Emotions Rise At Oyster Bay Public Hearing

By Victor Caputo

Emotions ran high at the Town of Oyster Bay public hearing on the budget as residents asked for further tax cuts to the "already reduced package."

"I am fighting for survival," said Joseph Van Bercklaer, of Hicksville about ever increasing taxes. "What scares me is that the Town of Oyster Bay, the Hicksville School Board and Nassau County literally own my house. I pay rent in the form of property tax. If I run into a financial problem and can't pay my taxes, they can take my house from me," he added.

Another resident asked the town board if anything else could be cut to further reduce the budget while another resident argued that town jobs could be eliminated to lower spending.

"Cut taxes and cut them and cut them and cut them, this penny causing of taxes is not going to get us anywhere," said John Peterl. He said that he would sell the beaches and the parks because "they would probably be run better by private enterprise."

Human Service Expo At Mall

Human Services Expo Attracts Over 100,000 Long Islanders

By Victor Caputo

Hicksville's own Broadway Mall recently played host to the United Day of Caring, sponsored by the United Way of Long Island and Entenmann's Bakery.

Over 100 human service agencies were on display throughout the mall to give people a better understanding and a stronger sense of what the United Way is all about.

"About 100,000 people attended the day's activities," said John Renhart, Senior Vice President of Marketing and Communications for the United Way.

"The purpose of the United Day of Caring is to heighten awareness to the public about the many human services that are out there. The day was a tremendous success. An awful lot of people from all over Long Island came out to the mall to see what United Way is all about," said Renhart.

Tom McCarthy, manager of the Broadway Mall, said that he was happy to host the United Day of Caring. He felt that the event was beneficial to the community and he would be happy to have the United Way come back again.

Besides the many tables of information of human service programs, two local radio sta-

Residents Concerned About Redistricting

By Victor Caputo

At the recent Hicksville School Board meeting residents continued to question the board's hiring of consultants to advise them on what schools, if any, should and could be closed.

Residents asked if the consultants can prepare, in tandem with the report on school closings, a report stating where the children whose school has been closed will go.

"We saw people go through horror last year because their kids were being shipped across town," said one resident.

"Children are not just desks and chairs that can be shuffled around. As the consultants make the decision on the schools, the placement of the children should also be part of that decision," said another resident.

The question was raised about the children who were moved from the recently closed Willet Ave. school to Woodland.

Residents were curious if those students might have to be moved again. "It was my understanding as a trustee last year that the children will be moved once," said School Board President Carole Wolf. "Those children were moved once and will only be moved once," said Trustee Richard Pfaender.

Residents also asked if the Willet Ave. school will be part of a redistricting study. Currently the Willet school is being rented out to North Shore University Hospital.

The school board told residents that they will know where the children will be moved if it is decided on to close a school. The board also stressed that schools might not have to be closed. They said that the decision to close a school will only be made after hearing the consultants' report, which might not recommend that a school should be closed. The board also stressed that the decision to close a school will rest with them.

Some residents did voice their dissatisfaction with school redistricting, while others want the redistricting, if there is going to be one, to run smoothly and residents to be kept informed.

The recent tax increase that was added to homeowners was brought up at the meeting. The school attorney said the decision to implement that tax increase has been remanded back to the local court.

The five percent tax reduction to senior citizens, however, has gone into effect. The school board approved the recently enacted Section 467 of Chapter 611 of the Laws of 1991, which extended the senior's real property tax exemption at a reduced rate for those senior citizens with incomes more than $18,000 and less than $19,800.

In other news, Superintendent of Schools Salvatore Mugavero has approved the senior class trip that will be sending the students to

Washington D.C.

Mugavero has also directed Robert Kenny, Director of Physical Education and Health and District Activities to work with the Town of Oyster Bay in possibly finding places for kids to go instead of hanging out on the streets. "When I drive around on the weekends in Hicksville, I see a large number of students hanging around on corners with no place to go," he said. He wants to see if something can be done to change that.

The school board recognized Kenny for his outstanding service. He was recently selected as the recipient of the 1991 Amazing Physical Educator Award in the Nassau Zone of the New York State Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance.

Mugavero pointed out that Hicksville's Kickline team has been selected to compete

Four Choices For Supervisor's Seat

Incumbent Republican Angelo Delligatti is facing an experienced challenger in State Assemblyman Lewis Yevoli for the seat of Town of Oyster Bay Supervisor. Also seeking election to the post are Liberal candidate Aaron M. Schein and Right to Life candidate Daniel Sullivan.

Delligatti is seeking re-election to supervisor, a position he has held since 1978.

Delligatti counts among his successes turning the Town of Oyster Bay's recycling program (S.O.R.T.) into one of the best programs in the country. In his first year as supervisor, more than 72,000 households were brought into the S.O.R.T. program, saving taxpayers almost $5 million in avoided shipping cost.

Delligatti has resided in Massapequa for 36 years with his wife, Mary, and their two sons.

Delligatti has served on the Town of Oyster Bay Youth Board, has been a coach for the Massapequa Soccer Club, St. Rose of Lima and CYO. He is currently a member and past officer of the Columbus Lodge Order Sons of Italy in America and since 1979, has been an advocate for Our Lady of the Island Knights of Columbus.

He is a graduate of St. Lawrence University and St. John's Law School. Delligatti served as an Assistant Nassau County District Attorney, an Oyster Bay Town Councilman and Director of Legislative Affairs for Oyster Bay. He was also in the private practice of law for seven years.

Recently, Delligatti spearheaded the enactment of New York State's first Transportation Management Ordinance aimed at relieving traffic congestion on the public highway system and assisting major private sector employers within the town to comply with mandates imposed by the Clean Air Act Amendments.

We Endorse...

Perhaps more than any other outlet in the area, Anton Newspapers has given its readers the opportunity to read the major party candidates, on the major town races, discuss the issues. Through our Great Newspaper Debate, we have asked the questions we thought you wanted answered.

By allowing the candidates to respond in writing, we have given them the chance to present their arguments, not off-the-cuff, but in a considered and proper manner. The primary purpose of this effort was to give our readers an educated advantage when they enter the polling booths Nov. 5.

Since the candidates announced their intentions to seek election or re-election, we have been watching their activities, listening to their comments and evaluating their performances. We have tried, as we have said before, to keep "negative campaign tactics" off our pages—both in editorial and in advertising. With the latter, we have not always met cooperation, but we have been successful in the former.

On Nov. 5, it will be time for you to decide who has presented the best arguments, the most facts and the soundest proposals. On Nov. 5, you will vote for the people you believe are the most qualified to serve this town. That decision should be based on whoever has proven to be the best person, not who had the snappiest tag lines or the boldest bumper sticker.

There are those who argue that local newspapers should take a leadership role in local government by endorsing candidates. We, on the other hand, believe that our leadership role in this campaign is best fulfilled by presenting information, not opinion.

We take very seriously the concept of "one man, one vote" and believe that your individual opinion is as important as our collective one.

Therefore, we endorse you, the voter. We believe that your intelligent and informed opinion—as demonstrated by your actions in the polling booths Nov. 5—is what is needed to best serve this town.

We urge all of our readers and all residents to fulfill their leadership role by voting the issues next Tuesday.

Hicksville Youth Council Needs Residents Support

The Hicksville Youth Council has been providing positive concrete, structured programs to the Hicksville area since 1972.

Because of a cut in state aid, the Youth Council might have to start charging a nominal fee for some of the services they are currently offering for free.

A number of fund raising activities will be held throughout the upcoming year. The first will be a flea market at the Levittown Hall on Nov. 23 between the hours of 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. All the merchandise sold at the market will be new.

The Hicksville Youth Council is urging residents to call their local representatives and urge them to help restore the funding the council had lost and is preparing to lose again next year.

The Youth Council is also looking for volunteers and board members. If volunteers are not found to help organize and run the various activities, the Youth Council might have to reduce the number of activities offered.

Anyone interested in becoming a volunteer or board member can contact Tom Bruno at 822-KIDS.

Citrus Fruit
PTSA Fundraiser

There are only a few more days left to place an order with the Hicksville Middle School/High School PTSAs for their citrus fruit fundraiser. All orders must be received by Nov. 1.

Navel oranges, juice oranges and seedless rosy red grapefruit are being offered by the case or half-case. The fruit will arrive before Thanksgiving, fresh from Florida and will keep for up to two months.

Prices are as follows: Navel oranges are $19.50 per case and $12.50 per half-case; juice oranges are $15 per case and $10 per half-case and grapefruit are $16.50 per case and $11 per half-case.

All fruit must be picked up on Saturday, Nov. 16 from 1 p.m.-5 p.m. or Sunday, Nov. 17 from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Orders must be picked up on these two days because there are no storage facilities.

Those who wish to place an order can send a check (no cash), payable to the Hicksville Senior High School PTSAs to Eileen Hoffman, 62 Vincent Rd., Hicksville, NY 11801.

Further information can be obtained by calling 681-4775.

LI Job Bank
At The Library

The Hicksville Public Library is now receiving current job listings on microfiche from the State Department of Labor.

The Long Island Job Bank lists a great variety of jobs along with employment qualifications, salary and location. To utilize this valuable service, after viewing on the microfiche reader/printers, job hunters can copy information on jobs interesting to them and bring this to the Job Service Center, Old Country Rd., Hicksville.

After a brief interview, the center contacts the prospective employer and sets up an interview. The library is located at 169 Jerusalem Ave.

Free, confidential career counseling is available at the Hicksville Public Library. If residents want to update their resume or reenter the job market, the counselor can help. Call 931-1417 for an appointment.

New Drive-Thru Gets Locals' OK

Developer Agrees To Work With Local Residents

By Victor Caputo

After a fourth meeting, residents surrounding the lot on the corner of Tobias and Jerusalem Ave. have agreed to work with Herbil Holding Co., which wants to construct a Dairy Barn drive-thru type establishment on the site.

Attorney Bill Cone, representing Herbil Holding Co., recently attended a community meeting organized by the South Hicksville Civic Association and Assemblyman Fred Parola's office and explained to residents why they need the permit for the drive-thru. "Whenever you have a drive-thru, you have to go before the town board and get permission to operate it," said Cone.

He told residents that his client wants to work with the community to build a store that will not be an eyesore to nearby residents.

At the first few meetings, residents argued that they did not want to see the lot behind where the drive-thru would be built used for additional parking. Their fear was that if the drive-thru failed, that additional parking would open the door to a bigger, less desirable type establishment to move in.

There is a separate appeal filed by Herbil Holding to turn the empty lot, which is currently zoned residential, into additional parking spaces. "If it isn't used for parking, we do not want to own it. We would give it to the county and let them be responsible for it," said Cone. "There is no way of controlling the future of the property if it goes up for taxes," said Jim Murphy, a representative from Assemblyman Fred Parola's office.

Understanding residents' fears, Cone said that his client would sign an agreement with the community that would turn the lot back into residential property to avoid a store residents do not desire from moving in.

"If the dairy ceases to operate, the land goes back to how it originally was," he said.

RESIDENTS WILL WELCOME a Dairy Barn type establishment on the site where an old deserted Carvel now stands as long as there are special restrictions placed on the site.

Cone said that if his client and the residents agree on certain conditions for the establishment, those conditions would be entered as restrictive covenants. "Those conditions could not be changed without the consent of the town board," he said.

Most of the residents who attended the meeting were in favor of working with the developer in building a store that would not detract from the community. "I don't think there is any beauty in the area now," said a resident. "It is an eyesore, it has been since the Carvel closed down," said another resident in agreement of constructing the drive-thru.

Other residents expressed concern that an increase in traffic because of the drive-thru would increase accidents and injuries on the already busy Jerusalem Ave.

Murphy requested information on the number of accidents and fatalities in the area from the police department and found an average of 12 or 13 accidents per year further down on Jerusalem Ave. There has been one fatality in the last five years near the area.

After further discussion, it was decided that the slot that would allow traffic to enter onto Tobias St. be left there so that all cars coming out of the drive-thru do not have to exit onto Jerusalem Ave. A sign would be requested for the area that would read "no right turns."

Residents are requesting that a sign that will not be an eyesore to the community be

Ridgewood Acquires Beacon Bank

Ridgewood Savings Bank recently acquired the deposits and certain assets of Beacon Federal Savings Association branch offices in Hicksville, Bellmore and South Baldwin.

The branches were acquired by Ridgewood Savings Bank from North Side Savings Bank, upon their transfer from the Resolution Trust Corporation which had taken over the management of Beacon Federal last March.

The new branches in Nassau will bring Ridgewood Savings Bank an additional 22,000 new depositors and an additional $115 million in deposits. There are now 14 Ridgewood branch offices in Nassau County, Queens and Brooklyn which equals about $1.4 billion in assets.

"This acquisition was undertaken to broaden Ridgewood Savings Bank's depositor base and to provide the services of a mutual savings bank, including mortgage and consumer loans, to residents in the communities where these branches are located. It further strengthens our branching franchise by providing depositors more locations to their banking," said Ridgewood President and CEO William A. McKenna Jr.

"We welcome our new depositors, who will be able to continue banking at these former Beacon Federal branches. We wish to reassure them that their funds are safe, protected up to $100,000 by the Bank Insurance Fund of the FDIC and the substantial resources of the Ridgewood Savings Bank, one of the most heavily capitalized mutual savings banks in the nation," he added.

Ridgewood will continue to pay the contract interest rate until scheduled maturity on time deposit accounts that were opened at the old Beacon Federal Branches for those depositors who enter into a new deposit agreement with Ridgewood.

Under the rules of Resolution Trust Corporation, all contracts between the acquired bank and its customers are subject to termination and the acquiring bank is not obligated to offer the existing interest rates for longer than 14 days beyond the day of transfer.

The Ridgewood acquisition will enable former Beacon Federal depositors to purchase savings bank life insurance from Ridgewood, which is one of the leading underwriters of SBLI in New York State.

Bank hours will not be changed and all bank employees will be retained.

THE MANAGERS OF Ridgewood Savings Bank's three new branches in Nassau County (l-r), Kathryn Janson of the Baldwin Harbor office, Louis Celenza of the Hicksville office and Ruth Messina of the Bellmore Office and William McKenna, Jr. President and CEO of Ridgewood.

Arthritis Treatment - A Comprehensive Approach Part III - Arthritis and Nutrition

Nutritional manipulation has been of interest in the treatment of rheumatic illnesses for a period of time. However, recent scientific research has given us some very interesting clues in how this manipulation may be applied to the future treatment of some forms of arthritis.

Prior articles have discussed the rheumatologist's central role in establishing a treatment program based on an individual's arthritis diagnosis. Included in this program will be certain medications and exercises designed to reduce joint inflammation and joint stress. The evaluation may also include an assessment of an individual's nutritional status.

Certain nutritional facts are known about rheumatic illnesses. Vitamin C is important in the synthesis of collagen (a protein contained in joints), and a severe lack of vitamin C can result in a specific type of arthritis (scurvy). Patients with chronic arthritis can develop protein deficiency, and may need supplemental foods. One recent study has suggested a food allergy may contribute to an individual's arthritis. When the arthritis involves weight bearing joints, such as the hips or knees, a gradual weight reduction program may be indicated.

Arthritis is due to joint inflammation. Medications used to treat arthritis attempt to control the body's inflammatory response, thereby reducing inflammation. Recent studies in animals have shown that diets rich in certain fish oils have been able to modify this inflammatory response, and retard the progression of some forms of arthritis.

The diagnosis and treatment of arthritis is complex. No one therapy is right for everyone. The rheumatologist attempts to combine the various techniques of medication, exercise, diet and education to treat an individual's arthritis.

Holy Family Students Visit Coast Guard Station

The fifth and sixth grade students of Holy Family School went to the Coast Guard Station where they did oceanography experiments without disturbing nature.

Specimens of plankton (small organisms, both plant and animal that drift with the sea tides) were collected by net and were returned to the ocean after examination.

Using plaster of paris, the students made sand molds of shells; fauna and flora were also collected during nature walks in the area.

With over 70 percent of the earth covered with ocean, the children were seeking the knowledge of the various kinds of plant and animal life there.

Their direct inspection of collected evidence enabled them to analyze their findings. Our oceanographers discovered new and interesting things about the ocean. Among the topics studied by students in oceanography were waves and tides, minerals found in the ocean, marine organisms and environmental conditions. The students enjoyed the field trip and learned a lot about the water surrounding them.

Johnny Appleseed's Birthday

The students wrote original tall tales about Johnny Appleseed's adventures. A cookbook of recipes was compiled with the help of parents.

Johnny Appleseed's birthday turned out to be an exciting, educational time had by all the students and teachers who participated.

Good government does make a difference

This is the final installment of "The Great Newspaper Debate." We posed some tough questions to the major party candidates in the Town race. Their answers have appeared here weekly.

OYSTER BAY TOWN COUNCIL

Q: What is the single best attribute you will bring to the town council?

Robert Aliano (D)

The single best attribute I will bring to the Town Board is my independence. I will not tow a party line and I will not be a rubber stamp for the supervisor. I will voice my opinion for the positions I advocate. I will actively debate the issues and encourage the citizens of our town to do the same. Independence is a word foreign to the present Town Board.

Barbara Amster (D)

The single best attribute I will bring to the Town Board is creativity. As an early childhood educator and advocate, I have learned to deal with the difficult problems through creativity. I am a good listener and a good researcher, which, when combined with my creativity, will help me to solve the problems that face the township. I will be able to come up with new ideas and innovative solutions that will benefit all of Oyster Bay.

Thomas Clark (R)

I think experience is my single best attribute. I have served as an Oyster Bay Town Councilman since January 1976 and, in that time, I have come to know the town, and more importantly, the people. I know what town residents want and believe I have been a faithful advocate for their best interests. The saying that there is no substitute for experience could not ring more true than it does in this election, because now, more than ever, the people need experienced leadership to meet the challenges facing us in the years ahead.

Frank Goban (D)

I will bring to the Town of Oyster Bay my vast experience in plastic and general recycling, coupled with my excellent communicative skills. These skills have been honed and tempered by diversified business experience and have been sustained by a committed and dedicated work ethic.

Leonard Kunzig (R)

My desire to serve is probably the single best attribute I bring to my position as Oyster Bay Town Councilman. Public service has long been a dream of mine, and becoming town councilman was to see that dream come true. I believe public service is one of the highest callings a person can answer and I feel privileged to be able to serve the residents of Oyster Bay. I have done and will continue to do everything in my power to see that their trust in me is justified.

Ann Ocker (R)

As a lifelong resident of the Town of Oyster Bay, I have a deep concern for this town and its residents. That concern is the single best attribute I will bring to my role as Oyster Bay Town Councilwoman. I have made it my business to be accessible to my constituents and give them the attention they deserve from their elected officials. I feel any situation or issue which concerns a resident, be it a request for a stop sign on a neighborhood street or a proposal for an office building in their community, is my concern, too.

VOTE '91

Q: During the past five weeks, you and your opponent have debated your respective cases regarding election as the town's supervisor before our readers. Now, just days before the voters will make their decisions in the polling booths, what are your closing arguments? In addition to what you have previously stated on these pages, why should the voters choose you?

SUPERVISOR — TOWN OF OYSTER BAY

Angelo Delligatti (R)

My campaign slogan has been "The Delligatti Difference," and I think that sums up why voters should elect me. There are important differences in philosophy between me and my opponent, and I believe my philosophy is what will best serve the residents of the Town of Oyster Bay as we face the challenges of the 90s and beyond.

Let's start by taking a look at my record. Since I took office as Town Supervisor in January, 1988, the Town has saved 7 million tax dollars through Long Island's best recycling program, resulting in a reduction in the solid waste disposal tax for four years running. Through conservative fiscal management, overall Town taxes have been cut to below 1989 levels. Our fiscal policies have earned the Town an A-1 Wall Street credit rating, the best there is. When municipalities across Long Island and throughout the state are dipping with red ink, the Town of Oyster Bay is solidly in the black.

Now, let's take a look at Assemblyman Yevoli's record. The State of New York is facing a $6.5 billion deficit. Spending has increased by $3.5 billion and taxes by $1.3 billion this year alone. Aid to Long Island schools was cut by $240 million, with the Town of Oyster Bay getting a proportionately larger cut than the rest of the state. State aid to the Town of Oyster Bay was also cut by $8 million. I can only ask, where was the Assemblyman while the state was financially going down the drain.

Leadership and initiative are another area where there is a difference. I have introduced planning policies to protect the Town's environmental and economic base. I have expanded services to Town residents, and eliminated duplication of many Town/Village government duties. I also proposed New York State's first Transportation Management Ordinance, which is aimed at relieving congestion on the public highway system as well as assisting major private sector employers within the Town to comply with mandates imposed on them by the 1990 federal Clean Air Act Amendments. Most recently, I hosted a symposium for businesses in the Town to help them get started on their own in-house recycling programs.

My opponent's record of leadership and initiative leave much to be desired. After 17 years in the State Assembly, he hasn't become known for advocating anything. He has tacked his name onto many bills, but, with all of our state's problems, he is never looked to for solutions. He opposes everything, but proposes nothing. As a matter of fact, the Assemblyman's biggest claim to fame in the Assembly is his voting record, where he has voted with the Governor and the democrat Assembly leadership 97 percent of the time. And one only needs to look at the fiscal problems facing New York State to see where that has gotten us.

Oyster Bay residents need a leader who is looking out for their best interests. My opponent has publicly stated that he is running to get patronage and help the Democrats gain control of the Nassau County Board of Supervisors. I became Supervisor because I care about this Town and its people. I believe I have made a difference by providing the responsive, fiscally responsible and concerned leadership this Town needs to remain a great place to live, work, play and stay.

Rebuttal To Last Week's Question: Reading my opponent's statement, it is refreshing to see a Democrat who believes that multi-family housing does not belong in the Town of Oyster Bay. Unfortunately, he went on to misrepresent the property tax situation. Under my leadership as Supervisor, the town has charted a fiscally conservative course, which has resulted in a decrease in overall Town taxes to below 1989 levels. The solid waste disposal tax has been reduced four years in a row because of the aggressive recycling program I instituted, which has also resulted in a savings of 7 million tax dollars in the last three years. With the financial straits the state is in, it isn't surprising that my opponent is trying to skew the facts about Oyster Bay to take the focus away from his record.

Lewis Yevoli (D)

Nassau County residents are paying the highest real estate property taxes in the country and the highest sales tax in New York State. We have reached a point where our senior citizens can't afford to stay here and our children can't afford to live here. Yet my opponent and the elected officials in his party, a party that has controlled everything in Nassau County for almost 100 years point the finger of blame at everyone but themselves.

Approximately 48 cents out of every one of our property tax dollars goes to the town and county. During the last five years my opponent voted for town and county property tax increases that now cost the average homeowner $402.20 more per year. Last September he voted to increase the county's sales tax again, to its highest rate in our history—8½ cents. Nevertheless, if you read his deceptive literature he claims he reduced our property taxes. Unfortunately nothing could be further from the truth! While his campaign propaganda may be considered a clever tactic designed to deceive the public, the fact is the official record of his votes clearly shows he has dramatically increased our property taxes. The final proof of this is to take a look at your property tax bill and you can judge the validity of his statements for yourself.

On six separate occasions the New York State Comptroller has severely criticized the Town of Oyster Bay for withholding huge unappropriated surpluses from Oyster Bay's overburdened taxpayers. In his most recent report 7/91 State Comptroller Edward Regan, a Republican, again cited Delligatti and the Town Board for not using millions of dollars in unnecessary surpluses to reduce the property taxes. Last week I appeared at the Town Budget hearing and asked that a major portion of this unneeded surplus be used to reduce our town property tax rate 20 percent which would cut the average homeowner's bill by $200. Delligatti and the Town Board ignored my recommendation and rejected Comptroller Regan's findings. They insisted they were making an appropriate tax reduction—one that would save us less than $10 a year. That is a cruel hoax and it is an insult to our intelligence. There is a 36.6 million dollar unappropriated surplus in this year's budget most of which can and should be used to reduce our property tax $200.

I have been leading the battle to stop Delligatti's $400 million incinerator from being built anywhere in Oyster Bay, because it is unsafe, too costly, and unnecessary. If it is allowed to be built, it will spew out carcinogens and toxins into our air daily and it can bankrupt us. As if that weren't bad enough, Delligatti insists on building this huge monstrosity on one of the worst hazardous waste sites in the country. Local water district commissioners, school board members, prominent environmental groups, and tens of thousands of town residents also oppose the ill-conceived plan. We have submitted a composting-recycling plan which is far less costly and much safer than an incinerator. If that isn't bad enough, we are paying the highest rates in New York State to haul our garbage, $117 per ton. In five years Oyster Bay's taxpayers have paid $150 million to ship the garbage off Long Island. If Delligatti had hired the same company North Hempstead Superfry or Zwirn uses, our cost to haul garbage would be 40 percent less. Last January Delligatti had an opportunity to hire the North Hempstead hauler but he chose to use the same company that is charging us the highest rate in the state.

There is no question that Nassau County and the Town of Oyster Bay desperately need a change from the one party political system that has dominated us since the turn of the century. Ironically if the Democratic Party were in control for that length of time, things probably wouldn't be any different.

There are serious problems confronting our county and town. Delligatti and the Nassau Republican Machine have had their say. Now it is your turn. If I am elected Town Supervisor I may not be able to change things overnight but with your help we can begin to try before it is too late.

POLICE REPORT

Police at the Second Precinct have reported the details of a scam involving the use of a lottery ticket which occurred on Oct. 22 at 11:30 a.m. at the Broadway Mall, Hicksville.

Emerito Flores, age 35, was approached by a male Hispanic who asked him if he knew the location of the street of an attorney he was trying to locate. A second male Hispanic approached and stated that the attorney had been arrested, according to police.

One of the subjects then told the other subject and Flores that he was an illegal alien and was attempting to cash in a winning lottery ticket. He offered the subjects $5,000 if they could help him cash it in. He told them it was worth $200,000 and if they both put up $5,000 between them, he would give them the ticket. The second subject left and came back with almost $3,000. Flores then left and withdrew $2,100 from his bank account, said police.

They all met in the parking lot of the Wicks Shopping Center, Hicksville, where the subject put all the money in a flowered bag with the lottery ticket and shoved it in Flores' waistband. He told him that he had confidence in him and asked him to safeguard the money until he cashed in the ticket. When Flores arrived home he opened the bag and found only paper stuffed inside.

Detectives from the second squad are still investigating.

Police have reported a robbery that occurred on Oct. 24 at 12:05 p.m. in Hicksville.

Two black males entered the Citibank, located on N. Broadway; one of the subjects approached a teller, while the second subject remained in the lobby area. The first subject displayed a silver handgun to the teller, then handed a plastic bag to the teller, demanding the teller fill the bag with cash, police said.

An amount in excess of $10,000 was placed in the bag and both subjects escaped on foot, northbound on Broadway. No injuries were reported.

Detectives from the second squad are still investigating.

Another robbery occurred in Hicksville on Oct. 25 at 3:05 a.m., said police.

Robert O'Shaughnessy, the owner of Shotzie's Tavern, located on S. Broadway, was approached by two males as he was bartending in his place of business. He told police that one of the suspects was armed with a rifle demanding cash. He handed over $500 and the suspects fled on foot. At the time of the robbery there were about six patrons in the bar.

There were no reported injuries and the police are continuing their investigation.

HICKSVILLE FOR DELLIGATTI

William Schuckmann, Chairman
(516) 938-5241

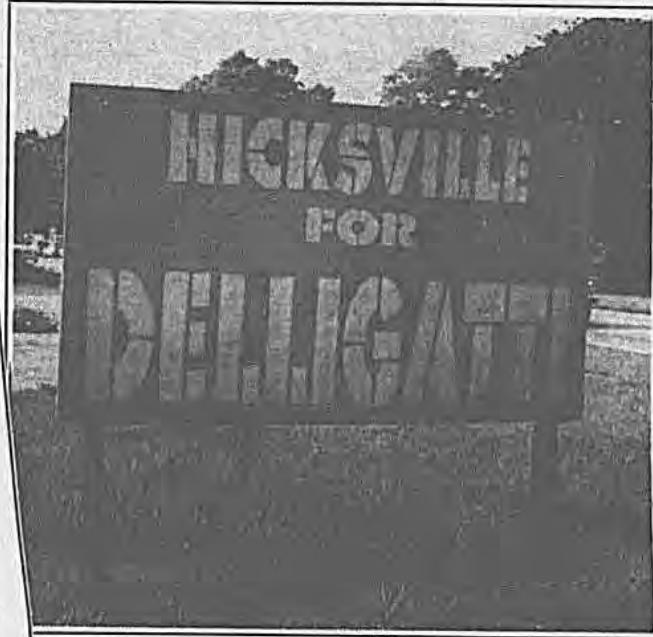

Eleanore Draycott, Treasurer
(516) 935-5793

"Hicksville for Delligatti" is an official campaign committee registered with the Nassau County Board of Elections. The purpose of this organization is solely to demonstrate the Hicksville community's appreciation for all the support and contributions Town Supervisor Angelo A. Delligatti has provided for our community. Many Hicksville residents believe most politicians have traditionally neglected the needs and desires of our community. Supervisor Delligatti, however, is making a difference for Hicksville. We believe all efforts should be made to ensure that his leadership will continue for the benefit of our hometown.

Hicksville deserves to receive the attention that Supervisor Delligatti provides. That is why many Hicksville residents, who customarily are not involved in Town campaigns, have banded together to form "Hicksville for Delligatti." Our membership comprises many Hicksville community leaders active in various local organizations and clubs, such as fire district and water district commissioners, school board and library board trustees, and members of civic and fraternal associations, P.T.A.s, athletic, youth, senior citizen and veterans groups. The sole intention of "Hicksville for Delligatti" is to support Supervisor Delligatti's re-election bid on Tuesday, November 5th.

"Hicksville for Delligatti" is not aligned with any political party and does not endorse the campaign of any individuals other than Supervisor Delligatti. This organization is strictly limited to supporting Angelo A. Delligatti in Hicksville. We are hopeful you will join us and cast your vote next Tuesday for Supervisor Delligatti.

Service Expo

of the day won a truckload of food and a personal computer courtesy of IBM Corporation.

In the center of the mall a stage was set up where dance groups and musicians, such as DJ's Unlimited Productions and the Nassau Community College Jazz Ensemble, entertained shoppers and United Day of Caring onlookers, at certain points asking them to sing along to the music.

For many people, the United Day of Caring offered them a chance to see what kind of services are available if help is needed. "Many people donate money to the United Way and they do not really know where the money is going. This kind of expo shows people the many human service and help groups their money is helping to keep operating," said Renhart.

This was the fourth year for United Day of Caring. Each year the event is held in a different mall in a different part of Long Island. The day was a tremendous success for all parties from the shop owners in the mall, who were given tremendous exposure due to the large number of people who attended, and the human services agencies that took part in the event.

The United Way of Long Island has a human services number—249-1100—that residents can call if they need help. For information or referral, make United Way your "First Call For Help."

Public Hearing

Assemblyman Lewis Yevoli, who is running for Oyster Bay Town Supervisor, also called for a reduction in taxes. "I am suffering from over taxation just like everybody else in this town. Since 1985 my town tax has gone up $255. We can provide a tax cut of $190 to $195 to the town real property tax rate for the average."

Yevoli argued that the town is sitting on a large surplus, approximately $42.3 million dollars, that could be included in the budget that would reduce taxes.

"Twenty three million dollars of surplus money has been appropriated into the budget this year," countered Town Supervisor Angelo Delligatti.

Councilman Doug Hynes questioned Yevoli's figures calling them voodoo economics and asked Yevoli if he was finished with his campaign speech.

"By reducing the town's real property tax, it may offset the increase of the Nassau County real property tax rate increase," said Yevoli.

The town budget calls for a 15 cent decrease in the tax rate per every $100 of assessed valuation which would save the average homeowner in the Town of Oyster Bay approximately $10.50.

While some residents argued that a further tax relief could come from the town, others welcomed the relief in taxes that the new budget proposes.

in the National Competitions to be held in Orlando, FL, and they will be holding a fundraiser for the trip.

Robert Durso has been appointed to be the superintendent's representative to the Elementary Consolidation and Redistricting Citizens Committee.

It was decided that school board members will visit the schools on Saturday, Jan. 25, 1992. The high school principal and assistant superintendent have been charged to review the attendance policy with a view towards a possible revision of the attendance policy.

"We are pleased that the Nassau County Citizens Budget Committee has awarded our school district the Good Government Award, With Merit, for capital and operating procedures," said Mugavero.

He also pointed out that School Board Recognition Week started on Oct. 28 and will end Nov. 1. "To put in the hours of service for the community is worth meritorious mention," said Mugavero.

The Building Budget Lay Committees have started meeting and Mugavero said "the meetings are going quite well."

The school board rejected a bid for science lab renovations for the high school because they exceeded budgetary guidelines. Mugavero outlined a program that will redo the science labs over several years. The labs are 31 years old and when they are redone they must fall in line with the new guidelines for science labs that have been set.

The school board approved the architectural firm Knappe and Johnson as the school district architect for capital projects.

The Elementary Consolidation and Redistricting Committee has been formed and it will have a member from all the civic associations and PTAs serving on it.

The next scheduled School Board meeting will be on Tuesday, Nov. 26.

What Do You Think About Judge Thomas?

Residents of Hicksville were asked if they thought Judge Thomas was telling the truth and if he should have been appointed to the Supreme Court.

Some people felt that he was wrongly accused and should serve on the Supreme Court. Others felt that some of the allegations may be true, but they should have been acted on when they supposedly had occurred. "From his actions and reactions to questions, I think he was telling the truth," said one resident.

When one resident was asked if he thought

Anita Hill was telling the truth, he said, "She was vacuumed into the whole process."

Some residents felt that Anita Hill was telling the truth and as usual, their cries of sexual harassment fell on deaf ears. "It is the same story every time a woman claims sexual harassment, they are made to be the villain," said another resident.

What do you think about Judge Thomas serving on the Supreme Court? Who do you think was telling the truth? Write to the Hicksville Illustrated News and let us know what you think.

Postal Customer Advisory Council In Hicksville

The United States Postal Service Long Island Division is starting an independent Postal Customer Advisory Council in Hicksville. The council is a committee consisting of volunteer members from varied backgrounds including business and community representatives. They will hold regular meetings to resolve postal customer concerns while creating an increased awareness and understanding of customer needs and expectations to postal employees.

Currently, volunteers to join the Council are being sought. The council will consist of approximately five randomly selected members of the community. Those selected will represent a cross-section of the post office population. The community will be requested to provide the council with their concerns and suggestions through the use of a suggestion card which will be provided in the lobbies of the participating post offices. Meetings will be held a minimum of once each quarter.

Anyone interested in serving on the council or wishing to make a suggestion or highlight a concern can obtain a Customer Advisory Council feedback card in the lobby of the post office or upon request from their letter carrier.

Outstanding Community Service

The celebration was held to commend the Knights of Columbus on behalf of the organization's outstanding community service. Also pictured are (l-r) Jim Carroll of Hicksville, Zygmund Lewinski, Leroy Fitzgerald and Otto Schmidtmann.

A Letter from Lulubelle...

...How do you feel about having people you don't know well and may have just met immediately start calling you by your first name? . . . I can tell you that when I pick up the telephone and someone says, "May I speak to Lulubelle," and it turns out to be someone who wants to clean my chimney or sell me aluminum siding, I don't like it one bit! . . . I am sure that telephone soliciting is a very difficult job and I am sure that those who do it get lots of unpleasantness, but I want to be called by my last name and with the "Mrs." I am so very proud to have . . . My friends and I were discussing this name thing and one recounted how stupid it seemed to her when her doctor who was about the age of her grandson started calling her Mary—so she fixed him—she started calling him John—and did he ever look stunned!!! . . . Informality is great in social situations and I have never felt that small children of close friends needed to address me as Mrs. Vostavazoo—Lulubelle is fine . . . but I don't want to be called by my first name by strangers—I think I would rather be called, "Hey, you" . . . I remember when I was in high school studying French, our teachers always addressed us as "Mademoiselle" or "Monsieur" and it made the whole class seem to take the subject more seriously just because of that slightly different formality. . . And I have a friend who never begins to call people she doesn't like by their first name so I can always tell that they are not among her favorites just by the way she addresses them. . . So—I think we should all consider carefully just how we use people's names—we may be telling more about ourselves and how we feel about them.

Yours, Lulubelle

THE FOUR-YEAR-OLD classes of Trinity Nursery School in Hicksville had a great time visiting Green Meadow Farm where each child rode a pony, milked a cow, fed the animals, went on a hayride and picked out a pumpkin. Pictured is Kevin Garone of Trinity Nursery School riding a pony.

MAYBE IT'S NOT THE FLU.

And this is no little flu-bug. It's a deer tick, the most common carrier of Lyme Disease in the United States.

And Lyme Disease is a lot more than a little touch of flu. It's a bacterial infection that, if left untreated, can eventually cause damage to your brain, heart, and nervous system.

The deer tick lives in wooded, grassy, and brushy areas, so if you frequent the outdoors, you are at risk of being bitten and infected.

At first, Lyme Disease may feel like the flu. But, in many cases, a red, bull's eye rash will develop around the bitten area.

Up to a year after the bite, the disease can cause ear and eye pain, heart flutters, and joint swelling.

Some time later, mild to crippling arthritis, stomach cramps, weight loss, and a wide variety of other conditions may occur.

Lyme Disease can be treated. Further damage can be prevented at any stage through treatment with antibiotics.

For more information or the name of a physician in your area who specializes in treating Lyme Disease, contact the Lyme Resource Network.

The bidding:

West North East South

1 ♦ Pass Pass 2 ♦

Pass 2 NT Pass 4 ♦

Opening lead — ace of clubs.

Assume you're declarer at four spades and West leads the ace of clubs followed by the queen. When you play the king from dummy, East ruffs with the five and returns a low diamond.

Let's say you win West's nine of diamonds with dummy's ace and return a trump, East following with the deuce. It might seem normal to finesse the queen, but if you did you'd soon regret it.

West would take your queen with the king and probably return a low club, which East would ruff with the nine of trumps. You'd overruff the nine with the jack and play your ace of trumps, but when East showed out you'd have to lose a trump trick to West's ten and go down one.

In retrospect, it's easy to see that it's wrong to take the trump finesse. West is marked by the bidding with the king of spades, since he could hardly have opened the bidding without it.

To attempt a finesse that is destined to fail, and at the same time subject yourself to the danger of an "upper-cut" by East on the next club lead, amounts to going out of your way to try to lose the contract.

The correct play at trick four is to go up with the ace of trumps and then lead the queen, which is the best you can do under the circumstances. In the actual case, your only losers would be a club ruff and a trump.

The hand illustrates dramatically that some finesses are strictly for the birds. When there is nothing to gain and everything to lose by taking a finesse, it is clearly better to reject it.

Mid-Island Enhances Radiology Services

Mid-Island Hospital's President, Robert J. Reed, announced the installation of a new top General Electric CT Sytec 2000 Scanner System. Due to this new addition, the Bethpage hospital's radiology department's services will be enhanced.

A CT Scanner System, often referred to as a CAT scan (Computerized Axial Tomography) reconstructs any part of the body into sections, which give physicians precise pictures of internal parts of the anatomy.

Dr. Alan P. Sitron, Director of Mid-Island's Radiology Department, is pleased with the new system's clinical advantages. "Mid-Island's new CT Scanner System will enhance its radiology services by increasing the number of scans possible with exceptional image quality. We will be able to see more patients a day, and critically ill patients will be diagnosed quicker. Patients will be in full view by the system's operator with a console intercom for patient, operator and physician communication."

on a 61 yard scoring drive ending with an 11 yard pass reception by Jerry Flora.

The Pioneers followed that drive by cruising down the field, mixing the pass and the run effectively, until quarterback Dean Marino hit running back Joey Brusca in the corner of the endzone for the score.

The Pioneers grabbed the lead in the second with another score, but Iona quickly came back to take the lead again when they were stalled at the Pioneer 19 yard line and kicked a field goal. This was the last big drive Iona would have during the game except for in the final few seconds.

The Pioneers kicked another field goal to bring the score to 19-17 up until the final minute of the game when Iona kicked the winning field goal.

Iona quarterback Bill Hyland was 24 of 37, passing for 387 yards and two scores. Pioneer quarterback Dean Carino threw for 225 yards and two touchdown passes.

The loss dampened the Pioneers homecoming celebration.

start against a tough Island Trees team and kept the pressure on throughout the game to reserve the win.

The Rockets beat the Celtics 10-0. The team traveled to Queens for this match at Fort Totten. The outcome was a brilliant display of passing and relentless attack to overpower their opponent.

'Goalie Danny Cocchi recorded his sixth shutout of the season with the help of defensemen Nick Alfano, John Fiorillo, Eddie Pettei, Adam Sobel and Hank Zuckerman.'

The goal scorers were Martin Ferrario, David Neeves, Chris Musinski, Mikey Camarinos, Brett Huzar, Anton Berzins, Michael Tanella and Andrew Berner. Strong play was shown by David Musinski, Kevin Nolan and Paul Martorano.

There was a misprint in last week's Rockets article. The scorers were Martin Ferrario with three, David Neeves with two, Anton Berzins, Mikey Camarinos, Andrew Berner and Michael Tanella each had one goal. Honorable mention went to David Musinski for his fine play.

Post Pioneers Lose A Heartbreaker

The C.W. Post Pioneers suffered a Homecoming heartbreaker and a possible end to their reign as Liberty Conference champs when the Iona Gaels defeated them 20-19 in the remaining second of the game.

In the last four seconds of the hard-fought game on Oct. 19, the Pioneers were leading the game 19-17 with four seconds left. The game was decided by the foot of Iona kicker James Cowper, who kicked a 30 yard field goal to win the game.

This defeat resulted in a Liberty Conference tie between Iona (3-1) and C.W. Post (3-1), with both teams having only one conference game remaining. If Iona defeats Pace later this month, they will be the new defending Liberty Conference champions.

Post got on the scoreboard first when senior placekicker Marty O'Brien nailed a 31 yard field goal. The Pioneers started the drive at the Iona 16 put were unable to convert a first down and ended up settling for a field goal.

Iona retaliated on their next possession

Hicksville American Soccer Tigers 9, Knights 1

The Tigers routed the Knights. Led by Jordach Smacha with five goals and Bryan Glenn with four, the Tigers played like a well oiled machine. The only score for the Knights was by Jimmy Powderly, who had to leave in the second half due to a possible fractured elbow.

Chris Alcantara, Bryan Berg and Johnny Sazalikis were frustrated by the strong Tiger defense.

Andrew Jolly, Chris Artibee, John Sazalikis and Jason Berc played well. Danny Carsen played a good game in net but the strong Tiger offense and Jimmy's injury was too much to handle.

The team wishes Jimmy Powderly good luck and best wishes for a speedy recovery. The Knights will miss their captain.

Coaches are reminded to call in their summaries by Monday night.
