NASSAU COUNTY COUNCIL
BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA
Andrews Building, Mineola, N. Y.

February 8, 1938

One of the great purposes of the Boy Scout program to enable a boy to follow certain hobbies that may lead to a life work. As a part of this program, this paper annually serves the services of Boy Scouts who are interested in Journalism in getting out a special Scout edition during Anniversary Week. The time and effort given by a busy editor and owners of this paper is, we feel sure, greatly appreciated by parents and friends of Scouts.

The way for a Scout to learn something about a vocation is to practice it for a day or two, thus securing from first hand experience inside knowledge. Even though the puts working on this edition may not take up journalism as a life work, they will undoubtedly always be in contact with newspapers in other vocations.

On behalf of the Nassau county council, I wish to take this opportunity to thank publicly the editor and publisher of this paper for their part in assisting these Scouts along a way.

Sincerely yours,
JOSEPH S. FLEMING
Educational Director

ON FEBRUARY 8, 1910, the Boy Scout Movement was incorporated in the United States. This week, February 6 to 12, we are celebrating the 28th anniversary of its most profitable incorporation.

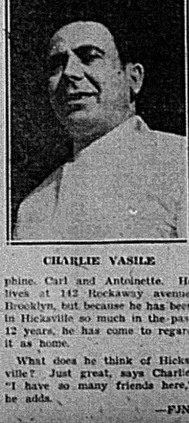

Many Scout units all over the United States, whether they be cub pack, troop, or Sea Scout Ship, are observing this 28th anniversary, by attending church services, holding parents' nights, and decorating windows with Scoutcraft displays. In our own Nassau County, Scouting is 21 years old this month. Established in 1917, the Nassau County Council has grown to be one of the finest and most outstanding councils in the United States. Each year thousands upon thousands of boys join (Cont. on Page 4)

Introducing Hicksville's Businessmen

(Ed. Note - This is the fourth in a series of weekly articles on Hicksville's businessmen.)

CHARLIE VASILE, proprietor of Charlie's Barber shop for the past five months, is not a stranger to Hicksville. At 9:30 o'clock on May 26, 1926 he first came to Hicksville and he has been shaving heads and cutting hair here ever since. Until five months ago he was employed by late Charles Wass. Charlie has a colorful story to tell. When he was 16 years old he went over from Italy and went directly out west to the state of Colorado. In 1915 he started in the barber trade. He served in the army as barber in a camp outside Baltimore, Maryland. His customers included everybody in camp from the highest general there was a real general there. (Until he married Mary, his wife, Charlie was a professional barber. While giving instructions to the troops and other army movements on the polished floor leading dancing establishments, the Atlantic coast, he won a number of loving cups. Since he has been married he has quit dancing. He has three children, Joe-

New State Office At Hicksville Active in Filling Employers' Needs

Hicksville business men today have a standing offer to avail themselves of the placement service of the Hicksville office of the State Employment Service. C. A. Strauss, assistant manager of the month-old Hicksville branch, revealed details of the bureau's work at a meeting of the Hicksville Kiwanis club Wednesday.

The Employment Service Bureau in the community which serves ten surrounding communities from offices in the Professional building on Broadway has been working almost day and night, he declared, to get claims for unemployment insurance arranged. The four man staff has been busy since 9 o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock at night, he asserted.

"The most important part of our work from the viewpoint of the local employer," he continued, "is our placement service. Just call Hicksville 780 and we will send two or three applicants to fill the specifications. They are applicants whose job record shows they can fill the job."

He extended an invitation to the members of the group to "pass the word along."

Grandma Stolz, Oldest Native Female of Hicksville, Tops 85

McCahill In Error 'Ticket Fixers' Paradise Not On North Shore

Mrs. Henry C. Stolz of 27 Cherry street, Hicksville, is still receiving messages and visitations of congratulations today as she enters her 85th year, retaining her title as the oldest living female native of the village.

Mrs. Stolz born Mary Braun, was the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Braun, one of the oldest families in the community. Grandma Stolz, as she is called by all in the village, is regarded as Hicksville's "first lady."

In Best of Health She is in the best of health and marked her birthday, Feb. 2 by welcoming visitors. She lived with her two daughters, Mamie and Agnes in the house she and her husband built nearly 50 years ago.

In 1874 she married Henry C. Stolz, member of another of Hicksville's first families. With her husband she conducted a butcher shop adjacent to the old homestead for many years. The business is still continued today on Broadway, Hicksville by three sons, Edward, John and William.

Today she recalled how she attended the little shop shortly after she was married while her husband went out "on the four" in a horse and wagon to serve customers in the surrounding district.

Among the many novel innovations inaugurated and planned for this store will be a greatly improved rubber-lined vehicle pushes very easily and at the same time has space for two baskets which makes shopping much easier and less tiring.

In questioning a number of the executives of the new store they all assured the News they anxiously look forward to this new location in Hicksville and every endeavor will be made to feature nationally advertised items at low prices and to make certain that no week-end or holiday is featured but prices will be low throughout each day of the week.

The wide aisles that have been planned for this store will prove very convenient for the customers and according to blue prints, displays will be so conveniently situated as to make shopping a real pleasure.

J. E. Andrews, General Superintendent of the Long Island territory, said: "The business reputation of the A. & P. Tea Co., who for over 77 years have been leaders in the food field, assures every thrifty shopper that at the A. & P. Tea store you can really buy with confidence, and here at our location that will open next week in Hicksville will maintain this principle. No effort has been spared to make this store, not only a great convenience for our many customers, but at the same time a benefit to the already fast growing shopping district of Hicksville. And I feel that we will be well able to make every thrifty shopper realize that here is the headquarters for quality merchandise at low prices."

Dan's Bargain Store Official Store Outfitter

Outdoor Camping Features Activities of Troop 64 Scouts

By Scout Gerald Becca, Jr. Troop 64, Hicksville

From January 1, 1937 to March 1, 1937, Troop 64 held its winter encampments at Camp Dodge, Hill Hollow Hills, Huntington. The various patrols took turns in the care of Troop 64's winter camp. On January 22, the Troop was host to Harold A. Martin of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, who told us about the work of "G-men". The Troop from neighboring communities were also invited to this occasion.

From February 7 to 15, the Scouts of Troop 64 observed Scout Week by holding an exhibit of Scoutcraft in the Broadway Drug Store.

Troop 91 Scouts Attend Special Flag Ritual at Hempstead Church

By Scout William Way Troop 91, Hicksville

At the regular weekly meeting of Troop 91 at St. Ignace school, Nicholas street, an invitation was read. It was from Troop 33, Hempstead inviting the troop to participate in a ceremony of the blessing of "Flags in Our Lady of Loretta Church, Hempstead on Sunday. The boys arrived there about 3 o'clock and were ushered into an arm room in the school where the Scoutmaster of Troop 33 gave them the official welcome and introduced the speaker of the day.

The speaker was a councilman from the Town of Hempstead. After his talk the troop paraded to the church where the colors were blessed and where they were given Benediction. That evening the officers of the Troop decorated one of the windows of Farrow's Drug Store with scoutcraft and other articles made by the boys.

"During my term in office as Judge I intend to decide all cases on their merits and on the testimony submitted and to make a decision on the merits, whether or not the percentage of convictions shall be high or low."

In the report accredited to the Inspector, the percentage in the county police precincts was given: First, Merrick: 80; third, Mineola, 88; fifth, Valley Stream, 82; fourth, Woodmere, 54; sixth, Massena, 87, and second, Syosset, 67.

Judge Lebkuecher Praises Value of Scout Program

By Scout Harold Huettner Troop 64, Hicksville

"Mental and Physical Builder," is the short but well put phrase that his Honor, Judge Joseph P. Lebkuecher, uses in giving his opinion of the Boy Scouts. He meant that the Scout-club boys are building, mentally through the varied tests passed in their training, and the hikes and camping trips go to make the youths physically sound.

Sea Scouting is a comparatively new activity undertaken by the local troop committee and Mr. Lebkuecher sees its value to the older boys. He says that it should be made to rise in popularity and in support of the community to the level that we are proud to say, the Boy Scouts have reached. As one would naturally presume on interviewing a Judge on such a matter (as I had the privilege of doing), I asked him about the percentage of Boy Scouts among youths brought before the court. He replied, "Records show that there are very few Boy Scouts brought before the court out of all the juvenile cases heard here. This certainly proves that Scouting is good for the youth of the county."

Stage Ready For 'Circus'

Amateur cast to give performance tonight at Masonic Temple. After a highly successful dress rehearsal, the cast of "The Circus," amateur production of the Amateur Dramatic Society, is prepared to stage the comedy show tonight at the Masonic Temple, West Nicholas street, Hicksville.

The curtain will rise tonight at 8:15 o'clock. A matinee will be given tomorrow and another performance tomorrow night.

Richard McCormick in the role of Bob Strong plays the lead. Bob has been left a circus by his father, Herminius Cloverly, called "Squeak" and played by White Stanley. The role of Bob's life long chum who is helping run the circus, Tom Kunz in the part of the Bearded Lady, falls deplorably in love with "Squeak". But Maria, the peanut vendor, played by Evelyn D'Andrea, is also in love with "Squeak". She however, has the distinction of having him in love with her.

An amusing love affair is also carried out by Marguerite, named as Theo and Edward Schuler as Babo, the clown. To increase the comedy, Sanford Weiss as the highly excitable Italian balloon man, Tony, is continually annoyed by having his balloons broken by members of the circus.

Virginia Cloverly, played by Theresa Brigandi, is the lovely sister of "Squeak" who comes to visit the circus along with her sister Peter Van Milden. Edward Kasten has the role of Sir Van Milden with Maude Jeanson as his mother, Lady Van Milden. Fred Schaeffer is in the role of Zacharius Peabody, Bob's eccentric uncle, and Tom Harner is the country constable looking over the circus. "The Lost Joels", "Others in the cast include George Engel as the ringmaster and Victoria Valentine as Bettina, the trainer of the untrained burro.

Reserved seat tickets are on sale at the Broadway Drug store.

Cubbing Provides Special Type Of Activity For Younger Boys

By Scout Arthur Fricks Troop 61, Hicksville. Cubbing is the younger boy program of the Boy Scouts. It is a "learning-time" character forming program for boys of pre-Scouting age, (from 9 to 12 years old) providing an elastic, varied and attractive plan of activities suited to the natural interest and abilities of boys of these ages. It helps a boy to find more pleasure, more of things to do and more satisfaction in his own neighborhood and work and increased happiness in his own home and with his parents.

Centers Around Home. Cubbing is done in and around the home. The home and the "boy gang" are the two greatest influences of character, and hence Cubbing is centered here. Cubbing is also a daytime activity. Den and Pack meetings, with oral and informal take place in the daylight hours.

The operation of the Cub program in and around the home brings fathers, mothers and boys together in common interests. It is a helpful association with boys and with men and mothers in the neighborhood in which "doing together" and "doing for" someone else plays an important part. Both "going" and "growing" are integral in Cubbing. The words are two essential elements of social attitudes: group loyalty and cooperation as well as personal, individual self-advancement by means of an inter-rippling program, under sympathetic leadership.

There are three steps in Cubbing. First there is the Wolf Cub when the boy is nine years old. In this stage, the boy does what every other boy of nine does, turns somersaults. His craft work is mostly devoted to making things he can use or amuse himself with such as kites, slings, etc. By the time he reaches the Wolf rank, Bear Cub, his games and feats are more difficult and require greater coordination of

School Principal Lauds Scouting As Citizen Builder

By Scout Albert Cullen At Masonic Temple

Miss Mabel R. Farley principal of Hicksville high school explained that she is entirely in favor of Scouting no matter what form it may be: Cubbing, Boy Scouts or Sea Scouts. The general thought that Miss Farley had in mind was that a Cub Pack, if started in Hicksville would be a good thing. Young boys about the age of 9 to 12 have a desire to belong to a group or a club. Cubbing would satisfy his desire. The Cubbing movement also offers aid to the boy in choosing his vocation for it gives them a general knowledge of the various trades. The Merit Badge Program of the Boy Scouts helps the young boy to find himself. The Merit Badges that are available are those of the trades. Miss Farley also made the same claims for Sea Scouting.

"As a whole Scouting trains the individual to respect law and order, it makes him a better and wiser citizen", Miss Farley declared.

Redfern Hits Child Labor

Quoted Catholic Church Views on Amendment At Bethpage Meeting. Text of Mr. Redfern's Address: P. J. James P. Redfern, vice president of the Holy Name Society of St. Ignatius Roman Catholic church, Hicksville, is on record today as vigorously opposed to the Federal Child Labor amendment as "legislation directed against the family, the child and the Roman Catholic church and her conception of the Christian family."

Mr. Redfern in a discussion on the proposed amendment as well as the Wheeler-Johnson bill and Moffat-Numan proposition, presented the attitude of the Brooklyn Diocesan Union of the Holy Name Society at a forum meeting of the Holy Name Society of St. Martin of Tours R. C. church, Catholic church at Bethpage Tuesday night.

Catholic as well as non-Catholic residents of Bethpage and surrounding communities attended the session in the parish hall, Broadway, at the invitation of the Rev. Father John F. Cusack, pastor of St. Martin's parish. In the course of the discussion it was pointed out that besides the many thousands of boys and girls at the age of 16 to 17 who are employed in the widest of invalid parents to support or to help to support there are over 500,000 minors under 18 years of age who are now working on farms owned by their parents.

Orange and Black Five Takes First Place

HICKSVILLE TROUNCES OYSTER BAY 44-22

Farmingdale Topples Unbeaten Westbury Quintet by 29-13 Score

The high-flying Orange and Black basketball contingent of Hicksville swept into undisputed possession of first place when they trounced the Oyster Bay five 44-22 Friday night, as Farmingdale toppled the previously unbeaten Westbury quintet 29-13 at Farmingdale.

In taking the Baymen in such a convincing fashion, the Yutzermans not only routed 'old man five' that had held sway at the Bay court for some time but also set the stage for a sweep of the entire league schedule. Oyster Bay was never in the running after the first period as the centre standers countered regularly under the basket.

Fred Fluckiger continued his great scoring efforts when he bagged six goals and a foul for 13 points and top honors for the night. Flicker was most deadly under the basket. Art McInnes and Bill Helms aided the lanky center no little as they chipped in with eight and seven points each.

Hicksville's attack was bottled up in the first period by the scrappy home club, but in the second quarter Flicker and Birdy Bordick sank several from beyond the basket and the game turned into a rout. Zukowski, Ashton and Minniccozzi were for Oyster Bay honors with five markers each.

OUT FOR THE DALERS—REMEMBER a few years back when the green and red of Farmingdale high waved victoriously over the Orange and Black five in the opening basketball game of the Farmingdale. The Farmers won that game by one point that put separated the Hicksville club from a playoff game thury at the conclusion of the regulation season.

I'm sure you do, because that has been the closest that has ever come to winning the eastern division of the league. I have always seen to upset the dope whenever Hicksville concerned, and I know that they are aching to do this thing when the Yutzermans journey to Farmingdale for a rematch with Tom Galvin's scrappy outfit.

It is a pity that the home team over the hill at the home town fans are not looking for odds tonight, how confident they are that Hicksville will come home tails hanging behind them. Farmingdale knows that a win this season of the race will just about put an end to ambitions, while on the other hand, a victory gives them of first place.

He thoroughly whipped the Green and White, 24-14, in meeting in the second game of the season, but since that the Dalers have downed Sea Cliff, Roslyn and Westbury in fashion and have reached the peak of their game. Hicksville has improved with each game and stands today as the school team ever produced by E. Parker Yutzler. There is a rivalry by wide margins. The centre standers continue to rival by wide margins. The great advantage in height has an effect upon the opposition, especially under the basket. Fluckiger holds sway.

Agdale's chief asset lies in his reserve strength and should become rough and a number of Hicksville players ejected for personal fouls, the game might easily swing over in the favor.

League Lead at Stake Tonight

E. Parker Yutzler's fast-stepping high school career swung into the second half of the schedule tonight holding a slim half-game lead over the Farmingdale quintet who play hosts to the centre standers in the Farmingdale gym.

Hicksville, unbeaten in four league games and holding an edge over the field in the offensive and defensive departments, have been installed as slight favorites to down the home team but Tom Galvin's charges have improved rapidly since their 24-11 loss to Hicksville some three weeks back and will have a few of backers.

Farmingdale routed a strong Westbury five last week in convincing fashion at Farmingdale and held high hopes of giving Hicksville the same drap. Paced by Bennett, Holland and Averano, the Dalers are exceptionally strong at home and have views on first place which will be theirs should they upset the Orange and Black courtsters.

Always strong on the defensive this year, Hicksville now has developed much on the offense and has tallied 37 points in the past two games and figures on continuing his scoring rampage against the Dalers.

The Roslyn Hilltoppers, enjoying the fruits of their first league triumph, will strive to win its second tonight and likewise send a fading Westbury outfit deeper in the league standings when the two teams meet at Westbury. In the third game, Sea Cliff, invader of the Bay of the Baymen in the battle for possession of the cellar.

Among plants that need little light to develop are palms, the rubber plant, sansevieria, aspidistra, Chinese water evergreen, most succulent plants and ferns.

Mineola Holds Alumni 49-34 Vamps Climb Back Into League Running By Trouncing Hicksville

The Mineola Vamps climbed back into the running for the Amateur League crown when they whipped the Hicksville Alumni five 49-34 last Wednesday night at the Mineola high school gym.

Putting on a concerted scoring spurge in the last two periods, the Maroons halted the sturdy local outfit's infrequent spurts to win handily. Paul Korf and Bill Zinser, late of the Mineola high ranks, led the Vamps with 15 and fourteen points respectively.

Hicksville stayed with the ultimate winners in the slow first session, but were unable to keep pace with the home club from that point on as Korf and Zinser found the hoop with consistent regularity.

Lou Kappattler and Pete Darmohray kept the Black and White in the running as they tallied twenty-three points between them. The Maroons Remain Unbeaten While the Alumni Regulars Continue to Lose

Roslyn Girls Easily Conquer Locals, 31-5

The Hicksville Girls basketball team are still in quest of their first win of the season following their setback at the hands of the Roslyn Legionettes last Thursday night at the Roslyn high school.

Roslyn took the lead at the start and was never pressed throughout. Miss Korff led the local lassies with three points.

WHY MY CONNECTION with the Hicksville high school Basketball Team as co-manager and also my friendship with those who fill the bleachers every Friday evening find there is a sore spot in everyone's heart when it is mentioned. I agree with Bernard McGunagle that the Hicksville-Westbury game should be played every Friday night, not only for the spectators who cheer every Friday night, but also for the players who play every Friday night.

Friday night, we saw Hicksville defeat Oyster Bay and Farmingdale beat Westbury to push Hicksville first position in the league. Here is a couple of letters to the Farmingdale five who did that great sweep we hope that they will not be quite so lucky February when Hicksville travels to Farmingdale to try to take the title.

The one behind the score book, I pick Hicksville to Farmingdale by at least five points and end the season 4 undefeated champions, which, by the way, is the first time in the history of basket ball at our school.

Now a word for the little fellow who, at every basket, says "This is my blood to try to impress the crowd with his ability and who, at the point, sits on the edge of the bench waiting for his name to be passed the line of equally anxious players.

The papers don't find him and his "V. V." games are not enough to set in type or the schools to give athletic awards, yet it is through his efforts that the crowd goes up and points off the rafters. He is grand stands don't know the name for the reason that the papers don't print his name and the bleachers after basket ball season is closed, no one remembers that he had ever donated a suit.

That little fellow's mind, basket ball may be the standing activity in his whole high school career. He is a little fellow who, at every basket, says "This is my blood to try to impress the crowd with his ability and who, at the point, sits on the edge of the bench waiting for his name to be passed the line of equally anxious players.

Hickville Outfit Bows To Brookside, Ramblers In Close Meetings

Don Bosco A. C. of Hicksville swears off long layoffs today following two last minute defeats inflicted upon them by the Brookside AA and Ramblers A.C. of Hempstead last Friday and Monday nights respectively.

The Crimson cagers bowed to the Brookside team 34-32 after a last period rally had fallen short of tying up the game. Art North and Andy Schaeffer tallied the entire 15 points scored by the Hickville quintet in the second half but were unable to catch the home club. Joe Grundel topped the winners with 15 points.

Joe Rodeman Stars Three last minute baskets by Joe Rodeman enabled the Ramblers to upset the Boscors 26-18 on Monday night at the Hempstead high school. Art North, semi-final scoring star of the Hickville quintet, was held to a score of field goals by George Rodeman, ex-Hempstead high school, marking the first time in the past 12 games that North has scored less than ten points.

FARM INCOME — The American farmer earned more money from his livestock and livestock products last year than from his crops. Final figures of the Department of Agriculture place 1937 farm income at $5,521,000,000 of which $4,272,000,000 came from livestock.
