ARCHITECTS DRAWING SHOWING $262,500 addition to library. Only dark shaded areas are going to be added. Other expansions to library were made in 1957. Land for the expansion is not included in the above plan. $6,000 is being sought to add to $17,000 already spent for the land. Voting takes place March 7. Registration for voting takes place February 26 and 29 for those not already registered. No books or library equipment are included in the referendum.

Library Referendum To Spend $262,500

Registration will take place Wednesday, February 26 and Saturday, February 29 for voting in the $262,500 expansion referendum for the Hicksville Public Library. Voting will take place on Saturday, March 7. Qualified voters who have voted in the annual budget vote in 1963 or who have registered and voted since that time do not need to re-register in order to vote.

The referendum would authorize the issuance of bonds to spend $262,500 on an addition to the periodical room at the library, the reading room and an unfinished basement. No books or other library supplies are being voted on in this election.

The library was last expanded in 1957. In 1962 a referendum similar to the present one was turned down by the voters. The new plans have deleted $27,000 which would have been used to finish a basement in the building according to the Library Board. This reduces the total amount from the original $298,500 which was turned down by the voters.

Letters

To: Woodland Ave. PTA
Mrs. Edith Berg,
Chairman
Re: Scheduled meeting of February 18, 1964 Speech
by Mr. E. McClain, Library Trustee

Dear Mrs. Berg:

I see by the February, 1964, Woodland Avenue Digest that Mr. McClain has been invited by your group to present the Library Board's views on the March 7th Library Referendum. This is very commendable of the PTA. The fathers and mothers of School District 17 not only should be, but deserve to be, fully informed of all developments within the district so that they can exercise their right to vote on these matters in an intelligent and an informed manner.

Therefore, knowing of your impartiality in these matters of public concern, and realizing your intense desire to present all sides fairly, I hereby offer my humble services as a speaker on that evening.

As you are no doubt aware, I and my wife as well as eight other resident taxpayers of this school district took issue with the manner in which the Hicksville Library Board of Trustees proceeded to acquire the land upon which they now hope to build. Further, if you have followed the subsequent court proceedings you will be aware of the fact that the court, Mr. Justice Suozzi presiding, ruled in our behalf in the majority of the issues at stake. Further, you will be interested to learn that in the one remaining issue, a most vital one to this community's informed electorate, an appeal has been lodged. Naturally, this appeal places the forthcoming referendum in a very precarious light to say the very least.

Of intense concern to the taxpayers of Hicksville will be the desirability of spending thousands of dollars for a referendum at this time when an unfavorable decision to the Library Board would invalidate all their efforts. Of even greater importance to our taxpayers would be a full understanding of the methods employed by the Library Board to circumvent the voters whole and complete right to have voted on the original purchase prior to their having done so. This inalienable right has been upheld in the court. Needless to say there are other vital issues at stake, as well as many questions that have not been answered to date.

The voters of Hicksville will want to know exactly what is happening. They will want to know in order to make an intelligent decision at the polls. You, and the PTA council, will want to know in the public good. Undoubtedly, the members present will wish to ask many questions on the subject. Mr. Harry Goebel, our attorney, is most willing to answer any questions of a legal nature upon which I am incompetent to pass judgment. I earnestly hope that Mr. McClain is of the same feeling; that he will answer all questions openly, and to the best of his ability.

A copy of this letter is being sent to our local town newspapers with the hope that it will engender sufficient interest to insure a large turnout and thus insure a most successful and memorable evening.
Most sincerely,
/s/ George M. Martin

Jr., of Hicksville, is being reassigned to Webb AFB, Tex., following his graduation from the technical training course for United States Air Force jet aircraft mechanics here.

Airman Hendrickson was trained in the maintenance and inspection of jet fighter planes currently in use by the Air Force.

The airman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Hendrickson Sr., of 123 E. Ave., Hicksville, attended Hicksville Senior High School.

BERNARD BRAUN (left), Principal of Hicksville Junior High School, Hicksville, accepts a $3,000 Assistance Grant for Education from Bert S. Cross, president of the 3M Company. The award climaxed the $1,500,000 grant program in which Hicksville Junior High School won one of the 500 national awards. The award ceremony was held recently at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York City, where Mr. Cross praised Mr. Braun and other educators for their leadership in contemporary education.

Each of the recipient schools is being presented with a model visual communications system consisting of eleven classroom overhead projectors, two transparency makers and transparency film and copy paper. This system enables teachers to produce transparencies from a variety of source materials such as newspaper articles, textbook materials, student homework or class assignments. These transparencies, projected before the class, enable teachers to present new facts and ideas clearly and dramatically.

Russian Film At Library

"Alexander Nevsky", the Russian made film directed by Sergei Eisenstein will be shown at the Hicksville Public Library on Wednesday, Feb. 26 at 9 p.m.

This masterpiece, made in 1938, is considered one of the greatest films ever produced, because of the remarkable talents of Eisenstein and Sergei Prokofiev, who wrote the music. Prokofiev's "Alexander Nevsky" cantata has become a standard-orchestral work and the film has had great influence on the art.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Morgan

You will be receiving in your mail or—possibly have already received it—a brochure explaining why you should vote for the library referendum on March 6 to authorize spending $362,500 on expanding the library.

The brochure will be carefully worded to make you feel that if you are a friend of the library and that if you believe in library books for the children and the growing "explosion" of teenagers, you will have to vote for the referendum.

But if you will look back over the brochure you will see certain things that are important for you to know about this referendum.

First of all NO MONEY is to be authorized for the purchase of books through this referendum or any referendum. Books are a part of the regular library budget. You will also notice that $355,000 is being asked to expand the library just a little bit. The plans call for an addition to the periodical room and the reading room and then something called an unfinished basement. This $256,000 is not for the land but just for building these minimal additions. The amount to be authorized for land will be $6,000 additional because $17,000 has already been paid to the landowner in a maneuver that the Court okayed only provisionally if the balance were paid from fines and fees. (The case is being appealed to even change the latter concession).

Now this column has always considered itself a friend of the public library (the author has written books found in the library) but as a friend, we do not think that it should go unsaid that this library referendum is just not right.

First of all it will be paying too much for too little—it won't add one book to the library and the amount of floor space doesn't appear to increase proportionately for the great sum of money to be spent.

Secondly the library expansion should await the outcome of the Court appeal which might very well set aside this referendum even if it is approved. On the latter point the Hicksville School Board showed traditionally bad judgment in permitting this referendum which will cost the taxpayers $5,000 or more, no matter which way it comes out.

There are times when you have to tell your best friend he is wrong—so as a friend of the library we must tell the voters to turn down the referendum.

Incidence Of Stomach Cancer Is Decreasing

By C. A. Dean, M.D.

The total number of cancers, like the cost of living, has been spiraling upwards, with lung cancers showing the sharpest rise. All others have increased slightly or remained the same, except for one—stomach cancer, which has shown a decided dip. Why this is so is not known at present and has been the subject of much speculation and debate. Also, the incidence of stomach cancers is 5 per cent of all types in the United States, and 33 per cent incidence in Russia.

Everything, up until the present, has been purely a guess as to why such a wide variation in incidence should exist between the United States and Russia. The first possibility that comes to mind is the type and quantity of food used by different people. Russians, I think, rely heavily on bulky foods which, somehow, may place an added burden on the stomach. Preparation of the food may also be important as well as the type and frequency of drink, both hard and soft.

The decreased number of stomach cancers certainly is a bright spot in the cancer picture. We would like to know why because by this knowledge we may be able to reduce other cancers and perhaps make a significant breakthrough into the cause of all cancers. Whatever the answer may be we can at least be thankful that one type of this dread disease is on the decline in the United States. This is especially true since stomach cancers are hard to find and treat.

Compulsory Education For Life

By Russell Kirk

IF SOME EDUCATIONISTS HAD THEIR WAY, they would keep us all bound to "free and compulsory schooling" until we were ready for the coffin. Think of the jobs for deans and professors of teachers' colleges, public-school superintendents and principals, that such a measure would furnish!

The latest educationist proposal of this sort recently was advanced, sober-sidedly, by a body called "The Educational Policies Commission." Despite the official ring of that delusory label, this "Commission" is not a governmental body, but merely an arm of the National Education Association and its affiliates — the school-administrators' lobby.

These EPC people want "two years of college" for everybody, free of charge, as an inalienable right. Intelligence, interest, and psychological qualities in the prospective students are brushed aside by the members of the "Commission" as irrelevant: everybody's going to be sent to a community college, see, and like it — or else. These educationists refer to these two additional years of schooling as "the thirteenth and fourteenth years of education" — that is, the thirteenth and fourteenth grades, in substance. You will understand, gentle reader, that the educationists of this Commission are public-school administrators, not scholars of college professors: they are thinking in terms of a mere extension of high school, not genuinely liberal education of the real college sort.

Now if some enemy of the American mind and character were to design the ruin of the higher learning in this country, he could contrive no more baneful scheme than this fatuous project. For the great problem of our universities and colleges already is the presence on the campus of a great mass of young people uninterested in anything for the mind, unprepared for college studies, unwilling to make any effort to learn, and swamping their professors in apathy and ignorance. This leads to the neglect of the really promising students (through, for instance, countless hours spent in trying to correct the spelling and arithmetic of freshmen who just haven't mastered the Three R's and don't care,) and the thorough discouragement of college professors. Approximately half of the students who enroll at our colleges today drop out without graduating — mostly because of their own incompetence.

The present college population consists of the upper one-fourth or one-third of our high school graduates, generally speaking. Add to this relative upper crust the mass of two-thirds of our high school graduates who are inferior to present college freshmen — and imagine the waste of money and time upon young people who will actively resist development of their intellects — and who, most of them, rightfully desire to become active in life, not to endure further schooling! What we need is improvement of the quality of present primary and secondary schools, not mere dreary prolongation of the process, which already bores to tears any young man or woman with imagination and energy. And we need equally a reform of teaching-training, and of the processes by which people become school administrators — and officers of the National Education Association.

Pizza Parade For Plainview

The local chapter of the American Field Service announces it is now taking orders for delivery of pizza pies on Saturday, April 18, 1964. The entire proceeds of this sale will go to the continuation of the International Scholarship Program in Plainview-Old Bethpage.

Through AFS, students from many foreign lands spend a year as high school seniors in over 3,000 communities throughout the United States. Because of such participation, each community earns the opportunity for one of its own students to visit or attend school in a foreign land. Our first two student guests were Hasan Petek-kaya of Turkey and Lorenna Tan of Singapore (now Malaysia.) Both have since corresponded to say how wonderful and valuable was their experience here - and how warmly they remember their many friends.

The pies will be delivered in the afternoon by student AFS Club members. Mr. Cohen, the Piz-A-Pizza proprietor, says they will be partially pre-baked, frozen and individually wrapped, ready for the freezer or immediate use. Although good reports were received on the first sale over a year ago, improved delivery preparation should produce even better results this time.

The Chapter asks your support by enjoying a good pie or two. Place your order now by calling K.D. Biersack at WE 5-0283.

There has been an excellent response to the call for volunteers to help enclose letters and folders for mailing to the residents and businesses in Hicksville and other communities. The work is being done in the basement of the Seaman & Eisemann, Inc., building, 167 South Broadway, Hicksville, between 12:00 noon and 4:00 p.m. every day except Saturday, until the end of February. More volunteers are needed to lighten the load of work yet to be done.

Rosebury is in charge of arranging for window dis-

Why Not Dill Pickle Ice Cream?

By Edward J. Van Allen

According to a recent press advisory, dill pickle ice cream was served at a meeting of the National Pickle Packers Association in Palo Alto, California.

But that, presumably, wasn't enough to give the pickle packers their just deserts. Another advisory, this one datelined London, trumpeted forth the news that the Tomato and Cucumber Marketing Board has forbidden the sale of crooked cucumbers.

When I read choice items like these, I wonder where the big metropolitan dailies get the ineffable gall to put Khrushchev and Johnson on the front page.

On the other hand, both these gentlemen of world renown very likely would deserve front-page spreads if the latest news reports should touch off a new kind of cold war triggered by a black market in crooked cucumbers.

I can envision President Johnson sending Khrushchev a stiff note accusing Russia of flooding the world market with dill pickle ice cream made from crooked cucumbers. Then China, at the moment just about as welcome in the West as the black plague — or crooked cukes — will probably try to norn into the act by offering to mediate the cucumber differences of the two formidable powers.

Surely, if it is hard to justify the sale of crooked cucumbers to an unwary public, it is still harder to imagine how the edict of the Tomato and Cucumber Marketing Board can be enforced — short, of course, of a summit meeting of the world's peak powers.

Another approach at enforcement might be the immediate issuance of a pronouncement on the subject by the United Nations. But even if the latter eventually should eventuate, the United Nations would have to set up squads of crooked cucumber spotters ready to travel at a moment's notice to any corner of the world to study the growth and severity of any possible crooked cucumber threat to world peace.

Not only is this a knotty problem; it's a kind of gourdian knot, if you'll pardon the liberty.

However that may be, there is ample cause to wonder about the shadiness of the practice, heretofore pursued with abandon, or foisting deformed gourds upon an unsuspecting world. To put the matter in proper perspective, though, the answer is absurdly plain: Crooked cucumbers are obviously grown for people with corkscrew gullets. Or for people with deviated esophagi, to put it a little more delicately.

I myself am now on constant guard for gourds with shady pasts, and I warn all housewives to be likewise. When I go to the market, I look for cukes that have clearly followed the straight and narrow and grown straight and tall, as any self-respecting gourd would.

Not that I have anything against our cucumbers for their rather devious growing habits, mind you. I just decry the warty appearance of squash, cukes and other gourds. To rid them of their unsightliness, I advocate injecting a little anti-wart medicine into each seed before it is planted.

Concededly, this ruse might not cause squash or cucumbers to mend their crooked ways. But think of what it would do to pretify the gourds.

Gawd, what an inspiration!

Odds and Endments

THAT "inventory" of supplies and equipment either stored or buried away in the Duffy Ave. storehouse rented by the Hicksville School District grossly insults the intelligence of the people of Hicksville.

Significantly missing from the "inventory" are the cost to the district of the goods inventoried, their present estimated value, and their possible value if sold or auctioned off.

Of further significance is the fact that neither the "inventory" nor the unsigned alibiing explanation put out by the School Board of administration is sworn to. So, of course, no pillar of Hicksville school government is bound by the content of these missives.

if private businesses were run so haphazardly they wouldn't be around very long. But then, what can the public expect from public bodies bent on covering up waste?....

THE MOVE to establish a county-wide vocational education system plainly shows that the respective school districts haven't been doing their job in providing proper educational opportunities for ALL the children of this county. Actually, there are only two district-run vocational schools in Nassau County — one in the poorly run East Meadow School District and the other at Sewanaka, also subject to severe criticism since it boots the very kids who need vocational training most out of school if they are poor in academic subjects.

The bid to provide county-wide facilities for educating the handicapped is worthwhile, though. Present facilities open to the handicapped are inadequate, not to say laughably poor. Witness the appallingly shabby treatment the county and other "do-gooding" agencies in Nassau accorded Levittown's deaf, cerebral-palsied child. When the mother sought educational help for her child, all she — and her child — got for her trouble was a good kicking around, from pillar to post...

WHEN a Supreme Court justice couldn't work on a recent Sunday at county-rented quarters at 33 Willis Ave., Mineola, that was one thing. But when the regular help arrived next morning to find no heat in the building and an office thermometer read 48 degrees, that was quite another.

Appeals to the building management don't seem to get anywhere. There have been many heatless days at 33 Willis Avenue this and other winters.

I have the one and only solution: Why not pipe some of that hot air top county politicians constantly spout directly into the rented quarters? I'll wager it will keep the hird help warm as toast. County Executive Eugene Nickerson has been looking for beneficial suggestions. How's this one, Mr. Nick?

AN ATTEMPT BY A SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER TO CONTROL THE PRESS!

THIS EDITORIAL BROUGHT REPRISALS

THINKING IT OVER

by ROBERT L. MORGAN

Many people in Hicksville were surprised to find that the School Board held a referendum on Saturday morning after the assassination of the President. Practically everything else was cancelled out of respect for the President. We suspect that the people backing the building expansion did not want to forsake the possibility that in postponing the election that it might be defeated by a large turnout.

If the District did intend to go ahead with the referendum it might have sent out a sound truck and had it announced on the various radio stations. Most people were listening to radio or TV anyway and they would have heard that the vote would go on as scheduled. That is if the Board really wanted a big vote on the issue.

The groups for bigger, and they say better schools show some inconsistency to the children when they will use a day of national mourning to achieve their goals.

.. SERIOUS THREATS

Remarks of School Board member George W. Kunz asking for a School Board motion to penalize the Mid Island Times

"Mr. Chairman, I think as policy we designated two official (advertising) newspapers, one being the Mid Island Herald and the other the Mid Island Times, and up until two weeks ago, in my opinion there was no objection on my part. But having been shocked by something I read as an editorial by the Mid Island Times the week after our referendum which practically implied that the Board held the referendum on the Saturday following the president's assassination, practically implied that we arranged for it just so that we could get our referendum passed. I would like to see the policy changed with respect to the Mid Island Times being designated as an official (advertising) newspaper of this district. I don't mind saying before the public that I thought the editorial was one of the worst pieces of journalism I have seen and I think it impugned the motives of the Board members. I think it was a disgrace to the people of Hicksville and for that reason I don't see any reason why we should have to continue to have to keep this newspaper as an official (advertising) newspaper of this district."

"As an alternate I would suggest, in line with Mr. Lawrence's suggestion right now that we designate the Long Island Press as an alternate for the remainder of this fiscal year until our next annual meeting."

(These remarks are transcribed from an actual recording made at the meeting.)

.. and CONFIRMING LETTERS

Litmor Publications, Inc.
Hicksville, New York

Dear Sir:

It is obvious that you have been misinformed as to the real reason for my motion. It was not motivated by the bill submitted.

In the interest of fairness, I will propose that the Board give you time to render a personal explanation of your position on the real issue involved—if you indicate that you will attend our next meeting on January 10.

Please let me know no later than January 3rd.

George W. Kunz

Litmor Publications
Hicksville, New York
Dear Mr. Morgan:

The motion I made to the Board—which passed unanimously—actually turned on the word "fair." It dealt with the editorial you wrote the week after our referendum which I hardly thought was "fair."

It is certainly not my intention to try to censor your editorials. You can write what you wish. But when, in my judgement, you unfairly impugn the motives of the Board in the manner you did then I hardly think you can expect the Board to take it kindly.

If you have some explanation or apology, I will certainly consider it in the light of fairness. I realize the President's assassination affected us all very deeply, but I think an Editor has more responsibility than was shown by your editorial.

Yours sincerely,

George W. Kunz

... and OUR ANSWER

I have not come before this Board tonight to apologize for any opinions that I have written. I am here to demand the resignation of Mr. George W. Kunz from this School Board. Mr. Kunz has misused his office and committed an act which is in the nature of bribery. It is an act that cannot be condoned by anyone and will bring disgrace upon the Board of Education.

It was with shock and amazement that I read a letter from Board member Kunz suggesting that I might come to this Board meeting and apologize for editorial opinions I had written in the Mid Island Times. These opinions questioned the propriety of holding balloting on the school referendum on the Saturday after Pres. Kennedy was assassinated.

The shock was that I never suspected Mr. Kunz who has been elected to the Board of Education in Hicksville would take it upon himself to influence a newspaper and actually distort the contents of a newspaper editorial.

The shock was intensified when in listening to the recorded minutes of the meeting of December 13, that Mr. Kunz would dare to openly state that this was a reason for withdrawing legal advertising from the newspaper.

I want Mr. Kunz to know without reservation that it is not his place to direct the editorial policy of any newspaper and that if the position he was elected to on the School Board by a narrow margin, has so inflated his ego that he believes he has this power, he has much to learn. It is a breach of office for any member of a School Board to suggest that in addition to purchasing something—in this case advertising—that he is entitled to something extra. This is a misuse of public office. The School Board and Mr. Kunz have no reason to expect any special treatment by newspapers that they by law place advertising in. If this were the case there would be no criticism of any public office and no newspapers worth printing.

In the case of a Board of Education trying to establish this practice it is even worse. They are supposed to represent the highest goals of education which must of necessity be in accord with the Constitution of the United States. To blatantly attempt to control newspapers with tax money is incongruous.

The facts are clearcut in this case and beyond debate. Mr. Kunz even confirmed in letters to the newspaper that he was penalizing it for its editorial and that it would get what he calls "fair treatment"—that is the Board would buy the usual advertising space—if the editorials were friendly. There is no way that the Commissioner of Education can approve of this. It is wrong, disgraceful and a misuse of public office. If Mr. Kunz does not voluntarily resign, we are sure he will be ousted.

In order to help bring this about more quickly we will reprint the editorial which was attacked—Mr. Kunz letters to the newspaper, our answer and a coupon to the Commissioner of Education asking that he act on this with due speed. This material will run each week where space is available until the school budget vote at the end of the year or until Mr. Kunz resigns.

In order to divorce this issue from a monetary one, the Mid Island Times has decided not to accept any more legal advertising from the Hicksville School District for the remainder of this fiscal year, regardless of whether the action of the Board is reversed or not.

To: Commissioner of Education

James E. Allen, Jr.

Albany I, N. Y.

THE ATTEMPT TO INTIMIDATE AND SUBJUGATE THE MID ISLAND TIMES IS SHOCKING. Please advise the Hicksville School Board that it is a misuse of Public Office Funds.

The judging took place at the party and the judges were hard pressed to choose winners from the many original and attractive posters submitted.

The theme was "we Need Space", pertaining of course, to the coming library referendum on needed expansion that is to be voted upon March 7.

The winners were: 1 - Amy Brill, 37 Hunter Lane. 2 Dorothy Hago, 52 Twinlawn Ave. 3 - Debbie Gorlin, 30 Primrose Ave. 4 - Sharie Siegel, 39 Barry Drive. 5 - Leslie Auerbach, 46 Barry Drive.

The prizes, popular books for young people, were donated by the Hicksville Public Library Association.

Allice Goss, Vice President in charge of membership proposed that a prize of $50.00, to be used for a day for two at the World's Fair, be given to the Club member bringing in the most new members between now and the April meeting.

A report was made on the recent Installation Dinner-Dance and V.P. in charge of Finance, Henry Gloia, announced that a Card Party will be held in April and a Square Dance in June.

Program for the meeting consisted of a debate on the Pros and Cons of Off-Track Betting. President Ronnie Burke introduced Mac Singer and John Brogita, who spoke for, and Arthur Randall and Henry Gloia, who spoke against the question. Both sides were adequately presented by the participants and stimulated much thinking and discussion on this controversial issue.

New members sworn in by Councilman Louis Sista were: William Bieker, James Roode, Stanley Zeleski, Elizabeth Stickler and Roy Butler.

Tom Morris, Director of Events for Eastern Nassau at the New York State Pavilion at the World's Fair, asked to be advised of any groups that might be interested in presenting some type of entertainment on any of the five days designated for Eastern Nassau in June and August. Three Attend Teachers' Assn

Three area educators will attend a working session of the New York State Teachers Association Legislative Council in Albany on February 24. They are David I. Goldman, professor of Education at Brooklyn College; William J. Devaux, Berner Jr. H.S., Massapequa; and John Lundy, teacher at Bethpage Jr. High School.

The group, representing all 15 zones of the state, is scheduled to meet for a legislative briefing session at NYSTA State Headquarters, 152 Washington Ave., followed by visits with members of the Legislature at the Capitol.

The NYSTA legislative program, formulated at the November delegate assembly by representatives of the organization's 94,000 members, ranges from expansion of the State University to health insurance for teachers. A particular item of interest is the 5% take-home-pay plan, an arrangement whereby the employer of a teacher will pay up to 5% of his or her retirement contribution. The plan is now enjoyed by all state employees, faculties of state colleges, and staff of certain community colleges.

Two Get Nurse Scholarships

Two students from Plainview High School were winners of Regents Scholarships for basic professional education in nursing as a result of competitive examinations held last October 1. The winners are Laurence Krantz and Mary L. Maher.

GLANCING OVER THE BLUE PRINTS of the new Twin Town and Country Theaters at Mid-Island Plaza are Lawrence McCaffrey, Jules Schwartz, Rudolf Bouse, Chairman, Jirah Cole and Chester Spinek, all members of the Hicksville Business and Industry Committee of The March of Dimes. The theater opening for the benefit of The National Foundation - is expected in May and is going to be a gala premier.

Mr. Bouse, Chairman for Hicksville, still stressed the need for continued support from the local businessmen. "When you realize how lucky we are with our normal, healthy families - we should stop to realize that one in sixteen children born have a significant birth defect and they are the concern of all people. Please don't forget to send in your donations so that we can aid these new born babies."

Press Assn. Holds Meeting

Twenty-seven editors and publishers of community newspapers in Nassau County have decided to revitalize the Nassau County Press Assoc. The decision was made at a dinner meeting held Feb. 14 at the Executive Restaurant in Mineola. Litchor Publications were represented at the meeting by Robert L. Morgan.

Temporary officers will continue for a period of three months until committees on nominations and by-laws have reported. Temporary president is Fred J. Noeth, Mid Island Herald, who was president of the Assoc. from 1951 to 1954. Other officers include: Gloria Amsterdam, Wantagh Citizen, vice president; Kay Von Freymann, Bellmore Home News, secretary; Fred Simon, Elmontor, treasurer; William Davis, Helm-Independent (Lynbrook) Review; and Nicholas Napoli, Baldwin Citizen, executive committee.

Independent Art At Library

The Independent Art Society will hold an exhibit at the Hicksville Public Library Auditorium, March 2 thru 28.

Keep your mind on the road, not on your troubles. Don't worry about business, the family, or what may happen tomorrow. Keep alert to what's happening now. Good driving's a full-time job requiring an alert mind and body. If you must worry, do it in your leisure time.

WHEN YOU DRIVE...

Think now, complain later. "Med" at someone or something? Turn it off when you turn your ignition on. Anger, no matter who or what it's directed at, can color your whole driving attitude, making you a menace to other motorists on the road.

THINK

Think wise... think easy... think careful, cautious, cheerful, courteous driving. Good driving is the responsibility of every motorist. A cheerful attitude toward others on the road will get you to your destination more relaxed than if you find fault with every driver along the way. Think careful driving when you're behind the wheel. And, when you think of protection against the hazards of other not-so-careful drivers, think of State Farm, the careful driver's insurance company.

Fishman Advises Teen Dems

Edward Gianelli, Democratic Zone Leader of Hicksville, today announced that he had appointed Abraham Fishman, of 22 Balsam Drive, Hicksville, adviser to the Hicksville Teen Democratic Club.

Mr. Fishman, an attorney and a Democratic Committeeman of the 115

E.D., thus joins Mr. Fred Sutter in the task of guiding the politically active teen-agers of Hicksville, who have enlisted under the Democratic banner.

Mr. Fishman, upon his appointment, urged interested junior and senior high school students to join the Club as an extension of their citizen training in school. Meetings are held on the third Friday of each month, at 4th A.D. Democratic headquarters on West Nicholas Street, in Hicksville, at 8 p.m. The next meeting will be held on February 21st.

In Service

Marine Second Lieut. H. J. OLITSKY, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Olitsky of 73 Sleepy Lane, Hicksville, is participating in "Operation Springboard" with Marine Medium Helicopter Squadron 264 in the Caribbean area. The operation, conducted annually by units of the Atlantic Fleet and Atlantic Fleet Marine Force, takes advantage of the favorable weather of the Caribbean to conduct amphibious landings and flight training operations.

Marine Private THOMAS A. GUIGLIANO, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Guigliano of 23 Fulton ave., Hicksville, completed recruit training February 13 at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

The training included drill, bayonet training, physical conditioning, parades and ceremonies and other military subjects. Three weeks were spent on the rifle range firing the M-14 rifle and other infantry weapons.

Recruit training prepares Marines for further specialized training in a service school or with a unit of the Fleet Marine Force. They will report to Camp Lejeune, N.C., for combat infantry training.

Yes, Pontiac makes 30 cars all together. (We counted twice; it's 30.)
No, they're definitely not all alike. A Le Mans is luxurious; a Bonneville, more so. A Catalina Safari wagon totes even bigger loads than a Tempest Safari. A GTO's still sprightlier than our sporty Grand Prix.
No, not all Pontiacs are expensive though they certainly do look it.
Yes, Pontiac Tempests sell right down there in the low-price field.
No, you won't get a good deal just because it's Washington's Birthday.
Yes, you'll get a good buy because Pontiac's selling and that's the truth!

For straightforward answers to your other Pontiac and Tempest questions, ask your truthful Pontiac dealer at his Washington's Birthday Open House.

ROBERT P. BOWEN, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bowen of 42 Hope Lane, Hicksville, recently began two-weeks of active Naval Reserve training duty at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The training includes naval orientation, history and organization, seamanship, ordnance and gunnery, military drill, first aid and survival.

Upon completing the program he will return home, where, as a member of the Naval Reserve, he will be provided with modern educational facilities to study in any one of a number of specialized fields.
