First Stage Opens On Overhead Tracks

A first step in the completion of the railroad elimination project in Hicksville was completed with the opening of the mainline of the railroad. The new station and station platform which is elevated also went into operation. But completion of the Port Jefferson line will not occur until October.

Temporary track facilities have been in use while the mainline tracks were elevated to eliminate at-grade street crossings. The new mainline extends about 3 miles from the vicinity of Lombardy St. east to New South Rd.

Still to be completed are new elevated track facilities for about a half-mile of the Port Jefferson Branch of the LIRR near the eastern end of the project. It is expected that these new tracks will be placed in service in early October.

The LIRR grade crossing elimination project in Hicksville is being advanced by the State Dept. of Public Works in cooperation with the State Public Service Commission under a $9,136,412 contract awarded to Hendrickson Brothers (Valley Stream). In addition, new signal and high tension electric systems are being installed by the railroad at a cost of $3,485,000, which will be reimbursed by the state, for a total project cost of about $12.6 million.

The project involves elelevating the dual-track mainline and branch sections on a viaduct and embankments, with bridges over local streets, which are being lowered and widened where they pass under the railroad. It includes construction of the new station and station plaza just south of Barclay St. near Jerusalem Ave.

New bridges carry the mainline tracks over Jerusalem Ave., Broadway, E. Marie St., E. Nichols St., Old Country Rd. and a section of Newbridge Rd. which is to be relocated in the future. The Port Jefferson Branch will cross over Bay Ave. and Bethpage Rd.

With completion of work on the mainline, the temporary mainline tracks can be removed, enabling the contractor to complete construction of a viaduct to carry the Port Jefferson Branch tracks. The project, being carried out under a contract executed in Nov. 1961, is under the jurisdiction of the State DPW Metropolitan District Office (Babylon) and District Engineer Austin Sarr.

Church Bells For Fourth

The bells of Hicksville will ring out on Independence Day, July 4th, in unison with those of the rest of the nation as a reminder of America's precious heritage. Commander Arthur Rutz of the Charles Wagner Post #421 announced today.

With the cooperation of the local churches, The American Legion will observe the Fourth of July with the ringing of bells, chimes and carillons for four minutes beginning at 2 PM.

The ringing of the bells here in Hicksville will coincide with similar ceremonies throughout the nation with the originating ceremony being conducted at historic Independence Hall, Philadelphia, Pa.

It is hoped that every man, woman and child will pause as the bells begin to ring and reflect upon the significance of Independence Day. To observe this momentous holiday in the spirit which inspired our forefathers to establish the independence which we have inherited is the goal of The American Legion. All residents of Hicksville are requested to display the American flag on July 4th.

The AOT is one element in West Point's extensive summer training program, providing an opportunity for cadet performance and evaluation under field conditions. Cadet Mirando is a member of the class of 1965 at the U.S. Military Academy, West Point, N.Y. He is a 1961 graduate of Bethpage High School.

THINKING IT OVER

By Robert L. Morgan

The end of an era has come to Hicksville -- well almost anyhow. The first train officially rolled overhead on the new trestle across Broadway yesterday. It didn't create too much commotion, but it did prove that little by little Hicksville railroad elimination project is getting finished. The final stage won't be ready until October when the Port Jefferson line goes overhead too. Then the congestion created by the railroad crossing Hicksville should subside. Years ago it was thought that there would either have to be a railroad crossing elimination project in Hicksville or just a project to eliminate Hicksville.

Today many people look for future development in Hicksville to come in the area around Broadway, Newbridge and Jerusalem Avenue. The progress of Broadway, Hicksville will still await the widening of the road to six lanes, which will chop off 55 feet off of the West side of the street from the railroad crossing to Old Country Road. So while there will be improvement in Hicksville along about next October, with the elimination of the grade crossing, it will be short-lived because in the future lies the widening project which will mean the same old congestion all over again.

Try Living With Nose Before Cutting It Off

By C. A. Dean, M.F.

(Q) "I am 13 years old and I have a nose that is too large. It causes embarrassment with my friends. Would plastic surgery help? How long would I stay in the hospital?" V.

(A) Plastic surgery will correct it. Many people do well with big noses. Perhaps you should laugh with your friends. Try making jokes about yourself and some famous personality. The plastic surgeon will discuss hospital stay, etc., if you decide to go through with the operation.

MEDITORIAL: The Eustachian tubes, though small and hidden, are very important canals which connect the middle part of each ear to the back of the throat. This tube is the only direct approach to the middle ear, except through a possible hole in the ear drum by which germs can spread and start an infection. Normally this tube is collapsed and is not open to the free transport of air and liquids. There are three muscles that act upon the tube which can open it at will, providing there is no inflammation or other obstruction present. Yawning and swallowing cause these three muscles to tighten and thus open the tubes. This procedure is known by many as "cracking the ears" because there is a crackling noise made as the walls of the tube spread apart.

The Eustachian tubes have an important function, which is to equalize the pressure in the middle ear with that of the outside world. When one goes either down to a lower altitude or up to a higher one it is necessary to open the Eustachian tubes so that the air pressure inside the middle ear can be made equal to that of the outside. If this cannot be done for one reason or another, then the ear drum will either collapse or balloon out. Rupture is possible. A middle ear condition known as aerotitis results.

One cause of middle ear disease (otitis media) is obstruction of and spread of infection into the Eustachian tubes by bad adenoids. Therefore tonsils and adenoids are removed frequently because of chronic ear trouble in spite of the fact that the child may never have had a sore throat.

Johnson, Lincoln, Goldwater, And Civil Rights

By Russell Kirk

PRESIDENT JOHNSON VETOED the Civil Rights bill. In his veto message to Congress, he spoke his mind:

"In all our history...no such system as that contemplated by the details of this bill has ever before been proposed or adopted. They establish for the security of the colored race safeguards which go infinitely beyond any that the General Government has ever provided for the white race. In fact, the distinction of race and color is, by the bill, made to operate in favor of the colored and against the white race. They interfere with the municipal regulations of the States, with the relations existing exclusively between a State and its citizens, or between inhabitants of the same State -- an absorption and assumption of power by the General Government which, if acquiesced in, must sap and destroy our federative system of limited powers, and break down the barriers which preserve the rights of the states. It is another step, or rather stride, to centralization and the concentration of all legislative power in the National Government."

Does this sound like Lyndon Johnson? Well, no. This commentator is quoting, of course, the words of President Andrew Johnson, with reference to the civil rights bill of 1866. But they seem apropos.

Governor Soranont has accused Senator Goldwater of being false to the principles of Abraham Lincoln, by voting against the civil rights bill of 1964. This may be tolerable political strategy, but it is bad history. For President Lincoln was no radical, and never intended to force upon the South the baneful "civil rights" measures which the Radical Republicans engineered after Lincoln's murder, during Reconstruction. President Andrew Johnson was the heir of Lincoln in trying to prevent the passage of legislation which could not be adequately enforced and which could bring only violent reaction among white people.

Lincoln, incidentally, signed the Emancipation Proclamation most reluctantly, as an emergency measure -- and was deeply grieved that no cabinet member would join him in recommending monetary compensation to slaveholders and the Southern states.

"What is conservatism?" Lincoln asked once, in a speech. "Is it not preference for the old and tried, over the new and untried?" He answered that it was, and that therefore he was a conservative.

Speaking as a conservative of 1964, Barry Goldwater has explained to Governor Soranont why he had to vote against the "civil rights" bill.

"Perhaps if you could read the actual provisions," he writes, "and give some study to titles II and VII, you would understand how clearly contrary they are to Republican regard for the Constitution and even to some of your own expressed concern over federal intrusion, without constitutional mandate, into affairs specifically reserved to the states and to the people."

Like Lincoln, like Andrew Johnson, Barry Goldwater would not right one wrong by a new wrong, or counter illegality by illegality. And he would not sacrifice the Constitution of the United States to the rash demands of pressure-groups. In this, he, not William Soranont, seems to stand in the tradition of Lincoln. "I'm proud of Barry," said Senator Thruston Morton -- who voted the other way -- on hearing Senator Goldwater's statement. So, in the long run, after some experience of the civil rights act of 1964, most Republicans will be proud of Barry -- and a good many Democrats, too.

Seventy-Fifth Year:

PICKIN' IS THE BERRIES — STRAW, THAT IS

More than 2,000,000 quarts of Suffolk County strawberries were this year produced by 120 farmers on 500 acres from Wading River to Orient (berry belt) on the North Shore, and on about 200 acres on the South Fork and the Central area of the County marking the 75th year of the local industry. Winter and Spring weather was this season kind to the "Midland Berries" raised on Eastern Long Island and the daily morning auctions sold off 5,000 crates (each containing 16 quarts) of berries for major market centers at Boston, Philadelphia, Washington and Providence. (Graphic News Photos)

MOM'S HELPERS: Tommy, 2 and Maura, 5, help their ma, Mrs. Thomas F. Beirne of Smithtown pick Midland variety berries. Crops also contains Surecrop, Red Glow and Jerseybelle strawberries.

EARLY RISER, Johnny Nickdown of Maspeth who helped pick 6 gallons of berries isn't overly jubilant about reward being offered by ma.

Lewis Farm in Wading River permits pick-em-yourself at 25¢ a quart.

'To Mothers With Love' Debuts

"Old Soldiers may fade away, but past Auxiliary Presidents just join the June show and grow younger." With these words Mrs. Pat McGee opened one of the most memorable evenings ever spent - and closed the year for the Auxiliary of Christian Mothers at St. Ignatius.

Before the opening of the business meeting, Mrs. Frank Meiners sang the poignantly beautiful 'Ave Maria' by Rosewig.

Sister Venard thanked Mrs. Ryan and all her committees, Father Goggin and the entire Auxiliary for their cooperation and help during the past year. Humorously addressing herself to those mothers, who, because of graduation, this June, will no longer be members, Sister said they need not feel blue after graduation, as there is ample opportunity for them to volunteer their help in the stationery, cafeteria and library.

Wishing all a pleasant summer, Sister then requested the mothers to be good to "our" children and to keep them well and happy until the sisters get them back again in September.

This was the occasion upon which Mrs. Ryan, our president for the past year, passed the gavel to our new president, Mrs. Joseph Gough and she said in so doing - "It was an honor to serve you as president of St. Ignatius Mother's Auxiliary - all good things must come to an end - now I pass the gavel to my successor, Mrs. Gough who is young and vivacious and dynamic. My advice to you is -- rest up and prepare yourselves for an exciting year starting next Sept. In accepting, Mrs. Gough said that it was a great honor to succeed so Catholic a lady as Helen Ryan and stated that it will indeed be a challenge to follow in her path.

After the installation ceremony, Father Goggin presented a gift to Mrs. Ryan, expressing his deep appreciation to her and the staff of officers who have done such a wonderful job throughout the year. He also commented that the Auxiliary of Christian Mothers has always been blessed with fine officers and capable presidents - and that Mrs. Ryan takes her place with her predecessors. Sister Venard and her staff of teachers also received Father's thanks for the outstanding work done in the education of the children.

Young Lovers". Then a bit of Irish as Mrs. John Halcott sang the humorous "Old Ballymough".

Always good for a laugh is the fun poked at the T.V. commercials. Mrs. James Gallagher very graphically answered the question "Do blondes have more fun?" - as she drugged at the ironing board, balancing a baby on her hip and shaking her blond wigged head in sad negation.

The show ended all too soon with the entire cast singing "We're Gonna Wash Those Kids Right Out of our Hilar" and then a snappy rendition of "Good Night Mothers".

Our program chairman,

Mrs. McGee, wound up

the year true to her fashion - but as Producer,

Director and M.C. of the June show she finally outdid herself.

Downstairs everyone enjoyed the sumptuous refreshments prepared and served by Mrs. Hornev and her hard-working committee. The decorations carried out the musical comedy theme and kept everyone in the gay and festive mood so necessary for the success of any party.

A bit of sadness was mixed with the joy as we headed for home. It's a long time until Sept. when once again we look forward to a year as productive and enjoyable as this past one has been.

We express our deep gratefulness to the officers who have given so much of themselves during the past year - and extend our warmest greetings and support to those newly elected.

"To Mothers With Love" - a fast moving, entertaining, musical presented by Mrs. McGee opened surprisingly enough with a group entering from the rear of the auditorium carrying a portable clothesline from which dangled all the usual type of family wash.

Upon reaching the stage they joyously greeted the assemblage with the song "Hello Mothers" - to the tune of -- you guessed it - that currently popular favorite.

Mrs. Francis Portuese had the entire room rocking and clapping when she sang "The Whole World is in His Hands", accompanied by Mrs. William Sauer who furnished the musical background on the piano throughout the show.

Mrs. Joseph McMorrow lead the audience in a hootenanny type number entitled "Saga of the New Member" - each verse more hilarious than the last, depicting the dilemma of the exuberant new member who delightedly offers her help in the beginning of the year only to find out that "14 committees accepted me."

A dance contest followed in which a group of lively teen-agers performed all the newest steps. (Could they really have been members of the Mother's Auxiliary??) A screen behind the dancers fell away to disclose a group called the 'Beetles' - any similarity to a group from England was purely intentional - and very good.

A quiet tear was brushed away from many an eye as Madelyn Gough reminisced with that tenderly moving "Hello

Int. L. League News Notes

Art Hollstein, president of the International Little League, has announced that George Jackson has been nominated from a list of 27 candidates to manage the 1964 "All Stars."

The board of directors of the Hicksville I.L.L. attended a district meeting in Westbury on Tuesday, June 30, and planned the schedule for the Nassau County play-off games. George Jackson will begin to screen candidates for the "All Stars" after July 4th.

Everyone wishes Mr. Jackson and the "All Stars" good luck. Hopes are running high that may be the year.

Hicksville will be placed on the baseball map.

A semi-final game on Monday, June 29, will determine whether County Cesspool or Perkins Trucking will meet Long Island National Bank, the league's first half winner.

Dom Induddi, manager of the Long Island National Bank team, declined to reveal his starting pitcher, although he has four aces up his sleeve with Billy Whiffen, Tommy Curran, Chas. Induddi and Larry Clark. On hand to assist the team will be veteran coaches Ray Clock and Harold Satran, along with team mother, Mrs. Bernice Clock.

County Cesspool, piloted by Chuck Stewart, and coached by Jerry Schwarz has been a contendent since the seasons opening ball game, and has compiled a most impressive record. County Cesspool has produced fine pitchers Chuck Brumson, Jerry Stein and Ed Goritz.

Perkins Trucking, headed by George Jackson, lost early games by extremely close scores. Very able coaches Henry Reiter and Robt. Mackim have helped Perkins progress toward where they are considered to be the hottest team in the league. Pitching skills will be displayed by Gary Jackson, Peter Osebar and Chris. Lindquist.

Ray Asaph, Vice Pres. Major League, has extended an open invitation to all, to witness the "fireworks" on Thursday July 2nd at 6 PM, when the championship game will be played.

Final Standings in the Farms Division:

1. Marder Shell	W	L	T
2. Tankleff Ins. Co.	5	5	1
3. Hicks Dem. Club	5	5	1
4. Luccisano Shop	5	5	1
5. Carpenter Union	3	6	1
6. H.I.L.L.	3	7

Congratulations to Manager Vic. Lambot and his winning team.

Now Ford has five hot lines!

With the introduction of the Mustang, Ford now has five hot-selling lines of cars. The big Ford started the stampede months ago. Now Mustang leads the stampede the big Ford started. More and more car buyers are discovering the big changes in Ford that have made so many "other make" owners change their minds. Try total performance (all 46 Ford models have it!) at your Ford Dealer's.

For the biggest choice of models (from Falcons to Thunderbirds), you can't beat your Ford Dealer. But that's not the only corner he has on the market. Try his total performance cars and see what strength, stamina, swift acceleration and top road-hugging ability can do for your driving. Take a look at what a really new car should look like—the Mustang. And don't forget the car that started the stampede to Ford, the big Super Torque Ford. Hicksville Postmaster Irene L. Murphy attended a two-day meeting of the Postmasters of the 300 largest U.S. Post Offices in Baltimore on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 23 and 24. The Postmasters were informed of the essential features of contracts recently signed with postal employee organizations by Department officials including Postmaster General John A. Gronouski.

The labor contracts implement an executive order of the late President John F. Kennedy which gave Federal employee groups the right to bargain and contract for better working conditions. Local bargaining in the Hicksville Post Office will take place this coming September.
