THE AUGUST 1964 AUTOMOBILE MARKET

Delivery Snarl Brings Highest Inventory Lowest Prices In The History Of Mitchell Cadillac-Oldsmobile

No doubt you've read of the abnormal conditions in the automotive industry. Disruptions in deliveries have created a selling situation that hasn't existed in over a decade. Every manufacturer must move cars and move them faster than ever before.

Traditionally, during these times, it has been General Motors' policy to increase the sales quota of every dealer but especially the quotas of the big-volume, big-neighborhood dealers. Mitchell Cadillac-Oldsmobile, considered the fastest growing dealership on Long Island, must move an August inventory that is $3\frac{1}{2}$ times larger than in 1963 for the same period.

Obviously, the pressure is on . . . NOW! The Mitchell dealership has always lowered its prices in July and August to make room for the avalanche of new, Fall models. This year, however, IN THE NEXT TWENTY DAYS, EVERY REMAINING '64 CADILLAC AND OLDSMOBILE WILL BE MOVED AT UNPRECEDENTED LOW PRICES. Finally, being unable to deliver our normal volume of new cars in July, our used car stock is at an all time low. Accordingly, you'll make an incomparable profit when you trade as well as when you buy. No reasonable offer refused! Come in now . . . or call HAMILTON 1-1620 today.

Letters

A Salute to Hard Working Little League Volunteers;

This husband and wife team deserves the applause of all the community for their untiring and conscientious efforts in the promotion of sportsmanship and growth of our youth. The display of togetherness - Mrs. M managing her team and Mr. M umpiring her games - was an inspiring example not only for the young, impressionable boys but also for the adults who witnessed this display of marital teamwork. Seeing perfect examples like this is what makes our boys grow into being useful citizens - who will in turn use this knowledge to rear their own children and contribute to the community in years to come. The experience they have gained this season should be invaluable toward this goal. A 'three cheers' to this couple who unselfishly gave so much of themselves to the youngsters in the Little League. WCS Holds First Meeting

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Hicksville Methodist Church will hold its first meeting of the Fall season on Wednesday, September 9 at 8:15 P.M. This is a week later than usual.

The theme of the program will be "What's New in the Missionary World?", a playlet centered around a typical circle meeting.

We invite all the ladies of the Church to join us for an interesting and informative evening. Refreshments are served after the meeting.

MR. JOSEPH FERRANDINO of 11 Roma St., Hicksville, is opposing the incumbent George W. Kunz, for the post of Hicksville Water Commissioner. He has made some comments about the said incumbent.

"I am absolutely amazed" Mr. Ferrandino stated than an elected official could act in as negligent a fashion as he has towards all the citizens of Hicksville. Recently the Water Commission commenced the construction of an above ground water tank. An attempt is being made through the Supreme Court to stop them from continuing with its structure. How and Why did this come about? Because of the outlandish and ridiculously unfair manner in which they proceeded. The site of the above ground storage tank is on Stewart Ave. and by law the Commission is required to notify all the citizens of Hicksville that the structure is about to begin. The residents of the territory immediately surrounding the tank were unaware of its anticipated presence until the workmen started work. The residents were unhappy about the above ground water tank, created an emergency committee and received a hearing before the Water Commission.

I was at the hearing and can state that all of us were profoundly shocked to learn of the manner in which the notification took place.

The proposed work was listed in the legal notice section of the paper in the smallest of print and posters were put up at places which were miles from where the tank was to be erected. When asked why the tank had to do above ground rather than beneath the ground, our present commissioner indicated that there were no underground tanks. They appeared completely surprised when notified that our neighboring Westbury had a submerged tank. It seemed to all that it was impossible that elected Water Commissioners could be unaware of such a vital issue, yet they were. Their disregard for the people was previously indicated.

Another tank was built on Maglie Drive and Dean St. a few years back and the property adjacent to the constructed tank was materially damaged. The effected residents made a complaint and as far back as 2 years ago a promise was made that there would be repairs. The promises were repeated and repeated but by now the residents no longer believe the Commissioner and more legal suits are contemplated. Despite the said previous disregard for the people and the community at Maglie Dr. and Dean St., and with utter disregard of that experience, they proceeded with the proposed construction of the same type of monstrosity on Stewart Ave.

Mr. Ferrandino continued by saying "All of the citizens of Hicksville can be similarly effected in the future. We want our tanks submerged, we want the area to retain its beauty! Above ground tanks are unsightly and all of us want real notice of such an important project, not the imitation notice performed by the present Commissioner."

Ferrandino is 41 and is general manager of Botto Plumbing and Heating Co. Voting takes place at the Hicksville Court House, August 31, 7 to 9 p.m. Taxpayers who own land and reside in the district are qualified to vote. A previous biography of incumbent Mr. Kunz appeared in the August 14 edition.

THINKING IT OVER

By Robert L. Morgan

If anyone wants to see a disgraceful situation of filth in Hicksville they should amble slowly along Broadway from the new railroad crossing past Old Country Road.

The condition of the gutter at the end of the sidewalk is terrible. It is glutted with dirty paper, dirt and debris that has been accumulating for many weeks. The last time the area was swept was several weeks ago. Broadway is now in what you call a State-Town bind. The State owns Broadway, but up until about a year ago the Town, under contract, used to sweep the street. Then came some kind of an economy move by the moderates in Albany and it was decided that twice a year was often enough to sweep this main thoroughfare. In pity and under pressure from some of the merchants, the Town now sweeps the street for free when it gets around to it but that isn't very often.

So what we have is a three million dollar railroad span across a dirtier than ever Broadway.

Can't someone find the answer to this silly problem?

Last week's column on the longest name always winning the Presidential election brought several letters from people who remind us that we omitted the Taft-Bryan match of 1908 in our calculations. Well we excluded that one because in that race, not only were Taft and Bryan on the ballot but also Debs, Chafin and Higgin. In a field of five, it is hard for the system to operate. But if you call that a mistake for the system, we still claim greater accuracy for it than the opinion polls that forecast Dewey over Truman in 1948.

One reader wanted to know why if there is only one letter difference between Stevenson and Eisenhower, why Adlai got trounced. The problem there is that the name General Eisenhower should have been used.

For people who missed last week's column, our super scientific theory that the contender who has the most letters in his name will always be the winner, was given. It was pointed out that in the twentieth century, the record proves, with the above possible exception, that in every contest for president, the longer name won. We surmise that some Democrats did not like it when we pointed out Goldwater and Johnson, but facts are facts. The only consolation is that eight out of the contests so far in this century have featured longer named Democrats who did win.

We know that no serious minded voter or politician would take any of this seriously, and it is only rumor that both parties are feverishly hunting for a guy named Acoroponopolous who they think is destined to go places in politics.

Calcium On Lung Is Scar Of Former Illness

By C. A. Dean, M.D.

(Q) "What is the cause of multiple calcified deposits in the lungs? Do they gather around the lungs and heart?" B.I.

(A) Many infections of the lungs leave a scar after they are healed. Calcium will often form in these scars which then shows clearly on an X-ray as a calcified deposit. They are usually unimportant, showing only that an infection was once there. These deposits do not gather around the heart or lungs and do not interfere with breathing. If someone with these deposits does have lung or heart complaints, then there must be another disease present or else the original infection was chronic or overwhelming.

(Q) "On one of my toes a nail has turned black underneath. It is not sore or painful but I am quite concerned. My doctor said it was nothing to worry about." A.P.

(A) It may be that you struck your toe and a hemorrhage (bleeding) occurred under the nail. This would turn black very soon and stay that way for several months.

No Subsidy For Sukarno

By Russell Kirk

By an overwhelming majority, the Senate has adopted Senator Tower's amendments to the foreign-aid bill; unless this vanishes in Senate-House conference committee, Indonesia will receive no more largesses from Washington -- even though the State Department desires to keep doling out money to the Sukarno regime.

The Tower amendment prohibits any grant to Indonesia. Sukarno declared, a few months ago, "To hell with American aid!" -- and the Senate is taking him at his word. This is something of a change from the days, by no means remote, when State Department personnel were employed in obtaining call-girls for the Indonesian dictator and his retinue, on Sukarno's American tour.

Sukarno's forces are engaged in guerilla operations against Malaysia and the British troops assisting the Malaysian government. Though Washington smiled upon Sukarno's conquest of Papua from the Dutch, the assault upon Malaysia is too much for Congress to endure meekly.

Is it too much to hope that this striking of Indonesia from the foreign-aid roster may presage further reform and retrenchment in the foreign-aid program? May the Johnson Administration be compelled to pay some heed to what Senator Goldwater says should be the governing principle in foreign-aid grants: that is, whether or not such subsidies advance American diplomatic and military interests?

On the day that the Tower amendment was adopted, a Javanese mob threatened the United States Information Agency library in Jogjakarta -- and dispersed only when a Sukarno enthusiast told the crowd that the library had been "nationalized" by Indonesia. Only complete obsequiousness on the part of Americans can satisfy Sukarno and his Communist-leaning followers. But now that Congress has its back up, finally Sukarno must pay a price for his arrogance: not only will the subsidies cease, but the Tower amendment prohibits the training of Indonesian officers in the United States.

Sukarno has been no more arbitrary in his ways, or more contemptuous toward the United States, than certain other dictators whom the foreign-aid program still subsidizes. In Egypt, Nasser decalres publicly that whatever he may do, America will not dare to discontinue grants -- or bribes -- to his regime. Meanwhile, Nasser's troops in the Yemen continue their conquest of that ravaged land -- and threaten imminently our British and Saudi Arabian allies. And Nasser means to crush Israel, when he is strong enough. Money from the American Treasury makes possible the survival of Nasser's dictatorship.

In Ghana, Nkrumah continues to crush all opposition, to try to subvert other African governments, and to follow ruinous economic policies. Though he heaps abuse upon the West, Washington continues to fill his capacious pockets.

But an aroused Congress may have a word to say to Nasser and Nkrumah, too -- and lesser disturbers of the peace, sustained by dollar subsidies, may entertain second thoughts.

ning as Al Miranda scored on a walk, a sacrifice by George Dunn and a single by Mike Miranda. The lead went to 2-0 in the second as Rick Leek lead off with a triple and stole home after two were out. The Coast team reared back with 4 runs in the third on a walk, and hits by Cook, Carlson and Widlund. Bethpage regained the lead at 5-4 in the sixth with 3 runs on 4 successive hits by Pete Schaaf, Mike Miranda, a triple by Bill Nugent, and Rick Leek. The lead returned to the Pequa team in the bottom of the sixth on a walk, an error and singles by Fremich and Tierney, good for 3 runs. With the score 7-5 in favor of Massapequa, Clark walked and Danielson singled to open the Pequa seventh. Bethpage Manager Mike Verdrossa then called in his third pitcher of the game and a double play ball and a strikeout ended the threat.

In the Bethpage ninth Jim Smith walked with one out. Charlie Caronia, Al Miranda and George Dunn followed with singles and Pete Schaaf batted in the winning run with a long double. By this time the Coasters had given their all and went down 1-2-3 in the ninth.

Rick Leek was the winning pitcher for Bethpage, giving up 1 hit in his three inning stint, beating Massapequa's Don Cook who struck out 15, but gave up 10 hits, five of them for extra bases.

Soap Box Derby Stars Local Boy

By Ted Isoldi

Gerald Viola winner of the Eastern Nassau Soap Box Derby fared well in the Akron All-American finals. The 11-year-old youngster won his heat in record time of 27:69 seconds beating out his two rivals from York, Nebraska and Greenwich, Conn. He lost out at Minneapolis, Minn. in the relatively slower time of 27:93 seconds.

Locally, while the derby has its headquarters in Bethpage, it was sponsored by the following Chevrolet dealerships - Frog-Hollow, Bethpage; Roberts, Hicksville; Bast, Wantagh; Konners, Levittown; and this newspaper.

Ray Beers, Long Island Nat'l Bank, directed the Derby event. He was assisted by Raleigh Strickland, Ernest Lemley, John Corbett, John Crawford, Dave Melnick, Wayland Strong, Jerry Viola, and George Miller. Andrew Musgrave proved to be the outstanding member of the committee, being instrumental in designing and building a new starting ramp to be used for many future derbies.

Gerald is the second of the Viola family to compete in Akron. He follows Danny who was last year's champ. The local victor put aside his hobby of carling for pets - the likes of fish, frogs, and snakes to build a low-sleek racer to win the local event.

The pre-race stay in Akron may be considered the best week in a boy's life. Gerald received the official welcome accorded to all champions - screaming sirens of a police escort, cheers of greetings from a huge crowd at Derby headquarters, a band serenade while he mounted the famous "golden stairs." After the red carpet reception he was sped to Derbytown, the scenic boy's camp located beside Y - Noah, 10 miles south of Akron, and home of 239 boy drivers during their stay there.

Gerald had his first opportunity to test the track on Thursday preceding race day when final inspections were held. On Friday he met the "Bonanza" boys, when the television stars - Lorne Green, Michael Landon, Dan Blocker and Pernell Roberts - visited Derbytown to meet and entertain the champs. At a luncheon the local winner was presented with a wrist watch and a plaque signed by President Johnson. Aside from these benefits, Gerald was awarded a $500.00 bond by Chevrolet Division of General Motors.

Saturday, Gerald helped open the colorful Derby Day race festivity, as he bore the Eastern Nassau flag in the parade of champions before 75,000 people, the largest crowd to view the Derby in recent years. As the flag dropped 239 boys from the United States and a number of overseas areas began to compete for the coveted crown of All-American Soap Box Derby Champion.

Gerald raced in the 10th heat and also the 84th heat before being eliminated. Ironically, he was beaten by Minneapolis, the same city that eliminated "Skip" Miller, 1962 Bethpage champ. The competition evolved a new champ in Gregory Schumacher, Tacoma, Wash.

Locally, plans are now being made for next year's Derby. Director Ray Beers has announced an early start in registration to begin on Sunday, Sept. 13th at 10:00 AM on the local Derby track site, Sweet Hollow Road, located just north of Bethpage State Park, when local contestants will have another day of racing preparing for the 5th annual event. Aside from registration and racing, contestants will be given free hot dogs and cookies.

Boys between 11-15 years of age who are interested in this worthwhile activity can submit their names and addresses to Frog Hollow Chevrolet, or to this newspaper. You will then be contacted by a member of the Derby committee.

Claim County Saves Taxes

Bethpage residents will save an average of $30 in school taxes for the coming year as a result of County Executive Eugene H. Nickerson's reassessment program, which includes placing fair value on vacant land, Fred J. Lindner, Democratic zone leader of Bethpage South, reported this week.

The new school tax rate of $6.40 per $100 of assessed valuation is 16 cents higher than last year, Lindner noted, because Nassau's Republican lawmakers failed to wage a fight for a meaningful increase in state aid to education.

"However," he said, "the rate would have been $6.79 or 39 cents higher if not for the county executive's reassessment program.

"The county has no responsibility in fixing school tax rates, but County Executive Nickerson is acutely aware of the heavy tax burdens borne by Nassau residents. He is making every effort, with the appropriate means at his disposal, to ease those burdens.

"Putting assessments on vacant land on a par with those on developed property, a program upheld by the courts, is aimed at bringing about as fair as possible a sharing of all tax burdens.

"This welcome easing of the school tax burden is the first fruit of that effort."

Letters

To the Editor:
On Wednesday evening, August 19, Mr. Anthony Infantino, V.P. Hicksville International Little League, and a large group of "Little Leaguers" were the guest of Paragon Oil Co. at the 19th annual Hearst Classic, at Yankee Stadium.

A youth packed audience, most of whom were the guest of business and youth organizations, thoroughly enjoyed watching the New York All-Stars defeat the United States All-Stars by a score of 2-1.

Reserved box seats (a first for most of our boys) directly behind home plate greatly added to the evenings enjoyment.

Mr. Infantino and the boys extend "Sincerest Thanks" to the Paragon Oil Co. for making this memorable evening possible.

A GARDEN CITY DOLL stopped for a red light and failed to move when it turned green. When the green light came on for the second time she still showed no signs of moving, the traffic cop walked over and said politely, "What's the matter, lady, ain't we got no colors you like? Pull over, I'm going to give you a yellow ticket." ...One of my favorite stories is about the lady who had been bitten by a dog. She was advised by her physician to write her last wishes, as she might succumb to hydrophobia. She spent so long with pen and paper that the Doc finally asked whether it wasn't getting to be a pretty lengthy will. "Will!!!!" she snorted. "Nothing of the kind. I'm writing down a list of people I'm going to bite." ...Social Item: "Mr. and Mrs. Graham A. Johnson, Jr., announce the birth of a son, Lee Huntington. This is their child." (Did we say anything?) ...Fashion Item: "Undress rather than overdress for any occasion. You're less conspicuous." (Not in our circles.) ...Not one of the 8000 newspapers published in Soviet Russia carries comic strips, gossip columns or crime news, unless the latter is about the U.S.A. ...Bet you didn't know that more than 90 percent of all the flowers in the world have either an unpleasant odor or none at all. ...One day in 1943 Clare Luce, so the story goes, returned from Congress to find a letter on her desk which, it turned out later, was intended for a Miss Luce in the Government's Sanitation Department. She opened it and read, "There are termites in the President's swimming pool. Please take care of it soon." Clare read it over, then quipped, "Fourth Termites, I presume!" ...The Gourmet Committee's next announcement will place at the top of its list of World's Finest Restaurants, none less than Carlo Hoppl's beautiful Westbury Manor. It is also one of the most successful in the world. ...Definition: A pink elephant is a beast of bourbon. ...Listen Kids: I do not like the phrase: Never cross a bridge till you come to it. The world is owned by men who crossed bridges with their imaginations and efforts miles and miles in advance of the non-bridge-crossers. ...My unmarried-8 1/2-year-old son Chuckie recently learned that he'll never get another set of drums. We've had it!!! ...Port Washington photographer Val Gello observes: That national characteristics are even exemplified in the naming of rockets. While Americans name theirs Titan, Thor, Jupiter and Atlas, and the English call theirs Black Knight, Bloodhound and Thunderbird, the French have named their rockets Veronica and Monica. ...A production employe in a Hicksville area factory appeared in the superintendent's office to demand a day off with pay -- to make up for the coffee breaks he had missed during his vacation. ...As I picked up Chuckie's new puppy, he pleaded: "Don't let him off your lap, Dad; he isn't housebroken." ...If You Please, Gruff...
