No Gambling At Town Pools

No gambling at town pools is the rule of the day as passed by the Town Board this week. There had been some problem of youngsters gambling at the pools according to a Town spokesman.

The board approved a plan to allow surfing on weekends this summer from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. on a 500 foot strip west of the Tobay Beach ocean pavillion.....the first Nassau town to do so.

It provided for half-year memberships for this summer only at the town pools in Plainview, Bethpage and Syosset. Half-year fees $30 per family; $15 per person.

The surfing ordinance, the Board emphasized, is to provide a trial period from now through Labor Day to determine the demand for such facilities. Surfing will be allowed starting either this weekend or next, depending on how soon signs prohibiting swimming in the area can be set up and lifeguards provided.

Supervisor Michael Petito had introduced a resolution to allow surfing daily, which a board spokesman estimated would have cost some $500 a week in lifeguard protection. The weekend surfing will cost about $140 a week.

Mobile Registration Visits Bethpage

The Nassau County Board of Elections mobile registration trailer will visit Bethpage this Friday as it continues its voter registration drive through the county.

The presence of the trailer in the two communities will mark its fourth such appearance in Bethpage and its third visit to Wantagh in the past two years. In 1964, hundreds of voters registered at the trailer in the two communities.

Bethpage will be visited on Friday and the trailer will be located at the Bohack shopping center near Stewart Avenue north of Benkert Street. It will be open from 3 to 9 p.m.

William D. Meisser, Republican commissioner, pointed out that under Nassau's system of Permanent Personal Registration, would be voters must register in the event they have either failed to vote in the last two elections, moved since last voting or are voting for the first time.

Women On The Firing Line

By PAUL HARVEY

Americans read with repugnance last July 13 that the Communists in Viet Nam were sending women to the warfront.

It was an ugly prospect for American troops to have to shoot women.

This is not unprecedented in Viet Nam. For generations their women have gone to war with their men. The Communist Cong further demands that children do what war work they can - making and planting mines.

But on last July 8 it was a new kind of war for the men of our 173rd Airborne when they clashed in combat with Communist men firing machine guns and Communist women hurling grenades.

Indeed, in an area just 15 miles south of Saigon, all Communist terror and subversion operations are under the command of a delicate-looking female devil named Kim Sloan.

Last year one of our intelligence officers killed himself after learning that his Vietnamese sweetheart was a Cong spy.

Now is the women-in-combat practice confined to the Cong. All Vietnamese believe that their men fight best alongside their women. So our South Vietnamese allies confirmed on July 16 that their draft will now include women.

South Vietnam's new reserve try will include all men 18 through 48, and all women 20 through 24.

Ostensibly, female fighters will comprise a "defensive force."

Of course, that's how our American troops first got their feet wet in this war - as a "defensive force."

Will the idea of women on the firing line eventually become standard operating procedure for American armed forces? I sure hope not, but we seem to come home from every war contaminated by it. Each intimate exposure to the mores of backward people seems to turn our clocks backward without appreciably advancing theirs.

Instead of putting clothes on savages, we end up adopting their paint, their dances and their loin cloths.

So it is not too far-fetched to imagine that the equality of American women will one day extend to military service. Any day I expect to hear some "crusader" demanding that our military academies be made coeducational.

Women up front, for the Vietnamese, may be a biological convenience and an economic necessity. Further, these women are so accustomed to doing the harder work at home that this is not a tremendous sacrifice. America's pioneer women armed themselves against Indian attack when circumstances required it. They can again.

But Americans have been so long trying to lift themselves out of those muddy wagon tracks, I sure hate to see us slide back.

And the most cruel irony of it all is that when we adopt the way of life which we set out to oppose, the wars we win - we lose.

Diet May Cause Frequent Cold Sores

By C.A. Dean, M.D.

(Q) "What causes fever blisters? I have them on my lips and they are very painful. I use different kinds of ointments but it takes two to three weeks for them to clear-up." Mrs. A.T.

(A) The medical term for fever blisters (cold sores) is herpes simplex. This disease is caused by a virus present on the body. It is only during a period of lowered resistance, such as with a cold, after sun exposure and with certain foods, that the virus is able to overcome the normal body defense. The sores will last around ten days, and there is no consistent remedy that will shorten their duration.

Perhaps something you eat is causing fever blisters. Carefully review your diet for several days preceding your next attack. Also, protect the area around your mouth from the sun. Repeated smallpox vaccinations at weekly intervals may provide a cure.

(Q) "Our three-year-old child has been speaking double words since the age of two. Should we work with him or seek outside help? We have been told he is too young for any kind of program. He has been given a great deal of attention by everyone in the family." Mrs. P.J.R.

(A) The earlier, that proper guidance is given to your child the better it will be. Outside help is definitely necessary, if only to guide you in your method of caring for him. A child psychologist should be consulted. It is possible our son receives too much attention concerning his stuttering, so that he may be overly self-conscious about it.

Do you have a medical question? Write Dr. C. A. Dean in care of this newspaper.

Bipartisanship In Decay

By RUSSELL KIRK

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S militant foreign policy, which might have a hard time in the Senate and House were it not for Republican support, is now being severely criticized by the leading Republicans of the House of Representatives, notably Gerald Ford, minority leader, and Melvin Laird, chairman of the House Republican Conference. This opposition will increase, rather than decline.

Our foreign policy, with related military undertakings, never required stern scrutiny more than it does now. "Bipartisanship" in foreign policy works only when nearly everyone in the country is agreed upon what such policy should be. It is the duty of a partisan opposition to criticize the Administration's undertakings - and not even in time of crisis, but especially in time of crisis.

The feebleness of Republican opposition in the present Senate, however, thrusts this duty upon the Republicans of the House. Increasingly, Representative Gerald Ford emerges as the most responsible and able formulator of Republican opposition.

Perceiving the great potential danger from new missile bases in North Viet Nam, Mr. Ford urges the Johnson Administration to bomb those sites before it is too late.

Since American planes already are bombing less important targets all over North Viet Nam, the angry opposition to Mr. Ford's advice among some Democrats in Congress - and even among some Republicans - is difficult to understand. Do they think the Communists of Hanoi will grow to like us if only we refrain from interfering with their more deadly weapons?

Senator Frank Church, liberal Democrat from Idaho, abruptly constitutes himself a quasi defender of the Johnson Administration. Since Mr. Church has been one of the two or three principal Senate opponents of the Johnson vigor in Southeast Asia, Mr. Johnson may not be wholly content with this champion. It is Church's argument that bombing on a bigger scale might provoke Ho Chi Minh to send the North Viet Namese army southward. But big units of the Communist army from the North already are operating in South Viet Nam - and in Laos, too. It is scarcely respect for the community of nations which prevents the Communists of Hanoi from pushing southward with their total force. Once they feel that they could maintain their supply lines, the Communists will employ their every division, American bombing or no American bombing.

Still odder, Senator Hugh Scott, Pennsylvania Republican, reproaches Representative Laird for having suggested that Republicans might cease to support the Administration's policies in Southeast Asia. So long as we are at war, Mr. Scott says, he will back President Johnson. Even when, eventually, as many as 400,000 American troops, mostly conscripts unprepared for the forest and rice paddy warfare of South Viet Nam, may be dispatched to that land?

This commentator suggests that Congressman Ford and Laird are quite right in refusing to endorse everything that the Johnson Administration does - or doesn't do in Southeast Asia. But effective opposition will be possible only if the Republicans outline alternative diplomatic and military strategy, in some detail. The lack of adequate research staffs and long-term planning in either great political party make the task of Ford and Laird difficult.

Why We Say--

BETTER BUTTER: This little yellow flower was so named because it was thought that cows eating it would produce better butter. The truth is that the flower usually grows on sound pasture and for this reason cows grazing there do produce better butter, although the high yellow color of the butter is not from the little flower.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED LOCAL LAW

TAKE NOTICE that a proposed local law, entitled:

A LOCAL LAW to amend the county government law of Nassau county in relation to the board of supervisors and repealing section one hundred four thereof in relation thereto has been introduced before the Board of Supervisors of the County of Nassau and that the said Board will hold a public hearing on said proposed local law

AUGUST 10th, 1965 at 8:00 p.m. at the TOWN HALL, Town of Oyster Bay, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay, N. Y.

Adoption of the local law would increase the size of the Board of Supervisors from 6 to 15 members and their terms of election from 2 to 4 years.

Members of the Board of Supervisors would cease to represent the towns and cities, but would run in 15 separate districts "of substantially equal populations and of compact contiguous territory" into which Nassau County would be divided by the Board of Elections

Each of the 15 members of the Board of Supervisors would represent approximately 90,000 population and have 1 vote on the Board. The Board of Supervisors would set the salaries of the additional supervisors and their staffs.

This is the first time in the history of Nassau County that the Board of Supervisors will hold a public hearing in the Town Hall of Oyster Bay. So important is this proposed local law to the future government of the County that I, as your supervisor, requested the local public hearing for the convenience of Oyster Bay residents. Your attendance, your participation, and your views are earnestly sought. If you cannot attend the hearing, please write to me and give me the benefit of your thinking.

Tales Behind The Ticker Tapes

By L. M. C.

What's a "Growth" stock? What's an "Income" stock? And what's the difference between them? These are probably the three favorite questions asked of brokers. Opinions are bound to differ - But here's ours, anyway.

"Growth" stocks have three things going for them that other stocks don't have:

1. Most of their income gets plowed back into the company for expansion and research. That's why their dividend rates tend to be low. For example, I.B.M. and Corning Glass currently pay about 1.3 per cent, Valley National Bank of Arizona pays 1.9 per cent, while Xerox is all the way down at 0.3 percent.

2. Many investors mistake Growth companies for Growth stocks. They're not necessarily the same. I.B.M. is far and away the leader in the rapidly expanding computer industry. It's a Growth stock. Food Fair is one of the top companies in the rapidly expanding food distribution industry. But while I.B.M. has next to no competition, Food Fair is neck and neck with A & P, First National, Acme, Waldbaum, Datch - Shop well, E. J. Korvette Hills, and dozens of others. In other words, a Growth stock is far and away the top dog in its particular field.

3. "Growth" stocks are in growth industries, industries that are sure to get bigger and better next year and the year after that, no matter what happens to the national economy. Automatic controls, business office equipment, certain chemical products, new and unusual kinds of glass, these are among the growth industries of the future. Automobiles? Airlines? Defense companies? Too many "ifs" too many "maybes." Above all, too many companies hustling for the same dollar, whether it's from a private individual or the Federal Government.

Competition? It's great for the consumer. America's greatness is built on it. But shrewd investors in "Growth" stocks prefer to put their money where the competition is low - and the profits high!

"Income" stocks, on the other hand, aren't really concerned with the future. By the time they've paid the hefty dividends to shareholders, there's very little left for research, development, and plant expansion. The result? Look at the major steel companies. Despite a booming economy, U. S. Steel and Republic Steel haven't yet restored the dividend cuts they made three years ago.

It's the same for so many other "Income" stocks. Shareholders in most copper companies like Kennecott and Anaconda are on a feast or famine diet. When times are good and demand for the product high, their dividends are generous to a fault. But just let the economy slow down a bit, and copper stocks (and their dividend rates) lead the funeral procession of new lows.

WHAT'S NEW IN THE WHAT LOOKS GOOD DEPARTMENT

Speaking of top quality "Income" stocks, Frank Kelly, manager of Paine, Webber's Roosevelt Field office calls Southern Pacific Co. his "Stock of the Month". Describing it as "one of the most successfully managed companies in the railroad field," he points out its dividend has been raised six years in a row and that this may be the seventh.

Cyril Gittleton, the boss at Sterling, Grace's Syosset branch, says Briggs and Stratton is one of today's "most underpriced values." He labels it as "a well diversified company with an amply covered dividend and a growth record in recent years far above some of the more highly publicized "Growth" stocks."

Needlework By Local Women

Two women from Bethpage have been selected to exhibit their needlework in the first public showing of needlework art by Long Island women on July 29 and 30. Mrs. Julius Wolloch of 22 Cedar Drive East, Old Bethpage, will be showing a king size bedspread which is one of the features of the showing. Mrs. Joyce Miller of 11

Neil Drive, Old Bethpage is showing contemporary needlepoint.

Local Firemen, Teachers Aided

School teachers will have the opportunity for the first time to "really participate" in election of delegates to the annual convention of the New York State Teachers Retirement System, under the terms of a measure sponsored by Assemblyman Edwin Fehrenbach, and signed by the Governor.

The bill provides that each school become a polling place. Formerly, balloting took place at a central location. This prevented many teachers from voting for the delegates who represented them at State conventions.

In addition, the bill provides for a secret ballot. The measure was introduced by Fehrenbach at the request of the Educational Conference Board.

Another Fehrenbach proposal signed by the Governor will enable the Hicksville Volunteer Fire Department to set up a training site on land owned by the Hicksville Water District.

The Hicksville Vamps have been seeking a training site for some time, but costs were prohibitive.

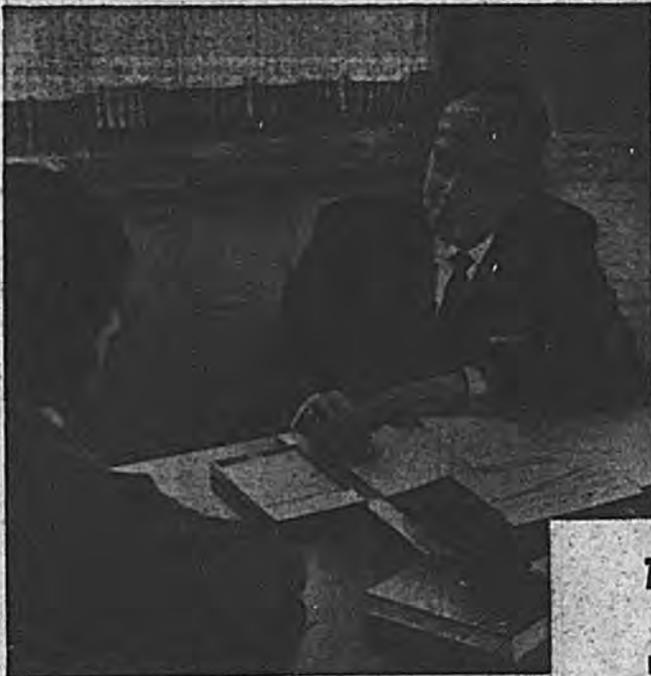

Under the bill they will be able to construct certain training facilities on Bethpage Road in Hicksville.

Fehrenbach has retired from the Assembly to run this year for the post of Supervisor in the Town of Oyster Bay.

GOP Beats Dem Club

On July 24, the Hicksville Teen-Age Republican Club softball team routed their Teen-age Democratic counterparts by a 13 to 8 score. Despite numerous errors, the Teen age Republicans held a lead throughout most of the game. Sparking the victorious Teen GOP was Casey Scheinfeist and Fred Uachs with three and four hits respectively. Phil Konits with four R.B.L.s, and Andy Rosenblatt with a three run homer. During the exciting seven innings game, the Teen Dems accumulated 13 hits and the Teens produced 17 hits. Despite the intense rivalries, all the participants had an enjoyable day and more softball games are planned in the future.

Star-spangled gift idea

You can put $50 into someone's future with U.S. Savings Bonds—and the cost is only $37.50.

You can also be pretty sure your gift will be used for something pretty important. Because most people hang onto their Savings Bonds until something important comes up. Like college tuition, a new baby, and retirement day.

Something else. You give more than money with U. S. Savings Bonds. In a small—but vital—way you give freedom, too. Because Bond dollars do a lot to help Uncle Sam stand tall in this troubled world of ours.

Prices start at just $18.75 for the $25 size.

Why not give Bonds to all the special people on your list this year? Yourself included.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity (7½ years)
- You pay no state or local income tax and can defer payment of federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- You can get your money when you need it

LIFE

Hondaliers are people who ride Hondas, and while Paul Revere's horse was undoubtedly a noble animal, we bet he couldn't fill her up for 25c and then cruise for 200 miles. She took considerable room to park, too, whereas you can park a Honda in your front hall if you feel so inclined. Paul Revere, of course, couldn't get a Honda for love nor money, but you can get one for surprisingly little. Come in today, and see.

New Directory Needs Help

The Hicksville Public Library is starting the revision of the Hicksville Town Directory for 1965.

The Directory is a booklet carefully compiled to include information that the Library staff considered would be useful to any person residing in Hicksville. For example: the personnel of the Library Board, the School Board, Federal Representatives, State Representatives, Officers of Oyster Bay Town, Political Parties, Leader's Headquarters, Community Services and where to obtain them, Churches, Youth Organizations, Adult Organizations, etc. are some of the items listed in the index.

The Hicksville Town Directory 1964 proved very popular, not only with our own residents but several people of out town wrote for copies. One request was received from a family in Colorado who were relocating on Long Island and were interested in setting in Hicksville. Several requests were received from Hicksville college freshman whose first assignment in English 101 apparently was a short run-down on one's home town.

Well we're glad to be of service. That's what we do best. And now we're revising the Hicksville Town Directory for 1965. We will welcome any suggestions towards making this issue even more useful than the last. Just call us or come in and tell us your ideas. They may be something very good, something we hadn't thought of.

Self addressed cards have been sent to all the organizations listed in last years issue to return with the names of the new officers.. If there are any newly organized groups in Hicksville, or joy that were somehow overlooked, will you please call Mrs. Glaser at WE 1-1417, so that all vicksville organizations can be included in the Hicksville Town Directory 1965.

Letters

To the Editor:

At the expense of dignifying Mr. Morgan's editorial (July 15) and your write-up regarding my proposal for "Procedure and Decorum of General Public" at Board meetings, I would like to clarify the deliberate distortions, unnuances, etc. that you portray to the public.

'As you should know, there is nothing really new in this policy that did not implicitly exist at previous Board sessions. The number of times, and length of time allotted to the public in no way varies. The right of the public to express dissatisfaction, question, criticize and/or comment also does not change. The only provisions are those pertaining to the means by which individuals or groups use this time to disrupt or intimidate proceedings or trustees in bowing to their "demands." Is Mr. Morgan oblivious to past school board meetings where deliberate screaming, table poundings, foot stampings and other Philistine type tactics have supplemented the lost "freedom" that he now decries? Is Mr. Morgan not familiar with so call "restrictions" imposed on people in American Courts of Law? Since when in the name of democracy, Mr. Morgan does love of freedom and free speech guarantee rights of slander and abuse? No - I think Mr. Morgan and Co. doth protest too much!

In conclusion despite those who "fiddle" with facts, I would like to state that it was not my intent then, now, or in the future to suppress any resident of Hicksville who wishes to dissent, it is only my concern for future Board proceedings, and public servants who, I hope, also have rights, The Board of Education, as a branch of local government, is also entitled to carry out its functions in an orderly and dignified manner. The needs of our children demand it!

Respectfully,
Marvin Goldberg
Editor's Note: Right Mr. Goldberg.

The needs of our children demand it.. They demand that the school adhere to the basic principle of freedom of speech, even when criticised. Because there have been some people who have abused the right to speak at meetings is no reason to curtail these rights. With all freedoms come some abuses. This does not mean that you may do away with the freedom. Once again "our children demand" that the school board at least should have an undying devotion to freedom even when it inconveniences them. The board threw out the baby with the bath water when it made rules to limit discussion at meetings, disqualified some taxpayers from talking (contrary to what you say this is new) and threatened to call the police on others.

If there were any "deliberate distortions" or "fiddling with the facts" in our news account of your rules it is interesting to note that this newspaper dan the story in its entirety as submitted by the School Board. We only added one lead paragraph. We know of no other newspaper that ran the complete article. I think that perhaps you should do something about the person who wrote up the material for the school board and submitted it under the board's name if they "fiddle with the facts."
