

Things, Thoughts and Theories

By Martin W. Littleton
Former District Attorney of Nassau County

KNOW IT is very bad form as well as uninteresting to talk about one's self—that is uninteresting to everyone except one's self. But I am going to take the chance of offending because after my first efforts in this column last week a number of my friends otherwise wanted to know "Why?" and "What it was all about?" Thus I will explain.

FOR NEARLY NINE years I had my feet firmly buried in the public trough. During that time I enjoyed the comforting, but sometimes very lonely, companionship of an unremunerable salary. Quite voluntarily on December 31, 1937 I quit my job and jumped boldly out of the public crib right into the hectic and uncertain maelstrom of the legal profession. "Very foolish!" says you. "Mayhap," says I. I craved to live again the normal life of just a plain citizen.

I had begun to tire of trying to tell the many "Mrs. Joneses" why their husbands got drunk and wouldn't come home, or trying to explain to the many "Mrs. Browns" why they spoiled and wayward brats spit on their grandmothers and tied tin cans to cats' tails. I got tired of listening to neighbors complain about neighbors' cats, dogs, children, husbands, wives, radios, wild parties and so forth and so on an infinitum.

The thrill of pursuing and prosecuting the criminal had worn to fade. I was growing stagnant with the continuous and seamy side of the business. Everything that came to me was ugly; I had to prosecute people for violating laws that I personally thought were outrageous. I just got fed up!

DON'T THINK I am complaining, because that I am not. I did not take a million dollars for that experience, but what I could not do with a million. I was not anybody's business! Nor am I trying to hide the fact that there were also some pleasant moments. I guess most of us are human enough to like the fanfare and attention that such an active and dramatic office as that is bound to attract. It records the incumbent a position in his community which is almost above the attention and fear. If, in fact, he is of his fellow man. All of that is very gratifying to one's ego, and we all have our share whether we admit it or not.

As the office of District Attorney affords an experience that can be had no other place in this world and I shall surely be humbly grateful for the opportunity it gave me, but I had enough! I had reached the saturation point and had to move on to something else, even if it was the unglorious and arduous task of chasing elusive clients with still more elusive pocket books.

NOW, AT LEAST, I can walk around the streets like a free man, and go to sleep without wondering who is going to be murdered or robbed before morning. I can relax that I do not have to hurt people.

Instead I can comfortably chase a few ambulators during the week, in a figurative sense only of course; I can do Saturdays where I please swapping complaints and making everything general and Roosevelt in particular. I can relax for the first time in my life, and I will not give a damn who likes it. That is the essence of freedom!

BUT WHAT HAS all of that to do with this column??

As District Attorney I was frequently called upon to write articles for various publications from time to time. I did that very much, because I always have been a sort of writer—mostly for my own entertainment only. This has been a bad habit of mine for years and my good friend, Edward R. Redmond, publisher of this sheet, knew of my weakness. He suggested that it probably wouldn't hurt to write a paper—much, if I attempted to write a weekly, except on a weekly column. So here it is and it will continue as long as we all can stand it!

IF YOU WERE surprised when you saw the first effort, do not hasten to assure you that I nearly fainted. I had no idea that five small typewritten sheets could cover so many pages of print. It was prodigious! Terrifying, in fact! The very dear friend of mine called me up and made the observation that it was not so bad, but that it would always did run off at the mouth too much anyway."

THUS THE EXPLANATION, now do you perceive???

Van Slyke Draws In Game With Checker Champion

Special to Centre Island News
ST. PETERSBURG, Florida—E. A. Van Slyke, retired Hicksville public school system superintendent, drew a draw in a checker game with Alex Cameron of Cleveland, former Ohio state champion, at the St. Petersburg Checker club. According to the Petersburg Times: "Playing 20 persons simultaneously, Alex Cameron won 17 matches, lost one and drew two at the St. Petersburg Checker club. "Frank Smith was the only player to defeat Cameron who E. A. Van Slyke and J. Keller both drew draws." Van Slyke was the last man to finish in the unique competition. The play lasted two hours. As the former champion drew down the line of players, each would move; then he would make a move and pass on and come back taking each in turn. Van Slyke retired from the school system in June, 1937 after 13 years service in the local system and 25 1/2 years in the teaching profession.

Building Repairs Cause Jumps But Tax Rates May Remain Unchanged

Hicksville and Bethpage school district budgets for 1938-39 will show increases, according to tentative figures adopted by the two school boards for presentation to district taxpayers on Tuesday night, May 3, it was learned this morning by the Centre Island News.

Hicksville's net budget will be $142,263, an increase of $45,093 over the net budget of $137,366 for 1937-38. Estimated receipts, including state aid, is expected to increase about $6,633 to reach $7,888. Lack of a surplus of $10,000 available in 1936-37 and necessary repairs of school buildings have increased the budget, it was pointed out.

Bethpage's net budget will be about $142,263, an increase of about $2,000 over the net budget for 1937-38. The library district budget will be about $22,410 while the figure last year was about $22,370. Estimated state aid will be about $18,000. Necessary repairs on the school building have increased the school budget, it was estimated, it was pointed out.

In both communities school taxes are not expected to show a marked increase although the net budgets are higher. Increased assessed valuation will keep the rates nearly the same as last year, it is expected.

To Be New Trustees
In Hicksville school district two trustees will be elected for three year terms. The terms of Board President Frank Johnson and Guyver Wronski expire. In the library district the term of Louise W. Augustus, ending a five year term, will expire. The terms of William Albert and Fred Kramer expire in the Bethpage school district. (Continued on page 2)

Expect Over 2,000 At Easter Gathering

Third Annual Dawn Service on Easter Sunday Morning at Bethpage State Park—Churches, Laymen Cooperate
More than 5,000 persons are expected to attend the third annual Easter Dawn Gathering at Bethpage State park, this year, it was revealed today by Halsey B. Knapp, general chairman of the arrangements committee. Services will start at 5:45 a. m. on Easter Sunday morning.

"Bethpage State Park is ideal for such an affair, its rolling country, fine clubhouse and parking facilities as well as its accessibility should make for a large gathering. Mr. Knapp, director of the State Institute of Applied Agriculture at Farmingdale, declared.

2,000 Present Last Year
"Last year, in spite of cold weather, it was estimated that 2,000 persons were in attendance. With Easter coming three weeks later a much larger gathering is expected. In case of rain exercises will be held inside the clubhouse."

The gathering is sponsored by the Rotary club of Farmingdale, 15 ministers from churches of Farmingdale, Bethpage, Hicksville and other nearby villages. The program will be un denominational.

"The object is to stimulate interest in all kind churches; it is to be a prelude to the Easter services in the various churches," Mr. Knapp continued. "People attending at the state park will be urged to worship later in the church of their preference. No collection of funds of any kind will be requested. It will, we believe, promote a better understanding, greater tolerance and more church consciousness."

Awake-Sleeping Service
"There is something awe-inspiring in the dawn of any day, but to greet the dawn of Easter in close contact with nature, to listen to the Easter story in word and song is to receive a new spiritual hope and to be again assured that God still reigns in the heavens and all will reign with the world."

C. Oliver Moore of Precept will be guest speaker at the services. Music will be furnished by a large group of mixed voices from Hicksville Choral Society, Farmingdale Choral of Colony club and choirs of various participating churches. Rehearsals are being held at the scene. (Continued on Page Five)

Sanatorium Inmate Slashes Own Neck

Slashed jugular veins and arteries, apparently self-inflicted, police said, caused the death of Geniale Santelli, 45-year-old patient of the Nassau County sanatorium at Farmingdale. Police investigation revealed the injuries were caused by a straight razor, it was disclosed at the second precinct, Syosset.

Santelli, who lived at 115 Carmel road, Great Neck, was pronounced dead at 5:45 a. m. Sunday by Dr. David Lowen. Dr. Lewis Elmore, county medical examiner, investigated at the scene.

Martino, spectators stated to police, was helping unload a gondola car of the Long Island railroad in the Oyster Bay rail road freight yards when he apparently missed his footing and slipped into the car to be carried out the bottom with the escaping steam.

Featuring Her at the Tessaert

Hepburn Reveals Talents In Playhouse Attraction

Katharine Hepburn revealing her talents as a comedienne with Cary Grant opposite her, in "Bringing Up Baby" is offered as the outstanding laugh show at the Tessaert playhouse on Monday and Tuesday. Backed by a sparkling cast headed with Charles Ruggles and May Robson, the stars "go to town" in the uproarious comedy. The story is based on the gogglee activities of Miss Hepburn, a madcap heiress with a re-entranced Cary Grant as her partner. Although remarkable propensity for creating trouble, interested only in completing a huge dinosaur skeleton and in promoting a million dollars to carry in the work Miss Hepburn decides she wants him. His fate is sealed from the moment, especially when she discovers he intends to marry his unattractive secretary.

Virtually kidnapping Grant to help her hide a tame leopard her brother has sent from South America, she plunges the hapless professor into unexpected situations that are said to make the picture the biggest piece of merriment since "The Big Game" and "The Baby" of the title.

"Spread across a background of the breathtaking scenic splendor of the great North Woods, the story of Miss Hepburn's escapades and a simple woods girl comes to the screen today and tomorrow with "The Barrier," picturization of the famous novel by Rex Beach, the most successful of film favorites headed by Leo Carrillo, Joan Parker, James Ellison, Otto Kruger, Robert Barrat, Andy Clyde and Sara Haden.

Leo Carrillo creates one of the most striking characters of his long list of successful roles in the part of the woods girl, who is a trapper. His charm and vitality make the Canuck seem a living person. Joan Parker, who was so successful in another great outdoor picture, "The Top of the Lake," returns to the screen.

"The Barrier" offers the most important role James Ellison has played in his career.

A vivid crowd scene of life in New York's art colony is authentically revealed in RKO Radio's "Millions," co-starring Miriam Hopkins and Ray Milland.

This district popularly known as Greenwich Village, is similar to other art centers in the nation, the favorite of the artist's masses, but sincere workers struggling courageously to become famous.

One of the odd assortment of characters in the story are a society beauty, played by Miriam Hopkins, and a struggling artist making a bare living by doing street music, played by Ray Milland. Walter Abel is cast as a dependent artist trying to forget a tragic marriage by drinking himself to death.

Grace Moore and Melvyn Douglas, the man who made Theodora go wild, sing and swing their carefree way from glamorous Manhattan to the Argentine in Columbia's new musical, "I'll Take Romance," which opens Wednesday and Thursday.

"I'll Take Romance" is utterly madcap—yet Melvyn shows her how to sing those horrid torch tunes! It's Grace Moore at her merriest! Melvyn Douglas at his gayest!

"Sustaining Miss Moore and Melvyn Douglas is a large cast of veteran film makers, headed by Stuart Erwin, Helen Westley, Margaret Hamilton, Frances Goddard and Eddy Chandler.

After a long separation, during which each appeared in pictures without the other, Gene Raymond and Ann Southern are reunited in "She's Got Everything."

The film is said to be their best co-starring vehicle. A romping story of the penniless society girl whose creditors are trying to marry her off to a wealthy man, "She's Got Everything" is loaded with hilarious situations setting the picture for the able cast.

'The Buccaneer', Climax In Film History, at Huntington

Twenty five years of unsurpassed achievement in motion picture making are climaxed with the grandest, the most spectacular of all the DeMille productions, "The Buccaneer," the most colorful characters that ever lived. Jean Lattice, the pirate who helped Andrew Jackson win the battle of New Orleans, and the American cause in the War of 1812. The tremendous scope of imagination, the mastery of detail, the consummate artistry, made all DeMille pictures agree, masterpieces, such unforgettable pictures as "The Ten Commandments," "The King of Kings," "Cleopatra," "The Crusades," "The Sign of the Cross," "The Sign of the Cross" again to create an other thundering romance, the greatest DeMille has ever produced, "The Buccaneer."

Frederic March is shown in his greatest role, as that dashing, devil-may-care outlaw of the Seven Seas, that gallant lad with the ladies, that pirate who helped Andrew Jackson win the battle of New Orleans.

An Franciska Gaal, as Gretchen, whose foxen hair and honest blue eyes capture the unruly, wild, but noble Jean Lattice, which steel and grape-shot couldn't tame.

The plot intertwines love with thrilling scenes. It will be shown at the Huntington Theatre on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. On the same program will be shown Radio City Revels.

The pictures the other three days of the week will be "Jezebel" with Betty Davis and Henry Fonda; also, "Everybody Sings" in "Jezebel" Betty is referred to as half sister, half gang, but all women. Many men loved her, but she loved only him, but the only man she ever loved called her "the wickedest woman who ever lived."

LOW DOWN From Hickory Grove

I AM KIND OF a half-way law-abiding citizen and I am not agin the Govt, but everything has its place. And the Govt., if it would stick by the army and the navy, it would have its hands full—except maybe the post-office. But even in the P. O., I have seen the blotter there, and I have tried the pen.

But you take your own off-spring, and if they are 6 or 10 or 20, you are for 'em 100 per cent, but even they have their place. And their place, it is not showing you how to take out an appendix, if you happen to be a doctor—or tellin' you how to make hot and cold, while they sit in the shade or use your credit card for gas.

And our Govt., it is getting to act like a juvenile and is diving in where it don't know how deep it is, like in this Tennessee electric ship-dip, and will maybe need a life preserver—and will get it, while they sit in the shade or use your credit card for gas.

And our Govt., it is getting to act like a juvenile and is diving in where it don't know how deep it is, like in this Tennessee electric ship-dip, and will maybe need a life preserver—and will get it, while they sit in the shade or use your credit card for gas.

'Marco Polo' Easter Attraction at Music Hall

The new film installed by the Radio City Music Hall as its Easter offering is the Samuel Goldwyn production, "The Adventures of Marco Polo," starring Richard Dix and featuring Basil Rathbone and Sigrid Gurie.

Written by Robert Sherwood, famed playwright, and directed by Archie Matherne, "Marco Polo" has been acclaimed by the reviewing press as one of the hits from Hollywood. An interesting anecdote is told about Mr. Mayo, while directing the current Goldwyn picture, he discovered that a Mr. Allen, who was one of the studio chauffeurs, was his exact double (meaning plenty of coincidences). With that the celebrated director turned to his prototype and said, "A fine thing you've become a truck driver to eat—where I've come to become a truck driver to eat."

Again, the Music Hall stage is graced with one of the beautiful productions conceived by its prolific producer, Leon Leonidoff. With song, music, dance and color, the splendid program brings you to a closer realization of the magnificent achievements made possible by the greatest movie house in the world.

At Lyceum Theatre 'Bachelor Born'

Reviewed by Edgar Allen

One of the odd comedies imported from British Isles is to be found at the Lyceum Theatre where Jan Hay's work, "Bachelor Born" has been installed by Milton Shober. Peopled with fresh, earthy and congenial, warm-hearted characters—even though they are schoolmasters, "Bachelor Born" is a welcome addition to the Lyceum Theatre and offers a diverting evening in the theatre.

His narrative leads with a bachelor teacher (Frederick Leister) upon whose innocent shoulders is suddenly thrust the burden of harboring some vivacious young ladies in their adolescence. The comic angles and dialogue are given full impetus by Mr. Leister and his charges, Peggy Simpson, Helen Tremblay and Jane Gordon.

Mr. Hay, the author, is a veteran at writing comedy and "Bachelor Born" is definitely in the present trend of the Lyceum Theatre, which is only in the aforementioned beauty, but in laughs and sentiment also. It should not be omitted from your list of picture going.

'Moral Entertainment' Opens WPA Show Schedule

"A Moral Entertainment," Richard Maibaum's new comedy, will be the first production in the pending spring and summer repertory season of the Federal Theatre for New York State. A comedy laid in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in the year of 1690, the premier will take place at the Theatre of the Four Seasons, Roslyn, some time this month. Its presentation will mark the sixth at Roslyn since the New York State Federal Theatre designated the Theatre of the Four Seasons as its stage-production headquarters May, 1937.

Richard Maibaum is a New York boy who majored in drama at the University of Iowa. He is the author of several plays, including two that have been on Broadway, "Birthright," a play about the Nazis in Germany, and "Return from Life," produced several seasons ago by Herman Sumlin. He is now on the staff of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in Hollywood, where he has written several plays: "We Went to College," "They Gave Him a Gun," and "The Bad Man of Brimstone."

"A Moral Entertainment" marks the first production of the Federal Theatre for New York State, which has been successful three weeks' repertory engagement at Maxine Elliott's Theatre in New York City.

Current Comment

By FRED J. NOETH

EDITORIALS ARE NOT READ — That is the opinion expressed by several leading members of the fourth estate. I never thought to explain this before, but since it seems to be the thing to do, I

For several months now the NEWS has no longer published the old-type editorial. Rather it has tried through various methods to express opinions of the news through various departments and columns. In this paper we have Bernard McGuinchie writing his interpretations of the local sporting events. We have the Brothers College of New Jersey writing clear-cut reviews of the latest books. We have Martin W. Littleton, former county district attorney, giving his impressions of "Things, Thoughts and Theories. And we have my column to replace the old editorial.

The editorial—as such now passing into the past—were confined to the writer. They limited the writer to certain topics. They had to be written in the third person or first person plural rather than the first person singular.

The whole makeup of the editorial page has undergone a change. In the NEWS these changes have been made in line with the other "streamlined" mode of publication used in the paper. The unimportant matters, leaving the place of publication, name of publisher, editor and advertising manager and subscription price, has been relegated to a lower corner. It is only published because of postal rules and regulations.

Whether or not this column in place of editorials strikes popular fancy, only time will tell.

BIKES ON THE HIGHWAYS — J. M. G., director of the "Traffic" department in the NASSAU DAILY REVIEW STAR, this week pounded out compliments to the police of the second and third precincts of the county police department for their efforts against unsafe and dangerous bicycle practices. I agree with him 100 per cent.

Bikes on the highways in the old days was one of the least expensive modes of transportation. Bikes were plentiful on the roads. They more or less had a monopoly on the dusty high ways. Cais were still a rich man's luxury and horse and carriages drove slow enough to keep their way among the bike riders.

Today the automobile has the monopoly on the highways. Highways and side roads are built for automobile transportation. They are banked, graded, paved and designed for the pleasure car, motor truck, bicycles don't stand much of a chance. I don't doubt that a bike is still one of the cheapest forms of transportation (next to shoe leather), but many a young fellow has been able to buy a second or third hand car for the price of a good bicycle.

In some localities the place of publication, name of publisher, editor and advertising manager and subscription price, has been relegated to a lower corner. It is only published because of postal rules and regulations.

Well, you might ask, if the roads are full of automobiles traveling at rates of speed from 30 to 55 miles an hour, where is the bike rider going to travel? Surely not on the sidewalks and endanger pedestrians and walkers.

That is a logical question that can be best answered by our highway supervisors and safety engineers. It is up to them to provide the bicycle paths and sidewalks. They are trying. The section of the state motor vehicle law regulating equipment and operation of bicycles, testifies to that effect.

It is up to our legislators find the money to construct special bicycle paths throughout the state, parents will have to impress upon their children the dangers of trying to compete with the gasoline "horse and wagons" of today on modern highways.

There is no tragedy which comes with greater force than that which results from sudden death in an accident or other mishap. It all happens so suddenly and leaves a great emptiness. The loss of a loved one always strikes hard.

Often wonder I drive about Long Island if those boys and girls who ride great risks on the highways by riding two on a bike, riding "no-handed" or riding zig-zag realize the heart ache and sorrow they would cause if they were suddenly struck down by a car as their vehicle swerved into the path of the auto. They have no right to take their own lives as well as the happiness of their families and friends into their own hands and place it in danger.

Those boys and girls—and sometimes men and women—would hesitate to ride their bicycles across a tight wire spanning the Grand Canyon; and yet they place themselves in just as dangerous a position by tooting caution to the winds as they try to compete with the automobiles on the crowded and busy highways.

POWER OF THE POST — Last week we quarters designer William Moffitt on a proposed plan to fly a bag of mail from Long Island Aviation Country club field at Hicksville via a Hicksville aviator to Newark Airport to mark National Airmail Week which falls in May. This week an airmail letter was received at Hicksville from Boston. Some must of used the item and decided the air route is a regular thing.

Reader's Spo

FOR TWO DIFFICULT years the French public has battled the great titans of modern age—Fascism and Communism. It has been so active in the affairs of the Continent during this period as Leon Blum, Premier then as Vice-Premier, and now as the newest Premier. Upon the shoulders of the stive, logical, academic and yet realistic Blum, there has been a double burden. He has been all too unusual in French politics. The history of this complex character is more than fascinating. The story of the growth of the young man, down to his capitulating to the right-wing Thadée Nadanson (Leon Blum, Man and Franzmann; J. B. Lippincott Company, Philadelphia), who had a sympathetic, almost paternal regard for a great proletarian party.

The authors, who have had access to private papers, his friends, his family, and many and varied writings, first present the history of the young man, then the history of the Dreyfus affair, that scandal which reshaped the whole history of modern France, which painted Blum as a sympathetic, almost paternal regard for a great proletarian party.

The last two years have been difficult for Blum; standing between the Communists and the moderate Radical-Socialists has been the skill of a circus performer to keep the tightrope from breaking. The death of Blum was elevated to the leadership of the Party which has been a great victory in the eyes of that year.

From the Sidelines

By BERNARD F. MCGUNNIGLE

THEY'RE THE STUFF—
THERE IS NO DOUBT in my mind that spring is here. What with the love-sick lads and lassies spooning about the skies (Who said they were blue, it seems to me) and the hum and whizz of flying birds and mostly the great clamor and bustle which is only found on the home of "the" American sport, BASEBALL.

Now that I have gotten over an introduction to this topic, let's not notice words and get down to the bare facts which concern mainly, the Hickville club and the high school.

I shall begin with the ex-scholastics, the Field Black and White line starts its first season of the Nassau-Suffolk Loop three weeks from Sunday at that Nassau-Suffolk League, make no mistake about it, it is as tough a league as one could ask for in the small town baseball horizon. Hickville fared well their two years with the Eastern Nassau Loop, winning the first year and losing out in a playoff game with the Albertson Vamps last year. Now the LNL is no more and Hickville has joined up with a larger group of teams and like every team in the circuit will be out there digging for the initial success.

But is Hickville strong enough to rank with such clubs as the Northport A. C., Syosset and the two Huntington teams, the Braves and the Pirates? I think so, especially since those new lads turned out for the first time on Sunday morning at the local high school grounds.

The old boys are back and with the addition of such performers as Lou Kappattner, Frank Pubins, John and possibly Orville Milleville, Hickville should be treated with a fast-stepping diamond aggregation. The infield should be strong on defensive and fairly good on the offense. McEneaney and Leonard are the ball in that inner defense last year and the two should improve considerably after playing their year of organized ball. The three were among the better hitters on the team and with Kappattner rounding the infield at third, the team is well set in this department of the game. However, there is still some doubt as to whether Kappattner will play ball or not and if he doesn't, the old reliable, will take his place. Although Charlie weak with the willow, 'Cubby' has few equals in defense. Not fast of feet, Kerbs makes up by his leg and scappiness. Nothing is too hot for him to handle and what a gun he has.

Departing to the outer line, there is going to be a real battle for the starting berths with Pubins, Fran Hogan, Borkud and Lou Milleville battling it out, and if Hogan decides to take another crack at the whistling horse, he will hold a slight advantage at the plate. Pubins is a distance hitter and will fill in nicely behind Small and in the batting lineup. I reckon the only problem here is what one pitcher will have to sit on the bench. Tough task, Phil?

Charlie Molitor will finally get some well needed help. Don't take me wrong, I do not mean to infer that Charlie pitched bad ball last year or that he is through, but last year for the simple reason that Hickville had no pitcher to aid the veteran right-hander. Johnny Molitor is a well-known twirler, but still a ham, mottled with that curve ball, will be out there easing Molitor's tremendously. Behind the plate is the incomparable Herb Small with Kerbs or Hogan filling in for the when necessary.

If that team represents Hickville on the field this year, and I have no reason to think that they will, all I can say is that Hickville should win like or be dangerously close.

Striving over to the Orange and Black clad high school club, a different tale is forthcoming. Hickville appears to have a fine defense club, but lacks over with the willow. Anyway that's what this writer says after that 5-0 blanking at the hands of Far Rockaway last Saturday.

Merrill Yarosky and Art Melnes are capable of hurrying the ball for the mid-landers but it runs that Borkud and Milleville will have to figure out a way to hit the high boys to get the ball rolling. Hickville has three weeks left before the opening game with Westbury, and you may be sure that while is going to give his lads plenty of batting practice before that game with the Green and Gold. If he had a few more of the better hitters, the local high school team would be in the Eastern division but if he doesn't

Sportsmen Pay To Help Finance Fishing Streams

The first four represented the Mineola Skating Rink after a series of elimination contests. At Cincinnati, the team captured the titles in stretch waltz, chicken scratch, colt and closed circle waltz.

The first world's championship contest for men and figure skating will be held at Mineola rink the first week of April, 1938 according to Mr. Van Horn

Tackle Syosset

Hickville Field A C Opens Apr. 24 In Non-League
The Hickville Field club will open the season on Sunday, April 24, when they tackle the Syosset B. C. in a non-league encounter. The piece has not been definitely agreed upon as yet but will probably be at Summers Field.

Don Lynch and Manager Phil Valenti reached this agreement late last week and already two respectable mentors are forming plans to win this opening Syosset and Hickville have long been rivals and this game ought to be a "natural."

Although the game is more than two weeks away, the word is spreading fast that these two clubs will clash in what is termed a "grudge" game. Last year the two clashed in the opener with the Maroons winning 6-4 in ten innings, but later when Hickville sought a return game near the end of the year and were unable to do so, rumors, falsely conceived, went about that Summers Field club was shying away from the mid-landers.

This season the two teams will meet four league games and the non-league scrap will be just a sample of what is to be forthcoming from the 1938 semi-pro season.

Hearing May 2 On Re-Routing Of Two Town Roads
Public hearings will be advertised by Clerk Charles F. Strohm for May 2 on maps for the re-routing of two Oyster Bay roads, according to resolutions adopted by the board of supervisors.

Supervisor Harry Tappen of Oyster Bay moved for adoption of the hearings provided that the section from Round Swamp road to Bethpage park be maintained as a secondary road. That section will be skirted by a new right of way on the Hickville, Plainville, Farmingdale road.

Tappen stated that the old section should not be released to private ownership because it will be needed for road purposes in the future.

The other resolution authorizes a hearing on maps for the improvement of Glen Cove, Locust Valley, Laitingtown and Bayville roads.

Manhattan Firm Gets Bond Issue For Water District

The White company was awarded the contract following a hearing by the town board Tuesday afternoon. The bond issue was the low bidder. The White company bid was $18,000.19 with an interest rate of 3 1/2 per cent. The bond issue was approved at a previous town board meeting without opposition.

Far Rockaway Holds Hicksville

High School Batemen Show Weakness In Fall, 5-0
Meet Pickups This Afternoon
The Far Rockaway high school nine exhibited an evident hitting weakness in the practice try against Far Rockaway Saturday morning and dropped a 5-0 decision to the visitors.

The Orange and Black were woefully weak against the slow curve ball hurling of Eddie Gleason, being limited to four scattered blows over the seven inning route.

The defensive playing of the Millevittens was quite gagger in spots, permitting the Queens scholastic nine to tally several unearned runs of the combined pitching efforts of Merrill Yarosky and Artie McInnes.

Coach Louis Milleville will send his charges against the Pickups this afternoon in an effort to bolster the attack that was prevalent against the Far Rockaway nine. Realizing that his men are capable of stifling the enemy bats, the midget center will specialize on the hitters and promises a "workout for the ex-scholastic nine."

Both Merrill Yarosky and McInnes will see service today against the Pickups. The team will be managed by George Bergh, Herbert Garnberg, Thomas Marsella, Victor Nelson, John Wagner, Harry Walton, Muriel Benkert, Cynthia Eshau, Artie McInnes, Ruth Hannon, Lillian Johnson, Ruth Ludwig and Miriam Muller.

Schnepf Studying Complaint of Group

Henry Schnepf, Oyster Bay town superintendent of Highway, is today studying a complaint of the Nassau Shore association of Massapequa, protesting against the condition of several south shore town roads. A petition for their improvement was received at the Oyster Bay town board meeting Tuesday and referred to Mr. Schnepf's department.

Local Youth Makes Good

Walter Salmon of Belmont, one time local lightweight favorite is attempting a comeback under the management of the veteran "Doc" Bagley.

For many years Salmon was the leading Nassau 145 pounder and was featured in many shows at the old Mitchell Field arena. He is now boxing as a middle-weight. Today he is still in excellent condition, heavier, but yet surprisingly fit.

Pubins Impressive In Field Club '9'

The Hickville Field club held their first practice session of the year on Sunday morning at the local high school field with a small turnout reporting to Manager Phil Valenti.

Originally the cold weather kept the number of players out down in the low numbers but Manager Valenti was impressed by the hard hitting of two newcomers, Frank Pubins and Johnny Hogan. Pubins, former Bethpage slugger and Hogan, ex-Lewiston A.C. moundmen, were driving the ball all over the Hickville ball park.

Hogan will undoubtedly share the mound duties with Molitor. The 1937 regular, Valenti, Leonard, Borkud, Hogan, Kerbs and Molitor were hitting the ball hard and effectively, a good sign that perhaps the 1938 edition will host a much stronger punch than last year's outfit.
