Local Students In National Semi-Finals

The names of three high school students in Hicksville and Plainview and two in Bethpage who have been named semifinalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition were announced today. The Hicksville semifinalists are: Mitchell Fishman, Dorothy L. Hago, and Stephen E. Tishman.

The Plainview semifinalists are: Steven A. Goldberg, Ira P. Goldstein and Kenneth S. Stamler.

The Bethpage semifinalists are: James T. MoDaniel and David J. Rosen.

They became semifinalists in the 1964-65 Merit Program through their outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, administered last March in more than 17,000 high schools. This test of educational development is the first step toward winning a four year Merit Scholarship to a college of the student's choice.

The Semifinalist group is composed of the highest scoring students in each state and in United States territories. Semifinalists must substantiate their qualifying test performance on a second examination, be endorsed by their schools, and fulfill certain routine requirements to become Finalists. All Merit scholars are then selected from the Finalist group.

Finalists receive from $100 to $1500 scholarships for four years in college. The amount is determined by the needs of the student.

Congressman Steven Derounian who is running again for Congress from the third congressional district will appear in Hicksville Saturday October 3 at the Independent Goldwater for president headquarters on Old Country Road. He will appear at 10:30 a.m.

THINKING IT OVER

By Robert L. Morgan

Some of our friends, who are active Democrats tell us that they are at times as bewildered with what goes on at Town Hall with Supervisor Pettito, as we are.

The big selling point last November was that two party government would be good for the Town and as things turned out, the message must have gotten through to enough voters to elect Mr. Michael Pettito as the first Democratic Supervisor.

But aside from the career Democrats (or people who would like to be career Dems) there is little to be proud of as a result of this big change.

When The Gates in Woodbury was downzoned by the Town, some very vociferous Democrats beat a path to our phone to denounce the action. But a day or two later they had to embarrassedly admit that for some reason the Democratic Supervisor had voted for this downzoning. And as it turned out the pressure of both Democrats and Republicans as ordinary citizens, made the Board and the Supervisor reverse the decision.

Then there is the incinerator crowd in Old Bethpage. This group is against the incinerator being expanded in its area (we differ with them) but once again a group of Democrats had to admit that their warrior in shining armor had let them down. He voted along with the Town Board.

Now comes a big one that is worrying us. For years the Town has had very generous regulations regarding the collection of rubbish. Then this week comes the day of reckoning. The Town Board and Mr. Pettito are tossing about ridiculous regulations to the homeowner regarding rubbish removal and absolutely unfair curtailment on small business. In the latter category is the real contradiction. A major campaign promise of the Supervisor was to stimulate business in Oyster Bay. At the time this sounded like a lot of hot air and it probably was. But who would expect that the administration would do things to hurt business; this just doesn't make sense.

But now we have the Supervisor shedding crocodile tears because the costs to the school system will increase as much as $150. per week for picking up trash and this in turn would be reflected in school taxes, and later we assume, in votes for Mr. Pettito.

But Mr. Pettito should go on shedding tears for the hundreds of small businesses that will be hit by increases in costs because he and the Town Board have put into effect regulations that John Burns or Tom Pynchon would not. In general businesses pay more taxes than anyone else in the Township. We assume they are not going to be given any tax decrease but just less service. Two party government is working great in Oyster Bay. With assets like that there is no room for liabilities.

Poison Ivy Sensitivity Increases With Contact

By C. A. Dean, M.D.

(Q) "I am 45 and have always been able to be around poison ivy without getting a rash. Last summer, however, while on a camping trip, I developed an itchy rash. The doctor told me it was probably due to poison ivy. It cleared up when I got home. I want to go camping again and would like to know if it is possible to be sensitive to poison ivy after all these years." J.C.

(A) Poison ivy is probably the greatest skin sensitizer known. It is estimated that if you handle it frequently over a long period you will become sensitive to it. Therefore, it is possible to develop a sensitivity after all these years, and no doubt the poison ivy was the cause of your rash last summer.

(Q) "Is a pink eye the same thing as a case of conjunctivitis?" Miss R.R.R.

(A) Yes. The common expression for conjunctivitis is pink eye, and gets its name from the pinkness due to the congestion of infection.

How Much Is That President In The Window?

By Russell Kirk

NATIVES OF NEW HANOVER ISLAND, near New Guinea, want to purchase Lyndon Johnson. For three months, an interesting cult has refused to pay taxes, arguing that their tax-money should be allocated to the acquisition of Mr. Johnson, who should rule over them and restore the prosperity that was theirs during American military occupation. New Guinea's officials have even found it necessary to build a new jail for confining the tax-strike zealots of the Johnson cult.

It seems improbable that President Johnson will sell himself to his black admirers in order to conduct his war on poverty from a truly poverty-stricken base. Republicans, true enough, might ship Mr. Johnson to New Hanover at a cut-rate figure, were it in their power. And some Republicans have suggested that the Republican National Committee ought to make an offer for Mr. Johnson's assets -- and use the profit to finance the Goldwater campaign. For while President Johnson says he is worth less than $4 million, Life magazine says his holdings have a value of $14 million.

It is clear that Mr. Johnson is several times richer than his rival, Senator Goldwater. More significant, Barry Goldwater has lost money while in the Senate -- dipping into his capital; while Lyndon Johnson accumulated an immense fortune during his senatorial years, even though senatorial salaries usually provide little more than Washington living-expenses.

Many Presidents, from George Washington onward, have been rich; nearly all have been men of substance. The question is not whether the President of the United States should be a millionaire, but rather how he found his millions.

By manipulation in Washington, one can become a millionaire in very short order -- through influence-peddling, chiefly. There is no better example of this royal road to success than Mr. Johnson's protege and friend Mr. Bobby Baker. Ours is the age of the contact-man and the inside-dopester. The late Estes Kefauver is said to have grown affluent through a single senatorial speech, in which he denounced a certain drug-company. The day before delivering his Philippic, Senator Kefauver bought many shares of stock in a rival drug concern -- a firm whose shares shot up in Wall Street proportionately. Kefauver's profit was very, very tidy.

Somehow, in Washington, Lyndon Johnson knew what to buy -- away out in the West, most of it -- that would increase eight or ten times in value, once in his possession; and certain gentlemen seem to have placed such opportunities in his path. This is nothing new; the late Joseph McCarthy, for instance, was not above such deals. But when the wheeler-dealer becomes President of these United States -- well, perhaps the critics suffer from scrupulosity.

The enthusiasts of New Hanover won't acquire their beloved Lyndon for less than 4 million, though; at current prices, he's worth at least 10 million, and probably 14.

News From Amer. Legion

With the appointment of a special committee to direct its "Roll Call-1965." The Charles Wagner Post #421 of The American Legion, of Hicksville, has opened its membership drive for the coming year, Post Commander Arthur Rutz announced today.

Chairman of the committee which will lead the 1965 enrollment campaign is George Johnston, First Vice Commander, Commander Rutz reported. Other members of the special committee are Joseph Slattery, Louis Cesta and Raymond Gamble.

The Charles Wagner Post #421 won all the membership honors in Nassau County last year when its new member drive netted a 30% increase in total membership. It also gained a 100% early membership by November 11, 1963 based on the previous year's total for the first time in 45 years. The committee is looking forward towards an even more successful year for 1965.

Commander Rutz explained that the "Roll Call" theme of this year's drive was to remind all war veterans of their service to their country which makes them eligible to become Legionnaires. "We're hoping to conclude our drive with a report of 'All present and accounted for!'" he added.

The Charles Wagner Post is joining some 16,500 other community organizations of the Legion throughout the United States, various overseas territories, and several foreign nations in the world's largest annual membership enrollment campaign undertaken by a veterans' organization.

"We plan to have the bulk of our 1965 membership drive completed before Veterans Day to permit us to devote as much time and effort as possible to our community service programs," Commander Rutz stated. "We plan accepting dues payments for the coming year now from those Legionnaires and eligible veterans who like to be known as 'Early Birds.'"

He pointed out that Post #421 has a goal of 450 members for 1965 which must be met if the local organization is to continue and expand its many community programs and activities. Among the programs slated for expansion are Americanism, Welfare, Jr. Band and Senior Color Guard. Commander Rutz stated the 1965 membership drive would greatly improve the manpower situation for the 47th Annual Nassau County American Legion Convention which is being hosted by the Charles Wagner Post in Hicksville on June, 3, 4, and 5 of next year.

Eligibility dates for American Legion membership are as follows: World War 1 - April 6, 1917 to Nov. 11, 1918; World War 2 - Dec. 7, 1941 to Sept. 2, 1945; and Korean War - June 25, 1950 to July 27, 1953.

Women veterans are particularly urged to join with their male counterparts in the continuing service to their community, state and nation by becoming members of The American Legion.

Who buys more Savings Bonds?

As statistical-minded as we are today, the Treasury Department can't answer that question.

The Treasury does know that U.S. Savings Bonds are owned by tens of millions of families. So it might be safe to assume that people in every walk of life belong to this "savings club."

This is a happy fact for the United States, and for the free peoples of the earth. For Savings Bond dollars are playing an important role today in the making of history.

This $46 billion reserve in the government's hands is working vigorously today to help our country in the major struggle to defend freedom.

At the same time, Savings Bonds help build your personal purchasing power by paying good interest and providing a method of saving that's unconditionally safe and readily cashable. And the higher your purchasing power, the better it speaks for our system.

It all adds up to one of the best ways you can save money and at the same time help your country. Start buying Bonds next payday—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or from any bank—and see if you don't feel pretty good about it.

Quick facts about U.S. Savings Bonds

- You get $4 for every $3 at maturity
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, stolen or destroyed
- You can get your money anytime
- You can save automatically on Payroll Savings

Objections Out On Monroe Project

The Town Board awarded a contract for the improvement of Monroe Avenue, Hicksville, it was announced by Councilman Edward J. Poulos, Board Majority Leader.

Lizza & Sons Inc. of Oyster Bay was awarded the contract at its bid price of $57,875, which was lowest when bids were received at Town Hall, publicly opened and read.

The award was recommended by Highway Superintendent Norman T. Wolf and Councilman A. Carl Grunewald, who moved the resolution on the Board. Supervisor Michael N. Pettio opposed the resolution.

The best bargain went to the New York Yankees who picked up Bob Cerone for less than $5,000 after his tour with the Yankee junior team.
Pat Enos and Bob Hick were other Hicksville players signed by Brooklyn and Cincinnati ball clubs in the past decade.
Chet Jaworski, who came out of New England with instructions from the then Hicksville School Board to make the Comets a respectable basketball power, built up the O & B diamond fortunes to their present eminence. Jaworski has now vacated his influential and position beneficial to Hicksville athletes for an assistant principalship.

Selections have been made for those young ladies who will represent Hicksville High School as cheerleaders for the coming year. The competition was extensive as more than 100 girls sought the Orange and Black sweaters.
Diane Thomas was elected captain amongst those chosen. Her co-captain will be Barbara Harlin. Others selected were Misses: Peggy Collins, Sheila Foster, Patricia Flannery, Sue Johnson, Linda Luft, Ginny McAllister, Mary Ann Muller and Ann Zadigan.

Hicksville High's opening contest with Levittown Division will be broadcast play by play on Huntington Station WGSM, commencing at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Hicksville fans greatly admire Plainview coach Bill McNamee for picking on two big ones for his football club this year. The Gulls open with tough Oceanside tonight (Friday) at Oceanside and play the constant Freeport later in the season. His outlook is far from brilliant but he is affording his ace quarterback, Dennis Norton, the exposure a big school should. McNamee previously coached for three years at Hicksville.

SPORTS

by HOWARD FINNEGAN

The price that the parent major league baseball clubs have shelled out to acquire talent graduated from Hicksville High approached the quarter million mark this week.

When the Kansas City Athletics announced the signing of 17-year old Hicksville star Jim Erwin for a "substantial bonus" the figure careened over the 200-thousand mark.

Erwin had a two year record of 24 and 5 with a weak hitting Hicksville team and according to his coach, Dick Hogan, was the best pitcher in the county. The two time All Scholastic carried Hicksville to within three outs of the Nassau County championship in 1963 before bowing in the last frame 2-1 to Wantagh.

Hogan himself induced Erwin to come out for the club that season with a few encouraging noon time talks in the hall. This factor alone reversed a downward trend in the Comets diamond fortunes.

While no figure was disclosed the current rate for a performer of Erwin's talents is in the vicinity of $70,000. Such a sum is not paid at once but is pro rated over a number of years and in this state is subject to the co-administration of the courts.

It was just two years ago that the Boston Red Sox announced the signing of Chris Coletta of Hicksville for over $50,000. The Mid Island Times has learned authoritatively that the sum was closer to $80,000.

In a 1962 bidding race the Los Angeles Dodgers and the same KC Athletics went after Comet Gary Sannosian with the latter winning at a reported $25,000.

WILLIAM NICHOLAS VAN ALLEN, September 15, 1964. If one simple sentence could give totality to the personality that was my father, that sentence would indubitably be Sabatini's immortal line: "He was born with the gift of laughter—"

If, on the other hand, my father sensed, with Sabatini, that the "world is mad," I rather suspect it left him undismayed.

Just hours before he moved on, as death beckoned to him from the sidelines, his thin frame quaked with laughter. It was a salty tale he told, too delicate (or indelicate, depending on the point of view) for reproduction in a nicety known as a family newspaper.

The man who was pressing for 75 years but never quite made it left the world no legacy beyond, perhaps, the 11 children -- William, Marion, Edward, Joseph, John, Kenneth, Howard, Gertrude, Carolyn, Raymond and Thomas -- that he sired.

If anyone had asked him why he fathered so many, I am sure he would have reflected for a moment and chuckled: "You're right. I should have spent more time minding the store."

And mind the store he did. For years he was a rare-book and art dealer and a hobbyist... of sorts. A prodigious reader who never went past the sixth grade in grade school, as it was then known, he got his education in the greatest school of all: the School of Life.

His mind was a veritable storehouse of wit. Thus, he often held his own with men of deep learning, who were, some of them at least, not quite so well read as the self-educated man from the world of books.

As a child, I remember my father's stomping into the house one day and excitedly proclaiming that he had just seen Mark Twain's original manuscript of "Tom Sawyer" in Brentano's, if memory serves. It was a momentous event in Dad's life, as all "book worms" will readily appreciate.

My father's specialties were religion and history, American history. He could speak interestingly and knowingly about practically every state in the Union, not simply because he read about it, but because he had been there. A sparkling conversationalist and raconteur, he frequently held his auditors spellbound with stories of stirring adventures in the life of a lustier day. He could very possibly have been a Jack London if his proclivities (he would have laughed at that word) had run in that direction.

Did I say he left no legacy? He did indeed. He lived a rich life and died a rich man, rich not in worldly goods, for he had scarcely a sou to his name, but rich in knowledge, rich in wisdom, rich in spirit, rich in a zest for life while yet he was being speeded into eternity.

He passed his riches on, bequeathing to each and every one of his children, and to our Mother, Mary, the warm and lasting memory of a man who looked into the face of death and smiled, pausing for one last rib-tickling tale before he gasped his last farewell.

Hurricane Precautions By Local Red Cross

Robert E. Coutleri, Disaster chairman for Hicksville, issues the following instructions in conjunction with the Nassau County Red Cross, for the hurricane season which is now upon us.

Safety precautions before the hurricane:

1. Keep your radio or television on and listen for latest weather bureau warnings and advisories. If power fails, use a battery powered radio.
2. Pay no attention to rumors.
3. Board up, put on storm shutters, tape or otherwise protect windows. Danger to small windows is mainly from flying debris while larger windows may be broken by wind pressure if not protected.
4. Get in extra food, especially things which can be eaten without cooking or with very little preparation. Remember that electric power may be off and you may be without refrigeration.
5. If emergency cooking facilities are necessary, be sure they are in working order.
6. Store supply of water for drinking and other purposes, as Town water service may be interrupted.
7. Have flashlights and/or other emergency lights in working condition and keep them handy. Have first aid supplies ready.
8. Be sure to have gasoline in your car. If electric power is off, filling stations may not be able to operate pumps for several days.

9. Check on everything that might blow away or be torn loose. Garbage cans, garden tools, toys, signs, porch furniture, awnings, and other objects become weapons of destruction in hurricane winds. Store them all inside if possible.

10. Be sure that a window or door can be opened on the lee side of the house, the side opposite the one facing the wind.

11. If the center or "eye of the storm" passes directly over, there will be a lull in the wind lasting from a few minutes to half an hour or more. Stay in a safe place. Make emergency repairs during the lull if necessary, but remember the wind will return suddenly from the opposite direction, frequently with even greater violence.

12. BE CALM. Your ability to meet emergencies will inspire and help others.

Safety measures after the hurricane:

1. Seek medical care at Red Cross disaster stations or hospitals for persons injured during the storm.
2. Don't touch loose or dangling wires. Report such damage to the light and power company, or nearest police officer.
3. Report broken sewer or water mains to the water department.
4. Guard against spoiled food in mechanical refrigerators if power has been off any length of time.
5. Unless you are qualified to render valuable emergency assistance, stay away from disaster areas where you may hamper first aid or rescue work.
6. Drive automobiles cautiously. Debris-filled streets are dangerous, so keep your eyes on the road. Along the coast soil may be washed from beneath the pavement which may collapse under the weight of vehicles.
7. Be alert to prevent fires. Lowered water pressure makes firefighting difficult after storms.
8. Take down shutters and save the lumber. Store in a handy place for future use.

Senior Citizens First Meeting

The Bethpage Senior Citizens Club held its first meeting of the season on Thursday, September 17,

1 o'clock at the American Legion Hall, on Washington Street. They welcomed six new members. Two from Bethpage, two from Farmingdale and two from Seaford. Refreshments were served first, followed by a business meeting and social hour. A vote of thanks was given to the President for arranging a very pleasant trip to the Amish Country, and various points of interest in Pennsylvania. Another 'thank you' was given her for several luncheons and small group parties given throughout the summer when there were no meetings. The several hostesses gave their guests a lovely afternoon.

The resignation of Mrs. Elizabeth Ploeger, the club treasurer and Mrs. Ema Kappmann, the vice-president were read and accepted with regret. Mrs. Ploeger is moving upstate and Mrs. Kappmann is retiring from active participation.

Due to unavoidable circumstances the drawing for the Afghan had to be postponed until next week.

It is planned that more tile work will be started for the benefit of new members.

The next meeting, Sept. 24, will feature a catered buffet luncheon. For any information call Mrs. Viola Weyolener, President at WE 8-0186 or Mrs. Eileen McLoughlin at GE 3-4694.

years. The Class of 1934 will hold its 30th reunion at the dance and the class of 1944 -- in the year that provided the school's only undefeated, untied, gridiron team -- will also use the dance for its 20th reunion.

Tickets are on sale at the Hicksville Sweet Shops and Holden's Stationery or from any member of the 21-mand board of governors.

If You Please

By Peter Pettibone

By Peter Pettibone

Letter from a Teacher: "Among my pupils, last year, in a high school chemistry class was a lad who had a tendency to monopolize discussions. I decided that such a troublesome habit should be called to the attention of his parents. On his report card I wrote: "Allen is a good student but he talks too much." A few days later the report was returned. Underneath my comment the boy's father had added: "You should meet his mother." --Sometimes I refer to my son Chuckie as unmarried. You are not the only readers who receive such fantastic news. For instance, President Johnson recently received the following letter: President's White House, Washington. Dear President, my name is Beth. I have two brothers. No sisters. No dogs. No cat. One turtle. I am in the fourth grade and I'm not married. Bye, Beth -- A Mid-Island store recently featured a collection of exquisite shoes. Above them was a large sign: "Shoes of Tomorrow." A little old lady stood there for a while, studying each show. Then she timidly approached a salesman and pointed to the show sign. "Please, sir," she asked, "what time tomorrow?" -- It's happened to me, too: After studying the billboard in front of a movie theatre which quoted the critics' glowing comments - "Superb!" "A Must!" "Brilliant!" "Touching!" - a woman said to her escort: "I wonder if it's any good." In a Manhasset hat shop a salesgirl gushed: "That's a darling hat. Really, it makes you look ten years younger." Her dowager customer retored: "Then I don't want it, I can't afford to put on ten years every time I take my hat off!" (Incidentally, she bought it.) --In the last Nassau election one very independent citizen voted for no one, but wrote across his ballot, "God Pity Nassau." --At Kennedy Airport a flustered bridegroom starting on his honeymoon absentmindedly asked for one ticket. Bur when his bride said, "Why, Tom, you've bought only one ticket," he answered without a moments hesitation: "By thunder, yo're right dear: I'd forgotten myself completely." (The dope)--A neighbor's wife plays a snappy game of bridge, while her husband boasts of knowing no rules. However, one evening in an exuberant mood, he bid and made a grand slam, doubled and redoubled. Gleefully he turned to his frau: "And you thought I couldn't do it!" His doll countered with: "Well, dear, you couldn't have, if you had played it right!" (grrlll)--The new Ben Casey series, "Terrific!" -- I predicted, Carl Hoppl's Westbury Manor received the Gourmet Committee's top award. They've listed it as "One of the World's Finest and Most Beautiful Restaurants. It's catering facilities are also superb." --In her Hicksville home, over cocktails, our dowager friend was asked by a well known playboy: "How old are you?" Her icy query: "Why do you wish to know? The sly lady killer covered himself with, "Dear lady, I merely wanted to know at what age a woman is most fascinating." (He'll probably be left in her will.)---If You Please, Joe --

Dinner-Fashion

A dinner and fashion show sponsored by the Women's Division for the campaign of Thomas J. Lavan, Democratic candidate for the Assembly from the 4th District in Nassau, will be held on Thursday evening, Sept. 24, in the Holiday Manor restaurant, 345 Hicksville Road, Bethpage.

According to Mrs. Paula Koch, chairman, festivities will begin at 8 p.m. with a roast beef dinner, followed by a parade of the newest styles of Shirley's Distinctive Casuals, Massapequa. After the dinner and show, Mr. Lavan will address the group.

Mrs. Koch said an invitation has been sent to Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy, who recently became a resident of Glen Cove, which is in the 4th District.

The admission for the evening is $4.50. Anyone wishing to attend may call Mrs. Koch at 516 CH 9-4867 for further information. Funds raised will be used for the Lavan campaign.
