Now Sen. Keating Takes Turn Here

It was Senator Kenneth Keatings turn to stump Hicksville Thursday. A crowd of nearly 1,000 turned out in mide-afternoon to see the silver haired Senator. The crowd was not as big as had crushed his opponent Robert Kennedy a few days before, but it did have its air of Beetlemania, with guitarists in attendance on the program. Also on the program were Francis Anderson, County Clerk; Edward Poulos, candidate for District Court Judge and other GOP candidates.

Haypath Rd. Bids Sought

The Town Board has approved a public bidding date for improving Haypath Road in Bethpage and Old Bethpage, it was announced by Councilman Edward J. Poulos, Board Majority Leader.

Town Clerk William B. O'Keefe was directed to set a bidding session at Town Hall, October 8. The project, recommended by Highway Supt. Norman T. Wolf and advocated on the Board by Councilman Louis A. Sias, will install a bituminous surface from Round Swamp Road to Farmers Avenue, a distance of about 2400 feet.

The paving will maintain the present width of 30 feet and will require some curb work. Storm - water drainage was installed previously. Engineers estimate the cost at $12,860.

Corresponding Sec., Estelle Wall; Chaplain, Frieda Moore; Historian, Harriet Mangels; Sgt.-at-Arms, Alma Hirsch.

"Highlight" of the evening was a mystery "This Is Your Life" presentation of a LIFE membership to Mrs. Tom Doran, past president and a member of the unit for 40 years. The presentation was made to Lil Doran by Junior, Past President, Madeline Swallow.

THINKING IT OVER

By Robert L. MORGAN

Unless it is the quiet before the storm this general election looks about the dullest in history. To be sure, this area, has been visited by the two hot contenders for the Senate but outside of the carnival atmosphere stirred up by this race there isn't much of a campaign or issues that show through from the Presidential race right on down to the Senate.

But yet, the reason is not because the people know all they want to know about the candidates and their views. They really are as confused as can be. Instead of the two Presidential candidates saying what they stand for and elaborating on their programs, we get snatches of what is wrong with their ideas from their rivals, so it has come this far with the voters only knowing what is wrong with the other candidate, but not what is right about the one they are supposed to vote for.

Now most of the Democratic leaders are dead set against President Johnson debating Senator Goldwater, on the grounds that a President shouldn't have to do this and also more probably on the grounds that he can have it sewed without doing so dangerous a thing. Well this is the way the professionals see it -- but is this the way the country should see it? Doesn't the voter have anything to say anymore? Should he have to cast his vote without getting some clearcut answers -- not on what is wrong with the rival -- but what is right with the candidate?

The clearcut answers should not simply be the emotional plays on words that have been bugging the people, but some real answers to some real questions.

We personally would like some answers on the poverty program. Is this a stop gap measure? How does it relate to free enterprise? Could it be done with free enterprise and the government, say with some assistance on a temporary basis to get things moving?

How about this Medicare program? It isn't simply a matter of do you want to help the elderly and sick -- but how? Isn't it true that the projected costs will mean $600 per year per employee for every one on the payroll and won't this put some of the smaller businesses out of existence and add to the poverty program? Couldn't it be done a better way through direct aid to the people in need of medical care? Or how about private insurance with the government sopping up a part of the risk? How about the candidates answering these questions?

How about the minimum wage law going up to $1.50. Is this going to help the problem of the unskilled youth who won't be hired at this higher wage to do apprentice work? And do teenagers who have no families to support need the minimum guarantee? Wouldn't it be better to lower the minimum wage under certain conditions and tackle unemployment and apprentice training through private means? Trade schools conducted by the government would be costly and probably only turn out a graduate who would have to get on the job training anyway. These are all questions. But the answers we get are more questions like, do you favor poverty? Or haven't you any compassion for this sick? This is emotionalism. A Presidential campaign should include facts.

Post-Operative Sudden Death Due To Clotting

By C. A. Dean, M.D.

(Q) "I knew a young lady who had an operation for delivery of her baby. While she was recuperating from the operation she died suddenly. Does this suggest any possible cause?" R.T.

(A) The most likely cause of this type of sudden death would be a pulmonary embolism. This is due to a blood clot dislodging, usually from one of the veins deep in the leg, and traveling to the lung. In the lung, the clot blocks off circulation and thus causes death. Fortunately, incidents such as this are rare especially since post-operative patients have been encouraged to get out of bed as soon as possible."

A Magazine's Dying Wail?

By Russell Kirk

"Whatever happened to the Saturday Evening Post?" long-time readers of that weekly have been asking for the past two years. Altered, under successive new regimes, in lay-out, contents, and politics, this old magazine still fails to pay for itself. Advertising revenues fall, and the magazine has a huge annual deficit. Will it go down to dusty death?

One measure of what has happened to the Post is a recent editorial intemperately assailing Senator Goldwater. A few years ago, the Saturday Evening Post had one of the strongest and most interesting editorial pages in the nation; now that page reads like a feeble imitation of some leftward-leaning New York or Washington newspaper.

The full-page editorial in question was dominated by the virulence -- almost an hysterical tone -- of which the recent editors of the Post have themselves accused -- not without justice -- the "radical right". Such editorials are one reason for the indignation of the established readership of the Post against the successive remakes of new editors that rise and fall like governments in South Vietnam.

"Goldwater is a grotesque burlesque of the conservative he pretends to be," this editorial squealed. "He is a wild man, a stray, an unprincipled and ruthless political jujitsu artist like Joe McCarthy." The conservatively inclined readership of the Post -- much of that audience composed of small-town and rural people -- doesn't fancy editorials which sound like rewrites of diatribes in the editorial columns of the Nation, if not the Worker. And what wretched writing, a far cry from the old vigor and humor of the Post: "grotesque burlesque," indeed!

Many advertisers have grown convinced that advertising space in the Post won't sell their products -- which accounts for that magazine's present unhappy deficit. Editorials written by cocktail-party liberals in Manhattan are only part of the reason why the solid citizenry no longer pays much attention to the Post.

Sensationalism -- for which the magazine has had to pay dearly in a big successful libel suit -- has alienated some readers. Others are disappointed at the banishing of the old serial fiction, of which the Post was almost the last refuge; and they mightily dislike the pseudo-clever new fiction which supplants the serials -- weak attempts to emulate the New Yorker, apparently.

Even the Post's editorial offices have undergone a radical change, shifting from Philadelphia's Independence Square to the Manhattan canyons. The Post definitely was not a magazine for Manhattanites. Now that a Manhattan tone pervades its pages, former devotees of the weekly flip through its pages languidly or angrily -- and apparently ignore the advertisements, too.

Collier's, for somewhat similar reasons, sank to oblivion a few years ago. As a "grotesque burlesque" of its former self, the Post seems to be afflicted with Freud's "death-urge." More's the pity.

By Edward J. Van Allen

I Cast One Vote for Birth Control
The marriage counselor was concedingly an expert on marriage since he himself had had five wives, one of them concurrently.

"What can I do for you?" he asked in kindly tones as I looked about nervously.

"I'd like to get your opinion on a little matter of birth control," I said a bit hesitantly.

His eyes alight, the MC rubbed his palms together and said gleefully: "Birth control! That's a subject that's giving whole nations the jitters today. It's right down my alley -- er, within my counseling sphere."

I admired his correcting himself with professional aplomb, but gave no voice to my thoughts on that score. "I don't know that any governments are involved here," I said. "Nor does the United Nations have to be called in. This is just a matter between me and my wife."

The counselor laughed rather raucously. "This dilemma is worldwide, my dear friend," he said. (I thought he would turn out to be the dearer friend, but again I said nothing.) "Already people are looking hungrily at seaweed as a possible food for billions as yet unborn," the counselor continued.

It dawned on me that we were talking at cross purposes. "I'm talking about birth control, not birth control," I said. "B-e-r-t-h."

The counselor's lower jaw sagged momentarily, but he regained his composure sufficiently to say: "That IS a problem of magnitudinous proportions. If nations only knew it, better birth control would almost certainly lead to better birth control."

I went on to explain: "My wife goes to sleep at night quietly, peacefully, quite unbelligerently. But during her repose she puts one or both feet into the small of my back and kicks me out of bed, practically every night."

The MC was lost in deep thought as a clock nearby ticked away monotonously for what seemed like hours. "My third wife was just like that," he said, a pained expression creeping into his eyes. "Used to kick me out of bed almost without fail every night at about 3 A.M. It was an amazing feat, really a bit of spectacular unconscious mental clockwork."

"I finally figured her subconscious was just giving physical expression to a repressed desire to boot me in the, well, hind quarters every time my back was turned during the day. I solved the matter by divorcing her, pleading mental cruelty, exhibiting myself through physical means. The judge was very, very sympathetic. He gave me the divorce, but gave her a nice piece of alimony so that she'd have nothing further to kick about."

"I appreciate what you say, but I don't want to divorce my wife," I said. "I'm just getting tired of sleeping on the floor. It's like a blooming rock!"

"A very rugged mode of sleeping," the MC admitted, adding: "Have you ever tried sleeping in tiers?"

"I told you that floor's hard," I replied a trifle angrily. "I'm always in tears."

"No, no. Now you misunderstand."

the counselor said. "I'm talking of something like bunk beds."

I smirked a knowing smirk. "Did you ever see those troop transports during the war?" I asked. "Those soldiers were the most tierful sleepers I've ever seen."

"Um" mused the MC, who apparently wasn't too much given to chitchat except when he himself was volunteering the observations. He went on to tell me about a client with a similar problem.

"Even though this man had a bed 12-feet wide," the counselor told me, "his wife edged over to his side each night and kicked him out."

"That's an awful lot of bunk," I interjected.

The counselor grimaced. "Under my guidance," he said, "this man bought another mattress which he laid on the floor beside his bed. So now when his wife knocks him out of bed, he lands on the floor mattress and sometimes doesn't wake up. Other times he hits the foam rubber floor mattress so hard, he just bounces right back into bed again, and nobody's the wiser."

The MC waited me to solve my floor-to-bed and bed-to-floor problem the same way. I thought about it for a while, but finally decided there were too many flaws in his solution. So I adopted one of my own. Now I simply sleep out in the garage, and it boots my wife nothing to try to kick me out of bed any more.

Besides, the whole thing has worked out beautifully, if not bootifully. Now I'm busy writing my autobiography. And zowie, what a lurid past my car has!

Town Budget To Cut Taxes

A "trim" preliminary administrative budget which is being filed today with the Office of the Town Clerk should reflect in a Town-wide tax cut of a cent and a half in 1965, Majority Leader Edward J. Poulos disclosed. The budget was turned down by Supervisor Michael Petito only Democratic office holder.

The 1965 preliminary budget was pegged at $4,694,880.37, up slightly from the current budget figure of $4,651,583.16, despite the following developments between budgets: 1) a seven per cent salary increase for the Town's 900 employees; 2) all of whom are being brought into a five-day work week. (Only 50 per cent of Town employees worked a five-day week at the beginning of this year, but now the Town will be put fully on a five-day footing); 3) greater Town contribution to employee retirement, hospitalization and social security funds; 4) a larger scheduled redemption of public indebtedness for capital improvements.

Majority Leader Poulos made particular note of the Sanitation District budget which, he said, clearly reflects the economy moves taken during the year. "Through reorganization we were able to provide a five-day week for all sanitation workers at virtually no decrease in salary. In addition, we were able to pare approximately $100,000 from that budget, or 2.4 cents from the tax rate. However, residents have indicated their needs for 'heavier' service. We have appointed a citizens' committee to help us work out a collection schedule which will give residents this service. Anticipating the increased expenditures it will take, we are putting the $100,000 back into the budget."

A public hearing will be held October 27.

Cake Sale For Retarded

The Bethpage-Plainedge Auxiliary for the Help of Retarded Children plan a "Cake Sale" to be held on Friday, October 23, at 10 a.m. at the Bethpage Bohack Shopping Center on Stewart Ave., Bethpage.

Christian Mothers Start New Year

The St. Ignatius Auxiliary of Christian Mothers opened the new school year at a meeting in the school auditorium on Monday evening, Sept. 28. The President, Mrs. J. Gough, welcomed the mothers to the 140th meeting of the Auxiliary with hopes that it would be a year of enrichment for all. Mrs. Gough introduced her new chairladies to the assembly.

They are: Program, Mrs. E. R. Schrom; Publicity, Mrs. Joseph Gill; Hospitality, Mrs. J. Cummings; Membership, Mrs. Henry Hofmann; Dark Horse, Mrs. Robert Rupp; Typing, Mrs. John McCrosson; Memeograph Mrs. John Seery and Mrs. Thomas Groody; Refreshments, Mrs. T. Wall; First Friday, Mrs. Robert Neder; Transportation, Mrs. John Petrone; Medical, Mrs. J. Terlikosky; Milk, Mrs. T. Muratore; Candy, Mrs. C. Campbell; Ice Cream, Mrs. Edward Sneeden; Uniforms, Mrs. Gilbert Russell and Mrs. Arthur Phelan; Fashion Show, Mrs. Paul Cesare and Mrs. Paul Weidenhafer.

The Recording Secretary, Mrs. August Perallo, read the minutes of the June meeting. Both the Treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Murphy and the Corresponding Secretary, Mrs.

Wm. Krejce, gave their reports. The Vice-President, Mrs. Lawrence McCaffrey, announced that there will be reception of new members at the Oct. meeting. She reminded the mothers of the spiritual benefits to be gained through membership in the organization. Mrs. McCaffrey also invited all persons interested in learning more about the mathematics to take a special course being given at Molloy College. The School Nurse, Miss Patricia Fay, announced that medical forms are due by October 1 and dental forms may be returned at any time during the school year. She also asked the mothers to inform her of any special medical problems a child might have in order that she may be of assistance to them. Miss Fay could use more Medical Committee Volunteers.

The President announced the formation of a basketball team for girls provided she could get mothers interested in helping Mrs. Olynk. Mrs. Feranta and Mrs. Moore of the Antun League would appreciate all the worn, but clean white sheets and shirts anyone might have to spare to make cancer dressings. They may be left at the Gift Shop in the morning or brought to the next meeting.

The Principal of the school, Sister M. Venard, O.P., welcomed the new Sisters and Mrs. Trecartin. She announced that the school has the permission to use the East Street School gymnasium on Tuesday evenings for the girls basketball team. Any mother interested in helping with the program is advised to get in touch with Sister. She also told the mothers about the new closed circuit educational T.V. system being installed in the school. Proceeds of the fashion show will go toward the purchase of television receivers for the school. Sister Venard foresees the advantage to Confraternity students in the religious instruction classes and the C.Y.O. sports program. S.R.A.

tests will be given this year in 4th, 6th and 8th grades. Sister announced the continuance of the Reading Center for remedial reading with the addition of instruction in advanced skills and speed reading. Interested parties are to see the Principal in her office on weekdays from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. - Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Mrs. Paul Weidenhafer spoke for herself and her co-chairlady, Mrs. Paul Cesare. They invited all to attend the Fashion Show on October 2.

Mrs. Gough said the Cake Sale will be held on Sunday, Nov. 8. Mrs. Hess volunteered to chair the event.

The mothers accepted the Board's recommendations of $10 per month to be donated to the Library for new books and the Skating Party to be held in January. After a brief intermission, Rev. Leo Goggin was introduced as the speaker for the evening. He spoke on the new Liturgy being introduced in the Catholic Church. He pointed out the many changes that have occurred in the past years including those in the Holy week services and the Eucharistic Fast. He counseled the ladies not to form conclusions until they would see them properly performed. The normal reaction of people is to resist change but with patience on the part of parishioner and priest the transition can be made with the least amount of difficulty.

There will be a new evening devotion called the Bible Service which will include reading from the old and new Testament, plus explanations. The Sacraments are already being administered in English in order to provide better understanding by the individual. The changes in the Mass will include four hymns to be sung by the congregation. Each parishioner will be given a plastic folder of prayers he will have to say while attending Mass. The new Liturgy in the celebration of the Mass begins on Sunday, Nov. 29, the First Sunday of Advent. Given time we will find we are more a participant than a spectator.

The Dark Horse prize of $10 was won by Mrs. Gino Paesani.

The next meeting will be held on Monday evening, October 26. The program will include a talk "Why my child should or should not attend college" by Sister Frances Maureen O.P., from Molloy College.

Letters

The following letter was sent to the Hicksville Board of Education:

October 6, 1964

Board of Education
U.F.S.D. #17
Newbridge Road
Hicksville, New York

Gentlemen:

We are in complete accord with the action taken by you at your last meeting to assure the continuance of the fine educational leadership as provided by our Superintendent of Schools, Donald F. Abt.

Our belief is firm that the educational opportunity as provided by the Hicksville Schools, its Board of Education, its Administration and its staff is superior.

We look forward to the future with confidence in the belief that the educational progress we have experienced will continue under the able direction of Mr. Abt.

Yours sincerely,
H.F. Cavanagh, chairman
School Administrators' Association of Hicksville

Hogan Named To Directors

Thomas Hogan, of 5 Gardenia Lane, Hicksville, has been elected as a member of the Board of Directors of "Study Incorporated," a non-profit community organization formed to assist Hicksville foreign language students to stay abroad. It was announced today by Mrs. Blanche Tisman.

Mr. Hogan is a Republican committeeman, and a member of the Town's Zoning and Appeals Board.

This year, "Study, Inc." expects to aid students in the Hicksville French and Spanish programs, by means of a planned fund-raising campaign, during which national foundations and community organizations will be approached for financial assistance.

Miss Fippinger Honored By GOP

Miss Grace J. Fippinger of Hicksville, the phone company's South Nassau District Manager, will be one of the women honored at a luncheon Saturday, to be held in the Grand Ballroom of the New York Hilton at 12:30.

The luncheon and award presentations are being sponsored by the Republican Women in Industry and Professions, an organization of women in management positions.

Miss Fippinger, who lives at 11 Dante Ave., Hicksville, has been with the New York Telephone Company since she graduated from St. Lawrence University in 1948. She presently is the District Manager for South Nassau in charge of four offices with a customer population of 200,000. She is one of the few women to hold such a position with the firm.

She recently completed a study for executive personnel dealing with the feasibility of management training programs for women. As a result of the recommendations, the Company adopted the program, one of the first of its kind in a major U.S. corporation.

A director of the Hicksville Chapter of the American Cancer Society, Miss Fippinger is also a charter member of the Nassau Cerebral Palsy Association.

A former vice president of the St. Lawrence University Club of Long Island, she also served a three year term on the School's Alumnae Committee.

She will be cited during the luncheon for her accomplishments. The guest speaker will be Senator Kenneth B. Keating.

by HOWARD FINNEGAN

Bolting for long scoring yardage three times, and picking off two interceptions, Hicksville High overcame Island Trees, 34-19, to win its first football game of the 1964 season.

Larry Welsko started the action with a 49 yard spring in the first period. Steve Schuster punched over for the extra point. The lead extended when quarterback Dennis Yastras circled the left end on a keeper and took the sideline for 70 yards and a score in the second period. Welsko went over for the ep.

A 22-yard pass play got the host school over the stripe in the second period. A muffed pass from center prevented conversion and it was 14-6 at half-time.

Hicksville had only 19 offensive plays in the game while the Trees had 47 rushes for 241 yards and seven pass completions for 19 attempts to gain an additional 104 yards.

The pressure grew on Hicksville in the third when another 31-yard completion caught the Comet defense flatfooted. Another bouncer from center prevented the ep and the score was 14-12.

Shortly after Mark Cerone intercepted in the left flat and romped 43 yards into the end zone to give Hicksville a 20-12 advantage.

Island Trees used 15 plays to grind out a 75-yard march in the first eight minutes of the last period. The score moved to 20-19.

It was a crack over the right tackle for Welsko that broke the game open. He stomped over a lone defender and picking up steam all the way raced 58 yards for a score. He also converted the decisive point.

Late in the game Joe Sarno intercepted on the losers 27 and zig zagged for the score. Yastras kept for an end run for the last point.

The good work which stayed the Trees tremendous offensive in Hicksville's 34-19 victory was done by --

Mark Cerone -- He helped rebuff a first period drive on the Hicksville 14 with a break through and tackle for a 5 yard Trees toss which spent the drive.

Henry Soontag -- With 20 second in the half he broke in the trees backfield to cause a 3 yard loss on the Hicksville 9. The next play -- Pete Rice -- recovered a fumble on the 11.

Tom Cara -- He was 9 yards behind the Island Trees receiver in the third period but with great effort overtook the runner on the Hicksville 27 and slammed him down from behind to prevent a score.

Saturday morning the Mid Island Times was on hand when the Hicksville Junior Varsity football team held off Island Trees 19-14.

The Orange and Black attack racked up three touchdowns in the first half before 200 persons. Quarterback Jeff Doolittle, who excelled in the 26-0 win over Division, again set the pace. It was an exciting second half as the visitors tried to come back.

*****

Hicksville will play its first home game this year against McArthur starting at 1:30 p.m. this Saturday. It might not be perfectly executed but it won't be dull. It is the first league game for the Orange and Black which is the defending champion of the division along with Plainedge and Clarke.

Hicksville will win.

Education Group Fights Contract

On Wednesday evening Sept. 30, members and friends of "Parents and Residents For Better Education" were privileged to hear Prof. Chas. E. Rice, Prof. of Law at Fordham University, discuss "Violations of Our Constitution, and its effect on our homes, schools, the State and the Nation." A stimulating discussion period followed, with most of the discussions centering around the issues of school prayer and patriotism. Refreshments followed.

President Florence Infantino announced, that legal counsel had been engaged to determine the legality of the school board's intent to set aside Supt. Abt's present contract, which still has two years to run before termination, and substitute another five year contract which would guarantee Supt. Abt a salary as follows:

1965-66 -- $24,000
1966-67 -- $25,000
1967-68 -- $26,000
1968-69 -- No ceiling

Meanwhile, petitions are being circulated throughout the community. If you feel the board's action is unjust, or share our curiosity as to why the school board attempted to ignore the taxpayers concerning such an important matter - get your name on a petition -- fast.

Call WE 8-6227 or WE 5-2779. Return all signed petitions by Friday, October 9 in time for the school board meeting.

Baseball Aux. Holding Dance

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Bethpage Baseball Association will hold an "Indian Summer Dance" on October 10, at the Bethpage Jewish Center located on Broadway in Bethpage.

Tickets can be purchased by contacting Mrs. V. Masino or Mrs. Mildred Carpenter, at WE 5-4695 and WE 5-8899 respectively.

Proceeds from the dance are used for equipment and operational expenses of all the leagues in the Association.

All residents of Bethpage are invited to attend this gala affair, which directly benefits the children that participate in this program of supervised baseball.

Johnson Gaining In Meadowbrook Poll

Residents of Hicksville voting in the Meadow Brook National Bank Community Opinion Poll last month gave slightly added support to President Johnson over Senator Goldwater than in the August balloting, according to Jirah D. Cole, manager of the Bank's Hicksville Office.

The September results in Hicksville gave Johnson 63.6% versus 32.0% for Goldwater with 4.4% undecided, compared with 61.8% and 34.7% with 3.5% undecided in August. The total voting in all of Meadow Brook's offices showed that Johnson received 63.7% and Goldwater 33.6% in September compared with 65.2% and 31.5% in August.

Hicksville strongly favored the proposed Long Island New England Bridge by an 84.2% to 12.7% vote, which was in line with over-all area voting.

The Poll is one in a continuing series of month-long, pulse-taking efforts by Meadow Brook through its 66 offices on Long Island and in New York City to reflect community and area thinking on topical issues.

Other September results showed that Hicksville residents do not feel there are adequate playgrounds or recreational facilities in their community by a 57.5% to 38.2% margin and that they are opposed to pay TV by nearly a 2 to 1 vote. These results were typical of the general opinion throughout the area.

School Children Learn Saving

For the many youngsters enrolled in the public schools of Hicksville Tuesday, October 6th, marked the beginning of a new school savings program conducted by the schools in cooperation with Central Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Aimed at teaching children the basic principles of thrift both for its own sake and as a valuable adjunct to the formal school curriculum -- this program is offered only to 4th grade students by Central Federal as a non-profit, public service project.

According to Vice President, Peter F. Amoroso, this year's program will again feature visits of children and their teachers to the Association's office at Broadway and West John Street, Hicksville.

In Service

MAJOR ROBERT H. BROUGH, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brough of 36 Seymour Lane at Hicksville, has been decorated with the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Forbes AFB, Kansas.

Major Brough was awarded the medal for meritorious service as a missile launch officer at Forbes. His squadron supports the Strategic Air Command mission of keeping the nation's intercontinental missiles and jet bombers on constant alert.

PVT. THOMAS J. MULLEN, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. T. Mullen, 26 Armon Dr., Bethpage, completed eight weeks of military police training at the U.S. Army Training Center, Fort Gordon, Ga., Sept. 18. During the course Mullen received instruction in such subjects as civil and military law, traffic control, map reading, prisoner-of-war control and self-defense. He entered the Army last May and completed basic training at Fort Dix, N.J. The 21-year-old soldier is a 1961 graduate of Bethpage High School.

My money, right?

Yes, it is your money, every penny; and no one can tell you what to do with it or how to invest it.

But we have a suggestion that you will find interesting and profitable. It is simply this ...

If you live in Hicksville — but have a Savings Account elsewhere — we suggest that you transfer this account to Central Federal Savings as soon as possible.

There are four advantages:

1. Our high dividend rate of 4.30% a year from day of deposit, compounded semi-annually, will pay you $4.36 for every $100 on deposit.

2. Your savings are nearby so that you can have them when you need them.

3. Accounts are insured by an agency of the U.S. Government.

4. We will transfer your savings from any bank or savings institution in the United States and abroad without charge.

All for you — and your money — from

PAID POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

Congressman

STEVEN B.

DEROUNIAN

On the Issues

CONSERVATIVE — YES. "EXTREMIST"? NO.

IS POLITICAL "EXTREMISM" an issue in this 1964 Congressional campaign in northern Nassau County? I say that it is not.

MY OPPONENT lists "extremism" as his #1 issue. As in 1962, the Democrat-Liberal candidate is trying to pin a "right-wing extremist" label on me. As in 1962, it won't work — and here's why:

"RIGHT-WING EXTREMIST" is a scare term, because to so many people it conjures up a vision of a pro-Fascist, neo-Nazi, anti-foreigner, Negro-Catholic-Jew-hating neurotic, a member of some secret conspiracy to destroy everything that's happened in the U.S. since McKinley was President.

That's why the term "right-wing extremist" cannot be tossed around indiscriminately, even in a political campaign — and I caution my opponent against any further use of this smear against me.

Why is his charge both silly and vicious? I've said that the basic issue in this campaign is the record. As Al Smith used to say, let's look at the record.

WOULD A "RIGHT-WING EXTREMIST" have voted for the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as well as for all major civil-rights legislation in the past 12 years, for the 1964 tax cut, for the Urban Mass Transport Act, for the Housing Act of 1964, for vocational-education, higher-education and mental-retardation grants, for the extension of Social Security benefits and coverage, for a liberalized immigration law — to name just a few important issues?

HARDLY. Yet I have supported all these measures since you sent me back to Congress for the sixth time in 1962.

IS IT "RIGHT-WING EXTREMIST" to advocate, as I have advocated, strong Armed Forces, opposition to Communism, tax incentives to individuals and business, control of government spending and a stricter code of ethics for public officials? Although he's running on the Liberal Party platform that opposes some of these positions, my opponent says he agrees with me about them. Does that make him a "right-wing extremist"?

WOULD A "RIGHT-WING EXTREMIST" demand, as I have demanded for years, strong U.S. efforts to end persecution of Jews in the U.S.S.R.? I am a naturalized citizen, brought here as a child to escape religious oppression; does that make me an "extremist"? Is it "extremism" to believe, as I do, that Americans have a right to pray in public places? If the answer to these questions is "Yes," then millions of Americans are "extremists."

WHAT "EXTREMIST" would have received the warm endorsement of DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, RICHARD M. NIXON, BARRETT M. GOLDWATER, JACOB K. JAVITS and KENNETH E. KEATING? All these distinguished Americans have expressed the hope that I will be re-elected to Congress this year. Are they all "extremists"?

This whole charge is so obviously false that my opponent would do well to drop it, before he makes himself look even more ridiculous.

In one of his wilder statements,

Citizen for Congressman Steven B. Derounian
P.O. Box 427, Roslyn, L.I., N.Y.

my opponent lumped the Communist Party, the Ku Klux Klan, the John Birch Society and the N.Y. Conservative Party into the single category of "extremists." I cannot let this absurd equation go unchallenged.

THE COMMUNIST PARTY, as an agency of a foreign power and an organization advocating overthrow of the U.S. Government by force and violence, is a subversive organization, so listed by the Attorney General. So is the KU KLUX KLAN, because it practices the forcible denial of rights to Americans.

THE JOHN BIRCH SOCIETY is not on the Attorney General's subversive list, because it does not practice or preach these illegal acts. If it did, it would be on the list.

Never having had any connections with the John Birch Society, all I know about it is what I read in the press. To say otherwise is to lie — a lie which my opponent has already repeated more than once. It has been reported that John Birchers (their leader, at least) claim that Dwight Eisenhower was a conscious pro-Communist, that Chief Justice Earl Warren should be impeached, that we should abandon and eject the U.N., that all income taxes should be abolished at once, etc.

I strongly disagree with all these ideas. That's my privilege — but it is the privilege of John Birchers to entertain these ideas if they choose. When we start to punish people for unpopular ideas, rather than illegal acts, American liberty is in real danger.

THE N.Y. CONSERVATIVE PARTY is a legitimate political party, qualified under N.Y. State law; its members are good Americans who feel that a broad segment of opinion is not adequately represented by either major party. To lump them with Communists and Kluxers is a scandalous slander, for which my opponent should immediately apologize.

I AM A REPUBLICAN, running on the G.O.P. ticket only, because I believe in the two-party system (which my Democrat-Liberal opponent does not).

WHILE I VOTE FOR OR AGAINST EACH BILL IN CONGRESS ON ITS OWN MERITS, MY POLITICAL THINKING AND THE GENERAL TENOR OF MY VOTING RECORD IS AND HAS ALWAYS BEEN CONSERVATIVE. I DON'T APOLOGIZE FOR IT; I'M PROUD OF IT — BECAUSE I BELIEVE THAT THIS POSITION IS BEST FOR AMERICA. YOU'VE SENT ME TO CONGRESS SIX TIMES, AS YOUR REPRESENTATIVE, SO I'M INCLINED TO BELIEVE THAT YOU AGREE, TOO.

IF YOU'D LIKE TO KNOW WHERE I STAND ON SOME OF THE REAL ISSUES IN THIS CAMPAIGN, I HOPE YOU'LL PHONE ME AT 7-5332, OR 7-5623, OR 7-6772. I'LL BE DISCUSSING DIFFERENT ISSUES EACH WEEK.

HICKSVILLE HEADQUARTERS FOR JOHNSON for President, was opened with a tape cutting ceremony by Town Supervisor Mike Petito. Looking on is candidate for the Assembly Tom Lavan and Zone Leader Harold Fertig. The headquarters is located on Broadway near W. Nicholai Street.

County Pool Now Okay Here

The Nassau Board of Supervisors voted unanimously yesterday to go ahead with plans to develop a county-operated swimming pool complex in the planned Cantiague Park in Hicksville.

The pool complex at the Hicksville Park will cost the county an estimated $1,700,000. The supervisors had postponed action on the Cantiague Park pool last Monday, claiming that Nickerson had not presented them with detailed information on financing the project.

Members of the Republican majority said yesterday that they were satisfied with Nickerson's contention that the pool would be self-supporting and self-amortizing through a fee system designed to offset costs. The board voted unanimously to seek public bids for the construction of the pool complex, which also would include an ice-skating rink.

Bd. Education
Appoints Committee

The Hicksville Board of Education has appointed a Citizens' Advisory Committee on Public Relations. The purpose of this committee is to explore methods of improving communications between the school district and the residents of Hicksville, and to make recommendations to the Board of Education pertaining thereto.

Each one of the seven School Board Trustees has designated one resident to serve on the committee. The committee members are: Mrs. Joseph Hanca, 9 Miller Circle, Chairman Pro Tem, Mrs. Bernard Kushner, 102 Acre Lane, Mr. Jerome Zettler, 70 Gardiner Avenue, former President of the Hicksville Board of Education.

If You Please

By Peter Pettibone

I'm on the spot: Two good friends, Incumbent Henry Curran, Oyster Bay, and attorney and ex-NYC fireman, Albert F. Kimball, Port Washington, are running against each other. So I have to do a bit of serious thinking: As the political fever rises, we shall be tempted to behave like spoiled children, calling each other names, attributing to each other the most horrid motives, but not dividing our national unity with unnecessary motives and uncalled-for hatreds. We American people want to do what is right -- Republicans and Democrats, labor, business, potato growers, poultry men, black, white and members of all religions, we can bridge the gap between our desires and the democratic self-discipline not to be beyond listening to the other side. It will be a bad day for democracy when people get excited about an election, but there is a big difference between excitement and racism. If we behave like grownups, and argue with each other only for the sake of wisdom, the school books of the next generation will say we were a great generation of Americans capable of creating unity at the same time agreeing as to how it should be applied with the individuals power to vote what is best for all instead of what is good for ME. So, Senator Curran and Al Kimball, I have four weeks to make up my mind. You are both gentlemen and I hope that our secret ballot system doesn't cause me to lose a friend. But let's not forget gentleman, I'm not alone in my thinking...Referring to politicians who give lip service to American principles while smashing them in practice, former President Herbert Hoover once said: "All this reminds me of the little girl who said, 'Mother, you know that beautiful little jug you said has been handed down to us from generation to generation?'" The mother replied, "Yea, Ann what of it?" And Ann answered solemnly, "This generation is out of luck, I just dropped it!"...It has been my pleasure and honor to know Lady Nancy Astor and Sir Winston Churchill. Once when we were at the same party, Lady Astor said: "Winston, if you were my husband I'd put poison in your coffee." Churchill replied: "Nancy if I were your husband I'd drink that coffee..." Note to editors or this column: In addition to the 55 weeklies this column appears in, number 56 will be the Sunday New York Herald Tribune. But not the ## Workshop Regis.

The Bethpage Children's Creative Workshop, a co-operative, non-profit organization, is accepting registration for its classes in art, music, drama, dance, crafts, ceramics and science until October 17. The Saturday classes will begin on October 10 at the Charles Campagne school in Bethpage. At a cost of only $15 for twenty 1-hour sessions kindergartners through seventh graders can gain invaluable creative and cultural experience in these areas. Classes are limited to 15, therefore to avoid disappointment you may register now by calling WE 5-8960.

samy copy...Syosset wife to her husband as they come out of a movie: "It certainly wasn't worth stacking the dishes for!"...When the teacher asked a certain little boy if his father helped him with the lesson, the kid replied: "Naw, I got it wrong by myself." (Paw!)...Westbury Manor host Chic Farmer invited Ethel and Bobby Kennedy to have lunch with him last Friday. Upon being presented with the lavish menu of gourmet delights Chic nearly fainted when they ordered, of all international dishes -- tuna fish salad sandwiches. "Don't forget it's Friday," Said Chic....If You Please....

Junior Women Hear Poulos

The Junior Women's Club of Bethpage will hold its monthly meeting on Monday, Oct. 12 at 8:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Roy Fink, 77 Coffey Ave. Assisting as co-hostess will be Mrs. Robert Jacques. The program for the evening will be a talk by Mr. Edward Poulos, Majority leader of the Oyster Bay Town Board. The Club's current fund raising project, a card party luncheon to be held Oct. 20 at the Steak Pit, Huntington, will be discussed.

will sponsor a Smorgasbord on Saturday, Oct. 24 at the Masonic Temple Main St., Farmingdale. Two servings are scheduled at 5:30 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. Donations are $1.50 for adults and 75¢ for children under 12. Several Door Prizes will be awarded at each setting. Tickets may be procured at the door or by calling Mrs. Evelyn Scott at PY 8-7443.
