Library Opening Is Postponed

Due to unforeseen difficulties completion of the new building of the Bethpage Public Library has been delayed by approximately two weeks. Service in the new building originally scheduled to commence Monday, July 15, has been postponed to Monday, July 29.

The new opening date was agreed upon at a joint meeting of the School Board and the Library Board on Tuesday, July 9. Representatives of the architectural firm of Gibbons & Heidtmann and Ross-Wein, Inc., building contractors, assured the Boards that all outstanding work will be completed by Monday, July 22. This will allow the library one week for the moving of books and equipment from its present location on Broadway.

"We sincerely regret this inconvenience to our patrons," said Henry R. Meisels, library director. "All our books are packed and we are ready to move as soon as we receive work that the building has been completed. No overdue fines will be charged for books due during the period of July 15-26 if they are returned within two weeks after the opening of the new library."

Big Success

The first summer Story Hour given by the Children's Librarian of the Hicksville Public Library was held July 9th in the library's auditorium. The program, planned for those children who have just completed the 1st or 2nd grades, was very successful. This week, the theme was based on animals in folk tales and poetry. Accordingly, the stories told were, "The Bremen Town Musicians", a tale by the brothers Grimm; "The Blind Men and the Elephant", an Indian legend, and "The Duel", a poem by Eugene Field. Each week, till the end of August, the Story Hour will be given on Tuesdays at 1:30 p.m. The children will meet in the auditorium, but if it is a pleasant day, Mrs. Shapiro, the Librarian will take them outside on the library's patio.

Most of the libraries in Nassau County have decided against having a Story Hour during the summer since many children either go away on vacation, or take advantage of the weather and summer facilities offered to them. The program at Hicksville in fact, was last given some years back.

Thinking It Over

by Robert L. Morgan

Several years ago the former Press Wireless Property in Hicksville was taken over by the County of Nassau to be developed into a park. Each summer as such neighboring communities, as Plainview and soon Syosset and Bethpage open municipal park and pool projects one wonders what has happened to all of the big talk about a pool and park in Hicksville and why is the land designated for it just idle?

There has long been some back door talk about this project. This goes to the effect that if the park and pool project in Hicksville is under the auspices of the County as it now is that it will allow people from all over the county to use the facilities. In this respect some underground speculation goes further in pointing out that it would turn out to be a big integrated swimming pool in Hicksville because while Hicksville itself is "illy white" neighboring New Cassel is not.

The speculation goes further that this has stopped all plans for the project.

Other pool projects in places like Plainview and Syosset and Bethpage are run by local park districts and restricted to taxpayers in those districts. The county is not involved. While it is sure that what is printed in this article will be denied be anyone even remotely connected with the County park for Hicksville we think there is a great deal of fact in it even though it be termed fiction.

Minor Type Anemia Presents No Problem

By C. A. Dean, M.D.

(Q) "I have Mediterranean anemia and would like a little information about it. Also I had a tumor of the parotid gland removed and since then I have had saliva come out of a small opening under the lobe of my ear. Will this improve? Mrs. C.P.

(A) Mediterranean anemia in an adult (the minor form) is not serious, does not require treatment in many cases and does not shorten life. The major form (Cooley's) of Mediterranean anemia, found in young children, is more serious and more difficult to treat. You have the first type (minor form) fortunately, so you should have little or no problem.

Concerning the parotid gland operation, I suggest a recheck by the surgeon who operated on you. This (saliva drainage) is an occasional complication and the surgeon may see fit to correct it.

(Q) "I have had irregular menstrual periods for several years with several types of treatment including D and C, hormone medicine and an ovarian cyst removed, but still the problem persists. My doctor says I have a tissue problem and a hysterectomy is the only permanent cure. I am 29 and have 3 children. Could I have cancer?" Mrs. B.S.

(A) This is a fairly common problem and is not the result of cancer as a rule. It doesn't appear you have anything to worry about concerning this, especially if your doctor reports all tests negative. I suggest you have periodic check-ups and let your doctor decide if and when an operation is needed.

The Perils Of Walking

By Russell Kirk

THE WALKING-CRAZE INSPIRED by President Kennedy's observations on physical unfitness probably has run its course. As an inveterate walker, this writer suggests that even if most Americans really desired to walk, they'd have trouble doing it. For one thing, it's a dangerous career in this land.

If you walk in the country, automobiles will do their worst to put you in a cemetery; besides, the throughways and turnpikes are becoming Great Walls of China to bar the path of the stroller. If you walk in the city, the mugger may get you; if he doesn't, then the policeman will. American policemen are convinced that any nocturnal pedestrians are either hoods or nuts.

The other night I walked six miles up and down Valley Boulevard, in Alhambra, California -- where I am situated for some six weeks. I met only one other walker, an elderly gentleman headed for the corner drugstore. My landlady tells me that when, a newcomer to California, she had walked home at midnight without thinking twice about the matter, a police car dawdled behind her, keeping her in its spotlight. When she complained of this to a neighbor, she was told, "Why nobody walks in L.A. at midnight. The police must have thought you were drunk."

It's much the same in Long Island. There I used frequently to walk from the railway station, about midnight, to the venerable Dutch farmhouse where I had rooms -- there being no taxis to meet the last train from Manhattan. Whenever they spied me, the local policeman would pick me up in their cruiser -- on pretext of getting me home safe, but actually (I know) to keep me from committing armed robbery, arson, and rape. They realized full well that any wretch who goes afoot after dark must have a screw loose somewhere. Also I looked somewhat like Mr. Peter Lorre in his palmer days, attired as I was in a black borsalino hat, a black Scottish evening coat, and a black French silk scarf.

Muggers have been far less troublesome to me than have the constabulary. Often I have wandered, in the wee hours, about such rough quarters as the Call district of Palermo, in Sicily, or Third Street, in Detroit (before the urban renewers pulled to pieces that relic of pre-Ford times). Though occasionally I have been followed by hopeful predators, no one ever has sapped me. The tipsy, infirm or female are in some peril, but not, ordinarily, a youngish man in good health. In the blackest streets of Glasgow, I have been spied. Once I collided with a giant form in a courtyard off Rampart Street, in New Orleans, to my consternation--but it turned out to be only a tremendous colored mammy of the old school, quite as terrified as I was at this chance encounter. A connoisseur of slums, from Mountjoy Square in Dublin to the adobe lanes of Tucson (do they still stand?), I may have walked thousands of miles by night in mean streets, since I turned sixteen: but a kindly providence has sheltered me. I do abstain from nocturnal strolls in Central Park, Manhattan, or Jackson Park, Chicago, nevertheless.

Motorists loathe and abominate nocturnal pedestrians. Once, on a rural road in Michigan, I was fired upon from a speeding car, apparently in celebration of the Fourth of July, which it happened to be; they missed. I was fair game. Either I should have been home watching television, like a hundred-per-cent American, or else I should have been in my own car, taking potshots at deviants.

So if you want to walk valiantly, don't join President Kennedy's Marines, but wend your solitary way through the darkened streets of your home town. It's one of the more anti-social, if muscle-building, aspects of rebellious nonconformity.

More Oil Heat On L.I.

Oil heated households in Nassau and Suffolk Counties increased from 189,778 in 1953 to approximately 415,973 in 1963, it was reported by the Oil Heat Institute of Long Island.

According to William G. Kane, OHIL president, the Long Island increase corresponded to that of New York State where oil heated homes rose from 1,384,700 in 1950 to 3,428,000 in 1960. The latter figures were supplied to OHIL by the National Oil Fuel Institute which has just completed a nationwide study. The study also showed that during 1961, oil-using homeowners consumed 3112 million gallons of oil in New York, up 65% above the 1883 million gallons burned in 1951.

The strong growth in oil heat consumption in New York during the past decade reflected the equally dynamic advances scored by the liquid fuel elsewhere in the nation, the study pointed out. It said the figures clearly showed a continued high degree of consumer acceptance for oil as a home heating fuel. In fact, in New York oil was more popular than any other fuel, the study showed.

The SHAPE of THINGS to COME

Can you identify these silhouettes? These are the signs which regulate the traffic along our nation's roads and highways. What do they mean?

1. Octagon-shaped signs always mean STOP. This sign means stop. Completely. Yield the right-of-way to all through-way traffic or to pedestrians.
2. Diamond-shaped signs are always WARNING signs used to alert you to approaching traffic hazards or conditions requiring reduced speed.
3. Throughout most of the nation Triangle-shaped signs mean YIELD the right-of-way. They warn you to be prepared to give the right-of-way to all traffic on the roadway you are entering.
4. Round-shaped signs always mean RAILROAD CROSSING. Take special care when crossing more than one track.

Know these signs so well that you can identify them at a glance. Another good sign to know is the sign of State Farm agents from coast-to-coast. Wherever you travel, you'll find State Farm's friendly "hometown service" as near as the nearest telephone.

CREeping DEATH

When Norman Woolworth, squire of Clearview Stable, saw Jamin in Europe, he nicknamed the great trotter "Creeping Death." But American trotting enthusiasts were skeptical of European horses when Roosevelt Raceway presented the first International in 1959. They had seen a dozen or so foreign competitors in the preceding years and had not been impressed.

The night of the International, Trader Horn was the overwhelming favorite. There was a groan from the crowd when Jamin went off stride on the first turn, but Jean Riaux calmly got Jamin trotting again. Woolworth's nickname for Jamin became valid when the French trotter "ate up the ground" with deadly precision, and rushed by Trader Horn to win the first International handily.

Other great trotters were to compete in the International—Haires II of The Netherlands, winner in 1960; Su Mac Lad, winner in 1961, and second to Tie Elk in 1962. But the one which will always be remembered is Jamin.

Where is Jamin now? On a farm in Normandy, the property of Mme. Olry-Roederer. He is standing at stud and his first sons and daughters are now merrily skipping around the green meadows of Normandy.

Perhaps, one night, one of Jamin's sons will be back at Roosevelt.

NEXT WEEK—THE CHALLENGE CUP

ANN F. SULLIVAN of 166 Dartmouth Dr., Hicksville, became Mrs. Thomas S. Kinsella, Saturday, at Our Lady of Mercy Church, Hicksville. The mass was performed by Father McGowan and a reception was held after it at the Huntington Town House. The bride is a secretary at Grumman and the bridegroom is a machinist at Grumman. The couple is honeymooning in Bermuda.

Plans Addition To Incinerator

The Town Board has authorized the development of preliminary plans for additions to the existing incinerator in Old Bethpage, Supervisor Thomas R. Pynchon announced today.

Earlier this year Supervisor Pynchon announced a study to determine the Town's incineration and garbage disposal requirements covering the next fifteen-year period, a generally accepted practice in the field of sanitary engineering. The study indicates the need for additions to the existing incinerator having an additional rated capacity of five hundred tons a day, thereby providing adequate disposal facilities through 1980, when further plant expansions may have to be considered.

"It is absolutely essential to the well-being and health of our homeowners and taxpayers that we have a well-founded and solidly based plan to make adequate provisions for future garbage disposal operations to take care of projected increases in population. We have ample land area in Old Bethpage, purchased under a land bank program, and adequately screened from other community activities to carry this vitally important program forward," Pynchon declared.

The Town Board, in authorizing Consulting Engineer Henry J. Campbell, Jr. to prepare preliminary design plans for the additions to the incinerator, requested consideration be given to a design which will include the utilization of the electric power generation from the existing plant, thereby effecting a savings in costs. The existing plan was designed for expansion and its power complex is capable of producing more than presently required.

"The Sanitation Department collected more than 82,370 tons of garbage and 143,347 yards of rubbish in 1962. In carrying out this service, Department vehicles traveled more than 785,000 miles on regularly scheduled pick-ups from approximately 60,000 homes in the Town.

"This program to increase our incineration and garbage disposal capacity," asserted Pynchon, "will position us to meet our garbage disposal requirements in the foreseeable future."

ROBERT CLARY, diminutive French star, plays the role of "Passepartout" in Guy Lombardo's current production, "Around the World in 80 Days," presented nightly at the Jones Beach Marine Theatre.

Lt. Kanawada received a bachelor of science degree in education. He has been assigned to Fort Benning, Georgia.

SPORTS

by HOWARD FINNEGAN

It has been a long time since the community of Hicksville had reason to be interested in softball. Once ablaze with a fiercely competitive town league and highly respected County teams, Hicksville gave up when crass commercialism made the dollar the most important element in the sport.

Now the Jones Beach slow ball league has revitalized the sport on an industrial and community level. The inflated boys still play in the fast pitch loop but the slow ball loop provides action for others. Many are finding the action much more entertaining than the boring strikeout parades of the fast league.

Our Hicksville Post Office has a team in the Jones Beach league. The locals dropped their first four games but caught on after that. They have won four and lost two. The latest were wins last week over Ford Instrument 9-3 and 5-3 and Chase Manhattan Bank 4-2.

To-night (Thursday) the Government men are to play the Williamsburgh Savings Bank. All contests are part of double headers and begin at the East Stadium at 6:15 PM.

Art Samuelson pitches for the PO and Tony De Fendis is his receiver. Other players are Richard Di Leo, Steve Buschnick, Dick Flynn, Bill Hoops, Tom Brown, Mike Morrissey, George Heinson and Jerry Schwartz. Brown is the big man with the stick since he sports a batting average in excess of .500.

Stuart Blust who has been all class at first base and pitching for the Hicksville Connie Mack Team, and teammate shortstop Bruce Damm have been selected to play in the sixth annual Long Island Connie Mack Baseball League "A" All Star game.

The game will be played Friday night at Floral Park Playground commencing at 7:30 PM. Blust and Damm, both of whom played on Hicksville High's 1963 North Shore championship team, have been outstanding with the Hicksville Republicans. Damm has been a big hitter with the wood. Alan Heck and Ricky Walsh from Plainview are also All Star team members.

Hicksville's power in the Babe Ruth circles appears diluted and the club got bounced out of the playoffs 3-0 on opening day by Baldwin. Pitcher Steve Walsh tried hard from the mound and even with three excellent defensive plays by himself could not hold the defense together.

Waiting for the kickoff are a half dozen Hicksville boys who were members of the St. Dominics High Football Varsity last season. August provides a long humid wait for the pigskin fanciers but can't tone down the zeal.

The little Oyster Bay school had a young and willing gridiron crew last year but it took the hard end of most of the scores. It had a lone victory over Deer Park and six losses. The reverses only served to increase determination to get to work on the '63 campaign.

The Doms will have ends Dennis Gallahue and Bill Brueckner returning as will quarterback Charlie Lange. Ronnie Reilly will return after a season at the Tackle post.

The stock of the squad may zip up a bit this campaign if other Hicksville players who have gotten their ground work with St. Ignatius CYO teams produce. Among hoped for team candidates are Augie Reinhardt, Steve Henagen, Jack Hanifan and Mike Bowler.

All indication are that the Blue and White will have some good afternoons this fall on the sod of Roosevelt Memorial Field, Oyster Bay.

Due to Administrative changes Hicksville Little League District 30 could not arrange a playoff schedule in time for publication. However the series gets underway to-night (Thursday) and continues Saturday. Hicksville went to the Long Island Semifinals last year before losing in ten innings, 1-0, to West Islip.

Hicksville fans are also reminded to check the schedules for the Colt League playoffs which begin Saturday afternoon. Hicksville is entered in the competition with the finals scheduled for the high school diamond, July 25th.

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{1}{2}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{2}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $\frac{1}{2}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

Library Censors Citizens

George Martin and Howard F. Van Allen went forearmed to the Hicksville Library Board meeting last week. They toted along a recorder -- to tape the word-gems of the Library Boarders for posterity, no doubt.

But when Van Allen pushed the wrong button on the machine, music blared forth, announcing to the Board members that they were about to be placed on record.

Promptly Martin and Van Allen were told that tape recorders at Library Board meetings are absolutely verboten.

Clearly and unmistakably, even at public Board meetings, the Library Boarders appear to be simply terrified at the very thought of speaking for the record. Why? Are they afraid to be held accountable for their own words?

Just how deathly afraid this citizen-censoring Board is of the public can be gleaned from the fact that soon after the tape recorder incident it went into executive session -- using the execrable device that so many public bodies resort to to keep the public ignorant of what goes on in the inner sanctums of so many misrepresentatives of the people.

Oddments and Endments --

Now that the New York State Court of Appeals has held Henry Miller's book, "Tropic of Cancer," to be obscene, I wonder what would happen were "The Last Temptation of Christ" put to a legal test.

Both these books are sheer, unadulterated trash which I wouldn't want my children to read until they are old enough to recognize low-life prose written for low-life people when they see it.

On the other hand, I don't believe in book-burning. Yet, I do believe in exposing trashy books written ostensibly for trashy people. If one man has a right to write FOR something, any other man has an equal right to write AGAINST that something...

AMONG the counterblows leveled by George Martin, a plaintiff in the taxpayer suit as a result of which Supreme Court Justice Joseph A. Suzzell has called illegal the purchase of a $24,000 house and lot by the Hicksville Library Board, in an affidavit filed with the court are these--

1. "That the defendant Library and its Trustees are guilty of playing fast and loose with the taxpayers' money."
2. That the Board's failure to disclose ALL the receipts in fines and fees for 1962-63 and 1963-64 (to date) "takes on the characteristics of fraud."

Significantly, as pointed out by Martin's attorney, Harry Goebel, the Board estimated receipts of fines and fees of $8,000 in each of the budgets for 1962-63 and 1963-64. Of further significance is the fact that the Board now claims that despite the receipt of over $16,000 in 1961-62, it still estimated it would receive only $8,000 in 1962-63. This despite the fact that the volume of business of the library has been steadily INCREASING.

Martin also charged in his affidavit that in spite of the receipt of $150 a month rent from the property, the Board worked a "fraud upon the district taxpayers" in asking taxpayer approval of a $2,256 mortgage-amortization item in the budgets for last year and this year. The $1,8000 a year rent from the property, Martin said, could have been used to offset the monthly mortgage payments of $186.74 necessitating asking the taxpayers to approve only an additional $456.

Of course, the legality of both budget votes is highly questionable since Judge Suzzell has ruled that the Board could not buy the property in the manner it did.

All in all, it seems that the Hicksville Library Board has withheld certain salient facts and figures from the people.

Is it at all remarkable, then, that the Board must censor citizens at all costs?...

Visited scenic Hampton Waters, the subject of advertising in the Litmor Publications, over the weekend.

The development is located at Three-Mile Harbor, East Hampton, Suffolk. Nassau Commissioner of Health Joseph Kinnaman is reportedly building a home at Hampton Waters. Even yours truly is thinking of buying one of the half-acre plots -- showing the efficacy of Litmore advertising.

Waterfront property is going for $7,500 or $8,500; but inside lots, some three blocks from the water, can be bought for only $2,690 a half acre.

The development has excellent bathing and will boast a marina when finished. It's ideal for the small-boat owner like me.

Three-Mile Harbor is on the northern side of the south fork of Long Island. It gives one access to Gardiners Bay and the Peconics, and of course, Block Island and Long Island Sound and the ocean, if one wants to venture that far.

Right now, the blues are biting. So if you want me badly enough, just call Whiskey Sierra 7382 on your marine radio. If I don't answer, you'll know it's because I'm slugging it out with a bluefish.
