Crowds, Bobbysoxers Greet Kennedy

Whenever a crowd of young teenagers is heard screaming in Hicksville these days it is difficult to tell whether the Hicksville Theatre is re-running the Beatles or whether Bobby Kennedy is back in town.

Bringing out the bobbysoxers on Saturday at Mid Island Plaza and in Plainview, Kennedy in his bid to unseat Sen. Kenneth Keating, received a tremendous crushing ovation for his second visit to this area.

In other campaign news Senator Kenneth B. Keating will address the Levittown Rotary Club at a special "Open Luncheon Meeting" on Tuesday, October 13 at the Holiday Manor at 12:00 noon.

The Levittown Rotary Club in keeping with its policy of affording candidates of the two major parties to "speak" is presenting Senator Keating to its members and friends according to Rotary President Ernest H. Valenze.

THINKING IT OVER

By Robert L. Morgan

Dear Fellas, Supervisors of the Town and other people, STOP IT.

We don't want a citizens committee, an updating study of rubbish problems, a sanitation expert to go over the situation.

We never had much to complain about in the garbage, rubbish and other collecting that your sanitation department did up until two weeks ago when the silly new regulations went into effect. Now we hear there is going to be a study and updating and all that trash (no pun intended) about the regulations. But all we want is for you to get back to the old out-moded, unscientific way of collecting rubbish that you always had been using. So let's forget all of these late news stories originating on both political sides from Town Hall. A Citizen's Committee to study garbage. Phew! Garbage is garbage and junk is junk so let's not make the disposal system anymore overburdened by putting out silly wordy statements that are as much garbage as what your Town Sanitation men are passing by right now in front of our building.

Please! A moment of sanity. Get back to collecting the rubbish and solve your labor problems without making new problems for the taxpayers who already have enough of two commodities, garbage and problems.

Problem Involving Back Needs Specialist's Help

By C. A. Dean, M.D.

(Q) "I fell several years ago and broke my ankle. At the same time I hurt my back. I have had all sorts of treatment on my back, but nothing has helped. Can you suggest something?" Mrs. A.H.

(A) I would advise consultation with an orthopedic (bone) specialist. I feel sure he would be able to help you.

MEDITORIAL: Medicine is constantly checking and re-checking observations. Very often a second look or further experimentation sheds an entirely different light on a given fact. These don't necessarily change the fact but rather bring it into better focus. Such has occurred with the relationship of german measles in pregnancy to congenital defects in babies.

Several years ago, following an epidemic of german measles, an increased number of congenital defects were noted in newborn infants. In checking back, it was found that most of the mothers had german measles early in their pregnancy. The conclusion was drawn that german measles contracted early in pregnancy could produce certain defects in the unborn child. It was further stated that defects would occur in about 90 per cent of such cases. However, continued study and evaluation of this has shown the 90 per cent estimate to be high.

It is still felt that german measles contracted early in pregnancy can produce congenital defects in babies. However, the chances of this happening are far less than originally thought. Instead of the risk being 90 per cent, it is closer to 10 or 15 per cent.

Enthusiasm For President Johnson? Pshaw!

By Russell Kirk

Although this commentator has beheld the pollsters publish some extraordinarily silly statements, the most preposterous allegation yet thrust upon the American public by these gentry is the recent declaration of Mr. George Gallup & Company that President Lyndon Johnson generates enthusiasm in the present campaign. A "research instrument" called the Stapel Scale is supposed to reveal that Johnson has an "enthusiasm rating" of 54.6, Goldwater of merely 21.4.

Now President Johnson, were the Presidential election held today, almost certainly would win. But that is a very different thing from rousing enthusiasm in one's supporters.

Who is supposed to be enthusiastic for Mr. Johnson, a tough and canny politician always more feared than loved, even by his intimates? And what has he done to generate this purported enthusiasm?

The liberals are not enthusiastic about Johnson -- not the liberals I know and read. They accept him as preferable to Goldwater, from their point of view, but they would prefer any of a dozen other leading Democrats as Presidential candidate.

The Negroes are not enthusiastic about Johnson; they liked Kennedy far better. They suspect that Johnson -- long a segregationist in his public utterances -- feels no real sympathy for them, but finds it politically expedient to waltz with them just now.

Union members are not enthusiastic about Johnson; a great many of them say in private that they will vote for Goldwater -- when the shop steward isn't looking.

Suburbanites are not enthusiastic for Johnson; many say they will vote for him, but when one asks them why, they begin to apologize and to list all the things they don't like about their candidate.

Southerners definitely are not enthusiastic for Johnson; on the contrary they now detest him more than they did President Kennedy, in the conviction that he used the South as the base for his political ambition -- and then turned his coat, once in power.

So where does all this "enthusiasm" among Johnson backers come from? Where are all the Johnson bumper stickers? Where are the Johnson equivalents of the Goldwater house-to-house volunteer canvassers?

A number of sober critics of the pollsters have suggested that commercial poll-takers endeavor to form public opinion, rather than to measure it. But how can a pollster influence the public's mind by publishing inflated statistics about the candidates and policies he favors? I suggest two means.

First, a good many people want to vote for the candidate or the measure they think is going to win; they are terrified of leaving the herd, or seeming "offbeat." Still more people grow discouraged if they read that a candidate or a measure is irresistible -- and so cease to raise objections, and perhaps abstain from voting.

Second -- and this is particularly important in Presidential elections -- potential financial contributors to campaigns don't wish to lavish their money upon a lost cause. If the polls seem to prove conclusively that Senator Goldwater can't win, no matter what anybody says or does -- why, one might as well spend one's surplus cash enjoyably, regardless of how much one likes Barry. (This play already has seriously handicapped the Goldwater people, trying to raise 4 million dollars to buy television time.)

So I do cynically counsel you, gentle reader, to question the methods of pollsters -- and their motives.

Letters

On Friday, Sept. 26, the school board in an unprecedented, cohesive action established the need for the taxpayers to purchase a large broom that can be used to sweep the entire board out of office. The announced intention of the school board to abrogate Supt. Abt's present five year contract, which still has two years to run, and reward him with a new five year contract at a stipulated, escalating salary, leaves no doubt that they have become Supt. Abt's willing tools, and have ceased to serve this community. Mr. Bruno alone dissented the board's intent. A few weak accolades were voiced by two board members in the support of the intent, but these were quickly repudiated by angry voices from the audience.

A closer examination of the down-hill progress of the educational system in this school district is needed to sweep away the illusion that education has been moving upward since the track system was implemented. An interested individual might start by asking these questions:

1. Do we provide equal educational opportunity for all children in this school district? The answer "no."

2. Has Supt. Abt been aware that track 3 was a total failure as far back as 1959? The answer "no"

3. When did Supt. Abt become aware that track 3 students were being denied an adequate education? The answer "1963" (Corrective measures will be attempted starting Sept. 1964)

4. During the past year has the "morale" of the non teaching personnel, the teaching personnel, and the students been high? The answer definitely "no"

5. Has Supt. Abt used much needed tax dollars for the true purpose of education, or are large sums siphoned off in pursuit of "trends" which might bring national acclaim to him personally. The answer "yes"

6. Exactly what are Supt. Abt's educational accomplishments? Does the community have any evidence that Supt. Abt has availed himself, in the last seven years of advanced studies or workshops that would improve his abilities. The answer "no"

7. Has Supt. Abt's salary been in accordance with his educational achievements? The answer "no" (According to a recent national salary survey published in the New York Times, he now earns more money than a full professor earns at a leading university such as Harvard or Yale.)

8. Lastly, has Supt. Abt taken stock of the true needs of a community geared to our economic level, by establishing educational tools and methods that provide a climate conducive to the improvement of the total educational system? The answer "no"

The above negative responses coupled with the totally mis-handled grievance procedure definitely establishes that Supt. Abt is not deserving of any new contract. So what can be the board's incentive for the betrayal of the people who trusted, and voted them into office?

We are advising the board that we are engaging legal council to establish the legality of such a rash act. It is our present opinion that the school board is attempting to supplant that, which remains within the domain of future boards to come. Considering the present unstable economic picture in Nassau County, and recognizing the possibility of an even bleaker future, how can this board approve such an ambitious salary guarantee to Supt. Abt, for the next five years, without placing our educational system in still further jeopardy? A long costly court battle, at taxpayer's expense, would be necessary in order to sever the contract once it is signed. A Massachusetts school board has been involved in just such a litigation for more than a year.

Imprudent remarks by thoughtless board members further demonstrates that these men are not aware that each child is an individual. Unique, in that each child is endowed with a different potential. Children in track 3 should not be saddled with a label insinuating, and I quote "It's not our fault if they do not want to learn" when the program available to them offers few or old texts, overcrowding, and slumping or disciplinary problems along with the slow learner. All too often a teacher's constructive efforts are negated, as precious hours are wasted in enforcing discipline. Too many of these students fall or drop out. Perhaps the new term "push-out" which was introduced in a new study that was published by the American Council on Education, would be more applicable.

Much more can, and needs to be said, but meanwhile we will make every effort to halt the board's unjust action. If you agree, and want to help call WE 8-6227 or WE 5-2779. We will need every willing hand. The Executive Committee Parents and Residents for Better Education Florence Infantino, President

Holiday Plans Expand P.O.

Longer post office window hours, expanded delivery services and large-scale extension of the ZIP coded parcel post speedup are planned for Christmas. Postmaster General John A. Gronouski has advised local Postmaster Irene L. Murphy.

Mr. Gronouski outlined to the Hicksville postal head, three major new steps he has taken "for the best Christmas mail service the Postal Service has ever had."

1. Expanded post office window hours Dec. 5 to 26 as deemed necessary by the local postmaster.

2. A six-day week Dec. 7-31 for parcel post deliveries, instead of a five day week.

3. Completion by Nov. 1 of Phase III of ZIP code parcel handling at about 310 more "sectional center" post offices (strategically - located mail massing points), providing faster delivery up to 24 hours or more for parcels with ZIP code.

In Phase I and II, approximately 75 offices with receipts of $5 million annually and above activated faster ZIP Code sorting and dispatch by Sept. 1. The 130 in Phase III includes offices with receipts of $1 to $5 million.

The Postmaster General told Mrs. Murphy the Christmas plans are part of a nationwide program to bring postmasters into more responsible positions in postal management as "real partners in providing better mail service at all levels."

SPORTS

by HOWARD FINNEGAN

Losing the ball five times in the first half on fumbles, Hicksville High suffered a 33 - 0 defeat at the hands of Levittown Division in its 1964 gridiron opener.

It was the most humiliating opening game defeat in the forty year history of the Orange and Black. Aside from a brief 63 yard march near the half which was thwarted, Hicksville never looked good.

Despite the decisive reverse quarterback Dennis Yastras, Fullback Larry Wesolko and half Steve Schuster flashed promise. Otherwise on a day in which so much was totally wrong --- Why dwell on it?

This Saturday Hicksville travels to Island Trees. It may be too much to expect Coach Jim Grantham and his assistant Ron Benizo to correct all for the test with Joe Martone's always fine crew, but they have recovered from two opening game shambles with Chaminade to gain outstanding seasons.

In the said forty years it has been the nature of the Hicksville football player to come on late. This will be no different this year. Hicksville will be a contender for league honors. There may be a disappointment Saturday in the series that has been aggravating. We hope not but more than a week is needed.

On the bright side: Hicksville over Clarke 3 - 2, in a major Soccer upset. Hicksville Junior Varsity football team 26-0 over Division J.V.

Getting Down to Cases With 12 Good Men and True

Chagrined at never having been called for jury duty, a senior citizen who would see 65 again only in his imagination appeared one sweltering summer day at a New York State court house to volunteer for jury service.

The clerk looked at the old gentleman, smile receptively, and said: "So many people don't want to serve on juries, it's wonderful to see someone with so much civic spirit. You're to be commended for your fine sense of civic duty."

The oldster looked at the clerk as though he were some kind of hare-brain and said: "Civic duty, nothing. It's the air conditioning that brings me here. We don't have any home because my wife can't stand it."

Myriad are the reasons given by jurors who don't want to acquit their "bounden civic duty." The easy way out for those who shun serving at murder trials is to say they don't believe in capital punishment.

Anent capital punishment, there are several stories in circulation in court circles, some of which may contain at least a germ of truth.

One such involves a prospective juror who offered to have his wife serve in his stead. "Though married, my wife is singular," he wrote to the court. "Her ability to fritter away my money proves her to be an expert in capital punishment. So why not let her serve in place of me?"

Another alibi-ist who wanted to avoid service allegedly wrote: "I absolutely don't believe in capital punishment. I'll have you know I save MY money."

The same old gentleman who volunteered to perform his civic duty because of air conditioning provided court personnel with yet another laugh. After he had filled out all the necessary papers to qualify as a juror, including one containing the question about whether he believed in capital punishment, he gave the papers to the clerk and left.

A couple of minutes later, he was back. Rather breathlessly he said: "Could I see my papers again? I don't know whether I said 'Yes' or 'no' in answer to the question about capital punishment."

Sometimes the excuses given by jurors are a bid odd, though believable. One prospective venireman who said he had an ulcer told the judge he would gladly serve provided he were allowed a recess every hour to feed his ulcer a glass of milk. He was excused. Another brought in a doctor's note which said: "This man is a victim of upsetment. Please excuse him from jury service as it would aggravate his condition."

"That's the first time I've heard of THAT condition," the judge remarked wryly. "You're excused."

Jurors have even been known to exhibit effervescent senses of humor. One once declaimed that he couldn't possibly sit on any jury hearing a matrimonial case.

"Why not?" I asked.

"Well," he confided, "when my first wife divorced me, the judge gave her so much alimony that it was a clear case of murder in the first degree."

As for "fisticuff humor," probably one of the best examples was seen in a Long Island court room many years ago. The jury filed in after it had deliberated for hours. "We find a verdict in favor of the defendant," the foreman intoned.

Surprisingly, one of the jurors sported a black eye which he hadn't had before the jury retired to deliberate. The foreman, a real cock-o'-the-walk type, later was heard to remark as he rubbed his knuckles:

"There are 11 of the most stubborn men I ever met in my whole life!"

MORE THAN 1,000 CATHOLIC GIRLS in Scouting from Nassau and Suffolk Counties attended week-end retreats at Camps Immaculata and Molloy in Mattituck on September 12-13 and 19-20.

The retreats were sponsored by the Committee for Girl Scouting, Diocese of Rockville Centre, headed by Mrs. F. Lee Woodley of St. Joseph's Parish, Hewlett.

Congressman
STEVEN B. DEROUNIAN
On the Issues

THE BASIC ISSUE

BETWEEN NOW AND ELECTION DAY, I'd like to discuss with you, fully and frankly, the issues of this 1964 Congressional campaign.

THE BASIC ISSUE in this, as in any campaign, is the record.

Has each candidate demonstrated that he understands and fulfills his obligations as a citizen? Have the candidates consistently shown a real, active concern for the problems of our country, state and district? Which candidate can you trust with greater confidence?

MY RECORD IS AN OPEN BOOK, which you have examined and re-examined each of the six times you have sent me to represent you in Washington.

I've lived in our District for more than 44 years, and served in local elective office since 1948, before you sent me to Congress in 1952. In this Congress, I've been recorded on more than 92% of our votes so far.

AS THE ONLY N. Y. REPUBLICAN on the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, I have endeavored to protect the interests of our State's taxpayers, who pay about 20% of the whole U.S. budget. Despite opposition control, many of the measures I have proposed or co-sponsored have become law.

OUR N. Y. CONGRESSIONAL delegation has chosen me to serve on the bipartisan New York Steering Committee, a House-Senate "watchdog" team safeguarding our State's interests in Washington. If re-elected I will be among the top 1/4 of the House in terms of seniority, able to work even more effectively on your behalf.

MY OPPONENT DOESN'T EVEN VOTE

In fact, he lost his voting registration (and his Democratic enrollment) this year, because he had twice failed to vote. He didn't even vote against me in 1962!

WHAT'S WORSE, my opponent willingly gave up his voting rights. He could have kept his registration in force simply by returning a postcard to the Board of Elections - but he didn't bother, because he wasn't running for anything, then.

When he was handpicked by the Democratic boss of Nassau County to run against me, he was neither a registered voter nor an enrolled Democrat. Five weeks later, he sneaked over to Valley Stream in South Nassau to re-register with the mobile registration unit there - not when it visited his home town of Great Neck, where his neighbors might have spotted him.

FOR THE NINE YEARS my opponent has lived here, I've been his Congressman - and NOT ONCE in those 9 years did he ever write, wire, call or stop at my office to offer even one suggestion, comment, criticism or commendation about any of my positions or my votes, any bill before Congress, or any matter of public concern - until after he became a candidate this Spring.

MY OPPONENT HAS BEEN COMPLETELY INDIFFERENT to our country's problems - just as he was too indifferent to vote in 1962 and 1963, and too indifferent to mail that postcard which would have saved his voting rights.

And - speaking of indifference - my opponent chose as his campaign manager a man who has voted ONLY ONCE in the 21 years he has been eligible!

DO YOU WANT TO TRADE TWELVE YEARS of experience, achievement, loyal service and faithful attention to duty - for a batch of hollow campaign promises from a boss-picked candidate whose record has been one of indifference and disinterest?

IN NEXT WEEK'S PAPER, I'll continue this discussion of the issues. Meanwhile, I hope that you will phone me at MA 7-5552, then MA 7-5625, then MA 7-6772; I'd like to talk to you about what's at stake in this year's elections.

NEW TEACHERS AT HICKSVILLE High School: Mr. Richard Warner - Mr. Warner received his BA Degree from State University College at Albany. He comes to Hicksville with six years experience, having taught upstate and abroad with the American Studies Center in Naples, Italy, and with the Bi-National Center in Brazil. Mr. Warner will teach English at the Hicksville Senior High School. Miss Gloria Iorio - Miss Iorio, from Flushing, received her BA Degree from St. John's University. Miss Iorio received a scholarship and studied this past summer at the University of Florence, Florence, Italy. She will teach Foreign Language in the Senior High School.

Dr. Liswood At Sisterhood

The October general membership meeting of the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Elohim will be held at the Temple on Round Swamp Road on Monday, October 12 at 8:30 p.m. The program for the evening features Dr. Rebecca Liswood, a practicing physician specializing in Marriage and Pre-marital Counseling. Dr. Liswood lectures on subjects as: Building a Happy Marriage, Sexual Harmony in Marriage, Problems of the Adolescent, etc. She has been interviewed as a marriage counselor on radio, on Monitor and on television. She has been quoted in many local newspaper articles and magazines as well as foreign magazines and she has lectured throughout the United States, Canada, Israel and Paris. Husbands are welcome to attend.

SPORTSMAN'S DIGEST

By Hal Sharp

AVOIDING SNAKES

ALTHOUGH HIS HOME LOCALITY MAY BE FREE OF POISONOUS SNAKES, A SPORTSMAN SHOULD LEARN TO AVOID THEM IN SNAKE INFESTED AREAS.

STEP OVER SMALL LOGS, ETC., BUT DON'T STEP OVER LARGE LOGS IN YOUR PATH WHERE YOU CAN'T SEE; A SNAKE MIGHT BE CLOSE BY, OR UNDER IT, UNSEEN NEVER STEP OR REACH WHERE YOU CAN'T SEE. SNAKES TRAVEL MOST AT NIGHT SO USE A FLASHLIGHT, ESPECIALLY AROUND CAMP WHERE FIRE'S WARMTH ATTRACTS THEM. SLEEP IN A SNAKEPROOF TENT, OR A COT IF OUTSIDE. SHAKE CLOTHES AND BOOTS BEFORE DRESSING.

Big Business: Every business day, promptly at noon, a timid little man checks in at the safe deposit dept. of a Garden City bank and obtains his safe deposit box which he opens, peeks into, and carries into one of the small coupon rooms where he remains for exactly 30 minutes. Recently a woman bank clerk plucked up courage enough to ask the visitor why he did this every day. In a thin colorless voice the timid gent admitted that his safe deposit box was always empty. He had simply rented it so as to have a quiet spot in the little coupon room to eat his lunch, which he carries in his pocket... There is no experience like making a dash for the 4:40 train out of Penn station and being told by the conductor that you're on the wrong train. This happened to me the other P.M., but there was a happy ending. The conductor took the next commuter's ticket and said, "you're on the wrong train, too, Mister." Then he added jovially, "Or maybe I am." He wasn't half so jovial, though, when he found out that, he, the conductor was on the wrong train. (Poor fellow)... Thanks to Dr. Samuel Johnson, for "If a man does not make new acquaintances as he advances through life, he will soon find himself alone. A man, he added, "must keep his friendship in constant repair."... The picture "The Light of the World," painted by Holman Hunt, shows Christ in a garden at midnight. In his left hand He is holding a lantern and His right hand is knocking on a heavily paneled door. When the painting was unveiled, an art critic remarked, "Mr. Hunt, you haven't finished your work. There is no handle on that door." The artist said: "That, is door to the human heart, it can be opened only from the inside."... Some kiddie tacked this sign on the Long Island Information desk: "Information about Syosset and other problems."... At Carl Hoppl's beautiful Westbury Manor host Chic Farmer said, "This is another big night here. At this moment in our three banquet rooms we have, Eugene Nickerson, Bobby Kennedy, Joe Carlino and John Burns." Bobby Kennedy will be there again tonight, Friday... Dick Eschmann's weekly quips: "Marriage is like a violin. After the beautiful music is over, the strings are still attached." & "Many a blonde is really a smart brunette."... Son Chuckie explained: "I scratched myself on a cat."... At Jay Sheridan's Gas Lamp Restaurant, Bethpage:

Willet Ave. PTA Meeting

The Membership Committee will be on hand to welcome all members and accept dues from anyone desiring to join our PTA. Come, and get acquainted. Refreshments will follow.

Teen Dems Against Stickers

The acting chairman of the Hicksville chapter of the National Teen Young Citizens for Johnson has called for an end to what he called "political vandalism". Joseph F. Rohan, acting chairman of Hicksville Teens for Johnson and President of the Hicksville Regular Teen Democratic Club says that since Labor Day hundreds of Goldwater - Miller stickers have been placed on public property in the business area of Hicksville. Rohan said that on the Saturday before Labor Day stickers for Goldwater - Miller were placed on poles and signs along Broadway. He went to Republican headquarters and claimed to represent the Young Citizens for Goldwater asking where the stickers were being obtained. He was told the stickers were being obtained at Goldwater for president headquarters on Old Country Road. Rohan was told that the Hicksville Republican organization which has a standing agreement with the Democrats against this practice, were not giving out the stickers to teenagers. Rohan asked an official at Republican headquarters to ask the Goldwater people to stop this, and was promised that the Hicksville Republicans would talk to them.

"But why can't we pay our Diner's Club bill with our American Express card?"... In The Daily News: "I would like to know why, if the world is getting smaller, postal rates keep getting higher?"... Money information: If you find a star in front of the serial number on a bill, it means the bill replaces a mutilated one. There are only 522 $10,000 bills in circulation. They bear a picture of Salmon P. Chase, Secretary of the Treasury under Lincoln. (So I'm told.)... I'll now go into my bank's coupon room, and have lunch.... IF YOU PLEASE
