Two File For School Board

With about three weeks left for filing petitions for the two vacancies on the Hicksville Board of Education, two candidates with diverse backgrounds have already announced their candidacy for the board seats of William Bruno Jr. and George W. Kunz. Mr. Kunz has already declared that he will not be a candidate for re-election "for reasons that are not entirely personal." Mr. Bruno has not as yet made his decision known publicly although there are rumors that he will seek re-election. In addition two other candidates are said to be ready to run for the Board. This newspaper will present qualifications of candidates running for the Board.

In an unprecedented and truly democratic action the T.E.A.C.H. and U.N.I.T.E.D. groups have decided to support two candidates on a coalition slate in the 1965 Hicksville School Board election. Both groups are comprised of Hicksville residents who have consistently participated in school affairs and have found it expedient to combine their strengths and resources in order to rid this community of an obstructionist element which has undermined our educational system and impeded the normal activities of the school community.

The U.N.I.T.E.D. - T.E.A.C.H. coalition proudly announces the candidacies of James E. Anderson, 3 Brooks Street and Marvin Goldberg, 8 Belmont Place, both of Hicksville. Mr. Anderson has filed for the seat now occupied by School Board Trustee William A. Bruno, Jr. Mr. Goldberg has filed for the seat now occupied by Trustee George W. Kunz.

James E. Anderson has been employed for the past thirteen years as Research Administrator of the Lily Tulip Cup Corporation Research and Development Center. His background includes vocational and educational counseling and training for the Veterans Administration. He holds a B.A. degree in Business Administration from Cornell College, Iowa and has done graduate work at St. Louis University. He served four years with

Witnesses Observe Memorial

"The anniversary of Christ's betrayal and death falls on April 16 after 6 in the evening this year," announced Mr. Truman Merchant, religious service director of the Hicksville Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses. Merchant continued, "We will meet in the Kingdom Hall, Brke Ave. & 22nd St., Jericho, at 8:30 p.m. to commemorate this most important date for Christians and all mankind." Merchant explained, "The memorial of Christ's death is celebrated only once a year by Jehovah's Witnesses on the evening corresponding to the date Nisan 14 of the Jewish calendar. This is the exact date of Christ's death. Our yearly commemoration of it is based on Jesus' command recorded at Luke 22:19, 'Keep doing this in remembrance of me.' Merchant concluded, "Mr. Joseph Correnti of 27 Colony St., Hicksville will address the congregation on the significance of Christ's death for our time and the function the bread and wine play in the memorial. Correnti will feature a detailed explanation of the Gospel accounts of the first evening meal with the parallel account by the Apostle Paul at 1 Corinthians 11:20-34." Merchant said, "All our neighbors are invited to join with us in the commemoration of Christ's death at 8:30 p.m., April 16."

Pep Pills Still Dangerous To Use

MEDITORIAL: We have heard of the term "pep pills" a great deal - with its use by students to help them study more effectively and by truck drivers to keep them awake for long stretches on the road. Most of these uses are illegal, for pep pills must be obtained on prescription only. Blackmarketing in this field runs high.

Cramping by students has been common in the past and will be in the future. Attempts at learning a whole semester's work in a few nights is impossible but is always attempted. The pep pill is really a drug known as "amphetamine." This drug acts on the brain to cause loss of appetite (thus its medical use in overweight patients), to stimulate the heart and to cause wakefulness. Its use in certain patients could be dangerous. The effects last so many hours, then abruptly wear off even if the drug is continued. Thus, truck drivers who have gone beyond normal limitations of endurance may suddenly be asleep before they can pull over to the side of the road. Ironically these "pep pills" do not always do what they are supposed to. A research study was done at Harvard Medical School recently in which 78 students taking calculus tests were given a sleeping pill, a sugar pill and amphetamine. The results showed that many of the students who took the "pep pills" did poorly as the drug seemed to impair their judgment.

There is no question that harm comes from the misuse of amphetamines. If you use them without a doctor's guidance - stop.

(Q) "I have a habit of eating plain starch. It seems the more I eat, the more I want. Is it harmful?" Mrs. M.M.

(A) Starch is basically a simple carbohydrate much like sugar. Excesses should not cause any more harm than that expected with too much sweets - overweight and poor teeth.

Do you have a medical question? Write Dr. C.A. Dean, in care of this newspaper.

Letters

To the Editor:

In July 1962, the Supreme Court of the United States declared the Hicksville Schools use of the Regents Prayer unconstitutional.

In a decision on August 20, 1962 the Commissioner of Education declared "that in designating certain lines from the Star Spangled Banner as an official prayer for use in the schools of that community was in violation of the Supreme Court ruling."

(Actually students had been reciting, rather than singing the third stanza of the Star Spangled Banner) which contained the word God.

In October of 196, The Long Island Catholic cited the following, "The 91 member board of the NNational Congress of Parents and Teachers endorsed the U.S. Supreme Court's ban on religious exercise in public schools."

It is apparent that an all too prevalent atmosphere of anti-

God moves in America.

At the March 26th Hicksville School Board meeting, Trustee William Bruno introduced a motion to allow a pennant with the words "One Nation Under God" to fly under our Great Flag. Not one trustee could bring himself to second the motion. Neither would they explain whether they refused to second the motion because Mr. Bruno had introduced it, or whether they were each expressing their own personal feelings.

Perhaps the school board trustee should read and ponder the words of the late President Kennedy, who stated, "Let us go forth to lead the land we love, asking His blessing and His help, but knowing that here on earth God's work must truly be our own."

Expressly yours,
Wesley H. Tietjen

To the Editor:

Wednesday evening, March 31, I went to the library to attend the library budget meeting. My primary purpose was to inquire whether there had ever been a survey

Thoughts From Snowbound Writer In Blizzard

Snowbound - Russell Kirk

Sumptuously snowbound, your servant writes these lines amidst a Great Plains blizzard. Outside the windows of the Presidential Suite in Omaha's Sheraton-Fontaine Hotel (where my boots thoughtfully lodged me), a wild wind is depositing more than 18 inches of snow in the heart of the city.

Man has not wholly conquered Nature, praise be. Bulldozers notwithstanding, I have been snowbound for three days in a country house near Oyster Bay - where I had only come for dinner; rainbound in the old Kinshouse Inn, on the edge of desolate Rannoch Moor, for four days; stormbound for as long in Beaver Island, amid Lake Michigan; windbound in the misty Hebrides.

To be thus a prisoner of Nature, all planes and trains and boats and automobiles frustrated, is a pleasant thing - supposing one has something to eat, sufficient warmth, and either good company or good books. The favorite long poem of my youth was Whittier's "Snowbound". As in those stanzas, which every schoolchild used to scan at length, an open fire contributes mightily to the delights of the occasion. (Peat, as somehow more "natural," primitive, and inefficient, is a better fuel for such a captivity than coal or wood.)

Modern man, with his designs upon the territorial integrity of the moon, needs to be chastened now and then by a whimsical Nature. Vainglorious though we are, we cannot yet set wholly at defiance the physical phenomena of the inanimate world. In the jet age, we talk now of annihilating time, though once we were content merely to kill it. And yet we remain the captives of time and circumstance, strutting our little hour before we go down to dusty death.

As the old Greeks knew, the gods wax wrathful against men overweeningly arrogant. So I fancy will Nature someday - and not merely by a snowstorm - for our twentieth-century flouting of her. We think always of "conquering" Nature - which is no way to court her.

You may recall, gentle reader, that the Europeans who first surmounted Mount Everest, talked of "conquering" the peak. But Tensing, their Sherpa guide, said he would like to visit the Buddha who dwells on the summit. Here one sees, strongly contrasted, the swaggering ambition of modern man, set beside the conciliatory and affection attitude toward Nature which simpler - and perhaps wiser - people have entertained.

Some men, the moment they see a strange bird, yearn to shoot the creature; when they come upon a great tree, their impulse is to chop it down. Man is the worst of predators: for while even the tiger and the wolf live, after their fashion, in harmony with Nature, not disturbing the balance of things, man - in this like the black rat - often seeks to extirpate all other energies.

Such is the diabolical in us. But, believing that devils eventually meet their comeuppance, here sit I amid the blizzard, unperturbed at being kept away from home for a day or two. Let Nature play her pranks; a great beauty must be indulged in caprice.

to determine whether the activity of the bookmobile warranted the cost.

Much to my surprise, I was the only resident there other than the members of the library committee I thought that was a surprise until we began going over the figures; that was the biggest surprise of all. The space required to go over the budget item by item would not be fair to the editor who has always been so fair and generous in allowing space to residents.

Since the bookmobile was the obvious, just a few facts: the salary of the personnel assigned to it...$12,962. Liability insurance $458.78, Fire and theft about $95.50 Collision insurance (required by law) about $550, (the exact figures were not handy). How many people have you seen using this facility to warrant such an outlay?

A few more facts. Telephone $1600; that's about $133 per month. Who are they calling? Supplies $5,000. They mentioned they had to buy two typewriters last year. They also spent $5,000 last year. How many typewriters can you buy? I understand postage required to notify various people is not under this category.

We have a total of five librarians, salary totalling $33,694. Clerical help totalling $20,981.07. Our ians, salary totalling $53,694. Clerical share of the pension contributions is $25,186.40. That's a lot of help and a lot of money.

When I asked how come with a bigger library we expect $2000 less in "fines and fees", it was explained that we have been serving about 300 Jericho residents who pay $15 per card but Jericho has just completed its own library. The next logical question is "if" we had waited till the nearby communities completed their libraries would this huge expansion program we have undertaken be necessary?"

I do not mean to imply that Hicksville qualifies for the "poverty program" but there is a limit to how much we can afford. It is never wise to be "penny wise and pound foolish" as the saying goes but there is nothing wrong with good old honest economy. "Thrift" is not a bad word.
Sincerely yours,
Theresa Tisdell

Dear "Disgusted Citizen" (Mid-Island Times, Thurs., March 25, 1965)

Do keep Dr. Raywid's words in mind: "The real victims are, of course, your own children." Keep them in mind when you attempt to publicly disgrace the entire school system with the totally irresponsible words, "...recent drinking scandal involving our school youngsters." If you are interested in promoting truth why not explain the "scandal" in gory detail? Three (count them 3) boys sneaked something alcoholic into school. One of them had liquor flavored candy, of all things. This very small scale boyish prank which you see fit to dignify with the name "drinking scandal" was squashed the moment it was discovered, and the offenders were chastised.

Your "...school situation which demands correction..." simply does not exist. Obviously your group will have to find or create another "Cause celebre," but when you run Hicksville down to build yourselves up please remember, the real victims are of course, your own children."

Disgusted with a citizen without the courage to sign his name,
Norma Dagna

Dear Sirs:

May I ask if you will make a correction the write up of the Sr. Citizens Club of Bethpage which you published this current issue April 2. I sent the notice in last Saturday and perhaps my writing was not exactly legible, the date of the Public Card Party given by the Club is April 28th, not the 2nd as it got into this paper.

As most of our new members and guests are coming in through the notices in your paper, will you be so good as to give us a conspicuous notice of the correction so people will not come over at the wrong time. Thank you for your kindness in the past.

Sincerely yours,
Elsie F. Dwyer

DON'T BUY A FIRE ALARM (READ TWICE)

UNLESS YOU ANALYZE THESE IMPORTANT THINGS FIRST - - - -

1. Do you feel you have a 4 legged fire alarm? Man's best friend sleeps while he sleeps and unless you train your dog to bark if he sees a fire he will usually cower-a dog is afraid of fire-he's smarter than you. You don't seem a bit afraid to us.

2. Did the company you intend doing business with have a fire in a house with everyone asleep to prove their system works when you really need it. After all, do you want your family to be guinea pigs for some new company?

3. Is the company established a good while (10 years or more)? The mortality rate of fire alarm companies is almost 100% because it's a very hard product to get people to buy. Everyone says it's a good thing, but they wait-and wait-and wait-and wait-and wait.

4. Does the price you're paying include service-Permanently? Yes, permanently. Even the best company selling other products only has to guarantee their products for a few years at most - a fire alarm is so different. You may not need it until 1984 - then some night - need it more than you ever needed anything. And it's not like a television set. It's like a parachute - you may only need it once but it has to work the first time. You can call up and have a television fixed, only losing the use for a day or so, and when the man comes to fix it he just opens the back and goes to work. What if your fire alarm breaks? It's in the ceilings - it can take an expert all day! If the company or man you bought it from is out of business, you may have to have a new one put in - 2 people in your area did this year. A fire alarm is hard to pay for once.

5. Is the system as close to perfect as engineering of today can offer? Watch out here- you are no expert and your uneducated opinion may prove wrong 16 years later.

6. Is the company listed with Underwriters Laboratories? This doesn't mean you can't get a good product from a company that isn't, but why take the chance?

7. Have hundreds of people in your town bought from the company this year? No? Why not? (If they say yes, check - call from their list of installed jobs, spot checking).

8. Are you buying the salesman? You better hope not. It's the peace of mind and safety you should be after for you and your loved ones. The salesman is going to pick up the check and forget you- you'll see. Call back almost any salesman you bought something from 5 years ago. He won't remember you and you probably won't remember him either.

9. Are you looking for value, or safety? You can have both but again - look out - for less money than you should pay you are losing one. Cheap is cheap, except in the long run.

10. Is the company making false claims or intentionally misleading you in any way? No? Are you absolutely sure? If they'll mislead you on one thing, why not on many? Everything? Don't you want the real value of a fire alarm (when there's no fire)? Peace of mind? Has this made sense so far? If not, reread. You were "scanning." Let's continue.

SAVE FOR FUTURE REFERENCE

11. Consider this the most important decision you ever made, it might be - - - true? One of your neighbors on Edward Lane bought a fire alarm from us last April. He had his fire January 5. His boy was home alone asleep (the alarm alerted him and he got out of the burning house with ample time to spare. It was just one of 3 fires that took place in a home protected by a Life Saver Fire Alarm in your area this year alone. Our alarm proved to be an important decision in these homes almost immediately. This happened in Baldwin Harbor on Jeffrey Street within 2 weeks of installation and in Franklin Square and in Plainview - all this year! Oh yes, in Cedarhurst too. (Call us if you want proof.)

12. Are you waiting because you "want to pay cash"?-this is the biggest fib you ever told yourself. Isn't it true you'd never be without fire insurance? Not even for 2 weeks? (It cost the same price as a fire alarm but you have to pay every 3 years not just once). If you wouldn't be without fire insurance, how can you be without a fire alarm? It protects the only thing in the home that the fire insurance doesn't protect and the only thing in the house that's irreplaceable! - Human Life. And to collect fire insurance you have to get out. Six bucks and change a month for 3 years won't kill you. Neither will the Down Payment.

13. There is no 13. It's unlucky

14. Are you waiting till you find a reliable company? If you don't use us, we'll feel sorry for you. So when you need us, we'll come and fix it - at a charge that's fair. Two people had us "fix" their system - we put in ours - at full price - Names given upon request.

15. Are you in the process of "checking"? What are you checking? Are you checking? Did you check us? Why Not? (How long have you been checking?) Stop "checking" - write a check!

16. Are you (usually the husband) not sure yet they're effective? Fire Commissioner Cavanaugh said and we quote, "almost all lives could have been saved in a recent survey on fire deaths in the city of New York by dependable systems of warning." Well? Nassau Fire Marshall George Clough said, "The delayed discoveries of fires are the primary reason for the large loss in most fires. Fire alarm systems sold by reputable companies are invaluable in guarding against such fires." The city of Quincy, Massachusetts passed a law making it mandatory for new homes to have fire alarms way back in '58 - "Check" with the Quincy Fire Department on the amazing record since the law was passed. Philadelphia just passed the same law-the 6th largest city in the United States. Do you think all the fire experts in the United States are lying?

17. If you knew you were going to have a night fire (the real killer fire)- What would you do? Check soon, and get the protection, that's what! You just don't believe it could be your house next. (Nobody does.) There are almost 1,000,000 home fires every year. None of these people thought they would have their fire. For many it was their first and last fire. Isn't the killer in fire, "defective planning?"

18. Are you wondering about the odds? (Maybe it's worth the gamble.) Fire is the #1 accidental killer in the home. Fire is the #2 accidental killer in the country. Fire kills more children than any single disease! For the price of an alarm is this gamble worth it?

19. Are you looking for 100% safety? Good but "Meanwhile" get the protection while you're looking for perfection. We can always add anything "new and improved." (We offer a free system to anyone who can improve our system-gladly.)

20. The price stopping you? To get our low, low estimate for your home, call IV 9-2537 - You can dial 2 words on the telephone dial to get us. "IT WAKES" (a fire alarm's sole and only purpose). So be real brave and allow us to chat with you for a few minutes. Our literature used to say Fire is deadly, it kills - Dial "IT KILLS" on your telephone dial. But believe it or not, people called that a "scare tactic." So we changed it to "IT WAKES". Better? For those of you who have our alarm - remember - throw the test switch once a month, keep giving those Fire Drills to the kids and call us anytime for Free Service - even if you bought it in 1954. Battery changes are being made in your area now so expect our yearly call to remind you. Help your friends have the peace of mind you now have by calling us and giving us their name and phone number. They may intend to call but not get around to it. It's our job to stay with it until they get the protection too. Your fire alarm won't do them any good if they have a fire some night when they're all asleep.

21. One last thing - There's a special discount price if you buy now in your area because of the volume. If you call too late don't say we didn't warn you. Offer subject to end without notice. Probably a few more days - at the most a week or two - depending on you. Brooklyn, Westchester, Suffolk and South Jersey installations are being done, so have your friends call on us. Tune in to 92.7 F.M. to hear our radio advertising from 9 A.M. thru 11 P.M. every day, all day, 6 days a week.

Exchange Club Tackles Alcohol

A vigorous program to provide facilities for treatment of alcoholics via public and or private funds is to be initiated by The Exchange Club of Plainview-Bethpage it was announced today by its president, Jules Bender.

He has appointed Frank Corso Chairman of the Committee.

Mr. Bender stated that he was very pleased to be able to secure the services of Mr. Corso to serve as Chairman. As a civic leader and practicing attorney as well as a member of our organization, he is capably prepared to look into this extreme problem concerning our local, county and national society. As president of the Exchange Club, Mr. Bender stated that Exchange Clubs across the nation have always been in the forefront in fulfilling community needs.

Upon addressing the Exchange Club at their regular weekly luncheon Mr. Corso stated that he was pleased to be appointed Chairman of the Committee.

He charged that there has been some laxity of attention to the problem of alcoholism. As a practicing attorney he said "I am frequently confronted with matrimonial problems based upon the alcoholism of either husband or wife. There is no sadder situation than an alcoholic mother, or father as far as children are concerned." Mr. Corso continued "that the juvenile problems and the narcotic problems are frequently intertwined with a home that lacks parental supervision due to alcoholism. There is nothing sadder to see than a mother in an alcoholic stupor, disheveled in her home, paying no attention whatsoever to her young children who so badly need these attentions. It is frequently, in reaction to an alcoholic parent, that a child will begin sniffing glue and then proceed along the inimical steps to 'Mainlining'."

Mr. Corso stated "that while narcotics is receiving considerable publicity not undeservedly, the alcoholic problem is much more widespread. Ask yourself" he said "if you know anyone either in your family or a friend who has a narcotics problem and then ask yourself the same question regarding alcoholism. It is almost certain that more people will know of someone with an alcoholic problem."

Mr. Corso stated that there are no facilities available with few exceptions for the treatment of alcoholics. He charged that this disease of alcoholism is both ignored and swept under the bed. Medical insurance policies such as blue cross specifically except treatment of alcoholics from coverage. Doctors generally, because so little is known about the problem, avoid treatment of patients. Hospitals avoid the problem and refuse to become involved.

It is because of this existing situation that we in exchange are going to try to do something as part of our overall program of service to the community.

Mr. Corso stated that the first step in his program will be to hold a forum type conference with experts in the field participating.

Burns PTA Meets Apr. 28

College Notes

Bruce H. Seide, a 1962 Hicksville High School graduate, was elected as Grand Chancellor of the Nu Epsilon Zeta Fraternity. This is the oldest local fraternity on the Northeastern University campus, which is located in Boston.

Last year he had been Grand Scribe of the Fraternity. Bruce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Seide of 24 Meade Ave., Hicksville.

Letters

In recent weeks the spot-light of inquiry has been focused on the activities of the Hicksville P.T.A. leadership.

It has been established that some of the Hicksville P.T.A. units have deviated greatly from their true purpose and function, and have become extensions of certain factions which are determined to control the Hicksville Educational System.

Responsible, concerned parents need to be aware of the New York State Educational Laws which govern the P.T.A. and its functions.

1. Is there any contradiction between the nonpartisan policy and the legislative function of the P. T.A.?

A. The primary function of the P.T.A., in membership with the National Congress, is to support legislation at the Federal, State and Local level in the field of public education and child welfare.

B. P.T.A.'s take a stand on principles and issues not on candidates or political parties. (They may never sponsor, openly or otherwise, school board candidates or involve themselves in political issues.) Our Hicksville P.T.A. has formed a coalition with T.E.A.C.H. to support Marvin Goldberg and James E. Anderson.

2. What about P.T.A. membership on school boards?

A. The nonpartisan policy of P.T.A. does not bar officers or members of P.T.A. from school boards as long as they do not seek the endorsement of the P. T.A. groups or use their memberships to promote the office.

B. The P.T.A. may disseminate information about school board standards, to the community at large.

C. The P.T.A. may sponsor a public meeting for this purpose. (All community groups should be invited to send representatives so that the qualifications may be discussed and publicized.)

3. Is there danger that a P.T.A. will attempt to interfere in the administration of the schools?

A. P.T.A.'s membership with the New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers adheres strictly to the policy of non interference in school administration.

Anyone desiring more information concerning the P.T.A. from the office of the N.Y. State Congress of Parents and Teachers may obtain same from 152 Washington Avenue, Albany, N. Y.

It would not be fair to implicate the many sincere, dedicated women who give lavishly of their time in furthering the many fine aims of the P.T.A. unit, bent on serving the children of this community.

They too, are sickened by the situation that has developed in speak out; lest they be ostracized.

Questions which need to be answered by the P.T.A. leaders are:

1. Why does the Hicksville P.T.A. align itself with T.E.A.C.H.?

2. Why has the Hicksville leadership spearheaded a drive to establish "Extremism," yet remains silent about "Communist" inroads in Education?

3. The "Extremist Pamphlets" which have been distributed, cost 15 cents each. There are 10,013 registered houses in Hicksville. Who is footing such a big bill?

3. Why has the local P.T.A. Council repeatedly attempted to secure money from the school board to cover the cost of mailing this "Extremist Pamphlet"?
