Escalators Get Approval At R.R.

Commuters won't have to climb the stairs at the new R.R. Station in Hicksville. The Town Board is moving ahead on both engineering and legal fronts to insure the inclusion of two escalators at the new Hicksville railroad station, it was disclosed by Councilman Edward J. Poulos, Board Majority Leader.

All the required home-rule endorsements which will clear the way for the projects to be added to the construction now in progress have been filed with the Assembly and Senate in Albany. Assemblyman Edwin J. Fehrenbach and State Senator Henry M. Curran are carrying the bills in the Legislature. When the Legislature passes the enabling acts, the Town Board is prepared to consider a date for public hearings for the purpose of establishing an escalator district and a date for a hearing on a bond issue.

Councilman A. Carl Grunewald, who has advocated the various grade crossing elimination improvement projects on the Town Board, pointed out that it is in the public interest to have these escalators - one leading to the westbound platform and one to the eastbound. He said that fitting them into forthcoming construction can save costs and time in of the essence because the general project is due for completion later this year.

Tape Recorder Gags Hicksville School Bd.

A planned secret session of an offshoot of the Hicksville School Board called the Non-Instructional Liaison Committee fizzled last Friday night when Trustee Herbert Johnson canceled the confab because minority Trustee William A. Bruno, Jr. wanted to tape-record the behind-closed-door proceedings.

According to Bruno, the meeting, ostensibly called to discuss possible pay raises for non-instructional personnel, started at 7 and ended at 7:05 p.m. after Bruno refused to comply with several Johnson pleas that he turn off the recorder.

The regular School Board meeting set for 8:15 Friday started on time, Bruno said, but adjourned about 15 or 20 minutes later so that the trustees could hear a band concert then being given in the high school auditorium.

Bruno, who has two items on the Board agenda titled, "Conflict of Interest by a District Official" and "Christmas Gifts," plus nine other items, became "disgusted" after waiting around for about an hour for the Board majority to resume the meeting. He left saying: "They (the Board members) would rather face the music downstairs than face the music up here in the Board room."

It was known that Bruno had come prepared to unleash an explosive statement about the involvement of a school district official in a "conflict of interest," one of a number of known situations in which district officials may be chargeable with conflicts of interest.

According to legal authority, under certain circumstances trustees of public bodies may be held to be individually liable when it is proved that they have unlawfully paid out public moneys.

LWV Plans Cocktail Party

March 21 is the date, 8:30 is the time for an Oyster Bay League of Women Voters Cocktail Party at the home of one of its members. Primarily for fund raising - $1.50 per person for admission and food and 75¢ per drink, the League members also hope to meet new people, friends, relatives and business acquaintances of the League. You are invited to call Kathryn Arnold in Hicksville, GE 3-2069, for further information on the planned evening.

Letters

To the Editor:

The double standards of the Board majority reared its ugly head at a meeting of the "Liaison Committee-Non Instructional Personnel."

Mr. Johnson, Committee Chairman and I were the only Board members present. Mr. Johnson waited 15 minutes before complaining about my bringing a tape recorder. Since I wouldn't turn off my prominently displayed recorder, he adjourned the meeting. Funny thing at the warehouse, the Board majority allowed a tape recorder and I complained but the majority told me they would tape that meeting. I told them I would do the same, now this is the second time I did it and they don't like it.

Now as a minority member I say, "What's good for the goose is good for the gander."
Yours in Free Speech,
William A. Bruno, Jr.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Morgan

Hicksville teachers are making their dissatisfaction with the upcoming school budget known throughout the community by distributing handbills. The teachers are unhappy because they feel their pay scale is low and the raises they will get will not start until January of next year. A complete analysis of the pay scale of the Hicksville school district contrasted against other districts would show some inequities in certain steps and might bear out some of the complaints of the teachers. It would not show, however, that teachers in this district are grossly underpaid.

What seems greatly inconsistent about teacher demands, however, is the fact that teacher groups are always behind whatever expansion moves are suggested by any segment of the district and in some instances their help has been instrumental in getting through the budgets and referendums.

Hicksville has okayed two money-sapping and unneeded expansions in the past year. One was the warehouse - administration - classroom complex which will prove to be the greatest fiasco ever foisted on a school district, the other is the library expansion which is a smaller fiasco.

With the approval of the administration building and warehouse expansion went out the window any long range planning that had been done for the Hicksville school district. But there will not be enough classrooms to meet the temporary increase in enrollment at the senior high school level next year, because the Board of Education has not moved the temporary classrooms to the senior high school. In succeeding years as enrollment begins to decline the high school will have its new permanent classrooms, a warehouse and a beautiful administration building. But the district will be left without anything to do with the Nicholas Street School which could have had a good administration building. Now how does this apply to the teachers and their cause? Well simply this. If the teachers are going to back up every foolish push for more bonded indebtedness for the school district, the taxpaying voter cannot cut down in many places on school budgets because bonded indebtedness is not voted on from year to year and must be paid. But teachers raises have to get the approval of the voters and the school board knows it has already asked the people to approve too much heavy spending so it must hang up the teachers for six months in an effort to get the budget through the voters.

So this is the harvest that the teachers groups and PTA groups who blindly favor anything the pathetically inept school board proposes must reap.

The "One-Bank" Woodleys become a two-car family

He needed the car for work. She needed the car for errands. Solution: two cars! The "One-Bank" Woodleys took out an auto loan at First National City, the bank they bank on for everything. It was approved within hours. A low-cost loan with terms to suit their budget was set up. And First National City's unique Finance-in-Advance plan (like taking our money with you) made car shopping fun—and helped them get the best possible deal.

The "One-Bank" Woodleys arranged for the auto loan payments to be deducted, automatically, from their First National City checking account on the first of each month. And on the fifteenth, money is automatically transferred from their checking account to their First National City savings account—for a Florida vacation in '65!

Top DECA Honors

Two highly coveted prizes were awarded to the Hicksville High School chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) during the organization's annual conference at Albany, March 12-14.

For the fifteen local students representing the school, their greatest thrill came when Hicksville was chosen as the State's Chapter of the Year. The trophy, a handsome gold statuette on a marbled base, was presented to the Club President, Miss Johanna LoGerfo, as a symbol of the State Organization's appreciation of our school's many achievements during 1963. Much of the work DECA did, consisted of professional and social activities from which the local community derived valuable benefits.

One of those activities directly contributed to the second important prize that came Hicksville's way, the Sales and Marketing Executives' research award. All DECA students participated in surveying the local business community to determine their needs in employee services. Their reports were correlated with the course of study given by the school to determine improvements that would more closely fill the retailers' requirements. The school's report brought about conditions and recommendations useful, not only locally, but to all schools giving distribution courses. Miss LoGerfo also accepted this honor on behalf of Hicksville High School.

Approximately 600 students from DECA clubs throughout New York State attended this fourth annual event, conducting the necessary administrative business at hand, and participating in contests displaying their particular talents in the distributive field. For Hicksville High, Linda Erwin brought home an honorable mention as the Student of the Year. Others who attended were Phyllis Jackson, Marie Morris, Maureen McGinn, Tobey Halpern, Sandra Musack, Cheryl Donghia, Jacqueline Uvino, Valerie Clemenz, Dennis Lane, Robert Bergin, Victor Clinco, Wm. Rogers and Thomas Arundell.

Red Cross Aids Needy

The Home Service Department of the Nassau County Chapter of the American Red Cross was able to bring comfort to twenty-one families in Hicksville in the month of January, and fifteen in February.

Four of these families needed husbands or sons home on emergency leave. The Military has the sole authority to grant emergency leaves but asks Red Cross as a voluntary agency in the community, to verify the need for the serviceman's presence.

In one instance a serviceman's mother had died. The Red Cross was requested by the Military to verify the death and funeral arrangements before the Military was willing to grant the leave. In another instance a serviceman's wife was having severe fainting spells after the birth of her first child. Her physician recommended that the serviceman come home for a two week period in order to help her recover from her experience.

Emergency leave time is taken from the leave time earned by servicemen during the year. If a man is brought home from overseas the situation must indeed be critical. This is an expensive situation for the Government. However, on emergency situations, the Military provides transportation to the Continental United States, the serviceman has the responsibility, once in the United States, to pay his own way to his home. This can be an expensive proposition to a Long Islander who is in the Pacific Theatre. The Red Cross director stands by to grant or lend money for transportation.

for financial assistance. She had not received her allotment of $145.00 a month for herself and two children. Red Cross came to her rescue and paid her rent. We aided her in writing to the Finance Center in Indianapolis to find out why she had not received her allotment. It was learned that she had recently moved to Hicksville. The allotment had been sent to her former address and the landlord had returned the check. Government checks must be returned to the Finance Center if the payee is not at the address given.

Another Hicksville family, where the husband is stationed at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, appealed for family counseling. The situation was referred through Family Court. The family was seen by one of the professional case workers who has her Masters degree in social work from Columbia University. Through several interviews the husband and wife were helped to understand each other and the demands made both by family and military life.

In 1963, some 5,024 servicemen, their families and veterans in Nassau County were given assistance through Home Service of the American Red Cross, 264 Old Country Road, Mineola.

Annual Event At Mercy

The 11th Annual Party sponsored by the Our Lady of Mercy Rosary Altar Society will be held Thursday, April 2 at 8:15 p.m. in the Our Lady of Mercy School Auditorium, South Oyster Bay Road, Hicksville. Mrs. Bernard Smith, Hicksville, the president, cordially invites everyone to attend -- and bring your friends! Some fantastic sweep-stake prizes are in store for you!

Keep your mind on the road, not on your troubles. Don't worry about business, the family, or what may happen tomorrow. Keep alert to what's happening now. Good driving's a full-time job requiring an alert mind and body. If you must worry, do it in your leisure time.

WHEN YOU DRIVE...

Think now, complain later. "Mad" at someone or something? Turn it off when you turn your ignition on. Anger, no matter who or what it's directed at, can color your whole driving attitude, making you a menace to other motorists on the road.

THINK

Think wise... think easy... think careful, cautious, cheerful, courteous driving. Good driving is the responsibility of every motorist. A cheerful attitude toward others on the road will get you to your destination more relaxed than if you find fault with every driver along the way. Think careful driving when you're behind the wheel. And, when you think of protection against the hazards of other not-so-careful drivers, think of State Farm, the careful driver's insurance company.

Sixth Graders Win Applause

On Saturday afternoon, March 14, over 1,000 spectators shouted bravos, during a standing ovation, for 15 sixth graders who had just performed before the Music Educators' National Conference in Philadelphia.

Prior to the thrilling applause the Burns Ave. Elementary School Recorder Consort held this distinguished audience in enrapt silence. If one closed his eyes he would think the room was being filled with delightful chamber music played by a group much older than the eleven year olds (some of whom have been playing their recorders for as short a period of time as six months. Mr. Gerald Burakoff organized the recorder consort in 1963. One of his goals was to expose talented students to the music of the masters and to intensify the level of small ensemble performance. This modest young conductor and arranger has inspired his proteges to the attainment of excellence in performance. The children are as follows: Karen Alanko, Victoria Allen, Eleanor Arnold, Ronnie-Ellen Boxer, Irene Caltagirone, Bruce Rudd, Jeffrey Schlegel, Jane Skvarich, Karen Somer, Wayne Sternberger and Neil Trablich. Mrs. Elizabeth Oates, Mrs. Catherine Dooley, Mr. Louis Crandall and

Mr. Harold Sternberger were the chaperones for the recorder artists. At a time when we hear so much about juvenile misconduct it is refreshing to find youngsters so deserving of a pat on the back. Encores!

BIG CHANGES YOU CAN SEE AND FEEL!

You can see the changes when you first set eyes on Ford's new hardtops. You can feel the big change when you take a test drive. Cars from Ford have an ideal blend of handling, braking, acceleration, road-holding ability, and above all, durability. That's total performance bred in open competition. Test-drive one at your Ford Dealer's today.

Winning team—hardtops all! In front, Ford Galaxia 500/XL, in middle, Fairlane 500 Sports Coupe and top, Falcon Futura.

CHANGES YOU CAN SEE! Come in today and see the Big Change Fords. There isn't a warmed-over model in the showroom. Your Ford Dealer offers more hardtops than any other car dealer in the low-price field.

CHANGES YOU CAN FEEL! These '64 Fords are built tougher than any Fords in history. They prove that "total performance" is more than just a handy phrase. For example, there's 69 pounds more steel in the frame and 63 pounds more in the suspension of a Super Torque Ford than in its nearest competitor's car. And total performance means you get a smoother, steadier, quieter ride—more responsive performance, and more sheer fun out of driving. The superior strength, balance, road-holding, acceleration and handling of these '64 Fords have been proved in the uncompromising blaze of open competition. And, Ford is in open competition not just to win races but to improve quality. That's why we aren't afraid to invite you in for a test drive... to compare the '64s from Ford with anything at or near their price!

FORD'S BIG CHANGE MEANS BIG VALUES! Not just the big car, but every hardtop in the store—Falcans, Fairlans, Super Torque Fords and Thunderbirds feature total performance. See why Motor Trend magazine declared the cars from Ford the "Cars of the Year." Come in for the buys of the year right now, at your Ford Dealer's!

Three Reps At Science Fair

The names of three students from Holy Family School in Hicksville, who have been selected to represent their school in a Nassau County-wide Science Fair on Saturday, March 21, at St. Vincent de Paul School in Elmont, have been announced by Sister M. Petronilla, Principal.

They are: James E. Fagan, 419 Division Ave., Hicksville, Grade 7; Charles S. Freeman, 5 Winter Lane, Hicksville, Grade 6; Michele M. Maloney, 8 Sunnyfield Road, Hicksville, Grade 4.

Sponsored by the department of education, Diocese of Rockville Centre, the fair will exhibit the work of students from all 61 elementary schools in Nassau County.

Each school held its own project competition and the winners are representing their schools in the Diocesan event. Judging is in three categories, Grades 3-4, Grades 5-6, and Grades 7-8.

The Rev. Patrick E. Shanahan, assistant superintendent of schools in the Diocese of Rockville Centre, listed five aims for the science fair program. They were: to emphasize the importance of science in the present day curriculum; to stimulate students who have special scientific talent; to identify and encourage these scientifically gifted youngsters; to aid all students in acquiring a functional knowledge of science and to enable the public to view one phase of the academic performance of the students.

A similar fair was held in Suffolk County on March 14.

Judges for the Holy Family School science competition were: Mr. H. Cressman, 11 Field Ave., Hicksville; Mr. Raymond A. Burokley, Senior High School, Hicksville P.S.; Mr. L. J. Wackerman, 53 Boxwood Lane, Hicksville; Dr. M. J. Loizzo, 221 Friends Lane, Westbury; Mr. and Mrs. (Joan) Frank Saracino, 36 Hedge Lane, Westbury; Mrs. A. M.
