Jets Win Super Rating

At the twelfth Annual National Engineering Exposition held May 22-24, Richard Robey, a member of Hicksville Recreation's JETS was awarded a rating of "Superior" for his project in aeronautical engineering. Approximately fifteen out of sixty entrants received similar ratings. Richard's successful project, entitled "Simple Telemetry System" marks the third consecutive "Superior" rating with which the JETS have been honored.

The J.E.T.S. is a Hicksville Recreation activity which has completed its third year. It has been co-sponsored with Republic Aviation. The purposes are to provide recreational opportunities for high school boys and girls who have an interest in scientific and technical pursuits.

Features of past successes have been the "Moon Garden" and "Laser". The club has also experimented with rocketry.

Delegates to the 46th annual convention of the Nassau County American Legion concluded their business last Saturday with the election of Michael Ciadella of Hicksville as County Commander for 1964-65.

Legionnaire Ciadella is a member of the Charles Wagner Post #421 of Hicksville and lives at 33 Amherst Lane, Hicksville, with his wife Agatha and their two children.

MR. EDWARD FOUNTAIN, a Hicksville teacher of French, and Miss Germaine Fontaine, his daughter, a music teacher in the East Meadow school district, were awarded Masters degrees at N.Y.U. last week. Miss Fontaine earned her B.S. from N.Y.U. in 1960 and has been teaching in East Meadow since her graduation.

Mr. Fontaine, a former concert and operatic singer, went back to school to fulfill the requirements for a B.A. in music which degree he received from Hofstra in 1959. A teacher of English at Hicksville Junior High School for four years, Mr. Fontaine is now teaching French in which subject he attained his Masters degree. Father and daughter intend to pursue their studies towards a Doctor's degree.

Teachers Air Grips

The Hicksville Board of Education will hear teacher grievances tonight at 8 p.m. in an open meeting. The meeting has been called because of the many grievances presented by teachers of the district and by an exceptionally high number of resignations by teachers this year.

Mrs. Taliaferro Dies Prominent Resident

Services were conducted today for Johanna Taliaferro at Wagner Funeral Home by Rev. Edward Stammel, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Hicksville. Brought to Hicksville when she was only three days old, Mrs. Johanna Taliaferro, would have been 92 next month.

Mrs. Taliaferro was born in Manhattan and lived her life-time in Hicksville at 47 Jerusalem Avenue. She was active in the work of Girl Scouts and organized the first group in Hicksville and was active in the formation of the Nassau Girl Scout Council. If You Please

SUMMER THIS AND SUMMER THAT: mostly short shorts and stuff 'n things; You will not believe half of this junk BUT IT'S TRUE! For instance: One of my dearest Port Washington friends is such an expert knitter that she's always looking for unusual sweater patterns to try. (This is not a gag.) One evening at dinner in a Manhasset Chinese restaurant, she was intrigued with the Chinese characters (lettering) on the menu. So she took the menu home and set about knitting the Chinese wordings. To cut this bit short my pal's wife knitted a black sweater with the Chinese characters in white running from the shoulder to the tummy. With her blonde hair she looks very attractive in it. I forgot to tell you that she clipped the Chinese menu about a month ago. Well, last week we were a foursome at another Chinese restaurant. As you know few Chinese smile, but when we came in the waiters, waitresses and bartenders broke into laughter, smiles and good service. I will not go into how much "Conning" I had to go into to learn why the attention and smiles from our Chinese restaurant hosts. But my neighbors wife will learn here for the first time that her sexy black sweater with the copied Chinese lettering so skillfully knitted spells out: "This Dish Is Cheap But Delicious"!... One of my favorite people Dick McKee likes the story of the North Hempstead-er who was celebrating his 100th birthday. Asked by an Oyster Bayer what he attributed his longevity, he answered: "Remember the shooting of Pancho Verreto? Well, sir, I attribute my old age mostly to the fact that the police never did find out who killed 'Dear-old' Pancho.... Since the Civil Rights Bill is exhibit "A" I must quote what a legit(supposedly) Hicksville real estate salesman said to a couple: "This is truly a restricted development. In fact, no one is allowed to build a house here they can afford."... A great musician, gentleman and friend Bob Eschmann, is seriously ill in Doctors Hospital, Freeport. Don't send flowers. Send money. If Bob can't use it he'll donate it to a cause worthy of your every good wish. I'm serious, let's let him be the judge as to where your donation should be directed. He's cheered us many times with his piano playing. This column has never before requested a donation for a cause, but the Bob Eschmann cause is for all of you to show your belief in good music and its creator, Bob Eschmann -- Doctor's Hospital, Freeport. (I'll match your donation Buck for Buck, to the Bob Eschmann's cause)... From Jack Altshul's Newsday column: "Carl Hoppe has completed one of the most lavish and plush renovations around with the expansion of his beautiful Westbury Manor. It's twice as big now and yet he has managed to retain Westbury Manor's original charm. Hoppe has appointed Charles "Chic" Farmer as host there. He's carrying out Carl's policy of consistent elegant service; delicious food in an atmosphere that allows you to wine and dine like in the good old days."... A neighbor to his daughter's suitor: "Frankly, young man, you aren't making enough to support her, but that's all right--neither am I." If You Please, kid get smart....

Outlook On Life Affects System

By C. A. Dean, M.D.

(Q) "Can you tell me what to do for colitis? I have been in the hospital twice in 2 months for it. Nervousness causes it at times." Mrs. L.P.

(A) A diet (bland) is very important. Avoiding tension, where your stomach gets "tied up in knots" so to speak, is necessary. A new outlook on life will help. You should seek proper guidance along these lines. Try exercise and you will rest better.

MEDITORIAL: The mouth and nose are the entrances to the respiratory tract which also includes the pharynx (throat), larynx (voicebox) and trachea (windpipe). Any place along this pathway a cancer can originate. In general, cancer of the entire respiratory tract occurs more often in men than in women.

Cancer of the lips is found more often on the lower rather than the upper lip. This is due to the exposure of the lower lip to many outside conditions, such as the sun's rays, or excess heat from short cigars and cigarettes and from certain pipes.

Cancer of the lip is in a perfect place for early detection but, in spite of this, many go untreated for long periods of time. It can appear in different ways such as a small lump or crack on the surface of the lip. Its main characteristic is, it does not go away in a reasonable length of time.

THINKING IT OVER

By Robert L. Morgan

The fact that nearly 800 seniors are graduating from Hicksville High School this year should bring home an important point to local school officials.

As predicted by the McCormick report, compiled by Professor Felix McCormick of Columbia University for many thousands of dollars, the class enrollments in senior high school are going up and will reach a peak the year after next. The enrollment will then decrease.

What the McCormick report suggested is that the Hicksville school system adjust to this peak by moving the necessary temporary classrooms to the senior high school site.

Some of this advice was heeded in Hicksville because two years ago the voters authorized the expenditure of money to move the temporary classrooms but nothing was done.

Then suddenly the school board, without explanation, decided that it would not be bothered with obeying this referendum but that it would simply push through a large scale building program of its own through another referendum. And it did just this.

The day after the assassination of President Kennedy, while the nation was in mourning, it mustered the votes to put up the large scale additions to the high school.

But there was a joker in the deck. The high school additions will not be ready for the mammoth enrollment next year and the high school will be so overcrowded no one knows what to do about it.

But when the money is spent and the big administration building, warehouse and classrooms are ready, they will only be of importance for one year. Then the enrollment will begin to go down as it says in the McCormick report. The students that all of the educationists say they are shedding tears over, will be cramped in tight classrooms next year when they need classroom space the most, and for the next generation Hicksville residents will pay the bill for the blunders of the Board of Education.

The most perplexing thing about it is why was the change made from the overall planning? At the time Hicksville began using temporary classrooms it was receiving widespread accolades for its educational achievements. There were the regular complainers, to be sure, but they seemed meaningless in the face of the academic facts. It appears that this small group of people has been able to change the whole plan of the district. But we still want to know who or what is behind this senseless shift?

The Teaching Of Patriotism

By Russell Kirk

IN HIS CAREFUL BOOK What Ivan Knows that Johnny Doesn't, Professor Arthur Trace, comparing the studies of Russian and American children, demonstrates that love of country is more effectively taught in Soviet schools than in American. In the past generation, the inculcating of genuine patriotism through the public schools has decayed badly in these United States.

I have to hand, for instance, a manual published in 1917 by the department of education of the state of Washington: A Patriotic Bulletin. We had then entered the First World War, and this manual was a response to that struggle. But it is markedly superior to what school materials were made available in the Second World War. And though this country is engaged today in a "cold war," and in actual fighting in Vietnam, instruction in such subjects, at most of our schools, has sunk to mere inculcation of sociability and toleration, or vague praise of an abstract "democratic way of life." Affection for the Republic of the United States, for one's state, and for one's community has given way to muddy "approved social attitudes."

In A Patriotic Bulletin, the reader finds a good deal about Washington and Lincoln; he learns the principal patriotic songs of some merit; he gets to know some very tolerable patriotic verse by William Cullen Bryant, James Russell Lowell, Oliver Wendell Holmes. Precious little material of this sort is to be found nowadays in the typical "civics" or "social studies" course.

Samuel Johnson said that patriotism is the last refuge of a scoundrel. But he meant here by "patriotism" the craft of the demagogue, appealing hypocritically to "the people" against just constitutional authority. Honest love of one's country is quite another matter.

Our children ought first to learn love of their town or region; then understanding and affection for their state; finally, a strong attachment to the American nation and its principles. (This writer has tried to describe, succinctly, American moral, political, and economic principles in one of his books, The American Cause.) And imaginative literature, in prose or verse, is a principal means for learning to love one's country. I think it a pity that few school children now have available any well-written collection of patriotic episodes like Hero Tales from American History, by Theodore Roosevelt and Henry Cabot Lodge.

Books cannot do the whole work of inculcating patriotism, however. "For us to love our country," in the phrase of Edmund Burke, "our country ought to be lovely." I do not marvel, therefore, that patriotism has its troubles in the ugly urban sprawl, among the hideous highways lined with enormous billboards and the worst exhibits of American commercialism, or in a mass culture increasingly corrupted by the boredom of much television and the nastiness of many movies.

The improvement of our country's face and taste, and the restoration of patriotic studies in our schools, ought to proceed hand in hand. Children do not learn to love their country by dreary indoctrination in generalization about one man being as good as another -- or maybe a little better (to quote Mark Twain). They require, from the first grade upward, lively biography of great Americans, picturesque but intelligent historical teaching, imaginative literature touching on American traditions, and impartial study of American political institutions.

Let me emphasize that I distinctly oppose dogmatic imparting of an "American ideology." Ideology means political fanaticism. Rather, I am commanding to you, gentle reader, a recovery of the simple studies which taught children that they were part of a great national continuity, joining the dead, the living, and those as yet unborn. It is sufficiently ironical that Soviet Russia, nominally bent upon a levelling international and anti-historical materialism, actually should teach her rising generation more affection for Mother Russia than American children, born to freedom, learn to feel for their own noble civilization.

Mack League
Sweeps Double

The Bethpage Connie Mack Eagles, sponsored by the Bethpage Kiwanis, swept both ends of a doubleheader from Farmingdale in the opening game for both teams in the Eastern Section "A" Division race. Charlie Caronia pitched a 5 hitter shutout, defeating Farmingdale 7-0 in the opener in the regulation 9 innings. Jimmie Carollo had 2 hits and catcher Mike Mirando batted in two of the Eagles runs as they scored 3 in the third and three in the fourth inning. Caronia singled, stole second and scored the 7th run on an infield out and a wild pitch.

Greg Hebert allowed 6 well scattered hits in the second game which went 10 innings before Bethpage scored on a single with the bases loaded and two out. Hebert struck out nine and walked only two. He walked the first batter in the game Farmingdale shortstop Bill Benz and he scored the only Farmingdale run after a ground-out and a single by Friedman, his first of two hits. Bethpage scored in the second on a single by Pete Schaaf, his first of two, a walk to Rick Leek, and successive singles by Mike Mirando and Jerry Sardelli. The Farmingdale strategy of walking Ron Hayden, a lefthand batter, twice with the winning run in scoring position in the closing innings, paid off twice but then backfired in the tenth when they tried it a third time, walking lefthander Pete Schaaf to lead the bases with two out. Rick Leek singled sharply to left for his third hit of the game for the tie-breaker and Bethpage won 2-1. Beth-

Letters

To the Editor:

I wonder if any high school pitcher can match the 1964 record of one of our Little League graduates who pitched for Bethpage High School this year, registering 13 of the team's 14 wins in league and tournament play while losing only two, both by shutouts.

Richard Leek, who played 4 years with the Bethpage American Little League, then with our Babe Ruthy, Pony and Colt Leagues, and is currently a member of our Connie Mack Team, moved into the number one spot on the Bethpage High School varsity pitching staff this year and came through very well for coach John Mazur.

The team just squeezed into the County Playoffs defeating North Shore 1-0 on the final day of the season, for and 11 won, 7 lost record. Ricky pitched a 2-hitter that day and, as winning pitcher, brought his pitching record to 10 wins and one loss. Pitching over 75 innings he allowed only 4 bases on balls. He batted second in the batting order and played first base in games in which he did not pitch.

He was voted to the coaches All-County and All-League teams and at the Dad's Club Awards dinner received the school's Outstanding Baseball Player Award and the J. J. Gifford Award, voted by the coaches of Bethpage's opponents as the team's Most Valuable Player.

In the County Tournament he pitched all four of Bethpage's games (5 games in 14 days counting North Shore) defeating Clarke (15 won, 3 lost) 3-1, Great Neck South (11 & 7) 8-0, and Great Neck North (19 & 2) 4-1 for the North Shore Championship, and on June 11, allowed only 3 hits while losing a heart-breaker (1-0) to Wantagh in the County Championship game, for a season record of 13 wins and 2 shutout losses in over 100 innings of pitching. Sincerely,

/s/ Conrad A. Meade.

Watch out! Stare too long at a Catalina, and next thing you know you're shattering another sales record in Pontiac's best year.*

People like to look at big, handsome Wide-Track cars, though. And drive them. And buy them. Obviously. We're selling more Pontiacs this year than ever before. Catalinas, naturally. And Tempests. Le Mans. Bonnevilles. And Grand Prix. Each with Pontiac style. Pontiac ride. Pontiac power. Pontiac resale value. All this is just what you're looking for, you say? Well, okay, go ahead and stare.

Wide-Track Pontiac

*Latest figures show Pontiac a solid third place in sales again, up 24.3% so far in 1964, and every Pontiac bought now sells and wears all time high.

Legion Auxiliary News Items

By Lillian Bosch

It was a colorful party table after our last meeting honoring all the Past Presidents of American Legion Auxiliary Unit #421 and as Junior Past President, I'd like to thank all who helped make it so lovely.

The name of our Girl Stater was announced at this meeting. She is Mary Ann Muller of 10 Marvin Ave., Hicksville.

The faculty of Hicksville High has chosen Mary Ann because of her academic achievements, personality, character and debating ability. She will attend Girls State at Elmira from June 19 to 27th.

At that time, Mary Ann will be involved in "politics." Two political parties are formed and candidates are selected for all state officers. Much campaigning is done before election and installation.

After installation, the girls operate a state unit from Governor to state courts. From this group, two girls are selected to attend Girls Nation in Washington, D.C.

Our Unit, Mary Ann's

sponsor, will be in the background rooting for her for top official.

Comments heard from the bystanders viewing the Memorial Day parade say our Jr. Miss Poppy, Betty Lynn Hockbrueckner made a hit. Terry Rute, the wagon puller, was a wee bit tired but it was a job well done.

There will be no July meeting due to the fourth of July weekend - so let's have a good turn out for August 7th.

ROBERT IRWIN BERGER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Berger of 147 Fifth Avenue, Hicksville, has been awarded a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degree from Abson Institute, Wellesley Hills, Massachusetts.

Berger, an Investments

major, was treasurer of Alpha Delta Sigma, vice president of the Siad Club, and was coordinating editor of the Babson yearbook.

DE JONGH ELECTED Lions Governor. At the convention of the New York State Association of Lions Clubs in South Fallsburg, held June 7-10, Lion V. Kenneth DeJongh of the Hicksville Lions Club was elected Governor of Lions District 20 K-2 for the year 1964-65.

Also active at the convention were Lions Pres. Art Soberiff, Jack Webber, Ramon Carrano, Lawrence McCaffrey, Lawrence Scaler, Pierre Charbonnet, Albert DiMango, Charles Pace, Maurice Paul, Robert Dean and their wives.

Lion DeJongh is controller of Allan-Jervis Marine of Hicksville, and principal of the Mid-Island Tax & Audit service. He is active in local scouting and St. Stephen's Lutheran Church. Photo by Lion Pierre Charbonnet.

Ray Clark and Charles Induddi. This winning trio limited County Cesspool to 2 hits. Chuck Brunson went the distance for County Cesspool allowing 3 hits in 6 innings.

Art Trips For Sketching

Sketching and painting enthusiasts can develop their talents this summer at a new and unique workshop being offered at Art Forms Unlimited, the gallery - on-the-green, located at 111 Levittown Parkway, Hicksville.

Entitled "Friday Afternoon Art Trips," this six-week workshop should prove fun while stimulating and broadening the students' art experience. Several of the afternoons will consist of sketching and painting outdoors, and two or more sessions will be devoted to trips to New York City museums and galleries.

These trips will provide an opportunity to visit museums in a group situation with a knowledgeable guide.

A second six-week workshop will follow the first, if interest is expressed. For further information, contact Emily Blumenfeld at GE 3-6230.

Int. L. Leag. News Notes

Art Hollestein, International Little League President, League officials, and all participating members extend a sincere "Thanks" to the generous residence of Hicksville for their open-handed response to the "Tag Day" appeal.

Little league baseball is possible only because of the friendly interest and continued support of the community, which recognizes the importance of channeling the energies that are ever present throughout a young boy's growing years.

Family Minister For Witnesses

Mr. and Mrs. Delucia, of 3 Pine St., Plainview, and their family will be among the 80 delegates from the Hicksville Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses who will attend the four-day district assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in the Atlantic City Convention Hall June 25-28.

"The New World Society is made up, not of ministers who have families, but of families who are ministers," stated Mr. Delucia. "This means that each member of the family circle has an individual ministerial function important to unite in family and congregational worship of Jehovah God."

Mrs. Delucia in commenting on her role as housewife as minister stated, "A housewife who schedules her time to include preaching activity as well as household duties is more qualified, not only as a Christian, but also as a wife, mother and homemaker. She is better equipped through this activity to express true humility, and mildness of temper and the essential qualities of all Christians — love, justice and wisdom."

Youth Recreation Comm. Wants More Volunteers

The Youth Sub-Committees on Recreation, in the wake of a lively discussion at its first meeting two weeks ago, will meet for the second time on Thursday, June 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the Hicksville Public Library. Sub-Committee Chairman Peter Brown of Syosset High School said the conference will be aimed at airing several areas of controversy which developed at the first meeting regarding a Town-wide recreation program for young people.

Mr. Brown, a volunteer at the first meeting have promised a very interesting evening on June 18. The Recreation Committee was organized by Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Michael N. Petito last sharp clashes of opinion

January to incorporate plans and suggestions to be presented to the Town for possible implementation into a Town-wide recreation program.

Mr. Brown, acting in co-ordination with the Rev. Francis C. Tatem, pastor of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church in Hicksville, reported that a wide variety of opinions highlighted the group's first meeting on June 5th. A representative from the Oyster Bay School district said: "I think teenagers can look forward to an active summer with complete recreation provided for them."

However, a student from Jericho High School was quoted as saying "I don't think the Town is interested or is doing anything for teen-age recreation."

Mr. Brown said that anyone who has a suggestion regarding teen-age recreation in the Town of Oyster Bay should contact: Mr. Richie Kug, 20 Detroit Ave., Massapequa, New York.

The meeting is open to all high school age students residing in the Town of Oyster Bay.
