Honor Fehrenbach In Testimonial Dinner

A testimonial dinner to honor Assemblyman Edwin J. Fehrenbach, who is closing out a "legislative career of outstanding accomplishments" for the people of the Town of Oyster Bay, will be held March 25 at the Garden City Hotel, announced State Senator Henry M. Curran who has accepted the post of Chairman for the affair.

Recognized throughout the 4th Assembly District, which includes the Town of Oyster Bay and the City of Glen Cove, as a dynamic and progressive legislator, the youthful Assemblyman recently announced his intention to devote full time to private business at the close of this session of the Legislature.

A veteran of many legislative debates and sponsor of many forward-looking bills, Assemblyman Fehrenbach's talents in the field of Government won him appointments to the Public Education Committee, the powerful Ways and Means Committee and Chairmanship of the Joint Legislative Committee on Motor Boats.

A leader in the fight to provide adequate State Aid for Education, Fehrenbach's success in this field provided millions of dollars of additional aid to school districts and won him the title "The Darling of the P.T.A.'s." He gained state-wide recognition as an expert on the complex problem of financing public education. He also sponsored a bill signed into law which doubled the number of Regents Scholarships and established the now-famous scholar incentive

MISS VERA MINGOVITS, Mid-Island Council Senior Girl Scout, has been selected to attend the International Gatherings abroad in Sweden this summer. The seventeen year old Levittown advanced student was chosen through the Girl Scout Regional Committee after a New York City weekend with sixteen other finalists from the New York area.

Local Residents Don't Have Faith In Neighbors

The problem of people's apathy toward individuals in need of assistance on our public streets was dramatized by a Poll at Meadowbrook Bank this month. In the total voting, 52.8% of the respondents felt that no help would be given them in such a situation, while 44.2% were more optimistic in expecting aid, and 3.0% were undecided. Here in Hicksville, 49.2% would not expect aid from passers-by, 48.3% thought they'd be assisted, and 2.5% were undecided.

If Rockefeller puts the question of off-track betting to the people in a referendum, residents of Hicksville will vote in favor of it, according to the support given the idea in the opinion poll. The vote here was 75.8% for off-track betting, 22.5% against it, with 1.7% undecided, reported Jirah D. Cole, vice president and manager of the Bank's Hicksville office.

The two-party system in this country was also given a vote of confidence with 53.3% seeing no danger in it becoming less effective. However, perhaps the leaders of both political parties should pay some attention to the fact that 45% did see such a danger and 1.7% were undecided. These figures were typical of all the responses throughout the total area polled last month.

In the fourth question asked last month, strong over-all support was given to the idea of a government minted coin honoring the late General Douglas MacArthur. The total vote was 59.8% in favor of the coin, 37.1% opposed, and 3.1% undecided. But in Hicksville, opinion was evenly divided 48.4% were in favor, 48.4% opposed and 3.2% undecided.

The poll is one in a continuing series of month-long, pulse-taking efforts by Meadow Brook through its 66 offices on Long Island and in New York City, to reflect community and area thinking on topical issues.

Group Fights Communist Influence

A committee in Hicksville called "The Committee to Eliminate Communist Influence in the Hicksville School System" has been distributing a letter in the Hicksville area signed by School Board Trustee William Bruno. The letter outlines nine points against the Board regarding attitudes towards Communism.

The letter begins with this statement "Many informed Hicksville parents have been seething with indignation over the Hicksville Board of Education's action in banning the anti-communist book entitled 'None Dare Call It Treason' by John A. Stormer.

"Those of us who are alarmed by the growing menace of the communist conspiracy have deeply researched the United States Internal Security Subcommittee reports and know only too well of the accuracy of the contents of this book."

The committee consists of besides Mr. Bruno as chairman, Edward Bello, Harry Wagner, Edith Stanon and Nancy Cochran as directors.

MID-ISLAND GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL PRESIDENT, Mrs. Robert Stretton, presents Mrs. Robert Kampschulte with a silver tray in appreciation of 25 years of service to the Council. The presentation was given at the Council's Annual Meeting, the first of the many celebrations to be held commemorating Mid-Island's 25th Anniversary.

BEAUTY SECRETS

By Victor of Vilu

Paris Frames Your Face Now

By Victor of Vilu

While American buyers wait with baited breath for the unveiling of spring and summer fashions in Paris, our French neighbors have come up with a fashion find that will be even more important to American women. Gone are the exaggerated hair styles, the teased look, the towering beehive. In its place, according to the Herald-Tribune, is the framed look, with the face framed by gently shaped hair in the form of a "parentheses."

Paris hairdressers find that the soft, smooth and casual flowing locks are equally flattering to the round face, the long face and the wide oval, as a matter of fact, all face shapes take on a new beauty when the smooth, framed hair style is applied. If your face is round, your hairdo will be shaped to bring the "parentheses" right to your chin in the long, sweeping curves. For those who want some transition from the lofty hair styles of today to the new Paris look, a layered effect, held by a velvet bow, is recommended.

Or, if you prefer the straight look, you can have your hair combed flat at the sides with gentle flowing bangs and an accent of a jeweled comb or barrette. Other variations include long side locks with the front bangs pulled back from the forehead or a full crown with the side locks curving in toward the face.

Whatever the style, you can be certain that American hair stylists will be ready to give you the hair-comb that will do the most for you and for your face, whether the style is inspired by Parisian hairdressers or by ingenious American stylists who take a back seat to no one else in the world.

Whatever your personality type, let your hairdo express your individuality. For questions or consultations call or see Mr. Victor at Vilu, OV 1-8760, 534 So. Broadway, Hicksville.

taxpayers called upon to pay for the school district, county and state programs established to train our young people for successful entrance into a tight labor market will want to know the real state of affairs facing our high school graduates who seek to enter vocational employment upon graduation or soon thereafter without further college training.

TEACH is making available to the parents and students of Hicksville the knowledge, experience and advice of four persons very much involved with vocational training. Mrs. Olive Grambow, guidance counselor at the High School will discuss the Hicksville vocational curriculum and the role of guidance in assisting vocational students. Mr. Joseph Dequella employment interviewer at the Hicksville State Employment Office will discuss the condition of the Long Island labor market and this market as a factor in educating our vocational students. Mr. Donald Hoak, President of the Vocational and Industrial Coordinators

Association of New York State will discuss such vital areas as the co-op work program and white collar employment. He will also present a report on the recent Nassau County Study on Vocational and Special Education. Mr. Arthur Side, principal of the Nassau County Technical and Trade Training Center explain the operation and curriculum of this school.

Increasing numbers of school drop-outs, the high teen-age unemployment figures, the increase in automation and the soaring cost of college education leave no room for doubt that as parents and taxpayers we have a problem on our hands. "Landing" a good job after high school takes careful "advance" planning by parents and students and teachers. Vocational training programs are available. What are they? Where are they? Are they the correct programs? Who is eligible? What does the future hold for vocational students?

TEACH is offering this program as a community service for the benefit of the students who care about their future and for the adults who care about their children, their tax money and the society in which we all must live.

The meeting will be held on February 17th in the Little Theater of the Senior High School. The public is cordially invited to attend. We desire to start promptly at 8:30 P.M. so to give full time to the speakers and the audience for a maximum question period.

VFW Holding 30th Dinner

The William M. Gouse Jr. Post 3211, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold their 30th Annual Dinner and Dance at the Huntington Town House, Saturday evening, Feb. 20. Chairman Andy Sadowski reported ticket sales were in excess of those in past years. Assisting Mr. Sadowski are Albino Hanlon and Frank Aug.

Burglar Ransacks Local Office Building

The Governmental Statistical Co. of 47 W. Nicholas Street, Hicksville, was ransacked by a would-be burglar Monday evening. According to police reports, when Robert Thorgrimson of the Governmental Statistical Co. came back to his office at about 10:45 p.m. Monday, he noticed the door of the office was ajar. Quickly sizing up the situation Thorgrimson rushed to a nearby phone to call the police and report a suspected robbery. When he returned home from the phone he saw the fleeting figure of a man at the side of the building. He gave chase but could not catch the suspect.

No material loss was reported by the company, but the building was completely ransacked and office equipment damaged. There was an attempt to break open the office safe, which might have been interrupted when Thorgrimson entered the building.

St. Martin's Confraternity

The Confraternity of Christian Mothers, St. Martin of Tours Church, Bethpage, will hold a meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 23, at 8:45 P.M. in the school cafeteria. The Rev. Charles F. Kohli of Glen Cove, guest speaker, will discuss the participation of the laity in the Church's worship in a talk entitled "The New Liturgy."

ASSEMBLYMAN EDWIN J. FEHRENBACH, guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Nassau County Federation of Republican Women, is pictured with Mrs. George Marthen of Baldwin, President of the Federation, and C. Bruce Pearsall, Leader of the Town of Oyster Bay, which was host for this meeting.

Coast Guard Cadet Third Class RUSSELL J. COLLINS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Collins of 15 Walnut Lane, Hicksville, participated in the Presidential Inauguration Ceremonies in Washington, D.C. January 20, as a member of the all-service military contingent that marched in the Inaugural Parade, while serving as a cadet at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn.

Zwirblis's promotion becomes effective Friday. He will be assigned to the First Precinct. The ceremony took place in the County Executive's Office.

ROBERT M. CHEPAK, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Chepak of 18 Switzerland Road, Hicksville, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force upon graduation from Officer Training School (OTS) at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Lieutenant Chepak, selected for OTS through competitive examination, is being assigned to the Air Training Command's Sheppard AFB, Tex., for training as an electronic data processing officer.

The lieutenant, a graduate of Hicksville High School, earned his B.S. degree at C.W. Post College, Brookville, N.Y.

THINKING IT OVER

By Robert L. Morgan

What else does NO mean but opposition, disapproval — not maybe, could be or possibly? What makes that so hard to understand?

In a democracy the majority decides the winner — the winner is the one that receives the majority of votes. Simple!

Then what is so difficult in understanding that when the People of New York State turn down questions placed on the ballot for their decision — when the voters say NO — they mean NO, and that a negative vote is not an open invitation to go ahead with the proposal or come back with an even larger, costlier proposal?

Look what has happened:

In 1962 the voters turned down a proposal that would have permitted the State to lease apartments in middle-income projects and sublease them at low rents, using taxpayers dollars every year to make up the difference in the rents. In 1964 the Legislature, at the Governor's request, approved a program that put into effect the same project that the voters had turned down in 1962.

Last November the voters turned down a proposal that would have increased the bond issue for low income public housing by $165 million.

In his recent message to the Legislature, the Governor requested:

1. expansion of the program to subsidize middle income apartments with taxpayer dollars, and
2. another bond issue for low income public housing of $200 million.

So to the Governor NO really means YES.

Reduce Slowly To Avoid Fatigue

By C. A. Dean, M.D.

(Q) "I would like some advice on reducing so it wouldn't cause weakness or fatigue." Mrs. J. K.

(A) This is an excellent question. All those who reduce want to avoid becoming weak. The one and only answer is to reduce slowly. The speed varies with the amount to be lost and the individual make-up. Only with the sudden, get-it-over-with-quick, crash-type diets do overweight persons get into trouble.

Editorial: Today I will continue advice to patients on air travel.

Patients who have diabetes can fly provided they keep their insulin and syringe in their hand baggage and are able to administer their own injections. Airline nurses, if present, usually are not allowed to give injections while a flight is in progress.

Anemic patients need careful checking if their hemoglobin is below 60 per cent. When it is above this figure, they usually can fly without question. It is best to have oxygen available in severe cases.

Pregnant women may fly during the first eight months of the pregnancy provided there is no history of repeated miscarriages or early deliveries. Some can fly in their ninth month if they furnish a statement from their obstetrician claiming that it would be safe for them to travel the stipulated distance.

Children are only fair air travelers. Those under five years of age experience air sickness and ear trouble five to ten times more frequently than adults. The airsickness may be due to insecurity and apprehension while the ear discomfort is associated with the difficulty of teaching children to swallow while the plane is descending. Infants under six weeks of age should not be flown any great distance if at all. A certificate from a pediatrician is requested for children under this age.

One special contraindication to air travel is a person with a wired jaw due to a facial fracture. The possibility of motion sickness would be hazardous for anyone unable to open his mouth.

An Indian Champion Of Segregation

By Russell Kirk

"Segregation" has become a devil-term in modern political and sociological discussions. Yet there are circumstances in which the separation of one group from its neighbors may benefit those so set apart.

An interesting instance of this occurs in connection with the "apartheid" (apartness) policy of South Africa. There, Negroes, "coloreds," Indians, and whites are segregated into distinct cultural and political communities, with separate townships for the different communities. Japanese, incidentally, are classified in South Africa as "white.") The large Indian minority — from India and Pakistan, that is — engages principally in shopkeeping and money-lending. Repeatedly, the Indians have been menaced by mobs or gangs of black Bantus, many of whom look upon the Indians as exploiters.

Although at first the Indian leaders objected vehemently to "apartheid," and though the Communists have made some inroads among the Indian community of South Africa, there are signs that the Indians may accept "apartness" without much reluctance — or, at least, may feel that they have made the best of a bad bargain.

One straw in this wind was a speech, at New Year's, by Mr. H.E. Joosub, president of the Pretoria Indian Commercial Association. Mr. Joosub told his associates in the South African capital that their Indian community is regaining its sense of security. "We can enter the new year with more confidence than in the past."

Residential segregation, he continued, has brought more advantages than hardships to Indians in South Africa. "In the past we were pegged down to existing accommodation, without the right to extend, and with the growth of our group it gave rise to overcrowding and unhealthy conditions. That is now a thing of the past."

Mr. Joosub spoke out against external interference with South African policies, which he said, can only harm the folk it is meant to help. He looks forward to the prospering of a distinct Indian community within the Republic of South Africa.

"The new Indian township will mean a revival of Indian culture, and we can hope that in the future the Indians of South Africa will be in a position to make a greater contribution to South Africa in this respect than ever has been the case in the past."

In lands where there exist side by side such vastly different cultures as the Bantu, the Indian, the Boer, and the English, it is unrealistic to suppose that mere mingling could produce harmony. One does not necessarily grow to love one's neighbor, when the neighbor's ways are separated from one's own ways by centuries of belief and custom. Under such circumstances — which are to be encountered in many other African countries — the preservation or development of distinct cultural communities and neighborhoods may well be the best possibility for living in peace. The Indians of South Africa, for instance, now are allocated townships where they can manage most of their own affairs and escape from ghetto-crowding and from friction with Negroes and "whites". In Africa, then, legally-recognized segregation may be preferable to the unwritten segregation which prevails in the "progressive Western democracies."

Social "integration", if involuntary, is either impossible or baneful. South Africa's Indians certainly do not desire to be integrated with the Zulus, and probably do not wish to be assimilated to the European community. With such minorities, some degree of segregation is the means of survival.

New Honor Soc. For H.S.

Commencing with the spring semester, a new and unusual program will be instituted at the Hicksville Junior High School.

The Verisage Chapter of the National Junior Honor Society will provide a tutoring service to students during their study periods. The tutors, known as AIDS (assist individuals develop scholarship), will offer their services in the areas of mathematics and science to ninth graders only. It is hoped, eventually, to expand this service to encompass a larger number of subjects and students. Those requiring assistance are urged to avail themselves of this unique opportunity.

SYOSSET ADVANCE

Hicksville High outwrestled undefeated Syosset High, 28-17, in a taunt match and is on the verge of its first divisional championship in history.

The Orange and Black was also undefeated in five league matches and moved one ahead at 6-0. An engrossed house at Hicksville did not realize the victory until next to the last match when Bill Brock earned a 2-2 draw in the 183-pound class to insure the verdict.

It prevented Ralph Sonntag from sealing the title with a win in the unlimited class and it was well for the crowd. If the outcome had hung on that one the tension would have been fearful.

Sonntag had a noble challenger who just would not be put down but the Hicksville ace gained his 11th straight win with a 4-0 decision.

A 5:47 of the 98-pound class Neil Duncan signaled a good Hicksville start by scoring a pin. Howard Berkowitz was ready but his opponent was not and the Orange won by default. Ed Fisher pinned Hicksville's Dave Trudil at 5:26 in a stunning win.

Horace Lindo won 4-3 in 123 and Bill Petrone won a 9-6 decision. Neal Happel drew 5-5. The storm clouds gathered as Hicksville moved in to the heavier weights where it has lost ground this year.

Harry Fischer outmaneuvered Richard Justman 7-3 but Barry Damm drew 5-5 in the 148 class for vital points. Bill Kraft won an easy 7-1. Syosset fought off the final blow as James Dyckman lost 4-0, but Brock held on.

Hicksville has won league match with Plainedge on February 11 before it can claim the championship entirely its own.

Undefeated Syosset High invades Hicksville High tonight (Thursday) in a pre-holiday game. Hicksville is in a precarious position deadlocked in third place with MacArthur for the last playoff spot.

The Syosset Braves are not forgetting last year. After a big win on their home boards the Braves were edged 61-60 at Hicksville. They are wary this time despite another opening round rout of the O & B.

There should be a full house at Hicksville. We hope it won't be all Syosset people. The Comets have had poor support this year from the entire school and community.

Hicksville won an easy game at Clarke last week 70-48 in a contest in which everyone could and did look good.

Hicksville needs this win and will get it! Hicksville 48, Syosset 45.

Hicksville was rocked by a big surprise when the Clarke Junior Varsity administered the first defeat to the Comet JV, 58-56. It was also the first loss for the Hicksville group since they were undefeated in the last Freshman campaign.

It was a totally unexpected reverse since Hicksville had mopped up by 39 points in the year's initial outing.

The Comets fell back 12 points early in the fourth period and came on strong to tie the game 56-56 with 23 seconds remaining. Clarke took the final shot. The ball was in the air at the horn and fell off the backboard into the nets for the victory.

If the Hicksville players were over impressed with their long winning streak or upset by the loss, they contained their feelings. They warmly congratulated the Clarke players who were in a panic and then walked to the locker room without emotion.

It is unfortunate to lose at any time but it is commendable to lose with grace.

It is too bad that some of the axe-grinding adults in this town don't get out and watch the good behavior of Hicksville students at games, concerts, plays, etc.

If they possessed the manners of the great majority of the students we would not have adults bemoaning the entire reputation of 3,000 students because of a few attempted and some untrue childish acts attributable to an isolated few.

It is appalling that an entire student body is slurred by old wives tales exaggerated out of size. That they pick up speed in the District's own Tiffany windowed administration office in the center of town is only more disconcerting.

A good time for this town to get off the back of its brain would be tonight when Syosset visits. This is one school which does not have to hire private patrol men with night sticks to run basketball games. It is also one in which, under the watchful eyes of the principal and his staff, the students seal the tickets and usher the house.

A new cheer for the Hicksville students should start --- Deliver us from evil.

Miss Rowohl Chosen DAR Citizen

Mrs. Charles Ardovino, Regent of the Oyster Bay Chapter, DAR, has announced that Miss Barbara Jane Rowohl has been selected as the DAR Good Citizen of the Hicksville High School for 1965. Mrs. Howard G. Williams, of Roslyn Harbor, chairman of the Good Citizen Committee, will make the presentation of award and citation to Miss Rowohl at the 12th annual Candlelight Tea ceremony at Raynham Hall of Feb. 19th.

Miss Rowohl has been an outstanding student in her entire school career in Hicksville. She has been a member of the Junior Honor Society, a National organization of outstanding pupils in Jr. High School and is now a member of the National Honor Society. She is also a member of the Modern Music Masters Honor Society, the Future Teachers of America, the French Club, and an active member of the high school orchestra. She has been a cheerleader and a member of the Junior Prom Committee.

Looking forward to the future, Miss Rowohl is now planning to attend the State University at New Paltz to study for a teaching career in social studies, preferably on the secondary level.

Miss Rowohl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Rowohl of 70 Elm St., Hicksville.

Hostesses for the Candlelight Tea will be Mrs. George Wulfort and Mrs. Nicholas Massa of Syosset and Miss Margaret DeVoe of Oyster Bay.

Conservatives To Meet Feb. 18

The February meeting of the Oyster Bay - Syosset Conservative Club will feature an address by Kieran O'Doherty, Chairman of the Conservative Party's National Affairs Committee and a member of its State Executive Committee.

As the Conservative candidate for the United States Senate in 1962, Mr. O'Doherty opposed Senator Jacob K. Javits. He ran again in 1964 against Congressman John V. Lindsay for the post of U. S. Representative for the 17th Congressional District in Manhattan.

Mr. O'Doherty is expected to comment on the choice of Senator Javits by the Syosset-Woodbury Republican Club as the speaker at this year's Lincoln Day Dinner on February 13. Local Conservatives have voiced considerable criticism over the selection of Javits, whom they regard as a liberal extremist.

The meeting will be held on Thursday, February 18, beginning at 8:30 p.m., at the Chase Manhattan Bank on Jericho Turnpike in Syosset. The public is cordially invited.

Anyone desiring further information should contact the club chairman, Eugene L. Plastino of Syosset, at WA 1-8739.

Installation will be made "as soon as the details can be settled and the work on the signal accomplished," according to a communication received by Democratic Committeeman Irving Gold of Levittown from Chief Traffic Engineer Llyod A. Maeder, last week.

Gold was advised that recent traffic counts and observations confirmed his belief that an interval should be provided on the signal for vehicles to turn left into Hempstead Turnpike.

The action was an apparent response to Gold's letter to the Commission two weeks ago citing traffic difficulties at the intersection and protesting it was dragging its feet since 1961 when he first petitioned for the installation.

Drink to Me Only With Thine Pupils

That story about a number of precious little darlings, otherwise known as school kids, smuggling intoxicating beverages, if you please (Sake, wine, liquor, beer and even scotch-flavored candy) into Hicksville's public high schools should at first shock and then prod the community into taking swift decisive action against the continuing enrolment of John Barleycorn in the schools.

It should, but I fear it won't.

Incidentally, although I think the drinking problem in the Hicksville schools is far more serious than the school administration has admitted, the administration is still to be commended for having "spilled" as much of the truth as it has, after having at first denied that the problem actually existed.

In any event, any community which values self-respect, more than it does the false image often projected by its leaders should vigorously war upon the forces -- the social climate itself -- which permit kids of high school age or younger to become potential alcoholics before they're old enough to know better.

The wearers of the cloth should speak out against this evil from their pulpits, appealing to the moral conscience of the community.

Businessmen should cooperate in seeing to it that concrete proof of age is presented before any teenagers of questionable age are permitted to buy intoxicating beverages, anywhere in town.

PTA's could well campaign against the drinking-in-the-schools problem, although I fear PTA's generally will do whatever the school administration wants them to do.

Finally, parents themselves should see to it that their underage children don't drink, and more importantly, that alcoholic beverages are kept out of their reach.

Just how extensive is the underage drinking problem? A Yale University study showed some time ago that at least two-thirds of known alcoholics began drinking at high school age or even younger!

Other writers have taken note of the problem and have interviewed high school students on the whys and wherefores of their early drinking habits.

Is it any wonder that there is so much drunkenness and rowdiness among college students? The kids get an early start.

Still, it remained for Hicksville to be the situs of the drinking-in-the-schools story -- another FIRST for this bustling, booming, vibrant community!

To look at the obverse of the coin, why shouldn't kids learn to drink early?

They learn to do just about everything else early.

Overbearing mothers with social butterfly aspirations push their kids, girls especially, into dating early. Father is too busy making a buck and trying to keep up with mounting taxes to pay much attention to his children. Besides, long ago mother showed him who's boss in the family, and he doesn't dare chastise his kids lest he be labeled a brute or a domineering father, as one psychologist put it in the case of a father who tried to force his son to do his homework.

On the other hand, some schools, as part of their "socializing" process, hold dances even for junior high school kids, so they too must snare part of the blame for kids being thrust into adulthood long before their time.

Perhaps the answer to it all is not only to raise the legal drinking age in New York to 21, thereby making our neighbor states decidedly happy, but to also up the legal driving age to 21. I can hear the yelps already as kids, 17, 18, 19 or 20 are denied the keys to daddy's Cadillac.

To sum it all up, since prayer has been booted out of the schools, why should any of us preach, teach, or screech about the mores of a community?

Only a community newspaper, I fear, has the quality of courage necessary to even broach the subject.

Who buys more Savings Bonds?

As statistical-minded as we are today, the Treasury Department can't answer that question.

The Treasury does know that U.S. Savings Bonds are owned by tens of millions of families. So it might be safe to assume that people in every walk of life belong to this "savings club."

This is a happy fact for the United States, and for the free peoples of the earth. For Savings Bond dollars are playing an important role today in the making of history.

This $46 billion reserve in the government's hands is working vigorously today to help our country in the major struggle to defend freedom.

At the same time, Savings Bonds help build your personal purchasing power by paying good interest and providing a method of saving that's unconditionally safe and readily cashable. And the higher your purchasing power, the better it speaks for our system.

It all adds up to one of the best ways you can save money and at the same time help your country. Start buying Bonds next payday—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or from any bank—and see if you don't feel pretty good about it.

Quick facts about U.S. Savings Bonds

- You get $4 for every $3 at maturity
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, stolen or destroyed
- You can get your money anytime
- You can save automatically on Payroll Savings

Studio Art To See Demo

The Studio Art Group of Hicksville, a non-profit group, will meet at the "Picture House," 251 Post Ave., Westbury, on Wednesday, February 17 at 8 p.m., to watch a demonstration by Mr. Steinhardt of the Picture House (the Steinhart Art Gallery).

Mr. Steinhardt will show how to frame and mat paintings and will answer questions on the subject.

According to program chairman, Mrs. Henry Balfour, a meeting has been scheduled at Hicksville Public Library for Thursday, February 25 at 8 p.m. for members of the Studio Art Group. During this meeting the film "Venice, theme and variations," will be shown. The theme, Venice, a city of enchantment. The variation, as it has been seen by generations of artists from the 13th century to the present, interspersed with live action shots of the city in actuality. Early Italo-Byzantine artists as well as Whistler and Steinberg are among the artists whose works reveal the beauty of this city.

Mrs. Olga Hoebel, chairman, for the group, together with Mrs. Lester Binger, art chairman, are planning an art exhibit for May and an oil painting demonstration for April at the Hicksville Public Library.

If You Please

By Peter Pettibone

Jane and Joe are among my very favorite Oyster Bay hosts. For the past few years in their home has hung a contemporary painting by a well known artist, of a nude figure seen from the back. It's really a charming study of a beautiful girl, and it's a favorite of its owners. It hangs in a conspicuous spot halfway up their main stairway. Last week Jane gave Joe a surprise birthday party. Champagne and booze flowed like mad. About midnight Jane requested her "sleepy spouse" to go upstairs and bring down their wedding pictures. Hubby Joe suddenly stopped on the stairs and stared at the painting in disbelief absolutely aghast. The painting of the girl whose back he had so long admired had turned around and she was facing him! Of course Joe nearly fainted. Afterwards his wife and the guests disclosed to him the hoax. They had arranged with the same artist for another portrait of the same model and substituted it for the original. Joe's laughing again. I think he has an idea for Jane's birthday, next month... Textile tycoon Harold Applegate, Plandome, has a female chauffeur, pretty too... Port Washington being invaded by Democrats. New Congressman Lester L. Wolfe has moved into 156 Main St. This same edifice has Democrats Michael J. Salomone and Albert F. Kimball practicing law there. Al Kimball nearly became State Senator recently... The late Sheriff Tom Dooley's widow working as a Judge's secretary, already. She has two lovely and polite children, who will miss their dad very much, as we all will... Incidentally, Port Washington is the only town I know of where you can call any man or woman there a "Clam Digger" and they smile. (It's their code for being in the group)... Joe Franklin's Down Memory Lane Show, WOR CH-9, has requested this department to come back-on and finish scrambling through our scrap book. We shall see... George Rocco, Hollis, tells us, "One of the first things a boy learns with a chemistry set is that he isn't going to ever get another one."... My nine-year-old-unmarried son Chuckie describes his recent appendectomy: "They told me it wouldn't hurt and then stuck a needle in my arm and I disappeared."... Manorhaven's Eddie Stone says he thinks the most important business in the world is "Minding Your Own Business." Andy Gallo, Carle Place rhymist tells us a poets creed: "He that lives by verse and thyme sure as heck works overtime."... Now that Rudy Zani's sold Villa Victor he has time to fly from his Woodbury home to his Maine camp at the drop of a hat. His dad Frank's planning another trip to the far-east. And Villa Victor's going on as strong as ever... Colin Cooney insists he overheard this at Mineola courthouse: "A jury consists of 12 citizens chosen to decide who has the best lawyer."... Southampton's Herb McCarthy checking a couple of the North Shore's top restaurants. Well, this is the time of the year Herb starts looking around. Then he goes back to Bowden Square and livens up his beautiful spot. Like Carl Hoppl, Herb's not sleeping at the throttle... If You Please...

Harry B. Fischer, president of United Cerebral Palsy Association of Nassau County, today (Feb. 4) announced acceptance by Howard L. Brown, Vice President of Chase Manhattan Bank, of general chairmanship of the 1965 Nassau Cerebral Palsy Campaign. At the same time, Fischer disclosed that Francis J. Anderson, former Nassau County Clerk, has accepted the CP Campaign treasurer's post.

program. He is the author of the Fehrenbach Plan for State Aid to Education.

"During his seven years in the Legislature, Assemblyman Fehrenbach has proved to be an outstanding and astute representative of the people," Senator Curran declared. "I consider it a high honor to chair this testimonial dinner to give recognition to a man who has compiled a most remarkable record in advancing progressive legislation." Fehrenbach was first elected to the State Assembly in 1957. Previously his background of service in Government included Assistant to the Supervisor, Town of Oyster Bay, Manager of the Town Hall Annex Office in Hicksville, and later, due to his demonstrated administrative abilities, was named Deputy Supervisor of the Town. A graduate of Hofstra University, the 45-year old Assemblyman holds an executive position with the Hempstead Bank and makes his home in Bethpage with his wife Lillian. He has two daughters. Senator Curran named Norman Wolf, Frank Hynes, Ralph Diamond, Louise Mitchell, James Picken and Harvey Sch-luter as Vice Chairmen to assist him in the $50 plate affair. Tickets may be had by contacting Louis Mitchell at Oyster Bay Town Committee Republican Headquarters at 1051 Franklin Avenue, Garden City, or through the Vice-Chairman. Curran says he expects to announce expansion of the Committee with Chairmen in each community of the Town in the very near future.
