Fall Luncheon Planned For Senior Citizens

Salvatore Mugavero, superintendent of Hicksville Schools, has announced plans to hold the district's first annual fall luncheon for senior citizens. The luncheon will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 18, from 2:30 until 4:30 p.m. at the Hicksville High School.

Senior Citizens will be treated to a holiday turkey or country ham luncheon served by high school students. Entertainment throughout the afternoon will be provided by a variety of student groups from the fine arts program. High school art students will share their talents for the occasion by creating fall centerpieces. The afternoon promises to be a delightful experience for all.

Reservations are required. Senior citizens in the community who are interested in attending may contact the Public Information Office of Hicksville Public Schools, 733-6589, or any of the four senior citizen community groups to which they belong: Levittown Hall Seniors, Hicksville/Mid-Island VFW Senior Citizen Club, Our Lady of Mercy Seniors, or St. Ignatius Senior Citizen Club. Tickets are $3 each.

Homecoming A Knight Game

AS THE SENIOR Class float suggests, Hicksville planned on crushing the Knights of Unfondale in the Comet's Homecoming Game. Hicksville played a strong game, but eventually lost 20-6. The young Hicksville team still has a few more games left this year. Despite the loss, hundreds of students and alumni had a good time at the Homecoming Fair and cheering on their team. The senior class float came in second place. Photos of the homecoming festivities will be included in next week's edition.

Golden Age District Critical To Hicksville

The Oyster Bay Town Board has scheduled a public hearing in November to consider the creation of a "Golden Age" district, which would address the needs of affordable housing for senior citizens.

The new district if approved would be used in the plans for a senior citizen complex proposed for a West John St. sight.

According to a press release from the Town of Oyster Bay, Councilman Leonard Kunzig introduced the concept to the board. "The legislation I introduced would address these difficult times by fostering a public/private partnership that would allow seniors to continue living near their families and friends." The Golden Age District would allow for one and two bedroom units that would be constructed in what will be referred to as the S-2 District. Kunzig added that the units would be reasonably priced and will have smaller tax and utility bills than most average homes seniors now occupy.

The senior citizens housing complex in Hicksville, proposed for the land that is currently occupied by the Twin County asphalt plant and the adjacent property hinges on the approval of the Golden Age District. According to a plan being worked out by the owners of the properties and area residents, the asphalt plant, whose permit expired this year, will petition the board for a five year permit, and then build the senior citizen complex when the new permit expires. But if the Golden Age District is not approved it is unsure how the plan will proceed. The plan for the complex will be discussed at the Duffy Park Civic Association meeting on Oct. 29. A representative from Landmark Builders, the development company that has drawn up plans for the project, will be on hand to discuss the plans and answer questions. The meeting will take place at 7:30 p.m. at Old Country Rd. School.

Councilman Tom Clark is optimistic about having the S-2 District approved. But there are specifics that need to be worked out, he said. Under the current S-2 proposal, there would be 20 to 25 units allowed to the acre, with one or two bedrooms per unit. What needs to be worked out are the other requirements such as side yard, back yard requirements, and an acceptable plan providing for maintenance, operation, and administration of a senior complex. The S-2 zoning will be restricted to housing for individuals and married couples with at least one spouse 62 years of age and older.

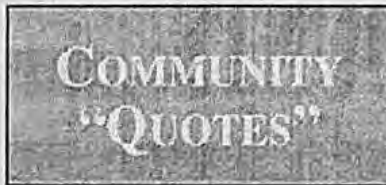

Although there are senior citizen complexes in the town and county, they were federally funded. An available parcel of land would be bought by the municipality and the housing built. Presently there are no funds available for more such complexes, according to Clark. Therefore, a floating district, such as the Golden Age District, will be available so a developer can petition the board for a change of zone to the S-2 zone just as he would any other change of zone request.

The owner of the Twin County plant has filed for a new permit according to Clark. His hearing for the new permit will be scheduled at the next available date after the hearing on the new district. The meeting for the Golden Age District will take place on Nov. 17 at 7 p.m. in the hearing room of Town Hall East, Audrey Ave., in Oyster Bay. The first hour of the meeting will be devoted to public comment on any subject. The regular town calendar, including the hearing, will be called starting at 8 p.m.

"The parents were poised for a steady stream of folk who attended the competition. Flags snapped smartly in the breeze and all systems were a go."

Hicksville resident Audrey Hagemann was honored last weekend by family, friends, and local officials upon her retirement after years of dedicated service to the Nassau County Board of Elections and the Nassau Democratic Party.

Nearly 100 people joined her for an afternoon of good food and fun at UB Loves Italian Restaurant in Hicksville. Hagemann was feted for more than 25 years of service to the Nassau and Hicksville Democratic Organizations, the last 10 as a member of the Democratic State Committee from the 14th Assembly District, and for more than two decades of work at the Nassau County Board of Elections.

John Gsell writes: "I went on a seventh grade trip with my school, Holy Family, to the United Nations and the Intrepid on Oct. 9. My teacher told us the day before of a room with the names of Congressional Medal of Honor Winners that is on the Intrepid. I came with my great-grandfather's name and the year he received the award. The room was closed and under construction. When my teacher told the story to a woman who worked there, she opened the door and moved boxes for me to see my great-grandfather's name, Timothy Donohue, the Fighting 69th under Civil War 1864. He was my mother's grandfather and I am proud to be a part of his family."

CLINTON BROWN, assisted by Bryan Trotter and flanked by Rangers Captain Mark Messier and Isles Captain Patrick Flatley, drops the ceremonial opening puck as the Islanders opened their 1992-93 hockey season at the Coliseum.

Hicksville Lad Opens Isles Season

By A. Anthony Miller

An 11 year old Hicksville boy helped open the Islanders' 1992-93 hockey season.

He's Clinton Brown, described by the team as "one of the Islanders' most loyal and dedicated fans," who was chosen to drop the ceremonial first puck on Sat., Oct. 17, because the team considers him a "true representative of the future" as it enters what it calls a New Ice Age.

Clinton is a student at the Henry Viscardi School in Albertson, where the Isles spend time working and playing with the students. This includes taking part in wheelchair hockey games, which, as the name implies, require all participants to be in wheelchairs. The physically challenged students, because they are more adept at maneuvering in the wheelchairs, fought the Isles to an 11-11 tie in last year's game, and are already looking forward to this year's match.

Diagnosed at birth with a rare form of dwarfism called diastrophic dysplasia, which affects the growth of bones, Clinton has endured a series of life-threatening operations to become class president, a member of the student council at his school, and a gold medalist in the New York State Games for the Physically Challenged.

Fate put him in touch with the Isles. At age two, Clinton was taken on therapeutic walks around Hicksville's Cantiague Park, where the Islanders then trained. He got to know many of the players, including Bryan Trotter—the highest scorer in Islander history and now executive assistant to the team's president—and coach Al Arbour, among many others.

Clinton and his family are season-ticket holders for Islander games. Through its connection to Clinton, the Islanders have become involved in fund-raising for the Little People's Foundation.

Clinton lives in Hicksville with his father, Clinton Sr., and mother, Cheryl. He is a grandson of Flo Gries, a longtime contributing writer for the Hicksville Illustrated News.

You could also say that Clinton brought the team luck by dropping the opening puck: the Isles hosted the NY Rangers, their Patrick Division rival, and beat them by the score of 6-3.

Locals Look To Unseat Incumbent

Three Hicksvillites Seek Election

By John Garger

The 14th Assembly District, which encompasses almost all of Hicksville, has three candidates trying to unseat incumbent Frederick E. Parola. The three seeking Parola's seat are from Hicksville.

Parola, the Republican, Conservative, and Tax-Cut Party candidate is being opposed by Carol Reden, running on the Democrat line; Jean Ryan, of the New York State Right to Life Party; and Rachel Schein, of the Liberal Party.

Parola has been a member of the Assembly since 1979. An attorney, he lists numerous organizational affiliations in his background. He stresses that one of his primary efforts has been to "reduce and restructure our state government to end the tax and spend policies that have dominated decision making in Albany." He adds that he has opposed the cuts to Long Island schools and services, and has voted against the state budget for four consecutive years. He also has been labeled a "friend of the taxpayer" by the Change-NY taxpayers group.

Parola's top priority is to "eliminate excessive reliance on the property tax to fund schools through increased reliance on revenues which are based upon one's ability to pay." His other school reforms include an end to mandates, lottery reform, and consolidation of duplicative school administrative functions. Also on his priority list is the support of the Jobs Bond Referendum, which he says will create more than 100,000 new jobs. To also help the economy, Parola would reduce government red tape and costly overregulation choking businesses on Long Island and forcing them to relocate. He would also demand workfare, making able-bodied welfare recipients work for benefits, and eliminating fraud through photo IDs and instituting a residency requirement.

Carol Reden, the Democratic candidate for the 14th district, is an attorney and has been a registered nurse for 21 years. She is a lifelong Hicksville resident and a founding member and current vice-president of the Hicksville Southwest Civic Association.

Reden supports universal health care for all residents of New York State. As a woman and a registered nurse she feels that she has a better understanding of the current health care dilemma facing New Yorkers. Reden also supports a "fair and equitable progressive income tax structure, with an income tax to support education." She believes the Nassau bail out package is irresponsible and that a recent proposal to allow towns to delegate to school districts the power to collect taxes would only create another layer of bureaucracy, with a receiver of taxes at the school district level, which would ultimately increase taxes. She is also committed to protecting a woman's right to choose and a term limitation for elected officials.

Jean Ryan, the Right To Life candidate, holds the issue of abortion to be paramount. "I believe that all life is sacred and must be preserved from the moment of conception until natural death. Those who espouse the 'choice' position should make their decision whether or not to have a child before conception, not after."

About the economy, Ryan, a former teacher, believes that things will not change "until the government stops regarding the tax-paying public as one gigantic credit card, with a truly unlimited line of credit." She wants to see a reduction in the amount of imported goods into the country, in order to create more jobs here. Welfare reform also needs to be addressed, according to Ryan.

She also feels that tax incentives should be given to companies who at least provide the minimal amount of health care coverage; and that large insurance companies should be given incentives to lower group rates.

Rachel Schein, the Liberal Party candidate, is a sophomore at Nassau Community College. She previously ran for town council in 1991. She is pro-choice, and opposes the death penalty for New York State. She believes she is the best candidate because she is not part of the political machine, and does not owe anybody favors.

The first degree was held in honor of the past grand knights of the council. The 16 past grand knights that were present were given a plaque from the current grand knight. The degree team for the night was made up of all past grand knights. After the degree, a wood etching of Christopher Columbus (made by brother Joe Leo, father of GK Joe Leo, Jr.) was presented to chairman Jim Carroll. Carroll thanked Joe Leo for a job well done, then everyone enjoyed a repast prepared by the worthy lector, Joe Burafato. The next event of the celebration was the Quincennial Dance, held at the council clubhouse on Friday, Oct. 9. The dance was attended by approximately 150 people. There was a hot buffet dinner and dancing to a live band. Everyone had a good time. The food was good and the music was good. Everyone enjoyed the beautiful cake made for the occasion by the students at BOCES. The dance was chaired by PGK Frank Gariboldi and PGK Ed Kelly. The closing of the celebration took place on Monday, Oct. 12 with a Columbus Day Parade. Chairing the parade was our worthy warden John Rizos. The parade started at 9 a.m. going down Broadway to Old Country Rd to Jerusalem Ave. to the Middle School. A short ceremony was held at the Middle School. Special marchers in the parade were PGK and district deputy of the 15th district, Bill Henne and parade grand marshal Monsignor James Lisanti. ## Marching Band Hits High Notes

By Karen Blicher

Oct. 18 dawned chilly and sunny as the musicians of the Hicksville High School Marching Band and the parents from the Band Parents Association hosted the CMBC band competition. I recently read a line stating "life is not a dress rehearsal." The parents were about to tackle their biggest challenge of the year - dress rehearsals notwithstanding.

The busy hive of activity actually began weeks ago. At the last two meetings of the Band Parents Association, the president, Diana DePalma, had no trouble recruiting volunteers for the big event. Committees were formed, ranging from admissions to walkie talkies (39 committees in all), and from A to Z (Abrano to Zagarello), parental cooperation was extraordinary. Band parents are unique because they are eager and willing to lend a hand...honest!

And so, at 8 a.m. on the 18th, the cleanup/fixup crew arrived, a stalwart army of men and women who cheerfully (even before their morning cup of coffee) faced the daunting task of whipping the event into shape by moving tables, preparing hot and tempting food, placing beverage trailers, lining up trophies, preparing raffles, assisting visiting bands and the judges. There is just not enough space to list the amount of tasks that went into making the competition so successful, nor

SCHOOL SHORTS

Lee Ave. Poster Contest Winners

Lee Ave. School students Bryan Buckley, Edward Cramer, Natasha Motwani, Michelle Tricarico, Mathew Restivo, Nicole Dillard, and Jennifer Holmes, are the proud winners of the Hicksville Fire Department Fire Safety Poster Contest. The students each received a trophy and a back pack at an awards ceremony held at the Fire Department Headquarters on Oct. 11.

East Street Seminar

Now in its second year, the Great Issues Seminar at East St. School got off to a rousing beginning on Oct. 9, discussing the current yet controversial topic of whether or not "Christopher Columbus was a saint or sinner?" Over 20 fifth graders in Mr. Tomaini's and Dr. Kanawada's classes attended along with principal, Donato Guadagnoli. This open, free exchange of views and ideas is conducted every Friday, during recreation and lunch time with about 15 to 20 students, the principal, and any faculty or staff who wishes to participate. The seminars, held in the art gallery, "Galerie des Arts," cover a wide variety of concerns. Our next two topics are "The AIDS Victim and Social Discrimination" and "Racism in American Society."

Students Develop Leadership Skills

On Oct. 19, the Hicksville High School students from various school clubs and activity groups were treated to a four-hour leadership forum given by Dr. Tim Lautzenheiser of Educational Resources, Douglassville, PA.

The workshop was an intense, informative, and challenging program where students became aware of what motivates their peers as well as themselves. The program heightened student awareness of the need to communicate effectively. The end result is student leaders who are eager to share the responsibility of running their club's projects and activities.

The program, sponsored by Nassau BOCES, was brought into the high school through the cooperative efforts of Fine Arts supervisor Bruce Houston and band director James McRoy.

family mass guitarists and choir, and the Holy Family School Chorus. For their participation, gratitude is extended to all.

After the Mass, all were invited to share a luncheon banquet hosted by our own Rosary Altar Society and Family Mass Committee. A very big thank you to all the great women (and their husbands) working and donating a huge variety of foods. Everybody ate plentiful, nobody left hungry.

Audio, for the Mass and festivities was donated by DJ Keith Perrucci. A special thank you is extended to all the local merchants who contributed so generously; including The Bakery, The New Bitti Crown Bake shop, Hostess Thrift Store, McDonalds Restaurants, Heavenly Bagels, Neo's Hot Bagels, Bagel Talk, and Bagel Boss.

It was a great day, enjoyed by all. Tell your friends, see you next year.

THE STAFF OF Tony's Simonizing (LtoR) John Smith, John Watson, Joanne Turner, Danny Lyons, Tony Johnson, and Joshua the Dog. Tony's Simonizing specializes in providing quality detailing for your automobile. It is located at 181 Old Country Rd., west of Division Ave.

The Company That Shines

"Simonizing is quality and that's an old fashioned thing," according to Anthony Johnson, of Tony's Simonizing, located at 181 Old Country Rd. in Hicksville. Tony believes if you are going to do a job you might as well do it right, and his employees follow his lead.

Located in Hicksville for close to six months, Tony started his business four years ago, and has built up a steady clientele from Manhattan to Montauk.

The reason people come back to him is that he doesn't cut corners. "I'm not so much into the fancy glitter. I'm into doing the job the right way," says Tony. He is not worried about looking good, he is out for perfection. That is why he uses the best products. Although they might be more expensive, in the long run they are better for the car.

Tony's Simonizing hand washes each car, polishes, and simonizes them. His workers pay special attention to all details of a car, they will even use a toothbrush on grill work. Tony's offers one day service on cars for detailing, and a pick-up and drop-off service. Tony's Simonizing also offers on-road service. They will travel to a house or business to work on a car, as long as electricity, water, and garage space is available. "When the car is finished it's going to glow," said Tony.

Tony's clientele can attest to the fact.

SEND THE MESSAGE.... VOTE CONSERVATIVE

CONSIDER THIS: Candidates come and candidates go, and most political parties sway with the latest popularity polls. Only the Conservative Party has been constant for thirty years promoting traditional values. When you vote for the Conservative Party candidates on ROW C, you are sending a strong message that you are fed up with those who bend to the latest media hype and that you insist upon government by principle.

A VOTE ON ROW C SUPPORTS GOVERNMENT BY PRINCIPLE

TAXES AND SPENDING by the national government may give short term relief to some special interest group demand but at the cost of long term economic problems. We don't need any more taxes or more deficit spending. Tax relief now will stimulate the economy and keep us from squandering resources on useless government programs and saddling our children with the debt.

LEADERSHIP requires moral authority. Refusing to wear your country's uniform in-time of war might seem clever but is a character flaw that betrays leadership. A leader has to have the character to do what is right whether using the Veto against a popular program or sending young people to war.

TRADITIONAL VALUES are being undermined by cultural politicalization. Religious life is being held up to ridicule or depicted as sinister in the movies. Educational officials promote the acceptance of "alternative lifestyles". Vulgar and obscene mouthings in all media poses as common language. The hostility to the normal must be opposed not suffered, vileness is not a victim. We must regain the moral climate that supports traditional values.

ECONOMIC GROWTH: Government does not produce real wealth and cannot make productive jobs. Its intervention into the market economy can only diminish the wealth that is produced. President Bush's opportunity economy given a chance by a new Congress, would unleash the entrepreneurial spirit of the American people which will result in prosperity and more jobs for all Americans.

EDUCATION: A healthy competition among public, parochial and private schools is more beneficial to education than any government monopoly. Education must not be deterred by "politically correct" deconstruction or multiculturalism. The Conservative Party believes a VOUCHER system will provide everyone with the choice that will make real reform possible.

CRIME: Punish criminals for the harm they inflict. Proven Murderers and drug King pins do not warrant the same claim to the sanctity of life as the innocent unborn. Convicted felony murderers should be executed, not as a deterrence, but as Justice warranted by the facts of the case.

Hicksville Kiwanis Club Happenings

Patti LeCompte, president of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club, presented a substantial check to the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Metro New York, at the Kiwanis Club meeting on Oct. 9.

The check represented the proceeds of the sixth annual Hicksville Charity Baseball/Softball Tournament, sponsored by the Kiwanis Foundation of Hicksville, and played by 13 year old boys and girls.

The check was accepted by Bonnie Healy, co-chairperson for the Nassau Operations Make-A-Wish Foundation. She also addressed the members of the Kiwanis club who were assembled for the club's weekly luncheon meeting.

Bonnie Healy appropriately expressed the thought that doctors make medicine while the Make-A-Wish Foundation makes magic. She elaborated that the mission of the Make-A-Wish Foundation is to better the lives of youngsters with life-threatening illnesses. To this end, $220,000 has been granted by the foundation so far this year, and this number is expected to climb to $300,000 by year's end. Mrs. Healy's remarks also included, very importantly, the fact that 90 percent of all funds that are collected by the Make-A-

Kiwanis Club President Patti LeCompte presents a check to Bonnie Healy of the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

Wish Foundation flows through to help ill youngsters, while only 10 percent is used for administrative expenses. Money donated to this foundation is certainly well directed, and very efficiently used.

Ralph J. Marino

Majority Leader of the State Senate

He gives Long Island the power to protect our interests in Albany

Good politics is not just knowing what to do, or even when to do it. It is the art of persuading others to do it with you.

In a state government dominated by Democrats, that is no easy task for a Republican like Ralph Marino.

Years of experience earned Ralph Marino the respect and support of his peers and as Majority Leader of the Senate, he has been in the pivotal position to protect Long Island's interests.

His voice has been loud, it has been strong and it has been heard!

It takes leadership, not just one lonely vote, to get things done in Albany.

As Majority Leader, Ralph Marino has demonstrated time and again that he can build coalitions and gain support from both parties to protect Long Island and your interests. It takes experience, know-how and peer support. A freshman Senator has to first learn the ropes, and pay his dues. It isn't accomplished overnight.

Your worries about taxes and jobs are real. They're now! You cannot afford to wait while a freshman Senator goes to school.

Without Ralph Marino's leadership in the State Senate, Long Island will become anonymous and forgotten.

When Governor Cuomo wanted to reduce aid to Long Island schools by hundreds of millions of dollars, it was Majority Leader Ralph Marino who said "No!"

When Mayor Dinkins wanted to impose a new commuter tax, it was Majority Leader Ralph Marino who said "No!"

Every year, dozens of local concerns are addressed by Albany because Majority Leader Ralph Marino says "Yes!" when our community needs help.

Make no mistake; change has a flip side and it can be expensive - costly in the practical terms that are personally important to you and your family.

Needed now more than ever is the experience and leadership Ralph Marino uniquely gives Nassau and Suffolk Counties in the New York State Legislature.

Vote for Ralph Marino - and vote for yourself and your family.

A Hicksville library card and proof of child's age is required. There is a $4 fee.

room enough to personally thank the band parents who gave of their time so generously.

The parents were poised for the steady stream of folk who attended the competition. Flags snapped smartly in the breeze and all systems were a go. Bands from the following schools arrived: Levittown, Oceanside, Huntington, Copiague, Sachem, Walt Whitman, Brentwood, Mineola, and St. Francis Prep.

Strains of the Star Spangled Banner echoed throughout the stands. The other bands would be judged and vie for trophies and cumulative marks in the following categories: best music, best visual, best drum major, best marching, and best overall performance.

Hicksville naturally blew the crowd away with their always outstanding performance of Danse Bacchannale, from Samson and Delilah, and overture excerpts from La Boheme, the Poet and the Peasant, and William Tell. Their challenging drill was a sight to behold. The Color Guard, with their lovely flags swirling in the air, were equally impressive. Everyone agreed it was their best performance of the season. As hosts, Hicksville was not in the competition, but were given scores in a judged exhibition. They received their highest score yet. Hard work pays!

My daughter Robin recently found that "If you're not afraid to face the music, you may someday lead the band." Leaders James McRoy; assistant Jennifer Boltz; drum majors Lauren Giacopino, Kim Dames, and John Flynn; musicians; and band parents alike did face the music, and with marvelous results.

Thanks to all involved for their hard work, commitment, and cooperative spirit. Although some of us had creaky backs, we left the field feeling that we made significant contributions and had fun in the process. What's next? The band and color guard continues to practice and refine their drill, knowing that all important CM-BC Competition, at Giants Stadium on Nov. 7, looms ahead. The Hicksville Marching Band rolls on. Go get 'em Hicksville!

VOTE DEMOCRATIC - TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3

One of the triangles that the Midland Civic Association has adopted. Their efforts as well as the efforts of other civics have paid off in beautifying Hicksville.

Midland Civic Association Flourishing

By Gert Paul

Happily, our civic association, under the leadership of its new president, John Kuch, continues to be a viable force for the good of our community. New and enthusiastic members have been recruited for the board, and are making excellent contributions. Our triangles are still in full bloom with gorgeous mums donated by members Donna and Michael Lamberti of Bayles Garden Center in Port Washington, and they even planted them.

The Parks Department of the Town of Oyster Bay graciously complied to my request to replace some of the dead shrubs. Everything looks so nice, and we can carry its bright memory through the winter and into the spring when the bulbs come up!

Our association has joined the Adopt-A-Highway and Adopt-A-Spot project. We are responsible for Bethpage Rd. and Bay Ave. (from the railroad to the juncture of Bethpage Rd. and Rte. 107). A "clean-up" is scheduled for Nov. 7 at 11:30 a.m. The town requires a safety representative, and will supply bags which they will pick up. Volunteers please call me as soon as possible at 931-1740.

Ellie Draycott continues to keep us informed on anything vital to the well-being of not only our community, but of all of Hicksville itself. She should list the town's offices in Oyster Bay as her second home.

Buon Appetito's Unique, Creative Style

*Italian Flavor
With California Flair
In Great Neck*

Next time you're looking to dine California-style, but with an Italian flavor, take a few friends to Buon Appetito in Great Neck.

The cuisine at Buon Appetito is contemporary, original, creative and Italian. The atmosphere of the restaurant is bright and airy with its glass-enclosed kitchen.

Sole proprietor Michael Palazzolo brings 17 years of experience to Buon Appetito, including some very formidable training in Manhattan.

"I wanted a relaxed and contemporary atmosphere, offering my customers the feeling of a mini-vacation whenever they have dinner in my establishment," said Michael. "I feel the only way to be successful is to be creative, but also keep a keen eye on quality and service."

And serve some truly terrific food.

To start, try the garlic bread which seems to be reinvented at Buon Appetito. It's loaded with fresh garlic and the flavor is one-of-kind.

Also, there's the Insalata Buon Appetito salad with Belgian endive, arugola, crumpled bleu cheese, peanut brittle and pignoli nuts. Topped with a dijon vinaigrette dressing, it's not to be missed.

A special called Penne con Broccoli Rabe features broccoli rabe, sauteed chicken, virgin olive oil and garlic topped with a julienne of roasted peppers. The chicken was tender, the pasta perfectly prepared and the vegetables still crisp.

The soup at Buon Appetito changes every day. When we visited it was leptic, with prosciutto, beef stock and pasta.

For the main dish, we selected Rigatoni a la Vodka in a pink blush sauce with fresh sage, Romano cheese and vodka.

We also sampled the Shrimp Provencale which was served over angel hair pasta with a chunky fresh tomato sauce, olives, capers, chopped onions and loaded with garlic.

Whatever you do, save room for dessert. We selected Gelato Fritti—ice cream stuffed in semolina bread, then coated with tempura batter, deep fried and topped with an English cream and fruit sauce. We also treated ourselves to the La Dolce Vita, a delicate white chocolate mousse with a graham cracker crust, topped off with a rich Ganache chocolate.

The service at Buon Appetito is impeccable. Everyone feels like royalty as the waiters and waitresses take great pains to make your visit a memorable one.

Also, it's not unusual for the chef to come out of the kitchen and ask you how you liked the meal.

Buon Appetito is open Monday through Thursday, 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m., Friday from 11:30 p.m. to 11 p.m., Saturday, 4:30 to 11 p.m. and Sunday, 4:30 to 10 p.m.

The wine list is large, featuring imported and domestic selections as well as a "wine of the month" special.

The restaurant accepts Visa, Mastercard, American Express and offers house accounts for lunch clients.

Buon Appetito is located at 43 Great Neck Road, Great Neck. Call 466-8271 for more details.

DOCTOR DEAN HART (right) at the Sjogren's Syndrome Symposium with R. Linsey Farris, MD, and Penny Asbell, MD. Dr. Hart is an associate research scientist at the Harkness Eye Institute and the director of the Low Vision Clinic at Harlem Hospital, as well as a practicing eye doctor at Woodbury Optical Group in Hicksville.

Local Doctor Speaks At Symposium

Dr. Dean Hart, O.D., M.A., was a featured speaker at the Sjogren's Syndrome Symposium XII, held recently at Mount Sinai Medical Center.

Sjogren's syndrome is named for the Swedish ophthalmologist Henrik Sjogren, who described a triad of symptoms - dry eyes, dry mouth, and rheumatoid arthritis - in patients consulting him for their eye complaints. In Sjogren's syndrome (SS) the body's defense or immune system mistakes some of the patient's own tissues as foreign invaders. In SS, the immune system targets the moisture-secreting glands, most noticeable the salivary and tear glands.

Most patients do fairly well. The vast majority do very well. The Sjogren's Syndrome Symposium is a function of the Sjogren's Syndrome Foundation. An organization, founded on Long Island, that fosters the awareness of Sjogren's syndrome among doctors and patients, and supports research into the syndrome.

In The Hands Of The Voters

With election day just days away, candidates for public office are crowding the field to get the last word in to the electorate. From the nation's highest office on down, elected officials are running the races of their lives. And on Long Island, at least, much of their audience is new.

Frustrated with the economy, record numbers of new voters have registered to participate in this year's election—nearly a quarter-million on Long Island.

The effect of all those new voters on the outcome of the races is anybody's guess. But, candidates should not fear that their fate is in the hands of amateurs. In fact, it seems that the electorate as a whole is particularly well educated this year. On a national level, the presidential debates commanded an audience of Super Bowl stature. Millions of Americans tuned in and stayed tuned to hear the candidates discuss the issues. And, in a new tactic, President George Bush and Democratic candidate Bill Clinton offered their economic plans in writing to callers at a toll-free telephone number. Even Ross Perot's "infomercials" drew interest, capturing a prime-time audience that any sit-com producer would envy.

The upshot of this is that the voters who are going to the polls next Tuesday could well be the most educated lot to do so in years. And for once, it seems the issues themselves will be the factors that decide which way they cast their votes. The sleaze factor that has played an unfortunately large part in past elections doesn't appear to be sticking, at least in the presidential race. As far as character issues go, by the time they all tar one another with the same mud-covered brush, the playing field seems to even itself out.

Voters can't help but carry their interest in the issues through to elections for US Senate, Congressional and State Legislature seats. Their interest is the candidates' stand on taxes, the economy and health care, to name the big ones.

The outcome of this year's election rests in the hands of the most educated electorate of recent history! A worthy candidate could not ask for more. We urge all our readers to carefully evaluate the candidates, consider all the issues and, most importantly, get to the polls on Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Once again, our endorsement is of you, our reader, in this year's election.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

In years gone by it was so much fun to make up little bags of goodies for the trick or treating kids—but now so few come and the parents are so afraid to let them eat anything they receive with all those weirdos out there who seem to think there's something funny about putting needles into candy bars, that there's not much point to making up the little bags any more—so I get a roll of quarters and that's my treat for the trickers...And there aren't very many of them any more either—just a few little ones after school with a parent or two hovering out by the sidewalk reminding them to say "thank you"...I don't miss the older mischief makers who threw eggs on the house or cars—that wasn't much fun to clean—and remember how they would toss your carefully carved jack-o-lantern into the street?—naughty, naughty!...So now we try to have decorations inside that can be seen from outside and so last through the big spooky day...And inside, just for the family, we have an orange tablecloth and black and orange candles and a "haunted house" cookie jar for a centerpiece and a few witches scattered here and there and orange jello for dessert...I believe in making a big fuss about every holiday and Hallowe'en is one of the most fun...How about you—do you have a whole collection of Hallowe'en stuff to perk up your house?...If not, get started—you can make all sorts of things from stuff you have around the house—just be imaginative...And Happy Hallowe'en to you and yours!!!

East Street School

23,725 days. That's how many days are in 65 years; the number of years East Street School had served this community. This letter is not about the right or wrong choice of school closure; it's about respect and power.

The school board has demonstrated its lack of respect to administration. At the same time, it has shown us the misguided power they wield.

During work sessions, Mr. Mugavero had pursued a district of balance while forming redistricting lines. His district map with East Street closed had school populations ranging from 235 to 398; a spread of 69 percent. The board chose to make their own map that has populations ranging from 225 to 416, a spread of 85 percent.

The northeast boundary separating the new Lee Avenue attendance area from Woodland's attendance area was Woodbury Road and Cliff Drive south to Chestnut, then east on Chestnut. The board had asked many times what the impact would be if the boundary was changed to the entire length of Cliff Drive between Woodbury and Plainview Roads. Mr. Durso was opposed to this boundary change, and explained a possible overcrowding in Woodland. He was ignored and the board made this change.

The administration's goal was to use the closed building for a special education and Pre-K program. Dr. Kremin expressed his expert advice that he would not favor using a multi-level building for this program. North Shore University, which is presently leasing Willet Avenue, expressed to the board that their program would not work well in a multi-level building. One could surmise that similar programs run by potential renters would have the same concerns. What did the board do? They ignored this information and closed the multi-level East Street.

The board has shown a concern that if a school was closed, a future board could sell the property. Hicksville would lose the building and land forever. Well this board basically accomplished what they feared may come to pass, when they closed East Street on Oct. 15. This building, once closed will forever be out of our school inventory. It can never be used as a school because it loses its grandfather status on acreage and other codes.

The board ignored its own criteria when voting on East Street. East Street did not address the minority population, which appears on six of seven board members' lists. It does not create parity, which was on five of seven board members' lists. It has an adverse effect on expanding our special education program. It has an adverse effect on the impact to the neighborhood. The only criteria it met was age and acreage. How did the board respond? It ignored the criteria and forced a square peg into a round hold.

Mr. Pfaender states that we must protect our land because "they just don't make new land anymore." Well let's see what we have done, Mr. Pfaender. We've closed a school on the smallest property in the district, the most unlikely piece of land wanted by developers. That protects the land, but the building is lost as a school forever and it's the least desirable to lease. So we have the strong possibility of an empty building susceptible to vandalism. Can anyone explain how this benefits Hicksville?

When all is said and done, if and when any of the redistricting plans go awry, the board after ignoring all the expert advice given, can go to the only logical place to point blame, the mirror.

Jeffrey A. Siegel

Student Speaks On AIDS Education

There have been many discussions about AIDS education in school districts. I am a senior at Hicksville High School and I strongly feel that there should be some form of AIDS education. It doesn't have to be a full year course, but it should be required. If the district made it an option, like an afterschool class, many students probably would not show up. I think they would be embarrassed and other students would call them "nerds." These students do not realize that this is a deadly disease and everyone must know about it. Many of our parents do not tell us all of the facts because they are not forced to.

Well, I think someone should be forced to or our population will be taken over by AIDS. Peer pressure is a very popular thing in this community and also many others. Newcomers and freshman and many others will do just about anything to fit in despite the consequences.

We aren't asking too much as students we just want to be educated. A half year required AIDS education class is all we are asking. This is a life or death situation and we want to live!

Janice Russo

Little Village Holds First Annual Jump-A-Thon

Little Village, a non-profit organization and school for developmentally disabled children located in Garden City, is holding its First Annual Jump-a-thon for nursery school age children on Monday, Nov. 2. Over 1000 nursery school children from more than 20 schools throughout Nassau County are expected to participate. Proceeds from the event will raise funds for the reconstruction of Little Village House in Manhasset, the organization's resident home for developmentally disabled children that was destroyed by an electrical fire in June.

The Little Village Jump-a-thon will take place simultaneously at each nursery school. Individuals sponsoring a child participating in the event will be asked to make a contribution relative to the number of jumps the child is able to complete within one minute. Dr. Caryl Bank, co-founder and educational director and Dr. Barbara Feingold, co-founder and administration director, will be meeting with the nursery school children to explain how their participation in this jump-a-thon will help youngsters their own age who have very special needs.

The philosophy of Little Village is to provide the finest educational and therapeutic services for infants and young children who are diagnosed as mentally retarded, emotionally disturbed, autistic, neurologically impaired, minimally brain damaged or multiply handicapped. Little Village, which survives only by government funding, supplemented by corporate and private donations, does not charge for its services.

Focus on Positive Things

I am a senior at Hicksville High School, and I am very involved in school activities. Through the years, I have read different news articles about the high school and I have noticed that nine out of ten times the article always criticizes and puts down Hicksville High School. Because of our reputation, when people hear Hicksville High School a negative image runs through their head. For a change, I feel that instead of always recognizing the negative image, maybe people should know how Hicksville really is. Hicksville is there to help the community. Many kids participate in student activities to help those who have given so much to us. For instance, last year the student government held a senior citizen prom which was free of charge to those who attended. We also had a car wash to raise money for a family in need of the money. Every year Hicksville conducts a blood drive where over fifty pints of blood are always donated by the students and faculty.

The people in the community should know that the bad reputation given is not true. I hope that the community focuses their attention on all the positive things that Hicksville does for the community. Instead of looking at those few kids who give the negative, maybe we should focus on those who give the positive.

Christine Sacco

Editor's Note: This paper does share the writer's concern that Hicksville High School be portrayed in a fair manner. In fact all three events mentioned by the writer were covered prominently in the Hicksville Illustrated News.

Robbed Our Children

On Thursday, Oct. 15, 1992, I attended a meeting of the Hicksville School Board.

What this biased, self-righteous and self-interested school board did to our children was an out and out crime; they voted 5 to 2 to close the oldest and best school in Hicksville, East St. It should be noted for the public record that the two members of the board who exhibited character were Carol Wolf and Arlene Rudin, both of whom deserve the votes of all Hicksville residents when their terms are to be renewed. Let the public beware, Mrs. Lafferty and Messrs. Black, Martin, Pfaender, and Staton, not only deserve not to be re-elected to the school board, but if there is a legal manner in which they can be removed, let's do it!

After spending thousands of dollars of taxpayers' money for an outside consultant's report, and several more thousands of dollars on engineering studies, it was deemed by the objective consultants that one, or possibly two schools in Hicksville should be closed. Neither one of the schools named in the consultants' report was East St. As a matter of fact, even Superintendent of Schools, Salvatore Mugavero, agreed that East St. was not his first choice.

During the meeting, redistricting maps were presented to the audience. After a 45 minute delay, in addition to a disproportionate discussion that seemed like it took forever, three amendments were proposed to the original redistricting plan, which was only agreed upon by the school board members less than 24 hours earlier, and then the school board went about their appointed rounds of robbing our children by voting to close East St. As a result, hundreds of children in Hicksville will be moved to different schools next year. The only unaffected school was Burns Ave.

The school board became extremely defensive and testy when residents of Hicksville brought up the topic of our children's safety. They showed a total disregard for our number one concern. The board members' answers to questions posed by the audience was for the sole purpose of pacifying the "emotional parents" who care about our children.

Mr. Staton then blatantly threatened the East St. parents that if they pursued this matter through legal remedies, he would keep track of every penny spent by residents of Hicksville on a continuing basis. Well, Mr. Staton, and the remaining members of the Hicksville school board, the fight is on! This is to advise you that I and other parents of East St. children will not be intimidated by egotistical, self-interested individuals like yourselves. I and the other parents will do everything within the legal framework to save East St. and explore every possibility to find just cause for your removal from the board. You people were elected to serve all of the people of Hicksville, not just yourselves!

As an aside, Mr. Black stated that in making their final determination to close East St., the outside consultants' report was quite useful. In fact, Mr. Black stated that the board used 113 pages of the 114 page report. However, the one page the board decided not to use was the one where outside, highly paid consultants recommended which school not to close. Small wonder, East St. was not on that list.

Discovering America: Journeys In Search of the New World, Timothy Jacobson, Key Porter Books, 154 pp., $35.

In the year of the quincentennial of Christopher Columbus' landing in the western hemisphere, there has been a spate of books about the discovery of the New World. In a highly personal account that is an interesting mix of history and travel reporting, writer Timothy Jacobson takes the reader on a journey to the locales of North American discovery—from Newfoundland to the Carolinas—as he introduces the centuries-old cast of characters of Europeans and Norsemen who sailed the Atlantic in search of routes to the East.

The history is vividly told, sparked by the immediacy of Jacobson's travels to many of the most significant sites of discovery. As he says, the arrival of the Europeans on this continent was not so much a "discovery" as an end to isolation from which there could be no return.

Jacobson has a breezy style that takes the textbook quality away from his book. Speaking of Europe in the 15th century, he says that it began to assume the shape it would have until the French Revolution, with "powerful and mutually suspicious England, France, Spain and Portugal and small but shrewd Holland."

Early in the book he makes the point that will shock some of us who learned as gospel that Columbus sought to prove the world was round. According to Jacobson, that was generally agreed by scientists. He was simply seeking a new route to India after the old routes had been closed off "to Christian infidels by a resurgent Islam."

500 years earlier there seems little doubt that the Vikings had not only "discovered" Iceland and Newfoundland, but settled there for a time. Mr. Jacobson has a sense of humor as in his description of the "discovery" of Labrador. "The place was supposedly bumped into by Bjarni Herjolfsson, who while on route from Iceland to Greenland, was blown off course and came across, somewhere to the west, a relatively flat and wooded country where no glaciers covered the land (as they did in Greenland). Singularly incurious, he did not go ashore but returned to Greenland and eventually to Norway, where he died prosperous—and in bed!" Jacobson takes the reader to the Norse settlement at L'Anse aux Meadows, with its reconstruction of sod-and-pole houses.

A modern jaunt to Virginia's Roanoke Island serves as the springboard to the history of Sir Walter Raleigh and the mysterious disappearance of the ill-fated English settlement.

All the great explorers are of course included. There are Columbus, Cabot, Verazano, Cartier and others. Jacobson has an easy style and he brings his historical figures to life and is not reluctant to question some of their decisions. Of an Indian chief who encountered Jacques Cartier in Quebec, he writes: "Donnacona, obviously a yes-man and yarn-spinner, continued to feed the ever eager-to-listen Frenchmen with ever more fantastic tales about the immense quantities of gold, rubies and other precious commodities of Saguenay, which, he said, could be approached up either the Ottawa or the Saguenay rivers. And he claimed himself to have been there."

There is some wonderful art work in Discovering America. Aside from the oft-pictured inaccurate maps of the early days, the publishers have included reproductions of works from museums in the United States and Canada of Indian scenes as well as European paintings of the discoverers. There are also contemporary photographs. One especially interesting feature of this book is the fact the author has included historic sites that can be visited by today's traveller.

Vanderbilt Museum: A Place To Explore

Italy & The Age Of Discovery

"Italy and the Age of Discovery" is a new sky show at the Vanderbilt Museum Planetarium.

Italy and the Age of Discovery commemorates the 500th anniversary of Columbus' voyage to the Americas. It presents over one thousand years of Italian discovery and contribution to our knowledge of the world and universe. Beginning with the Etruscans, it continues to Christopher Columbus and Galileo Galilei. Planetarium visitors follow the Indians' discoveries that began in the Mediterranean and reached beyond the stars.

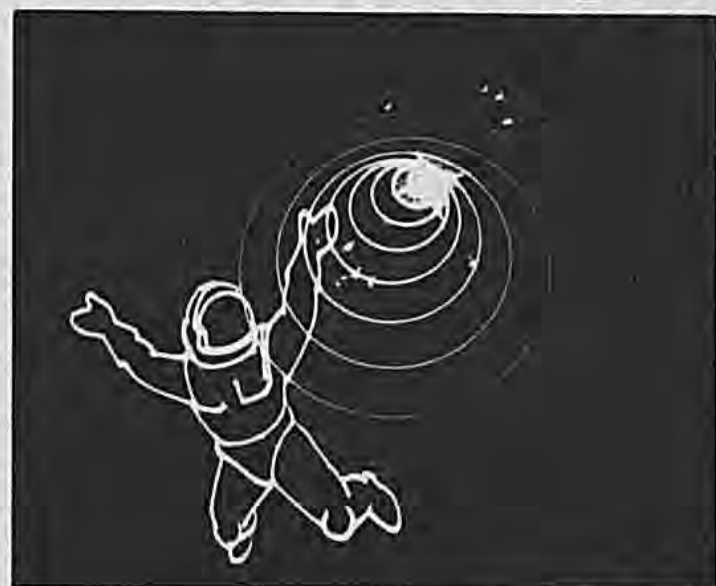

Their story begins around 900 B.C. with the Etruscans, skilled seafaring traders of central Italy. After this early history, the program leaps forward to 1492 and Christopher Columbus. On his voyages Columbus encountered numerous navigation problems, including locating the pole star and finding precise latitude. Columbus' later voyages and the account of his use of a lunar eclipse "to calm" the locals is presented.

Finally, Galileo Galilei is saluted for a lifetime of discoveries. From his days in Pisa to his forced retirement by the church at age 70, numerous accomplishments of this great thinker are discussed. Included are the discovery of scientific methods, such as the theory of pendulum motion and astronomical revelations made through his telescope.

Come with your family and friends for an exciting journey through time. For further information call 262-STAR.

One Square Mile Gallery

The One Square Mile Gallery will present the work of photographer Millie Burns from Nov. 1 through Dec. 13. The exhibition is entitled "Visions Of Solitude" and there will be an opening reception for the artist on Sunday November 1 from 3-5 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Millie Burns is a Brooklyn-based artist whose photographs "explore seeing new places or seeing familiar scenes in a new light." "My photographs are windows opening onto the world of wonderful dreams and deep silences." According to Burns, "I use my camera like a paintbrush, capturing that magical quality of light that exists in every place at one time or another. My work is about splendor and intimacy, immensity and detail, light, color and gesture."

Burns' photography in this exhibit focuses on architecture, landscapes, and still life subjects. The artist has exhibited at the Bronx Museum of the Arts, Art in General, Rotunda Gallery, Snug Harbor Cultural Center, Fordham University and the Library for the Arts in Washington, D.C.

She has studied at the School of Visual Arts, Parsons School of Design and the Rochester Institute of Technology and her work is represented in the collections of the New York Public Library, The Canadian Imperial Bank and Price Waterhouse and Company.

For additional information and additional press photographs please contact the gallery at 676-2537.

According to Burns, photography is the substitution of a visual for a verbal description of people, places, and events. "It is a continual process of anticipation and discovery, exploring new places or seeing familiar scenes in a new light. It is the perfect blend of science and art, theory and practice. This is part of the joy of being a photographer. Photography allows for singular moments to be set apart from the continuum of change. A photograph can be the most concise form of expression and the most quiet means of communication. My photographs are windows opening out onto the world of wonderful dreams and deep silences," Burns said.

"Photography allows me to be a passionate observer and express my vision of solitude, seasons and time, of the serene beauty in scenes left to themselves when man has departed or not been there at all. I don't always choose what to shoot; it often chooses me. I celebrate the world around me through everyday objects and sights and transform them into things deserving closer scrutiny. I use my camera like a paintbrush, capturing that magical quality of light that exists in every place at one time or another. My work is about splendor and intimacy, immensity and detail, light, color and gesture," Burns explained.

Edward Gorey Exhibit

The New York Institute of Technology will present an exhibit of Edward Gorey's books at the George and Gertrude Wisner Memorial Library on its Old Westbury campus. Opening on Halloween and titled "MYSTERY: The Illustrated Books of Edward Gorey," the exhibit of books, posters, and other Gorey paraphernalia will run until Nov. 30.

Over the years, the well-known author and illustrator, whose cartoon credits open and close the PBS "Mystery" series, has filled numerous books with murderous plots and a generous dose of wry black humor. The narratives, often organized in rhymed stanzas or couplets, express a delight in mean and beastly behavior, in the misfortunes of the unfortunate and hapless—in the harmful, alarming, and disarming. There is a decidedly Dickensian fatalism about the stories, as if the Bogeyman had been let loose and run amok.

The George and Gertrude Wisner Memorial Library is open Mondays through Thursdays from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m., Fridays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Saturdays from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. The New York Institute of Technology's Old Westbury campus is located on Northern Blvd./Route 25A one mile east of Glen Cove Road.

Nickelodeon Returns To LI

Nickelodeon, the only network just for kids, will return with the 1992 "Double Dare Live Tour Presented by Keebler" to the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum for two shows on Friday, Nov. 27 at 3 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Tickets are on sale now and are priced at $10 and $12.50 (with limited floor seating available). Tickets can be purchased at the Nassau Coliseum box office, all Ticket-Master locations or by calling 888-9000 or (212) 307-7171.

Patrons can save 50 percent on each ticket by presenting two Keebler Cookies UPC bar codes for each ticket purchased. For more information, call 794-9300.

The live tour consists of audience questions, crazy stunts and participation in physical challenges. The show will pit players randomly chosen from the audience in competition for prizes. The winning team will run the infamous 8-unit obstacle course in an attempt to win an array of prizes.

The bidding:

South West North East

1♥ Pass 3♥ Pass

Opening lead — nine of diamonds.

Declarer starts the play of many hands without knowing whether or not he'll make the contract. The outcome may depend on how the defenders' cards are divided, or on how skillfully he or the opponents play their cards.

Take this case where West leads a diamond against four hearts. East wins the diamond with the jack and continues with the A-K, declarer ruffing the king.

At this point, South does not know how he will fare. If the missing trumps are divided 2-2, he is sure to make the contract. But if the trump divide 3-1, the contract must apparently go down one, since South will then have a trump loser as well as a spade loser.

At trick four, declarer leads a heart to the ace and then returns a heart to the king. When East shows out on the second heart, the contract appears to be doomed.

However, if South comes from the school that does not concede defeat easily, he starts to think in terms of how the defenders' cards need to be divided in order for him to make the contract. And, if he thinks hard enough, he finds there is still a good chance to get home safely.

Accordingly, he cashes the K-A-Q of clubs, discarding a spade from dummy. He then cashes the K-A of spades and exits with a trump, praying as hard as he can that West will not have a spade to return.

On this occasion, declarer's prayers are answered. West finds himself on lead with the queen of trumps and is forced to return a diamond or a club, either of which allows South to ruff in dummy and discard a spade from his hand to make the contract.

SPORTS SHORTS

Sportsmanship Award Winners

The Hicksville Hawks Soccer Team received the Sportsmanship Award, Oct. 22, from the Long Island Junior Soccer League for boys under the age of 19. Even more remarkable is the team's success under the direction of coaches John Fitzgerald and Rich Human. Last spring, the coaches brought the team to the semifinals of the State Cup.

In order to receive the Sportsmanship Award, the team is rated on a number of issues including the decorum of players, coaches, and spectators, as well as their game conduct. It's a real accomplishment for a division I team, not only to be successful, but to be held in high regard by the entire league. The Hicksville American Soccer Club offers its heart felt congratulations to the players on the Hawks: Richie Human, Mike Longo, Dan Longo, Dan Bell, Kevin Koehn, Earl Dennia, Andre Parris, Neil Tomlinson, Lee Passavia, Jamie Del Colle, Kevin Hazzard, Steve Fox, Tom Basaranax, Dave Baumritter, and Scott McLaughlin.

Knights 3, Eagles 2

Another great game by two hungry teams. Kenny McCullough scored two minutes into the game with a penalty kick. Pete Mazzurcio played another outstanding game in goal, making numerous saves. Chris Alcantara scored the second goal of the game with assists by Kenny McCullough, Johnny Sazaklis, and Bryan Berg. Midfielders Brian Kwas, Andrew Jolly, Kellie Kwas, Chris Myron, and Kelly McCullough played excellently by setting up plays and controlling the game.

The game winning goal was scored by Nick Mazzurcio in a scramble in front of the goal. It was his first goal, but no one plays harder during the game. The defense, led by Nick, Danny Carsten, Tommy Myron, Chris Artibeo, Jason Berg, and John Sazaklis, played especially hard with the strong Eagle offense.

The Knights salute the Eagles. They are young and aggressive, and play winning soccer. Good luck in the rest of the season.

Fire Football Update

On Sunday, Oct. 18, the Hicksville Fire Football team found themselves going head to head against the Valley Stream Hornets.

Hicksville's offense was strong with Paolo Fumagalli making another of his incredible runs, this time with two Hornets in tow, going 37 yards for a touchdown. Ryan Pound (tackle) and Justin Rostenberg (guard) were imposing on the offensive line.

The defense was intimidating. Jared Stanton (defensive end) and Adam Smith (corner back) both did an outstanding job. Brian Kelly (linebacker) showed some fast thinking when he recovered a fumble. The entire team did a great job.

Local Runner Wins Oysterfest 5K Race

Hicksville's Don DiDonato set a course record of 15 minutes, 24 seconds in winning the 1992 Oyster Bay Town Supervisor's Oysterfest 5 Kilometer Run on Saturday morning Oct. 17.

There's nothing that can quite match a run through the hills surrounding Oyster Bay on a crisp October morning, with just enough of an autumn breeze to get the red and yellow foliage in the trees rustling overhead. 603 runners shared this great experience with DiDonato at the Oysterfest Run.

Eileen Barnes Corley of Locust Valley dominated a strong women's field. Eileen, who runs for the Fast Feet Racing Team of the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club, finished in 17:58, 18 seconds ahead of Gillian Beschloss of the Manhattan-based Warren Street Social and Athletic Club. Third place among the women went to Debbie Cutitqua of Bellmore.

Top masters honors went to 49-year-old Maury Dean of Patchogue, who finished in 17:45 after a spirited contest with John Lupski of Hicksville, who finished only 3 seconds behind Maury. Top masters woman was 41-year-old Diane O'Donnell of East Hampton in 20:04.

The Oysterfest Run was the kickoff event for the 1992 Oysterfest. The prime sponsor was State Bank of Long Island, and additional support was provided by Deer Park Water.

The Run was conducted under the auspices of the Town of Oyster Bay, and administered by the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club. POBRRC President Mike Polansky served as the Race Director, assisted by POBRRC Volunteers Coordinator Mindy Lerner and a crew of 50 POBRRC volunteer race officials. Technical assistance was provided by David Katz of Finish Line Promotions.

Two Oyster Bay Town Councilmen - Len Symons and Doug Hynes, successfully completed the Run. Supervisor Lew Yevoli, Councilwoman Ann Ocker, and Town Clerk Carl Marcellino were among those on hand to support the event.

HICKSVILLE'S DON DIDONATO crosses the finish line to win the Oysterfest 5K Run. Hicksvilleite John Lupski also made a fine showing, who finished second in the top masters honors.

"We're really thrilled to have been able to be part of this great event," observed POBRRC Volunteers Coordinator Lerner. "Don DiDonato's performance was spectacular, the weather couldn't have been better, and Oyster Bay is a fantastic venue for a 5K race. Our thanks go to the Town Supervisor, Town Board, and to the Oyster Bay Chamber of Commerce for cooperating with us in the Oysterfest Run once again this year. We're looking forward to the continued growth of this event in 1993!"

Ice Hockey Season Gets Under Way

On Saturday, Nov. 14, the annual Hockey Equipment Swap Jamboree will be conducted at the Syosset-Woodbury Community Park Skate house from 1 to 3 p.m.

"I'm sure parents are well aware of the high price of hockey equipment," said Councilman Thomas. "This jamboree is an excellent opportunity for youngsters, who are looking for used ice hockey equipment, to get some good bargains. It's also a chance for those who no longer need their ice hockey gear to sell it to someone who will put it to good use."

For additional information about the Swap Jamboree, call the Department of Parks at 795-1000, ext. 7828.

Registration for the Town of Oyster Bay Ice Hockey Clinic Program is scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 7 and Saturday, Nov. 14 from 9 a.m. to noon.

Registration on Nov. 7 will be at Town Hall South, 977 Hicksville Rd. Massapequa; and on Nov. 14 at Syosset-Woodbury Community Park, 7800 Jericho Tpk. The registration fee will be one new ice hockey puck.

The program is only open to town residents between the ages of six and 15. Registrants must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. The registrants birth certificate and a proof of parent or guardian's residency (tax bill, driver's license, deed, or utility bill) must be presented at the time of registration.

The ice hockey program, which will be held at the Bethpage, Majorie R. Post, and Syosset-Woodbury Community Park ice rinks, will start at the beginning of December and continue through the last week of February. Participants will be divided into age groups, 6-7, 8-9, 10-11, 12-13, and 14-15. The emphasis will be learning and honing basic skating and hockey skills.

Schedules will be distributed at registration. For more information call the Department of Parks at 795-1000, ext. 7828.

Cross Country Running Away With It

The Hicksville varsity Cross Country team had a winning season this year with an overall team record of 8 and 7.

Coached by Bob Hilsky, the team is a mix of solid veterans and promising newcomers. Two freshmen, Joe Basso and Andrew McAllister, were winners of medals at the Invitational Meets this year. Senior Andrew Sham was the team's leading runner, and Joe Kelduff was the teams second runner.

Other veterans on the team are Sumeet Sondhi, Mike Heyer, Justin Fan, Bryan Decker, Beau Baer, Guy Tantillo, and Peter Bergens.

Promising newcomers include Joe Basso, Richard Fernando, Walt Gaylor, Mike Jerome, Joe Kelduff, John Luyster, Andrew McAllister, Greg Sherman, and Matt Dilg.

THE VARSITY CROSS COUNTRY team finished the season with a winning record. Coached by Bob Hilsky, the team looks forward to another successful season next year.
