Week in Review

A BRIEF SUMMARY OF the outstanding happenings during the week in this area. A word picture of what developed and what is likely to take place within the coming week. Intended for the busy reader who wants a digest of what is going on in the area served by the Centre Island News.

Working Plans Delayed

Authorities interested in development of Hicksville's free parking lot suffered a set back when Long Island railroad revealed heavy seasonal shipments of cinders and fertilizer have delayed shipment of materials for parking field. The lot is nearly completed; all that remains to be done is the grading of the remainder of the cinders and the installation of road lights.

New Stores Ready to Open

At the same time that Spiro's announced opening of new electrical appliance store at Broadway, the report that Bahrenburg's Quality bakery stage open house Wednesday in its new quarters at the corner of Broadway and Marie street, Hicksville.

Adult Education Classes May Close

Temporary suspension of Federal financial aid county adult education-recreation program for the next month period from June 1 to October 1 seems probable on basis of report made by Edwin D. Philbrick, director of project in county. Unless other report is forthcoming, adult classes in all public schools in county may be withdrawn, he said.

Seniors Busy with Plans for Show

Characterized as good lively comedy, "Don't Grow Up" will be presented March 25 in Hicksville high school for benefit of Senior class Washington Trip fund. Seniors are working hard to give play that "certain something" according to reports.

Four Doesn't Pay, Youths Discover

Four Hicksville youths, involved in series of crimes ranging from forgery to petty larceny and burglary, were sentenced to various terms at Elmira by County Judge Cortland A. Johnson.

Memorial Day Plans

A joint committee from two Hicksville Veterans' posts began plans last night for annual Memorial Day program in Hicksville.

School Superintendent at Regents Session

E. H. LeBarron, Hicksville public school superintendent, spent Friday and Saturday at Albany, where he sat on the State Regents Examination committee of which he is a member. Warren K. Knox, director of examinations and chief division of State Education Department, was also at Hicksville schools this week.

St. Patrick's Day Poetry

A BIT OF GREEN
Rare and I've never seen,
That little Isle so far away,
That I've heard of its lake and stream
Heard of its moors on a rainy day.
I can tell you wearers of the green,
Crown them in a smiling place,
You're an Irish soul bean
With an Irish smile on your face.
Rare and all the world wears green,
The whole summer long,
Blades of grass are seen,
And the leaves for the birds song.
So I will don with you
A bit of your gay scene
And try to wear anew,
A smile with a bit of green.
—Hein L. Ostreich, Hicksville.

SIGNS OF SPRING

1. Cheer up, good people,
Winter time will soon pass by.
The sun, it shines most brilliant;
The snow that spring is high.
Saint Patrick must be smiling now
When he sees down here below
The Hicksville Farmer getting out
His tractor, plows and hoes—
2. There is the Meyers and the Tarabans
There is the McConnigheys and the Durkes
There is the Dwyers and the Duffy boys
With the plows and hoes will work
Turning up in spring-like fashion
The old plain land each day
To plant the spuds and sweet corn,
When we reach Saint Patrick's day
3. Oh Hicksville will get busy then,
I will have something grand to see:
These farmers in a bustling whirl,
Planting crops for you and me;
Next our wants in autumn time
From what they plant each day.
Rural Hicksville is an attractive place
Because it greets Saint Patrick's day.
—Tom Galfoye, Hicksville.

Estate Owners Group Considers New County Assessments

Members of county committee of the Non-Partisan Civic Association of Oyster Bay are holding regular conferences with officials to follow closely the development of the county's new assessment program. It was revealed today by Beverly E. Jr. of Locust Valley, president of the association.

"No doubt our members have heard a great deal about the assessment problem confronting the county of Nassau and which will affect the assessment of Oyster Bay in the Township of Oyster Bay on which taxes will shortly be levied for the years 1938-39 and special district purposes in 1939," Mr. Eyrer said.

"For the past few years," he said, "the north shore estate owners group explained the difference in assessed valuation of properties in the different sections of the county, in relation to true value, and the need for the different rates to raise the amount needed for the county budget. For example, the 1938 rates, for the township of Oyster Bay, North Hempstead, Oyster Bay and Glen Cove, $1.26; Oyster Bay, $1.27; Long Beach, $3.55 and Glen Cove, $1.28."

The new county charter, Mr. Eyrer continued, provided one rate must be charged throughout the county. "It is therefore necessary that the department of assessment adjust the individual assessments in North Hempstead, Oyster Bay and Glen Cove to the same relation in actual value as the Town of Hempstead. This will be achieved for the 1939 assessment roll through the reappraisal of the entire county under a contract entered by the county."

Speaker at Roslyn

William Arkeright Doppler, Ph. D., who will speak at the annual meeting of the Nassau County Tuberculosis and Public Health Association on March 22 on "What is New in Health Education." At the meeting Nassau's new health commissioner, Dr. Earle G. Brown, will be guest of honor at home of Mrs. George E. Hoover.

Concession Bids Sought

Town Board to Award Privileges for Two Beaches At Hearing on March 28

Signs that summertime and water sports are near at hand were found in the notice of Town Clerk Edwin M. McQueen of Oyster Bay that bids for operating refreshment stands and boating concessions on town beaches will be received March 28.

Miss Marion Vets Of Adelphi College Speaks at School

Hicksville Forum had as its guest last night at the high school a distinguished speaker, Miss Marion Vets of the Department of Economics, Adelphi College, spoke on the "John L. Lewis Myth."

The Forum had for its last topic a discussion on "My Greatest Ambition in Life." Most of the speeches of the evening were both informative and philosophical. Miss Irene Pierce gave a very interesting speech when she chose the golden west in the old days as her greatest ambition in life. Miss Pierce chose to have the fertility and courage of the dwellers of the golden west of that past era.

POLICE GIVE MOTORISTS SAFE DRIVING TIPS

Deppier, assistant director of health education of the National Tuberculosis association, whose subject will be "What is new in Health Education."

Mrs. George E. Brower, President of the Tuberculosis association states, "We are looking forward with keen satisfaction to Dr. Brown's arrival and the establishment of the County Health Department. As a public health organization functioning over the entire county we have felt the need of such a department for many years, and it is a sincere gratification that County Executive J. Russell Sprague and the County Board of Health, headed by Dr. Benjamin R. Allison, have succeeded in securing a man of such high qualities and ability as Dr. Brown."

The meeting will be held at 3:30 p. m. and Mrs. Brower stated that anyone interested in any phase of public health will be welcome.

ANNOUNCE BIRTH
Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Brown of Bethpage have announced the birth of a son, born February 26.

A Brief Lenten Meditation

Suggested by the Rev. L. S. Luisa, pastor of Holy Trinity Episcopal church, Hicksville.

Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself; but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things. And I do always those things which the Father hath not left me alone; for I do always those things which the Father doth. THIS PASSAGE give us a picture of our Lord standing among His enemies, who find fault with every word He says. See their hard sneering faces; but His is calm and quiet, for in the depths of His heart He holds communion with the Father. There are many kinds of loneliness. Some come to us through sickness or bereavement, by no fault of our own. Our Lord's words above show us one way of finding help. And His actions show us another way—He was always making friends with us. It is a good loneliness when we are determined to do right among those who are determined to do wrong. It is a witness for God which may even turn some enemies into friends. But if, on the contrary, it brings us suffering, let us rejoice in this our fellowship with Christ. One look up to God, one upward spring of answering will, one cry in the name of Jesus, and suffering opens for us a door into His presence.—Forward day by day, p. 15.

Over THE OYSTERS

CONCOCTED BY WOOLIE

He has been here since March 18, and with it comes March wind, spring fever, and that age old remedy—Sulphur and molasses. Yes, molasses. Never taking stock of the home drug shelf and mixing that stuff with apparent relish and delight—(Max never takes it, just eat the dish it out)—No fooling that's the only fault that can be picked with an old-fashioned mother: they're just seen to take good of delight in dishing up that good old fashioned tonerupper of grandmaw's day.

Remember On The Run

Went this little bit of something to the other on our death, dear old Grandmaw's (as he has been affectionately so labled by the boys) sorta pulled a "young boy" (as they call him) on the "other" the other day on little "Lovers' Day". Yes sir in true "Annyville Betty." Yes sir in true story book form, kid Romeo while on the fair maiden clean off this side of the island and wheeled her out to the wilds of Pennsylvania for a few days.

There is really pro and con as to whether or not married little kid or not. Some have it that he took the gal's Aunt Hattie along on the little joy ride but she was a young lady, Aunt Hattie, a little courin' trip in the car, as yet the date is still hidden, but if that little nudist with the bow and arrow keeps popping up in his marksmanship on his back's days are numbered.

Wonder what's happened to the "Cops" quality in the local lads

Wonder what's happened to the "Cops" quality in the local lads these days. At alarming number of holes are piling up with partners. Now you take that little parcel of honor from Carl... now there's a gal brought that home in town that's got her romancing from a flat-lander from Hollis. Course we wouldn't mention that Edna's new beau is none other than L.T. Hester Hollis's own kid romance, that would make her unhappy.

She's I Got It

Inately, two coffee and bun ladies just came galloping in, the Eddie Beckers set, the date for Tuesday with all the form of it but just my luck I had a date with friend boss to do a little of work and thus I was not invited.

Person Building Today Gets Better Value on Money

The person who builds or remodels a house today gets more value than ever before and his building dollar goes considerably farther than it did a few years ago. R. G. McKeon, of the McKeon Lumber Company, at Hicksville, said today in commenting on what he terms "unfounded and misleading statements" on construction costs.

Costs of Material Less

The impression that building materials costs are too high is a mistaken one, Mr. McKeon declared. He cited a recent survey by Johns-Manville, leading building materials manufacturer, which showed that the price of building materials averages 3.8 per cent less than 1926 and many of the most important materials going into a new house, or modernization jobs are from 20 to 25 per cent less, despite great improvement in quality in the last 12 years.

Among the materials he listed as costing less today in this community are: lath, Portland cement, asbestos roofing shingles, asphalt roofing, line for plaster and mortar brick, insulating board, pine, fir and spruce lumber, wood shingles and various stock millwork.

Another important factor is that financing costs, under the FHA type amortized single mortgage, are as much as 85 per cent less than during the boom years of 1926-29, he stated.

Mr. McKeon declared that generally it was poorly designed with as much as one-fifth of its space wasted, and it took more money to maintain. Heating was not automatic and there was no insulation, thus running up fuel bills in winter and causing the rooms to be hot and uncomfortable during summer.

Rosalie Begins Week Of Hicksville Features

Hailed as "big," it is big, this "Rosalie," which dances and sings its musical way into the hearts of those who see its local premiere at the Hicksville Playhouse Sunday to Tuesday.

Nelson Eddy and Eleanor Powell are teamed in this musical melange, which carries to the city an Army-Navy football game, West Point, a transatlantic airplane, and the colorful mythical kingdom of "Romeans." The picture of Eddy and Powell is a brilliant feat. Not only do they dance and sing in the manner of stars of their magnitude, but as lovers they are decidedly in the top rank among romantic teams.

Those who thought they had seen "Tops" in immense movie sets when "The Great Ziegfeld" came to town, have something to think about when they see "Romeans," which carries to the city an silver kingdom presided over by Frank Morgan as a king with an eye for a pretty girl and Lady May Oliver as a queen, able to crush such tendencies. Morgan as ruler with ventriloquism as a hobby strikes a new high note in laugh-producing gag.

Ray Bolger, he of the rubber legs, is really great as a comedy relief, and, of course, splendid in his comedy dancing specialties. Iona Massey is a new comer. The picture is well worth a second look. This beautiful European, who makes her American debut as the second lead of the picture in the part of the Princess Rosalie, a delightful comedienne, but a singer of herself, extraordinary range. Her "Spring Love Is in the Air" is most definitely a hit.

An example of how precarious an act of violence can be to an innocent person is graphically shown in the hit picture at the Playhouse today and Saturday. In "Only Girls," Miss Phyllis Brooks is shown in a quarrel with Adriane Ames. Miss Ames enters the scene wearing gloves. It is evident that she is in a fight with Brooks, who has sent a pair of scissors—which of course will have no fingerprints upon.

In the ensuing scuffle, Miss Brooks tries to defend herself and in sheer terror seizes a gun. Miss Ames is shot dead and the pair of scissors flies off in a corner.

Police come and Miss Brooks tells her story. There are no prints on the shears and it goes without saying that the self-defense story looks fishy because no one can prove that Brooks ever held the shears. Because of the known rivalry between the women for the affections of one man, actually, Miss Brooks prints on the gun, what actually was self-defense appears to be out-and-out murder.

"City Girl" in addition reveals an excellent drama of the work of a crusading special prosecutor who risks a city of racketeers, Miss Brooks and Ricardo Cortez have the leading roles.

"Navy Blue and Gold" brought to the screen of the Playhouse Theatre today a thrilling story of love and football at the Annapolis Academy.

The cast is headed by Florence Rice, Billie Burke and Tom Brown, with Samuel S. Hinds, Paul Kelly, and Barnett Parker in important supporting roles. Since "Navy Blue and Gold" is one of Hollywood's most accomplished directors, achieved enviable results with the original novel by George Bruce.

In a special demand performance Wednesday and Thursday the Playhouse presents two feature actors and actresses of the film colony. Appearing in "It Happened One Night" are Claudette Colbert and Charles Clark. Gable, Claudette Colbert would also answer if you called her Lily Chau-chin, her real name. Though "It Happened One Night" is really a new approach to the comedy, it came to America when she was twelve and was educated in New York schools. "It Happened One Night" was her first play. The play was bad, and Miss Colbert was worse. Only mildly discouraged, she went on trying. Made a bit of a debut in "The Sign of the Cross" as a witch in "Cleopatra," was ducked as a witch in "Maid of Salem," risked her neck sking at Sun Valley in "I Met Him in Paris," and won the comedy-acting honors for "It Happened One Night."

The second big feature is "Private Number," which stars Robert Taylor. "Private Number," a romance of "Journey's End," first seen by film studio executive, started Robert Taylor on a Hollywood screen career.

Reader's Spot

IT IS AN UNDERSTANDING to say that the contemporary world is a complex world, and it is generally admitted that most of our troubles ultimately are of an economic nature. It is therefore evident that we can improve the world, even to the extent that we understand the economic factors creating our troubles. Unfortunately, there is a dearth of books on this subject, and it is to a specialist in economics might turn for enlightenment.

But the Promises Men Live By, by Harry Scherman (Random House, N. Y.), is such a book. It is really a new approach to economics in that it interprets facts and figures not in terms of abstractions like value, capital, labor, and so on, but in terms of the human element. It turns out to be a remarkably successful approach. The sinister meanings of apparently harmless terms like "inflation," "gold standard," "devaluation," "stabilization," "managed currency," and others stand stark naked in the lucid presentation of the author. The book is written in a language exemplary in its clarity and simplicity.

FAR IN THE NORTH, where the devil's nut-cracker of the ice crushed her ribs after a two-year's nightmare in a temperature as low as below zero, the stout ship "Leannette" eventually found her grave. So did her captain, her mate, her surgeon, and most of her crew, after what was a terrible battle with the elements, but what men can endure. Captain De Long's heart was broken by the overwhelming disaster of the main deck, and he was left alone with only one man, standing on their shoulders, reached the Pole.

Commander Edward Ellsberg's saga of this amazing story, Hell on Ice, (Dodd's and Company, N. Y., $2.50) is a solidly based on a simple testimony—else one could not believe the human frame capable of such resistance. The story is told in a simple, direct, and gripping way. Washington De Long. The book is an immense success. One's reaction to it is wholly good, and the months when the racing prose seems inadequate to keep pace with the breath-taking story. In it, likeable men become giants, plain people equal the gods, and the young man, who for knowledge once more takes on heroic proportions.

Wallace Berry Stars In Huntington Feature

Wallace Berry, Virginia Dennis and Bruce W. Perry are the stars in the Huntington Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Do you need to know anything more to assure you of an exceptionally good show, but when we see you in the picture they appear in, you will be doubly assured. It is "The Bad Man of Brimstone." This shows Jeff Burton, impersonating himself, with his father, Trigger Bill (Wallace Berry) a bandit. Jeff did not know it, but his father means to wreck his wife's picture in the film.

The picture is full of action of all kind, including love between the young man and the school teacher, daughter of the town lawyer. Nothing stops a trouper, not even a revolver shot. Early in the making of "The Bad Man of Brimstone," Jeff Burton was hit in the left leg. The blank cartridge wound tore a deep hole in the flesh above his knee. Doctors were unable to keep his wound from festering. Jeff grinned through almost the picture was finished.

On the same program is "Scandal Street," with Rex Arnes and Louise Campbell. It is a case where when she stepped out, the neighbors stepped in and pinned a murder on her. Saturday and Sunday, "Red Letter Days" are here again for the most famous blonde in the world, Frances Blake, from blonde to brunette right in the middle of the show.

Showing with that picture is "Love on a Budget," showing the Jones Family.

Bette Davis in 'Jezebel' At the Music Hall

By TAPPER. In view of the critical applause accorded the current film drama at the Radio City Music Hall, Bette Davis is holding their exciting, beautifully staged picture for another week to give delinquent fans a chance to enjoy it. 1935 Academy Award Winner, Henry Fonda, George Brent, and Margaret Lindsay was adapted from the novel "Jezebel" by three writers for the screen, William Finkel, John Huston and Clement Ripley. William Wyler, produced and directed "Jezebel" for RKO.

Others in the notable cast are Fay Bainter, Donald Crisp, Richard Cromwell, Henry O'Neill. On the Music Hall stage Leon Leonoff is again presenting his new spectacle "Jezebel" in the days when old New York was young. In his huge cast are Viola Phillo, George Meyer, Robert Weede, and Robert Knight as well as the Rockettes, the corps de Ballet, the Glee Club and the Symphony Orchestra directed by Erno Rapee.

'Cradle Will Rock' At the Mercury

Reviewed by EDGAR ALLEN. Dramatic, powerful and intensely dramatic, "Cradle Will Rock" is a masterpiece. The "Cradle Will Rock" is these nights and matinees, gently loosening the rock foundation of the Mercury Theatre with the applause and fever it engenders. It is a masterpiece of dramatic writing, a masterpiece in nature, it represents another imprint—deep on the sands of the theatre.

The Mercury Theatre is a masterpiece of dramatic writing and like their other plays it has caught fire and inflamed older and more conservative producers who are now turning to the screen for their outlets. But the absence of stage sets is not the exciting stimulus in "The Cradle Will Rock." It is the rhythm and dialogue, the lighting, the voicing, the singing and soliloquizing that has differentiated this play from the common type. Mr. Hill's Valencia Theatre for one big week.

'Yank at Oxford' Starts at Valencia

"A Yank at Oxford," starring Robert Taylor, and with such American and British favorites as the British actress, Dawn O'Leary, the English actor, Leigh, Edmund Owens and Griffith Jones in prominent supporting roles, opened yesterday at Lewis' Valencia Theatre for one big week. The story, as the title indicates, relates the adventures of the star athlete of a small American college who is awarded a scholarship to Oxford. Robert Taylor, who plays the title role, Maurice O'Sullivan is seen as the English girl whom he meets at the university. Griffith Jones plays her brother. Lionel Barrymore plays the American who becomes involved with the undergraduates. Lionel Barrymore plays the American who becomes involved with the undergraduates. IT LOOKS DIFFERENT FROM THE OTHER SIDE OF THE FENCE

Current Comment

By FRED J. NORTH. DON'T BELIEVE everything you hear, especially if it comes from a source of information which you know to be wrong very often. At the present time it is doing his darndest to spread a story about a certain Hicksville resident and his trip to Tarrytown over the weekend. Taint the truth, we find. We were very much moved to humor when we read an article in the Oyster Bay GUARDIAN this week which claimed credit for the present set-up of the district courts in the Town of Oyster Bay. To go back away, the Guardian started a rumor that Hicksville wanted to take the court away from Oyster Bay. This was proven false in no uncertain terms. Then the Guardian editor wrote an editorial suggesting a "plan" to hold court three days a week in Hicksville and Oyster Bay. That is the way the courts have been operating all along. The next week the paper said "the courts will operate on a schedule of three days a week in the two communities as the Guardian suggested in its editorial." Nothing was further from the truth. The courts will keep going as they have been and the editorial in the GUARDIAN did not prove a thing. Mr. Dizz Disbrow, writer of Side Dishes, must be a little daff.

WITHOUT ANY OTHER PUBLICITY this department is going to give a prize. We want to see if people really read this column and the other portions of the paper. The prize will be a handsome copy of "England Expects Every American to Do His Duty" by Quincy Howe. The prize will be awarded to the reader of the News who sends in the best letter telling what features are most appealing in the weekly editions of the NEWS. It doesn't have to be a long letter or written in fancy language. As long as it shows that the reader has made a careful study of the various features in the NEWS, such as: coming theatre features, radio programs for the week, local news pictures and photographs, "Week in Reviews" column, current comment column, sports column, sports page, society page, church column, etc. The contest closes on Saturday of next week, March 26, and the winner will be named in the following week's edition. In sending entries to the NEWS, News Building, Hicksville, be sure to include your correct name and address so the book can be mailed out at once to the winner.

HERE AND THERE—Saw Leonard W. Hall and Henry J. A. Collins at the St. Patrick's Day celebration parade at Huntington last Sunday. Too bad it had to rain. . . March issue of the "Nassau Republican," the county's own magazine, is now ready for the newstands of the county. . . Morris Hochman has been confined to his home for a couple of days. . . Henry Koehl seems to be back on the job at the precinct. Wonder if his special assignment at Hicksville is concluded. . . Saw dozens of late comers dash into the post office Tuesday night to mail their income tax returns before the deadline. Congratulations are in order to the Hicksville Kiwanis club for its success in getting merchants organized on the parking lot project. This paper has advocated a parking lot as Hicksville's solution to the parking problem for many years, but no one seems to remember it. Glad to see you directing things again, Harry. . . Why is a certain county policeman very sensitive and why is he trying to contact a certain columnist? No, it's not this department he's angry with. . . See you soon, and don't forget the contest.

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following: correlative selection from the text-book of Christian Science, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy; "Mind is not the author of matter, and the creator of ideas is not the creator of illusions. Either there is no omnipotence, or omnipotence is the only power. God is the infinite, and infinity never began, will never end, and includes nothing unlike God. Whence then is soulless matter?" Sportswear Sale Attracts Hundreds To Hempstead

Hundreds of people are expected to crowd into the Empire Sportswear establishment, at 247 Fulton avenue, Hempstead, next week, as the store offers its vast stock of dresses, coats, accessories and sportswear at a fraction of the regular value.

The organization will move shortly to new quarters at 275 Fulton avenue, near Main street, and the sale which starts next week is designed to clear the shelves and racks before moving. According to Mr. Harris and Mr. Murray Rosen, who will manage the new store, the sale prices for Manufacturer's samples and other goods are in many cases a small fraction of the actual cost of manufacturing the goods. Beautiful hand made neck pieces, which were made to sell for as high as 79 cents, for instance, are offered at three for twenty-five cents.

RETAIL DELIVERIES REPORT MORE GAINS IN SALES

Retail deliveries of new and used vehicles reported by Dodge dealers for the week ending March 5, continued the upward trend which they have manifested for the past two weeks. The week's gain in sales amounted to another 5.8 per cent as compared to the records of the preceding week. Dodge dealers' deliveries of passenger cars and trucks were 12.5 per cent higher in the first week of March than in the first week of February.

Dan Cupid Takes Recession in 1937 As Nuptials Drop

ALBANY—Dan Cupid suffered a marked recession in business in New York State during 1937 probably because of the enforcement of the new marriage law which became effective last September 1, providing that there shall be a 72-hour interval between the issuance of a marriage license and the performance of the ceremony.

The number of marriages in the State last year totaled 155,428, or a decrease of 9,610 from the all time maximum recorded in 1936, according to a report made public today by Dr. J. V. DePore, director of the division of vital statistics of the State Department of Health. His figures show that there were 142,936 marriages in 1936.

LUMINALL

... THE PAINT THAT HAS

Greater Beauty and Charm of Color

It is true—the first popularity of Luminall was among people who had to watch their pennies when buying paint.

But Luminall's definitely greater beauty and clarity of color were so evident that it soon became the choice in decorating walls and ceilings of "high-rental" apartments and "big-income" homes.

Luminall has the merits of any good flat paint plus several important features. Its high light-reflecting qualities brighten small and poorly exposed rooms. It is odorless and dries in 40 minutes, greatly lessening the discomfort and shortening the tear-up at decorating time. One-coat coverage gives important economies in applying.

Luminall comes in white and a full line of lovely colors. It dries to a genuine casein paint, which is a great advantage for the artist. Be sure to ask for it by name. Ask for new folder containing 20 decorative schemes.

ODORLESS... DRIES IN 40 MINUTES

Luminall is the better paint for walls and ceilings of living, dining rooms, offices and schools. It is also the best choice for decorative shops and public buildings.
