A small vote approved the $262,500 expansion plans of the Hicksville Library Board Saturday. The vote was 1,334 for and 933 against the expansion.

Approved in the vote is an extension to the reading room at the library, an extension to the periodical room and a finished basement in the new 20 foot by 50 foot extension.

The referendum approved in Saturday's voting was a modified version of a referendum turned down by voters in 1962. The library was last expanded in 1956.

Low Cost Insurance Offered

A new, low-cost, group-rate mortgage insurance plan, designed to protect home-owning families in the event of the breadwinner's demise has been put into effect by Central Federal Savings & Loan Association, Hicksville. It was disclosed by Peter F. Amoroso, Association Vice President.

Conceived and introduced as "an additional service for Central Federal mortgage clients," this insurance plan, according to Mr. Amoroso, "will wipe out all or most of the mortgage balance remaining at the time of the homeowner's death and will permit his family, in most cases, to obtain free and clear ownership of their home without additional payments of any kind."

Schools Still Use Questionable Brain Tests

The Mid-Island Times this week uncovered evidence of the use in the Hicksville public schools of three psychological tests found wanting by experts and possibly extremely harmful to children subjected to them.

One of the tests is the Kuder Preference Scale, a job-interest inventory much used in the schools.

Martin L. Gross, in his book, "The Brain Watchers," charges that the interest inventories are of little value because children's interests change so rapidly. He cites a study which showed that "young people rarely enter occupations indicated by inventories taken while in school."

Edward J. Van Allen, whose book, "The Branded Child," an expose of psychological testing and other privacy-invading practices in the schools, is expected to be on the market by April 1, recently recounted the experience of an attorney told by his high school guidance counselor that all the (psychological) tests showed the student should be an aircraft mechanic.

"I didn't want to be an aircraft mechanic," the would-be lawyer said. "I told the guidance counselor I wanted to become a lawyer."

"Oh, no," said the G.C. All our findings definitely show that you should be an aircraft mechanic."

Result: The boy who hadn't the slightest interest in mechanics, aircraft or otherwise, today is a very successful lawyer.

The other tests, the Rorschach Inkblot and the Thematic Apperception Test (TAT), have been used in the Hicksville schools. But Marvin E. Gibson, administrative assistant to Superintendent of Schools Donald Abt, has said that the TAT is no longer used in Hicksville, although he admitted it had been on the "approved list for about ten years."

On the basis of Rorschach and TAT findings, a school psychologist may determine that a child is mentally ill and may recommend psychiatric treatment, even though the reliability of both tests has been attacked by psychologists themselves. On that score, the TAT manual itself says: "...we should not expect the repeat reliability of the test to be high..."

The original TAT was published by Harvard University Press. A list of psychological tests in use in the Hicksville schools lists The Psychological Corporation of New York as the publisher of the TAT formerly in use in the schools and also as publisher of the Rorschach.

The TAT manual published by Harvard University Press says: "The TAT will be found useful in any comprehensive study of personality, and in the interpretation of behavior disorders, psychosomatic illnesses, neuroses, and psychoses." Significantly, it adds: "As now constituted (the test) is not suitable for children under four years of age. The technique is especially recommended as a preface to a series of psychotherapeutic interviews or to a short psychoanalysis."

Van Allen has charged in the past that the TAT "employs the big-lie technique used by many psychological tests to disarm the patient, often times a school child, subjected to it. The test manual says: 'This is a test for imagination, one form of intelligence.' Actually," said Van Allen, "the test is used, sometimes in conjunction with the Rorschach Inkblot Test, to determine whether the patient (school child) is mentally ill or not, in the psychologist's judgment."

Many times in the past the author of "The Branded Child" has charged that children on Long Island have been "branded as mentally ill by school psychologists using questionable materials to arrive at such diagnoses." He has said at least one school psychologist in East Meadow and possibly others in Hicksville have used the TAT and Rorschach Test to diagnose mental illness in an untold number of school children.

When Van Allen demanded a couple of years ago that East Meadow Superintendent of Schools Edward J. McCleary divulge the number of East Meadow school children referred to psychiatrists by East Meadow school psychologists during two particular years, the superintendent refused to supply the information.

In a recent speech, Van Allen warned that lay school psychologists who use "questionable materials" to "diagnose mental illness" in school children invite possible lawsuits for assault, malpractice, practicing medicine without a license, libel, and for invading family privacy.

"The Branded Child" bares many of the abuses of uncontrolled psychological and other super-secret practices in the schools and tells parents what they may do about the abuses.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Morgan

The library expansion was approved by a small, but fair vote, Saturday. Only a handful of families voted at all compared with the number of taxpayers in Hicksville who could have expressed an opinion. But the vote was fair there is no denying, if the voters do not express their opinions on issues they should not complain about too much taxes later on—and there will be some increases coming along on the school budget this year.

We hope that we were wrong about the need for the library expansion. We hope that the library board is right and that it will benefit the community with added library service. Only time will tell now.

The Hicksville School Board is upset over the good coverage given to its school budget in the Long Island Press. The faculty room where the school board meets had its bulletin board plastered with disparaging remarks printed by mimeograph concerning the news story about the upcoming budget in the Press. It seems that the Press story called a spade a spade and said that there would be a big increase in school taxes in Hicksville this year and this of course to the school board is irresponsible. We look for that humble exponent of democracy, school board member George Kunz to call the Press editor down for an apology to the board any day now.

There will be a big development in the Mr. Kunz vs. this newspaper story very soon now.

'Chronic' Sinus Can Be Eased Not Cured

By C. A. Dean, M. D.

(Q) "Please give me some information about a chronic infection in the sinus. Can it be cured?" P.B.

(A) There are several sets of sinus cavities behind the cheek, nose and forehead bones. With almost every cold some swelling and inflammation is present in most of these. If the openings to the sinus through which germs enter become too swollen, the drainage of the infection is prevented. Thus a chronic sinus infection occurs. If regular medication from your doctor doesn't help, then referral to a nose specialist will be necessary.

Editorial: The characteristic rash of shingles appears as crops of small blisters with areas of redness around them. There may be one or several crops but they usually follow the course of a nerve. On the chest the nerves run parallel with the ribs and thus a rash there will seem to be located just over or along side the ribs. After a few days the blisters tend to dry out and scab over.

The pain of shingles also follows the course of the nerve. It may occur before, during or after the appearance of the rash. If it occurs before, several days may pass before the diagnosis of shingles can be made. Even after the pain and rash are gone, there may be soreness remaining at the original site. Some patients describe the pain as either a deep burning or an intense itching.

The areas where shingles most commonly occur are the chest, neck, eyes and groin. Usually one side only is involved but occasionally it is seen on both sides of the body. Occasionally a form of neuralgia pain may last for several months after an acute illness of shingles has subsided. Eventually the pain will disappear, although to the patient it may seem like an eternity.

Treatment depends upon the severity of the pain and neuralgia. Various drugs and injections have been used with good results for relief of pain. Soothing ointments and lotions are helpful.

Scholar Grants From Meadowbrook

Nearly $60,000 in college scholarships have been given to Long Island schools in the past five years by the Meadow Brook National Bank, it was announced today by Walter E. Van der Waag, president.

In 1959 Meadow Brook launched a program of giving "Completion" scholarships amounting to $250 each to college juniors or seniors who needed financial assistance to finish their work for a degree. This aid was made available through the Scholarship Committee at Adelphi, C. W. Post and Hofstra. In 1961 St. John's University was added to the list.

"We have now entered the sixth year of the program with the announcement of the 1964-65 grants having just been made to these same four schools," Van der Waag said. "We are very proud of these scholarships because they represent an investment in our country's greatest asset—the young people who are tomorrow's citizens and leaders. We hope other business organizations on Long Island will be encouraged to lend their support in their own way as they see fit. The privately financed colleges on the Island need and deserve this help, but perhaps most importantly, will return the investment to the community many times over."

Information regarding the Meadow Brook scholarships is available in the Financial Aid Offices of the respective schools.

28 Attend Jr. High Festival

The Hicksville Jr. High School was well represented at the Nassau County Junior High School Festival held in Merrick on March 7. Some twenty-eight students from the bands, choruses, and orchestra participated.

The festival comprises the select students from the performing musical groups of the schools in Nassau County. It is an annual feat to have these young people become a part of a larger group in the county, led by conductors from various parts of the country.

This same group is scheduled to perform at the New York World's Fair at 4:00 P.M. on Tuesday, May 19th.

Petito To Speak To Civic Assn.

The guest speaker for the March 18 meeting of the Midland Civic Association will be Michael N. Petito, Supervisor of the Town of Oyster Bay. The Wednesday night meeting will be held at the Willet Ave. School in Hicksville at 8:30 p.m. Mr. Petito will speak on the operations of the Town Government, and problems which face representatives of the Town of Oyster Bay.

President Bob Brook has announced that something new has been added this year: a Junior Civic Association, encompassing teen-agers of members. They will learn about civic affairs, and will hold their own socials. They are now in the process of making their own by-laws and their youth officers are to be elected at the annual business meeting of the Civic Association in May. Fred Geiger is the liaison member on the Board of Directors.

Membership of the Midland Civics hit an all-time high this year. They cover the northern section of Hicksville and a part of Jericho. During their ten years, this organization had had an active part in many community affairs and projects. Their monthly newspaper is delivered to members and residents in the area.

The Tenth Anniversary Dinner Dance of this organization will be held on April 18th at the Holiday Manor. At this writing it looks as though it will be a sell-out as it was last year.

Candy Sale Big Success

The Hicksville Poles Boys Club held a special Easter Candy Sale on Saturday, March 7, and are extremely proud to announce that it was a huge success.

The Hicksville Unit has been conducting candy sales as a means of fund raising for a number of years, and this was the first time a candy sale was completed in one day. The sponsors and the boys started out at 9:00 A.M. from the Elks Club in Hicksville, and began to cover the territory that was assigned to them.

Each and every boy did their share to help make the sale a success. The sponsors of the organization also deserve a great deal of credit for all the time and preparation they put into this project.

We'd also like to thank the people of Hicksville for purchasing our candy and to those of you who gave donations. Your kindness and generosity, is always greatly appreciated.

The sponsors of the Hicksville P.B.C. extend their heartfelt thanks to Mrs. Audrey Windhorst, of the Ladies Auxiliary and Mr. Frank Mulligan, of the Mens Club for the time and effort they put into their first project as Presidents of their club.

How Uncle Sam Triggers Shotgun Weddings

By Edward J. Van Allen

Uncle Sam's in cahoots with the women. Especially the unmarried women. What's more, I can prove it.

Take bachelor Bill. The poor bloke's a picture of human misery of the abject sort. Why? For years now, he's managed to keep just one small, unsure step ahead of matrimony. But the jaws of the marital trap are slowly, yet steadily closing in on him. And Uncle Samuel is helping the gals manipulate the man-trap.

Each year around income tax time Bill gets that vacant, "I'm being beaten into the arms of femininity" stare. He knows that one day he'll be the victim of a shotgun wedding. And it's his very own Uncle who will be holding the weapon.

Of course, the gun is only loaded with blanks. But in this instance they happen to be rather potent income tax blanks.

Let's get down to cases. Bill makes $10,000 a year. According to the income tax table, without any dependents and discounting other possible deductions, he must pay the government $2,640 in income tax.

His friend John, on the other hand, long married and the father of five noisy $600 deductions, also makes $10,000 a year. Again disregarding other deductions, John, because of his income-slicing dependents, is obligated to pay only $1,196 a year in income tax.

Do you see how Uncle Sam discriminates against bachelors? It costs bachelor Bill $1,444 MORE hard-earned dollars to keep himself in a state of celibacy than it costs John to maintain himself in a very definite state of uncelibacy.

Not only that, if Bill's salary jumped to $20,000 a year, he'd have to hand over a cool $7,260 in Federal income tax, not to say what the state would knock him for.

Long married John, conversely, would have to pay only $3,860.

No matter how you total up the comparable tax tabs, the diabolically clever Uncle Sam has a shotgun smack in the middle of Bill's back, and he's using it to nudge him slowly but inevitably toward the altar.

Bill might, admittedly, be better off if he had a sweet $600 deduction in the form of a comely wife. Then, if he was as fortunate as his friend Tom, he might get two other unexpected deductions.

It seems Tom went down to the Internal Revenue Bureau for help in filling out his income tax form. Like any mortals on the receiving end of moneys, the revenue men there were all smiles and cooperation personified. A government man even filled out the form.

"Dependents?" he asked.

"Well, I have, er, parakeets," Tom smilingly answered in a low voice.

"What's their names?"

"Esmeralda and George. I call him 'George' because that's exactly what he is with Esmeralda."

The tax taker look a little mystified, but said: "That's $1,200 more in exemptions."

It wasn't until a year later that the parakeet exemptions came to light. They probably never would have except that Tom tried to claim the offspring of George and Esmeralda as additional dependents.

Called down to explain why George and Esmeralda had been claimed in the first place, Tom understandably blamed it all on the government man who had filled out the form.

At that, the revenue man slapped his hand to his face and exclaimed: "Jumping Jupiter! When he said 'parakeets' I thought he said a 'pair of kids!'"

Bill would probably never be quite so fortunate. His only hope is monogamy, bigamy or polygamy. And to practice the latter two pursuits successfully, he'd likely have to travel to climes far out of Uncle Sam's income tax-collecting clutches. Maybe he'll volunteer for a trip to the moon. It's about the only place, under the sun, I hear, in which the Income Tax Bureau has no jurisdiction.

and training tracks. Blacksmith shops, stalls and other locations in the stable area will provide additional background material for pictures.

All entries submitted in the competition will be on exhibit at the Raceway on July 18 and 19 when $1,200 will be awarded to prize winners in various categories. The selections of winners will be made by a panel of outstanding judges in the art and photographic fields. Complete rules and further information are obtainable by writing to Roosevelt, Raceway, Westbury, or by calling PT 6-6000.

We have additional subjects. However, if there is something special you want to get off your chest, this is your opportunity, but no religion or party politics, if you please.

Guests are always welcome. Those who prefer not to speak, will not be called upon. Come with your friends and enjoy an interesting evening.

Mr. Walter Jaslow will be Chairman for the evening.

The current racing meet will still be on during the competition period and it is estimated that more than one thousand horses will be stabled at Roosevelt at that time. Contestants will find their "models" being worked out on the main

AN ATTEMPT BY A SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER TO CONTROL THE PRESS!

THIS EDITORIAL BROUGHT REPRISALS . . . and OUR ANSWER

THINKING IT OVER

by ROBERT L. MORGAN

Many people in Hicksville were surprised to find that the School Board held a referendum on Saturday morning after the assassination of the President. Practically everything else was cancelled out of respect for the President. We suspect that the people backing the building expansion did not want to forsake the possibility that in postponing the election that it might be defeated by a large turnout.

If the District did intend to go ahead with the referendum it might have sent out a sound truck and had it announced on the various radio stations. Most people were listening to radio or TV anyway and they would have heard that the vote would go on as scheduled. That is if the Board really wanted a big vote on the issue.

The groups for bigger, and they say better schools show some inconsistency to the children when they will use a day of national mourning to achieve their goals.

SERIOUS THREATS

Remarks of School Board member George W. Kunz asking for a School Board motion to penalize the Mid Island Times

"Mr. Chairman, I think as policy we designated two official (advertising) newspapers, one being the Mid Island Herald and the other the Mid Island Times, and up until two weeks ago, in my opinion there was no objection on my part. But having been shocked by something I read as an editorial by the Mid Island Times the week after our referendum which practically implied that the Board held the referendum on the Saturday following the president's assassination, practically implied that we arranged for it just so that we could get our referendum passed. I would like to see the policy changed with respect to the Mid Island Times being designated as an official (advertising) newspaper of this district. I don't mind saying before the public that I thought the editorial was one of the worst pieces of journalism I have seen and I think it impugned the motives of the Board members. I think it was a disgrace to the people of Hicksville and for that reason I don't see any reason why we should have to continue to have to keep this newspaper as an official (advertising) newspaper of this district."

"As an alternate I would suggest, in line with Mr. Lawrence's suggestion right now that we designate the Long Island Press as an alternate for the remainder of this fiscal year until our next annual meeting."

and CONFIRMING LETTERS

Litmor Publications, Inc.
Hicksville, New York

Dear Sir:

It is obvious that you have been misinformed as to the real reason for my motion. It was not motivated by the bill submitted.

In the interest of fairness, I will propose that the Board give you time to render a personal explanation of your position on the real issue involved—if you indicate that you will attend our next meeting on January 10.

Please let me know no later than January 3rd.

George W. Kunz

Litmor Publications
Hicksville, New York
Dear Mr. Morgan:

The motion I made to the Board—which passed unanimously—actually turned on the word "fair." It dealt with the editorial you wrote the week after our referendum which I hardly thought was "fair."

It is certainly not my intention to try to censor your editorials. You can write what you wish. But when, in my judgement, you unfairly impugn the motives of the Board in the manner you did then I hardly think you can expect the Board to take it kindly.

If you have some explanation or apology, I will certainly consider it in the light of fairness. I realize the President's assassination affected us all very deeply, but I think an Editor has more responsibility than was shown by your editorial.

Yours sincerely,
George W. Kunz

I have not come before this Board tonight to apologize for any opinions that I have written. I am here to demand the resignation of Mr. George W. Kunz from this School Board. Mr. Kunz has misused his office and committed an act which is in the nature of bribery. It is an act that cannot be condoned by anyone and will bring disgrace upon the Board of Education.

It was with shock and amazement that I read a letter from Board member Kunz suggesting that I might come to this Board meeting and apologize for editorial opinions I had written in the Mid Island Times. These opinions questioned the propriety of holding balloting on the school referendum on the Saturday after Pres. Kennedy was assassinated.

The shock was that I never suspected Mr. Kunz who has been elected to the Board of Education in Hicksville would take it upon himself to influence a newspaper and actually distort the contents of a newspaper editorial.

The shock was intensified when in listening to the recorded minutes of the meeting of December 13, that Mr. Kunz would dare to openly state that this was a reason for withdrawing legal advertising from the newspaper.

I want Mr. Kunz to know without reservation that it is not his place to direct the editorial policy of any newspaper and that if the position he was elected to on the School Board by a narrow margin, has so inflated his ego that he believes he has this power, he has much to learn. It is a breach of office for any member of a School Board to suggest that in addition to purchasing something—in this case advertising—that he is entitled to something extra. This is a misuse of public office. The School Board and Mr. Kunz have no reason to expect any special treatment by newspapers that they by law place advertising in. If this were the case there would be no criticism of any public office and no newspapers worth printing.

In the case of a Board of Education trying to establish this practice it is even worse. They are supposed to represent the highest goals of education which must of necessity be in accord with the Constitution of the United States. To blatantly attempt to control newspapers with tax money is incongruous.

The facts are clearcut in this case and beyond debate. Mr. Kunz even confirmed in letters to the newspaper that he was penalizing it for its editorial and that it would get what he calls "fair treatment"—that is the Board would buy the usual advertising space—if the editorials were friendly. There is no way that the Commissioner of Education can approve of this. It is wrong, disgraceful and a misuse of public office. If Mr. Kunz does not voluntarily resign, we are sure he will be ousted.

In order to help bring this about more quickly we will reprint the editorial which was attacked—Mr. Kunz's letters to the newspaper, our answer and a coupon to the Commissioner of Education asking that he act on this with due speed. This material will run each week where space is available until the school budget vote at the end of the year or until Mr. Kunz resigns.

In order to divorce this issue from a monetary one, the Mid Island Times has decided not to accept any more legal advertising from the Hicksville School District for the remainder of this fiscal year, regardless of whether the action of the Board is reversed or not.

To: Commissioner of Education
James E. Allen, Jr.
Albany 1, N. Y.

THE ATTEMPT TO INTIMIDATE AND SUBJUGATE THE MID ISLAND TIMES IS SHOCKING. Please advise the Hicksville School Board that it is a misuse of Public Office Funds.

YOU CAN VISIT the swankiest bar in town and overhear the same tired remarks that drive gin-mill bartenders and owners to drink, too: Writer Hal Boyle and I compiled a list. We call them Remarks That Drive Bartenders To Drink. Please remember, we didn't gather all these in one night. Johnny, the mixologist at 2000 Club, New Hyde Park, is tired of hearing, "My wife doesn't understand me." ...Charlie Costa, who reopened his Aqua Manor yesterday is tired of hearing, "I'll bet you could write a book about the things people tell you." Stan, at the Club House, is tired of "Now the way to make a really dry martini is." And: "If it weren't for the children, I'd pack my bag and that'd be the last she'd ever see of me." ...Ernie Kyle, Syosset, cringes when a tippler cracks "You don't have to tell me when I've had enough. I'll tell you." &: "A fellow can't fly on one wing." ... My favorite is "I'll tell you there'll always be trouble in this world as long as there's a divided Ireland." ...A close runner up is, "I dare you to come out from behind the bar and say that." A joint owner who's been robbed several times hates "Stick up your hand - This is a holdup." (can't blame him)...Eddie at Villa Victor, who doesn't drink, is tired of "What do you take when you have a hangover yourself." And "If that's my wife on the phone, tell her I just left." ...At Al Sobacts, "No you got it all wrong. Under the infield fly rule, if the guy on second goes back, and the guy on first..." Also, "What are you using for a jigger these days...a thimble?" ...Joe at the Stork Club just hates "Ever get tired of people bending your ear." &: "That clock can't be right, why, I just got here." ...At Olaf's Midway, "The Democrats always get us into a war." "Real late we heard, "I still say if they'd listen to Sherbert Hoover the depression would have been over a lot sooner." Another jolter butted in with, "Let Me ask you one thing. What did the Republicans ever do for the common man?" (It was time for me to go. And I did, but fast.)...At McLaughlin's, "You must have my hat somewhere. I left it here last week." ...Larry, at the Sky Club, walks away when a stew says "If this gentleman wants to buy me a drink, I don't see what business it is of yours." And: "My friend and I have got a little argument here we'd like you to settle." ...At the Riviera, Bernie Mann has admired his bartenders control when they hear, "Look, Mac, no lemon peel. If I want fruit salad I'll ask for it." ...An old line is, "I know you're not supposed to serve ladies at the bar without an escort, but my boyfriend will be here any minute. (Seldom does he show up)...Another oldie that is sickening is, "What's the matter with your hand? Got it caught in the cash register." ...Charlie (2000 Club) Clerkin loses his Irish Accent when he hears, "First one today." ...If you Please...Bottoms Down.....

Mobile Regis. In Hicksville

The bipartisan Nassau County Board of Elections mobile registration campaign will enter its third week this coming week with a tour of the north shore taking in the areas around Hicksville, Syosset and Glen Cove.

Election commissioners William D. Meisser, Republican, and John F. English, Democrat, said they anticipate a heavy turnout of potential voters in all three areas.

The mobile registration unit has been on the road since March 2nd, and is one of the principal means by which the commissioners hope to reach a voting potential in Nassau County of better than 700,000 registered voters.

According to the commissioners they expect mobile registration alone to sign up at least 10,000 and possible as many as 20,000 voters.

Civic Group Wants Test Ban

A Long Island "Civic reform group" wants New York State Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino to use his "good offices" to "bring to the floor of the Assembly for public debate" a bill that would require parental permission before any public school child is subjected to psychological testing.

Not only that, the group has called for a "sweeping legislative investigation" of the public school practice of keeping "cumulative files on public school children and their parents."

The reform body, known as the Nassau County Citizens Commission for Honesty in Government, made the two requests in a letter to Carlino this week. The four officers of the Honesty in Government group who signed the letter are: Edward J. Van Allen and Joseph Bandish, of East Meadow, respectively president and vice president of the Commission; Howard F. Van Allen, of Hicksville, recording secretary; and Frank Hurley, of Plainview, corresponding secretary.

They told Carlino that the bill which would prohibit unauthorized psychological testing of school children, introduced by Staten Island Assemblyman Lucio Russo, is now "bottled up in the Assembly Education Committee" and is " slated for the same kind of demise that two bills introduced by Montauk Assemblyman Perry Duryea suffered at the hands of the same committee the last two years."

To back up their demand for a "sweeping" legislative probe of school record-keeping practices, they invited the Assembly Speaker's attention to such "brand words as 'psychosis' and 'schizophrenia' and such brand phrases as 'boy states he has two fathers' and 'mother is hostile, anxious, overprotective' which they claim have been found in public school children's cumulative files.

The Honesty Commission also charged that "school psychologists make notations and entries in public school records without written authorization from parents, which, in our judgment, is a breach of the law since such records are privileged communications and only parents can waive the privilege."

Next, they charged that the "branding of public school children and parents in school records -- which the Legislature can confirm through a sweeping probe -- serves no lawful, no moral, no defensible educational purpose." To further bolster their charges, they invited Carlino's perusal of Sections 6501, 7610, and 7611 of the State Education Law which they claim prohibit lay psychologists from practicing medicine and treat their findings as privileged communications.

In conclusion, the Honesty Commission said, "we think many of the practices incident to the maintenance of public school records constitute a public disgrace so enormous that a full-and-complete legislative investigation of these practices is not only warranted, but should be undertaken as speedily as possible in the public interest."

First Aid For Hicksville

The American Red Cross program of First Aid and Water Safety offered for the residents of Hicksville during the past year is noteworthy. Many Hicksville firemen have been given the Standard First Aid course of six two hour classes. The Rescue Squad has been given the Standard course as well as the Advanced course of eight two hour lessons, and the Ambulance Servicemen have received both courses. All Nassau County policemen are required to take the Standard First Aid course.

Classes in Junior and Standard First Aid were given to the Girl Scouts in Hicksville in 1963. Certificates of completion of all these courses are issued and are good for three years, after which time they must be renewed.

The Red Cross First Aid trailer truck has been on duty at all of the Fire Department tournaments held in Hicksville over the past twenty years and has given aid to spectators as well as competing firemen. The trailer is manned by Red Cross First Aid instructors, all of whom are volunteers. Water Safety classes for beginners through to Senior Life Saving have been conducted at pools, day camps, beaches and clubs. More than 2,600 children and adults in the Township of Oyster Bay were given instruction in swimming and life saving during 1963. This program is the best organized in Nassau County where a total of over 25,000 certificates were issued. Some training was also given in boat safety.

TEACH To Hear Marvin Gibson

Members and the general public are invited to attend TEACH's next general meeting on Thursday, March 19 at Levittown Hall (8:45 PM). "The Origin and Philosophy of the Track System and How It Works in our Schools" will be discussed by Mr. Marvin E. Gibson, Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent of Schools here in Hicksville. This program is in keeping with TEACH's announced policy of faamiliarizing its members and the public with the "workings" of our school system. The Taxpayers' Educational Association for the Children of Hicksville wishes to encourage informed citizens to participate actively in the educational affairs of this community.

TEACH members voted to write to the Governor and the State Legislators urging them to reconsider state aid for local school district. In addition to writing as an organization, members were urged to write many letters for the same purpose as individuals, calling for justice for the local property-owner through greater state participation in the financial aspects of education. TEACH members also resolved to write urging the adoption of pending legislation which would permit permanent personal registration for School District elections.

Birthday Salute For Sr. Citizens

The regular meeting of the Senior Citizens of Bethpage, was held Thursday, March 5, in the American Legion Hall, on Washington St.

This was a birthday salute to members born in March. After refreshments a short business meeting was held; then they separated into groups, some still working on the tiles, some making flowers and fancy articles from facial tissues, others playing cards, some just visited with their friends. Everyone enjoyed the afternoon. Materials are being ordered for making hats. Meetings are held every Thursday, at 1 o'clock, unless the Club is going out on a trip, luncheon, or other special event. Guests, and new members are always welcome, and information may be obtained by calling WE 8-0185 or GE 3-4694.

Girl Scout News Notes

Fun At Camp Barstow: On February 7 & 8, girls and adults of Senior Troop #411, Bethpage, spent two days at Camp Barstow in Port Jefferson. The Camp belongs to the Great Neck Council and is located right on Long Island Sound.

While the girls were there it snowed which added to their enjoyment and also appreciation -- for it gave them the chance to see the seashore become a white wonderland. They hiked in the snow along the shore and gathered wood for the preparation of a delicious chicken meal to which everyone did full justice.

Our girls found this camping experience rich and rewarding, and certainly most enjoyable. They hope to be able to make a return visit -- perhaps without the snow. Cadette Troop #49 are looking forward to their work on Good Grooming. The leaders have ordered booklets for the troop covering Hair Styles, Manners, Poise, Personality, etc. They also will have a visit from a model; are arranging for a showing of teen-age fashions, and a trip to a Beauty Salon.

This will aid the girls on the Challenge of Social Dependability which the troop started some weeks back.

Future plans include an airport trip, preparations for Girl Scout week celebrations, Cadette Day, a picnic, camping and the making of holiday favors for hospitals.

These girls are eager to forge ahead and the leaders are willing to aid them but to accomplish everything they must have cooperation from the parents of the girls in the troop. An hour of your time once-in-a-while will be a big help. Please call Mrs. Nemeroff at WE 8-0471 or Mrs. Billocki at WE 5-2030 and volunteer your assistance in whatever capacity is needed.

The Junior Girl Scouts of Troop #4 are a busy group, and most eager. They have completed Huck Weaving on guest towels; and have 23 girls working on the Skating Badge at Levittown Rink. Basketry is being done with the assistance of Mrs. E. Burn; and Sewing with Mrs. K. Langdon.

Three of their girls, Patty McMahon, Jean Urnowski and Gail Bevan made a trip to the Trade Fair in Syosset and will have their picture in L.I. Living.

The entire troop on February 17 and 24 worked on Ceramics, making pinch pots which they glazed and had fired with the help of Mrs. M. Forbes, Adult Education Instructor in Ceramics, Mrs. R. Nelson, a troop committee mother, and Senior Aide to the troop, Carol Lindeman, both of whom enjoy and work with this fascinating art.

The troop is also knitting and crocheting an afghan for the hospital. Look for some of their work which will be on display Girl Scout Week.

Sharing their birthdays, this month of March with Campfire Girls, and the Girl Scouts 52nd Birthday are: Carolyn Talmadge, Christine Gamber, Gail Bevan, Elizabeth Passman, Joan Stuart, Katherine Condosta, Valerie Gottfried, Janet Mullen, Roseann Russo, Jeanne Honicker, Patricia Rehill, Nancy Piccirillo, Patricia Matthews, Ellen Pearlstein, Rosemarie Prossimo, Lynn Wagner, Eileen Mathews, Robin Schumacher, Mary Jagger, Kathryn Mayer, Judith Williamson, Camille DeLucia, Lynn Agiesta, Carol Price, Doreen Patras, Barbara Hayes, Deborah Westermann, and to Adult Scouters, Phyllis Clarkson.

The happiest of Birthdays to one and all!

Sunday, March 8, will be celebrated as Girl Scout Sunday throughout the United States. It will mark the beginning of Girl Scout Week and the celebration of the 52nd Anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States.

On this day more than two and three quarter million Girl Scouts will attend the Church of their choice, in uniform, as a public demonstration of the Girl Scout's commitment to do her duty to God.

The Girl Scout Promise has touched the lives of more than 20,000,000 American girls and women since Juliette Lowe founded the organization in the United States in March 1912. It is a simple promise but its implications are deep. It reads: On my honor, I will try, To do my duty to God and my Country; To help other people at all times; To obey the Girl Scout laws.

The theme for this Girl Scout Week is "Girl Scouting -- A Promise in Action." This theme signifies the intention of the Girl Scout Organization to emphasize the moral and spiritual basis of its program more strongly than ever. The adults in the organization recognize that, in a world that is tense, confused and often publicly unethical, the children need a sense of direction that comes from solid moral values.

Children also need the strength and assurance that derives from close family relationships. For this reason the Girl Scouts are making a special effort this Girl Scout Week to involve Mothers and Fathers in Scout activities and to interpret to parents the importance of Girl Scouting in their daughters' lives.

Most parents are happy to have their daughters' join the Girl Scouts, to make new friends, broaden their interests, develop an understanding of themselves and a respect for others. But unfortunately some parents accept these benefits without assuming any share of the responsibility for them.

The advantages a girl derives from Girl Scouting increase as her parents increase their understanding of what she is doing and what Scouting can mean to her. It would be well for Mothers and Fathers not to take Girl Scouting for granted, but to learn more about it and to look for ways in which they as adults can contribute it and to look for ways in which they as adults can contribute to it. As a voluntary organization, the Girl Scouts rely on adults who are willing to give a little time and effort to the welfare of the children of the community. If your daughter is receiving the advantages of Girl Scouting, perhaps you might find some way of increasing that advantage for her and for other girls too! The Girl Scouts of Bethpage-Plainedge Neighborhood VI wish to take this opportunity to express their appreciation for the cooperation and help they receive Who'd ever think a car 213 inches long, 79 inches wide, 6 passengers roomy and Trophy V-8 powerful could cost so little?

Pontiac people.

You'll never guess what the Pontiac people get for their money in Catalinas. Pontiac styling? Well, obviously. Curve-uncurving Wide-Track? Of course. A Trophy V-8 that thrives on regular gas. If they prefer? No charge. Lots more that could cost extra, but doesn't? Sure, electric wipers and dual visors and foam-cushioned front seats. If you drove a Catalina, you'd feel like a Pontiac person. Smug.
