Junior Olympics Set For Aug. 7

The Town of Oyster Bay and the Metropolitan Association, amateur athletic union of the U.S., will jointly sponsor the 1965 Outdoor Junior Olympic Swimming Meet at Plainview - Old Bethpage Community Park pools, Saturday, August 7, announced Councilman Edmund A. Ocker.

Mr. Ocker, who is chairman of the Town Board Standing Committee on Beaches and Waterfront, said "We are delighted that the Association's Junior Olympic Committee has again honored this community park district by requesting the use of its outstanding pool facilities for the second straight year. This nationally known event gives impetus to our recreational and physical fitness program."

Participation in the events has increased each year and the added diving events for the first time this year are expected to increase attendance once more. About 600 participants, 17 years of age and under, took part last year and more are expected this year.

Councilman Ocker said that a preliminary schedule, similar to the 1964 program which was so successful, has been proposed by George E. Colombo, who is chairman of the Association's Junior Olympics and Age Group Committees.

Events for girls are scheduled for 10 a.m. and for boys at 4 p.m. Discussions on the special diving events, whether to schedule them prior to the swimming meet or on the evening of August 6, are proceeding. A rain date of August 21 is also being considered.

The competition is open to boys and girls residing in Nassau, Suffolk and Westchester Counties and the New York Metropolitan area. There will be four age group events: Midg t, for 10 years and under; Junior, for ages 11 and 12; Intermediate for ages 13 and 14; and Senior for ages 15 through 17 inclusive.

Applications are available at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Park pool. The registration fee will be 50 cents the same as in previous years.

Stewart Ave. Bids Placed

Public Works Commissioner Eugene F. Gibbons received five bids for the improvement of Stewart Avenue from Central Avenue to South Oyster Bay Road, Bethpage. The apparent low bidder was Hendrickson Brothers, Valley Stream, with a bid of $1,007,018.

The two and one-half mile project will increase the width of Stewart Avenue to a uniform 64 feet and provide additional drainage. The increased capacity of the road will enable it to serve the area, which includes the Grumman plant, more effectively.

Dem Favors Education Increase

Rockefeller, in vetoing a bill to increase per pupil State Aid over the next three years, has struck another blow at the Long Island home owner who must continue to bear the major share of the cost of financing education. Coming as it does on the eve of the implementation of his sales tax, this veto is indeed another example of the Governor's cynical disregard of the needs of this community.

Fehrenbach Would Eliminate Beach Fee

The $3 beach permit fee Oyster Bay residents now pay annually will be eliminated next year if Assemblyman Edwin J. Fehrenbach has his way.

He says it can be done without a revenue loss to the Town by using the additional per capita aid which will be received from the State. The Legislature this session voted to double the per capita aid formula.

Fehrenbach, who is running for Supervisor in Oyster Bay, announced his plan last night (July 20) at a meeting of the Massapequa Republican Committee.

Calling his proposal a "meaningful tax deduction," Fehrenbach said, "I believe the aid increase should be passed along to the people."

He pointed out that there are approximately 30,000 beach permits issued annually to Oyster Bay residents who pay the fee. The permits, he said, would still be issued but no fee would be collected.

Fehrenbach said he decided to propose eliminating the fee after reviewing Town program priorities and the increases expected from the State.

He said, "I believe this is one of the most constructive ways to apply these revenue increases. We must resist the temptation to turn this extra aid into a slush fund."

"The Legislature approved this program in order to provide some relief from the costs of local government. The beach permit fee is one nuisance cost we can do away with cheerfully."

CYD Regis. Set For Football

Registration for Holy Family R.C. Church, Hicksville C.Y.O. football will be held at the Dutch Lane School field Saturday, August 7, at 10 A.M. and each week day evening at 6:00 P.M. through August 13.

Boys between the ages of 8 years and 13 years are eligible.

Commissioner John Powers is most anxious for the older boys sixth and seventh graders to enroll, though all boys of Holy Family Parish are welcome.

Large New Office Building

Outside terraces, an advanced system for controlling interior climate and "swimming breaks" in an adjoining pool are offered by Hicksville's newest office building.

The four-story, 50,000 square foot Parkway Building, just opened at 550 Old Country Road at Wantagh Parkway, is the largest office building in Hicksville.

The Parkway structure's owners-builders, Rayburn Burgess of Laurel Hollow; Thomas Pepitone of Sands Point and Richard C. Saeli of Garden City, describe the building's location as the geographical and population center of Long Island.

The exterior of the steel, plastic faced-concrete and glass Parkway structure is matt-colored brick in varied soft brown shades. The design of the building provides outside exposure for all offices. Large glass areas admit generous light, and eight-foot-wide sliding doors of thermal glass open on the top two floors onto outside terraces, believed by the builders to be a new feature in office buildings in the East.

Individual interior climate control is provided by an advanced system of year-round air conditioning. Its installation at the Parkway is the system's first in an office building in the East, according to the system's manufacturer, Lennox Industries Inc.

Originally designed for the California Commission on School Construction Systems, the air conditioning system is completely air cooled, using no water. This feature makes it unnecessary to rely for cooling on water, which has become scarce in many areas of the country, and avoids maintenance often needed to preserve efficiencies of water-cooled systems over the long term, according to Lennox.

At the Parkway, six low-silhouette roof-top package multi-zone units provide a total of 140 tons of cooling capacity. Automatic electronic controls govern gas heating, electrical cooling, humidifying, dehumidifying, ventilating and filtering as required.

If necessary, the system can heat one area of an office at the same time as another area is being cooled. A "power saver" enables the system to use filtered outside air for cooling when the temperature is 57 degrees or less.

The building is enhanced by the 16-inch-thick brick and masonry construction, interior walls of reinforced sheet-rock and six-inch thick aluminum-backed fiber glass insulation, and suspended acoustical tile ceilings, nine feet high. Interior illuminations by recessed, diffused cool-light fluorescent tubes.

Floors are of vinyl asbestos tile and can bear loads of up to 100 pounds per square foot, sufficient for computer installations. Drapery is fire-resistant fiber-glass, and lobbies and identical front and rear entrances have Masland Duran fabric-backed vinyl wall coverings approved by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., and resistant to mildew, color-fading, flame, abrasion and soiling.

Two high-speed automatic self-service elevators, finished in walnut, serve the building. Each floor has drinking fountains, and rest rooms with vinyl walls, formica vanities and one-piece seamless Torginol floors facilitating cleanliness.

There is paved off-street parking for 200 cars. Besides adjoining pool and cabana facilities, there are modern shopping, motel and restaurant facilities in the immediate area.

Major tenants who have already committed for space in the new Parkway Building include The Reuben H. Donnelley Telephone Directory Company, Farrell, Neilly and Perruit, for many years a Hicksville legal firm; Sabur Corp., builders and developers; and Bankers Life Company of Des Moines, Iowa, which is expanding with additional offices for its New York City agency to accommodate growth and provide improved policy service, according to John Tausk, agency manager and William Abelman, unit manager.

Girls Return With Victory

There were smiles on the faces of the girls of the Bethpage Ponytail League as they returned victorious from Chatterton Field in the Bronx.

The All Star team from Bronxchester came to Bethpage, Saturday, July 10 and lost 2 games to the Bethpage team. The girls were the pick of the 6 Ponytail teams and consisted of Linda Holden, Pat Reith, Janet Cream, Jayne Colombo, Linda Murphy, Janet Handel, Helen Clizzis, Angel Cappellino, Linda Korp, Arlene Duffy, Lorraine Bader and Susan Miller. Linda Holden pitched the first game and Pat Reith the second.

The following Saturday, July 17, carloads of players and rooters went to the Bronx for a second contest. Again Bethpage won both games, this time Linda Holden pitched both. Added to the rooster for the second game were Jean Holgerson, Barbara Byrnes, Cathy Remsbecker and Denise Keeley.

Since the beginning of May the 6 teams of approximately 50 girls aged 10 to 15, sponsored by the Bethpage Baseball Assn., have been playing slow-pitched softball on Monday and Thursday evenings. Each team has men for managers and coaches who work with the girls balancing playing ability and lady-like sportsmanship.

Letters

In Mr. Russell Kirk's account, published in your issue for May 28, of the proceedings in the World Court with regard to South West Africa, there are a number of distortions about Liberia. There is today no "coloured aristocracy" and no "dissident minority ruled with an iron hand". The backward economy which was inseparable from a long struggle to maintain independence in a continent almost entirely dominated by Colonial powers is quickly being transformed by a tempo of development unequalled in few parts of Africa.

Anyone interested in obtaining objective and up-to-date information concerning these and other matters may refer to "The New Liberia", a work of sympathetic scholarship by Dr. Lawrence Marinelli, published a few months ago by Praeger, of New York.

In any case, it is not Liberia which is being judged on its record in South West Africa, and the main concern should be to enable the Court to restore and maintain the rights of the people of that territory.

Yours sincerely,

PBC Summer Candy Sale

On Saturday, July 24, the Hicksville unit of the Police Boys Club will hold a summer candy sale. The Hicksville unit badly needs funds in order to purchase much needed uniforms and equipment for the many activities P.B.C. holds for the boys of our community. These many activities keep the boys busy, thereby, keeps them off the streets. Please don't turn our boys away. They will be selling "Tootsie Roll Cylinders." They hold one pound of different types of tootsie rolls. It's a bank when it's empty, and it sells for $1. We ask the people of the Hicksville area for their help and cooperation by purchasing the candy. The money from this sale goes to a very worthwhile cause: Help to promote Juvenile Decency instead of Juvenile Delinquency.

Another reminder: Anyone who still has PBC uniforms, rifles, or any equipment belonging to PBC, please return it to us, we need it. Please drop it off at the clubhouse, 85 Bethpage Rd., Hicksville, or call Pres. Bob Williams, WEllis 1-4677, or Ptl. Director Frank Darcy, MY 4-3341.

THINKING IT OVER

By Robert L. Morgan

New York State already spends more per pupil and more in total for education than any other state in the nation.

The Legislature has approved a further increase in state spending for education of $117 million to bring the total state "aid" for 1965 - 66 up to $1,162 million.

School districts in New York State will spend a sum larger than the state "aid" total and on top of this the federal government will add a further $33 million from the recently enacted Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, that will be available directly for school district spending.

As usual this federal "aid" is expensive to New York State taxpayers, of the total $1,281 million in federal dollars that will be available under this act, an estimated $169 million will be paid by the taxpayers of New York State. In return New York State is eligible to receive a maximum of $109.5 million - a loss of nearly $60 million to New York State taxpayers. For every dollar the State can receive, it will cost $1.54 in federal taxes.

As the cost of this program goes up, so will the cost to New York State taxpayers.

Don't Change Diet Without Consulting Doctor

By C.A. Dean, M.D.

MEDITORIAL: I spoke of one of the ills of obesity yesterday and proposed the standard solution - reducing - in order to avoid trouble. Many of the ills and ailments suffered by man are, in some way, related to the diet. After all, it is food which supplies the energy and nourishment needed for life.

There has been a great deal of research and investigation in nutrition and many advances have been recorded. Because results and conclusions are time-consuming and hard to come by, progress is slow. Very often there is a great deal of controversy about the results. This is a healthy situation because it keeps us from accepting things that haven't been proved. Many people make major changes in their diets because of fads and inadequate dietary studies and thus liable themselves to injury.

Don't change your diet without the benefit of medical advice. Before you institute any type of dietary change you should consult your family doctor for information on this most important aspect of life.

(Q) "I fell about two months ago and hit the right side of my chest. A week later I developed pain which lasted for three days. Do you think the injury caused the pain?" M.A.O.

(A) Chest wall injuries can produce delayed pain, such as you experienced.

Do you have a medical question? Write Dr. C. A. Dean in care of this newspaper.

We Need Good Colleges For Negroes

By RUSSELL KIRK

Now that "integration" has been achieved in theory, will colleges for Negroes vanish? Not at all, says Dr. Earl J. McGrath, formerly United States Commissioner of Education and now at Teachers College, Columbia University. In a Teachers College publication, "The Predominantly Negro Colleges and Universities in Transition," Mr. McGrath demonstrates that we ought to improve these institutions, not abolish them.

This commentator, some weeks ago, participated in a lively student organized symposium at Wake Forest college; the subject was "The Emerging World of the American Negro." I shared the platform with Mr. Harry Ashmore, Editor-in-Chief of the Encyclopedia Britannica, and we talked about university and college education for colored people. I offer the gist of my remarks.

Despite the removal of legal and physical barriers to the admission of colored students to Southern institutions formerly reserved for whites, only a tiny handful of young Negroes have enrolled at such colleges and universities. Why? A principal reason is that few Negroes can both qualify and desire to enroll. "Integration" at this level has been ineffectual as an instrument for improving the condition of colored people.

At Northern institutions where Negro students are positively encouraged to enroll, still average performance among colored undergraduates is markedly below that of white students. Some good Northern liberal-arts colleges, eager to attract some colored students, have experienced difficulty in finding even one or two applicants who meet their ordinary admissions standards.

Whether from environmental causes or other reasons, the average Negro student is very badly handicapped at present in a classroom where most of the students are white. Even if his deficiency is merely the result of coming from a home where book-learning is little prized, still only the most extraordinary diligence can even partially compensate for inferior preparation or aptitude .. always allowing, of course, that some Negro students, as individuals, will turn out brilliantly.

Certain doctrinaire liberals have assumed that formal school integration, of itself, will give the young colored person equality of opportunity: that somehow wisdom and virtue will be rubbed upon the colored students by simple classroom association. Yet quite the opposite often is true. The Negro student of natural aptitude may grow so discouraged by his initial poor performance in the classroom under college "integration," that he ceases to strive.

Far from accelerating the general process of school and college integration, then, it seems to me that we ought to try to improve the quality of existing institutions for color people. Such colleges will be helped if we hastily drain off from them all students of promise. As individuals, colored Americans should be able to attend any public institution that will be of real benefit to them. But it is no kindness to them, or benefit to American society, if they are thrust into the schools where they sink to the bottom of the class. Some of the "colored" colleges have improved their standards greatly in recent years; and I hope they will thrive even more.

ANGRY HOMEOWNER EXPOSES GAS HEAT ESTIMATE

Below: complete text of letter as written by Mr. Fred H. Facompre, W. Sayville, N.Y.

Through no great desire to win a prize, but because of a desire to help anyone who attempts to correct the extravagant claims of "Lilco" I am giving my reasons for switching.

I read the "phony" letter from "Lilco" attesting to the estimated cost of heat for the new house I bought a year and a half ago. After living here a few months I found out (like every one else must finally do) that the est. letter was fine if you followed their rules for the thermostat. Of course you might freeze to death or die of flu in the process!

Another thing they neglected to mention, was that this est was for heat only! After careful comparison I discovered it was costing me about $11.50 per mo. for hot water (showers & wash for two children).

To top everything, after suffering through the first spring (I moved in March) I checked with the VA & FHA and found out that Lilco and the builder had put in a 60,000 BTU H.A. which did not even meet the min. requirements.

"To make a long story short," rather than fight this combination I installed an oil fired Hot water system. Now I can sit around in a tee shirt and be very comfortable all the time, not just when the burner is going. No more sweaters in the evening, no more colds, etc. Savings? prev Lilco budget $35.00 (increase to $37 in the first summer) — now (1) about $17.00 for oil and about $3.00 plus a mo. cooking gas total $20.00 (2) No money for medicines & Doctors for colds. (3) More than ample heat & hot water — (never uncomfortable on coldest days).

Savings Disposition? Purchased comfort (new system).

Tales Behind The Ticker Tapes

A Special Column by L. M. C.

There are over 8 million Americans who invest, and probably double that number who would like to, but simply don't know enough to take the plunge. What's the best way to begin?

Learn the language of Wall Street! Become familiar with the words and meanings in everyday usage in the world of finance. Ask, listen, and learn, not once, but over and over again. It's dollars and cents in the pockets of the one who does!

We've conducted a survey among various Wall Street brokerage houses with offices in Nassau County. Listed below are some of the questions most frequently asked of them. If you're a knowing investor, we'd like to know how your answers compare with ours.

What's a "blue chip" stock?

"Blue chips" are the stocks of America's leading companies: outfits like Standard of Jersey, Xerox, A. T. & T., I. B. M., DuPont, Goodyear, and Owens-Corning Fiberglas. Every industry has its leader, its "blue chip", and the thing to keep in mind is that they don't compete with the rest of the industry; they ARE the competition! They set the prices. They determine the industry's profit ratios. "Blue chips" may seem the most expensive but in the long run, dollar for dollar, they're cheaper by far than the hot young companies that are always popping up, only to leave their shareholders a little wiser and a lot poorer.

By the way, so-called "Baby blue chips" are simply second or third or tenth-rate companies that some hustling broker is trying to push, usually for his own profit, almost never for the customer's.

Is real estate as good an investment as sound common stocks?

That depends on the individual. Everyone's heard of people who have the knack for picking properties that will double or triple in value in the next six months. As for the dangers, don't forget that there hasn't been a bigger real estate operator in the last decade than Bill Zeckendorf of Webb and Knapp. Months after the collapse of his empire, there's still no telling exactly how many millions the investing public lost.

What's a stock split good for?

Not much, really, unless it's accompanied by a dividend increase, which is the usual way most companies handle it. Actually, there's no difference between one share of a company's stock valued at $100 or, after a stock split, two shares of the same company's stock valued at $50 apiece. Why then do companies go to the trouble and expense of stock splitting? And, why do so many shareholders regard a split as something desirable, something to get in on?

Psychologically, everybody wants a lot for a little. Buying a hundred shares at $10 each sounds - and feels a lot more satisfying than buying 50 shares at $20 apiece, or 10 shares at $100 per share. The result? Because many investors prefer to buy stocks in a moderate price range, they'll put off buying a particular company until its stock has been split and the individual share price thereby reduced. Thus, greater demand for a company's stock AFTER a split usually has the effect of raising the stock's combined value a bit above where it was BEFORE the split. A $100 share split 2 for 1 will usually result in each subsequent share being worth $51 or so apiece. It may not be good arithmetic, but it does make sound psychology and where it's a matter of getting people to follow any particular pattern, Wall Street wrote the textbook.

Next week, what's the difference between a "Growth" stock and an "Income Stock"?

Every day brings the start of Medicare a little closer. The drug stocks, which will benefit so greatly from the vast new markets opening up for their products, still don't reflect their real profit potential.

Among the drugs, our favorites are Smith, Kline and French and Johnson and Johnson. Smith, Kline and French is an old line ethical company specializing in drugs affecting the central nervous system. Some of S.K.F.'s better known products include THORAZINE, STELAZINE and COMPAZINE among the tranquilizers, and such well-known stimulants as DEXADRINE and DEXAMYL. Recently, Smith, Kline, and French has expanded into various new fields including highly specialized medical instruments, steroid intermediates and medical electronics. However, the company is perhaps best known to the American public through its tremendously successful cold remedy, CONTAC. Smith, Kline and French is now priced at about $78 a share.

Johnson and Johnson is best known as the Band-Aid maker. Actually, surgical dressings account for only a part of its well-diversified sources of income. J&J is also the top company in the baby oils and powders market. TEK toothbrushes, PERMACEL tapes, MODESS sanitary products, MICRIN antiseptic mouthwash, and ORTHO NOVUM oral contraceptives are among the 2,000 products turned out by this dynamic company. Directors and employees own nearly two-thirds of the 6 million common shares. The price is currently at about $130 a share.

Little League Tourney Ends

The Bethpage Little League "Farm" Tournament came to a close Thursday.

On Wednesday last the Bethpage Tigers came to grips with the Eagles in the final game of the tournament. The Eagles hopped out to a one run lead as Wayne Siebler's single knocked in Mark Laser. This stood up until the top of the fifth when the Tigers got rolling. With loaded bases "big" Joe Magnani slammed out a triple and before the final out seven runs had scored. Steve Love for the second time recorded a one hit for the now 1965 Farm Champions.

In a game that still has everyone talking the Bethpage Braves just nosed out the Giants 5 - 4. This game went a full six innings in one hour and ten minutes. Going into the top of the sixth, the Giants had a 4 - 3 lead. Dick Stromph singled to start things off, up stepped Tommy Peggio and he hit one over the center fielder's head. Dick scored, Tommy rounding third fell, getting up he still wanted that home, however the Giants had set up a honey of a relay to nail him at the plate. Jimmy Friedl then walked and stole around. When Jimmy scored he was floored by his team mates. Bill Blum then retired the Giants to win 5 - 4. Bobby Filippone, Jack Cassin and Lee Frankel played swell baseball for the Giants.

The final game on Thursday saw the Eagles regain their batting eyes to beat the Yankees 15 - 4. The little Yankee pitcher had trouble finding the strike zone and when he did the Eagles socked it. Tommy Brusca making his first start as an Eagle pitcher went the whole route never getting into trouble. Jeff Sozzer's two timely hits was good for three runs. Tommy Grecia's hitting and Jerry Mitchel's fielding was the bright spot for the Yankees.

Final standings: Bethpage Little League "Farm" Tournament 1965-

	W	L	P
Tigers	4	2	8
Giants	2	2	4
Braves	2	2	4
Eagles	2	2	4
Yankees	0	4	0

A pre tournament agreement was that four games would be all. As you can see a three way tie for second.

Footnote: Mr. Arthur Diddy of the New York Yankee Scouting Office dropped down to the field to take a good look at the Bethpage battin' T. Mr. Diddy told the boys he made one of the first "T" 35 years ago.

Plans for the "T" are available to any Little League. Just write Bethpage Little League "Farm" 117 Brenner Ave., Bethpage.

Hondaliers are people who ride Hondas, and while Paul Revere's horse was undoubtedly a noble animal, we bet he couldn't fill her up for 25¢ and then cruise for 200 miles. Paul Revere, of course, couldn't get a Honda for love nor money, but you can get one for surprisingly little. Come in today, and see.

This was a negotiated, firm fixed price contract. Amperex is the only qualified source of supply for this tube.

Lack of appropriate technical data and the urgent requirement for the tubes precluded procurement through formal advertising.

Last Saturday afternoon it was my pleasure to attend the matinée performance of "Bye Bye Birdie" by the White Lake Players at White Lake, N.Y. The great pleasure was that one of our June graduates, Steve Ragusea was playing one of the lead roles that of Conrad Birdie.

This is a professional group of young players of which Steve is one of the members. Steve has appeared in many of our high school plays and is now doing well professionally.

I recommend to anyone the performance of this fine group. They perform a varied weekly evening program with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. White Lake is about 120 miles from Hicksville on route 17B just off route 17 at Monticello. If you should attend a performance, stop for a chat with Steve, he would be glad to see you.

SOME PEOPLE JUST KNOW the name of a well known personality and they talk about them as if they were bosom pals. 80-year-old John Punton is definitely not in that class. Mention a big name in that class. Mention a big name in the financial or social world, ask John if he knew them and if he answers "Yes" you can rely on it. John once chauffeured, butler'd and even changed diapers on Astors, Vanderbilts, Carnegies, Mellons, etc., he knew most of them from the bottom up. He's never said an unkind thing about them or anyone else. That's another reason I like old - John Punton. Once another servant was slipping drinks from his boss Andrew Carnegie's choice bottle of bourbon. This sipping-footman informed John that he wouldn't get caught because after Mr. Carnegie'd mark the bottle's contents he, the footman, would wet the marked label and slide it down the bottle. John didn't tell Carnegie, if he'd snatched on a fellow worker he would place himself in an unfavorable light with his boss. A few days later the footman found a note tied to a bottle. It read: "When my mark gets to the bottom of this bottle, you're through - Andrew Carnegie." Believe it or not but years ago certain big-wigs loaned their dependable help to each other. The Rockefellers are no strangers to John's services either. It took me many sessions at Kyle & Moran's bar, Syosset, to get this one from John Punton. He tells of the Rockefeller lad, reared with strict discipline, who when being punished finally succeeded in convincing his mother that he was not guilty of the offense he was being paddled for. "Very well, son," his mother replied with grim humor. "It will be credited to your account for next time." ... Sign on a recording company exec's desk: "GO GO GONE to lunch." ... Carl Hopf was very happy to learn that one of his top service executives, at Westbury Manor, Waldeimar Fitz, is the father of 18-year-old petite Brigitte Fitz, the Bellmore high school senior who won the $100.00 award in a competition among 50 high school students in the annual North Atlantic region citizenship conference held recently at the Waldorf-Astoria. When she arrived in America from Germany nine years ago she didn't speak a word of English. Brigitte is now eligible to compete for a $2,500 scholarship, to be awarded by the Soroptimist Federation of America. She already has a scholarship for next year at Bryn Mawr. Her winning essay included her role as a citizen in the family, the community and the world." Miss Fitz sets one simple rule: "I do my best." ... Kay Norris writes: "From birth to age 11, a girl needs good parents. From 18 to 35 she needs good looks. From 35 to 55, a woman needs personality. From 55 on, the lady needs cash!" ... Jericho Tuck frozen custard stand sign: "CUSTARD'S LAST STAND." ... That's nothing. Fred Lohmann has this sign on his bar: "INTOXICATERERS." ... On our own Herb (Bowden Square) McCarthy's residence lawn is a sign - "Keep Off Your Feet Are Killing Me." ... Franklin National Bank exec, Mr. Henry Dengel and his Holy Redeemer committee, Freeport, expect about 900 for their annual dinner and dance at Carl Hopf's in Baldwin - June 3rd ... Overheard: "He adores her and the feeling is nuptial." If You Please.

BEAUTY SECRETS

by Victor of Vilu
SUMMER AND SUNSHINE

These are the days that put a woman's innate beauty treasures to its severest test. For during these "dog" days of summer, when heat and humidity are at their worst, even the most meticulous woman will tend to stint on her beauty care, or even pass it by altogether.

Skin that is soft and creamy the rest of the year tends to take on a sallow, crusty look during the summer, even if it is covered with a flattering bronze sunburn. Hair that is cared for down to the last wisp all year round, looks neglected and dry in July and August.

Like the rest of you I have been spending my Sundays and occasional week-ends at local Long Island beaches and pools, and since beauty is my business, I couldn't help but confirm the above observations. That "natural" look - no lipstick, no nail polish, ungroomed hair, is fine for some women. But only a limited few. Let's face facts. Nature needs a little help even among the most beautiful women.

The sun and the summer breezes are conducive to the lazy life and a change from normal patterns of living. But let us not forget that many young brides walking to the altar in June or December, first met the "men of their dreams" at a summer resort, pool or beach in July and August.

First impressions are important ones, and very often the first glimpse a man gets of a woman can be a lasting one. A chance meeting, an unexpected introduction, a shared experience, all spell opportunity - but only for the young woman who is ever conscious of her appearance. That is not to condemn the "natural" look. But you can believe me when I tell you that the so-called "natural" look is a cultivate one. You've got to work at achieving the full quota of beauty with which you were endowed, and that includes skin and hair care.

In short, summer beauty care is even more important than at any other time of the year. Your weekly visits to VILU for your hair set, cut or trim should be as routine during the summer as it is in the spring, fall or winter. Your nails need special attention, as does your skin - for the sun is a severe though benevolent companion. For questions or consultations, call or see Mr. Victor at Vilu, OV 1-8760, 534 So. Broadway, Hicksville only.

In Service

Navy Lieutenant (junior grade) PHILIP S. ANSELMO, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael M. Anselmo of 14 Maglie Drive, Hicksville, is serving with Fighter Squadron 31, aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Saratoga.

Saratoga, currently in transit to the United States after a seven-month deployment to the Mediterranean, provided all weather air defense for Sixth Fleet units operating in the Mediterranean.

During her deployment, Saratoga visited ports in Italy, France, Spain and Greece.

Saratoga operates out of Mayport, Florida.

Repub-cans and Democrats seem to be taking to water sports of late. John Lindsay swims at New York beaches. Senator Robert Kennedy shoots rapids. And Assemblyman Edwin Fehrenbach, the Republican candidate for Oyster Bay Supervisor, is seen here water skiing at Tobay Beach. Fehrenbach is an avid beach enthusiast, and admits he gets some "good campaigning" in there though not, of course, while skiing.
