HICKSVILLE-LEVITTOWN-PLAINVIEW-BETHPAGE

Entered as second class matter in the Post Office, Hicksville, N. Y.

VOL. X, NO. 48

PRICE 10 CENTS

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1964

REWARD: Acting Nassau Police Commissioner Francis B. Looney, left, hands a detective shield to Ptl. John A. Eannel of Levittown. Eannel moved to the Detective Division as a result of his work December 2, in the arrest of two men who kidnapped a 26-year-old mother of three in Uniondale, then forced her to lie in the trunk of her car while they drove from Hempstead to Hicksville. Eannel stopped the two men in Hicksville when they acted suspiciously and, when they admitted theft of the car, called for assistance, searched the car and found the young woman in the trunk.

Policeman Given Promotion For Work

Patrolman John A. Eannel of Levittown was moved up to the detective division of the Nassau County Police Dept. this week for exceptional work in Hicksville. Acting Police Commissioner Francis B. Looney moved Eannel up for his work on Dec. 2 in apprehending two men who were driving through Hicksville with the 26-year-old mother of three children stuffed in the trunk of her own car. The car had been stolen in Uniondale and driven to Hicksville with the woman in the trunk. She was found when Eannel stopped the car, discovered it was stolen and a search of it turned up the woman in the trunk.

Old Bethpage Branch Open

The Old Bethpage Postal Branch was opened for business on Saturday morning, December 5, Hicksville Postmaster Irene L. Murphy has announced. Window service will be provided on weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. During the weeks of Dec. 7-2 and 14-19 Christmas hours will prevail: Monday - Friday 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturday 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. No change in delivery time of mail is anticipated. The Superintendent of the Old Bethpage Branch will be Anthony Murello who has been serving as Assistant Supt. of the Plainview Branch.

Because of the pressure of the Christmas season on the Post Office, the dedication has been set for Sunday, January 10th at 2 p.m. Dr. Bernard Poller and Mr. Frank Curcio are serving as co-chairmen. The public is invited.

Derounian Speaks

Congressman Steven B. Derounian will address the Long Island Conservatives Inc. at a meeting in the Hicksville Library Dec. 15 at 8:30 P.M. It will be Derounian's first talk in Hicksville since the election.

Medicare Preferred

Some form of federally-operated Medicare program is desired by 60.7% of the Hicksville respondents to the Meadow Brook National Bank Community Opinion Poll, according to Jirah D. Cole, vice president and manager of the Bank's Hicksville office. In the November balloting, 37.1% of the voters here were opposed to Medicare and 1.6% were undecided.

Hicksville citizens strongly favor the retention of local, independent school districts on Long Island by a vote of 65.6% to 32.0%. They are opposed to legislation which would outlaw boxing in the United States, 58.2% to 40.2%. The Poll also showed that 74.6% of the Hicksville voters visited the World's Fair this year.

The results in Hicksville were typical of the over-all opinion revealed by the total Poll. Totally, the vote was 62.1% to 35.6% for Medicare; 68.6% to 25.0% for retaining local school districts; 50.1% to 45.7% against outlaw boxing legislation, and 76.2% saw the Fair.

The Poll is one of a continuing series of month-long, pulse-taking efforts by Meadow Brook, through its 66 offices on Long Island and in New York City, to reflect community and area thinking on topical issues.

BEAUTY SECRETS

Get Into the Mood

The mad rush... Everything left for the last minute... shopping for clothes, X-mas gifts and the general haste of getting into the grind of working out our schedules, and facing fall with dozens of chores to do. Lets start off on the track, and put first things first. The nearest to our hearts are our youngsters. Lets set some time aside for their well grooming. Set up an appointment for the young lady for a shampoo, hairsnapping and styling. Let them feel this is the first step toward better grooming. Its a wonderful feeling to be fussed over at any age. Some wonderfully new chic styles are in the offing. The teenager is living at a most provocative time, when style is all around her.

This also applies to mother. Good taste in clothes also applies to hair fashion. Lets get whats good for us, and bring out our best features, rather than bring in a picture that you just clipped out of a magazine. Speak to your hairdresser, ask for his advice. These people are schooled and well trained, and most are devoted to the art of creating. So give him the opportunity of making you a new you and a more interesting personality.

After a hectic summer of water, beach, sand and sun, your tresses must be in dire need of a conditioning treatment...especially the younger set that were away to camp all summer. There are many types of conditioners, lanolin, keratin, sulphur ointment, protein, etc. Lets decide whats best suited for you, and make the proper start.

Spiritual Healing Lecture Dec. 13

"How You Can Help Others" with spiritual healing power will be the subject of a public Christian Science lecture in Levittown on Sunday, Dec. 13.

The speaker will be Naomi Price of London England, under the sponsorship of First Church of Christ, Scientist. The event will begin at 3:30 p.m. in the church edifice at 80 North Bellmore Road.

Mrs. Price was educated in England and Switzerland. She was once a social welfare worker in the distressed areas of London, but began devoting full time to the public practice of Christian Science healing at the end of World War II. She is a frequent contributor to the religion's periodicals, and is currently on tour as a member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston, Massachusetts.

Senior Citizens Special Event

The Bethpage Senior Citizens Club held a Luncheon Party on Thursday, December 3, instead of their regular meeting. A large bus was furnished by the Board of Education to carry 38 members and guests over to Carl Hoppl's in Westbury, for a delicious roast beef dinner. A large dining room was given over to the Club, and it made a fine celebration for the birthday of the Club President.

The next regular meeting will be held at the American Legion Hall on Washington St., Bethpage, as usual on December 10 at 1 o'clock. At this time gifts and materials will be brought and made up into Christmas packages to go over to the ladies at Meadowbrook Hospital. It will also be the last lesson on the glass painting.

What kind of a tiger do you want under your hood? (Have you priced a tiger lately?)

If you're handy with a whip and chair, go for the 360-hp GTO. It bites. But then, even the 335-hp GTO bites. If you want a slightly more civilized package (but with lots of the GTO muscle), try the Le Mans. You can get it with a six or either of two V-8s. They all have bucket seats. Carpeting. And cost less than some tame cats. So go price a tiger.

Letters

To the Editor:
You have in the past done a marvelous job keeping the taxpayers of this district informed.

This district was given a gift by a Hicksville taxpayer of 4 books "None Dare Call It Treason" of which nine million books were sold.

This is O.K.
But now the Superintendent of Schools has shown his colors. Either he is totally ignorant of the communist menace or he is anti-communist. The Superintendent is now a book censor and book burner, because he states "This book is not acceptable to be placed on our library shelves." In effect - no anti-communist books are allowed in this school district. Do you agree?

It is now up to the Board of Education this Friday, at 8:15 p.m., December 11 at the Senior High School. Thank You
William Bruno, Jr.
Member of the Board of Education.

DR. JAMES D. LAWSON, Asst. Supt., addresses over 400 parents who enrolled in the elementary Modern Math courses offered by the Bethpage School District, last Tuesday evening. They then went to respective assigned classes which have been set up on the K-1-2, 3-4, 5-6 and K-6 basis. To date, 526 district parents, both public and parochial, have enrolled for the courses which uses elementary texts and emphasis on "how to do it." In the breakdown: 122 parents have enrolled on the K-1-2 grade level; 129 in grades 3 and 4; 87 in grades 5 and 6; and 188 in the total K-6 approach. Frankly, we were overwhelmed by the response by not having fully anticipated parental interest. The courses will be of 2 hours duration and will be offered on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings for a 5 week period.

ON DECEMBER 3 election of officers was held for the Bethpage Unit of the Police Boys Club. A social celebration followed the meeting.

THINKING IT OVER

By Robert L. Morgan

Hicksville once again this week was the beneficiary of national headlines as it usually is whenever some unsavory story is uncovered.

This time Hicksville is only involved inasmuch as it was the scene of some very excellent detective work by Patrolman John Fannel who apprehended two men who had abducted a woman in the trunk of her own car. It seems highly possible that had Fannel not been alert that the woman might be dead today.

We have been made aware of the screaming headlines about Hicksville from a letter sent to us by an unknown correspondent in Jacksonville Florida who sent in clippings from the Jacksonville Times Union under a headline datelined Hicksville: "Two Negroes Held in Kidnap of Woman" and another clipping from a Jackson, Miss. paper "Negroes Rape White Woman". Both papers are using a United Press International wire story which is far more descriptive than the accounts originally offered readers in Nassau County. The letter writer chides the press on being hypocrites in not mentioning the racial background of the two men and the woman and then showing the pictures of the men clearly identifying their race. The fact is that we do believe such newspapers as the Long Island Press made a big mistake in not identifying the offenders by race. We feel that the very emphasis on not giving the facts casts a shadow on the millions of law abiding Negroes who do not have to hide behind suppression of news facts to hold onto their reputation. In other words by not mentioning the race we infer that race does have something to do with it. Because the white race in America is the largest it is always assumed that unless otherwise indicated that the person is white.

The majority of Negroes are not criminals, to be sure, but FBI files and NY police reports indicate that many more Negro men are involved with attacks on women than is true proportionately of white people. This is a fact. It cannot be changed by hiding it. It might be changed by education, even shaming would be offenders might appeal to their pride in their own race.

But if facts are hidden or buried then change will be slow.

It is not our belief and never was that discrimination against a race is right and this is not to be taken as a brief for anything but equality for all people, but we do contend that crime is an individual matter and criminals should share the guilt and any shame that full identification can bring.

Check Circulation When Sore Won't Heal

By C. A. Dean, M.D.

(Q) "I am a diabetic and 2 years ago I had my left leg amputated. Ever since there has been an area about the size of a quarter on my stump which fails to heal. Is there any ointment or powder which will help?" Mrs. G.P.

(A) There are medicines which can help but this would depend on the cause of healing failure. The most likely think is poor circulation which was the reason, I am sure, you had the amputation in the first place. If such is so then proper diabetic control and blood vessel dilating drugs should help. Until you get complete healing you probably won't be able to use an artificial limb.

(Q) "In 1948 I requested a blood type and was told I was Rh negative. Then in 1950 it was done again but this time I was told it was Rh positive. In 1958 it was checked and again reported as Rh negative. Is it possible for blood to change types like this or is there some other explanation for it?" Mrs. J.T.

(A) Your blood type didn't change since this is impossible. It is more likely that the typing was misread and a wrong answer attained. This will happen in rare cases. In order to accurately determine your exact type I think you should have it checked by two different laboratories.

Let's Not Be Beastly To The Hoodlum

By Russell Kirk

One Joey Aluppa, described in the papers as "a crime syndicate hoodlum," went hunting doves in Kansas. He and his chums shot between 900 and 1,400 of the emblems of peace, illicitly. When Aluppa returned to Chicago, federal game-management agents searched his car and found 563 dead mourning doves therein. In Kansas City, last August, Aluppa was sentenced to three months imprisonment, the judge saying, "A fine would be like a tip to a waiter for you. A fine would not be enough punishment."

But joy, joy! We aren't beastly to gambling bosses in this land of liberty. A few days ago, the U.S. Court of Appeals, in Denver, reversed Aluppa's conviction and set that gallant sportsman free. Though there was no doubt that he had slaughtered the mourning doves, the Appellate Court held that the search of Aluppa's car had been illegal. It's back to the syndicate for Mr. Aluppa.

Does it seem odd that a criminal should be turned loose, though his guilt was not in dispute, because officers of the law peeped without permission? Well, this would have seemed strange to all judges and lawyers in America and Britain -- until 1961, when the U.S. Supreme Court's majority, in the case of Mapp v. Ohio, ruled that if trial evidence has been wrongfully procured, the defendant must be dismissed.

Until the Supreme Court so ruled, the common law had held that evidence illegally procured nevertheless was valid, if relevant. Officers who had obtained such evidence without search-warrant, or in other improper ways, might themselves be prosecuted; but the law-breaker should not escape simply because of a technicality in evidence-collecting. As Justice Cardozo put the principle, when he tried a New York case more than forty years ago, "Is the criminal to go free, because the constable has blundered?" Cardozo answered decidedly in the negative. Proven guilt should be punished -- and a blundering constable should be punished, too.

As Mr. C.P. Ives, of the Baltimore Sun, comments on this general principle, "In a polity where law enforcement is not a mere game of cops and robbers, but the orderly and reasoned allocation to each man of what by conduct and character he has earned as his due, the Mapp ruling was unsettling." Doubtless such decisions rejoice the tender hearts of the Joey Aluppas of this land; they have much for which to thank the Warren Court. But what about the doves? And what about the public policy which secures game from human predators? Also, one reflects, the hoodlums do not restrict their predatory habits to mourning doves. A flaw by the police in the collecting of evidence can free a murderer, as well as a dove-slaughterer.

In an age disgraced by the steady and dismaying increase of every sort of crime, paradoxically the Supreme Court -- and a good many other courts -- place more and more impediments in the way of effective law-enforcement. The alleged criminal, to be sure, should be provided a fair trial. Yet the Bill of Rights was not added to the Constitution so that criminals might prey upon society with virtual immunity from conviction. The criminal enjoys rights, along with the rest of us; but the criminal's victims also have rights, and it is more important to society that the peaceful be protected than that the violent be coddled.

The "bleeding heart" majority of the present Supreme Court thinks otherwise, apparently. That is one reason why the prestige of the Court never was lower than it is today -- and diminished not merely in public esteem, but in the considered opinion of many of our leading authorities on jurisprudence.

GOP Club Meets Dec. 14

Amer. Legion Auxiliary News

By Margaret Strong
Rain didn't stop more than 200 couriers of Christmas Joy from American Legion Auxiliaries of Nassau and Suffolk Counties from holding their annual Christmas Gift Shop at Northport Veterans Hospital on Friday, December 4th, with great success.

Mrs. Wayland Stong Jr., Mrs. John Mazzie, Mrs. John Cheatham, Mrs. Agnes Gilbert and Mrs. Lucy Rose Masino were the couriers of Archie McCord unit. We proudly pitched in to assist these ill veterans in selecting appropriate gifts for them to send home to their loved ones. These gifts are gift wrapped in pretty Christmas paper, with ribbons and then wrapped for mailing - all work done by able bodied Auxiliary members with the assistance of a few Post members and hospital staff.

A little spare time make many men who fought for our freedom a little happier.

December is the month designated as 'Rehabilitation, Hospital Workers & Civil Defense' Month in the Auxiliary - Our aim is to strive to do our best to make them successful projects.

Happy Birthday wishes are expressed to Mrs. Jennie Cheatham on Dec. 7th, to Stella Strong (Jr. member) 9 years old or December 11 and to Mrs. Theresa Drew on Dec 14.

Tricks That Won Lawsuits

Many years ago, a famous defense attorney won a case by producing the defendant's twin in court and completely befuddling the eyewitnesses who positively identified first one twin and then the other as the perpetrator of the crime.

Today that kind of chicanery is rarely seen in a court of law. But less sensational varieties are.

In a "wrongful death" case tried in a New York State court, for example, the widow of a man killed in an accident sat for days garbed in drabdest black while her attorney, famed for his spectacular success as a "plaintiff's man" (i.e., winner of a large number of verdicts on behalf of plaintiffs) tried a masterful case on her behalf. On the day when the summations to the jury were delivered the widow was joined by a ten-year-old boy, also dressed in a funereally dark suit. The lawyer wrung the utmost out of the occasion by describing the woman as "this poor widow who sits next to this little child, rendered penniless by the untimely death of her husband because of the defendant's negligence."

A tear coursed down the face of one of the women jurors as she looked at the widow and child sitting next to each other in the front row.

Later, the jury brought in a whopping verdict for the plaintiff.

It was not until several days afterward, however, that court personnel learned the ten-year-old "fatherless" boy was actually the plaintiff's attorney's son.

On the other hand, bits of whimsy at entertain juries are popular with some lawyers.

As a case in point, a mirthless, gray-haired attorney was trying a case against a New York City negligence lawyer known as one of the most formidable defense attorneys in the field.

During the plaintiff attorney's direct examination of the plaintiff, the well-known defense lawyer unobtrusively sauntered over to the plaintiff's side of the counsel table and plopped his rather substantial derriere down on his opponent's papers.

"Please get off my papers," plaintiff's advocate pleaded.

"Oh, I'm sorry," said the wily defense counsel.

He got off the papers, but two or three minutes later, back he came and ensconced himself once more on the same old papers, almost as though he were trying, in effect, to apply a little hindsight to the facts of the case.

Each time he capered thusly, plaintiff's attorney objected in a voice ringing with indignation. And each time the defense attorney got up and apologized profusely as he bowed slightly.

The comedy was almost slapstick in nature, but the jury ate it up. The entertainment paid off, too, for the jury, obviously having paid little or no attention to the plaintiff's evidence, brought in a verdict for the defendant.

Trial tactics vary with lawyers. Some have even been known to shed tears in making impassioned pleas to juries.

In one famous case back in 1897, a judge of the Supreme Court of Tennessee ruled that a lawyer has a "natural right" to shed tears while addressing the jury.

"Indeed, if counsel has them at his command," the court said, "it may be seriously questioned whether it is not his professional duty to shed them whenever proper occasion arises -- In this case the trial judge was not asked to check the tears, and it was, we think an eminently proper occasion for their use."

While I have heard attorneys' voices break in addressing juries, I have never seen any tears trickling down their faces.

But I do know of a lawyer who registered what was to my mind one of the bizarrist objections ever heard in a court room. Moreover, he not only got away with it; he came off a winner.

Seems defense counsel in his summation before an all male jury constantly referred to the plaintiff derogatorily as "that FEMALE," "this FEMALE," etc., his voice stridently contemptuous as he spat out the word "female."

By tone and usage of that one word, if nothing more, the defense attorney painted a picture of the plaintiff as little more than a shrew or a frump entirely unworthy of a verdict at the jury's hands.

Suddenly, as defense counsel was in the middle of a particularly sarcastic sentence, plaintiff's counsel leaped to his feet and roared: "Your Honor, I object to his use of the word 'female'! There's no such word in the English language!"

Without doubt, the objection was laughable; and the jury tittered. But it had its effect.

The 12 men good and true later brought in a substantial verdict for the "female" object of defense counsel's scorn.

Who buys more Savings Bonds?

As statistical-minded as we are today, the Treasury Department can't answer that question.

The Treasury does know that U.S. Savings Bonds are owned by tens of millions of families. So it might be safe to assume that people in every walk of life belong to this "savings club."

This is a happy fact for the United States, and for the free peoples of the earth. For Savings Bond dollars are playing an important role today in the making of history.

This $46 billion reserve in the government's hands is working vigorously today to help our country in the major struggle to defend freedom.

At the same time, Savings Bonds help build your personal purchasing power by paying good interest and providing a method of saving that's unconditionally safe and readily cashable. And the higher your purchasing power, the better it speaks for our system.

It all adds up to one of the best ways you can save money and at the same time help your country. Start buying Bonds next payday—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or from any bank—and see if you don't feel pretty good about it.

Quick facts about U.S. Savings Bonds

- You get $4 for every $3 at maturity
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, stolen or destroyed
- You can get your money anytime
- You can save automatically on Payroll Savings.

SPORTS

by HOWARD FINNEGAN

Hicksville High School opens its 1964-65 basketball season at Westbury this Friday night. Coach Ed Petro's boys have been more than impressive in scrimmages with Uniondale, Mineola, St. Dominic's and Mepham and are rated the only contenders to the NSAA Section One crown against Syosset.

Syosset has a towering team and has been expected to romp through the loop with its starting line up of 6'5", 6'7", 6'6", 6'2" and 6'2". However, Hicksville split with the Braves last year and Hicksville fans look for coach Petro to make another bold attempt to upset them again.

Westbury was the clear choice to win the County championship last year but was edged in the second round by Syosset. The Green Wave is an unknown quality this year but all eyes will be on Hicksville to evaluate the takeoff.

Westbury High is at the corner of Post Avenue and Jericho Turnpike in Old Westbury and can be reached directly from the Parkway, Post Avenue or the Turnpike.

The Junior Varsity contest, with many of last year's undefeated freshman team, will start at 6:30 p.m.

Our choice in the main contest: HICKSVILLE 57, Westbury 48.

We wedged our way into St. John's University Hall Saturday night, with 6,100 other members of the sell-out crowd. We got our biggest kick to the reaction to the program which listed three members of the varsity and freshman club from Hicksville. Bill Bruckner, ex St. Dominic's star, Paul Colassano, former HHS center are both members of the Freshman club and saw limited action. Varsity member Mike Clair did not get in as Temple and St. John's engaged in a tight contest 60-50. St. John's won to launch Lapchick's last campaign.

The community of Hicksville, Long Island is gaining a spreading reputation for the caliber of its athletes and the program at St. John's is certainly helping.

Principal Leon J. Galloway has allotted the Hicksville Alumni Association the very important date of Friday night, December 18 for the annual Alumni-Faculty basketball game.

This annual event will take place at the start of the Christmas vacation and a full house is expected. Tickets are fifty cents per person and there will be a dance after the game.

All proceeds from the contest are doubled by funds from the Alumni Treasury and used for the annual Sports Dinner for the 250 - 260 boys and girls of the school who win letters in competition.

LATE BULLETIN: Coach Ed Petro released at press time the names of the members of his 1965 Hicksville High basketball team. Earning berths on the basis of their work in scrimmages and practices are: Jim Webb, Jim Bergholtz, Bill Corrigan, John Walker, Guy Van Wagenen, Bob Fink, Glen Olsen, Bill Fordyce, Joe Grant, Steve Schuster, John McKinstry, Greg Hoberock, Roland McClain, Bob Kiarin and Andy Koehler.

For the record: The yards gained rushing record for Hicksville High school was set in 1944 by Ed Coleman with 1,385 in six games. No one has come with 500 yards of that mark in all 41 years of Orange and Black football.

A Luncheon-Fashion Show; Fund Raiser for the Girl Scout Senior Roundup 1965 and sponsored by Bethpage-Plainview Adult Scouts, will be held on January 22, 1965 at the Holiday Manor, in Bethpage.

A delicious luncheon will be served at 1:00 P.M., to be followed by the Fashion Show. Door prizes are also on the agenda for the occasion. Tickets are priced at $3.00 and you may contact any Leader or Service Team Member in VI in order to purchase yours. Please do so immediately and assure yourself of a place at the Holiday Manor on the 22nd of January, and by so doing, help us put our Senior Girl Scouts from Mid-Island Council, on the trail tomorrow.

The Girl Scout Senior Roundup will be held on July 17 through the 26th, 1965 at the Farragut Wildlife Management Area, Lake Pend Oreille, Idaho. This is a wonderful opportunity which is offered to all Senior Scouts. Here, girls of all nations will meet. They will live, work and play together for these magical days; sharing many never-to-be-forgotten experiences as well as making new and lasting friendships. Miss Patricia Shaw of Bethpage, was one of the Seniors selected to attend the last Roundup in July 1962, which was held at Button Bay, Vermont. Patty has many fond memories and wonderful friends from her Scout years and Roundup days and is now a Freshman at Drew University. We wish her well.

Jets, Knicks Go To Tie

The Bethpage Jets and the Knicks played a 8 to 8 tie Monday in the Connie Meade Basketball League for boys 9-10-11. Tom Rooney and Pete Pietzak led the Knicks while Steve Hiller and Mike LaPrimo did all the scoring for the Jets. Due to a time limit no overtime was permitted.

The Bethpage Lions just failed to catch up to the Hornets and lost a tough 8 to 7 game. Jim Callahan and Steve Langone led the Lions while Bob Cantwell sank two baskets for the Hornets.

This Romanesque Urn is typical of the statuary on the ASC 23-acre campus - the former estate of the late Wm. K. Vanderbilt.

THE CURRICULUM OF THE COLLEGE consists of four divisions: I. Arts; II. Humanities; III. Natural Sciences and Mathematics; IV. Social Sciences. Every student must take a certain number of courses in each of the four divisions, for sound instruction in the liberal arts. No later than the end of the sophomore year, he may choose a concentration in either the humanities, natural sciences and mathematics, or social sciences.

THE TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAM at Adelphi Suffolk College qualifies and certifies both elementary and secondary school teachers. All students must complete a basic liberal arts course of study along with methods courses in education. Quality students can reap rich personal rewards in a full time 4 year program at this small, private, liberal arts college. Why not write or call now for information and catalog?

Lee Ave. To Be Fixed

The Town Board has directed Town Clerk William B. O'Keefe to solicit bids for the general improvement and surfacing of Lee Avenue and vicinity in Hicksville, it was announced by Councilman Edward J. Poulos Board Majority Leader. Included in the project are Boehme Street and Rave Street. Engineers estimate the cost at $46,091. Bids will be received, publicly opened and read at Town Hall December 16th.

The project was moved on the board by Councilman A. Carl Grunewald and was recommended by Town Highway Superintendent Norman T. Wolf. The work will be a part of the Town's winter season construction program.

If You Please

By Peter Pettibone

Mixologist may be interested to know that John Walker & Sons Ltd are contemplating an ad campaign with the slogan "Johnie Walker red and black label scotch the world's biggest sellers". My information, though not official, came from my dinner guests, at Carl Hopple's plush Westbury Manor, Walker & Sons Director Leslie Whitton, and Canada Dry, the importers, V.P., Paul J. Burnside. I'm aware that other scotches sell more in U.S.A., but was surprised about Johnie Walker being ahead world-wide...So, I'll have a piece of beer with a hunk of scotch...Then there's the story going the rounds about the Post College professor who dreamed he was lecturing to his class, and woke up to find that it was true...Beautiful letter of "Thanks, etc" from pretty Patricia Tunison, she's been encouraged by this columnist to continue her journalistic career since she interviewed us for her St. Dominic's school paper in Oyster Bay. Her letter included, "Pat O'Brien and his wife send their best regards. I am now Editor-in-Chief of St. John University's weekly 'The Torch.'" (After all these years I get a complimentary note from an Editor-in Chief. This line'll probably be thrown into the trash can by you know who...I'll probably be shot for this, so what, I've been half-shot before, Carl Hoppl has been elected by the entire restaurant industry as "Restaurateur of the Year". I suggest Holiday Manor's handsome Warren Spellman as "Best Dressed Restaurateur of the Year". What I'm trying to do here is scare-up a Best Dressed Restaurateur of the Year Contest. Can you imagine Hoppl, Huschle, Hermansen, Wegener, Spellman, O'Brien, Rueck, Koenig, Antun, Wetter, Archdeacon, Elliott Murphy and Herb McCarthy parading around to the tune of "A Pretty Girl is Dressed Like a Melody?" Where there's smoke etc: Going the rounds in Southampton is a story about a man who returned home after a week's absence and was met at the front door by his little boy. "Papa, there's a bogeyman in Mama's bedroom, I'm scared, Dad. He's up there hiding in the closet right now. Said the kid. So his tycoon father took the time out to go upstairs. There he opened the closet door. Sure enough, there was his good friend Sam from Czechoslovakia. "Why Sam," he cried, "How could you do this to me? Didn't I furnish your passage from Europe? Didn't I rescue you from the clutches of Adolph Hitler? And you repay me by hiding in my wife's bedroom closet and scaring heck out of my little boy."...Each year this column has invited the defenders of the late Senator McCarthy to check-out his St. Regis Hotel bills during his various drunken treks to NYC he stopped there. The reason I repeat this yearly is that this alcoholic's venom is repeated annually, hurting via video-tape people who can't dig this guy up, you see during those McCarthy-Recuperating Days I was also living at the St. Regis...Are You Ready? O.K. "Knock knock, who's there?" You: "Barry". Me: "Barry who?".....Do you mean to tell me you've forgotten Goldwater already?...If you please.

Christmas Cookies For Trinity

"Cookies for Christmas" - Friday evening, December 18, beginning at 7 p.m. the Women's League of Trinity Lutheran Church, 40 West Nicholas St., Hicksville, will package home-baked Christmas cookies. The cookies will then be distributed to patients in hospitals and institutions in the greater metropolitan area by Lutheran chaplains during their Christmas visits. The members of Trinity Women's League bake a batch of cookies each Christmas for the annual "Cookies for Christmas" campaign. One of the projects of the Cub Scouts of Trinity at this time of year is to fold the hundreds of individual boxes ready for filling by the league's members.

Mrs. Carl Seher of Woodbury is chairman of the "Cookies for Christmas" campaign and Mrs. William Forsberg of Hicksville is co-chairman.

16th St. To Be Paved

The Town Board directed Town Clerk William B. O'Keefe to hold a bid-letting session in Town Hall, December 16th for the improvement of Sixteenth Street and vicinity in Hicksville. It was announced by Councilman Edward J. Poulos, Board Majority Leader. Engineers estimate the cost at $48,668. Included in the project are 16 Street, 17 Street, Valerie Avenue (east end), Richard Avenue, Procop Avenue and Ziska Ave. Councilman A. Carl Grunewald sponsored the project on the Board. It was recommended by Highway Supt. Norman T. Wolf. Plans are to continue the project during the winter season, weather permitting.
