buffet (sideboard) hanging from picture molding by sturdy cords and finished with tassels—pretty fancy with all this fringe and tassels!! And did you have a round table in the living room on which rested the family Bible? ... Did you ride with your family in a "touring car" with a glass flower holder filled with fake flowers—and no roll up windows—just curtains to snap on when the weather was really bad... and when you were out riding—a favorite pastime of my family when I was young—did you ever pass a fancy large car with the back all closed in and the front where the uniformed chauffeur drove completely open—no cover—no sides—and my father would always say, "There's one of those to h—with the chauffeur cars"—If you remember any or all of these, you must be as old as I and haven't we seen remarkable things in our lifetime!!!

Yours, Lulubelle

but which others commended. Obviously, it is very difficult to please everyone. PTA's by their charter are concerned for the health and safety of students, and the High School's PTSA works closely with building personnel to assist them in their continuing efforts to improve the High School.

Over the past few years, much has occurred at Hicksville High to upgrade the educational climate. When low Regents' scores in some areas caused concern four years ago, students were afforded the opportunity to attend Regents' and SAT review courses. Parental input coupled with cooperation from the board, administration and teachers saw improved results the following year, which has continued. Just this past year, Hicksville High School saw a record number (90 percent) of its graduates going on to further education.

A newly-revised student government structure aims to allow more students greater voice in their school. The High School has also studied ways in which to help both students at risk and foreign-born students become assimilated into our community.

We are further encouraged by Superintendent Salvatore Mugavero's stated goal to move further on the pathway to excellence.

We ask all parents and students to share in the continued growth of our High School. Your concerns are important to us. A community committed to the education of all its youth will benefit by producing well-rounded citizens who will contribute so much to our society.

Halloween Safety Tips

The Nassau County Chapter of the American Red Cross wants your ghost or goblin to have a great Halloween by keeping the following safety tips in mind:

- Trick or treating can be safe and fun if you follow these safety precautions:
- Costumes should be light colored or light reflective.
- Don't trick or treat alone, stay with friends or an adult.
- Use make-up rather than a mask that can impede vision.
- Stay on sidewalks or paths and out of the street.
- Only go to homes where you know the occupant.
- Don't eat any treats until they are examined for tampering.
- Make sure your costume doesn't get in your way when you walk and check for "flame resistant" labels on materials used for costumes and disguises.

- Take along a flashlight.
- Small children should only trick or treat in daylight.
- Remember, be considerate of others.
- Halloween is not a time for vandalism; damaging someone's property is a crime! You can be liable for damages from eggs, spray paint or shaving cream.
- Smashed pumpkins create slippery conditions and a safety hazard for both pedestrians and cars.
- If you are driving, be especially alert for children on Halloween.
- For more information about the Red Cross, call 747-3500.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♦	Pass	2 ♦
2 ♦	Pass	Pass	4 ♦
Pass	5 ♦

Opening lead — king of spades.

Declarer can sometimes take advantage of the opponents' bidding to achieve the maximum result during the play. West led the king of spades against five clubs and continued with the A-Q after East played the 7-4. When dummy ruffed high, East discarded a heart, and South then had to take the rest of the tricks to make the contract.

Declarer still had a spade loser, which he knew could not be safely ruffed in dummy, and he also had a diamond loser. He could discard one or the other on one of dummy's top hearts, but not both.

South realized that he could stake the outcome on a diamond finesse, but he also realized there was almost no chance that the finesse would succeed. It was highly unlikely that West, who had already shown up with the A-K-Q-10-2 of spades, would have passed as dealer if he also had the king of diamonds.

So, rather than rely on the diamond finesse, South crossed to the ace of trumps, led the queen of diamonds, and put up the ace after West followed low. He then played four more clubs, producing this position:

West	North	East	South
♦ 10 ♥ J 7 6	♦ A K 10 ♥ 9 ♦ K	♥ Q 9 8 ♦ K	♦ 9 ♥ 5 ♦ J ♣ 6

South now led his last trump. West had to keep his high spade, so he discarded a heart as dummy discarded a diamond. East had to keep his king of diamonds, so he also discarded a heart. Dummy then scored the last three tricks with the A-K-10 of hearts.

DENNIS OEHLER recently spoke to sixth graders at the Old Country Rd. School. The purpose of the lecture was to make children aware of people who are physically challenged and help them understand what that means.

pointed out that it was not a laughing matter and that things such as a helmet could one day save their lives. "In a matter of hours, I was part of a society that I never understood.

Oehler encouraged the students to talk to someone if they have a problem. "If you feel you can't talk to someone at home, talk to a teacher or a coach. Don't keep things bottled up inside," he said.

They closed their meeting with the students by showing them their artificial limbs and how they function so that the students, by seeing them, could understand a little more about physically challenged individuals.

The lecture was a huge success. Oehler and Schaffhauser lecture at many different schools in many areas.

By lecturing they feel they can make students aware that physically challenged individuals are regular people who suffered through a disease or accident and are trying to live their lives the best they can and achieve goals for themselves.

By demonstrating to the students how the artificial limbs work and what people with artificial limbs can accomplish, they can help children understand that those who are physically challenged are people too and can accomplish great things when given the chance.

From the look on the faces of the kids, their mission was a success.

REMEMBERING SAFETY! Police Officer Edward Drummond receives a citation for his many years of service and dedication to safety.

Officer Wins Bicycle Safety Award

State Motor Vehicles Commissioner Patricia Adduci has honored Lieutenant Edward Drummond of the Nassau County Police Department for two and a half decades of dedication and achievement in the area of bicycle safety.

The Commissioner, who chairs the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee, was joined by Donald T. Phillips, president of the Automobile Club of New York, in presenting Lieutenant Drummond with an Award of Merit plaque at a recent luncheon in Woodbury.

Lieutenant Drummond, a resident of Hicksville, was nominated by Nassau County Police Commissioner Samuel Rozzi for developing the county's Safety Town. Encouraged to seek "new concepts" by federal safety legislation, he conceived of the now-renowned training center where thousands of youngsters have learned to cope with "actual" traffic conditions.

A total 44 individuals and public and private groups from 14 southeastern counties of New York State received Certificate of Achievement awards at the event, which was sponsored jointly by the Traffic Safety Committee and the Automobile Club.

All recipients were nominated by county safety boards, mayors and police chiefs.

School Closings (continued from page 1)

There will also be one representative from each civic group and one member from the Community Council.

"I feel very strongly that we need a committee to work with the consultants," said Wolf.

"I think it is important that all community members get involved," said Wolf.

"Everyone in this community should have access to all information that is gathered," said trustee Helen Lafferty.

Mugavero said that the consultants will meet before the public to show their findings.

Before a decision will be reached about school closings, the outcome of what will happen to the sixth grade and their possible move into the middle school will have to be considered by the board.

"I look at this as steps on a ladder. I think the first step is the middle school," said Wolf. A resident asked if the sixth grade was moving into the middle school because of possible school closings. The board said that the move was for educational reasons.

There was mixed reaction among the crowd. While nobody wants to see the closing of schools, there is a split, with some residents who do not want a consulting firm and others who do.

Some residents are calling for community unity to put an end to the bad feelings that existed last year when the Willet School was closed.

The board has promised to discuss whatever its findings are with the public but some residents are skeptical about the board keeping its promise.

13-Year Gilbert & Sullivan Project Begins

By George Wallace

Code name The Savoy Project.

Unlike the Manhattan Project, The Savoy Project has a more benign aim. More fully titled "The Savoy Project: or, Gilbert and Sullivan from A To Z," it is a gargantuan undertaking by the Gilbert & Sullivan Light Opera Company of Long Island. Their aim? No less than to put together a thirteen-year presentation of the complete works of Gilbert & Sullivan.

The effort represents a landmark in the history of the company in more ways than one. First off, when the cycle is completed in the year 2004, it will be the company's fiftieth anniversary. Then too, the numbers seem to be working in the group's favor. Numbers like new members; financial outlook; and number of bookings.

Add to that the individual developments—Ray Osnato, for example, who is the new musical director; or the Friends of Gilbert and Sullivan, their new support organization.

But bottom line, the thirteen-year effort is something rarely achieved by musical groups. Wagner may have his Bayreuth. And Mostly Mozart may have its day in the sun. But for Gilbert & Sullivan?

"Gilbert & Sullivan have a whole country devoted to their operas," said Mr. Osnato. But most companies, be they in England or the U.S., concentrate on the three most well known productions—Mikado, Pirates of Penzance, and H.M.S. Pinafore.

"The full cycle is more extensive than the Wagner Cycle," notes Osnato. As a result, he suggests, over a five year period many companies will opt to do each of those three, and then "fill in another two" from the Gilbert & Sullivan repertoire.

A sad problem for music lovers, as it turns out. To Gayden Wren, the company's executive director, the scope and diversity of the duo's work is such that the lesser known works are well-worth producing. "There are no dogs," Wren laughs. "Not much let down in quality."

For those who think of Gilbert & Sullivan works as merely an essay in tuneful melodies and slapstick, the cycle should prove surprising. "Sullivan was a superb master of form," notes Osnato. "Sure, there are music hall tunes—but they're interspersed with extraordinarily complex ensemble numbers." Adds Wren; "Pirates may have its keystone cops, but a play like Princess Ida is very intense stuff, full of matters of life and death, feminism and more."

That's not all, he adds. In Grand Opera, "you can be a terrible actor, can't dance, be incredibly dumb—but if you have a voice from God, you can do grand opera." By contrast, Wren says, in Gilbert & Sullivan works the artist has to be able to sing, act, dance, and "be smart enough to understand how all that works together."

The Savoy Project begins in 1992 with the Company's premiere production of Princess Ida, followed by Iolanthe (1993); The Sorcerer (1994); and H.M.S. Pinafore (1995).

In 1996, the company continues with its first ever production of The Grand Duke, in observation of the 1896 opera's centennial. Trial By Jury will be produced in 1997, to be followed in '98 by the Company's premiere production of the Yeomen of the Guard. The five last productions are Pirates of Penzance ('99), The Gondoliers (2000), Rudigore (2001) Utopia Ltd. (2002), Patience (2003); and in 2004, The Mikado (the show which was, in 1954, the company's first production).

It all starts on January 19, 1992, when their first performance of the season takes place at the North Shore Jewish Center. From there? Call the company at 747-2553.

'Three Acts Of Murder' Returns To Arena's

Second Stage Theatre. They're one-act mysteries by Henry Slesar, and they're running through Nov. 3 at Arena's theatre in East Farmingdale. Slesar is known as a successful writer of novels, short stories and television plays. Performances are Thursday through Sunday, and tickets run from $10 to $15. Call 293-0674 for reservations or further information.

25 Years Of Artwork On Display At C.W. Post

Brookville, NY—Artist Nancy Grossman's continuing interest in the state of humanity is explored through an exhibit of 25 years' worth of her collages, constructions, drawings and sculptures on display at the Hillwood Art Museum.

The retrospective, entitled "Nancy Grossman: 25 Years," opened Friday, Sept. 27 and runs through Sunday, Nov. 10 at the Hillwood Art Museum located on the C.W. Post Campus of Long Island University. On display are some never-before-seen works demonstrating Grossman's continuing exploration of the human anatomy. Included are large, complex pieces from the 1960s and a number of powerfully conceived drawings. A selection of her evocative leather-covered head sculptures will be the feature of this exhibition.

Accompanying this display will be a catalogue-monograph, published by Hillwood Art Museum, with an extensive, interpretive essay by noted critic and art historian Arlene Raven, who also serves as curator. In her essay, Raven said, "Grossman emphasizes a human type, rather than particular individual, and displays a curious universalizing stretch between extreme abstraction and extreme realism. The generic character of Grossman's forms render them every/body (sic)."

A reception for the artist will be held on Saturday, Oct. 19 from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Sculpture Center in New York City, which is also hosting "Nancy Grossman: Collages, Constructions, Drawings, Sculptures 1965-1990." Later in the day, from 4 to 6 p.m., another reception in Grossman's honor will be held at Hillwood Art Museum. Reservations for the shuttle bus between the Sculpture Center and Hillwood Art Museum can be made by calling Margaret Kerswill at (516) 299-2788.

In conjunction with the exhibition, a video-taping of a conversation between Nancy Grossman and Arlene Raven will take place at Hillwood Art Museum on Wednesday, Oct. 2 at noon. The public is invited to attend free of charge.

Nancy Grossman is a resident of Manhattan.

The Museum is open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. Admission is free. For further information call the Hillwood Art Museum at (516) 299-2788 or the C.W. Post Public Relations Office at (516) 299-2334.

THE STATE OF HUMANITY: On display at C.W. Post; seen through the eyes of artist Nancy Grossman.

Long Island To Host National Antique Show

The First Annual LINY National Antique Show and Sale will be presented at the Nassau Coliseum opening Oct. 11 and running through Oct. 13. There will be more than 200 booths of national and international exhibitors from 25 states, England and Canada, many for the first time in New York. The show will feature more than $6 million of quality antiques and collectibles for the discerning buyer.

Unlike most antique shows held recently at the Nassau Coliseum, the First Annual LINY National Antique Show will offer thousands of rare and unique upscaled antique items. The show is truly a decorator's delight, set up with room settings of 18th, 19th and 20th century furniture, oil paintings, art glass, Tiffany, Handel and Pair-point lamps, art deco, art pottery, American and English silver, Royal Doulton, posters and prints, oriental objects D'Art, Hummels, watches, wicker, pre-Columbian artifacts, antique and estate jewelry, bronzes, American brilliant cut glass, militaria, steins, linen and lace, textiles, meissen, KPM, paperweights, toys, dolls and much, much more.

A special feature of the show will be a fabulous exhibit of Mel Fisher's "Treasures of the Atocha." Over $2 million in sunken treasures taken from the famed Spanish galleon found off the Florida keys. Two of the original divers will be on hand at the exhibit to answer questions and talk about that fantastic find, which includes emeralds, gold and silver coins, ingots of silver, bars of gold, pieces of eight, silver chalices and much more.

If you are a dealer, or a collector, or a decorator, or just an antique lover, the LINY National Antique Show and Sale is not to be missed. Show hours are Friday and Saturday, Oct. 11-12, noon till 9 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 13, noon till 6 p.m. The Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum is located on Hempstead Turnpike in Uniondale, adjacent to the Meadowbrook State Parkway. Admission is $5, good for the run of the show. Children under 10 are free. There is plenty of easy parking and food is available at the show. For further information, contact Bud Maron, (516) 822-2372.

Nassau Symphony Announced 1991-1992 Concert Season

The Nassau Symphony Orchestra, under Music Director Andrew Schenck, presents the opening night concert of its 1991-1992 season (the Orchestra's 35th) on Saturday, October 12, 1991, at 8 p.m. at Hofstra University's John Cranford Adams Playhouse. The program features superb Pianist Gustavo Romero performing Rachmaninoff's Piano Concerto No. 2 in C minor. The orchestra will also perform Mozart's Symphony No. 36 in C Major (the "Linz") and American composer Ellen Taaffe Zwilich's "Celebration."

Gustavo Romero has been acclaimed by critics for his technical brilliance and his insightful interpretations both as recitalist and orchestral soloist across the United States and in Europe. He is a recipient of the 1983 Avery Fisher Young Artists Career Grant, and is a past winner of the Gina Bachauer Memorial Competition at Juilliard. In recognition of his talents, Mr. Romero was designated as one of Musical America's "Young Artists of 1988." A resident of New York, Mr. Romero is a graduate of the Juilliard School.

UNTIL WE FIND A CURE, THIS IS THE BEST MEDICINE.

You know what they say about laughter. About sunshine. And about love.

Thousands of children with neuromuscular diseases know, too — thanks to special summer camps sponsored by the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Each summer, MDA camps provide a special outdoor world-without-barriers to children disabled by neuromuscular disorders. Despite leg braces and wheelchairs, these children swim and fish. They go boating. They horseback ride. They have cookouts and crafts. And each youngster shares a special friendship with a volunteer counselor who works one-on-one with the child.

Summer camps are just one way MDA serves patients with neuromuscular diseases. The Association also maintains some 230 clinics around the country to provide essential services like diagnosis, medical follow-up, physical therapy and counseling. And MDA provides orthopedic equipment and other aids for daily living, all free of charge to the patient and his family.

MDA receives no government grants or fees for services — its programs are funded entirely by private donations. For thousands of patients with neuromuscular diseases, you can be the best medicine. Please send a tax-deductible contribution today.

Physical Exams Required To Participate In Interscholastic Sports

The Hicksville Physical Education Department, in conjunction with the Department of Pupil Personnel Services, is continuing the System For Sports Physicals that was started last year.

They will be offering only one day for sports physical examinations in each secondary school this year. If students anticipate trying out for or playing on any team, including next fall, 1992, they must be examined by a doctor this month on the designated day.

Failure to do so will require them to obtain an examination from their own physical at their own expense.

The examinations are scheduled for Saturdays. If interested people can not attend because of religious belief, they can call Pupil Personnel Services for alternate arrangements.

Applicants must present a parent consent form that is signed by a parent and return it to be processed on the designated day of the examination. No one will be examined without a signed permission form.

For the high school, the physical exams will take place in the Old Gymnasium on Sat., Oct. 12. For present varsity football players, grades 9-12 the exam time is from 8:30-9:30 a.m., for girls only, including cheerleaders and Kick, exam time is 9:30-11:30 a.m. and for boys only from 12:15-3 p.m.

Middle School students can receive physical exams on Sat., Oct. 19 at the Small Gymnasium. Girls only can be examined from 8:30-11:30 a.m. and boys from 12:15-3 p.m.

Any student who wears glasses for any reason must bring his/her glasses to the examination. Any student having an examination by their own physician must have that physician complete the medical form which may be picked up at the Nurse's Office.

Remember, no student will be permitted to engage in interscholastic sports without undergoing a physical exam.

TWO CYCLISTS race for the "prems" offered at the OFMM Cycling Classic. The first person in each round of the race receives a prize offered by a local sponsor. Bill Bauer Race Director of the OFMMCC is giving a free Bicycle Safety Clinic co-sponsored by the Town of Oyster Bay.

Hicksville American Soccer Club

Major Division Game 3 Knights 4 - Demolition 2

A great game for both sides. Chris Alcantara opened the scoring on a pass from Timmy Moffett. Jimmy Powderly scored two goals, one on an indirect kick and one on a penalty shot. Chris Alcantara closed the scoring by netting a corner kick.

Danny Carsten played great in goal making numerous saves. The defense was led by Chris Aritbee, John Sazakilis, Jason Berg and William Sanchez, who all played a dominating game. Andrew Jolly, Johnny Sazakilis and Bryan Berg also played well.

Coaches, please call your summaries by Monday night at the latest.

A Special Note

A sad note goes out to Wendy Myron whose mother passed away Sept. 27th. Wendy does the summaries every week. Perhaps that's why no other scores were reported. Come back soon, Wendy—the coaches, players and parents miss you and their hearts go out to you.

Hicksville Soccer's Dinner And Dance

On Saturday evening, Nov. 2, from 8 p.m.-midnight, the Hicksville Soccer's Annual Dinner Dance will be held at the Hicksville Nights of Columbus.

Dance to the music of the 50's and 60's as well as today's dance music. There will also be a hot and cold buffet along with beer and wine.

For dance tickets, please check with your coaches, or call Dean Camarines at 931-8610. Table reservations will be accepted. Last year's dance was very successful, help make this one just as successful and better.

Hofstra To Build Athletic Field House

Hofstra University President James M. Stuart announced last week that a new state-of-the-art field house to be constructed on the Hofstra campus will be named after Joseph M. Margiotta, who received his bachelor's degree from Hofstra in 1950.

"Joseph Margiotta has dedicated four unselfish decades to insuring ongoing support for our student athletes. He is a founding member of the Hofstra Pride Club, a volunteer alumni group that has added measurably to the success of Hofstra athletics. It is with great pride that we dedicate Joseph M. Margiotta Hall to a loyal Hofstra alumnus who has given so much to Hofstra University and to our students," said President Stuart.

A Spring 1992 completion date is scheduled for Joseph M. Margiotta Hall, a complete facility for Hofstra's football and lacrosse teams. The three story $3.5 million 22,500 square foot building will include a 3,500 square foot weight room, exercise and therapy rooms, offices, meeting rooms, lockers, showers and storage space.

A six-term New York State Assemblyman, Joseph Margiotta was first elected to the State Legislature in 1965 where he was ranking minority member of the Assembly Committee on Education. He was named Chairman of the Nassau County Republican Committee in 1968 and held that position until 1982.

A former trustee of Hofstra University and board chairman of the university's Alumni Association, Mr. Margiotta was named "Outstanding Alumnus of the Year" by the Hofstra Alumni Association in 1966. He presently serves as president of the Hofstra Pride Club, an association of Hofstra alumni dedicated to the support of Hofstra athletics.

Hofstra is planning a gala dinner in honor of Joseph Margiotta to be held on June 11, 1992 at the Crest Hollow Country Club in Woodbury to coincide with the dedication of Joseph M. Margiotta Hall.

For further information call 516-463-6818.

Bike Safety Clinics In Town Parks

A free bicycle safety clinic geared for cyclists of all ages and abilities will be conducted on Saturday, Oct. 12, in Massapequa and Bethpage sponsored by the Town of Oyster Bay and the Eighth Annual Marine Midland Oyster Festival Cycling Classic.

The clinics, themed "Learn from the Pros" will feature leading professional and amateur cyclists that are entered in the Marine Midland Bank Oyster Festival Cycling Classic to be held in Oyster Bay on Saturday, October 20.

Sites for the free clinics are Marjorie Post Community Park in Massapequa from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and Bethpage Community Park in Bethpage from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. In the event of rain, the clinics will be held on Sunday, Oct. 13.

The clinic is designed to provide leisure cyclists with tips to help them enjoy the wonderful scenic roadways offered by the Town of Oyster Bay and how to prepare for racing for those who aspire for more competitive activities.

Among the topics to be covered are how to buy a bicycle; proper maintenance of equipment and how to improve your riding skills. First-hand advice will be offered by top professional and amateur cyclists who have competed on the international level.

All participants will receive a prize and will be eligible for a free raffle drawing. One winner at each park will receive a Bell cycling safety helmet.

Golfers Tee Off For Girl Scouts

More than 125 golfers from all over the tri-state area continued their support for Girl Scouts of Nassau County by participating in the Seventh Annual "Go for the Green" Golf Classic. Held at the Brookville Country Club, the Golf Classic provided a full day of fun, good food and golf while raising funds for 20,000 girls and young women served by Girl Scouts of Nassau County.

Bicycle Safety Clinics

The clinics were made possible by the Town of Oyster Bay Department of Parks responding to the concerns of bicycle safety expressed by Town Supervisor Angelo A. Delligatti. BMW Suffolk County Motorcycles and the F&M Cycling Company, both of Huntington, are participating sponsors.

"Bicycling has become a very popular leisure activity for the fitness minded and is also one of the best ways to enjoy the beauty of Oyster Bay," Supervisor Delligatti said. "Anyone who enjoys riding along our magnificent beaches of our North Shore scenic roadways by bicycle will benefit from these clinics."

Herb Machol, of Syosset, Race Promoter, of the Marine Midland Oyster Festival Cycling Classic, and Bill Bauer, of Bayville, the Classic's Race Director, will coordinate the clinics. Bauer, President of the OBSC Carl Hart Cycling Club, recently won three gold medals at the Empire State Games.

He won the NYS Road championship for Master-Vets for the fifth time: 1987-91. Bill also took home two gold medals at the recent Empire State Game held in Albany in the Masters Division in cycling—winning Road and Criterium events. Bill is a respected coach who works closely with his team members during their races.

For further information and registration forms, call the Town of Oyster Bay Department of Parks at (516) 795-1000 or Herb Machol, Race Promoter and Clinic Coordinator at (516) 922-2100.

Funds from the Golf Classic provide the opportunities and experiences needed for today's girls and young women to grow and develop into mature, responsible members of their communities and to achieve success as tomorrow's leaders.

For more information about Girl Scouting, call Girl Scouts of Nassau County at 741-2550.

A SPECIAL SUPPLEMENT TO LONG ISLAND COMMUNITY NEWSPAPERS

Choice, Comfort And Convenience

It is widely agreed that choice will assume unprecedented importance in the '90s, and that comfort, convenience and affordability head the list of priorities for today's discriminating furniture shopper.

Expressions Custom Furniture, founded in 1978, is catering to just this shopper with its own successful formula for retailing furniture. A leading national chain, Expressions has opened its 52nd store at 680 Stewart Avenue in Garden City.

Offering more than 150 styles and 600 up-to-date fabrics that are unique to Expressions, the chain has been a major hit among women and men who are excited by the ease, efficiency and value of shopping at Expressions.

According to co-owners, Marc Weintraub and Lesley Goldberg, "today's consumers have discriminating tastes and enough confidence in their decorating abilities to play an active role in the design of their

Expressions in Garden City is packed with excitement, carrying a range of vignettes reflecting current and future home furnishing trends. For instance, a customer might walk into the new 4,000 square foot store and be drawn to displays along the

"Expressions Garden City is one of the only design-retail oriented stores that specializes in custom furniture," said Lesley Goldberg. "We choose an upscale neighborhood so we can meet the growing need for high-style, unique and yet affordable home furnishings on Long Island."

Expressions Custom Furniture is open seven days a week. Store charge cards are available subject to credit approval. The store is located at 680 Stewart Avenue in Garden City (Call 222-6020 for information).

Your Dream House, Only Smaller

Okay, so maybe that dream of living in the expansive, yet charming French Country House has to be postponed a few more decades. But, living with such a home is possible today.

This splendid miniature house was inspired by the great manor farmhouses of Il-de-France. The time period is the late-Seventeenth/early-Eighteenth century. The detail is elegant and authentic, complete with oeil-de-boeuf dormers. The much requested large rooms are perfect for an elegant yet casual country decor either of the period or a contemporary treatment. There is a broad forecourt, perfect for a party. The windows and doors were designed for this house and are beautifully crafted. Even the slight curve of the roof line has been retained.

Find the dollhouse of your dreams at the Magic of Miniatures, 209 Middle Neck Road, Great Neck, or call 829-MINI.

For years, people have been arguing over what's the best way to heat a home: gas or oil. According to LILCO, the more than 10,000 residential and commercial customers who decided last year to switch from oil to natural gas have stopped arguing. And, LILCO officials say, these are some of the reasons:

- Price: Today's gas prices are more than 20 percent cheaper than oil. LILCO has the lowest gas rates among area utilities at a time when Long Islanders pay the highest oil prices in the metropolitan area.
- Cleanliness: Natural gas burns cleaner than fuel oil, leaving no residue in a heating system or home. And burning natural gas means less pollution in the environment.

- Convenience: Natural gas is piped directly into a house so it's always there when it's needed and it's not paid for until it's used.

- Safety: Statistics indicate that there have been more deaths, injuries and property losses in fuel-oil related accidents.

Switching to natural gas also seems to be the trend nationwide these days, LILCO reports.

For instance, more than 200,000 homeowners converted to natural gas from other fuels last year, the American Gas Association, an industry trade group, said.

And, according to the latest government statistics, the number of new single-family homes using natural gas as a fuel for heating and other purposes has jumped from 59 percent from 43 percent of the total number of new homes constructed since 1985.

To meet the growing need, LILCO is expanding its gas heating business. LILCO is a partner in two major natural gas pipeline transmission projects, that when completed, will provide the utility with a sufficient and steady supply of gas for more than 80,000 customers on Long Island. These projects will permit LILCO to tap new markets on the east end of Long Island, especially west of Riverhead, and also enhance the reliability of its gas transmission system in Nassau County.

For additional information, call LILCO's gas heat hotline at 800-GAS-2001.

There's a new kid on the block.

In the interior design business, that is.

Dynamic Dimensions founder Jeffrey Feldstein uses the term to show his clients that all of his ideas and designs have a new and exciting approach that is applied to each and every project that the firm undertakes.

Feldstein's background lies in spacial planning, the way in which people interact within a space. He received his schooling in interior design and spacial planning at the University of Bridgeport and Pratt Institute. He specializes in residential and commercial spaces and believes that a design does not have to be "overworked." According to Feldstein, it can be resolved by using simplicity that will emanate the feeling of openness.

Jeffrey Feldstein believes that no matter how small or oddly shaped the space is, there are solutions that will fit the needs of every consumer. Dynamic Dimensions continuously uses all of the resources available to it such as mica laminates and solid woods and the more sophisticated veneers, metals, exotic woods, faux finishes, marbles and granites.

"Our design capabilities vary greatly from the ornate, traditional style expressing the beauty in the wood in handcrafted furniture of the more streamlined contemporary style," Feldstein said.

Feldstein allows each and every design to reflect the style of the client. He feels that by doing this, no two designs will ever resemble each other and each style will portray a uniqueness of its own. This uniqueness can be expressed in all rooms such as kitchens, bedrooms, bathrooms, living rooms, dining rooms and media systems.

Whether the budget is "the sky's the limit" or stringently dictated, Dynamic Dimensions strives to suit all the needs of the homeowner. It can be as simple as new cabinetry in the bathroom or a more complex project such as additions to an existing home, gutting an entire house or constructing new rooms from old spaces.

Dynamic Dimensions offers everything to the client: wall coverings, floor coverings, window treatments, fabric textures, hardware, floral creations and custom artwork that will fit the color scheme the client is working with. In addition to these services, Dynamic Dimensions also offers a turn-key approach.

"This policy allows us to design your home from start to finish. We place all of the furnishings, the appliances, the flatware, the linens, accessories such as plants, vases, statues and other decorative items. This alleviates all of the running around when the job is completed," said Feldstein. "As we walk out of the door and turn the key over to the homeowner, the job is complete. The client just has to move their clothing into the closets and start enjoying their new home or apartment."
