Students Prepare For Entrance Exams

By John W. Garger

For the next three months high school students will be taking college admission tests. Although this can be a tense time for many students, it affects where they go to college and what kind of scholarships they get.

Most students do not look forward to taking college entrance examinations, but they realize they must. Chetan Trikhan, a junior at Hicksville High School, will be taking the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) on May 2. He said, "I am not really for it, one test shouldn't make a difference." Trikhan is ranked seventh in his class and maintains a high average. He has not decided on a college, but said, "I know colleges are concerned about the test results. I am studying hard for it."

According to Hicksville High School Guidance Department Chairperson, Ms. Horsley, "The SATs, today, are probably as important as five years ago, but it depends upon the college. Competitive colleges use certain SAT scores as a cut off." In order to be considered by some colleges, students must reach a minimum score.

Some colleges use the SATs as a basis for awarding scholarships. According to an admissions officer at Adelphi University, when awarding scholarships they look more closely at SATs with a minimum of at least a 1,000 score and a B+ average. The highest possible score is a 1600. The test is given in two parts, math and verbal, each worth 800 points. She added that if a student had a 95 average with low SATs that he still might be considered. "Nothing is written in stone," she said.

Horsley said that every college will tell you that the most important thing about the student is the level of courses a student chooses and the class work the student performs in these classes. Wayne James, an admissions officer at Molloy College, said that Molloy looks at both the entrance examination and the applicant's academic record when considering whether to offer admissions to a perspective student. But a student must have over an 800 SAT score for starters. According to James, people applying to Molloy have been scoring better than the national average. "We are happy to see that the students who have applied this year have had higher scores than in the past years, although nationally scores have been down," he said.

Different students worry about different parts of the test. Mark Solimax, a junior at Hicksville High School, will be taking the SATs on May 2. He is concerned about the verbal section. Although he has taken the preparatory course offered at the high school he is "worried about verbal." "I will be going to college for engineering and will need at least a 1100 combined score." The admissions officer at Adelphi University said that they look for at least a 450 verbal score and a 450 math score, and a combined score of at least 950. They also take academic records and extracurricular activities into consideration.

The trend seems to be that students are taking the entrance examinations earlier during high school so that they can get to find out what they are like and so they have plenty of opportunities to take them again. Jennifer Escaler, a junior at Hicksville High School, took the SATs when she was a sophomore. She took them knowing that she

THE HICKSVILLE-GREGORY Museum needs the support of the community at this year's budget vote in order to maintain the service that it has provided to the community in the past.

Funding Proposal Critical To Museum

By John W. Garger

The third proposition on the school budget vote may well decide the fate of the Hicksville Gregory Museum.

In 1963 the Hicksville Gregory Museum was established as a supplement to the earth science curriculum of the Hicksville Public Schools. It still serves that function today. Since the early 1980s the museum has received funding from the school district, either as a line item on the actual school budget or as a separate proposal like this year. According to museum director Mrs. Joan Kaweckki the museum is in desperate need of the funding given by the school district.

Other income that the museum receives is through memberships, out of town visitor fees, and small donations. The museum has received several grants in the past, but they cannot be used for general operating purposes, and the grants have been cut severely because of state and federal cutbacks. According to Kaweckki the museum has received donations in the past, but none to the extent of the $100,000 donation for an extension on the Heckscher Museum. The museum fee has been raised once, but Kaweckki feels that it is at an appropriate level. It is competitive with other museums.

Grants are limited in the way that they can be used. Utility bills and salaries are not covered by grants. The museum's five paid employees; including a full-time curator, part-time director, two docents paid by the hour, and a part-time secretary, do not earn over $40,000 combined and their salaries are covered by donations, fees, and gift shop sales.

During the year when the school was on austerity and the museum did not receive aid, money from a building fund had to be used. The fund, which was about $50,000, was nearly exhausted. The museum does not have the resources or the benefactors to deal with austerity again.

The museum was originally set up in 1963 by Gardiner and Anne Gregory, Hicksville teachers at the time, in their home. Their collections of rocks, minerals, and butterflies grew so large that they moved the museum to the Heitz Place Courthouse in 1973. That building, which was also the old Village Hall, is owned by the Town of Oyster Bay and has been registered as a National Historic Landmark.

The museum still serves its original function of supplementing elementary and secondary school education in Hicksville, and has expanded it. Mrs. Joan Kaweckki, director of the museum, said that by the end of April all the schools in the district will have visited the museum. Hicksville classes are offered a wide variety of programs. The classes

Library Vote Budget Approved Bennett Re-elected

In what became the biggest turnout for a library budget vote in a number of years, residents voted in favor of the proposed 1992-93 library budget on April 8. Library Trustee Clara Bennett was also re-elected to serve another five year term on the board.

The budget received overwhelming voter approval with 474 votes for and 262 votes against. Marc Herbst, Library Board President, thanks everyone who took part in the voting process. "The Library Board of Trustees accepts the budget results as community appreciation for the wide array of library services offered by our dedicated employees. The library will continue to provide the community with programs and services through fiscally conservative management," said Herbst.

The budget was approved for $1,975,230. That reflects an increase of $3,161 over last year's budget. The estimated tax rate is $1.552 per $100 of assessed valuation.

The Library Board of Trustees meets the third Wednesday of every month at 8 p.m. in the Local History Room of the library. These meetings are open to the public.

Labor Office Benefits Employees

By John W. Garger

Many people may wonder what the two story red brick building at 301 Old Country Road is, but if you were ever laid off or became a dislocated worker that building would be your first stop.

Although the primary users of the facility are people seeking unemployment insurance, the office is aptly named the Community Service Center of the Department of Labor. The office not only dispenses unemployment insurance, it also provides a host of services from job placement for first time graduates or dislocated workers to on the job training programs for veterans.

The Hicksville office is one of three in Nassau County. According to Bill Smolinsky, the office manager at the Hicksville Branch, there are over 10,000 forms being processed at any one time. The office staff of 22 full-time and several part-time employees handle a wide range of customers from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, with late hours on Thursdays.

The Department of Labor has been working hard to make the system as easy as possible. Referring to unemployment insurance. Smolinsky said, "Our priority is to get people paid." Today, people filing for unemployment insurance only need to visit the office once. After filling out all the proper forms and watching an orientation video, people receiving unemployment insurance mail in coupons every two weeks instead of returning to the office. A new program using a touch-tone phone and a voice synthesizer is being developed to further improve the system and replace the coupons. The advantage to such a system is that many people leave off important information when filling out the coupons. The automated system will not allow a person to continue unless all information is supplied.

The Community Service Center also provides services to small businesses in the area. Included in these services are GAMOT (Gate Applicant Master Order Technique) which provides larger companies with an efficient means of handling and screening applicants; Labor Market Information; pre-inspection of facilities, so any potential OSHA infractions can be identified and remedied prior to Federal inspection, and a testing program, which provides a variety of validated tests and testing techniques to assist employees in selecting qualified individuals for specific skills, aptitudes, and interests. Many other programs are offered, but according to the Department of Labor many go little used.

One program that few employers take advantage of is the Targeted Jobs Tax Credit. This program is federally designed to encourage employers to hire persons who have special difficulties in finding work by giving those employers up to $2,400 in tax credits on their federal taxes.

The Shared Work Program can also help local employers cope with having to downsize. Shared Work enables employers to keep valuable employees working part-time, while business is slow, and the employee collects a portion of unemployment insurance to make up for the lost wages. Information on these and more valuable programs is available at the Community Service Center.

The services offered do not stop at Department of Labor services. The Community Service Center houses information about all local human service programs and provides space for representatives to perform

HBA Celebrates 40th With Parade

By John W. Garger

Traffic was stopped on Levittown Parkway on Saturday, April 11 for a parade of youths celebrating the opening day of the 40th year of the Hicksville Baseball Association.

The boys and girls who will be participating in this year's HBA season gathered at Old Country Rd. School and were led down Levittown Parkway to Stewart Ave. by a police car and fire truck. More than a hundred parents lined the street to cheer on their sons and daughters. From Stewart Ave. the players, coaches, and managers joined the parents at the Abe Levitt Baseball Complex for opening ceremonies.

The chairperson for the HBA, Jane Senn, opened the ceremonies by thanking everyone for attending and introduced several dignitaries. County Executive Thomas Gulotta congratulated the players, parents, and coaches by saying he, "wishes a successful season, but more importantly a healthy and safe one." Assemblyman Fred Parola remarked how very rich the community was with great leadership. Other special attendees were Councilman Tom Clark, Councilwoman Ocker, Councilman Hynes, Town Clerk Carl Marcellino, and a representative from Town Supervisor Lewis Yevoli's office.

This season is special because it commemorates the founding of the HBA in 1952. The board members, all of whom are volunteers, have worked hard organizing events to celebrate the 40th Anniversary and to improve baseball operations. Part of the celebration will be a carnival to be held on June 6 at the Abe Levitt Complex. From noon to 5 p.m. there will be rides, game booths, clowns, and 1952 prices at the concession stand. All alumni of the HBA, especially those who have played in the founding season, are encouraged to attend. On the evening of June 6 there will be a dance for the adults at Levittown Hall. Details of June 6 and other special events will be available soon.

Senn also thanked Superintendent of Schools, Sal Mugavero, for helping to improve the conditions of the school ball fields at Dutch Lane School. She said it is the first time in 10 years that there are decent, safe fields, thanks to the efforts of the superintendent.

TO YOUR HEALTH

By RICHARD H. BLAU, M.D.

Advanced Treatment For Rheumatoid Arthritis

A recent article discussed the diagnosis and initial treatment for rheumatoid arthritis. Drugs used in this treatment are those which control joint inflammation. Often, these initial medications are either aspirin or strong aspirin-like preparations. If the arthritis is progressive and not controlled by these medications, other therapies such as gold injections may be recommended.

No one is certain how gold works. However, scientific studies have shown that 70% of patients with rheumatoid arthritis will experience a good to an excellent response to gold therapy. This medication is given either orally or by injection. Gold is one of several medications called a disease modifying agent because it is believed to slow the process of rheumatoid arthritis. Other medications in this category are Plaquenil and D-Penicillamine.

Recently, another category of medication has been developed and used in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis. These medications are called immunosuppressive agents and include Imuran, Methotrexate, and Cytoxan. These drugs are very powerful and are usually reserved for patients with rheumatoid arthritis which has not responded to other forms of treatment. Both gold therapy and the immunosuppressive therapy is usually administered under the supervision of a rheumatologist (arthritis specialist).

Great advances have been made over recent years in the diagnosis and treatment of rheumatoid arthritis. The days when a patient was in constant pain and confined to a wheelchair with arthritis have passed. Powerful new medications, combined with physical therapy and joint surgery, have revolutionized the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis.

Arthritis strikes one out of seven people. Learn the facts. Call for your complimentary copy of "The Joint Approach - An Arthritis Overview."

Veteran of Foreign Wars - Newsbriefs

By P.P.C. Carmine A. Somma

Prior to the Hicksville Community Council Meeting on March 12, 1992 Wm. M. Gouse Jr. Post 3211 V.F.W. Commander Vincent Ferrara presented a new American flag to be displayed in the library community room. Accepting the flag on behalf was Library Board Trustee and V.F.W. member Tony Previte. The old flag which hung in the library for 30 years, will be folded and remain at the library.

V.F.W. Post 3211 Commander Vincent Ferrara presented a new POW-M.I.A. to Ed Draycott who takes care of the flag at John F. Kennedy park.

Newsbriefs P.O.W.-M.I.A.

Americans have been bitten by the patriotic bug. Yellow ribbons and flags have been flying all over nation for the past year. Now that the war is over, I hope that we can still stand together for another cause—The freedom and truth about the POWs/M.I.A. in all the wars.

There were no yellow ribbons or parades, but most of all we left behind our soldiers in foreign country and no one but few seem to care.

Now is the time for Americans to stand up and demand the facts. Just as we ended the Gulf War quickly and will bring home our soldiers, we must do the same for our men and women who are missing. We are now talking about soldiers who are still unaccounted for or left imprisoned in Europe, Europe, Korea, Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, and other communist countries.

Here are some things we can do to help. Write to the President, your senators, congressmen and demand that they bring home our missing heroes.

Don't take down your yellow ribbons, instead add a black ribbon to your yellow ribbons and display it proudly. Tell your neighbors that the black ribbon represents the POW-M.I.A.s in all the wars.

A year has gone by on April 7, 1991 it was a "Parade of Thanks" to our boys from the Gulf War. The parade began at the V.F.W. Hall on So. B'way the site of the Support Group's weekly meeting and under whose auspices the group developed, marched up Broadway to the Memorial Fountain and Kennedy Park. Residents all along the route waved flags and sported red, white and blue; yellow ribbons adorned every pole and tree, and well wishers clapped and cheered for each parade contingent. Fire Department Equipment held a huge American flag suspended over Broadway at the Memorial Fountain and as the parade marched beneath, the firemen blasted their horns. Residents danced and sang along to patriotic music provided by Hicksville disk jockeys E.J.M.

This was one parade no one will ever forget for our "Gulf G.I. who returned home safe and sound.

The marchers who participated were V.F.W. Post Colors and members from Plainview, East Meadow, Levittown, Bellmore, and Oyster Bay and led proudly by the Wm. M. Gouse Jr. Post 3211. The flags of Hicksville Charles Wagner Post 421, Jewish War Veterans Vietnam Veterans riding in an army half track vehicle. At one point as Army helicopter added its chopperblade staccato to the marchers and viewers below.

Groups of youngsters from the Hicksville Youth Council, Hicksville Elks Club members, Boy and Girl Scout units, and lovely lassies from Our Lady of Mercy School twirlers and cheerleaders, representatives of the Knights of Columbus, and Masonic Lodge of Hicksville were all present. Notable among the political leaders striding in single line were Assemblyman Fred Parola, Town Councilman Tom Clark, and Dennis Dune, Nassau Director of Veterans' Services.

Our membership Chairman Dennis Ladislav is happy to announce the post made 100 percent for the coming year. A speedy recovery to Comrades and Sisters and their families who have been hospitalized the past month John Rizzo and Frank T. Rienzie.

Happy Birthday to Al Nendza; Congratulations to P.P.C. Carmine A. Somma and his wife Rose celebrating their 36th Wedding Anniversary also to P.P.C. Connie Steers and his wife Cherie celebrating their 21st Wedding Anniversary.

SCHOOL NOTEBOOK

Holy Family Travels To The Stars

The children in both second grade classes of Holy Family School have completed hands-on projects about our solar system. After a basic instruction on the sun, our home planet earth, the moon, and the other eight planets and satellites (moons) in our galaxy the children were introduced to many different objects that travel around the sun. Comets, asteroids, meteoroids, the milky way, and space travel are just some of the things that were discussed.

The children loved doing this project. It was one they shared with each other and everyone had something to contribute said Mrs. Gaghan. It was interesting to see how they were able to go beyond and to the future of the planet earth and see the adventure.

Making Friends First grade students of Holy Family School were instructed by Cathy Williams and Ellen Starace of the New York State Office of Mental Retardation and Development Disabilities in the program "Making Friends."

First grade students have a lot to offer each other said Cathy Williams. They are very interested in children around them and for the most part consider everyone their friend.

SCHOOL SHORTS

Math Honor Roll

Mark Haddad has been named to the Nassau County Interscholastic Mathematics League Honor Roll for 1992. Out of nearly 1,000 students who participated in the competitions this year, only the top 50 mathletes in Nassau County have received this honor. Mark will now compete in the 1992 All-Star Team Competition.

Five Senses

Mrs. Schreck's first grade class at Fork Lane School will be studying about the Five Senses this quarter. The children will study how messages are sent to certain parts of the brain thus enabling us to hear, see, taste, smell, and touch. A unit will be completed on each sense with children bringing in different foods and items to taste, smell, see, and also hear.

BABES Program

The Dutch Lane School, through the coordinating efforts of school nurse Monica Carlone and the Central Nassau Guidance and Counseling, Inc., has introduced the Beginning Alcohol and Addictions Basic Education Studies (BABES) program to the first and second grade students. BABES is a primary prevention program designed to give children a lifetime of protection from substance abuse.

Certified BABES instructors assist young people in developing positive living skills and provides them with accurate, non-judgmental information about the use and abuse of alcohol and other drugs.

The BABES program uses puppets-- Buttons and Bows McKitty, Myth Mary, Early Bird, Donovan Dignity, Recovering Reggie, and Rhonda Rabbit-- to provide understandable stories, in addition to flashcards, worksheets, and a cassette tape.

Story of My Life

Richard Gentile, a French teacher at the Hicksville High School, was one of the translators chosen to participate in the English translation of Story of My Life, by Georges Sand. First printed in 1854, it was published in its first complete English translation by the SUNY Press this past summer.

Georges Sand (1804-1876) was a French novelist, playwright and autobiographer, and was notorious for wearing men's clothing in an era when women had no legal rights in France. After divorcing her husband, she was able to support her children and herself by writing; a unique situation for a woman of that time. Her autobiography offers a sweeping and lively tableau of French society from the last decades of the Old Regime until the middle of the nineteenth century, as well as telling about her own life with verve and honesty.

This was a great honor for Mr. Gentile and his participation and successful completion brings to fruition 10 years of a labor of love.

Reply From President

The fourth grade students in Selma Marx's class at the Dutch Lane School took an active stance by writing to President Bush regarding an upsetting article they had read in the Weekly Reader. The students' concerns centered on the homeless and hungry in our society. The class was thrilled to receive a picture and a reply, which was photo-copied and distributed to each student. A lesson in letter writing became a memorable event. Hopefully, each youngster will know that his or her opinion is important and should be expressed.

Burns Ave. Has Heart

Jump Rope for Heart was another great success thanks to the gym teachers Miss Sheil and Miss Lawlor. They certainly make a fun time of jumping rope. The Burns Ave. PTA supplied wonderful prizes for the participants. The children raised $5,317 this year and once again did a fabulous job. Thanks to all the moms who helped out.

Fork Lane Winter Recess

Students at Fork Lane School participated in their annual Winter Recess Program. PTA members held workshops in Pictionary, Bingo, and Arts and Crafts. Children attended these workshops instead of recess. Pictured here are first graders Markela Szalkis, Kelly Carberry, and Nicole Desimone having fun in Arts and Crafts. The second and third graders had fun using the chalk board during the Pictionary games.

That is why this is a perfect age to speak to them about health and disabilities and the proper term of each and what they can do to make it easier for a child with a disability. For example, today we refer to people who have lost all or some of their hearing as hearing impaired. We help them and ourselves by looking at them when we speak and by speaking distinctly. It is simply a considerate way of communicating.

Sign language is the third most popular language in our country. Many signs look like what they are in sign language. As the children were shown sign language they guessed its meaning and were instructed so they could perform the sign also. Then everyone silently signed Row, Row, Row Th Boat.

Association

The Hicksville Baseball Association has 50 teams of both boy's baseball and girl's softball. The teams range in age from six years to a senior division of 15-year-old players. This year the HBA is sponsoring travel teams in the Babe Ruth League for players 16 to 18. HBA games are played at the Abe Levitt Complex on Stewart Ave. in Hicksville, and on the adjoining fields at Dutch Lane School. Forty-two local businesses sponsor the teams.

After Councilman Clark threw out the first baseball and Councilwoman Ocker threw out the first softball, the children were given a waterbottle commemorating 40 years of little league.

Hicksville has a strong baseball past. About the time that the HBA was organized a section of housing was built in the Duff Park section of Hicksville that honors three of baseball's greats. The three adjoining streets, right off of Old Country Rd. are named after the early 20th century double play combination of the Cub's shortstop, second baseman, and first baseman. The Tinkers, to Evers, to Chance doubleplay combination has become synonymous with precision teamwork. The Hicksville Baseball Association has become synonymous with a quality little league operation.

can visit the museum for a workshop or the program can be brought to the schools.

Hicksville residents and students are not charged for admission to the museum, but many other districts take advantage of the programs offered at a nominal price. Kawecki said that this year they are coming close to the record number of tours. If the present pace continues more than 150 tours will have been given.

Kawecki stressed that the museum is not just an elementary education facility. She said that many of the exhibits and collections are of interest to secondary students, college students, and adults. The museum holds a fine local history collection including pictures, documents, and the last authentic old Long Island lock-up. People from all around the Island come to visit the museum after seeing it listed in many tour and travel brochures. Kawecki said they even had a couple come all the way from Albany.

Besides exhibits and special displays the museum also offers after school and weekend programs for people of all ages. The museum offers a fun educational setting. The museum is "a source of quality free time, instead of kids hiking the malls and streets they can come in and learn something," Kawecki said. She added that, "Weekend programs are especially utilized during the winter and in the summer when it rains."

Kawecki mentioned that many museums are facing tough economic times. At the annual meeting of the Long Island Museum Association one topic will be the financial situations of museums on the Island.

Kawecki fears what would happen if the museum had to close. For many people the museum is a focal point of pride in the Hicksville community. She feels that if the museum closes and the building reverts back to its pre-museum days it will be a focal point of decay.

The Citizen Budget Advisory Committee had recommended that the museum funding be a line item this year. A separate proposal means the community can decide whether they want the museum. Ms. Kawecki feels that with the support of the community that she has seen in the past, the proposition will pass. She figures the proposed $40,000 would figure to be only $2.85 for every household in the community. "For the services and entertainment that any family can get year-round, it is worth while," said Kawecki.

would be taking them again, "no matter what." She plans on taking them this June.

Even before the SATs, students have a chance to take the PSATs (Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test). According to a representative at the Ronkin Educational Group, younger students have been taking PSAT preparatory courses because they want to be prepared for the National Merit Qualifying Tests, which is part of the PSATs. Colleges will buy the results of this test to gear their marketing efforts towards students who have done well on the PSAT.

Painting (Sumi-e), which will include demonstrations on fundamental hand positions, basic brush strokes, brush manipulation, pressure and control.

In addition she will demonstrate the blending of colors on the brush and different flower painting techniques. Many illustrations of calligraphic or printed material incorporating Japanese Brush Painting techniques will be demonstrated. All residents are welcome to attend.

Tanglewood Singers

The Tanglewood Singers are bringing their robust, colorful voices to the Hicksville Public Library on Friday, May 1 at 8:15 p.m. for an enchanting evening of song.

Herb Pordum, Joy Hilborn, Norma Siran, and Gene Golluscio are the Tanglewood Singers. Individually they each are strong theatrical personalities with voices of considerable power and thrust. Together, they form a unique blend of voices performing selections from well-known musicals, operas, and operettas.

Admission is free and open to the public on a first come first seated basis.

don; outfielders Peter Morace, Bob Genovese, Sal DeFazio, and Bob Wernon.

New players to the team include strong hitting Bill Rogers who plays pitcher, center-field, and third base; pitcher Shennen Maceo, who has excellent speed; good contact hitter and excellent infielder Rich Woodworth; pitcher and outfielder Greg Figlia; power hitter Steve Perloff; outfielder Josh Danforth; and first baseman Mike Famiglietti.

The team's enthusiasm and hustle will keep them working hard on their pitching and defense. In their first non-league game Hicksville routed Cold Spring Harbor 10-4. The Comets played errorless ball. In their first league game against Mepharm Pat Hart got the win with 12 strike outs. Hicksville scored 12 led by a three-run triple by Bob Wernon in the first.

Lessons To Be Learned

First it was Rock Hudson of the Hollywood scene. Then came Magic Johnson of basketball stardom. Now, it's Arthur Ashe of the tennis world. In between, there have been countless less known, but equally important people of Everyday America who have been claimed by the killer AIDS.

Last week, when Ashe made his announcement, it again proved that the AIDS epidemic knows no boundaries, social, economic or otherwise. And, it again proved that, as a society, we still have much to learn about dealing with this disease.

Ashe, a leader on the tennis court and in the civil rights arena, said that he made his physical condition public because he believed someone else would. According to Ashe, he was forced to hold that obviously painful press conference because he wanted to protect his daughter and wife.

Ashe, who got the disease through a tainted blood transfusion approximately a decade ago and knew of his condition for three years, did not want his condition publicized because of the "stigma" attached to AIDS. In interviews, he said that he knows he will now be treated differently and tried to assure the world that he is not a danger, that he can be hugged and greeted, talked to and listened to, treated like everyone else.

It is profoundly sad that a man who has given so much throughout his life must now fear rejection simply because he is sick.

Ashe, like Magic, is going to do what he can to help AIDS victims and their families. His goal is to prevent others from having to give up what he had to give up that afternoon—his right to spend whatever time he has left quietly, privately and as normally as possible. Ashe will try his best to make the rest of us understand that now more than ever, he and all the other AIDS victims need support, not isolation, compassion, not stigmatization.

We hope and pray that Mr. Ashe achieves his goal.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

...Just for a minute pretend that you are once again little—maybe six, seven, or eight—and Easter is coming... Do you remember the delight of going shopping for your Easter outfit?... In my family, everything from the skin out had to be new and none of it could be worn in advance of going to Church on Easter Sunday... After the underwear and all that stuff, we would decide on a new coat—unless, by some misfortune we still could fit into last year's!—and mine were usually pastel—blue or pink or maybe yellow... and that would set the plan for the whole outfit—a lovely fluffy dress with ruffles and lace and ribbons—a party dress type and not for school or playing... then there had to be a new leghorn straw hat in a natural creamy color with black velvet ribbons around the brim and long velvet streamers down the back—and maybe some flowers in the color of the coat—Mary Janes of course, in all of their black patent leather splendour... There were two kinds, the regular little shoes with the strap across the instep and the other with an ankle strap and a grosgrain bow on the toe—I liked the latter... Next little white cotton gloves and a new purse into which someone always put a nickel "for luck"... And I proudly carried my church money on the big day... We also shopped for my little brother and, at first, it was a suit with shorts and a jacket—but later, to his delight, he was allowed to have, first, knickers and then, the dream, long pants!!... He had a shirt just like our Father's and a bow tie and over this he had an overcoat, sometimes camel's hair... and once, my Father brought him a tiny cane which he loved... I still get all dressed up, hat and all, for Easter Sunday church and I am so happy to see so many of the little ones looking as perky and Easterly as we did—but there are others particularly teenagers, who seem to wear the same old things they wear all year—and what a pity it is since dressing up is so wonderful!!

Yours, Lulabelle

Letters

On Teacher Aides

Baloney! The gored ox belonging to the President of the Hicksville Teacher Aides Union can only be turned into baloney by the self-proclaimed "Chef."

Most of the information contained in the President of the Teachers Aid Union letter must be determined as fact in court. If in fact union members performed duties as teacher assistants since 1978 and could not get the job title or duties changed they had two alternatives: quit the job or quit bellyaching. Union members did neither, choosing instead to sue the taxpayers.

My letter was based on facts gleaned from the union president's letter of Feb. 18 addressed to "Concerned People of the Hicksville Community": (1) The name of the union "Hicksville Teacher Aides Unit of Civil Service Employees Union" acknowledges member employment as "Teacher Aides" since the program began in 1978. (2) Teacher aides failed to convince the school administration that they performed duties as "Teacher Assistants" and were neither qualified, trained, or certified as teacher assistants by the school district. (3) Teacher aides could have and should have insisted on performing the duties for which they were hired but chose not to, opting instead to organize, join the CSEA, and begin attempts to force the district to certify and pay members as teacher assistants. Thus began all the litigation. (4) The Civil Service Commission ordered the school district not to hire any more teacher aides until the litigation was settled. (5) When the number of teacher aides employed by the district dropped below the minimum number required to carry out the mandates for our emotionally handicapped and learning disabled children, Superintendent Salvatore Mugavero proposed a settlement that included certification and a cash settlement. (6) The union rejected the offer. Rejection proved money was the union's goal, not certification. The union suit is for the pay difference between teacher aides and teacher assistants going back to 1978 which, along with interest and lawyer fees, amounts to over $3 million. (7) The union offered to settle for certification and $1 million, which if accepted by the district would be a clear admission that aides were performing as teacher assistants, duties for which they were unqualified. The offer could not be accepted. (8) The cash settlement offered by the district would pay union lawyer fees, end the litigation, enable the district to begin hiring more teacher aides, and prove teacher aide concern for our children.

The allegation that "Chefs" were hired to work as "Kitchen Helpers" is more union baloney. If the aides were qualified as "teacher assistants," none would have been fired as all would have been hired on April 1 as teacher assistants. You cannot become a chef or teacher assistant by merely stating "I am a chef or I am a teachers' assistant."

And the union is right, I haven't been involved in the teacher aide issue for 14 years as it hasn't been a public issue for 14 years. However, if I knew then the facts I know now, my reaction would be the same: "The union shot itself in the foot and wants the taxpayers to pay the medical bills."

Is East Street Safe?

This is in response to Mrs. Bennardo's letter of March 19, regarding the fire safety issue as it relates to the East Street School, the oldest elementary school in the district.

At the outset, we should make it clear that we have no intention of apologizing for being concerned about this issue. No "torch of hatred" has been passed to a portion of this board. We have always maintained that East Street School is safe. However, we consider it our responsibility, indeed our duty, to ask questions and seek satisfactory answers pertaining to any situation that may impact on the safety and well-being of any or all of the students in this district.

The original portion of East Street School was built in 1926 and therefore is "grandfathered" into the present fire code. According to the Fire Department and the Fire Marshal's Office, East Street does not have any outstanding fire violations but we are concerned as to the advisability of transferring additional students from another more modern elementary school building under the 1950s fire code into East Street School.

East Street School currently has an enrollment of 242 students. According to the Bishop and Evans demographic report, that figure will continue to decline. The building currently is, and will continue to be, underutilized unless other students are transferred in from a newer elementary building that, in addition, meets the state mandate for acreage, which East Street does not.

We plan to seek answers to our questions regarding automatic smoke doors retrofitted at stairwell landings, sprinklers in certain locations as well as excessive water damage, cracked walls and peeling paint in certain East Street classrooms as specified in the Stone Associates engineering report to the school district. We will continue to investigate until all our questions are satisfactorily answered and that information be made available to the public.

We also feel compelled to correct one particularly egregious falsehood in Mrs. Bennardo's letter. At the Feb. 26 meeting of the School Board, Mr. Martillo attempted to back Chief Schweizer into a corner on the issue of fire truck response time, considering East Street School's location vis-a-vis the East Marie Street fire station. The chief unequivocally stated that all schools could be reached in a very short response time and that the Fire Department can and does adequately protect all our school buildings.

One-Session Smoking Cessation Program

Despite the well-documented health risks of cigarette smoking, many people find that it is a difficult habit to give up. North Shore University Hospital-Cornell University Medical College can help you kick the habit with their unique one-session smoking cessation program. The latest medical information on the new nicotine skin patches to help smokers beat the physical nicotine addiction will be presented. The course also utilizes hypnosis, behavior modification, relaxation and stress-management techniques, and practical tips, to help smokers stick with the decision to quit. The session will be held on Monday, April 27, from 7:30-9:30 p.m. in the hospital's Rust Auditorium.

Many community residents have successfully quit smoking with the help from this program. David Cooper, M.D., associate chairman, Department of Medicine, will discuss the usefulness of the skin patch in helping smokers overcome the physical symptoms of nicotine withdrawal. Vincent Guarrera, C.S.W., Board-certified Diplomate, Society of Clinical and Experimental Hypnosis and Director, Department of Social Work at North Shore-Cornell, will assist participants with behavior modification to help smokers overcome the habitual desire for a cigarette. The program is offered through the hospital's Department of Health Education/Community Affairs.

Pre-registration is required, and there is a $50 fee for the course. To register or for more information, contact the Department of Health Education/Community Affairs at 562-3045.

Ophthalmologists Issue Consumer Alert

In recent weeks, there have been a number of newspaper advertisements and television commercials in the Long Island area about the claimed benefits of using eyewear described as "LaserVision Pinhole Glasses."

The Long Island Ophthalmological Society, a group comprised of over 150 medical doctors specializing in ophthalmology, has issued an advisory warning that there is no scientific evidence (that use of these glasses, with or without exercise, permanently improves vision).

Pinhole occluders such as those being advertised, explained the society, have been known to ophthalmologists for many years and have been used for diagnostic purposes. Consumers using the glasses in an attempt to alleviate visual disorders could delay needed medical treatment.

The fact as stated by Mrs. Bannardo, that the East Street School has served the community for 60 years, was good enough, for 1,200 children over 30 years ago and 400 children more recently, does not automatically make it completely suitable for our children today. East Street School must be judged on its merits as it compares to other elementary schools in the district.

I am pleased to join with secretaries and with other administrative personnel throughout the Nation as you celebrate the 40th anniversary of Professional Secretaries Week*.

SECRETARIES

What Is A Certified Professional

By Susan C. Bauer

CPS, Education Member, Institute for Certifying Secretaries

As the role of the secretary changes with automation, it becomes increasingly necessary to have a standard of excellence by which to judge. The CPS program provides such a standard. It tests the secretary's overall understanding of business. The exam not only tests those tasks with which any good secretary should be familiar, but goes beyond that, covering those skills needed by management—those skills necessary to participate as a contributing member of the management team, moving up the corporate ladder, or your desired career path.

The Certified Professional Secretary® program was developed by Professional Secretaries International® in 1951. To attain the CPS rating, a candidate must meet education and work experience requirements, in addition to passing the comprehensive exam. The examination is taken over a two-day period and covers six parts namely: Behavioral Science in Business, Business Law, Economics & Management, Accounting, Office Administration & Communication, and Office Technology. This exam is administered twice a year in May and November.

The exam may be taken in its entirety, which is recommended, or may be taken in individual parts as you are ready for them. In either case, the candidate will receive a breakdown of the score on each part of the exam so that preparation can be targeted.

This unique certification program goes beyond a simple evaluation of the levels of knowledge and competency to

- Encourage professional development
- Provide a means to keep abreast of change
- Ensure a quality scope of knowledge and professionalism that gives a winning edge.

The trend in business organizations today has changed from the traditional pyramid structure to an elliptical or oval shape with fewer employees at the base, a broadening in the middle and a narrowing at the top. Many of the duties which used to be the responsibility of middle managers have in large measure been absorbed by secretaries who are part of teams.

As the transition from an industrial society to an information society continues, office professionals must change from being specialists who are soon obsolete to generalists who can adapt. In preparing for the CPS exam, consideration will be given to dealing with the impact of technology in a technical sense as well as how that technology impacts us from a people point of view—interacting with the technology and the changes that it creates in the working relationship with others in the office. Where will you be if you are not technology literate? Are you familiar with the various technologies which enable us to create, revise, store and distribute information electronically in the office and around the world?

What are some of the legal problems created by technological change? How does the technology impact communication and the administrative procedures in the workplace? How are the financial aspects of the business handled by spreadsheets and other financial software packages. Preparation for the CPS exam helps answer these questions and is indeed relevant.

Earning the CPS rating proves a willingness to go above and beyond your position. It makes a statement that you view your role in business as a career—not just a job.

The Institute for Certifying Secretaries, which administers the CPS program, is composed of six managers, six educators, and six CPS members, the dean, the PSI president and president-elect. The education members are primarily responsible for the actual preparation of the examination.

Professional certification attests to the competence of those in a given profession. To ensure maintenance of these high standards, periodic assessment is used to verify that the competencies are maintained. Once you have attained the CPS rating, you have five years in which to recertify. You will receive a dated certificate e.g. 1992-1997. This enhances the value of the rating because it now states that holder's knowledge is current. There are numerous ways of achieving points toward recertification. Many are for activities that would be normally undertaken. For example, taking college courses, attending seminars, workshops or company sponsored training programs.

For those who do not have a degree, attaining CPS can expedite the process. Many colleges will grant a CPS holder as many as 30 credits toward a degree. Some review courses offer CEU credit as well.

Once the decision to pursue the CPS rating has been made, what kind of preparation is required? This is a very individualized process depending upon educational background, job experience, and professional development plan. For those with little background in an area such as business law or accounting, consideration should be given to taking a regular college course. In other areas such as office administration and communication or office technology that secretaries work with on a daily basis, a review course or self-study may be appropriate.

Participation in a study group provides a support network for motivation and encouragement. This can also be accomplished through an in-house review course. The CPS REVIEW SERIES, now published by Prentice-Hall, can be used as the basic text for such a course. It works well for an organized review course or for individual use. This series may be supplemented with texts from the outline and bibliography and individual study guides for each part. A teacher's manual is also available which contains teaching suggestions, test bank, solutions, and reading references.

In the CAPSTONE, the application form for the exam, are listed some other review materials including a PC Tutorial and a set of cassette tapes.

In addition, to providing the certification, the Institute for Certifying Secretaries has established the CPS ACADEMY which publishes a newsletter keeping CPS holders apprised of issues concerning them.

In the last two years the popularity of the CPS Seminars caused them to be given annually and this year semiannually. The first seminar will be given in Portland, Maine June 14-17 and is entitled LEADERSHIP, INNOVATION, AND CHANGING TECHNOLOGY. The second will be given in Steamboat Springs, Colorado Sept. 20-23 and is entitled CREATIVELY MANAGING CHANGE IN CHALLENGING TIMES. Registration for these seminars is limited to CPS holders and those current candidates for the CPS rating.

For more information about the CPS program, contact Prof. Susan Bauer CPS, SUNY Farmingdale, Whitman Hall, Farmingdale, NY 11735 or call (516) 420-2533.

CPS® Review Course For '92-'93

You-A Certified Professional Secretary®! Experience the satisfaction of proving to yourself, your colleagues, and your employer that you have reached the pinnacle of your profession.

This program has been developed to help secretaries prepare for the Certified Professional Secretary examination which is administered by the Institute for Certifying Secretaries®. This examination is offered in May and November. The CPS Review course will consist of 12 sessions covering the six exam parts. These sessions may be taken individually or the course may be taken in its entirety.

People become certified for a variety of reasons. Some for self-satisfaction, some to increase promotional opportunities or financial rewards, some for credit toward a college degree and others for a challenge.

The CPS® Review Course will be offered at the State University of New York College of Technology at Farmingdale.

The courses dates are as follows: (1992)

Economics Sept. 23	Office Administration & Communication March 3, 10
Management Sept. 30	Business Law March 24, 31
Accounting Oct. 8, 15, 22 1993	Behavioral Science in Business April 21
Office Technology Feb. 17, 24

For more information on the CPS Review Course or the CPS Examination contact Prof. Susan Bauer at SUNY Farmingdale, Whitman Hall, Farmingdale, NY 11735 or call (516) 420-2533 days or (516) 437-6076 evenings.

LI Chapter

The Place To Be For Professional Secretaries

If you are a secretary, administrative assistant, or office professional who lives or works in Nassau County, the Long Island Chapter of Professional Secretaries International is the place for you.

Celebrating its 40th anniversary this year, the Long Island Chapter has served as the resource for professional growth and continuing education for secretaries since 1952. It was the first chapter of PSI established on Long Island, hence its name.

As the leading association for secretaries and executive assistants, Professional Secretaries International sets the standards for the profession and our certification programs set the standard of excellence. Working with business leaders and educators, we continue to develop the skills and knowledge necessary to set the standard of performance.

As a professional association PSI is important, not just to secretaries, but to the entire business community. PSI is the place that secretaries, or people who want to become secretaries, look to for career planning assistance, insight on future trends, continuing education, and other professional resources. People join a professional association because they are striving to grow, to develop new skills, and to make a commitment to the profession.

PSI is regarded as the recognized resource for businesses that care about secretarial excellence. Whether for input on job descriptions, salary ranges, training programs, or needs assessment, PSI is the place that managers turn for information.

Changes in the office have been occurring at a dizzying rate. More has happened in the last 10 years in the workplace than in the last 100 years. New equipment, technology, procedures, right sizing, and the global economy make it imperative to have up-to-date knowledge and skills.

Through its chapter programs, seminars, workshops, and newsletter a wealth of knowledge is provided. Members are also invited to attend programs offered by neighboring chapters. Education doesn't stop at the chapter level. PSI also offers seminars and leadership training at the New York State Division Annual Meeting the Northeast District Conference as well as the International Convention.

The Secretary magazine and Vision, the association newsletter, are included with your membership. Numerous training materials, books and videos are also available through the association.

Networking is one of the most frequently given reasons for PSI membership. Not only is it beneficial for someone who works in a small office environment, but for those in large organizations as well. You get to meet office professionals from myriad types of companies. By attending regional and national meetings, you expand your network beyond your chapter. How wonderful it is to be able to contact someone you know to answer a question on the new software package you are using, to make a recommendation on equipment to be purchased, or provide a list of suppliers—to say nothing of the friendships acquired along the way.

Numerous stories can be related about how networking with a PSI member in another state helped get needed information in a hurry or saved the day when an emergency arose. Experiences such as this have made many executives aware of the potential of the PSI network and the value derived from supporting their secretaries' participation in the organization.

Being active in a PSI chapter affords members the opportunity to exercise their organizational and managerial skills in a supportive environment. Through committee work they are given the opportunity to plan and organize an event, prepare a budget, and manage others working on the project and report to the chapter what the committee is doing. This hands-on management training is excellent training in preparation for the move up the corporate ladder.

PSI leads the way for the continued development of the secretarial profession. Why not join us in the Long Island Chapter of Professional Secretaries International—the first and foremost organization for secretaries and office professionals.

Computer Workshops A Winner!

On March 21, the Long Island Chapter of Professional Secretaries International sponsored two half-day workshops at SUNY Farmingdale. One of the primary functions of PSI is to provide a variety of continuing education programs.

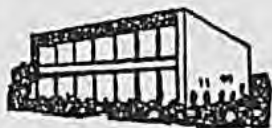

The morning session was entitled Desktop Publishing With WordPerfect 5.1 and was conducted by Prof. Susan Bauer CPS of SUNY's Office Management Department. A variety of material was covered including creation of letterheads, flyers, and newsletters using columns, fonts, special characters, graphic lines and boxes.

The afternoon session was led by Alice Adessio of Paramax Systems Division of Unisys Corp. entitled LOTUS 1-2-3. Creating, saving, editing and printing a worksheet, the command menu, changing column widths and formats, manipulating the spreadsheet and macros were explored.

Participants received a reference guide for the software. Continuing Education Units and CPS Recertification credit were awarded to those attending.

These workshops were such an outstanding success that the chapter plans on repeating them as well as planning additional workshops in the fall in beginning and advanced WordPerfect and Lotus 1-2-3. If you would like to receive further information on the Long Island Chapter of Professional Secretaries International contact Patricia Conway, Membership Chair, (516) 433-8383.

SUNY Farmingdale To Host Secretaries Briefing

The Office Management Department of SUNY College of Technology at Farmingdale, in cooperation with the Long Island Chapter of Professional Secretaries International*, and Mr. Electric Company of Hicksville, will sponsor the American Management Association's Fifth Annual Secretaries Briefing live teleconference on Professional Secretaries Day*, Wednesday, April 22. The teleconference will be broadcast from 1 to 3 p.m. on the campus of SUNY Farmingdale. Thanks to the support of Mr. Electric's president, Marcos Ramirez, there is no fee. Preregistration, however, is required.

This year's panelists include Judith Bardwick, Ph.D., author of The Plateauing Trap and Danger in the Comfort Zone; Mary Jane Caragher CPS, President, Professional Secretaries International; and Cassandra Warren of Padgett-Thompson Seminars.

Topics this year will include: Skills to Help You Earn Your Keep in Today's Rapidly Changing Workplace; Danger in the Comfort Zone: The Entitlement Habit That's Killing American Business; How Secretaries Can Avoid the "Plateauing Trap"; and Skills to Help You Change Your Work and Yourself.

"Over 3,000 secretaries at a record 822 sites nationwide participated in this event last year," said Susan Bauer, a professor in the SUNY Farmingdale Office Management Department. "They represented organizations as diverse as Aetna, GTE, Humana, and Merck, Sharpe and Dohme. The growing popularity of this award-winning series, as well as the praise of participants, 95 percent of the secretaries evaluating the Briefing rated it as "good" or "excellent" - makes this Briefing a real winner."

All office professionals will benefit from attending this teleconference including secretaries, administrative assistants, office managers, information processing coordinators, as well as other employees who perform secretarial/administrative tasks.

Managers are encouraged to attend the program with their secretaries and will find Dr. Bardwick's presentations especially relevant to their needs.

To register, call Susan Bauer at (516) 420-2533.

Also being performed are Barber's Music for a Scene from Shelley and Mozart's Symphony No. 41 in C Major ("Jupiter").

Shauna Rolston, though still in her early 20s, has achieved an enviable international reputation, hailed by other musicians, audiences, and critics wherever she has performed. In addition to performing regularly as a soloist with Canada's major orchestras, Ms. Rolston has toured extensively throughout Canada, Japan, Korea, Italy, Israel, and the United States. Ms. Rolston started playing cello at the age of two.

Guest Conductor Leslie B. Dunner, Associate Conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and Music Director of the Detroit Symphony Civic Orchestra, has been pursuing a conducting career since his 1974 graduation from the famed High School of Music and Art. Dr. Dunner has worked with such eminent mastri such as Maurice Abravanel, Leonard Bernstein, Kurt Masur, Zubin Mehta, Riccardo Muti, Seiji Ozawa, and Gerhard Samuel.

Since 1986, he has directed performances by the Dance Theatre of Harlem throughout the United States, as well as on international tours to South America, England, Scotland, the Salzburg Festival in Austria and the Tivoli Festival in Denmark. In 1988, he served as principal conductor of its five-week tour of the Soviet Union, and, for the past two seasons, served as music advisor for two television production collaborations between Dance Theatre of Harlem and Denmark's Radio and Television Corporation. Dr. Dunner has also conducted the National, San Diego, Columbus and Windsor Symphony Orchestras as well as the Louisville Orchestra.

Highlights of Dr. Dunner's current season include debuts with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, The Minnesota Orchestra, the Louisville Orchestra, Denver Chamber Orchestra, Kansas City Camerata and the York City Ballet, conducting holiday performances of The Nutcracker, as well as reengagements with both the Columbus and San Diego Symphony Orchestras.

A native New Yorker, Dr. Dunner has been pursuing a conducting career since his 1974 graduation from his hometown's famed High School of Music and Art. Advanced musical studies resulted in a bachelor of arts degree in clarinet performance (1978) from the University of Rochester's Eastman School of Music, a master of arts degree in music theory/musicology (1979) from Queens College and a doctor of musical arts in orchestral conducting (1982) from the College Conservatory of Music, University of Cincinnati.

Honors bestowed upon Dr. Dunner include recognition by New York Governor Mario Cuomo, New York State Senator David Paterson, former Manhattan Borough President David Dinkins, New York City Council President Andrew Stein and Michigan State Senator Jackie Vaughn III. Both New York City's Manhattan Borough President and City Council President have declared official and independent "Dr. Leslie Byron Dunner" days. In 1988, he was the recipient of the first Man of the Year and Spirit of Detroit awards from the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority; in 1991, he received the James Weldon Johnson Award from the NAACP; and, in 1992, he was honored with the "Distinguished Achievement Award" of the Detroit Branch of the NAACP.

When not conducting, Dr. Dunner composes and performs as a clarinetist. He is a member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP), has been nominated to the Board of Directors of the American Music Center in New York City, and is currently working on a ballet score entitled Noah's Ark. His Motherless Child songs were recently recorded by the Minnesota Composers Forum and released on cassette and compact disc on the Innova label.

The bidding:

East South West North

Pass 2 NT Pass 3 NT

Opening lead — six of hearts.

You can't play bridge mechanically and expect to do well. Bridge is much too complicated a game for that.

For example, take this deal where West leads a heart against three notrump. Declarer plays low from dummy and wins East's ten with the king. He then leads the A-Q of clubs, but West wisely follows low twice as East shows out of the suit.

This is a disappointing development from South's viewpoint, because ten tricks would have become certain had the queen lost to the king. However, declarer has still another chance to utilize the club suit.

He leads a low heart and, when West follows low, finessees the nine! After the nine wins, South leads the jack of clubs from dummy, forcing West to win either this club or the next one, and the contract is home.

The heart finesse is highly unusual, since declarer has three sure heart tricks and appears to be jeopardizing one of them. But the finesse is clearly the right play because it gives declarer the extra dummy entry he needs to establish and cash dummy's clubs.

However, it must be added that someone fell asleep during the proceedings — a fellow named West. When he followed low on the heart lead at trick four, he wasn't thinking — which, as mentioned earlier, is a luxury one can't afford in bridge. West should have put up the jack, and this play would have knocked South out of the box as the cards lie.

West can tell from East's play of the ten at trick one that South started with the K-Q of hearts. He should therefore try to prevent the nine from being used as an entry by inserting the jack when South leads the four. It can't cost West anything to make this play, but it can gain him a lot.

Cold Feet, Kerry Tucker, Harper Collins, 231 pp., $19.

Kerry Tucker is back with her second mystery novel featuring photographer-sleuth Libby Kincaid and it's a welcome return. Libby is on a leave of absence from her job at Americans magazine, otherwise known as the "thinking man's People." Her brother's death (the subject of Tucker's first mystery Still Waters) has left her emotionally drained. She decides what she needs is time to devote herself to her own photography work—"to take pictures on my own terms, not worrying about offending the advertisers or getting a flight out of LaGuardia at seven a.m." So in a hot July, with her friends in the Hamptons, Libby finds her subject, "a group of jazz tap dancers that I responded to the way a compass needle responds to the North Pole." The group called themselves the Nonpareils. They were advanced middle-aged to elderly, all but one black, and they were easily the best jazz tap dancers in the country, probably in the world, and they were planning a comeback.

All bets are off when the group's leader, Hank Monsell, is found dead in his studio, apparently the victim of snake bite. Since the snake must have been introduced into Hank's apartment by an outside agency, the immediate suspect is Silver Gaines, another Nonpareil who works by day in the Snake House at the Bronx Zoo. Libby doesn't believe that Silver is the culprit, but she does not become involved until she is accused of being an accessory to the murder. Out on bail, Libby sets out to find the real murderer and is almost murdered herself before she does.

This is genuinely entertaining reading. Libby is the spunky, quirky kind of female sleuth that came into being in the '80s, but she is not a hard-boiled feminine version of Sam Spade. She is believable and likeable and the reader roots for her with enthusiasm. She is also a New Yorker from her newly cropped-red head to her toes. Kerry Tucker's New York scenes are authentic and a joy to read. Highly recommended.

Fixin' to Die, Jerry Oster, Bantam, 311 pp., $20.

A mystery of a different genre is Fixin' to Die by veteran writer Jerry Oster. This is a police procedural featuring Detective Joe Cullen, Internal Affairs Bureau.

Detective Jenny Swale and her partner, Luther Todd, Air Cargo Hijacking Division were on a routine assignment, picking up prisoner Elvis Polk and bringing him back to New York where he has promised to talk about a recent heist at JFK. Routine goes out the window when Elvis pulls a .22 handgun and dispatches Jenny and Luther before disappearing. Joe is assigned to investigate.

Not simplifying things is the fact that Ann Jones, Cullen's sometimes live-in girlfriend, has left her magazine job and is now working for Samantha Cox, "the ultrachic, ultrahot TV newshawk," and Samantha is pursuing the case on the nightly news.

Before the double murder of the police officers is solved, Cullen finds himself involved in a story of corruption at all levels of the Police Department and in other sensitive areas as well.

To an extent, this is also something of a roman à clef and the reader will find characters who bear a remarkable resemblance to certain New York celebrities. The author knows his New York too, not just Manhattan, but the outer reaches of Brooklyn and Queens, including some very un-touristy parts of Kennedy airport.

The plot is gripping and the language, as is usual in police procedurals, is foul. There is also lots of unattractive sex. Fixin' to Die is not this reviewer's cup of tea (or anybody else's "cup of tea" for that matter. More your cup of vitriol) but it is, as the book jacket says, "a taut, tension-packed thriller."

Pianist Ruth Laredo Highlights 'Mostly Mendelssohn'

In its final concert of the season, the Sea Cliff Chamber Players presents "Mostly Mendelssohn" on Saturday, May 9, 8 p.m. at the Tilles Center in Brookville.

The program, which is sponsored by Chubb & Son Insurance, features an all-star roster of soloists performing works of Mendelssohn and Mozart, who were both remarkable as the most phenomenal musical prodigies of their time. While only sixteen years of age, Mendelssohn composed his famous Octet for Strings, the showpiece of the program. A later work, his Sextet for Piano and Strings, which highlights the piano in a mini-chamber concerto, features the spectacular American pianist, Ruth Laredo. Opening the program is Mozart's String Quintet in E-flat Major, K. 614, one of his last works composed before his death in 1791.

Ruth Laredo, hailed as "the present generation's first truly major American woman pianist" by The New York Times, is a three-time Grammy award nominee who has been widely lauded for her pioneering recording projects as well as live appearances worldwide. She was the first pianist to record Rachmaninoff's complete solo works and the first pianist in this hemisphere to record the complete Scriabin sonatas. Both projects earned her the highest critical praise with numerous awards from major recording publications.

Miss Laredo has performed with the New York Philharmonic, The Philadelphia and Cleveland Orchestras, the symphony orchestras of Boston, St. Louis, Detroit, Baltimore, Houston, Buffalo, as well as the National Symphony in Washington, DC. She has been chosen to perform on two Carnegie Hall galas, one honoring the centennial of Stokowski's birth, and the other as part of the 90th anniversary celebration concert.

Noted for her strong commitment to chamber music, Miss Laredo frequently collaborates with the Tokyo and Cleveland String Quartets, with Music from Marlboro and in duo recitals with flutist Paula Robison.

RUTH LAREDO, pianist, will appear at the Tilles Center May 9, at 8 p.m. with the Sea Cliff Chamber Players.

Joining Miss Laredo are violinists Ani Kavafian, Peter Winograd, Carmit Zori and Yuri Vodovoz; violists Lawrence Dutton and Paul Neubauer; cellists Ko Iwasaki and Warren Lash; and bassist Lewis Paer.

Tickets are available at $21, $18 and $15 by calling the Sea Cliff Chamber Players a 516/671-6263. Tickets may also be purchased at the SCCP offices at 100 Roslyn Ave. in Sea Cliff or at the Tilles Center Box Office.

Arts Council Holds Teen Musical Theatre Workshop

Auditions for the 1992 Teen Musical Theatre Program, which has been presented by the Long Island Arts Council at Freeport for the past 17 summers, will take place on Friday, June 26, at the Freeport High School Auditorium, between 12:30 and 3 p.m. The four-week workshop, under the direction of Stephen C. Pagano, music teacher, choral director and conductor, consists of musical theatre lessons and rehearsals, five afternoons a week, 1 to 4 p.m., beginning Thursday, July 9, culminating in performances on Friday, July 31 and Saturday, Aug. 1. The fee for the entire four-week program is $50. There is no charge for the audition.

The workshop includes training in theatre techniques, vocal concepts, movement and dance, and the students work with a professional director and a choreographer. The program culminates in four performances of a musical revue, including a dress rehearsal at a local Senior Center. The show contains a variety of musical numbers that allow the students both solo and group performances. Each program revolves around a theme and have run the gamut from Gershwin to Sondheim.

Since its inception in 1975, the Summer Teen Theatre has been directed by Stephen C. Pagano, music teacher and conductor at Freeport High School. Mr. Pagano is particularly well-known as a choral conductor, and has musically directed more than 200 shows for groups such as Nassau Community College, the Glen Players, the Coral House Dinner Theatre, Gold Coast Enterprises and St. Mary's Theatre Guild, among others. He was conductor of the Molloy Women's Choir and recently conducted the Area All-

State high school choral festival.

The auditions on June 26 are designed to determine a student's strengths and weaknesses. Any student who wishes to participate, may do so. Interested students should memorize and perform a song, and may bring either a cassette tape or sheet music accompaniment. There is no charge to audition. For more information, please call the Arts Council at (516) 223-2522.

Intramural Soccer

The Hicksville American Soccer Club Eagles started off their season with an impressive effort against the Cardinals. Andrew Visconti scored two goals while Scott Bryan put one in the net. The player who set the tone of the game was Jamie Camarinos as he scored his first goal as a Pee Wee and played an outstanding game. Credit also goes to defense Peter Lamana, Matthew Burrat, Mike Staminos, and Bryan Hebron. Midfielders Mark Zajkowski, Mathew Sobel, and Chris Hawkins also deserve much credit. Ryan Cocchi played great in goal. Final score of the game was four to one.

Also on the card will be Tommy Dreamer versus the Tazmaniac, and a special midjet bout. Plus one other exciting bout. Special appearance by Curly Moe. Don't Miss It!!

Knights 3 Demolition 3

Truly the best soccer game so far this season. Danny Carsten played great in goal making numerous tough saves. Kenny McCullough had the hat trick for the offense. Tom Morillo, Chris Alcantara, and Brian Kwas kept Demolition's defense busy all game long.

Johnny Szalajis, Bryan Berg, and John Szalajis played good games. The defense led by William Sanchez, Tommie Myron, Andrew Jolly, Chris Artibec, and Jason Berg played their hearts out and kept the Knights in the game. For Demolition Timmy Parmiter, Mike Verdi, and Sherif each scored goals. Mike Verdi almost had another, but time ran out leaving the game tied.

Fees The Same

The Town Board has approved a schedule of fees for town beaches, ramps, boat basins, and Tappan pool that reflects no increase in rates established in 1988. "Seasonal beach stickers for residents will cost only $20," Councilman Tom Hogan stated. "Once again, we have been able to hold the line on these fees. The stickers, which allow residents to use all the Town's beaches, will be available to volunteer fire department and auxiliary police members at a reduced rate of $10."

The launching ramp fees and the boat basin fees have also remained unchanged. The launching ramp fee is $15 for a seasonal sticker for residents. Daily charge for residents without sticker is $6. Non-resident fee for daily use is $35. Basins fees for up to a twenty foot boat is $20 for a seasonal sticker. Boats over 20 feet are $40. For daily use of the boat basin, there is a $7 charge for up to a 20 foot boat and $15 for over 20 feet.

A seasonal pass to the Tappan pool is $120 for a family membership and $60 for individual. Daily passes cost $4 for adults and $1.50 for children through the age of fifteen.

VARSITY BASEBALL opened their season with a win against Mephan, but couldn't keep up against Plainview. The team, coached by Bob Hilsky, is counting on strong defense and pitching to lead them to a winning season. Their next home game is Saturday, April 18 at 10 a.m.

Varsity Bball Starts Season Even

By John W. Garger

Hicksville Varsity Baseball started their season strong with a win against Mepham, then came up short against Plainview.

From the first crack of the bat the Comets knew they were in for trouble when second baseman Rich Woodworth was hit in the face with a bad hop of the bat of the leadoff hitter. Plainview managed three runs with a triple by the cleanup batter and three singles. The Comets got out of the inning with a fine play by shortstop Dennis Cantolupo.

Hicksville got back two runs in the bottom of the inning. Pat Hart singled, then running with the pitch reached third on a ball hit into right field by Brian Reardon. Peter Morace drew a walk. Then Bob Genovese drove in two runs with a short fly ball to left field.

Plainview started the second inning with a triple and a run scoring single, before heads-up play by the Comets stopped the Eagles from scoring more runs. With a runner on second, a soft roller to the pitcher caught the Plainview runner between second and third. The pitcher Shennen Morace threw to third baseman Bill Roger for the tag out. Two batters later Plainview attempted a double steal, but a perfect throw by Brian Reardon got the lead runner.

In the third and fourth innings Plainview scored three more runs, while keeping Hicksville scoreless.

Bill Rogers pitched the top of the fifth, striking out two batters. In the bottom of the inning the Comets picked up two more runs from a walk to Pat Hart, ground rule double by Brian Reardon, and a base hit by Peter Morace.

In the top of the sixth the Eagles scored two more runs before Rogers struck out the last three batters.

Team Review

The Comets are counting on their experienced pitching staff, including Greg Henglein, Wayne Rothschild, Pat Hart, and Adam Grecco to lead them this year along with two promising sophomore pitchers. The teams defense is also a strong point. Returning veterans include infielders Dennis Cantolupo, Vin Iocco, and pitcher-infielder Adam Grecco; catcher Brian Reardon.

Hicksville Rockets Undeclared

The Hicksville American Soccer Club Traveling Team Rockets blasted off this season with impressive wins and remains undefeated.

They started the season with a home game against the Patchogue Mohawks. The Rockets started off sluggishly but the defense remained tough. A key goal by Martin Ferrario inspired the team to start dominating play. Mikey Camarinos scored a second half goal to clinch the victory.

On March 15 the Rockets played the Mohawks in a State Cup match. The Rockets again shut them out 2-0. The defense, which was even tighter than last game, was led by Nick Alfano, John Fiorillo, Eddie Pettie, Hank Zuckerman, and Adam Sobel. They only allowed a few shots on goal. Midfielders Chris Musinski, Anton Berzins, Mike Tanella, and Andrew Berner controlled the game while forwards Martin Ferrario, David Musinski, David Neves, Kevin Nolan, and Mikey Camarinos put a lot of pressure on the defense. The Goals were by Camarinos and Berzins. Goalie Danny Cocchi recorded his second shutout of the season.

The Rockets tied (3-3) the Bayport Captains in an away game on March 28. The Rockets had an off day trying to adjust to the severe wind conditions. Goals by David Musinski and two by David Neves sparked the come from behind effort.

The Rockets get their undefeated status intact with a 2-1 win over Valley Stream in a State Cup Game. The Rockets scored twice in the first half of this away game on March 29. Martin Ferrario and David Neves were credited with the scores. The game looked like a runaway, but the persistent Valley Stream Vipers fought back in the second half to close the gap to 2-1.

The Rockets defense led by Nick Alfano, John Fiorillo, Eddie Pettie, and Hank Zuckerman dug in to preserve the win. Midfielders Chris Musinski, Anton Berzins, Michael Tanella, and Drew Berner kept control of the game while forwards Mikey Camarinos, Kevin Nolan, and David Musinski put pressure on the vipers defense. Goalie Danny Cocchi made key saves.

The weekend series of an away league game versus Sachem and a State Cup Game versus Rockville Centre (April 4 and 5) saw the Rockets explode with consecutive shutout wins and all-around dominating play. Goals by Martin Ferrario, Mikey Camarinos, and David Neves sealed the 3-0 win over Sachem. Andrew Berner, Chris Musinski, Adam Sobel, Mikey Camarinos, (continued on page 22)
