THURSDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1963

MRS. CATHERINE MAZZIE of Bethpage (second from left), co-chairman of Women's Activities for the Nassau County Office of Civil Defense, is shown with Lt. General M. J. Asensio, Director of the New York State Civil Defense Commission, at a conference for women's leaders held in Albany by the Commission. Others in photo are Mrs. Dorothea Walker, left, Mrs. Mazzie's co-chairman and Miss Edith Schultz of the Suffolk County CD office. Conference was called to discuss a program for training women volunteers to act as manager of public shelters in the event of a national emergency.

Schools, County Nixed Help For Handicapped Boy

By Edward J. Van Allen

Continuing her drive to get tutoring help for Tommy, her handicapped child, Mrs. Robert Larsen, of 32 Violet Lane, Levittown, has asked the schoolmen of Levittown School District 5 to produce Tommy's school records for her inspection.

Tommy, 13, never went to the Levittown schools. Long ago he was "excluded" because of the two crosses he must bear through life; deafness and cerebral palsy. But the district has certain records on this child, as public schools have on every child whose parents seek to enroll him or do enroll him in the system.

Levittown School Superintendent Louis Blumberg, Mrs. Larsen says, has told her she may inspect her son's records and has offered to provide someone to "interpret" them for her. But the plucky mother says she plans to bring her own interpreter, who will also act as a witness when she appears at the district office sometime this week.

Why does Mrs. Larsen apparently distrust District 5 officialdom? Because, as she explained to this newspaper an official there told her her son has an I.Q. of only 11. That claim has been contradicted by Bellevue Hospital and the New York Medical Center, both of which told her, Mrs. Larsen said, that Tommy is "unteachable" because of his twin afflictions.

"If Tommy is unteachable," Mrs. Larsen said this week, "how can anyone tell me what his I.Q. is?"

Mrs. Larsen also charged that the head man of the Nassau County Special Services School has told her Tommy's allegedly low "11 I.Q. means nothing." The County-run Special Services School nevertheless refused to admit Tommy as a student.

As noted in last week's article, the Nassau County Attorney's Office gave Mrs. Larsen the "red carpet" treatment when she appealed to the Family Court to direct the County to pay Tommy's tuition at a special school in Brooklyn at which she sought help because of the woeful lack of suitable facilities in Nassau County. But, while the County Attorney's office was the soul of graciousness to her, no one there told Mrs. Larsen that the County Attorney was, in truth and in fact, objecting to her petition to the Family Court.

As a result of that objection, Family Court Judge Alexander Berman, "regretfully denied" Mrs. Larsen's request that the County pay Tommy's tuition at the special school.

In a letter to this reporter, Mrs. Larsen said this week: "I was amused when you were reluctant to use the word 'vegetable' in describing Tommy in your article. I've been told worse than that by doctors. They try to cut the legs right out from under you."

"Tommy is the same child to me, no matter who talks about him. He is always my Tommy. I will with pride as his mother."

"I always ask the critics, 'Who are you, God? Don't try to play God.'"

Mrs. Larsen says she has always been accorded far better treatment by New York City hospitals and agencies when she has taken Tommy there than she has received in Nassau, although she, her husband, and two other sons have been County residents for the past 12 years.

She has been turned away, she says, by Meadowbrook Hospital, by the Nassau County Department of Health, and by the Special Services School.

Other private agencies like the Cerebral Palsy Center in Roosevelt and the Association for the Help of Retarded Children (AHRC) have provided only token attention for Tommy.

Bordering on the bizarre is the story Mrs. Larsen unfolds of her and Tommy's visit with a psychologist in the employ of the AHRC.

"The psychologist brought Tommy into a room for about five minutes," she says, adding: "Then he ordered me in. He said, 'Mrs. Larsen, I'm going to ask you to do something no one else asked you to do. Draw a picture of Tommy.'"

"I knew what he was doing, but I thought I'd try. I drew a big, fat face, so I looked at it and was disgusted. So I ripped it up. He said, 'Mrs. Larsen, I can't examine your boy because you won't cooperate.'"

"--He never asked me if Tommy could or could not hear."

Was the psychologist trying to prove that Mrs. Larsen is an over-attentive mother who should, as has been suggested by a number of agencies, toss Tommy, like a blob of clay, into a state institution?

And by the way, should a mother forget a crippled or otherwise handicapped child just because instrumentalities of government or even do-gooding private agencies tell her to?

Tommy's plight raises many other questions.

Under the law, is there any publicly supported group, agency, or school that can proffer the specialized help Tommy needs -- help in teaching a congenitally deaf boy how to use that bright, new, shiny hearing aid with which he can come to know and understand the world about him, within the limits imposed by his twin afflictions?

Under the law, the school district can, as it has, exclude Tommy from school.

Under the law, the County Department of Welfare can, as it has, say: "Sorry, we can't help."

Under the law, the County Health Department can, as it has, say: "We feel for you and Tommy, but can't do anything about it."

But there is a greater law involved here than those found in the statute books. It has to do with humanity, rather than legalities.

It might be called the law of mercy or the law of human decency, in this reporter's experience, a quality rate indeed among the minions of public education, not to forget the gorgers at the public trough in general.

JUDITH KAREN PAUL, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Paul of 10 Willet Avenue, Hicksville, will be married Sunday, to Imants Gulbis of Beacon, New York. His parents live at 98 East Street, Hicksville.

The wedding will take place at the Huntington Town House with Rabbi Dr. Herbert Ross and Cantor Robert Block officiating.

The bride is a senior at Columbia University majoring in psychology. Mr. Gulbis is a mechanical Engineer with IBM. He is a graduate of Hicksville High School and Stevens Institute of Technology.

Wouldn't it be the humanly decent thing for a County which has been boasting of late about the new group it has set up to study the needs of the handicapped to extend a helping hand to this deaf, cerebral palsied boy?

Or wouldn't it be the humanly decent thing for School District 5 to say to Mrs. Larsen, that woman who "wells with pride" as she mothers her afflicted child: "We shall not SAY we feel for you. We will SHOW you how we feel for you by trying to get you tutoring help, in your home if necessary, for your handicapped child?"

Have the County, the public schools and even some of the private agencies in this County been indeed "playing God" with Tommy, this poor, afflicted child who can wash, feed, and dress himself; yet, withal, is an uncomprehending vegetable because a callous, "don't bother me" type society has so decreed? Judge for yourself, and pronounce that judgment where it will do the most good. (End of current series.)

Thinking It Over

by Robert L. Morgan

It used to be that the worst thing you could call a liberal was a "reactionary". But in the last few days since the assassination of President Kennedy, the liberals have adopted a curious reactionary theme.

We see liberals applauding the denial of speech to Gen. Walker at the Garden City Hotel and large scale cries against Lincoln Rockwell appearing at Hofstra College.

But can this be the same liberal philosophy that inspired reams of letters to the editor when Number One Communist Gus Hall was permitted to speak on city college campuses last year. These letters all proclaimed freedom of speech. Do the same liberals now say that freedom of speech should only be allowed left wingers? Or do they now maybe show the fallacy of their own philosophy?

We don't think that Gen. Walker has anything worthwhile to say at this time, nor Lincoln Rockwell either—but then we weren't for Gus Hall speaking on tax supported campuses either.

Maybe the liberals should do some real soul-searching now and think over how much free speech they really want and act accordingly even when their own cause is not being hurt.

We can think of one case in point that will come up this winter when a Broadway play severely criticising Pope Pius XII will be produced. The play has little if any basis in history, but it will surely defile the name of a Roman Catholic Church leader.

Shouldn't the liberals now deploring the stirring of hatred in the nation also deplore this? We think we will be hearing the freedom of speech refrain again. But it may now have a hollow ring to it.

East Street PTA Entertains

Some especially talented entertainers have gladly volunteered their service to make the annual Christmas Party, sponsored by the East St. School P.T.A., a unique affair this season. The program titled "Holiday Fantasy" will be presented Thursday, Dec. 12, at 8:15 and will be a most joyful evening.

An original comedy skit will be enacted by PTA mothers; also participating in the program will be an accordionist, guitarist, a "Barber Shop" quartet, dancers giving their version of the popular Bossa Nova and Tango, and a pianist playing all the holiday favorites.

Guests are invited to take part in the evening's grab bag, and refreshments will be served. East Street says, "don't miss this one!"

The proceeds will be used to pay team expenses to Fort Lauderdale, Florida where the team will participate in the Sunshine Bowl game.

Library Bazaar

Young Fanatics Of 'Fair Play For Cuba'

By Russell Kirk

ACTIVE IN THE "FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA" circles of Dallas and New Orleans, Lee Oswald, President Kennedy's murderer, seems to have been a type with which this writer was familiar during both his army and his college years. The kind of young insubordinate soldier who persists in carrying private weapons on all occasions is akin to the neurotic student who rebels violently against any sort of order -- in the academy or out of it.

During the past two years and more, not a few silly college students with disorders of personality have been attracted to the odd organization called "Fair Play for Cuba." Not long after its foundation, people found out that the "Fair Play" group was subsidized by Cuban Communist funds, and in fact was a Communist-front organization. Originally, its roster was starred by various writers and professors notorious for their literary and personal eccentricities. As this Committee grew too discreditable even for the demagogues of the intellectual world, its activities were carried on by such obscure fanatics as Lee Oswald.

Though the Fidelista type is diminishing in numbers now, ever since Fidel Castro came to power many American campuses have endured little knots of naive, resentful, belligerent students, wearing beards and fatigues, who "want to be like Fidel." Unlike the campus radicals of the 'Thirties and early 'Forties (who often had some intellectual power), these "Fair Play" eccentrics commonly stand near the bottom of their classes, and are half incoherent in their speeches, nearly illiterate in their writings. They are political "beats" of a low order. Obviously enough, something is wrong in their nogginns. College seems to be the wrong sort of state institution for them.

Just after the Bay of Pigs fiasco, this writer happened to debate with Senator Hubert Humphrey, in an auditorium at the University of Michigan. Both Senator Humphrey and I were beset with questions by the Fidelistas of "Fair Play" types present, equipped with beards and dirty clothes and scowls that made them look like so many peas out of a pod. They were vehement, brash -- and abysmally ignorant of theoretical or practical politics and economics. They didn't cotton to the Senator, nor he to them.

Much more recently, I engaged in a public discussion at a college in New York City. My professorial colleague on the platform was interrogated by a "Fair Play" type of student in the audience, who advocated some fantastic Utopian scheme. "But what about people like me," retorted my co-speaker to the student, "who don't like your plan for everybody?"

The student -- an odd character, scrawny, with thick glasses -- at once shrilled back, "You'll be killed, Professor!" The audience laughed, for this student did not look capable of finding his way out of the rain, let alone murdering the faculty. Yet the boy was in deadly earnest. In revolutionary times, Alexis de Toqueville remarks, not only is madness no impediment to temporary success, but it actually may be an asset. These "Fair Play" students are unpleasant specimens of what has been called "The humanitarian with the guillotine."

Girl Scout News Notes

On Saturday, November 2nd girls and Leaders of Jr. Troops #123 and #276 attended the showing of the Cinerama production "How the West Was Won" at the Syosset Theatre, and had a very enjoyable time. This story of a half-century of America's westward expansion, as seen through the eyes of four generations of a pioneer family was certainly superior entertainment. Both troops are now busy getting ready for Investiture and Rededication Ceremonies.

Troop 276 also plans on presenting a Thanksgiving Basket to a needy family in the Community.

Jr. Troop #4 held a Mother's Tea on November 4th. The girls, working as patrols and toward their badges, made and served the refreshments.

Delicious cookies were baked by them in four homes provided by interested mothers. They are now busily engaged in learning some Folk Dances and doing Swedish Weaving along with preparing for a World Pin Ceremony.

Cadette Troop #49 is very busy working on the Aviation Badge under the instruction of Mr. James Day of Bethpage. The girls find it fascinating. Later plans include building of modes and a trip to the airport. A holiday Social is in the planning stage and the troop will make wreaths for the Bethpage Public Library and for their sponsor, The Elks Club of Hicksville-Levittown.

Senior Troop #41 have been addressing Easter Seal Envelopes as one of their Service projects along with collecting items for use at Central Island State Hospital. Many of the girls also act as Senior Aides in younger troops in the area. They provide and share their skills, knowledge and experiences which they have received through their Scouting years and are of invaluable help to the leaders.

The Troop is planning a Hay Ride in December; and the Mounted Patrol a Pack Trip for Easter Week. The Mounted Group attended the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden along with Mounted girls from Farmingdale and Wantagh on November 8th. They also participate in "Breakfast Rides" once a month with their leader, Mrs. June Catalano and are an interested and enthusiastic group of our oldest girls, who are doing a wonderful job in Scouting.

Brownie Troop #215 made some very appropriate Thank-Giving Tray

Favors which were delivered to Central Island State Hospital, and have also adopted a friendless patient. This troop along with Troops 563, 621 and 690 are also filling "Welcome Kits" for the Hospital as a Service Project.

Brownie Troop #621 held their Investiture Ceremony on November 21 at the Broadway Jr. High School. The Leaders Mrs. Rose Hanson, and Mrs. Nancy Meyeroff pinned 15 new Brownies during the Ceremony, and welcomed to the troop: Dianne Bohner, Donna Loffredo, Lucille Merin, Susan Shortman, Laura Teso, Mary Ellen Urbinowski, Patricia Van Etten, Candice Ward, Mary Jean Wilson, Judith Zambo, Peggy Adams, Mary Lang, Lynn Rozzi, Susan Trotter, and Debbie Ray.

The Girl Scout Parade Movie was shown and refreshments were served by the girls.

Belated Birthday Greetings to our October girls: Laura Attrino, Lucille Merin, Susan Shortman, Linda Hanson, Sharon Silk, Peggy Toomey, Susan Rascera, Rachele Bennett, Charlotte Florini, Gail Weiss, Martha Slomkowski, Jans Lang, Karen Power, Sarah Vide-lock, Nancy Mac... Nancy Merin, Irene Heilig, Roberta Smith, Deborah Taylor, Dale Fox, and Susan Fryer.

Wide-Track, for instance. Wide-Track is what does away with tilting your way around turns. Pontiac's smoother, quieter ride is another thing you might point out. A big 389-cubic-inch Trophy V-8 is standard in each and every Pontiac. You get to choose from 34 engine/transmission teams to harness all that power. (Happy choosing!)

Now then—on to more of the things that make the '64 Pontiac so thoroughly likeable. Frankly, we couldn't think of anything radical to do with this car. Oh, we made the styling even more stylish, as you can plainly see. We lavished even more care on the interiors. We even improved the light bulbs. But as for more vital things, why change? Improve, refine, sharpen—yes. Change—no. And you can tell that to your friends.

Letters

My Dear Mr. Editor:
I am writing this letter as I wish to make some friends in your country through correspondents. Don't you think it's a good idea if we could understand each other by exchanging some stamps, cards or news and information about school life, daily activities or even the world events?

The understanding as, I think, the first required necessary thing before starting any thing. The friendship built upon such understanding can really serve the way to the brighter life and the world peace better. My writing of this letter is for that purpose. Up until this time I did not know how to do anything like this, but as I was told by the Youth Council for International Contact recently that the best way is to write to the editors of some newspapers. So, here I am writing this.

Perhaps it might be too much to ask you but if you can insert this letter somewhere in your pages, or if you can introduce me to some boys or girls.

Let me introduce myself and our organization here; I am 17 years old Japanese girl and am in 3 class of Sakai High School. Good-bye. Yours very truly, Yumiko Umemori 1068 Daisen Cho Sakai City Osaka, Japan

Letters

To the Editor:

Twice, in as many months, I have witnessed the undignified attempts of a member of the school board (who by his very profession should deplore and abhor such tactics) to bring about economic sanctions against your paper for its independent stand concerning local issues. No other member of the board supported such undemocratic action.

In the past few weeks I have read articles and letters submitted by T.

E.A.C.H., Mr. Abt, Mr. Bruno and other citizens who cared to take the time to explain their view points. I personally know of no person who has had an article or letter refused for publication by your paper.

Therefore, I would quote from an editorial written by William Allen White who received the Pulitzer prize in 1922 for his editorials on free speech, "The orderly business of life will go forward if only men can speak in whatever way given them to utter what their hearts hold — by voice, by postal card, by letter or by press."

Please continue to serve the community by printing all sides of an issue whether it be popular or unpopular. Only in this manner can democratic principals be preserved. Florence Infantino

Keep your mind on the road, not on your troubles. Don't worry about business, the family, or what may happen tomorrow. Keep alert to what's happening now. Good driving's a full-time job requiring an alert mind and body. If you must worry, do it in your leisure time.

WHEN YOU DRIVE...

Think now, complain later. "Mad" at someone or something? Turn it off when you turn your ignition on. Anger, no matter who or what it's directed at, can color your whole driving attitude, making you a menace to other motorists on the road.

THINK

Think wise... think cagey... think careful, cautious, cheerful, courteous driving. Good driving is the responsibility of every motorist. A cheerful attitude toward others on the road will get you to your destination more relaxed than if you find fault with every driver along the way. Think careful driving when you're behind the wheel. And, when you think of protection against the hazards of other not-so-careful drivers, think of State Farm, the careful driver's insurance company.

Neither the P.T.A. organization nor its members acting in an official capacity may endorse or support a candidate in any type of election - school board, or otherwise.

May we hope that the facts that we have brought to you will lead you towards a better understanding of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, with which the P.T.A.'s in Hicksville are affiliated.

It is agreed that the U.S. Constitution guarantees to every individual the right of free speech. It is the policy of P.T.A. to permit representatives of the Board of Education to bring information on vital issues to the membership, when those representatives have been officially authorized by the Board to do so, and have made a request to the president of the P.T.A. Unit, who, in turn brings it to the official body for consideration. If approval is granted, any member has the right openly to question, to agree, or to disagree with the information presented by the Board representative.

P.T.A. does not deny anyone who is a member of a unit the right to speak or express his opinions freely in public in that unit. The By-Laws, approved by the membership in a democratic manner, safeguard this right, thereby insuring law and order.

Letters

(The following letter was sent by Hicksville Council of P.T.A. to School Board Trustee William Bruno)

Dear Mr. Bruno:
In a column in the Mid Island Times, dated October 24, 1963, several statements regarding P.

T.A. were made by you. The Executive Committee of the Hicksville Council of P.T.A. Units, therefore, by vote, has indicated its desire to correct any distorted ideas which you have about P.T.A., by submitting to you this factual information.

The statement that "P.T.A.'s leadership is nothing but captive, rubber-stamp outfits" is, in our opinion, presumptuous. It is the responsibility of any P.T.A. leader to bring to the unit for discussion any legitimate issue that is presented, regardless of its source. Hence, the voice of the members is heard, resulting in the rule of ABOUT THINGS AND PEOPLE: At the "We Have A Card for Every Occasion" counter of a Roosevelt Field department store, the clerk asked a woman what he could do for her. "I'm afraid you haven't anything that will do," she said. "I've looked all these cards over." Said the polite clerk: "Madame, we have greeting cards for everything. What type of card do you wish?" The customer leaned forward and said in a low voice, "A friend of mine has recently been sent to jail, and I want to send him a card expressing my regret." The clerk thought a moment, then reached among the cards "For the Sick" and handed her one. It read: "Sorry to hear you're a shut-in. Hope you get out soon." She purchased it and left the store feeling better, I hope....We're happy to report that Bernie Mann's "Year round theatre, restaurant & caterers "Riviera on Manhasset Bay" having its biggest winter business in years....At Villa Victor, in Syosset, we heard one lady say to another: "My husband is absolutely no good at fixing anything, so everything in our house works."....Sign on a Hicksville store counter: "Extra-large bath towels, just the thing to wear when answering the phone." (Thanks a lot)....Helen and Harold Applegate will be seen around various spots more often "Now that the elections are over," she said. We met up at the crowded swank Country Club Restaurant, Lake Success, where bartenders Buddy and Johnny display their mixologist talents and this sign: "If our peanuts and canapes were any fresher, they'd be insulting."....Two snow-haired dowagers jouncing along 25-A, in an antiquated sedan made an illegal turn. The traffic cop had to blow his whistle vigorously and repeatedly before they came to a stop. "Didn't you hear me whistling at you, lady?" he asked. Wide-eyed and innocent, the little-old-lady looked at him. "Yes, indeed," she said, "but I never flirt while driving." The amazed cop waved them on, with a grin on his kisser....A teacher we know received a nice note from a young pupil signed, "Your little fiend, George."....I like Dick Eschmann's definition of a harp: "A harp is a piano in the nude."....James Barton's widow, Kathy, running a very attractive spot at 2000 Jericho Tpk., New Hyde Park, near the Garden City Park line....My old (young) pal Vin Roddle, who packs them in week-ends at Port Washington's Aqua Manor, has a new disc platter coming out next month. If it's as good as the one he did with lovely Lee Jordan's singing on it, I'll be satisfied....A pair of very loud checked trousers hanging in the window of a Mineola second-hand clothing store has this notice on them: "These pants are uncalled for." (No wonder!)....Wendy Barrie's line from this column, "The hardest tumble a man can take is to fall over his own bluff." printed in a recent Reader's Digest....If You Please..
