Local Voting Helps Regular Judges Win

Judge James L. Dowsey led the ticket in totals Tuesday in the first primary contest for County Court judgeship ever held. Judge Dowsey piled up 37,622 votes for re-election. Judge Harold Spitzer received 35,742 and Michael D'Auria 27,011 votes. All three winners are incumbents and all three had the approval of the party.

Challenger Dist. Court Judge Harold Strohsen received 22,662 votes. The race actually developed after the recent appointment of Michael D'Auria to the bench. Judge Strohsen had hoped for the appointment, but when it did not come appealed to the voters in the primary. Although Strohsen did not win, he succeeded in whittling down the total of Judge D'Auria.

In Rockefeller vs. Goldwater delegate voting, the second Congressional District did not have any opposition to the regular delegates. In the Bethpage area of the fourth district, regulars led opponents two to one to give Rockefeller a clean sweep. But in the Levittown area the race was close but both delegates finally did go to Rockefeller.

Vote Breakdowns for Judgeship

	Hicksville	Plainview	Bethpage
Dowsey	1162	979	454
Spitzer	1106	987	506
D'Auria	922	1072	378
Strohsen	707	273	280

H.S. Band Given Honor

The Hicksville Jr. High School Advanced Band, under Valerien Lagueux, became the "official" Band of South Carolina at the World's Fair.

Governor and Mrs. Russell pronounced each and every player an "honorary South Carolinian" for the excellent job that the group did in providing music for the State's Day at the World's Fair.

Mr. Lagueux had made arrangements to borrow music suitable for the occasion from the University of South Carolina. After a few rehearsals, the Band was ready for performance. The reception that they received was extremely enthusiastic.

After posing for photographs with Governor Russell, the Band packed their gear and hurried back to return to their classes.

THINKING IT OVER

By Robert L. Morgan

The Primary results in this area show that the local GOP voter is less than committed to the ideas of Nelson Rockefeller. The Goldwater forces nearly won in the Levittown area and on a recount (at this writing) still could be successful in upsetting the local solid front for Rocky.

For some people the possible nomination of Goldwater is treated with fright. It is not just the fright that he will push the GOP to a large scale loss on Election Day. The results of Landon and Wilkie did this years ago and the party did not fall apart. It came back again to elect Eisenhower. What the fright adds up to is a false fear of Goldwater compounded by frenzied newspaper writers who do not portray the true image and value of Goldwater readers.

They have distorted his stand on social security, income tax and foreign initiative, but apparently this has not really hurt the esteem many voters hold for Goldwater.

At this juncture in the presidential race we are not saying Goldwater should be elected President, but we think he should be heard and even if he gets the GOP nomination and loses he will be heard and he will be quoted correctly and listened to first hand. We think that the hysteria will die out then whether or not the people agree with Sen. Goldwater's solution or not -- but they won't falsely fear the distorted image now portrayed.

Treat Plugged Ears Like Stuffy Nose

By C. A. Dean, M.D.

(Q) "Please tell me how a blocked eustachian tube that passes from the ear to the throat can be cleared." J.J.K.

(A) Eustachian tubes become blocked very often during head colds. The same congestion and swelling that occurs in the nasal passages, likewise can occur in the inner (eustachian) ear tubes. The treatments of head cold, such as nasal decongestants, nasal sprays and steam inhalations, also help shrink (unplug) the ear tubes. If these methods do not help, a nose and throat doctor can open the tubes with air through special instruments. Swallowing with the nose held tightly closed with the fingers helps to open the tubes. If this is done after using decongestant medication, it will be more effective.

MEDITORIAL: Studies continue to come in about the effects of smoking on health. One such investigation concerned 2,000 pregnant women of which about one half were regular smokers (957) and the rest, non-smokers (1,043).

As this and other studies have shown, the average weight of newborn infants among smokers is less than among non-smokers (6 pounds, 13 ounces versus 7 pounds, 5 ounces).

When infants are born too soon or prematurely, their risk of dying is much greater than for full-term babies. It was found that the rate of premature infants was about 10 per cent for mothers who smoke and only about 4 per cent for the non-smokers.

Another important effect studied was the rate of miscarriages. Among women who smoke 20-30 cigarettes per day the rate was 15 per cent, whereas in non-smokers, miscarriages occurred in only 9 per cent.

Any further comment on this study would be superfluous.

Do you have a medical question. Write Dr. C. A. Dean in care of this newspaper.

Racial Violence Is Folly

By Russell Kirk

DESPITE THE GREAT STRIDES TOWARD EQUALITY which American colored people have made through court decisions and legislative enactments, a good many Negro leaders remain impatient for Utopia, right now. And some of them are talking windily about violence, if all their demands are not met. They put one in mind of Tocqueville's observation concerning the French Revolution: "Half way down the stairs, we leaped out the window in order to reach the ground more quickly."

Recently this columnist participated in a Chicago television program with two Negro leaders, Malcolm X and Dr. Louis Lomax. Whatever his eccentricities, Malcolm X is an intelligent man; while Dr. Lomax is a good-natured, scholarly person, not naturally extreme. Yet both these gentlemen -- opposed in much -- suggested that the Negroes will rise up ferociously, if not given everything they want in short order. Mr. Lomax talked of American society being reduced to ashes, if the "civil rights" bill should not pass and other Negro claims should not be conceded.

But what immense harm such talk, let alone action, can do to the cause which the Negro organizations wish to advance! If big racial riots occur this summer -- stimulated, in part, by precisely such suggestions -- a great part of the white population, already disturbed by certain irresponsible demonstrations and impossible demands, may set their faces obdurately against sensible measures for improving the condition of American colored people.

This writer endeavored to remind Dr. Lomax and Malcolm X that American Negroes can move toward equality in law and condition only if they have the sympathy of most American white people. The average white citizen, North or South, has not looked upon his colored fellow-citizen as an enemy. But if once he begins to fear and suspect the colored man as a dangerous radical, then the Negro will make no more gains.

White Americans outnumber Negro Americans nearly ten to one. If, then, voting occurs along racial lines -- and the Wisconsin, Indiana, and Maryland primaries suggested that such a demarcation is commencing -- colored people will lose every political test of strength, except in cities where they form the majority. (The only mostly colored city, as yet, is Washington, D.C.)

Or if violence is contemplated, the colored man will be still worse off, everywhere. The American police and military forces are perfectly competent to deal with organized attacks on whites, sabotage, or foolish insurrection. Malcolm X and Dr. Lomax claim that many white people would join them in time of crisis. They are mistaken: only a tiny handful of eccentric and neurotic extremists would abet such folly. And the enforcement of laws against inciting to riot would quickly deprive of leadership any Negro organization fanatic enough to "go into the streets."

Equally important, the average colored person does not desire violence -- though he might be the chief victim in such a struggle. The typical American Negro is not a radical or a firebrand. Already many sensible colored people are dismayed at the wild utterances of some colored demagogues. Arson and battery, he knows, will not get him a house in a better neighborhood, or a job at good pay, or acceptance in a fashionable restaurant. Why throw away all the strong gains of recent years, to satisfy the enthusiasm of a professional agitator?

I do not believe that the apologists for violence will prevail, for some Negro leaders are experiencing second thoughts. Some months ago, Dr. Martin Luther King hinted that there might be a march on Washington, if Congress did not pass the civil-rights bill by May 15. Though that date is long past, Congress has not been intimidated, and Dr. King and others now seem to understand that they could only exasperate their Congressional opponents and alienate their Congressional allies by such tactics.

In the Maryland primary, the anti-segregation ticket is said to have lost 10,000 votes by a Negro riot at Cambridge, protesting Governor Wallace's candidacy. Any group seeking equality of right must exert some pressure to achieve its ends. But if the pressure becomes extreme and violent, and the protestors are in a permanent minority, then the majority of the population will squish them. In the long run, appeals to justice succeed; and resort to violence fails, for revolutions devour their own children.

DO YOU HAVE A PEELING PROBLEM?

When paint continually peels off the exterior of your house, it's usually due to moisture from beneath the surface. The moisture works its way to the painted surface and cannot get through. A blister will form, eventually break, then start to peel.

Eliminating this moisture would be one way of solving the problem. (This would be almost impossible when you consider the hot and cold changes in the weather causing condensation or sweating.)

Another way would be to use a paint whose pores would allow the moisture to pass through it and remain unaffected. This we now have. NEW ROL-EZE. THE PAINT THAT BREATHES.

Now you don't have to wait for that dry day to do your outside painting. You paint right over damp or wet surfaces before or after it rains. (Even during the rain if you're so inclined.)

Every Man to His Own Harem

Every year, just before Christmas, the little woman (an appellation suggested by Louisa May Alcott) says to me: "What do you want for Christmas?"

My answer is the same, year by year by wearying year. "Nothing much. Just get me a harem. My needs are modest; my desires, conservative."

"A harem," she'll huff, "you wouldn't know what to do with a harem if you had one!"

"Yes, I would," I say harem-mindedly. "I'd have one bundle of loveliness darn those holes I perennially find in my socks. Another bewitching beauty would serve as an automatic dishwasher, something you've always wanted. A third dewy-eyed young creature would manure my toenails every blissful night."

"Do you know that a recent national study showed that there are almost 80 million males in America walking around with unmanicured toenails? What a national calamity!"

My yokemate will naturally be enthralled by the elaborateness of my harem plans. But she'll recover herself sufficiently to say: "Sure, every husband is a potential slave-driver who'd just love to have 30 women waiting on him hand and foot.

"I do the work of 30 women now," she'll add defensively. "I wash, I iron, I cook, I clean, I sew, I take the children to school, and I do most of the spade work in the garden."

"Is that so?" I'll say. "Do you remember when I last asked you to darn my socks? You told me, 'Darn them yourself. You use that kind of language.'"

When it comes to crushing my hopes for a harem, though, my daughter is a far superior squelcher. Once we were passing a huge department store window which sported at least 20 mannikins displaying theirs and the store's lingerie-ic wares.

"Meet my harem," I said a bit boastfully.

"What's a harem, Daddy?" My daughter replied.

So much for the unharemic attitude of the female branch of the family. What about harems themselves? Who invented them?

No matter what the Russians may claim, they definitely did not invent the harem. The Arabs did. As a matter of fact, a fellow by the name of Joe Arab, I understand, really deserves all the credit. Joe not only took 59 wives to his bosom right after he invented harems (there's nothing like seeing if an invention will work properly). He went so far as to devise the Arabian divorce procedure by which an Arab has to say "I divorce thee" three separate and distinct times to divest himself of only one wife.

Of course, there's a decided difference between Arabian and American harems. Whereas the Arabs have "all-at-a-time" harems, a far preferable arrangement, we in America have one-at-a-time harems, simply because the law says, "You can have as many wives as you like consecutively, but not as many as you like concurrently."

Getting back to Joe Arab, his harem almost killed the poor soul, but not the way you think.

It seems Joe wanted to divorce all 59 wives, but found he had to utter the knot-slicing words separately for each individual wife, not collectively, as would be much more sensible. As a consequence, Joe kept running out of breath. They flew in oxygen -- from Reno, Nevada, I think it was -- to re-inspire Joe so he could rid himself of all 59 spouses. Joe survived the ordeal, and today he is happily remarried, with only 25 wives to comfort him this time.

Which, by the way, is 24 more than I have, mainly because my wife won't get me what I want for Christmas.

Girl Scout News Notes

Troops of Bethpage-Plainedge Neighborhood VI are all busily occupied with end of the year scouting activities. Such things as Fly-Up Ceremonies and Court of Awards, along with progression to the next level of scouting, and graduation out of Senior Scouting into an Adult capacity, are going on in the neighborhood. Cook-outs and trips of interest as well as camp plans will complete the activities for the Scout year.

Bethpage Troops participated in the Memorial Day Parade on May 30. In the Fourth Division and led by an Honor Guard of Senior Girl Scouts, Crystal Goddard, Jane Hellig, and Carol Lindeman from Troop 411; Brownies, older Girl Scouts and leaders marched along Broadway to the John F. Kennedy Memorial Jr. High School for ceremonies at Memorial Field.

Cadettes from Troop 418 with their leader, Mrs. Joan Richards decorated the grandstand for the occasion; and Senior Scout Jane Hellig of #411, along with James Rosellius of Boy Scout Troop 118 were the flag raisers for the ceremony.

Mrs. Ethel Lindeman in charge of the group, was supported by the leaders who are sincerely thanked for their participation and community spirit on this most meaningful occasion.

Bethpage's Troop 4 patrols are busily completing various badges with their respectful leaders: Drawing and painting--Mrs. Kawaters; Toy Badge--Mrs. Day; Needlecraft--Mrs. Gross and Senior Aide, Carol Lindeman; Weaving & Basketry--Mrs. Burn; and Sewing-- Mrs. Langdon. Troop 4's Court of Awards and closing program is scheduled for June 15 so there is much to prepare for within the next few meetings. They and other Jr. Girl Scouts, totaling 135 in number, attended the Mineola Playhouse production of "My Fair Lady" on May 9th.

Cadette Troops 49 and 51 ended their year of Scouting on May 21st with a Court of Awards and International Buffet, to which the parents were invited.

After the flag ceremony, Troop Leaders Mrs. Nemeroff and Mrs. Bilicki welcomed the parents and presented the Scouts with badges and pins. Mrs. Bilicki introduced Mrs. Merin, Senior leader who spoke briefly on the Senior Scout program and capped Pamela Clarkson and Linda Manski.

The troop had been requested to select a member whom they considered to be a perfect example of a Girl Scout and Miss Manske was chosen by a unanimous vote.

Each girl prepared a dish from the country chosen by her at an earlier meeting, and both parents and scouts enjoyed eating their way around the world.

Short speeches by the leaders were followed by all joining hands and taking part in the friendship circle.

The troops would like to publicly thank the following people for their aid this past year: Mrs. Scannapleco, Mr. Raybin of Bethpage Variety Shop, Mr. James Day, Mrs. Joan Baumann, Beauty & Charm of Bethpage, The Elks of Hicksville and Levittown and Mrs. Ethel Lindeman for her assistance and availability when the leaders needed someone to turn to.

Brownie Troop 215 and their leader Mrs. La Placa have set June 13 for their Fly-Up Ceremony which will be an outdoor one; to be followed with a closing cook-out.

Mrs. Day and Mrs. Kinsinger's Jr. Troop #331 will have their Court of Awards on June 17. These girls will be participating in the Bloomingdale School PTA's closing program, acting as ushers, color guard, baking and serving refreshments as well as entertaining the members with their latest play production.

On Saturday evening, May 23, Mounted Senior Troop #411 and their leader Mrs. Catalano, joined by mounted girls from Mrs. Karcher's Farmingdale Troop and Mrs.

Scanlon from the Bethpage Riding & Polo Academy, attended the Madison Square Garden showing of Vienna's famous White Stallions from the Spanish Riding School.

It was a breathtaking performance and superb horsemanship, which was enjoyed and appreciated by all. The lovely leaping Lipizzaners demonstrated the maneuvers which have made them, their riders and director, Colonel Alois Podhapsky, world famous.

Brownie Troops 621 and 690 are having a combined Fly-Up Ceremony on Thursday, June 4 at the John F. Kennedy Memorial Jr. High School. The girls are eagerly looking forward to the occasion, and to the coming year as Jr. Girl Scouts.

Christian Mothers Hear Many Topics

It might seem that the best was saved for last as we review the program for the May meeting of the St. Ignatius Loyola Auxiliary of Christian Mothers at which Sister Edmond de St. Bernard, a daughter of Wisdom, was the guest speaker. As usual, the business meeting began the evening, and at this time Sister Venard reviewed the year's accomplishments for and by our children. She reminded the members that there has been an intensive reading drive and recommended that if a child is falling due to poor reading he should be signed up in the remedial reading classes where there will be twenty specialists trained in this field.

Sister took this opportunity also to thank the staff, both sisters and teachers who undertook the difficult task of not only bringing 1300 children to the New York World's Fair, but also delivering them safely home again.

Father Goggin commented on the particularly large attendance and explained how necessary this continued type of cooperation is if the sisters and teachers are to satisfactorily educate the children.

Apathy on important matters in our community, affecting especially our teenagers can result in dire effects, Father said, and urged everyone to express their opinions very strongly concerning the pornographic literature obtainable in local stores, as well as books, shows, T.V., Ads, and movies.

At this time Father also extended an invitation to all the members to a party honoring his Silver Jubilee on Friday, June 5 and to the Mass of Thanksgiving on Saturday June 6 at 12 noon.

It is virtually impossible to satisfactorily report on the informative and entertaining evening brought by the missionary Sister of the Daughters of Wisdom, Sister Edmond de St. Bernard.

As described by Mrs. McGee, she is a "woman of courage and determination, a lady who is using her gift from God, that of being a woman. In the special way a nun does - giving service." To that might be added that Sister Edmond is a natural comedian and in her various anecdotes and descriptions of her years in Africa the entire audience, when not rocked with laughter, was held spellbound. It is easy to imagine why the absence of T.V. or movies would not easily be noticed with such a person available.

From a family of seven children in the parish of Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Brooklyn, two chose the religious life. One was Father Patrick McDwyer, CP and the other Sister Edmond de St. Bernard who has been a member of the D.O.W. since the age of sixteen. Sister has been stationed in Africa for the past twenty-eight years and was decorated by Queen Elizabeth II for her outstanding work in education there.

At the beginning of her talk, Sister warned us that she was not a public speaker, and then proceeded to regale the members with one anecdote after another on the customs in Nyasaland East Africa. Particularly amusing was her description of how she prepared and served a meal to a very ferocious and strange warrior, thus saving herself from becoming the main course.

If any of us are fortunate enough to include Africa in our travels, we are well prepared on the habits of crocodiles, elephants and monkeys and forewarned never to bathe in crocodile infested waters at sunrise or sunset.

Sister described the people of Nyasaland as "very nice, gracious and kind" and mentioned how extremely intelligent the students were, being especially proficient in Algebra and Geometry.

In all of her stopovers enroute to the United States - from Rhodesia, Egypt, Jordan, Rome, San Francisco, Alberta, Canada, etc. Sister Edmond found the very nicest people she has met have been in Hicksville.

Reports reaching Africa over the years have not been encouraging concerning our youth and their parent's apparent unconcern in the decline of their moral standards. But having visited Hicksville, Sister said, she can carry a message back with her of how deeply impressed she was with the mothers she has met and of their deep, strong concern for the education and welfare of their children.

Life certainly could not have been considered dull for this Teacher, Snake Killer, Monkey Chaser, Policewoman and Mountain Climber - and as she returns to what she considers her home in Ny-saland, she asks our prayers for all the members of her community. Just before the conclusion of the meeting, the results of the election for the 1964-65 slate of officers were announced. For President, Mrs. Joseph Gough, Vice-President, Mrs. Lawrence Mc

Caffrey, Recording Secretary, Mrs. August Pergallo, Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. William Krajci, and Treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Murphy.

The winners of the Dark Horse prizes were Mrs. John Hannigan and Sister Jude Martin who was presented with a Gift Certificate from Gerts. The next meeting on June 15 will be the last of the season and promises to be well worth attending since we are to be entertained once again with a program arranged by Mrs. Patrick McGee, entitled "To Mother With Love."

Bethpage Workshop Record Year

As the season closes on another successful year, the Bethpage Children's Creative Workshop is engaged in making plans for next year's program. The largest enrollment yet of over 240 children helped to make this a top year for the Workshop. The courses offered included ceramics, art, creative dance, creative drama, guitar, science workshop and group piano, all taught by well qualified specialists. These will be offered again next season and additional courses are being considered in line with the workshop's policy of offering ever-increasing opportunities for creative activities to the children of the community.

The final demonstration by Workshop children, held at Charles Campagne School in Bethpage, was greatly enjoyed by parents and friends at the annual Open House. Of outstanding interest during the year were the trips taken by the youngsters to see "The Emperor's New Clothes" at the Mineola Theatre, and "The Pied Piper of Hamelin" at the 92nd St. 'Y'. The field trip program was instituted to provide experiences of cultural value for the children and has been well received by those attending.

The Bethpage Children's Creative Workshop is a cooperative, non-profit organization, administered by a group of interested citizens on a volunteer basis. Its purpose is to give cultural and creative experience to young people at a minimal cost.

strumental in establishing a glee club at St. Ignatius Loyola 11 years ago, and is moderator of the Mother's Auxiliary. He has worked in the radio field as a speaker for about 15 years.

Father Goggin will offer a Solemn High Mass of Thanksgiving on Saturday, June 6, at noon.

The Rev. Lawrence Ballweg of St. Ignatius Loyola, will be the deacon, and the Rev. John Hession, professor at St. Joseph's College, Bklyn., will be sub-deacon.

The Rev. James E. Collins of St. Joseph's parish, Garden City, a classmate will be archpriest and preacher at the Mass.

LILCO REDUCES GAS AND ELECTRIC RATES $2,950,000

(Your Biggest Household Bargain Is Getting Better And Better!)

Effective June 1, 1964 the Long Island Lighting Company has reduced electric rates by $2,400,000 and gas rates by $550,000.

The rate reductions were made possible by the recently enacted cut in corporate Federal income taxes and by LILCO's continuing program to increase efficiency, promote sales and increase customers. And when we save money it is our policy to voluntarily pass those savings on to our customers.

Gas Heat Customers Will Reap Benefits

The new gas rate reduction will benefit LILCO's residential gas heat customers. Homeowners can now enjoy the best for less... the cleanliness, convenience, dependability only gas heat affords.

Third LILCO Electric Rate Reduction in Four Years

This is the third LILCO electric rate reduction in the past four years, and more than ever proves that electricity is your biggest household bargain. Since 1940, the cost of living has risen 115% across the country, while the cost of electricity from LILCO has actually decreased 41%. And the more electricity you use, the less it costs per kilowatt hour! Put it to work making life easier for you. You'll never find a more willing worker at a more economical price.

Father Goggin Celebrates Anniv.

Rev. Leo J. Goggin of St. Ignatius Church, Hicksville, is among eleven priests of the Diocese of Rockville Centre who observed the twenty-fifth anniversaries of their ordinations. They were all ordained by the late Archbishop Thomas E. Molloy, in St. James Pro-Cathedral, Brooklyn, on June 3, 1939.

All completed their studies for the priesthood at Immaculate Conception Seminary in Huntington. The Rev. Leo J. Goggin was born in Freeport in 1913, he has been at St. Ignatius Loyola parish, Hicksville, for 14 years.

His first assignment was at St. Barnabas, Bellmore. He served six years at St. Cecilia, Greenpoint.

He was graduated from Brooklyn public schools and Cathedral College, Brooklyn, before entering the seminary.

Want Curfew At Town Beaches

The Town Board has banned admittances after 9 p.m. on three north shore beaches, it was disclosed by Councilman Edward J. Poulos, Board Majority Leader.

The Board included the Centre Island Beach on the south side near Bayville; Beekman and Theodore Roosevelt Memorial Park Beach at Oyster Bay under the 9 p.m. no-admittance ban. Those persons already on the beach may remain so long as they are orderly until 11 p.m., except at Beekman where the beach will be cleared and gates locked at 9 p.m.

The "curfew" was recommended by Councilman Edmund A. Ocker and Peter B. Allsopp as a measure to relieve neighbors from annoyances and to assist police in carrying out their responsibility to curb improper behavior. Beaches are now open for the season.
