Fire Tourney Big Success

Crowds estimated at over 15,000 viewed the Hicksville Labor Day Parade, tournament and an impromptu showing of Senatorial candidate Robert Kennedy, Monday at Mid Island Plaza. The line of march, which started in Hicksville at 9:30 a.m. consisted of 3,150 people, 35 bands, 185 pieces of apparatus and 15 official cars.

Kennedy and County Executive Eugene Nickerson in a white Cadillac joined the parade at the railroad and left it at the Plaza after remaining about five minutes after the parade ended. They were besieged by well wishers. Kennedy and Nickerson were not the only political aspirants at the parade, many local and county contenders were present. John Burns, former Supervisor of the Town of Oyster Bay who is opposing Nickerson and Francis Anderson, County Clerk running for re-election were on hand to meet friends and foes.

The fire department competitions which lasted until 8 p.m. had the following winners: Motor Hook and Ladder, Class C and B - St. James. Motor Hose, Class C and B - Syosset. Motor Pump - Albertson. Efficiency - Oyster Bay. Bucket Brigade - Oyster Bay.

Many Improvements In School Program

Staff members of the Hicksville school system working in the summer months have developed a series of curricular improvements in mathematics, social studies, English, and science. Working under the direction of John Crenson, Supervisor of Mathematics, a committee of elementary school teachers and principals completed a curriculum in the "new mathematics" for kindergarten through third grade. This group included principals John Maher and Richard Jennett, and teachers Richard Lovel and Carl Jabaut. Alfred Aaron and Nicholas Valenti, both teachers in the junior high school, worked on the track three mathematics program for grades seven through ten. In the area of social studies, curricular revisions were made for slow learners in grades seven and nine. Beginning this year, seventh graders will take a two year course in American history, with an emphasis on New York State and local history during the first year. Ninth graders will begin a two year course of study in the major cultural regions of the world. Initially this will include Latin America, North Africa, the Middle East, and Africa south of the Sahara. Attention will be given to the geography and history of these regions, as well as their contemporary economic, political, and social conditions. These revisions were developed by Lawrence Olivany, Supervisor of Social Studies, and by Paul Marx, social studies chairman in the junior high school. Also, Gardner Gregory, of the Curriculum Materials Center, prepared over 400 pieces of visual materials, including slides and transparencies, for use with these programs.

A new English curriculum has been developed for slow learners in grades seven through twelve. This is not a watered down version of other programs, but a completely new curriculum designed to meet the particular needs of the less able student. The program places a strong emphasis on reading, and the texts to be used consist mainly of many different paperback books. Writing will also be stressed, but abstract studies of language have been set aside in favor of an emphasis on performance skills. This curriculum was developed by John Kearns and Paul Benzel, chairmen of English in the junior and senior high schools who worked under the direction of Dr. John Rouse, Supervisor of Language Arts.

Raymond Burckley, science chairman in the senior high school, and Charles Ferri, chemistry teacher, made a complete revision of the applied chemistry course. They corresponded with various members of the chemical industry and researched recent developments in science education in order to develop a course better suited to the needs of nonacademic pupils in the high school. This work was directed by Harry Cressman, Supervisor of Science.

These new materials will be presented to the Board of Education on September 11.

Official Opening Of Hicksville Crossing

A Port Jefferson-bound train, pulling into the new high-level Hicksville platform at 9:46 AM Saturday, will write fins to the more than $15-million project there. Beginning about a half hour before train time, the Hicksville High School band will serenade waiting commuters, then break into "I've Been Working on the Railroad" as the history-making train pulls in. Invited to ride from Minicola to Hicksville as co-engineers in the huge diesel's cab are Local Government Commissioner John J. Burns, who pushed through legislation back in 1954 that got the Hicksville project off the shelf and onto the track, and Nassau County Executive Eugene Nickerson. (Crossing eliminations make strange cab-fellows: By a strange coincidence, the two are opposing candidates for county executive in the November elections.)

Joseph F. Carlino, speaker of the State Assembly, will be master of ceremonies for the platform program. Also expected to be on hand are State Senator Henry M. Curren of Oyster Bay, Assemblyman Edwin J. Fehrenbach of Bethpage, Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Michael Pettito and the three members of the original transportation committee of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce -- Aaron Rochman, Mal Pierce and Al

Schackner, who worked to bring the project about.

When the train has gone on its way, the party will adjourn from the platform to the spacious station waiting room downstairs, where soft drinks, coffee and Danish will be served -- and where the "Silvertones" will play for both teen-age and grown-up dancing.

Completion of the twin elimination projects will mark the first time since 1927 that there hasn't been temporary track around some major construction project on the LIRR. The long period of big projects, which came along one right after another, began with the elevation of the railroad between Union Hall Street and Hollis in Queens.

Work on the Hicksville project began in October 1961. The first phase was completed July 1, when trains to Ronkonkoma and Greenport went "upstairs."

The Babylon project got under way in December, 1962. Its first phase was concluded August 26, when Central Branch trains (diesels from Jamaica en route to points east of Babylon by way of Hicksville) began using their high-level tracks.

The elimination of seven crossings at Hicksville -- Jerusalem Avenue, Broadway, East Marie Street, Nicholas Street, Old Country Road, Bay Avenue and Bethpage

Road -- will mark the first time in more than a century that traffic (whether pedestrian, horse-drawn or automotive) hasn't had to stop for the trains to go by.

Guest Speaker

Dr. Ethel Alpenfels, noted anthropologist and Professor from New York University, will be the guest speaker of the Lutheran Church Women of St Stephen's Lutheran Church on Wednesday, September 16, at 8 PM. Dr. Alpenfels' subject for the evening will be Race and Religion. A discussion period will follow. All are invited to attend the meeting which will be held in the auditorium of the Education Building on Fourth St. and Grand Ave.

AMONG THE LOCAL BOY SCOUTS who attended the National Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa. are, l. to r., Peter Evans, Charles Karish and John Dean, all from Troop 158, Hicksville.

HARRY VAN OUDENALLEN, a Harvard University junior from Bethpage, is among the leading veterans returning on a squad of 100 which reported for the start of pre-season football drills at the Stadium Sept. 1. Van Oudenallen, who won All-League and All-County recognition at Bethpage High School, started at end for his freshman team two years ago and was Harvard's number one punter last season after a head injury in freshman lacrosse forced him to pass up heavy contact.

Van Oudenallen, a left-footed kicker with great control, averaged 37.4 yards per kick last season to finish a strong third among the Ivies in this department. His best effort went for 55 yards, and he frequently managed "coffin-corner" kicks to set the opposition back on its heels. He lettered in basketball, track and lacrosse as well as football at Bethpage High.

THE MOST REV. WALTER P. KELLENBERG, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese of Rockville Centre, this week broke ground for the last of four new high schools planned for construction in the largest single undertaking in the history of the diocese.

Holy Trinity Diocesan High School, Hicksville, to be erected on a 20-acre site on Newbridge Road and Hempstead Avenue, will be a 58-classroom complex, accommodating about 2,400 students, with separate wings for boys and girls.

THINKING IT OVER

By Robert L. Morgan

As expected the Meadowbrook Bank poll shows Johnson way ahead of Goldwater in its first tabulations, but as we have stated before polls are a waste of time. It will be the candidate with the longest name who wins as usual.

Our theory, however, has developed a bug in the arrival on the scene of Robert Kennedy against Senator Keating. Both candidates have the same number of letters in their names. So in this case it may be necessary to flip a coin.

Now if we extend the theory further to the county race, whether we want it or not there are more letters in Nickerson than Burns so it looks like trouble for the GOP in that category. We are sure that this statement is going to bring us some critical mail just as the Johnson Goldwater comparison did, but what can you do? At least from here on we will have two party mail instead of all Democratic complaints.

Gray Hair Does Not Regain Former Color

By C. A. Dean, M.D.

(Q) "I would like your help with something that has bothered me for many years. I have some gray hairs because of worry. Is there any chance that they will regain their normal color again?" P.L.

(A) There is a slight chance of gray hair regaining its color. However, it is rare indeed, and, practically speaking, I think it is safe to say that it never happens.

MEDTORTIAL: Mrs. T.J. asks, "What is the difference between congenital and hereditary defects? I was talking to a friend who said that someone she knew had hereditary syphilis. I didn't think this was possible." Mrs. T.J. is not alone, since many persons make the mistake of confusing the terms 'hereditary' and 'congenital'.

Hereditary refers to the characteristics, such as eye color and skin color, which we get through genes. The various traits carried by the parent are passed on to the infant through the genes. Genes are located in the sperm and ovum so that when these unite, the specific traits are already predetermined, whether they be good or bad.

'Congenital' refers to anything that happens during development of the baby in the uterus, after fertilization. Syphilis, for example, can affect the developing baby and is therefore congenital and not hereditary. Another example is the effect of German measles or the drug, thalidomide, which can affect the baby and produce defects. Congenital defects, then, are those which develop after fertilization due to some outside influence on the mother and baby.

United Nations Monument-- Or Tombstone?

By Russell Kirk

THE RAVENS GATHER OVER CYPRUS. There the Greek Christian majority has been oppressing the Turkish Moslem minority; and the Turkish government has intervened, with planes and soldiers; and Soviet Russia smiles at the prospect of a fight between the NATO members Greece and Turkey.

Resolutions and entreaties about Cyprus issue daily from United Nations headquarters. But can the U.N. bring peace and toleration to Cyprus? Almost certainly not. The troops which the U.N. dispatched thither have failed to separate the Cypriot combatants. The Soviet bloc, with veto-power over U.N. policy, does not desire Cypriot peace; the Communists love dabbling in those troubled waters. As the U.N. failed in the Congo and in the Yemen, so its efforts in Cyprus seemed doomed.

At this juncture, a very odd proposal is advanced by a Presidential commission on the disposition of Alcatraz Island, in San Francisco Bay. This commission, headed by Senator Long of Missouri, desires to make Alcatraz into a United Nations monument! Quite apart from the difficulty of visiting the former prison-island, a memorial to the United Nations (despite its San Francisco origins) on such a site seems both premature and eccentric. The original notion came from the San Francisco chapter of the American Association for the United Nations.

For the United Nations organization is not an ideal or quasidivine being to which one erects monuments. It is supposed to be an instrument for international cooperation, a practical device. Its history has been short, and spotted with many blunders. What is the purpose of such a "monument"? Who is supposed to visit it? As matters are going, the U.N. may be inoperative, practically, before such a monument could be erected. The New York Daily News is given to calling U.N. headquarters "the tombstone on the East River." An Alcatraz monument might be even more sepulchral.

Sentimentally exalting the United Nations organization -- which has had no coherent common aim since the defeat of the Nazis -- into a symbol of perfection actually does harm to the practical work of maintaining some sort of comity of nations, as this commentator pointed out in a recent column. What the U.N. needs in this critical hour is not grandiose monuments, but sound sense and effectual reform.

Yet it is typical of the sentimental idealist to dream of building memorials while the living reality withers. It is so very difficult to bring peace to Cyprus -- and so pleasant to raise money for supplanting Alcatraz prison.

Meanwhile, Cypriots die. Political independence (so enthusiastically hailed in these United States) has brought them only savage internal strife. I have to hand a charming book long out of print -- W.H. Mallock's In An Enchanted Island: A Winter's Retreat In Cyprus (1889). In Mallock's time, Cyprus still was free of the curse of ideology.

"With the exception of a small minority, drawn principally from the Greek shopkeepers," Mallock says of the Cypriots, "the glorious privilege of taking part in their own government touches them only as an occasional vague annoyance, which the moment it is over fades away from their consciousness. When the elections take place for the Legislative Council, the difficulty is to persuade them to vote at all."

Well, they vote now -- and shoot more often. And one reason why the U.N. stands ineffectual is this: the cardinal error of admitting to full membership in that organization of petty little "emergent nations" like Cyprus, without stability or sense of responsibility.

The Official Opening will be at 2:00 p.m. followed by an open house until six in the evening.

The Meenan Oil Co. was founded in New York City in 1933. In 1948 they opened in Levittown. At the time of the opening in Levittown, Meenan had one employee in Nassau county. Today they have four installations in Nassau and Suffolk employing 160 people. In addition to the Long Island Division, the company serves Bucks County Pennsylvania as well as Burlington and Mercer Counties in New Jersey. Mr. William Kenny, Jr. is president of the company. Fifteen years prior to the move to the new building in Hicksville, Meenan was located on Hempstead Turnpike in Levittown. William Kenny III, vice president of the company said that the move was prompted by a critical need for space. Aside from the normal growth of the company, Mr. Kenny said added space was needed for the installation of a complete IBM Data Processing System including a computer. Through this modern miracle Meenan will have instant and constant information on delivery tickets, degree day projection, accounts receivable, statements, analytic reports and customer status.

Letters

The following is the text of a letter sent by the Taxpayers' Educational Association for the Children of Hicksville to the Board of Education regarding the controversy in the High School English Dept.:

As the situation in the Senior High School English Department developed and festered, it became evident that the public interest was being pushed aside in a vicious cycle of charge and counter-charge. TEACH interprets the public interest as:

*Concern about Hicksville's educational image.

*Concern about our children's inability to learn in an atmosphere of rancor and dissension.

*Concern about that "seed of doubt" planted in the public's mind regarding the competence of our teachers and administrators.

The Board of Education, in its decision of August 14th, has also shown little concern for the public interest by passing judgment on technicalities and completely ignoring the sources of conflict, their effects, and the future possibilities for discord.

TEACH feels that every effort should be made to prevent future breakdowns in communication between staff and administration. We hope that the following suggestions may prove helpful in this area.

*Clarify and publicize the formal grievance procedure, so that all members of the Hicksville School system are aware of their rights and responsibilities in utilizing the procedure.

*Specifically delineate the role of supervisors and administrators in relation to the teaching staff. Administrators and supervisors are the only persons qualified to evaluate teacher performance and competence and to judge permanent tenure for teacher personnel.

*Recommend that all persons hearing grievances consider themselves mediators rather than judges, and that they remain flexible rather than technical when dealing with human beings.

*Encourage the continuous use of understanding and tact based on the mutual respect of one human being for another within our school district. Administrators and School Board members must recognize that the trained professional teacher is not merely an employee doing a job. He is an educated adult and should be encouraged to contribute worthwhile ideas and ideals.

Regardless of what has occurred, a distinct effort must be made to restore harmony within the school family and to build good will within and toward the school system. Our children deserve the opportunity of learning under the best conditions we can provide.

Thanks to its many thousands of valued customers, Meenan has grown to become Long Island's largest independent fuel oil dealer. Because of this growth, and in order to improve its services, Meenan has made two major changes. We want you to know about them:

1. MEENAN MOVES ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE

Meenan's administrative offices are moving from Levittown to new and larger quarters at 17-23 West Marie Street in Hicksville. This modern building will centralize our existing administrative operations and will permit more rapid handling of transactions and communications. Meenan's large fleet of delivery, service and plumbing trucks will continue to serve Long Island homeowners from eleven terminals and office facilities throughout Nassau and Suffolk counties.

2. IBM ELECTRONIC COMPUTER SYSTEM INSTALLED

Meenan's accounting procedures have been modernized by the installation of the very latest IBM computer system — the most extensive automated installation by a fuel oil company on Long Island. This new system will update records instantaneously — another step in the company's policy of constantly seeking new methods to serve customers better.

We are now in our new quarters

Local Directory To Be Published

The staff of the Hicksville Public Library under its Director Mr. K. Barnes, has been busily engaged in detective work all summer. The object was to fulfill a long felt community need: to compile a Town Directory. The detective work consisted of tracking down the many clubs, youth organizations, service clubs etc. together with the officers and when possible meeting time and place.

The first consideration was what to include in a Town Directory. The Library staff tried to include any community information that was thought would be useful to the residents of Hicksville: the political clubs, the political leaders, the town representatives, federal and state and county. There is a section on community services and of course a list of the many churches in Hicksville (there are 15), besides of course the mentioned clubs and organizations.

ments toward improving it's usefulness will be welcome.

Copies will be mailed to the groups listed. Additional copies will be available at the main desk of the Library.

GAS HEAT

IN THE PAST 5 YEARS?

WIN A BRAND-NEW GAS HEATING UNIT— or one of many other valuable prizes!

Here's a wonderful opportunity to win a lifetime of superbly clean heating for your home. Just estimate how many of your Long Island neighbors switched to modern, dependable gas heat in the past 5 years . . . and said good-bye to old-fashioned heating methods. Things like space-consuming tanks in their cellars. Expensive repair bills on complicated heating units. Delayed deliveries due to storm-clogged roads. Frequent redecorating costs.

Your answer may just be hot enough to bring you a cleaner, healthier home life this winter . . . and for many winters to come. What could be easier? Don't wait! Fill out the coupon below.

1st to 5th Prizes!

Each consisting of a gas heating unit — including cost of installation and connection to existing heating system. If winner has bought and installed a gas heating unit during the contest, reimbursement of the total cost of installation and connection to existing heating system will be paid.

6th to 10th Prizes!

Choice of 5 Gold Star gas ranges or 5 top-quality gas clothes dryers. All 5 prizes include the cost of normal installation.

11th to 100th Prizes!

Oddments and Endments

THE KEYNOTE SPEAKER at the national Democratic convention said that under the Democrats we've had unparalleled prosperity for the last 42 months. About a week or so later, President Johnson signed the anti-poverty bill into law.

There you have it friends: Unparalleled poverty in the midst of unparalleled prosperity.

Mark Twain it was who said a diplomat is nothing but an international liar.

So what's a politician? Nothing but a domestic liar---

ANYONE who thinks there's something fishy about our space program is undoubtedly right. One of our very next astronauts is likely to be a porpoise. I knew there was something wrong with our race into space pace. But not until this week did I know it was not purposeless, but porpoiseless...

THE WOMAN whose car had just collided with that of a neighbor as she backed it out of her driveway, got out of her automobile with the newly "truncated" trunk, and pointing to a sign across the street, said angrily: "Why didn't you stop, when you saw that sign? Can't you read?"

The sign which faces in a direction opposite that in which the man was driving, reads, "SCHOOL..."

Score one for the Motor Vehicle Bureau. It not only licenses people who can't read, but who think others can't because they can't....

WILL JUSTICE COME TO SCHOOL PSYCHE - SNOOPING? -- Look for a whale of a lawsuit against a Long Island school district, school psychologist, and possibly other school personnel because of the branding of a child in a school record.

The parents are purchasers of "The Branded Child" my book which aims to make the school child - and parent-branders legally responsible for their own acts.

Stories constantly come in to me about the pontifications of school psychologists. One such, after subjecting a child to a battery of snoopy tests, told the parents that what their home really needed was a television set. (Wonder how Jesus Christ got along without TV?)

Ab, conformity, sweet conformity! I think the school psychologist should try to conform too.

He should conform to the rest of us by trying somehow, somewhere, to acquire a brain.

With that and a television set, he'll go far.

Another story, whose source I don't know, involves a little boy who always used black crayons in school.

As you can well imagine, a swarm of schoolmen pounced upon the boy to find out for what sinister reason he used black and nothing but black crayons.

The psychologist started subjecting the boy to fancy as well as fanciful personality and projective technique tests to dip into the kid's psyche and find out why, oh why, he was using black crayons.

Well, a little judicious inquiry -- by a teacher, not the would-be headshrinker, I am told -- showed the reason the boy was using black crayons was that he had the last seat in the last row, and by the time the crayons came to him all the other kids had taken the other colors.

New W. Fair Bus Schedule

A new fall schedule of bus service to the World's Fair has been announced by the Schenck Bus Co. of Floral Park, with service continued right up to the closing of the Fair for this year on October 22. The new fall schedules will go into effect on September 8, on routes from Glen Cove and from Hicksville into the Fair. Service on the present Schenck schedule from Roosevelt Field into the Fair will be maintained.

"We are adjusting our service to the reduced number of out-of-town visitors going to the Fair, and the fact that the youngsters will be back in school -- and not visiting the Fair in individual groups," said Lester E. Weidner, Executive Vice President of Schenck Transportation Co. "We expect to carry a more adult group - mostly residents of Nassau County who will take advantage of the cooler weather and the smaller crowds to get in their sight seeing at the Fair."

Schenck buses serving the World's Fair will continue to run from the Mid-Island Plaza in Hicksville via the service road of the L.I. Expressway with limited stops along the route, from Roosevelt Field via Mineola Blvd., Hericho Tpke., and Lakeville Road into the Fair and from Glen Cove via Northern Blvd. into the Flushing subway and the Fair.

The fall schedules are available by writing to Box 128, Floral Park, indicating the schedule to be sent.

Member Tea For Sisterhood

The Membership Committee will present the social and cultural opportunities offered by the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Elohim, conduct all guests on a guided tour and serve refreshments.

Regis. Day For Workshop

On Saturday, September 26, the Bethpage Children's Creative Workshop will hold registration at the Charles Campagne school between 10 AM and 1 PM. In its sixth year, the Workshop, a cooperative, non-profit organization, will offer 22 courses in the fields of dance, art, drama, music, crafts, ceramics and science. Directed by a well qualified staff, the emphasis in all courses is on creativity and self-expression. The fee in general is $15 for twenty one hour sessions, with some courses requiring a materials fee. Classes are limited to 15 and are variously geared to children of kindergarten through seventh grade age. They will be held on Saturdays at the Charles Campagne school in Bethpage between the hours of 9:45 a.m. and 2 p.m., starting October 10 and ending March 27. For further information call WE 1-6480.

Johnson Ahead In Opinion Poll

Hicksville residents gave President Johnson a commanding lead over Senator Goldwater in the August balloting in the Meadow Brook National Bank Community Opinion Poll, according to Jirah D. Cole, Vice President and manager of Meadow Brook's Hicksville office. The votes cast in Hicksville showed 61.8% for President Johnson and 34.7% for Senator Goldwater. Only 3.5% indicated they were undecided.

The Poll is the first in a continuing series of month-long pulse-taking efforts by Meadow Brook through its 66 offices on Long Island and in New York City to reflect community and area thinking on topical issues.

Hicksville's figures are close to the over-all percentages of 65.2% for Johnson and 31.5% for Goldwater among the more than 11,000 who participated in the Poll.

Other results in the August Poll showed Hicksvilleites strongly opposed to reducing the legal voting age to eighteen, 73.0% to 23.9%; in favor of year 'round daylight savings time, 62.1% to 31.6%; and opposed to extending the length of the public school year, 50.5% to 45.6%. All results were typical of the general opinion throughout the area.

Plainview residents gave President Johnson a commanding lead over Senator Goldwater in their balloting. The votes cast in Plainview showed 70.9% for President Johnson and 25.1% for Senator Goldwater. Only 4.0% indicated they were undecided.

Plainview's figures differ somewhat from the over-all percentages of 65.2% for Johnson and 31.5% for Goldwater among the more than 11,000 who participated in the Poll.

Other results in the August Poll showed the Plainview community strongly opposed to reducing the legal voting age to eighteen, 72.2% to 26.9%; in favor of year 'round Daylight Savings Time, 63.7% to 25.1%; and opposed to extending the length of the public school year, 52.9% to 43.9%. All results were typical of the general opinion throughout the area.

Barbecue Host Political Cand.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Strafer, Jr. of 23 Plover Lane, Hicksville, were hosts at a barbecue party in their home this past Sunday, September 6, for their friends and neighbors. Among the guests were former Hicksville residents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Vitale of Woodbury. Mr. Vitale is a member of the Nassau County Mental Health Board, and is presently democratic candidate for the new district court judgeship created by the state Legislature.

DO YOU HAVE A PEELING PROBLEM?

When paint continually peels off the exterior of your house, it's usually due to moisture from beneath the surface. The moisture works its way to the painted surface and cannot get through. A blister will form, eventually break, then start to peel.

Eliminating this moisture would be one way of solving the problem. (This would be almost impossible when you consider the hot and cold changes in the weather causing condensation or sweating.)

Another way would be to use a paint whose pores would allow the moisture to pass through it and remain unaffected. This we now have. NEW ROL-EZE. THE PAINT THAT BREATHES.

Now you don't have to wait for that dry day to do your outside painting. You paint right over damp or wet surfaces before or after it rains. (Even during the rain if you're so inclined.)

Stop by. Feel free to ask all the questions you wish, with no obligation to buy.

And let us not forget . . . you get every second can FREE.

Vitale Speaks To Rotary Club

Alexander Vitale of Woodbury, Finance Chairman of the Nassau County Mental Health Bd. was the guest speaker at last week's meeting of the Hicksville Rotary club, held at the Milleridge Inn.

Mr. Vitale pointed out that the Board has contracted with 26 clinics in the County. It spends 4 million dollars a year of public funds, to perform its work. "The variety and extent of mental health services which Nassau County has made available to its residents Vitale declared "is far greater than most people realize."

The speaker also gave his listeners some details of the "round the clock" which has been newly instituted at the psychiatric clinic in Meadowbrook Hospital at East Meadow.

Here, emergency help for mental illness can now be had on a walk in basis.

Mr. Vitale's final remarks, described the facilities in the county for helping emotionally disturbed children, and the Board's efforts to increase this type of help.

If You Please

By Peter Pettibone

OLD TIMERS AROUND Port Washington tell of the character who some years ago hired the local civic hall for one night, but engaged no ushers or other staff. About a month before the date for which he had rented the hall, he put a large sign on Port Blvd. near Northern Boulevard, stating in huge letters: "He Is Coming!" A week before the fateful night that sign was changed to, "He Will Be Here Next Friday!" The day before the event the big sign was changed to: "He Is Here!" The following morning it read: "He Will Be In The Hall Tonight at 8:30!" That night the man himself sat in the box office and sold tickets at $2.00 a head to a capacity audience. When the lights finally went up, shining on the stage, all the crowd could see was a huge sign reading: "He Is Gone!"....This guff (I mean column) appears in 55 newspapers weekly. Some of our editors have a sense of humor. One of them sent his wife, who had just had a son, this telegram: "I hear you had a boy in your room last night."....Convention Chatter: There are only two places where socialism works - one is a beehive and the other is an anthill....On the arrival of his fifth child a Herald Tribune editor received this telegram: CONGRATULATIONS STOP....One waiter to another: "Don't look now, but the people at your table are trying to catch your eye."....And: "She got the money out of her husband without half crying."....It was John Barrymore who said: "A man is not old until regrets take the place of dreams.".... Young Love Dept.: It was her birthday and the two youngsters had planned a festive day. They were also celebrating their engagement. A florist's truck drove up to the home of the prospective bride and the driver delivered a beautiful bouquet of roses. But the card accompanying the flowers was addressed to the bride-to-be's mother. Thinking it was a mistake the daughter opened the card and read this message: "I'm so glad it was a girl. Donald."....Mrs. George S. Kaufman's introduction to the literary, social and theatrical world came when her husband and Franklin P. Adams took her to a big cocktail party and introduced her to numerous personalities. Then she was seated in a cane-bottom chair in the corner. The cane bottom collapsed and the new Mrs. Kaufman found herself, with feet up, imprisoned in the framework, with her posterior drooping to the floor. As everyone turned to stare at her, her husband cracked:

"I've told you a hundred times, Darling, that's not funny!"....It was nice seeing Dick Mokee at the Club House again, the other P.M....About the happiest man on Long Island today is Carl Hoppl. There will be no strike in either of his three fabulous places. His 364 employees are happy too, because they had no ax-to-grind with the highest paying restaurant employer in the Metropolitan area. His Westbury Manor had its biggest week ever last week....Wendy Barrie: "There is no better exercise than reaching down and lifting up people."....If You Please, Dp11....

All members are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.
