High School PTA Meets Apr. 16

The next meeting of the Hicksville High School PTA will be on Thursday, April 16 at 8:15 p.m. Speaker for the evening will be Mrs. Lawrence Hoffstein, well known in the field of youth behavior. Her topic will be "Adolescent Discipline."

The nominating committee appointed by the President, will present the slate of candidates for office for the 1964-65 term.

After the meeting refreshments will be served.

PUBLIC WORKS COMMISSIONER Eugene F. Gibbons today announced that historic Cantlague Rock, which has been displaced by the widening of the Westbury-Hicksville Road (John Street), will be reset at the entrance to Cantlague Park, Hicksville. Dating back to the 1700's, the rock (see arrow) has been used as the boundary between the Towns of North Hempstead and Oyster Bay.

"It is fitting that this rock should mark the entrance to a park which derives its name from the same source," Gibbons said. "Cantlague" is Indian for "point of the woods". A sign will be erected describing the rock's history.

Rummage, White Elephant Sale

The St. Ignatius Loyola Auxiliary of Christian Mother's will sponsor a Rummage-White Elephant sale in the cafeteria of the Old School on Friday, April 10, from 9 AM 'til 4 PM.

Lawler, Esq., Elmont, are members of the Committee for the Bishop's Dinner to honor The Most Reverend Walter P. Kellenberg, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese of Rockville Centre, for the benefit of Catholic Charities, Diocese of Rockville Centre.

The $100-plate affair will be held at the Garden City Hotel, Saturday evening, May 9. The General Chairman George B. Higgins of Manhasset has set a goal of $350,000 to be raised by the Committee for Catholic Charities.

50 Percent Of Teachers May Resign Says Bruno

School Board Trustee William Bruno charged today that the Hicksville School Board and the Superintendent of Schools is stifling his probe to get to the bottom of the low teacher morale problem in Hicksville Schools. Bruno said he has heard that because of the undemocratic action of the Board in not bringing the issues out in an open meeting that the Junior High School might lose fifty percent of the teachers.

The latest in the feuds of Bruno against the Board and the Superintendent is the enforcing of a regulation on board policy made at an unknown time by the Board which would make it impossible for Bruno to bring up any items for discussion at Board meetings that were not first approved by the Board president or the Supt. of schools. The items would need this approval before being put on the agenda. Bruno says that this action is censorship and impossible in a free school system.

The specific issues involved in the teacher problems go back to a letter written by 18 English teachers listed as clients in a three page letter to the school administration. The exact contents of this letter has not been made public but it is known that the teachers had grievances against the school district and the English Dept. On March 25 after hearing rumors in the district that teachers were ready to resign, Bruno wrote a letter to the District asking that the subject of the "English Teachers vs. Dr. Rouse" (Dr. Rouse is head of the English dept.) be put on the agenda so that a public hearing could be arranged. Brunonow charges that the subject is being whitewashed in Board policy which will not let him put the subject on the agenda to be brought up at the board meetings.

The next meeting of the Board will take place Friday, April 10.

Complaint Bureau For Local Residents

The Town Board today, under its Management Improvement Program, announced the creation of a Complaint Bureau to speed up the handling of complaints, according to Board Majority leader Councilman Edward J. Poulos.

The recommendation to establish the Bureau was made by the M.I.P. (Management Improvement Program) Task Force and concurred in by McKinsey & Co., the Town's management consultants. The new Bureau will be under the supervision of Town Clerk Wm. B. O'Keefe who has set up a special section in his department, using existing personnel, to immediately process all municipal problems as reported by Town residents. Residents calling Town Hall at Walnut 1-5800 are requested to ask for the Complaint Bureau. In addition, complaints may also be written and it is suggested they be addressed to Town Clerk O'Keefe in order to expedite the subject matter.

"Our purpose in organizing this complaint Section," said Poulos, "is to eliminate referrals of residents having municipal problems from one department to another and speed up the action in handling complaints. We are hopeful we will be

Lincoln Mercury Starts Campaign

This past April Fool's Day was kick-off date for a new large newspaper advertising campaign from the N.Y. Lincoln-Mercury Dealers Association. In this newspaper even a glance at the campaign, however, reveals that LMDA is not fooling in its attempt to capture the attention of every possible car-buying prospect in the area. The large-space ads are fresh, original and new in concept for the traditionally staid car dealers' field. Large photos for example, depict money in various arrangements with the accent and strong story on the value received per dollar by the Lincoln-Mercury-Comet car buyer. The cars are on display at Hickville Motors, South Broadway, Hickville.

Contract Awarded For New P.O.

Postmaster General John A. Gronouski announced today that a contract has been awarded to Mr. Louis Cicorelli, Box 346, Hicksville, to build the new Old Bethpage Branch of the Hicksville post office and lease it to the Post Office Department.

The announcement of the award to the successful bidder advances the new building closer to the construction stage. When fully operational, the Postmaster General said, the additional space and more modern equipment will, in the long run, more than offset the extra cost involved in producing more efficient handling of the mail, in accord with President Johnson's directive to provide the best possible postal service at the least possible cost.

"This project is in accordance with our policy of building new post offices only where they are urgently needed," Mr. Gronouski said. "We are constantly re-assessing our construction program to determine whether present buildings can be altered or remodeled to take care of our expanding mail volume.

"We now have about 45,000 postal locations throughout the country, handling an anticipated volume of 72.2 billion pieces of mail for the 1964-1965 fiscal year. By 1970 it is expected to rise to 90 billion.

Our employees are doing a great job of processing the mail. But it is clear that if we are to meet the demands of our growing population we must make use of the best mechanized equipment available in areas where it is economically justified.

"We are also constantly seeking to develop new ideas and new postal techniques, such as ZIP Code, to help process the mail more efficiently and economically."

The new building which will be located in the True Value Shopping Center will represent an estimated total investment of $81,844 by the successful bidder. It will be leased to the Department for ten years with four five-year renewal options at an annual rental of $10,524 for the basic term.

This represents the lowest responsive bid received by the Department on a competitive basis, and reflects what Departmental studies have determined to be a reasonable and economical rental for leased space in this area.

The new one story building will have an interior space of 4,455 square feet. The area for parking and movement of postal vehicles totals 12,224 square feet. It will be air conditioned.

The Old Bethpage Branch is expected to be completed seven months after the plans are approved.

Mr. Gronouski explained that the Department's capital investment is limited substantially to postal equipment. The building will remain under private ownership, with the owner paying local real estate taxes.

Above is the teachers salary scale for Hicksville Public Schools which will become effective January 1, 1965. Each step on the scale equals one year of service in the district. A starting teacher just out of college will receive $5,700. Top salary is $11,600 with extra allowances added for heading a department. The teaching year only includes a regular school year. Summer teaching or extra assignment is added to these salary rates.

Spring Polio Shots Available In Hicksville

Mrs. Joseph Janke and Mrs. Clement Swallow, PTA chairmen of volunteers for the Polio Conversion Program in Hicksville, remind all residents of the community that Fork Lane, Burns Ave. School and the Sr. High School, Division Avenue, will be used for the first and second polio immunization offered to Nassau County residents this spring.

Nearly 2,000 volunteers, including hundreds of physicians, nurses and pharmacists, will staff oral vaccine centers for Nassau's anti-polio program underway Sunday, April 19.

Volunteer teams are now being assigned to 89 schools throughout the county where more than 500,000 Nassau residents are expected to take advantage of the easy-take vaccine.

Birthday Party For Senior Citizens

The regular meeting of The Senior Citizens Club of Bethpage was held Thursday, April 2 at 1 p.m. in the American Legion Hall on Washington Street. This was a birthday party for all the members having birthdays in April. A Happy Birthday was sung to them. Refreshments were served as usual. A number of new members have joined in recent weeks, and a couple came in this week. The Club would like to have more men join. All guests, and new members are welcome.

There were no school buses this week so some members could not get there, and the President was absent because of illness.

For information about the club call Mrs. Eileen McLaughlin, the director at GE 3-4694.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Morgan

There will be two openings this year on the Hicksville School Board. The seat vacated by Dominic Sabatella, who moved out of the district is one and the other is the expired term of George Jackson, who is now said to be seeking re-election.

To date there has been little interest shown in Hicksville on the part of prospective candidates to run for the Board. Yet all is not happiness in school affairs in Hicksville. The present Board has continued to antagonize the community by pushing through referendums on top of referendum and this year the tax rate is beginning to zoom upwards with the peak of the spiral yet to come. But through all of this the board has done nothing about easing the tight space situation at the high school and it ignores all cases of waste in school supplies even when these things are brought to its attention directly.

The Board and the administration as well has been lucky. It has been able to coast on the good work of the late Dr. Lamb who was successful in introducing excellent innovations and improvements in the school curriculum and at the same time he was able to help keep the school budget down.

But this is now running dry and the district needs more leadership. So let us hope that some new prospective candidates will soon appear on the horizon to help things along in the Hicksville School District.

Asthma Must Be Analysed, Treated

By C. A. Dean, M.D.

(Q) "I have had asthma quite badly, especially in the last month. I have been taking plenty of pills but I keep wheezing. I am so short of breath I can't talk to anyone. What do you suggest?"
Mrs. M. L.

(A) Obviously the pills you are taking aren't helping a bit. You need a complete re-examination of your asthma. This includes allergy tests and treatment of the specific allergies found. Inhaling mist from a small oral inhaler obtained on prescription often gives good relief.

I have been asked often the difference between heat stroke and heat exhaustion. Heat stroke (also known as sunstroke) is the more serious of the two. It is caused by an excessive exposure to heat, both indoors and outdoors. It can occur at any age, but is seen more in older persons, especially those with arterial sclerosis (hardening of the arteries), high blood pressure and heart trouble.

The main characteristic of heat stroke is that the temperature of the person rises very high, to as much as 110 degrees. Headaches, dizziness and skin dryness are also noticed, followed soon by unconsciousness.

The diagnosis of heat stroke is made from the temperature. If it has risen to 105 degrees or higher, first aid should be started. This consists of calling a doctor, putting a pillow under the victim's head and cooling him as quickly as possible. Cold applications with ice water are necessary.

Heat exhaustion is less serious but needs prompt first aid. It is caused by a loss of salt from the body. In heat exhaustion the victim's skin is cool and moist. Unconsciousness is not common. The temperature is low, rather than high.

First aid consists of keeping the head low, protecting the body from chilling, giving a weak salt solution (one-half to one teaspoon of salt in a glass of water) and stimulants such as coffee or tea.

The best treatment of heat stroke and heat exhaustion is prevention. Don't expose yourself to too much heat or overexercise in hot weather. Avoid overeating and overindulging in alcoholic drinks.

Poverty And Political Advantage

By Russell Kirk

GENERALISSIMO OF THE "WAR AGAINST POVERTY," Mr. Sargent Shriver -- who would like to be Vice-President of these United States -- explained his strategy and tactics to the House Education and Labor Committee, the other day. He's against poverty, and seemed to be under the impression that his critics favor poverty.

"There are always those who say the poor will be always with us," he declared. "I do not believe it. President Johnson does not believe it."

Once upon a time, nevertheless, someone did believe it. "The poor ye have always with you." Who said that? Jesus of Nazareth. But Mr. Shriver offers a new dispensation.

One of Generalissimo Shriver's favorite schemes, however, went glimmering at the last moment. In this column, a few days ago, this commentator criticized the Administration's design to draft seventeen-year-olds into Mr. Shriver's "Jobs Corps." Just before the Shriver proposals were presented to Congress, that part of the scheme was abandoned, chiefly at the outraged insistence of Senator Humphrey -- and to Mr. Shriver's chagrin. Now he will have to rely on persuasion to get youths into his army-run camps.

Already head of the Peace Corps, Mr. Shriver expressed his willingness to direct the War against Poverty, too, if given enough capable helpers. Any project with a good political slogan in its title, Mr. Shriver seems willing to run: the more, the merrier. Also he is very good at public relations: he had immense publicity throughout the land, singing the praises of the Peace Corps, before that far-flung design ever had sent anybody abroad; and he has a big office promoting the War against Poverty before Congress has even authorized the program. Whether one really makes friends abroad by elaborate publicity-drives at home, or really abolishes poverty by glamorizing all sorts of miscellaneous old welfare projects, may be another matter.

Nor does the prospect of creating yet another elaborate and cumbersome bureaucratic division in Washington alarm Mr. Shriver. He isn't going to recruit old-fangled "ivory-tower bureaucrats," he announced; instead, advice and leadership for the Poverty War will come from "foundation officials, educators, and scholars." So the Ford Foundation and Harvard University are going to furnish the realistic, innovating direction of this program? From his experience of foundation bureaucrats and many politically ambitious professors, this writer is inclined -- if the hard choice must be made -- to prefer the Washington civil servant as manager of welfare projects.

Mr. Shriver's most enthusiastic champion in the House Education and Labor Committee was Representative Adam Clayton Powell, that pillar of rectitude and social reform. Like Mr. Shriver, Mr. Powell knows where and when to make political hay.

Kids Make The Best Geophagists

By Edward J. Van Allen

The geophagists (earth eaters) have nothing on some children who are themselves natural born dirt chompers.

Take my daughter Karen. When she was 18 months old, she wasn't exactly a dirt eater. Oh, no. Rocks were her meat. And I'm sure I could have saved zillions of dollars on baby foods if I fed her rocks, topped with sugar and cream, for breakfast, lunch and supper.

Since I couldn't stomach the very thought of that jawbreaking, undernourishing diet, though, I tried a little cajolery to break her of the rock-gorging habit.

Affecting the very stern manner of the disciplinarian, I shook my finger under her pert little nose and said: "Do you know that eating rocks and dirt can give you the green sickness?"

With the air of one who sensed, even at her age, that she could wrap daddy around her tiny pinky, she looked at me and smiled, as though to say, "How delightful!"

Shortly thereafter she changed her sphere of gastronomic operations and began to make money disappear better than the other distaff member of the family.

One day, before our very eyes she started to engorge an old buffalo nickel. Whether the buffalo kicked or the Indian squirmed, I don't know. At any rate, the esophagus rejected the coin, and Karen began to choke. Promptly I seized her, turned her upside down, and gave her a resounding whack on the back, causing her to disgorge the nickel. At that, she let out a shriek; and when I set her down, she looked at me resentfully, as much as to say, "Why don't you pick on somebody your own size?"

"By the way," I said, turning to my wife, "don't breathe a word of this to anyone. If the Collector of Internal Revenue finds out about it, he's sure to come around looking for the government's cut."

Also included in Karen's unusual, but certainly non-fattening diet over the years were mothballs (she'll never get either moths or butterflies in her stomach), assorted plum, peach, and watermelon pits or seeds, a marble or two, a penny, a pin, bits of paper, etc., etc., etc.

I have seen other kids who also had strange dietary habits virtually from birth. One was a stick nibbler, and any old stick would do. Another was definitely and unarguably a geophagist. He ate dirt with such relish that he had his mother at her wit's end.

Then there was the three-year-old who figured in the news recently. Not satisfied with having cost his family consternation and $60 for X rays because he swallowed some pennies, the youngster caused his mother's wedding and engagement rings to disappear.

It's pretty hard to wring the truth and nothing but out of a three-year-old, you'll agree. And this little lad wouldn't admit to having gulped down the "detectable" marital symbols. All he would say is that he threw them down a sewer, though a sifting of the sewer's waste matter proved unfruitful.

The last I heard, the family was contemplating another series of X rays to see what hidden treasure the little boy's innards revealed this time.

Another child, who would start gagging if he came within five yards of a dentist, downed a good quantity of insect repellent. His mother tried milk, white of an egg, soapy water, ipecac, and even the finger in the throat method; but nothing would expell that repellent.

Now, he's probably the only boy I know whose insides are absolutely insect-proof.

All of this proves, of course, that when you have little children about, it is best to keep coins, paper, sticks, mothballs, razor blades, poisons -- in short, anything swallowable -- out of reach.

On the other hand, if the child starts swallowing unusual things early enough, he may grow up to be a sword swallower and achieve lasting fame with a circus.

Somehow or other, Karen doesn't seem like the sword-swallowing type, however. In fact, I'd rather see her grow up to be a housewife and mother. Then when her own brood starts gorging very strange and extremely-foreign objects, it will serve her right.

Oddments and Endments

THOSE 20 or 30 East Williston High School students who refuse to pledge allegiance to this country's flag don't really surprise me.

Considering the emphasis on the United Nations and one-world government that children are exposed to day after day in many public schools -- and the de-emphasis on love and respect for their own country -- I wouldn't be surprised if these kids demanded that their school fly the United Nations flag over the building in place, in stead, and in lieu of the United States flag.

And let us not forget that the New York State Commissioner of Education ruled the recitation of a portion of the "Star Spangled Banner" out of the Hicksville Public Schools.

If the disrespecters of the American flag look to such as he for guidance, they are looking in the wrong direction.

STORIES about the actively practiced inanities of some school psychologists never seem to stop coming in.

The latest involves the son of a professional man who happens to be a standout in his field. Seems the boy is a voracious reader and as a student and budding scholar is far ahead of his "peer group," as the spyche-snoops would put it.

Visibly aghast that the boy should be so far ahead of and so superior to other youngsters of the same age, the school psychologist who examined the lad recommended that the parents curb the boy's reading habits to bring him more in line, intellectually and socially, with the peer group.

Result: The parents now think the psychologist in question is some kind of a nut. And, incidentally, they've gone out to buy the boy more books, I hear.

This incident prompts two questions:

1. If scholarship is so terrible, why do we bother to have schools at all?
2. Is it so strange, after all, that a Long Island school psychologist brashly told a parents group recently that two kinds of children need psychologists: the retarded and the exceptional or highly intelligent child?

Baseball Teams

Connie Meade, the President of the Bethpage Baseball Association in Bethpage, announces that their baseball program for the 1964 season is running smoothly and will open as scheduled. With all the players registered and assigned to teams, the Association encompasses 6 teams in the Farm Division, limited to 8 year olds, 33 teams in the three separate Little Leagues, 6 teams in the Pony League, 3 in the Colt League, 1 Connie Mack team, and 6 teams in the Ponytail League, a girls softball program. May 3 is the opening date for all Leagues but the Pony, Colt and Connie Mack with their opening held up until the school program is finished to make sure there is no conflict in games scheduled. For its 14th consecutive year it looks like over 800 youngsters and over 100 adults will have a healthy outlet for their energies in the Bethpage area for the 1964 season. Additional registration will still be accepted but those registering at this later date will be assigned only when replacements on existing teams are needed. For further information contact Conrad Meade directly and he will direct you to the proper party concerned.

The nominating committee, appointed by the President, will present the slate of candidates for office for the 1964-65 season at this meeting. Elections will be held at the annual meeting in May.

Bob Brook, President, also reports that all tickets for the Tenth Anniversary Dance of the Midland Civics have been sold. This Dinner-Dance will be held at the Holiday Manor on April 18.

EIGHTEEN YEARS, THREE MONTHS and seven days before Pearl Harbor, Japan experienced an earthquake that took over 90,000 lives and left diseases smoldering in its wake. Some $11,000,000 in cash and many a shipload of relief materials arrived from a sympathetic U.S.A., "These are things no Japanese is likely to forget," commented Herbert H. Gowan, author of a news column in those days. Japan did not forget. Here's a quote from a War Department communique of February, 1942: "Several of the specially built barges which the Japanese used in attempting landings on Bataan, have been captured. In them were lifesaving and other equipment marked 'U.S. Transport Merritt.' These supplies were loaded, in Manila, for shipment to Japan under the direction of Brigadier General Douglas MacArthur..." Let's hope we can do even more for our own Alaskan brothers immediately. We regret the old soldier will not be able to help... Similes: As nostalgic as wood smoke on a frosty morning... When asked why he never got excited no matter what went wrong my favorite bartender Charley, replied: "Oh, it's just a matter of environment. You see I have a wife, five kids, two dogs and a cigarette lighter..." The Port Lions Club luncheons will return to Bernie Mann's Riviera soon... Syosset's Villa Victor restaurant-and-motel management announced that $1,000,000 would buy the whole bit. To date no takers, though it's worth more... When an elephant walked into the Dallas Police Station what did the cops there say? Answer: They said nothing. Because they didn't see anything... Prediction: The Republican ticket will be Lodge and Nixon. With Lodge in the drivers seat. Win or lose, let's not forget that the GOP choice will head that party afterwards... A PROGRESS REPORT: AN ATTEMPT BY A SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER TO CONTROL THE PRESS!

On Dec. 13 Mr. George W. Kunz, a trustee of the Hicksville Board of Education, attempted to control the editorial opinion of this newspaper. Mr. Kunz brought before the school board an editorial criticising it for having conducted a building expansion referendum on the Saturday of national mourning for the late President Kennedy. Because this editorial disagreed with the board, Mr. Kunz used his office to make a motion to deny any legal advertising to the Mid Island Times. . . . But he invited the editor to come and publicly apologize for the editorial at the Board meeting of January 10

This Was Our Answer

I have not come before this Board tonight to apologize for any opinions that I have written. I am here to demand the resignation of Mr. George W. Kunz from this School Board. Mr. Kunz has misused his office and committed an act which is in the nature of bribery. It is an act that cannot be condoned by anyone and will bring disgrace upon the Board of Education.

It was with shock and amazement that I read a letter from Board member Kunz suggesting that I might come to this Board meeting and apologize for editorial opinions I had written in the Mid Island Times. These opinions questioned the propriety of holding balloting on the school referendum on the Saturday after Pres. Kennedy was assassinated.

The shock was that I never suspected Mr. Kunz who has been elected to the Board of Education in Hicksville would take it upon himself to influence a newspaper and actually distort the contents of a newspaper editorial.

The shock was intensified when in listening to the recorded minutes of the meeting of December 13, that Mr. Kunz would dare to openly state that this was a reason for withdrawing legal advertising from the newspaper.

I want Mr. Kunz to know without reservation that it is not his place to direct the editorial policy of any newspaper and that if the position he was elected to on the School Board by a narrow margin, has so inflated his ego that he believes he has this power, he has much to learn. It is a breach of office for any member of a School Board to suggest that in addition to purchasing something—in this case advertising—that he is entitled to something extra. This is a misuse of public office. The School Board and Mr. Kunz have no reason to expect any special treatment by newspapers that they by law place advertising in. If this were the case there would be no criticism of any public office and no newspapers worth printing.

In the case of a Board of Education trying to establish this practice it is even worse. They are supposed to represent the highest goals of education which must of necessity be in accord with the Constitution of the United States. To blatantly attempt to control newspapers with tax money is incongruous.

The facts are clearcut in this case and beyond debate. Mr. Kunz even confirmed in letters to the newspaper that he was penalizing it for its editorial and that it would get what he calls "fair treatment"—that is the Board might buy the usual advertising space—if the editorials were friendly. There is no way that the Commissioner of Education can approve of this. It is wrong, disgraceful and a misuse of public office. If Mr. Kunz does not voluntarily resign, we are sure he will be ousted.

In order to divorce this issue from a monetary one, the Mid Island Times has decided not to accept any more legal advertising from the Hicksville School District for the remainder of this fiscal year, regardless of whether the action of the Board is reversed or not.

SIGNIFICANT QUOTES

- "The school board should learn that it cannot force you to agree with it."
- "It is the shame of the century."
- "The entire school board is to blame but Mr Kunz in particular."
- "Keep up the good work the school board is made up of the most arrogant people in Hicksville."
- "A little more educational background like college degrees might help many board members."
- "They ought to start worrying about taxes instead of criticism."
- "The whole thing smacks of immaturity."

Let's Talk About a Unique Investment LIFE INSURANCE

Over and above its basic job of financial protection, life insurance has many other important values:

- It is a sound investment that keeps growing in value, like a savings account you add to regularly.
- It earns healthy dividends.
- It is your property. You can withdraw some or all of its built-up cash reserve at any time. Or you can borrow it. Or use it as collateral for a bank loan.
- It is a source of income. Later on, you can use it to give you a lifetime monthly retirement income.
- It is the one savings plan you are most likely to complete. Many people welcome life insurance as enforced savings.

And, of course, from the day it starts, this same life insurance policy also gives you the full financial protection your family needs . . . the money that guarantees your dreams will come true.

Keep your mind on the road, not on your troubles. Don't worry about business, the family, or what may happen tomorrow. Keep alert to what's happening now. Good driving's a full-time job requiring an alert mind and body. If you must worry, do it in your leisure time.

WHEN YOU DRIVE...

Think now, complain later. "Mad" at someone or something? Turn it off when you turn your ignition on. Anger, no matter who, or what it's directed at, can color your whole driving attitude, making you a menace to other motorists on the road.

THINK

Think wise... think eager... think careful, cautious, cheerful, courteous driving. Good driving is the responsibility of every motorist. A cheerful attitude toward others on the road will get you to your destination more relaxed than if you find fault with every driver along the way. Think careful driving when you're behind the wheel. And, when you think of protection against the hazards of other not-so-careful drivers, think of State Farm, the careful driver's insurance company.

able to handle residents' complaints within forty-eight hours following receipt of the information from Town residents. We feel," the Majority Leader added, "that the establishment of this new Complaint Bureau will fill a definite need of the Townspeople and will make it much easier for them to make known to the authorities situations that require corrective action."

The new Complaint Section will operate independently of the existing Dept. of Highways and Drainage as these Departments are fully organized to directly handle specific emergencies with which they are concerned. Mail should be addressed to Miller Road, Syosset, and residents desiring to telephone are requested to use Walnut 1-1030. The only time callers will be referred to another number will be when action is required by another jurisdiction, such as State, County or Village entities.

Majority Leader Poulos said that a new pocket-size pamphlet entitled "This is Your Town" is in its first printing for 1964 and is available to residents, without charge by writing or calling the Town Clerk. The pamphlet lists all the Town officials, departments and services performed. It is suggested that residents desiring this pamphlet can speed up the handling process by enclosing with their request a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Junior Women Donate To Library

Monday evening, April 13 at 8:30 PM, members of the Junior Woman's Club of Bethpage will gather at the home of vice-president, Mrs. Kenneth Atkinson, Millford Court, Plainview, for the regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Joseph Ruddy will assist as co-hostess at this meeting which will be spotlighted by the presentation of a donation to the Bethpage Public Library, the annual election of officers and, in a lighter vein, a program on the production and uses of wines in today's culture.

The social service committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Samuel Gay, continues its weekly sessions on Thursday mornings at Mrs. Gay's home. All members of the club are encouraged to join in this very worthwhile project, creating yarn dolls for the children treated on the S.S. Hope Hospital Ship. Recently members of the club entertained the ladies of the Jones Institute at a tea as a part of the social service program.

Approximately one-fourth actual size

This odd-looking device is now cutting oil heat bills in thousands of U.S. homes

It is called the Shell Burner-Pak. Surveys of actual home installations show it saves an average of $17 on every $100 once spent for heating oil. It has earned the Good Housekeeping Consumers' Guaranty. Read this report and learn why an oil company is selling a device that cuts the amount of oil you need to heat your home!

THE Shell Burner-Pak is a compact device that can make old oil burners work as well as the best modern burners.

Since nationwide introduction, detailed records have been kept on hundreds of installations.

They show that—based on the typical $200 annual oil heat bill:

- Ten percent of the homes equipped with the Burner-Pak save between $56 and $78 in the first year alone.
- Thirty percent save between $35 and $55.
- Forty percent save between $18 and $34.
- Twenty percent save up to $17.

In most cases, the Shell Burner-Pak can pay for itself in its first heating season. And savings continue year after year.

The Burner-Pak also promotes quieter operation and cleaner heat—cleaner because it burns every drop of oil completely.

Why Shell helps customers reduce oil consumption

Shell invented a device that cuts oil consumption because it makes good business sense:

Some ten million homes in the United States have central oil heating systems. But most of these oil burners are over ten years old. Many don't work as well as they once did. The de-

How Burner-Pak cuts heat bills

All gun type burners burn a mixture of oil droplets and air. For maximum efficiency every drop of oil must produce all the heat it can.

The secret to the Burner-Pak's high burning efficiency lies in exactly matching the flow of both oil and air.

At start-up. The Burner-Pak holds the oil back until air and oil pressures have reached their maximums. Ignition is sharp and clean.

During operation, the oil is converted into a fine, conical spray, exactly matched by the air flow.

Combustion is complete. Maximum heat is produced at once. At shutdown, oil flow stops instantly. Cut off is sharp and clean.

Result: More heat from less oil.

creased efficiency and economy of these older burners can lead to customer dissatisfaction.

Shell's solution is the Burner-Pak—a device that improves existing oil burners.

With the Burner-Pak, we sell less oil to each customer. But our old customers stay satisfied and we have a powerful means of attracting new customers.

Old burners work like new ones

The Burner-Pak was designed to make old units burn as efficiently as new ones. It can even make an old burner work better than a new one.

The Burner-Pak will fit the burners in nine out of ten homes that have central oil heating. A Shell serviceman can do the job in a short time.

What the Burner-Pak costs

The Burner-Pak unit itself costs about $17 plus state and local taxes.

Installation is additional but reasonable. Because installation costs vary, only a Shell Heating Oil Distributor can give you an accurate figure.

The Shell Burner-Pak is sold strictly under this guarantee:

"You must be completely satisfied with the Burner-Pak twelve months after installation or the Shell Oil Company will refund your money in full."

You are also protected by the Good Housekeeping Consumers' Guaranty:

"If product or performance is defective, Good Housekeeping guarantees replacement or refund to the consumer."

These guarantees are your assurance that you take no risk with the Shell Burner-Pak.

Your savings can be predicted

Only a heating efficiency test of a burner can determine whether or not a Burner-Pak can make a significant saving in oil bills. This test permits an accurate estimate of the amount of savings possible with the Burner-Pak.

If the test reveals that your burner does not need the Burner-Pak, we will tell you.

The heating efficiency test is free. To get one, without obligation, mail the coupon below.
