At the April 4 meeting of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club, Mr. Kurt Naegler was presented with a 25 year Kiwanis International Legion Honor certificate and pin.

Mr. Naegler is a past president of the former Plainview Kiwanis Club, is a member of the board of directors of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club, and is the president of the local chapter of Telephone Pioneers. In the photo, another Kiwanis Legion of Honor member, past president Bill Murphy, on the left, is congratulating Mr. Naegler upon attaining this honorable status.

Assemblyman Lewis J. Yevoll (right) describes the history of the Town of Oyster Bay's neglect surrounding conditions at the Old Bethpage Landfill and the community's efforts to have these conditions rectified. Seated behind Assemblyman Yevoll at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library are officials of the State Department of Environmental Conservation, who presided over a community meeting concerning the proposed TOB Resource Recovery facility.

Buying, Selling House Lecture

The Hicksville Public Library will present another legal lecture on Thursday, April 19 at 8 p.m. in the Community Room of the library. John Marks, Esq. will speak about Buying and Selling a House. Mr. Marks is able to present his informative and interesting lecture through the courtesy of the Nassau County Bar Association. There will be time for questions and answers. Everyone is invited.

Building Permits Continue Rise

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Salvatore R. Mosca announced that the total value for building permits issued by the Town's Building Division for January and February amounted to $20,335,882, marking an increase of $10,924,367 over the same period in 1983.

Councilman Mosca indicated that the permits issued for four industrial buildings in the amount of $6,685,651, and the two permits for commercial buildings at $6,435,210, accounted for a major portion of the increase.

"Once again, construction of one-family homes played a major part in building permit values during January and February," Mosca stated. "Twenty five permits were issued for the construction of new homes, valuing $1,652,472 and a total of 172 permits amounting to $1,218,686 were issued for housing additions.

Florist Robbed In Plainview

The Second Squad is investigating a Robbery that occurred at Plainview Florist and Gifts, 1038 Old Country Road, Plainview, at 5:10 p.m., April 5.

Two male whites entered the business and announced a robbery to the cashier. One of the subjects was armed with a large knife. They were given $350 and fled the store, leaving the cashier unharmed.

The subjects are described as two male whites, both 28-30 years, 5'7" one armed with a knife.

National Library Week Now Underway

In celebration of National Library Week, April 8 through 14, the Children's Room of the Hicksville Public Library will present a very special puppet show. The "Elfin Puppet Parade" will perform a musical comedy show in the auditorium of the Library on Saturday, April 14 at 2 p.m. The program is free and all are invited to this performance which promises to be very entertaining. At the conclusion of the show the winners of our annual jelly bean bowl contest will be announced.

Okay Car Storage Depot For Mid Island Plaza

The Oyster Bay Town Board has approved a special use permit application to store new cars in a "G" Business District in Hicksville, subject to 14 restrictive covenants.

Town Councilman Salvatore R. Mosca said that, "the special use permit was granted to Mid-Island Shopping Plaza and Old Country Toyota Corp. in order to store new cars on a parcel of land located on the north side of James Street, 1,155 feet west of the intersection of Newbridge Road. The cars will be held at this parcel until they are delivered to the Old Country Toyota Corp., which is located at 340 Old Country Road in Hicksville.

In response to concerns expressed by residents, the Board has imposed fourteen restrictions which include that the delivery of vehicles is prohibited after 9 p.m., and must be made only at the northwest corner of the parcel, away from the residential area. Also, that the storage of cars off the premises in the Mid-Island Shopping area or on residential streets is prohibited, and that no preparation or repairs or inspection of the cars be made at this location.

The Town Board also required that a six foot high stockade fence be installed and properly maintained along the residential properties on the western and eastern border of the parcel and that a screen planting of six foot high evergreens be placed six feet apart along that portion abutting James Street.

Mosca said that the applicants are required to submit a detailed site plan for Town Board approval before any building permits or a certificate of occupancy can be issued.

Fork Lane Stock Investors

Fork Lane School's in-depth studies group, in an effort to learn more about consumerism, recently held a very successful flea market. Now, what to do with the proceeds?

Neil Carter, of the brokerage firm Individual Securities, was a recent guest and explained why people purchase stocks, the best time to buy, effects of inflation on the stock market, trends in recession, etc. Through graphs and charts, he also discussed the state of the economy over the last decade and spoke about market conditions prior to the crash of 1929.

An investment in a mutual fund called 20th Century Ultra Investors seemed to be a prudent move for the students' hard earned money. If, in the future, you notice some Fork Laners scanning the stock market pages you'll know they're just checking their investment!

Bill Ramsey, President of the Hicksville Lions Club, accepts a check from Diane Steubing, representing Seaman & Elsemann, Inc., co-sponsor of the Lions 5K Run on April 15. Proceeds from the Run will be used for sight conservation programs. The Race will start and end at Hicksville High School.

Henry Brengel Sr., Hicksville Leader

Henry Brengel, Sr., 87, died April 5 at Nassau Hospital following surgery. Mr. Brengel was well known in the Hicksville area. He was the retired president of Empire Moving and Storage Co. and had served on the Hicksville School Board for 23 years.

Among the schools he built or planned as president of the Board are the Lee Avenue School, Fork Lane, Dutch Lane, Burns Avenue and Old Country Road elementary schools. The senior high school was in its planning stages when he left.

Mr. Brengel was a resident of Hicksville for about 80 years and had been active in community affairs. He was a past president of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club and past Commander of the Charles Wagner Post American Legion where, last week, he received a service award for "65 Years Continuous Membership in the American Legion". He had served in the Coast Guard during World War I. Brengel was also active in the Long Island Moving and Storage Association. He took the business over from his father and passed it on to his son Henry, Jr.

Mr. Brengel was a former councilman of St. Stephen's Lutheran Church where he was a member for 64 years. He is survived by his wife Anna, two sons Henry Jr. of Jericho and Frederick of Fox Pt., Wisconsin, a sister, Louise Knox of Alexandria, Pa., three grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Services were held at St. Stephen's Lutheran Church Friday with interment at Plain Lawn Cemetery. Vernon Wagner Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Holy Week At Trinity

Holy Trinity Episcopal Church prays the blessing of God upon the members of Hicksville and neighboring communities as the Passover is celebrated and the Christian Holy Week and Easter is commemorated. The ability to live meaningfully in the present finds its energy not only in commemorating the rich events of the past, but also focusing on those hopes promised through worship. Members of the community are invited to join in the worship services at Holy Trinity Church from Palm Sunday through Holy Week and Easter Day. The Church is open daily for prayer and meditation for all persons. On Palm Sunday there will be the distribution of Palms. During Holy Week special ceremonies on Wednesday evening, Maundy Thursday, and Good Friday are especially moving and meaningful. The early morning service on Easter Day is an exciting adventure in worship recalling the great movement of the Israelites from Egypt to the land of promise, culminating in the great Alleluia Eucharist.

Schedule of Services

Palm Sunday: Eucharist 8 & 10 a.m.; Monday: Morning Prayer 9 a.m., Holy Communion 9:30 a.m., Evening Prayer 5 p.m.; Tuesday: Morning Prayer 9 a.m., Evening Prayer 5 p.m., Holy Communion

5:30 p.m.; Wednesday: Morning Prayer 9 a.m., Holy Communion 9:30 a.m., Evening Prayer 5 p.m., Tenebrae 8 p.m.; Maundy Thursday: Morning Prayer 9 a.m., Evening Prayer 5 p.m., Eucharist 8 p.m.; Good Friday: Morning Prayer 9 a.m., Stations of the Cross 12 noon, Litany 3 p.m., Evening Prayer 5 p.m., Liturgy 8 p.m.; Holy Saturday: Morning Prayer & Liturgy 9 a.m.; Easter

Day: The Great Vigil & Eucharist 6:30 a.m., Festival Eucharist 8 & 10 a.m.

The Clergy and members of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church join in extending peace and good will to all the families of our neighborhood and its surroundings. Holy Trinity Episcopal Church is located at the corner of Jerusalem Avenue and Old Country Road in Hicksville.

Assemblyman Fred Parola presents a legislative resolution, which he co-sponsored in the New York State Assembly, to Lynn Singer, Executive Director of the Long Island Committee for Soviet Jewry. The resolution urged the immediate release of Anatoly B. Shcharansky, an activist in the human rights and Jewish emigration movement who is presently being imprisoned as a dissident by the Soviet government.

Named Director Communications

The Long Island Association has named Valerie Z. Scibilia of Hicksville the new Director of Communication.

Ms. Scibilia will be responsible for the organization's Communication Department. Her responsibilities include directing all LIA publications, media relations, and activities of the Long Island Identity Committee.

Before joining the LIA, Ms. Scibilia was a Communications Specialist in the Corporate Communications Department of the Long Island Lighting Company. In addition, she was editor of three weekly community newspapers on Long Island. She received her B.A. degree in Communications from the University of Notre Dame in 1977.

Our Children

'The last button on the coat'

By Willard Abraham
Ph.D.

Let's look at the youngest child in the family, the one sometimes "super-cherished," sometimes even disregarded or neglected. Do you have one treated like the child in this family?

Q. Our "baby" is now almost 10 years old, and yet my husband treats her like a baby. He expects a lot more of her older sisters. The youngest one is obviously his favorite, but I don't think he's doing her any favor by indulging her with special gifts. He even uses "baby talk" with her.

Isn't that ridiculous? I think so. How about you?

A. The youngest child in the family needs something every special — like (1) being treated as the other children are, and (2) receiving recognition in line with his or her own needs.

That's so easy to say, and sometimes very difficult to do. Some recent parental comments have been stated in this way.

"I'm more calm with her. Take her in stride better than I did with the others."

"I worry more. Guess it's because I'm aware of the sicknesses and accidents that can happen to him."

"... The child of my older age. So cherished and loved."

Although every family and every child are different, there are a lot of truisms that apply to the youngest child (or "the last button on the coat," as one wise man said).

He or she may be spoiled, favored, pampered and protected. Or your youngest child may even be a bit ignored because you might be less watchful than you were with your firstborn, or you have less time because you are now more involved in a job or career, with friends or in community activities. He or she might be (or seem) smarter than the older ones because you may talk more to the youngest one, maybe even listen more.

The parents who are sensitive to the possible benefits of having a young child still at home recognize how great a pleasure it can be. The link with youth, the beauty of seeing through a child's eyes, the occasions available to share a youngster's dreams — it's the last time and an opportunity not to be missed or taken lightly. In Rachel Carson's little book, "The Sense of Wonder," she indicated the chance we have to cling to a child's world as he sees it, and the importance of letting him share it with us. (Just as frequently, this child is, of course, a "she.") still has a hand and mind on things seen and felt for the first time, and it may be our final chance to share a young child's excitement.

But taking part in such wonderment doesn't come easily. It may require a few momentary postponements, like temporarily putting off the evening paper, a relaxing social drink or a phone call, all of them important but perhaps none as enjoyable as what this youngest child has to say if we just give a little time and attention.

Although a young child usually brings a lot of enjoyment into the family, there might be problems too. The youngest may find it comfortable to be "the baby," and to hold onto that special place, and may even be reluctant about growing up and sharing some responsibilities of yard, garbage, dishes, pet care and money that older siblings bear. He may even bring dissension because of the resentment of those who came first.

The youngest one's achievements may not be recognized because although it is the first time for him, you have already gone through Scouts, school, hobbies and all the rest, maybe even more than once. He may have to work very hard to get the attention that older ones obtained so easily.

The youngest child sometimes resembles an only one, especially if there is quite an age difference between him and older brothers and sisters. One problem you may then face could be that of trying to avoid too much dependence on you or his too frequent involvement with adults. The competition may not be with the siblings but with the parent of the same sex for the affection of the other one.

The most healthful attitude of all toward the youngest can be stated quite simply. It is based on answers to questions like these:

What abilities and needs does he or she have?

How can I best improve and satisfy them?

What special personality factors require nurturing or correcting?

What can I do about all of that — and can I afford not to face these questions?

It has probably occurred to you that such questions and answers fit into the picture for all children, and that's right. The needs of the youngest one are really no different than they are for others in the family. But because he or she presents our last chance to help a child grow healthfully, we may have to push ourselves a bit toward meeting them, especially during the important early years.

Your Social Security

Q. I've been living with a man for over a year. He is receiving Social Security and SSI because he's disabled. We can't marry because I didn't get a divorce from my husband.

Is there any way my four children can get benefits from this arrangement? — M.J.

A. No!
You would have to be legally married for one year before you and your children can qualify for Social Security benefits on this disabled worker's account.

There are no dependent benefits payable under the SSI program.

Q. I have been going with a single man who receives $359 in Social Security. I, myself, receive $300 ($119 from my own account and $181 from that of my deceased husband).

I would like to know whether together our income would total the same if we were to get married. — A.B.B.

A. You will continue to receive the same amounts after marriage.

Q. I am 64 and was divorced after 25 years of marriage in 1966.

My former husband is eligible to receive Social Security but won't file for benefits because he doesn't believe in the system.

Is there any way I can get part of his Social Security? — N.S.

A. Not until January 1985, when divorced spouses age 62 or older will be eligible to receive benefits regardless of whether the former spouse has retired or is receiving benefits, provided the divorce has been in effect at least two years.

Q. I retired at 62 and took a 20 percent cut in my benefits. I am now 70 and would like to know if I can get this cut restored.

I am still working part time. — Anonymous

A. When a person elects to receive benefits prior to age 65 the monthly payments are reduced because the benefits will be paid for a longer period and the person is ahead, insofar as total cash benefits paid, up to about age 77. Therefore, there is no automatic increase at age 65 or 70.

You may, however, be entitled to an increase based on the wages earned after age 62. Check with your Social Security office about this.

Gleeb Paul Lowney

There's one statement that's beginning to annoy me. Which statement?

"Nuclear war will extinguish life on this planet."

What's wrong with this statement?

First, it's highly extravagant because we don't know if any initial exchange of warheads would ever escalate to that point; and second, constantly repeating this emotional expression does nothing toward providing the international arrangements to prevent such an event.

But truthfully, don't you ever think about the fact that we could blow up the world?

I think about it once in awhile, but then I look at it like this: Earth is only a minor planet anyway.

Go 'Head and Jump - the rock group Van Halen and Fork Lane School have a common bond. Both like to jump! Fork Lane was recently the scene of the Jump-A-Thon, raising dollars for the American Heart Association. Student volunteers in grades 4 through 6 jumped while donors pledged from 2¢ to 5¢ per 180 minutes. Thanks to the 66 "kids with heart" who joined in and gym instructors Carol Weber and Maureen Kuperberg for their help!

On Saturday, March 24, the Hicksville Junior High School Gymnastics class participated in the U.S. Olympic Days. This was the second year in a row that Coach Pellegrino and his gymnasts performed in order to raise funds for our Olympic Teams.

Performing to rock music, hundreds of spectators, including Mr. Richard Hogan, Director of Health, Physical Education and School Activities (Hicksville School District) and Mr. Charles Wayne, Guidance Chair, Hicksville Junior High School, and his son Josh, enjoyed the festivities.

State Senator Carol Berman was on hand as well as representatives from the Arrows Soccer Club. Olympians were present. Mrs. Tanya Adamcewicz gave a fencing demonstration with her students.

Two Displays At Library

The Hicksville Public Library will feature two displays in their cases during the month of April.

The Lobby Case will contain Miniatures created by Pat Stein. Mrs. Stein has had exhibits at the Hicksville Library before and they are always a delight for any age.

The Fiction Room Case will feature Easter Crafts by Kay Sarli. Miss Sarli has worked for the library for many years doing much of the Art Work for them throughout her career.

Also for the month of April, in the Community Room of the library, on loan from the Hicksville Gregory Museum, there will be an exhibit of photographs by Edward Bady. The pictures depict Hicksville Railroad Crossing Vistas from 1934 to the present.

The exhibits in the two cases can be seen during regular library hours. The Community Room, where the photographs will be hung, is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and Saturday and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday.

In Service

Army National Guard Pfc. Dennis A. Della, son of Elizabeth and Dominick Della of 167 Second St., Hicksville, has completed basic training at Fort Dix, New Jersey.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

He is a 1973 graduate of Hicksville High School.

Local Clarinetist At Talent Celeb.

The Arts Council of Freeport will present the 5th Annual Celebration of Long Island Talent to be held on April 14, 8:30 p.m. at the Bayview Avenue School in Freeport.

Featured is Michele Grossman of Hicksville who studied the clarinet at Aaron Copeland School of Music, Queens College of CUNY. She has performed as soloist for the Long Island Composers Alliance performance at Adelphi University and with the Albert Einstein Symphony Orchestra in their Inaugural Concert. Ms. Grossman has also performed in the capacity of guest soloist at the Galleria, New York City, Coe Hall, Oyster Bay, the State University Performing Arts Center at Stony Brook, C.W. Post University Theatre, St. John's University Cultural Activity Week and various other halls and colleges too numerous to name in their entirety. Among the many awards and honors already bestowed on Ms. Grossman is an original clarinet sonata, composed in her honor, by Joel Mandelbaum, composer and Queens College Music Department Chairman, and performed by Ms. Grossman at her senior recital prior to graduating. Ms. Grossman is also the recipient of the Rathaus Memorial Scholarship for Music Performance.

Toxic Cleanup Session Apr. 19

Federal and state environmental officials will appear at a Toxic Cleanup Accountability Session on April 19 sponsored by Hicksville and other area members of a local community organization which has been active for cleanup of local hazardous sites.

The federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) will be represented by Walter Muggan, who is Chief of the EPA Region II Waste and Toxic Substance Branch; the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation will be represented by Harold Berger, who serves as DEC Region I Director on Long Island; and Congressman Norman F. Lent will be represented by his staff at the event, which is sponsored by local chapters of the New York Community Action Network (New York CAN).

The Toxic Cleanup Accountability Session will take place on Thursday, April 19 at 8 p.m. at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library, 999 Old Country Road, Plainview, located 1/4 mile east of the Seaford-Oyster Bay Expressway (Route #135).

Citizen panelists from Hicksville and other local areas will seek cleanup commitments from the officials present for such sites as the Hooker Hicksville site on New South Road, Anchor Lithkemko in Hicksville, and the Old Bethpage municipal landfill.

New York CAN members will also be seeking support for the federal Superfund reauthorization bill (HR-4813), which would create a non-expiring $10.8 billion cleanup program with a mandatory cleanup timetable.

"After waiting for years to see cleanup action on local sites affecting our community's health and safety, we feel the expanded Superfund reauthorization program with the cleanup timetable would benefit our community," said New York CAN spokesperson William Steinmetz of Bethpage.

Group members have been urging local residents to write or call Congressman Lent to urge his support for HR-4813. The organization notes, however, that an alternate Superfund plan proposed by Mr. Lent includes two desirable elements: a technical assistance provision for citizen groups, and a provision preventing the transfer of liability of a site to the government after site closure.

All community residents who are concerned about safe drinking water and community cleanup are invited to attend the Toxic Cleanup Accountability Session on April 19, according to New York CAN. Rides are available. For information, readers may contact New York CAN at 741-1400 or 798-4700.

Federal EPA Responds To F.D. Inquiry

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Emergency Response Chief Fred N. Rubel has responded to questions raised by the Hicksville F.D. regarding the M.E.K. chemical spill on West John Street, Mr. Rubel, in a letter to Hicksville Chief of Department Owen Magee stated that the E.P.A. and a chemist inspected the site along with the clean-up project manager and they determined that the rusting 55 gallon drums are filled with sand and are of no danger to people or the environment.

They also noted, Chief Magee reported, that originally there were 59 drums at the site and that now there are 61. It is not known where the two extra drums came from. Rubel stated in his letter that over $100,000 has already been spent on the project and that work at the site will begin in June of this year. To remove the M.E.K. (Methyl Ethyl Keytone) chemical solvent from the ground, he also stated M.E.K. is not routinely removed effectively from the ground water, and a new technique had to be developed and tested to meet State Health Dept. guidelines. When the equipment is installed at the site it will be the first of its kind.

Removal of the drums will be one of the first actions on the scene when work starts, but at this time they do not represent an unusual hazard.

Mr. Rubel's letter was in answer to the Fire Department Hazardous Materials team request to check the site, and numerous other requests from elected officials and private citizens.

Storytelling Contest Winners

Elizabeth Collins and Maureen Hegarty

The Children's Room of the Hicksville Public Library is pleased to announce the winners of the Third Biannual Storytelling Contest which was recently held at the Library. Nineteen children told favorite folk and fairy tales to a large captive audience of parents, friends and relatives. From all the talented participants the two judges, Mrs. Chaya Burstein, author of many outstanding books for children, and Mrs. Kate McNeill, reference and children's librarian chose two winners. Elizabeth Collins from St. Ignatius School told "The Princess and the Pea" and Maureen Hegarty from Our Lady of Mercy School told "The Bremen Band Town Musicians." The two winners will now go on to the regional competition to be held on April 14 at the Syosset Public Library.

in Service

Marine Pvt. William J. Mato, Jr., son of Fran and William J. Mato, Sr., of 6 Bridle Lane, Hicksville, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

During the 11 week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

Holy Week Services At Trinity Lutheran

Palm Sunday, April 15, join the multitudes as they sing Hosanna to the Lord Jesus as He enters Jerusalem. Watch as the events of the Great and Holy Week are unfolded before you.

This Sunday, Palm Sunday at the 9:45 and 11:15 a.m. Services of Trinity Lutheran Church, 40 W. Nicholai Street, Hicksville, the Ministry of Music will incorporate the music of David H. Williams together with drama by the Reverend Ronald W. Wickey, featuring soloist Thomas Stallone as Jesus in "On The Passion Of Christ", a choral cantata resplendent of the last three events in Jesus' earthly life: the Last Supper; Betrayal; and Crucifixion. Michael Busch will portray Judas, with other soloists to include Virginia Porter and John Hoefling.

The congregation will gather in Trinity's gymnasium and reenact the great processional into the city of Jerusalem. Once in church the events of this Passion Sunday will unfold before the participants in this most moving service of worship.

Maundy Thursday
April 19 7:45 p.m.

Join us by participating in a meal of love, first instituted by Christ on the Thursday before his betrayal and crucifixion. Experience what the disciples received in the upper room. "A Wholesome Taste of Love."

Good Friday, April 20, Tre Ore Service. Noon-3 p.m.

The last seven words which Jesus spoke from the cross have meaning for us in our daily lives. Come during this meditative service and receive nourishment from Christ's Words.

The service is held from noon-3 p.m. You may enter and leave quietly throughout the service.

Memorial Service, 7:45 p.m.
On Calvary God's ultimate love for us was displayed through his son. This service reflects our sorrow over the events Christ suffered for us and fills us with the joyful gift of his self-sacrificing love.

Holy Saturday, Easter Vigil, April 21, 7:30 p.m.

Begun hundreds of years ago in the early church, our Easter Vigil begins in Trinity's gymnasium with a procession leading outside to a bonfire at the entrance of the church. This "lighting of the fire" symbolizes the Holy Spirit's work in our lives.

The service proceeds into the church for a Baptismal Rededication and culminated with a communion service.

Easter Sunday, April 22, 6:30, 8:15, 9:45, 11:15 a.m.
Christ Lives! He won the gift of eternal life for us!

Celebrate his victory! Choirs, handbells, and a brass quartet will enhance our praise during these festival services on Easter Sunday.

Come and shout Hosanna! Come and hear and see the event of this great and Holy Week! Trinity is located between Broadway and Jerusalem Avenue, at 40 W. Nicholai Street in Hicksville.

GRANDPARENTS-Send in your grandchildren's photos and enter our "World's Most Beautiful Grandchildren" contest. See the Notice column in the Classified Section for more information or call 931-0012.

Tay Sachs Carrier Screening

As a community service the Mid-Island YM-YWHA, 45 Manetto Hill Road, Plainview, is sponsoring a carrier screening for Tay-Sachs Disease on Sunday, April 29, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tay-Sachs is an inherited disease of the nervous system caused by an enzyme deficiency. The greatest risk group includes the Ashkenazy Jews from Eastern Europe. This means that one out of every 25 American Jews is a carrier.

Blood for the carrier screening will be drawn by a medical technician at the "Y" and delivered to a qualified laboratory for analysis and testing. Carriers do not have Tay-Sachs. They are capable of passing the TSD gene to their children if their mate is also a carrier.

The Nassau County Chapter of National Tay-Sachs and Allied Diseases Association is co-sponsoring the screenings. While there is no treatment for this affliction, precautionary blood tests and pre-natal diagnosis by amniocentesis can prevent tragic births.

Screenings are open to the public. In addition to the blood testing procedure, a genetic counselor will be available to answer questions, and NTSAD will provide a wide assortment of literature. A voluntary donation of $7.50 is requested.

For further information and specific details, contact the Mid-Island YM-YWHA at 822-3535.

The Mid-Island YM-YWHA is an agency of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies of New York, a Member Agency of the United Jewish Y's of Long Island, the Jewish Welfare Board, the United Way of Long Island and the Health and Welfare Council of Nassau County.

News From Road Runners

All runners who will be attempting their first marathon in this Spring's Newsday Long Island Marathon are invited to attend a special Clinic on "Running Your First Marathon." The Clinic is sponsored by the Plainview/Old Bethpage Road Runners Club, and will be held at the H.B. Matlin Middle School, on Washington Avenue in Plainview, on Tuesday evening, April 24, starting promptly at 8 p.m.

The Clinic will feature a "last minute" presentation on what to expect, what to wear, eat, etc. You will learn how to run an intelligent marathon, and to get the most out of all the training you've been going through. Veteran sub 3-hour marathoners Howie Greenberg and Larry Davidson will be on hand to answer all your questions, and to provide valuable insights and practical tips based on years of experience.

The Clinic is free of charge and open to everyone. It's a must for Long Island Marathon first timers and a good refresher for everyone who will be out on the Wantagh Parkway for this year's run!

Bill Cathers and George Fertal of Nassau County Police Department's Crime Resistance Unit displayed information on ways to protect self and property at an "Awareness Fair" held at Trinity Lutheran Church, Hicksville. Over 60 organizations provided information at the fair regarding services available for children, youth, the elderly, single parents, and families. Areas covered included employment opportunities and training; detection of health problems such as diabetes, cancer, drug or alcohol addiction, hearing loss, low or high blood pressure, etc.; resources for those physically disabled or mentally ill; and much more.

Road Runners Race Results

Kevin Boyle of Wantagh came within two seconds of the course record as he led more than 500 runners to the finish line of the 7th Annual Plainview PBC 10,000 Meter Run last Saturday morning April 7. Margaret Santoli of the Plainview Old Bethpage Road Runners Club was the first woman to cross the finish line, as a beautiful early Spring day brought a record turnout out to compete.

Boyle took command early in the race and gradually stretched out his lead. He finished in 31:32, comfortably ahead of 2nd place finisher Lawrence Torella (32:05) of Manhattan. John McGorry of Long Island Masters champion Herb Kahl of Bohemia was fourth.

Santoli won the women's division of the race in 41:31, starting what was to become a near sweep of women's honors by the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club and the "Fast Feet" Racing Team. POBRR/C Fast Feet teammates Terri Gregory (42:07) and Nancy Grever (42:13) took 2nd and 3rd places respectively among the women, and former Olympic star Chris McKenzie of Great Neck was 4th.

One of the more exciting age group contests was in the men's 14 and under category, as Billy Eaton of Hicksville and Lewis Kaufman of Plainview matched strides for the entire race until Eaton pulled away to a four second win in the closing yards.

Every preregistered runner received a distinctive commemorative baseball cap or visor, and every finisher received a special patch. A post race party with donuts, soda, juice and ice pops for everyone preceded the trophy awards ceremony.

An extra touch of class was provided by the Porsche convertible that served as the pace car, courtesy of race sponsor Robert Auto Rental and Leasing of Hicksville. The other major race sponsors were Woodbury Super Star Sneakers and Sports and Long Island Trust.

Planning has already started for the 8th annual Plainview PBC 10,000 Meter Run on Saturday, April 6, 1985!

Marine's New Adjustable Rate Mortgages Can Save You Money Now—and Later.

For many home buyers, Marine's new Adjustable Rate Mortgages may be the best way to buy.

Why? Because they offer you a low interest rate now—with the possibility of lower mortgage payments down the road. What's more, you can prepay at any time, without penalty.

You can choose a One-Year or Three-Year Mortgage with a low initial interest rate which will stay that way through the first one- or three-year term of your mortgage loan.

At the end of every one- or three-year period, your rate will change up or down relative to the Market Index, which is based on U.S. Treasury Securities. Then, your monthly payment will be adjusted accordingly.

But, no matter how much the Index fluctuates, your interest rate on a One-Year Mortgage won't vary by more than 2% either way at the end of any year. And your rate on a Three-Year Mortgage will never rise or fall by more than 3% at the end of any three-year period.

For our current rate and more information about Adjustable Rate Mortgages, call Marine's ANSWERLINE—(516) 420-7611.

Fundraiser For Mother's Day

On Friday, April 6, students in Barbara Meyer's and Kathy Grady's first and second grade classes at Woodland Avenue School in Hicksville held a special sale to raise money for a Mother's Day Luncheon. During the special luncheon the first grade children plan to entertain moms with a play.

The children were asked to bring in toys, games, books, etc. which they no longer wanted. The articles were priced and displayed for sale to all Woodland students during lunch period.

The students used a variety of hands-on materials such as adding machines, calculators and computers to help them learn about money and making change. The children also operated a shop in the classroom and gained practical knowledge.

It was a learning experience which combined fun with learning and resulted in enough money to enable the students to buy the supplies for their luncheon. (Moms were also delighted to have playroom and bedroom shelves cleaned during the children's search for sale items).

Last Minute Tax Service

"To assist taxpayers with last minute income tax returns the Postal Service will accept and postmark returns at select post offices till midnight April 16," says Hicksville Sectional Center Manager/Postmaster Anthony M. Murello.

The following offices will be open till midnight to accept tax returns:

Hicksville Post Office
185 West John Street
Hicksville Postal Annex
160 Engineers Drive

Postmaster Murello advised mailers to make sure their return has the correct postage and to include their return address.

Sports Facilities Open At Schools

Hicksville Public Schools officials are asking that Hicksville residents cooperate and adhere to the Board of Education policy regarding the use of school facilities. This policy states that such facilities as tennis courts, handball courts, tracks and fields are available to residents after the close of the school day and when they are not in use by school teams or by organizations with permits.

Any questions about securing permission to use district facilities should be directed to the Office of Facilities and Operations at 733-2177.

LIRR Photo Exhibit Continues

The great exhibition of old-time photographs of Hicksville street scenes and the railroad elevation construction of twenty years ago now at the Hicksville Public Library is already capturing the attention of the community.

Sponsored by the Hicksville Gregory Museum Committee, and on view during the month of April, the photo show consists of 108 splendid pictures either taken, or copies by Edward Bady, the Museum's most talented photographer.

Viewers find the Library exhibition most interesting for several reasons. Older residents are enjoying an opportunity to see over thirty large pictures of the Hicksville street and railroad crossing views of the years 1942-1954 and the same scenes in 1984. For railroad enthusiasts and students of photographic technique, Ed Bady's 58 large pictures of the Long Island Railroad elevation construction of 1962-64 are reason enough to visit the exhibition.

The exhibition has as its title "Hicksville Railroad Crossing Vistas 1942-1984" and was prepared by Gregory Museum Historian Richard Evers.

The Hicksville Library Community Room is open Monday to Friday 10-9; Saturday 10-5 and Sunday 1-5.

'Judaism' Film At Library

Sunday, April 15 at 2 p.m., the Hicksville Public Library will show a film entitled "Judaism, The Chosen People", in the Community Room of the library.

This film is from the "Long Search" series by BBC-TV. Host, Ronald Eyre examines what it is that makes a Jew a Jew. Others offer definitions. In Jerusalem, the question is discussed at Religious Schools, Synagogues, the Wailing Wall, the Museum at Vad Vashem and during a Sabbath evening meal.

This film is in color and lasts one hour. Everyone is invited.

Input Callers Not Happy Over IRS Tax Forms

Most callers to Input believe that the present mass of rules and regulations of the Internal Revenue Service cannot be fully enforced in answer to this question: "Is it possible for IRS to fully enforce the present income tax system." Here are some of the answers:

COMPLICATED RULES

No. The tax rules are so complicated now that most people cannot fill in their own forms and many do not know if the experts are doing right with them. The rules are made more difficult and the IRS cannot keep tabs on everything. There is a need for a better system. J.G.

NEW SYSTEM

Income tax is a poor way to collect any revenue. You have to spy on everyone to know who is paying enough and the IRS cannot do much in a country that is a democracy. The best thing would be to gradually phase out this form of taxation and get one that taxes people on the amount of goods they use and products they buy. After all the only need for money is to purchase things with it so now where people conceal their income they would be caught if they had to pay taxes when they used the money. H.R.

TWO REASONS

There are two things to be said about the income tax system. First the reason so many people probably are evading taxes is because they feel that the taxes take too much of what they earn and the second thing is that the system has been made intentionally difficult by our politicians to give the richer people who can afford special counselling a way to get away with more. Most people cannot understand the system and they have to get someone to make out the form. If they only pay a small amount for the service they get very little help in using the system to pay lower taxes so the system is unfair. Internal Revenue cannot do all they should because it is a small department often trying to enforce unpopular laws. H.E.

HONEST PEOPLE

IRS is only effective with the honest people. The really dishonest can get away with it every time and it is not little things like adding $50 to a medical deduction. There has to be a better system by which everyone will pay equally or not at all. J.G.

EVERYONE INVOLVED

With taxes so high almost everyone has to resort to some form of evasion with income tax and the IRS would have to put every second person in jail to enforce all of the laws. This system whereby everyone is put to the test every year is bad because it lessens all respect for law. The Internal Revenue should have simple tax returns and enforce them fully. Presently there are so many rules and regulations that little can be done except to make an example of someone around tax time to scare as many people as possible into being more honest. But this is not really a great way to operate so far as I am concerned. F.W.

DEMOCRACY BREAKDOWN

The tax laws themselves are where our democracy breaks down. We have a great belief in the rights of citizens, even those who engage in robbery and murder. We go to great detail to see that they keep their rights. In our income tax system we have to prove to the government that we are not lying to them. Any criminal who was confronted with this type of justice would win but yet the majority of our citizens are not given this democratic respect when it comes to taxes. It is time to change the system to one that protects our democracy for the income tax payer as much as it does for the criminal. S.R.

CANNOT ENFORCE

The answer is unequivocally "No" - IRS could not fully enforce the present income tax system. Naturally, it could come close to it if every return was audited but even then, the regulations are so numerous and the taxpayers' individual conditions so varied, it would be impossible to make water-tight checks. And of course, the cost would be prohibitive. Nevertheless, the fact remains that the invisible economy i.e. undeclared cash transactions involving income and expense, is so vast that no bureaucracy could fully cope with it. And then, there is the area where well intentioned taxpayers seeking advice from IRS experts to solve complicated problems in advance of April 15, receive verbal clarification which seems clear at the time but doesn't quite fit later when 1040 is filled out resulting in questionable interpretations. A flat-tax system which I endorse, would eliminate many of the complexities of the present system and provide more accurate returns but, even here, the invisible economy would defy full enforcement. P.G.S.

DIFFICULT SYSTEM

I read recently that the IRS checks one in every 67 or 68 income tax forms. I also read somewhere that they check mostly incomes of $50,000 and up. The smaller ones they don't have any help to check. Under the present system I don't think it's possible for them to fully endorse it and I don't think there's a system now or in the future that could really fully endorse it. Whenever they catch a cheater, the cheaters find a new way to cheat. So it's a very difficult situation for the government. H.S.

Babysitting Blues

By Linda Haner

A trustworthy babysitter is worth his/her weight in gold. If you have such a person be sure to guard her telephone number with your life. After all what is more precious than the well being of your child?

When we leave the children in the babysitter's care, we must either trust that person, or spend the whole time worrying about what might be taking place at home. In our mobile society more and more people are depending on the services of a paid teenager to watch the children, instead of Grandma or Grandpa. Family members are not often close by to help out during special occasions.

Have you ever babysat as a teen? Let's face it, babysitting is not the most desirable and popular job. Having a baby spit food in your face, or being locked in a bathroom by a seven year old is not as much fun as getting a tan sitting in a lifeguard's chair. Although the two jobs are both necessary and extremely important to human lives.

A friend was reminiscing yesterday about her days as a babysitter. She vacuumed, dusted, and even washed dishes for only fifty cents an hour in 1974. Today she exclaimed that she can't find a reliable sitter who will simply pay more attention to her toddler than she does to the Atari at three times the price!

My friend, Joan, and I exchanged stories of babysitting gone sour. She related one instance when the teenager fell asleep in the bedroom. Joan came home from a late evening while her husband ran to the grocery to buy some milk. Since Joan was locked out, she knocked on the door. To her surprise her small son gingerly opened the door, and he proceeded to go upstairs to awaken the sitter!

Another time a babysitter tickled Joan's son while he was eating popcorn, and he almost choked to death. His older sister intervened and may have very well saved his life. Joan wonders where responsibility has gone.

I have had my share of disasters in dealing with the babysitting blues. The most bizarre instance occurred when one babysitter (who came to me highly recommended) took my one year old to a football game in his pajamas without a jacket and without a car seat. My husband walked her home that evening, and she never mentioned the game. The next day my neighbor came over to ask if I knew that my child had not only been to the game, but was passed around the stands by the teens! Obviously I was in shock. That one night out turned out to be costly. I spent the next ten days nursing the child back to health.

Next I tried a girl who was a local honor student. One half hour before we were to leave, the doorbell rang. Two teens with a blaring stereo wanted to know when their friend would arrive. I told them in no uncertain terms that the sitter was not allowed guests. Where did responsibility go?

The next fiasco occurred when we had expensive tickets to a social function. The girl lived across the street, and we noticed that the house was dark just as we were about to leave. I called her home to no avail. Luckily our neighbor babysat for us until the girl finally showed up after an outing with her parents.

The latest episode occurred when my husband and I wanted to attend a church weekend function. We tried another new girl, who arrived on time but looked very pale. We asked her if she was feeling ill, but she said no and proceeded to play with our son on the floor. When we arrived home three hours later, her mother was sewing a hem in our family room. It seems that her daughter was ill with the flu and went home. What do you think happened? Bingo! My son caught the flu and those three short hours away from home turned into one week of playing nurse. Not to mention that we missed the rest of the weekend retreat.

A new friend says that they have not gone out since October. Since they have no family nearby, and there are no older women in the neighborhood this couple has given up on sitters. She had her own arsenal of horror stories. At least Trivial Pursuit is keeping them busy.

I recently found a girl that I can trust and who is very responsible. I have searched long and hard for her and would not give her telephone number, even if I was tortured by the enemy. My schedule often depends upon her, but the peace of mind is worth it. I was beginning to think that the babysitting blues were becoming a permanent malady.

READER RATINGS

DIFFERENT RESTAURANT
The name is different and so is the whole restaurant. I am talking about the Red Caboose. A real live old time freight caboose is hooked up to the back of the Red Caboose restaurant on Old Country Road, Westbury.

When you enter the tastefully decorated main area you will like the intimacy of the restaurant. In addition the menu is Northern Italian with many fine veal and shrimp dishes. When you order a dinner entree you are given free access to the salad bar which has a good selection of items for salad and before dinner snacking.

Small But Good
The Rex II located on Covert Ave. Stewart Manor is one of those small but good little restaurants that are difficult to know about unless someone tells you about them. We found Rex II through the small ad in your paper but were hesitant to go there until someone told us that they had found it to be one of the best little Italian restaurants around.

It appealed to us right away. They have a full menu and offer complete dinners for just a nominal added amount to the entree. The decor is not exceptional but the restaurant is clean, well run and has great food at medium sized prices. We recommend it to your readers.

"One thing I'm sure of, you're going to like the way DEVINS looks, the owners' goal was to achieve the feel of Edwardian England, but it is sufficiently eclectic to include echoes of New Orleans and Paris.... The fish here is properly fresh and the meat is properly aged, and great care is taken in their presentations. Here, I must pause to compliment the service."

If you want the best in Italian food, and we have gone to many different Italian restaurants, your readers should go to Iannone's in Hicksville. This small, but expanding restaurant, presents the very best of shrimp and veal and the tastiest pasta you can find.

We have been fans of Iannone's for a number of years but we really think it has become even better in the last year. Many residents from all different areas have told us that they go to this restaurant in Hicksville. But we thought it deserves a boost in Reader Rating columns. T&A.B.

READER RATINGS

Q. Last week we went to a well known restaurant with a party of four people. Each person ordered something different and the result was that the waitress brought the orders out at different times. What happened was that some people had to sit there and let their food get cold while waiting for the others. Some in the party said "go ahead and eat" but no one wanted to do that because it didn't seem right. What should have been done?
 G.H.

A. What should have been done is that you should have complained to the management. You have mentioned a good restaurant and we are going to send the complaint on to them. The food should all be served at once or as nearly as possible. Otherwise no one is dining together and you might as well have all gone alone. That restaurant will have to get on the ball.

Q. I have noticed that tips are said to range from 15 to 20 percent of a bill in a restaurant. When you calculate this do you figure in the sales tax?
 R.K.

A. No you do not generally figure the sales tax in the tip but a great many people now are doubling the sales tax to quickly arrive at the amount of the tip. With the new increased fraction the tip will then closely approximate a 15 percent gratuity.

GOOD EXPERIENCE

The Benihana of Tokyo restaurant in Manhasset is a good experience. While the price is not low, the food is good and you get the free entertainment of watching the chef cut the fish or meat in a flamboyant style.

We had the fish dinner which was cooked from beginning to end before our eyes on the hibachi. The salad has a special taste prepared with the house dressing which is a combination of oil, vinegar and spice.

We recommend this restaurant. MV.

GRACE' CHARM

For grace and charm the Viennese Coach in Syosset is unsurpassed. The main room features a pianist (ed. note George Benner) who plays a variety of contemporary music.

The food is a treat. On Sunday we had shrimp in a special green dill sauce and a specially prepared German recipe for chicken. We certainly think that the Viennese Coach is one of the outstanding restaurants in the area. It is located on Jericho Turnpike just next to the Syosset Theatre. J.G.

Good Party

I have found that a trip to the Milleridge Inn in Jericho is a very special occasion. We just held a small family sized birthday party there last week and were well pleased with the way it came out.

We let everyone order from the menu and then had a large cake at the end.

The entire group got what it wanted to eat and at the end of the party we all took a stroll through the little stores that are part of the Milleridge Village. This was a nice birthday party and one that did not cost a great deal, but was fun. G.J.

The Last Word In Restaurant Guides

Where Our Readers Have The Last Word

This newspaper, and the seven other weekly newspapers associated with it, publishes the last word in restaurant guides... a paid listing of many prominent selected restaurants in this area. While many of them have been rated by the great, and near great food commissions, our readers will have the last word through "Reader Ratings."

Through a special 24-hour phone system, readers will be asked to call in their assessment of each restaurant they visit. Consensus ratings (good or bad) will be published as a continuing part of the guide.

In addition they can make suggestions, compliments or criticisms through the open phone line and messages will be sent through to the restaurant management.

Restaurant Guide

If you have Questions about etiquette or dining out you may call them in to WE 1-0027 and we will find the answer.

Q. In a good restaurant that we attended recently an accordion player came around to each table and asked whether we had any requests. My wife made a request and the musician played it. Is this music provided by the restaurant or should I have tipped? J.B.

A. Generally the musicians are paid by the restaurant to entertain all of the diners. But when you make a special request it is expected that a small tip will accompany the request. In this case $1 would have been a fair tip.

Q. What do you do if you enter a restaurant and some friends at another table tell the waiter to see what you are drinking because they want to buy you a drink and you do not drink? E.R.

A. There is no set answer to your question. You obviously have some very generous friends who do not know your habits. The best thing to do would be to inform the waiter that you do not drink but you might make a gesture with a water glass towards your friends table as a toast.

Cooking Corner

Filo dough, also known as fila, fillo and phylla and phyllo, is a paper-thin pastry dough. Very similar to strudel dough, it used to be handmade in storefront shops and was considered a delicacy due to the difficulty in creating the thin sheets of dough with water and flour.

Those tissue-thin sheets of filo/strudel dough can wrap meat, fish, cheese, vegetables, fruit and nuts. The versatile dough can be baked, fried, and used to make snacks or hors d'oeuvres, entrees, side dishes and desserts.

When brushed with butter, filled and baked, layers of filo puff up in flaky golden layers of extra-light pastry.

The commercial filo labeled "thin" is preferable to "ultra-thin" for home use. A 1-pound box contains 25 to 28 sheets, and sizes of sheets may vary a little. If fresh dough is not available, look in the frozen bread section of the grocery store.

Before buying, inspect the edges of the sheets to make sure they are not crumbled or torn, a sign of improper handling or storage.

Once home, be sure to totally defrost frozen filo or the outside sheets will be sticky and the inner ones still frozen. There are two acceptable thawing methods: 1. Defrost the filo in its original wrapper in the refrigerator for at least two days; 2. Leave it in the refrigerator overnight, then at room temperature two hours before using.

Do not refreeze the dough, as long as it is still sealed in its original package, defrosted filo will keep in the refrigerator for up to a month.

Filo is so thin that it can quickly become dry and brittle when exposed to air, so always have a slightly damp towel handy before removing it from the package. Some cooks place a sheet of waxed paper on the dough, and then cover that with a damp towel. Moisture makes filo easier to handle.

Unwrap the dough, unroll it and remove the required number of filo sheets. Let them stand for 15 minutes under the slightly damp towel. Replace the remaining dough in plastic storage bag at once and seal the bag. Store the leaves to be used under a damp cloth until each is needed.

Be creative! Try some of these recipes using filo and familiarize yourself with the pleasure and ease of working with this most versatile pastry dough.

VIENNESE

APPLE STRUDEL

½ cup dark seedless raisins
2 tbsps. brandy
2 cups pared, thinly sliced apples
½ cup chopped walnuts
¼ cup granulated sugar
2 tbsps. melted butter
1 tbsps. grated lemon peel
½ tsp. ground cinnamon
½ tsp. vanilla
½ cup fine bread crumbs (or filo flakes)
2 tbsps. melted butter
½ cup apricot preserves

1 tbsps. brandy
6 filo leaves, melted butter and powdered sugar for top of strudel

Soak raisins in 2 tablespoons brandy about 2 hours. Combine raisin mixture, apples, walnuts, granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons melted butter, lemon peel, cinnamon and vanilla in large bowl. Set aside.

In small skillet, melt 2 tablespoons butter and stir in bread crumbs. Cook until browned. In small saucepan, heat apricot preserves over low heat until hot; stir in 1 tablespoon brandy.

Heat oven to 350 F. Layer filo leaves on kitchen towel, brushing each leaf with melted butter. Spread entire surface with hot apricot mixture; sprinkle with bread crumbs. Spoon apple mixture along longest end of leaves in a 3-inch strip, leaving a ¼-inch border. Using the towel for assistance, lift to roll leaves over filling. This will form a jelly roll. Place strudel on lightly buttered jelly roll pan, 15½x10½ inches, seam side down. Brush with butter. Score strudel diagonally through top few leaves, into 12 to 15 equal sections. Bake until apples are tender and strudel is brown and crisp, 45 to 50 minutes. Cool to lukewarm; sprinkle with powdered sugar. Cut into 12 to 15 pieces.

INDIVIDUAL WELLINGTONS

4 1½- to 2-inch slices beef filet
Butter or margarine
12 sheets filo dough
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
1 egg, well beaten
Duxelles (recipe below)

Saute filets in butter in very hot skillet, 2 to 3 minutes on each side. Season with salt and pepper. Cool completely.

Place first leaf of filo dough on damp cloth. Brush with melted butter. Place second leaf directly over first and again brush with melted butter.

Add third leaf. Place one filet in middle of dough and spread ¼ of Duxelles over top of filet. Fold in sides of dough and wrap like a package, making sure filet is completely covered. Seal seams with cold water. Repeat for every piece of beef. Place all Wellington "packages" on a cookie sheet, seam down. Brush each filet with well-beaten egg and bake in preheated 375-F oven 15 to 20 minutes, or until golden brown. Makes 4 servings.

JUNIOR EDITION

Aunt Tilly's Corner

Did you know that people are now using computers to adopt dogs from animal shelters? Well, it's true. Dr. Randall Lockwood, who is a university professor (at Stony Brook), will be at Bide A Wee home in Wantagh on Thursday, April 19, 1-5 p.m. He will use his "Choose A Pooch" program to match people's lifestyles with many breeds of dogs. (Isn't it great to be living in a scientific age?)

Your friend,
Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring contest winners are: Meg Collins and Robert Brown.

RULES

BOYS AND GIRLS:

Here is your chance to win One Dollar ($1.00) - to spend, or to save.

- Here's all you have to do:
1. Contest is open to children 4 to 12 years of age.
  2. Entries must be received by Friday, April 20, 1984
  3. Paint, watercolors and crayons must be used on the above.
  4. Decision of the Judges will be final.

Mail your entry (just clip out cartoon) to this newspaper at:
105 Hillside Avenue
Williston Park, N.Y. 11596

Clean terrazzo then seal it

Q. We purchased an old home and the floor of the bathroom shower is terrazzo, which has a heavy dark water stain.

I have tried many cleaners and although I have succeeded in removing some of the stain, I cannot seem to eradicate it all.

I will appreciate any help you can offer. — Mrs. O.B.

A. We suggest you first give the floor a good cleaning, scrubbing with a nylon scouring pad or stiff brush and warm to hot water.

While the floor surface is still damp, apply a poultice 1/2-inch thick, made as follows: Using an abrasive cleaning powder, preferably one containing a bleach, make a thick paste with hot water about 1 pound of powder for each 1 1/2 square feet of surface to be covered. Let the poultice remain on the floor for 48 hours or until completely dry. Remove with wood paddles to prevent scratching the terrazzo surface. Rinse well.

If the above fails, make a poultice of whiting and hydrogen peroxide, to which is added a few drops of household ammonia. Spread over the stain and let dry.

A third suggestion is to use a "flush-off" paint and varnish remover. After the stain has been removed, give the floor two coats of a terrazzo sealer which should resist further staining.

Q. We stripped the finish off an old chest of drawers and discovered a beautifully grained wood underneath. We applied a coat of shellac, but are not satisfied with the result, as there seems to be a rather uneven surface, especially evident when you rub your fingers over it.

Do I have to take off the shellac in order to put on varnish? — Carl J.D.

A. No. Using a fine grade of sandpaper, sand down the finish until it is smooth to the touch. Brush off all grit, wipe clean and then go ahead with varnishing.

Q. Our problem is a self-cleaning gas oven that is dirty with caked or burned-on stains along wall and bottom surfaces.

What can be used to clean up this mess? Heavy cleansers are supposedly "no-no's."

Your help would be appreciated. — Mrs. R.N.S.

A. I suggest you call the dealer or manufacturer's representative.

Cleaners are not supposed to be used with self-cleaning ovens, which suggests your oven is malfunctioning. An inspection by a qualified repairman is needed.

Q. Our cork floor is more than 30 years old, has been sanded and finished with a dull hard coating. Now that coating shows wear in spots, wearing the cork under the coating.

What finish can we apply since it is impossible to have a new cork floor laid? We have made several inquiries and they no longer make the cork for this purpose. — Mrs. Frank K.

A. The safest and best way we know is to sand the floor. Cork is the only one of the resilient floors which may be successfully sanded.

However, unless you are an experienced sander, do not use a drum sanding machine, or you may ruin the floor. Use a regular floor polishing machine with a sanding disc attached, using a fairly coarse grade of paper first and following with a fine grade.

We suggest that instead of resealing the cork, you give it two applications of solvent-type floor wax, liquid or paste, and buff each coat when dry. After that, the floor can be maintained with water wax.

By Robert Wallace, Ed.D.

Dr. Wallace: I have a most unusual problem. I'm a 17-year-old girl and I want to become a registered nurse. All my life I have been dreaming about the day I will be dressed in white and helping people.

My only problem is that I cannot stand the sight of blood. I talked with my family doctor and he encouraged me and said that eventually I will overcome the shock of seeing blood.

But I'm not so sure about that. Is my doctor giving me the straight scoop? — Brenda Brenda: I called my family doctor and presented your unique concern to him and was informed that you should seek another profession because he is firmly convinced that one never overcomes the "sight of blood" shock.

Let's see, that's one who says go for it, one who says don't. Why don't you contact a third doctor (this time contact a female M.D.) and take her word?

Dr. Wallace: My dad is on a health kick and for the past month he has been unbearable. He jogs 3 miles every morning at 6 and I think that's wonderful, but now he wants my mom and me to join him.

Dr. Wallace: I hate jogging and so does my mother and, besides, we don't want to get up at 5:45 every morning and jog, rain or shine, for 3 miles.

I told my dad I would write for your opinion and he promised he would abide by your decision. Should we or should we not jog every morning with dear old Dad? — Barbara.

Barbara: Your father should be congratulated for his dedication to a regimented exercise program but he should not require that you or your mother join him.

An exercise program is rarely successful unless the participant enjoys, to some degree, the workout.

Dr. Wallace: I am a 17-year-old girl and I'm engaged to a super-nice guy who is 22. We plan to get married this summer after I graduate from high school. At that time I will be 18.

My mother hates this guy and told me that I will not get married to him because she will not give me permission to wed. I thought that at 18 I would be old enough to get married without parental permission.

Can my mother stop my marriage? — Glenda

TWEEN 12 & 20

Glenda: You will, at 18, be old enough to get married without parental permission, but do your best to get their blessing!

Dr. Wallace: Will you please help me with a problem?

My mother has the habit of calling me names when she is mad at me. I am a 13-year-old girl and I have never been on a date or even had a boyfriend and I'm a virgin but she calls me a slut and worse.

I talked to her about it and she always says she is sorry after she cools down but the damage has already been done.

I can't talk to my dad about my problem because he left us two years ago and we don't know where he is. Can you please help? — Wanda Wanda: Find a nice appropriate card and mail it to Mom.

On the card write: Mom, please don't call me names when you're mad at me. It hurts me very much when you do. I'll do my best to be a loving, caring daughter and please do your best to be a loving, caring mother. I love you very much! — Wanda

Dr. Wallace: I'm 16 and I have a super-big problem.

I met Mark at church and we hit it off really well. We have been dating for over a month. About a week ago, Mark introduced me to his best friend, Rick, and Rick asked me out and I went because I'm not going steady with Mark.

Rick is a nice guy and I really enjoy his company but I don't want to run Mark away. I'd appreciate your advice. — Louise Louise: Dating best friends is usually a very unwise decision. If you don't want to run Mark away, then run Rick away.

Dr. Wallace: My mother and father both smoke almost two packs of cigarettes every day and I'm afraid they will die of lung cancer. I love them both very much and I don't want this to happen.

Will you please help me to help them? — Portia

Portia: The best way I can help is to print your letter so Mom and Dad can see how much you care about them.

OK, Mom and Dad, what's more important, the nasty tobacco habit or the happiness of a concerned, loving daughter? Portia has done her part, now you do yours. Give up cigarettes, now and forever!

Mainly For Seniors

By John T. Watts

Dear John: In response to the article "from Erma S., I can give this information:

The name of the book is "Arthritis and Folk Medicine." The author is D.C. Jarvis, M.D., and the publisher is Fawcett Crest Books, Fawcett Publishing Inc., Greenwich, Conn.

There are no other additives, only the apple cider vinegar and honey.

Take two teaspoons of honey and dissolve in a small amount of warm water in a medium-size glass. Then add two teaspoons of apple cider vinegar and fill glass with water.

Take this once a day, at meals if preferred. I have taken it and it really helps (arthritis). Have also recommended it to friends and it helped them.

You must use the honey and vinegar a while before getting results. Hope that it helps. — Erma S.

This is Dr. Jarvis' second book. The first one was entitled "Folk Medicine."

Dear Reader: You forgot to sign your name to this helpful note, but it seems to be more or less in line with what we have heard before about the vinegar treatment for arthritis.

Anyway, we'll add this information to our arthritis leaflet at once. Readers who want further confirmation undoubtedly can pick up Dr. Jarvis' book at a book store.

And we must remind everyone again that all requests, for arthritis leaflets or Pen Pal lists — or anything that we might have available, must be accompanied by an addressed, stamped envelope. A donation to this information distribution cause is also welcome.

Dear John: I have been trying for quite some time to find a place where I can buy grit for my stone polisher that I use to polish stones with.

I need grits that I cannot find anywhere.

No hobby shop or craft shop has any and where I bought the polisher at (Sears) cannot help me. — C.K.

Dear C.K.: It's hard to believe that a hobby shop would not have these abrasives. But any hobby shop worth its salt should be able to order it for you or tell you where you can get it.

You might also try industrial supply stores and the larger hardware stores. Also look through the Yellow Pages for firms that use abrasives and ask them where they got them.

A problem like this can challenge your ingenuity and result in a lot of digging.

Dear John:

I have been frustrated with the impotency problem for the last five years, or since I was 54 years old.

A psychiatrist told me it was probably some mental thing, however it wasn't a urologist and make sure it wasn't anything physical. This I did and he gave me a proctoscope. All he could tell me was my prostate was enlarged and there was no sign of any malignancy. But he offered no suggestions on what I should do about my problem.

My question is where do I go from here? Perhaps some of your readers could suggest something to alleviate my frustration?

Should I try to find a doctor that will perform a penile implant on me or do you think it's all psychological?

Sincerely thanking you for any help you can give me on this subject. — James M.

Dear James: I hesitate to give any suggestions. Maybe some readers will have some, but this is a field in which victims do not talk much.

Too bad, because this is a condition which has many sufferers. I have referred your letter and others received here to Connie who was snowed under by letters after the column came out. She represents an agency which is supposed to know something about this problem.

NOVENA TO ST. JUDE
Oh Holy St. Jude, Apostle & Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful and intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depths of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power, to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return, I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. St. Jude, Pray for us all who invoke your aid. Amen. Say 3 Our Fathers, 3 Hail Marys, 3 Glorias. Say for 9 consecutive days. Publication must be promised. This novena has never been known to fail. Thank you for answering my prayers. J.J.B. wa2

HOLY SPIRIT YOU WHO SOLVE
all problems, who light all roads so that I can obtain my goals. You who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget all evils against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. I want in this short prayer to thank you for all things and to confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you even and in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with you in eternal glory. Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. Say for 3 consecutive days after which the favor requested will be granted even if it appears difficult. This prayer must be published immediately without mentioning the favor, only your initials. Thank you HOLY Spirit. M.T.J. hap2

* GRANDPARENTS... HERE IS YOUR CHANCE!
You have been telling everyone you meet that you have the 'World's Greatest Grandchildren' You've been carrying pictures around with you and finding people to look at them. We have a better answer!
Each week we will run photos Of the World's 'Most Beautiful Grandchildren' (in the eyes of the grandparents) and for each photo selected, we will send, as a prize, a permanent version of the way it appeared in the newspaper for you to keep.
To enter the contest, simply send a small (preferred) photo to:
Discovery Magazine
81 East Barclay Street,
Hicksville, N.Y. 11801
If you want the photo returned, you must print your name and address on the back.

ATTENTION PET LOVERS
If you feel that you have the 'Most Precious Pet in the World' it is time to let the rest of the world know about it.
Discovery Magazine wants to show your pet to everyone in its reading area.
To nominate your pet as the 'Most Precious Pet' send in a photo to:
Discovery Magazine,
81 East Barclay Street,
Hicksville, N.Y. 11801
Please put your name and address on the back of the picture to facilitate returns. The publishers guarantee that they will take reasonable care in returning your photo.

GRANDCHILDREN MOTHERS-FATHERS
You've heard Grandma and Grandpa bragging about their wonderful grandchildren, and it is now time to give credit where it is due. Send in their photos - and nominate them to be the 'World's Greatest Grandparent or Grandparents'
We will, as space allows, print the pictures as part of our magazine feature - and as a reward, we will send you the printed clipping, in permanent form, for you to keep. To enter the contest, simply send a small (preferred) photo to:
Discovery Magazine,
81 East Barclay Street,
Hicksville, N.Y. 11801
A few words about Grandpa and/or Grandma will help the judges. Remember, if you want the photo returned! please write the name and address on the back.

'Schoolboys' carries Full Bee Mark

By James G. McCollam
Member, Antique
Appraisers Association of America

Q. My Hummel figurine consists of three little boys. I have copied the mark on the bottom. There is also the number 170.

Can you tell me how old this is and what it would sell for?

A. This is called "School Boys" and the mark you sketched is Trade Mark 2 or the Full Bee Mark. It was made between 1950 and 1958. It is currently selling in the $1,800 to $2,000 range.

Q. I am confused about Wedgwood china. Some of it you say is authentic; some you say is fake.

Can you explain this so I can understand it and be able to tell the difference?

A. The original Wedgwood was made by Josiah Wedgwood and still is by his descendants. It is usually inscribed "Wedgwood."

Antiques Collectibles

In the late 18th century, Ralph Wedgwood made china marked "Wedgwood & Co." In the 19th century, the same mark was used by Podmore & Walker. It is now produced under the mark "Enoch Wedgwood."

John Wedgwood made China marked with his name in the mid-19th century. The mark "Wedgwood" was used by Wm. Smith & Co. Note the middle "e."

Q. This sewing table is painted a light brown and decorated with hand-painted flowers. I know that it is well over 100 years old, but would like to know what it is called and its value.

A. This style is known as Sheraton and was made in the first quarter of the 19th century.

Its value lies to a large measure in the painted and decorated finish. It should be protected at all costs.

The value would be in the $800 to $900 range.

BOOK REVIEW: "North American Indian Artifacts" by Lar Hothem; Wallace-Homestead Book Co.; 1912 Grand Ave.; Des Moines, IA 50305; $9.95 plus $1.25 postage at your local bookstore.

This is an extensive collectors' identification and value guide to Indian artifacts. It covers all the major tribes from the East Coast to the Southwest, as well as Canada and Alaska.

Send your questions about antiques with picture(s), a detailed description, stamped, self-addressed envelope, and $1 per item to James G. McCollam.
