Senior Citizen Tax Break In TOB

By Victor Caputo

Senior citizens in the Town of Oyster Bay will find relief in their property taxes following the Town Board's action to raise the ceiling of eligibility for a senior tax exemption.

"The Town of Oyster Bay is well aware that taxes are a burden to many people, but especially to senior citizens on fixed incomes. By raising the income limits, more seniors will now be able to take advantage of this tax relief," said Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Angelo Delligatti.

Delligatti went on to explain that under the expanded eligibility guidelines, which can be raised only by the New York State Legislature and then adopted by local municipalities, the town board has increased to $19,799 the income limit for a partial exemption on general town, part town and highway taxes. The income includes salary or earnings, social security and retirement benefits, bank interest, dividends, rental income and income from self-employment. Gifts and inheritance are excluded from Democratic challenger Lewis Yevoli defeated two term Republican incumbent Angelo Delligatti for the Supervisor's seat in the Town of Oyster Bay in a down to the wire race that left everyone guessing until the final returns were official.

At his election celebration in Plainview, Yevoli immediately referred to another victory in the Town of North Hempstead. "We are going to change the way things are done in the county," he said referring to the re-election of Supervisor Ben Zwirn in North Hempstead. Together the two Democrats fill seats on the Nassau County Board of Supervisors bringing to an end a Republican stronghold in Nassau County that has lasted for years.

This year's election, showed "there was a town-wide feeling this was a time for a change," said Chuck Johnson, a senior executive in the Yevoli camp.

Yevoli won by about a 2,000 vote margin, according to the Nassau County Board of Elections. He received 37,049 votes to Delligatti's 34,595.

Echoing his campaign stance, Yevoli promised a filled room of supporters at his victory celebration at the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Plainview, that his election to Town Supervisor would bring property tax relief. He also pledged to save the Oyster Bay Harbor and, to their many cheers, pledged to stop the proposed incinerator.

That should come as good news to a local environmental consumer advocacy group. The New York Public Interest Research Group, founded by Ralph Nader, issued the following statement after Yevoli's election.

Superintendent Studies School Curriculum

By Victor Caputo

"I have not heard anyone discuss curriculum in the three and one-half months I have been here. What I would like to see is more people in the community interested in the education of their children and their curriculum," said Superintendent of Schools Salvatore Mugavero during a recent discussion about what the Hicksville School District offers its students.

"By and large the curriculum was very good when I arrived here. I think the students were getting a really good education. I would never be content though, because education could always be better" he said. He did find several things that he would like to see improved.

Mugavero feels that the district should make less of an emphasis on short answer work and should emphasize more expository, creative and essay writing. "In general, today's society does not require enough reading and writing. We have become a short answer society," he said.

"There is no reason why every elementary school cannot standardize the amount of physical education and instruction in the district," he said pointing out that the time devoted to physical education in the grade schools is not uniform throughout the district.

"From what I understand, the district has not looked at the math program for five years," he said.

He feels that the math program for kindergarten through sixth grade needs to be restudied this year in order to determine whether the significant strides that have been made in the last seven years show in the student achievement results. Mugavero says that an inventory should be provided to see what math materials remain available and are working in each class and grade level. The district then needs to spend supply money to refurbish classroom kits and also must consider providing training for newer staff members in how best to use the materials to teach math skills effectively.

Mugavero would like to see the down-tracking of students on the secondary level from Regents math courses to lower ability levels in the sequential math program decrease. He feels that children will work up to the level that is set for them, if they have to.

One area that Mugavero is very impressed with are the fine arts programs in the district. "It is one of the best fine arts programs I have ever seen. It is really good because of the teacher dedication, the administration surge in the program and the enthusiasm of the students who participate in it," he said.

"The district has also done a tremendous amount of computer education," he said. The computer education program will be a mainstay in the district but he wants to make it uniform. Right now different schools use different computers. Mugavero wants to have all the schools learning on the same computers.

The health program on the secondary level is in good order. A new program in the kindergarten through sixth grade called "Good Touch-Bad Touch" has been incorporated into the curriculum in health to provide students with information about how to avoid becoming a victim of child abuse. The program is being looked at this year but so far, according to Mugavero, it has been going very well.

The Social Studies program, according to Mugavero, needs to be re-analyzed. "The curriculum in that area is very shattered."

RE/MAX Realtors Opens For Business

By Victor Caputo

RE/MAX Realtors recently opened its doors for business at 88 Broadway, Hicksville.

The people at RE/MAX are very happy to open up their office in Hicksville. "It is a great marketplace. There are a lot of first time home buyers in the area," said Todd Yovino of RE/MAX.

He feels that RE/MAX is a unique realtor that offers customers more than what other realtors do. "We hire people that know the business. They are experienced and have been in the business for at least 10 years. Everybody that is in this office is an experienced and knowledgeable salesperson," said Yovino.

RE/MAX offers free information packets to its customers and if a customer is interested in selling his/her house in one area and buying one in another, RE/MAX has over 16,000 offices throughout the country.

Yovino also feels the market is right for expansion, in light of the recession that has been gripping the country. "Our market has not declined. The first time home buyer is there," he said.

The Hicksville office will serve the real estate needs of buyers in Hicksville, Levittown, East Meadow, Syosset, Plainview and Jericho. Approximately 25 people will work out of the Hicksville office with more hirings anticipated.

RE/MAX is a welcome addition to the Hicksville business community. It has recently joined the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce and looks forward to a long, productive stay in the Hicksville community.

Residents who have any questions about buying or selling their home can call the office at 938-7187 and speak to one of the RE/MAX representatives.

The Hicksville Youth Council will be hosting a Holiday Flea Market, on Sat., Nov. 23 at the Levittown Hall, Levittown Parkway, Hicksville, from 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

The vendors will be selling only new merchandise as well as craft items. Some of the articles to be sold will include sweaters, jewelry, hair accessories, infant and adult clothing, baseball cards, toys, unisex sweatshirts, silk flowers, books, wreaths, scarves, stuffed animals, cassettes, CDs, Thanksgiving crafts, Christmas items and a variety of other items. There will be 60 vendors to choose from.

All proceeds raised by the flea market will be used to assist the Youth Council through their funding crisis.

Further information can be obtained by calling the Youth Council office at 822-KIDS. The Youth Council is hoping for tremendous support from the community.

Town Hearing For Special Use Permit

The Oyster Bay Town Board will hold a public hearing on Nov. 26, at which time they will consider a request by the Herbil Holding Co., for a special use permit in an "F" neighborhood business district and an "E" residence district to permit the portion of the subject premises zoned "F" business to be used as a drive-in retail store.

The property is located at the intersection of Tobias St. and Jerusalem Ave.

The hearing will be held in the hearing room of Town Hall East, Audrey Ave., Oyster Bay at 10 a.m.

Santa Claus Will Visit The Broadway Mall

Who said reindeer only appear on Christmas Eve? Holiday shoppers will be delighted to view these live reindeer when Santa glides into the Broadway Mall on Friday, Nov. 15 at 5:30 p.m.

The festivities will begin with a mini-parade around the exterior of the mall by Stern's. Penguins, elves and other North Pole characters will join the Broadway Bear and the Ikea Moose to lead Santa to the main entrance of the mall. At the end of the parade, Santa will arrive in a sleigh pulled by live reindeer, even Rudolph will be there.

The reindeer will be on exhibit at the main entrance of the mall from 5:30 p.m.-9:30 p.m.

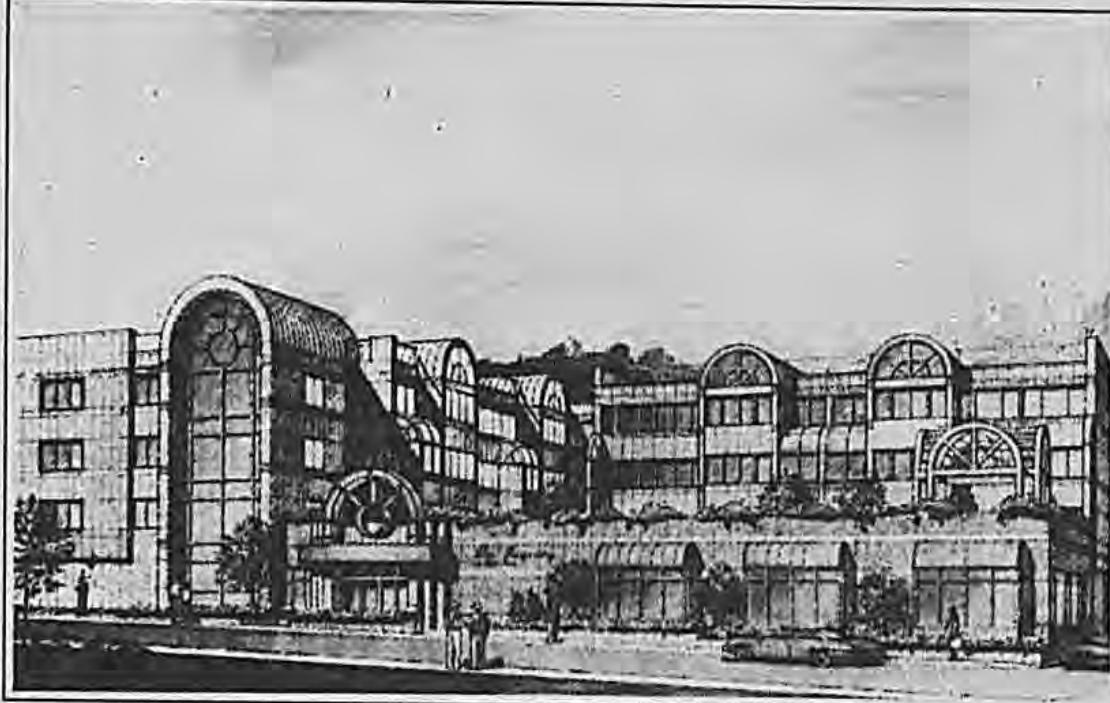

After the parade and until Christmas Eve, Santa will be available to meet and pose for pictures (for a nominal fee) with children at his Christmas Tree House in the main court by Stern's.

The Tree House is also the home of the animated Broadway Bears which year after year thrill children and adults with musical shows. This year two brand new shows will be performed every 10 minutes during mall hours. One show consists of many favorite holiday tunes while the other contains great Broadway musical hits.

P.A.W.S. Auction

AN ARTIST'S rendition of The Regency at Glen Cove, located on School Street in Glen Cove, which is scheduled for completion in 1993. The Regency will be a 96-room senior concrete retirement housing complex.

Regency Accepting Applications

By Lisa Morris

Those interested in living in The Regency at Glen Cove can now visit its marketing office to view a complete scaled-down model of the new senior "congregate" facility.

The Regency at Glen Cove, located at 58 School Street in Glen Cove, once known as the Summit, will open in 1993. As construction begins, the Regency is reviewing a list of potential residents for the 96-room retirement housing establishment.

The Regency will be a private, senior residence and will provide quality, supportive services in a catered, residential atmosphere, said Marketing Director Helene Holtz. Prospective residents will be able to choose from several floor plans, including studio suites and spacious one-bedroom units.

Holtz said by visiting the Marketing Center it gives the potential resident an understanding of what the Regency is all about. The interested party can see where his apartment will be located and get an overall layout of the project.

To date the Regency has received approximately 600 calls. "We've received a tremendous response," said Holtz. "The prime apartments are gone already."

She said that people within the Glen Cove area as well as Hicksville, Great Neck, Roslyn and Manhasset have called. "We even received a call from Cincinnati, Ohio," she said. Some want to bring their parents closer to home, she noted.

Although hundreds of calls are being made, Holtz said that the potential resident must meet three basic credentials: they must be at least 62 years old, must be ambulatory (not bed-ridden), and must be able to afford to live in the Regency since it is privately run and not funded by the state.

Holtz said it could cost between $2,900 and $3,375 a month to live there, and noted that daily meals, transportation, laundry, daily housekeeping services, and swimming trips to the YMCA are all included. "After this monthly fee," she noted, "you never have a reason to spend any more money."

"This facility is for people who are accustomed to a gracious way of life," said Holtz. She said that yearly leases are available.

In addition, the Regency will provide a 24-hour medical alert system and will be licensed by the State of New York to enable assistance with activities of daily living, including bathing, grooming, dressing and assistance with medications.

The Regency provides a lifestyle intended for the independent senior who sometimes wants a little help. "I am delighted to be a part of an organization which is not only deeply concerned with the needs of the elderly, but also the concerns of their families," said Holtz.

She explained that she has been involved in finding adequate living quarters for her aunt and uncle and understands how important it is to people to know that their family member has the best possible.

She described the four-level Regency as a cultural and recreational place. On the first floor a parlour, a library and dining room, and a billiard room can be found. On the second level, there will be two decks and residential rooms and on the third and fourth

Kid's Books For Holiday Giving

By D.F. Karppi

When it comes to buying gifts for others, isn't it nice to get advice from the experts?

Julie Cummins, Coordinator of Children's Services, The New York Public Library, recently spoke at the Locust Valley Library on Children's Books For Holiday Giving.

Joan Zulch, President of the Friends of the Library and a publisher herself, said the juvenile market has burgeoned. One reason is because the Baby Boomers are having their own children now.

As a result, "Adult market publishers are branching out into the juvenile field and those that had juvenile departments are creating more of them," she said.

Ms. Cummins said even Rizzoli, an international bookstore located on 57th St., NY, has established its own line of children's books.

Today, said Ms. Zulch, the average price for children's books is about $14. Ten years ago it was seven to eight dollars. "They have almost doubled in price."

"That is why parents want guidance now in selecting books. And, they are still the absolutely perfect gift!" Actually, she said, it may be the grandparents who do the buying.

Many parents faced with today's economy she said may prefer to consider books as library items to borrow.

The books Julie Cummins picked are contenders for the annual children's book awards.

In the picture book category, she chose The Frog Prince Continued, by John Scieszka, published by Viking at $14.95.

The original story ended when the Princess kissed the frog, he turned into a Prince and they lived happily ever after...not exactly so, says the author.

She doesn't like the way his long thin tongue reaches out to catch a fly on the wall, or the way he croaks at night... The Prince runs away, unhappy, and meets adventure in the form of other fairy tale characters right to the new end.

Everyone had raves for The Jolly Christmas Postman by Janet and Allen Ahlberg, published by Little, Brown at $16.95 a copy.

This delightful book has envelope pages with Christmas cards such as the one from the bears to Goldilocks and a card to Miss R. Hood with a postscript "P.S. I am a changed wolf!"

Joan Zulch said the book would be a wonderful jump off place for a creative writing class in schools.

Old Mother Hubbard and Her Wonderful Dog, illustrated by James Marshall and published by Farrar at $14.95 brings new images to the old rhyme.

Piggies by Don and Audrey Wood, published by Harcourt at $14.95 is a finger

Arthritis Treatment - A Comprehensive Approach Part IV - Exercise and Arthritis

One of the most common questions asked of me by my patients is if exercise is helpful in the treatment of arthritis. My answer is usually yes. However, the type of exercise depends on the type of arthritis and the joints affected.

The purpose of therapeutic exercise is not only to maintain joint flexibility and muscle strength, but to increase the patient's ability to perform daily activities. Active exercise is usually recommended for those patients with joint disorders.

The exercises used are a combination of isometric and isotonic contractions. In isometric exercises, muscle strength is gained with minimal joint motion. These exercises are considered to be ideal for maintaining muscle strength in patients with joint inflammation. Active isotonic exercise can be used to increase endurance, range of motion of the joint, and to increase strength.

When joint pain occurs, it is natural to rest the joint. However, strict rest can be harmful. Studies have shown that a muscle can lose 30 percent of its bulk in one week, and can lose 3 percent of its function per day when maintained at strict rest.

Patients should be cautious because over-exercise can damage the joints. Signs of excessive exercise include persistent pain, fatigue, weakness, and joint swelling.

Rheumatologists have been trained in counseling and designing specific therapeutic exercise programs, tailored to an individual's arthritis. If you suffer from arthritis, exercise should be a part of your therapy. However, before undertaking an exercise program you should consult your physician.

How Hicksville Voted On Election Day

When Hicksville came out to vote on Election Day, Angelo Delligatti was the candidate they chose as Oyster Bay Town Supervisor, beating Assemblyman Lewis Yevoli, 5,588 votes to 4,359 votes.

For the town council positions, all the incumbents received many votes. Ann Ocker had 5,674 votes, Leonard Kunz had 5,140 votes and Thomas Clark had 6,109. Frank Goban had 3,619 votes, Barbara Amster had 4,359 votes and Robert Aliano had 3,815 in their bid for election to the town board.

Chairman of the Nassau County Board of Assessors Abe Seldin scored 5,296 votes in Hicksville and Harvey Wisenberg received 3,477 votes. In the race for District Court Judge, John Galasso received 5,485 votes while Douglas Null received 3,336 votes.

For County Court Judge, Joanna Seybert received 5,338 votes while Jerome Fleischman received 3,353.

For Supreme Court Justice, Winick received 3,708 votes, Weisbein received 4,337, Werner received 3,725 votes, Gerard received 4,943 votes, Grunewald received 3,411 votes, Roncallo received 5,539, Corso received 3,581 votes, McCarty received 5,393 votes, Brown received 3,429 votes, Gowan received 5,870 votes, Doyle received 3,770 votes, Berler received 5,366 votes, Weinstein received 3,391 votes, Levitt received 5,616 votes, Newman received 3,488 votes, Prudenti received 5,806 votes, Friedenberg received 3,656, Newmark received 5,566, Steindler received 3,261 and Hart received 5,464.

What Hicksville Residents Are Reading

Every week the Hicksville Public Library takes a poll of what books and movies are the most requested by residents.

This week, the top books in the fiction department are Doomsday Conspiracy by Sidney Sheldon, Sum Of All Fears by Tom Clancy, Remember by Barbara Taylor Bradford, The Deceiver by Frederick Forsyth and The Firm by John Grisham.

The top books in the non-fiction department are Chutzpah by Alan Dershowitz, Me: Stories of My Life by Katherine Hepburn, LaToya Jackson by LaToya Jackson, Den of Thieves by James B. Steward, J. Edgar Hoover by Curt Gentry.

The top videos this week at the library are Godfather Three, Prancer, Home Alone, Oscar, Memories and Awakenings.

Drama Department To Put On Play

The Hicksville High School Drama Department will perform William Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," a romantic comedy that interweaves the stories of three different sets of characters.

The first set involves three couples: Theseus, Duke of Athens, who will soon marry Hippolyta; Lysander and Hermia, who run away into the woods to escape Hermia's father who wants her to marry Demetrius; and Demetrius and Helena, who also run away to the woods, Demetrius in pursuit of Hermia, and Helena, who is running after Demetrius.

The second set of characters is a group of rough craftsmen who decide to put on a play in honor of the Duke's wedding. Through the rehearsals and subsequent performance of the tragedy, Pyramus and Thisbe provide some of the most hilarious fun ever seen on a stage. Of course, their rehearsals take place in the woods.

Add this to the supernatural in the form of Oberon and Titania, King and Queen of the spirit world, who are in the middle of a marital spat, and the possibilities for hysterical confusion increase. By the time Oberon, with the assistance of his servant, Puck, gets done with the magic potions and the tricks he is playing on Titania, the three sets of characters are totally interwoven with cases of mistaken identity and hysterical confusion.

This mystical, magical play is a treat for everyone. Performances will be held on Friday and Saturday evenings, Nov. 22 and Nov. 23, at 8 p.m. Tickets are $6 and are available at the high school anytime before the show. Residents can order tickets by phone by calling 933-6647. A special free performance for senior citizens will take place on Thursday, Nov. 21 at 7 p.m.

Library Computer Demonstrations Are A Hit

The Children's Room Computer Demonstrations at the Hicksville Public Library during Computer Learning Month have so far been very successful. Debbie Smiloff, Assistant Children's Librarian, has demonstrated programs such as Stickybear Word Problems, Math Shop, Jr., Bookmate, Grammar Examiner, Tales From History, Playroom, and Spellicopter to pre-school and kindergarten parents and children in grades 1 - 3 and 4 - 6.

The children's registration response for grades 1 - 3 has been so great that the demonstrations have been extended into November to serve those on the waiting lists.

In addition, a special "Computer Hour" from 4 p.m. - 5 p.m. each Thursday is planned for the future. This time will be used for computer questions and new software demonstrations.

For further information about the demonstrations and other Computer Learning Month activities, including the Poster contest which is running until October 31, call Miss Smiloff at 931-1417.

SCHOOL NOTEBOOK

Visiting Student Author Program

Building Self-Confidence

In Young Student Authors

Helene Stopek, an English as a Second Language (ESL) teacher at the Old Country Road School, has established the "Visiting Student Author Program" in her ESL classroom.

The program encourages the school's ESL student authors to read their original works to the Kindergarten ESL class. The idea behind the program is to build self-confidence in the student authors and call attention to their hard work and creative efforts.

Furthermore, the kindergarten students are exposed to literature and see positive role models in the students who read their works.

Ever Saul Martinez was the first student author to read his original story entitled King of the Jungle.

It took Ever about one month to write his book and then to type it on the computer and illustrate it.

Ever is a fourth grade student at the Old Country Road School. He arrived from El Salvador one and a half years ago.

EVER SAUL MARTINEZ reads his book King of the Jungle to the ESL kindergarten class.

SCHOOL SHORTS

High School Class Reunion

The Hicksville High School Class of 1971 will be having a 20th Reunion on Friday, Nov. 29 at the Islandia Radisson Hotel in Hauppauge from 8 p.m.-1 a.m. Further information about the price of the ticket and what is included may be obtained by calling the Reunions of America at 266-1836.

Visiting The Pumpkin Fields

Teachers, parents and kindergarten students of the Holy Family School recently visited Mohlenhoff's Pumpkin Farm in Huntington. Everyone enjoyed the hay rides and Halloween scenes. All the kids picked pumpkins before leaving.

Yevoli Visits High School

Newly elected Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Lewis Yevoli spoke to the U.S. Government classes at the Hicksville Senior High School recently.

Topics of discussion included local issues such as school budget financing, waste management and nuclear energy.

Our Lady of Mercy School Trip

The seventh and eighth grade class trip to upstate New York recently where they visited the Howe Caverns and the world famous Baseball Hall of Fame.

The thrill of going down 150 feet for an underground boat ride in the natural wonder of Howe Caverns enchanted the students. They learned, while down there, how the caverns of stalactites and stalagmites were formed.

A visit to the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown put everyone into the World Series spirit. The students viewed priceless items of baseball's greats, including lifelike mannequins of the all-time baseball heroes.

The students enjoyed a wonderful movie in the theater that made them feel like they were sitting in a real stadium.

Pumpkin Farm Visit

Mrs. Leone's first grade class at Trinity Lutheran School had an unforgettable trip to the pumpkin farm before Halloween.

As the fog slowly crept through the meadow, the children climbed aboard the hay ride. The eerie mist that engulfed the planting fields in Oyster Bay surrounded the children as they hunted for the perfect pumpkin.

The animals at the petting zoo welcomed the children just before they gathered around Peter Pumpkin as he cheered them on to yet another game of Simon Says.

Summer Courses For Teachers

Two teachers from the Hicksville High School Math Department had participated in course-related workshops over last summer.

Robert Weiner took a four week course at Rutgers University to prepare her to introduce Discrete Mathematics to the high school curriculum. The School Board is currently considering a proposal to introduce the new Discrete Mathematics course in the high school next year. The course is an upper division course choice which will include necessary mathematical skills for liberal arts and non-math majors.

Additionally, Katie Phillips took a workshop with the renowned Judith Broadwin for new teachers of Advanced Placement Calculus. She is currently teaching the AP Calculus for the first time.

Former Student Visits Woodland

The Woodland Avenue School was recently visited by one of its former students, Kevin Mullery, who attended the fifth grade at Woodland when the school first opened in 1953. He was in town from Santa Maria, California, to participate in the New York Marathon.

He is currently the principal of George Washington Battles School in California.

We're putting our money where our mouth is to preserve Long Island's water supply.

Long Island's water supply is the finest in the nation. At Slomin's we're taking positive steps to help preserve it.

Specifically, we've established a special financial assistance program to help subsidize the cost of complying with the new regulations regarding buried fuel oil tanks.

Under this program, you will be able to purchase our environmentally safe, 280-gallon fiberglass tank for a price that is truly below our cost.* There are also economical options available for above ground storage tanks, starting as low as $100 installed.

We realize that even with our subsidy, replacing your tank may be a financial burden, so we're offering low monthly payments with no interest or finance charges.

As a leader in the fuel oil industry, we feel a responsibility to invest in our community... to put our money where our mouth is, so to speak.

We're proud to be working with our Long Island neighbors to preserve our fragile environment.

Hicksville High School Blood Drive

By Joseph Williams

The Hicksville High School held a blood drive on Oct. 29, in cooperation with the American Red Cross. The high school normally has two such blood drives every years, one in the fall and another in the spring.

The Blood Drive was partially run by the Student Government. A special committee was created just for this purpose. The committee was headed by the Student Government vice-president, Colleen Bartley. Many of the people on the committee helped out to fulfill a service project requirement for Student Government. Students set up the schedules for the prospective donors and then issued appointment cards to those people so that they might be excused from class.

To be a blood donor, there were certain restrictions, one of which was an age requirement. This is what stopped a large number of high school students from participating. Every donor must be at least 17 years old. Other conditions included a minimum weight requirement and you could not take part if you had an illness within a few days before the donation. Out of numerous volunteers, only 45 were accepted as donors. The high school is expecting more donors in the spring because less students will be blocked by the age requirement.

Hats off to all Hicksville High School students that participated and a healthy encouragement to those considering donating in the spring.

Defensive Driving Course In Hicksville

Driver Improvement Programs will be conducting the six-hour National Safety Council's Defensive Driving Course in Hicksville on Nov. 18 and Nov. 25 at Hicksville High School. This class will meet from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. on both dates. Students must attend both sessions.

The Defensive Driving Course is a six-hour, classroom instruction course designed to teach accident prevention techniques to people who already have a driver's license or learner's permit.

Motorists who complete the course who are principal drivers must be given a 10 percent discount of both their automobile liability and collision premiums for three years.

In addition, the New York State Department of Motor Vehicles will reduce up to four points from the motorist's record for any infractions for which the motorist has been convicted in the previous 18 month period.

The fee for the course is $45 and registration can be accomplished through the mail. Persons interested in obtaining a registration kit which contains registration materials for four people, a complete schedule of classes, and a detailed explanation of the benefits of the course can call 1-800-REG-STUF or 1-800-734-7883.

for Supervisor-elect Yevoli to implement safe and sensible solutions to the garbage problem," said Steven Romalewski, Long Island Toxics Campaign Coordinator.

The first signs of Yevoli's victory in this 1991 election year came with the returns from election districts throughout Massapequa, Delligatti's hometown.

"Let's go to our worst area," said Oyster Bay Democratic Committeeman Steve Sabath on election night as he called out winning returns from the 12th assembly district in Massapequa.

"We're winning where we should lose," said Sabath. Overall Yevoli lost Massapequa by about 1,000 votes.

Yevoli looked pleased but not surprised at the win. Surrounded by his supporters who included Harvey Weisenberg, the Democratic challenger to Abe Seldin, Nassau County Assessor, Yevoli said the victory was an extraordinary effort.

Waiting with him for the returns at campaign headquarters in Plainview, were Yevoli's wife and family. As the first returns came in for a Jericho election district in the 13th assembly, Yevoli remained cautious and guarded as he won as expected in one of the few Democratic election districts in Nassau County.

By 11:30 p.m., a lull hung over Republican headquarters in Westbury as Republican Chairman Joseph Mondello admitted defeat in the Town of Oyster Bay Supervisor race between Republican incumbent Delligatti and Democrat Yevoli.

"I want to sincerely congratulate Mr. Yevoli. We wish him well," said Mondello, who won re-election to his seat as Presiding

Supervisor of the Town of Hempstead. Delligatti said that it was a tough campaign and that it was a lot more fun winning in the past than losing now.

He also said that the state of the economy was the primary issue in this campaign, because of recent tax increases, such as the school tax levy, residents have had to bear. He wished Yevoli well and luck in his new position.

Delligatti also thanked Mondello for giving him a chance to serve the people in the Town of Oyster Bay.

As Delligatti spoke, some in attendance screamed "Wait until next time Angelo" and "See you in 1993."

While Delligatti was unable to retain his seat as Town Supervisor, Republican incumbent council members were able to recapture their seats. Councilman Thomas Clark received 35,525 votes, Councilman Leonard Kunz received 33,410 votes and Councilwoman Ann Ocker received 36,393.

With Yevoli's win, three Democrats will now hold seats on the Nassau County Board of Supervisors, taking away the Republican majority that has been prevalent for many years before.

The Republican party, come January, will have 64 votes, one shy of the 65 needed for the majority. The Republican party is now also seven votes shy of a two-thirds majority needed to pass items such as the county budget.

Yevoli is the first Democrat named Oyster Bay Town Supervisor in about 35 years. He will be working with an entirely Republican town board.

The Joseph Barry (Hicksville) Council of the Knights of Columbus has announced a major membership drive, with plans to install 68 new members prior to the Christmas holiday season.

"We've set a goal of 68 new members," said membership chairman Bob DeLorenzo, "to represent each of the 68 years the council has been serving the Hicksville area." Candidates approved for membership in the Council will be inducted into the Knights in a special ceremony conducted by former Grand Knights of the Council on Dec. 3.

Membership in the Knights of Columbus is open to Catholic men who are at least 18 years of age. The Joseph Barry Council conducts a busy calendar of programs throughout the year, including social activities and projects designed to serve the local community and churches. Among the activities currently planned are the Council's charitable distribution of Thanksgiving baskets, a Polish Night dinner dance and the Council's "Keep Christ in Christmas" program.

The Joseph Barry Council is already among the largest and most active Knights of Columbus councils in the United States with more than 900 members. Any man interested in more information can contact Bob DeLorenzo at 433-3210.

he said.

In the future, Mugavero would like to see a stronger focus on current events. "The students are not learning about current events as much as they should. I would like to see kids learn about current events together with historic events of the past. I would like to have mini-electives that deal with current problems and issues," he said.

Mugavero feels that the district should begin a major renovation project on the science lab facilities at the high school this year. "Since we do not have the funds to complete the job in one fiscal year, we must insure that we include additional requests in the next budget to continue this important program," he said.

The Internship program is one that he will look at more closely in the upcoming year. This program provides on-the-job training in a particular field to give students a feel for how a particular field works.

After reviewing the curriculum, Mugavero has seen many promising things offered within it but still wants to strive for and achieve more.

"All our curriculum efforts should be focused on insuring that all instruction illustrates the five essential attributes of effective schools as set down by the Coalition for Effective Schools." They are leadership, teaching and learning, educational climate, instructional emphasis and pupil evaluation," he said.

Instructions for Bidders, Proposal, Plans and Specifications and Contract Forms may be obtained at the office of the Hicksville Water District, 4 Dean Street, Hicksville, New York, on or after Thursday, November 14, 1991. A deposit of Twenty Five Dollars ($25.00) is required for each set of documents furnished, which will be refunded to bidders who return plans and specifications within ten (10) days of bid opening in good condition; other deposits will either be partially or not refunded.

Each proposal submitted must be accompanied by a certified check or bid bond, payable to the Hicksville Water District, in an amount equivalent to five percent (5%) of the total amount of the bid, and a commitment by the bidder that, if his bid is accepted, he will enter into a contract to perform the work and will execute such further security as may be required for the faithful performance of the contract.

The Board of Commissioners of the Hicksville Water District reserves the right to reject any or all bids, to waive any informalities therein and to accept the bid which, in its opinion, is in the best interests of the Water District.

Thomas Wins

I am writing in response to an article in the October 31 issue of the Hicksville Illustrated News entitled "What Do You Think About Judge Thomas?" It was obvious to me from the televised broadcasts of the hearings, that Judge Clarence Thomas was telling the truth and Prof. Anita Hill was lying.

One must realize throughout the entire hearings that it was basically Prof. Hill's word against Judge Thomas'. The dozens of witnesses grilled by the presiding Senators meant almost nothing. Judge Thomas' witnesses could only testify to his good character, and Prof. Hill's witnesses talked about some incidents she had related to them "several years ago." None of the witnesses were really able to provide substantial evidence in the hearings under the seemingly endless questions of the Senators.

The fact that Prof. Hill brought this incident up now, after so many years and after Judge Thomas had already been promoted several times, is definitely suspicious. Her eagerness to take a polygraph test is also suspect, and the results meant very little. The possibility that she was acting for her own interests, or possibly those of another person or persons, cannot be ruled out.

Although both were visibly shaken during the hearings, Judge Thomas' testimony was more cohesive and credible as a whole. Prof. Hill's testimony even conflicted in some spots. In short, a much more convincing case can be made for Judge Thomas than Prof. Hill.

Growing Spirit In Hicksville

Being a student in the Hicksville Schools, I am pleased to see a growing spirit of enthusiasm exhibited among the students, faculty, and community. Coming out of a difficult year on austerity, it appears as though some positives have resulted from those trying times.

The School Board has concluded a year of strife with the closing of Willet Avenue Elementary School but seems to be making correct, but difficult decisions to revamp the district schools. The athletic programs in the High School are still intact with more support from the students, the teachers, and the community, including a very active booster club.

I was proud to go to our Pep rally and Homecoming which showed very large turnouts despite a challenging year for the football team. Spirit week at the High School showed that the teachers are behind us and in some ways I am sad that I will be graduating this year. Most importantly, my

POLICE REPORT

The Second Squad has reported the details of a robbery that occurred on Nov. 5 at 11 p.m. in Hicksville.

Two white males in their early 30s entered the Log Tavern, located on Herzog Place.

One subject had a handgun while the second subject had what appeared to be a shotgun and demanded money from the three patrons and the bartender, according to police. Police said that the two subjects escaped with over $450 after placing all the victims in the men's room. No injuries were reported.

Where Is The Teacher Aide Program?

Over this past weekend, I read 1,389 words printed in the Hicksville Bulletin Board pertaining to Special Education and Pupil Personnel Services.

It is most difficult for me to understand why there was no mention of the Teacher Aide program.

The services we provide for the Special Children in our school system are well-known throughout the community. We work individually and with small groups of students on all academic subjects. For the most part, we assist students who have difficulty learning a new concept. To do this requires knowledge of the subject matter, along with a great amount of love and patience, for all of which we are well-qualified. We are also responsible for administering tests, as per a student's I.E.P., in reference to testing modifications. These modifications are in place for all tests. The modifications vary such as:

1. Separate location
2. Small group
3. Needs to be read to
4. Directions need to be simplified
5. More examples given
6. Least distraction

We are responsible to assist a student who has been absent from school in "catching up." Unlike the mainstream, most of our students could not achieve this goal without support assistance. We are responsible to deal with emotional outbursts, causing a student to be taken out of the classroom setting for a period of time. While out of the classroom, we assist the student with the work he/she had begun, so as not to compound the problem. There are countless services that we provide, thus making our Teacher Aide program an integral part of our very successful Special Education program. Special Education in Hicksville is not a babysitting program, it is a teaching program.

I find it quite sad that 13 years later, there are some who would continue to try to sweep us under the carpet.

Linda L. Hild, President
Hicksville Teacher Aides/ASST. CSEA

Detectives from the Second Squad are still investigating.

A Letter from Lalabelle...

One of my readers has just sent me a charming little book which resembles one of those black and white hardcover notebooks we all used in school—and kids still do—and it's called What Ever Happened To...?—a collection of things remembered because once they were important to us...and I enjoyed it so much that I want to share with you some of the "things remembered" that we all do remember...galoshes—oil cloth on the kitchen table—zoot suits—people having dogs that weren't poodles and if they didn't know what they had, it was a splitz—V-Mail, meatless Tuesday, Minuteman Savings Stamps, Rosie the Riveter (all from World War II days)—penny loafers, penny candy, pennies—going to see a girl on Friday night who was baby-sitting for a family who had a television set and you watched the roller derby—the Studebaker, the one you couldn't tell whether it was coming or going—wedges—seeing somebody actually tip his hat when he met a lady on the street (in fact, who wears a hat to tip these days?!)—making things yourself like rubber-band guns that shot cardboard pellets, pipe cleaner people, soap box racers, and model airplanes that you made with balsa wood and dope—the Ottoman Empire, amino acids, Neptune, Uranus, and Pluto, 1066, the Pythagorean theorem, Champlain and Joliet, Fulton's and Seward's Follies, and World War I—dancing slow and close—crepe paper, stretching it, twisting it, hanging it all over the place—penmanship—eating something without knowing how many calories it had or caring or even knowing what a calorie was—getting a Good Humor or Eskimo Pie and looking for a lucky stick—fox fur pieces that ladies wore around their necks that had fox paws and fox faces—playing marbles with moon aggies, peewees, kabollas, purles, knuckles down and no hunching—Cracker Jack where you got real prizes like metal crickets and wooden whistles—Isn't that a wonderful list of things that once were so familiar and which most of us have forgotten...And I must confess I don't know, even now, much about those words about the marbles—what is a kabolla???

Yours, Lalabelle

Scouting For Food

More than 10,000 Nassau County Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Explorers did considerably more than a good turn Nov. 9 when they distributed food collection bags to thousands of Nassau County residents, kicking off this year's Scouting for Food Drive, a national effort by the Boy Scouts of America to help feed the hungry in local neighborhoods. The canned food collected locally will be used to help feed the hungry in Nassau County.

The Scouts went door-to-door the weekend of Nov. 9, leaving food collection bags. They will return this weekend Nov. 16, to pick up the filled bags, which the Scouts are asking residents to place outside their doors by 9 a.m. The collected food will be forwarded to food banks for local distribution.

Christopher Virgo, Volunteer Chairman for Scouting for Food in Nassau County, noted: "The greatest need is for nutritional canned food items, such as baby formula, soup, chili, fish, meats and vegetables." Virgo added that any resident who has not received a food collection bag may contribute by calling 746-8282.

Steven A. Humphrey, Chief Executive for the Nassau County Council, BSA, revealed that as many as 11.5 million children in the United States are threatened with hunger each month. "Hungry children are more likely to be sick and thus absent from school more often than children who are adequately nourished," Humphrey said.

The food collected by the Nassau Scouts will be taken to Lundy Electronics on Roberts Lane in Glen Head, where it will be sorted and distributed to food banks serving Nassau County.

Last year, Nassau County Council Scouts collected more than 100,000 cans of food for hungry families.

Adoption Conference

"Adoption: Parents & Children United" is the theme of the 11th annual conference of the Adoptive Parents Committee of New York, Inc. (APC). Information about adopting and parenting will be presented to the more than 2,000 people expected to attend. The all-day conference is being held at Fordham University's main campus Nov. 24, and is open to the public. The event coincides with the first day of National Adoption Week.

The conference will feature more than 90 workshops, seminars and panel discussions conducted by adoption professionals, including lawyers, judges, and social workers, as well as by adoptive parents, birth mothers and adoptees.

Topics that will be discussed this year include:

Birth Mother Panel; Ideas About Adoption Advertising; Adopting Across Racial Lines; Single Parent Adoptions; Adoptions and Grandparents; and The How To's Of International Adoption.

Sessions will run from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. at Fordham University's Rose Hill Campus in the Bronx, which may be reached by public transportation (Metro-North's Fordham Road Station). On-site parking will be available for a $2 fee. A full house is expected and pre-registration is strongly recommended. The pre-registration fee is $45. This includes a one year APC membership (regularly scheduled workshops, access to APC's continuously updated adoption research information, monthly meetings and monthly newsletter). Registrants on the day of the conference will be charged a $15 late fee. Phone (718) 259-7921 for further information.

The Adoptive Parents Committee of New York, Inc. is an adoptive and preadoptive parent organization dedicated to improving all aspects of adoption.

INN Benefit

The Stardusters Big Band swing music makers will be performing a benefit concert for the Interfaith Nutrition Network of Long Island Nov. 24 at St. Anthony's High School on Wolf Hill Road in South Huntington. The proceeds from this Thanksgiving week concert will be used to feed the hungry and shelter the homeless of Nassau and Suffolk Counties.

The Interfaith Nutrition Network (INN) is a grass roots agency, which started with a single soup kitchen in 1983. Today, the INN operates 17 soup kitchens, eight shelters, Single Room Occupancies for homeless individuals, two residences for persons with AIDS, long-term low rent housing facilities and the Harry Chapin INN transitional facilities located in Suffolk County.

Each day, 1,200 meals are served by the INN and 100 are sheltered overnight. More than 1,000 volunteers help a small paid staff to serve the hungry and homeless of Long Island.

The Stardusters 19-piece Big Band with Bob Rotunda as leader, are master interpreters of original arrangement Swing-Era music, and are totally dedicated to the preservation of America's greatest Big Band Era classics (circa 1935 to 1946).

Performing in excess of 15 years, the Stardusters continue to thrill concert audiences and dancers with the famous hits of Artie Shaw, Glen Miller, Harry James, Tommy Dorsey, Benny Goodman and others from that era.

Advance donations are $10, at the door $12. For more information call Diane Osten at 486-8506. Performance starts at 3 p.m.

Forum For Physically Challenged

"Legal Issues Confronting The Physically Challenged And Their Families" is the topic of a Community Law Forum to be presented by the Bar Association of Nassau County.

Experts will address various issues including Protection of Rights (education for handicapped children, mainstreaming, due process suspensions and hearings, Developmental Disabilities Law, Mental Health Law and Special Education Act); Discrimination in Housing, Employment and Public Accommodations (rental and purchase of real estate, barrier-free public accommodations, employment); Planning for Health and Financial Needs of the Disabled (Supplemental Security Income, Medicaid entitlements and Medicare, wills, trusts, guardians and conservators, social services, entitlements and hearings).

There is no charge for admission. The forum will be held at the Bar Association of Nassau County, 15th and West Streets, Mineola from 9:15 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. Facilities are easy access and barrier-free. Reservations may be made by calling Carlyle Katz at 747-4070.

Meetings Schedule

- Gamblers Anonymous and Gamanon will hold an open meeting Dec. 7 at 8 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church, 60 E. Main Street, Oyster Bay. Refreshments will be served and all are welcome.

- Hodgkins and Lymphoma Association (HALO) will meet Nov. 21 at 8 p.m. at Nassau County Medical Center, 2201 Hempstead Turnpike, East Meadow. The meeting, sponsored by the American Cancer Society, will be held in the Staff Secretary's Office, Room 107 on the lobby floor. Sandra Jordan will lead a discussion with patients. For information, call 385-9100, ext. 308.

The Gourmet Palm Garden Room

The Gourmet Palm Garden Room Restaurant, open to the public, in the Roslyn Claremont Hotel, has introduced its new fall menu prepared by Chef Cliff Goodman.

Including lower priced selections, the menu is a reflection of variety. "Anything for any taste," according to the Chef, who was raised in Glen Cove.

"Our restaurant is a relaxed environment where diners can enjoy a variety of choices from chicken, veal, lamb, beef and duck to fish, seafood and pasta," according to Marlene Freeman, Hotel spokesperson.

Chef Goodman graduated from High Point College in North Carolina with a B.S. in Business Management and then received a second degree from the Culinary Institute of America.

"No heavy creams and fats" are in Cliff's menus, said Mrs. Freeman. "He is a chef of this decade and into the next." Cliff uses natural stocks in his traditional classic food done the modern way—natural reductions with fresh ingredients (mushrooms, shallots, tomatoes and herbs).

The Roslyn Claremont Hotel, a deluxe European-style hotel decorated in 18th century English Queen Ann Tradition, has 77 rooms and 10 suites.

Located in the quaint historic Village of Roslyn, it is in walking distance to upscale shops, an art gallery, assorted restaurants, the Bryant Library and Roslyn Pond Park.

The hotel features a gourmet restaurant, open to the public, serving breakfast, lunch and dinner. An Afternoon Tea is served from 2:30-5 p.m. Sunday Brunch is available from 11:30 to 2:30 p.m.

Opening lead — queen of spades.

Most players are taught early in life that they must never deliberately give declarer a ruff and discard. But, as with all general rules, there are times when this injunction should be violated.

Assume you're East and your partner leads the queen of spades. You overtake the queen with the king — just in case the queen is a singleton — and continue with the A-J. West discards a diamond on the third round of spades, and the question is what to do next.

Ordinarily, you'd discontinue the suit, bearing in mind the ancient ruff-and-discard bugaboo. In the present case, however, you should play a fourth round of spades!

There are basically two reasons for doing this. The first is that a heart, a diamond or a club return are all give-up plays that can't help your cause at all. The second is that you might manufacture a trump trick for your partner that does not exist naturally, and in that way defeat the contract.

In the actual case, once you lead the fourth round of spades, declarer is in a hopeless position. If he discards either a diamond or a club, or ruffs low, your partner ruffs with the nine and thus acquires an indestructible trump trick. South is in equally bad shape if he ruffs the fourth spade with the ten or king. In either case, West discards a club to assure himself of a trump trick later on.

Note that if you fail to play a spade at trick four, South can bring the contract home by finessing against your partner's queen of trumps. Note also that playing a fourth round of spades would be equally successful if West's trump holding were either the K-9-x or J-7-4-3.

Art Exhibit At The Hicksville Library

The Hicksville Public Library is delighted to have on exhibit the work of Stanley Kramer, a Hicksville resident, is showing his watercolors, drawings and fabric applique in the community room of the library from Nov. 18-Dec. 11.

Kramer is an adjunct professor at Concordia College, Bronxville, NY, and some of his charcoal drawings are of Concordia as well as New York City.

Kramer is a life member of the Art

Students League, he studied watercolor with the President of the American Watercolor Society, Mario Cooper, and holds a Master's Degree in Art Education from New York University. He is a Minister of Education at Trinity Lutheran School in Hicksville.

On Thursday, Dec. 5, at 7:30 at the monthly meeting of the Community Council, Kramer will speak about his work, his teaching and art in Hicksville.

levels the remaining rooms will be situated.

"This is not a nursing home or an institution," she said, "they are apartments—not rooms."

An added highlight to living at the Regency, explained Holtz, is that the Regency is only a half-mile from the University Hospital at Glen Cove.

Many people apply for different reasons, Holtz said. She said there are those who want the security of knowing that there is care available and others who simply sign up for social reasons. "We're going to have around-the-clock snacks available."

"This is retirement living as it should be," she said. "We'll set the pace for Long Island."

Rising Classical Star Heads NSO Ticket

By George Wallace

Long Island classical music lovers will have an opportunity to "catch a shooting star" from that music world when violinist Kurt Nikkanen performs Mozart's Violin Concerto No. 5 with the Nassau Symphony Orchestra this weekend. The concert will be at the John Cranford Adams Playhouse at 8 p.m. at Hofstra University, with Andrew Schenk conducting.

For those who don't know him, Nikkanen is a leading young virtuoso violinist who is rapidly racking up credits on the international music scene.

Just this last summer, for example, the Connecticut-raised Manhattan resident has performed in Aspen with the Boston Pops, at the Salzburg Festival in Austria, and made appearances in Switzerland, France, with the Proms in London and broadcast the Brahms Violin Concerto with the BBC Radio Orchestra.

Not bad for a 26-year-old Hartford man. As one reviewer, after complimenting the violinist's work profusely, put it, "I have sweaters older than Nikkanen."

Nikkanen's bio has all the earmarks one would expect for a virtuoso musician. He began violin studies at the age of three. He won his first competition at the age of ten. He made his Carnegie Hall debut at age 12, and at fourteen was invited by Zubin Mehta to perform Paganini's Concerto No. 1 with the New York Philharmonic in a Young Person's Concert.

And in 1982, the scholarship graduate of Juilliard performed the world premiere of Jeffrey Mumford's Violin Concerto with the American Composers Orchestra.

So it should, perhaps, not come as a total surprise that Kurt Nikkanen has emerged as a violinist who is performing with distinguished orchestras and on prestigious recital series. After all, new violinists have to keep coming along.

What continues to intrigue, however, is the level of enthusiasm which his performances have generated. Publicists for the young musician have no shortage of juicy quotes from the press to attach to Nikkanen's press materials. The verbiage ranges from agility, strength and mastery to eloquent, bewitching and passionate, and comes from such diverse sources as The Washington Post and the Honolulu Star-Bulletin to KURT NIKKANEN, VIRTUOSO VIOLINIST, appears with the Nassau Symphony Orchestra at Hofstra's John Cranford Adams Playhouse on Saturday.

Gramophone and Suddeutsche Zeitung in Munich.

"If the greatest young violinistic 'finds' of the seventies were arguably Perlman and Zukerman, and of the eighties Mintz and Lin, then I shall be very surprised if Nikkanen doesn't join this illustrious company as one of the leading lights of the new decade," writes a reviewer in the June, 1991 issue of CD Review.

Kurt Nikkanen's recording debut is with the release of the Tchaikovsky and Glazunov concertos with the London Philharmonic Orchestra conducted by Yuri Simonov for the Collins Classic label, as well as an all-Bartók recording with pianist Rohan De Silva. He is booked for recitals at the Tilles Center locally, as well as further afield in Ravinia, Vancouver, Amsterdam, Berlin and London.

They say that to listen to a virtuoso violinist play is to enter a higher state of emotional clarity, drama and elegance. Long Islanders have a rare opportunity this weekend to check out this young man's level of virtuosity for themselves with the Nassau Symphony Orchestra.

Use Your Common Cents! Attend 'Money: Lure, Lore & Liquidity' Nov. 21, 22 and 23

The root of all evil will be examined in an upcoming Hofstra University interdisciplinary conference. Money: Lure, Lore & Liquidity will be held Nov. 21, 22 and 23 to examine all aspects of currency.

Topics to be discussed through panel discussions and special lectures include "Money, Language and Culture," "Money and Nineteenth-Century British Literature," "Money in Folklore and Folktales," "Psychology: The Meanings and Motivational Forces of Money," and "Money: Coinage, Symbol and Image."

On Thursday, Nov. 21, the keynote address will be delivered by James R. Jones, Chair and Chief Executive Officer of the American Stock Exchange at 9:30 a.m., Cory Gilliland, Acting Deputy Executive Director of the National Numismatic Collection of the National Museum of American History in the Smithsonian Institution who will speak about money at "America's Official 'Calling Cards'" in a panel on Numismatics and Painting at 3 p.m.; Marc Shell, Head of the Department of Comparative Literature of the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, will give a special address at 4:30 titled "Money As Art."

On Friday, Nov. 22 at 10:30 a.m., Neale S. Godfrey, Chairperson of the Children's Financial Network, Inc. and founder of the First Children's Bank, will talk about "Children and Money: From Toddler to Teen—How to Teach Your Kids About Money." At 12:30, the former president of the Exxon Education Foundation and of Hofstra University, Robert L. Payton, will speak on "Philanthropy: The Giving Away of Money." Also speaking this day will be two international scholars: Richard Albin, Senior Economist of the Bank of Israel in Jerusalem, and Andrei Anikin, of the Institute of World Economics and International Relations of the Academy of Sciences of the USSR in Moscow.

Also on Friday will be a banquet featuring cuisine with a monetary theme such as "Millionaire's Chicken." Following this feast will be a musical review, "Dollars and Sense," a collection of musical numbers also relating to currency.

Among the guests on Saturday, Nov. 23 are Olivia Mellan, a psychotherapist and author who will speak at 11 a.m. on "How to Resolve Couples' Money Fights" Vicki Robin, President and Executive Director of The New Road Map Foundation and an expert on how to live comfortably on $7,000 a year, will talk about "Redefining Prosperity: Knowing When Enough is Enough" at 2 p.m.; and at 3:30 p.m., Nathan J. Sambu will give a special address on "Humor and Money."

In conjunction with the conference, "The Realm of the Coin: Money in Contemporary Art," an art exhibit that examines images and references to money in the art of the last 30 years, will be held Oct. 27 through Dec. 13 in the Emily Lowe Gallery.

People interested in the conference can sign up for the days individually or all three together. For registration information on Money: Lure, Lore & Liquidity, please call (516) 463-5669. For press information call 463-6819.

Bon Voyage

By Edythe Shepard

The more one travels, the more "at home" the traveler feels, whether she's in Bombay or Bordeaux. But even to the well seasoned tourist, a well meaning action or gesture in a foreign land can turn out to be a social blunder or even an insult to local inhabitants. What is acceptable behavior in the U.S. may well be unacceptable in other countries. Etiquette changes from place to place and our behavior abroad, as Americans, brightens or dims our image and that of where we come from.

To help avoid making the "wrong move at the wrong time in the wrong place", the Parker Pen Company has issued a most interesting book, Do's and Taboos Around the World, a 183-page paperback for the business traveler as well as the tourist. A guide to international behavior, it discusses in detail: protocol, customs and etiquette, hand gestures and body language, gift giving and receiving and key do's and don'ts when in foreign lands. It is valuable reading to the traveling American who must be aware of and respect the patterns and customs of other cultures. An appreciation and understanding of our differences will help prevent discomfort and difficulty.

The book attempts to forestall faux pas (well meaning as they are) and "create an awareness and sensitivity to behavior when traveling outside the U.S. Editor Roger E. Axtell hopes it will help vent embarrassment and too, learning about these cultural differences through travel abroad, can be challenging and fun." We should remember that "When in Rome, do as the Romans do" (as closely as we can) and Axtell points out that our large corporations maintain crash courses in manners and mores for employees and families who will be living and working overseas. From which name comes first (in China, surname first, then, given name) to eating what is on your plate, whether it be sheep's eyeballs or gorilla steak.)

Did you know that in Bulgaria, a nod means no and a shake of the head, yes? The American okay sign: thumb and forefinger forming a circle, has the same rude meaning in Brazil as the lifted third finger gesture. And in Britain, the V sign means victory except when the palm faces outward; then it denotes the same obscene sign as above. Fold your arms in Finland and you're arrogant; in Fiji, you're disrespectful. In many European and mid Eastern countries, men embracing and cheek-kissing are the usual greeting.

Sometimes, what we consider a bribe is thought of as a tip in some foreign countries. In Mexico, "mordida" (a little bite) is expected by some officials for prompt service. In parts of Africa, "dash" is expected for anything from obtaining a visa to an airplane seat.

Gift-giving in Japan is rampant (described by the author as "gostomania") and often, "tara imawashi" is practiced, whereby "When you get a gift you have no use for, you pass it on as a gift to someone else" (Sound familiar?) The Japanese maintain the ceremony is more important than the sentiment. In the Arab world, never bring a gift to the wife. And don't profusely admire an Arab's possessions or he may make a gift of them.

Punctuality in Latin America (Spain and Italy too, I've found) means that a 30-minute delay for appointments is customary. So as you wait, remember he/she is not being impolite.

In summing up, Axtell writes, "There is one universal action, used and understood by every culture and in every country, no matter how remote: the single most useful communication: the smile. It is a gigantic "do" and will make your travel the stimulating fun challenge it should be."

Tovah To 'Cross Ovah' In Great Neck

Tovah Feldshuh will perform her new one-woman show, Tovah Cross Ovah: From Broadway To Cabaret, for the Fall Festival of Performing Arts in Great Neck on Sunday, Nov. 17 at 7 p.m.

A shorter version of this musical/theater piece debuted at the famed Algonquin Oak Room in New York City. This critically acclaimed act features Ms. Feldshuh, accompanied by David Lewis at the piano, singing songs, telling stories and inhabiting a gallery of hilarious characters, ages eight to eighty. With subjects ranging from socialite Muffy Brook Asthma Alsop on Park Avenue, to Grandma Ada in the Bronx, stories of her career from understudying at the Guthrie Theatre to starring on Broadway, and songs from all over, Ms. Feldshuh shares an intimate look at the genesis of a life in show business.

MISCHA GUTENBERG, violin, and Gabor Fuchs, piano.

Soviet Duo To Present Academy Concert

On Sunday, Nov. 17 at 3 p.m., violinist Mischa Gutenberg and pianist Gabor Fuchs will present a concert of music at the North Shore Performing Arts Academy in Manhasset. The recital will feature music of Cesar Franck as well as several Russian composers.

Misha Gutenberg was born and raised in the Soviet Union where he attended the Odessa Conservatory. He was a member of the Moscow Philharmonic Orchestra, playing in the first violin section. After immigrating to the United States he has been a member of the St. Louis Symphony, the St. Luke's Chamber Orchestra and is concertmaster of the Westchester Philharmonic. As a soloist he has performed world-wide.

Gabor Fuchs was born in Beregovao and began playing the piano at age seven. He attended the Conservatory of Lvov and graduated with high honors from the Moscow Conservatory. Mr. Fuchs has participated in music festivals throughout Europe and has given recitals in Austria and Hungary. His United States engagements include performances at Weill Recital Hall, Merkin Hall, and the Frick Museum of Art.

The North Shore Performing Arts Academy is located in the Congregational Church of Manhasset, 1845 Northern Blvd., in Manhasset (across the street from the Americana "Miracle Mile" stores). A $10 donation ($5 for students) will be requested at the door. For further information, call the Academy office at 516-365-2599.

Ms. Feldshuh will bring her distinctive style to songs by George Gershwin, Rupert Holmes, Noel Coward, Judy Collins and to music from the Broadway shows Finian's Rainbow, Ballroom and Mack and Mabel. There will be special material created for this act. The musical arrangements are by Wally Harper.

Ms. Feldshuh was originally scheduled to perform A Fierce Attachment for the Festival. She agreed to do Tovah Cross Ovah instead. This program will be the last in the Festival series on Nov. 17.

Tovah Feldshuh just closed to rave reviews in the one-character play A Fierce Attachment Off-Broadway. Prior to that she starred on Broadway in Lend Me a Tenor, for which she received her third Tony Award nomination and second Drama Desk Award. She had previously been nominated for the Tony as Best Actress for both the musical Sarava and Isaac Bashevis Singer's Yentl. Her performance in Yentl also garnered her the Obie, Outer Critics' Circle, Drama Desk and Theatre World Awards. Tovah recently made her cabaret debut at the famed Algonquin Oak Room in her act Tovah Cross Ovah—From Broadway to Cabaret. She starred in the Roundabout Theatre's She Stoops to Conquer, Springtime for Henry and The Mistress of the Inn, BAM's Three Sisters and Mirror Rep's The Time of Your Life. She was nominated for an Emmy and awarded the Israel Friendship Award for her performance in NBC's mini-series Holocaust. Tovah recently completed shooting a starring role in the feature A Day in October and an ABC special entitled Saying Kaddish. For her charity work, Tovah received the Israel Peace Medal and the Eleanor Roosevelt Humanitarian Award. She is married to New York attorney Andrew Harris Levy and is the mother of Garson Brandon and Amanda Claire.

The Fall Festival of Performing Arts is sponsored by Womanspace and the Great Neck Adult Program. Both performances will take place at the Kennedy School at Middle Neck and Grassfield Roads in Great Neck at 7 p.m. Tickets are $12.50. Reservations are recommended by calling (516) 773-1713. If available, tickets will be sold at the door prior to the performance.

Womanspace

Womanspace is a concept and physical space that came into being in 1979 with the avowed purpose of helping women who needed assistance and support at various points in their lives. Sometimes the support takes the form of help from peers and professionals when members are in crisis. At other times women come to work together with others who have common goals. Some come to participate in or lead pragmatic projects and others come to explore ideas with other women. Sometimes the subject is family, sometimes society, sometimes the arts.

Says Gladys T. Roth, Director of Womanspace, Chair of the Festival Committee, "Our goal is to empower women to take charge of their own lives, to be effective in the immediate and larger community and to achieve equality for all women."

Islanders Win Before Hitting The Road

By A. Anthony Miller

A hockey game can sometimes be determined in a matter of seconds.

That's the way it was Nov. 9, as the Islanders met the San Jose Sharks for the second time this year.

Nineteen seconds into the first period, San Jose scored. The Islanders caught up at 8:35 with a power play goal by Steve Thomas, his sixth of the season, setting the tone for the game.

San Jose scored first again in the second period, and in the third, and each time the Islanders caught up, with goals by Bill Berg and Uwe Krupp, the latter scoring at 19:06 in the third. Now the teams were again even and it would look like overtime for only the third game this season, right?

Wrong. San Jose defenseman Bob McGill hit the net just 14 seconds later, at 19:20, making the score 4-3, and even though the Isles pulled goaltender Steve Weeks—making his second start this year—and skated with six men, the team couldn't accomplish a goal in the final 40 seconds.

Holiday 5K Run Registration

Everyone is invited for a morning of festive family fun at the fourth annual Dr. B. Well Naturally Ho Ho Ho Jingle Bells 5 Kilometer Run to be held in Bethpage on Saturday morning, Dec. 21.

The run will be conducted under the auspices of the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club, with technical assistance from Finish Line Promotions. It will start and finish at Bethpage High School, with the starting gun for the 5K event going off promptly at 9 a.m. There will also be a quarter mile fun run for youngsters 12 and under, starting at 8:15 a.m. with awards presented to all competitors.

The 5K course will take the runners on a scenic winter tour through Bethpage, then back to the high school for bountiful holiday refreshments. In addition to the water station at the halfway point, there will be a non-alcoholic egg nog station in keeping with the holiday spirit. A babysitting service will be provided for those who are participating in the 5K Run.

Dr. B. Well Naturally, Long Island's newest health food supermarket, will join with Twin Labs, manufacturers of some super products for runners and other athletes, as the new prime sponsors of the event.

Awards in the 5K Run will be given to the

The Rockets Keep On Winning

The Rockets traveled to Oceanside to tangle with the scrappy Mocassins.

The first half belonged to the Rockets, as they netted three goals by David Neves, Chris Musinski and Kevin Nolan.

Martain Ferrario, Mikey Camarinos and Drew Berner applied constant pressure to their opponent, showing dominant ball controlling skills, helping to set up many scoring opportunities.

The Mocassins gained momentum in the second half, scoring one goal, but the Rocket defense played tough and was able to secure the 3-1 win.

Good defensive play was exhibited by Nick Alfano, Eddie Pettei, John Fiorillo, Hank Zuckerman, Paul Martorano and Adam Sobe.

A strong outing was turned in by midfielders David Musinski and Brett Huzar.

Danny Cooch played another outstanding game in goal, keeping his average to under one goal scored per game.

The Rockets record climbed to 6-0-2, which is good enough to land them in first place.

Hawks Split Season Opener

The Hicksville Hawks 1975 traveling soccer team commenced play in the Long Island Junior Soccer League, Under 19, Snowball soccer season recently with a 2-1 loss to the Hewlett Blue Thunder, at Tudor Field, on Nov. 2, and a 3-1 victory over the Bayside Eagles, at SUNY Old Westbury, on Nov. 3.

The offense was led by striker Danny Bell, who scored the lone tally on Nov. 2 and had two goals on Nov. 3, as well as David Baumritter, who converted on a beautiful header, off a line drive Rich Kotschau corner kick.

Both games featured exceptional passing and great defense on the part of both teams. The Hawks outplayed Hewlett and lost and dominated Bayside from the start of the game to the finish and won. The Hawks never let up on the opposition.

The rest of the Hawks, who also played well all weekend are Dimitry Drouin as goalie, Eric Blicker as fullback, Tommy Basaranian as fullback, Mike Sanchez as fullback, striker and wing, Mike Longo as stopper, Earl Dennis at halfback, Dan Longo as halfback, Kevin Koehn as halfback and wing, Steven Fox as wing and fullback and Brian Harkins as wing.

The Hawks played a fine weekend of soccer. Coach John Fitzgerald, Assistant Coach Pat McHugh and Manager Brian Koehn put forth a fine effort in preparing the team. The team wants to send a get well message to injured players Lee Passavia and Scott McLaughlin.

Possible PAL Midget Football

The Hicksville PAL intends to start a Midget Football and Cheerleading program. Hicksville has a very fine youth sports program. To bring Hicksville to the forefront in football a league such as this is needed to feed youths into the high school program.

PAL is hoping to build more football pride in Hicksville. They will be building this program from the bottom up. Once the league is started, many of the idle youth will be playing football and cheerleading.

The PAL is requesting volunteers to help in the many responsibilities in such an undertaking. Team sponsors are needed and key persons in this proud community are requested to help promote the program.

Please attend a meeting at the Hicksville Library on Tuesday, Dec. 3 at 7 p.m.

PAL is asking people to come out and help start the Hicksville Fire Football and Cheerleading program.
