Lutheran Teachers Hear Rev. Stammer

Good Shepherd Lutheran School was closed Oct. 7, 8 and 9, when the teachers attended the Atlantic District Lutheran Teachers Conference. The annual conference held at the Pocono Crest Hotel, Pocono Pines, Pa., had 353 teachers in attendance.

The purpose of the conference was to give the teachers an opportunity to discuss new methods and trends in teaching with experts in their fields.

The conference opened with the keynote address delivered by the Reverend Edward H. Stammer, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Hicksville. Rev. Stammer spoke on the topic of "The Lutheran Teacher - A Witness for Christ."

"Be a tall man", said Rev. Stammer, "and be a Christian witness to the world. The job of a Christian teacher is to bear witness of the teachings of Christ to the child, parent and world." Pastor Stammer brought out the point that this is not done only in the classroom but throughout the entire life of the teacher. "In a sin-ridden world", he stated, "we need more tall men".

Workshops were held in the area of Music, Physical Education, Kindergarten - Primary Education, Curriculum Development and Youth Work.

Addressing the educators were Drs. Karl Gresser, President of the Atlantic District of the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod and Arthur E. Wittmer, Executive Secretary of Parish Education for the Atlantic District.

Teachers in attendance from Good Shepherd Lutheran School were the principal, Mr. Rodney T. Schabel, Mr. Mark Simantel, Mr. John Rothfuss, Miss Claire Hilbrandt, Miss Sandra Ruopp, Miss Carol Meier, Miss Doris Natzke, and Mrs. Audrey Dutton.

Mr. Schabel was appointed to the Program Committee and Miss Natzke served on the Excuse Committee of the conference.

Letters

To the Editor: The Nassau County Chapter of the American Red Cross wishes to express our gratitude to you and your Staff for the many courtesies extended during the past year. We are also conveying to you the sincere appreciation of our Public Information Committee and the Publicity Chairmen of our local Branches for the invaluable cooperation in publishing announcements on Red Cross services to the community.

It is the unfailing and indispensable coverage provided by a newspaper such as yours, that continuously informs your readers of the vital Red Cross training programs and assistance in Nassau County and nationally. Red Cross Volunteers, also neighbors in your community, feel rewarded each time they note a picture or release in your paper about their accomplishments.

Please do not hesitate to call this office at any time for information or clarification of Red Cross operations. We shall be grateful for your consideration during the coming year.

Sincerely yours,

On the Issues

ISSUES-OR LIES?

IN THIS 1964 CONGRESSIONAL CAMPAIGN, you, the voters, are entitled to an intelligent discussion of the issues between the candidates - those laws, proposals and policies on which the candidates differ, and the reasons why they differ.

YOU ARE OUT OF LUCK - because my opponent has no intention of arguing the issues. Why? Because he knows that you, the voters, have approved my stands on these selfsame issues for the past 12 years.

So, instead of debating issues, he is trying an old trick: by distortion, misrepresentation and flat falsehood, he hopes to convince you that I stand for things which in truth I DO NOT STAND FOR AT ALL.

EXAMPLES? There are plenty. Consider these, taken from my opponent's fancy 4-page brochure - itself a classic example of bad taste.

Here's #1 - on the TAX CUT. I opposed the 1963 tax cut because it was coupled with a sky-high spending budget which would have boosted our national debt by almost $12 billion. BUT - when the President submitted an economy budget this year, I voted FOR THE TAX CUT, on Feb. 25, 1964. My opponent says I "voted against the tax cut," period.

Here's #2 - on TAX REFORM. In addition to my own tax-reform proposals, I voted FOR REFORMS included in the tax-cut bill and, on June 17, 1964, FOR REFORM of consumer-excise taxes. My opponent says I "voted against tax reform."

#3 - FOREIGN TRADE EXPANSION. On Oct. 3, 1962, I voted FOR President Kennedy's Trade Expansion Act. My opponent says I "voted against foreign trade expansion."

#4 - HOUSING. On Aug. 13, 1964, I was paired for the Housing Act of 1964. My opponent says I "failed" to honor my party's 1960 platform pledge on housing, which this Act fulfilled.

#5 - DEFENSE EDUCATION ACT. On Aug. 14, 1964, I voted FOR the Defense Education Act. My opponent says I "voted against the Defense Education Act."

#6 - VOCATIONAL EDUCATION ACT. On Dec. 12, 1963, I voted FOR the Vocational Education Act. My opponent says I "failed" to honor the G.O.P. platform on vocational education, which this Act fulfilled.

#7 - FEDERAL AID TO EDUCATION. In addition to #3 and #6 above, I voted on Nov. 3, 1963, FOR grants to higher-education institutions. My opponent says I "voted against Federal aid to education."

#8 - $1.25 MINIMUM WAGE. I did not vote for the Administration's bill; I voted FOR the Republican minimum-wage bill which would have made the $1.25 minimum effective one year earlier. My opponent says I "voted against a minimum wage raise to $1.25."

#9 - U.N. BOND ISSUE. On Sept. 14, 1962, I voted FOR the U.N. Bond Issue. My opponent says I "voted against the U.N. Bond Issue."

THERE'S STILL ANOTHER TRICK my opponent is trying to pull on you. Congress often gets fund requests for programs of which I approve, but which I feel should not be so expensive to the taxpayer. In such cases, I vote to reduce (not eliminate, but reduce) the budgets.

For example, I have voted to reduce funds requested for the Peace Corps, Foreign Aid and Medical Education programs this year. I DO NOT OPPOSE THESE PROGRAMS. In fact, I have supported them in the past. I simply feel that their current fund requests are too high, or not properly allocated. My opponent tells you that I am "against" the programs themselves.

IT IS A BAD COMMENTARY upon a candidate for an important public office to say that he deliberately avoids honest argument on the issues, and stoops to the gutter tactic of misrepresenting the facts to the voters.

THIS IS PRECISELY WHAT MY OPPONENT HAS DONE. You've read it for yourself in all of his campaign propaganda. Lies, distortion, misrepresentation - this is the strategy of his whole campaign. But it's a strategy that WON'T WORK, because you've demonstrated in past elections that you won't and can't be hoodwinked.

IT ALL ADDS UP TO THIS: IF YOU CAN'T BELIEVE WHAT A MAN SAYS WHEN HE'S RUNNING FOR OFFICE, HOW FAR COULD YOU TRUST HIM IF HE WERE ELECTED?

***** PLEASE CALL ME at MA 7-6772, then MA 7-5025, then MA 7-5532. There are three important issues I'd like to talk to you about this week. If you've called before, CALL AGAIN. I'll be discussing different issues each week.

Sue For $302,000 In Broadway Fall

A Hicksville couple has filed a $302,005 suit in the State Court of Claims against New York State for the alleged failure of the State to properly maintain Broadway south of its intersection with West Nicholas Street in Hicksville, Town of Oyster Bay.

As the result of this failure, Mrs. Alice E. Lannigan of 207 Lee Avenue, Hicksville, claims she suffered a tri-molecular fracture of the left ankle and a fracture of the fifth metatarsal of the right foot when she fell on May 20, 1964 while walking on the road.

She claims her fall was caused by the negligence of the State to properly maintain the road.

In her suit, Mrs. Lannigan is seeking $250,000 for personal pain and suffering, while her husband, Francis Lannigan, is seeking $50,000 for the loss of comfort, society and services of his wife and $2,005 for medical, hospital and nursing fees incurred on behalf of his wife.

The Notebook

by ROBERT L. MORGAN

Before giving the usual election eve endorsements to local candidates next week, we feel it is necessary to comment on the national race for President and the Senate.

We feel that the Presidential race between President Johnson and Senator Barry Goldwater has been a poor showing. It missed the basic issues which were supposed to provide a choice to the American people.

That choice was not who could call the loudest and most vile names, but a choice between a bigger central government and a smaller localized government.

This issue has been obscured, but it is still basic, and it is a pity that it did not come out. There are many people who do believe strongly that the government should control the lives of the citizens in the form of giving them benefits, which they of course pay for in taxes and get back minus the government expenses, but with its controls. And there are people who feel the opposite. They would rather have less government intervention from far away and have taxing powers right around home where they can personally voice protests. Frankly we do not know which way the majority would go if the issues were put up to them. But we are suspicious of Democratic leaders who have made up massive plans and fear allowing them to be openly discussed and even using them in such a way as to brand disbelievers as kooks.

A point in issue would be the administration's Medicare program attached to Social Security.

While we agree that older people in need of medical care should be taken care of and they shouldn't have to sign away what little property they have to get it. This is a big difference from a plan which would give everyone medical care in their older age whether they can afford to pay for it or not. The point here is that if we embark on a large scale medical plan that it could mean the loss of jobs for people who work for the tens of thousands of smaller companies because social security payments are not based on profit as proposed. The Medicare plan costs $600 a year per employee. Some businesses with 10 employees will not make $6000 profit to foot the bill. And the bill will be paid right now by the employee not the older recipient who might just have made more income in his life than the worker saddled with this debt. The Johnson administration has not discussed any of this and we believe it intends to push through Medicare tied on to social security soon after election, instead of a less expensive program of aid to those who really need it.

Another point is Federal Aid to Education -- the good guys tells us that you are bad guys if you are against it. But the fact is that for every $1 in taxes on federal programs paid in New York State, we only get back 78 cents (or less). So really people in N. Y. State favoring Federal Aid to education are favoring less money for public education. The over all question of whether a large scale federal program is needed or just assistance to those states needing it until they can get on their feet has been brushed aside as not being worth consideration.

Then the poverty program is another point. The Federal government as much as any government has a responsibility in eliminating poverty. But the goal should be to put people into private industry. The poverty program should have been set up in cooperation with private industry. Instead it is just a hasty dole system that will run its course and leave thousands looking to the government for help that has to end sometimes.

We could go on to examine the Federal income tax system, but everyone should know by now the injustices in the present system. But what they might not think about is, does the system have to work that way? Couldn't it be simplified. But why has the trend been the other way? The answer seems to lie in the unnecessarily large government that dictates tax laws to the people without listening to their problems.

We had hoped that the campaign would bring these issues and manv more into the open for the people to decide. We feel that Pres. Johnson has not wanted this to happen because he does not believe that the

The Biased U.S.I.A.

By Russell Kirk

Should Senator Barry Goldwater be elected to the Presidency, doubtless one of the first governmental agencies to be shaken up would be the United States Information Agency. This body, which is supposed to tell the rest of the world about the virtues of America, is perhaps the least effectual branch of the whole public service. Also it is headed at present by Mr. Carl Rowan, a bitter partisan, who two years ago denounced as "extremist" anyone who would not assent to the use of U.N. and U.S. force against President Tshombe of Katanga. (Isn't it lucky for Mr. Rowan that he's no longer an assistant secretary of state, now that the State Department, yielding to the inevitable, has embraced Tshombe as a staunch ally?)

From its beginnings, the U.S.I.A. (with some honorable exceptions among its personnel, here and there) has endeavored to exalt the "liberalism" of America, to the exclusion or denigration of conservative influences. This lofty prejudice marked a recent discussion sponsored by the U.S.I.A. at the American embassy in London. One of this commentator's secret agents attended. The session's topic was "The American Election -- How the Campaign is Conducted."

On several tables at the entrance to the hall, abundant publications praising President Johnson were available; but nothing whatsoever on Senator Goldwater marred the harmony. The speakers were Miss Flora Lewis of the Washington Post, vivaciously inhaling cigarette smoke and darting her eyes; Mr. McHale of U.S.I.A.; and Mr. Tom Elson of "Time" magazine's London bureau. Miss Lewis and Mr. Elson promptly declared that they were "anti-Goldwater"; Mr. McHale mentioned that he had worked for Mr. Truman in 1948.

The English audience questioned the participants rather closely. One woman inquired whether the European press had been fair to Senator Goldwater; Mr. Elson replied that European journalists had been "injurious" at first, but were now fair in his judgment, though a Goldwater supporter might not think so.

Another questioner wanted to know if it was right for Mr. Robert Kennedy to run for the Senate in New York. Miss Lewis answered that the United States ought not to be deprived of good men who might not be able to win election in their home states. She mentioned Senator Fullbright, who, she said, encountered "continual difficulty in getting re-elected in Arkansas." The nation, she concluded, should not be permitted to lose "the services of men like Fullbright, who could be able to run in any state."

A third person in the audience declared that the U.S.I.A. was to blame for European unfairness to the Republican candidate, because "we know so little about Senator Goldwater." Mr. McHale responded, "I hope you're not blaming me personally" and promptly terminated the meeting.

Should Mr. Goldwater win on November 3, Europeans will be astonished to encounter a President quite the opposite of the ogre depicted by European journalism -- a caricature the U.S.I.A. has done nothing to dispel. By that press, Mr. Goldwater is represented as meshing to destroy the North Atlantic Treaty Organization -- when, in fact, he has become the chief champion of N.A.T.O. against the Johnson Administration. He has been portrayed as a narrow nationalist and isolationist, when in truth he advocates much firmer international measures against the Communist menace. He has been reviled as a dour, snarling fanatic -- when, actually, he is one of the most genial and tolerant of American politicians. By its silence on such matters, the U.S.I.A. has acted as an agency of partisan propaganda.

people, after hearing both sides, will believe that "My way is the right way," and would vote for BARRY GOLDWATER. We hope they do, but unfortunately we must predict that Johnson will win easily.

In the Senatorial race between Robert Kennedy and incumbent Kenneth Keating we can find little in either's record or platform to fully support them. We cannot support the Conservative candidate, either, because he is working a lost cause campaign and will only force the more liberal candidate to be elected. Sen. Keating's record is fair for a N. Y. state senator. He did expose the Cuban missile bases, in spite of negative reactions from the administration and he has tempered his ideas with moderate ideas. His opponent, an out of stater really has little except his family relationship to boost him to the Senate, which in turn may be a stepping stone to the Presidency.

So for the Senate, KENNETH KEATING, and we predict that he will win by a small margin.

BEAUTY SECRETS

By Victor of Vilu

Years ago, a woman dreaded her fortieth birthday for fear of age and the end of attractiveness. Most women today, in their forties and fifties are more lovely and glamorous, than they were in their twenties. Experience has taught them to preserve their beauty, and accept maturity gracefully.

Choose your makeup colors carefully, using soft colors that will harmonize with your features. A light foundation should be used and applied a little. Heavy bases will line the sides of wrinkles, forming cracks that make them more noticeable. Good health and lots of sleep will get rid of the circles under the eyes.

Mascara should be used lightly to add brightness, apply only to the upper lashes.

Change the color of your hair to become you, if you want a life to a new personality. Eighty percent of the women today, are coloring their hair, either by rinses, bleaches or hair dyes. There is no crime in so doing, but it is a crime to use a shade simply because Mrs. Jones looks well as a blonde. Your skin tone, hair pigment, color of your eyes, etc., play such an important role. Great care and discretion must therefore be exercised by a competent hair colorist. If should be borne in mind that the final effect must look natural and not exaggerated. "Color Tone" will eliminate the mousey, faded look and bring out the natural beauty and highlights of your hair -- the new kind of rinse that actually lasts from 4-6 weeks and completely eliminates the need for a touch-up.

Legion News Notes

By Margaret Strong

On Thursday, October 15, the ladies of our Auxiliary held their monthly meeting at the American Legion Hall. Our guests for the evening were 3rd Deputy Chief Andy Steinmuller of the Bethpage Fire Department, assisted by Lt. Lou Levien, Fireman Bill Anderson & Fireman Danny Schlavetta. The topic of the evening was 'Home Rescue'. Colored slides were shown by Lt. Levien and explained by 3rd Deputy Chief Steinmuller. A very realistic dummy was used to show us the technique of Mouth-to Mouth breathing.

The talk, slides and demonstration were very beneficial and thoroughly enjoyed by all our members who attended the meeting.

We have up to date obtained 81% of the dues - lets try hard to help our Unit get their 100% membership. If you owe your dues please send them or deliver them to our treasurer or any officer. Attendance at meetings is very important too. We Need You! Our meetings are once a month - the third Thursday.

Kiwanis To Get Mack Trophy

The Bethpage Kiwanis, sponsor of the Bethpage entry in the Long Island Connie Mack League, will be presented with the team trophy, won by the Bethpage Eagles, as 1964 Playoff Champions of the Eastern Major Division, at a dinner at Holiday Manor, Bethpage on Nov. 10.

Mr. William Ewart of Northport, representing the Quaker Oats Co., donor of the trophy, will make the presentation to Kiwanis President Paul Dana. Also being honored that night will be Mike Verderosa, manager of the team. Bethpage Baseball Assn. President Conrad Meade and Charles Leek, ex-BBA president and currently a coach of the Connie Mack team will address the Kiwanis membership regarding the aims and accomplishments of the BBA.

The Eagles, finishing the 1964 season in second place with a 13 and 5 record, had to defeat a strong Merrick team and then Massapequa Coast, first place finishers with a 17-1 record to win the Eastern Playoff Championship for Bethpage. The Pequa's only loss during the season was also to Bethpage.

Members of the team are Al and Mike Mirando, Rick Leek, Charlie Caronia, Greg Hebert, George Dunn, Pete Schaaf, Jim Carollo, Ron Hayden, Bill Nugent, Jerry Modermott, Paul Sleson, Charlie Zucker, Dave Dixon and Jim Smith. The team was managed by Mike Verderosa for the 5th consecutive year and coached by Charlie Leek and Al Zucker.

Bethpage is looking forward to a strong entry for the 1965 season. With only two graduates (Bill Nugent and Charlie Caronia), all others will be returning next year. With so few graduates, and so many fine prospects in the Bethpage Colt League, last years Metropolitan Area Champions, who will be eligible for Connie Mack play next year. Bethpage is considering entering 2 teams in the Connie Mack League, one in the A Division and one in the B Division. This will largely depend upon the number of players who will register at the BBA registration for Little League, Pony and Colt Leagues, Ponytail Leagues and Connie Mack, which will take place at the Bethpage J. F. Kennedy Junior High School on January 11, 12 and 13, and January 25, 26, 27.

Girl Scout News Notes

This fall, as in past years, the Girl Scouts of Mid-Island Council resumed their troop activities full of renewed interest and enthusiasm in the Program. Getting things off to a good start was the 12th Annual Girl Scout Equestrienne Horse Show, which was held on Saturday, September 26 at the Bethpage Riding and Polo Academy.

Girl Scouts from all 18 communities in the Council participated in the show. Bethpage was well represented by twenty-one girls. In the Beginner Class were: Laura Dervin, Deborah Diehl, and Patricia Rooney, Jr. Class: Deborah Hart, Karen Kaufman, and Carolyn Sofia. Intermediate Class: Joan Maass, Kathryn Pieplow, Roseann Russo, Daryl Waite and Valerie Weremeholik. Advanced Class: Jeanne Catalano, Terry Dunne, Marion English, Irene Hellig, Jane Heilig and Gayle Waite. Farm team: JoAnne Coningsby and Karen Mangels; and the Drill Team: Carol Lindeman.

Girl Scouts from the South-Central area of Bethpage - Plainedge, Mid-Island Council, participated in the 10th Annual Flower Show conducted by the Bethpage Garden Club on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 26 and 27. The show was held at the Reliance Federal Savings and Loan Association on Stewart Avenue in Bethpage.

Mr. Edwin J. Fehrenbach, N. Y. Assemblyman from Bethpage was on hand to officially open the proceedings on Saturday.

The theme of the show was, "Our Legacy"; and included horticultural and artistic arrangements.

Girl Scouts from Junior Troop #4 and Cadette Troop #49 participated in the Jr. Division. Their arrangements depicted "The Moon". First place went to Margaret Gross of Troop 49; with Christine Gambler, Troop 4, in 2nd place; and third place to Claire Gross also from Troop 4. Honorable mention went to Patricia McMahon, Troop 49. Flower Show entrants also from troop 49 included: Susan Fryer, Susan Hoffer, and Kathleen McMahon.

Sponsored by the Bethpage Garden Club, the girls have a workshop once a month and are instructed in all phases of Garden Club Activities and work on arrangements suitable for the particular month or season, under the capable supervision of Mrs. Edward Gamber and Mrs. Walter Gross.

Volunteer workers, under the leadership of Mr. A. Holly Paterson, Chairman of the Mid-Island Council Girl Scouts Fund Drive will seek to raise $47,000 in order to continue and expand scout activities for girls from seven to seventeen years old throughout the Mid-Island area. Program development, Leadership Training, Professional Assistance to volunteers and providing the facilities of a Council office for local troops as well as for camp expansion is the reason for this campaign.

Girl Scouting guides girls to become good citizens of their communities, their country and the world they live in. When you contribute to the Mid-Island Fund Drive, on Oct. 24, and 25, you are contributing to the future. She is his favorite Girl Scout! This will be very evident in the Bethpage Plainedge area. The Dad's of our Girl Scouts are being recruited as solicitors in the Annual Fund Drive of Mid-Island Council Girl Scouts, Inc. which will be conducted this week on October 24 and 25.

Since Girl Scouting, is or should be a family affair, the fathers of our girls are being asked to help the Scouts to meet their quota.

Participating in the Girl Scout program gives to our daughters the joy of making friends; the satisfaction of giving and helping others; the opportunity to develop her interests and capabilities. This knowledge should make each parent deeply aware of his responsibility and glad to help serve when called upon to do so during the Fund Drive.

Paid Member Party Planned

Before 1,000 rain soaked Homecoming fans, Larry Wesolko ran for four touchdowns to give Hicksville High its first football victory over Clarke of South Westbury, 32-6.

The crowd came and stayed to see the 240 pound full back charge over from the 39, 43, 8 and 1 yard lines.

After the first score halfback Steve Schuster intercepted a pass and returned it 31-yards for a 14-0 lead.

It was a hard game as Clarke did not give up easily. Hicksville lost Joe Sarno and Bob Miltenberg in the first half on injuries and they may be out for the season.

The losers moved to the Hicksville six yard line in the third period trailing 20-6, but the Orange and Black rose up, with Wesolko leading the way from a defensive tackle post, to stop the attack.

Rain and more rain did not dampen the spirits of the Homecoming as over 400 attended the Alumni's reception after the game.

Master of Ceremonies Jay Schwartz introduced Chairman Joseph Naso, who presented the Most Valuable Player award to Larry Wesolko. It was a hands down decision and was received very enthusiastically by the players, coaches and cheerleaders attending.

President John Marlon and Athletic Director Louis Millevolte presented the Alumni's $250 homecoming check as a gift to the senior class.

Each of the members of the team was introduced by Principal Leon Galloway. Despite well laid plans, coaches Jim Grantham and Ron Benizo were overlooked and did not get introduced at the affair. It was genuinely regretted since they did an excellent job in getting the boys up for the big one.

A full game on top of Section One Football Race, Hicksville travels to the beautiful grounds of Syosset High for an important meeting. Syosset has already upset highly regarded Garden City in a non-league game bringing credit to Section One.

It will be an explosive scoring contest. Hicksville secondary has now picked off 8 interceptions in three contests. It will have to be wary Saturday. Hicksville 34, Syosset 26

Veteran John Walker used his head to butt in a foul line kick off the typing goal, late Tuesday, as Hicksville held to a half game lead in the Section One Soccer standings on the 2-2 draw with McArthur at Wantagh.

Hicksville had previously beaten the Blue and Red 1-0 to take the lead but fell in a 2-0 upset before strong Syosset.

Coach Henry Renn's team must meet Syosset in the final game this afternoon (Thursday) to decide the race. Hicksville lost to Clarke by one half a game in the 1963 race.

The high consistency of Hicksville in this sport is a great credit to Mr. Renn who built it up very quickly.

Quarterback Jeff Doolittle again paced the Hicksville Junior Varsity to a 27-2 victory over Clarke, Saturday morning. That makes it four in a row for the Orange and Black. Jeff has now passed for six touchdowns in the four wins.

Hicksville Boy Given Award

Douglas Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Robinson, 24 Elliott Dr., Hicksville, has granted a $200 Lutheran Youth Leadership award by Lutheran Brotherhood, Minneapolis-based fraternal insurance society, for study at Wagner college, Staten Island.

Mr. Robinson is a member of St. Stephen's Lutheran church, where he was a Luther League officer and a member of the choir. A 1964 graduate of Bethpage high school, he was active in the French club and the chorus. He was also the recipient of certificates of merit in music and mathematics. He has served as a Boy Scout patrol leader and has earned the Pro Deo et Patria (for God and Country) award, the highest honor in Lutheran Scouting.

The award is one of 138 being granted to high school graduates who plan to enroll at Lutheran colleges. The recipients are selected on the basis of outstanding achievement in school and church activities and scholastic and leadership accomplishments.

The awards are part of Lutheran Brotherhood's fraternal activities and benevolence program for which more than $800,000 has been allocated in 1964.

Fashion Show

The Columbiettes of the Rev. Michael J. Hartigan Council are holding their third annual Fashion Show and Dinner at the Four Seasons restaurant in Jericho. Tickets are $5. Date - Monday, Oct. 26 at 7 p.m. For tickets call WE 8-3485.

Library Friends Meet Oct. 29

Friends of the Bethpage Public Library will hold their next general business meeting on Thursday evening, Oct. 29, at 8:30 p.m. The Friends is an organization of individuals residing in the Bethpage area interested in assisting the library in any way possible and in sponsoring programs for the enjoyment and edification of adults in our area.

Programs for the coming year will be largely decided by the members at this meeting. Plan to attend and give us your ideas.

In addition to the regular business meeting, two short films will be shown: Marcel Marceau in 'Pantomimes' and Chaucer's England - 'The Pardoner's Tale.'

Join us and bring a friend!

Midland Civics General Meeting

The first general membership meeting of the Midland Civic Association will be held at the Willet Avenue School in Hicksville at 8:30 on Wednesday, October 28. At that time they expect to have their membership drive completed and anticipate the largest number of members they have ever had.

Officers for this year are: Bob Brook President; Fred Geirger, Vice President; Lou Dilanni, Treasurer and Betty Gannon, Secretary.

A Roaring Twenties Dance will be the first social event of the year and will be held at the Masonic Temple in Hicksville.

Vitale Speaks To Kiwanis

Alexander Vitale of Woodbury, was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club held this Wednesday (Oct. 21) at the Milleridge Inn in Jericho. Mr. Vitale, a practicing attorney and former resident of Hicksville, spoke about the Law Guardian System of the new Nassau Family Court.

He described how the Judges of this Court, are now empowered to appoint certain lawyers to represent juveniles who are before the Judge. These attorneys are expected to, and do, help the judge to determine what is best for the youngster, rather than to singlemindedly set their sights on disproving the charge against the young defendant. They are paid a modest fee out of the court appropriation.

The speaker pointed out that the objective of the Court is to protect the community and help the child. This is accomplished by the use of counseling and special training programs as much as possible.

Mr. Vitale is a law guardian of the family court, a member of the County Mental Health board, and a former candidate for family court judge. He is presently running for district court judge of the Township of Oyster Bay.

Palmieri Given Science Award

Louis Palmieri of 42 Ailing St., Hicksville, has been awarded a National Science Foundation fellowship for advanced science study at Pace College, New York City, it was announced today by Dr. Anthony J. Konde, chairman of the biology-chemistry department.

A science teacher at Bethpage High School, Palmieri is enrolled in the Pace In-Service Institutes in Cell Physiology and the Institute in Genetics. He is studying to better prepare his students for college study.

Palmieri attends classes each Saturday and will receive graduate credit for his work in the In-Service Institutes.

By Edward J. Van Allen.
Why Is Immorality An Accepted Way of Life in America?

When the doctor told me bluntly, "Politicians are so crooked that when they die, they have to be screwed into the ground," I thought he was being a trifle cynical.

I, for one, have been to more than one funeral of a politico. And never once have I seen the "guest of honor" screwed into the ground. All I have seen is the deceased's opponent standing by weeping like a professional mourner -- between smiles, that is.

So I think my friend exaggerates, but only slightly.

For proof of corruption in politics, one only has to pick up any good daily newspaper to read what political bigwig has been indicted most recently. "Political Leader Indicted," or "politician Demanded $100,000 in Shake-down," the headlines scream. Cases of corruption in government are seemingly endless as each political party proves and reproves what everybody knows anyhow: that corruption in politics is as common as fleas are to an ungroomed dog, mainly because politics attracts the self-seeker who wants to serve not his country, but his own self-interest.

Myriad are the forms of questionable practice which add up to the acceptance of immorality as a way of life in America. These are only some of them;

A lawyer gets himself elected to public office and immediately begins feathering his own nest. He votes against a strong code of ethics for him and his brothers to follow because he wouldn't want the public to know how he uses his public office to advance his own private interests.

Patronage is always pounced upon by both parties because it is an easy way for the party in power to buy votes with the people's own money.

Public officials, high and low, frequently hide records from the public, on the theory, presumably, that suppressed evidence can't possibly embarrass the officialdom in power.

A private corporation sells materials to be used in school districts and advises educators not to let parents know the materials are being used on their children. So the educators and the private corporation profiting from the sale of the materials conspire to keep the taxpayers ignorant of what is being bought and what it is being used for.

School board members oftentimes accept gifts and entertainment from persons doing business with or working for the school district to pay. There's no difference between this type of immoral practice and the taking of a bribe by someone close to the President in return for favors performed. And what answer do the school boarders make: "We're paragons of virtue simply because we say so."

Once a woman who had been given four different stories about a proposed road widening in Oyster Bay Town by Town Hallites said to me: "Isn't anybody honest any more?" I couldn't immediately answer that question. It would have taken far too much pondering.

I like famed newspaperman William Allen White's wry comment in government. You can never really look corruption, he said in substance, but you can have a lifetime of fun fighting it.

Who's to blame for accepting immorality as a way of life in America? No one save we the people. And when I say we the people, I blame myself; for I too belong to this nation of ostriches.

That is why I have written this column, though I fear that what I say here is like tossing a drop of water into the Atlantic Ocean.

I could, I suppose, go further and write a documented study of immorality in America titled, "The Corrupt Society." I doubt such a book would sell more than four copies. Why? Because a nation of ostriches couldn't possibly abide the sight of itself and would destroy any mirror that reflected its true image.

A silver chafing dish was awarded to Robert Weigle and his wife, Barbara, of 1 Aron Court, Bethpage, by Shell Oil sales manager Daniel Clark. The couple attended a show followed by dinner in tatami style at Saito's in appreciation of Mr. Weigle's top sales achievement for Shell Oil Company.

They competed as a Standstill Corps from 1957 to 1963. During that time, they won close to 200 trophies. This year they made their "debut" as a Marching and Manoeuvring Corps and already have accumulated a dozen or more trophies. Anyone desiring further information about the Corps may call Mrs. Elizabeth Gillen, a Bethpage resident, at PY 6-2185, after 6 p.m.

Bugle Corps Seeks Members

Even though the competitive season for the Vanguards Drum & Bugle Corps of Farmingdale is over for this year, the Corps will still be active during the winter months. They will continue to meet for music practice one night a week, as now is the time they must start working on musical arrangements for next years' parades and competitions.

If any boy or girl, between the ages of 10 and 21, is interested in joining the Vanguards, now is the time to do it. Auditions will be given on Monday evenings, between 7:00 and 9:00 P.M. in the gym of the Mill Lane Jr. High School in South Farmingdale.

It costs nothing to join. All uniforms and instruments are supplied to new members. All Corps activities are properly chaperoned by the parents.

No unusual musical talent is necessary, however, those who have some knowledge of music, will learn the arrangements faster and consequently join the line sooner. Girls not interested in playing an instrument can join the all girl color guard. Instruction classes for all new members, including color guard, are just beginning.

You do not have to be a Farmingdale resident. There are members in the Corps living in Amityville, Bethpage, North Babylon, West Babylon and North Massapequa.

The Vanguards Drum & Bugle Corps has been in existence for eight years.

If You Please

By Peter Pettibone

The patients in my doctor's waiting room were discussing their various ailments, pitying themselves and each other, and feeling worse by the minute. We scarcely noticed the little old lady in the arm chair until someone asked about her illness. She hesitated, then named an incurable disease. From that moment our troubles seemed trivial, and when the old lady went into the doctor's office most of us admitted that our health was pretty good. When my turn with the doctor came I told him of how the old lady had changed the atmosphere and attitude of his waiting room patients. The doctor smiled. "My mother just loves to sit out there and tell her little white lie," he said. "Sometimes I wonder if her verbal treatments don't help my patients more than I do." ...Fred (Village Tavern) Lohmann says "It isn't the original cost of the dog - it's the pupkeep." ...And "Her children leave her one by one, only to return two by two." ...Syosset's 84 year-old John Puntun several summers ago visited Hannibal, Mo., the sleepy little river town where Mark Twain, the famous writer spent his boyhood. Stopping at a roadside stand one day, John asked the white-bearded old proprietor if he had known Samuel (Mark Twain) Clemons. The old timer promptly answered a little indignantly: "Sure I did, I know just as many stories as he did. Only difference is, he writ 'em down and I didn't." ...A Hicksville doll shopping for a gift for her boss's birthday noticed an attractive pair of men's pajamas and asked the price. "$42.50," answered the clerk. "For $42.50," announced the girl, as she headed for the necktie department, "they should have a man in them!" ...At our favorite golf (nut) club the other day, a member was boasting about his strength when a puny little fellow-member bet him $25 that he could wheel a load in a wheelbarrow from the clubhouse, to the first T, which the boaster couldn't wheel back. "You're on," said the strong-one. A wheelbarrow was brought to the clubhouse, really. The little guy's gimmick came out when he asked the big strong athlete, to "All right, big deal, get in the wheelbarrow." ...I just love Emerson's line, "Manners are the happy ways of doing things." (Read that line again and follow thru)...I just have to quote Al Kimball: "Mixing politics and friends is often where the friendship ends." ...Though I used to write for the Steve Allen

Theater Party 'Sound Of Music'

A theater party for the "Sound of Music" sponsored by the Crusader Booster League of Long Island Lutheran High School, Brookville, will be held at the Mineola Playhouse, Sunday, November 22 at 8:00 P.M.

The Crusader Booster League is dedicated to the support of the school's curricular and extra-curricular programs. Mr. Charles Barvels of Hicksville and Mrs. Alfred Palmison of Westbury are co-chairmen of the event.

For ticket information, please call Mrs. Palmison ED 4 - 6 5 8 1 or Mrs. Barvels WE show, before he went West, I still think it's the best on TV. (Editor's note: This Pettibone is really modest) ...One of the largest schools in Nassau Main Street School, Port Washington, emptied out in a two minute fire drill, as planned. Congratulations, everyone there. That's where my Chuckie goes. Anthony Drexel Duke opened an account at Carl Hoppl's plush Westbury Manor. Chic Farmer, the host there, O.K.'d it. We call him "Sure thing Chic." ...If You Please.....
