Third Graders Field Trip

Each year the third graders of East Street look forward to a very exciting Spring field trip. The Hayden Planetarium is a delight for star gazers of all ages, but it has a special meaning to the children since they have been studying the solar system.

The bus ride that carries the children into Manhattan gives them an opportunity to see the impressive skyline. The sights and sounds of the city differ from the sights and sounds of Hicksville. The sky show at the Planetarium offers the night sky, with all the constellations clearly depicted. The children see the phases of the moon and the path of the sun in the different seasons. They saw the surface of the moon and the violent power of the sun. After the sky show and lunch the children explored the many displays that the Planetarium offers. Scales, showing their weights on other planets, is one of the favorite exhibits. They also enjoyed learning about solar power cells. Sixty two pounds of water doesn't look like much until the children try to lift it and realize it takes four of them with all their strength to do so.

On the way home, the children try out their newly bought telescopes and binoculars. The trip is long and tiring because of traffic delays but the children are well behaved and happy. Thanks to the stamina of Mrs. Wallman and Mrs. Voorhies and the mothers that gave their time. The trip was a great adventure.

Residents Request Tenure For Dr. Rieck

Special to Mid Island Times
By Valerie Pakaluk

A petition, signed by 384 Hicksville residents, was presented to the Board of Education at the April 11 meeting supporting the approval of tenure for senior high school principal Dr. William Rieck. Several members of the audience added their comments in support citing improved conditions at the high school since Dr. Rieck took over the position three years ago. Jay Schwartz, Board President, noted that tenure recommendations were decided by the Superintendent of Schools. The Superintendent can grant or deny tenure, the Board can only vote against an approval, not a denial.

Trustee Honey Singer announced that the American Field Service Chapter, recently formed in Hicksville, is seeking a volunteer family willing to provide food and lodging to a foreign exchange student for the 1984-85 school year. Visiting students are covered for medical expenses and pay their own way. The AFS supplies them with a small stipend for pocket expenses. The host family need not have school-age children and is eligible for a reduction on income taxes for the service. The deadline for volunteering is May 19 and Mrs. Singer can be reached at 935-0440 if further information is needed.

A moment of silence was requested prior to the beginning of the meeting acknowledging the deaths of Henry Brenzel, Sr., a former board member and Christine Cahalan, an active PTA member from the Burns Avenue School area.

On the brighter side, the Board recognized the success of 6'6" basketball center Bill Cheslock and his nomination to the All Long Island Basketball Team and congratulated Iris Wolfson who was re-elected to another five year term on the Board of Trustees for BOCES. Mrs. Wolfson, a resident and former Board Trustee, was supported for nomination by the Hicksville District.

In other matters, the Board took the following actions:

- Signed the contract between the District and the Hicksville Secretaries Association for the period 1983 to 1986. The President of the Secretaries Association and the Board President met prior to the regular meeting for the signing.
- Approved hiring a consultant for Long Range Planning at the rate of $9200.
- Elected to purchase a Centrex III telephone system which will provide stabilized rates until December 31, 1986. It was anticipated that without the stabilization costs would have increased by $900 a month or $10,800 a year.
- Heard a detailed report on the 1984-85 course offerings at the Senior High School.
- Approved recommendations of the Committee on the Handicapped.
- Acted on various personnel matters recommended by Mr. Ronald Friedman.

The next meeting is scheduled for May 9 at 8:15 p.m. in the Conference Room at the Administration Building.

Library Budget Passes

The Hicksville Library budget passed last Wednesday in tight voting. The results were 259 for and 119 against.

The following statement was issued by the Library:

"The Board and Staff of the Hicksville Public Library thank all those who voted for the library budget. We extend an invitation to all to pay the library a visit and find out about the many services the library has to offer. You may be surprised if you haven't been to the library in a while. We especially thank our regular borrowers who use the library often and showed their appreciation by voting for the budget."

A breakdown of the voting is as follows:

	Yes No
Burns	259 119
East	15 14
Woodland	51 17
Lee	37 19
Fork	51 31
Dutch La.	31 11
Old Country	32 5
	38 22

Ruth Aron ran unopposed for the library board and was re-elected to a five year term by 279 votes.

Old Country PTA Fingerprinting

Last year's Fingerprinting Day left Christine Hamlin and brother Matthew with quite a mess "on their hands". Poor Mommy!

As a service to our community, the PTA of Old Country Road School will be providing free fingerprinting of children (pre-schoolers included) on April 27.

Last year over 200 children were fingerprinted at Old Country Road School. These fingerprints are used strictly for identification purposes. They cannot be entered into computer banks nor are there any duplicates made. Fingerprints are given to a parent or guardian only.

If you would like to take advantage of this opportunity, please observe the following:

Time: 3:30-5:30 p.m. and 6:30-

7:30 p.m. Friday, April 27 in the All Purpose Room.

Parent or guardian must accompany child to be fingerprinted. Permission slips must be filled out in the presence of an authorized PTA member. We will keep permission slips. You will keep fingerprints.

We will provide smocks, but it is advisable to wear old clothes. Fingerprint ink, while washable from hands, is not washable from clothing.

If you have any questions, please contact Kathy DeRenzis 931-5691 or Helen Noto 681-5891.

The Third Annual New York Computer Show and Software Exposition will feature nearly 300 displays and exhibits when it comes to Nassau Coliseum, April 26-29, among them all makes of computers, and all types of hardware and software. A One-Stop Easter Shop

Holidays are always hectic times, so why not do all your Easter shopping just one place—and in keeping with the spirit of spring, get the freshest food possible for your Easter feast.

Instead of the usual supermarket, try the Nassau Farmers Market in Bethpage (off Rte. 107), where you can get everything from soup to Easter nuts and bunnies. Open from 10 AM to 10 PM Friday and Saturday and Tuesday the week before Easter, the Farmers Market offers the best in old-fashioned freshness. Meats, poultry, fruits, vegetables, breads, cakes and pies—everything you need for your spring menu is in on Thursday and on Saturday. And the prices are fresh too. "We do comparative shopping every week to make sure that our prices are the lowest anywhere," says Brian Sedlock, general manager of the Farmers Market.

At Easter parades around the Nassau Farmers Market will provide a truly economical array of holiday foods. At Sikorski and Winski's Deli, for example, you can pick up quality kielbasa and kielka (handmade, not trimmed) for a traditional Polish Easter breakfast. A few booths down at Ostromann's German Deli, you can find low cholesterol Easter breakfast sausage or knockwurst for lunch and easy snacks.

The traditional Easter entree of lamb or ham is available at two old-time butcher shops at the Nassau Farmers Market. The Swan Meat Market (booth 79) has spring leg-of-lamb at $1.79 (3 1/2 lbs.) while Royal Quality Meats (booth 72) has boneless smoked ham on special at $1.99 (lb.). The meats are fresh; the butchers are veterans who wait on customers, cut meats to order, and offer occasional recipes.

To supplement your main course, look for spring vegetables at the produce booths of Casey Clair and Pete Marchese—parasparagi, carrots, small onions, new potatoes, mushrooms, peas, artichokes—the crisp accompaniments to the tenderest of meats.

For a dash of Italian Easter, go to Orlando's Deli for all the ingredients of pizza rustica. Orlando Mele, touts a spicy Southern Italian style of pizza rustica, with feta cheese and hot dried sausage.

To fill your glasses, visit Artie Mickelson's super market section, where White Rock Soda, Budweiser, Schmidt's and Meister Jean are cheaper than any discount beverage barn. While you're at the supermarket and in nearby booths, you can set the table with good buys in napkins, tablecloths, candles and Easter items.

And for dessert, don't overlook the specialties of Ben's Bakers (Easter egg cakes) and the various candy booths. Bill's Nuthouse (booth 221) offers a sumptuous array of "toe-bee" gourmet jelly beans, as well as Madellane and Jay Kay chocolates, in traditional bunnies and novelty shapes.

For an added touch of class, try the Nestles "ultra chocolate" at Kay Arnone's Candy Box. You can buy these smooth sweets in handmade hollows and solid forms—and there are even molds for people who like to melt and shape their own Easter treats.

News From Road Runners

Applications available for July 4 Long Island Women's Championship Run

Applications are now available for the 1st annual Long Island Summer 5 Kilometer Women's Championship Run, to be held on the roads of the Nassau County suburban community of Jericho on the morning of Independence Day, July 4, 1984.

The Run, which will be open to women of all ages and abilities, will be conducted by the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club with the technical assistance of Finish Line Promotions of Port Washington. The start and finish will be at Jericho High School, and the starting gun will go off promptly at 9 a.m.

"The Long Island running community is becoming increasingly excited at the prospect of this Women's Championship Run," observed Plainview-Old Bethpage Bethpage Road Runners Club President Mike Polansky. "The L'Eggs Minimarathon in Central Park and the Avon Women's Racing Circuit have proven that there is a real demand for women's road racing, and it's high time that there was a major women's road race right here on Long Island. We expect to stage a first class race that will attract both top flight women racers and more to the point—the average back-of-the-pack recreational runner. It should be good fun for every woman who competes.

The Jericho course provides a dramatic combination of demanding hills and level straightaways through some of the most pleasant and scenic roads in central Long Island. The course will be TAC certified, and the run will be TAC sanctioned, so that personal results may be used to qualifying times for TAC events throughout the country. Time splits will be given at every mile mark, and there will be a water-gatorade station at the halfway mark. Photo service will be provided by Lawrence Greller Photography.

Substantial Cash prizes and trophies will be awarded to the top five overall finishers, and trophies will be awarded to the top five finishers in each of seven age groups. The race winner will also receive a warmup suit, and each age group winner will receive a race singlet, all courtesy of Moving Comfort, Inc. Every competitor will take home a special commemorative Moving Comfort women's shirt. Additional merchandise prizes are being provided by Jogbra and Woodbury Super Star Sneakers and Sports.

There will be a team competition, with special awards to each of the top three teams of four women per team.

The entry fee has been set at $7 for those who pre-register and $7 for those who register on the day of the race.

The list of sponsors who have signed up to support the Run includes Gruntal and Co., The Milleridge Inn, The Long Island Savings Bank, Careers in Sports, Moving Comfort, Inc., Jogbra, Macrolease International Corporation, the Sea Crest Restaurant, and Army's Cleaners of Syosset.

For more information, contact Road Runners Club President Mike Polansky at 516 433-0919 or Race Director Julie Shapiro at 516 364-2750.

Mrs. Sue Behnke, nursery teacher, with Michael Stork and Patricia DeStefano had fun at Trinity Lutheran Nursery School's Circus. Children dressed as ballerinas, lions, bears, clowns, lion tamers, elephants, etc. showed parents and friends their skills on the trampoline, balance beam, high bar, cargo net, and mats. Mr. Kuck, athletic director for the school, provided commentary for the event in Ringmaster style. The Circus festivities are part of the Nursery School's annual events. For more information about the school you may call 931-2211. Applications for the 1984-85 school year are being accepted at this time.

Ben Franklin Visits East St.

On April 11, Ben Franklin came to East Street School. Mr. Bev Burton, in period costume from his glasses to his gold buckled shoes, uncannily takes on the characteristics of Ben Franklin. His well researched presentation, filled with little known facts about Ben Franklin's life and times, captured the imaginations of all the children in the audience. He not only spoke of his well known experiments with electricity but also of his love for books, music and dancing. He gave the children some insight of the difficulties encountered by the signers of the Declaration of Independence and what life was like on July 4, 1776. He described how he started the first lending library and he encouraged the children to use their imaginations and to indulge in their curiosities. Cynthia Baldwin donned a dress of Franklin's period and danced the minuet with Ben Franklin to the strains of the 1776 top ten (Mozart). She has got to be the only sixth grader in Hicksville who can say she danced with Ben Franklin.

This program was made possible by the Cultural Arts Committee of East Street's PTA. These ladies work hard to find new and exciting programs for the children.

Assemblyman Lewis J. Yevoll, as featured speaker at a recent meeting of the Nassau County Auxiliary Police Brethren Association, lauds the work of the volunteer organization and discusses legislation which would assist them in their work. Assemblyman Yevoll was instrumental in obtaining a new headquarters for the Plainview-Old Bethpage Chapter.

East St. Jump Rope For Heart

The fourth annual Jump-Rope-For-Heart Jump-A-Thon took place on March 1, during National Physical Education Week, at East Street School. 78 participants raised $2763.70 for the American Heart Association. Jump-Rope-For-Heart is a National event co-sponsored by the American Heart Association and the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education Recreation and Dance (AAHPERD) to promote rope-jumping as an important cardiovascular exercise. The funds raised by this event help the Heart Association support its programs of research, education and community service - programs that can and do save thousands of lives each year. A small percentage of the funds goes to AAHPERD and 5% remains with the individual school to promote programs of fitness and health. The event was open to 4-5-6 grade students and interested members of the school community.

Assisting Mrs. D'Avino this year were the following teachers and parents: Gus Brogle, Anna Crescitelli, Helen Hatalsky, Bob Hilsky, Rosemary Jabour, Brad Jaworski, Lola Myron, Kathy Voorhies, Don Whearty.

(Photos by Diana D'Avino and Brad Jaworski)

The 1984 JRFH winning team raised $617.40 for the Heart Association. Proudly displaying their certificates of participation and winning smiles and patches are 6th graders:

A special stocking loaded with Easter toys was presented to the pediatrics unit at Mid-Island Hospital, Bethpage, to be distributed among all of the "little patients" like thirteen-month-old Michael Murphy, held by Mid-Island's Registered Nurse Debbi Nocero of Levittown. Hicksville Baseball Assn. News

Tracy Granal and Wayne Rothschild lead the marchers for Hicksville Baseball Association on Opening Day, April 14th.

By Betty Zagajski Mother Nature vs. HBA - Mother Nature Wins

Once again Mother Nature was victorious on opening day, continuing a now well established rivalry. She did not however rain on our parade!

Before the rain came, HBA proudly marched down Levittown Parkway, announcing the start of the baseball season. The parade was led by the Dutch Lane School band, under the direction of Mrs. Carol Noblit. Represented in the parade were the 44 boys' and girls' teams, totaling nearly 600 ball players.

Fr. McCormick began the opening day ceremonies with a prayer and a blessing to all for the good season. After a few words from the League President, Bob Rothschild, Sr. Trustee, Donna Rehman, threw out the first ball, officially beginning the season.

Our sincere thanks to Congressman Norman Lent, Assemblyman Fred Parola and Councilman Tom Clark, for taking time, in spite of the weather, to address the League and offer words of encouragement and support.

Many volunteers worked long hours throughout the year, in preparation for this new season. Our thanks to Donna Rehman, Steve Strongin, Tom O'Hara, Bob Rothschild, Tom Granal, Linda Strongin, Neil Mezeul, Diana Rom, Marie Rodriguez, Carol Wolf, Bill Rizzo, John Basta, Tony Petro, Tony Cordero, John Senise, Al Melendez, Harry Reardon, Carol Ruggiero, Tom Zagajski, Leslie Mezeul, Greg Simonelli and Barbara Rizzo, who comprise our Executive Board, for a job well done.

You will notice that there have been many improvements to our fields this year. A special thanks to the Town of Oyster Bay and especially Pete and all the ground crew for doing such a super job, and for the cooperation given our Fields and Grounds Committee.

Check eyes for abnormalities

By R.G. Elmore, D.V.M.

Q. We recently bought an English bulldog.

We are interested in raising dogs for sale. In some of the literature we have seen regarding bulldogs we have seen it mentioned that the eyelids of young puppies should be carefully examined.

Reasons for this examination were not given.

A. The eyelids of young puppies should be examined to see if they are normal. Puppies may be born with two congenital anomalies of the eyelids, entropion and ectropion.

Entropion is simply defined as an in-rolling of the eyelids. Of course, the eyelashes also are in-rolled.

Although this condition may be secondary to eye injuries, in dogs entropion is most often seen as a congenital anomaly. It is most often seen in chows, English bulldogs and the hunting breeds. The lower lids are involved more often than the upper lids. However, both lids may be affected.

Because the eyelids are rolled in toward the eyeball, the cornea is irritated by rubbing of the eyelashes. Dogs with sore eyes will often try to rub them on the floor, in bed covers or elsewhere. Matter or pus may be seen flowing from the cornea of the eyes.

Many surgical procedures with multiple variations have been developed for the correction of entropion.

Ectropion is simply an out-rolling of the eyelids, the opposite of entropion.

Like entropion, the cause of ectropion is usually a congenital anomaly. The condition is thought to be hereditary in cocker spaniels, Saint Bernards, bloodhounds, and the basset breeds.

Ectropion causes exposure of the reddened conjunctival surface. Increased tearing, often seen with ectropion, may appear as wetted hair below the corners of the eyes. Pus may also be seen as a discharge from the eyes in dogs with ectropion.

Like entropion, ectropion is usually corrected by a minor surgical procedure.

While examining puppies for ectropion and entropion, a third less common condition should be looked for, distichiasis. Distichiasis is the condition in which a second, abnormal row of eyelashes is present. Although both the upper and lower lids may be involved, the upper lids are more often affected.

The condition may occur at any age in any breed. However, it is thought to be a hereditary congenital condition in the Pekingese, poodle and Bedlington terrier breeds.

Increased tearing is the most common sign of distichiasis. In mild cases the abnormal lashes can simply be plucked or electroepilation may be used. If a lot of lashes are involved, minor surgical procedures may be required.

Young puppies should be examined by a veterinarian for physical abnormalities.

Town Board Postpones Meeting

The Town of Oyster Bay has postponed the April 24 meeting scheduled at 10 a.m. for a hearing on the construction of a three story office building at W. John Street, Hicksville. The Rockwell Realty Co. had asked for a hearing for a change of zoning. No new date has been announced at present.

Levine Named Board Chairman

Col. Max Levine (USAF-Ret) of Hicksville, has been elected Chairman of the Board of Douglas Bremen & Co., Inc. it was announced today by Louis Cattaruzza, President of the Roslyn investment banking firm.

Levine has been a full-time vice president at Douglas Bremen since the firm was founded in April, 1983. Cattaruzza stated he would continue with present duties in servicing customers and recruiting and training new registered representatives for the rapidly growing firm.

Though educated as a pharmacist and practicing that profession at one time, Levine has been active in the investment field for over 25 years. For most of that period he has been associated with brothers Abraham and Solomon Mamber, prominent Long Island financiers who are now active at Douglas Bremen as consultant and technical advisors respectively.

The Long Island firm offers a full range of investment products such as corporate stocks and bonds, municipal bonds and funds. However, it specializes in seeking and developing venture capital opportunities with fledgling hi-tech companies.

Its modus operandus is to locate such companies with the assistance of experts, provide its own capital investment "seed" and management counsel, and offer the companies also as venture capital opportunities to customers of all sizes.

Col. Levine saw active service in World War II and the Korean conflict. He is a member of the Air Force Officers Association and the MENSA Society. He is listed in the current Who's Who in the East and the upcoming International Who's Who of Intellectuals. He lives with his wife Maxine in Hicksville.

Our Children

By Willard Abraham
Ph.D.

The only child in a family sometimes presents special concerns to his or her parents. Such children sometimes result in letters like this one.

Q. We have one child and can't have any more. So that presents a problem to us.

A. What can we do to be sure that this only child doesn't become so self-centered that it interferes with his growing up normally?

He's just 2 years old, but we'd like your help in planning ahead.

A. Did you know that only children have sometimes been identified as "different?" Back in 1898 some research said that they were below average in health, subject to physical or mental problems, and peculiar.

A research study in 1927 agreed. It stated that these children are usually "jealous, selfish, egotistical, dependent, aggressive, domineering or quarrelsome." (That in itself is almost enough to encourage a second pregnancy or adoption!)

Then came a study that disagreed with all of that. It stressed their self-confidence and leadership. Another one said these youngsters weren't different at all, although they do seem to be finicky in their food tastes and have temper tantrums more often than other children do.

So what's the truth about only children?

Although there are of course numerous exceptions, these children are occasionally handicapped in their adjustment to others. They may be limited in their opportunities to play and compete with other children and sheltered from the normal give-and-take of childhood. They are more often caught in a bind simply because there are no other children for parents to watch, nag and love.

The importance of a good preschool program may therefore be pretty obvious to you.

If you are the parent of an only child, you may tend toward being overly protective, as often happens with the firstborn. This attitude could exist because only children are occasionally born to older parents or to those who want to but can't have any others.

So you may worry over small illnesses, praise them too much for doing little things and interfere too often. A headache, a star on an ordinary school paper, and an invitation to another youngster's birthday party may become too big a thing.

The early involvement of many of these children with adults might lead to other children disliking them. After all, who wants to play with a child who uses big words and seems to think he's better than the rest?

Some of the problem times for only children are when they go to school for the first time (others also may cling to mother, but perhaps not as much), bedtime with too many books and records and maybe lying down with the youngster for too long, and mealtimes with coaxing and catering to food fads and whims. Such situations occur in other families, of course, but might take place more frequently when there's an only child.

These children often have a lot of advantages. There could be more money for education, toys, and clothes when there is only one child to spend it on. Parents have more time for one than when it has to be shared with many, and there may also be more vacations and travel.

Because of such advantages they might seem brighter than other children, reflecting the time and enrichment given to them.

Most parents of only children know they could have a problem on their hands, and sometimes work hard to avoid it. Preschool and summer camp, if the family budget permits, having other youngsters come to visit as much as possible, and broadening their own interests and activities so the child becomes less of a center of attention are all good practices to consider. It's better for him or her if parents get involved in their own music, art, or school or college courses, anything productive and unrelated to this youngster. The child will get plenty of attention anyway.

The possible difficulties are sometimes made worse by grandparents if they have only one grandchild. There could be similar problems if there's only one boy among a group of sisters, or just one girl among the boys. Any situation where pampering may occur requires being careful to keep the youngster from dominating the family.

An only child may be lonely and dependent — but he or she could just as well be the most popular child on the block. It all depends on the personality with which one is born and how well parents balance their love and concern with an awareness that they may give and do too much.

Only children may be no more selfish or hard to get along with than children in larger families. They may be no brighter. Just like the oldest, youngest and handicapped, they are children first.

Your Social Security

These records are needed

Q. I'm getting ready to file for Social Security. What will I need to bring to the Social Security office? — F.W.

A. You will need proof of your age — either a birth certificate or baptismal certificate recorded before your 5th birthday. If neither is available you should bring other evidence such as school records, census record, marriage certificate, children's birth certificates, military record, etc.

A record of last year's earnings — either a W-2 form, or a copy of your tax return if you are self-employed — will also be necessary.

Q. I turned 65 two months ago and I still haven't heard from Social Security. I thought I would start getting my benefits when I became 65. — S.W.

A. You'll never get your benefits unless you file an application at your nearest Social Security office.

To be eligible for benefits you must have worked long enough in employment covered by Social Security, be retired or have earnings low enough to permit payment, submit proof of your age and a copy of last year's W-2 form if you worked last year. If you were self-employed bring a copy of last year's tax return.

Even if you have not retired you should file for Medicare as soon as possible.

Q. I have just been hired by a private, non-profit employer. I was told that Social Security taxes must be deducted from my wages but I know some of the employees who work there do not have Social Security deducted from their checks.

Why am I treated differently? —

A. The probable answer is that those employees were working for the non-profit organization at the time the organization elected to be covered by Social Security.

Employees who were working at the time of the election could choose to be covered or not covered. Once the organization elected coverage, however, all new employees were mandatorily covered.

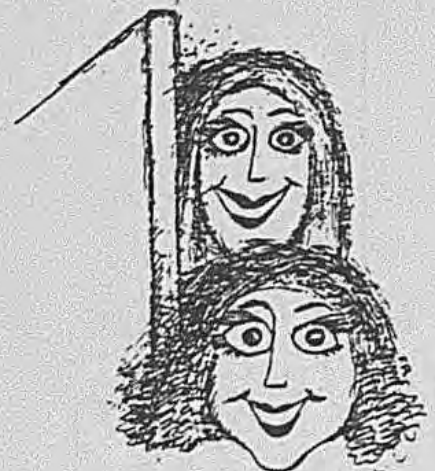

Q. I am legally separated from my husband and I have legal custody of our three young children. I heard that my husband is in a hospital and may not be able to go back to work for a long time.

He is not able to send any money for me and the kids since his hospitalization. Is there any other benefits we could get? — W.T.

A. If your husband becomes entitled to Social Security disability benefits, you and the children would also receive monthly checks.

The checks would continue until such time as your husband is able to return to work.

Hicksville Player In National Game

David Smyth, Jr.

A senior from Hicksville Senior High School has been invited to participate in a televised national soccer all-star game featuring the best high school senior soccer player in America.

David A. Smyth, Jr., of 54 Combes Avenue, Hicksville, is one of 36 soccer players nationwide selected to play in the National High School Soccer All-Star Game, scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday, June 30 at the U.S. Military Academy, West Point.

Sponsored by the Army College Fund in cooperation with the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA), the game will feature an East versus West format and be taped for ESPN cable television airing on August 24, 25.

Smyth, a mid-fielder, is a 4 year letterman for Hicksville Senior High School. He is 3 time All League and All Conference and 2 time All Nassau County. In 1983 he won the Green Award as MVP for Nassau County. He was also named to the 1983 Parade Magazine and NSCAA All America teams. He has participated in the Empire Games, winning a gold medal for Long Island. In 1984, Smyth traveled through the Soviet Union as a member of the National Youth team.

Smyth will be officially recognized for his selection in ceremonies at his school prior to graduation.

The National High School All-Star Game is one element in the Army Soccer Program, a cooperative effort between the NSCAA and the Army College Fund (ACF). The ACF is a program in which qualified students accumulate funds for college through enlistment in the U.S. Army.

Other elements in the Soccer Program include the High School Soccer Clinic series, a group of ten national clinics for students and coaches featuring a national-level staff; the Most Valuable Soccer Player Award, a trophy and certificate presented to the top male and female senior soccer players in high schools nationwide; and a series of soccer instructional films available to coaches through local Army recruiting offices.

More than 4,500 coaches and students from 1,800 high schools participated in Army College Fund soccer activities in 1983.

Say Amen, Somebody

"Say Amen, Somebody" is a glorious motion picture about Gospel Music. Much of the music, which is sumptuous in color, was filmed at a tribute to the great St. Louis singer, 78 year old Willie Mae Ford Smith. Some of the best gospel singers in St. Louis and Chicago gathered to pay homage to the matriarch, and the music they made that day is truly exalting. The film lasts about one hour and forty-five minutes.

"Mother Teresa of Calcutta" was filmed in India. This documentary portrait analyzes the life, work, and philosophy of Mother Teresa, a simple saintly nun who was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1979. Mother Teresa is interviewed by Malcolm Muggeridge. Filmed in color, this film takes one hour to be seen.

All films are shown in the Community Room. There is no admission charged and everyone is invited.

Conservatives Meet On Nuclear Freeze

A Conservative alternate to the nuclear freeze movement will be discussed in a forum to be held on Friday, April 27 at 8 p.m. in Levittown Hall, Hicksville.

National Security: Principles and Strategies will be addressed by Professor Henry Paolucci and General R. Richardson. The forum will define the principles of national sovereignty that can never be negotiated away and explain the military means that will safeguard our country while effectively preserving the peace. A reasonable approach to peace will be proffered that goes far beyond the mutually assured destruction (MAD) freeze.

Professor Paolucci, a Fulbright Scholar, has traveled and lectured in Europe, the Middle East and Far East. Dr. Paolucci has taught at Brooklyn College and City College (CUNY), Columbia University, Iona College and is currently Professor of Government and Politics at St. John's University. In 1964, Dr. Paolucci was the New York State Conservative Party candidate for the U.S. Senate against Kenneth Keating and Robert F. Kennedy. He has served for many years as State Vice Chairman of the Conservative Party. Dr. Paolucci has been a frequent contributor to the New York Times Op-Ed page, an occasional contributor to National Review magazine and a regular American correspondent for the Rome-Milan weekly, Il Borghese (the middle class). He is President of The Walter Bagehot Research Council on National Sovereignty and editor of the political quarterly, State of the Nation.

Brigadier General Robert C. Richardson III (USAF Ret), a graduate of the U.S. Military Academy (West Point) and U.S. War College was a Fighter Group Commander in Europe during World War II. After the war, he was in the First NATO Standing Group and a planner at SHAPE headquarters in Paris. He has been military adviser in European Army negotiations and Deputy Representative in the NATO Council. General Richardson is Executive Director of American Foreign Policy Institute, Co-Chairman of Coalition of Peace Through Strength and Deputy Director of High Frontier. He is the author of many articles and of the book "High Frontier and the New Strategy". The High Frontier is a proposal for a laser armed, space based, anti-ballistic missile system. This unique ABM system would use non-nuclear technology, presently in our grasp to render nuclear weapons impotent and obsolete.

Spiegel Leases
77,000 Sq. Feet

A total of 77,000 square feet of retail, industrial and office space was leased in Nassau County in the first quarter of 1984 by Spiegel Associates, Hicksville. The leases cover properties in Hicksville, Jericho, Massapequa, Syosset and Westbury.

Arthur D. Sanders, president of Spiegel, said the aggregate rental of these leases amounted to approximately $2.25 million. He reported that rents for the quarter ranged (per square foot) from $11.50 to $14.90 for office space, $4 to $6.50, net, for industrial space; and averaged $10.50 for non-premier retail space.

Mr. Sanders said "Office space moved at a faster pace for the past three months than for the previous six months."

He attributed the increased demand to businesses outside Long Island seeking to expand or open offices in the New York metropolitan area. He also cited a strong increase of New York City firms looking for industrial warehousing.

Among the new leases is one with Toshiba Machine Company of America, a 5,800 square foot office and showroom space in Westbury. Toshiba Machine is a parent company, which is one of the ten largest industrial corporations in Japan, principally manufactures electronic and appliances. FOCUS Receives $150,000 Grant

A special $150,000 state grant has been secured to enable "For Our Children and Us" (FOCUS) to continue offering its services on Long Island, Senator John Dunne (R-Nassau) has announced.

FOCUS, a not-for-profit agency that offers paralegal assistance to separated and divorced families, was incorporated in 1978 and now maintains offices in Hicksville, Jamaica and Smithtown.

Senator Dunne said monies for FOCUS were included in the 1984-85 state budget at his request. "With their proven record of success and their invaluable service to the community, it was essential to secure adequate state funds to support their programs."

"FOCUS is recognized nationally for its work in the areas of child support and family abuse," Fran Matera, Executive Director of FOCUS, explained.

"The concern, interest and commitment of our good friend John Dunne has enabled us to achieve the phenomenal growth and recognition we enjoy today. We never could have accomplished as much as we have without his know-how and support."

HEALTH TIPS FROM Dr. Gregory R. Gumberich Chiropractor

Allergy Season

As the days get longer and the flowers start to bloom we are made aware that spring-time is finally on the way. However, not all of us are overjoyed at the onset of spring. To some of us it signals Allergy Season! And it is those pretty yellow daffodils and apple blossoms that are the culprits.

Seasonal allergies are no fun! Itchy eyes, stuffy nose, light-headedness and sneezing are common complaints. Many of you may have tried decongestants and anti-histamines to relieve the symptoms. Either these medications don't work or you feel drowsy. Well, chiropractic can help allergy sufferers, without the use of drugs.

We have had good success in our office with many such patients. Chiropractic adjustments directed in the thoracic (shoulder-blade) and cervical (neck) areas help stimulate the respiratory and lymphatic systems to work more efficiently.

A rotated vertebra can create an impinged nerve. If the afflicted nerve is responsible for sinus and/or lung functions, this impingement can cause inefficient screening of the invading pollens. Instead of these particles being expired, they pass into the bloodstream. One then develops the allergy symptoms - sneezing, congestion.

It is important to rebuild the respiratory and immune systems so that they can properly flush out these toxins, instead of allowing them to enter the bloodstream. We advise the supplementation of specific nutritive supports which are excellent in boosting the immune system and in helping the lungs and sinuses to become stronger.

Our allergy patients have commented on how the chiropractic adjustments coupled with the dietary supplements have enabled some of them to overcome 5, 10, even 20 years of seasonable allergy suffering!

Dr. Gumberich will be giving a lecture, concerning Allergies and Sinusitis, on Wednesday, April 25, 8:00 p.m., at his office. All are welcome. Call to reserve a seat.

Most Callers To Input Think Mondale Will Lose

Most callers to Input think that Mondale will be easier to defeat by Pres. Reagan than Gary Hart in answer to this question: "Which Democratic candidate, Mondale or Hart, will give President Reagan the most competition? Will it be another candidate?"

Here are the answers:

LITTLE COMPETITION

President Reagan appears to be getting ready to run against Mondale. I believe that Mondale will not be very good competition unless something unforeseen happens in world affairs or the health of the President declines. I believe that Mondale will be easier to defeat than Hart. H.T.

NEED BOTH

Somehow we Democrats seem to wear ourselves thin before elections and then can never get up enough steam to win an election. A ticket of Mondale and Hart would bring everything together and we should be getting ready for that. Then your question will be neutralized because we will have both in the running. K.R.

NOT TOO LATE

Gary Hart by far would have been the better candidate and I think that Pres. Reagan and everyone around him knows that the youth factor would be a big plus in the campaign. Regan is older than most presidents and in many ways thinks too rigidly to go on for another four years. It is not too late for Hart to make it and I'm all for it. F.E.

MISSING THE BOAT

It will be a walkaway with Mondale running against Reagan. Mondale will not carry very many states and won't come near unseating Reagan. When you have an incumbent in office who has a good record you have to do more than dig up the same old candidates and the same old campaign promises to win. The Democrats are missing the boat. N.R.

MONDALE TO WIN

I think that it is possible for Mondale to win in spite of the way your question is worded. He has all of organized labor behind him. He has the women's vote, the minorities and the intellectuals. If those groups would simply get out and vote Reagan would be out of office and I think he will be. S.R.

REAGAN TOPS

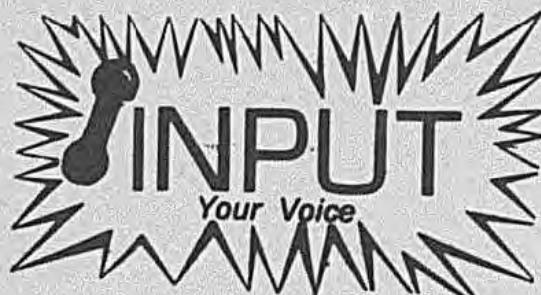

Reagan has done such a good job that it really does not matter whether Hart or Mondale or Jackson or anyone else runs against him. He will be re-elected and I will vote for him because his programs are now working in spite of all of the fake flack from the media. When someone can still remain popular with the media against them they must be exceptional. H.W.

MONDALE BEST

I don't believe that either Senator Hart or Reverend Jackson will become contenders in the Presidential Election. Neither do I see the possibility of a draft Kennedy, Cuomo or dark horse course of action in the Democratic convention. I think it will be Walter Mondale who will get the nod and give President Reagan the most competition. He has a number of things going for him - his years of exposure in the White House atmosphere; his liberal philosophy; his backing by organized labor; his non-constructive bombast leveled at sympathetic ears and his familiarity with the kind of political infighting with no holds barred which will be concentrated on vulnerable chinks in the President's armor. But no one can be all things to all people including dissidents on the "Hill" and while I share the concern about some of President Reagan's "weaknesses", it would be a costly adventure to replace him and I don't believe that Mr. Mondale will. P.G.S.

WIDE OPEN

Mondale has been a luke warm campaigner and it is possible that many professional Democrats will see that and at the last minute draft someone else for the nomination. Right now Gov. Cuomo is waiting in the wings for the opportunity and it would take very little urging to get him going. The nomination is still wide open. K.W.

Recollections Of A Depression Mailman

By Abraham Blinderman

This announcement in this newspaper of a forthcoming civil service examination for rural letter carrier positions brought poignant memories to me of my postal experiences in the latter part of the Great Depression of the thirties. When the newspapers carried the exciting call for mailmen in 1936, thousands of unemployed and underpaid employed men applied for the precious jobs. Among the legions of aspiring men, there were thousands of college graduates, including lawyers, teachers, engineers, accountants, chemists, and psychologists. A degree had little worth in an era that could make little use of talent and inventiveness. There was despair in the land; welfare and the W.P.A. were the humiliating providers of millions of men and women who wanted to work independently of governmental largesse.

Ironically, most of the jobs went to men who in normal times would have looked down upon a low paying civil service sinecure. Later after my apprenticeship at Station "L" in Harlem, I worked in large terminal stations with men who spoke of Blackstone, Einstein, Chopin, Pasteur, and Aristotle as they sorted the endless letters before them. Politically appointed foremen chided them for talking as they "boxed" up the mail. "College men," they taunted. "A lot of good your education did you. 'C'mon now, stop the gab and keep those hands moving."

I admired many of the educated postal clerks. Their eyes gleamed as they spoke of their dreams, now blighted. Soon the war clouds hovering over the land would burst into war's fury. Many would enlist or be drafted, perhaps to follow their professions in the services. Other would return, take advantage of the "G.I." Bill, and find new careers. The Depression was unkind to the non-college man who had to compete for menial jobs with his college-bred adversaries.

I was not a college graduate then. The College of the City of New York accepted only the academically elite, an envied intellectual aristocracy to which I could not gain entry. Until 1937, four years after I had graduated from famed De Witt Clinton High, I worked as a mushroom cleaner, a shirt ironer, and a glazier. My salary as a mushroom cleaner was $12.00 weekly until one of the stipulations of The National Recovery Act raised it to the statutory $14.00 per week magnificence. Alas! Not long after, the Supreme Court declared the N.R.A. unconstitutional voiding my short-lived raise.

Undaunted by the numbers of college men competing with me, I applied for the job, took the test, and passed it handsomely. But the college men scored even higher and I was finally appointed as a substitute mail-carrier. Assigned to Station "L" in Harlem, I almost lost my job on my first assignment. Since it was raining heavily, I waited for the downpour to stop before biking to 145th and Fifth to deliver a lone special delivery to the armory at that site. I was wearing my new uniform and feared the deluge would wilt it. I learned to respect the shibboleth, "Neither rain, nor snow.....nor gloom of night....." which can be read on the classical entablature at the General Post Office of New York City; the timekeeper, a foreman, and the superintendent raged at me as I sat in the swing room upstairs, gazing through the window at the traffic on 125th Street.

I was not fired but the superintendent warned me to be more attentive to my work and the timekeeper mumbled obscenities about dumb college grads.

I pedaled slowly to the armory, delivered the letter, and bled back to the station. No one complained about the delay. I was spared demerits. For all of this labor I received nine cents, the fee paid for delivering an ordinary special delivery letter. For labor rendered on the clock, I received, I believe, 65¢ per hour. There wasn't much substitute work at "Station L." I had to wait for a carrier to trip up before I could earn a few dollars. Sometimes I had to swing four hours to clock one hour. There wasn't much mail going to "Station L," and already, many of the tenements, foul and unfit for human habitation, were being abandoned.

News came to us of large incomes being earned by our co-workers in the terminal stations. Substitutes clocked eight hours daily and ran specials in addition. For example, a celebrity leaving on a Cunard liner might receive as many as 200 special delivery letters; these were allotted to carriers in groups of thirty. A substitute might earn $2.70 an hour on specials after working a full day. Two dollars and seventy cents went a long way in 1937. When roast beef sandwiches cost fifteen cents, subway fare five cents, a pound of rye seven cents, and an ice cream soda ten cents, that run of specials would supply a large bag of cats.

I applied for a transfer to a terminal station and patiently awaited reassignment to Grand Central, G.P.O. or Station "G." Six months elapsed and I saw later appointees leaving for the manna of the downtown stations. Exasperated, I finally asked my superintendent to explain the delay. He looked at me sadly and out of pity gave me a helpful insight into political science.

"Look, Blinderman," he sighed. "I'm super at a poor money station? Why? Because I'm a Republican. When my party is in, we get the better stations. But we're not in and I can't be of help to you. For God's sake, go to the local Democratic Club, tell the boss whoever he is that your father, mother, sisters and brothers are Democrats - which you probably are - and that you need money because your father is sick or something. Six months in the P.O. and you don't know how things work here. What can you expect of college kids?"

I hesitated to visit the Democratic Club. I was angry. A civil service job should be divorced from politics. Nevertheless, I went to the club, saw all the supplicants rise when the esteemed dispenser of justice arrived, and later, petitioned him for a transfer. He was angry. "All you postal subs want something. Ain't ya glad yer working? Millions of people would be happy with your job. Well, how many people vote in yer family?"

"Four", I said.

"Okay, I'll try to get you something."

In two weeks I was transferred to Church Street Annex. Had I followed my sagacious superintendent's advice throughout my working career, I might have become a postal superintendent, a principal, a dean, or a college president. There's a formula....

In 1940, I graduated into the regular working force as a salaried postal clerk. In 1942, I joined the Fleet Postal Service, served for three years, and took a leave of absence from the P.O. to study under the "G.I." Bill. I resigned from the P.O. in 1948 after accepting a substitute teaching job in New York City.

In education, a sophisticated young man can rise to deanship or administrative brass as one used to - or still does - in the post office. Since degrees and brilliance are plentiful, there must be ancillary ways to ascend to administration. Perhaps they are not as crude as my one experience with civil service advancement, but undoubtedly, they exist.

Perhaps this generation of postal job seekers will not have to resort to the old clubhouse humiliation to prosper in the service. I hope not.

'GOOD OLD DAYS'

All of the good places are not gone. For many years we have been going to Lauraine Murphy's in Manhasset. And it appeared that last Saturday several hundred other people had the same idea. But after a surprisingly short wait, considering the number of people who appeared to be waiting, we were seated in the inner dining room at Lauraine Murphy's. The place had not changed. They still serve the warm popovers at each meal. The food was great. Most in our party had roast beef with one holdout for scallops but everything came out wonderful and considering the number of people that must have been served that night it is nothing short of a miracle. We surely recommend Lauraine Murphy's to your readers. H.J.

"One thing I'm sure of, you're going to like the way DEVINS looks, the owners' goal was to achieve the feel of Edwardian England, but it is sufficiently eclectic to include echoes of New Orleans and Paris.... The fish here is properly fresh and the meat is properly aged, and great care is taken in their presentations. Here, I must pause to compliment the service."

Last week we went to the LaCisterna restaurant in Mineola and were delighted with the meal. The LaCisterna is a beautifully decorated restaurant with a fine large dining room set in a restful and inviting style. The service is good and the food is well worth a return visit.

We had veal marsala for one dinner and bass for the other. The veal was fresh and tender and the marsala sauce was exceptionally well done. The bass was fresh and flavorful. Starting off the meal we had salad and soup which also rated high. We were very satisfied with the visit and want to recommend it to your readers. H.G.

READER RATINGS

If you have Questions about etiquette or dining out you may call them in to We. 1-0027 and we will find the answer.

Q. Some restaurants make a big thing over a lobster tank, but I think it is disgusting to have to kill these animals in order to get a meal. Why do they have these tanks?

A. The reason is simply that lobster has to be freshly killed to be eaten. The lobster tank lets the diner see that what he is getting is really fresh lobster. Possibly some squeamish people believe that the lobster tank should be somewhere else but most diners want to see the live ones and if you do not, you should be suspicious. They are killed instantly in boiling water. H.J.

Q. Are restaurants allowed to serve you something else if you ask for "Coke" or "Coca Cola" and they do not serve it?

A. The answer is technically they are not. But many will say that they only carry "Pepsi" or another beverage. But you should be able to know in advance and refuse something you did not order. At least the "Coca Cola" company probably would want it that way, and "Pepsi" will also if it is the other way around.

Q. In a restaurant we often frequent they do everything right except one thing. A waiter always comes over with the special of the day but never tells us the price. Now we do not quibble about a few pennies but often these specials are much higher priced than the other regular items. Don't you think the restaurant should tell us the price when making the suggestion? H.Y.

A. We think you are right and we have checked several restaurants and they say that they either have a blackboard, a menu insert or the waiter is told to give the prices. Unfortunately since you only gave the initials we have no way of knowing which restaurant you are referring to or we would contact them. You may show this column to the manager and perhaps he will change his system.

Q. I thought it was standard fare to get at least two vegetables with an entree but last week at the (name omitted) restaurant we were charged extra for vegetables. Is this right?

A. A number of restaurants have changed to charging extra for vegetables, particularly fresh ones, but the safest way is to look at the menu and ask the waiter. Sometimes there are extra vegetables and they are the ones that are given an added charge. But there are some restaurants that charge for every item individual.

AMONG THE BEST
I have never seen anyone call in about Koenig's Restaurant in Floral Park, in spite of the fact that it is one of the best restaurants in Nassau County. Many of your readers may not know that the Pritikin Diet that is on the menu at Koenig's is tasty and a good way to dine out. They steer clear of salt, sugar and oil.

But those who do not want the Pritikin Diet that I am following, can eat the best in continental food at Koenig's as people have been doing for many years. They have outstanding steaks and salads.

The Last Word In Restaurant Guides

Where Our Readers
 Have The Last Word

This newspaper, and the seven other weekly newspapers associated with it, publishes the last word in restaurant guides... a good listing of many prominent selected restaurants in this area. While many of them have been noted by the great and near great food connoisseurs, our readers will have the last word through "Reader Ratings"

Through a special 24 hour phone system, readers will be asked to call in their assessment of each restaurant they visit. Consensus ratings (good or bad) will be published as a continuing part of the guide.

In addition they can make suggestions, compliments or criticisms through the open phone line and messages will be sent through to the restaurant management.

CLASSIC RESTAURANT

Devins on Seventh St., Garden City is a classic restaurant. By that I mean that everything is done right for you. The service is perfect, the food which includes many top Northern Italian dishes is exceptional.

We went there last Thursday for dinner and found it to be just as it looked, "out of this world". The entree consisted of shrimp parmigiana and steak au povre both were good. The desserts too are imaginative and varied.

We highly recommend this restaurant to your readers. T.K.

Restaurant Guide

FRESH FISH
A very nice new restaurant that we visited after noticing it advertised is the Surfside. This restaurant is in its own building on Hillside Ave., New Hyde Park. It specializes in the freshest fish we have ever eaten and it is all done with recipes that enhance the already fine sole, scrod, shrimp or whatever you may order.
The premises are clean and beautiful with an attractive lounge and bar. This is a great addition to the area. K.S.

BETTER AND BETTER
The Davenport Press is an old landmark in Mineola having been, according to the menu, a bank and a printing establishment. The food at this restaurant continues to improve. Although it was good when it opened, they seem to be hitting their stride now with good service and everything else.
We had fine sirloin steaks at that restaurant last week and the potato (baked) and salad were very good. The price is moderate and all in all we felt it was a good experience. H.R.

Throw the pies! How American can you get?

The combination of pie-in-the-face humor and the goodness of fruit or cream-filled one-crust pies is an unbeatable duo when it comes to fantasy and delicious fun.

And creating one-crust pies fits easily into today's lifestyle. It entails filling a basic pie crust — baked or unbaked, depending upon the filling — then mounding a meringue or crumb crust on top for final browning. Or, the filled crust can be chilled and slathered with a layer of whipped cream, the likes of which would appeal to Abbott and Costello at their slapstick best.

With the focus on open-face pies, consider this party idea to make delicious memories for family and friends. Arrange a dessert buffet featuring some of the pies in today's recipe collection. Then line up videos of Laurel and Hardy, Charlie Chaplin, the Three Stooges or other favorite knee-slappers and get ready for a celebration of fun and food.

Given a wide lawn and trusty hose for quick cleanup, thought might be given to a pie-throwing or two, but the object is to revel in the creative ways to fill simple pie crusts with a rainbow of flavors.

STRAWBERRY CREAM CHEESE PIE

- 9-inch baked pie shell
- 5 cups strawberries (about 4 boxes)
- 2 tbsps. cornstarch
- ¾ cup sugar
- ½ cup water
- 2 tbsps. lemon juice
- 3 ozs. cream cheese
- ¼ cup powdered sugar

In saucepan, put about 1 cup sliced strawberries, cornstarch, sugar, water and lemon juice. Bring to boil, stirring. Boil until thick and clear. Remove from heat, cool. Beat together cream cheese and powdered sugar until smooth. Spread evenly in pie shell. Put large raw strawberries over cream cheese. Pour cooled strawberry purée over strawberries. Chill until serving time. May top with whipped cream or use pastry bag to pipe swirls of cream between berries.

DEEP-DISH PEACH PIE

- Pastry for Single-Crust Pie
- ¾ cup sugar
- 3 tbsps. all-purpose flour
- ¼ tsp. ground nutmeg
- 6 cups peeled, thickly sliced fresh peaches (3 lbs.)
- 3 tbsps. grenadine syrup
- 2 tbsps. lemon juice
- 2 tbsps. butter or margarine

Prepare pastry and roll out into an even 9-inch or 11-inch circle (depending on dish size). Cut slits in pastry. Combine sugar, flour and nutmeg. Add sugar mixture to peaches and toss to coat. Let stand 5 minutes. Stir in grenadine syrup and lemon juice. Turn mixture into 1½-quart casserole or a deep 10-inch round baking dish, spreading peaches evenly; dot with butter. Place pastry over peach mixture in baking dish. Flute to sides of dish but not over the edge. Cover edge with foil. Place dish on baking sheet. Bake in 375-F oven 25 minutes. Remove foil; bake 30 to 35 minutes more or until crust is golden. Cool. Makes 8 servings.

VANILLA CREAM PIE

- 1 cup sugar
- ½ cup all-purpose flour or ¼ cup cornstarch
- ¼ tsp. salt
- 3 cups milk
- 4 eggs
- 3 tbsps. butter or margarine
- 1½ tps. vanilla
- 1 9-inch Baked Pastry Shell

Filling: In medium saucepan, combine sugar, flour or cornstarch, and salt; gradually stir in milk. Cook and stir over medium heat until thick and bubbly. Reduce heat; cook and stir 2 minutes more. Remove from heat.

Separate egg yolks from whites; set whites aside for meringue. Beat egg yolks slightly. Gradually stir 1 cup of hot mixture into yolks. Return egg mixture to saucepan; bring to a gentle boil. Cook and stir 2 minutes more. Remove from heat.

Stir in butter or margarine and vanilla. Pour hot filling into baked pastry shell. Cool. Cover with ¾ cup heavy cream whipped with 1½ tablespoons sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla; chill to store.

OR make a meringue, using 3 egg whites, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, and 6 tablespoons sugar, and spread it over the hot filling in baked pastry shell, sealing it to crust edge. Bake in 350-F oven 12 to 15 minutes or until golden. Cool and cover. Makes 8 servings.

VARIATIONS

Chocolate Cream Pie: Prepare Vanilla Cream Pie, but increase sugar to 1½ cups and add 3 ounces unsweetened chocolate along with milk.

Coconut Cream Pie: Prepare Vanilla Cream Pie, but stir in 1 cup flaked coconut with vanilla. Sprinkle another ½ cup flaked coconut over meringue and bake or top cooled pie with whipped cream.

Lemon Cream Pie: (A good base for Lemon Meringue Pie) Use the same techniques as Vanilla Cream Pie, blending 1½ cups sugar, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, 3 tablespoons flour, 1½ cups water, 3 eggs, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ½ teaspoon finely-shredded lemon peel and ½ cup lemon juice. Fill baked crust and top hot filling with meringue and bake, or top cooled pie with whipped cream. Or eliminate meringue and/or whipped cream and serve with thin slices of lemon ringing the crust's edge.

Aunt Tilly's Corner

I hope all of you are having a happy holiday season. Passover takes place this week and next Sunday it will be Easter. What a happy time of year! Even nature seems to be joyful with all the grass getting greener and the flowers starting to bloom. My own backyard is full of golden forsythia so I can no longer doubt that after all the cold dark winter days, finally it is spring.

Happy Holidays to all of you!
Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring contest winners are Shelby Homer and Ann Johnson.

Here's How

By Gene Gary

Q. We have moved into a home that has some marble floors in the living room. Can you advise me as to how to keep them bright and shiny? They are dull now.

Would a floor polisher be good to use on them? So far, only cold water has been used to clean the marble.

Thanks for any information you can supply. — Elizabeth W.

A. First scrub the floor with clean hot water, and with an abrasive, or use soluble cleaner such as three tablespoons of trisodium phosphate in a gallon of hot water. Then rinse with clear water.

When the marble is clean and quite dry, apply one or two coats of colorless terrazzo sealer.

Waxing with a water wax should give a soft sheen and provide additional protection for the marble surface.

Q. We have had synthetic carpeting in our apartment for almost a year, but it is already quite soiled with many noticeable stains probably due to our toddler who manages to spill various things on the carpet.

We have tried commercial products that are advertised to remove stains, but we have had no success. Do you have any suggestions? — Mrs. G.S.

A. Your best solution is to have a reliable carpet cleaner do the job.

Stains that have not been taken care of when they are fresh may be impossible to remove. However, professional carpet cleaners have special stain removers which they use in their work. Some stains may be permanent.

Q. The house we purchased has plastered stucco-type walls and is about 16 years old. The previous owner paneled one wall in the living room. It appears as though the paneling was applied with an adhesive.

Our problem is that we want to remove the paneling, but do not know the best procedure to avoid damaging the wall. We will appreciate your suggestions. — Gail L.F.

A. You will need to pry off the paneling.

First, it may help to use a hair dryer to warm the surface area on which you are working. This should soften the adhesive, making the paneling easier to remove. If there are areas which are gouged or cracked in the process you can repair them with patching plaster, then paint or cover with wallpaper.

Q. A couple of years ago when I built my home, I had a vinyl tile floor laid in the basement. Now I am having a problem, an alkali substance seeping up between the tiles. The tile itself has not been affected yet.

About once a month, I use a putty knife to scrape off the excess, then scrub the floor with an electric floor scrubber.

Can this annoying problem be corrected? Do you think it may have been prevented if a waterproof adhesive had been used? — Sam S.S.

A. When installing a floor covering in the basement, a concrete sealer should have been applied and a waterproof adhesive used. Also only tile suitable for below grade floors should be installed.

The solution to your problem is to remove the present tile and replace with new tile, following the suggested procedure above.

Q. We are installing dry wall in a new house under construction. We would like to put ceramic tile in the bathrooms. Can this kind of tile be used over dry walls? — M.D.S.

A. Yes, but a special adhesive is required. A tile dealer can supply complete information about the adhesive and the installation procedure.

use an area agency — and what factors deter them — the Andrus Foundation of the American Association of Retired Persons has just awarded a research grant to the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Gerontology at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock.

Researchers will be studying both the extent and effectiveness of AAA services to minority and non-minority elderly throughout the state of Arkansas.

Among the goals of the study is the development of a model strategy of service delivery to minority elderly.

The Andrus Foundation was founded in 1973 by AARP to promote research in the field of aging. Since its inception, the foundation has provided 190 research grants to 86 universities and colleges, totaling more than $5 million. — Lloyd Wright.

Dear John: Do you have the information yet on the use of honey and apple cider vinegar for arthritis? — James K.

Dear James: Yes. It's simple, two teaspoons of cider and two of honey in a medium-size glass. Fill up with water and drink once a day.

Persons using this formula say to expect results in about six months. More details in our new arthritis leaflet.

TWEEN 12 & 20

By Robert Wallace, Ed.D.

Dr. Wallace: Any information regarding the 1984 World's Fair in New Orleans will be appreciated. I wrote to the fair over a month ago and received no response to my letter.

My grandparents from England are going to be attending the Olympics in Los Angeles this coming July, and they are coming to visit us in August and we (my brother, mother, father and grandparents) are all going to the World's Fair. Help! — Mitzie.

Mitzie: The 1984 World's Fair will be held May 12 to Nov. 11, and 11 million visitors are expected. The fair's theme is "World of Rivers: Fresh Water as a Source of Life," and 21 foreign countries, including China, will be participating.

The admission for adults (12 and over) is $15 for one day and $28 for two days. Children under 4 get in free, but those 4 through 11 will pay $14 for one day and $26 for two. The admission price will pay for practically everything inside the fairgrounds except souvenirs and food.

Officials say 25,000 hotel and motel rooms will be available by opening day, and more than 2,000 campsites are ready. The fair has produced an excellent free booklet (I have a copy) which includes a color-coded map and listings of hotels, motels, restaurants, sight-seeing and recreational attractions. Please write to Louisiana World Exposition Inc., P.O. Box 1984, New Orleans, La. 70158.

With a little luck, I hope to be one of the 11 million visitors. I enjoy fairs and New Orleans is one of my favorite cities.

Dr. Wallace: I ride a school bus to and from school and this really cute guy also rides the bus. My girlfriend told him that I am in love with him so last week he started to sit by me.

He sits by me every day now but the problem is that he lets his hand wander a bit too much. I told him to stop but he won't listen.

I really do like this guy and I think that he likes me. I don't want to lose him but I also don't enjoy him "pawing" me every time we are on the bus. Help! — Erica Erica: This boy shows no respect. Don't permit him to sit by you, and if he touches you tell him to keep his hands to himself.

If he continues to hassle you, notify the bus driver and your school principal.

Dr. Wallace: A friend and I plan to travel in Europe this summer after we graduate from high school. If possible we would like to pick up a few part-time jobs overseas to help pay our expenses.

What is the best way to find summer jobs in Europe? Any information will be appreciated. — Brent.

Brent: The Council on International Educational Exchange has a 64-page Student Travel Catalog available. The catalog contains details on worldwide discounts, benefits and other travel bargains in over 50 countries. The council also offers advice on jobs overseas.

Please write to The Council on International Educational Exchange, 1093 Buxton Ave., Los Angeles, Calif. 90024, and enclose $1 for a copy of the catalog. Also mention you'd like information on European summer jobs. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope and the council will send you these materials free of charge.

Dr. Wallace: I'm a 20-year-old young lady and am engaged to a wonderful guy. We plan to be married this coming June.

Everything about my life is beautiful except for one thing — my family. I have a wonderful family that includes my parents and my dear grandmother. We are very close and since I am an only child, my family is not too thrilled about my marriage plans. In fact, my grandmother announced that my marriage would put her in her grave.

Dr. Wallace, it would kill me if my marriage was the reason my grandmother passed away. I'm really confused about all this. I guess I'm writing to you so you will tell me everything is going to be all right. Also, I'd like to hear some all rights from your guest teen writers. — Sylvia

Sylvia: Most parents (grandparents) feel a sense of loss when the first child announces that he or she is going to leave the sanctity of the home and get married. The fact that you are an only child magnifies the situation.

You appear ready for the responsibilities of marriage. Don't allow your family's negative response to change your plans. Grandmother has been on this Earth for quite some time and she will be here a lot longer regardless of what you do. — Dr. Wallace

Mainly For Seniors

By John T. Watts

Dear John: I read with interest the draft of your article, "Postal Service at it once more," and the letter by Postmaster Scheer concerning the Christmas card we returned to you from the Rifle, Colo., Post Office.

What an opportunity you have to help not only senior citizens but everyone who reads your articles. Many people have a similar story they can relate about mail problems. When an instance such as yours happens, we try our best to provide guidance for those involved so the customer can avoid similar problems in the future.

You can give your readers good advice on how to be assured that, in this particular case, they can receive all their mail. I am enclosing a publication (note page 9) which could assist you in preparing a follow-up story on correct procedure for address changes. — W.D. Garrison, MSC Manager-Postmaster.

Dear Mr. Garrison: Thanks for the booklet. I hope any patron can get one. It doesn't say, nor is there a price quoted.

Operation of the Postal Service is a mystery to many of us. For the benefit of those who did not see the previous column, a Christmas card was sent to a post office box in Rifle, Colo., which it turns out the friend had not had for four or five years. In that respect we were misinformed. We understood that her box was being transferred to a branch P.O.

As a matter of fact, her mail is delivered directly to her door. I am sure that many of the little problems of mail delivery are due to such misunderstandings.

Readers who want the booklet, "A Consumer's Directory of Postal Services and Products," should ask for it at the Post Office.

Dear John: One of the first places older persons should turn when they need services and assistance is their area Agency on Aging.

Created in 1973 in an amendment to the Older Americans Act, area agencies are charged with, among other things, planning and providing for a range of supportive services, such as home health aid, housing alternatives and nutrition programs that are tailored to the older person in a given geographic area.

Unfortunately, area agencies might be one of the last places older persons, particularly those in minority groups, turn when they need help.

To determine what factors encourage minority older persons to

Doctor's Forum

Toenail fungus is severe

Q. I have fungus under the toenail. On the advice of my physician I have been using Tinactin for several months, but it seems to be doing no good. Could you suggest something that would be more effective? — C.S.

A. Prescription external antifungal medication applied regularly can usually clear fungus which causes dermatitis of the hands and feet. The more severe types, particularly when they involve the fingernails and toenails, often require internal systemic antifungal antibiotics. Such antibiotics generally need to be taken for at least one month, and if the fingernails are involved, they may be required for six months. When affecting the toenails, antibiotics may be required for a year. — Dr. D.A. Lopez, associate clinical professor of medicine, at the University of California, San Diego School of Medicine.

Q. My doctor has told me that I have diverticulitis and that I shouldn't allow myself to become constipated, but he didn't recommend a diet. Are there certain foods I should eat? — I. W.

A. You can avoid constipation with a three-pronged approach: increase your fiber intake, drink plenty of fluids, and exercise regularly.

1. Increase fiber intake. Insufficient intake of fiber-rich foods interferes with the healthy functioning of your intestinal tract. Without the regular stimulation provided by adequate fiber, the rhythmic contractions of your intestines are less frequent. Thus the intestinal muscles become weakened and the stool becomes hard, because the longer it sits in the large intestine, the more water is reabsorbed from it.

It is currently believed that the intestinal pouches caused by diverticulosis result when the pressure caused by straining to pass a stool is coupled with weakened intestinal muscles. When these pouches become inflamed, the condition is known as diverticulitis. A diet high in plant fiber has recently been shown to be effective in the treatment of diverticulosis and diverticulitis.

Whole-grain breads, bran cereals, oatmeal, citrus fruit, apples and legumes (dried peas, beans, lentils) are all very rich in fiber. So are all "crunchy and munchy" vegetables, like cabbage, carrots and celery. Unprocessed bran is another source of fiber that comes from the coating of the wheat kernel. Adding a tablespoon or two of bran to your cereals, meat loaf, hamburgers, salads, and breads will also increase the fiber content of your diet. Generally speaking, however, a diet that is plentiful in a variety of whole grains, fruits, vegetables and legumes is the best bet.

To determine if the bread you're buying is made primarily from whole-grains look for the words "whole," "sprouted," or "malting" grain or flour as the first ingredient.

A frequent question is: "How do I know if I am getting enough fiber?" To answer this question, use your own built-in feedback mechanism — your stool. Large soft stools are the result of a high-fiber diet. Small, hard stools result from a diet low in fiber. Because diseases of the intestines are serious and painful, it is important to remember to eat plenty of fiber.

2. Drink plenty of fluids. A cup or two of warm beverage soon after awakening is particularly helpful in the control of constipation, but plenty of fluids throughout the day are also important.

3. Exercise regularly. Try to get out for at least a 30-minute brisk walk five days a week. — Vicky Newman, M.S., R.D., dietitian, University of California, San Diego School of Medicine, author of "Eater's Guide — Nutrition Basics for Busy People," Prentice-Hall, 1981.

Acorn mark a play on words

By James G. McCollam
Member, Antique
Appraisers Association of America

Q. I have a figurine of a girl milking a white cow. It is marked as shown in the accompanying sketch. I think it is made of porcelain.

I would like to know anything you can tell me about it.

A. Your figurine is Royal Dux and was made by Ernst Eichler in Dux, Bohemia, between 1860 and 1890. It would sell in the $400 to $500 range.

Dux is now part of Czechoslovakia and is called Duchov.

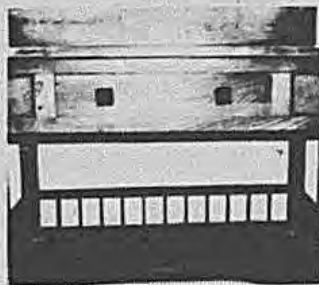

Eichler used an acorn for his mark because the German word for "acorn" is "eichel."

Q. There are some terms that I find confusing; for example, what is the difference, if any, between china and porcelain?

A. Porcelain is a mixture of kaolin and china clay, fired at a very high temperature. It is usually very thin and translucent; it is hard, cold to the touch, and rings like a bell.

China covers the whole field of ceramics and crockery; it is an overworked word.

Q. This writing table is solid oak and very heavy. Can you tell me when it was made and its value?

Underneath is a label that says "Draftsman" and "Gustav Stickley."

A. Gustav Stickley introduced what came to be known as "Mission Furniture" around the turn of the century. He continued in business until 1916.

Your table would sell for at least $1,000 on today's market.
