First Impressions of Washington

By ALBERT THOMAS

I HAVE JUST been to Washington, D. C.

I stayed there about three days and three nights along other members of the senior class and I would gladly the safe show 2:25 8:50 and Washington is not all it's cracked up to be.

1 was told by some people who had already been to our capitor that Washington is not all it's cracked up to be.

From the first glimper of the city through the dors of the Union Station to the last as we left, I enjoyed the trip, and the safe with trees, through the trip, are the safe with trees at through the safe with the safe with trees at through the safe with trees at through the safe with the safe with trees at through the safe with the safe with trees at through the safe with the safe with trees at through the safe with the safe wit

I talked with had been watching students four the capitol for swey and party party and the believed that no better four could have been devised.

It is a great item of personal satisfaction to relate to others experiences and facts about the national capiol, and to explain the pictures one has taken—for, no one should take a trip of this sort pictures one has taken—for, no one should take a trip of this sort of the fature with my recollections of it.

Perhaps I will visit Washington again—I hope so—and then I can compare the city of the future with my recollections of it.

What The Washington Trip Meant To Me By VIRGINIA KARMAN

APTER PATIENTLY waiting four years to take the much-talkedof trip to Washington, D. C., it is hard to believe that it is over already. Feverish anticipation, last minute packing, and goodbyes at the station were all left behind as the train carries us to New York, where, during the interval when our coaches were transferred to another locomotive, we visited the roof of the Hotel Pennsylvania. Here we got an early-morning glimpse of the great city of New York.

A FTER Procession over already. Fewerth analetation, mover already. Fewerth analetation, mover already. Fewerth analetation, mover already. Fewerth analetation, mover over already. Fewerth analetation was broken and content commonly. Fewerth analetation was provided by the owner our arrival at Washington. In the meantime, we stoped it laready may mind, and I realized more fully mover of the first owner owne other baildings, but could not look long, as our hotel was quickly reached.

Now the great tension was broken and everyone began to talk at once, while waiting to get their room-numbers. Finally, quietness again reigned, as the students scattered to prepare for dinner, which was welcomed by everyone.

Librater eating, we were immediately taken to the Congressional Congressional

SAVE LIVES HIGHWAYS

A Campagin Endorsed By Our Supervisors, Village Police Chief and the Undersigned Leading Business Men of the Surrounding Territory Who Are Genuinely Interested In the Advancemnt of Safety.

Are you indifferent to slaughter? Automobile accidents can be reduced; deaths on the highway can be stopped.

In 1937 106,000 persons were killed in accidents in the United States. 375,000 others were permanently disabled and 9,4000,000 others were injured.

Death took no holiday in 1937.

There are two prime causes of automobile accidents. One is the reckless, incompetent and dangerous driver. He can be curbed to some extent by up to date traffic laws that are honestly and rigidly enforced. The other cause is dangerous "accident prone" locations: bad intersections, narrow highways without dividing areas, etc. Here the highway engineer must be called to eliminate such needless hazards and thus make it virtually impossible to have an accident.

"Make our town safe" should be a community motto. It is high time, as the New York "Times" says, that we shook off our comparative national indifference to the man-made evil and began safety campaigns in earnest.

Considering eperything, Pll now take a chance and to pick the possible standings of the clubs at the chann of the season. 1—Hicksville; 2—Hunting-; 3—Sposset; 4—Farmingdale; 5—Huntington nee; 6—Bethpage.

yes someone asked me whom do I think will win ting crown this year? What a question! That's the but I know one thing that last year's winner it, will not repeat. George Saur of Carle Place title with a 389 mark last year, but Carle Place a member of the Nassau-Suffolk loop and so he is a position to take the individual honors this season.

I'm beginning to think that Hickwille will have within league this year. The latest reports have it the Knights of Columbus will have a team this withing the total number of teams to three and if wast the Bethpage team, it makes four. I imagine Fire Department will have a team and probably Business Men so if you like to play softball, talk by Pasty and perhaps by the time June rolls around, might see a fast softball league functioning in this willage.

be of the Don Bosco members suggested using the Stret school diamond for a field if the league is a lad that is a fine suggestion.
