Hicksville Voters To Vote On Nov. 23

Voters of the Hicksville School District will be called upon to vote in a referendum on November 23, which would authorize the construction of permanent classrooms at the Senior high school, a new administration building and warehouse, demolish several structures and buy about three acres of land.

(1) Build permanent classroom addition to Senior High School together with a combined gymnasium-cafeteria at a cost not to exceed $1,100,000.

(2) Build a two-story building on the high school site at a cost not to exceed $495,000; first floor for a central receiving warehouse to replace space now rented, and second floor for a central Administration building, also replacing space rented in part.

(3) Give authority to the School Board to demolish several structures on part of the High School site known as the "Lumm Property".

(4) Purchase about three acres adjacent to the new Willet Avenue Elementary School site at a cost not to exceed $70,000.

Two Man Painting Show

A special two-man show of paintings by Gerome and sculpture by Bronka Stern will be held at Art Forms Unlimited, 111 Levittown Parkway, Hicksville, between the hours of 7:30 and 9:00 P.M. on Saturday, Oct. 26, and 1 to 4 p.m. on Sunday, October 27.

A local artist, Gerome is known for her powerful, deeply emotional and thought provoking oils, covering a wide range of subjects including people, animals and flowers. Typical of her work is "We Are What We Learn From You" and "Youth's Fleeting Moment", both of which will be shown in the exhibit.

Polish-born Bronka Stern, who resides in Hicksville, is a sculptor whose semi-abstract work in wood, bronze and stone has been described by critics as smooth, slender, flowing, monumental. Her work has earned her many honors including the coveted Grumbacher award.

JUDGES HEADQUARTERS OPENS - Family Court Judge Elizabeth Bass Golding of Massapequa is flanked by Assembly Speaker Joseph P. Carlino, Nassau Republican Chairman and Edward L. Glasser, a Massapequa Attorney and co-chairman of the committee for the election of Judge Golding and her running mate Judge William J. Dempsey. The picture took place at the opening of headquarters for the election of Dempsey-Golding in Hempstead last week. Judges Golding and Dempsey are currently Family Court Judges and are candidates to succeed themselves in the election on November 5th.

Protestant Council Service

The Levittown Presbyterian Church on Wantagh Ave., Levittown, will be host on Sunday, October 27, to an "Ecumenical Service" - a union service for worshippers from many different Protestant congregations and denominations of the area. The service at the local Presbyterian Church is one of six Ecumenical Services being held that day at different places throughout the county and sponsored by the Nassau Council of Churches. The service will be at 3:30 P.M.

An inter-church choir will be singing under the direction of Mrs. Arthur C. Toppin of the Presbyterian Church, with Mrs. Cedric Larson of the Parkway Community Church at the organ. The choir members will be from the Parkway Community Church, Hicksville, the Levittown Community Church, and the Levittown Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. William A. Irish, Pastor of the Community Church in Syosset, will be preaching at this service. Other clergymen who will participate in the leadership of worship are the Rev. Justin Flak of the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Levittown, the Rev. Douglas MacDonald of the Parkway Community Church of Hicksville, and the Rev. Gilbert E. Smith of the Community Methodist Church, East Meadow.

In announcing the plans for this service, Mr. Hendrickson, the pastor of the host church, commented, "An ecumenical service of this kind is especially appropriate at a time when there is a rising concern for Christian unity among Christians of all denominations. It offers an all-too-rare opportunity for members of different churches to worship together."

The other Ecumenical Services sponsored by the Nassau Council of Churches on October 27 will be at Christ Episcopal Church, Manhasset, the Syosset Community Church, Grace Methodist Church in Valley Stream, the Garden City Community Church, and the Bellmore Presbyterian Church.

Lawsuit Looms If Abt Doesn't Answer

Newspaper reporter and freelance writer Edward J. Van Allen set the stage this week for a legal test of the right of the office of Hicksville Superintendent of Schools Donald P. Abt to refuse to answer questions relative to the need for a 24-room addition to Hicksville High School, part of a $2,276,000 building program to be placed before the voters on November 23.

Van Allen acted in the wake of the outright refusal of Abt's office to verbally answer the questions last Thursday. Told by Abt's office that Abt was "too busy" to come to the phone, a Mid-Island Times reporter read off the list of questions which Litmor Publications are asking Abt to answer. A "secretary" in Abt's office told the reporter to submit the questions "in writing."

"Why should we?" asked the Times reporter. "You didn't answer a letter we sent to you months ago" (March 21, 1963, to be exact).

The questions are:

1. What is the average size (in number of pupils) of recitation classes at Hicksville Senior High School?
2. How many students now attend the high school?
 - a. How many are there in each of the staggered sessions?
3. How many teachers teach at the first of the staggered sessions and how many teach at the second of the staggered sessions? Do any teach both sessions?

4. a. How many recitation classrooms are there in the senior high school?
- b. How many classrooms of other types are there?
5. If 24 or 22 classrooms are added onto the senior high school, will all the high school students go on full, regular sessions?
6. If a 22- or 24- classroom addition is built at the senior high school, how many teachers in all will be needed at the high school?
7. If the addition is built, how many additional administrators, supervisors, clerks, custodians, or other non-teaching personnel will be needed?

The attitude of Abt's office was strikingly similar to that of East Meadow Superintendent of Schools Edward J. McCleary, who several years ago, refused to tell Van Allen how many classrooms there were in East Meadow and Clarke High Schools, which cost upwards of $9 million to build. Van Allen at that time was inquiring into the need for an addition on East Meadow High School.

Pounded in the press for five months and finally ordered by the Commissioner of Education's office to answer Van Allen's question, McCleary eventually capitulated and sent Van Allen a letter giving the number of classrooms, by type, in the two schools.

In his letter this week demanding that Abt "forthrightly, unequivocally, and expeditiously make answer" to the building - proposition questions, Van Allen said:

"...I have long nurtured the notion that the free press of this country has a right to inquire into public questions, particularly those involving the spending of public funds."

The Van Allen letter was sent via certified mail, return receipt requested, to "obviate the possibility," as Van Allen put it, "of its being 'lost' as happened in the case of a legally important letter addressed to the Hicksville School District some years ago."

A copy of the letter to Abt was mailed to Hicksville School Board President George Jackson, also via certified mail.

Thinking It Over

by Robert L. Morgan

The future of Hicksville once again hangs under the demolition ax. The latest word is that it will be two years before the business district of Broadway is demolished to make room for a new six-lane highway.

While we do not believe the widening is necessary in that particular area of Broadway we do think it is inevitable and perhaps bowing to that we should now make plans for the future.

All would not be lost and much would be gained if an appropriate urban renewal project could be planned for downtown Hicksville. It seems senseless that if the stores along Broadway are to be torn down that they should be rebuilt on a helter-skelter basis. A definite plan is needed and it may mean that some of the non-business property in the area would have to go, but if the widening of Broadway is progress then so is this a very necessary change.

Not to be overlooked in the planning is the fact that under the existing home office protection plan no new banks are allowed to open in downtown Hicksville. This has meant that Hicksville has been bi-passed while other lesser developed areas have gotten more banks than they need. Hicksville has one branch bank, that of the Meadowbrook National which has been very successful in Hicksville and which has brought a great progressive attitude in banking to the area, but we believe that other banks would be equally successful in Hicksville if the rule that says that because the home office of the Long Island National bank is located here that no other branches can open would be repealed.

This has stranded Hicksville's growth with only two commercial banks. This certainly is a far cry from Plainview or Syosset and may influence the progressive future development of business in Hicksville.

Numbness May Be Due To Nerve Pressure

By C. A. Dean, M.D.

(Q) "I have been troubled with numbness and occasional loss of the use of my fingers and right arm. The first numbness began seven years ago after the delivery of my first child. My fourth child was born a year ago and I've dropped feeding spoons, clothing, pins, etc., without even realizing they have fallen. What do you think is causing this condition?" Mrs. D.

(A) Since your symptoms have been present only in the right arm, I would look for trouble in the neck, where the nerves to the arm originate from the spinal cord. Nerve pressure from an extra rib (cervical rib), tight muscles (scaleneus anticus) and a protruding intervertebral cervical disc are possible causes. X-rays of the neck and other special tests should be performed. Seeing a specialist (orthopedist or neurologist) is suggested. Whether or not an operation will help depends upon what is discovered.

MEDITORIAL: Many a beekeeper has experienced immunity to bee stings after repeated bites. This occurs in about 75 per cent of such persons. A small percentage of persons, however, do not develop this immunity.

The beekeeper has also found that repeated fresh bites are needed to retain this immunity. If there is a lapse of two or three months between bites he finds he loses the immunity.

This experience is used in the attempt at desensitization of patients to insect bites. Preparations of the venom from honeybees, wasps, yellow jackets and black and yellow hornets are used.

Can South Viet Nam Be Saved

By Russell Kirk

Amidst all the Washington talk of doing something about the Diem government of South Viet Nam, few ask whether it would not be better to concentrate on an effective plan to defeat or restrain the Communists of North Viet Nam. The most convincing study of this problem which I have seen has been drawn up by two gentlemen in Seattle who prepare strategic surveys for a big aircraft firm: Mr. J.E. Pournelle and Colonel Leo M. Bagley.

According to their careful analysis, South Viet Nam and the United States will lose catastrophically to the Communist guerillas — perhaps within a few months — unless the whole scheme of defense is revised. Soldiers and supplies from North Viet Nam now pour into South Viet Nam through "neutralized" Laos, along the Ho Chi Minh Trail. The long frontier between Viet Nam and Laos is impossible to close. Gradually the peasant — and even some of the middle-class — population is accepting collaboration with the guerillas from the north as inevitable.

What Pournelle and Bagley recommend, after considering various possible policies, is the establishment of a new military front, running through Viet Nam and Laos along the seventeenth parallel. This would mean the abandonment, at least temporarily, of northern Laos to the Communists. But it would provide a line, from the sea to the border of Thailand, that could be held against the North Vietnamese and their Chinese backers. Along this front, a prolonged war of attrition would be fought against the Communists.

South of this frontier, the guerillas could be eliminated by methods previously employed in Malaya, once the local population felt reasonably safe in obeying the local government and American authorities.

"It is true that the operation would be expensive," the Pournelle report observes. "A reinforced corps of U.S. troops (approximately 100,000 men), together with appropriate TAC and USVAF forces, would be required for success. The troops would have to serve for a considerable period of time in a hostile area, and it is probable that conscripts would not be satisfactory as the actual ground soldiers."

To fight this sort of war, Pournelle and Bagley recommend the formation of a special corps of volunteers, similar to the French Foreign Legion.

Though this new type of campaign in Viet Nam would be a comparatively slow operation, it has far better prospect of success than the present confused military undertaking. For North Viet Nam, and her Chinese backers, do not have the resources in materiel for a war of attrition. "It was apparently impossible, due to political reasons," say Pournelle and Bagley, "for the U.S. to engage China in a long war of attrition in Korea. It may still be impossible to do so in Indo-China; but if that is the case, either the U.S. must invade China herself, or lose the whole of Southeast Asia."

With resources in weapons and supplies immensely superior to those of the Asiatic Communists, the United States could wear out the Communist adversaries, and eventually make some gains, including the liberation of northern Laos. If something of this sort is not done, the Pournelle survey concludes, "the only other courses open to us are total wars, possibly without end, or surrender of our overseas outposts and retreat to an insular or hemispheric policy." Will anyone in Washington listen?

AN INTERESTING THING HAPPENED ON THE WAY TO... ROOSEVELT RACEWAY

THE LADY MAUD

When John Crabtree, an Illinois farmer, purchased Lady Maud, a two-year-old filly, for $120 in 1902, he didn't realize he had made an historic buy. Lady Maud became entangled with a barbed wire fence in 1903. Unfit for racing that year, she was bred to a little known stallion named Jerry B.B. From that union came progeny that ultimately produced Adios, the greatest pacing sire of all time and a great racer himself. Maud began racing in 1905 and in a career that lasted until 1913 she set records and won many championship races. Roosevelt Raceway initiated the Lady Maud, the filly division of the Messenger Stakes for pacers, in 1960 as a tribute to the great Illinois mare to whom Adios traces his ancestry. The 1962 race was a thrilling contest, with Cathy J. Hanover defeating the favored Ritzy Hanover. The Lady Maud will be raced again at Roosevelt Raceway on Oct. 24, with leading three-year-old filly pacers in the field. It promises to be a fitting race in tribute to a great mare.

NEXT WEEK: THE MESSENGER

TWIN DOUBLE NIGHTLY

Keep your mind on the road, not on your troubles. Don't worry about business, the family, or what may happen tomorrow. Keep alert to what's happening now. Good driving's a full-time job requiring an alert mind and body. If you must worry, do it in your leisure time.

WHEN YOU DRIVE...

Think now, complain later. "Mad" at someone or something? Turn it off when you turn your ignition on. Anger, no matter who or what it's directed at, can color your whole driving attitude, making you a menace to other motorists on the road.

THINK

Think wise... think cagey... think careful, cautious, cheerful, courteous driving. Good driving is the responsibility of every motorist. A cheerful attitude toward others on the road will get you to your destination more relaxed than if you find fault with every driver along the way. Think careful driving when you're behind the wheel. And, when you think of protection against the hazards of other not-so-careful drivers, think of State Farm, the careful driver's insurance company.

Math Presentation At Bd. Meeting

The regular monthly meeting date of the Bethpage Board of Education has been changed to Oct. 31st. Meeting will commence at 8:30 p.m. in the Administration Building, Cherry Ave., Bethpage. The Educational portion of the meeting this month will be a presentation on "Secondary Mathematics" by Mr. John Rukowski, Math Department Chairman and his staff.

The change in the meeting date is due to a conflict with the dates of the New York State School Boards Association Convention. Change of date is for the month of October only.

Board of Education meetings are held on the last Tuesday of each month, for regular meetings, and the first and third Tuesdays for special meetings. Citizens are urged to attend all regular and special meetings of the Board; however, emphasis is placed on citizen attendance at the regular monthly meetings, as one to one-and-one-half hours at this meeting is devoted to an in-depth discussion of some phase of the educational program.

My Opinion

By Hicksville School Trustee William A. Bruno, Jr. (Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily represent the opinion of this newspaper.)

For pluperfect proof that PTA's leadership is nothing but captive, rubber-stamp outfits that willingly do the bidding of public school administrations, with never so much as a whisper of dissent, I present these facts:

Recently I wrote a letter to all PTA presidents in Hicksville stating that I would like to give "the other side of the building program" at PTA meetings now being held, at which pro-building program Board members and the superintendent have been speaking.

Not one of them has offered to let me present the other side of the story. In fact, here is one answer (of the two received) I got from the Hicksville Senior High School PTA: It speaks volumes for itself:

"We are in receipt of your letter dated October 10, 1963. The Executive Board of the Sr. High School P.T.A. feels that it is unwise for you to present the other side of the building program, since it is without School Board authorization.

"There will be an open meeting on November 12, 1963 regarding the referendum. We feel that this is where you can present, as a Board Member, the other side of the building program."

Like Superintendent of Schools Donald Abt, the PTA leadership says I cannot exercise my American right of free speech "without Board authorization."

Is the PTA leadership so sublimely ignorant of traditionally American freedoms as to believe for even the briefest instant that any American citizen, whether a school board member or not, needs "Board authorization" to speak freely in public? Of course not.

But the PTA leaders -- this one-sided high school PTA leadership -- is, like Mr. Abt, saying: "You'll speak only when we say so."

More, is it any wonder that questions must be submitted in writing and cleared by a "censorship committee" before they are allowed to be asked at most "open" PTA meetings? Is it any wonder that at these undemocratic meetings the traditional right of all Americans to stand up on their legs and ask questions verbally, in a truly democratic manner, is breached time and time again?

Of course, Hicksville PTA's leaders welcome with open arms such worthies as TEACH-backed Irving Lawrence and George Jackson, definitely pro-building program. Members of TEACH, you'll remember, were and are against school prayer. And, mind you, these members of TEACH who are helping "gag Bruno" in Hicksville are the so-called "liberals" of our community.

Is the subversion of traditionally American freedoms, such as the right of free speech, what TEACH calls "liberality"? If it is, then these TEACHERS need to be taught something about the American form of government and what this country stands for.

That the Hicksville PTA's leaders, TEACH, Mr. Abt, and the six-man Board majority are "stacking the deck" against the dissemination of the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth vis-a-vis the $2,276,000 (interest included) school building plan to be voted on November 23 almost goes without saying.

Oh, you'll get a fancy done biurb from the majority and the administration spoonfeeding you, the public, only that which the administration wants you to know about. You'll find that the high school addition proposition doesn't even list the number of classrooms to be added onto Hicksville Senior High if the addition is okayed. You'll find that Abt won't give you full and complete details about his prize $800,000 (interest included) administration building either. Who is to blame for all this? You, the public. For you, the public, get the kind of government you ask for.

If truth is suppressed and freedom is fettered, it is you, the public, who are at fault, since it is you, the public, who allow less-than-honest school government to exist in Hicksville. (To be continued)

Editorial By Girl Scouts

By the Girl Scouts

What is a Girl Scout? A Girl Scout is a Brownie -- discovering the excitement of the out-of-doors, the satisfaction of giving and helping, the joy of making friends. A Girl Scout is a Junior--exploring and experimenting to develop her interests and capabilities. A Girl Scout is a Cadette--enlarging and developing her own set of values, through wider social relationships and through the many services she can perform. A Girl Scout is a Senior--ready to assume responsibility as a citizen-by her active participation in the community, by seriously considering her future: higher education, career and marriage.

Girl Scouting offers to these four age levels a rich and stimulating program of fun, learning, and adventure centered around the home, the out-of-doors and the arts.

By giving generously to Mid-Island Council Girl Scouts, Inc. in this year's fund drive, which starts on October 27, you make sure that 12,000 girls in 650 troops receive the help to develop the Girl Scout Program. You assure the training of 2,500 adult volunteers who provide needed leadership. You assure the maintenance of a resident camp at Camp Edey in Bayport, and a day camp at Melville, L.I. You provide the services of trained professional staff and an office staff to assist the volunteers. You bring literature, supplies, equipment and visual aids to the girls to implement the program.

When you are approached by your neighborhood solicitor on Sunday, October 27th, remember to give generously -- you are giving to the future.

Guest Speaker

On Wednesday evening at 8:15 p.m., November 6, the Hicksville Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service will have as guest speaker Mrs. Margaret Cornell, who recently lectured in Bulgaria and toured 17 other countries. She will also show colored slides of her trip, which should be very interesting to all.

SPORTS

by HOWARD FINNEGAN

The fundamental skill of the placekick, which has vaulted Clarke High to football prominence in such a short span, was executed in the third quarter, Saturday, to defeat Hicksville 14-13.

The slim point was enormous. It shattered Hicksville's supposed best team in two decades. It left the Comets with only a chance to tie for the NSAA Conference One title. With it the Rams established conclusively their dominance of the Orange and Black. They lead 3-0 in the series.

Hicksville capped a 57-yard drive in the first period with a five yard plunge by Larry Welsko. The Rams were waiting for him on the extra point plunge and the force produced a fumble.

Bruce Cerone knocked down a fourth down touchdown pass in the end zone with a minute gone in the second period. Welsko fumbled on the eleven. Clarke struck with a quick pass to the one and Ronnie Cornelius banged in.

The placement conversion gave the hosts a 7-6 lead.

Hicksville came back snarling. Charlie Triolo, Steve Schuster, and Vince Hoosack figured importantly as the comets moved to the 15 yard line. Triolo bulled to the 2 yard line with a minute left but Hicksville was detected holding on the play and was set back to 30.

Triolo picked up after the third period kickoff and pushed the Comets into a 13-7 lead with a 14 yard jaunt after a downfield move of 74 yards. Bruce Damm caught Hoosack with a pass for the extra point.

Clarke responded with six running plays and two passes for the last 34 yards to win the game. The placement was good and the score stood 14-13 with 17 minutes to play.

Al Lewis, Schuster and Triolo gave Hicksville a potent running attack and they moved into scoring position twice on the 6 and 11. In each case Clarke diagnosed the Hicksville crucial plays and held for downs.

CLEATMARKSHicksville JV got bounced 19-6 by Clarke, Tuesday....Welsko was hurt early in third period. Had gained 27 yards in 4 tries before he went out. Triolo carried 12 times netted 70 yards. Damm kept five times for a 10 yard advance. Schuster had 8 rushes, netted 29 yards. Lewis had 3 for 10 yards. Comets out rushed Clarke 146 yards to 121...Fatal blow came in passing. Winners completed 3 of 4 for 45 yards. Hicksville had 6 completions in 12 attempts for 105 yards....In three games Comets have lost 136 yards in attempting to get off passes...Hicksville kickoffs very weak. Opposition takes over on the 41 on an average. Hicksville returns home against Syosset this Saturday. The visitors are a decided threat.

HICKSVILLE 27, Syosset 23

Over 500 fans watched a highly exciting 6-6th grade between St. Ignatius and St. Rose of Massapequa in a CYO Grammar School league game, Sunday, at the Junior High Field.

Kevin Smith preserved the Red Devils undefeated status with a 63-yard return of a pass interception on the final play of the first half. It stood up against a fourth period counter for the visitors.

Hicksville opened the season with a surprise victory over Garden City, last year's champions. Kevin Smith ran 16 yards for once score in that one and quarterback Jim Van Eschen sneaked over 6 yards for the other.

Then followed a 34-0 romp over St. Patrick's of Huntington. Van Eschen, Smith, Dennis McLaughlin and Ronnie Ruggiero all scored in the outing. In the forward wall Bob McDermott has been playing with excellence at guard. Joe Kramer has received good notice for his work as line backer.

St. Ignatius plays all its home games on the Junior High Field. The big game of the season will be against Holy Family on the Senior High Field which is the latter's home turf.

Halloween Ball

Mrs. Robert Jacques, Ways and Means Chairman of the Junior Woman's Club of Bethpage, has announced that everything is in readiness for the club's first fund raising event of the year. A pre-Halloween Masquerade Ball will be held on Friday evening, October 25 at the Old Country Manor in Hicksville. Proceeds from the dance will go to the Club Welfare Fund to be dispersed throughout the year to various local and national charitable causes.

New Homes Increase Oil Use

New homes built on Long Island this year will add 18 million gallons of fuel oil to the industry's sales figures, it was revealed here by William F. Kenny, Ill. of Plandome, L.I., a vice president of the Oil Heat Institute of Long Island.

Speaking at the Annual Fall Dealer-Distributors Rally of the New England Fuel Institute in the Statler-Hilton Hotel, Mr. Kenny, who is Chairman of the OHILI Advertising and Promotion Committee last year instituted a "Builders' Program" to promote installation of oil burning equipment in new homes, said:

"Our program, a pilot project, had 44 builders participating during the first year. This year, 188 builders are participating with an anticipated increase sale of 18 million gallons of heating oil. At this rate we can expect our sales of fuel oil to increase by 270 million gallons in the next five years in Nassau and Suffolk Counties."

Mr. Kenny is general manager of the Long Island Division of Meenan Oil Co., Inc., in Hicksville. He explained to the some 300 delegates from the six New England States, representing local and major oil companies the methods employed in getting builders to participate in the OHILI Program. He said that "one of the major factors favoring oil heat is the comparative ease with which oil heated homes are sold by the builders."

Board of Education,
Union Free School Dist. 17
Hicksville, New York
Gentlemen:

Last Thursday, Superintendent of Schools Donald Abt revealed that beginning next September the students of the Senior High school will attend on half sessions. (Mr. Abt called it "double - sessions" because there will be two separate sessions but for the individual student it should best be called "half - session" because each student will attend school only half a day.) This, according to the educator, will be necessary because the present school was built to accommodate 1800 students while the enrollment at present exceeds 2900 with 300 additional next year.

May I point out to you, gentlemen, that this halving of the school day was the one thing we were promised would not happen in Hicksville? In fact elaborate plans were made to alleviate any overcrowding at the secondary level. You knew almost the exact number of students to expect in the High school as far back as the early 1950's when the enrollment at the first grade exceeded 1000 pupils each year. You the Board, and we the citizenry recognized this group as "the bulge" in our school population and we worked out an ingenious program whereby this group of students denied a full school day at the elementary level would not be too sorely penalized in their quest for a decent education.

You promised us that if we would approve the erection of 50 temporary -portable classrooms at the small elementary schools, they would be moved to the secondary schools as they were needed. This promise would never again blight the Hicksville High School picture. Unfortunately a taxpayer law suit slowed the moving of these portables and staggered sessions became necessary at both secondary schools. The subsequent successful moving of half the portables to the Junior High put that building back onto full all day sessions;

but for some reason the Board appears reluctant to order the rest of the classrooms moved to the Senior High.

Mr. Abt admitted that there is an urgent need for 35 additional rooms at the High School. There will be a greater urgency for 45 rooms next year. Even if the long-term permanent 24 room addition is approved and the bond issue passes in November, the rooms cannot be ready for occupancy before 1966 or 1967. And even then the total number of rooms will be inadequate to provide a full school day for the high school students unless the class size is increased considerably.

At the same meeting last Thursday we were told by the President of the Board of Education about impending single sessions for first graders and the phasing out of the 18 classrooms Nicholas St. School. Does it not appear incongruous to you that we should close down classrooms, put 5 and 6 year olds on full all day schooling and at the same time schedule high school students half-a-day?

What is to happen to this generation of children when they compete with students from other school systems where single session is the rule rather than the exception? Will it help to get them into college if we tell the admittance board that they sacrificed half their day so that the kindergartners and first graders could go all day?

And can you envision this town when 1500 teenagers are dumped onto the streets at noon or 12:30 every day? The library can't accommodate them. (We turned down that expansion too, remember?)

May I suggest, members of the Board, that you immediately order the moving of as many portable classrooms as are left at the small schools to the high school. (The electorate has already endorsed this action in two referendums.) They can be moved in time to avoid half-sessions. If the delay caused by the lawsuit and the time spent in fighting among yourselves as to how many permanent classrooms we are going to need in 1980 has resulted in higher costs, I suggest you move as many as you can with the money authorized -- and then come to us for the additional funds. Perhaps Hicksville needs another taxpayer suit; this one to insure that the Board carries out the wishes of the people.

Please be assured that I shall support and vote for the coming referendum because the citizens of this community in 1980 will probably need those classrooms. However, may I ask that you concern yourselves equally with solving the more pressing and immediate problem of classrooms for our children, the high school students of today.

I would appreciate a reply stating your intentions. Thank you.
William H. Orton

Short! Short! One evening when I was having dinner with friends, the father in the family suggested to his 10-year-old son that he ought to give up something for Lent, something that would really hurt, such as candy. The kid hesitated, and finally asked what his father was giving up. "Both your mother and I are giving up liquor," the father replied. The ten-year-old son said, "But before dinner you all were drinking something, weren't you?" His dad answered: "Yes, but that was sherry. We gave up hard liquor for Lent." The boy thought for a minute, then said, "Well, I think I'll give up hard candy, for Lent!"....(Smack, Right In The Kisserr!)
